SENATE SUB-COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING
CRIME IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
INFORMATION CONCERNING

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

[redacted]
[redacted] has confidentially advised that he has been informed by a reliable source that [redacted]

[redacted]

In this connection, [redacted] related that about three months ago he received a phone call at his home which was answered by his wife. The caller asked for the [redacted] and when informed he was not at home, requested [redacted] to tell the [redacted] that [redacted] had called. When she inquired as to any telephone number that the [redacted] should call, the caller stated "just tell him [redacted] called and he will know where to get me."

b6
b7D

[redacted] He said his informant told him that through the telephone tap on his home, the details of a conversation regarding [redacted] had been obtained.

[redacted]

[redacted] During the course of his testimony in executive session before the Sub-Committee, [redacted] went into great detail in questioning him concerning [redacted]

[redacted] said from these two episodes, he feels the information could have been obtained only through tapping his telephone. He said he then conferred with two officials of the telephone company and after they had allegedly made a check of his home telephone line, informed him there was no tap on his phone. One official told him there were only three places where his phone could be tapped and during the course of the conversation let slip that the phone had been tapped at one of these places but immediately corrected himself saying that it could have been. [redacted] stated the original information from his informant was that the taps were put on at the telephone board and after he had complained to the telephone company, the taps were removed and replaced on a pole near his home, an automobile being used as a receiving point. His informant even furnished him the number of the telephone pole from which the tap was operating. [redacted] said he had had an inquiry made by some of his men in the neighborhood of his home to determine if possible whether such a tap had been installed, with negative results.

[redacted] said he contemplated going to Senator MATTHEW NEELY, Chairman of the Sub-Committee, and informing him of this matter but that he desired proof before he approached him. He said he knows from past experience that Senator NEELY is strongly opposed to wire-tapping and for that reason believes the activities by [redacted] are without the knowledge of the Senator. He said that as he looks back and recalls the various conversations he has had with [redacted] [redacted] has continually stated that wire tapping should be legalized in the District of Columbia and be handled under the same conditions that prevail in New York City. He further stated it is his understanding that [redacted] has imported two men from New York City who are familiar with wire tapping and has had them working for him since February 1, 1952.

[redacted] also stated he knows that former [redacted] [redacted] has worked very closely with the Sub-Committee and furnished them with information and leads and has, as a matter of fact, interviewed people with [redacted] on matters concerning the police department. He has received information from what he considers a reliable source that in February, 1952, [redacted] [redacted] by the name of [redacted] who is a close friend of [redacted] had told the [redacted] informant that about April 1, 1952, there would be a big blow-off concerning the Metropolitan Police Department which would ultimately sweep [redacted] out of office, that [redacted] would become [redacted] and that [redacted] would take over all the gambling in the District of Columbia and operate with a freehand. [redacted] said he believed [redacted] was apparently referring to the narcotics condition disclosed by the Sub-Committee in March, 1952. Since he has taken office, [redacted] has informed him openly that he is campaigning to obtain the position of Superintendent of Police in Washington.

The foregoing is submitted for the information of the Bureau.

DIRECTOR'S NOTATION. . "Since it appears to be open season for wire tapping I think regular checks should be made of home & office phones of all members of Ex-Conf. & Sac & a Sac of Wash. Field." H.

All central office appearances, working and multiple cable appearances and telephone instruments were examined and found free of clandestine connections.

The facilities serving Mr. Holloman were examined; however, subsequent to this examination the service has been changed from two party to private line. As soon as the prerequisite information required to complete this check is compiled by the telephone company, a complete security survey will be afforded this line. Information received from the telephone company on May 1, 1952, indicated that this data will be afforded on May 6, 1952.

It is evident from this survey that the telephone services of all officials except the Director, Mr. Rosen and Mr. Mohr can be tapped at points remote from their residences where their telephone pairs reappear, usually referred to as multiple appearances.

May 3, 1952

The monthly check of the office telephones of the Bureau officials was made on April 8th in accordance with instructions contained in Mr. Conrad's memorandum to ^{me} dated January 23, 1952, captioned "Bureau Telephones Security Checks."

The technical data compiled during this survey will be retained in the Laboratory.

A letter has been directed to the Washington field division reporting completion of central office portion of the lines of SAC Hood and ASAC Fletcher together with information revealing the location of the working and multiple appearances of these lines.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Ex. conf. memo 5-6-52 That the Bureau consider requesting the telephone company make all lines nonmultiplying. It is suggested that this be handled by the Communication Section through commercial contacts in order that the engineering staff at the telephone company can issue orders for the desired work. This will involve much planning, extensive work and expense to the telephone company.

That the working and multiple appearances of the residence telephones of officials listed in this memorandum be checked once in each 90 days.

That the facilities in the telephone company central offices be checked once in 6 months and the instruments on the premises be checked once in each year.

May 3, 1952

That times for these checks be staggered in such a way that no definite pattern can be established on a recheck of the facilities.

EX-25

Confirming telephonic instructions given to Mr. H. B. Fletcher on April 23, 1952, regular security checks should be made of the home phones of the SAC and SAD of the Washington Field Office. These checks should be handled on a quarterly basis by qualified sound men assigned to your office. The quarterly check may be limited to the lines between the telephone exchange and the residences, with a check of the instruments in the residences to be made once a year. Representatives of the Laboratory will handle semi-annual checks within the telephone exchanges involved.

You should, of course, continue to make the regular monthly security checks of office telephones required under existing Bureau instructions to all field offices.

Attached hereto is a statement containing technical data which will be of assistance to the sound men of your office in making the security checks of the residence phones of the SAC and SAD.

On May 6, 1952, the Conference, composed of Messrs. Ladd, Glavin, Mohr, Belmont, Rosen, Clegg, Gearty, Holloman and Harbo, was advised of the Director's instructions that regular checks should be made of the home and office telephones of all members of the Executives Conference and the SAC and ASAC of the Washington Field Office, and that the check had been completed with negative results.

Under a program previously approved by the Director, office telephones of members of the Conference are checked monthly. The Conference unanimously recommends that the residence phones of members of the Conference be checked on a quarterly basis. This will be limited to the lines between the telephone exchange and the individual residence, with a check inside the telephone exchange being made semiannually, and an actual check of the telephone instrument in the residences of the Conference members being made only once a year. The schedule for the SAC and ASAC of the Washington Field Office would be the same as proposed herein for the Conference members. If the Director approves, the attached letter may go forward to the Washington Field Office.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

On 1-12-53 [redacted] and [redacted] conducted a security survey of the Senate Office Building and residence lines of Senator McCarran. No evidence of tampering was found.

At the residence, there are 3 instruments. In the library, a pair of wires about 18" long, terminating in a 2-hole Jones socket, is attached to the line at the instrument. This socket could be used as a convenient means of attaching a recording device to the phone. No recording equipment was observed.

Security Surveys

Under date of 11-20-52, a suggestion was made, by the writer, that an examination of the offices of key Bureau officials and supervisors of the Domestic Intelligence Division be made to determine if resonant cavities or other listening devices may be present. At that time the necessary equipment to conduct such a check was not available.

This suggestion was made, in part, due to the fact that during the past several months various types of listening devices have been discovered secreted in the offices of the US diplomatic officials located in the Soviet Bloc. While no such devices have been found, to my knowledge, within the United States, it is felt that we cannot afford to adopt the position that the FBI is immune to such attempts at Soviet penetration, since, as the foremost intelligence agency of the Western powers, we are a logical Soviet intelligence target. The study of the resonant cavity device, the seriousness of which has just been discovered within the past six months, likewise prompted the suggestion at this time. The range of its effectiveness depends upon the power of the activating mechanism, which conceivably might be concealed in any of the private buildings fronting on Pennsylvania Avenue.

RECOMMENDATION:

Inasmuch as the Radio-Electrical Section is now in possession of the necessary equipment, it is recommended they be requested to conduct an examination of the offices of key Bureau officials and supervisors of the Domestic Intelligence Division to determine if resonant devices or other listening devices may be present.

Reference is made to memo from Supervisor O.A. Ezell to Mr. Branigan dated 3-10-53 renewing a recommendation that examination be made of the offices of key Bureau officials and supervisors of the Domestic Intelligence Division to determine if resonant cavity microphones or other listening devices may be present.

As indicated in my memo of 12-5-52 in response to the earlier recommendation we were equipped at that time to make the security search for everything except the cavity microphone, and search equipment for the cavity microphone was not purchased by the Bureau because of lack of funds. However, the Bureau subsequently has purchased one set of equipment for cavity microphone searches. As previously indicated the minimum searching party consists of 2 men and it is estimated that a minimum of 2 days time will be required to search a single room of average size for the cavity microphone alone. In addition, prior to beginning active search for the cavity type microphone, a "listening" type of search should be conducted for several hours in order to determine whether cavity microphones might be being activated by the enemy, it being noted that active search as distinguished from "listening" would immediately inform the enemy of our activities.

One additional day's time for 1 man is required to search a single room of average size for other types of microphones. Accordingly, it is estimated that a total of 6 man days will be required for the complete search of each average size room involved. Certain phases of the search for the cavity type microphone will necessarily have to be carried out during the hours in which the office is occupied and in use. This will mean that approximately 1 of the above 6 man days per room will involve a technician in the space to be searched during the normal working day.

As previously pointed out by me, the "room search" approach will not as a practical matter insure 100 per cent against the presence of microphones since it is entirely possible to conceal microphones in such a way that they cannot be detected with present day equipment, without substantial damage to wall surfaces, and, of course, the destruction of wall surfaces is not a practical approach.

RECOMMENDATION

In view of the security checks which we are making for other government officials, I certainly agree that it is desirable to insure insofar as possible the security of our own critical offices. It is suggested that we start with a survey of the offices of the Director, Mr. Tolson, Mr. Ladd and Mr. Nichols.

On March 30 the Conference composed of Messrs. Tolson, Ladd, Callahan, Tracy, Clegg, Gearty, Holloman, Belmont, Mohr and Harbo considered the suggestion of Special Agent O. A. Ezell of the Domestic Intelligence Division that the Laboratory make an examination of the offices of key Bureau officials and supervisors of the Domestic Intelligence Division to determine whether resonant cavity microphones or any other listening devices may be present.

The Conference was advised that it would require 6 man days per room to make such a search, that it would not insure one hundred per cent against the presence of microphones since they could be concealed without detection unless substantial damage was done to wall surfaces.

The Bureau now has the equipment needed to search for the cavity type microphones. It is anticipated that a request to search for such devices will be received from the White House. The Conference was opposed to the suggestion of Mr. Ezell. Mr. Ladd was likewise opposed to a proposal that a search for listening devices be made only in the Director's Office on the ground that it is extremely unlikely that hidden listening devices would be found, due to the practical difficulties of gaining access to the space to install any concealed microphones.

Messrs. Tolson, Callahan, Tracy, Mohr, Belmont, Clegg, Gearty, Holloman and Harbo recommend that a search for cavity type microphones and other listening devices be made in the Director's Office. They recognize that it is unlikely any concealed listening devices will be discovered but feel that since we are making such searches for other agencies we should make such a search of the Director's Office as a precautionary measure.

Preliminary search began 4/6/53. Holloman with advice when office again available. 4/7 Jure

For the Conference

Security Surveys

On April 2, 1953, while [redacted] of the Liaison Section was discussing other matters with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, he stated that he was a little concerned about some of the leaks emanating from the Post Office Department. He stated that he understands that [redacted] had a man assigned to each Cabinet officer for the purpose of picking up information from any source he could and that because of this, plus the fact that there have been leaks, he would feel safer if the FBI would have a check made of his entire office suite for the possibility of microphones being planted in the ordinary and most usual places. He stated he did not want the panels ripped off the wall but if we could make a check of electrical receptacles, etc., he would feel much better about it. Mr. Summerfield stated he would like to have, in addition to his immediate office, the office of Deputy Postmaster General Charles R. Hook, Jr., checked, plus the reception rooms used by Mr. Hook and himself.

Mr. Summerfield stated that this check could be done at the Bureau's convenience.

ACTION:

It is recommended that the Bureau make the requested security check of the Postmaster General's suite. If you approve, this memorandum should be forwarded to the Laboratory for handling.

Re my memo 2-10-53 advising that arrangements are being made with the telephone company to reassign the house pair in the Senate Office Building for the unlisted telephone line to a non-multiple pair. The telephone company advised on 3-31-53 that the reassignment had been completed; in addition, telephone extension 1149 also had its multiple removed. Accordingly, all of Mr. Nixon's telephones in the Senate Office Building are now supplied with house pairs which do not multiple at other locations.

Security of Telephone Services

On April 2, 1953, while [redacted] of the Liaison Section was discussing other matters with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, he advised that he was a little concerned with the security of the Department of Agriculture's "Report Room." Secretary Benson stated that in this room his people compile facts and figures concerning prices and other confidential information relating to the United States agricultural economy. He stated that at a given time he has to go to this room and sign the prepared report. Following this, copies of this report are furnished to newspapermen and other interested persons and the information then becomes public. Up to this point it is essential, according to Secretary Benson, that this information be kept strictly confidential.

Secretary Benson stated that if possible, he would appreciate the Bureau's making a security check of this room and look for concealed microphones in the most logical places. Secretary Benson stated that he would go into this matter more fully when the Bureau's representatives come to his office on Monday, April 8, 1953, to check his telephones in connection with the countermeasure device.

On April 6, 1953, Special Agent [redacted] of the Electrical Section of the FBI Laboratory checked the telephones of Secretary Benson in connection with the countermeasure device. At that time Secretary Benson was away from his desk; however, [redacted] talked to [redacted] Executive Assistant to the Secretary. [redacted] advised [redacted] that there were actually four rooms involved in the "Report Room" setup and that Secretary Benson desired the FBI to check these rooms for the purpose of preventing any possible leaks by the use of concealed microphones. [redacted] advised that he would contact the Bureau through Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section as to when the room would be available for checking.

RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended that the Bureau comply with Secretary Benson's request to make a security check of his "Report Room." If this is approved, [redacted] of the Liaison Section will make the necessary arrangements with Secretary Benson's office to have these rooms checked.

SYNOPSIS

Security survey made of Room B-25, Main Capitol Building, Subcommittee on Appropriations, on 4/24/53, per instructions received from Inspector Callahan on 4/23/53. Results negative.

ACTION

Confirming the oral information furnished to you, the results of the survey were furnished telephonically to Inspector Callahan in order that he might appropriately advise [redacted] of the Committee.

b6
b7c

DETAILS

Pursuant to instructions received on April 23, 1953, SA [redacted] and [redacted] reported to Inspector N. P. Callahan this morning who accompanied them to Room B-25, Main Capitol Building, where they were met by [redacted] Subcommittee on Appropriations, a former Bureau Special Agent.

RECORDED-77 62-97308-13

The extent of the survey was discussed with [redacted] who advised that the request for this survey was based on information furnished the Committee by the Director that a "special" microphone (cavity microphone) can be installed and activated without wires leading therefrom. It was pointed out to him that while a survey at this time would detect the presence of any concealed equipment, it would not reveal the source of the energy, which is most important in detecting the identity of the operators of such equipment. To be effective in determining the origin of the energy in this type of concealed microphone, the search should be conducted at a time when the "enemy" would be likely to be activating the cavity microphone, as for example when the Subcommittee is in session. Too, it was pointed out that if such a microphone is concealed in the room, the "enemy" may detect the presence of the searchers and abandon all operations for fear of being detected, thus voiding any possibility of detecting the source of energy. Nevertheless, [redacted] advised that as far as the Committee was concerned, he believed the survey for concealed equipment should proceed at this time. Accordingly, the survey was conducted by SA [redacted] and [redacted]. The results were negative.

The survey consisted of an examination of electrical outlets, telephones and walls for concealed microphones, radio transmitters, radio frequency microphone-telephones, and tel-mike installations with negative results. Two suspicious locations were detected which required penetration into the wall and door jamb. These penetrations were done with [redacted] approval and at his request. Further examination eliminated the possibility of their being used for concealed microphones.

The survey did not include a telephone security survey exterior to Room B-25 as none was requested.

[redacted] was with the searchers during the conduct of the entire survey and although no report was made to him, it is assumed that he was cognizant of the results by virtue of his Bureau experience. Care was taken that no comments were made which might be misinterpreted by [redacted] concerning the results of this survey.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Belmont to the Director dated 3-27-53 and memorandum from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Ladd dated 4-20-53 in which requests for a security survey and installation of a countermeasure device in the office of Admiral Lewis L. Strauss were made.

On 4-21-53 SA [redacted] and [redacted] conducted a security survey for concealed listening devices in the office of Admiral Strauss, Room 226, Executive Office Building. No evidence of hidden microphones was found. Considerable old wire was removed from a wire duct to prevent its use as a microphone cable.

At the same time, the countermeasure device was installed in the single telephone instrument in Admiral Strauss' office. SA [redacted] was introduced by Admiral Strauss. [redacted] showed the Bureau personnel the Admiral's office and made arrangements for a tall stepladder to facilitate the microphone survey. Approximately 2 hours after the survey was underway [redacted] asked [redacted] why the instruments in his office were not being protected along with those in Admiral Strauss' office inasmuch as the Admiral's lines appeared in the outer office. [redacted] explained that the protective device did not insure against tapping of telephone conversations over the wire, but prevented against the use of the microphone in the telephone being used to pick up room conversations when the phone was not in normal use. [redacted] appeared satisfied and withdrew his request for installation of countermeasure devices in his office.

On leaving [redacted] asked [redacted] "Have you ever found anything on these checks?" [redacted] replied, "I am not at liberty to say but I do feel that these checks are not unprofitable." [redacted] meaning was that security surveys are worthwhile as a matter of precaution. [redacted] did not specifically ask [redacted] if anything had been found. [redacted] did not volunteer that nothing had been found.

No survey of the telephone lines as such was made except the lines in Admiral Strauss' office were checked out to determine that none of them were being used for microphone cable.

RECOMMENDATION: It is suggested that Liaison Section advise Admiral Strauss of the results of this survey and countermeasure installation.

On occasions the Laboratory representatives are assigned to make security checks of premises outside the Bureau, during which time they come in contact with various officials of the Government. Recently, on one such assignment, a Laboratory representative, by engaging in too much discussion, left the impression that he had located a security violation, which caused inquiry of and embarrassment to the Bureau.

I must insist that you properly instruct and indoctrinate the employees under your supervision to the effect that they must be very discreet and not engage in unnecessary talk or discussion concerning their work or the results thereof.

On 4/21 I received a phone call from Admiral Strauss, from New York.

He advised that his assistant had just called him from Washington and advised that the security check of the Admiral's office in the Executive Office Building in Washington had just been completed by Agent [redacted] of the Bureau's Laboratory; that the assistant had asked [redacted] if he ever found anything in these checks and Agent [redacted] had allegedly stated "This morning was very worthwhile." The Admiral was a little concerned and wanted to know whether we had found anything in his office.

I checked with Mr. Parsons in the Laboratory and had the attached memorandum obtained from Agent [redacted] as to the discussion entered into. It is noted that Agent [redacted] stated Admiral Strauss' secretary asked numerous questions; that on leaving he asked [redacted] if he had ever found anything on these checks, and [redacted] states he replied that he was not at liberty to say, but he did feel that these checks "are not unprofitable."

Upon securing this information I telephonically contacted Admiral Strauss and advised him that apparently his secretary, who had been asking numerous questions, had misunderstood Agent [redacted] that when his secretary had asked whether we ever found anything Agent [redacted] had informed him that he was not at liberty to discuss this matter, but he did feel the work was very profitable as a protection. I told Admiral Strauss that we had not found anything of a security nature in connection with the check of his offices.

Admiral Strauss expressed appreciation and stated that after several months he would like an opportunity to call the Bureau and request a recheck. I told him I was sure the Director would be glad to consider this if he would call at such time as he desired the recheck.

There is attached a memorandum directed to Mr. Harbo, instructing him to caution his employees about too much talking.

On April 22, 1953, [redacted] received a telephone call from [redacted] Secret Service, at which time [redacted] inquired whether the FBI would lend to the Secret Service the equipment to be used in the location of resonant-cavity type listening devices. [redacted] stated that the Secret Service desires to check two rooms in the White House and that the check cannot be made at this time without borrowing the equipment from the Bureau, inasmuch as other equipment for this purpose is not in existence.

[redacted] was advised by [redacted] that it may not be possible to make the equipment available on a loan basis inasmuch as the Bureau has only one set of this equipment and that set was hand-made. [redacted] was advised that it may be possible for the Bureau to make the equipment available with a technician to operate it in order to assist in the desired search of the two rooms. [redacted] stated that the rooms will be available starting at approximately 9:30 A.M., May 9, 1953, and will be available for about twenty-four to forty-eight hours.

It is noted that the Secret Service has placed an order for two units of the detection equipment which is being produced by the facility available to CIA.

[redacted] contacted [redacted] in this matter inasmuch as [redacted] has acted as the [redacted] of the Joint Committee concerned with obtaining production of the countermeasure equipment and security in connection therewith.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Bureau cooperate with the Secret Service in this matter and that this memorandum be referred to the Laboratory Division.

As reported in my memorandum dated May 5, 1953, [redacted] Secret Service, requested passive monitoring in the two questioned rooms of the White House this afternoon.

Accordingly, Messrs. R. W. Swartz and [redacted] contacted [redacted] in the Treasury Building at eleven o'clock this morning. Because the rooms were not vacant, the monitoring did not start until about 1 P. M. It continued until approximately 4:45 P. M. in the President's Office and in the Cabinet Room. Nothing was heard.

Although the initial request concerned two rooms, [redacted] stated that the private study was not available today for passive monitoring, but that it would be available this weekend.

The complete situation regarding the desirability of passive monitoring was again reviewed with [redacted] who stated that he did not consider any more passive monitoring to be necessary except for a momentary check before activating the transmitters this weekend.

He requested that the active monitoring begin Saturday morning about 10 A. M., to which Mr. Swartz replied that he would meet him at the previously designated place with the necessary equipment.

ACTION

There is no action since this memorandum is submitted for your information and according to previous Bureau approval, the active monitoring will be performed this weekend in accordance with [redacted] wishes.

Reference is made to the memo from Mr. Keay to Mr. Belmont dated 4-23-53 which recommended the Bureau cooperate with the Secret Service and search 2 White House rooms. This was approved by the Director.

On 5-5-53 in response to my request a conference with [redacted] Secret Service, was held in my office in order that certain technical problems could be pointed out and to request advice from Secret Service as to whether or not passive listening was desired on a normal work day. This approach had been discussed with Mr. Swartz of this section and is more desirable than passive monitoring on the week-end because if a cavity microphone is present, the operators of it would know through conversations heard on it or through public sources that the President was not going to be in the rooms and accordingly they would not activate their microphone making any ~~passive~~ monitoring of practically no value.

At the meeting the following possibilities were agreed upon:

1. Putting the periodic receiver (or just the antenna) in the rooms during the normal course of business. [redacted] felt that this would not meet with approval because of the high level of business conducted in the rooms.
2. Passive searching during normal business in rooms adjacent to the rooms in question hoping to pick up radiation from the cavity microphone through the dividing wall.
3. Passive searching on Saturday when it is general knowledge that the President will be out of the rooms in question followed by active searching on the same week-end.

Active searching would follow on the week-end if negative results were obtained either under plan 1 or 2.

As agreed, [redacted] later phoned me today and advised that an unscheduled golf game will make the rooms available for passive monitoring tomorrow afternoon.

SUBJECT: REQUEST FROM SECRET SERVICE FOR A SEARCH OF TWO ROOMS IN THE WHITE HOUSE FOR RESONANT CAVITY LISTENING DEVICES

Security Surveys

The Director has previously approved that we comply with the Secret Service request to make a search of two White House rooms for resonant cavity listening devices.

Arrangements have been made with the Secret Service to conduct passive monitoring for several hours today beginning at 11:00 A. M. Our activity today will consist in having a specially designed receiver in the room to ascertain whether any such listening device is being activated by an outside source. The purpose of the passive monitoring is to detect such a microphone without advising the unknown source that it has been detected.

We have tentative arrangements to conduct an active search for cavity listening devices on May 9 and 10 in the same two rooms of the White House; this will involve the use of actual transmitters on our part to activate any cavity listening devices which might be present. This assignment will be handled by Special Agents Roger W. Swartz and of the Laboratory.

ACTION

You will be kept promptly advised of any developments in connection with this assignment.

The Director approved the search of certain rooms in the White House for resonant cavity listening devices as originally set forth in the memo from Mr. Keay to Mr. Belmont dated 4-23-53.

Accordingly, SA's [redacted] and R.W. Swartz of this section conducted the search and completed it at 4:30 pm 5-10-53. No resonant cavity listening device was found. Rooms searched were the President's study on the second floor of the main building, the cabinet room and the President's office, both in the west wing.

[redacted] Secret Service, who placed the original request was advised of the negative results of the test and he stated that further advice to other persons in his organization was not necessary. [redacted] orally expressed his appreciation for the assistance rendered by the Bureau when Messrs. [redacted] and Swartz completed the assignment.

For record purposes it is noted that Secret Service personnel accompanied the above Bureau Agents at all times during the search. This personnel included [redacted] and [redacted] who, according to [redacted] were all cleared to receive the classification of information involved in the search. In addition, Lt. Col. George J. McNally, Signal Corps Security Officer of the White House and Lt. Col. Robert L. Schulz, Military Aid to the President, observed the searching activity for a short time on 5-9-53 since, according to [redacted] they had a direct interest in the operation.

The searching conducted on 5-9, 10-53 was "active" in that energizing transmitters were used to complete the searching operation. My memo to you of 5-6-53 on this subject reported negative results obtained from "passive" searching, without the use of any transmitter, of the President's office and cabinet room in the White House on 5-6-53 from about 1 pm to 4:45 pm.

No action requested since the above report of negative results was telephonically furnished to you in accordance with your previous instructions immediately upon completion of the assignment at 4:30 pm 5-10-53.

My memo to you of 5-6-53 on this subject reported negative results obtained from passive searching of the President's office and cabinet room in the White House on 5-6-53 from about 1 pm to 4:45 pm when those rooms were not in use. [redacted] Secret Service, who made the request, stated that no more passive searching was requested and active searching using transmitters could be started at 10 am 5-9-53 and continue through most of 5-10-53 when those 2 rooms and the study on the 2nd floor would be unused. He subsequently has advised that it will be possible to continue the active searching through Saturday night.

For record purposes it is noted that we have no positive information of any practical cavity operating lower than about 1200 mc. A British unit which was claimed to operate on about 700 mc was tested in this section 5-7-53 and gave no response lower than about 1400 mc. Separate consideration is being given to the British claim. Individual transmitters and the aperiodic receiver covering a range of 250 mc to 3000 mc will be used for the active search and a Bureau copy of the cavity microphone will be used from time to time to check the performance of the search equipment. The men will listen for a short time before turning on each transmitter as a precautionary measure.

[redacted] has advised Mr. Swartz that because of the very high level of information involved, he considers it much more important to remove any microphone than to develop the investigative aspects of who is operating the enemy transmitter used with it. He has further advised that he will work with our men this week-end and that Col. George J. McNally of the Signal Corps, who is in charge of technical security matters in the White House, will also be present. Col. McNally was not present during the passive searching conducted 5-6-53 since only [redacted] was there. F

In accordance with your instructions you will be immediately advised if any microphone is found and if none are found you will be advised at appropriate times during the course of the search and at its conclusion.

No action is requested since the above is submitted for your information.

For record purposes it is noted that the cabinet room in the White House which was searched on Sunday, 5-10-53 did not have the American and Presidential flags in it at the time it was searched by engineers of this section. The 5-18-53 issue of Time Magazine showed a picture of the cabinet in this room along with the 2 flags referred to.

Accordingly, [redacted] of the Liaison section was telephonically contacted on 5-20-53 so that [redacted] Secret Service, who made the original request for the search, could be orally advised that the 2 flags and stands in question were not included in the search. It was also suggested that [redacted] be advised that any additional articles or furniture added to the 3 rooms searched should be carefully examined in order to be sure that a cavity microphone was not thereby brought into the rooms.

[redacted] advised Mr. Swartz that [redacted] would be so advised.

Under date of 3-30-53 the Director approved an Executives Conference recommendation that the Director's office space be checked for clandestine listening devices including the so-called resonant cavity type microphone ~~recently~~ discovered in Moscow.

Accordingly, beginning on 4-6-53 and on such occasions thereafter as the Director's office space was available during the normal work day, listening tests were conducted to determine whether any radio beams could be detected as activating sources for listening devices. You will recall that the limitation to the normal work day arises from the fact that such activating radio beams would not be expected to be in operation after hours.

After completing sufficient monitoring of this type to provide reasonable assurance that no such beams were in operation, an active, exhaustive search of the Director's offices was made after hours, which search included all wall, ceiling and floor space in the Director's immediate offices. No clandestine listening devices of any kind were found.

It is noted that although this security check reflects the office space to be free of such clandestine devices at present, assurance of the continuation of such a secure condition is, of course, partially dependent upon the degree of physical security afforded the Director's office after hours.

Pursuant to prior arrangements Special Agent R. F. Pfafman and 3 technicians from the Laboratory made a security check of the Attorney General's residence this morning. This included a check to see that there were no taps on the telephone lines and no micro-phones installed anywhere in the residence. Also, countermeasure units were installed in the 6 telephone instruments in the residence.

That the attached memorandum be sent to the Attorney General advising him that these security checks have been handled at his residence. Also, the Director might desire to suggest to the Attorney General that we check the countermeasure units installed in the office of the Attorney General while James P. McGranery was Attorney General. This suggestion is made because changes may have been made in the telephone instruments, their location, or additional instruments may have been added and we have made no check of the telephone equipment in the Attorney General's office since the change in Administration.

There is attached hereto a letter from Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, addressed to the Director dated June 23, 1953. In this letter Mrs. Hobby requests that the FBI make a telephone security check at her office and residence, as well as the office and residence of Mr. Nelson Rockefeller, her assistant.

On June 19, 1953, [redacted] of the Laboratory placed countermeasure devices on the telephones in the offices of Mrs. Hobby and Mr. Rockefeller and on June 23, 1953, [redacted] placed the countermeasure devices on the telephones at the residence of Mrs. Hobby. Mr. Rockefeller's residence phones will be handled as soon as additional work is completed at his residence by the telephone company.

FROM : R. T. HARBO RTH

SUBJECT:

On July 27, 1953, the Laboratory's telephone contact was requested to make a check of the residence telephone line, Jefferson 4-1122. On July 28, the telephone contact advised that a complete check had been made of the line including all equipment at the central office and all wires and the instrument at the residence. No evidence of tampering was found.

The telephone company employees reported that advised them that suspicions regarding the insecurity of his line were aroused mostly due to his getting a busy signal frequently when he attempted to call her at his residence from his office. She pointedly stated that she hoped they found something wrong on the line inasmuch as she had indicated to that she had not been using the phone, when as a matter of fact, she had been keeping it tied up for an hour or more at a time.

ACTION: It is suggested that Mr. Nichols may wish to advise of the results of this check. No mention should be made to of the conversation had by his wife with the telephone company employees inasmuch as this might jeopardize our relations with the Laboratory's telephone contact.

SUBJECT: SECURITY CHECKS AND TELEPHONE SERVICES
COUNTERMEASURE INSTALLATIONS

Mr. Conrad's memorandum July 30 advised of the completion of security checks and the installation of telephone countermeasures for State Department officials. With one exception this completes the security checks and countermeasure installations for all Cabinet members and for all other Government officials from whom requests have been received.

The one exception is that the telephones in the Office of the Attorney General have not been checked since he took office. Such checks were made for Attorneys General McGrath and McGranery. We have had no information on what telephone changes might have been made since Mr. Brownell took office.

RECOMMENDATION

If the Director desires, arrangements can be made through some of the Attorney General's staff to check the telephones in the office and insure that they are protected with countermeasures.

[redacted] called from New York on the morning of December 10. He advised that [redacted] of the Security Office, Atomic Energy Commission, had called and asked whether the Bureau could check the telephone of Dr. I. I. Rabi, who is Chairman of the President's Advisory Committee on Atomic Energy. He said Dr. Rabi has reported he believes his telephone has been tapped in that he hears peculiar noises, there is an appreciable weakening in power, and frequently conversations just die out. Dr. Rabi's phone is located at 450 Riverside Drive, telephone MO 2-3129. [redacted] advised the New York Office that his office does not have available anyone qualified to make such a check.

If you agree, I will instruct the NYO to have a qualified sound man check the telephone of Dr. Rabi to see if there is any indication of a tap thereon.

SUBJECT: CHECK OF PREMISES OF SENATOR STYLES BRIDGES

OK TELEPHONE SERVICE

In accordance with the attached memorandum, I went up to Senator Bridges' office this afternoon and was introduced to the Senator by SAC Auerbach, as well as to members of his staff. I told the Senator we would be glad to make the check he had requested which will include his office in the Capitol Building, Suite P 49; his office in the Senate Office Building, Suite 145; and his residence which is Apartment 444, Dorchester House. The Senator appreciated this very much and stated he would get in touch with me in the next few days to advise when this could be done.

I advised the Senator we would make the check at his convenience and that it would be preferable if it were made when he did not have visitors around, as this might give rise to speculation on their part.

ACTION:

I will await the Senator's call and have made arrangements with Mr. Parsons of the Laboratory to take care of this at the appropriate time.

SUBJECT: MICROPHONE SURVEY FOR HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE

Special Agent in Charge

On February 4 and 5, 1954, Special Agents R. F. Pfafman and [redacted] and [redacted] conducted a microphone survey in the following quarters of the House Appropriations Committee in the Capitol Building:

1. Representative Tabor's office.
2. Room F-2, hearing room for independent agencies.
3. Room F3, hearing room for military affairs.

No evidence of concealed microphones was discovered. The check included a thorough search of the walls and a check of the most likely places for microphone installations in the ceiling and floor. All telephone instruments and electrical wires were also checked.

A total of 14 indications of metal, which could have been concealed microphones, was detected. In each instance a small opening was made in the plaster and it was determined that no microphone was within a half inch of the surface of the plaster. Further use of detection equipment could not pick up any wires leading away from these "hot spots." This was explained to [redacted] of the House Appropriations Committee, and at his request no further probing of the wall was done, although it was made perfectly clear to him that to be absolutely certain from a physical standpoint, it would be necessary to remove additional plaster.

RECOMMENDATION:

For information only inasmuch as Inspector Callahan has already advised [redacted] of the results of this check.

SYNOPSIS: Following information supplied by Laboratory's telephone company contact, White House officers have advised American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company officials in strict confidence that "a manufacturer" received confidential White House information by means of a telephone tap. White House refused to supply details of tap and identity of manufacturer. White House requests that telephone company make security survey of its telephone facilities; make telephone lines as secure as possible; supply information as to all known methods of wire tapping; and furnish opinion as to how alleged tap occurred. Telephone company will make physical (but not electronic) survey; will remove all multiple (extra) appearances of White House lines; will advise White House of only two most widely known forms of tapping, thus protecting itself and Bureau on other forms; and will not offer opinion as to how tap occurred due to poor security practices at White House and belief that leak was by word of mouth. Telephone company will not mention FBI in any capacity to White House unless the Bureau indicates a desire that such mention be made and will protect Bureau's interest in countermeasures installed on White House lines. Contact requests Bureau not divulge information regarding alleged tap outside Bureau. Above information should not be discussed with White House officials, telephone company officials or any other persons outside of Bureau due to risk of embarrassment to Laboratory contact in phone company.

RECOMMENDATIONS: 1. That no action be taken concerning this matter.

2. This information should not be discussed with White House officials, telephone company officials or any other persons outside of the Bureau due to possible embarrassment to Laboratory's contact in telephone company.

3. The continued security of the countermeasures will be followed through the Laboratory's telephone company contact.

DETAILS: On 2-16-54 the Laboratory's contact at the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company advised SA [redacted] of the following which occurred early in February, 1954.

[redacted], Assistant to the President, and [redacted], Assistant to the Assistant to the President, conferred with [redacted] of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, [redacted] of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in charge of security, and plant officials of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company regarding security of the telephone system at the White House. [redacted]

[redacted] who requested the conference, reported that the White House had definite "proof" that a manufacturer had secured confidential White House information through a telephone tap. He would not supply the "proof" nor would he identify the manufacturer or the nature of the information. The President, according to [redacted] is gravely concerned over the security problem and has requested that something be done about it.

[redacted] requested the following of the A.T. & T. Co. and C. & P. Co. officials:

1. A complete security survey of the White House telephone system. This includes the White House Board (normal commercial service), the Security Board (Armed Services operation) and the Police Board (Secret Service operated) with suggestions for improvement.
2. The application of all measures necessary to guarantee the greatest possible security within "prudent reason" as to cost.
3. Information as to all known methods of telephone tapping.
4. Opinion as to how the alleged wire tap (previously mentioned) was accomplished.

The Laboratory contact advised that the phone company was going to recommend and do the following in complying with the White House request:

1. Make a complete physical check of all White House lines. The company is not going to use any electronic equipment, such as, amplifiers, because, while the engineers know that the microphones in telephones can be made to pick up room conversation when a telephone instrument is not in normal use, the company officials do not wish to bring this fact to the attention of plant employees who will be used in making the security survey. The officials feel that if plant employees had such knowledge, security of telephone communications would be jeopardized in the future.

2. Remove at its own expense all multiple appearances (terminals on a line at other than the place where the phone is being used so that the line can be used at more than one location) both inside and outside of the White House. This will entail considerable cable work and expense.

Suggest the locking of all terminal boxes, wire closets and cross frames, but leave it up to the Government to see that this is done, since primary responsibility for physical security of the buildings lies with the Government.

Make periodic security checks of the White House phone system in the future.

3. Advise that there is tapping by means of mechanically connecting to the line, and also by means of inductive coupling (using an induction coil near the phone or line to pick up the conversation without actually connecting to the line).

The phone company is not going to mention other forms of tapping, such as, making the mouthpiece microphone in an instrument pick up room conversation when the phone is not in normal use. Since this technique also permits overhearing phone conversation when the phone is in use, a serious breach of security of telephone communications is involved. The company officials feel that an admission of the same would be most undesirable from the standpoint of the company's reputation and also from the standpoint of non-security minded White House personnel repeating it as a "choice bit of information."

The company according to our contact cannot understand why the White House does not solicit the advice of the best security agency, the FBI, regarding security measures and telephone tapping and would like to suggest such. (At the request of SA [redacted] the Laboratory contact agreed that the company would at present refrain from any mention of the FBI to the White House in the above capacity. [redacted] pointed out that direct liaison is had by the Bureau with the White House at all times

b7c

Memorandum for Mr. Tamm

and if the White House is desirous of Bureau services it has only to use well-established channels. [redacted] further pointed out that the company mentioning the FBI as qualified in these matters could indicate a close relationship between the company and the Bureau on telephone work, and that this would be most undesirable.)

b7c

4. The company is going to offer no opinion as to how the alleged wire tap was accomplished. The company feels that with one or two secretaries monitoring the phone conversations of their White House superiors, with the knowledge and consent of the latter, good security is breached from the beginning and that the leak most likely occurred by word of mouth rather than by telephone tapping. The company feels that to suggest the discontinuing of this monitoring would be presumptuous and tantamount to telling the White House how to conduct its business.

[redacted] raised the question of security of Bureau-installed countermeasures on some White House lines. He was advised that the phone company employees making the security survey would be briefed in such a manner that these countermeasures would not be removed and their confidential nature would not be disclosed. If need for any explanation arises, they will be described as special "security devices for the White House" and no mention of FBI installation will be made.

The Laboratory contact requested that the Bureau make no inquiry of the White House as to the alleged wire tapping incident. He pointed out that the information had been given the A.T. & T. Co. and C. & P. Co. officials in the strictest of confidence by [redacted] and that it would reflect badly on the officials involved if the White House even suspected a breach of this confidence. The whole matter was brought to the attention of the FBI as a matter of close cooperation on the part of our contact so that the Bureau will know what is going on and be in a position to protect its interests and its relations with the phone company. The contact stated that the company feels that if there had actually been a tap, the White House would have reported it to the Bureau immediately because of the Bureau's jurisdiction in these matters.

In making his request to the Laboratory contact that the FBI not be mentioned at this time, [redacted] had in mind the objective of affording the Bureau an opportunity to review the situation before becoming involved.

SUBJECT: CHECK OF PREMISES OF SENATOR STYLES BRIDGES

Security of Telephone

Reference is made to my memorandum of January 28, 1954, reflecting that Senator Bridges was advised that we would be glad to make a security check of his offices and his residence.

On February 8, 1954, I talked to [redacted] in Senator Bridges' office. He said that the Senator was out of town and suggested that a check be held up until his return. I talked to [redacted] on February 24, 1954, regarding another matter and he still did not mention the security check. I feel that we have made the offer to conduct the security check and have also reminded the Senator's office at least once. Consequently, unless advised to the contrary, I am not going to again raise the issue but will await a further request from the Senator.

I. SYNOPSIS:

In accordance with the request contained in the memorandum to you from the Director's office dated 3-10-54, an unobtrusive security check was made by technical personnel of the FBI Laboratory on 3-12-54 and 3-15-54 of the Departmental Auditorium. The auditorium and three conference rooms along the rear were thoroughly checked, except for normally inaccessible points that would require scaffolding or necessitate considerable damage to the interior decoration. All logical surfaces and areas were covered in the security check with negative results, but extreme vulnerability was found for the entire building because of architectural construction permitting accessible areas around the walls and ceilings. The building is normally open to the public and personal or technical surveillance could be readily established.

II. ACTION:

Such information as deemed necessary should be brought to the attention of the Attorney General.

III. DETAILS:

(A) As a matter of record, the following list indicates the general scope of the security survey reflecting points which were specifically checked:

DEPARTMENTAL AUDITORIUM
SECURITY CHECK

In connection with your recent inquiry to me concerning the possibility of microphones or other listening devices existing in the Departmental Auditorium I have had the personnel of our own Laboratory conduct a survey for the location of such devices. The survey has been completed with negative results.

Incidental to this survey the Laboratory technicians made some interesting observations which I feel should be passed along. For example, from the security standpoint, weaknesses of such magnitude were found that a person familiar with the building would not necessarily need to resort to technical listening devices in order to overhear and in some instances clandestinely view proceedings in progress. This insecure condition exists primarily because of the building's architectural design, which provides accessible areaways above the ceilings, catwalks behind the wall panels and the like.

Many other factors, including the extensive public address-wiring system, are responsible for the unsuitability of this space for closed or confidential meetings.

SUBJECT: DEPARTMENTAL AUDITORIUM SECURITY CHECK SURVEYS

Reference is made to the note from Mr. Holloman dated March 10, 1954, advising that the Attorney General requested a check of the Departmental Auditorium for microphones or other listening devices.

Such a check has been completed by the Laboratory technicians and nothing to indicate any such listening devices was found. There is attached hereto a proposed memorandum to the Attorney General so advising him. It was felt in addition that it should be pointed out that from a security standpoint the Departmental Auditorium is a completely unsatisfactory place for holding meetings due to the nature of the construction and the easy access to any and all parts of the Auditorium.

RECOMMENDATION

That the attached memorandum be forwarded to the Attorney General.

Security of Telephone Services

As you will recall, SA [redacted] of this office, on 3/3/54 attended a conference in the FBI Laboratory held with [redacted] and [redacted] of Bell Laboratories, New York, New York.

Since returning to New York, SA [redacted] has been in contact with [redacted] and [redacted]. Both of these men commented favorably with regard to their trip through the Bureau Laboratory which was afforded them in connection with above mentioned-conference.

[redacted] and [redacted] have advised since returning to New York that they see no simple solution to the phone call tracing problem which was discussed at the Laboratory. At the time of this most recent contact, SA [redacted] suggested the possibility of altering the ringing signal slightly on the victim's phone and the possibility of detecting this slightly different signal on the calling phone.

The standard ringing signal is a 20 cycle per second signal with a total of about 40 cycles per ringing period. It was suggested that by altering this current on the victim's phone so as to ring at a slightly different frequency or for a slightly different number of cycles per ringing period, that perhaps this difference could be used as a method of tracing.

[redacted] stated that this approach, in his opinion, was the best thought that has come up so far, in connection with the possible solution to the problem. He stated that he was going to consider it along with other ideas with respect to solving this problem.

[redacted] suggested that SA [redacted] follow this matter with him in a few weeks. I have instructed SA [redacted] to maintain liaison with the Bell Laboratories with regard to this matter and to keep the Bureau advised.

On June 24, 1954, pursuant to a request, Bureau Liaison contacted [redacted] Internal Revenue Service. According to these individuals, [redacted] Internal Revenue, was convinced, because of interference on his telephone lines on instant date, that the lines were "tapped." [redacted] was very much concerned about this and requested that if possible, the Bureau conduct a security survey of his office lines.

b7c

It is noted that shortly after [redacted] took office [redacted] of Internal Revenue during the first part of 1953 and subsequent to a conversation with the Director on the matter of security of his telephone lines, the Bureau conducted a security check on same and installed a countermeasure device. Approximately one year ago the phones in [redacted] office were being changed and at that time the countermeasure device was taken out by the Bureau and in the absence of a further request by him, was not re-installed. As a matter of cooperation with Internal Revenue, it is thought that the Bureau should again make a security survey of [redacted] lines.

ACTION:

If you approve, a security survey will be made.

Reference memo Mr. Roach to Mr. Belmont dated 6-24-54 setting forth a request of [redacted] Internal Revenue, that his telephone lines be checked because of interference on his lines on 6-24-54.

Special Agent [redacted] and [redacted] made a security survey on 6-30-54 of the following lines which appear in [redacted] office, [redacted] Internal Revenue Building: [redacted] District 7-2558 (unlisted); Executive 3-6400, extension 773 (manual extension off Treasury Department board). No evidence of tampering with any of these lines was noted.

At the request of [redacted] to the Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the countermeasure was reinstalled on the single telephone instrument of [redacted]. This countermeasure had been removed in July, 1953, and no subsequent request had been received for reinstallation after work had been completed on the telephone lines in [redacted] office. [redacted] was of the opinion that the Commissioner's instrument was still protected with a countermeasure and on hearing that it had been removed but never reinstalled, he made the request for reinstallation.

In the course of the security check it was determined that [redacted] office secretary was unfamiliar with the 100 key system and because of this was throwing the keys into a position which caused a drain on [redacted]' line. It was further determined that there had been insufficient battery supply for the signal lamps which caused them to flicker, and that a repairman actually had been working in the terminal box containing [redacted]' lines between 11:45 A.M. and 1:00 P.M. 6-24-54. The repairman could have been responsible for inadvertently making noises on [redacted]' lines while he was working on other lines.

ACTION:

Liaison Section may wish to advise Vernon D. Acree, Chief, Inspection Service, Internal Revenue, of the completion of this security survey and countermeasure installation. 62-97308-46

Security Surveys

Report

By memorandum dated 12-14-54 [redacted] (former Special Agent), Director of Security of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, requested that a security check be made of the residence telephone lines of Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby and Undersecretary Nelson A. Rockefeller of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Special Agent [redacted] and Technician [redacted] completed this check on January 6 and 7, 1955. No evidence of tampering on any of the six lines involved was noted.

b7c

At the Dupont exchange loose connections were found on the cable terminals of Secretary Hobby's White House line. These connections were resoldered. It was also discovered that a multiple of Secretary Hobby's unlisted telephone line existed in the basement of the apartment house at 1915 Kalarama Road, Northwest. Secretary Hobby resides at 2101 Connecticut Avenue, Northwest, Apartment 87. Arrangements were made by Agent [redacted] to have Secretary Hobby's unlisted line placed on a pair which did not multiple between the Dupont office and her apartment. This was completed on 1-7-55.

ACTION:

It is suggested that SA D. J. Sullivan of the Liaison Section make this information available to [redacted]

SUBJECT: APPROPRIATIONS HEARINGS
FISCAL YEAR 1956
BEFORE HOUSE SUBCOMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS HANDLING STATE, JUSTICE AND JUDICIARY AND RELATED AGENCIES

This morning the writer visited with [redacted] to ascertain any developments thus far in the hearings conducted by this Subcommittee before whom the Director is tentatively scheduled to appear at 10:00 A.M. on February 23, 1955.

[redacted] advised the writer that based on the proceedings to date, he feels that the 10:00 A.M. February 23rd date for the Director to appear to testify will materialize. He pointed out, however, should they cancel any hearings between now and that time it would, of course affect the Director's appearance date. He indicated he would know more definitely on this on Friday, February 18, 1955.

[redacted] upon inquiry advised the writer that there has been no definite pattern of questions apparent up to this point in the hearings and in fact, there have not been too many questions asked at all. He stated that thus far Congressmen Rooney and Bow have been the two most consistent in attendance at the hearings with Congressmen Coudert, Sikes and Preston present intermittently. To date, Congressman Clevenger has not returned to duty from his illness. [redacted] opined that in all probability there would be better representation during the Director's appearance than at any of the hearings presently being conducted.

[redacted] stated that he has had no opportunity to go over in minute detail the justification which we submitted but he plans to do this over the weekend and if he sees any items which he feels questions might be raised on, he will notify the writer. He indicated that the main questions being asked thus far relate to the reasons for any increases being requested in the amounts of the appropriations.

