For your information, Congress excluded three (3) discrete categories of law enforcement and national security records from the FOIA. See 5 U.S.C. § 552(c) (2006 & Supp. IV (2010)). This response is limited to those records that are subject to the requirements of the FOIA. This is a standard notification that is given to all of our requesters and should not be construed as an indication that excluded records do, or do not, exist.

USAID conducted a comprehensive search of the Office of the Inspector General (OIG) for documents responsive to your request. The search produced a total of 109 pages. Of those pages, we have determined that 12 pages of the records are releasable in their entirety, 95 pages are partially releasable, and two (2) pages are withheld in full pursuant to Title 5 U.S.C. § 552 (b)(3), (b)(6), (b)(7)(C), (b)(7)(D), and (b)(7)(E).

FOIA Exemption 3 protects information specifically exempted from disclosure by another statute, if the statute (A) requires that the matters be withheld from the public in such a manner as to leave no discretion on the issue, or (B) established particular criteria for withholding or refers to particular types of matters to be withheld. The applicable statute is the Inspector General Act of 1978, as amended, Pub. L. 95-452, §7b. The Inspector General shall not, after receipt of a complaint or information from an employee, disclose the identity of the employee without the consent of the employee, unless the Inspector General determines such disclosure is unavoidable during the course of the information. Therefore, the identity of the complainant’s name and information pertaining to the complainant is being withheld.

FOIA Exemption 6 exempts from disclosure information about individuals in personnel or medical files and similar files the release of which would cause a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. This requires a balancing of the public’s right to disclosure against the individual’s right to privacy. The privacy interests of the individuals in the records you have requested outweigh any minimal public interest in disclosure of the information. In this instance, the release of such information could subject the individuals to threats, intimidation, harassment, and/or violence. For these reasons, any private interest you may have in this information does not factor into the aforementioned balancing test. Within the records we withheld names, signatures, personal identifiers, and OIG case numbers.

FOIA Exemption 7(C) protects records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes that could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. This exemption takes particular note of the strong interests of individuals, whether they are suspects, witnesses, or investigators, in not being unwarrantably associated with alleged wrongdoing/criminal activity. That interest extends to persons who are not only the subjects of the investigation, but also to those who may have their privacy invaded by having their identities and information about them revealed in connection with an investigation. Based upon the traditional recognition of strong privacy interest in law enforcement records, categorical withholding of information that identifies third parties in law enforcement records is ordinarily appropriate. As such, we have determined that the privacy interest in the identities of individuals in the records you have requested clearly outweigh any minimal public interest in disclosure of the information. Please note that any private interest you may have in that information does not factor into this determination. Within the records we withheld OIG case numbers.

FOIA Exemption 7(D) protects records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes, the release of which could reasonably be expected to disclose the identities of confidential sources.

FOIA Exemption 7(E) protects records compiled for law enforcement purposes, the release of which could disclose techniques and/or procedures for law enforcement investigations or prosecutions if such disclosure could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. We determined that disclosure of certain portions of the documents could reasonably be expected to risk circumvention of the law. Additionally, the techniques and procedures at issue are not well known to the public. Within the records we withheld OIG case numbers.

MEMORANDUM

To: Junior Financial Management Officer, USAID Nigeria

From: Division Chief
       Human Resources, Foreign Service Personnel

Subject: Notice of Proposed Letter of Reprimand

This is notice that I propose to issue you a letter of reprimand for the misuse of the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) government travel card (GTC). This action is being proposed in accordance with 3 Foreign Service Affairs Manual (FAM) 4350, and Automated Directives System (ADS) Chapter 485, Disciplinary Action – Foreign Service.

Charge 1: Misuse of USAID Government Travel Card

The Office of Inspector General, Investigations (OIG/I) conducted an investigation into allegations that you used your GTC to purchase personal items. The investigation revealed that you made charges on your GTC from various merchants including Target, BJ's Wholesale, and VA ABC (liquor) store totaling $2,435.09. This total includes charges you said you inadvertently made on the GTC for CSA Airlines and Hotels.com for a personal trip (non-official travel) to Prague. Your trip to Prague was taken while you were on personal leave and before your official travel to Nigeria. None of these charges are permissible under the Card Member Agreement or Agency policy (ADS 633.3.3). Further, they are in violation of Title 5 Code of Federal Regulations, Standards of Ethical Conduct for Employees of the Executive Branch (SECEE) part 2635.704 Subpart G Misuse of Position (Use of Government Property).

On April 27, 2012, the IG’s office received an allegation that you used your Government-issued Travel Card (GTC) to purchase personal items.

On May 1, 2012, the IG’s office contacted the Program Coordinator, Travel Card Program, USAID and requested copies of your GTC statements from November 2011 to April 2012. The document indicated that you were issued your GTC in December 2010 and your first activity on the card started in January 2011. Your questionable credit card charges began in December 2011 as you were preparing for your assignment to Nigeria.

On May 15, the IG contacted you at the USAID building in La Paz, Bolivia to interview you to determine why you used your GTC to charge the items below. At that time, you were on temporary duty in La Paz, Bolivia conducting A123 assessments, which are random financial assessments of various USAID employees at the mission in Bolivia to include, but not limited to, sensitive payments, payroll and GTC purchases. You indicated that the questionable items constituted consumables that are not available in Nigeria and so you chose to have them shipped to Nigeria. You believed that you were allowed to use your GTC to purchase them even though you also used the card to charge your personal airline flight to Prague.

A review of your account shows:

- On 12/09/11, a ticket on CSA (Czech) Airline was purchased in the amount of $361.35
- On 12/10/11, purchases from Target store located in Falls Church, VA in the amount of $268.83
- On 12/10/11, purchases from BJ Wholesale Store Club #351 located in Falls Church, VA in the amount of $457.79.
- On 12/11/11, a purchase from Hotels.com in the amount of $836.92
- On 12/11/11, purchases from VA ABC (liquor) store #049 located in Arlington, VA in the amount of $510.20

The ADS, Section 633.3.Jc.,”Personal Use,” provides that “any personal use of the GSTC is strictly prohibited. Employees must not use the GSTC for any transaction that is not associated with their approved TA. Employees may use the GSTC only for official travel-related transactions.”

The Cardholder Account Agreement, Section 2 states in part, “I agree to use the Card only for official travel and official travel-related expenses away from my station/duty station in accordance with my Agency/Organization policy. I agree not to use the Card for personal, family, or household purposes...” Finally the Cardholder Account Agreement states in section 1, “By activating, signing, or using the Card or the account established in connection with it (Account”), I am agreeing to the terms of this Agreement. If I do not agree to the terms of the Agreement, I will cut the card in half and return the pieces to the Bank before using the Card. I agree that I will be bound to the terms of this Agreement to the extent that I use the Card.”

Your explanations have been found to be unacceptable. You completed the Travel Card training in December 2010, and started using your card on January 22, 2011. Your unauthorized purchases in December 2011 are in violation of agency regulations and the Cardholder Account Agreement.

After careful consideration, I have determined corrective action is warranted. In determining the severity of this disciplinary action, I have considered as aggravating factors: the nature and seriousness of your misconduct; its relationship to your important duties and responsibilities of your position as Junior Financial Management Officer (the adverse effects on the trust and authority given to you by your staff, and the Agency’s confidence in your judgment and integrity). Also considered was the interference of your ability to perform the duties of your position effectively. Duties of your position include performing random financial assessments of various USAID employees. While in Bolivia, part of your financial assessment included review of payroll and GTC purchases. If you are not familiar with or following the regulations on use of your credit, it is questionable on how effective you can evaluate others in this area. Because of your actions, your supervisor has diminished trust and confidence in your ability to effectively carry out the duties of your position as well as the agency’s mission and function.

As mitigating factors, I have considered your past record and as required, the potential for rehabilitation. A further consideration, however, is that as a Foreign Service Officer who is a Financial Management Officer, your job responsibilities include exercising good judgment and following and enforcing laws, rules, and regulations.

After carefully weighing all factors, and closely studying the appropriate regulations, I have determined that it is in the best interest of the Agency to propose a reprimand. In arriving at this discipline, I have examined the Table of Offenses and Penalties in 3 FAM 3 4377 to assist me with making this proposal. Under the Table of Offenses and Penalties, your offense is covered by number 31, “Misuse of U.S. Government sponsored or issued credit cards, or untimely payment or nonpayment of balance due, other than disputed charges.” The recommended penalties range from written reprimand to removal.

If you choose to respond to this proposal, you should direct any written response and supporting documents to [redacted] Deputy Assistant Administrator, Office of Human Resources, United States Agency for International Development, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Room 2.08-100, Washington, DC 20523. If you choose to respond orally, you should contact [redacted] to make those arrangements. [redacted] may be contacted via e-mail [redacted] or by telephone (202) 712-5156. Any response you choose to make must be made within thirty days from receipt of this proposal. If you believe that you need more time to make a response, you should direct your request for additional time to [redacted] as soon as possible. A reasonable extension of time will be granted for good cause upon submission of a written request prior to the expiration of the thirty day reply period. Any such request should state specifically the reason(s) and cause for the requested extension and a date by which an answer will be forthcoming. A decision will be issued as soon as practicable after you present your response, or at the end of the response period, whichever comes first.

After considering your response, a decision will be made whether the Letter of Reprimand is still warranted and you will be informed of the decision. If a decision is made that the Letter of Reprimand is still warranted, this letter of reprimand shall remain in your file for one year from the date of the decision, or until the letter has been reviewed by one promotion or commissioning and tenure board, except that when a performance file is reviewed in the same cycle by more than one board (i.e., class wide and conal review), the letter must be reviewed by all applicable promotion boards. You are advised that should there be any repetition of this type of misconduct in the future, you may be subject to a more severe disciplinary action.

Copies of the material upon which this proposed reprimand is based are enclosed for your
Subject to 3 FAM 4325, you may have a representative of your choice to assist you in the preparation and presentation of any reply you may wish to submit. You and your representative, if your representative is an employee of the agency, will be allowed a reasonable amount of official time to review the materials upon which this action is based and present a reply.

