FOIA No. 2013-502

This letter responds to your recent Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA") request received by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) and assigned to the Consumer & Governmental Affairs ("CGB") Bureau. You are requesting copies of "all informal complaints received at the FCC regarding the television series SOUTH PARK and found in the CGB database."

According to the Commission's Records Control Schedule for Informal Complaints ("Records Control Schedule"), the Commission is not required to maintain informal complaints and related correspondence for more than three years after the case is closed. See N1-173-07-1, FCC Disposition Authority. Therefore, all complaints records prior to January 1, 2010, have been purged pursuant to the Records Control Schedule.

CGB conducted a search of the databases in which we maintain the records of informal complaints filed by, or on behalf of, consumers. Our search revealed 54 documents that are responsive to your request, which are enclosed.

FOIA and FCC rules require the FCC to charge requesters for time spent searching for and reviewing responsive documents, and for copying them.¹ Based on your classification as an "all other" requester, the FCC does not charge you for the first two hours of search time and the first 100 pages of copying.² Because preparing the response to your request falls within these limits, the FCC is not charging you for processing it.

Mike Hennigan of my staff redacted all personal identifying information relating to the individuals who submitted or are named in the enclosed complaints or inquiries based on Exemption 6 of FOIA, which permits agencies not to disclose files that would clearly invade personal privacy. Mr. Hennigan also redacted some FCC employee names based on Exemption 2 of FOIA, which permits agencies not to disclose internal personnel rules and practices.

² 47 C.F.R. § 0.470(a)(3).

If you think this response denies your FOIA request, you may file an application for review of this decision with the FCC's Office of the General Counsel within 30 days.³ Both the application and envelope containing it must be marked "Review of Freedom of Information Action" and the application should refer to FOIA Control No. 2013-502.

Sincerely,

Nancy Stevenson
Deputy Chief
Consumer Policy Division
Consumer & Governmental Affairs Bureau

Problem Description

Axe Deodorant has crossed the line with their latest ads featuring the objectification of women. Their ads with the slogan "Women are getting hotter" are simply indecent by suggesting that the pursuit of unrestrained sexual relationships should be the primary duty of man. The ads are simply immoral, and if the FCC has any power to stop these from running, or anyone with the guts to stop the moral decay of our country, you should do it.

I think it is not correct to have a show on tv that is about blowjobs, has a song about ejaculating on a girls face and other things that you can sample from the show.
I enjoy a bj and pornography but don't think such explicit forms of the subject should be shown at such an hour, on a regular cable channel and as a cartoon.

Problem Description

The name of God was repeatedly used in vain and with the use of other vulgar language - specifically, "God damn" and "Jesus Christ" (as cursing). As a Christian, I find this deeply offensive, as such language directly breaks the Third Commandment. This language is extremely disrespectful toward God. Other curse words which do not take God's name in vain are commonly censored. Why, then, are the examples I have given (which are much worse) not censored?

How is it ok for channels over number 14 to show just about anything they desire? The FCC needs to start regulating these "cable" networks, they have the viewers now. I happen to turn on the TV at 2AM and was able to hear and see extreme mature content. The F word, etc, uncensored! What have we become. I'm a parent with teens and the internet is nothing now compared to Comedy Centrals programming. And they keep pushing the time earlier. The shock value is just plain wrong. South park is mature and is on at 9PM. The content is worse than HBO, etc. And now they have commercials, i.e. the Roast guy saying anything before 9PM! It's embarrassing. The show roast shows around 11PM with nothing censored! F this, etc. Sunny in Philidelpha (a show I like) keeps getting worse. They said "and yes I licked her asshole a few times"! At 9:30PM!

Problem Description

Even though my complaint is towards southparkstudios.com (the official website where you can watch South Park episodes legally). My complaint has NOTHING to do with South Park themselves. I love that show, satirical geniuses. But my complaint is a commercial which was shown when watching an episode on their site that had a warning "This movie trailer is for adults only" and it featured female breasts uncensored, grabbed and touched in a not only sexual way but very very sexist way where a man vibrates his face inbetween breasts and a nude woman posing as a store mannequin. And just sexual remarks done in a NON-ARTISTIC WAY! Which of course is against the FCC. It's disguised as a comedy movie, but the jokes are not obvious nor creative. I was shocked that a commercial like this were to appear on a website made for television. So what now? Are people allowed to show porn on TV now? Again, this isn't the fault of South Park but whoever made this commercial and movie to be distributed in this way.

Problem Description

The episode I'm watching called "Best Friends Forever" has much more censorship than I remember it having the last time I saw it. It is horrible that you thought to add additional censorship to an episode which you had previously censored. You should be allowing the words since there's hundreds of channels and nobody is forcing anyone to watch comedy central. To censor words is to offend people who want to enjoy the show as it was meant to be seen. Besides, it's already rated as being vulgar so people know it would be offensive to them.

Problem Description

Comedy Central Network, allows use of disrespectful language not suitable for kids, V-Chips do not work, kids try to figure it out eventually do, and are able to see this. Comedy Central allows use of the middle finger, disrespectful words, words I will not say. Tosh.0 makes disrespectful remarks towards race, color, and various other remarks. This program and this network should change their whole programming lineup or be taken down. Many other networks, also use language and that is disrespectful. Another program I would like to point out is South Park, it shows killing of Kenny with guns knives and various other disrespectful remarks, including remarks on homosexuals and others. Comedy Central needs to be more family friendly, or be shutdown. I used to be able to turn on my TV and find great programming, but now all TV channels have changed, the only suitable channels for kids are Disney Channel and Nickelodeon, more channels need to be more family friendly, the programming shown today scares my kids.