[redacted] also indicated that he felt it could be worked out so that in connection with the supplemental appropriation request which recently went to Congress in the amount of $1,100,000 for the fiscal year 1955 to defray the cost of the 15 percent overtime premium pay under the Fringe Benefit Act, that this item could be disposed of at the time of the Director's appearance, particularly if the Director comments on this item during the course of his regular testimony. available to submit at the end of the hearings a brief prepared statement for insertion in the record concerning this item of $1,100,000 for the fiscal year 1955. He indicated that a separate statement would be desirable since separate hearings will have to be published on the supplemental item and for the record the prepared statement could be inserted with an introductory statement by the Director to the effect that there is submitted for the Chairman and the Committee's information for inclusion in the record, a summarization of the need for the amount of $1,100,000 supplemental being requested.

In conclusion, [redacted] requested that prior to the Director's appearance and in view of the type of information which he discusses "off the record", that he would appreciate it if the Bureau could arrange to have a check made for any microphone installations on any of the telephone instruments and electric wall outlets located in the hearing room. If it is possible for the Bureau to do this, he would appreciate it if it could be done on Saturday morning, February 19th, since no hearings are scheduled for that date and he will be alone in the hearing room at that time.

ACTION BEING TAKEN

A brief prepared statement for the Director's use for the separate item of $1,100,000 referred to above is being prepared for approval and possible use of the Director as suggested by [redacted] which will be ready for Mr. Tolson's approval Thursday afternoon, February 17, 1955.

RECOMMENDATION

With reference to [redacted] request for a check to be made of the telephone instruments and electric wall outlets in the hearing room for any possible hidden microphones, it is recommended that arrangements be made for a laboratory technician to accompany the writer to [redacted] office on Saturday morning, February 19th for this purpose.

SUBJECT: TECHNICAL SECURITY SURVEYS FOR SECRETARY OF LABOR MITCHELL
(Bufile 62-97308)

By memorandum from Mr. R. R. Roach to A. H. Belmont on January 26, 1955, a request was made by [redacted] Executive Assistant, for a technical survey of the telephone lines in the office and residence of Secretary of Labor Mitchell. [redacted] named March 7 as the earliest convenient date.

On 3-7-55 SA [redacted] and [redacted] checked the office lines of Secretary Mitchell and observed no evidence of tampering. During the course of the survey it was determined that four of the office lines involved had multiple appearances (terminals) located in Temporary Building T, Interstate Commerce Commission Building, and the Raleigh Hotel. Arrangements were made with the telephone company so that all lines serving Secretary Mitchell's office now run through cable so that there will be no appearances except in the Secretary's office and in the exchange buildings.

The lines checked were as follows: Executive 3-8368 (unlisted), Executive 3-4779 (unlisted), Executive 3-2665, Executive 3-2666, Executive 3-2420, extensions 0, 1, 2 and 3.

ACTION:

It is suggested that the Liaison Section may wish to advise Secretary Mitchell's office of the result of the survey of his office lines. A survey of the residence lines will be conducted at a later date at the convenience of Secretary Mitchell.

SYNOPSIS:

Memorandum of 3-24-55 from R. R. Roach to A. H. Belmont captioned [redacted] Internal Security - [redacted] contains report that [redacted] technician recently listened in at a telephone wire box located in [redacted] in Washington, D. C., overhearing telephone conversations of persons believed to be in other embassies and, in one instance, the White House. Memorandum recommended Laboratory determine from telephone company if Soviet and satellite establishments in Washington, D. C., have access on their premises to telephone wires which are associated with U. S. and friendly government telephones; and if any telephone wires connecting to White House telephones are located on the premises of the [redacted] Telephone company on 3-30-55 reported it cannot furnish information to answer above questions until it makes a check of all telephone wire facilities of foreign diplomatic establishments. This will be completed within a week. Company also advises that wires associated with one White House telephone did appear on premises of [redacted] until recently but have since been removed; and that wires associated with [redacted] lines still exist on [redacted] premises. Company will report results of survey to Bureau and will remove any wires associated with U. S. and friendly government lines which may appear in diplomatic establishments occupied by governments of Communist nations. More than one week may be required by company to eliminate any wires associated with U. S. Government telephones appearing in buildings occupied by friendly governments. One hundred eleven White House telephone lines do not have any extra wires associated therewith which appear at other locations. Company will check drawings which show where White House telephone wires go and effect maximum security for all lines. Office and residence telephone lines of Bureau officials do not have wires associated therewith appearing in foreign diplomatic establishments.

BACKGROUND:

Memorandum from E. R. Roach to A. H. Belmont, 3-24-55, captioned [redacted] Internal Security - [redacted] reported that a [redacted] technician in the course of a recent security survey of the [redacted] in Washington, D. C., had listened in on telephone lines which were physically located within the premises of the [redacted] overhearing conversations which appeared to emanate from telephone lines connected with embassies of other nations and one conversation which appeared to be on a White House telephone line.
Referenced memorandum recommended Laboratory contact the telephone company to determine whether the diplomatic establishments of Soviet and satellite governments in Washington, D. C., have access, by listening in on wires which appear in their buildings, to any telephone lines of the U. S. Government or of diplomatic establishments of friendly nations. It was further recommended that it be determined if there were any wires associated with White House telephone lines which appeared on the premises of the [REDACTED]

b7D

DETAILS:

A list of all foreign diplomatic establishments with their addresses and telephone numbers was obtained from the Domestic Intelligence Division and furnished to the Laboratory's telephone company contact on 3-30-55. The contact was requested to add to the above list of published telephone numbers all nonpublished telephone numbers serving any of the embassies. Later in the same day the contact supplied the following information:

Some wires associated with and connected to the telephone lines of the [REDACTED] and one or two other embassies do appear on the premises of the [REDACTED]. In addition, wires associated with a newly installed White House telephone line did appear on the premises of the [REDACTED] until recently. However, the telephone company has since removed these wires, in the latter instance.

In October, 1954, the Washington telephone company initiated its own security program consisting of a planned elimination of extra wires associated with telephones subscribed to by U. S. Government and friendly governments which appeared in diplomatic establishments of Soviet and satellite governments. This program was being carried on along with other regular telephone work. However, as a result of the Bureau's request, the company will accelerate this program, completing this phase of the work in approximately one week, reporting the results to the Bureau. Within this period every effort will be made by the company to eliminate immediately any U. S. Government and friendly government telephone wires appearing on the premises being occupied by Soviet and satellite governments. Complete elimination of such wires associated with U. S. Government telephones which may be appearing in buildings occupied by friendly governments will take a longer period of time. Complete elimination of such extra wires associated with lines of one friendly nation which appear in buildings occupied by other friendly nations may prove to be impossible without going into considerable extra rewiring expense.

For approximately one year the telephone company has been making a quarterly check of 111 White House telephone lines, these particular lines having been specified by the White House. These lines do not have wires associated therewith which appear at other locations where listening in might be accomplished. The company will examine the wiring diagrams or charts which show all White House telephone lines, in addition to the 111 mentioned above, and, if other lines do exist, they will eliminate any extraneous appearances of wires associated with these telephone lines.

SECURITY OF BUREAU LINES:

Security checks of the office and residence telephone lines of the Director and members of the Executives Conference have been made quarterly by FBI Laboratory personnel for the past several years. There are no extra wires associated with any of these telephone lines which appear on the premises of Soviet, satellite or friendly foreign governments.

Through a confidential source it has been learned that a recently installed White House telephone line serving the residence of [redacted] Appointment Secretary to the President, had a branch connection appearing on the premises of the [redacted] Washington, D. Upon checking with the telephone company relative to the accuracy of the report, we were advised that a branch of the White House line indicated had appeared on the premises of the [redacted] as a result of the normal telephone line distribution system, but that the situation since had been corrected by the telephone company and the White House line no longer appears at that point. It was pointed out to our representative that although the telephone company conducts periodic security surveys of certain White House lines at the request of the White House, the specific line in question had not been included on the list furnished by the White House to the telephone company.

In order to evaluate the general situation in this respect relative to U. S. Government telephone lines, the telephone company was requested to advise whether branch connections of any other U. S. Government telephone lines appeared on the premises of any foreign embassies. We now have received the results of such a survey insofar as it pertains to Communist-controlled diplomatic establishments, and the telephone company has advised that there are no telephone lines of the U. S. Government appearing on any of the Communist-controlled premises. It is noted, however, that all telephone lines in the District of Columbia have branch connections appearing on the premises of the Physical Commercial Counselor's Office. The telephone company further has advised that there is in progress at the present time a program to eliminate from all of the Communist-controlled diplomatic establishments all telephone lines except those Reference is made to the memorandum to the Attorney General from this Bureau dated May 6, 1955, furnishing the results to date of the survey being made by the telephone company with respect to possible appearances of U. S. Government lines on the premises of foreign establishments in Washington, D. C.

There may be a substantial question of security involved if there are similar appearances of U. S. Government telephone lines in foreign missions in New York City and in other points in the United States. Because of the implications in the field of Government operations and Government communications, you may wish to consider the advisability of presenting the broad problem to the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security or such other Government body as you may deem competent for the purpose of examining the problem and taking any necessary action.

Our technical coverage on the Soviet United Nations Delegation has been discontinued, for security reasons, because of work being performed on the cables servicing [redacted] New York City.

[redacted] New York Office, advised at 2:50 p.m., May 6, 1955, that the repair work has now been completed and it has been determined that the appearances of the lines where we would cover them have now been transferred to the basement of [redacted] which is the building occupied by the Italian Consulate. The NYO, through its contact, is attempting to arrange for the appearance of the Soviet lines at some point where we can effect coverage.

You will recall that recently, through the telephone company in Washington, D. C., a survey was made regarding appearances of telephone lines in various embassies. It would appear from the above facts that there may well be a security factor involved in telephone company procedures in New York also, since we now know that the lines of the Soviet Embassy appear in the basement of the Italian Consulate.

RECOMMENDATION

In view of the fact there appears to be a substantial question of security involved if there are appearances of U. S. Government telephone lines in the embassies or consulates of foreign governments in New York and in other points in the United States, it is recommended that a communication be prepared to the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security (IGIS) calling its attention to this possible security weakness for appropriate consideration and any necessary action. If you agree, this will be done.

SYNOPSIS:

Re memo from C. E. Hennrich to A. H. Belmont, May 6, 1955, reporting that appearances of telephone lines serving Soviet UN Delegation have been noted in the basement of the Italian Consulate building in New York City.

It was recommended that the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security (ICIS) be told that there appeared to be a substantial question of security involved if there are appearances of U. S. Government telephone lines in missions of foreign governments and elsewhere in order that ICIS can give the problem appropriate consideration and take any necessary action.

You asked "Just what can ICIS do about it?"

Certain of the agencies belonging to ICIS, such as Defense, State and Treasury Departments, have a primary interest in the security of their establishments in areas such as New York. The ICIS agencies and specifically the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) are responsible for the broad planning regarding security of Government operations. ICIS has had the responsibility for making recommendations in the security field aside from intelligence consideration to the appropriate agencies of the Government.

It would appear desirable, therefore, to place the responsibility for any broad survey regarding security of Government communications of the type involved on the ICIS. This is particularly true during the current period when Congressional investigations into wire tapping are in progress.

[redacted] of the National Security Council, called on the afternoon of May 11, 1955, regarding Bumemo (Bureau memo) of May 6, 1955, to the Honorable Dillon Anderson, in which we advised we had recently learned that a White House telephone line serving the residence of [redacted] Appointment Secretary of the President, had a branch connection appearing on the premises of the [redacted]. [redacted] stated that Anderson had referred the matter to him, and [redacted] felt that Anderson should call this matter to the attention of the President's Military Aide who has security responsibility for the White House. [redacted] pondered whether the Bureau had any objection to this being done.

ACTION:

I told [redacted] that the Bureau will, of course, defer to the judgment of Anderson in this connection. I pointed out that the information had been obtained through a confidential source. [redacted] said he appreciated this and would suggest to Anderson that, of course, in furnishing the information to the Military Aide, if Anderson decided to do so, he (Anderson) handle the matter in such a way that the confidential nature of our information will not be jeopardized.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY OF TELEPHONE LINES JUNE
OF COMMUNIST AND NON-COMMUNIST
EMBASSIES IN WASHINGTON, D. C.
(Bufile 62-97308)

Security Surveys

Reference is made to my memorandum of April 1, 1955, reporting results of a preliminary check with the telephone company as to what U. S. Government and friendly foreign government telephone lines might have branch connections appearing on the premises of Communist-controlled diplomatic establishments. Telephone lines having such branches can be readily tapped wherever the branch connections appear. The inquiry was further extended to include any U. S. Government lines which might appear on the premises of friendly foreign government diplomatic establishments. At that time, the telephone company indicated that a survey would be made and steps would be taken to eliminate any undesirable situations.

You will recall that this matter was predicated upon a report that a White House line branch connection appeared on the French Embassy premises. As reported in my memorandum of April 1, 1955, the telephone company confirmed the report relative to the White House line but advised that the situation had been corrected. With regard to the survey, Mr. Tolson commented "When this has been done, we should send memo to AG and Rogers and write Dillon Anderson. 4/3." The Director commented "Yes." The telephone company now has advised that although they have had a crew of men working on the project, because of the great amount of work involved, it has not yet been possible to complete the entire survey; however, at our request, priority was given to a check of Communist-controlled establishments, and this portion of the survey has just been completed. The results, together with the identity of the White House line formerly appearing on the premises of the French Embassy, are as follows:

1. A recently installed White House telephone line serving the residence of [redacted] Appointment Secretary to the President, had a branch connection appearing on the premises of the [redacted] Washington, D. C., but the situation has been corrected by the telephone company.

2. No telephone lines of the U. S. Government had branch connections appearing on the premises of any Communist-controlled diplomatic establishment.

3. Branch connections of eleven phone lines of the District of Columbia Government appear on the premises of the Yugoslav Commercial Counselor's Office.

4. Branch connections of a total of 43 telephone lines of friendly foreign governments appear on the premises of the various Communist-controlled diplomatic establishments. It is noted that telephone lines of 24 commercial companies and lines of 221 private individuals likewise appear on the premises of these diplomatic establishments.

The telephone company has initiated a program to eliminate all telephone lines from the Communist-controlled establishments except the specific lines which are serving the respective Communist-controlled establishments themselves. As of April 29, 1955, this program had been completed in the Soviet Embassy and Chancery and in the Polish Embassy. Completion of the program with respect to the remaining Communist-controlled establishments is in progress.

Although, because of the unexpectedly large amount of work involved in making the survey and correcting the situations found, it has not been possible for the telephone company to complete the survey with respect to telephone lines which appear on the premises of friendly foreign governments, it is suggested that we have sufficient information to warrant furnishing a report at this time.

ACTION:

Accordingly, there are attached hereto for approval communications to the Attorney General and Rogers and to Dillon Anderson.

Re Mr. Conrad's memoranda to you of 4-1-55 and 5-5-55 regarding elimination by telephone company of branch connections of telephone lines of U. S. Government and friendly foreign governments from premises of Communist-controlled diplomatic establishments. These branch connections would permit easy tapping of telephone lines on which they appear.

On 5-25-55 Laboratory's telephone company contact reported that company had on that date completed elimination of all telephone lines from Communist diplomatic establishments except those lines actually serving the establishments. Following establishments were involved: Soviet Embassy and Chancery, Office of Soviet Military and Naval Attaches, Soviet Embassy School, Polish Embassy, Polish Embassy Annex, Roumanian Legation, Roumanian Chancery, Czechoslovakian Embassy, Hungarian Legation, Yugoslav Embassy, Office of Yugoslav Military, Naval and Air Attaches, Office of Yugoslav Commercial Counselor, and Residence of Yugoslav Ambassador.

Company is presently making survey of diplomatic establishments of 71 friendly foreign governments to determine whether branch connections of U. S. Government telephone lines appear in any of these establishments. Also to be determined is whether branch connections of one friendly foreign government appear in establishments of other friendly foreign governments.

ACTION: ... 31 ...

Laboratory will follow this matter closely to assure that Bureau is advised of completion of survey at earliest possible date.

Saturday, April 30, 1955, [redacted] of the House Appropriations Committee, telephonically contacted the writer before he departed Washington and stated that in view of the recent developments with reference to [redacted] one of the clerical staff of the Committee whom you will recall had run an ad in the paper to do typing work in the evenings and as a result, had been contacted by an employee of the Soviet Naval Attache's Office, he and Chairman Cannon would appreciate it if the Bureau could again at this time run a security check of the various Hearing rooms of the Appropriations Committee in the Capitol strictly as a precautionary measure.

[redacted] stated that he would have [redacted] follow through on this in his absence from the city and requested that we endeavor to do this as promptly as possible.

If you approve, appropriate arrangements will be made with Mr. Parsons of the Laboratory to undertake this project.

For your information, in the past two years we have thoroughly covered all of the Hearing rooms of the Appropriations Committees on a security check basis from the angle of any microphones or taps being installed therein and these checks in the past have proved negative.

John Callahan

Re memorandum from Mr. Callahan to Mr. Mohr dated 5-2-55 concerning a security survey to be made of the hearing rooms and offices of the House Appropriations Committee.

On 5-3-55 and 5-4-55 SA'S R. F. Pfafman, [redacted] and [redacted] and technician [redacted] made a survey of 16 rooms used by the House Appropriations Committee in the House wing of the U. S. Capitol building. This search included an examination of telephone facilities within the room and a check of locations in which microphones would most likely be concealed. No evidence of tampering with the telephones or of the installation of concealed microphones was noted.

The rooms covered were as follows: two staff rooms in subbasement, B23, B25, F2, F3, F16, F70, F1, P2, P3, P4, the kitchen adjoining P4, G5 and Rooms 228 and 228A in the Old House Office Building.

SUBJECT: ULTRASONIC LISTENING DEVICE COUNTERMEASURES; MILITARY TELEPHONE SECURITY

As you know, the military presently has under consideration the question of providing adequate security to its telephone installations. Representatives of the Laboratory and Liaison have participated in prior meetings on this subject.

On the afternoon of May 24, 1955, at the telephonic request of Colonel Sidney Rubenstein (former Special Agent), I attended a meeting in the office of Ralph N. Stohl, Director, Manpower and Personnel, Office of Secretary of Defense. In addition to Colonel Rubenstein and Mr. Stohl, there were also present the following: Brigadier General Harry O. Parson, representing the Army; Rear Admiral R. H. Rice, [redacted] representing the Navy; Major General Joseph Carroll, representing the Air Force; and [redacted] representing the Office of Special Operations in the Defense Department.

b7c

Because of recent publicity on wire tapping and the use of telephones for microphone coverage, the Army had proposed to disseminate very widely extensive instructions looking toward increased security of their telephones. The instructions included such things as placing telephones in desk drawers when the telephones were not in use, or if no desk were available, covering the telephone with a blanket, et cetera. General Parson indicated that he was most anxious that various branches of the Army be warned as soon as possible about the ultrasonic listening device and about proper measures to protect against it. Both Colonel Rubenstein and Mr. Stohl indicated that they felt the approach should be uniform for the entire Department of Defense and they felt that the proposed draft instructions would merely stir up a lot of curiosity and unnecessary concern. This view was shared by Admiral Rice and General Carroll.

ENCLOSURE In response to questions, I indicated that, of course, the Bureau could not presume to tell the Department of Defense what instructions should be issued; however, I pointed out that the ultrasonic listening device had been developed by the FBI Laboratory, and that we were most anxious that it not receive any wider dissemination than absolutely necessary, and for this reason countermeasure devices installed thus far had been restricted to top level Government telephones. I further pointed out that, as has been reported in the newspapers recently, there are various ways by which a telephone may be modified to provide microphone coverage if physical access can be had to the telephone instrument itself, and that therefore, unless a relatively high degree of physical security were given to telephones equipped with countermeasures, the installation of countermeasures would not provide a solution. (Access to the telephone by an enemy would permit modification of both the telephone and the countermeasure and render the countermeasure useless.) Accordingly, I suggested that one basis on which a decision might be made as to what phones should be protected would be the consideration as to which phones warranted the necessary high degree of physical security. This seemed to be a new thought to them and it was generally agreed that this would greatly reduce the contemplated scope of countermeasure installations.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a revised draft instruction was proposed by [redacted] for consideration by all of the military branches which would merely serve to alert the various military agencies to the general telephone security problem. This draft instruction, a copy of which is attached, received tentative concurrence from the military representatives present.

1. Developments in the telephone communications field have proved the susceptibility of telephones to an increasing variety of eavesdropping techniques of such a nature that unwitting breaches of security are possible. These techniques are not all in the category of so-called "wire taps" where the actual telephone conversation can be intercepted, but also involve numerous ways of utilizing the telephone as a microphone even when the handset is properly placed on its cradle. In effect, normal conversation in an average sized office can be picked up by the telephone when the instrument is not in use, unless steps are taken to insure the absolute electrical separation of the handset from the telephone line. Not all Department of the Army installations are at present taking steps adequate to insure against the security threat which these techniques pose.

2. The Department of the Army is now participating in a governmental study to determine the full measure of the threat to our security through hostile exploitation of our telephones: As a part of this study, an adequate program of telephonic safeguards will be formulated.

3. Pending the issuance of Department of the Army instructions resulting from this study, the following suggestions are furnished for providing interim counter-measures:

a. Remove, where practicable, telephones, including intercom systems, from conference rooms and war rooms, wherein matters of a SECRET or higher classification are discussed, or "deplug" the instruments while conferences are in progress.

~~b. Remove excessive telephone instruments from key offices.~~

b. Inspect periodically for any indications of tampering with telephone instruments, terminals, switchboards and wire lines.

IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

This is in response to your communication to me of May 13, 1955 referring to your memorandum to the Attorney General of May 6, 1955 in which certain security problems were raised in connection with possible appearances of U. S. Government lines on the premises of foreign establishments in Washington, D. C.

It is my understanding that the General Services Administration which furnishes the buildings occupied by most Government agencies also has the responsibility for furnishing adequate telephone communications and for the security of such telephone lines. It would be my suggestion, subject to your concurrence, that the information set forth in your memorandum of May 6 be furnished to the General Services Administration so that they may institute such further steps as may be appropriate.

In accordance with your suggestion I have taken this matter up with the ICIS which will subsequently follow the matter with the General Services Administration. The ICIS will also determine what Government buildings are not serviced by the General Services Administration. I appreciate your calling this problem to my attention.

Through a confidential source it has been learned that a recently installed, high level U. S. Government telephone line had an unused branch connection existing on the Embassy premises of a friendly foreign government in the District of Columbia. Telephone lines having such branches can be readily tapped wherever the branch connections appear.

The specific situation in question has since been corrected. However, in order to evaluate the general situation in this respect relative to U. S. Government telephone lines, the telephone company was requested to advise whether branch connections of any other U. S. Government telephone lines appear on the premises of any foreign government in the District of Columbia. We now have received the results of such a survey insofar as it pertains to Communist-dominated diplomatic establishments and the telephone company has advised that there are no telephone lines of the U. S. Government appearing on any of the Communist-controlled premises. The telephone company further has advised that it has completed a program to eliminate from all of the Communist-controlled diplomatic establishments in the District of Columbia all telephone line connections except those telephone lines serving the respective diplomatic establishments.

SECURITY SURVEY OF TELEPHONE LINES
OF COMMUNIST AND NON-COMMUNIST
EMBASSIES IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

In my memorandum to the Attorney General dated May 6, 1955, information was furnished regarding preliminary results of a survey being made by the telephone company to determine whether there were appearances of any U. S. Government lines on the premises of foreign diplomatic establishments in Washington, D. C. Also, by my memorandum to you dated May 13, 1955, it was suggested that you might wish to refer this matter to the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security for possible consideration of this problem in New York and other cities.

This survey has now been completed. As reflected in my memorandum of May 6, 1955, no U. S. Government lines were found to exist in any of the 13 diplomatic establishments of Communist governments in Washington, D. C. In addition, the telephone company has now eliminated from the premises of these establishments all lines except those actually needed to serve the establishments themselves.

The premises of 71 non-Communist diplomatic establishments have also been completely surveyed. Thirteen U. S. Government lines and three lines of the District of Columbia Government were found to appear on the premises of six of these establishments as follows:

The telephone company has advised that it does not contemplate eliminating all extra lines in these 71 establishments, as it did in the case of the 13 Communist-controlled establishments, due to the tremendous cost involved and the destruction of the flexibility of its system which would result. The company will eliminate appearances of any highly sensitive U. S. Government lines in these six friendly foreign government establishments if specifically requested to do so.

Pursuant to the suggestion in my memorandum to you of May 13, 1955, you may wish to consider having the results of the complete survey presented to the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security for whatever action it considers appropriate.

On August 9 and 11, 1955, Messrs. Millen and Matter and the writer conferred with [redacted] and Colonel Bliss of the local telephone company in connection with telephone security problems.

[redacted] stated that the telephone company had been approached by representatives of General Services Administration (GSA) in connection with the general problem of affording adequate security to Government telephone lines. He further stated that the GSA representative had been told to contact the telephone company in this regard by the Attorney General. You will recall that the FBI has recently made a request of the telephone company for a survey reflecting any appearances (branch connections) of U. S. Government lines which might exist on the premises of foreign governments. The results of this survey upon the Director's instructions were furnished to the White House and the Attorney General. In addition, at the suggestion of the Domestic Intelligence Division, it was suggested to the Department that the Department might wish to present the broad general question of the security of U. S. Government lines to the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security (ICIS). The Bureau subsequently was advised by the Department that ICIS was considering the matter and that GSA was understood to be responsible for telephone security in buildings under GSA control.

[redacted] advised that he was greatly concerned over the fact that after having made a survey of U. S. Government lines in Washington, D. C., for the FBI, the results apparently had been disseminated to other Government agencies with the result that he was now receiving similar requests from such Government agencies. We reminded [redacted] that the request for the survey had been made as an official request and that he had been advised that it might become necessary to disseminate the results, depending upon what the survey revealed. We further pointed out that the Bureau had been advised that GSA had general responsibility for the security of Government buildings, including telephone service, in those situations where GSA controlled the buildings or had contract for the services. Hence, the reference of the problem by the Department to GSA appears to be a perfectly proper proceeding.

[redacted] and Colonel Bliss both indicated that one of the principal problems present lay in the fact that neither the local telephone company nor the Bell system as a whole had yet adopted any specific policy with regard to how far the telephone company would go in removing unused branch connections and whether the company would expect the Government to bear the expense of such security measures. [redacted] pointed out that since GSA controlled Government buildings throughout the United States, the problem could be expected to arise at many points. He was advised in reply that the problem of security of U. S. Government lines throughout the country appeared to be a perfectly proper question for GSA to raise and that we could not presume to tell him what action the company or the Bell system should take in response to GSA's inquiry, either with regard to the specific local inquiry or with regard to the broad question, should it arise on the scale which he anticipated.

While [redacted] appeared greatly disturbed over the prospect of having to discuss telephone security problems with representatives of GSA and possibly other Governmental agencies, and stated that he would much prefer to handle all such matters through the FBI, it was pointed out to [redacted] that it would not be proper or possible for the Bureau to undertake the over-all problem. We did indicate, however, that in addition to our own telephone security problems, we would expect to continue to come to the company for assistance in occasional security checks as we have done in the past. The telephone company representatives advised that they would, of course, provide the Bureau with the same cooperation and services which the company has extended in the past.

C., on 8-10-55. No evidence of tampering was observed on any of these five lines. However, a branch extension of the White House line was found to appear in Room 613 of the Matatico Building. Arrangements were made with the telephone company to have this branch extension removed so that no access could be had to this White House line except at the telephone company exchanges.

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE SECURITY

Reference is made to my memorandum of August 12, 1955, relative to the above-entitled matter reflecting the results of an interview with officials of the local telephone company.

You will recall that at the request of the FBI, the telephone company recently made a survey to determine whether any extra telephone connection of U. S. Government lines appeared on the premises of foreign governments. The results of this survey, upon the Director's instructions, were furnished to the White House and to the Attorney General. It is noted that as a result of the survey, 13 U. S. Government lines and 3 District of Columbia lines were found with extra appearances on the premises of friendly foreign governments as previously reported. At the time of the completion of the survey, the telephone company representative advised that these extra appearances would not be eliminated except upon specific request.

b7c

Since informal discussions had indicated that the telephone company might change this policy, I contacted [redacted] on August 30, 1955, in order to keep in touch with the situation. [redacted] advised in response to my inquiry that the telephone company has the matter under consideration with the objective of removing the apparent U. S. Government and District of Columbia telephone connections which appear on the premises of foreign governments at this time. I requested to be advised when such removal had been completed on the 16 lines mentioned above. [redacted] indicated that this job was approximately 50% completed and he expected all of the work to be done by the end of the week. He further indicated that he would advise the Bureau upon completion.

ACTION: Telephone company progress in removing U. S. Government and District of Columbia lines from the premises of friendly foreign governments will be followed by the Laboratory and reported upon completion.

In my memorandum of May 13, 1955, to Deputy Attorney General Rogers it was suggested that he might wish to refer to the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security (ICIS) the question of possible similar appearance of U. S. Government lines in foreign establishments in cities other than Washington. Mr. Rogers advised me by memorandum of June 13, 1955, that this matter had been taken up with ICIS which would subsequently follow the matter with General Services Administration. ICIS will also determine what Government buildings are not under General Services jurisdiction. I also informed Mr. Rogers of the appearance of U. S. Government lines in six friendly foreign government establishments by memorandum dated August 8, 1955.

Mr. Dillon Anderson, Special Assistant to the President, has been advised of the results of this survey by letters dated May 6, 1955, and August 8, 1955.

We have been advised by the local telephone company that its present policy is to remove the existing extra connections of U. S. Government telephone lines from foreign government premises. This matter will be followed with the telephone company to insure removal of the above-listed lines.

Memorandum to Mr. Parsons

The telephone company contact has advised that telephone company has no program for the elimination of these branches and does not contemplate such program because of tremendous cost involved and the destruction of their system flexibility. Telephone company will eliminate branches on any highly sensitive lines if specifically requested to do so.

It is noted that telephone company has already completed program of eliminating all telephone lines from the Communist-dominated diplomatic establishments except those serving the respective diplomatic establishments, at cost estimated by Hampton in excess of $5000.

This survey was initiated at the Bureau's request following receipt of information set forth in memorandum of R. R. Roach to A. H. Belmont 3-24-55 re [redacted] Internal Security - [redacted]

My Dear Mr. Anderson:

You were advised in my letter of August 11, 1955, that as a result of a survey of the telephone facilities of [redacted] foreign diplomatic establishments it was learned that [redacted] U. S. Government and District of Columbia Government lines appeared on the premises of 6 of these establishments. At the time, the telephone company stated it would not eliminate the occurrences of any of these 16 lines unless specifically requested to do so.

Subsequently, the telephone company policy with regard to elimination of such lines was changed. Accordingly, the company proceeded to work on the elimination of the [redacted] lines mentioned above and reported on September 13, 1955, that these lines no longer appear on the premises of foreign establishments.

The reported action on the part of the telephone company completes this phase of the problem. In the event anything further develops I will keep you advised.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Reference is made to previous correspondence regarding the security surveys of telephone lines of Communist and non-Communist embassies in Washington, D. C. (memoandum dated May 6, 1955 from the FBI to the Attorney General; memorandum dated May 13, 1955 from the FBI to the Deputy Attorney General; memorandum dated June 13, 1955 from the Deputy Attorney General to the FBI). As a result of consideration of this matter the ICIS wrote to the Administrator, General Services Administration, on September 28, 1955, requesting that it be advised as to the extent to which the problem exists in United States cities other than Washington, D. C., and as to any problem which may exist in connection with Government offices which are not serviced by GSA.

I wish to advise you that Mr. Leonard Felisio, Deputy Director of the Investigations Division, GSA, informed me on November 29, 1955, that the Public Building Service of that agency is to make the survey requested on a national basis and that when the survey is completed the ICIS will be advised of the results.

Sincerely yours,

On January 23 and February 6 and 7, 1956, SA [redacted] and [redacted] made a survey of the land line

The fact that some service is routed through the Washington area is well known to the Records and Communications Division in that at the time the original installations were made the telephone company had no alternate routing available except at exhorbitant costs. It is understood that the telephone company will discuss alternate routing with personnel of the Records and Communications Division just as soon as other possibilities in this area open up. The attached technical information would be of assistance in discussing any proposed changes voiced by the telephone company at a later date.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Accordingly, it is recommended that

1. This memorandum be reviewed by the Records and Communications Division and a copy retained for assistance in further discussions with telephone company personnel.

2. No further security checks of these lines be scheduled unless there are changes due to the nature of the material which was transmitted over them and the relative security against tapping.

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE SECURITY SURVEY

SECURITY OF Telephone Service

On February 29 and March 1, 1956, SA [redacted] and [redacted] conducted a security survey of the telephone facilities of all members of the Executives Conference and the Director between their residences and the central offices. No evidence of tampering on any of these lines was discovered.

In addition to the above, since you had advised that the telephone service supplied to you had been changed since the previous check, the central office records and equipment with respect to your line were examined and found in order.

During the course of this check it was discovered that the telephone lines and service as well as the telephone number of [redacted] had been completely altered by the telephone company on 1-24-56 due to completion of a new telephone exchange at Annandale. In the case of [redacted] the equipment and records of the new central office at [redacted] were checked in addition to all physical appearances of his telephone line. SUBJECT: SECURITY CHECK OF WHITE HOUSE AREA
OCCUPIED BY STAFF OF GOVERNOR HAROLD STASSEN

Security of Telephone Services

Colonel Andrew Goodpaster, Staff Secretary to the President, contacted Philcox of Liaison 3/9/56. He stated that there is particularly sensitive work going on in some of the rooms occupied by the staff of Governor Harold Stassen, the Special Assistant to the President on Disarmament. He asked if it would be possible for the Bureau to make a security check of these rooms to insure that there are no microphones or other listening devices hidden. He stated that this would include Stassen's office, a conference room, and possibly several other rooms. He stated that similar sensitive work is being carried on by [redacted] [redacted] who recently replaced Nelson Rockefeller. He said no request has been received from [redacted] office but it is possible that such a request could be received in the future.

Colonel Goodpaster asked if the Bureau can make such a security check and if so, what arrangements are necessary to have it done. This was discussed with Assistant Director D. J. Parsons of the Laboratory, who stated that the Bureau is equipped to conduct such a survey and that we are in a position to handle this for the White House.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that Liaison advise Colonel Goodpaster that the Bureau is in a position to handle this request for the White House and that the Laboratory will work out the necessary details with representatives of Governor Stassen's office.

SUBJECT: SECURITY CHECK OF WHITE HOUSE AREA
OCCUPIED BY STAFF OF GOVERNOR HAROLD STASSEN

Security of Telephone Service

Special Agents [redacted] and Robert F. Pfafman, with [redacted] all of the Electronics Section, conducted a security check on Saturday, March 17, 1956, of the area occupied by Governor Harold Stassen in the White House Executive Office Building, formerly the old State Department Building.

[redacted] Special Projects Group, met the Bureau representatives at the Guard's Office on the above date and procured the necessary keys and ladders.

The conference and chart room, Room 272½; the office of Governor Harold Stassen, Room 275A; the office of Ambassador Amos J. Peaslee, [redacted] were the four rooms covered by the microphone security survey. Pursuant with instructions relayed by Liaison, nothing was done during the search that would damage the premises.

Everything was found in satisfactory condition, with no indication of tampering or microphone coverage.

ACTION:

Liaison should advise Colonel Andrew Goodpaster, Staff Secretary to the President, that the security check requested by him for Governor Stassen was made on the morning of March 17, 1956, and conditions found satisfactory, with no evidence of tampering.

By memorandum dated April 20, 1956, from Mr. Millen to Mr. Parsons in captioned matter, it was recorded that two Counter Intelligence Corps representatives had discussed with Bureau representatives the general procedures and equipment associated with searching a room for clandestine listening devices.

On April 20, 1956, Wendell Merrill, Chief, Operations Branch, Special Operations Section, ACSI, advised SA [redacted] Liaison Section, that he wished, through Liaison, to extend his personal thanks to the Bureau and the Bureau's representatives who handled this matter. He stated that the briefing given the CIC representatives attached to his unit was most beneficial and would be of great assistance to them in any future operation. He thanked [redacted] heartedly for the cooperation extended to ACSI by the Bureau in this matter.

Security of Telephone Service

On March 28, 1956, Colonel M. A. Quinto, Chief, Security Division, Assistant Chief of Staff, Intelligence, (ACSI), Department of the Army, advised SA D. J. Sullivan, Liaison Section, that the Chief of Staff of the Army had put a requirement on ACSI to check certain offices and conference rooms in the Pentagon in an effort to ascertain if they were secure from clandestine listening devices. Colonel Quinto stated that he has been requested by Major General Gaither, ACSI, to ascertain if the Bureau might be able to help ACSI in this matter. Colonel Quinto stated that the Counter Intelligence Corps had certain detection equipment for "sweeping" but that both he and General Gaither were of the opinion that the Bureau would be much more efficient and would no doubt have better techniques than the CIC agents.

Colonel Quinto stated that he was not requesting that the Bureau do the actual physical "sweeping" in this instance, but was requesting that if at all possible the Bureau allow personnel of the CIC to be briefed by Bureau technicians as to methods and procedures of such an operation and to give the CIC personnel the benefit of any experiences that the Bureau might have in such matters.

This question has been discussed with the Bureau Laboratory and it is thought that the Bureau could be of material assistance to ACSI concerning Colonel Quinto's request.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That Colonel Quinto be advised that the Bureau will brief designated CIC personnel in methods, procedures and techniques used in a "sweeping" operation.

SUBJECT: SECURITY DISCUSSION WITH MAJOR WILLIAM MANN,
OFFICE OF SPECIAL INVESTIGATIONS,
UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

SECURITY SURVEY

SYNOPSIS:

Major Mann called at the Laboratory to discuss security precautions to be taken by U. S. Air Force officers during their visit to the air show at Moscow, U. S. S. R., on July 24. Mann indicated that he was responsible for briefing this group of 14 officers for 20 minutes on the subject of security prior to their departure from the United States.

Special Agent [redacted] advised Mann that the Bureau could not presume to indicate to the Air Force how their officers should conduct themselves from the standpoint of security during their forthcoming visit to Moscow but that he, [redacted] would be glad to answer specific questions. Mann inquired about microphones in general, about the use of surreptitious photography, the use of closed TV circuits, the use of miniature transmitters, the possible destruction of film, and the possible use of drugs in order to secure information from the officers during their stay in Moscow. [redacted] explained that microphone development was such that effective coverage could be had with units ranging in size from the size of a dime to those 6 feet in diameter utilizing a parabolic reflector. As to photography, [redacted] indicated it was possible to secure good photographs from concealed positions with either still or movie cameras and that concealment of a TV camera was not beyond possibility. It was pointed out that with the development of transistors, transmitters had been reduced to a size even smaller than a cigarette package and that small amplifiers were available on the market no larger than a cigarette lighter.

b7c

As to the destruction of the film, it was pointed out that the use of X-ray or radio-active material could very well be employed to damage new or exposed film without the user being aware of such destruction. [redacted] indicated that the use of drugs was more or less a medical question which should be discussed by the Air Force with qualified persons.

[] indicated that there would be no security survey of quarters to be occupied by the officers and asked whether or not there was any simple equipment which could be used by non-technically trained high-ranking officers which could protect them. He was told that the process of making a security survey was a time-consuming one and that persons who were to gain any benefit from the detecting equipment usually had to be trained over a considerable period of time.

It was apparent that Mann was concerned about his responsibility in briefing these high-ranking Air Force officers and was attempting to secure specific information as to what to advise them.

SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR CHECK FOR LISTENING DEVICES IN CAPITOL

SECURITY OF Telephone Services

[redacted] of Senator Green's office called this morning. Senator Green (D - Rhode Island) is Chairman of the Rules Committee of the Senate and I understand will also succeed Senator George as Chairman of Foreign Relations Committee.

Herbert
[redacted] states that in the Congressional Record this morning Senator Douglas on page 9681 refers to a wiretap in the office of the Senator from New York, meaning Senator Lehman. This matter was recently publicized. [redacted] understood that Senator Douglas was directing a letter to Senator Green requesting that the entire Senate building be checked and [redacted] was wondering who would do such a thing, whether the FBI could be of assistance. He did not want any answer except to know in what direction he should go inasmuch as he had to get in touch with Senator Green this morning, who is in Rhode Island.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN:

[redacted] wanted to know if the FBI could be of assistance.

We obviously cannot tell the Senator's office that this is a matter that ought to be handled by some commercial contractor, and it would appear that a request will be directed to the FBI just as soon as the Congressional Record statement is digested.

Under the circumstances it might be well to advise Senator Green's office that we, of course, do not know the extent of the specific request and that it will probably be well to discuss the matter with Senator Green or Senator Douglas to determine whether he had any specific areas in mind which have been subjected to installation of any listening devices. Obviously to cover the entire Capitol would be a tremendous job and would give no assurance to the persons on the Hill that once the building was checked a listening device could be installed immediately after the check was made. I told [redacted] I would submit his request for appropriate consideration.

In view of the hullabaloo that was raised on Capitol Hill on 6/21/56, with regard to the search of Senator Lehman's office by the Defense Establishment for recording devices, I think that we should in the future decline to make any security checks unless it comes from sources wherein we could not avoid it. I think, for example, that if the Appropriations Committee, the Judiciary Committee or the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy should make inquiry of us there would be little we could do but accede. Other than these, I think we should decline all such requests.

SENATE DEMOCRATIC LEADER LYNDON B. JOHNSON CONDEMNED AS "OUTRAGEOUS" THE SEARCH OF LEHMAN'S OFFICE BY TWO DEFENSE DEPARTMENT SECURITY OFFICERS. LEHMAN HIMSELF TERMED THE INCIDENT "INEXCUSABLE, OUTRAGEOUS AND HIGHLY DANGEROUS."

LEHMAN TOOK TO THE SENATE FLOOR ON A POINT OF "PERSONAL PRIVILEGE" TO TELL THE SENATE HOW YESTERDAY TWO DEFENSE DEPARTMENT SECURITY OFFICERS, ACCOMPANIED BY A CAPITOL POLICEMAN, "BARGED" INTO HIS OFFICE AND SEARCHED THROUGH ONE OF HIS ROOMS.

THE TWO SECURITY OFFICERS -- CLARK M. MORGAN AND BERNARD S. BOGDONOWICZ--SAID THEY HAD NOTICED SOME LOOSE INSULATION AROUND A VENTILATOR IN THE HEARING ROOM AND TRACED THE VENTILATOR BACK TO LEHMAN'S OFFICE. THEY SAID THEY LEFT THE SENATOR'S ROOM -- A STORE-ROOM IN A SUITE OF OFFICES -- AFTER CHECKING FOR CONCEALED LISTENING DEVICES AND FINDING NONE.

SYMINGTON EXPRESSED TO LEHMAN ON THE SENATE FLOOR THE SUBCOMMITTEE'S "VERY DEEP APOLOGIES."

SYMINGTON SAID IT WAS "ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF BUREAUCY AND OVER-EAGER FLATFOOTED INDIVIDUALS."

AFTER LISTENING TO THE EXPLANATION BY THE TWO DEFENSE DEPARTMENT OFFICERS, SEN. LEVERETT SALTONSTALL (R-MASS.) COMMENTED THAT THE INCIDENT HAD BEEN "MAGNIFIED" OUT OF PROPORTION AND THAT THE TWO MEN WERE ONLY CARRYING OUT THEIR RESPONSIBILITY TO BE SURE THAT THE SECRET HEARINGS WERE NOT BEING "BUGGED."

ON THE SENATE FLOOR, HOWEVER, THERE WAS NO ATTEMPT BY JOHNSON TO PLAY DOWN THE INCIDENT. JOHNSON SAID HE WAS "AMAZED AND SHOCKED" TO HEAR OF THE "OUTRAGEOUS TREATMENT" ACCORDED LEHMAN AND SAID LEHMAN IS "DESERVING OF AN APOLOGY" FROM THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT.

DESCRIBING THE SEARCH AS "TYPICAL BUREAUCRATIC CLATFOOT STUPIDITY," JOHNSON SAID THAT IT WAS WITH "UTTER DISGUST" AND "UTTER HORROR" THAT HE LEARNED THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT WAS PERMITTING ITS CIVILIAN SECURITY OFFICERS TO "RAMSACK" THE OFFICES OF THE SENATE.

"I HOPE EVERY MEMBER OF THIS BODY WILL DENOUNCE THIS INADVISABLE ACTION," JOHNSON TOLD THE SENATE.

6/21/56 TS217P

ADD 2 WIRE TAP

JOHNSON SAID HE HAS CALLED FOR A COMPLETE REPORT ON THE INCIDENT BY THE CAPITOL POLICE.

LEHMAN TOLD THE SENATE THAT THE INCIDENT "AFFECTS THE DIGNITY AND INDEPENDENCE OF THE SENATE."

LEHMAN SAID THE TWO DEFENSE OFFICERS HAD "BARGED" INTO HIS OFFICE, "BRUSHED MY SECRETARY ASIDE" AND SAID THEY WISHED TO INSPECT A CERTAIN PART OF HIS OFFICE. THE MEN, HE SAID, DID NOT SHOW THEIR CREDENTIALS UNTIL IT WAS DEMANDED BY THE SECRETARY--MRS. MILDRED AKINS--AND DID NOT ASK HIS PERMISSION TO SEARCH HIS OFFICES.

LEHMAN DEMANDED TO KNOW WHO IN THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT "DIRECTED THIS INSPECTION" AND "WHO ON MY STAFF WAS UNDER SUSPICION."

MORGAN HAD TOLD THE SUBCOMMITTEE THAT THE SECURITY MONITORING OF THE HEARINGS HAD BEEN ORDERED BY THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT'S LEGISLATIVE LIAISON OFFICE THROUGH THE SECURITY SERVICES DIVISION.

MORGAN SAID THAT MRS. AKINS AT FIRST SEEMED "LEARY" OF ALLOWING THEM INTO THE OFFICE, BUT AFTER BEING SHOWN THE IDENTIFICATION SEEMED "VERY CONTENTED" TO HAVE THE INSPECTION MADE.

THE FLOOR CONTROVERSY BROUGHT CRITICISM OF THE INVASION OF LEHMAN'S OFFICE AND SUGGESTIONS THAT SOME QUALIFIED GROUP MAKE A THOROUGH SECURITY CHECK OF THE SENATE'S QUARTERS.

SEN. HUBERT H. HUMPHREY (D-MINN.) SAID HE WOULD LIKE TO FIND OUT WHETHER WALLS ARE "BUGGED." "I'D LIKE TO FIND OUT HOW MANY TELEPHONES ARE TAPPED, IF ANY ARE. I KEEP HEARING THEY ARE," HE SAID.

SEN. PAUL H. DOUGLAS (D-ILL.) SUGGESTED THAT THE SENATE RULES COMMITTEE, WHICH HANDLES SENATE HOUSEKEEPING ARRANGEMENTS, CONDUCT AN INSPECTION TO DETERMINE WHETHER TELEPHONES ARE TAPPED OR OFFICES AND COMMITTEE ROOMS BUGGED.

While discussing other matters with [redacted] of the House Subcommittee on Appropriations which handles our appropriation hearings, this afternoon, he inquired as to whether or not the Bureau cared to make a technical security survey of the hearing room in which the Director will testify such as has been done in past years.

I inquired of [redacted] if he felt such a survey was necessary or desirable and he indicated that it was up to us as to whether or not we would want to make such a survey.

Last year the Director approved us making a detailed survey of this hearing room which included ceiling and wall screening for hidden devices. Since there has been no alteration to these areas this year, a similar survey would not appear necessary; however, I do feel as a precautionary measure favorable consideration should be given to running a cursory technical survey of the obvious points in the room such as telephone instruments, wall outlets and the like.

[redacted] indicated that the best time for such a survey, if desired, would be Friday, January 11, 1957, inasmuch as the Subcommittee was commencing hearings Monday, January 14, 1957.

If approved appropriate arrangements will be made with the Laboratory and the writer will accompany the men assigned to this survey in connection therewith.

SUBJECT: SENATOR THEODORE GREEN

Security of Telephone Services

Reference is made to the memorandum of Mr. Rosen to Mr. Boardman dated 12-11-56, relative to the above matter. Pursuant with the appointment made by Mr. Rosen with [redacted] of Senator Green's office SA [redacted] conferred with [redacted] at 11:30 a.m. on 1-4-57, at the Senator's office, Room 221 Senate Office Building.

[redacted] indicated that a telephone security check was desired of the Senator's apartment in the University Club Building at 1135 16th Street, N.W., to determine the vulnerability of said lines.

Agent Pfafman advised [redacted] that several days would be required to make arrangements with the telephone company for access to their cable books and blueprints but that everything should be ready by Wednesday morning 1-9-57. However, [redacted] indicated that he would be out of town on 1-9-57, as well as 1-10-57. Accordingly, a tentative schedule was set up for Bureau Agent to meet [redacted] at the Senator's apartment on Friday, 1-11-57, at 1:00 p.m. Agent [redacted] is to call [redacted] office early Friday morning to ascertain his return to Washington as the latter wishes to be at the apartment in person.

SUBJECT: SENATOR THEODORE GREEN
(RHODE ISLAND - D.)

Security of Telephone Services

I ran into [redacted] of Senator Green's office. He advised me that yesterday the Senator mentioned his concern over the possibility of his telephone conversations being covered by unauthorized persons.

The Senator resides at the University Club. He has an apartment on the 4th floor, front corner, which is immediately next to the area which divides the University Club from the immediate building to the south on the 16th Street side, which is the Russian Embassy.

The Senator is going to be the Chairman of the most important committee of the Senate, the Foreign Relations Committee. The State Department has asked that he establish a private telephone line so that he might be able to receive urgent telephone calls on important matters of state. At the present time he receives all of his telephone calls through the University Club switchboard. The Senator asked [redacted] if it was possible for the Russians to monitor his conversations in any manner and wondered whether he ought to take any steps to move from his present location. The Senator stated that he would not like to make any changes as he has lived there a long time and likes "the setup."

