(and all state medical boards that are members of the FSMB, Inc.) is a co-sponsor of the USMLE, rather than in a position of authority over the NBME (see Enc) – NBME Statement of Guiding Principles). This leads to questions about the lack of medical board to ensure the quality of physicians who are licensed. If you cannot provide explanation for this matter – which no one at any level of the US government has yet provided – please begin public hearings. Bear in mind the right to verify the proper grading of licensing examinations is: (1)readily afforded other state-regulated professions such as attorneys taking the bar exam/licensing application (www.nybarexam.org/TheBar/TheBar.htm#grading), (2)required by the US Constitution, and (3)required by the rules of evidence in a court of law. Now that the US Supreme Court has decided a tax can be imposed under the Affordable Healthcare Act, please also explain: what is the legal justification for taxing visits to physicians, considering that states cannot provide legal proof of the proper qualification and licensing of those physicians?