Problem Description

The last segment of the 60 Minutes show featured the making of South Park. This program is televised before 8pm and the bleeps that were needed to cover up the language should have been the first clue that the timing of this material was too early in the evening. My 14 year old son and I were catching this last segment and marveled together at indecent language mouthed by the writers while they were in the studio making the voice overs. There was no attempt to blur out their mouths. On a side note I was baffled by the comments of the writers that they created this show using the language that 4th graders use today. Are you kidding me!!! Must 60 minutes feature (and with a smile) the idea that our young are without standards. I can with absolute conviction say that I do not know one 4th grader that uses this type of language (our youngest child happens to be 9yrs old and 4th grade). Do these guys and 60 Minutes want to perpetuate the degradation of a civil society. It is the FCC's responsibility to monitor indecent material and stop it. The fact that a program like South Park is even on the TV shows the ineffectiveness of the FCC's effectiveness. Please prove me wrong. Fine 60 Minutes for its poor selection and very poor censure of this segment and revisiting South Park for its obvious indecent material.

I don't have all of the details, but I first ran across a picture and description of the South Park episode HumanCentiPad a couple of months ago on the Internet. Although I was disgusted, I figured it was legal since the show is broadcast nationally. It portrayed a child, Kyle, between two adults, apparently stiched mouth-to-anus, in reference to the horrible horror film Human Centipede. In thinking about it today, I looked it up online, and it was listed on the South Park studios website. How is this not obscene and illegal?? I don't know what time it the original episode aired or when the reruns air, but the earlist it comes on is at 4:55 pm!!

The show was about one of the characters being a "whore" by prostituting himself in several obscene situations like winning a bid to perform "oral sex", give his grandfather a sensual massage showing an image of the character standing over his grandfather, putting lotion on him on a heart shaped bed, later he agrees to crawl into someones uterus for 100 days. It is disturbing to think that children are watching this at 5:00 in the afternoon on a network channel. It makes me glad I don't have any young children that could be seeing this disgusting show. The words in quotation marks are actual wording of the show. The word "whore" was used several times during the show.

I just want to submit my opinion on this topic. Shows like South Park, Jersey Shore, Hells Kitchen, etc etc. They Bleep out the word "Asshole" which is not very offensive, but they let through "God Damn" which to me is very offensive and not something I want my children to hear to repeat. In the Holy Bible it says not to take the lords name in vein, and that is exactly what is being done. I like the programs, but it amazes me that that some words are banned or bleeped while others are broadcast with no regard to any decent moral standards.

I find it ludicrous at the fact being Jewish and I have to hear the word kike repeated multiple times in multiple episodes of South Park. It is racist and not right and if you let that happen but for some reason words like nigger fuck shit cunt are forbidden words. It should either be that all racial and religious and sexual curse words are legal or they are not there shouldn't be a grey area in this matter. Either way children experience racism at a young age so I believe across the board on every network and primary cable show these things should be cleared to say at anytime of the day or not at all

Problem Description

I am personally offended at the CENSORED broadcast of the animated television program South Park, episode "201", which originally aired on April 21, 2010. In the episode, the character of the Muslim prophet Muhammad was not only censored with a profane giant black bar covering the image, but was also BLEEPED whenever the name "Muhammad" was audible (as well as other significant portions of dialogue). I am filing a formal complaint against the Comedy Central network and its affiliate Viacom for omitting such artistic boldness. The censored material was an obscene action against the First Amendment of the US Constitution. It is appalling to watch this show with such distractions.

I am requesting that the episode be re-aired uncensored as an effort for Comedy Central to redeem itself from the preceding indecency and to restore the quality of the best show on television: South Park.

Excessive talk about breasts. Overall, this show is obscene, inappropriate, and exposes the youth of this generation to bad behavior, sexual immorality, disrespect, and many other indecent acts. Shows like this should be shown late at night, or on pay-per-view, not publicly viewable like it currently is. Another show that belongs to this category is Family Guy. Problem Description

This program depicted a character doggie-style humping (pants down, butt in the air) what looked like a Star Wars character. I was just flipping channels, saw that and couldn't believe what I saw. I'm no prude and I know that this program is beyond edgy. Even those this program is an animation, that was a little too much.

Not many things shock me after almost 20 years as a Captain in the Reno Fire Department but that.....a little too far.

Thank You,

Comments	South Park episode "Up the Down Steroid" about the Special Olympics and disabled children was one of the most offensive things I have seen on television. Our family has a good sense of humor and high tolerance for political correctness, but this episode left us appalled and the ruthless portrayal of disabled children as physically disgusting, ignorant, and targets for ridicule. I will push to have this show removed from broadcast and will escalate to the highest form.

Comments	Bright House aired an episode of South Park from WRDQ(channel 27 but Channel 10 on Bright House). This program was in extreme poor taste inasmuch as it is a blatant attack on Mormons, their beliefs and their church. The program is factually in error and filled with bias and innuendo. The characterization and stereotyping in this episode can serve no useful good. This is the classic definition of "no socially redeeming value". This episode appears to be part of several episodes that were created in Season 7 of South Park. I encourage Bright House and WRDQ to disassociate themselves from any further use of this series of episodes despite any first amendment right they may feel applies.