[redacted] was inquiring on behalf of the Senator as to whether any further steps should be taken and whether he should evidence any concern over the matter. He did not want to do anything which would allow unauthorized persons to listen in on conversations or otherwise monitor conversations taking place in the Senator's quarters, and he also did not want to alarm the Senator who at this point indicated he was most cautious in his manner of conversation over the phone but that he could not vouch for persons who might be calling him. He was concerned lest anyone calling the Senator might in an unguarded statement disclose important information to persons who are not entitled to receive it. The question of whether a separate line is to be put in has not been answered. The security of the telephone calls coming through the switchboard is, under the present arrangement, very doubtful.

Memo to Mr. Boardman

In view of the importance of the Senator's position as Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and the fact that numerous telephone calls will probably be coming to his quarters and the possibility it is not unlikely that calls may emanate from the White House to the Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, it might be well to have a check made of his lines. It would appear that from the Bureau's standpoint it would be advisable to make such a check and also be aware of the Senator's setup in the event any changes in his communication's arrangements are effected.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is suggested that we make a preliminary check of the Senator's lines to determine whether any effort has been made to monitor his conversations in his present quarters. I have talked to Mr. Parsons and he has indicated this could be done with little difficulty at this time.

Security to home SA's

The memorandum from Mr. Callahan to Mr. Mohr dated 1-10-57 set forth a request made by [redacted] of the House Subcommittee on Appropriations, for a technical security survey of the hearing room in which the Director will testify.

SA's G. W. Mayo and [redacted] conducted a check for concealed microphones on January 11, 1957, in Room B25, U. S. Capitol Building. At the request of [redacted] this check was limited to a search in places most likely for microphone concealment. No evidence reflecting concealed listening devices was discovered.

Pursuant to arrangements made by the Director, I saw Senator McClellan Saturday afternoon. He said he didn't know enough about the technical aspects to really know what he wanted until he had talked to the Director. He did now feel that he wanted the hearing room of the Committee on Government Operations checked, his office and home phones, as well as those of Committee Counsel Robert Kennedy. He asked that countermeasures be put in the Committee room phones and his home and office phones. I assured the Senator that we would be glad to do this and we would get started immediately.

I explained to the Senator that the countermeasure did not prevent a tap to overhear conversations over the telephone line but did prevent the telephone from being used as a microphone to pick up conversations in the room. He said he understood this and that frankly he was not concerned about his conversations over the phone even to the extent that when he got annoyed he told some of the people he was talking to to go ahead and record his conversations. I did tell him that we would, of course, check all of the telephone lines and determine whether there were any taps in existence or any indications that the phones had been tapped.

Messrs. [redacted] and Pfafman of the Laboratory started the check of the premises in the Senate Office Building immediately and made a search for microphones insofar as it was possible without damage to walls or fixtures. Nothing was found. Countermeasure devices were installed in the Senator's office phone, four phones in the Committee room, four in Kennedy's office. This work was completed Saturday night so that we are now through in the Senate Office Building premises. It will require two to three days more to complete the check of the telephone lines and cables but we expect to complete all of the work including the Senator's and Kennedy's home phones by Wednesday evening.

Senator McClellan also asked if we would make a recheck of whatever we thought was necessary at some reasonable period and I told him we would do this. The Senator was most appreciative and said he realized that it was desirable from our standpoint as well as his not to have this spread around and that he and Kennedy were the only ones aware of our security check and protective measures.

ACTION:

This work will be completed as soon as possible and an additional memorandum will be submitted setting forth the results.

Reference is made to your memorandum of 2-18-57 to Mr. Tolson setting forth a request by Senator John L. McClellan for installation of countermeasure devices and the making of security checks in his Committee room, office and residence, and in the office and residence of Robert F. Kennedy, Chief Counsel of the Senate Select Committee on Improper Activities in the Labor or Management Field.

On February 16, 19 and 20, 1957, SA Supervisors R. F. Pfafman and [redacted] completed all work in connection with the Senator's request. No evidence of concealed microphones or of tampering with the telephone lines was discovered.

- A total of six man days were required to perform the following work:
- (1) Microphone surveys of three rooms in the Senate Office Building - the Government Operations Committee room (Room 357), the Senator's office (Room 137A), and Kennedy's office (Room 103).
 - (2) Telephone security checks of 17 lines involving 19 instruments in all of the above rooms and at the apartment of the Senator in the Fairfax Hotel, Washington, D. C., and the residence of Kennedy at McLean, Virginia.
 - (3) The installation of 15 countermeasure devices in telephone instruments at the above locations.

The telephone security check necessitated the entering of six telephone exchanges. In the Senate Office Building the Exchange Foreman had to spend three hours with Pfafman and [redacted] so that they could enter restricted areas without question and get into locked cabinets and rooms to check terminal appearances.

In addition, the Senator has requested a check of his office in the Capitol Building. This will be done. However, the actual check will not be made until later in that the office is not currently in use. A separate report will be prepared covering the results of his office check.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Animal Hospital? No, White House

Drew Pearson is en route to report firsthand on the Berlin crisis. His column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.

By Jack Anderson

Working late the other night in his bedroom, President Kennedy was jarred from his paperwork by the urgent clamor of the black emergency phone at his bedside.

This phone is supposed to be used only in cases of crisis. He grabbed the receiver in alarm.

"Hello!" he said tersely. "Is this the animal hospital?" asked a mysterious voice.

"No, this is the White House," said the President.

"Is this South 5-6855?" the voice demanded.

"No," Kennedy repeated, "this is the White House."

"Is Mr. Stevenson there?" the voice asked, still persisting.

"No, this is the President."

The caller hung up, probably in disbelief. But the President of the United States is still wondering how a call to the animal hospital happened to be picked up on his supposedly secure emergency phone.

Pres. Joe Kennedy

Had it not been for a daring mission over Germany 17 years ago, the Kennedy in the White House today might answer to the name "Joe" instead of "Jack."

For it was Jack's older brother, Joe, who always dreamed of becoming President. He made no secret of his ambition, and Jack would have stepped aside for him.

But on Aug. 2, 1944, Joe volunteered to fly a plane rigged with high explosives into the Nazi submarine pens on the Belgian coast. He was supposed to bail out just before the plane crashed into the heavily fortified pens. But the plane mysteriously blew up too soon.

"I don't know what I would have done if my brother had lived," Jack has told friends. He has mentioned both journalism and law. But he would have given his brother a clear field in politics.

Boston legend has it that old Joe Kennedy, following Joe Jr.'s death, summoned his second son into his presence and dramatically directed Jack to carry on the family tradition of public service in his fallen brother's place.

"I got Jack into politics," wrote Papa Joe in 1957. "I told him Joe Jr. was dead and therefore it was his responsibility to run for Congress."

It is true that the senior Kennedy helped persuade Jack to enter politics, but the dramatic scene in the legend never took place.

JFK's Great Decision

Family intimates say Jack took his time making up his mind about a career. He shrank at first from the blarney and backslapping of Boston politics. But he had a hankering to go to Washington.

When a vacancy occurred in Congress, Jack Kennedy decided to try for it. But it was a full year after his brother's death before he finally made the choice that was to lead him to the White House.

Those close to the President agree that he would never have embarked upon a political career if his brother had survived.

Would Joe Jr. have gone on to the White House? He was a husky, handsome, hail-fellow-well-met with a "Mia" for everyone and a vote-getting Irish grin. He won his first election at 25 as a delegate to the 1940 Democratic convention.

He told family and friends that he hoped to go to the convention some day as a candidate and become the first Catholic President of the United States. But for all his political appeal, he lacked Jack's keen intellect and quiet charm.

Jack grieved over his brother's death, collected essays from Joe's friends and published a private book entitled, "As We Remember Joe."

In his own contribution,

Jack wrote: "I think if the Kennedy children amount to anything, now or ever amount to anything, it will be due more to Joe's behavior and his constant example than to any other factor."

Jack was first attracted to George Smathers, says a family friend, because the Florida Senator reminded Jack of his lost brother.

Meanwhile, it must be left to historians to speculate how much that fateful mission of Aug. 2, 1944, affected history.

At 10:45 a.m. today [redacted] the Secretary of Labor Mitchell, advised the Secretary was greatly concerned with the activities of Dave Beck and James Hoffa of the Teamsters Union and for security reasons requested the FBI to make a check of the telephones in the Secretary's office and at the homes of the Secretary, Special Assistant to the Secretary, and [redacted] to Secretary Mitchell. [redacted] stated that the only persons in Labor aware of this request were the Secretary, himself, and [redacted]. He stated that the Secretary and himself were leaving town today and that any arrangements could be made through [redacted]. If the Bureau desires, the phones in the Secretary's office could be checked today or Monday morning, whichever was convenient; however, the Secretary and his family will not be at home until after Tuesday, February 19, so that the survey there could not be conducted until after that date. The phones at [redacted] residence or at [redacted] could be checked at the convenience of the Bureau.

Pursuant to a request received from the Secretary of Labor, James P. Mitchell, Supervisors Mayo and Pfafman made a telephone security check from March 18 through 22, 1957, of the telephone lines serving Mr. Mitchell, his administrative assistant, [redacted] and [redacted]. This survey encompassed a physical check of the telephone lines located in the offices and residences of the Secretary, [redacted]. All appearances of the telephone lines serving these individuals were checked between the instruments and the central offices as well as in the central offices.

No evidence of irregularity or tampering was located during the course of this check. However, due to the inaccessibility of the Labor Secretary's private office line, EXecutive 3-4779, the telephone company was requested to place this number on a nonmultiplying cable pair.

At the request of Secretary Mitchell's office staff, it was determined that the telephone extensions in Mr. Mitchell's office appear at six positions on the Labor Department switchboard. However, the private lines in his office, EXecutive 3-4779 and EXecutive 3-8368, do not appear on the switchboard.

The Secretary's office staff indicated the possibility of requesting a recheck of these lines in the near future and inquired as to the time necessary to complete the survey. Although the initial check required several days, a recheck would consume a minimum of four man days.

No existence of tampering on these lines was discovered.
However, it was determined that a foreign tone and considerable noise existed on ROBERT F. KENNEDY's residence line. It was further noted that he was receiving false rings. It was learned through the Laboratory's telephone company contact that trouble existed in the cable and on the pair serving Mr. KENNEDY's

SAC Burton of Albuquerque, New Mexico, phoned and said he had had a phone call this morning from Senator Anderson who was in his office in the Federal Building in Albuquerque. Senator Anderson told Burton that the FBI had made a security check of his office in Washington as a safety precaution against microphone installations. He asked that if possible, a check of his office in Albuquerque be made. Burton said that he made a noncommittal answer but wanted to call the Senator back.

We have made security checks for Senator Anderson both when he was Secretary of Agriculture and more recently of the hearing room of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy of which Anderson is vice-chairman. In view of the fact that Albuquerque has a competent sound-trained Agent and Anderson's office was small enough that it would take very little time to make the security check, I told Burton to go ahead and make the security check for the Senator.

By memorandum dated 10-30-57, Mr. Roach advised Mr. Belmont that Secretary of Labor Mitchell had requested a security check be made on the telephone instruments and lines within his offices and residence and the residences of his Secretary and Assistant.

Pursuant to Mr. Hoover's approval, this check was instituted by SA's George W. Mayo, Jr., and [redacted] on 11-12-57. To date, the office telephones and all appearances up to the telephone company central office have been checked. Also, the residential telephones of [redacted] and [redacted] have been checked completely through the central office concerned. No evidence of tampering or irregularity was located.

Secretary Mitchell is moving from his present residence in the Broadmoor Apartments to a new home. Therefore, the remainder of the telephone security check will be held in abeyance pending the move. Countermeasure devices currently installed in the Secretary's phones at the Broadmoor will be removed and reinstalled at the new residence in conjunction with completion of this check.

From March 18 through 22, 1957, the Bureau, pursuant to a request of Secretary of Labor Mitchell, made a security check of the telephone lines in Mr. Mitchell's Office and those of his administrative assistant and secretary. No evidence of irregularity or tampering was located during the course of this check. At the conclusion of the check, the Secretary's office indicated the possibility of requesting a recheck of these lines in the near future. Our Laboratory estimated that a recheck would require a minimum of four-man days.

Today, [redacted] Special Assistant to Secretary Mitchell, called Liaison and stated that the Secretary wondered if it would be possible for the Bureau to cause another telephone security check to be made similar to the one made in March, 1957. [redacted] stated that the reason for this recheck is because the Department of Labor is still greatly concerned with the activities of officials in the Teamsters Union and wanted to make sure that their phones are secure.

ACTION:

The Laboratory has advised that if approved the necessary arrangements can be made to conduct this survey after the National Academy exercises. If you approve, arrangements will be made through Liaison for the Laboratory to conduct a survey during the week of November 11, 1957.

SECURITY SURVEY OF TELEPHONE LINES

During the course of the past two weeks, technically trained Special Agents of the FBI Laboratory have conducted a security survey of your office and residence telephone lines. The six lines in your office are terminated at seven instruments, while the two lines in your residence are terminated at five instruments. All instruments were opened and thoroughly inspected for proper wiring. The terminal appearances of the lines were checked through five telephone exchange offices and at all other appearances where the possibility of tapping existed.

I am happy to report that no evidence of tampering was detected. Special protection was afforded all critical instruments. In addition, quarterly security checks of your telephone lines will be made in the future.

SECURITY OF TELEPHONE SERVICES

Re SAC Letter 51, Series 1951.

[redacted] Illinois Bell Telephone Company, on November 20, 1957, advised that all phone cables leading to the FBI Building in Springfield are in an isolated cable and do not appear at any other location. The cables have been given a main frame terminal count #1793 to #1818 inclusive. Teletype service appears on #1813.

b6
b7c

[redacted] advised teletype service clears from the cable frame at [redacted] via a tie-cable to their teletype building at [redacted]

Radio telephone service clears by a private tie-line from #1794 and #1795 to an appearance on the 15th floor of the Illinois Building.

Because all cable appearances, with the exception of the radio telephone services, are within our facilities or within telephone company facilities, it would appear that a bi-monthly check of such cable would be adequate and the Bureau is requested to consider the suggestion that bi-monthly inspections would be adequate and is requested to advise Springfield that bi-monthly checks of the services would be satisfactory.

Mr. Tolson:

This is a progress report on the telephone work being done for the Attorney General. We completed most of the outside work in tracing the cables yesterday and will be ready to check the phones and wiring inside his office and residence any time after today, whenever it is convenient to him.

Miller

We have arranged with the telephone company to change his present home phone to an unlisted number. The phone company will advise us in advance what the phone number will be and when it will be effective. We expect this to be tomorrow morning. We have also been in touch with the White House Signal Agency. They make the request of the telephone company for the White House phone and we are pushing on this in order that the White House phone can be installed at the same time that we make the security check of the wiring inside Rogers' home. This would permit all of our checking and the installation of countermeasures in one visit.

I will keep you advised.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

Security of Telephone Services 9-1

Yesterday I saw Attorney General Rogers and during the course of our discussion he requested that, if possible, the Bureau make arrangements for the installation of a White House telephone in his residence, together with an unlisted telephone. He also asked that we arrange to make the periodic checks of the telephones in his residence, as well as in his office.

Mr. Rogers discussed generally the plans which he had for holding press conferences which he anticipates holding two or three times a month. He intends at such times to present some interesting development in the Department's work to the press.

Mr. Rogers indicated he was desirous of establishing a better press for the Department of Justice and hoped to be able to sell the whole Department through press contacts and through television and other media.

In our discussion I advised him that I would have sent to him a memorandum of the work and the time which the Bureau has given to the preparation of material for the McClellan Committee.

I also told him we would send him a memorandum of the steps we had taken with the Internal Revenue Bureau to bring about inquiries into the income taxes of communist organizations and Communist Party members.

Mr. Rogers stated that he had read in the paper about the meeting of the top hoodlums in a mountain retreat in New York and that he was interested in this matter and at his next press conference in answer to any queries he would state that the FBI was keeping in complete touch with the situation. I have asked for a memorandum to be directed to the Attorney General giving a run-down on each of the persons attending the meeting in New York State.

Mr. Rogers indicated to me that shortly [redacted] Washington correspondent for the New York Times, would be named in the place of [redacted] who will be leaving the Department.

Reference memorandum Mr. Millen to Mr. Parsons November 22, 1957, advising that a security check of the Secretary's offices had been made, but since he was in the process of moving from his residence in the Broadmoor Apartments to a new home, the security check on his residence was being held in abeyance. It was also noted that the countermeasure devices currently installed in his residence would be removed just before he departed the residence.

Today, the Secretary's Office advised Mr. Whaley of the Liaison Section that Secretary Mitchell would move from his apartment on Tuesday, December 17, 1957, and that Mrs. Mitchell would be home at 1:00 P.M. Friday, December 13, so that Bureau agents could handle the telephones. The Secretary's Office also advised that when the move is completed arrangements will again be made through Liaison for our devices to be reinstalled.

The above information has been furnished to the Laboratory Division which will have agents remove the devices from the Secretary's telephones at 1:00 P.M.; December 13, 1957.

The attached paper entitled "Secure Cable/Jacket for Radio/Wire Communications" was furnished on January 24, 1958, to Mr. Swartz of this Section by [redacted] of the Research and Development Section of the Army Signal Corps. [redacted] refers to his paper as a "disclosure of the invention". It has not been patented but has been turned over to "Army Intelligence" for handling. He furnished it to the Bureau as a matter of possible interest and stated that the cable could be easily constructed by use of standard commercial techniques.

 IRING

SAC Powers called from New York at 3:57 p. m., advising that Judge Kaufman's secretary called the New York Office advising that the Judge was starting a very important trial involving a narcotics case and that he desired to have his private telephone checked to be sure it is not tapped. Powers stated the agent taking the call advised the secretary that it would be perfectly proper for her to call the telephone company to request this be done, whereupon the secretary stated the FBI had performed this service for the Judge in the past and that was why she was calling. She was then told that a check would be made and she would be called back and advised. Powers stated we did check the Judge's phone in the Rosenberg case but, since he is now entering trial on a narcotics case in which we have no jurisdiction, Powers wondered whether the Bureau would want this done. He stated the New York Office could telephone the office contacts at the New York Telephone Company requesting the Judge's line be checked or we could do it ourselves. Powers does not believe we should go to the phone company as this is something the Judge's secretary could do quite easily herself. Powers was told we would check this matter and call him back.

Since we have given the Judge this service before in a case in which we were involved, it is apparent that he is making his request at this time, not on the basis of any jurisdictional interest we may have in cases he is trying, but in his own personal safety. I recommend, therefore, that we tell Powers to have the New York Office check the Judge's phone even though the case he is concerned about is not one within our jurisdiction.

As a matter of information, I thought you would be interested to know that on 3-18-58 FBI Laboratory technicians completed a security check of your office and residence telephone lines at those points in the city where tampering could be executed most readily. There was no evidence of any irregularities.

I shall be happy to advise you of the results of periodic security inspections made of your telephone facilities in the future.

On 3-18-58, SA Robert A. Miller and SA [redacted] completed a telephone security check on the telephone lines of the Attorney General, the Director and members of the Executives Conference. This check encompasses an inspection of the appearances of the particular telephone lines outside the residences and the telephone company's central offices. No evidence of tampering or other irregularities was noted.

As you will recall, the Executives Conference security check is in three phases:

1. On a quarterly basis, all appearances of each telephone line supplying service between the central office and the residences are examined.
2. On a semiannual basis, all central office appearances of every telephone line are examined on telephone company premises. In addition, all outside appearances are again checked.
3. On an annual basis, all telephone instruments in the residences of persons included in this check are examined. In addition, all outside appearances and central office appearances are rechecked.

The same policy as followed for the Executives Conferences residential telephone lines is being followed for both the residence and office telephone lines of the Attorney General.

RECOMMENDATION:

That attached memorandum from the Director be forwarded to the Attorney General for his use if he so desires.

On 6-9-58 SA's [redacted] R. W. Swartz, [redacted] and [redacted] witnessed demonstrations of several items of security survey equipment manufactured by Security Devices Laboratory (SDL), a division of Harry A. Miller Company (subsidiary of Sargent and Greenleaf (Lock) Company of which Miller is president). SDL is located on Route 3, Chichester Lane, Fairfax, Virginia. President is [redacted]

[redacted] Two technicians working at SDL are [redacted] The following items were demonstrated:

1. Miniature Audio Amplifier, Model AAL
2. Clamp-On Audio Transformer, Model 4550
3. Flat Induction Coil, Model 4582
4. Miniature Magnetic Contact Microphone, Model M1
5. Tube Microphone, Model 4570
6. RF (radio frequency) Detector

None of the above items was outstanding in its performance. Some did not function as well as competitive items made by other companies.

Also demonstrated in prototype form were:

1. A "Wire Interrogator" which is supposed to be an aid in determining if a microphone is attached to one end of a questionable pair of wires. This unit performs no function which cannot already be performed with presently available equipment.
2. A "Microphone Jammer" which is supposed to make it impossible for a microphone to pick up a signal within a room. The unit did not completely jam a carbon microphone signal.

Memorandum to Mr. Parsons
RE: Security Devices Laboratory;
Harry A. Miller Company;
Sargent and Greenleaf Company

In its present state of design it can be compromised by appropriate "counter" design and equipment. Further development of this unit will be followed.

A so-called "Microphone Detector," intended to take advantage of the resonant frequency of microphones, is under design at the Laboratory. It does not appear that this unit will perform as expected by the company. However, development will be followed.

A "Transistorized Photo-Cell Probe" is still in the planning stage. It is hoped that this unit will permit detection of a modulated light beam (visible or infrared) by means of which a voice signal within a room is being overheard by unauthorized persons outside the room. Development will be followed.

It is of interest to note that State Department security officers have been "talking up" all of the first six items as being exceptionally good and having been designed by SDL at the request of the State Department. Such was claimed by State in a proposed annual report to the NSC Special Committee. As a matter of fact, State Department does not have proprietary right to any of the above items, all of them having been developed by SDL at their own expense.

SDL does not have a grasp of the fundamental problems involved in microphone and radio frequency detecting equipment. It lacks the technical equipment and qualified personnel to do a good job. Fundamental performance of SDL products in no instance exceeded that of similar equipment which has been available for years.

Of particular importance is the fact that employees of SDL were most indiscreet. They volunteered information as to the names of other Government agencies and of individuals in those agencies for whom they had developed and were developing equipment. They were very strongly cautioned as to the confidential nature of the Bureau's inquiry. The Bureau should be most circumspect in any future dealings with SDL.

RECOMMENDATION:

None. For information only.

RE: SECURITY CHECK OF TELEPHONE SERVICES AND TELETYPE LINES

SAC Letter Number 51, dated 5-22-51, established the requirement that a monthly check be made of the field office telephone and teletype lines to make certain that no attempt is being made to tamper with these lines. There is no existing provision for checking these lines at Resident Agency offices.

Effective immediately, a sound-trained Agent shall make security checks of telephone and teletype lines in the following instances.

1. On a quarterly basis at the field office city.
2. On an annual basis at Resident Agencies where offices are located in Government or commercial buildings, as distinguished from private residences.

Care should be exercised so that a pattern is not established as to the exact day of the checks. As provided in SAC Letter Number 80, Section G, dated 8-10-51, if the telephone company is reluctant to permit examination of the lines on company premises, the discretion of the SAC will prevail as to whether to insist on such examination. While a determined effort must be made to make the checks at all locations, cooperation with the company in other matters is not to be jeopardized. These checks are to be made at all terminal appearances of the lines and at any other necessary locations regardless of the type of cable used between the company exchange and field office or Resident Agency quarters.

The quarterly check should provide adequate security for field office lines at this time. The annual check at Resident Agencies is not only a necessary precaution but is an excellent means of maintaining contact with plant officials of the telephone companies located in smaller cities of your field division.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover

REQUEST FOR SECURITY CHECK

Surveys

Today, [Redacted] Chief Investigator and Security Officer, Federal Maritime Board, called Liaison and stated that he had just been asked by [Redacted] to have a security check made on his telephone and those of three members of the Board; namely, [Redacted] and [Redacted]. [Redacted] stated that the reason for the request was twofold because of the information in today's paper that [Redacted] room had been "bugged," and that [Redacted] believed that information might be leaking out of the Maritime Administration.

[Redacted] is a former Bureau Agent and an excellent liaison contact. He stated that he would certainly appreciate it if we could cause a discreet check to be made on the telephones at the offices of the above in the General Accounting Office. He stated that each office maintains two telephone lines.

A check with the Laboratory Division reflects that the above check could be made at this time, and that it would take approximately one complete day to finish the job.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of our cordial relations with [Redacted] and since this security check could be done at this time, it is recommended that Liaison make the necessary arrangements to have this check made at the convenience of the Laboratory Division.

On August 7, the National Security Council was briefed by [redacted] on the annual report on technical surveillance countermeasures. When [redacted] was debriefing the NSC Planning Board, he noted a comment of the President concerning the security of the Cabinet Room and the telephone therein and raised with the members of the Planning Board the question of how recently their own offices and phones, as well as those of their principal had received a security check since matters relating to the National Security Council were discussed in these offices. I advised the Attorney General of [redacted] observation and he stated that the Bureau periodically checked his Office. However, he indicated that he felt it desirable to have a security check made of the offices of Deputy Attorney General Walsh and [redacted] Executive Assistant to the Attorney General, as well as those offices in the Internal Security Division in which material relating to the National Security Council and its subordinate bodies are discussed.

Accordingly, it is requested that you make security checks of the following offices:

Reference is made to your memorandum of August 19, 1958, requesting the FBI to make a security check of a number of offices in the Department.

The problem of the security of space in the Justice Department building is a part of the much larger over-all problem of general security of sensitive government space. While it is true that in an effort to be of as much assistance as possible, this Bureau does on occasion perform security checks of the Attorney General's office, the Bureau cannot undertake an expanded program of such service because of the severe adverse effect on our own heavy workload.

In this regard, it is noted that in connection with a somewhat related problem involving security of government telephone service, by memorandum from the Deputy Attorney General under date of June 13, 1955, a copy of which was designated for you as Chairman of the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security, this Bureau was advised that "It is my understanding that the General Services Administration which furnishes the buildings occupied by most government agencies also has the responsibility for furnishing adequate telephone communications and for the security of such telephone lines." A representative of General Services Administration subsequently advised this Bureau that the problem of telephone security had been referred to the Office of Security and Compliance of General Services Administration for handling.

Pursuant to the request of Senator John L. McClellan, periodic security check is made of the Senator's office and residential telephone lines and of the Committee's Chief Counsel, Mr. Robert E. Kennedy. PC

On 8-26-58, Supervisors George W. Mayo, Jr., and completed security check of all outside appearances of the residential telephone lines of Senator McClellan and Mr. Kennedy. No evidence of irregularity or tampering was found.

It is noted that the residential and office phones of Senator McClellan as well as all central office terminations of these lines were checked in June, 1958, at which time no evidence of irregularity was located. Since the phones at the Kennedy residence were being modified at that time, Mr. Kennedy's telephone instruments were checked in connection with this most recent survey. It was noted that telephone instruments in the Kennedy residence which had been previously covered by countermeasures had been substituted for a new instrument. Accordingly, countermeasures were installed at this time in the new instrument.

Please refer to Mr. Holloman's 5:00 P. M., 12-12-58 note to the Director concerning difficulties experienced on Extension 444. Mr. Holloman indicated that: (1) arrangements were made for the telephone company to recheck the lines and iron out the difficulty and (2) the Laboratory was advised to conduct a security check on the phone line. The Director requested that the difficulties be looked into promptly.

The Laboratory reports that a telephone security check was promptly instituted at 5:44 P. M., 12-12-58. All possible points of access where irregularities or tapping could occur were carefully examined. Completion of the check has determined that from a security standpoint there was no evidence of tampering.

As a matter of general information, you will recall that there is an unusual amount of telephone company activity presently going on within the Department of Justice Building while the Department's telephone system is being converted to dial equipment. It is observed that during this change-over from one system to another many lines will be disconnected momentarily and reconnected in the process. I note that the telephone people worked within the building again Saturday. They did not work Sunday; however, their work will begin again Monday.

In accordance with approval in my memorandum of January 28, 1959, and by arrangements worked out by Liaison with [redacted] of the Staff of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] of the Laboratory made a security check of the residence telephone of Senator Anderson on the morning of January 30, 1959.

b7c

[redacted] was advised by Liaison at 2:45 p.m. on January 30, 1959, that our check of telephone exchange terminals, connection wires, and the telephone instrument in Anderson's home, reflected no evidence of any foreign attachments or any recent changes in the telephone service indicating tampering. [redacted] said he was personally very grateful for the prompt attention given by the Bureau to the Senator's request for the check. He said he would advise Anderson promptly of the results and he knew Anderson would also be relieved and grateful. [redacted] added that the whole matter would continue to be held in strictest confidence.

Senator Anderson and [redacted] were the only persons present while the Agents were checking inside the Anderson's home. The Andersons were very gracious and appreciative of the attention the Bureau gave to their concern over the security of their telephone. Senator Anderson expressed an extremely high regard for the Bureau. He also mentioned that he has a son-in-law who was formerly a Bureau Agent in Albuquerque and San Francisco. Anderson added that his son-in-law has told him that he was very fond of his work while in the Bureau and that he found the Bureau people to be of high caliber. Anderson remarked that his son-in-law is now employed handling Anderson's business interests in New Mexico.

It should be noted that in contacting the telephone company during our check of Anderson's telephone, it was learned that the company had only recently corrected some cable trouble in that area caused by moisture getting into the cable. This condition resulted in noises on various lines which apparently gave rise to Anderson's concern that his line might be tapped. Further while dealing with the

At 10:00 a.m. on January 28, 1959, John T. Conway, former Agent, now Assistant Director of Staff of Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, called Liaison at the request of Senator Anderson who is desirous of having the Bureau make a check of his home telephone to see whether it is secure. Conway said that Anderson had advised him that he believes his home telephone may be tapped and that although the Senator is aware that the Atomic Energy Commission and the Central Intelligence Agency have technical people who could perform this security check for him, he, the Senator, is not keen on having either of these agencies do it.

Conway pointed out that Senator Anderson was the Vice Chairman of the Joint Committee during the last session of Congress and undoubtedly will be Chairman of the Committee as soon as it is organized during the current session. He added that the Senator lives at 6 Wesley Circle, Northwest, Washington, D. C. Conway remarked that naturally the Senator is anxious to have this security check performed on a most discreet basis. He remarked that Senator Anderson discussed this matter on a very confidential basis and that no one else on the Joint Committee Staff is aware of it except the Senator's private secretary.

This matter has been discussed with the Laboratory which agrees that it will be to the Bureau's interest to perform the check desired by Anderson.

ACTION:

(1) If approved, the Laboratory will take immediate steps to perform the security check desired by Senator Anderson.

(2) Upon approval of the action above, Conway will be telephonically advised that the Bureau will handle and necessary arrangements will be worked out. At the same time it will be impressed on Conway that from our standpoint, we desire that our action in the matter be treated on a very confidential basis and be closely held by him and the Senator.

Reurlet 2-6-59 suggesting that there appears to have been omitted from the Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 2, Subsection 12, the requirement that the residence telephones of the Special Agent in Charge (SAC) and the Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) be checked quarterly when the field office lines are surveyed.

There has been no general requirement in the past that the residence telephone lines of the SAC and ASAC be checked regularly by all field offices. However, in a few instances, some offices have made such checks as a security precaution where deemed advisable. Not all offices will encounter the same security problem with regard to the SAC and ASAC. Therefore, it is not believed necessary that a general regulation be made affecting all offices.

Should the San Francisco Office consider the quarterly survey of the SAC's and ASAC's residence lines desirable from the security standpoint, such practice may be continued. The time consumed by such a check should be held to a reasonable minimum.

Re Manual of Rules and Regulations, Part II, Section 3, page 2, subsection 12.

It is desired to call the Bureau's attention to referenced Manual section which is dated June 30, 1958, and which appears to have omitted the regulation requiring that the residence telephones of the Special Agent in Charge and the Assistant Special Agent in Charge be checked at the time of the quarterly security checks called for in this section.

As the Bureau is aware, the Special Agent in Charge and Assistant Special Agent in Charge often receive calls from the Bureau as well as military and Naval intelligence officers on their home telephones and, therefore, the security aspect is of equal importance to their office telephones; for this reason the residence telephone lines of the Special Agent in Charge and the Assistant Special Agent in Charge in San Francisco were checked as was called for by past Bureau regulation.

In view of the above, it is suggested that the Bureau instruct Field Divisions to incorporate the above check in future security checks of telephone lines.

On 4-24-59, [redacted] former Special Agent and present Security Control Officer of the Department of Commerce, telephonically advised SA [redacted] of the Liaison Section that Secretary of Commerce Lewis A. Strauss had requested that arrangements be made for the Federal Bureau of Investigation to conduct a security check for possible listening devices in his suite of offices in the Commerce Department. At [redacted] request, the survey was to be limited only to the "most likely" places where such devices could be concealed. On the same date, the Director approved making such a survey for Secretary Strauss.

On 4-25-59, SAs [redacted] and [redacted] of the Electronics Section conducted a survey of the 3-room office suite of Secretary Strauss and of the following offices:

- Under Secretary of Commerce John J. Allen
- Under Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller
- Assistant Secretary of Commerce Henry Kearns

- Assistant Secretary of Commerce George T. Moore

This check involved 8 offices, 21 telephone instruments and 21 telephone lines. No evidence of clandestine listening devices in these offices or of tampering with the telephone lines was discovered.

By 5/11/59 letter, the Director advised Brigadier General A. J. Goodpaster, Staff Secretary at the White House, that FBI Laboratory engineers would be glad to furnish technical assistance to the White House details of the Secret Service and Signal Corps on matters concerning the security of the President. It was understood through Liaison that White House personnel would contact the Bureau at such time as assistance was needed. Pursuant to the above arrangements, on 5/26/59 Robert I. Bouck, Special Agent in Charge, Protective Research Section, White House Detail, Secret Service, (who initiated the White House request for assistance) requested that Laboratory engineers survey the physical setup of the telephone system and recommend what steps, if any, should be taken to make it "as secure as possible within the walls of the White House." Bouck will advise SA O.H. Bartlett when the President is away from the White House so that the survey can include living quarters as well as office space at the same time.

As a part of the assistance being rendered, it was arranged with Bouck that the countermeasure devices in the White House telephones be rechecked by Laboratory engineers on the evening of 6/2/59. Any new ones or replacements that are needed will be installed at a later date.

For your information, the Bureau made a complete technical security survey of 450 White House telephone lines in 1945 for evidence of tampering. It is contemplated that the present survey will be limited to a physical inspection on which to base recommendations for improved security. Also, countermeasure devices have been maintained by the Bureau at the White House since 1951 to prevent telephones from being used to pick up room conversations.

ACTION:

1. Laboratory engineers will recheck White House countermeasures on evening of 6/2/59 unless advised to contrary. JUN 4 1959

2. Laboratory engineers will maintain close contact with Bouck so present survey may be completed at earliest possible date.

Brigadier General A. J. Goodpaster was advised by letter 5-11-59 that Laboratory would furnish technical assistance to the White House Secret Service and Signal Corps details. As pointed out in my memoranda of 5-29 and 6-15-59 contact so far with Robert I. Bouck, Special Agent in Charge, Protective Research Section, Secret Service, has resulted in a recheck of countermeasures in White House phones by Laboratory and indication from Bouck that complete survey of White House telephone facilities would be requested at such time as the President is out of town for an extended period. We are presently awaiting further word from Bouck as to when the White House work schedule will permit completion of the survey.

Bouck has indicated that purpose of survey is to obtain recommendations as to how to make the White House telephone system as secure as possible. Subsequent information has been obtained reflecting that Bouck has likewise solicited information and assistance concerning a secure telephone system from representatives of other Government agencies, the local Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Incorporated, of New Jersey. It appears that Bouck does not have a thorough understanding of either the technical or security problems involved in operating and maintaining a telephone system and is shopping around for advice and assistance. In view of this, we will be most circumspect in future dealings with Bouck.

Information also indicates that neither Bouck nor anyone else has the responsibility for the security of the entire White House telephone system, that Bouck lacks authority to control the installation and removal of telephone instruments, and that he does not have the full cooperation of other White House employees concerning the telephone system. With such a lack of centralized authority and control, it is extremely doubtful that any amount of technical protection would guarantee full security of the telephone system.

ACTION: For information. Laboratory will complete survey of White House telephone facilities at such time as Bouck initiates a request for such.

During the morning of 6-23-59, Mr. Frank Holloman (Bureau extension 457) dialed the Attorney General's office (Justice Department extension 2001) through Justice Department telephone code 187. Instead of being connected in the usual manner, he was cut directly in on a conversation between the Attorney General's [redacted] [redacted]. This should not happen under normal circumstances. If all of the Attorney General's lines are busy, the calling party should get a busy signal.

RM Holloman
Whang

In view of this report from Mr. Holloman, inquiry was made of the telephone company, without revealing the above details, as to whether equipment trouble had increased since initiation of interdepartmental dialing. A slight increase has been noted, but there has also been a considerable increase in the number of calls handled by the equipment which explains the increase.

From the nature of the instant occurrence, it must have been caused by a malfunction within the Justice Department telephone equipment rather than in the FBI telephone equipment. It was learned from telephone company personnel that no complaints of malfunctioning of Justice Department dial equipment had been received during the instant morning. One thing was learned, however, which could have led to the apparently isolated malfunctioning involved here.

A traffic study (survey of the volume of calls) was being conducted in the Justice Exchange by three telephone company women employees. A temporary malfunction of the present type could easily have been caused by an inadvertent brushing against the telephone switching equipment by one of these employees during the course of their survey work.

REC-91 62-97308-175

In any event, occurrences of the type reported are not normal; they can be expected to happen only rarely, and then only as a result of an equipment malfunction.

In line with the Director's instructions, the Laboratory has been making regular security checks on telephone service utilized by Senator McClellan at his home and office and has performed similar checks for Robert Kennedy.

The work of the Senate Select Committee has been practically completed. Senator McClellan has announced no further hearings will be held and on submission of a report the Committee is scheduled to go out of existence the end of the year. The resignation of Chief Counsel Kennedy has been announced.

In view of the above, the following action is recommended:

(1) Senator McClellan continues his position in public life as a Senator and Chairman of the Government Operations Committee. He has been most appreciative of the Director's consideration in having his telephone lines checked and has often expressed his gratification and how reassuring this was to him.

Sen McClellan's CM's at office Res allowed to remain in - arm

It is therefore recommended that no change be made and that we continue to provide this service.

(2) With reference to Robert Kennedy, it is noted he has resigned his position and is no longer a Government employee. Kennedy will soon become involved directly in his brother's political campaign. Under these circumstances, it would appear that we should discontinue our check of his telephone lines. If this is approved, arrangements will be made for the Laboratory to remove our equipment which has been utilized in securing these telephone lines.

On October 16, 1959, Mr. Lester P. Condon, Director, Compliance Division, HHFA, telephonically contacted the Liaison Agent. Condon advised [redacted] is very concerned regarding several matters mentioned recently by [redacted] in phone conversations which were later repeated to him by other persons than those called. Condon stated the Administrator states the possibility exists that someone may be tapping the phone in his office. Condon stated Administrator requested him to ask the Bureau if we would have Laboratory men conduct security check on phones and lines in the office of the Administrator and Deputy Administrator [redacted] to be sure that they are safe. Condon added the Administrator thinks highly of the Bureau and would feel greatly assured if our men examined the office phones. He stated Saturday would appear to be the best time for such a check as office personnel would not be present.

Above matter was discussed with the Laboratory Division who indicate Laboratory personnel are available and above security check can be handled. It was noted that we have, on occasion in the past, extended this service to higher echelon Government officials other than Cabinet members. While we have not often had occasion to call on HHFA for particular assistance in matters of great importance to the Bureau, our relations with HHFA Administrator and Compliance Division officials have been good, and they have displayed a cooperative attitude in all matters discussed with them by Liaison. As a matter of cooperation, and in view of the concern of the HHFA Administrator in this situation, it is felt that it would be desirable to render the HHFA Administrator our technical assistance in this instance.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that approval be given for a security check by the Laboratory on the office phones of the Administrator and Deputy Administrator, HHFA. If approved, this memorandum should be referred to the Laboratory Division for contact with Mr. Condon as to most appropriate time this check may be made. Condon may be reached on Code 128, Ext. 5208, HHFA.

The inspection was made in his office and residence, in the telephone exchanges, and at points outside the above locations where access could be had to the lines. No evidence of tampering was observed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter be forwarded to the Attorney General if the Director so desires.

Memorandum

TO : Mr. Tamm ST

DATE: September 8, 1960

FROM : R. L. Miller RLM

SUBJECT: SECURITY MATTER CONCERNING
DUDLEY C. SHARP
SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE

b6
b7c

Reference is made to your 9-7-60, telephone call to me advising that an Air Force Office of Special Investigations (OSI) security check team had encountered an unexplained situation at the residence of Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp, [redacted]. In the course of making a check for concealed listening devices, the team, headed by Major Al Sears, reportedly discovered a working microphone. Due to possible Bureau interest, SA [redacted] and myself proceeded to the Secretary's residence at 9:00 p. m. and determined the following situation to exist.

A buzzer system is utilized between the four floors of the Sharp residence to enable occupants to signal each other on the different floors. OSI technicians checked the wiring of this system at a central location in the basement for possible hidden microphones attached to the buzzer wires. In the case of the buzzer in the library on the third floor, they were able to hear room conversation. Verification of this fact was made by myself and [redacted].

This "freak!" condition was determined to be due to the particular buzzer, line, test equipment and test techniques used by OSI. None of the other buzzers at other locations in the house could be activated in the same manner. It was further determined that the condition was confined to the buzzer system itself and there was no indication that the signal was being carried out of the house on other wires.

ACTION:

Laboratory representatives will follow this matter through the Bureau's representation on the National Security Council Special Committee on Technical Surveillance Countermeasures to determine whether this condition is other than an isolated phenomenon. Additional tests will be conducted by the Electronics Section.

✓ 22 [unclear] Matter g m m

At 8 p.m. on 9/7, [redacted] of the Office of Special Investigations (OSI), Air Force, called me to advise that one of OSI's teams, which checks security at the homes of Air Force officials, had come across what appeared to be a microphone in the wall of the study of Secretary Sharp. He said the searching devices had given a positive reaction to an item in this wall, and that wires led to a telephone cable, where they disappeared. He asked that we assist in having the Laboratory check to find out the significance of this matter, stating that meanwhile he had told his people to take no further action, but to stand by.

b6
b7c

Arrangements were made for Messrs. Millen and [redacted] of the Laboratory, together with a Washington Field Office agent, to go to Sharp's home on the evening of 9/7 and check this out.

The attached memorandum from Mr. Millen reflects that this was due to a buzzer system utilized between the four floors of the Sharp residence, to enable occupants to signal each other on the different floors. The freak condition was confined to the buzzer system, and particularly the buzzer in the library on the third floor of the house. There was no indication that the signal was being carried out of the house on other wires. Consequently, this was not a microphone installation, but a freak condition due to the buzzer system. The Laboratory is following the matter.

On the morning of 9/8 [redacted] called to express his appreciation for the prompt action of the Bureau. He said that the buzzer system would be changed in the Secretary's home to remove this condition.

SECURITY SURVEY OF TELEPHONE LINES

Reference is made to your memorandum to me of September 9, 1960, concerning a proposal by the General Services Administration (GSA) as to the security of United States Government telephone lines throughout the country, except in Washington, D. C. GSA recommends: (1) identification of all sensitive Government lines; and (2) removal of multiple appearances from such lines by the telephone company.

Although I appreciate your thoughtfulness in referring this to my attention, I do not feel that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is in a position to comment on a matter pertaining to the security of telephone lines of other Government agencies. I do hope you will understand my position in this regard.

NOTE: Bureau has been removing unnecessary multiple appearances from its lines in the course of security surveys of these lines for years. In 1955 Bureau was responsible for having multiples of U. S. Government lines of all other agencies in Washington removed from premises occupied by foreign governments. This was done on basis of cooperation by Laboratory's telephone contact at no cost to the Government and at considerable expense to the company.

NOTE: This letter is marked "~~confidential~~" to conform with the incoming memorandum.

REGISTERED MAIL - RETURN RECEIPT REQUESTED

Honorable John F. Boherty
Chairman
Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security Department of Justice Building
Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Mr. Boherty:

Further reference is made to your letter of July 18, 1960, on problems relating to the possibility of the appearance of United States Government telephone lines on the premises of foreign establishments in United States cities other than Washington, D. C., and in connection with the security of the lines serving Government offices.

As a result of conferences with representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company we have concluded that to survey foreign establishments telephone lines would involve an extensive and costly work project without assurance of achievement of the expected security protection. A simpler and more practicable plan would be to provide improved security protection to the United States Government lines which serve sensitive Government offices, particularly lines used to communicate intelligence and strategic information which may be used to advantage by an enemy.

The latter plan, which we recommend, will require (1) identification of all sensitive Government lines, and (2) removal by the telephone company of multiple appearances on such lines throughout the country. With respect to the identification of the sensitive Government telephone lines, it is hoped that your Committee will lend assistance to the General Services Administration in developing the necessary detailed information. Of course, no estimate of costs can be made by the telephone company until we know the number of lines affected.

Your approval or comments on the plan we have suggested will be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Security of U.S. Government Telephone Lines

August 12, 1960

MEMORANDUM:

Representatives of GSA recently got in touch with our Washington office to discuss the nature and extent of a security problem that may exist should there be multiple appearances of U. S. Government telephone lines on the premises of foreign establishments or in other areas of public buildings in the United States.

This matter was previously considered late in 1955 and was the subject of some discussions between American Company's Washington office and representatives of GSA.

From discussions with GSA representatives, it develops that GSA's suggested approach involves the identification of telephone lines serving foreign consular offices and foreign trade associations in the United States, then determining the security risk presented by possible close proximity of these lines to lines serving the United States Government. During discussion of the problem with GSA representatives, it was explained that such an approach would involve extensive study, improvement measures are likely to be costly, and the net result would fall short of GSA's intended objective. Some of the considerations which led to this conclusion follow:

1. Identification of the lines serving foreign consular offices and foreign trade associations would be difficult. For example, the GSA list indicated 51 such offices in San Francisco, 61 in New York City, and included no telephone number for identification of these offices.
2. Foreign consular offices and trade associations are only a part of the problem. Each of these offices has employees who generally have residence telephone service. Identification of these residence services would be extremely difficult.
3. In addition to the listed consular and trade offices, the telephone services of other potential enemy agents are usually unadvertised and extremely difficult to identify. These would be outside the scope of the proposed investigation.

As an alternative and more logical approach, it was suggested that certain telephone lines of U.S. Government agencies be identified, so that protective measures for these lines might be considered. Many telephone lines of the Federal Government would have no reason for concern from a security standpoint, but that probably those directly concerned with security could be sifted down to a relatively few, thus simplifying the problem.

It is characteristic of telephone plants that any cable pair in outside distribution plant has several appearances, probably averaging

... increases in typical sizes of wire runs. ...
... wire would be considerably larger. ...
... for flexibility and ...
... of a telephone system. ...
... would involve going into splices ...
... considerable splicing costs. In addition, when this need for special pro-
... is ended, perhaps because the user moves, the plant must be restored
... to its normal condition to permit flexibility and normal bills for the outside
... plant. In addition, maintaining these protective measures would involve ...
... administrative measures to make sure this protection is continued. This is ... some additional expense. No estimate of the cost of such work was given, but ... it was indicated that, if GSA could produce lists of critical U. S. Government
... lines which might warrant such protection, the costs of such measures could be ... explored. GSA representatives agreed to conduct this proposal.

It should be recognized that security regulations^{1/} generally prohibit the use of the telephone for the transmission of classified information.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY OF RESIDENCE
TELEPHONE LINE OF SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE EZRA T. BENSON

MRS)

During the afternoon of 10-4-60, [redacted] Assistant Director of Security, Department of Agriculture, telephonically advised SA [redacted] of the Liaison Section that [redacted] of Secretary Benson, had reported that she had heard excessive noises on her telephone at her residence at [redacted] D. C. She indicated to [redacted] that she suspected that her phone might be tapped or that some unexplained interference was causing the noise on the line. [redacted] inquired as to whether it would be possible for the Bureau to make a security check of this line to determine whether the line was actually tapped.

On the basis of authorization received from Assistant to the Director, Mr. Parsons, SA's [redacted] and [redacted] of the Electronics Section made a security survey of this line on 10/4-5/60. The line was checked at the Benson residence, at the telephone company central office and at all points outside these two locations where access could be had to the line. No evidence of tampering was noted. When the Agents checked the operation of the telephone at the residence on 10-4-60, they noted considerable noise similar to that caused by improperly operating central office equipment. At the request of the Agents, the telephone company serviced the equipment which is connected to the Benson line at the central office.

On 10-5-60, when completing the survey on the line, the Agents determined that the noise no longer occurred. The central office foreman advised the Agents that they had discovered dirty contacts in the equipment associated with the line and that the cleaning of the contacts had eliminated the malfunctioning of the equipment.

Postmaster General Day then requested of [redacted] that a microphone security check be made. [redacted] stated that he will advise the President of the telephone company that the telephone company should not make such a check for the following reasons:

- 1) the company is not in the microphone security survey business;
- 2) highly classified techniques are involved which should not be disclosed;
- 3) considerable specialized equipment is necessary to do this work which the telephone company does not now possess;
- 4) it would be better for the Postmaster General to solicit the cooperation of an outstanding security organization such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Hampton advised that he will keep the Bureau posted on the outcome of the information being supplied to the Postmaster General.

