October 18, 2010

This is in response to your public records request, dated October 10, 2010, for a copy of “the index of GPO instructions and directives.”

The provisions of FOIA are included within the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. §§ 551-559. While both acts are applicable to Federal agencies of the United States, in defining “agency,” Congress specifically excluded the legislative and judicial branches. The GPO, which is an office of the legislative branch of the Federal Government, is therefore not subject to the provisions of FOIA.

Although GPO is not legally required to provide the information you requested, as a courtesy to you, I made inquiries about the availability of that document. GPO does not maintain any such document, however we were able to locate a list entitled, “All Department Directives,” which is used for in-house intranet search purposes. The list is not meant to serve as a complete index of all the Agency’s directives and it may contain inaccuracies. With that understanding, enclosed please find said list.

Sincerely,

LATONYA D. HAYES
Assistant General Counsel