Pursuant to FAM requirements, you must acknowledge receipt of this letter by signing and dating the record copy. Enclosed is a self-addressed envelope for you to return a signed copy of the proposed suspension back to me. You are advised that acknowledgement of receipt does not signify agreement with the contents of this letter.

If you have any questions, you may contact 202 712-1127 in the Office of Human Resources.

Case Title: Afghanistan
Case Number:
Status: Closed
Period of Investigation: 05/28/2012 – 07/10/2012
OIG/I Office: Kabul, Afghanistan

Synopsis:

On December 16, 2011, the USAID Office of Inspector General (OIG) received an e-mail complaint from [redacted], stating that [redacted] may have leaked bid information to a prospective vendor. In an e-mail, [redacted] stated that [redacted] worked for International Land Systems (ILS) which was a subcontractor to Tetra Tech ARD on the USAID Land Reform in Afghanistan Project (LARA). [redacted] said that [redacted] indicated an interest in supplying technical specifications and quantities of surveying and mapping equipment to Trimble, Inc., who was presumably bidding on a Request for Quotation (RFQ) to supply this equipment. The RFQ was valued at $200,000. [redacted] also stated that [redacted] was terminated from ILS for raising this issue with Tetra Tech ARD. (Attachment 1)

The USAID OIG investigation determined that a RFQ was never issued, nor was there any subcontract with Trimble Inc. All documentation was reviewed by the USAID Contracting Officer’s Technical Representative (COTR) and was found to be in order. Nothing substantiating this allegation was found.

This case is closed with the submission of this report.

Details of Investigation:

USAID OIG met with [redacted], USAID/Afghanistan. [redacted] is the COTR and technical advisor for this project. [redacted] was asked to research all files related to this matter to determine if any contracting irregularities existed. After reviewing the files, [redacted] reported that the allegation was unfounded and there had been complete transparency in the selection of subcontractors for this project. [redacted] also stated that all required documentation had been submitted to USAID and proper contracting procedures had been followed.
SA said that the RFQ had not been issued, and no selection of a vendor had ever been made.

REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

Case Title: Tainted PSC Solicitation
Case Number:
Status: Closed
Period of Investigation: 09/19/11 – 06/14/13
OIG/I Office: Washington, DC.

Synopsis:

On September 19, 2011, USAID Office of Inspector General (OIG) received an e-mail from the USAID Office of Acquisition and Assistance (OAA), Washington, DC. The e-mail contained concerns regarding three USAID OAA employees involved in the recruitment of U.S. Personal Services Contractor (PSC) vacancies in OAA. According to the e-mail, the issues involved a PSC position solicitation that was improperly graded, the Division Chief of this section was unaware of this solicitation, and this solicitation was only advertised for three business days. Also of concern, was a potential conflict of interest in that a relative and a personal friend of the procuring contracting officer had applied for the advertised positions. Allegedly, the contracting officer recused from the procurement; however, neither the Division Chief nor the USAID Ethics Officer was made aware of the recusal.

Investigation by USAID OIG determined that OAA Contracting Officer (CO) and close friend in applying for a USAID PSC solicitation over which had authority, failed to notify supervisor and failed to formally recuse from the hiring process, thereby posing a conflict of interest.

USAID OIG forwarded a referral memo to OAA for appropriate action. OAA decided that should complete certain special procurement integrity classes and training exercises. progress and performance will be closely monitored by OAA.

This case is closed with the submission of this report.

Details of Investigation:

On September 19, 2011, USAID OIG received an e-mail from USAID OAA. The e-mail named three individuals involved in the solicitation. The individuals involved were:

- Contracting Officer
- Contracting Officer
- Contracting Specialist (CS)

The solicitation was for U.S. Personal Service Contractor, Solicitation No. SOL-OAA-11-000101, Position: Contract Specialist(s). Issuance Date: August 1, 2011. Closing Date: August 5, 2011. The CO was listed as The solicitation was posted on FedBizOpps.Gov. (Attachment 2. U.S. Personal Service Contractor, Solicitation No. SOL-OAA-11-000101)

Three individuals answered the solicitation:

- of
- of former USAID OAA employee
- and an acquaintance of application that was later rejected because it was incomplete.

On August 14, 2012, USAID OIG interviewed CS According to in July 2011, the fiscal year was coming to a close and an urgent need for contracting specialists developed because of OAA personnel being assigned overseas. The Global Health Procurement Plan had funding for contracting specialists under the President’s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR). This funding had to be spent before the close of the fiscal year because it was probable the funds might not be available for the positions in the next fiscal year. said because of the time necessary for background security investigations and different forms to be filled out, that decided to only list the vacancy for five days.

was asked if the Federal Acquisition Regulations (FAR) or the U.S. Agency for International Development Regulations (AIDAR) had specific rules for the number of days vacancies were to be advertised. reply was that if a vacancy announcement time period had to be lengthened or shortened, that the CO always has the latitude to change the time frame. said told to type up the PSC solicitation. said had never worked on a PSC solicitation, found a previous solicitation that had been completed and cut/pasted the verbiage for the application. said everyone in OAA always does a cut and paste job in performing these types of functions. After the applications were submitted, they were processed by [redacted] volunteered to work on this solicitation as [redacted] had only two years of experience and this was [redacted] first PSC contract. [redacted] said [redacted] always followed [redacted] instructions. (Attachment 3. Interview of [redacted] dated 03/14/12)

[redacted] and CS [redacted] reviewed applications for a Personal Services Contractor (PSC) solicitation and compared them to the solicitation. [redacted] said [redacted] had concerns about one of the applications and clarification questions had to be sent to one of the applicants. [redacted] recalled these were both entry level positions and both met the minimum qualifications. [redacted] said this solicitation was not one of [redacted] programs, however [redacted] assumed [redacted] was trying to expedite this due to the end of the Fiscal Year approaching. [redacted] said there were two positions vacant and three applications. As one of the applications was incomplete [redacted] selected the two remaining applicants. (Attachment 4. Interview of [redacted] dated 03/14/12)

On August 15, 2012, USAID OIG telephonically interviewed [redacted] at duty station in Nigeria. [redacted] explained that there were only vacancies in the division for entry level personnel. [redacted] said GS-14/15 positions are considered supervisory. [redacted] claimed immediate supervisor, OAA Global Health Division Chief, [redacted] was in a meeting in which the PSC solicitation was discussed and received [redacted] approval. [redacted] said the PSC solicitation was also on the Global Health Procurement Plan. [redacted] said after the solicitation was posted on the FedBizOpps website, [redacted] received a call from [redacted] to see if [redacted] could apply. [redacted] said [redacted] could apply, however, [redacted] would have to recuse [redacted]. [redacted] said [redacted] later heard from [redacted] friend and former colleague, currently a CO for the Peace Corps. According to [redacted] was going to apply. [redacted] said [redacted] advised [redacted] was going to recuse [redacted]. [redacted] was asked why [redacted] forwarded [redacted] resume and QRF to [redacted]. [redacted] said [redacted] needed a template to work on [redacted] resume and Quality Ranking Factors (QRFs): [redacted] did not see a problem because [redacted] verbally recused [redacted] from the process and because each application would have to stand on its own merit. [redacted] did not see any ethics violation in giving [redacted] and [redacted] someone else’s resume and QRFs.

A review of Acquisition and Assistance Policy Directive (AAPD) 04-13 indicated that USAID had provisions to hire PSC positions from GS-5 level through GS-15 level. (Attachment 9. Acquisition and Assistance Policy Directive 04-13)
According to Contract Information Bulletin (CIB) 97-17 (Corrected 2), there is a 10 day requirement for advertising PSC positions. The contracting officer has the option to advertise longer. (Attachment 10. Contract Information Bulletin 97-17, Corrected 2)

REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

Case Title:
Case Number:
Status:  Closed
Period of Investigation:  11/09/11-05/03/13
OIG/I Office:  San Salvador, El Salvador

SYNOPSIS:

This investigation was predicated on information from a whistleblower that Echo Cuba, mismanaged USAID program funds in a program known as Empowering Civil Society (ECS). ECS was a one million dollar, three-year cooperative agreement (RLA-A-00-19-00025-00) funded from 06/2009 to 06/2011. The program was designed to strengthen Cuban civil society by training and capacitating national leaders who then would form groups that promoted societal awareness in Cuba. The complainant reported that Echo Cuba mismanaged the ECS program by claiming up to four times the amount of actual overhead costs. The complainant also alleged that the only person working on the ECS program, but other Echo Cuba employees’ salaries were paid using program funds. Finally, it was alleged that a Cuban recipient was not providing adequate receipts to justify expenses with the money received from the program and no evidence existed that the funds were utilized for program purposes.

The investigation revealed no evidence of fraud. OIG investigators discovered the following:

1) The actual overhead cost incurred by Echo Cuba during the implementation of the ECS program was $44,433 under the USAID approved ECS budget.
2) The USAID approved ECS budget included funds to cover salaries for three Echo Cuba employees. The budget included 30% salary for the chief of party, 40% salary for the Cuba mission coordinator, and 100% salary for the program coordinator. The budget also included funds to cover a percentage of fringe benefits for the employees mentioned above and additional funding to cover indirect labor costs for four other Echo Cuba employees.
3) OIG agents were unable to substantiate the claim that a Cuban beneficiary was misusing program funds.

DETAILS OF INVESTIGATION:

On 01/19/12, OIG agents interviewed former __________ for Echo Cuba. __________ was the source of the allegations against __________ and Echo Cuba. __________ worked for Echo Cuba from 08/2011 until 10/2012. __________ was not directly employed by Echo Cuba, but was employed by a staffing agency.

___________ traveled to Quito, Ecuador with __________ to meet and train two Cuban church leaders, __________ and __________. Per the program, __________ received approximately $4,500 a month of ECS funds to distribute among local individuals to develop the local civil society programs. __________ had problems providing adequate receipts to justify the ECS money sent to __________. __________ wanted more evidence on how __________ used the funds in Cuba. __________ understood the difficulty and sensitivity of working in Cuba; however, there were two other groups in Cuba and each group consisted of ten individuals who received money for the same program. The other individuals always provided adequate receipts. While working at Echo Cuba, __________ presented __________ with an affidavit to sign and approve regarding $6,000 that was not accounted for. This amount was to justify __________ lack of receipts in Cuba. __________ refused to sign the affidavit and was not asked again. The amount was distributed to __________ before __________ started working for Echo Cuba, so __________ had no knowledge what the $6,000 figure was based on.