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECKS

With reference to the request of the Attorney General that immediate action be taken to secure the telephones utilized by the President as well as those at the Attorney General's residence, the following has been done.

[redacted] Special Assistant to the President, was contacted. He was completely amazed that his own security people at the White House hadn't brought this to his attention. He said this was obviously something that required immediate attention. [redacted] advised that the President's wife would be away from the White House on Friday, February 10 and he asked that our Laboratory people make a prompt check of the telephone instruments utilized by the President in his living quarters to insure that these telephones are properly secure. The President will be out of his office Saturday afternoon. [redacted] requested that our Laboratory people check the telephone in the President's office as well as the telephones in the offices of his principal assistants; namely, [redacted] himself, Special Counsel to the President Sorensen, Press Secretary [redacted] and the office of [redacted] assistant, [redacted]

[redacted] said he would be in his office both Friday and Saturday afternoon to assist our Laboratory experts in getting access to the necessary space at the White House.

[redacted] stated the telephone system at the White House is completely inadequate and does not begin to meet the President's needs. Accordingly, [redacted] has made contact with the telephone company and has had them draw up a proposed plan for replacement of the present telephone system with a modern one. [redacted] expects the telephone company to submit this proposed plan not later than the first of next week. He said he would greatly appreciate it if our Laboratory experts could look over the telephone company plans in order that [redacted] might have the benefit of any comments which the Bureau would care to make as to the security of the proposed telephone system.

Memorandum

TO : Mr. Conrad

DATE: February 27, 1961

FROM : R. L. Millen

SUBJECT: WHITE HOUSE TELEPHONE SWITCHBOARD FACILITIES
COMMERCIAL PROPOSAL CONCERNING

White House representatives have requested the local Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company to submit a proposal which would provide expansion of the present White House telephone switchboard facilities. A proposal in brochure form has been prepared and submitted to the White House.

Security of Telephone Services

White House representatives have furnished this brochure to Assistant Director Evans for any comment which the Bureau may care to make regarding security of the telephone company's proposal.

Review of this brochure reveals that it is nondetailed, nontechnical and nonspecific with regards to actual installation of equipment, instruments, lines and cables. It does propose in the language of the telephone company's commercial department to effect an expansion of the present small switchboard in the White House by physically removing the board from the White House and incorporating it with a much larger switchboard facility, which still contains expansion capabilities, located in the nearby Executive Office Building. Cost figures as well as an enumeration of the apportionment of lines is set forth in tabular form for consideration. Initiating this move would permit expansion of lines serving the White House. Since no technical detail is set forth in this commercial proposal, no further analysis is possible other than to observe that consolidation of the present White House switchboard with the larger Executive Office switchboard with the resultant removal of the present switchboard from the White House proper necessarily requires the telephone cables and lines serving the White House to be routed through the nearby Executive Office Building. From the standpoint of wire line security, it is imperative, therefore, that the proposed consolidated switchboard facilities, telephone cables, terminals and associated equipment all must be afforded a high level of physical security equal to that which is presently applied to the equipment and switchboard facilities now located within the White House proper.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the above observations be made available to Assistant Director Evans for assistance when he returns the telephone company brochure to representatives of the White House.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL COMMITTEE ON INTERNAL SECURITY

ROOM 2521, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON 25, D.C.

ICIS-22/73

MAR 9 1961

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Reference is made to previous correspondence regarding security of telephone lines. On December 12, 1955, the Chairman of the Interdepartmental Committee on Internal Security advised you of the request made to the General Services Administration that ICIS be advised of the possibility of the appearances of U. S. Government telephone lines on the premises of foreign establishments in U. S. cities other than Washington, D. C. At that time GSA indicated that it would make a survey of foreign establishments with the end in view of removing appearances of U. S. Government lines from the cabling of those establishments.

The ICIS has recently discussed this matter, in consultation with experts from GSA, the Department of Defense, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. In the course of these discussions it became apparent to the members of the ICIS that although the problem of "multiple appearances" constitutes an internal security danger, the significance of this danger has been considerably diminished by the development of more refined techniques for the exploitation of telephone lines and instruments for clandestine listening purposes. Furthermore, ICIS is mindful that security regulations forbid the discussion of classified information on telephone lines, and that, therefore, the removal of multiple appearances should yield only marginal benefits. The fact that sensitive agencies do make some efforts to check their telephone lines, to detect interference, if any, together with the advanced techniques mentioned above, have led ICIS to conclude that there is not adequate justification for pursuing further the problem of multiple appearances of telephone lines.

Sincerely yours,

John F. Doherty

SUBJECT: SECURITY OF TELEPHONE LINES

Reference is made to the Director's memorandum to the Attorney General dated April 13, 1961, reporting completion of a security check by FBI personnel of the Attorney General's office and residence telephone lines. The Attorney General noted, [redacted] Would you check the other Cabinet Officers RFK."

For the Director's information, we currently conduct a detailed security check on the residence and office telephone lines serving the Director, Mr. Tolson and Bureau officials each three months. In addition, we include the Attorney General and, at this time, Senator John L. McClellan.

The Bureau has no continuing telephone security check program for Cabinet Officers. Some Departments have their own technical staff. From a confidential source, we know that some Departments use their own men to conduct telephone security checks on their own lines. Such a check involves physical examination and electrical checking on all access points to the lines (such as in telephone exchange buildings, on poles, in basements of buildings, etc.) for the purpose of determining whether the line is tapped. This is contrasted to our countermeasure program (CM) in which we modify the telephone instrument itself to prevent its being used as a microphone to pick up room conversation when the instrument is on the hook. We do have a continuing countermeasure program and, as you know, since the first of the year there has been considerable activity in this program for Cabinet Officers due to the change in Administration.

The Laboratory is equipped to make telephone security checks and has in the past on special requests performed this type of work for several individual Cabinet members. From our experience, where only one or two lines are involved, the security check may require as little as two man days. However, where numerous lines are involved, upwards of ten man days may be required to complete each security check.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That appropriate Liaison personnel contact the individual Cabinet Officers for the purpose of inquiring as to whether they desire that a telephone security check be made on their lines. If desired, the Liaison representative should work out a suitable time for the performance of the work.

Yes

2. Because of the potentially large amount of work which may be involved, the over-all request is being interpreted to encompass but a single check of each Cabinet Officer's lines rather than undertaking this security check on a continuing basis.

SUBJECT: [REDACTED]

Congressman Clarence Cannon, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, called to express concern regarding the security of the room in which their meetings are held. He stated they were holding a very important meeting next Monday, that actually there would be two meetings, the first which was not so important would begin at 10:00 and end at 12:00 and the second meeting which was quite executive would begin at 12:00 and end at 2:00. I stated if agreeable to him, I would be glad to have our Laboratory expert check this room early Monday morning and inquired as to whom he should contact. Congressman Cannon indicated contact should be made with the Clerk of the Committee, Kenneth Sprankle, and in the event he was not available then contact should be made with Paul Wilson. I told him that our Laboratory expert would be in touch with Mr. Sprankle today to make arrangements for the check on Monday.

Mr. Parsons has been advised of the above and will take the necessary action.

Reference is made to the call from Congressman Clarence Cannon, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee to the Director May 12, 1961, in which Congressman Cannon expressed his desire to have a hearing room checked from a security standpoint. The Director advised that this would be done by the Laboratory early on Monday morning.

By previous arrangements with a Laboratory security team consisting of Special Agents and conducted a survey for concealed microphones between the hours 6:15 AM and 8:20 AM Monday, May 15, 1961. As was reported to your office immediately upon completion of this survey, no evidence of concealed listening devices was noted.

SUBJECT: SECURITY OF TELEPHONE LINES

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated 4-27-61, recommending (as a result of the Attorney General's request) that the Bureau's Liaison personnel determine whether individual Cabinet officers desire a security check of their office and residence telephone lines and that a suitable time be arranged for the work. The Director approved.

On 5-19-61, and 5-22-61, as a result of arrangements made by the Liaison Section, Electronics Section personnel made a security check of four office telephone lines of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg. No evidence of tampering was found at any point where access could be had to the lines. Mr. Goldberg will advise the Bureau if he desires a check of his residence telephone lines.

At the request of Secretary Goldberg, countermeasures were installed in four office telephone instruments. His personal secretary, Miss Helen May, has been advised of the necessity of keeping the Bureau informed as to any changes in these particular telephone instruments.

No one in Secretary Goldberg's office has been advised of the results of the security check.

SUBJECT: SECURITY OF TELEPHONE SERVICES LINES

Reference is made to my memorandum of May 11 outlining requests of Cabinet members for FBI checks to assure security of their telephone lines.

On May 16, 1961, to Honorable Arthur Goldberg, Secretary of Labor, contacted Liaison to advise that after some consideration Mr. Goldberg had decided that he would like to have the FBI check the security of his telephone line at the office and to take whatever measures may be necessary as countermeasures against unwarranted intrusion. suggested Monday morning, May 22, as a convenient time, inasmuch as the Secretary will be out of the city and we can have as much time in his office as we need. After checking with the Laboratory, it was determined that this date can be scheduled without interfering with other activities and arrangements were made for our man to have access to the Secretary of Labor's office from 8:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. on that date.

On 5/26/61, Chief Postal Inspector Montague advised Liaison that Mr. Day, Postmaster General, had reconsidered the Bureau's offer and wished to have the Bureau conduct a telephone security check, as well as an installation of a countermeasure device which would prevent the telephone from being used as a microphone when it is not in use. SECURITY CHECK OF TELEPHONE LINES

Reurlet 5/26/61, requesting the Bureau to reconsider the instruction which directed that a security check be made annually by a sound-trained Agent of the resident agency offices' telephone lines.

The Bureau has weighed your observations and considers the advantages which accrue from the sound-trained agent's contacts to outweigh the disadvantages cited. Accordingly, the Bureau is not making a change in this requirement at this time.

In connection with the use of sound-trained agents and field sound equipment, experience in the past has shown that maximum utility of the specialized sound training and of the technical equipment supplied to each office is realized when the sound-trained agent is assigned to the headquarters city. This fact has been taken into consideration in the selection of candidates currently being trained in additional special sound schools. In the future in the event the handling of technical security check work in your division becomes increasingly difficult the possibility of reassigning one of the newly trained personnel should be kept in mind.

Re No Number SAC Letter 58-K, June 23, 1958, and to that portion which instituted the following instructions: "On an annual basis at Resident Agencies where offices are located in Government or commercial buildings -----" a sound-trained agent shall make security checks of the telephone lines.

I am requesting the Bureau, at this time, to reconsider this instruction with a view toward abolishing it. In the Springfield Division there are 12 resident agencies and only one sound-trained agent in addition to the SAC, who has had sound training. For the sound-trained agent in the Springfield Division it is conservatively estimated that this annual check requires 1450 miles of travel and consumes, during a year's time, approximately one calendar month of the sound-trained agent's time.

It is felt that the benefit achieved from these checks in resident agencies is disproportionate to the time and expense involved. All that is actually accomplished is to determine that there is no tap in existence on a RA line on the particular day that the check is made since RA lines do not come into resident agencies in sealed cables and with other protection such as is afforded to a headquarters establishment.

Contact with telephone company officials and necessary personnel as a liaison function is, of course, excellent and it is believed that the requirement that Senior Resident Agents and SACs should be required to have liaison contacts with telephone company officials should be maintained.

If the Bureau is unable to accede to my request that this annual check by a sound-trained agent be abolished, the Bureau is requested to at least modify the requirement to

SECURITY OF BUREAU TELEPHONE LINES

In the course of making a security survey of telephone facilities at the Bureau's relocation site, it is necessary for Electronics Section personnel of the FBI Laboratory to make a visual inspection of terminal appearances of certain lines. Two points at which this inspection must be conducted are (1) the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's repeater station on Plank Road in Fredericksburg, Virginia, and (2) the branch distribution box on Pole 1195 1/2 at Triangle, Virginia, through which American Telephone and Telegraph Company's (AT&T) cables pass. Access to facilities at these two locations cannot be had without proper authorization from appropriate AT&T officials.

It is requested that an Agent of your office immediately contact [redacted] District Office Supervisor [redacted] AT&T District Office, [redacted] Richmond, Virginia (phone Milton 3-9121), and arrange for clearance of Bureau personnel at these two locations on any one of the three days, July 20, 21 or 24, 1961.

SA's [redacted] will be the Agents conducting the check. [redacted] should be requested to make certain that AT&T authorization for access to the branch distribution (BD) box on Pole 1195 1/2 is made known to the Wire Chief of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company (C & P) exchange at 901 Prince Edward Street, Fredericksburg, Virginia (phone Essex 3-9966). C & P personnel, not AT&T employees, are the ones who travel to and open the BD box for inspection by Bureau Agents.

For your information, similar security surveys were conducted in 1959 and 1960 during which [redacted] was contacted by Bureau personnel at the time of the actual check. He has asked that he be informed in advance so that the necessary arrangements can be made for admission to AT&T facilities. [redacted] has afforded splendid cooperation in this matter and the Bureau's appreciation for such should be made known to him.

The Bureau will handle the necessary contact of C & P Company Officials to gain admittance to the C & P exchange at Fredericksburg. Unless advised to the contrary, Bureau Agents will go ahead with the survey as indicated.

SUBJECT: LEAKS OF INFORMATION TO THE UNDERWORLD

SECURITY OF TELEPHONE SERVICE

William ^{11/11}Foley, who is Acting Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Criminal Division, furnished the following information. He was accompanied by [Redacted] an attorney in the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Department.

[Redacted] is an attorney in the Newport-Covington, Kentucky, area, who has represented the gambling and criminal element. An IRS informant reported information that [Redacted] had purchased a new Chrysler automobile which he was taking to Europe by ship allegedly on a vacation trip in Spain. Actually, the purpose of this trip is said to be to deposit $350,000 in a numbered Swiss bank account.

b7C

This information was referred to the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Department. Arrangements were made to have the automobile thoroughly searched by Customs officers before it was put on board ship and in addition, a thorough search of [Redacted] and their luggage was made. No money was found.

During the course of this search of [Redacted] he told the Customs agents that he knew the Attorney General was "after him" and that they expected to find money which he was supposed to deposit in a Swiss bank. [Redacted] believe this clearly shows [Redacted] had been "tipped

Previous information has been received by the Criminal Division indicating a possible leak to the underworld. An employee of the Atlanta Telephone Company was suspected of fraudulently making available long distance telephone lines to gamblers. The Telephone Company monitored these telephone calls and ascertained from the conversations that the gamblers were aware of an Internal Revenue Service indictment which was to be returned in New Orleans. Conversations also indicated a knowledge of the movement of a Departmental attorney to the Cincinnati area in connection with the Department's work on organized crime.

All of this leads [redacted] to believe that there is a leak of information. They have strong suspicions that this leak is in the Internal Revenue Service. They recognize, however, that all of the specific information noted above could have come from the Department and could have been developed if there were a tap on the Department's telephone lines.

b7c

[redacted] said that prior to making an issue of this matter and in effect accusing the Internal Revenue Service of having a "leak", he would like to make certain there is no evidence the Department's telephones have been tapped. Because telephone company employees have been involved in other cases where they were bribed by gamblers it was not felt that the telephone company should be asked to make this check. [redacted] inquired as to whether it would be possible for the Bureau Laboratory to do this. He was told that a check would be made and he would be advised.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN:

It has been ascertained from the Laboratory that to check the pertinent telephone lines in the Department would take one of our experts about two or three days. Since the information in the specific cases cited was the subject of telephone conversations with the Department immediately prior to its becoming known to the gamblers, there would appear to be some logic to making this check. The situation also has the advantage of making the Department more security conscious and they may desist from their past practice of insisting on a full disclosure of information developed in our reports to the Internal Revenue Service.

Under these circumstances in view of the limited amount of work involved, it is believed it would be to our advantage to comply with the Criminal Division request.

A Miami informant has advised that [redacted] recently stated the FBI is tapping the telephones of "patriotic organizations." [redacted] said the FBI has overlooked one thing which is that the "patriotic organizations" also have good telephone men and electricians and it might be possible that the "patriotic organizations" are listening in on conversations of the FBI.

[redacted] is attorney for the National States Rights Party (NSRP), a hate-type organization, and Imperial Wizard of the Christian Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. [redacted] has made unreliable statements in the past which were not based on fact.

With regard to the allegation that the FBI is tapping telephones of "patriotic organizations" this is not true. The allegation that the "patriotic organizations" might possibly be tapping FBI telephone lines, if true, would affect security investigations and criminal investigations as well as the over-all work of the Bureau involving the use of telephones. This matter was discussed with the Laboratory Division which made the following comments:

There is a present requirement that field office telephone lines be checked quarterly and resident agency lines annually. These security checks should not be performed on such a highly regular basis that a pattern is established as to the time they are conducted. As you are aware, these checks are a precautionary measure and cannot guarantee absolute security of office and resident agency lines. Since these checks guarantee security only at the time they are performed, personnel should be most circumspect as to the nature of their conversation over outside telephone lines.

RE: ALLEGED WIRE TAPPING BY

The above requirement regarding the frequency of security checks represents the maximum interval between security checks. However, these checks may be made at more frequent intervals if there are substantial reasons for believing that Bureau lines may be subject to tampering.

Inasmuch as a security check requires a review of confidential telephone company records and physical observation of the Bureau's telephone lines located within the telephone company central office, (a space accessible only to telephone company employees) it is necessary to have the cooperation of the telephone company officials and craftsmen. Careful consideration, therefore, should be given to the attitude and background, particularly regarding security, racial and criminal matters, of local telephone company employees contacted in that these individuals are also in a position to assist any person or group interested in tapping telephones.

ACTION TAKEN

There is attached a suggested SAC letter again alerting all offices to insure that appropriate precautions are taken concerning the security of telephone lines utilized by the Bureau.

Reference is made to Assistant Director Evans' memorandum to Mr. Belmont 7/26/61, reporting the request of Acting Assistant Attorney General William Foley, Criminal Division, that the telephone lines in the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Department be checked for possible taps. This request was initiated by the Department after [redacted] an attorney who has represented the gambling and criminal element in the Newport - Covington, Kentucky area, is reported to have made remarks to Customs Agents clearly indicating that [redacted] had been "tipped off." This request was approved by the Director.

b7c

Electronics Section Supervisors [redacted] conferred with Messrs. [redacted] an attorney in the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Department, who furnished a list of the extensions they desired checked. Accordingly, on July 31, and August 1-3, 1961, inclusive, Agents made a check of the telephones and associated equipment. The survey was limited to a check for possible taps in areas outlined by the attorneys during the conference.

The survey covered 55 Department of Justice extensions and one private unlisted number, including certain extensions not incorporated in the list originally supplied by the Department because of their having been integrated into systems and equipment furnishing service to the listed Justice extensions. The survey revealed no evidence of tampering at any point where access could be had to the lines.

The Department is not aware of the results of this survey. Accordingly, it is suggested that Assistant Director Evans may wish to advise the Department that the security survey has been completed and that there was no evidence of unauthorized connections to the telephone lines.

You will recall that earlier this year the Attorney General upon being notified of the completion of a routine security check of his telephone lines by Bureau personnel asked Assistant Director Courtney A. Evans to have a similar security check made of the telephones of other Cabinet members. Liaison contacted the Cabinet members' offices and arrangements were made to conduct a check for those who expressed a desire for this service.

For those desiring the security checks, surveys were conducted at both the offices and residences and reported by memoranda. These surveys have been concluded with the following exceptions:

1. Office telephones - Secretary of Commerce Hodges
2. Residence telephones - Secretary of Agriculture Freeman
3. Office telephones - Deputy Secretary of Defense Gilpatric.

Repeated contacts have been made with security officers of these three departments for the purpose of making office or residence premises available for the completion of these security checks. It has not been possible to effect arrangements in these three instances.

Review of the repeated efforts to arrange for access to these offices and the residence has led to the conclusion that it is not believed desirable that the Bureau should continue to contact these people for the purpose of attempting to complete the remaining checks.

Unless advised to the contrary, no further contact will be made with the Offices of the Department of Commerce, the Defense Department and the Department of Agriculture for the completion of the telephone checks indicated above. Should they initiate a request for these checks at a later date they will be made by the Laboratory.

Security of Telephone Service

SUBJECT: GENERAL DWIGHT EISENHOWER

Colonel Robert Schulz, Aide to General Eisenhower, called from Gettysburg at 9:25 a.m. this morning. He prefaced his remarks by apologizing over the fact that he did not know whether the request he intended to make was within the province of the Director's offer of assistance to General Eisenhower. He then stated that the General had remarked to him a number of times that he would deeply appreciate it if FBI experts would discreetly check the telephones at the General's Gettysburg farm. Colonel Schulz stated this would also include the telephones to his (Colonel Schulz) / apartment in the City of Gettysburg proper and the apartment of a Chief Warrant Officer who will replace [redacted] in the near future. [redacted] is leaving for personal reasons.

The Chief Warrant-Officer referred to above who will replace [redacted] was formerly with General Eisenhower in Europe.

I told Colonel Schulz that I felt certain the Director would want to do this and I would be back in touch with him without delay. He asked that he be given at least twenty-four hours notice. He also asked that I accompany the Lab men if at all possible so that he could personally meet me and make a number of plans for the future. I told him that I would have to check with the Director in so far as my own personal trip to Gettysburg was concerned, however, would let him know.

Colonel Schulz asked that the above action be taken sometime this week if at all possible inasmuch as General Eisenhower will be gone and the check will not inconvenience him in any manner.

ACTION:

It is suggested that I call Colonel Schulz back and tell him the Director has instructed this action be taken and that we will await his convenience as to the time and date this week.

SAs [redacted] and [redacted] completed this survey during the period from 11 a. m., February 1, 1962, to 12:45 p. m., February 2, 1962. A total of 20 telephone instruments and 10 lines were involved at three locations, General Eisenhower's office at 300 Carlisle Street, Colonel Robert L. Schulz's apartment at [redacted] and Chief Warrant Officer [redacted]. The survey included an inspection of the lines not only at the location of the instruments but also at the telephone company offices and all other points where access could be had to the lines. No evidence of tampering was found.

Colonel Schulz advised that General Eisenhower had not requested that the telephone system at his residence on his Gettysburg farm be checked at this time. Neither Colonel Schulz nor Chief Warrant Officer [redacted] were available at the completion of this survey so that they could be informed of the results. SUBJECT: TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECK FOR SECRETARY OF DEFENSE ROBERT S. MC NAMARA

[Handwritten signatures and initials]

As you are aware, countermeasure (CM) devices have been installed in the office and residence telephones of the President, Cabinet members and other high officials of the Federal Government when specifically requested by them or their agency.

The individuals who have this equipment installed in their telephone instruments have been advised that the device is classified "~~Secret~~." They have been requested to notify the Bureau ahead of the telephone company repair department in case trouble develops in the telephone in which a CM is installed.

On this date, [redacted] Security Officer of the office of the Secretary of Defense advised that during the evening of 1-31-62, Mrs. McNamara upon attempting to use her residence telephone was able to hear another conversation on the telephone line. [redacted] related that pursuant to the previous request of the Bureau, he was reporting this matter and requested that the telephone line be checked on this date.

b7c

In accordance with your approval, the telephone facilities handling McNamara's residence were checked by Laboratory Supervisors. It was determined that telephone company employees were working on the telephone cable serving this residence during the pertinent period. This work was being done to provide the Secretary of Defense telephone facilities at his new residence. The telephone facilities serving McNamara's present residence were checked and no evidence of tampering was observed.

On this date, [redacted] was advised as to the findings of the Bureau.

SUBJECT: GENERAL DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER (SECURITY CHECK OF TELEPHONES)

of Telephone Service

Reference is made to Mr. DeLoach's 1/29/62 memorandum to Mr. Mohr recommending that Bureau personnel make a security check of the telephones of General Eisenhower at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The Director approved.

You will recall that some years ago, the Electronics Section developed a telephone countermeasure (CM) device as a security measure. This device prevents a telephone from being used as a microphone to overhear room conversation even though the telephone is hung up. Since 1950, these CM devices have been installed in the office and residence telephones of the President, Cabinet members and other high officials of the Federal Government when specifically requested by them or their agency. General Eisenhower's telephones were so protected when he was in the White House.

The CM device is classified "Secret." Because of this, it is desirable for the Bureau to be notified ahead of the telephone company repair department in case trouble develops in the telephone in which a CM device is installed. This permits Bureau personnel to remove the device before a repairman arrives and possibly removes the telephone instrument.

In connection with the survey for General Eisenhower it is suggested that it may be desirable to mention the possibility of being of further service to the General by installing CM devices in the telephones at his residence. If these instruments are made by the Western Electric Company, the CM installation can be made at the time of the survey. If the phones are other than Western Electric, parts will have to be obtained and the CM installation made at a later date.

Memo DeLoach to Mohr
Re: Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Gettysburg, Penn.

2/1/62

wholeheartedly . He stated within a period of five minutes following the inauguration, an ex-President's whole world collapses from under him. He reiterated that General Eisenhower was most grateful for the Director's kindnesses.

Col. Schulz brought up the subject of the Director and Mr. Tolson coming to Gettysburg. He stated General Eisenhower had often mentioned this possibility and he felt certain that in the early Spring the General would want to have the Director as his guest for luncheon at the Eisenhower farm. He stated the General would also take great delight in showing the Director around certain parts of the Gettysburg Battle Field.

Col. Schulz confided when the two of us were alone, that his greatest problem at Gettysburg is handling Mrs. Eisenhower. He stated she was quite temperamental and would not listen to reason on occasion. He mentioned she was quite possessive of the General and often insisted on talking with him regardless of who might be in the General's office at the time.

Col. Schulz told me that the General when in Gettysburg is in his office everyday and not only dictates a considerable amount of mail but additionally sees a large number of people. He is quite accustomed to a well disciplined schedule.

I talked briefly with Lt. Colonel John Eisenhower, the General's son who has an office right below that of his Father's. He, of course, is still in the service but is on loan to his Father for the purposes of writing a book covering his Father's life. Doubleday is handling the publishing of the book and has an employee assigned to Col. Eisenhower for assisting him in the writing.

It is believed that Col. Schulz is well aware of the Director's desire to be of assistance to General Eisenhower and that such assistance will probably pick up in the near future. Col. Schulz has both my office and home telephone numbers and I have told him the Director would want him to call me at any time day or night to be of service to General Eisenhower.

FROM : N. P. CALLAHAN

SUBJECT:

Last night [redacted] telephonically contacted the writer and stated the Chairman had requested him to contact the Bureau to see if we could arrange to have a security survey of obvious places for any concealed listening devices in Rooms P-1 and P-2 of the Capitol Building on Thursday morning, March 8th..

b6
b7c

These rooms are the Chairman's private office and a semi-conference room which also serves as the office of [redacted] which adjoins the Chairman's Office. [redacted] indicated that access could be had to this area at 8:00 A. M. on Thursday morning and he would notify the writer the identity of the staff employee who would be there to admit the Bureau representatives during this assignment if it were possible to arrange same.

I checked with Mr. Conrad of the Laboratory who informed the writer it would not conflict with any prior commitments of the electronics staff of the Laboratory to make this survey on Thursday. We have conducted these surveys in the past and subject to approval, the Laboratory will tentatively schedule this assignment.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that Sprankle be informed that the Bureau will accede to the Chairman's request for this security survey and ascertain from him as the same time which of his staff will be available to admit the Bureau representatives on the morning of Thursday, March 8th.

GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

June 4, 1962

We have been conducting at the request of the Criminal Division an investigation limited to the possibility of Bribery and Subornation of Perjury only, growing out of the "bugging" of a room in the Mayflower Hotel occupied by an attorney for the El Paso Natural Gas Company.

Attached request appears to be based upon suspicion that there may be microphone installations or telephone taps in the office of the U. S. Attorney or two of his assistants.

It is recommended that we comply with the request of the U. S. Attorney's Office in this regard.

REQUESTED-CHECK FOR TECHNICAL INSTALLATIONS,
OFFICE OF UNITED STATES ATTORNEY,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Security Surv-15

* On 6/4/62 Principal Assistant U. S. Attorney CHARLES T. DUNCAN personally appeared at my office. He advised that he and U. S. Attorney DAVID ACHESON are concerned over possible leaks in the U. S. Attorney's office in connection with the Mayflower "Bugging" case. Mr. DUNCAN advised that AUSA HAROLD SULLIVAN is handling the Mayflower "Bugging" case in the U. S. Attorney's office, and he is of the opinion that information concerning this case is leaking from the U. S. Attorney's office. Mr. DUNCAN could give me no specific instances of information leaks except as follows:

He stated in view of SULLIVAN's suspicions he, SULLIVAN, had passed out erroneous information in an effort to determine if it would come back to him through outside sources. He stated that at 4:00 p.m., 5/17/62, SULLIVAN was talking to a close friend whose identity is not known to DUNCAN but who is described as being a member in a class at American University which Mr. SULLIVAN teaches. During this conversation between SULLIVAN and the student, SULLIVAN purposely passed out information which was of no consequence concerning the case and specifically commented, "If you ever hear the name of MARY ANN BLOUGH, please let me know." This name was fictitious. At 11:00 p.m., 5/17/62, according to Mr. DUNCAN, SULLIVAN received a phone call from the girl friend of one of the defendants who has been furnishing information on a confidential basis to SULLIVAN. This girl reportedly advised SULLIVAN that she had overheard the defendant on the telephone that day and heard him say something to the effect "BLOUGH - BLOUGH, the only BLOUGH I know is ROGER BLOUGH of U. S. STEEL." In view of this incident, SULLIVAN is suspicious that in some manner information is leaking from the U. S. Attorney's office.

Mr. DUNCAN stated that he has been planning to make a request through the Department of Justice asking that the Department request the FBI to conduct a search of three specific offices at the U. S. Attorney's office for the purpose of determining whether or not a microphone installation and/or technical coverage of the telephone lines to these three offices might be in effect. The three offices involved are the offices of U. S. Attorney DAVID ACHESON, the office of Principal Assistant CHARLES T. DUNCAN and the office of AUSA HAROLD SULLIVAN. DUNCAN stated that ordinarily requests of this kind are handled by the General Accounting Office. He stated he has been in touch with the General Accounting Office and they declined to make this check as the FBI is presently conducting an investigation in connection with certain ramifications of the Mayflower "Bugging" matter. It is noted that this office is conducting an investigation as an outgrowth of the Mayflower "Bugging" matter concerning alleged bribery and intimidation of witness in case captioned "ALLEGED BRIBERY AND INTIMIDATION OF WITNESS REGARDING 'WIRE TAP,' ROOM 633, MAYFLOWER HOTEL, WASHINGTON, D. C., 4/4/62 - INFORMATION CONCERNING," Bufile 63-7612, WFO 62-8544.

Mr. DUNCAN pointed out that the U. S. Attorney's office has absolutely no definite information indicating that any technical coverage is in effect in their office and that they have received no indication that information obtained or directly connected with our specific investigation is involved. It is my frank opinion from talking to Mr. DUNCAN that any leaks in the U. S. Attorney's office are probably caused by AUSA SULLIVAN and/or others in his office talking with certain individuals whom they feel are reliable sources in connection with the grand jury and police department investigation of the actual "bugging" incident. However, in view of the specific request made by Mr. DUNCAN, which he had intended to make directly to the Department, it is requested that the Bureau authorize experienced technicians from the FBI Laboratory to make a check of the three offices mentioned, or authorize me to have this check made by experienced personnel of the Washington Field Office.

SUBJECT: REQUESTED CHECK FOR TECHNICAL INSTALLATIONS
OFFICE OF UNITED STATES ATTORNEY
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Security Surveys

WFO has been instructed to go ahead with an immediate check of the office of U. S. Attorney David Acheson and the offices of two of his assistants, Charles T. Duncan and Harold Sullivan, for the purpose of determining whether there are any microphone installations and/or technical coverage of the telephone lines of these three offices.

It is noted that on his contact with SAC Marlin Johnson of the Washington Field Office on 6/4/62, Assistant U. S. Attorney Duncan stated that he would ordinarily direct a request of this type to the General Accounting Office; however, they had not been desirous of handling instant matter. SAC Johnson advised that Duncan had specifically stated "General Accounting Office" twice during their conversation; however, he inquired of Duncan on this point again today. Duncan has now advised that he misstated himself in this regard and that he meant to say General Services Administration, which agency he understands will search office space which it administers looking for such items as microphones.

This is for your information.

SUBJECT: SPECIAL SECURITY TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT
IN THE OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

The Attorney General asked me to stop by his office this afternoon. He said that he had had installed earlier this week in his office a special telephone line which connects him with the President, Secretary of State, Defense, and other high-ranking Governmental officials, which is available for the discussion of security-type matters which cannot be discussed on the ordinary telephone.

The special equipment provides a scrambled transmission which is encoded at the point of origin and decoded at the receiving end by means of special equipment. In order to actuate the equipment, a special coded card must be inserted in the equipment. These coded cards are changed each day at the same time on a world-wide basis. The cards are changed in the Washington area at 8:00 p. m. daily. The change must be made by a person having Top Secret clearance.

The mechanics of handling this matter are essentially very simple. There is a combination lock on the equipment. The door to the equipment is opened by means of this combination. There is a receptacle immediately inside the door which contains a pad of the cards, approximately 3" X 8". These cards are similar in appearance to the ordinary IBM card. The old card is removed and a new card inserted. The person handling this initials the log to show that the new card was inserted and the old card destroyed by burning.

The Attorney General said he knew that the Bureau had Special Agents on duty in the Justice Building 24 hours a day. He said he would like to have the Agent who is on duty during the evening hours handle the changing of the cards in this special telephone equipment. It was pointed out to the Attorney General that a similar question had previously been raised with the Bureau by the Department with regard to the maintenance of this equipment, and we had told the Department the only person we had who was qualified to maintain such equipment was not located in Washington but was assigned to our facilities at Quantico, where our only security telephone of this type is located. The Attorney General said this was not a question of maintenance but rather just keeping the coded card up-to-date.

It was then suggested that perhaps the Attorney General could have people in his own office do this. He replied by indicating that the work was now being handled by his Executive Assistant, [redacted] but that he had to send [redacted] out of town a great deal. He also stated that he thought this was a particularly sensitive assignment and he would be much more secure in his own mind if it could be handled by the FBI.

It was then pointed out to the Attorney General that security reasons would obviously preclude any widespread knowledge of the special equipment he had and its combination; that we rotated the assignment of our Special Agents on weekend duty and this would mean that a different Agent would be in charge every Saturday and Sunday. The Attorney General said he would handle the matter himself on the weekend but he would still appreciate our handling it during the week.

He again noted that this is a sensitive assignment and that international conditions are tense, and he knew he would not have to worry if the job could be done by the FBI.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN:

It would seem that the Attorney General should be able to get some trustworthy person in the Department to do this job. The mere fact that it has not been done during the evening hours should not make any difference. Nevertheless, he keeps coming back to the thought that the FBI is better qualified. If it is desired that we assist the Attorney General, it would be possible to have one of our regularly-assigned people either in our own code room or an Agent Supervisor regularly assigned to the 4:00 p. m. to midnight shift handle the assignment. It is noted that it would take only a few minutes time each night to do this.

SUBJECT: MICROPHONE SECURITY SURVEY
FOR SECRETARY OF DEFENSE MCNAMARA

By 12/20/62 letter to the Director, transmitted through the Liaison Section, [redacted] of the Office of the Secretary of Defense, requested that the Bureau make a microphone security survey of the office of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara during his absence on 12/26, 27, or 28/62. [redacted] specifically asked that the check be made without damage to the building surfaces unless absolutely necessary. The latter requirement limits the search to those locations where concealment of listening devices is most likely. This was verified with [redacted] telephonically on 12/21/62.

Security surveys have been conducted for the Secretary of Defense on several occasions in the past and his office telephones are presently protected with Bureau-installed countermeasure devices.

ACTION:

In view of the excellent relations with the Secretary of Defense, Electronics Section personnel will conduct a security survey on 12/27/62 as requested by [redacted] unless advised to the contrary.

SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR TECHNICAL SECURITY
SURVEY OF HEARING ROOMS, HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE (HAC)

Reference is made to Mr. Callahan's 1/15/63 memorandum to Mr. Mohr in which it was recommended that Bureau personnel conduct a security survey for concealed listening devices in hearing rooms used by the full Appropriations Committee (H140) and the Appropriations Subcommittee for the Department of Defense (H144). [redacted] of the HAC indicated there are two or three other rooms for which he would request surveys later. The Director approved. b6
b7c

On 1/16/63, in accordance with arrangements made by Assistant Director N. P. Callahan, SAs [redacted] of the Laboratory conducted a microphone security survey of rooms H140, H144 and H135. (The latter is the private office of Congressman George Mahon, Chairman of the Subcommittee for Defense.) [redacted] requested a survey of H135 on the instant date if at all possible, and such was arranged by Mr. Callahan as a matter of cooperation with the HAC. At [redacted] request, the survey was limited to those locations where concealment of microphones would be most likely. Access could not be had to adjoining space because it was in use by occupants not attached to the HAC. The survey included a check of 9 telephone instruments and 7 lines (within the three rooms) for possible use to overhear room conversation. CS

No evidence of concealed listening devices was found. Mr. Callahan was telephonically informed of the results so that he could advise [redacted] who was not present when the survey was completed.

On March 6, 1963, [redacted] Office of Investigations and Security, Maritime Administration, inquired through Liaison Agent if it would be possible for the Bureau Laboratory to make a security check of the office of Mr. Donald W. Alexander, Administrator, Maritime Administration. He stated that there have been a number of high level leaks concerning important matters, and while the Administrator recognizes the possibility of some one high up in the administration being responsible, he is also concerned that his office may be "bugged."

Maritime Administration is an agency within the U. S. Department of Commerce. Bureau completed special inquiry investigation* October 13, 1961, requested by the White House in which no derogatory information was developed. [redacted] is former Special Agent and has dealt with Laboratory personnel in past in connection with security check of Office of Secretary of Agriculture when [redacted] was with Agriculture. Liaison relationship with Maritime Administration and Commerce has been favorable. A telephone security check was previously conducted in the office of the Chairman, Federal Maritime Board (predecessor agency) on July 11, 1958.

ACTION:

If approved, Liaison will make necessary arrangements through [redacted] office for security check to be conducted by Laboratory personnel.

Dear Mr. Alexander:

Pursuant to the request of [redacted] Office of Investigations and Security of your organization, Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel completed a security check for hidden microphones in your office and that of [redacted] on March 13, 1963. In order to prevent damage to room surfaces unless absolutely necessary as indicated by [redacted] the search was limited to those locations in which concealment would be most likely.

I am glad to report that no evidence of concealed listening devices was detected. This included a check of each telephone for possible clandestine use as a microphone to pick up room conversation when the telephone is not in normal use.

As indicated in a memo to Mr. Sullivan from Mr. Brennan dated 3/7/63, [redacted] Office of Investigations and Security, Maritime Administration, sought the cooperation of the Bureau in having a microphone security check made of the offices of Mr. Donald W. Alexander, Administrator. Mr. Alexander, while recognizing that some official may be responsible, is concerned over a number of high-level leaks (concerning decisions as to maritime subsidies). The Director approved.

Through arrangements made with [redacted] Electronics Section [redacted], during the afternoon and evening of 3/13/63, completed a check of the office of Mr. Alexander and that of [redacted] in which meetings of the Maritime Subsidiary Board are held.

[redacted] requested that the search be limited to those places of most likely concealment. Three telephones in the two offices were also checked for possible surreptitious use as microphones to pick up room conversation when the telephones are not in normal use.

No evidence of concealed listening devices was detected. [redacted] was most cooperative throughout the check and was advised of the results. He expressed deep appreciation for the Director having afforded such a service to the Administrator and asked that Mr. Alexander be advised of the results by letter, if possible.

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE VOICE SCRAMBLERS FOR NEW YORK-SEAT OF GOVERNMENT LEASED LINE

Telephone Security Survey

During the Cuban crisis last fall it was recognized that we should insure maximum possible security in telephone communications. As a result of a review made, we persuaded the telephone company to put our leased telephone line between New York and the Seat of Government (SOG) on landline facilities rather than microwave radio facilities which the Laboratory felt would be more secure. At the same time we recognized that if the necessary equipment could be secured to scramble voices on this New York-SOG telephone line, the security of these communications would be increased. Since that time Liaison has been making an extensive survey to determine the cost of such equipment and whether any is available. Any such voice-scrambling equipment can be used only with a leased line and since the line from here to New York is our only leased line with a field office, this is the only line on which such voice scramblers could be used.

We know of no other scramblers immediately available and the table below reflects the types of scramblers which are now in use by other agencies or which are expected to be in use within the near future. The table also shows the cost of equipment for each type and the monthly rental for a leased line between Washington and New York for each type. The Models KY-1, KY-3, and KY-5 are not currently in production and their availability would depend upon release or surplus from other agencies. The special type of high-quality telephone line required by these models would be extremely expensive and in a short time would more than offset the greater initial cost of Model KY-9 or KG-13. The KY-9 uses a regular telephone line and would not result in increasing the rental cost of our present leased line to New York. The KG-13 would increase the cost of that line by approximately $40 per month.

Memorandum to Mr. Mohr from W. S. Tavel
 Re: Telephone Voice Scramblers for New York-SOG Leased Line

Model Number	Total Equipment Cost	Telephone Line Cost per Month	Date Available
KY-1	$35,000(2 units)	$9,600 per month	Not available at present - dependent upon release by other agencies

KY-5	$36,000(" ")	$4,800 per month	" " "
KY-9	$140,000(" ")	Nominal (standard line)	4 months from date of firm request
KG-13	$65,000 (" ")	Nominal (standard line plus $40)	18 months from date of firm request

Since we have no money available in the 1963 or 1964 budgets for such equipment, it is felt that provision should be made in the 1965 budget for the purchase of voice scramblers for the New York-SOG line. Mr. Conrad recommends, and I agree, that the KY-9 would offer the best operation in the long run and would be the best equipment for us to purchase.

RECOMMENDATION:

That provision be made in the 1965 budget for $140,000 to purchase two KY-9 units for the New York-Washington leased telephone line.

As indicated in my 3/29/63, memorandum to you, Lester P. Condon (former SA) by letter of 3/27/63, to the Director requested that the Bureau make a survey of his office telephone lines at the Department of Agriculture. The Director approved.

On 4/10/63, as arranged by SA J. J. O'Connor of the Liaison Section, Electronics Section personnel completed a survey of Mr. Condon's office telephone lines. This included four instruments and three lines in Rooms 219A (North Building) and 1322 (South Building). All locations outside the above offices where access could be had to the lines (including the telephone company exchange in Room 5411, South Building) were also checked.

No evidence of tampering was found. No one in Mr. Condon's office was advised of the completion of the check, since additional work was done at other locations after work was completed in his office.

ACTION:

Attached for the approval of the Director is a letter to Lester P. Condon advising him of the results of the security check of his office telephone lines. If approved, the letter will be delivered by the Liaison Section.

SECURITY OF TELEPHONE SERVICES

Dear Mr. Hoover:

It is requested that a technical survey be made of official telephone lines of this Department for the purpose of determining the possible existence of unauthorized monitoring equipment designed to intercept official conversations.

Although I have no current suspicions that such intercepts do, in fact, exist, the nature of telephone conversations now made between my office and other agencies of government, including the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Central Intelligence Agency, and the Department of State, prompts me to take all necessary measures to insure against that possibility.

At this time, the requested survey should be limited to the telephone lines in my personal office, (219-A) and, that in Room 1322, South Building.

With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely,

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE SECURITY SURVEY FOR
LESTER P. CONDON, INSPECTOR GENERAL
U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Security of Telephone Services

By letter to the Director dated 3/27/63, Mr. Lester P. Condon requested that the Bureau make a check of his office telephone lines to determine whether there is any indication of unauthorized interception of his telephone conversations.

The following information is reported by the Liaison Section: Bureau records indicate that Condon is a former Special Agent who entered on duty 1/6/47, and resigned voluntarily 1/12/51. On a 6/20/62 summary for the Director concerning Condon's appointment in the Agriculture Department, the Director noted, "Be most circumspect in any contacts." Since that time in such contacts as have been necessary Condon has been most cordial and helpful to the Bureau.

No previous request has been made by Condon for security work. However, since 1951 the Bureau has installed and maintained countermeasure devices in the Secretary of Agriculture's office and residence telephones (to prevent their being used as microphones to pick up room conversation). On 10/5/60, the Bureau completed a security check of the residence telephone lines of the then Secretary, Ezra T. Benson, at the latter's request.

RECOMMENDATION:

If the Director approves making a telephone security check for Condon, Liaison Section will initiate arrangements as to a satisfactory time for the check and the Laboratory will make the desired check.

Security Surveys

SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR MICROPHONE SECURITY
SURVEY OF HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE HEARING ROOM H163

Reference is made to Mr. Callahan's 6/13/63, memo to Mr. Mohr concerning above matter. It was stated that, subject to the Director's approval, the area concerned would be inspected by Mr. Callahan and a Laboratory technician to determine the feasibility of making a security survey between 5:00 A. M. and 8:00 A. M. (just prior to the room being used for hearings). Director approved and inspection indicated survey possible within time indicated. Survey also revealed that area involved is identified as room H163.

SA [redacted] conducted radio monitoring phase on 6/14/63, at the start of Committee's work day from 10:00 A. M. to 11:00 A. M. for possible presence of concealed miniature radio transmitters. SA's [redacted] and [redacted] performed remainder of the survey on 6/17/63, from 5:00 A. M. to 7:30 A. M. Included was the check of one telephone and two lines (within the room) for possible use in overhearing room conversation. [redacted] made the space in H162 (doctor's office) available for examination of the common wall between H162 and H163.

No evidence of concealed listening devices was found. Mr. Moyer was present at the conclusion of the survey and was advised of the results. Mr. Callahan was telephonically advised of the same.

of the House Appropriations Committee staff telephonically contacted the writer this afternoon stating he was calling at the instruction of Chairman Cannon of the Appropriations Committee to see if the Bureau would conduct a security survey of two hearing rooms which were to be utilized commencing at 9:00 A. M. Monday morning, June 17, for some very sensitive appropriations hearings. He stated these rooms would not be available to conduct the survey before 5:00 A. M. Monday morning and that the survey would have to be completed by 8:30 A. M. He indicated he did not desire to identify the rooms over the telephone.

I advised [redacted] I was certain the Director would want to cooperate with the chairman in this matter, however before stating that we definitely could conduct this survey we would have to observe the areas to be surveyed to see if it were feasible to do so within the time limit prescribed. He stated that the writer could bring a technician to the Capitol approximately 3:30 this afternoon for this purpose as he would be tied up in a meeting all day Friday and unavailable to conduct us through the rooms to be surveyed.

Mr. Conrad at the writer's request has made available one of the technicians to accompany the writer to the Capitol this afternoon at 3:30 to make a preliminary survey to see if the type of survey desired is feasible within the time limit laid down.

While calling in connection with another matter, the President advised that, while he was talking to the Majority Leader just a few minutes before, a woman came on the line and told him she thought he should know the line was open. He asked who she was and she told him she was with the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

The President then called the White House operator to clear the line and, when they started talking again, the same woman came on the line again and told him the line was still open and that she was also hearing other conversations in the Senate and Congress.

The President stated he thought I ought to look into it and interview all on the White House board. I told him I would check into it right away. He suggested I just get the chief operator at the White House, have people called in, interview whoever it was in Health, Education and Welfare, and give him a report on it. I told him I would have this done at once.

I called Belmont

3:42 p. m.

I called Mr. James Rowley, Chief of the Secret Service, and apprised him of the President's call; that I had instructed my men to get on it right away; and that I thought he should know about it before my men arrived at the White House. Mr. Rowley said he never worries about that, but I said I thought it well to touch base.

TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECKS

MR. MOHR:

I delivered the Director's memorandum to Walter Jenkins yesterday afternoon, 12-23-63, concerning the defect in the White House telephone system. Jenkins was very pleased that the FBI had discovered this defect and had the telephone company make proper repairs.

Jenkins told me that he and the President, the night before, had had a very confidential discussion and it had been decided that a request would be made to the FBI to have our people check out the "principal" telephones at the White House. By "principal" Jenkins meant the President's phone, his phone, [redacted] phone, [redacted] phone, [redacted] phone and possibly one or two more. He does not want the entire system checked. Jenkins also stated that he would appreciate his phone being checked at his residence out in Chevy Chase.

I told him that this request would be made known to the Director and I felt certain the Director would want our people to get on this matter as soon as possible. Jenkins stated anytime after Christmas would be satisfactory. He asked that his wife be given a call when our representatives wanted to check out the phone at his house.

I will introduce our Laboratory men to the proper individuals at the White House so that this matter can get under way. Jenkins fully understands that the Secret Service checks the phones at the White House, however, he desired that the FBI handle a check at this time.

RESPECTFULLY,

C. D. DE LOACH

Assistant Director DeLoach's 12/24/63 memorandum to Mr. Mohr pointed out that Walter W. Jenkins, Special Assistant to the President, advised Mr. DeLoach that on 12/22/63 the President and Mr. Jenkins had decided to request the FBI to check out the "principal telephones" at the White House. They did not want the entire system to be checked and the work was to be done after December 25. The Director noted "Give it top priority."

On 12/26/63, Assistant Director DeLoach and Laboratory personnel contacted Mr. Jenkins at the White House. He indicated that his office and residence telephones and those in the President's office and residence at the White House were the ones to be checked.