___________ expressed concern that Echo Cuba was paying $20,000 per month for overhead. That amount seemed too high for the program; __________ may have pocketed some of the funds, but __________ lacked proof. __________ never learned how internal funds were handled by Echo Cuba. However, if overhead went to rent and utilities, $20,000 was too high of an amount. (Attachment 1 – Memorandum of Interview (MOI): __________ dated 01/19/12)

On 01/19/12, OIG agents interviewed __________ former __________ for Echo Cuba. __________ was the __________ from 11/2009 to 8/2011. According to __________ in 05/2011, the ECS program manager for Echo Cuba, __________ took over the position. __________ often complained about Echo Cuba and stated that the company had ethical issues. __________ told __________ that the ECS program overhead was running at $20,000 a month, where it should have been $3,000 per month. __________ said he never saw anything relating to the USAID grant funding and never reviewed any budgets or ledger information. __________ left the program after only three months with the company.

___________ was the previous __________ for Echo Cuba. __________ was laid-off by __________ because __________ kept asking for more information regarding the funds sent to Cuba. __________ told __________ could not track the funds in Cuba and that __________ needed the receipts to verify expenses for accounting purposes. (Attachment 2 – MOI: __________ dated 01/19/12)

On 01/19/12, OIG agents interviewed __________ former __________ for Echo Cuba from 01/2009 to 06/2011. __________ did not know if Echo Cuba wrongfully used or abused its USAID
On 01/19/12, OIG agents interviewed [redacted] for Echo Cuba from 04/2007 to 07/2011. According to [redacted], she was hired because of connections in Cuba but left Echo Cuba because of work demands and because she was not paid enough. She became frustrated and felt overworked due to running all the programs. She was satisfied with the ECS program; however, [redacted] was not providing all the required receipts for work in Cuba. This caused problems with [redacted] because she needed more information relating to the expenses in Cuba. After [redacted] informed her of the situation, she acknowledged that working in Cuba was difficult and it was dangerous transporting money and supplies into and within Cuba. She understood why some of the recipients didn’t want to receive or carry receipts with them due to the nature of the program. Over the course of the grant, $10,000 could not be verified due to some of the local recipients being afraid to carry or sign receipts.

In 07/2010, USAID sent the DMP Group (DMP) to conduct an A-133 audit on the grant. The audit revealed that Echo Cuba charged USAID budget amounts instead of the actual amounts. The audit also revealed that more information was needed relating to the expense receipts in Cuba. [redacted] mentioned that Echo Cuba was new to the process of charging expenses from the grant and did not know how to process expenses at that time. (Attachment 4 – MOI: [redacted] dated 01/19/12)

On 03/05/12, OIG agents interviewed [redacted] Echo Cuba’s accountant from 06/2009 to 10/2010. She worked part-time in the afternoons, approximately 20 hours a week. She was laid off because she could no longer afford to pay for her Certified Public Accountant (CPA) qualifications. [redacted] was hired to replace [redacted] who was not a CPA. When [redacted] was hired, Echo Cuba had just received its first grant from USAID for the ECS program. [redacted] managed Echo Cuba’s accounts and also designed a bookkeeping system utilizing QuickBooks for the company. After [redacted] departure, [redacted] used the same QuickBooks system that [redacted] created.

[redacted], former Echo Cuba [redacted], was responsible for acquiring all receipts from the Cuba program in order to create a summary of expenses for bookkeeping. [redacted] had problems with program leaders in Cuba not providing adequate receipts. Most of the leaders working on the program in Cuba would provide photos of the receipts and signatures then send them via email to [redacted]. Due to the nature of the program in Cuba, many program leaders did not want to provide receipts for personal safety.

[redacted] could not recall the actual monthly amount allocated to overhead, however she believed that 40 percent of program funds were for overhead. [redacted] mentioned that a monthly amount of $20,000 might have been too much. The rent, power and other expenses would be around $6,000
Echo Cuba had an email server that costs approximately $1,000 a month.

The USAID proposal, other direct costs were used for charging direct costs since Echo Cuba does not have a Negotiated Indirect Cost Recovery Agreement (NICRA). Echo Cuba never co-mingled ECS funding between accounts and everything was accounted for in QuickBooks.

Echo Cuba requested approximately $35,000 a month from USAID for the ECS program. Overhead costs for the ECS program ran approximately $17,000 a month. The overhead included the office rent, supplies, commercial expenses (telephone/internet), and salaries.

Every employee filled out a timesheet which was collected monthly. 35% or 40% of the ECS funding was documented on timesheets. Position charged 30% to the ECS program. The ECS grant had its own account for funding which was not commingling. Every two weeks the Echo Cuba accounts were balanced for accounting purposes. Echo Cuba never used ECS funds to cover other programs. (Attachment 6 – MOI: dated 03/05/12)

On 03/05/12, OIG agents interviewed Echo Cuba’s executive director. According to Echo Cuba received first USAID grant in 06/2009, which ended in 09/2012. The grant program required Echo Cuba to send money to Cuba via couriers for developing business plans for local businesses.

According to when ECS program funds arrived in Cuba, program leaders provided receipts for all expenses. If physical receipts could not be acquired, then photos were taken of the receipts along with the signatures of program participants. These photos were then uploaded on a cloud server so that Echo Cuba could directly access the expenses from Miami. Approximately 95% to 99% of all receipts were accounted for. 100% of all cash sent to Cuba was accounted for. When receipts and signatures could not be acquired, affidavits of expenses were submitted in order to justify the expenses. Affidavits covered approximately 15% of the cash sent to Cuba. Of the $1 million USAID grant, approximately $400,000 went to Cuba for the program.

Echo Cuba was reviewed twice a year by DMP to ensure that ECS funds were accounted for properly. Last year, an A-133 audit was completed. The audit found Echo Cuba was charging USAID under estimated indirect costs which needed to be charged as other direct costs (ODC).
Because Echo Cuba was not approved for a NICRA, DMP stated Echo Cuba needed to charge only what was billed under direct costs and could not charge under estimated costs. Since the audit, the overall spending on personnel, fringe and benefits has been approximately 30% and indirect costs were approximately 15%. The rest needed to be charged as direct costs.

Before commingled ECS funding and said Echo Cuba never used its ECS funding on any other program or activity. (Attachment 7 – MOI: dated 03/05/12)

On 03/22/12, the USAID Assistance Officer’s Representative (AOR) for the ECS program, was interviewed. stated that in 06/2009 when Echo Cuba won the ECS grant. maintained telephonic contact with once a week to discuss and review project management plans. The majority of the ECS funds were sent to program leaders in Cuba. Approximately $24,000 to $40,000 per month was sent to Cuba, depending on program activities. These funds were used to purchase supplies, computers, pay trainers, and develop support groups. Echo Cuba tracked expenses by verifying receipts.

Echo Cuba ran many programs outside the ECS program and never commingled USAID funding with other programs. Prior to the ECS grant, Echo Cuba had a U.S. State Department award called the Lidia program. The Lidia program was very successful so upon its completion, it was transferred to USAID under the ECS award.

In order to receive grant funding, Echo Cuba sent a Federal Financial Report form 425 or a Request for Reimbursement form 270 for advances. reviewed the requests and processed them with the USAID financial management office for funding. The advances were consistent and did not raise suspicions: never disputed a requested amount.

Employee levels of effort for the ECS program billing were consistent. worked full time on the ECS program. charged a small percentage of salary to the ECS program and worked part-time on the ECS program. There were other employees that billed a couple of hours or days per month for work performed on the ECS program.

had no knowledge of the internal financial workings of Echo Cuba and could not provide any information regarding Echo Cuba’s direct and indirect costs. had no knowledge of Echo Cuba’s monthly overhead amounts. never suspected or saw any fraud within Echo Cuba and never suspected that used ECS funding for personal gain. (Attachment 8 MOI: dated 03/22/12)

On 05/07/12, the OIG completed a review of Echo Cuba’s ECS A-133 audits for fiscal years 2009 to 2011. All three audits concluded the following: “The results of the audit disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under the Government Auditing Standards. As of December 31, (2009, 2010, and 2011) Echo Cuba’s financial statements, changes in its net assets and cash flow were in conformity with accounting did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that it would consider material weaknesses.” (Attachment 9 – Record Review A-133 Audits 2009, 2010, 2011, dated 05/07/12)

On 05/22/12, Agreement Officer (AO) for the ECS program, was interviewed. stated that the ECS cooperative agreement did not allow Echo Cuba to charge indirect costs because they did not have an authorized indirect cost rate or a NICRA. However, indirect costs could be charged as “other direct costs,” which would cover salaries, paper supplies, telephone costs, rent, etc., only if Echo Cuba could tie the expenses into the program as described by the agreement. These expenses would be typically charged as indirect costs.

Office of Acquisition and Assistances (OAA), USAID/Washington, D.C., had a copy of Echo Cuba’s original cost proposal that showed the agreed amount for other direct costs. This amount was approved before the agreement was signed. Echo Cuba had to charge everything directly and prove those expenses were relevant to the program.

The word “overhead” was a catch all for indirect costs. Echo Cuba could not lump everything together and call it overhead. It had to be broken down into its true components, such as office support, labor, rent, etc. Regarding Echo Cuba’s monthly overhead that was allegedly charged to the program, $20,000 would be too much for a monthly overhead charge per the agreement.

Office of Acquisition and Assistances (OAA), USAID/Washington, D.C., had a copy of Echo Cuba’s original cost proposal that showed the agreed amount for other direct costs. This amount was approved before the agreement was signed. Echo Cuba had to charge everything directly and prove those expenses were relevant to the program.

ECS AOR, looked over Echo Cuba’s performance and expenses. responsibility was to catch any costs that were not responsible in relation to the program description. All vouchers went through the AOR and were then submitted to Financial Management for payment.