Laboratory personnel conducted a security survey of the above lines on 12/26/63. No evidence of tampering was detected in any of the telephone instruments, or on any of the telephone lines or related equipment at points where access could be had to such.

ACTION:

A memorandum reporting the results of the above survey is attached for delivery to the White House if desired.

In accordance with your request that a security check be made of the President's residence and office telephones at the White House and of the office and residence telephones of Mr. Walter W. Jenkins, the following is submitted.

FBI personnel have made a thorough survey of the telephone facilities serving (1) thirty-four instruments and their associated twenty-eight extensions at the White House, and (2) the residence of Mr. Jenkins at 3704 Huntington Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. This included inspection at all points where access could be had to the telephone lines.

No evidence of tampering was observed.

SUBJECT: WHITE HOUSE
TELEPHONE LINE SECURITY Checks

The Directors memorandum December 20, 1963, pointed out that the President had experienced interference on his telephone line while engaged in speaking to the Majority Leader. The President stated that he thought we should look into the matter. The Director initiated an immediate inquiry into this situation. In connection therewith the following progress report is being submitted at this time.

Laboratory personnel immediately upon receipt of your call, made contact at the White House and aggressively throughout the night conducted interviews of technical and operational personnel as well as provided guidance for a special crew of telephone cable specialists who worked in the White House and in the Executive Office Building on the telephone facilities there.

Our men conducted an immediate security check of all telephone lines and equipment associated with the lines in question and no evidence of taps or other tampering was found. However, there was found to be an actual defect in the telephone cable running between the White House proper and the Executive Office Building (Old State Department Building where the bulk of the telephone equipment and the switchboard are located). Two special telephone cable crews supervised by a Vice President of the local telephone company immediately began work to isolate and correct the defect. This involved physically tearing into the lead covered cable itself. Some idea of the magnitude of the problem can be obtained by noting that this cable carries 1500 pairs of wires.

The defect was finally isolated and corrected approximately 2:30 AM December 21. As a matter of interest, the defect was found to be a faulty splice which appeared to have existed since the initial installation of the cable. It apparently had gone undiscovered until it came to light by virtue of the installation only two days ago of a new telephone in the dining area. This new telephone used the defective line, and the nature of the defect was such that it effectively connected the new telephone to two separate telephone circuits in the same cable rather than the normal one, thus permitting unintentional talking or listening between two lines.

While the finding of the defect has apparently corrected the immediate problem, in view of a reported history of other similar instances in the past, the telephone company, under our direction is conducting some additional checks of their telephone line switching equipment on telephone company premises to determine whether there was any other contributory factor involved. In addition, it is planned that all the other circuits in the White House cable will be checked to insure there are no other similar defects existing on other lines in the cable. This will be done as rapidly as possible, but necessarily at a time which will not disrupt normal White House telephone operations.

As a further matter of record, it is noted that the White House telephone operator advises there was only one instance on the afternoon of December 20 in which the President advised her of trouble on the line. The operator stated that she was not advised by the President of any specific identifying information concerning the person interfering with the line. However, she did advise that at about this time the President's daughter Miss Lucy Johnson called the switchboard to advise that while she was making another call she had overheard her father.

ACTION: This matter is being pursued and you will be further advised.

The Director's memorandum December 20, 1963, pointed out that the President had experienced interference on his telephone line while engaged in speaking to the Majority Leader. The President stated that he thought we should look into the matter. The Director initiated an immediate inquiry into this situation.

Telephone Security Checks

The following is a report of additional developments in this matter on December 21, 1963.

Laboratory personnel continued to aggressively pursue this investigation both at the White House telephone facility in the Executive Office Building and with telephone company personnel in checking switching equipment on telephone company premises.

As you have been previously advised, a defect in the telephone cable between the White House and their switchboard in the Executive Office Building was located and corrected early in the morning of December 21, 1963. ch

Under our direction, the telephone company instituted an immediate and exhaustive check of cable and switching equipment on telephone company premises to determine whether there was any other contributory factor involved.

Late in the afternoon of December 21, 1963, our men, along with telephone company personnel, located a faulty line relay in the telephone company interdepartmental dial center located at 722 12th Street, N. W.

As a matter of information, all interagency dial calls using the Government dial code system pass through this highly complex switching center. The significance of this particular relay, among many thousands of relays, lies in the fact that it is in one of the paths which could be used in making a dialed connection to the White House switchboard. The nature of the fault was such as to allow a call using this switching device to erroneously connect to a circuit handling a call already in progress.

It was further determined that some calls dialed from Capitol Hill and some calls dialed from the Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) Department could pass through this specific relay in establishing a talking path to the White House.

The White House switchboard personnel previously advised that the call in question was originated from Senator Mansfield's Office on Capitol Hill to the White House by means of the interdepartmental dial system. This action made it mandatory that the path of the call be routed through the dial center previously mentioned.

Telephone company personnel, in the presence of Bureau technical representatives, simulated electrically the condition which could cause the erroneous connection of a third party upon a telephone conversation already in progress. Bureau personnel then had the telephone company correct this defective equipment immediately.

While the telephone company does perform a regular and continuing maintenance program on all dial center equipment, it is noted that they had no record of any previous trouble relative to this equipment and, since this defective relay was only discovered after an exhaustive and diligent search in connection with this incident, they have agreed to perform a critical maintenance examination of all switching equipment and lines between the dial center, The White House, HEW, and Capitol Hill.

In addition, regarding the report that an unknown female commented that she was "with the Health, Education, and Welfare Department," interviews were conducted with the Chief Operator at HEW on duty at the time of the questioned call, the Chief Security Officer of HEW and the Director of General Services for HEW, the latter being responsible for telephone facilities at HEW. The Security Officer is a well-established Laboratory contact and former Bureau Agent. They have received no information relating Captioned Secret Service Agent indicated to Bureau Liaison Agent [redacted] on the evening of 1/9/64 that he had reports of several cases of telephone difficulties which had been experienced by White House personnel. None involved the President. Identities of the individuals experiencing alleged troubles were unknown to him at that time and the information was "second or third hand." Mr. Bartlett reported [redacted] statement to you.

Upon receiving this information, the Laboratory contacted [redacted] telephonically at 6:04 PM 1/9/64. He was unable at that time to elaborate or give any additional details other than to say he understood that there were three separate complaints over the past two days and that he felt the incidence was probably high and he wanted to confer with us about it. Our technical men were made available immediately. However, [redacted] indicated that no one was available to talk to at the White House at that time and he would like to have our technical men come over at 9:30 AM 1/10/64. It was agreed that this would be done.

In the meantime, the Laboratory made arrangements with our highly placed telephone contacts so that there would be no delay in entry to telephone exchanges or other telephone property areas in the event this action needed to be taken. From these sources, specific information relative to recent complaints to the telephone company by personnel in the White House, such as the switch-board operators, etc., was drawn.

Equipped with this technical background obtained through our sources, FBI Laboratory Supervisors [redacted] made contact with [redacted] at the White House at 9:30 AM 1/10/64.

[redacted] advised he had obtained no additional specific information regarding the three troubles.

Laboratory Supervisors then contacted the [redacted]

[redacted] and determined that of the three troubles, two occurred on 1/9/64 and have been traced to switching equipment located at the Executive Office Building. The other trouble occurred on 1/8/64 and was traced to equipment located at the Dupont Exchange. None of the three troubles involved calls which had been completed to White House officials. The two troubles on 1/9/64 were similar and involved two incoming calls being connected to the White House operator on the same line at the same time due to a malfunction of switching equipment. The trouble on 1/8/64 involved a malfunction of switching equipment which connected three separate calling parties together with the White House switchboard. None of the three parties were calling the White House. Corrective action has been taken by the telephone company in each case.

Laboratory Supervisors have determined that there is no evidence of tampering involved in instant troubles. [redacted] has been so advised.

Inasmuch as these troubles have been traced to equipment malfunction and there is no evidence of tampering, no further action is contemplated.

TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECKS

The Director's memorandum December 20, 1963, pointed out that the President had experienced interference on his telephone line while engaged in speaking to the Majority Leader. The President stated that he thought we should look into the matter. The Director initiated an immediate inquiry into this situation.

b6
b7c

By memo December 21, 1963, you were advised that a defect in the cable between the White House and Executive Office Building, and a faulty relay at the Interdepartmental dial center had been located by our men working with telephone company personnel.

As a result of the above, the local telephone company instituted a series of exhaustive tests on the cable between the Executive Office Building and the White House. On the basis of these tests, one splice in this cable was completely redone. This has now been completed. Also, the local telephone company has tested cables between the Interdepartmental dial center and Capitol Hill, Regional Office Building, and the White House, and switching equipment associated with these cables. They assure us that this equipment meets their operating standards.

This completes work being done under our direction by the telephone company relative to this immediate problem.

RECOMMENDATION:

Since the White House was previously advised concerning our finding the defects and their corrections, it is suggested that Mr. DeLoach advise appropriate officials at the White House concerning the completion of the additional telephone company tests and checks noted above.

Telephone Security Checks

Teletype from Knoxville 2/16/64 captioned as above recommended that Laboratory technicians check Seat of Government telephone lines if not recently done to insure security and that such checks be continued at frequent intervals until Hoffa case concluded. Referenced Teletype advised that such checks are being made on the Chattanooga Resident Agency telephone lines and Memphis has been advised to take necessary security precautions.

The office telephone lines at Seat of Government are checked for evidence of tampering or other irregularities on a monthly basis by Laboratory personnel. This check would have been made this week as a result of our regular tickler system of following this matter. In view of the statements attributed to Bernard Spindel, this check was accelerated and was completed today. No evidence of tampering was found.

The residence telephone lines of high Bureau officials are normally checked on tickler on a quarterly basis. This check is rather extensive as it involves the physical inspection of numerous lines spread out over the entire metropolitan area. In view of the current situation, this check is likewise being accelerated and will be completed within the next few days.

ACTION:

The residence telephone line security check will be expedited and you will be kept advised.

TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECKS

Reference is made to Mr. DeLoach's 2-13-64, memorandum to Mr. Mohr reporting that Walter Jenkins, Special Assistant to the President, had requested that a security check be made of the residence telephone lines of . The latter has to talk over rather confidential matters with the President on his residence telephone and has reported hearing some strange noises lately. The Director approved the request.

Pursuant to arrangements made on 2-14-64, with his two residence telephone lines at were thoroughly checked by SAs on 2-18-64. This included inspection in his apartment, at the telephone company exchange and all other points where access could be had to the lines.

It should be noted that access cannot be had to these lines at any location other than the apartment and exchange buildings. The type of equipment at the exchange is such that a slight noise is inherent in the system in that a slight clicking may be heard when an outgoing call is first initiated. During the course of the inspection at the exchange, special protectors were installed at the request of the Bureau Agents on two lines. This will prevent any noise being caused by company employees inadvertently touching his line terminals while working on other lines in close proximity to his.

b7c

Shortly after completion of the security check, called Agent directly and inquired as to the results. informed him that no evidence of tampering had been observed and that he would be advised later in more complete detail of the results.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be forwarded to Mr. DeLoach. was not advised by Agent of the locations of the check and that protective equipment had been installed at the exchange.

called me at home last evening. He said he was calling on instructions of the Attorney General to inquire as to the latest security check made on telephones of the Attorney General. He continued by pointing out that the Attorney General did not recall receiving any recent memorandum from the Bureau on this. RE: REQUEST FOR TELEPHONE
CHECK AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, D.C

[redacted] in Bill Moyer's office at the White House called today and asked that someone come by and see him personally. SA [redacted] of this Section contacted him on the afternoon of 9-3-64 at which time he inquired whether we could have one of our Laboratory men check a telephone terminal box in their office. He stated the past several mornings he had noticed that a cabinet adjacent to this terminal box had been moved to a slight degree and he wanted to determine whether any of the telephone lines had been tapped.

Sept, 1964-

It is recommended this memorandum be referred to the Laboratory Division and that one of their men be made available to check the telephone lines as set forth above. [redacted] telephonically advised on the evening of October 2, 1964, regarding the following information. He stated that Robert Bouck, Special Agent in Charge, Protective Research Section, Secret Service, allegedly reported to Secretary Dillon of the Treasury Department that the President had heard some "cross talk" and some background noise on some of the telephones in the White House proper. According to Bouck, the President instructed him "I want the FBI and the Secret Service to make a security check of the White House telephone lines."

Mr. Dillon reportedly advised Mr. Bouck that he did not think it was necessary for the FBI or Secret Service to do anything at this time since this appeared to be a telephone company problem. The Treasury Department, he felt, had perfectly good relations with the telephone company and could get the company to straighten out the trouble. [redacted] reports that the telephone company has been contacted and that [redacted] now has the responsibility for installing a new pressurized telephone cable serving the White House. [redacted] further stated that he was advising the Bureau of this information confidentially inasmuch as he knew that we had been interested in White House telephone security matters in the past.

FROM : R. L. Miller

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE SERVICE
LBJ RANCH TO WHITE HOUSE

In a note to the Director dated 11/27/64, Mr. DeLoach reported, "The President stated he was dissatisfied with the way Secret Service and the Army Signal Corps were handling communications at the White House. On a number of occasions, upon calling in from the LBJ Ranch, he had overheard a number of clicks on the line. -- He stated that the FBI should make regular periodic checks regarding communications at the White House."

The Director approved the recommendation that the Laboratory contact White House communications people regarding the possible clicks on the special wire from the LBJ Ranch and the Secret Service be advised that the President has specifically requested us to make checks on the line on a periodic basis.

Calls between the LBJ Ranch and the White House may be routed over any one of several permanently connected paths. Therefore, it was necessary to review all facets of the far-flung network in order to pursue the potential cause of clicks on these lines. In addition, it was necessary to review service records for these lines during the past six weeks. We also interviewed people at the White House knowledgeable of the communications systems, including telephone operators and Signal Corps personnel, as well as telephonically communicating with communications people at the ranch in order to duplicate, insofar as possible, the condition reported by the President.

It was determined that under some conditions a predominant source for clicks is a lack of visual indications when the President has completed his call. It is the usual practice under these conditions for an operator to audibly verify that the line is in use. This is done on a periodic basis. This function will cause an audible click on the line each time the verification is made. A recommendation is being made to eliminate this condition.

Another source for clicks is the lifting of a hand piece from an extension telephone instrument while a conversation is in progress. This will cause a noticeable reduction in the speech volume while the hand piece is off the hook and will cause a click when the hand piece is removed from and restored to the switch hook. We are advised that there are several instruments (extensions) on the same line at the ranch. While these clicks would not result from normal operating procedures, they may occur through inadvertent effort to use a telephone when the line was already in use.

A third and less likely source for clicks is in the rare, but possible, unpredictable failure of some component in the intervening telephone company equipment. These lines between the LBJ Ranch and the White House receive a high order of maintenance and are, therefore, less likely to cause the reported difficulty. A click condition was recorded only one time during the period in which the trouble reports were examined and the malfunction was corrected within a matter of minutes. The line was not in use when the trouble was discovered. The telephone company has provided ample reserve facilities to maintain communication in the event of such a failure but, nevertheless, such a failure may cause a click and a momentary disruption of service.

The telephone company has provided "back-up" facilities for all telephone lines between the ranch and the White House over completely different geographical routes so as to assure continuous service between these two points. Too, the company has made a survey and is now in the process of upgrading telephone facilities at the White House. This program, because of the magnitude and complexity of the job, the structural changes required in the areas involved and the need not to disrupt White House operations, will require an extended period of time to complete.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that Mr. DeLoach advise the President that a source of clicks on his telephone lines between the ranch and the White House has been determined to be a result of standard operating procedures under conditions where the operator must audibly check the line to determine whether it is still in use. If agreeable to the President, liaison will be effected between this Bureau and the telephone companies in Washington and at the ranch to cause a modification in the switchboards to permit checking the busy condition by means of a "busy signal light" as well as any other means available to the telephone company to eliminate the need for breaking into the line. This will eliminate this source of clicks which, as set forth above, is the most likely source of the reported problem.

LX 110

Honorable Bill D. Moyers
Special Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Moyers:

In response to a request from the President that this Bureau check into the origin of clicks heard on the telephone line between the LBJ Ranch and the White House, the FBI conducted an inquiry which developed the following pertinent information.

It has been determined that under some conditions a predominant source for the clicks is the lack of a visual indication to the switchboard operator when the President has completed his call. It is the usual practice under these conditions for an operator to audibly verify that the line is in use. This is done on a periodic basis. This function will cause an audible click on the line each time the verification is made.

We will be most happy, if the President desires, to follow this matter closely with the operating telephone companies, both in Washington and at the Ranch, to cause a modification in the switchboards which will permit checking the busy condition by means of a "busy signal light" as well as any other means available to the telephone company to eliminate the need for breaking into the line. Such action will eliminate this source of clicks, which as set forth above is the most likely cause of the reported problem.

Sincerely yours,

SUBJECT: WHITE HOUSE TELEPHONE COMMUNICATIONS

Security of Telephone Surveys

As a result of a call from the President to Assistant Director C. D. DeLoach, reported 11/27/64, the Director approved Laboratory's investigating probable cause of "clicks" reported on White House telephone lines. Exhaustive review of telephone facilities utilized in Washington, at the Texas Ranch and the interconnecting lines resulted in the determination that a predominant source of "clicks" is the lack of visual indication on the switchboards involved which would notify operators when the President was through with his call. Checking the line by operators causes a clickeach time verification of line use is made. A modification of the switchboards involved by adding circuits which will provide a "busy signal lamp" indication on the board will eliminate the need for the present line verification process which can cause clicks.

Accordingly, by Bureau letter of 12/10/64, to the Honorable Bill D. Moyers, Special Assistant to the President, it was recommended that the above-described switchboard modifications be made and that the Bureau would be happy to initiate and follow this matter with the telephone companies, both in Washington and at the Ranch, if the President so desires.

By note dated 12/14/64 from the White House to Mr. DeLoach, it was indicated that the President requested that this be done. Upon being so advised by Mr. DeLoach, the Laboratory immediately initiated the program by contacting appropriate White House staff and Telephone Company representatives. By way of a progress report, this memorandum is to advise that coordination of the various administrative, operational and engineering aspects of this work is progressing smoothly and rapidly. In this regard, it is noted that a portion of the needed equipment is being made up specially for this application and that actual work on the switchboards necessarily has to be timed so as not to interfere with Presidential use. All aspects are being expedited and further reports will be submitted as the work progresses.

Reference is made to the memorandum to the Director dated 11/27/64, from Assistant Director C. D. DeLoach. This memorandum recorded a conversation with the President, during which time the President said he was dissatisfied with the handling of communications of the White House and asked the FBI to make a regular periodic check regarding this matter. Pursuant to instructions, Liaison Agent Bartlett, on 12/1/64, talked to Mr. James J. Rowley, Chief, U. S. Secret Service, and advised him concerning the President's request. He was told that we would make regular periodic checks regarding communications at the White House. Mr. Rowley said he agreed that this should be done and appreciated our advising him personally concerning it.

Telephone Security checks -

The President stated he was dissatisfied with the way Secret Service and the Army Signal Corps were handling communications at the White House. He stated that on a number of occasions, upon calling in from the LBJ Ranch, he had overheard a number of clicks on the line. He stated that perhaps some wires needed soldering. He stated that the FBI should make regular periodic checks regarding communications at the White House. He indicated that we should talk to the telephone operators as well as to the Signal Corps people. I told him this would be done.

(7) The Laboratory should once again make contact with the communications people at the White House, as well as interviewing telephone operators, regarding possible "clicks" on the special wire from the LBJ Ranch. The Secret Service should be advised by Liaison that the President has specifically requested us to make these checks on a periodic basis.

My memorandum, 4/12/62, set forth information received from [redacted] Laboratory's contact at the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, to the effect that [redacted] of the Secret Service Protective Research Section at the White House, had been using rather high-handed methods in dealing with the telephone company. Specifically, [redacted] had been berating the telephone company for not providing adequate security to White House telephones and had been making unreasonable demands on the company. These demands included a request for an alarm device on the telephone system which, if installed according to [redacted] demands, would, in reality, make the telephones less secure from penetration. The Director noted on referenced memorandum, "Since [redacted] seems to be the master-mind, I think we should no longer have anything to do with the White House phones in any way."

White House

b6

Since that time we have not made any more installations of protective devices on White House telephones and have not initiated any action concerning telephone security problems at the White House.

On several occasions since President Johnson took office, he has made requests, which have been approved by the Director, that we look into specific troubles, and these have been handled by the Laboratory. On one occasion the President had experienced interference on his telephone line while talking to the majority leader. This trouble was traced to a faulty relay at the Interdepartmental Dial Center. On another occasion we were requested to check a terminal cabinet in Bill Moyer's office, inasmuch as it appeared the cabinet had been moved. It was ascertained that the telephone company had had a legitimate reason to do some work in this cabinet and had not put it back in its original place.

The President requested the Bureau to investigate the probable cause of "clicks" on the White House telephone lines between the Johnson Ranch and the White House. With the Director's approval, we immediately initiated an investigation and determined that the predominant source of "clicks" is the operator going in on the line to determine if it is still in use as there is no visual indication on the switchboard to show when the President is finished with a call. After discussion with, and approval of, White House officials, arrangements were made to have the switchboards modified to eliminate this source of "clicks."

Telephone Security Checks

The equipment required to modify the switchboards has been assembled especially for this application. The actual work on the switchboards necessarily has to be timed so as not to interfere with the Presidential use. Scheduled completion dates have not been met by the companies involved because work cannot be done while the President is at the ranch. The Washington Telephone Company has completed the greater part of the work at the White House. The principal work remaining to be done is at the ranch. The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has now indicated they cannot complete the ranch portion of the circuit before February 1, 1965. We have continued to press our American Telephone and Telegraph Company Washington contact to expedite the modifications to the ranch switchboard. Because of the unusually heavy telephone activity associated with the inauguration and the President's indication to return to the ranch soon after the inauguration, work cannot be continued until sometime after his next visit to the ranch because of possible interference with Presidential use.

SUBJECT: TECHNICAL SURVEY
HEARING ROOMS AND CHAIRMAN MAHON'S OFFICE
HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE

[redacted] telephonically contacted the writer this morning and stated that Chairman Mahon of the House Appropriations Committee would appreciate it if arrangements could be made for a technical survey to be made on five rooms used by the Committee, as we have done in the past, prior to the conduct of the Committee's business.

The writer, accompanied by [redacted] of the Laboratory, called on [redacted] and he pointed out five rooms (HB-17, HB-18, H-144, H-135, and H-140) on which the technical survey was desired. They are all in the Capitol Building on the House side, two in the basement and three on the first floor. Technical surveys of these areas have been conducted in prior years at the request of the then Chairman Cannon.

[redacted] asked if possible that this survey be done Tuesday, February 2nd as hearings are to commence in the rooms put in use on Wednesday. If the Director approves, there will be no problem in making the necessary survey on Tuesday.

Similar technical surveys have been conducted each year in advance of the Director's appearance before our Subcommittee and [redacted] has indicated that he would prefer such a technical survey not be conducted at this time, but to await a time nearer to the date of the Director's appearance. He stated he would be in touch with the writer to set up a specific date nearer the date the Director is to appear for hearings.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. It is recommended that approval be granted for the technical survey to be made as requested by the Chairman through [redacted] of the five rooms in the Capitol Building.

2. The writer will continue to follow with [redacted] as to the propitious time for a similar survey to be made of the hearing room in which the Director testifies before our Subcommittee as we have done in past years.

This is to advise that technical changes have now been completed which will permit the operator to tell by a signal light when the line is in use between the White House and the Ranch; however, certain operating practices on the White House switchboard require operators to audibly check lines serving the President. These practices are still a potential source for "clicks" when the President is using White House lines. Realizing the President's desire to completely eliminate "clicks" on his telephone line, we have made certain suggestions to the telephone company for eliminating the need to audibly check the President's lines when his calls are routed through the White House switchboard. The suggestions included the installation of indicator lights on all lines to which the Ranch telephone may be connected. As a result of our suggestions and technical guidance, the engineering details to provide this improved service have been worked out by the telephone company, tested and finalized to a point where they should be presented to the President's Administrative Assistants for consideration. These services are for the exclusive use of the President and are not to be furnished the general public.

In order that the possible solutions for the "click" problem may be properly presented and fully discussed, we have arranged to meet with members of the White House staff and a

WHITE HOUSE TELEPHONES

The President requested the Federal Bureau of Investigation to investigate the source of "clicks" on his telephone line between the Ranch and the White House. It was determined that the predominant source for the "clicks" was the operator's going in on the line to verify if it was still in use, as there was no visual indication on the switchboard to show when the call had been completed.

Pursuant to approval, special equipment has now been installed on the line between the Ranch and the White House to give the operator visual indication when the call is completed. This will eliminate the necessity for the operator to audibly check switchboard calls between the Ranch and the White House. During the study, it was determined that a similar condition exists with respect to calls other than those between the Ranch and the White House; for example, calls from a private residence or business establishment relayed through the White House switchboard to another residence or business establishment. A call made under these conditions now requires the switchboard operator to momentarily make an audible check on the line to verify its use. This verification causes a distinct "click" on the line. In addition, calls handled under these conditions do not afford top-quality speech transmission.

This entire matter was discussed with executives of the telephone company with a view of not only eliminating this source of "clicks" but also improving the quality of speech transmission. We are advised that the telephone company will offer a special service which will accomplish these objectives.

The proposed system provides a method whereby the operator may, in those rare instances where a check is necessary, verify the busy condition of the line without disturbing the conversation. Each time the operator uses this facility she will alert her supervisor that she is checking a line.

This number should be furnished to the President's callers on a need-to-know basis. These lines will appear on the White House switchboard and will be handled in the same manner as incoming calls are presently serviced.

Security of Telephone Services

My memorandum, 2/10/65, reviewed the President's request for us to determine the cause for "clicks" on the White House telephone line between the Johnson Ranch and the White House and the results of our investigation in this matter. As pointed out, the predominant source for these "clicks" is the operator's going in on the line to verify if the line is still in use as there was no visual (lamp) indication on the switchboard to show when the President is finished with a call. With White House approval, arrangements were made to have the switchboards modified, by the telephone companies involved, to eliminate this source of "clicks," by providing lamps to show when the lines are in use. The lamps on these lines have been installed.

Even though facilities have been provided for the operator to tell by a signal light when the President has finished using the Ranch to White House line, there are certain switchboard operating practices that are potential sources for "clicks" on other lines to which the Ranch line may be connected. Realizing the President's desire to completely eliminate "clicks" on his telephone line, we made certain suggestions to eliminate this source for "clicks." As a result of our suggestions and technical guidance, engineering details to provide this improved service have been worked out by the telephone company and as set forth in the referenced memorandum, were ready for presentation to the President's Administrative Assistants.

At a meeting with White House representatives, on 2/12/65, Supervisor C. K. Corbett of the Laboratory reviewed our findings concerning the "click" problem on the President's line. In addition, Corbett, along with [redacted] Director of Special Government Communications Services, Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, presented the possibilities for eliminating the "clicks" and improving the President's telephone service. [redacted] instructed [redacted] to prepare a memorandum reflecting the effect implementing the entire proposal will have on the White House Budget. [redacted] pointed out that inasmuch as the Laboratory representative is the most knowledgeable of the "click" problem, it would be most helpful if he prepared a memorandum setting forth pertinent information. The memorandum, together with [redacted] memorandum, will be used by Mr. Moyers in discussing the matter with the President. In this connection it was indicated that Mr. Moyers might hand the memorandum to the President. For this reason the attached memorandum is written in such a manner that this can be done if Mr. Moyers so desires.

Pursuant to [redacted] request, there is attached, for approval, a memorandum for transmittal to the White House.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the attached memorandum setting forth our findings in the "click" matter be approved. If approved, the Laboratory will deliver the memorandum to [redacted] of Mr. Moyers' office.

SUBJECT: TECHNICAL SURVEY OF THE RESIDENCE AND OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE
JOHN T. CONNOR

A memorandum D. J. Brennan to Assistant Director Sullivan dated 3/9/65 recommended that a security survey be made, by Bureau personnel, of the residence and office telephone service of Secretary of Commerce, John T. Connor. The Director approved this recommendation.

My memorandum to you dated 3/19/65 reported the results of this survey and recommended that the Security Officer at the Commerce Department be advised of this.

It was pointed out in my memorandum that a number of access points were found on the telephone service of the Secretary at his residence.

The Electronics Section has been advised, by their highly placed contact in the telephone company, who became cognizant of this situation as a result of this survey; that all of these access points have been removed.

Subsequent to this, SA [redacted] of the Liaison Section was advised of this additional information and he relayed this to the Security Officer, [redacted] at the Department of Commerce.

SUBJECT: TECHNICAL SURVEY OF THE

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE JOHN T. CONNOR

A memorandum D. J. Brennan to Assistant Director Sullivan dated 3/9/65 recommended that a Security Survey be made, by Bureau personnel, of the residence and office telephone service of Secretary of Commerce, John T. Connor. The Director approved this recommendation.

A security survey was completed on 3/18/65 of all the telephone facilities at the residence and office of Secretary of Commerce, John T. Connor. It is noted that 43 individual lines were involved, and all access points were physically inspected in the telephone exchanges, as well as all terminations between the telephone company premises and the office and residence of the Secretary. No evidence of tampering was observed at any point where telephone service could be compromised for surreptitious listening purposes.

At this time a survey was also made for listening devices in the office of the Secretary, inasmuch as a new ceiling had been installed in the recent past in this location. No evidence of listening devices of any kind was found.

In connection with the survey of the telephone service at the residence of the [redacted], it was determined that all of the telephone lines serving his residence which includes a White House circuit, have access points at the following locations in the same general area:

1. In a private residence at 2425 Kalorama Rd., N. W., Washington, D. C.
2. In a secured garage at 2458 Wyoming Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C.
3. In a private residence at 2503 Tracy Place, N. W., Washington, D. C.

[Redacted] Director of the Clerical and Professional Staff of the House Appropriations Committee, at 11:40 a.m. this morning, telephonically contacted the writer and stated that they had just discovered that the proceedings with regard to the Defense Department appropriation hearings being held in the captioned room could be heard over a telephone extension in one of the Committee's offices on the same floor but some distance away. He stated that Chairman Mahon would appreciate it if we had some technicians available that might be able to come to the Capitol immediately to see if we could determine the cause of this situation.

After discussing this matter with you, arrangements were made with the Laboratory Division and the writer proceeded to meet [Redacted] at the Capitol with Messrs. [Redacted] of the Laboratory. [Redacted] took us to the office where the instrument was located on which the proceedings could be overheard and at about 12:05 the hearings were adjourned and we proceeded to the hearing room and located the telephone instrument that was causing the trouble.

The cause of the trouble was determined to be a faulty cut-off switch on the telephone instrument maintained in a lower desk drawer in this hearing room. The switch failed to break the circuit upon the completion of a call that had been made to the extension on which the proceedings in the hearing room could be heard. One of the clerical staff advised that at about 10:00 a.m. this morning he had placed a telephone call on this defective set to the extension in the other room and, after hanging up, it was the fault of the equipment that the connection had not been broken and thereafter persons picking up the instrument in the room on the extension called could hear the conversation. The instrument was given a thorough security survey and there was no evidence detected of any tampering with the line.

[Redacted] was advised of the nature of the difficulty involved and it was recommended to him that he have the instrument in the hearing room replaced immediately by the telephone company with a new instrument and that we would be glad to check this instrument out after installation if he so desired.

[] said that he knew the Chairman would be most appreciative as was he for the very prompt attention that the Bureau afforded this matter and resolving the cause of the trouble. He also indicated that at the time the defect was detected the Chairman, upon being advised that perhaps the hearings were not fully secure, proceeded to inform the witnesses and members present of this fact. The hearings in session was a closed hearing and therefore there were no press or outsiders present but only members of the Defense Subcommittee on Appropriations and the Defense Department witnesses who were testifying at the time.

The above is submitted for information and record purposes.

Telephone Security Surveys

SUBJECT: THE PRESIDENT'S INTERCOMMUNICATION SYSTEM
WHITE HOUSE MATTERS

Our top level contact in the local telephone company called to confidentially advise that the President is not satisfied with the interoffice communication system in his office and that Mr. Marvin Watson, Special Assistant to the President, has requested the telephone company to look into the matter of providing an improved system.

Our source said the system in the Director's Office is the most modern of its type in the United States and as a result of the designs worked out by the Exhibits Section and the Laboratory is the best speakerphone installation they have heard. Because of their high regard for the quality of speech reproduction, the functional characteristics of the installation and the growth possibilities for a communications system, our source is suggesting the telephone company submit a proposal to the White House recommending an installation similar to that now being used by the Director.

Our source has further advised that he does not know how far his proposal will get within his own organization; however, he has made overtures to the company commercial staff along the lines outlined above. If accepted by the telephone company and the White House, the telephone company will arrange to have an appropriate cabinet built by a reliable furniture organization.

He indicated that his source does not have direct knowledge of this alleged surveillance, but he considers the source reliable. SUBJECT: SECURITY OF TELEPHONE INSTRUMENTS
ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE Countermeasures

The Electronics Section's confidential telephone contact has advised that Attorney General Katzenbach is having the telephone system in his suite of offices completely revamped, and work is being done on this now to finish at an early date.

Security of Telephone Service

As a result of this Section's close liaison with the telephone company, it has been possible to obtain the telephone instruments as they were removed from the offices of the Attorney General and recover the countermeasure devices installed by this Section at an earlier date.

As you know this device prevents the telephone from being used as a microphone to pick up room conversation when the telephone is not in normal use.

Accordingly, this raises the question of installing countermeasure devices in the new telephone instruments now being installed in the Attorney General's Office.

Re Miami airtel 4/13/65.

Inquiry in this matter has boiled down to efforts to determine alleged source of [redacted]. Since no open inquiry at Tallahassee has been made in connection with this matter, [redacted] statement that "a great deal of heat is being generated in Tallahassee" has no basis in fact. This statement of [redacted] and his refusal to identify his source creates doubt concerning the authenticity of the original information. Miami is checking long distance telephone calls of [redacted] in an effort to determine the identity of his alleged informant. In this connection, it will be noted that previously [redacted] said he had been contacting his informant by telephone and that the informant lived away from Miami. If this investigation is productive, local investigation will follow. If it is not productive, Jacksonville contemplates interviewing [redacted] as he appears to be the most logical source of MANN's alleged information.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Security Surveys

The purpose of this letter is to express my personal appreciation for the checks made by representatives of your Bureau in an effort to insure privacy in the use of telephones in the suites occupied by Secretarial officers in the Department as well as those located in my home.

I am particularly appreciative of the fact that points on lines leading into my home which lent themselves to easy access by would-be eavesdroppers, have been eliminated. It was extremely considerate of Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] to conduct the work at the Department after hours in order to create the least possible disturbance to members of my staff.

Your cooperation in making such service available to the Executive Departments is indeed commendable.

With kindest personal regards.

THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20230

APR 19 1965

Honorable J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
Department of Justice
Washington, D.C. 20535

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The purpose of this letter is to express my personal appreciation for the checks made by representatives of your Bureau in an effort to insure privacy in the use of telephones in the suites occupied by Secretarial officers in the Department as well as those located in my home.

I am particularly appreciative of the fact that points on lines leading into my home which lent themselves to easy access by would-be eavesdroppers, have been eliminated. It was extremely considerate of Special Agents and to conduct the work at the Department after hours in order to create the least possible disturbance to members of my staff. b6 b7C

Your cooperation in making such service available to the Executive Departments is indeed commendable.

With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

(sgd.) John T. Connor

SUBJECT: Request to check security of conference room in Rayburn Building

[redacted] Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives, called this afternoon. He said that yesterday the Committee held an executive session in the hearing room at the Rayburn Building which hearing was attended by the Secretary of State, who asked whether people in the hall could hear what he said when he talked into the microphone. The Committee stationed police in the hall to take care of this; however, the Chairman of the Committee, Congressman Thomas E. Morgan (Democrat), of Pennsylvania, has expressed concern as to the security of the hearing room and asked [redacted] to call us and see if we could look over the meeting room and see what could be done to insure security.

The meeting room is #2172 Rayburn Building, and [redacted] [redacted] said he could be contacted at Room 2170. I made no commitments, but told him we would be in touch with him.

I have checked with Mr. Conrad of the Laboratory, who advises that the Laboratory can make a check of this conference room as to security. Mr. DeLoach's office advises that our dealings with Congressman Morgan have been limited, but satisfactory.

ACTION:

If you agree, Mr. DeLoach's office will arrange for Laboratory representatives to talk to [redacted] and take a look at the room, and offer any suggestions that might be helpful, without assuming any responsibility.

Reference is made to Assistant To The Director Belmont's memorandum to Associate Director Tolson concerning a request from [redacted] Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives, dated 5/4/65, for the Bureau to talk with [redacted] and look at a hearing room, Number 2172, in the Rayburn Building, in order to offer any suggestions relative to security which might be helpful. The Director approved this conference.

[redacted] met with [redacted] at 2:00 PM on 5/5/65 at the hearing room. Examination of the room indicated that persons speaking into the Public Address system could be plainly heard by passers-by in the adjacent hall. Corrective steps were outlined by [redacted] and [redacted] agreed, stating he would arrange appropriate hall traffic diversion at appropriate times. Other security aspects, such as occupancy of adjacent space, were also examined and no problem existed in this regard. [redacted] was quite pleased and most appreciative of our visit.

Upon conclusion of the visit, [redacted] specifically requested that since no security check or search for microphones had previously been made that the Bureau conduct such a search in the most likely places without damaging the decor of the hearing room. [redacted] made no commitments in this regard other than to assure him that he would relay the oral request to the appropriate Bureau officials.

SUBJECT: WHITE HOUSE TELEPHONES

The President, several months ago, requested the Bureau to look into the matter of "clicks" on the telephone lines between the White House and the LBJ Ranch in Texas. The Bureau immediately looked into the matter and determined the cause of these "clicks" and, through high-level telephone company contacts took appropriate remedial action.

An approved adjunct of this problem included installation of new telephone lines to the White House switchboard in order to improve the transmission quality of the telephone service. These new lines were designed and engineered by the telephone company especially for the White House and required several months to install the complicated equipment. The Bureau has now been advised that the telephone company is getting ready to initiate the new service. However, in view of the previous request that the Bureau assist in the coordination of this matter, Mr. Hayes Redmon of the White House staff has requested that Bureau Supervisor [redacted] meet with [redacted] to discuss general operating procedures and to ascertain a date convenient to the President on which to inaugurate the service.

Accordingly, tentative arrangements have been made for Laboratory [redacted] and representatives of the telephone company to meet with [redacted] on Tuesday, June 29, 1965.

As a matter of information, when the new service is initiated, key officials of the Government who call the President should use special unlisted telephone numbers 331-2110 and 331-2120 instead of old numbers 456-1414 or Sterling 3-0333. When these new numbers are called after this new service is Judge Orman Ketchum called me 7/15/65 and made very commendatory remarks concerning SAC John Williams of Portland, Oregon. He stated that SAC Williams offered good advice in several panels which he attended. I expressed appreciation for Judge Ketchum's remarks.

at convention of Judges.

Judge Ketchum told me that he was very disturbed over the fact that a number of comments recently made in his chambers concerning current cases have leaked to certain individuals in town. He is of the opinion that his chambers are "bugged," i.e., microphone or microphones have been planted in his chambers. He asked that consideration be given to having an FBI expert take a look at his chambers to see if anything could be found. He indicated that he would greatly appreciate such action being taken.

This can be done.

I told Judge Ketchum that unfortunately we have only a few men trained in such matters and these men largely are on the road at all times. I stated I doubted very seriously that we could be of any assistance to him. He stated he understood.

Reference Mr. DeLoach's July 16, 1965, memorandum to Mr. Mohr advising that Judge Orman W. Ketcham had inquired as to the possibility of having a security survey made of his chambers, since he felt that there had been some leaks of information. The Director approved such a survey.

On July 21, 1965, pursuant to arrangements made by Mr. DeLoach, Special Agents [redacted] and [redacted] made a microphone security check of Judge Ketcham's chambers, Room 211, Juvenile Court Building, 400 E Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. No evidence of listening devices was detected. Judge Ketcham was present at the conclusion of the search and in answer to his inquiry was advised of the result. The check included a telephone instrument and four lines serving the instrument. At the request of Judge Ketcham the search was limited to those places where concealment of listening devices would be most likely. He stated that he did not wish the building surfaces to be defaced.

SUBJECT: WHITE HOUSE TELEPHONES

TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECK

b6
b7C

The President, several months ago, requested the Bureau to look into the matter of "clicks" on the telephone lines between the White House and the LBJ Ranch in Texas. The Bureau immediately looked into the matter and determined the cause of these "clicks" and, through high-level telephone company contacts took appropriate remedial action.

An approved adjunct of this problem included installation of new telephone lines to the White House switchboard in order to improve the transmission quality of the telephone service. These new lines were designed and engineered by the telephone company especially for the White House and required several months to install the complicated equipment. The Bureau has now been advised that the telephone company is getting ready to initiate the new service. However, in view of the previous request that the Bureau assist in the coordination of this matter,

b7C

[redacted] of the White House staff requested that [redacted] meet with [redacted] to discuss general operating procedures and to ascertain a date convenient to the President on which to inaugurate the service.

M

It was approved that a Bureau representative should meet with them. In this meeting, it was explained that the objective of the additional telephone company engineering work was to provide improved transmission quality and a visual indicator to advise the White House operator when a call coming in over new unlisted numbers is terminated. White House personnel authorized these changes resulting in the new unlisted numbers. No changes in the existing listed numbers were made except to provide clickless monitoring capability.

Because of the limited capacity provided by the new unlisted service, [redacted] stated that the dissemination of the new telephone numbers will be limited to the eleven persons now on the White House staff whom the President calls directly from his "Call Director" set in the President's office. is the President's high-level intercom system, which includes, for example, Mr. Watson and Mr. Moyers. Further, it was explained that these unlisted numbers are designed for staff calls to the President when the staff member is at a location not connected to the White House telephone system.

For example, if the President is at the residence of a friend in the Washington area, and a White House staff member desires to reach him telephonically, use of the unlisted number will provide a visual indication when the call is terminated. This visual indication is not provided by the regular listed numbers. Under the latter condition, the operator would have to check the line from time to time to ascertain if the conversation was terminated. However, this check can be made without causing a click on the line.

We are now advised that the new telephone service will be initiated July 26, 1965. On this date, telephone calls which may be connected to the President should be made to Telephone 331-2110 or 331-2120 instead of the old numbers 456-1414 or STERling 3-0333. All other White House calls should be made to the old numbers.

While the President does not have a direct line from his desk to the Director, it is felt that when the Director desires to communicate telephonically with the President from a point dissociated from our switchboard, he may wish to utilize the unlisted numbers for the service advantages which they provide.

[Handwritten: TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECKS]

At approximately 10:55 PM, Sunday, 8/8/65, [redacted] in Assistant Director Rosen's office telephonically advised Laboratory Supervisor [redacted] that a third party broke in on a long-distance call Assistant Attorney General John Doar, Civil Rights Division, received from Birmingham, Alabama, on the evening of 8/8/65 and that Doar was concerned with the security of the telephone service.

[redacted] immediately contacted [redacted] Civil Rights Division, who advised that [redacted] had received a long-distance call from a Departmental attorney in Birmingham, Alabama, and after a few minutes they heard a click on the line. Several minutes after the click an individual, who appeared mentally disturbed, broke into the conversation. [redacted] immediately terminated the long-distance telephone call. [Handwritten: 1-11]

A few minutes after the call to [redacted] of the Attorney General's office called [redacted] and after about ten minutes the conversation was interrupted by the same individual mentioned above. The individual gave his name as [redacted] said that while he gave the New York Avenue address he actually resided in Arlington, Virginia. It was determined that all of the telephone calls were received on REpublic 7-8200, the listed number for the Department of Justice. Further, there was no incoming telephone traffic except the pertinent calls; therefore, the call came in on the listed number. [redacted] was advised that from the information furnished, the interruption was caused by equipment malfunction in the telephone company exchange. [redacted] requested [redacted] to discuss the problem with the telephone company and have the company take appropriate remedial action.

Accordingly, at 11:10 PM Corbett advised [redacted] National Exchange (building covering the REpublic exchange), Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, of the trouble and requested that it be corrected. [redacted] Administrative Services Section of the Department, was telephonically advised of the above at 9:10 AM on 8/9/65. [redacted] stated he will continue to follow the matter with the telephone company.

The Washington, D. C., and Virginia telephone directories do not list an individual identifiable with [redacted]. The caller may be identical to [redacted] aka., [redacted] Application for Pardon After Completion of Sentence, Bufile 73-14176, who listed his address in 1962 as [redacted] and in 1963 as [redacted]. Memorandum Mr. Rosen to Mr. Belmont captioned [redacted] Possible Interference With Department of Justice Switchboard, 8/8/65," points out that [redacted] had "plagued the Justice switchboard for about an hour, 9:00 to 10:00 PM."

We have been confidentially advised that the Justice switchboard has a history of double connections on REpublic 7-8200 and that these were never reported by the chief operator who thought these were a matter of "timing of calls rather than equipment failure." The operators, have, when double connections are noted, told the callers to hang up and call back again. This substantiates the Laboratory's analysis of the problem.

SUBJECT: WHITE HOUSE MATTERS

As indicated in my memoranda of July 20, and September 29, 1965, the technical personnel at the White House are installing "protective armored glass" behind various windows including the President's bedroom window containing the automatic window device installed by FBI Laboratory personnel.

It was approved for our technical personnel to coordinate with White House personnel regarding any technical details arising as a result of installing above-mentioned "protective armored glass."

[redacted] presently handling technical matters at the White House; called October 14, 1965, to indicate that the work had progressed to a point where the work around the President's window might be scheduled any day and he was alerting us to a call in the near future.

In addition, he advised that he had received informal information indicating interest in equipping two other windows in [redacted] suite with automatic windows. Accordingly, he suggested that we take a preliminary look at these windows when the area was clear. He has no formal request for such installations as yet. Since each of these is necessarily a custom tailored installation, it would be to our advantage to examine the structure surrounding the window, in a preliminary way, as early as possible.

In accordance with earlier approval to confer relative to the construction plans around the present window and in response to [redacted] inquiry as to whether we would want to examine the other two windows, we will, when [redacted] indicates a time, proceed to the White House to (1) confer regarding the glass to be placed at the present automatic window and (2) examine in a preliminary way the two windows on which a request may be made for automatic equipment installations. No commitment, of course, be made at this time as to whether these latter installations can or cannot be made.

As indicated in my memorandum of October 14, 1965, [redacted] presently handling technical matters at the White House, suggested that at appropriate time representatives of the Laboratory proceed to the White House to (1) confer regarding the "protective armored glass" being placed at the window containing the automatic window device and (2) to explore in a preliminary way two windows in [redacted] suite on which a request might possibly be made for automatic equipment installation. At the request of [redacted] Laboratory representatives, in accordance with prior approval, proceeded to the White House on November 3, 1965, to confer regarding these matters.

b7c

It was observed that the "protective armored glass" installation in the President's bedroom has been completed and that it does not interfere with the operation of the automatic window device. Access panels to the equipment installed on each side of the window frame are still available but have been reduced in size by about two inches. This alteration may make access to the driving mechanisms slightly more difficult but will not prevent normal servicing which may occasionally be necessary.

As a matter of information, the protective glass is installed about six inches inside the existing window sash. The lower portion of the window, up to a height of about seven feet from the floor, is covered with two panels of glass set in tracks mounted on the window sill. Both panels are on rollers and may be rolled to either side of the window, but within confines of the window frame. Each glass panel consists of four laminated layers of glass having a total thickness of about two inches. The upper portion of the window is covered with a fixed section of protective glass of less thickness than that in the two lower panels.

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECKS.

The security of the telephone lines serving the Director and members of the Executive's Conference is checked by a physical inspection of all points of access to these lines including access points under the exclusive control of the telephone company. This type of security check is done in an approved program as follows:

1. On a quarterly basis, all points of access outside of the residences and telephone company exchanges of each telephone line are physically examined.
2. On a semiannual basis, all outside points of access to each telephone line are examined as under #1 above and all points of access within telephone company exchanges are physically examined.
3. On an annual basis a physical examination of all points of access to each telephone line is made as under #1 and #2 above and in addition all telephone instruments and equipment in the residences of persons included in this are examined.

This program of security checks has been carried out with the Director's approval, by Electronics Section personnel since 1952. From time to time with the approval of the Director security checks are made for other high Government officials.

During the course of the semiannual and annual checks personal contact is made with highly placed Bureau Laboratory contacts within the telephone company who are in a position to arrange for the entry of Bureau electronic experts in telephony into secured telephone company exchange buildings throughout the metropolitan area of Washington, Virginia, and Maryland. Telephone company personnel in exchanges are contacted and our experts examine telephone company records of the routing of specific telephone lines and they physically inspect points of access to these lines on the telephone company exchange premises.

Memo to Mr. Conrad
RE: Telephone Security Checks

This activity by the FBI has been regarded by telephone company personnel as a normal function of the FBI.

The Long Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure of the U. S. Senate Committee on the Judiciary is pursuing many avenues of inquiry in conducting its investigation of wiretapping. The Chief Counsel of this Subcommittee, Bernard Fensterwald, Jr., has questioned personnel of the local telephone company here in Washington regarding any knowledge they may have of FBI activity relating to wiretapping or whether they have been contacted by the FBI for information as to the routing of any telephone lines which could be used for wiretapping. Fensterwald has been told that no such requests have come to telephone personnel whom he has questioned and that the persons questioned should be in a position to know of any such requests. These contacts between the Subcommittee and the telephone company occurred between July 1964 and November 1965.