On 08/14/12, a former for Echo Cuba, was interviewed. was hired by to work as the for the ECS program in 05/2011. Since first day on the job, had problems with did not like leadership style and no one at Echo Cuba had a real job description. wanted everything to “magically” get down to Cuba and nothing ran well. had access to the budget and saw that and four other Echo Cuba employees were listed on the USAID grant. felt that did most of the work, while the other employees worked on other projects. was listed as 100% billable and only worked on the USAID grant. did not recall the billable percentages of the other employees. felt that did the work of five employees. handled all monthly expenditures and overhead expenses reported to on the amount of money sent to Cuba and the amount that was spent on program supplies, such as computer equipment. believed approximately $10,000 a month was sent to Cuba during the time worked at Echo Cuba. had no direct knowledge of the expenditures for Echo Cuba’s
On 02/19/13, the OIG reviewed Echo Cuba’s ECS budget cost proposal. The proposal was negotiated and approved by USAID on 06/24/09. This budget was the basis for Echo Cuba’s financial operations for the ECS program. The budget showed Echo Cuba included line items to cover a percentage of the salary costs of three employees and a percentage for indirect labor costs of four Echo Cuba employees. The review of the budget also revealed a mathematical mistake which resulted in an underestimation of $49,282. Under the Indirect Labor costs line items, Echo Cuba listed $26,036 of Indirect Labor for the M&E position and $23,246 for the program assistant position. However, Echo Cuba failed to add the two amounts which equal $49,282 to the budget total. Because of this, the ECS budget totaled $1,033,582 instead of 1,082,864, a $49,282 underestimation. (Attachment 12 – JAR: Record Review of ECS Original Budget Costs Proposal, dated 02/19/12)

On 02/19/13, the OIG reviewed Modification of Assistance number six for Echo Cuba’s ECS program. This modification revised the program description from a focus on economic growth to a new program implementation plan focusing on democracy and governance. The shift in program focus resulted in a revision of ECS’ original budget. The new budget resulted in the following changes:

- Personnel Costs increased by $93,922 (40%)
- Fringe Benefits increased by $20,177 (19%)
- Travel Expense increased by $32,036 (37%)
- Program Activities decreased by $151,115 (34%)
- Other Direct Costs increased by $4,980 (3%)
- The original program ceiling cost of $1,033,582 remained unchanged.

(Attachment 13 – LAR: Record Review of Modification # 6, dated 02/19/12)

On 04/01/13, was re-interviewed. claimed that was the only person working full-time on the ECS program. However, other Echo Cuba employees worked on the program as needed. One of responsibilities was to create a monthly ECS budget and submit it to . Since arrived at Echo Cuba, instructed to list $20,000 per month as overhead expenses on the ECS budget. did not know the details of what costs were actually covered under overhead. However, because of the high amount budgeted monthly for overhead, suspected ECS funds were supporting the entire Echo Cuba organization. (Attachment 14 – LAR: Interview of dated 04/01/13)

On 04/02/13, was re-interviewed. stated that the ECS program was successfully completed in 2012. However, in September 2012, DMP, at the direction of USAID, conducted a compliance review of the program. DMP questioned $18,377 of program costs.
Echo Cuba responded and justified the questioned costs and was currently negotiating a final version of the audit report.

From the beginning of the program until 07/2010, Echo Cuba calculated the amount of funds needed from USAID by utilizing the figures on the ECS approved program budget. In 08/2010, the methodology changed and Echo Cuba began calculating the amount of funds needed based on actual costs. This methodology of calculating program fund requests was recommended by DMP because it was a more accurate method than the old methodology of requesting funds based on the budget or estimations.

In 07/2010, DMP also recommended that Echo Cuba utilize a specific formula to calculate overhead costs more accurately. Echo Cuba implemented the formula and it became the basis for calculating and reporting overhead costs. Echo Cuba applied the overhead formula back to the beginning of the program in order to check if they were overstating their overhead costs, but found they actually understated overhead costs by a few thousand dollars.

explained that modification of assistance number six was made to accurately reflect the change of scope in the program and to revise the original program budget which contained errors. Echo Cuba’s original ECS program budget contained a mathematical error which understated the budget by $49,282. Under the budget’s ODC column, they listed a budget total of $169,795. However the correct amount should have been $219,077. Echo Cuba failed to add the indirect labor costs of the compliance officer ($26,036) and a program assistant ($23,246) even though the line items were listed on the budget. The actual budget amount for ODC should have been $219,077. The $49,282 of unaccounted indirect labor costs were added into the personnel line item on the revised budget. (Attachment 15 – IAR: Interview of dated 04/02/13)

On 04/02/13, Echo Cuba’s Financial Officer, was re-interviewed. stated that Echo Cuba categorized the ECS expenses either as direct costs or indirect costs (overhead). Direct costs included expenses directly linked to program activities such as cost of equipment sent to Cuba, cost of training beneficiaries etc. Direct costs also included travel costs related to program activities. Indirect costs (also referred to as overhead costs) included all program expenses other than direct costs. Indirect costs were expenses shared with other Echo Cuba programs. A USAID approved percentage of the following costs were charged as overhead for the ECS program:

- Personnel costs- salaries, indirect labor
- Fringe benefits- annual leave, Medicare, Social Security and other benefits
- Other Direct Costs- office expenses, miscellaneous expenses provided a comprehensive spreadsheet which listed total expenditures for the ECS program. The documents showed a total overhead charge of $582,030. The ECS program averaged approximately $15,730 per month of overhead costs. (Attachment 16 – IAR: Interview of [redacted] dated 04/02/13)

On 05/02/13, the OIG compared ECS' budget approved by USAID on 05/18/11 (Modification of Assistance # 6) to ECS' actual expenses as recorded on Echo Cuba's financial system. The comparison revealed that the actual amount of overhead cost incurred by Echo Cuba under the ECS program was $44,433 below the approved amount on the ECS budget. (Attachment 17 – IAR: Record Review- Comparison of ECS budget to Actual Expenses, dated 05/02/13)

REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

Case Title: Unlawful Access to E-mail System
Case Number:

Status: Closed
Period of Investigation: 01/18/12 - 08/06/12
OIG/I Office: Washington, D.C.

Synopsis:
On November 27, 2011, the USAID Office of Inspector General (OIG) received an email from an anonymous complainant alleging that [DEPUTY EXECUTIVE OFFICER (EXO) and INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (IT) SYSTEM MANAGER, USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina, had been accessing the email accounts of [FORMER EXO, USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina and former Mission Director, USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina, without their authorization. Allegedly accessed the email accounts via the mission's server to obtain a list of employees who would be laid-off if a Reduction in Force (RIF) occurred, so they could manipulate those employees. The complainant stated they became aware of this matter because provided the information to the complainant. The complainant suspected that such activity had occurred in the past and was currently ongoing.

The OIG investigation determined that could not have accessed the accounts of and without their permission. Only the Washington, D.C.-based USAID Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) has administrative access rights enabling them to access individual computer workstations without the user's password. This case is closed.

Details of Investigation:
On August 1, 2012, the reporting agent (RA) received and reviewed a letter from USAID Chief Information Security Officer, dated February 21, 2012, to Special Agent in Charge, USAID/OIG. According to CISO, the Outlook email account assigned to (usaid.gov) did not have administrative access privileges enabling to view the content of other email accounts at USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina. (Attachment 1, Record Review of CISO Results – dated 02/21/12)
On March 7, 2012, the RA and Special Agent (SA) interviewed Director, Office of Economic Development, USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina. When asked about issues regarding IT, had not heard of any computer intrusion problems at the USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina mission. said the information about the RIF was made public and had no influence in its outcome to include its prevention. There were never any complaints from CISO about the Bosnia-Herzegovina mission and never heard of anyone trying to gain some personal advantage from RIF information. (Attachment 2, Memorandum of Interview with dated 03/07/12)

On March 8, 2012, the RA and SA interviewed who stated that the USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina mission had experienced two previous RIFs. said there were never any complaints from CISO about the Bosnia-Herzegovina mission. never heard of anyone trying to gain some personal advantage from RIF information. (Attachment 3, Memorandum of Interview for dated 03/08/12)

On March 8, 2012, the RA telephonically interviewed Computer and Help Desk Specialist, USAID. stated that no one in the Bosnia-Herzegovina mission had access or authority to view the contents of other individual Exchange mailboxes. An individual in Bosnia-Herzegovina who wanted to view someone else’s email account would have to have that individual’s computer user name. Alternatively, they could ask someone for their name and password. An individual in Bosnia-Herzegovina would know if someone was trying to access their individual account because it would be disabled after repeated attempts using the wrong password. Any remote, nonuser access to an individual’s account could only be done by CISO through their administrative access privileges which was only done in exceptional circumstances. (Attachment 4, Memorandum of Interview for dated 03/08/12)

On March 7, 2012, the RA and SA interviewed who stated they could not access another individual’s email account without that individual’s username and password. Additionally, could not change the computer access password of someone else without that person’s permission. did not know of any hacking tools that would enable to access other individual computer accounts. According to regularly scanned the network. did not have administrative access rights, only had administrative rights and the ability to change someone else’s password in order to access their computer account. did not know who would allegation to someone else’s account without their knowledge because had never done it. had been with USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina since 1992 and felt had no enemies. may have some influence, as a senior FSN-12, but did not use influence to determine who was subject to the RIF. added that did not accept a position on the RIF panel because did not want to make those difficult decisions. Also, being on the RIF panel would compromise position on the FSN Executive Committee where he gave advice to the Deputy Chief of Mission on FSN administrative and human resource issues. Found out who was going to be RIF'd before it was made public through his position on the FSN Executive Committee. (Attachment 5, Memorandum of Interview for dated 03/08/12)

On March 8, 2012, the RA telephonically interviewed said he left the USAID/Bosnia-Herzegovina mission several months ago. knew as a high-ranking FSN who also served on the FSN Executive Committee and thought well of never heard of any computer intrusion problems at the mission. There were never any complaints from CISO about the Bosnia-Herzegovina mission. never had any trouble accessing office computer account and never had to change password due to some unknown reason. had no reason to believe anyone accessed computer account, or anyone else's, while worked in Bosnia-Herzegovina. The Government Accountability Office (GAO) forwarded a complaint to the OIG alleging questionable personnel practices at USAID/Afghanistan. The complainant reported that the mission hired "numerous" employees who were working without official job descriptions. The complainant added that some positions had not been adequately evaluated to determine if the positions met the needs of the mission. The complainant also identified two individuals who were working without position descriptions that reportedly cost the American taxpayer approximately $1 million. Specifically, the complainant identified [redacted] as a communications advisor with no job description and [redacted] who was working as an executive secretary with no job description.

This information was referred to USAID/Afghanistan for appropriate follow-up and to notify the OIG of any action taken.

BACKGROUND

On September 2, 2010, USAID/Jakarta forwarded an allegation to the USAID Office of Inspector General (OIG) regarding [redacted], former administrative officer for Save the Children (STC), a prime implementer for the Decentralized Basic Education (DBE) Program-3 cooperative agreement (#497-A-00-05-00040). According to the allegation, [redacted] embezzled more than Rp.700,000,000 (Indonesian Rupiah or approximately $77,700) during a period of 3 years from the USAID-funded DBE-3 program by duplicating invoices so that the funds would be dispersed to both the vendor and [redacted] personal bank account.

FINDINGS

After several witness interviews to include STC/Indonesia senior-level staff and document reviews to include STC/Indonesia’s internal investigation report, the ongoing OIG investigation has revealed thus far that [redacted] defrauded the DBE-3 program Rp.235,562,350 (approximately $23,156.48). [redacted] committed the fraud by diverting payments owed to a printing vendor, Melawai Indah, to an accomplice’s personal bank account as well as double-billing other Melawai Indah invoices to STC under the DBE-3 program from September 2008 to July 2010 in the amount of Rp.226,849,050 (approximately $22,285.15). In addition, in 2007 [redacted] diverted payments owed to STC sub-recipient, International Relief and Development (IRD), Inc., in the amount of Rp.8,713,300 (approximately $871.33).

STC/Indonesia senior-level staff verified to the OIG that the amounts defrauded by [redacted] had been inadvertently passed on to USAID/Indonesia under the DBE-3 program.
USAID/Indonesia may take whatever administrative action it deems necessary and appropriate to recover the amounts defrauded by STC former administrative officer. The OIG will continue its criminal investigation against the accomplice and will notify USAID/Indonesia of any additional amounts defrauded at the conclusion of the investigation.

This matter is being provided to you for whatever action, if any, you deem necessary and appropriate. Please advise this office within 30 days of receipt of this letter of any action taken.

REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

Case Title: Avian Influenza Program Fraud
Case Number: __________________________
Status: Complete
Period of Investigation: 05/13/10- 09/21/10
OIG/I Office: Washington, D.C

Synopsis:
On May 13, 2010, an anonymous source (AS) submitted a complaint to the U.S. Government Accountability Office’s FraudNet alleging mismanagement of the USAID-funded Deliver Program for Avian Influenza, specifically Deliver Task Order-2 (TO-2). The AS was a former project director for John Snow, Inc. (JSI), USAID implementer for the Deliver Program for Avian Influenza. The AS did not believe USAID committed fraud or abuse, but alleged that USAID program managers were responsible for wasting the procurement of 100 shipping containers of syringes and cold boxes due to the lack of consignees available for delivery. In addition, USAID procured 25 Polymerase Chain Reaction machines at $56,000 each without knowing their final destination or having the capacity to operate the equipment.

Reporting Agent (RA) initiated an investigation to determine the facts surrounding the allegations. After the RA interviewed the AS (Attachment 1, Memorandum of Interview - AS dated 06/08/10), the RA determined that this matter doesn’t fall within the investigative purview of OIG/Investigations since there was no allegation of specific fraud. Therefore, the RA referred this matter to USAID/OIG Audit for its review and USAID/Bureau for Global Health (GH) to take any administrative action it deemed necessary and appropriate. (Attachment 2, Referral to Audit - dated 06/30/10, Attachment 3, Referral to GH - dated 07/15/10).

Details of Investigation:
On 07/15/10, this matter was referred to USAID/Bureau for Global Health to take any administrative action it deemed necessary and appropriate. On or about 07/29/10, Senior Deputy Assistant Administrator, Bureau for Global Health, responded to the allegation in question and determined that there was no waste and that the management of the Task Order was appropriate to the circumstances of the pending pandemic that gave rise to the assistance planned under the Task Order (Attachment 4, Response from SDAA, dated 07/29/10). On 09/20/10, the RA contacted, via email, the Office of Global Health's Infection Disease and Nutrition (GH/HIDN) supervisor, to determine if there is any additional information of which the RA needs to be made aware. replied, "There is no additional information" (Attachment 5, Response from GH/HIDN, dated 09/21/10).

Case Title: International Relief and Development, Haiti
Case Number:
Status: Closed
Period of Investigation: September 2011 - September 2012
OIG/Office: Port-au-Prince

Synopsis:

This investigation was predicated on allegations from an anonymous complainant of an improper $2.5 million sole source procurement by International Relief and Development (IRD) pursuant to a USAID Office of Foreign Disaster Assistance (OFDA) program in Leogane, Haiti. The complaint also alleged a lack of accountability regarding IRD’s shelter building materials inventory and insufficient field supervision.

The Office of Inspector General (OIG) investigation did not substantiate the allegations concerning inventory controls and supervision. However, the investigation disclosed that IRD failed to follow its own procurement guidelines in competing four requests for quote (RFQs). Although competed, the RFQs for shelter building materials resulted in one vendor, Le Flamengo Import Export S.A. (Le Flamengo), supplying the materials for all four RFQs for $2,609,540.20.

The investigation also revealed that IRD did not comply with its internal guidelines concerning competition process for procurements over $5,000. In disseminating the RFQs, a pre-qualification questionnaire should have been used to compile its short list of pre-qualified vendors/suppliers. Moreover, upon receiving only one vendor’s response on three of the four RFQs, IRD did not post the RFQs to a broader open tender. Had IRD used a pre-qualification questionnaire and had it disseminated the RFQs to a larger audience, a greater number of competitive responses may have been received.

Although IRD did not comply with its internal procurement guidelines, this matter did not develop any information related to criminal or civil violations. This matter is closed.
Details of Investigation:

On 03/01/10, USAID/OFDA awarded Grant No. DFD-G-00-10-00124-00 to IRD for the purpose of providing post-earthquake relief in and around Leogane, Haiti. The $6,494,045 grant provided funding for transitional shelter construction, emergency sanitation, rehabilitation, and hygiene promotion. IRD initially proposed constructing 2,500 shelters, but due to costs associated with an OFDA approved shelter design modification, IRD was only able to complete 2,300 shelters.

An anonymous Hotline complaint received by the OIG on 07/12/11 alleged IRD improperly safeguarded construction materials, lacked sufficient field supervision and conducted an improper $2.5 million sole source procurement. Based on the historical nature of the complaint and the successful completion of the project in May 2011, the allegations concerning supervision and personnel issues were no longer viable. (Attachment 1, Hotline Complaint, dated 07/12/11)

A 05/18/12, the OIG interviewed Program Officer, USAID/OFDA. claimed that for the duration of the project, no apparent theft of materials occurred nor was there any evidence of procurement issues or improprieties. (Attachment 2, Memorandum of Interview, dated 05/18/12)

IRD records indicated that IRD sent RFQs OF-0001, OF-0002 and OF-0003 to six “pre-qualified” Haitian building supply companies on 03/20/10. Five bids were received in response to OF-0001 and one response was received to both OF-0002 and OF-0003. Of the five OF-0001 bids received, only three were considered responsive to the RFQ, and out of the three bids, Le Flamengo was chosen as the lowest bidder. With regard to OF-0002 and OF-0003, Le Flamengo was the respondent for both RFQs. IRD sent RFQ OF-0008 to five “pre-qualified” Haitian building supply companies on 11/24/10. In response to the RFQ, IRD received one bid from Le Flamengo. (Attachment 3, IRD Summary of OF-0001, OF-0002, OF-0003 and OF-0008 procurements)

IRD’s publication, “Procurement Guidelines, Competition Process for Procurements over $5,000,” required that a pre-qualification questionnaire be used to identify a short list of pre-qualified vendors/suppliers. Additionally, when only one offer was received in response to a solicitation, the solicitation was supposed be posted to provide a broader open tender through internet or print media. (Attachment 4, Excerpt of IRD Procurement Guidelines, Competition Process for Procurements over $5,000)

Chief of Compliance, IRD, confirmed to the OIG that IRD failed to use a pre-qualification questionnaire in compiling its short list of vendors/suppliers solicited for the OF-0001, OF-0002, OF-0003 and OF-0008 procurements. Subsequent to receiving only one bid in response to the OF-0002, OF-0003 and OF-0008 RFQs, IRD also failed to post the RFQs on the internet or in the print media. Instead, IRD chose to purchase all the materials from the sole respondent, Le Flamengo. (Attachment 5, email communication with OIG, dated 09/06/12, 09/10/12, and 09/13/12)

This investigation was predicated on information provided by Population Services International (PSI), the USAID prime recipient under Cooperative Agreement #596-A-00-06-00060-00. The information alleged the mishandling of sub-grant funds by five former local employees from PASMO, in Belize, from 2007 through July 2009. The total amount believed to be mishandled was $115,832. The five former PASMO employees are and .

On February 1, 2010, PSI deducted $113,373.07 from its internal expenditures in order to compensate USAID for the loss relating to the mishandled funds. The originally reported $115,832 was an estimated amount at the time of the incident.

with the Belize City police department, started an investigation of the five former PASMO/Belize staff members and is working with the Belizean Crown Counsel However, due to other case priorities and a promotion, stopped investigating the case. Since August 2, 2012, has not been able to provide the OIG with any case status report or with any estimated timeframe on case completion.

Based on the deduction of PSI funding at no cost to USAID, this matter will be closed until further developments can be made by the Belizean authorities.