The telephone company has therefore not felt that our security checks constitute a request from the FBI relating to the investigation of wiretapping being conducted by the Senate Subcommittee.

This information is presented in view of the current investigation of this Senate Subcommittee relative to wiretapping and their specific questions directed at the FBI.

RECOMMENDATION: That the Electronics Section of the Laboratory continue this three step program of checking the security of the telephone lines of Bureau officials as has been done in the past.

SUBJECT: MEETING ON PHYSICAL SECURITY
WHITE HOUSE
JANUARY 15, 1966

Security of Telephone Services

*JM

Present at the captioned meeting were the Director, Marvin Watson, James Rowley, Assistant Secretary [redacted] (Treasury Department), [redacted] (Budget Bureau), [redacted] (Secret Service), [redacted] (Secret Service), [redacted] (Chief telephone operator) and the writer. The meeting began at 10:35 a. m.

Marvin Watson, who called this meeting and who served as chairman, stated he would appreciate the views of this group, particularly Mr. Hoover's and the FBI's, relative to several matters bothering him regarding security. He gave as an example the individual arrested yesterday within 2 blocks of the White House who shot off a rifle in the area. Watson stated this man was a mental patient who had previously written a threatening letter to the White House. He indicated this man could possibly have shot the President as the President walked around the grounds.

Watson indicated that during 1965 49, 671 guests visited the White House. Of this number 44, 361 had official appointments in the west wing administrative offices. The remainder had appointments in the east wing or were guests at White House functions. This did not include visitors taking tours; 65, 873 tradesmen or workmen visited the White House during 1965. There were 7 "penetrations" by mental patients last year within White House grounds. There were 341 "unwelcome visitors" who succeeded in gaining access to the White House. Watson stated this includes only those individuals known to the White House Police and Secret Service. There obviously had been others who were never discovered.

Watson spoke of economy measures pertaining to telephone security. New procedures have resulted in a savings of $7, 500 per month. This figure may go as high as $10, 000 per month. He advised that there are currently 1, 000 holders of White House passes who presumedly, under current procedures, can proceed directly to the President's Office without being challenged. There are 1, 800 holders of passes to the Executive Office Building. There are currently 1, 600 press passes outstanding. This does not include 1, 200 other press passes that are held by technicians employed by the press.

The Director asked Watson how many members of the press actually attend press conferences. Watson replied that an average maximum of 250, however, usually 80 to 100 attend.

Watson stated he was concerned about classified material lying around on desks and cabinets at night. He stated the White House was not a secure building. He mentioned that a crackdown on security often hurts the feelings of staff assistants, however, looseness in security should not be tolerated to protect vanity.

Johns advised that changes have been effected and are currently under way with respect to the White House. Packages that were formerly delivered to the White House are now first examined in the Executive Office Building. Johns continued that security at the White House is only as good as staff assistants will allow. He stated that often conditions brought about by the President or the staff do not allow for good security. He mentioned that one year ago at Christmas time the President had a notice placed on the wire services that members of the press and all their families would be welcome at the White House the following day. He mentioned this did not allow time for the appropriate security checks. Watson agreed and stated that the President, in concurrence with the Director's previous recommendations, does not want anyone invited to the White House unless this individual at least has been checked through the files of the FBI. Watson cited the example of the Buffalo contractor who had a criminal record and who was invited to attend a State Dinner. This man was telephonically advised at the last moment that he was not to attend. The FBI name check on this man reflected that he had a past criminal record. The man and his wife showed up anyhow and were admitted to the social event by the White House Police. This man was the first to greet the President upon the President's arrival and the last to bid him good night. Rowley indicated that neither the White House Police nor the Secret Service had been advised that this man was not to be admitted to the White House.

Watson told the group that the White House was picketed 166 times during 1965. Rowley stated that additional protective features are carefully being added insofar as picketing is concerned. The Director stated that the group must consider the fact that any steps taken to tighten security will be picked up by the press. He added that despite this fact the security of the President and the First Family must be considered paramount and the criticism of the press should be ignored. The Director stated in his opinion there should be a marked diminution of the number of passes held by the press. He stated this number had obviously pyramided over the years. Watson agreed. The Director continued that press passes should be recalled and a screening given before new passes were issued. He stated here again there would be criticism, however, the added security would be well worth the risk involved. The Director briefed the group on security at FBI Headquarters. He stated it was absurd for White House staff members to leave classified documents on their desk. He stated there is a firm rule at FBI Headquarters that all work must be locked up at night and that this work was not to be left in the respective desks. The Director stated that there was, of course, no such thing as total or complete security. He cited the example of a Tass newspaper representative taking his press pass back to the Soviet Union with him upon transfer. The Director stated this was dangerous because Soviet espionage representatives are notorious for their forgeries.

DeLoach to Tolson memo
Re: Meeting on Physical Security, White House

The Director reiterated that press passes should be collected and reissued following an appropriate screening. He stated that procedures should be devised wherein pressmen are not allowed to bring their friends into the White House or to attend press conferences with the President. He gave the example of the young man whose father was in the penitentiary at the time but who was allowed to have his picture taken with the President after being admitted with a press contact. The Director also gave examples of dangerous infiltrations by unknown individuals in both the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations. The Director stated there were more visitors today than there were in previous years. He stated that we have a very gregarious President today who has the practice of walking around the White House outer fence, sometimes with tourists. The Director concluded by stating that he personally felt that the practice of unknown visitors being allowed to wander around the corridors of the White House is extremely bad. He reiterated there obviously will be criticism by the press if security is tightened, however, this criticism will pass within 5 days.

The Director made the observation that the White House should adopt stringent security procedures and should indicate to the press that this was done on the recommendations of the FBI and Secret Service. He stated this would serve to remove criticism or blame being placed on the President or the White House staff. Watson stated he was very grateful for the observation and thought it was an excellent one.

Watson stated he recently took a little walk around the kitchen entrance to the White House. He noted there were 60 people in and around this locality. In the shelter area there are sometimes 250 or 300 individuals. He stated that these totals were completely unnecessary and that one newcomer to the White House had volunteered there

b7c

DeLoach to Tolson memo
Re: Meeting on Physical Security; White House

were 50 per cent more people than necessary currently employed at the White House.

Rowley stated there was a meeting held 2 months ago at which time the Secret Service volunteered to issue new passes and invoke extreme security measures. He stated he was still prepared to take this step. He stated he agreed with the Director that the habit of staff members leaving documents on their desks at night is a dangerous one. Rowley continued that actually these staff members are protected when the documents are removed for safekeeping, inasmuch as the documents might conceivably be picked up by a newspaper man and published. Rowley advised that each staff assistant should be responsible for his own office. He mentioned the Truman administration had suffered a very bad experience in that a newspaper man had gained unauthorized access to a staff office and picked up valuable data which was later published. Only, thereafter, would Truman order proper security procedures. Rowley stated that each administration is different insofar as security is concerned. Usually good security is not promoted until some embarrassing situation occurs.

Watson stated that the press should be prepared in advance through proper briefing and guidelines as to security.

The Director stated that the various U. S. embassies abroad, some of which contain FBI offices therein, maintain tight security through usage of the U. S. Marine Corps. Any violations of security are promptly reported to the Ambassador and in turn to the Secretary of State. There is, therefore, a precedent already established for good security. [redacted] stated this was a very important point and that frankly good security should be a standard Government procedure. The Director replied that this was the uniform policy of the State Department in all embassies.

Watson advised that he would appreciate receiving a report containing recommendations of both the FBI and Secret Service. He stated that if additional security personnel were needed, this should be one of the recommendations. He advised that he would like concurrence of the FBI and Secret Service regarding the procedures currently being established regarding telephone security. He then spoke of the numerous individuals, some very profane, who called the White House and are often switched to male operators because of their usage of vulgar language. The Director stated that none of us have a complete conception of the number of "screwballs" loose in the United States today. He spoke of his appearance before the Warren Commission and the example of the number of psychopaths, subversives, etc., approximately 2,500 total, who potentially could be along the motorcade route of the President when he travels to New York City.

Re: Meeting on Physical Security, White House.

b6
b7c

[] stated that he thought the President's staff assistants should be briefed on the dangers of allowing unknown visitors to frequent White House corridors.

Watson reiterated that he particularly wanted the recommendations of the Director and Rowley regarding security procedures.

[] stated that he felt the FBI and Secret Service should consider recommending legislation which would prevent pickets from gathering immediately in front of the White House. He explained this was not a method to prevent legal demonstrations but merely a security procedure so that pickets could be relocated in an area not adjacent to the White House. The Director considered this to be a very wise suggestion. Rowley stated that he had considered this once before and had discovered that Wayne Morse would definitely object to such legislation or change of procedures. The Director stated that Senator Morse was kicked in the head by a horse at a young age and had never recovered. He stated that very few people pay any attention to Senator Morse. The Director reiterated the policies of the FBI with respect to physical security. He spoke of security procedures at CIA and the Atomic Energy Commission. He advised that there is obviously a precedent for strong security.

b7c

Watson stated that there were 12,740 telephone calls of a threatening or profane nature made to the White House in 1965. These calls were referred to the Secret Service. The Director stated that the President or Watson should ^{not} be forced to take telephone calls from mental cases or crackpots. Watson stated that current telephone procedures called for the identification of the caller before the call is put through. He stated this did not happen, however, one night last week when an individual called from California using the name of []. The caller was put through to the living quarters in the mansion and the President picked up the phone only to find himself talking to a crackpot. Watson continued that a person should not object to being identified. He stated this was not a violation of civil rights. The Director agreed and advised that this was similar to individuals objecting to having their fingerprints taken.

[] indicated that the White House pass system has been redesigned. He stated that he knows that the Secret Service will agree with every procedure that the Director had recommended. Watson reiterated that the press will necessarily be briefed prior to security procedures being placed in effect. He stated he did not want these procedures to be publicly ruined before they are initiated.

DeLoach to Tolson memo
Re: Meeting on Physical Security, White House

Johns stated that the ultimate in security would be to have all White House passes turned into guards upon the departure of the individual visiting the White House. He stated this procedure would probably never be placed in effect, however, it would definitely prevent individuals taking passes away from the White House and keeping them. He added that usually when White House passes are recalled, the holder of such passes claims that he has lost the pass. The holder undoubtedly desired to keep this pass as a memento or a prestige factor. Watson stated that he was definitely for the recommendation of making out new passes.

The Director stated that he believed that potential criticism of the press should not prevent security measures being placed into effect. He stated that a number of press representatives usually have mental halitosis. He added that press criticism would definitely fade away within a few days. Watson requested that this opinion of the Director.. be placed in the FBI report to be furnished to him.

Watson asked the Director to also put an opinion in the FBI report relative to including press representatives on the Presidential Jet. He stated that he was against having such representatives aboard inasmuch as it was difficult for the President and staff assistants to discuss business with press representatives present. Watson added that he would appreciate the Director including in his report the fact that the President, while in a motorcade, should travel in a "bubble-top" limousine.

Johns spoke up to say that he thought the final report of FBI and Secret Service should include alternatives or varying degrees of security. He explained that if Watson and the President refuse to go along with one modification they might perhaps accept a less stringent alternative. Watson agreed.

b7c

[redacted] stated that if the White House passes are not recalled there definitely should be an expiration date placed on new passes to be issued. He continued that a need should be established for White House passes in each individual case. The Director stated this was a very sound opinion.

Drawing the meeting to a close, Watson stated he greatly appreciated the assistance of the Director. The Director indicated that he was glad to be of help. Watson added he would appreciate receiving a report from the Director and Rowley of Secret Service as expeditiously as possible.

DeLoach to Tolson memo
Re: Meeting on Physical Security, White House

The Director replied that the views of Secret Service and FBI concerning security at the White House and protection of the President were usually very compatible.

Watson stated that the Director might give consideration to joining Secret Service in issuing a joint or combined report. The Director stated this would be satisfactory with him. [redacted] told the Director that Secret Service will have their report ready by the middle of next week. He stated this report would be submitted to the FBI for our consideration.

b6
b7c

Upon departing, the Director instructed me to have a rough draft report prepared concerning FBI recommendations. We will then use such recommendations in our overall consideration of the joint report to be issued by the FBI and the Secret Service.

I am having Liaison supervisor Bartlett of the Domestic Intelligence Division get in touch with Secret Service and discreetly ascertain the previous and current recommendations being considered by Secret Service. Special Agent Leinbaugh, who assisted me in the personnel security survey at the White House made two years ago, will work with Bartlett and me in drawing up rough draft recommendations and then making a final set of recommendations to the Director which will take into consideration the Secret Service report in all aspects. The Director will then be in a position to indicate whether or not he agrees with the Secret Service recommendations.

SUBJECT: MR. JOHN W. GARDNER
SECRETARY OF HEALTH, EDUCATION

REQUEST FOR OFFICE TELEPHONE SECURITY SURVEY AND COUNTERMEASURES INSTALLATION

By letter dated 3/2/66, Frederick H. Schmidt (former Special Agent), Director of Security of the above Department, inquired as to whether the following services could be performed by the Bureau in connection with the office telephones of Secretary Gardner:

- (1) A security survey for wiretaps
- (2) Installation of countermeasure devices (to prevent the telephone from being used as a microphone to pick up room conversation)

As a matter of background information, telephone security surveys and countermeasure installations have been made with the Director's approval for this cabinet office since 1953. Schmidt has been most cooperative with the Bureau, and has been very careful in protecting the countermeasure devices against loss.

RECOMMENDATION: If approved by the Director, Electronics Section personnel will make arrangements with Frederick H. Schmidt to conduct a security survey and install countermeasure devices on the office telephones of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

For your information, [redacted] to the Attorney General, today telephonically requested that he be contacted regarding a technical matter relating to the recent security check of the Attorney General's Office which the Director had approved. [redacted] handled arrangements for above security check.

Accordingly, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Swartz of this section immediately contacted [redacted] and determined that he wanted to know whether a particular AC extension cord lying on the rug had been checked during the above security survey. He was assured that it had, of course, been checked. He then asked whether the device that the Czechs recently tried to install in the State Department would change our sweep techniques and he was advised that it would not. He then asked whether the FBI had the device and was told that it is under examination by the United States Intelligence Board Technical Surveillance Countermeasures Committee. (The Director approved furnishing the device to the committee for technical examination.)

SUBJECT: SENATOR LEE METCALF

REQUEST FOR SECURITY CHECKS OF OFFICE TELEPHONES

On 9/1/66 Herbert E. Hoffman, Deputy Attorney General's Office, Department of Justice, telephonically advised Bishop in my office that he had been advised by the office of Senator Metcalf that the personnel of the office had been experiencing an unusual number of "clicks" and "buzzes" over their office telephones and they were of the opinion that there possibly was a telephone tap on the office phones. Senator Metcalf's office asked Hoffman if the FBI could make a security check of their telephone lines to insure that the telephones were not tapped. Hoffman stated he was passing this request along to the FBI.

DATA IN OUR FILES

Our files reflect that Senator Metcalf was elected to the Senate in November, 1960. Our relations with him have been limited, and information received prior to his election as a Senator indicated that he had received Communist Party backing in campaigns in Montana prior to his election to the Senate. We have not had particularly close relations with Senator Metcalf.

SUBJECT: SENATOR MILWARD L. SIMPSON (R. - WYOMING) ALLEGED BURGLARY OF THE SENATOR'S OFFICES

10-17-66

On 10-13-66, Mr. DeLoach called at Senator Simpson's office at his request. Two members of the Senator's staff, [redacted] and [redacted] related they feel someone has been breaking into the Senator's offices and rifling various desks, apparently on a continuing basis. They also suspected telephones in the office may be tapped. They explained Senator Simpson is not seeking re-election but is strongly supporting Republican Clifford P. Hansen against Democratic Congressman Teno Roncalio in the Senatorial race. The Senator's staff feels someone associated with Roncalio, who they described as having a shady background, may be rifling the office for intelligence data to use in the campaign. They admitted they have no specific indications of any burglary. They cited Congressman Roncalio's apparent prior knowledge of a press release and a series of radio tapes concerning the campaign as indicative of his possible involvement in the alleged break-ins of the Senator's offices. They admitted, however, that many people here and in Wyoming knew of these items prior to their release.

Mr. DeLoach explained to [redacted] and [redacted] that we do not have jurisdiction concerning such matters. They requested, however, the FBI make a check of the Senator's phone to allay his concern.

EX-103 REC-8 62-97308-417

[redacted] telephonically contacted Mr. DeLoach's Office on 10-14-66 and stated there had been another development. Per instruction, SA Bowers contacted [redacted] later on 10-14-66. [redacted] stated Dominick had "planted" a clean sheet of stationery in his desk in such a manner that it would have to be moved if anyone wished to see other material. He said [redacted] thinks this sheet of stationery was moved during the preceding night. This sheet of stationery was obtained and has been sent to the Identification Division

Dear Judge Webster:

Handwritten: Telephone Security Checks

On a number of occasions in the past, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has tremendously assisted this Office by providing periodic electronic surveillance sweeps of certain phones and/or offices within the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia. This has not only provided us with actual security, but a needed sense of security as well.

Because of the particularly sensitive nature of a number of major investigations presently being worked on by our Office and because such a sweep has not been conducted in approximately a year, we once again request the assistance of the Bureau in performing an electronic surveillance sweep of certain phones and offices here. Specifically, we would request such a sweep for my phones and office and the phones and offices of the Principal Assistant U.S. Attorney, the Executive Assistant U.S. Attorney, our Major Crimes Division and the Fraud Division. The specific phone numbers will be provided to your agents as appropriate. Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Re Philadelphia FTS to the Bureau, 10/24/78.

[redacted] the U.S. Department of Justice Task Force in Philadelphia, has requested a sweep be made of his office and telephones by the FBI. He has no concrete information he is under electronic surveillance, however, advises they currently have an individual under indictment who has been previously convicted of wiretapping.

The informal request was made over one month ago, but because of the high volume of sound related matters occurring in the division and because one sound man is on special assignment in the Tampa Division, [redacted] request has not been honored, and cannot be done by Philadelphia's soundmen in the foreseeable future.

In view of the above, it is requested that a "sweep team" and the necessary equipment be sent to Philadelphia for a two to three day period for this purpose.

Telephone numbers and all multiple appearances will be available upon arrival, as will be a sound agent who has had no practical experience in this field to assist and receive training from the Bureau personnel, if the Philadelphia workload so permits.

TELEPHONE SECURITY Sweep

Reurlet 10/25/78, requesting a security sweep of office space and telephones used by Philadelphia Task Force Chief Attorney [redacted]

Critical demands for operational support presently being levied on the Engineering Section and over-all Bureau budgetary restraints mandating sharp cutbacks in travel funds make it necessary to restrict the use of human and technical resources as much as possible. Existence of a possible technical penetration, perceived solely upon the basis that a person whose indictment is being handled by the Task Force was previously convicted of wiretapping, is not a sufficiently compelling justification for deployment of these scarce resources.

Since you apparently did not have the benefit of referenced communication at the time this request was submitted to FBIHQ, please contact [redacted] and inquire whether or not any additional indication exists that a penetration has been or is being made. Express to him our desire to be of all possible assistance, but that because of severe manpower restrictions we can respond only to documented threats. If further information is furnished, please resubmit request, together with your personal recommendation.

Mr. Civiletti was advised that the wireless microphone broadcast all of his conversations while he was wearing it.

(U) In response to your letter of December 10, 1980, personnel of the Technical Services Division conducted an electronic countermeasures sweep of space occupied by the Office of Intelligence Policy and Review. (C)

(U) The sweep, conducted on December 30, 1980, included an on-line electronic examination of telephone lines as well as a radio frequency (RF) scan of the spectrum from 3KHz to 2.0 GHz. No clandestine listening equipment was located as a result of this sweep. (C)

Dear Judge Featherston:

In response to your telephonic request of January 21, 1981, personnel of my staff conducted an electronic countermeasures sweep of the offices of Judge Samuel L. Sterrett, Room 422, United States Tax Court.

The sweep, conducted on January 23, 1981, consisted of a thorough physical and electronic examination of all telephones within the offices of Judge Sterrett, his secretaries, and his law clerks, as well as a local scan of the radio frequency spectrum from 3 kilohertz to 1.5 gigahertz.

No evidence of modification to the telephones or the installation of clandestine listening equipment was found at the time of the sweep. This fact was brought to the attention of Judge Sterrett at the conclusion of the sweep.

Should you have any further questions regarding this matter, please contact Special Agent  telephone 320-5785.

Judge Featherston requested the first sweep of Judge Sterrett's offices after two members of the Church of Scientology apparently entered Judge Sterrett's offices without registering with the guard located at the entrance to the U. S. Tax Court. This sweep was conducted on September 19, 1980. The second sweep, which was conducted on January 29, 1981, was requested by Featherston because of an upcoming trial involving the Church of Scientology.

The above chapter has been reviewed by the Engineering Section, Electronic Analysis Unit (EAU) which has determined that these requirements and guidelines follow almost verbatim those set forth in August, 1976, by the Technical Surveillance Countermeasures Subcommittee (TSCS), of the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI), Security Committee (SECOM), entitled "Procedural Guides 1-2-3 (Requirements for Reporting and Testing Technical Surveillance Penetrations for Hazards and Guidelines for Conducting Audio Countermeasures Surveys)."

RE: COUNTERMEASURES MATTERS

Referral/Consult

The Procedural Guides set forth by TSCS have served as the basis for countermeasures procedures by Intelligence Community members. There have been no known conflicts with FBI investigative policies to date but it should be noted that the Procedural Guides set forth by TSCS were requirements for reporting and testing technical surveillance penetrations/hazards mainly outside the continental United States and these guidelines require that some investigation be conducted by the technical surveillance countermeasures team. For a discovery of a technical surveillance penetration made within the United States (including Puerto Rico), the FBI has primary jurisdiction subject to any current agreements between the FBI and the military services.

Details of the above [redacted] and suggested modifications have previously been coordinated with SAs [redacted] INTD, [redacted] of the Criminal Investigative Division.

Dear Judge Webster:

Security of Telephone and Teletype Lines

On a number of occasions in the past members of your staff have graciously given of their time and expertise in selected cases by doing an electronic surveillance sweep of the offices and occasionally homes of certain Assistant U.S. Attorneys who were working on extremely sensitive matters. This has provided comfort and assurance not only to the members of my staff but to the investigative agents from the Bureau with whom they work. In that regard, two of our Assistant United States Attorneys, [redacted] have for some time been working on an extremely sensitive investigation with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The case, one that I know you are familiar with, the [redacted] investigation, is of that level of sensitivity that I feel an electronic surveillance sweep of their offices and homes would be appropriate. I would thus request, with your concurrence, that agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation make appropriate arrangements with AUSAs [redacted] to conduct such a sweep.

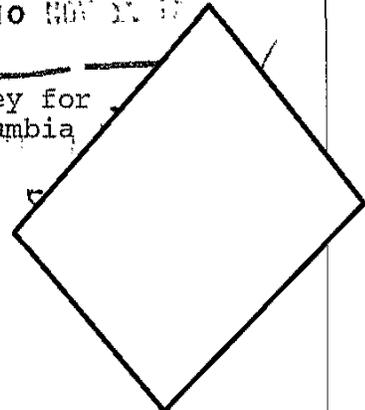

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

NORTHEAST REGIONAL COMPUTER-

SUBJECT: NERCSC SECURITY

National security data and equipment at the NERCSC dictate that the data center be staffed 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and that any access to the NERCSC be controlled at the perimeter security gate.

The NERCSC is currently undergoing Phase 2 construction for its permanent data center. Construction is only authorized Monday through Friday, 8:00am to 4:30pm. Security procedures have mandated that all construction workers be identified and logged in and out of the construction site on a daily basis. Because of the construction activity and the need to maintain perimeter security, the access gate must be staffed full time by a NERCSC employee during construction hours. The NERCSC is currently utilizing computer operators to control the perimeter access gate. Consequently, this has had a negative impact not only on the NERCSC computer operations, but on coverage of the NERCSC data center.

Reference is made to the 11/2/66 memorandum from Mr. D. J. Brennan, Jr., to Assistant Director W. C. Sullivan setting forth the request by Lester P. Condon, Inspector General of the Agriculture Department for a security survey of the office telephones of Secretary Orville Freeman and Mr. Condon. The Director approved. Immediately upon approval, the Liaison Section determined from Mr. Condon that the survey should be conducted beginning 11/21/66.

On 11/21 and 22/66, in keeping with arrangements made with Theodore Hauser, Deputy Inspector General for Analysis and Evaluation (former Special Agent), SAs William D. Campbell, W. G. Stevens and [redacted] checked the office telephone facilities of the above individuals within the Agriculture Building and at two telephone company equipment rooms involved.

The check included 13 lines and 4 telephone instruments. No evidence of tampering was observed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Liaison Section advise Mr. Condon, Agriculture Inspector General, of the results of the check of his and Secretary Freeman's office telephones.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEYS

HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE

Reference is made to Mr. Callahan's 2/9/67 memorandum to Mr. Mohr in which it was stated that arrangements had been made, at the request of [redacted] of the House Appropriations Committee, for Laboratory personnel to conduct a security survey for concealed listening devices in the hearing rooms used by the FBI, Defense Department and others. The Director approved.

On February 10 and 13, 1967, SAs [redacted] J. B. Parsons, [redacted] and [redacted] of the Radio Engineering Section conducted a check of rooms HB17, HB18, H140, H144, H216, H217 and H310. At the request of [redacted] the check was limited to the most likely places of microphone concealment in order to eliminate the necessity of having to damage building surfaces. The check included 26 telephone lines and 14 instruments to determine whether the telephones had been altered to permit their use as microphones to pick up room conversation. No evidence of concealed listening devices was found.

[redacted] was present at the conclusion of the security survey, and at his request was advised of the above results. He was also advised that H-135 (originally scheduled) had not been done, inasmuch as it was occupied by [redacted] of the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. [redacted] stated it was not necessary to do H-135 at this time and that he would contact Mr. Callahan at a later date regarding this room.

No Bureau space in field offices and resident agencies shall be vulnerable to eavesdropping by which unauthorized persons may overhear confidential conversation due to thin walls, air ducts, louvers, clandestine listening devices, etc. Those resident agencies in which security matters are discussed must be checked for clandestine listening devices annually, but on an irregular basis so that no pattern for the check is established. Memorandum D. J. Brennan to W. C. Sullivan dated June 14, 1966, entitled "Review of Security Procedures Suggested in Admiral Raborn's Letter to the Director Dated June 3, 1966," approved by the Director, established a Security Committee chaired by Assistant Director Sullivan and made up of Assistant Directors Gale, Felt, Tavel, and Casper. The purpose of this Committee was to examine the Bureau's personnel and physical security practices.

A number of lengthy and detailed discussions were held by the Committee and much research has been done. Three basic areas of interest were examined. They were physical, technical, and personnel security. The pros and cons of each point discussed have been reported, and a summary of the discussions is presented in the detailed report attached hereto. Representatives of the Administrative Division and Laboratory Division were invited to appear before the Committee, and they provided their expertise in the areas of personnel supervision and the threat from possibly implanting listening devices in FBI space.

The Committee concluded that although we can consider over-all Bureau security to be relatively adequate, it was incumbent upon the Committee to conduct a thorough self-examination to improve this security. Those areas where the Committee felt FBI security could be improved are discussed below under "CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS."

Memorandum from Mr. Sullivan to Mr. DeLoach
RE: FBI SECURITY COMMITTEE

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

I. CONCLUSION:

There is a need for personnel in the Domestic Intelligence Division to be made more aware of the meaning and significance of communications intelligence. (Communications intelligence is the interception of communications of other countries, by wire or radio, by a third party for whom the communications were not intended.)

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) The Domestic Intelligence Division should proceed with taking the necessary steps to insure that all personnel of the Domestic Intelligence Division have a briefing as to the meaning and significance of communications intelligence and the security provisions for handling communications intelligence as set out by the United States Intelligence Board.

(2) On the occasion of Agent and clerical personnel being transferred out of the Domestic Intelligence Division, an appropriate security debriefing will be afforded them regarding communications intelligence.

II. CONCLUSION:

Because of the large number of people (clerical personnel) who do process mail, Committee

Memorandum from Mr. Sullivan to Mr. DeLoach
RE: FBI SECURITY COMMITTEE

discussion focused on trying to reduce the number of people who would have access to the identities of Bureau informants and sensitive security information by creating a self-contained file room for the Domestic Intelligence Division. Since the floors of the space presently occupied by that Division will not support the number of file cabinets necessary and because of the many technical problems, such as added cost and space, and the fact that a special file room for retention of sensitive material already exists in the Files and Communications Division, the Committee felt this problem required an in depth study.

RECOMMENDATION:

A separate study be made to determine the feasibility and desirability of reserving space in the Bureau's new building for a separate self-contained Domestic Intelligence Division File Room.

yes.
[Signature]

[Handwritten notes and signature]

III. CONCLUSION:

There may be a need for more secure filing cabinets with combination locks for the storing of sensitive ticklers. Because of economy considerations and problems associated with efficient location of files during night hours and week ends, it was felt a survey should be made to establish minimal needs for such filing cabinets.

RECOMMENDATION:

That an immediate survey be made to determine what the Bureau's minimal needs are for combination-lock file cabinets meeting maximum security standards, and if any additional cabinets

IV. CONCLUSION:

The need for all Field Offices and Resident Agencies to be re-examined through the normal inspection procedures to determine any vulnerability from clandestine entry as well as overheard conversations due to thin walls, nearby heating registers, et cetera.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) An SAC Letter be prepared instructing SACs to resurvey their Offices and Resident Agencies to determine if their space is vulnerable to overheard conversations due to thin walls, airducts, et cetera.

Yes
Handled
M. Felt

(2) That the same SAC Letter instruct SACs to survey their Resident Agencies and identify those Resident Agencies where security information is discussed. Those Resident Agencies wherein sensitive security information is discussed and which are identified in the SACs' recommendations will be checked by Bureau-trained soundmen on an irregular basis and no less frequently than once a year for listening devices.

(3) The Inspection Staff will continue to examine the security of Bureau space and will pay particular attention to the adequacy of the survey to be conducted by the SACs. In addition, the Inspection Staff will examine the adequacy of any remedial action suggested by SACs.

Handwritten: WASH DC, HANAKO DS, [Signature]

V. CONCLUSION:

There is a need for expanding the checks of home telephone lines of Bureau officials to include key personnel of the Domestic Intelligence Division and the New York and Washington Field Offices.

RECOMMENDATION:

The telephone checks on home telephones of members of the Executives Conference be expanded to include the two Inspectors and all Section Chiefs of the Domestic Intelligence Division as well as the senior security supervisors in our Washington Field Office. (The home telephones of our SAC and ASAC in Washington Field Office and of our SACs in the New York Office are already being checked.)

Handwritten: Houdin's memo to DeLoach 3-10-67 [Signature]

VI. CONCLUSION:

An encrypted telephone line between our New York Office and Seat of Government where the Bureau's most sensitive security cases are discussed is highly desirable but expensive.

Handwritten: [Signature]

Memorandum from Mr. Sullivan to Mr. DeLoach
RE: FBI SECURITY COMMITTEE

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of economy considerations, the Committee felt a positive recommendation for an encrypted line between our New York Office and Seat of Government should be deferred at this time.

ds

VII. CONCLUSION:

The trial use of a new teletype system administered by the General Services Administration has begun. This system provides automatic coding and decoding. If found acceptable after the trial period, this system will be installed at the Seat of Government and throughout the field and should improve the Bureau's communications security. Bureau personnel should be encouraged to use this system for highly sensitive data wherever possible in lieu of the telephone.

RECOMMENDATION:

That an SAC Letter be prepared reminding Bureau personnel that coded teletypes should be used whenever possible for highly sensitive data rather than discussing such matters on the telephone.

There is a need to expand our security indoctrination programs to provide a continuing alert to all FBI employees as to the threat a hostile intelligence service or sophisticated criminal element represents.

RE: FBI SECURITY COMMITTEE

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) The preparation of a pilot program which can be used over and over again for security indoctrination at the Seat of Government utilizing the EDEX System (a mechanical teaching system already in the possession of the Bureau) be instituted.

Agent and clerical supervisors should be provided, if possible, with a list of specific activities or characteristics of subordinate personnel which they could reasonably be expected to detect and which might alert them to the possibility that an employee was becoming a security risk. The Domestic Intelligence Division should undertake to compile such a list based on a study to be made of cases involving employees of other agencies who have improperly disclosed classified information.

DATE: March 16, 1967

FROM : A. J. Baker

SUBJECT: HONORABLE ALAN S. BOYD, SECRETARY,
U. S. DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION REQUEST FOR TELEPHONE SECURITY CHECKS

Reference is made to Mr. D. J. Brennan's 3/3/67 memorandum to Mr. W. C. Sullivan setting forth a request for a security survey of the office and residence telephone lines of Secretary Boyd. The Director approved.

On 3/13/67 and 3/15/67, in keeping with arrangements made by the Liaison Section through Department of Transportation Acting Director of Security, Richard F. Lally, Laboratory personnel of the Radio Engineering Section made a check of the telephone facilities at Secretary Boyd's residence at apartment [redacted] and his office at [redacted] 800 Independence Avenue, S. W., Washington, D. C. The survey involved four instruments and seven lines. All terminal appearances of these lines were inspected at (1) the residence or office, (2) the telephone company equipment buildings, and (3) points of access outside the above locations.

No evidence of tampering was observed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Liaison Section advise Secretary Boyd of the results of the above check.

Dear [Redacted]

Thank you for the suggestion regarding a method for improving telephone security. I thought you might be interested to know that consideration has been given to similar approaches to this problem and they have not resulted in any additional safety but have presented operational problems which would outweigh any anticipated benefits.

its removal. Suggester advised telephone company will, upon request, place rubber covers over lugs in telephone terminal boxes to indicate special lines. These rubber covers are used on any line the telephone company does not want telephone company employees using for test purposes. Due to sophisticated electronic equipment commercially available today, it is very difficult to guarantee the security of a telephone line. Telephone terminal boxes are readily accessible to public and, at present, there is no security for these terminal boxes as telephone company requires ready access for its employees. It is not practical for telephone company to secure these terminal boxes.

The Laboratory Division notes that telephone company requirements do not permit attaching anything to telephone equipment except attachments which it has approved. The breakable cover as proposed would be removed by any telephone company employee seeing it. The fact that the cover would be broken would not necessarily indicate malicious tampering. One type of cover would not fit all terminals on telephones and would be of no value on new type telephone line construction which is built with a minimum of terminals under what is called "a dedicated plant" concept. Due to these views, Training Division recommends idea not be adopted.

SUGGESTION

The sophisticated electronic equipment commercially available today makes it very difficult to guarantee the security of a telephone line. The present use of radio transmitter induction coils which can be installed and removed in seconds provides a means to easily tap a particular phone. The induction coil can be removed shortly before a security check is made and no evidence of any monitoring would be noted. Telephone terminal boxes are readily accessible to the public. At present there is no security for these terminal boxes and as the telephone company requires ready access for telephone employees, it is not practicable for the telephone company to secure these terminal boxes.

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts)

Not applicable.

EXP. PROC.³⁷

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate):

The use of the breakable covers, as set out above, would enable one making annual security check of a telephone line to determine if the working and multiple appearance (in the terminal boxes) of the telephone line has been tampered with since the last inspection.

As indicated above, telephone company employees do not use the lugs with rubber covers as this is a flag of a special line.

Re: Suggestion of

The telephone company, upon request, will place rubber covers over the lugs in telephone terminal boxes to indicate special lines. These rubber covers are used on any line the telephone company does not want telephone company employees using for test purposes.

It is suggested the FBI Laboratory develop a cover for these telephone terminal lugs that could not be removed without breaking. It is felt by the writer some substance could be devised which, when kept moist, would be pliable enough to place over the lug, but when dried would become so brittle it could not be removed without breaking.

This same substance could be used to cover the bottom screws of a telephone instrument so that the cover of the instrument could not be removed without leaving evidence of its removal.

SUGGESTION
As the Bureau is aware, the most effective and economical counter-measure against surreptitious eavesdropping of conversations, radio transmissions and telephone conversations is a commercial radio broadcast blended into voices emanating from a room.
It is, therefore, suggested the Bureau give serious consideration to the purchase of a sufficient number of small, inexpensive table model commercial broadcast band radios in order that one may be placed in each Resident Agency.

SECURITY OF TELEPHONE SERVICES

Current practice or rule (include manual citation as well as facts)
None - no effective counter-measure to guard against accidental or purposeful eavesdropping through entrance doors to Resident Agencies

Advantages of suggestion and annual savings (include basis for estimate)
Advantages: An effective and virtually foolproof method of securing voices emanating from Resident Agency rooms.
To effectively soundproof each entry door to Bureau space would take considerable effort and time, and would undoubtedly cost in the neighborhood of $50 each, considering cost of soundproofing materials, mastic, weatherstripping, labor, etc. The fact it must be opened defeats any effective method of soundproofing.

EX-103

Disadvantages of suggestion
None. Initial cost would probably be approximately $15 each for a good "wired" chassis commercial radio. Maintenance can be handled by the Radio Maintenance Technician assigned to each Division. Bureau can maintain parts.

(The use by the United States of my suggestion shall not form the basis of a further claim of any nature by me, my heirs, or assigns upon the United States. I understand that I will be considered for any justified award only if my suggestion is adopted within two years after submission.)

PLAYING

The above suggests that the Bureau purchase and play an inexpensive radio in each Resident Agency as a countermeasure against surreptitious eavesdropping.

As the suggestion states, the Bureau is aware of the technical effect from playing a radio in a room for the stated purpose. However, to be sure to be effective, the radio should be played at a level equal to or above the voice levels which makes conversation difficult, which would rebroadcast the radio program on the Bureau radio calls and might be objectionable in some Resident Agencies, such as courthouses, etc.

In general, it is felt that playing radio programs could easily lead to unjust criticism that Bureau Resident Agents sit around and listen to the radio during working hours.

Although it may be highly desirable to use radio music in a plant or lookout to improve over-all security, as well as a countermeasure against eavesdropping, it is not felt that it would be appropriate for general use as suggested by SA Suter.

It is noted that the cost for such radios for 524 Resident Agencies would probably be at least $7,860. Maintenance of these radios could be handled by office personnel except where it would be more economical for Resident Agencies to handle repairs locally.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the above unfavorable comments on the suggestion be forwarded for the information of the Training Division.

DEPUTY SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

Security of Telephone Services

In my 6/23/67 memorandum to you concerning the above subject (which the Director approved), I indicated there were Washington, D. C., and a Bel Alton, Maryland, residence involved.

On 6/28/67 and 7/3/67 Radio Engineering Section personnel completed the check of the telephone facilities at [redacted]

This included the examination of five instruments, two normal commercial lines, one White House Security Board line, and two Command Post lines. All terminal appearances of these lines were examined at the residence, the telephone exchange buildings, and at all points outside these locations.

No evidence of tampering was observed.

Colonel Abbott Greenleaf, Military Assistant to the Secretary of Defense, advised that the underground cable for the Security Board and Command Post lines has not yet been installed at the Bel Alton, Maryland, residence and requested that that portion of the check be deferred until the telephone company completes the installation sometime after July 15, 1967. Colonel Greenleaf will advise SA [redacted] or SA Wilbur G. Stevens when the Bel Alton installation is completed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Liaison Section advise Mr. William C. Hunt (Director, Security Division, Office of Secretary of Defense), of (1) the results of the completion of the check at [redacted] and (2) the fact that the Bel Alton, Maryland, check will not be completed until the telephone company finishes underground cable installation there, sometime after July 15, 1967.

Reurairtel 6/29/67 covering transmittal of one 500 D and one 565 special Western Electric (WE) telephone sets to the Bureau.

These sets are the ones specified by the State Department Division of Technical Services (DTS) in 1964 as being the proper ones for your office. Apparently due to changes that have occurred since then, the State Technical Security Officer has now advised that you need a WE 510 (one or two lines) and a WE 444Ec-3 (four lines) set. The 510 can be obtained. However, WE not only has not made the 444 set for several years, but State's DTS now recommends against the use of multibutton sets. Instead, the combination of a 510 set and a multibutton key pad is recommended because it is easier to protect and simpler to check for possible compromise from a technical standpoint. State's DTS also advises that WE has encountered difficulty in making the new 1A2 system serve as many functions as the older 1A1 system, and may have to reinstitute production of the 1A1 system for State.

These matters will be taken up directly by the Bureau with State's DTS. You will be advised when a determination is made of the exact telephone equipment to be furnished your office.

Hunt is a cooperative contact of the Bureau's Liaison Section, and at his special request, on a limited number of occasions in the past the Bureau has performed security surveys for the Secretary of Defense and top-ranking Defense officials. It was learned that this particular request was made by Captain Worth H. Bagley, Executive Assistant and Naval Aide to the Secretary of the Navy, with the concurrence of Mr. Solis Horwitz, Assistant Secretary of Defense (Administration).

It is noted that the Office of the Secretary of the Navy is currently unoccupied as Secretary of the Navy designee, Paul R. Ignatius, now Assistant Secretary of Defense, has not yet assumed these duties. The recently appointed Secretary of the Navy, John T. McNaughton, was killed in an airplane crash on July 19, 1967.

This matter has been coordinated with the Radio Engineering Section of the Laboratory.

By letter to the Director dated 6/21/67, Mr. William C. Hunt (Director, Security Division, Office of Secretary of Defense, and a cooperative Liaison Section contact) inquired whether the Bureau would conduct a security survey of the telephone facilities in the office of the Secretary of Navy in the Pentagon. The recommendation in Mr. D. J. Brennan's 8/21/67 memorandum to Assistant Director W. C. Sullivan that the Laboratory make the above survey was approved by the Director.

Security of Telephone

On 8/23-24/67, Radio Engineering Section personnel completed a security check of the telephone facilities in the Office of the Secretary of Navy in room 4E686 of the Pentagon. This involved four telephone instruments and three regular Pentagon lines, one White House line, one normal commercial line, and eight lines for intercommunication with staff members. All terminal appearances of these lines were examined in the Secretary's office, elsewhere in the Pentagon, and at three other telephone exchange buildings. No evidence of tampering was observed.

No one in the Secretary's or Mr. Hunt's office has been advised of the results of this check.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S TELEPHONE LINES

Vertical handwritten note: "O. Telephone Security Checks"

Assistant Attorney General J. Walter Yeagley called me this afternoon to inquire whether we were still making security checks of the Attorney General's lines as we have done on past occasions. I told him that I would check and let him know.

Although we have in past years included the Attorney General's lines in our regular periodic check of Executives Conference members' telephone lines, such check of the Attorney General's lines was discontinued in 1964. On memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. Belmont dated 8/28/64, concerning a request of the Attorney General for such a check, the Director commented: "Disregard. My reason for this is that Mrs. Kennedy has publicly charged that the phones are tapped by the FBI at direction of President Johnson. For this reason we are not checking any phones. They can get Tel. Co. to do it." Subsequently, at the specific instructions of the Director in July 1966, a security check was conducted of Attorney General Katzenbach's office space for microphones as well as telephone security. No further checks have been made.

It is suggested that I advise Yeagley that we have received no request to check Attorney General Clark's lines and, therefore, no such checks have been made.

ACTION:

If approved, I will so advise Mr. Yeagley.

Recently, and again on June 19, 1968, the Department's telephone frame room, room 2412 of the Justice Building, was found to be unlocked and unattended. These instances were informally called to the attention of your office.

Since the Justice Building is open to the public during regular office hours, and because not only the Department's entire telephone system cables and terminals but the FBI's trunk cables and dial-intercom equipment are located in this frame room, we strongly feel it should be locked at all times.

SUBJECT: SECURITY OF TELEPHONE FACILITIES

Security of Telephone Services

The Justice Department's telephone switchboard is in room 2416, and the Department's frame (telephone terminals and switches) room is adjacent to the switchboard in room 2412, in Justice Department space. Both rooms open into the Great Hall, which is readily accessible from the courtyard. The Bureau's telephone trunks pass through the Justice frame room, and the dial equipment for the Bureau's 2-digit dial intercom system is in this frame room. There is no available space to relocate our facilities, which were installed there initially years ago, and if there were space to relocate them the cost would be prohibitive, especially in view of the Bureau's contemplated move to our own building in a few years.

On 6/19/68 one of our employees checked the Justice frame room and found it unlocked and unattended. The public has access normally to the Justice Building during regular working hours. Necessity for keeping the Justice frame room locked to eliminate possibility of anyone entering to disrupt Department or Bureau phone facilities has previously, and again on 6/19/68, been called to the Department's attention. We not only keep the Bureau's telephone frame room locked, the corridor doors are covered with heavy sheet metal and cannot be unlocked and entered from the corridor. Entry to the room may be made only through our switchboard where the corridor door is locked at all times.

I feel it would be appropriate now to officially call the matter to the attention of the Justice Department.

RECOMMENDATION:

By letter to the Director dated June 13, 1968, Mr. Frederick H. Schmidt (former SA), Director of Security for Health, Education and Welfare, inquired whether the Bureau would make (1) a security survey of the office telephones of Secretary Cohen and (2) install countermeasure devices (to prevent the instruments from being used as microphones to pickup room conversation). The countermeasure device was developed by the FBI and the installation of these countermeasures on Cabinet Officer telephones has been a continuing integral part of a White House communications security program in which the White House initially requested the installation of these devices on Cabinet Officer phones.

With the Director's approval, the Bureau has previously made both telephone security surveys and countermeasure installations for various Secretaries of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, dating back to the Eisenhower Administration in 1953. Mr. Schmidt has been most cooperative with the Bureau as its principal liaison contact for personnel information in his agency. Liaison advises also that it was through the personal intervention of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare that the Bureau has been able to continue receiving Social Security information which has been denied other investigative agencies.

As a byproduct, the countermeasure installations and related security checks by the FBI have contributed very substantially to the excellent relations enjoyed by the FBI with our high-level telephone company contact through whom the Bureau secures the necessary cooperation from the telephone company in connection with the Bureau's investigative activities in the internal security area.

Accordingly, in view of the above circumstances, it is suggested the Bureau may wish to comply with the current request. Estimated time: 2 men for 1 1/2 days.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Mr. Schmidt be advised that the FBI will perform the requested countermeasures installation and related security check.

By letter to the Director dated July 24, 1968, Mr. John W. With the Director's approval, the Bureau has previously conducted office and residence telephone security work for various Secretaries of Commerce, dating back to Secretary Sinclair Weeks in 1953. John Phillips, as the Bureau's principal liaison contact at the Commerce Department on investigative and security matters, has afforded the Bureau excellent cooperation. It is also pointed out that these security checks contribute substantially to the excellent relations enjoyed by the Bureau with high-level telephone company contacts who furnish invaluable services to the FBI in connection with internal security investigations.

In view of the above circumstances, Bureau may wish to comply with the current Commerce Department request which will require two men approximately one day.

[Redacted] Administrative Assistant to the President, called me at 9 p.m., 8/22/68, and stated something definitely seemed to be wrong with the telephones at his home and he would deeply appreciate the FBI making a check. He stated we had done this once before and our services in this regard had given him great peace of mind.

He added that the telephone company had recently advised him that there seemed to be someone interfering with his phones. He had no information other than this.

In view of Califano's position, and the fact that he talks constantly with the President, it is recommended that the Laboratory make this check at a convenient date and time. I should advise Califano prior to the check being made as to the specific date and time.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S TELEPHONES

Reference is made to your 1/27/69, memorandum to Mr. Mohr advising of a telephonic request by Assistant Attorney General J. Walter Yeagley for a security check of the office and residence telephones of Attorney General John M. Mitchell. The Director approved the check.

In keeping with arrangements made by Mr. Yeagley, a survey of the office telephone facilities was completed by FBI Laboratory personnel on February 3 and 4, 1969. This involved the checking of thirteen telephone instruments and sixteen local and outside lines. No evidence of tampering was observed.

The Attorney General is still occupying an apartment on a temporary basis in the Washington area. Mr. Yeagley advised that he will contact the Bureau further regarding a suitable time for the residence survey after the Mitchells have moved into a permanent residence.

Mr. Yeagley has advised that an oral report of the results of the check will be sufficient.

ACTION:

(1) If approved Mr. Yeagley will be advised telephonically that the results of the office check were negative.

(2) We will complete the approved check at the residence upon receipt of further advice from Mr. Yeagley.

By letter to the Director dated 1/23/69, Mr. H. B. Montague, Personnel Security Officer of the Post Office Department advised that the new Postmaster General had expressed a desire to have a check made of the White House and regular telephone lines in his office and in the offices of his Executive Assistant and Deputy Postmaster General.

With the Director's approval, the Bureau has previously conducted office telephone security work for previous Postmaster Generals, dating back to 1961. H. B. Montague is the Bureau's long-time and trusted liaison contact with the Post Office Department on investigative and security matters, and has afforded the Bureau excellent cooperation. Coincidental with these security checks, an opportunity is afforded the Bureau to maintain its excellent relations with high-level telephone company officials who furnish invaluable services to the FBI in connection with internal security investigations.

In view of the above, it is felt that it would be to the Bureau's advantage in its relationship with established and new Post Office Department officials to conduct the requested security check which will require two men approximately one day.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Mr. Montague be advised the Bureau will perform the requested security check.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY,

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE CLIFFORD HARDIN

WASH. D.C.

By letter to the Director dated 2/3/69, Lester P. Condon, Inspector General of the Department of Agriculture, advised that Secretary Hardin had inquired if it would be possible to have FBI personnel (1) make a security check of his office and residence telephones, and (2) install countermeasure devices in the telephones.