Details of Investigation:

On November 19, 2009, notified USAID that PSI became aware of possible mishandling of funds totaling $115,832 by former PASMO/Belize staff members from 2007 through July 2009. The initial review conducted by PSI confirmed that checks were forged and that both checks and petty cash were mishandled. (Attachment 1: PSI Self Reporting Letter, dated November 19, 2009)

On June 1, 2010, notified USAID that PSI had reclassified the misappropriated amount as unallowable and dissociated the amount from USAID funding. The action was taken in December 2009 and was reflected in the March 2010 quarterly financial report. She added that the Belize Criminal Investigation Bureau (CIB) was assigned to investigate the mishandling of funds, and has interviewed the five suspects along with other PASMO staff members. The Financial Investigative Unit and the Central Bank of Belize are assisting CIB. (Attachment 2: PSI letter to dated June 1, 2010)

On April 24, 2012, OIG Special Agents and traveled to Belize and met with to discuss the status of his investigation. stated that stopped working on the PASMO investigation due to other case priorities. also stated that was promoted from inspector to assistant superintendent during the investigation, which took away from investigative duties. The case is 60% complete and is working with Prosecutor has no investigative status report, but will provide one to the OIG at a later date. could not provide the OIG with an estimated timeline on completing the investigation and could not promise the completion of the investigation. (Attachment 3: Memorandum of Interview, dated April 25)

On May 2, 2012, reviewed two documents sent via email from USAID/Guatemala Chief Accountant. The first document was a PSI repayment letter stating that PSI replaced all affected funds under the agreement that were reclassified as unallowable and dissociated from USAID funding. The reclassification was completed in December 2009 and was reflected on the March 2010 quarterly financial report to USAID. The other document was a federal financial report (SF-425), which showed that PSI signed and submitted the SF-425 report for the quarter ending on December 31, 2009. The report reflects all PSI federal expenditures and indirect expenses for the quarter. (Attachment 4: Record Review, Payment Letter and Federal Financial Report)

On May 10, 2012, was interviewed. stated that the SF-425 reflects deductions from PSI expenditures totaling $113,373.07, which compensated for the loss of funds relating to the mismanagement of PASMO funding. stated that the original reported amount of $115,832 was an estimate at the time of the incident and was not the actual amount. PSI accounted for the mismanaged amount and no bill of collection was needed. (Attachment 5: Memorandum of Interview, dated May 10, 2012)

MEMORANDUM

TO:
Director, M/O/AA

Special Agent in Charge

SUBJECT: Referral for Consideration of Suspension
OIG/I Case Number

Relief International
5455 Wilshire Blvd, Suite 1280
Los Angeles, California 90036
Phone: (323) 932-7888

This memo serves as a referral for consideration of suspension of the above-referenced individuals and organization pending the completion of an OIG investigation. To support this recommendation, we submit the following investigative findings:
BACKGROUND

USAID/Iraq, under its Democracy and Governance program, signed a two-year cooperative agreement with Relief International to implement the Iraqi Community-based Conflict Mitigation Program (ICCM), beginning September 27, 2007 and ending October 31, 2009. The agreement was originally budgeted for $22,055,200. However, Relief International did not plan for security costs within Baghdad. USAID Negotiation Memo #2, dated December 10, 2007, increased the funding by $2,432,261 to $24,487,461 to “realign the budget to include security costs.” The negotiation memo stated that “the recipient decided on this security company [Edinburgh] after seeking competitive bids from other companies; this one has been used by other USAID partners previously.” The subcontract for security with Edinburgh cost $2,423,261.

On January 10, 2008, Relief International contacted USAID stating that Relief International was changing the security subcontractor from Edinburgh to Triple Canopy. The contract with Triple Canopy was for $2,038,823 - or $393,438 less than the original security contract. However, the co-op agreement was not decreased by this amount, enabling Relief International to keep the difference. The contract between Relief International and Triple Canopy was dated January 5, 2008.

On February 5, 2009, the Office of Inspector General received an allegation concerning non-competition on Relief International’s Iraq security contract. The information alleged that Relief International, directed the security contract to Triple Canopy/Clayton Associates (Triple Canopy) after the technical evaluation panel selected Edinburgh International/Cohort Group (Edinburgh). The information alleged competition misconduct. Specifically, it alleged that disclosed sub-contractor bids and proposals to Triple Canopy, which then won the contract due to its submission of a lower bid than the highest technically qualified sub-contractor, Edinburgh. The information disclosed included the bids of all of the other competitors as well as the actual proposal of Edinburgh. In addition, directed several Relief International employees to prepare documentation to make it appear as if Edinburgh won pursuant to a fair competition. After other Relief International employees refused, at Relief International, prepared the documents.

Due to poor performance and “severe delays in start-up,” USAID terminated the program on February 17, 2009. USAID paid Relief International approximately $16.5 million of the total $24.5 million project cost.

FINDINGS

The investigation revealed that Relief International solicited six companies in October 2007 to provide security services in Iraq. A technical committee chose Edinburgh as the winning bidder on November 1, 2007. sent Clayton Associates, Relief International’s kidnap and ransom insurance provider, a list of the five companies (one company withdrew from the competition), their bid prices, and the actual proposal of the top contender, on December 5, 2007. This information was passed to Triple Canopy, the parent company of Clayton Associates since June 2007.
then disregarded the outcome of the first technical evaluation panel and informed staff that they would redo the selection but this time they would choose between the company that just rejected (Edinburgh) and Triple Canopy, a company that was not considered previously. The new committee, which included staff that chose Triple Canopy, requested staff prepare the documentation to support this choice. Prepared the documentation that Relief International submitted to USAID to support the change in security providers. The documentation prepared stated that Relief International compared the bid prices and proposals of all six companies, when in fact, Triple Canopy was only compared to Edinburgh, and then not in price, only in proposal. In addition, the documentation stated that Triple Canopy had the lowest price in many of the key criteria; however, it did not state that Triple Canopy knew the bid prices of the other five companies prior to submitting its own bid.

DETAILS

On February 8, 2009, a former employee of Relief International, was contacted by the OIG and advised that was on the original technical review panel, knew of the change in security contractors, and was asked to help generate documents to make it appear as if the award to Triple Canopy was competitive. stated that the technical review panel met on November 1, 2007, to evaluate the six bids received and award the security contract. Triple Canopy was not one of the security firms evaluated as it did not submit a bid. One of the six companies, Sabre International, withdrew its bid. Edinburgh received the highest ratings and was selected. further stated that one of the reasons for selecting Edinburgh was that Edinburgh could get started quickly and time was of the essence. Relief International informed USAID of its selection of Edinburgh via email on November 14, 2007. According to in December 2007, the panel's decision was thrown out by who decided to award the subcontract to Triple Canopy. stated that consulted with Relief International's kidnap & ransom service provider, Clayton Associates, which advised that although Edinburgh was the best out of the six bids, it still was not of the tier necessary for work in Iraq. Clayton Associates recommended Triple Canopy.

provided copies of emails sent during this time period. One email from dated December 22, 2007, was to the employees asked to sit on the second panel to award the security contract. It stated, "We now need to select and appoint the right Iraq Security Company for our needs" and told them that the choices were Edinburgh and Triple Canopy. The email continued by saying that they reviewed the original five bids and Edinburgh was the best, but that Edinburgh used "Tier 3 & 4" security personnel, not "Tier 1 & 2" personnel as Triple Canopy did. The email also stated that Triple Canopy protects USAID and the US Embassy. stated that they received a bid from Triple Canopy the week before (mid December 2007). Now the second panel was to decide between the two firms - Edinburgh, which had already been rejected by and Triple Canopy.

On September 4, 2009, the OIG interviewed a former employee of Relief International. stated that was on the original review panel for the security services subcontract. Once the panel made its choice, refused to sign it. was asked by to re-do the paperwork for the evaluation including the evaluations, negotiation memo, and justification. refused and believes did it...
On September 9, 2009, the OIG interviewed a former employee of Relief International who served as stated that Relief International asked USAID for suggestions of security companies to use in Iraq and was provided with a list. Relief International contacted these companies to request bids. The technical committee reviewed the bids based on preset criteria and chose Edinburgh. After the selection committee met, was removed from the communication and decision making process. Found out through that rejected their selection and went with own.

When Relief International submitted Edinburgh to USAID as the subcontractor for security services, USAID prepared a negotiation memo, dated December 10, 2007, to increase the award to Relief International. The memo stated, "The recipient decided on this security company after seeking competitive bids from other companies; this one has been used by other USAID partners previously." The memo included Relief International's line item budget for Edinburgh, which totaled $2,423,621. Relief International told USAID, via an email from to USAID Democracy and Governance Officer, dated November 14, 2007, that Relief International picked Edinburgh as its security services firm mainly because, "they could begin operations immediately, which would facilitate rapid deployment from our end."

After Relief International decided to change security firms, Acquisition Officer, sent an email, dated January 11, 2008, to and which stated that Relief International would "need to re-submit a request to subcontract". replied on January 22, 2008, stating that Relief International was requesting permission to subcontract with Triple Canopy, giving details of the "proposed" subcontractor. Unbeknownst to USAID, Relief International had already signed the contract with Triple Canopy to do the work in Iraq. The Relief International/Triple Canopy contract was dated January 5, 2008.

On March 4, 2011, the OIG interviewed said that when received what called the shortlist, did not approve the award, told the OIG that wanted the review panel to negotiate with the firm, stated that then contacted Clayton Associates, Relief International's war risk insurance provider, which recommended Triple Canopy from which a bid was solicited. Triple Canopy did submit a bid, which was slightly lower than the "shortlisted" firm. Relief International formed another panel to review the bid from Triple Canopy and compare it with the "shortlisted" firm. They picked Triple Canopy as the company to hire. claimed not to remember any problems internally surrounding the preparation of documents to give to USAID for its approval of the subcontract. In interview with the OIG, said believed there was some connection between Clayton Associates and Triple Canopy but was unsure of what specifically. When asked, said had no idea then or currently that Triple Canopy owned Clayton Associates. The interview with the OIG, said, was the first time had heard that did not find it an odd decision to contact Clayton Associates regarding the security firms. stated that pays Clayton for consultancy. had never hired a security firm and Relief International did not at the time have a security expert on staff.