With the Director's approval, we have previously made office and residence telephone security surveys and countermeasure installations on special request for the Secretaries of Agriculture since 1951. (Countermeasures are used to prevent telephones from being used as microphones to pick up room conversation.) The Inspector General's office is the chief point of Bureau liaison contact, and Mr. Condon has been most cooperative. It is suggested that the Bureau may wish to comply with the present request.

ACTION:

If approved, Liaison Section will contact Mr. Condon so that arrangements can be made for FBI Laboratory personnel to do the requested security survey and countermeasure work of the Secretary of Agriculture.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEYS

HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE

Mr. Callahan by memorandum to Mr. Mohr dated 3/15/69, reported a request by [redacted] House Appropriations Committee, for a security survey to be made of the Committee Hearing Room prior to the Secretary of State's testimony on March 18, 1969.

SA's [redacted] conducted the above survey on March 17, 1969. At the request of [redacted] the check was conducted in Hearing Room 310 and was limited to the most likely places of concealment of microphones in order to eliminate the necessity of having to damage the building surfaces. Three telephone instruments and four telephone lines were checked within the confines of this room to determine whether the telephones were being used to pick up room conversation when not in normal use. A radio frequency search was conducted to determine if any microphones were being used in connection with miniature concealed radio transmitting devices. No evidence of concealed listening devices was found, and [redacted] was so advised at the completion of the survey.

Telephone Security Checks

Memorandum from you to Mr. DeLoach bearing this caption, dated February 6, 1967, contained among its conclusions that there is a need for expanding the checks of home telephone lines of Bureau officials to include key personnel of the Domestic Intelligence Division and the New York and Washington Field Offices. At that time it was noted that the home telephones of our Special Agent in Charge (SAC) and Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) in Washington Field Office and of our SACs in the New York Office were being checked to insure against clandestine monitoring.

Recently, our high-level source, Tophat, returned from a conference in Moscow during which he was shown electronic devices attesting to the continued excellent technical capability of the Soviet intelligence services to intercept and monitor private conversations. In being questioned about this, he alluded to the fact that in the United States audio devices utilizing power lines were in operation. This, of course, suggests the possibility that the Soviets could be intercepting telephone communications.

RECOMMENDATION:

62-97308

As a security precaution, it is now recommended that the periodic telephone checks be extended to the home telephones of the 14 Security Supervisors of the New York Office and of the 9 Security Supervisors of the Washington Field Office. All of these Supervisors regularly receive telephone calls at their homes which will involve our highly clandestine coverage of the Soviet and Soviet-bloc establishments and personnel. If you agree, there is attached a suitable letter addressed to the SACs, instructing that these checks be immediately instituted and that the checks be made by the technically qualified personnel presently assigned in their offices.

Reference is made to Mr. Branigan's 5/28/69 memorandum to Mr. Sullivan in which it was recommended that, due to the possibility of Soviet interception of telephone communications, the periodic telephone security checks should be expanded to include the home telephones of 14 New York and 9 Washington Field Office Security Supervisors. The Director asked, "Just how much manpower will be involved in this?"

It is estimated that the above-suggested 23 telephone security checks would require approximately 34 man-days to complete the necessary inspections now being made on current checks for Bureau and Washington Field officials. This involves inspection (1) once a year at the residences, (2) twice a year at the telephone company exchange buildings, and (3) four times a year on all outside terminal appearances of the telephone lines where compromise is most likely.

SECURITY OF TELEPHONE LINES
SALT LAKE CITY DIVISION
CEDAR CITY RESIDENT AGENCY
CEDAR CITY, UTAH

EX-102

Reurlet 11/7/69, regarding security of the telephone line to the Cedar City Resident Agency (RA) in which you advise that the telephone company can provide the necessary security at a maximum cost of $225.

Whenever possible non-multiple telephone lines should be obtained for Bureau communications. If the line serving the Cedar City RA is a "dedicated" line as mentioned in relet, it should not have multiples as such, but should only pass through terminal boxes without actually appearing on open terminals. If this is the case, it is sufficient to check these terminal boxes in accordance with Bureau instructions regarding security checks of telephone lines, unless special conditions warrant that additional security measures be taken.

Normally, additional security measures need not be taken inside telephone company exchanges which are manned by telephone company employees 24-hours a day or which are kept locked and are accessible only to telephone company employees.

If feasible, the frame room in the basement of the State Highway Building should be locked as suggested in relet to prevent unauthorized entry. It is not usually necessary to physically secure covers of manholes through which telephone cables pass since exposed line terminals usually do not appear inside manholes.

In view of above, it is suggested that you recontact the telephone company to obtain a new estimate based on reevaluation of RA telephone line security consideration and submit to the Bureau for approval.

A recent survey of the telephone facilities of the Cedar City Resident Agency revealed that the services are listed as "essential" but there are no security precautions installed in the line running from the telephone company to the Cedar City Resident Agency. As the Bureau is aware, this Resident Agency was established in the Spring of 1969. By being declared "essential" the Mountain States Telephone Company provides immediate maintenance service in the event of service failure, but this classification does not imply any form of security precaution on the line.

Examination of the facilities revealed that the line is a "dedicated line" extending from the frame room of the telephone building to the office space of the Cedar City Resident Agency located in the State Highway Department building approximately one and one half miles away. It was discovered that this line is exposed in seven different locations. In six of the locations the telephone lines "multiple" on the telephone poles in an area easily accessible to the public. The seventh location is in the frame room in the basement of the State Highway Department building where the telephone terminals to the office space are easily identified and accessible to anyone desiring to enter this particular area. There are no facilities presently available through which these terminals can be secured.

The line should be non-multiple for security. This is obviously not a dedicated line if the 7 multiples are cut out into terminals. If it is pic cable and the Bureau pair merely passes through a boot, this is OK. If the Bureau pair is cut out on terminals, then these should be eliminated, especially at the Highway Dept. location.

COMM. SECT.

SU 66-517

Examination of the frame room in the telephone company building revealed that there is no security precaution on the frame itself nor are there any security facilities protecting handling the telephone lines leading away from the building in the underground cables. Extending from the building the line pair was identified as number 459, color white and blue from the telephone company to the first multiple, and brown and red from the first multiple to the Resident Agency. These lines were easily identifiable and were easily traced.

[redacted] Marketing Division, Mountain States Telephone Company, conducted a survey and cost estimate to determine what it would cost to secure the Bureau telephone facilities. It should be noted that the Cedar City area is a rural farming community and very few, if any companies in the area, require security precautions necessary to Bureau operations, therefore, securing telephone lines is a special project to meet Bureau requirements. b6 b7c

The results of the telephone company survey would include securing the lines within the building, physically securing manhole covers and other access points to telephone cables, removing multiples from the telephone poles mentioned, and securing the frame room in the basement of the State Highway Department building. He stated that the maximum cost to the Bureau would be $225.00. It is recommended that the Bureau authorize expenditure of $225.00 to secure Bureau telephone facilities at the Cedar City Resident Agency and that this work be done as soon as possible.

Dear Mr. Thomas:

As requested in your letter to me of November 12, 1969, I have had Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation conduct a security check of the telephone facilities of Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel. This involved the inspection of the instruments and associated facilities in his office and residence, in telephone company exchange buildings, and at all points of access outside the above locations. At the same time, telephone countermeasure devices were installed in the three instruments in the Secretary's office and in five instruments in his residence.

No irregularities were observed at the time of the survey.

Mr. D. J. Brennan's 11/13/69 memorandum to Mr. Sullivan reported the receipt of a letter to the Director, dated 11/12/69, from Earl J. Thomas, Chief, Division of Compliance of the Department of the Interior. The letter advises that Secretary Hickel had requested Mr. Thomas to determine if the FBI would (1) conduct a security survey of his office and residence telephone service, and (2) install countermeasure devices (to prevent use of the telephones as microphones to pick up room conversation). The Director approved.

Through arrangements made by SA L. F. Schwartz (of the Liaison Section) with Mr. Thomas, personnel of FBI Laboratory made the requested telephone survey and countermeasure installations at the residence and the office on 12/8, 9, & 10/69, the earliest access dates which could be arranged because of illness of Secretary Hickel. This involved the inspection of a total of fifteen instruments and fifteen local and outside lines for both locations. No irregularities were observed at the time of the survey. No one at the Interior Department has been advised of the results.

Mr. Thomas has advised that he would appreciate a written reply as to the results. A suggested letter to Mr. Thomas is attached. This matter has been coordinated with SA L. F. Schwartz of the Liaison Section.

Re Salt Lake City letter to the Bureau, 11/7/69, and Bureau letter to Salt Lake City, 11/28/69.

For the information of the Bureau, the Mountain States
Telephone Company described the line servicing the Cedar City Resident Agency, identified as Line Pair 459, extending from the telephone company frame room to the Cedar City Resident Agency, as being a "dedicated line." The term "dedicated" as used by the telephone company describes an uninterrupted and committed line connecting the telephone company and the Cedar City Resident Agency. This line, even though dedicated, can and does appear on multiple-type terminals.

The facilities presently utilized at Cedar City are as follows:

Line Pair 459 leaves the telephone company in an underground cable surfacing a short distance from the telephone building. The cable is a "pick-type" cable carrying numerous telephone lines contained in a polyethylene weather shield.
The cable lines first appear on a telephone pole located at 110 North Main in a Type 49 Multiple Terminal and Pair 459 is identified at this point. The cable then continues to the pole at 360 2 North Main; then to poles at 432 2 North Main, 740 2 North Main and 900 2 North Main, where in each location the pair appears on a Type 49 Multiple Terminal. The cable then extends to 880 1 North Main at the Highway Department Building and enters the basement frame room of the building in a lead cable. The lines appear in the frame room of the Highway Department Building, where Pair 459 branches off extending to the Cedar City Resident Agency office space.

The "pick-type" cable is designed so that telephone linemen can cut into the cable at any point and "pick out" the particular pair they desire to terminate. The wires are identified and appear on the Type 49 Multiple Terminal which is widely used in the Bell Telephone System. The Type 49 terminal is not a box-type terminal, but rather a junction terminal located on the line itself close to the pole where located and is only covered by a heavy rubber shield protecting it from the weather. It is readily accessible to anyone who desired to climb the pole and examine the facility.

To secure the telephone facilities of the Cedar City Resident Agency, the telephone company will discontinue the line pair presently in existence and will utilize or install a dedicated line pair in a lead cable extending from the telephone building to the frame room of the Utah Highway Department. This line will not appear or be exposed at any point between the frame room of the telephone company and the frame room of the Highway Department Building. The company will secure the telephone frame in the basement of the Highway Department by housing it in a locked container available only to authorized personnel.

The cost estimate pertains to the securing of the lines and frame room as described. Cost of securing the frame room at the telephone company building and manhole covers is negligible and would not affect the estimated cost of securing the lines. The telephone company building at Cedar City is manned twenty-four hours a day and is secured under locked conditions, being available only to authorized telephone company personnel.

who was recontacted regarding this matter as suggested in the referenced Bureau letter, stated that the $225 estimate is an absolute maximum and that there is a possibility, depending on the amount of labor, that the actual cost could be less.

While discussing other matters with [redacted] clerk of our appropriation subcommittee, he inquired whether or not it would be possible to arrange to have the hearing room in which the State-Justice hearings will be held given a technical security survey as has been done in past years sometime during the week of 2-9-70.

Howe pointed out that the Chairman would appreciate any assistance we can render on this as in the past as he likes to make sure that some of the subject matter covered therein, particularly by the Director, is not compromised.

Should the Director approve, the Laboratory has indicated personnel will be available to handle this survey at a mutually convenient time and it will be worked out with [redacted] during the week of February 9.

RECOMMENDATION:

That approval be granted for the Laboratory to make personnel available to conduct the technical security survey requested of the subcommittee room in which our hearings are held.

Don Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, called 1/27/70 and stated he would deeply appreciate it if the Director could allow Laboratory experts to check his personal office for wiretaps. He stated he discusses many matters of a confidential nature on the phone and, quite frankly, some of these matters concerned employees whom he had "inherited" when he took over as Administrator of Veterans Affairs. He stated he hated to impose on the FBI, but if at all possible would appreciate having this check made.

Johnson is extremely cooperative, a close friend, and has for a long time been an ardent supporter of the Director and the FBI. He is a Past National Commander of the American Legion and during his term in office did everything possible to support the FBI. I feel this could be done on a confidential basis and that Johnson will be very appreciative.

ACTION:

That the Director consider allowing this matter to be handled for Don Johnson.

Mr. Winslow Joy, Administrative Services, Administrative Division, Department of Justice, has made a telephonic request to SA [redacted] Administrative Division, that the FBI conduct a security sweep of the suite of offices occupied by the Attorney General (AG) and Deputy Attorney General (DAG) for listening devices. He said the check should also include telephone lines to these 2 offices. [redacted] indicated it had been some time since a sweep of these 2 offices had been made and he would at this time also request that a schedule be set up within the FBI to have the sweep made of these offices on a random day each month. [redacted] said he should be contacted whenever FBI experts are to enter the offices of the AG or DAG so that he can arrange for these officials to be absent from their offices at the time sweep is made.

[redacted] was advised that due to the nature of the request and the offices involved, a memorandum setting forth the Department's request should be addressed to the Director for his consideration. [redacted] stated he would submit a formal request.

Earl Thomas, Chief, Division of Compliance, Department of the Interior, telephoned this afternoon to state there has been a leak in a telephone call between Secretary Hickel and the White House. He asked that we check the Secretary's telephones and said Secret Service is making an immediate check of the White House phones.

Thomas reported that Secretary Hickel talked with Mr. Ehrlichman at the White House on the evening of 5/7/70 and discussed his reasons for addressing the letter to the President which has received such wide-spread publicity (this letter urged the President to pay heed to the voice of youth). Matters discussed in this telephone call appear on page one of the "New York Times," 5/8/70. Secretary Hickel has requested that his telephones be examined and the White House is having the Secret Service conduct a similar examination. The Laboratory advises that they can conduct the requested survey if the Director approves.

ACTION:

If approved, the Laboratory will promptly examine telephone equipment in the office of the Interior Secretary Hickel.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEYS OFFICE OF
SECRETARY OF HEALTH, EDUCATION,

In accordance with a Bureau-approved request from Frederick H. Schmidt (Director of Security at HEW and former Special Agent), on 5/21 and 22/70 FBI Laboratory personnel conducted a microphone and telephone security survey in the office of Secretary Robert H. Finch on the basis of availability of facilities arranged by Schmidt. In keeping with the latter's request, countermeasure devices (to prevent telephones from being used as microphones) were installed in the Secretary's instruments, and the microphone check was limited to places of most likely concealment.

No evidence of microphone or telephone eavesdropping devices was found.

The check included the large office and two small rooms used personally by the Secretary, nine office lines, two White House lines, and eight telephone instruments.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Liaison Section advise Mr. Frederick H. Schmidt of the results of the microphone and telephone survey. Schmidt is aware of the installation of countermeasure devices in the Secretary's telephone instruments.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY, OFFICE OF
SECRETARY OF COMMERCE MAURICE H. STANS

By letter to the Director dated 5/26/70, Joseph M. Kelly, Director of Investigations and Security, Department of Commerce, advised that on 6/15/70 Secretary Stans was moving into temporary office space (for about four months while his regular space is renovated). The Secretary inquired as to whether it would be possible for FBI personnel to make a security survey of his new space for both clandestine microphones and wiretaps. Kelly is a former Special Agent and the Bureau's principal liaison contact on investigative and personnel matters at Commerce.

The Bureau has conducted similar checks for various Secretaries of Commerce in the past, and with the Director's approval made a survey of the office and residence telephone facilities of Secretary Stans shortly after he took office.

ACTION:

If approved, FBI Laboratory personnel will make a microphone and telephone security survey in the office of the Secretary of Commerce at a time arranged through Joseph M. Kelly.

Security of Telephone Service

By 5/28/70 memorandum to you, I reported that Joseph M. Kelly (former SA), Director of Investigations and Security, Department of Commerce, had advised that Secretary Stans had inquired whether the FBI could make a microphone and telephone security survey of the temporary space he was occupying while his regular office is being renovated. The request was approved.

On 6/22 and 6/23/70, the earliest dates arranged by Mr. Kelly, FBI Laboratory personnel made the requested survey in the temporary office of Secretary Stans, Room 5132 at the Commerce Department. At Mr. Kelly's request, the microphone survey was limited to the most likely places of concealment, in order to preclude the necessity of damaging building surfaces. The telephone survey involved two instruments and six lines, with inspection of the terminal appearances being made in the Secretary's office, in telephone company exchanges, and at all points of access outside of the above-mentioned locations.

No evidence of clandestine listening devices was observed at the time of the survey. Mr. Kelly was not advised of the results.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Liaison Section of the Domestic Intelligence Division advise Mr. Joseph M. Kelly of the results of the above survey.

By letter to the Director dated 8/28/70, Joseph M. Kelly, Director of Investigations and Security, Department of Commerce, advised that during the evening of 8/27/70 forcible entry was made into the suite of offices of Secretary of Commerce, Maurice H. Stans. Because of the possibility that entry was made for the purpose of installing a clandestine listening device in the Secretary's Office, it was requested that Bureau personnel conduct a security survey of this space. The Director approved this request.

On 9/2/70, FBI Laboratory personnel completed the requested survey in the office of Secretary Stans. No evidence of clandestine listening devices was observed at the time of this survey. Mr. Kelly advised he would appreciate a written reply as to the results. A suggested letter to Mr. Kelly is attached.

As the Bureau is aware, the telephone facilities and office space of the Niagara Falls Resident Agency have been checked since early 1969, on a bimonthly basis by Buffalo's soundman (a Resident Agent assigned in Rochester, New York) to insure the security of these facilities.

The frequency of these checks was occasioned by the concentrated drive against Organized Crime in Western New York, as it was felt extraordinary efforts were necessary to prevent any penetration of our operations by those already arrested or under investigation. Evidence over the years indicated they are entirely capable of such activities to promote their own activities and to hinder prosecution.

During the past 18 months, these additional and special checks have failed to detect any indication of intrusion or any attempt at intrusion of the Niagara Falls Resident Agency. While concentrated investigation continues to be directed against Organized Crime in this area, it is apparent these checks have consumed substantial time of the soundman, which might better be directed to other matters. dw

The security of the office remains a major consideration, however, in the interests of economy, without jeopardizing security, I have instructed that future security checks of the Niagara Falls Agency be conducted quarterly on a strictly unannounced and unscheduled basis.

Because of additional concentration of efforts in the field of Organized Crime in the Rochester, New York, Resi-

Telephone security checks

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Last February 1, two of your experts made a telephone security check in my office. I was most appreciative of your kindness and cooperation in doing this, for I was quite troubled at the possibility of information leaks. The result eased my mind considerably at that time. Now, however, I am again concerned, not only about the telephone security in my office, but also in the offices of Mr. Fred Rhodes, my Deputy Administrator, Mr. Rufus Wilson, my Associate Deputy, and [redacted] my Special Assistant. These key VA officials and I share information which is highly sensitive and confidential, even though not classified. They act for me in my absence. We use the telephone extensively and we cannot tolerate any electronic surveillances.

b7c

I would be very grateful if you would recheck my telephones, and also examine those in the offices of the three officials mentioned above. Although I realize that you have a heavy workload and many commitments, I have no other source so reliable and helpful to whom I can turn. We are continually appreciative of our long-standing excellent relations with the FBI. So long as I am the VA Administrator, we will support you and the important work at your Bureau.

If you can accommodate my request, Mr. MacDonald, telephone Code 148, Extension 2641, can make whatever arrangements you desire. I will appreciate your consideration.

I might add that I have read your provocative monthly message re assaults on police officers in the October 1970 FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, and I thoroughly agree with your views.

Sincerely,

Donald E. Johnson

My dear Mr. Chairman:

In keeping with the telephonic request from your office on November 30, 1970, a security survey of your telephone facilities at the Rayburn House Office Building has been made by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Reference is made to memorandum J. P. Mohr to Mr. Tolson dated 11/30/70 setting forth a request by [Redacted], Congressman Rooney's Administrative Assistant, for a security survey of the telephone service in the Congressman's office.

b6

On 12/1/70, SA's [Redacted] Wilbur G. Stevens conducted this survey. No evidence of tampering was observed.

In connection with this survey, inquiry was made of [Redacted] repair foreman of the C & P Telephone Company, assigned to the Rayburn Building, regarding any special telephone company activities currently taking place in the Rayburn Building. [Redacted] advised that a project is in progress to verify all telephone lines which run from the individual Congressmen's offices to terminations within the building. This is being done in order to facilitate a more orderly changeover of telephone service brought about by biennial elections in Congress. [Redacted] stated that this verification process has now been completed in the Rayburn Building.

[Redacted] Administrative Assistant to Congressman Rooney, was advised that no tampering was observed of the Congressman's telephone service. She was also informed of the line verification procedures conducted by the telephone company, it being noted that the unusual activities of a telephone man in the Congressman's office 11/25/70 raised concern regarding security of Chairman Rooney's telephone lines.

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE CHECK
OFFICE OF CONGRESSMAN JOHN J. ROONEY
 (Democrat - New York)

_____ Congressman Rooney's Administrative

Assistant, called me this morning and stated that an alleged telephone man came in to the office on Wednesday, November 25, 1970, stating he was from the telephone company and desired to check the Congressman's lines to the main box so they would be able to identify the circuits if and when the Congressman's Office was moved.

_____ told me she failed to ask the man for credentials; however, she was present during the time he was in the office and she observed him dismantling one of the phones. She noted when he left the office that he did not proceed to any other Congressman's office, which made her suspicious. She also stated that Chairman Rooney has no intention of moving from his present location in the Rayburn Building.

She stated she became so concerned about the matter that she mentioned it to Chairman Rooney and he instructed her to call me and request that the FBI check the telephones in his office to see whether they have been tampered with.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Laboratory promptly arrange to check the telephones in Chairman Rooney's Office to determine whether they are in proper working order or whether they have been tampered with.

By letter to the Director dated 1/25/71, Nathaniel E. Kossack, Inspector General of the Department of Agriculture (former Special Agent) advised that Secretary Hardin expects to move from his present residence in Sumner, Maryland, to his new residence in Kenwood, Maryland, during the first week in February. Kossack stated that it would be helpful if Bureau personnel could (1) make a security check of the telephone facilities at the new residence and also (2) install countermeasure devices in the telephones (to prevent their being used as microphones to pick up room conversation).

With the Director's approval, in February 1969, we previously made a residence telephone security survey and countermeasure installation for Secretary Hardin. Inspector General Kossack has been most cooperative on investigative matters with the Bureau.

ACTION:

If approved, FBI Laboratory personnel will contact the Inspector General's office and make the necessary arrangements to do the telephone security work at Secretary Hardin's new residence.

Security of Telephone Services

FROM : J. A. Sizoo

SUBJECT: SECURITY CHECK OF [redacted] OFFICE

[redacted] in charge of the Internal Security Division, called today and said that he was desirous, if possible, of having a check made of his telephones and a sweep of his office space to be sure that his telephone lines are not tapped and that no hidden microphone is planted in his office.

[redacted] is very security conscious and during the past few weeks has instituted several changes for the purpose of improving the security of the space being used by the Internal Security Division. In this connection, it might be noted that the Internal Security Division obtains most of its information from the FBI, and therefore, any steps to improve the security of that division result in greater security with reference to our reports, information and cases.

It would, therefore, appear that it would be to our interest as well as the interest of the Internal Security Division of the Department to be sure there has been no penetration of [redacted] office space, and it is believed it would be desirable that the Laboratory make the necessary arrangements to check the telephones and the space occupied by [redacted] office. It is contemplated that such a search would relate only to [redacted] own office and not to space occupied by other representatives of the Internal Security Division.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Laboratory make the security check of [redacted] office as requested.

SUBJECT: REQUEST OF DEPUTY AG KLEINDIENST

At 6:10 p.m., last night, Deputy AG Kleindienst called me. He said he wanted me to convey to the Director some requests from the Attorney General. These requests are as follows:

*Memo to Mr. Conrad for Mr. Conrad
JAM:sdj 2/2/71*

1. The Attorney General would like the FBI to check the telephone in his office and in the office of his secretary, and also "sweep" that same area for any possible electronic devices which may have been installed.

He would like to have this done on Friday evening, 1/29/71, after he leaves at about 6:15 p.m. A check is to be first made with [redacted] so that she will arrange to have the alarm turned off when the men enter the space.

2. The Deputy AG advised that the Attorney General would like the same thing done in Kleindienst's office, also on Friday evening, 1/29, after work when the office help have departed. In this case the contact person will be Mr. Harlington Wood, Jr., Associate Deputy Attorney General.

Mr. Kleindienst's home is also to be checked in the same manner. He will be away, but his wife will be home, and they would like to have this done on Friday, 1/29, during the day when the children are at school.

3. The Attorney General would like to have the office of Dr. Henry Kissinger at the White House, as well as Kissinger's home, also checked for any kind of electronic devices which may have been installed. The contact to work through in this case is Mr. Russell Ash, former Bureau Agent, now in Dr. Kissinger's office, and who can be trusted absolutely.

My suggestion is that after this work has been done the Director, either personally or on the telephone, tell the Attorney General of the results and he, in turn, could transmit them to the proper person.

Security of Telephone Services

SUBJECT: REQUEST OF DEPUTY AG KLEINDIENST FOR ELECTRONIC CHECKS.

NATHAN

The Director approved Mr. Sullivan's 1/26/71 memorandum to Mr. Tolson in which Mr. Sullivan reported that Attorney General John N. Mitchell and Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst had requested: (1) Microphone and telephone security surveys of the office of the Attorney General; (2) Microphone and telephone security surveys of the office and residence of Deputy Attorney General Kleindienst; and (3) Microphone and telephone security surveys of the office and residence of Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger.

Mr. Harlington Wood, Jr., Associate Deputy Attorney General, who was designated to handle arrangements for the Justice Department officials, advised SA [redacted] on 1/29/71 that the request for the surveys in the Attorney General's office was being canceled until renewed by Mrs. Kleindienst or Mr. Wood at a later date. Arrangements for the surveys for Dr. Kissinger were made on 1/29/71 with [redacted] Appointments Secretary, at which time he advised that a microphone security check should be done in Dr. Kissinger's Office, and the telephone check should be limited to the confines of the office. At the request of both Mr. Wood and [redacted] the microphone security surveys were limited to those places where listening devices would most likely be concealed.

FBI Laboratory personnel conducted the requested surveys on 1/29-30/71 and 2/1/71. No evidence of concealed listening devices or tampering with telephone facilities was detected at the time of the checks. Only Bureau personnel has been advised of the above results.

RECOMMENDATION:

1 FEB 8 1971

That Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst and Assistant to the President, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger be verbally advised of the above results of the microphone and telephone security surveys of their offices and residences.

[redacted] said she would like for us to come around the 24th, that he (the Attorney General) will be away then. She further stated they are having some telephone renovations done around the 16th and it should be done after that. I said all right, suppose we set it for the 25th. She said all right, he will be gone. I said I will have our Chief of the Laboratory contact her personally on the 25th and arrange to do that.

I called Dr. Henry Kissinger at the White House and told him I didn't want to send this by letter; that we had checked for wiretaps and microphones in his office and his home and we had found nothing. He thanked me.

I told Dr. Kissinger if there is anything he wants us to do, anything he needs, just to let me know. He said he appreciated that very much and wanted to tell me again how much he appreciates everything I personally and my office have done for them. He said he would not want to imagine the government without me. I said I appreciated that very much coming from him.

Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst returned my earlier call to him. I advised him that I wanted to let him know, I didn't want to put this in a memorandum, that we had checked his office and his home for any possible wiretaps and found nothing. Mr. Kleindienst thanked me.

I said I had also advised Dr. Henry Kissinger that we had done the same for him and found nothing.

I told Mr. Kleindienst that the check for the Attorney General (John N. Mitchell) was rescinded by Mr. Wood. Mr. Kleindienst said he understood this was done on an extensive basis last October and asked if I think it necessary to do again now. I answered with these jackals now, I wouldn't put anything past them. I told him about the Jack Anderson column in this morning's Washington Post, in which Anderson related information gathered by Charles Elliott to the effect that I had consulted Dr. Marshall de G. Ruffin, a psychiatrist. I said I had been undecided whether to sue him for libel or not. Mr. Kleindienst said, if he spelled my name right, to leave it alone. I also mentioned the Life Magazine reporter and [redacted] who, for the last two years, has been digging into all kinds of things about the Bureau and myself, that he wrote an article about former Agent [redacted]

EX-111 REC 11 62-97308-545 FEB 9 1971

I mentioned that I sent down to him (Kleindienst) a draft of a letter to send to Senator (George S.) McGovern. I related briefly the background of the [redacted] matter, that he was attending John Jay College, wrote a critical letter to a professor, was suspended, put on probation and transferred from New York to Butte, that he resigned and I accepted his resignation with prejudice on the basis that he had used atrocious judgment. I said I wasn't going to allow a member of our organization to indulge in such behavior. I told Mr. Kleindienst that one of his assistants asked us to prepare an answer to McGovern's letter. Mr. Kleindienst asked if that would be coming down before 11:30, and I said I had already sent it out.

While discussing other matters with Congressman Bow today, I mentioned to him again the subject matter that he had previously brought up with me, namely having a technical check made of his office in the Capitol and his office in the Rayburn Building. I told him that we planned to have a technical check made of the Subcommittee hearing room and that if it was O. K. with him, we could check his offices as well. He said that was just fine and that if he was not in town during the George Washington holiday when we planned the check, we could get in touch with his private [redacted] or his administrative assistant, [redacted]. He said they would have keys to the offices and he requested that we check both his office in the Capitol, Room H323 and his office in the Rayburn Building, suite 2182.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that when the Laboratory makes the check of the hearing room that they also check the offices of Congressman Bow.

While discussing other matters with [redacted] Clerk of our House Appropriations Subcommittee, he indicated that the Chairman would appreciate it if the Director could arrange to have the hearing room in which he gives his testimony surveyed for any listening devices as we have done in past years. [redacted] pointed out that the best time to do this, he felt, would be during the forthcoming Lincoln-George Washington Holidays recess from February 10 to February 17.

[redacted] stated also that [redacted] Director of the Professional and Clerical Staff, had asked him to get in touch with the writer at the instructions of Chairman Mahon to see if the Defense Subcommittee Room and the Main Committee Room of the Appropriations Committee could be surveyed during the recess period mentioned above. It was pointed out that the Director has approved similar surveys in past years at the request of Chairman Mahon. The Laboratory Division has advised that personnel is available without conflict in other commitments to perform these surveys, should the Director approve. The security survey for Chairman Bow's offices will be coordinated and handled at the same time.

RECOMMENDATION:

If the Director approves, arrangements will be made with [redacted] and [redacted] to conduct these surveys during the recess period.

Security of Telephone Services

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise of an inquiry received from the captioned Committee as to whether the Bureau would desire to make a security "sweep" of the space occupied by the Committee in the Internal Security Division of the Department to make certain no listening devices are found.

This morning Mr. John F. Doherty, Executive Director of the captioned Committee, contacted me and advised that the space which will be occupied by the staff of the Intelligence Evaluation Committee is almost ready for occupancy. This space is located on the 4th floor of the same building in which the Domestic Intelligence Division is located (9th and D Streets, Northwest) and is part of the overall space occupied by the Internal Security Division of the Department. Mr. Doherty stated that since much of the information which will come into the hands of the Committee will be in the nature of communications intelligence data which bears the highest security classification and security protection, it will be necessary to give the space a thorough security "sweep" both physically and electronically.

Mr. Doherty stated that he is able to obtain the services of other members of the Committee (Defense Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency, and Central Intelligence Agency) to handle this security check but he did not want to do so without first touching base with the FBI since we occupy space in the same building and accordingly may want to handle the job ourselves.

2/25 - Hold to see if anything further happens
3/4 Nothing new
3/11 Nothing new. No further action necessary gmm

Mr. Doherty was advised that the security check would not interfere with our own operations in the building and he should certainly feel free to contact one of the other agencies to make the check especially since he has knowledge of their availability to do so and in view of our own heavy workload.

Reference is made to the memorandum from M. A. Jones to Mr. Bishop dated 3/10/71, in which it is reported that Senator Robert C. Byrd, Senate Majority Whip, had inquired through Robert Dunphy, Senate Sergeant-at-Arms, whether the FBI would make a microphone security survey of the Senator's two personal offices in the Capitol and Senate Office Buildings. The Director approved.

Pursuant to arrangements made by [redacted] Special Agents Joseph B. Parsons and [redacted] of the FBI Laboratory made a microphone security survey of Senator Byrd's two offices on 3/17/71. Based on the decision of [redacted] one of two members of the Senator's staff who were aware of the survey request, the check was limited to those places where microphones would most likely be concealed, in order to minimize the possible necessity of damaging building surfaces. The work included the examination of 4 telephone instruments and 23 lines within the office space.

No evidence of any irregularities or eavesdropping devices was observed at the time of the survey. Neither the Senator nor any knowledgeable staff member was present at the completion of the survey so they could be advised of the results.

That Senator Robert C. Byrd be advised orally of the results of the survey by Inspector Bowers.

SUBJECT: SENATOR ROBERT C. BYRD
(D - W.VA.)

By request, [redacted] called on Robert Dunphy, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, on 3-10-71. Mr. Dunphy, with whom we have excellent relations, advised that Senator Byrd had asked Dunphy to make a check of the Senator's offices for any wiretaps and/or listening devices. Mr. Dunphy stated he has arrangements with the telephone company whereby checks can be made for wiretaps; however, he does not have any capability for checking offices for microphones and other such devices. He stated he had so informed Senator Byrd who then asked him if he would see if the FBI would make this check for him.

Security Surveys

Senator Byrd recently defeated Senator Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.) for the position of Majority Whip of the Senate. We have enjoyed a very friendly relationship with Senator Byrd who has come to our defense on a number of occasions. Mr. Dunphy stated that the Senator is particularly concerned with his Whip office in view of the fact this space previously was occupied by Senator Kennedy and earlier by [redacted] hence, the possibility that some listening devices may have been planted in those days and are still in place.

B

We have in the past on a very select basis made such checks for friendly Senators and Congressmen and it is felt it would be appropriate to make this check for Senator Byrd.

SUBJECT: SECURITY OF TELEPHONE/FACILITIES - JUSTICE BUILDING

W. J. ...

All FBI telephone and teletype circuits from the telephone company central office come into the Justice Building by way of underground conduits and are terminated in the Justice Building telephone frame room on the second floor near the Great Hall. During previous periods of unrest, we insisted that [Redacted] Department of Justice Communications Manager, strengthen security of the second floor frame room which is under control of the Justice Department proper. Additional security precautions were taken, at our insistence, by installing new locks on frame room doors, putting shatter-proof panels over the glass doors, and by installing alarms on these doors. Additionally, the pull boxes in the corridors of the entire building were checked to insure they could be locked and are kept locked.

b7C

[Redacted] has advised these security precautions remain in effect. He also advised he had the telephone company spot-weld the man-hole covers accessing the underground conduits between the Justice Building and the telephone company central office. They have also been sealed with a plastic compound around all openings. This was done to preclude possibility of an automobile being stranded over a man-hole cover and by puncturing a gasoline tank, let gasoline drain into the man-hole which could then be set afire. [Redacted] also advised GSA will provide portable emergency power to the main frame room switching equipment on the second floor. The Bureau has its own emergency power to serve our fifth floor telephone frame room, if needed.

Q

It appears all reasonable measures have been taken to assure our telephone service will not be totally disrupted

Dear Mr. Chairman:

This is in response to your letter of August 2, 1973, requesting information relating to FBI operations in the United States Court House in Gainesville, Florida, on July 31, 1973.

To determine whether FBI Agents had wire tapped or were attempting to wire tap the telephones of defendants' counsel in the case of United States v. Briggs, or that these same Agents had overheard or were attempting to overhear conversations of defense counsel, District Judge Winston E. Arnow conducted a prompt evidentiary hearing at the conclusion of which he made the following ruling:

"In connection with the hearing I am not going to permit or require any argument. The matter is clear to me that there is no basis here for belief that there has been electronic surveillance on the part of anyone connected with this case. Certainly what has been brought forth here tonight establishes no basis for it on the part of the defendants and in my judgment what has been brought forth in evidence here by defendants establishes no basis for belief that there has been any such in connection with these defendants' telephones. Without requiring, or as I say permitting, any argument, that is my holding, that is my ruling and that is the decision. This hearing is adjourned."

Honorable Sam J. Ervin, Jr.

I am satisfied that there has been no invasion of the privacy of defendants or their counsel in this case, and no misconduct on the part of the FBI Agents involved.

I can assure you that I will continue to take whatever steps necessary to insure against abuses of discretion or authority by FBI Agents, and am indeed proud of the record of the FBI in this regard.

NOTE:

This refers to the incident involving two Agents of our Jacksonville Office who were discovered by the defense in this case on 7/31/73 in the process of checking the security of the telephone lines in our Gainesville Resident Agency. At the time Senator Ervin's letter was received this matter was in the process of being adjudicated in an evidentiary hearing. Because this case is pending before the U. S. District Court in Gainesville, we referred Senator Ervin's letter to the Department for appropriate reply. By routing slip from [redacted] of the Department, we received draft copies of replies to the Senator about which [redacted] commented that the Director had agreed with Attorney General to reply in this fashion.

W. H. Joy, Chief, General Services, Department of Justice, who is arranging the space for the special Cox staff, advised that Mr. Vorenberg wanted to have a statement from the FBI to the effect that the space at the above premises is as secure as FBI space in the Washington area.

Mr. Joy was advised that the Bureau could make no statement as to the security of the space as long as the space is still under modification and construction, but that upon completion of the modification work currently in progress, the Bureau would complete its survey and would consider at that time the nature of any statement which can properly be made.

We are in contact with the progress of the modification work on a daily basis and will submit a report as soon as possible after the physical modifications which Mr. Joy has arranged for have been completed.

Reference is made to memorandum W. W. Bradley to Mr. Conrad dated 6/4/73, concerning a meeting with Departmental and Special Watergate Committee personnel regarding security of above space.

On 6/6/73, Laboratory personnel visited this space in connection with the status of security measures being implemented, and completion of telephone service. On 6/7/73, this space was again visited by Laboratory personnel and at this time a discussion was held with [redacted] assistant to Wynn H. Joy, Chief of General Services for the Department of Justice, regarding expected completion of all renovation, security measures, and telephone services. It was explained to [redacted] that it would be inadvisable at this time to endeavor to perform a security survey of this suite of offices, inasmuch as all security measures had not been completed as well as the telephone service. [redacted] was in complete agreement and stated he would advise Mr. Joy of this.

Laboratory personnel will follow this activity at 1425 K Street until completion and at that time will conduct a complete security survey of this suite of offices.

Pursuant to request of [redacted] Director's Office, representatives of the Laboratory met on the afternoon of 6/1/73, with Departmental and Special Watergate Committee personnel concerning security of above space. In attendance at the meeting were Assistant Director I. W. Conrad and SA's [redacted] and [redacted] of the Laboratory; William H. O'Donoghue, Director, Office of Administrative Services and Wynn H. Joy, Chief, General Services, of Department of Justice; and Messrs. [redacted] and [redacted] of the Special Watergate Committee.

Mr. Vorenberg indicated a high degree of security will be needed and asked if 100% security could be assured. After discussion it was agreed this, for many reasons, could not realistically be achieved. Mr. Vorenberg stated that security such as afforded FBI space in the Justice Building would suffice. Mr. Conrad expressed desire of FBI to be of all assistance possible, but pointed out the FBI's participation was in the area of examining for security weaknesses and suggesting corrective steps which might be taken.

Mr. Joy stated that recommended security measures are being implemented on a crash basis and that it is hoped space will be available for occupancy by Wednesday, June 6. Mr. Vorenberg stated he would request the FBI to make a microphone and telephone security survey of the above space prior to occupancy, probably on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 5.

SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR SECURITY SURVEYS ROOM H-310, CAPITOL BUILDING

While discussing other matters with [redacted] he indicated the Chairman would appreciate it if the Director would approve Bureau representatives conducting a security-type survey for clandestine listening devices as has been done in the past years. He stated that the subcommittee will commence hearings in the next couple of weeks and if it would be convenient any day this week would perhaps be best to accomplish this.

b6

I have checked with the Laboratory Division and they advised that personnel to conduct such a survey would be available on Wednesday, January 26, 1972, if this would be convenient for the subcommittee staff.

This is the hearing room in which the Director will appear in connection with our 1973 appropriation request and the tentative schedule calls for his appearance on Thursday, March 2, 1972. The Director in past years has approved this type of survey being made.

RECOMMENDATION:

That if the Director approves, [redacted] be informed that the requested survey will be conducted on Wednesday, January 26, 1972, if this is satisfactory with him.

By letter to the Director dated 2/4/72, Nathaniel E. Kossack, Inspector General of the Department of Agriculture (former Special Agent), advised that Dr. Butz is presently residing at Apartment [redacted]

b6

[redacted] He stated that it would be most helpful if Bureau personnel could conduct a security check of the telephone service at the Secretary's residence and install countermeasure devices in the telephones where appropriate, (to prevent them being used as microphones to pick up room conversation).

With the Director's approval, Bureau personnel have previously made residence telephone security surveys and countermeasure installations for various Secretaries of Agriculture, the last survey having been made for Secretary Hardin in February, 1971. It is suggested that the Bureau may wish to comply with the present request.

ACTION:

If approved, Bureau personnel will make the necessary arrangements with the Inspector General's office at the Department of Agriculture to do the telephone security work at Secretary Butz's residence.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY AND COUNTERMEASURES FOR RESIDENCE TELEPHONES OF SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE, DR. EARL L. BUTZ

Reference is made to my ²⁴³2/9/72 memorandum to you reporting a letter to the Director dated 2/4/72, from Nathaniel E. Kossack, Inspector General of the Department of Agriculture (former Special Agent) in which the latter requested a security survey by Bureau personnel of the telephone service in the residence of Secretary Butz in Washington, D. C. The Director approved.

Through arrangements made with Mr. Fred Hallford (former SAC), Assistant Inspector General in Mr. Kossack's office, personnel of the FBI Laboratory conducted the requested survey on 2/18/72 and 2/22/72. No evidence of eavesdropping or tampering with the telephone service was observed at the time of this check.

It should be noted that referenced letter from Inspector General Nathaniel E. Kossack, requested countermeasure devices be installed as appropriate. Mr. Hallford was advised orally on 2/22/72, that this was not done inasmuch as Secretary Butz is using the residence as temporary quarters, however, when the Secretary establishes a permanent residence in the Washington area, FBI personnel will be available to make the countermeasure installations as appropriate.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter be approved to Nathaniel E. Kossack, Inspector General, Department of Agriculture, reporting completion of the residence security survey for Secretary of Agriculture, Dr. Earl L. Butz.

SUBJECT: NOISE ON DIRECTOR'S
TELEPHONE LINE

Handwritten: Teke phone Security Check

Handwritten: W. W. Bradley, W. W. Fisher, etc.

With regard to the noise experienced Saturday, 4/8/72, on a telephone call from Mr. Felt to the Director through the Bureau switchboard, immediately following the call in question representatives from the Laboratory working with personnel of Files and Communications Division thoroughly checked all of the switchboard equipment involved and ascertained that the Bureau switchboard equipment was all operating normally and properly. It is noted that when calls are placed to the Emerson number at the Director's residence, these calls necessarily have to be routed by telephone company equipment through two separate switching centers, namely, the National and the Woodley exchanges. It is concluded that for the call in question there was probably a temporary malfunction such as a poor contact at one of these switching centers. This conclusion is supported by the fact that when the call was re-established by the operator the problem did not recur. Similarly, subsequent test calls placed to and from the Director's residence through these switching centers failed to result in a recurrence. However, the phone company rechecking operation of its equipment in an effort to prevent further possible temporary malfunction, and Laboratory representatives are completing a security check of the Director's and Mr. Felt's lines.

Handwritten: Lab check complete 4-12-72 WWB - negative -

It is noted that the Director also has available in his residence, in addition to the Emerson dial phone, a direct manual telephone to the Bureau switchboard. Over this direct manual extension, merely lifting the telephone to the Director's ear automatically signals the Bureau operator and she will acknowledge the call by saying "Operator" and thereafter comply with the Director's desire in establishing or transferring a call. This direct manual extension, although routed through the same two exchanges as the other line, does not involve the use of telephone company switching equipment, since it is permanently wired through direct to the Director's residence. It would, therefore, not be subject to temporary malfunctioning of switching equipment. (Both the Emerson dial number and the manual extension would, of course, still be subject to possible noise on the line due to telephone company cable problems such as water seeping into the telephone cable during adverse weather conditions, icing of overhead line, and the like.)

It is noted that telephone company representatives have advised us informally and confidentially that they are experiencing some increased maintenance problems, because of the increasing difficulty in securing and retaining competent maintenance personnel.

ACTION:

The Laboratory and Files and Communications Divisions will continue to impress upon the telephone company the need for the highest possible maintenance on the Director's and other officials' lines; however, it is suggested that if future difficulty is experienced on the Emerson line, the trouble possibly may be cleared by having the operator re-establish the call over the Emerson line as was done in the current instance or the Director may wish to consider going to the direct manual extension for the completion of the call or providing any necessary instruction.

STONINGTON, CONN.

On 5-16-72 a security check of the telephone service assigned to the residence of Director L. PATRICK GRAY, III, Findlay Way, Stonington, was conducted. As a result thereof, the following information was ascertained:

Telephone number [REDACTED] is assigned to Director GRAY. Telephone number [REDACTED] is assigned to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] who also resides in the aforementioned residence.

A review of cable assignment records within the New London, Conn., Office., Southern New England Telephone Co., (SNETCO), revealed the following:

Telephone number [REDACTED] (Director GRAY's telephone) works off of telephone pair number 1227 within cable number 30. The telephone drop wire (which actually appears within the Director's home) runs from a pedestal underground from the head of the driveway on Findlay Way, Stonington, Conn., to the Director's home. The drop wire runs out of the ground in the northwest corner of the residence and enters the residence through the side of the building with about one foot of drop wire exposed at the point of entrance. Multiple appearances for this service are located as follows:

Pole number 3226, Stonington Rd., Stonington, Conn., binding post number 2.

With respect to the telephone number [redacted] assigned to [redacted] the following is noted:

This service also appears within the pedestal at the head of the driveway on [redacted] and proceeds underground to Director GRAY's residence through telephone pair number 1228 in cable number 30. This pair (number 1228) and the Director's service (pair number 1227) are transmitted to the residence by means of a two pair buried drop wire. As previously mentioned, this two pair wire comes out of the ground at the northwest corner of the house and about one foot of the wire is exposed before it enters the side of the wall at the residence.

Multiple appearances of telephone number [redacted] [redacted] appear on pole number 3226, [redacted] [redacted] binding post number 3 on pole number 3258, [redacted] binding post number 3, and on pole number 829 [redacted] binding post number 28.

Observation of the telephone service within the residence reveals that the telephone drop lines enter the home in a crawl space and are disseminated within the residence in the crawl space and basement areas. Telephone instruments within the home are as follows:

One series 2500 D touch tone telephone instrument is located in the downstairs entry way. This telephone is assigned to Director GRAY. One 2500 D series touch tone telephone is located in the second story bedroom. This instrument is also assigned to Director GRAY. One Trimline touch tone telephone instrument is located in the first floor den, likewise, this instrument is assigned to the Director.

NH 66-704

A touch tone Trimline instrument working off of telephone number [redacted] is located within the bedroom of [redacted] the Director's mother-in-law.

b6

The aforementioned telephone service appears on the telephone main frame at the Mystic-Stonington Office, SNETCO, located on Pequot Trail, Stonington. This service appears on cable number 30, pairs 1227 and 1228 on the telephone main frame.

Physical examination of all of the telephone appearances mentioned above and of the telephone service located within the Director's residence revealed that it is in good order and there is no evidence it has been tampered with. The following recommendations have been made to the telephone company for added security of this service and [redacted] Conn., has stated that the recommended changes will be performed and completed by 5-22-72.

- 1) Remove all multiple appearances located on poles numbered 3226, 3258, 892, mentioned above.
- 2) Since the drop wire is exposed at the bottom of the pedestal, it is recommended that the pedestal be lowered into the ground and that a lock be affixed to it, in order to prevent tampering with the service.
- 3) The drop line serving the residence must be protected where it emerges from the ground and enters the Director's residence. Approximately one foot of the wire is exposed at this point and the service could be terminated by cutting the wire where it emerges from the ground. This situation will also be remedied by the telephone company.

NH 66-704

The SNETCO representative [redacted] has stated that two additional telephone lines are available for installation in the Director's home if needed. These lines (telephone conductors) are being reserved; however, it should be noted that installation of them would require digging trenches from the pedestal located at the head of the driveway to the residence, a distance of approximately 150 yards across an established lawn.

Use of the RF probe failed to reveal the existence of extraneous radio frequency within the residence.

SUBJECT: CONGRESSMAN JAMES G. O'HARA (D-MICH.)