On March 5, 2011, the OIG interviewed was part of the selection committee for the Iraq security contract and advised that the security firm Sallyport had the lowest price, but its proposal was "odd." Edinburgh had the best overall score and second best price so the selection committee selected Edinburgh. Once the committee selected Edinburgh, it sent the information to [redacted] who wanted the group to see if it could renegotiate with Edinburgh or look at Sallyport to see if it “could do more.” According to [redacted] it was [redacted] who contacted Clayton Associates to see what they thought of the five companies provided by USAID. [redacted] stated that when [redacted] saw all of the bids, [redacted] contacted [redacted] of Clayton Associates. [redacted] wanted to ensure the best price. [redacted] provided the OIG with an email that was sent by [redacted] to Clayton Associates asking about the firms. The email from [redacted] listed each of the five companies, their bid prices, and the entire bid proposal submitted by Edinburgh. The email back to [redacted] from [redacted] included a forwarded email from [redacted] who works for Triple Canopy. The email from [redacted] stated [redacted] would not recommend any of the companies. They were all “Tier III” companies that cut corners. He stated that [redacted] company would be willing to do the work. [redacted] then told [redacted] to contact Triple Canopy in Washington, DC and ask for a bid proposal. [redacted] asked if they could provide a proposal within 48 hours. They did and the price was just under Edinburgh’s price. [redacted] formed a second selection committee to choose between Edinburgh and Triple Canopy.

[redacted] said [redacted] prepared the documentation to send to USAID to request approval to subcontract with Triple Canopy. [redacted] was supposed to prepare the paperwork but [redacted] passed it to [redacted] who believes [redacted] disagreed with the fact that Relief International looked at another security firm after the bid selection committee went through the process and selected Edinburgh. The documentation included a memo of negotiation. This memo explained that six companies, including the first five and Triple Canopy, submitted bids. It explained the difference in cost among all of them. It did not mention that Relief International originally selected Edinburgh and then had a second vote between just two companies. [redacted] stated that the contract with Triple Canopy was signed in early January 2008, before Relief International received the approval for a subcontract. [redacted] was aware that Triple Canopy owned Clayton Associates, but [redacted] did not become aware of it until about the summer of 2008. [redacted] mentioned this to [redacted] that summer, [redacted] realized then that Clayton Associates must have been friendly with Triple Canopy back when they were soliciting bids from Triple Canopy. If [redacted] had known about this merger back when they were soliciting bids [redacted] would have thought more about it, but believes Relief International would still pick Triple Canopy over Edinburgh. They were under tight deadlines and there was no time to solicit more bids. Neither [redacted] nor [redacted] have been on a bid selection panel prior or subsequent to this.

During [redacted] interview, the OIG presented [redacted] with a subpoena for documents. Relief International sent the subpoena production to the OIG on March 21, 2011. Several documents included pertinent information.

(1) Email from [redacted] to Head of Crisis Response at Clayton Associates, dated December 5, 2007. [redacted] sent the bid prices of the five security companies that bid on the contract to Clayton Associates (the parent company of Triple Canopy) and asked for recommendations and observations. [redacted] also sent the entire proposal of Edinburgh to [redacted] forwarded the email with this information to [redacted] Triple Canopy Project Manager, on December 6, 2007. [redacted] responded that none of the five firms are good and [redacted] company would be able to help.
This documentation contradicts statement to the OIG that it was who initiated contact with Triple Canopy.

(2) Email from to dated December 18, 2007. writes, “Due to Triple Canopy’s name, and also our association with Clayton – we would be most interested in pursuing these possibilities further with you as soon as possible.”

Triple Canopy replied with its proposal on December 20, 2007.

(3) Email from to and (Relief International employees) dated December 22, 2007. emailed the second selection panel formed for to choose a security company. wrote, “We now need to select and appoint the right Iraq Security Company for our needs. We are down to a choice of two organizations. One is Edinburgh, the other is Triple Canopy.” explained that Relief International received a list of five security companies and that of those five, Edinburgh was the best. wrote that Relief International solicited opinions from people outside of Relief International on the abilities of the five security firms and that the response was that all five used “only tier 3 & 4 security personnel.” added that asked USAID about tier 1 & 2 companies “such as Dyncorp, Blackstone, Triple Canopy.” wrote that Relief International was able to get a recommendation and introduction to Triple Canopy by Clayton Associates.

(4) Email from to dated December 24, 2007. thanked for phone call and wrote that after talking to a family friend about the security companies, has decided to change vote to Triple Canopy.

(5) Relief International’s memorandum of negotiation sent to USAID, dated January 22, 2008 and signed by wrote the following companies submitted proposals that were reviewed: Edinburgh, Triple Canopy, Garda World, Sallyport, Sandi Group, and Unity. outlined the various elements of the proposals and which was the lowest price or best provider. wrote that Triple Canopy had the lowest bid for Life Support Housing and for Additional Items. Triple Canopy did not have the lowest bid for an IZ driver, but wrote that Triple Canopy had the highest quality and security of service. For Red Zone travel, only one company, Sallyport, had a lower cost, yet Triple Canopy had the best quality. stated, “The proposals and bid totals of all above elements by proposing subcontractors were reviewed and compared.”

It is noted that thus indicated that the bids were all compared to each other when in fact the first five were compared among each other and then Triple Canopy was compared to Edinburgh, though not in cost, only in proposal. The memo connotes that Triple Canopy had the lowest price overall, except for Sallyport, which stated had significantly inferior services to Triple Canopy. Triple Canopy submitted the lowest price subsequent to learning the prices of the other bidders.

(6) Email from to of Clayton Associates dated December 14, 2007. thanks for the response and asked “…if Clayton and Triple Canopy have any US Govt contracts right now and if per chance any of the contracts may be with NGOs. That may help our case with USAID. Also if we could get a cost proposal from you for the same services then we can be back to you with a response soon as we have clarification from USAID.” It is noted that directed the request for proposal to who works for Clayton versus who works for Triple Canopy, although contact information was in the email. This contradicts statement to the OIG that was unaware of any connection between Clayton and Triple Canopy.

sent an email to the OIG on April 18, 2011. stated that never received an answer to why the second evaluation round was needed. When the first round was completed and the package went to for signature, decided to subvert the process and do own procurement process. “The second round was conducted with a different set of individuals and it was never clear why or how these individuals were chosen...the process was not transparent.” offered that there was tremendous pressure to vote for selected vendor - even announced in an all-staff meeting that Triple Canopy was preferred vendor before the second bid evaluation took place. extolled the virtues of Triple Canopy and said the company provided the most robust security services of all bidders. said left Relief International for many reasons, but the main issue was the security company procurement. felt that was pressured to leave because of disagreements about the procurement, among other things.

This matter was presented to the Department of Justice on March 7, 2011. The Department of Justice issued a final declination on August 29, 2011. The OIG investigation is on-going.

As of October 6, 2011, Relief International has at least seven awards with USAID worth over $25 million. Over the past 12 years, Relief International has had at least 17 awards totaling over $81 million.

This information is being referred to you for consideration of action to suspend the above-referenced individuals and organization from any involvement in U.S. government programs pending completion of the investigation. Please advise this office of any action taken within thirty days.

On February 5, 2009, information was received from an employee, alleging non-competition on an Iraq security contract at the former employer, Relief International (RI). The information alleged that the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of RI, a USAID contractor, directed the security contract to a particular sub-contractor after the technical evaluation panel already determined the winner of the subcontract.

The information alleged that of RI, directed the security services contract to a particular sub-contractor, Triple Canopy, after the technical evaluation panel already determined the winner of the subcontract, Edinburgh International/Cohort Group (EI). directed several employees to prepare documentation to make it appear as if it was competitively awarded. of RI, prepared the documentation knowing that it was not competitively awarded. In addition, the security company that received the subcontract, Triple Canopy, is the parent company of RI’s provider of ransom and kidnap insurance, Clayton Associates. The information alleged that approached Clayton Associates with the original security company proposals and bids, and they suggested RI use their parent, Triple Canopy, instead of EI.

The investigation found that sent Clayton Associates a list of the five companies who already submit bids, their bid prices, and the actual proposal of the top contender, EI. This information was passed on to Triple Canopy, the parent company of Clayton Associates. disregarded the outcome of the first technical evaluation panel and informed staff that they would redo the selection but this time they would choose between the company just rejected, EI, and Triple Canopy, a company that did not submit a bid previously. The new committee chose Triple Canopy and requested staff prepare the documentation to support this choice. prepared the documentation that RI submitted to USAID to support the change in security providers. The documentation prepared and sent to USAID was misleading in that it stated that RI compared the bid prices and proposals of all six companies, when in fact, Triple Canopy was only compared to El, and then not in price, only in proposal. In addition, the documentation also stated that Triple Canopy had the lowest price in many of the key criteria; however, it did not state that Triple Canopy knew the bid prices of the other five companies.

The case was presented to an AUSA for criminal prosecution and declined. The case was presented to an AUSA for civil prosecution and declined. The matter was then referred to USAID/OAA/Compliance Division for possible debarment or suspension resulting in no action.

Details of Investigation:

On 02/05/09, the OIG interviewed Development Leadership Initiative USAID employee (DLI), USAID/Egypt. RI stated that RI received a contract in 2007/8 from USAID in Iraq for approximately $20 million to perform community capacity building work. As part of this contract, RI was supposed to contract for security services. RI had a technical evaluation committee (TEC) comprised of and possibly others to review the security proposals from a list of security firms. The TEC chose to award the contract to a particular firm. However, did not want to award it to the firm the TEC chose. Instead, told the TEC to award the contract to another firm. stated that would know the details. (Attachment 1, Memorandum of Interview, dated 02/05/09)

On 03/11/09, the OIG reviewed memo. It outlined the specifics regarding an allegation of false claims to USAID by subcontracting security services without any actual competition. RI contacted USAID to get a list of security providers for Iraq. USAID provided a list of five firms. The members of the review panel were: and The panel met November 1, 2007 and picked El/Cohort. rejected the selection and told the panel that they would have to re-start the procurement process. stated spoke with the company's Kidnap & Ransom service provider, Clayton Associates, and they stated that although El/Cohort was the best out of the six, they still were not of the tier they felt was necessary in Iraq. Clayton Associates recommended Triple Canopy. Clayton Associates was purchased by Triple Canopy on June 15, 2007, so Clayton was telling RI to use their parent company.

RI held a second panel on December 21, 2007 and the members were: and The second panel considered only two proposals, El/Cohort Group, which the CEO already rejected, and Triple Canopy. The panel chose Triple Canopy. RI approved this selection, verbally, on December 24, 2007.

RI sent the subcontract information relating to El/Cohort Group to USAID for approval. After the second panel met, RI sent the new subcontract information to USAID for approval and received approval both times. Stated was asked by to prepare fraudulent documents to back up the second panel’s choice. The memo also included several emails to support the letter. (Attachment 2, Record Review, letter summary, dated 03/11/09)

On 09/04/2009, the OIG interviewed the Vice President of Operations, and asked to redo the paperwork for the evaluation, including the evaluation’s, negotiation memo, and justification. knows this because called the members of the evaluation committee and requested assistance in doing so. According to the process by which a winner was originally chosen by the evaluation committee is "bullet-proof". However, by-passed the system they had put in place. As a result, it is opinion that the subcontract was not fairly competed or transparent. does not know why chose a new company to win the award. (Attachment 3, Memorandum of Interview, dated 09/04/09)

On 09/09/2009, the OIG interviewed former was tasked with procuring a security subcontract. contacted companies and requested bids for the security subcontract. The technical evaluation committee (TEC) that was eventually put into place included the Vice President of Operations; and a finance employee. The TEC convened to review the bids. El had the winning bid. put together the necessary documentation including the official proposal and the justification for the decision.

The award needed to be approved by sent the documents to that the decision to award to El was never approved by learned that some way. Triple Canopy was finally chosen to receive the security subcontract. RI had originally reported to USAID that El was selected as the security contractor. Once Triple Canopy was selected, RI had to report a different selection to USAID/Baghdad.

When RI submitted El to USAID as the subcontractor for security services, USAID prepared a negotiation memo, dated December 10, 2007, to increase the award to RI. The memo stated, “The recipient decided on this security company after seeking competitive bids from other companies; this one has been used by other USAID partners previously.” The memo included RI’s line item budget for El, which totaled $2,423,621. RI told USAID, via an email from [REDACTED] to [REDACTED] USAID Democracy and Governance Officer, dated November 14, 2007, that RI picked El as its security services firm mainly because, “they could begin operations immediately, which would facilitate rapid deployment from our end.” (Attachment 4, Memorandum of Interview, dated 09/09/09)

After RI decided to change security firms, sent an email, dated January 11, 2008, to [REDACTED] which stated that RI would “need to re-submit a request to subcontract”. [REDACTED] replied on January 22, 2008, stating that RI was requesting permission to subcontract with Triple Canopy, giving details of the “proposed” subcontractor. Unbeknownst to USAID, RI had already signed the contract with Triple Canopy to do the work in Iraq. The RI/Triple Canopy contract was dated January 5, 2008. (Attachment 6, Email from USAID to RI, dated 1/11/08) (Attachment 7, Email from RI to USAID, dated 1/22/08)

On 3/4/11, the OIG interviewed [REDACTED] said that when received what called the shortlist, [REDACTED] did not approve the award. [REDACTED] stated that wanted the review panel to negotiate with the firm. [REDACTED] stated that then contacted Clayton Associates, RI’s war risk insurance provider, which recommended Triple Canopy from which a bid was solicited. Triple Canopy did submit a bid, which was slightly lower than the “shortlisted” firm. RI formed another review panel to review the bid from Triple Canopy and compare it with the “shortlisted” firm. They picked Triple Canopy as the company to hire. [REDACTED] claimed not to remember any problems internally surrounding
On 3/5/11, the OIG interviewed [Redacted] who was part of the selection committee for the Iraq security contract. [Redacted] advised that the security firm Sallyport had the lowest price, but its proposal was "odd." EI had the best overall score and second best price so the selection committee selected EI. Once the committee selected EI, it sent the information to [Redacted] who wanted the group to see if it could renegotiate with EI or look at Sallyport to see if it "could do more." According to [Redacted] it was [Redacted] who contacted Clayton Associates to see what it thought of the five companies provided by USAID. [Redacted] stated that when [Redacted] saw all of the bids [Redacted] contacted [Redacted] of Clayton Associates. [Redacted] wanted to ensure the best price. [Redacted] provided the email that was sent by [Redacted] to Clayton Associates asking about the firms. The email from [Redacted] listed each of the five companies, their bid prices, and the entire bid proposal sent by EI. The email back to [Redacted] from [Redacted] included a forwarded email from [Redacted] who works for Triple Canopy. The email from [Redacted] stated that would not recommend any of the companies. They were all "Tier III" companies that cut corners. [Redacted] stated that his company would be willing to do the work. [Redacted] then told [Redacted] to contact Triple Canopy in Washington, DC and ask for a bid proposal. [Redacted] asked if they could provide a proposal within 48 hours. They did and the price was just under EI's price. [Redacted] formed a second selection committee to choose between EI and Triple Canopy.

[Redacted] prepared the documentation to send to USAID to request approval to subcontract with Triple Canopy. [Redacted] was supposed to prepare the paperwork but passed it to [Redacted] who disagreed with the fact that RI looked at another security firm after the bid selection committee went through the process and selected EI. The documentation included a memo of negotiation. This memo explained that six companies, including the first five and Triple Canopy, submitted bids. It explained the difference in cost among all of them. It did not mention that RI originally selected EI and then had a second vote between just two companies. [Redacted] stated that the contract with Triple Canopy was signed in early January 2008, before RI received the approval for a subcontract. [Redacted] was aware that the contract was signed in early January 2008 before RI received the approval for a subcontract. [Redacted] was aware that Triple Canopy owned Clayton Associates, but [Redacted] did not become aware of it until about the summer of 2008. In the summer of 2008 [Redacted] realized that Clayton Associates must have been friendly with Triple Canopy back when they were soliciting bids from Triple Canopy. [Redacted] had known about this merger back when they were soliciting bids, would have thought more about it, but believes RI would still pick Triple Canopy over EI. They were under tight deadlines and there was no time to solicit more bids. Neither nor have been on a bid selection panel prior or subsequent to this. (Attachment 9, Memorandum of Interview - dated 3/5/11)

On 4/6/11, the OIG reviewed the documents received as a result of an IG subpoena submitted to RI. Several documents included pertinent information:

1. Email from to Clayton Associates, dated December 5, 2007: sent the bid prices of the five security companies that bid on the contract to Clayton Associates (the parent company of Triple Canopy) and asked for recommendations and observations. also sent the entire proposal of EI to forwarded the email with this information to on December 6, 2007. responded that none of the five firms are good and company would be able to help.

This documentation contradicts statement to the OIG that it was who initiated contact with Triple Canopy.

2. Email from to dated December 18, 2007. writes, “Due to Triple Canopy’s name, and also our association with Clayton – we would be most interested in pursuing these possibilities further with you as soon as possible.” Triple Canopy replied with its proposal on December 20, 2007.

3. Email from to and (RI employees) dated December 22, 2007. emailed the second selection panel formed for choosing a security company. stated, “We now need to select and appoint the right Iraq Security Company for our needs. We are down to a choice of two organizations. One is EI, the other is Triple Canopy.” explained that RI received a list of five security companies and that of those five, EI was the best. stated that RI solicited opinions from people outside of RI on the abilities of the five security firms and that the response was that all five used “only Tier 3 & 4 security personnel.” stated that asked USAID about Tier 1 & 2 companies “such as DynCorp, Blackstone, Triple Canopy.” stated that RI was able to get a recommendation and introduction to Triple Canopy by Clayton Associates.

4. Email from to dated December 24, 2007. thanked phone call and wrote that after talking to a family friend about the security companies, has decided to change vote to Triple Canopy.

5. RI’s memorandum of negotiation sent to USAID, dated January 22, 2008 and signed by states the following companies submitted proposals that were reviewed: EI, Triple Canopy, Garda World, Sallyport, Sandi Group, and Unity.
outlined the various elements of the proposals and which was the lowest price or best provider. Stated that Triple Canopy had the lowest bid for Life Support Housing and for Additional Items. Triple Canopy did not have the lowest bid for an International Zone of Baghdad driver, but stated Triple Canopy had the highest quality and security of service. For Red Zone travel, only one company, Sallyport, had a lower cost, yet Triple Canopy had the best quality. Stated, "The proposals and bid totals of all above elements by proposing subcontractors were reviewed and compared."

It is noted that thus indicated that they were all compared to each other when in fact, the first five were compared among each other, and then Triple Canopy was compared to EI, though not in cost, only in proposal. The memo indicates that Triple Canopy had the lowest price overall, except for Sallyport, which had significantly inferior services to Triple Canopy. Triple Canopy submitted the lowest price subsequent to learning the prices of the other bidders.

(6) Email from to of Clayton Associates dated December 14, 2007. thanks for the response and asked "...if Clayton and Triple Canopy have any US Govt contracts right now and if per chance any of the contracts may be with NGOs. That may help our case with USAID. Also if we could get a cost proposal from you for the same services then we can be back to you with a response soon as we have clarification from USAID." It is noted that directed the request for proposal to who works for Clayton versus who works for Triple Canopy, although contact information was in the email. This contradicts statement that was unaware of any connection between Clayton and Triple Canopy. (Attachment 10, Record Review – Subpoena Documents, dated 4/6/11) making the kickback payment to [redacted] with a video camera. The RA obtained a DVD copy of the video, which will be maintained in the investigative case file. On the same day, the [redacted] observed the arresting officers attempt to interrogate [redacted]. However, [redacted] declined to make a statement without assistance from an attorney and no interrogation took place. The interrogation attempt was also recorded by video camera and a DVD copy of the recording will be maintained in the case file for posterity.

On 08/27/09, the RA obtained a photocopy of a USAID Memorandum indicating USAID/Malawi terminated the employment contract effective immediately. This was completed in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Locally Employed Staff Handbook: Section XVI - Separation for Cause and Section XVIII Disciplinary Actions, Employment Act and the terms and conditions of your contract of employment, section II, General Provision 12 - Termination for Cause. [redacted] surmised the funds were taken while in the custody of the Malawi court. An email from RSO [redacted] documenting the discrepancy is attached.