At 5:45 p. m. on 6-21-72 Congressman O'Hara telephonically spoke with Inspector Bowers and stated he is Chairman of the Rules Committee, Democratic National Convention. He stated that in view of recent events; i. e., the break-in at the Democratic National Headquarters and the earlier break-in at the office of Patricia Harris, Chairman of the Credentials Committee, Democratic National Convention, he felt it might be mutually beneficial to him and the FBI to have his office checked to determine if any "bugging" devices might be secreted there. He stated it would certainly be reassuring to him and he felt would be of interest to the FBI in connection with its investigation of the break-in at the Democratic National Headquarters. He said he assumed we also were interested in the break-in on 5-18-72 at the office of the law firm of Freed, Frank, Harris, Shriver, and Kampelman located on the tenth floor of the Watergate since this also is the office of Patricia Harris, Chairman of the Credentials Committee. The Congressman stated he uses his Congressional Office at 2241 Rayburn House Office Building for his activities as Chairman of the Democratic National Convention Rules Committee. He said he has no specific reason to feel his office has been broken into or tampered with but there appears to be a possible pattern of break-ins involving offices of ranking officials of the Democratic Party, and, for this reason, he thinks a check of his office would be wise. The Congressman was told that a check would be made concerning his request and he would be recontacted.

Per Mr. Hays's instructions, Cong. O'Hara advised on 6-21-72 (he not available earlier) that we would arrange for phone company to check his phone and we will check his office with our monitoring available arrangements for checks can be made with his Colm. Capt. Gene Jacks. DWA.

Mr. Gray has made inquiry concerning the status of security surveys being conducted by the Bureau at the Democratic and Republican National Committee Headquarters and for other locations as set forth below:

(1) DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE HEADQUARTERS:

This survey has been completed and a report submitted by memorandum dated 7/3/72. No tampering of telephone services or listening devices were observed at the time the survey was conducted.

(2) DEMOCRATIC CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE:

At the request of Mr. Greig, it was originally planned to conduct this survey along with the survey of the Democratic National Committee Headquarters. We were given the name of [redacted] Chairman of the Committee, as the person to contact to make arrangements for access to her space. We have repeatedly tried to contact [redacted] at her office and have been unable to talk to her. On each call, we left a name and telephone number for her to call but she has not returned our calls. Today, her secretary arranged an appointment with [redacted] for 10:00 a.m., 7/5/72, and we expect to begin the survey at that time. It will be completed as rapidly as she provides access to her space.

b6

(3) COMMITTEE TO RE-ELECT PRESIDENT NIXON:

This survey has been started and will resume at 4:00 p.m., 7/5/72. It was felt that in view of the break-in at the Democratic National Headquarters, a survey of that area should be conducted first. Now that we have completed the Democratic Headquarters survey, we will concentrate our efforts on completing the surveys for this Committee and the Republican National Headquarters at the earliest possible date.

(4) REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE HEADQUARTERS:

A preliminary survey has been conducted at this location and a full sweep of the entire area will be made upon completion of the survey now being made for the Committee to Re-elect President Nixon.

(5)

With regard to Mr. Gray's inquiry regarding White House security surveys, it is noted that many years ago we were asked to conduct security surveys at the White House on occasion. In recent years, the White House has established its own security detail to conduct its own sweeps. However, we have, in one or two instances, made checks of limited areas under unusual conditions and upon specific request. For example, approximately two years ago, a survey was conducted of Doctor Kissinger's Office at his request.

(6)

Mr. Gray also inquired as to what we know concerning wiretaps made by the Metropolitan Police Department. Except as set out below, to the best of our knowledge the Bureau is not advised concerning wiretaps placed by the Metropolitan Police. The Domestic Intelligence Division, the General Investigative Division, and the Special Investigative Division have been contacted and they report that they are not normally advised by Metropolitan Police concerning wiretaps installed by the police. Washington Field Office was also contacted and SAC Kunkel advised that no formal notification procedure exists; however, that on occasions involving Title III wiretaps by Metropolitan Police, a police department representative may advise informally a supervisor in Washington Field as a matter of coordination.

ACTION:

The security surveys scheduled will be closely followed and will be completed as rapidly as the space is made available for this purpose.

Reference is made to memorandum, M. A. Jones to Mr. Bishop dated 6/28/72, stating that Mr. Gray had instructed that arrangements should be made with the telephone company to conduct a security check of telephones in the office space of Senator Robert P. In accordance with arrangements made by the Laboratory the C & P Telephone Company of Washington, D. C. completed a survey of the telephone services in the Senator's offices on 7/11/72. (Earliest telephone company could make survey.)

On 7/12/72, personnel of the FBI Laboratory completed a security survey of Senator Griffin's office in the Capitol Building Room S229 and his suite of offices in the Old Senate Office Building. No evidence of any irregularities was observed at the time of these surveys.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter to Senator Griffin reporting the results of these security surveys on 7/11/72 and 7/12/72, be approved.

By letter dated 7/12/72, the SAC, Tampa division advised that the U. S. Attorney's (USA) office in Tampa, Florida, requested by letter 7/10/72, that a security survey be conducted of the USA office space by technically trained Agents of the Tampa FBI office. The SAC at Tampa recommends this be done.

The Bureau has in the past, upon recommendation of the SAC, authorized security surveys for U. S. Attorneys, judges, etc., to be conducted by local sound trained Agents. The Laboratory feels that the Tampa division should honor this request and conduct a security survey for the U. S. Attorney's office in Tampa, Florida.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Tampa office be telephonically advised to conduct a security survey in the U. S. Attorney's office at Tampa, Florida, and advise the Bureau by letter when this has been completed.

SECURITY OF TELEPHONE LINES

Transmitted herewith is copy of letter dated 7/10/72 received from AUSA HUGH H. SMITH, U. S. Attorney's Office, Tampa, Florida.

Mr. SMITH, among other duties, has the responsibility of security of space occupied by USA's Office in the U. S. Courthouse Building in Tampa. It will be noted that we have been handling a large number of Organized-Crime type cases, and it is not inconceivable that someone might be interested in tapping in on the lines of the USA's Office to find out what plans or action they had in mind.

I respectfully recommend that the Bureau authorize us to have one of our technical-trained Agents check the telephone lines in the USA's Office as a cooperative measure.

Pursuant to oral instructions, on 6/30/72, a security survey was completed of the Democratic National Committee Headquarters, 2600 Virginia Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. During the course of this work, nothing was found to warrant defacing or mutilating the walls or ceilings in order to complete the survey.

At the time of the initial contact with Stanley Greig, Deputy Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, it was determined that temporary space had been occupied on the first and fifth floor, however, on Greig's recommendation the survey was confined to the sixth floor, which is the permanent quarters for this committee.

No evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering of the telephone service was observed at the time of this check.

No representative of the Democratic National Committee has been advised of the results of this survey.

Telephone Security Checks

Fran Westner, Office Manager for Congressman McCollister, telephonically contacted Inspector Bowers on 8-10-72 and advised that in the last few days the Congressman's offices in Omaha, Nebraska, and Washington apparently have been entered by unauthorized personnel and some of their files gone through. She said this has caused them considerable concern, particularly since the Congressman is presently involved in a campaign for reelection and they feel it would be prudent on their part to have some checks made for possible telephone taps and/or "bugs" in their offices in Washington and Omaha. She inquired as to whether or not the FBI could handle these checks for the Congressman. She was advised that the telephone company is the proper party to check the security of the telephone lines and was told that we have a very limited number of personnel who can handle security checks of offices and that a check would be made to determine if personnel would be available to make the security survey of the Congressman's offices. She asked if we could make the necessary arrangements with the telephone company.

Enclosed is a teletype from the Omaha Office of 8-9-72 concerning the unauthorized entry into the Congressman's Omaha office on 8-7-72. This reveals that constituent correspondence index files apparently had been looked through. There was no indication that anything had been taken. This shows also that the Washington office had been entered the same date (8-7-72) and apparently constituent files also entered.

Our relations with Congressman McCollister have been cordial. He is serving his first term in Congress.

RECOMMENDATION:

Telephone security checks

Reference is made to memorandum M. A. Jones to Mr. Bishop 8/10/72, in which it was reported that Fran Westner of Congressman McCollister's staff had telephonically contacted Inspector Bowers and advised that the Congressman's offices in Omaha, Nebraska, and Washington, D. C. had been entered by unauthorized personnel and certain files had been pilfered. Because of this the Congressman felt that a security survey should be conducted of his offices in Omaha, Nebraska and Washington, D. C. and asked if we could arrange to have this done. This was approved by the Acting Director.

In accordance with arrangements made by the Laboratory the C & P Telephone Co. and the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. completed survey of the telephone facilities in the offices of the Congressman in Washington, D. C. and Omaha, Nebraska, on 8/15/72. They reported no evidence of tampering.

On 8/16/72, personnel of the FBI Laboratory and technically trained Agents of the Omaha field division completed security surveys of these offices. No evidence of any irregularities was observed at the time of these surveys.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter to Congressman McCollister reporting the results of these security surveys on 8/15/72, and 8/16/72, be approved.

SUBJECT: CONGRESSMAN E.G. SHUSTER (R. - PA.)

[Redacted]

Congressman Shuster, contacted Bowers on the morning of 2/21/73 and advised the Congressman's district office in the Penn Alto Hotel, Altoona, Pennsylvania, had been broken into the night before, the lock being broken on the door. He stated so far as they have been able to determine, nothing was taken although there are several items of value in the office. He stated because there apparently was nothing taken in the breakin, the Congressman fears that it might have been a cover for the placing of a listening device in his office. He stated the Congressman has been engaged in a running battle with a local newspaper and he feels this paper might well attempt to plant some type of device in his office.

[Redacted]

[Redacted] stated the Congressman wanted the FBI, if possible, to check his office in Altoona for any possible listening devices. The Laboratory has advised that there is personnel assigned to the Pittsburgh Office which covers Altoona, capable of making such a check. We have on occasions in the past made such checks for Members of Congress. Congressman Shuster is serving his first term and we have had two contacts with him since he took office in January, both of which have been friendly.

RECOMMENDATION:

That in view of the nature of the specific request, we make this check of the Congressman's office and that this be referred to the Pittsburgh Laboratory so that appropriate instructions may be given to the Pittsburgh Office.

SECURITY SURVEY;
ATTORNEY GENERAL'S RESIDENCE

On March 2, 1973, a survey was made of your residence for the possible presence of surreptitious listening devices and security against clandestine or forced entry.

A. SURREPTITIOUS LISTENING DEVICES

No evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering was found at the time of this survey.

The physical search during this survey was limited to the most likely places a listening device could be hidden without defacing walls and furniture. This survey also included a check of all telephone instruments in your residence.

B. FRONT DOOR LOCK

Impressions like those produced by a chisel, screwdriver or similar tool were found in the lock cylinder in the front door. The direction of these impressions and some stripping of the cylinder threads suggest that the cylinder was unscrewed from the door. These impressions are weathered and do not appear to be of recent origin. They are not the type or location that would have been made by a person having knowledge of surreptitious entry methods or by a locksmith. In fact, there are other outside doors which, because of their concealment, would be more logical areas for surreptitious entry. Removal of the front door lock cylinder by unscrewing would, of course, permit entry.

The front door cylinder lock was found to be insecurely held in the door by the set screw. This condition was corrected.

C. SECURITY OF RESIDENCE

As a result of the survey of the security of the entire residence, the following observations are made:

In order to adequately secure the front door, the cylinder lock should be replaced with a Medeco cylinder lock. Extension sliding bolts should be added to the left door (as viewed from outside). These extension bolts are installed in the edge of the door and, when the door is closed, are completely concealed.

2) There are four half-glass outside doors. A deadbolt lock operated by a key from both sides should be installed in each of these doors. If other than a keyed lock is installed on the inside, removing or breaking a pane of glass in one of these doors would permit a person to reach in and open the door. The proposed additional lock would correct this weakness.

3) Deadbolt locks operated by a key from the outside and a thumbturn on the inside should be placed on the inside door leading from the garage to the lower floor area and on the door leading from the laundry room to the lower floor area. The proposed additional lock will increase security.

4) Key operated window locks should be placed on all windows. It is realized that it would be difficult to gain access to the upper windows in the rear of the house because of their height from the ground. However, foliage around the backside of the house could permit sufficient concealment in the summer months for one, using a ladder, to possibly gain access through one of these windows.

These locks should all be keyed alike.

5) The key lock portions of the doorknob locks should be replaced with Medeco lock plugs. Medeco locks, based on research and testing in the Laboratory, have been found to be the most pick-resistant type of lock on the market today.

All door locks recommended should be of the Medeco type and should be set up to one and the same key for convenience.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY
TELEPHONE FACILITIES
ACTING DIRECTOR'S RESIDENCE

On May 9-10, 1973, a security survey was completed of the telephone facilities at the residence of the Acting Director William D. Ruckelshaus. This included a check of all appearances of the telephone service outside the residence as well as a physical inspection of the telephone instruments in the residence at that time.

No evidence was found of any surreptitious listening devices or tampering with the telephone service.

In connection with the above check it was noted that the telephone service, as is customary, is accessible at several points outside the residence. The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland is removing all of these access points and advised that there would be no expense to the Bureau for this service.

Special Agents of the FBI conducted a telephone security survey at the Attorney General's residence on 8/21/73. In connection with this it is felt that the unpublished telephone number at the residence should be changed. This would have the effect of greatly reducing nuisance calls. In addition, arrangements can be made with the telephone company to have all calls received on the old telephone number referred to the Attorney General's office.

If you so desire, this can be handled by the FBI.

SUBJECT: TELEPHONE SECURITY SURVEY 8/21/73,
ATTORNEY GENERAL'S RESIDENCE
McLEAN, VIRGINIA Telephone Security, CH

no

In connection with above and as background, this security survey was predicated on a request by the Attorney General, who has recently been receiving a large number of nuisance calls on his unpublished telephone number at his residence. At the time this survey was conducted, officials of the telephone company suggested that these calls could be reduced by changing the unpublished telephone number and recommended that this be done. In addition, they advised all calls received on the old telephone number could be referred to the Attorney General's office.

Memorandum R. A. Miller to Mr. White 8/22/73, advised that this security survey had been completed and that Mr. Joy of the Department of Justice had been advised of the results, who then advised the Attorney General.

On 8/22/73, Laboratory Supervisor Stevens was in contact with Mr. Richard E. Mastrangelo, Associate Deputy Attorney General in the Department of Justice, who requested a memorandum setting forth any recommendations concerning the security of the telephone service at the Attorney General's residence. In addition, he advised all calls to the old telephone could be referred to the Attorney General's office.

Attached is a memorandum to Associate Deputy Attorney General Mastrangelo.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY COURTROOM AND OFFICES OF
JUDGE JOHN J. SIRICA
U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

DATE: August 21, 1973

Pursuant to an oral request by the Attorney General to the Director, arrangements were made through Mr. Wynn H. Joy, Chief of Special Services, Department of Justice, to conduct a security survey for Judge John J. Sirica at the U. S. District Court House, Washington, D. C. On 8/18/73 a security survey was completed of the Judge's chambers, adjacent office space, the jury room adjoining courtroom #2, and a special grand jury room.

This survey included both electronic and physical searches of the telephones in place in the offices at that time. A physical search for microphones was limited to the most likely places a listening device could be hidden without defacing walls, ceilings, and furniture.

Judge Sirica was present at the conclusion of this work and inquired as to results of the survey. He was advised that the survey had disclosed no evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering with his telephones.

RECOMMENDATION:

The above is for information. In addition, the Director may wish to advise the Attorney General of the results of this survey completed 8/18/73.

Pursuant to a request from Mr. W. H. Joy, Chief, General Services, Department of Justice, relayed through Assistant Director Walters, a security survey was made on May 29 and 30, 1973, of the above premises and the following recommendations are set forth.

I. Security Officer

There should be a security officer employed who will have complete authority and responsibility for security of the premises and the enforcement of security regulations. This security officer should also be responsible for the key control, lock maintenance and for the setting up and changing of combination locks.

II. Guard Force

A 24-hour guard should be maintained in the office space.

III. Floor Plan I

OK
A partition with a single steel door should be erected at point A and a partition with double steel doors should be erected at point B. The doors at points A and B should only be used for moving in furniture, cabinets and other equipment. They should be kept bolted at all other times. Memorandum to Mr. Conrad
Security of Premises
Ninth Floor
1425 K Street, Northwest
Washington, D. C.

O.K. A doorway should be cut into the wall at point C. This doorway will be used at all times by employees and visitors to the premises. The west wall of this room (H) should be moved back to enlarge the entrance room. This room will be occupied by the guard and will also serve as a waiting room for visitors. The doorway at point D should be walled up. Entrance to this room may be gained by cutting a door into the wall E or the wall F.

O.K. The fire door, point G, leading to the stairwell should be secured by a sliding dead bolt mounted on the inside surface.

O.K. The lock to the mechanical room, point J, should be changed and the key to this room maintained by the guard or security officer.

IV. Windows

O.K. The windows in all rooms should be fully curtained with material sufficiently heavy to prevent the observation of activities and to prevent the clandestine reading of material in these rooms from other buildings, and also prevent interception of audio by highly sophisticated techniques.

V. Locks and Keys

O.K. All doors should be secured with keyed locks.

The locks presently installed on the doors are of Schlage manufacture. The lock plugs should be removed from these doorknobs and replaced with Medeco cylinder inserts.

Y Each lock to each room should be set up to its own individual key.

O.K. All locks should be master keyed to permit security inspection of the premises by the guard or security force.

O.K. All keys are to be stored in a tel-key cabinet maintained by the security or guard force. They are to be charged out as needed and charged back in at the end of the day.

Memorandum to Mr. Conrad
Security of Premises
Ninth Floor
1425 K Street, Northwest
Washington, D. C.

VI. Admittance to Premises

DK Entrance through the main door should be made only upon showing of credentials to the guard monitoring a closed circuit television camera mounted outside the door. This door should be electrically controlled from the guard desk. Upon entering the premises, each employee will be given a badge. This badge is to be worn by that employee while in the working area. These badges are to be checked in when the employee leaves the premises at any time. Such badges will also be furnished visitors, appropriately marked "VISITOR" and different in color from employee badges.

VII. File Room - Floor Plan II

DK The door at point K should be sealed off. A steel or vault type door having a Sargent and Greenleaf manipulation proof type lock or similar type lock should be erected at point L. This door should be fitted into a steel frame.

DK A file clerk having complete control of the files should be employed to charge out and charge in all files. The combination to this room should be in the sole care and custody of the file clerk and security officer.

In view of the security afforded the file room, the file cabinets need only be equipped with key type locks.

Each office should have a four-drawer Class 5 or Class 6 security type file cabinet for the storage of files, letters and other confidential material.

— All confidential material should be locked up at night in the file room or in the security type file cabinets.

VIII. Rooms and Halls Having Common Walls to Grocery Manufacturers of America Space

The common walls are of drywall (gypsum board) construction and are readily subject to audio and physical penetration.

DK It is recommended that soundproofing be installed to prevent audio transmissions into space of Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc. Barrier to physical penetration will also be necessary to insure complete protection against microphone penetration in these walls. In addition an alarm system should be installed to detect physical intrusion.

IX. Areas Above Drop-Ceiling

A space of approximately 18" exists between the drop-ceiling and the concrete floor above and along the common wall areas mentioned above. Access can be gained into premises from space of Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., by lifting out acoustical ceiling tiles. This same access route would also facilitate audio penetration.

OK Critical areas above drop-ceiling should be protected by alarm system. It would be more desirable to install physical barrier, however, this may not be feasible due to construction features of building and possible disruption of heating-air conditioning system.

✓ X. Service Risers

OK Service risers, represented on floor plan by squares containing an "X" adjacent to solid squares, are located in all exterior rooms. These provide access routes from floors above and below by which audio surveillance devices may be placed into ninth floor areas containing these service risers. Areas which open into ninth floor space should be sealed to prevent use of listening devices.

XI. Telephone Security

OK Telephone service for the McPherson Building enters by underground cable which terminates in a distribution room near Area G-6 in first level of garage space. Telephone service is distributed from this room by cable to each floor of the building. The cable servicing the ninth floor space terminates in the mechanical room adjacent to the building stairwell. Telephones installed in the ninth floor space are served by cables distributed from this room, which also contains other telephone equipment.

Telephone service may be compromised in either of the above rooms. The room in the garage area is not locked although the door is equipped with a lock. Two alternatives are suggested to achieve telephone security in this area, (1) by controlled access to the room, including secure lock and door alarm or (2) by having telephone company supply telephone service cable direct to ninth floor, with no access points in garage terminal room or elsewhere in the building;

DK: Access to the telephone terminals and equipment in the mechanical room on the ninth floor should be controlled likewise and the key to this room maintained by the security officer.

Mr. Joy advised that, at the present time, the security survey be limited to the ninth floor.

Attached is an airtel dated May 30, 1973, covering preliminary inquiries made by the Washington Field Office, as requested.

For information, the 1425 K Street, Northwest, building is in a high crime area. There have been thefts, attempted burglaries and at least one robbery in the building. Further details in this matter are being furnished by the Washington Field Office by airtel.

ACTION:

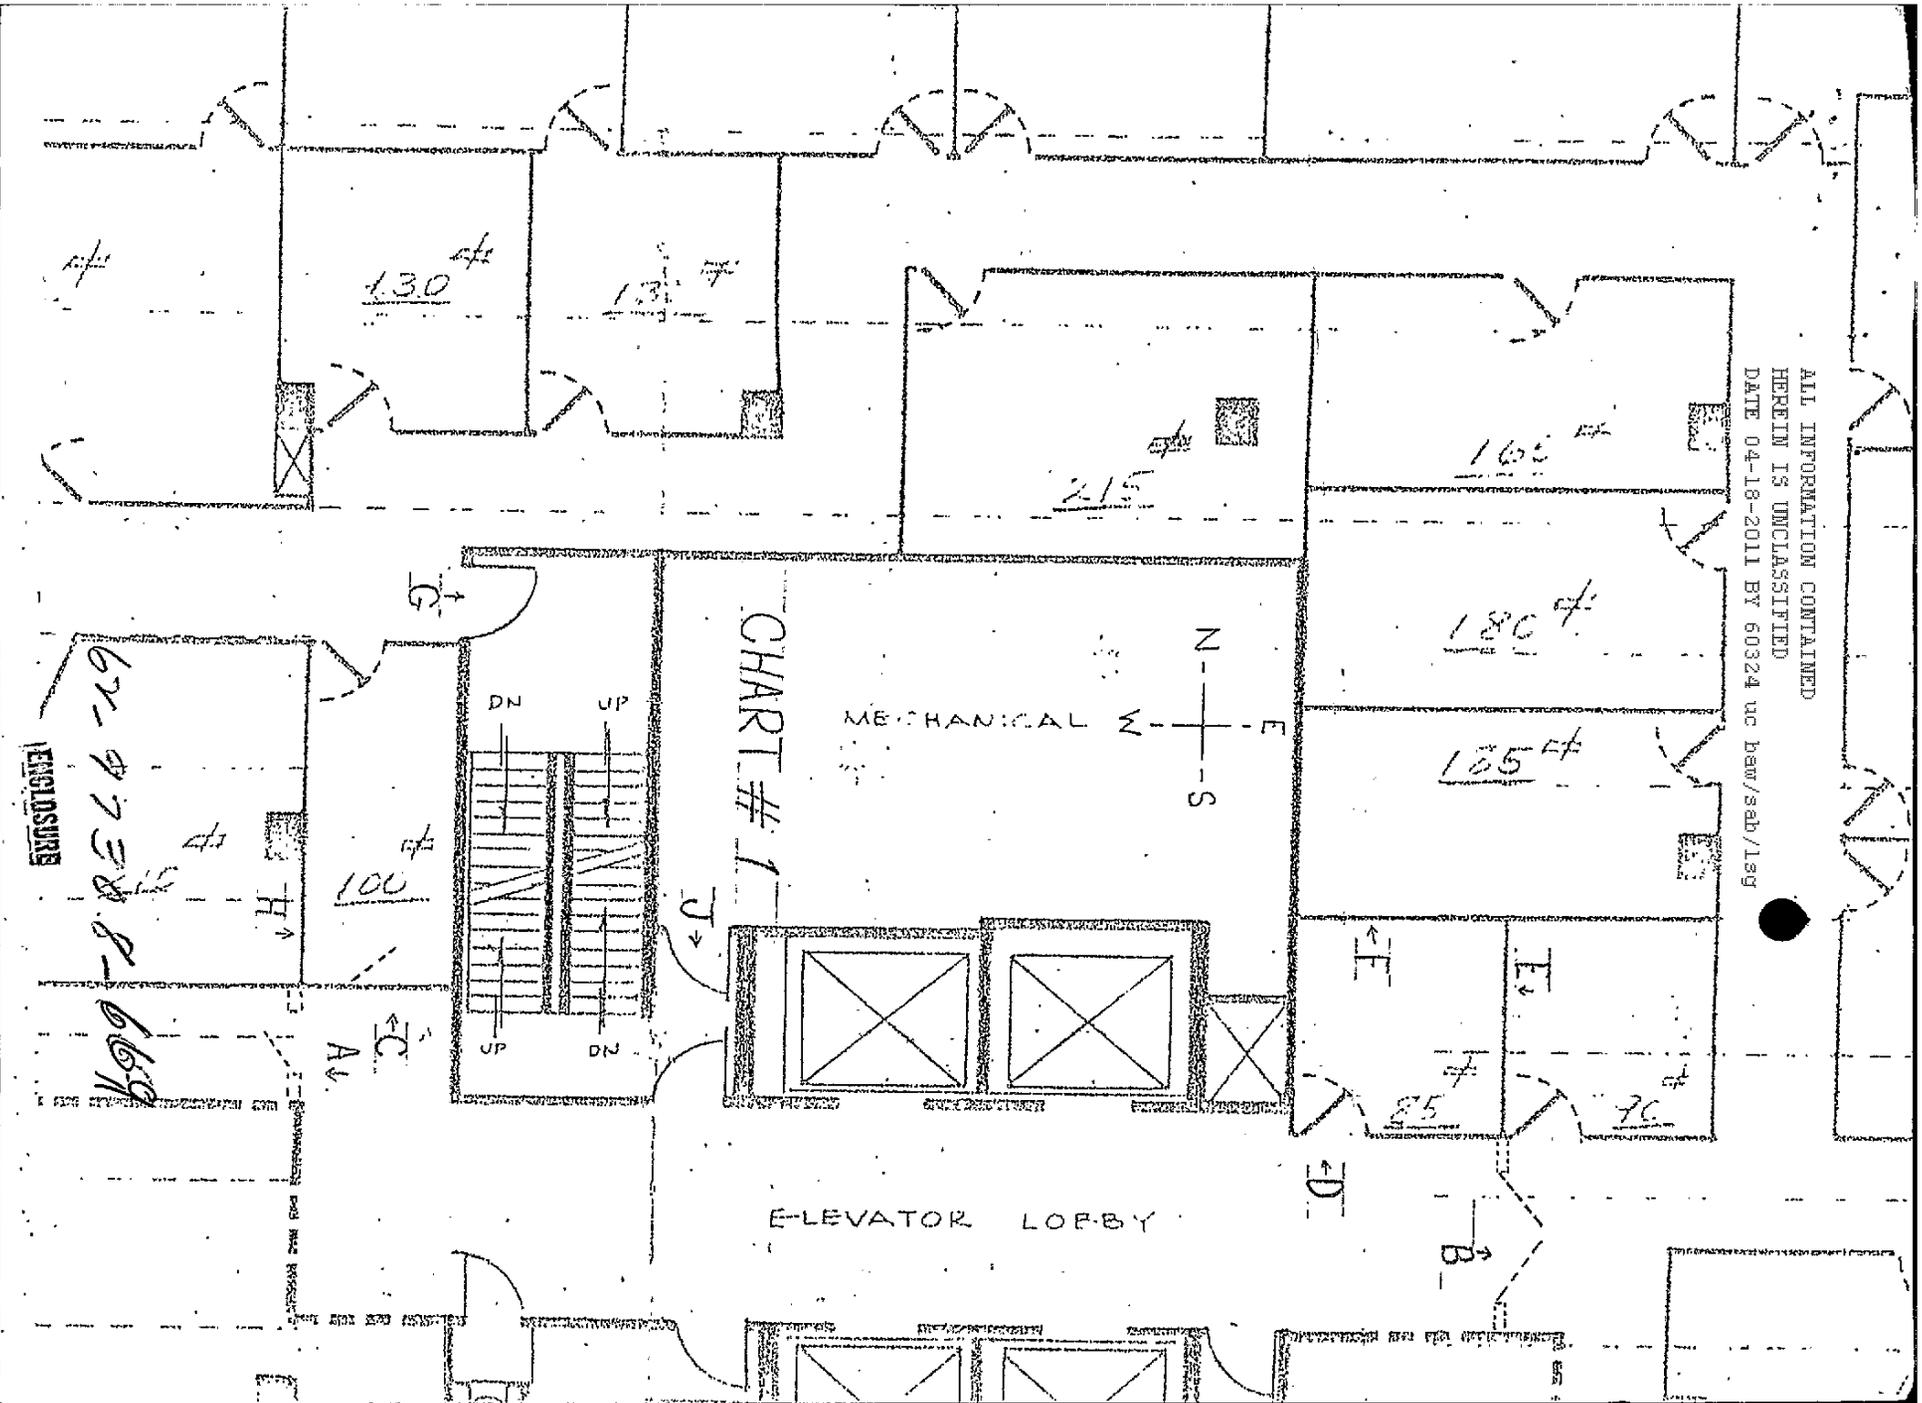

There is attached hereto for approval a suggested preliminary report for delivery to Mr. Joy of the Department.

On 8/28/73, a security survey was completed at the Director's residence. This included an examination of the telephone instruments and an inspection of the premises, without defacing walls or ceilings, to determine the presence of any surreptitious listening devices. An R. F. sweep was also conducted.

In addition, all appearances of the telephone service between the residence and the central office of the telephone company were inspected as well as those appearances in the central office.

No evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering was observed at the time of this survey.

Security Surveys

WAT

At the request of the Department of Justice, Laboratory personnel conducted an inspection of the above-mentioned premises, prior to occupancy, and made certain recommendations for maximum security in a report to the Department dated May 31, 1973. It should be noted this group occupies approximately two-thirds of the space on the ninth floor.

[Handwritten initials]

The Laboratory has followed the establishment of these security measures to their completion and simultaneously with this work, Laboratory personnel conducted a physical inspection of telephone instruments and an R. F. Survey of areas completed and occupied.

A memorandum R. A. Miller to White, 7/23/73, stated that physical checks were made of all telephone instruments in place at that time and R. F. Surveys had been completed. The results of these security checks revealed no evidence of tampering or surreptitious listening devices, and Mr. Joy of the Department of Justice was advised of these results. In addition, this memorandum pointed out that the Telephone Company had begun a conversion of the existing telephone service to a switchboard system.

Dear Mr. Kelley:

A few days ago I requested the Bureau to examine my Chambers to determine whether any listening devices were present. Last evening, three of your agents from Washington, [redacted] Joseph Reames conducted the examination.

My request was no doubt unusual; and I just wanted to take this opportunity to commend the Bureau and these men for the splendid cooperation afforded me.

Pursuant to a request by Senator Henry M. Jackson, (D) Washington, on 12/10/73 a security survey was completed at the residence of the Senator at [redacted] and at his offices in the Old Senate Office Building and the Capitol Building, Rooms 137A, 135 and S-339.

This survey included both electronic and physical searches of the telephones in place in the office and residence at that time. A physical search for microphones was limited to the most likely places a listening device could be hidden without defacing walls, ceilings, and furniture. No evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering was observed at the time of this survey.

During the course of this survey Mr. Donohue, an administrative assistant to the Senator, made the unsolicited comment that a request for this same type of survey would probably be made on an irregular basis at approximately one month intervals. This would include only the Senator's office in the Old Senate Office Building and a small office in the Senate side of the Capitol Building.

Attached is a suggested letter to Senator Jackson which advises of the result of this survey.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached letter to Senator Jackson reporting the result of this survey be approved.

In past years the Subcommittee's staff has requested similar surveys just prior to the time the representatives from the Department of Justice, including FBI officials, are scheduled to appear. [redacted] requested that the survey be made on the morning of Wednesday, 2-20-74, if at all possible.

This request was discussed with R. A. Miller, Chief of the Radio Engineering Section of the Laboratory, who advised Laboratory personnel would be available to perform the survey on 2-20-74. The survey will be conducted and you will be advised of the results.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT
REQUEST FOR PHYSICAL SECURITY SURVEYS

*ST
7-1-74*

On 2/26/74, SA CHARLES W. COOKE, WFO's liaison representative at the United States Supreme Court, had occasion to meet with Chief Justice BURGER at which time the latter expressed concern, in the light of recent kidnappings, with the security arrangements at the United States Supreme Court and, also, with regard to the movement of individual Justices.

Chief Justice BURGER reminisced warmly on his relationship with former Director HOOVER and indicated that shortly after assuming his responsibilities at the Supreme Court, Director HOOVER had acceded to his request for a survey of the adequacy of physical security at the Court. He then requested that his desire that a similar survey be conducted be relayed to Director KELLEY. He was informed that his request would be referred to the Director.

[Handwritten initials]

Besides the Supreme Court police, the United States Marshal's Service has security responsibility at the Supreme Court premises. They daily search the main chamber for suspicious packages and perform other security checks. If the Director acquiesces in the Chief Justice's request, there would appear a need for some delicacy in presenting the matter to Chief United States Marshal WAYNE COLBURN so that he would not feel the Bureau's actions were intrusive of his area of responsibility.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEYS - TELEPHONE SERVICE AT RESIDENCES OF BUREAU OFFICIALS

RA Miller

Security surveys of the telephone lines at residences of the Director, Associate Director, Deputy Associate Directors, and Assistant Directors have been carried out by the Radio Engineering Section since 1952. Security surveys are done in three phases: (1) on a quarterly basis all access points of the telephone line between the central office and the residence are examined (2) on a semiannual basis all central office terminals of the telephone service are examined on telephone company premises and outside lines are again checked and (3) on an annual basis all telephone instruments in the residences of persons included in this survey are examined and all outside line appearances are rechecked, except that this is performed semiannually for the Director.

Policy changes within the telephone company now require their personnel to accompany Bureau personnel on any security survey of this type, excluding checking the telephone service in the residence. This change necessitates that specific appointments be made with telephone company personnel which, in turn, results in substantially increased time spent by Bureau personnel in performing these security surveys. In addition, as a result of new policy, the telephone company is now quite reluctant to permit entry into their central office by Bureau personnel.

At the present time this security survey program requires approximately 104 man days of two Special Agent Supervisors of the Laboratory. It is felt with the increase in security on the part of the telephone company and the technical complexity of the modern day telephone system that a change should be instituted in this security program. The most vulnerable and accessible location for any type of compromise of an individual's telephone service still exists at the residence where the telephone line is accessible and can be identified. It would appear that this security survey program would be most productive for time expended if concentrated at residences.

Memorandum to Mr. White
RE: SECURITY SURVEYS - TELEPHONE SERVICE AT RESIDENCES OF
BUREAU OFFICIALS

It is felt that telephone terminals at the residences should be physically checked every quarter and the telephone instruments and service within the residence on an annual basis. Verification of the security of telephone service in the central office of the telephone company by responsible telephone company personnel should be included in the annual check. This check should continue to be made on semiannual basis for the Director.

In addition to the Director and Associate Director, it was decided in Mr. Callahan's conference on 3/11/74, that the security surveys should be limited to Deputy Associate Directors E. S. Miller and T. J. Jenkins and Assistant Directors W. V. Cleveland, R. R. Franck, R. E. Gebhardt and W. R. Wannall.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the revised Security Survey Program, as set forth above, be approved.

Further reference is made to later telephonic advice from the Bureau that the Director had agreed to perform this service and instructing that I make arrangements for a meeting between Bureau officials and the Chief Justice.

Numerous attempts have been made by WFO's Supreme Court liaison Agent to set up such a conference to no avail.

REQUEST FOR PHYSICAL SECURITY

By way of background Chief Justice BURGER, United States Supreme Court, personally requested that the FBI conduct a physical security check at the Court. The Bureau granted the request, and asked that arrangements be made to meet with the Chief Justice to discuss the matter.

Administrative Assistant to the Chief Justice, advised SA COOKE, on 4/2/74, that due to pressures of the Court, the Chief Justice would not be able to meet with representatives of the FBI.

b6

In view of the unavailability of the Chief Justice, CANNON, on 4/3/74, was requested to have a letter sent to the Director defining the physical areas to be surveyed, the desired scope of the survey and the specific apprehensions of the Chief Justice regarding security at the Court, if any.

CANNON stated that in his opinion the Secret Service might be the more appropriate agency to conduct the survey in view of the fact that physical protection of persons and property was their primary reason for being. He stated he intended exploring having Secret Service do the survey.

CANNON stated, "Under the circumstances the FBI should forget the original request, and should not conduct the survey unless a written communication is received from the Chief Justice.

In light of the above, it is recommended no further action be taken by the Bureau, unless a communication is received from the Chief Justice.

This is to request that FBI personnel conduct an inspection for the detection of surreptitious listening devices in the Intelligence Unit, Organized Crime and Racketeering Section, Criminal Division, Room 2730 in the Main Justice building. The subject inspection would require a visual check and electronic sweep of approximately 10 office spaces, after normal working hours. SUBJECT: REQUEST FOR SECURITY SURVEYS
BOSTON DIVISION AND
DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
BOSTON STRIKE FORCE

R.A. Miller
5/17/74

In connection with the above, the Boston Office by letter dated 5/6/74 has requested that the Laboratory furnish a "Sweep Team" to conduct a security survey for clandestine listening devices in the Boston Office, as well as for the departmental strike force, Boston, Massachusetts.

The Boston Office has acquired additional space in their present office and a telephone placement has changed because of this expansion. As a result, the Boston Office desires that this additional space be checked for listening devices and the telephone equipment be checked also. The Boston Office has received an official oral request from Attorney in charge of the Department of Justice Strike Force in Boston, for a sweep of their office space and telephone instruments. b6

As you know, the Laboratory has recently conducted a security survey for the Newark Office as well as for the Organized Crime Section, Intelligence Unit in the Department of Justice Building.

It is felt this survey, which will include an RF sweep and a physical search of the space and telephone instruments will necessitate three days to complete. The Laboratory has been in telephonic contact with the Boston Office and they have been advised to provide personnel to assist the Laboratory in this survey.

RECOMMENDATION:

EX-103 REC-14 62-97308-693

It is recommended that the Laboratory be authorized to provide three Special Agent Supervisors to conduct a security survey of the Boston Office as well as the office of the Department of Justice Strike Force in that city. If the above is approved, the Laboratory will make the necessary arrangements for travel to Boston.

SECURITY OF OFFICE SPACE
BOSTON DIVISION

Re Boston letter to the Bureau dated 4/23/74 and Bureau telephone call to Boston, 4/29/74.

It is requested that the Bureau furnish a "sweep team" to make a space and telephone line examination for clandestine listening devices in the Boston Division.

The Boston Division which formerly occupied only the ninth floor of the Federal Building, Boston, Mass., has expanded to include most of the tenth floor of the same building. During the expansion, the 740E switching equipment and PBX console was changed as were all of the instruments in the office.

The U.S. Department of Justice Strike Force at Boston, Mass. has formerly requested that a sweep be made of the space occupied by them and of the telephone lines utilized by that Department. It is noted that the Strike Force in Boston is primarily concerned with the prosecution of organized crime cases as presented by the FBI and therefore, an examination of the Department space would be within the best interests of the Bureau. It is requested that at the time the Bureau sweep team is in the Boston Division, that a sweep of the Strike Force be made.

Since the Intelligence Division is scheduled to move into the J. Edgar Hoover FBI Building on October 15, next, it has been necessary to request the Chesapeake and Potomac (C&P) Telephone Company to move the wideband circuit for this system to the new building at that time. The existing circuit was provided as a special assembly prior to the time that C&P provided wideband 50 kilohertz circuits as a tariff item and prior to the Government providing specification for this type service. Therefore, C&P will insist upon discontinuing this special assembly at the time of the move to the J. Edgar Hoover Building, to be replaced by the current tariffed 50 kilohertz wideband service designated G-1 carrier. The G-1 service will be of significantly higher quality and will provide more reliable service using up-to-date technology; however, it will cost $139.50

TECHNICAL SECURITY COORDINATOR - NEW QUARTERS, NEW YORK FIELD OFFICE

In connection with the above, SA Gerald P. Ryan of your division conferred with Laboratory Supervisors recently concerning technical security considerations in new office space for the New York Office.

In an effort to maximize his capabilities in the technical security field, arrangements have been made for SA Ryan to attend an audio countermeasures techniques course 5/3-23/75 and an advanced telephone course 6/2-13/75 at the Interagency Training Center (ITC), Washington, D. C.

SA Ryan should complete service training agreement (FD-375) and forward to FBIHQ, Attention Administrative Division, prior to reporting to these courses at time REC-19 62-97308-411

SA Ryan should report to the Radio Engineering Section of the Laboratory prior to 8:00 AM 5/5/75 for assistance in enrollment at ITC.

16 APR 25 1975

NOTE:

Discussion with SA Ryan at Laboratory has indicated additional training is needed to better equip NYO personnel to handle technical security matters in move of NYO to new space. Ryan's attendance is necessary so that he is armed with the latest technical data and techniques available in order that he may carry out his responsibilities in a most efficient manner, which will more than justify the expenditure. Bureau personnel have attended similar training sessions in the past. The cost of SA Ryan's attendance at both sessions will consist of travel and per diem, estimated at $900, plus loss of his services for these two periods of time. This has been coordinated with SA Stoetzel of the Administrative Division.

Pursuant to a request by Arthur Braver, Assistant Director, Office of Investigations, DA & I, a security survey was performed at the residence of the newly appointed Secretary of Labor, [redacted]. A request was also made for a security survey at Dr. Dunlop's office space to be performed when the Secretary is out of town and the space is available.

This survey included both electronic and physical searches of the telephone in place at the time. A physical search for microphones was limited to the most likely places a listening device could be hidden without defacing walls, ceiling and furniture. All electric outlets were removed and searched. A carrier current check was also performed with no positive results. All ceiling lights were removed and searched. SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] performed the above.

SA [redacted] conducted an R.F. monitoring survey of the captioned space. The Interad Spectrum Receiver was used to monitor the radio spectrum from 25 to 1,000 MHz. A Mason A-3 receiver was also used between .2 kHz and 130 MHz in the radio spectrum. No clandestine radio signals originating within captioned space were heard or observed. [redacted] from the Department of Labor was present during the above survey, but none of the equipment was explained to him nor did he take an active part in the survey.

During a briefing with the Attorney General and Deputy Attorney General on 2/12/75, the Bureau was requested to arrange for necessary security sweeps of the offices of the Attorney General and Deputy Attorney General on a systematic basis.

In addition, the FBI was requested to consider the steps necessary to obtain a secure telephone in the office of the Attorney General and in the office of the Deputy Attorney General inasmuch as recent discussions of highly sensitive information have necessitated the Deputy Attorney General's traveling to the White House to discuss matters which could have otherwise been discussed over the secure telephone.

Mr. White has been instructed to make necessary contacts with [redacted] in the Attorney General's office and [redacted] in the Deputy Attorney General's office to arrange a convenient time for such security sweeps and insure such are handled every six months, the same frequency being followed for the Director's office.

[redacted] of the Files and Communications Division is compiling the necessary information for a further discussion with the Deputy Attorney General concerning the obtaining of secure telephones.

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY
OFFICES OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AND DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL

DATE: February 20, 1975

11/21/75

Pursuant to a request by the Attorney General, security surveys were completed on 2/19/75 of the offices in the Department of Justice Building, Washington, D. C., of the Attorney General and the Deputy Attorney General.

These surveys included both electronic and physical searches of the telephones in place in the offices at that time, as well as a check of all other appearances of the telephone service outside the office suites. A physical search for microphones was limited to the most likely places a listening device could be hidden without defacing walls, ceilings and furniture.

No evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering was observed at the time of these surveys.

Attached is a suggested memorandum to the Attorney General reporting the results of these surveys.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached memorandum to the Attorney General reporting the results of these surveys be approved.

Re New York airtel dated 4/15/75 and New Haven letter dated 5/19/75.

For the information of the New York Office, the Bureau has not examined the Model 37 De-Bug Transmitter Locator, but from previous examinations of similar equipment it has been the Bureau's experience that the chances of locating a good FM transmitter were remote, however there is always the possibility.

On 6/4/75 and 6/6/75, contact was made with the following intelligence gathering agencies re their knowledge of the Model 37 De-Bug Transmitter Locator: CIA, U. S. Department of State, U. S. Air Force, and the U. S. Navy. All individuals contacted had basically the same opinion previously set forth in this communication.

New Haven is requested to obtain, if possible on a temporary basis, Model 37 without revealing the Bureau's interest or identity.

SA has been scheduled to attend two courses at the Interagency Training Center (ITC), Washington, D. The week of 11/24-20/75 SA will be afforded additional countermeasures training by the Radio Engineering Section of the Laboratory.

SA should report to the Radio Engineering Section of the Laboratory prior to 8:00 a.m. 11/3/75 for assistance in enrollment at the ITC.

NOTE:

Bureau personnel have attended similar training sessions in the past including SA Technical personnel from the New York Office. Attendance at this series of courses has updated our technical personnel with valuable information and techniques in order that they may respond to security problems with complete confidence of having been provided complete capability. This training more than justifies the expenditure. The cost of SA attendance at both training sessions will consist of travel and per diem, estimated at $1,000 plus loss of his services for this period of time. This has been coordinated with SA Woodworth of the Administrative Division.

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI DATE: 7/23/75
Attention, FBI Laboratory, Radio Engineering Section

FROM : SAC, DALLAS (66-298)

SUBJECT: COUNTERMEASURES TRAINING FOR FIELD OFFICES

Due to recent developments in this region, it is anticipated that requests will be received from the Department and other agencies for countermeasures survey work. It is imperative that the Bureau be in a position to respond to appropriate requests in a professional manner as well as to provide reliable protection for Bureau facilities.

The significant advances of recent years in electronics technology are readily accessible to the public. This leads to vastly increased sophistication in clandestine electronic equipment. Foreign adversaries already possess this highly sophisticated equipment.

It is requested that an Agent from this office be provided specialized training in countermeasures survey techniques and equipment. Of particular value would be any interagency intelligence community training courses which might be available.

SA Technical Coordinator for the Dallas Office, is recommended to receive this training. SA GRAY is a competent Sound Trained Agent, having a keen interest in this phase of the Bureau's work. He possesses a practical knowledge of both basic telephony and radio technology.

On 9/2/75, USA FIELD was contacted by SAC to discuss matters of mutual interest. During the course of the conversation, Mr. FIELD requested FBI services to conduct a sweep of the telephone lines in his office and at his home to insure no intercepts are being utilized.

This USA's Office handles a considerable volume of work which results in a high rate of statistical accomplishments for the Pittsburgh Division. Additionally, there are two particularly sensitive areas of public interest; namely, the wildcat strikes in the coal regions and the year-old protest movement regarding school books in that part of West Virginia. Both have received a great deal of national attention and are the subject of Federal judicial inquiry.

SAC, Pittsburgh recommends Bureau authorize compliance with USA's request. If approval is granted, this matter will be handled by Pittsburgh personnel.

ELECTROMAGNETIC RADIATION TEST

DEB...

Reference your letter dated December 5, 1975 and my letter dated December 17, 1975.

PL

The electromagnetic radiation test of your secure telephone system requested in your letter December 5, 1975 was conducted by FBI Laboratory personnel on January 27-29, 1976. All arrangements for the test were coordinated with [Redacted] Security Specialist, Security and Administrative Services Staff, Office of Management and Finance.

The test consisted of two phases: (1) an instrumental electromagnetic radiation test, and (2) a visual inspection of the physical installation. The results of the radiation tests were negative; that is, no compromising radiations were detected. The visual inspection of the physical installation revealed the following discrepancies with respect to normal installation criteria:

MAILED 16
FBI

(1) Two conduit couplings in the conduit which contains the protected wire line connected to the telephone subscriber set in the office of the Attorney General are non-ferrous metal fittings. Installation criteria for such systems recommends that all conduit and fittings be made of ferrous type metal to provide maximum electromagnetic shielding.

EX-100 REC-34 733

(2) The "pull-boxes" located along the length of the conduit to facilitate cable installation are not of the radio frequency interference (RFI) type which is recommended by the criteria. Some of the pull-boxes do not have cover plates attached thus leaving the cable completely exposed.

(3) Recommended physical separation of the protected wire line conduit and other non-related conduits was not maintained in some instances.

(4) Recommended physical separation of the telephone subscriber sets from other non-related telephone sets and devices was not provided.

The above installation discrepancies, which represent non-compliance with recommended criteria and are "potential" radiation and security hazards, were called to the attention of your communications personnel who observed and assisted with the tests and physical inspection.

Note: Above tests and inspection were performed by Laboratory Technicians [redacted] and [redacted]. They were observed by Messrs. [redacted] and [redacted] of the Department of Justice staff. The radiation test consisted of a detailed scan of the electromagnetic spectrum up to 1.8 Gigahertz by use of a real-time spectrum analyzer. The spectrum was analyzed with the KY-3 systems operated in all modes. The power line spectrum was also observed by use of a power line voltage probe. These tests do not represent a complete TEMPEST test of the facility but are valid tests which are essential elements of any full scale test. The Laboratory does not presently possess the capability to conduct a full scale TEMPEST test.

SUBJECT: SECURITY OF BUREAU TELEPHONES

Security of Telephone Services

2345

The advent of computer-controlled electronic telephone switching systems now being installed in many cities throughout the country has created a new degree of vulnerability to the interception of telephone conversations. FBI Headquarters is equipped with one of these most modern electronic telephone switching systems which provides many unique features necessary in today's Government and business environments. However, these systems also create some inherent hazards.

For instance, although the Bureau's telephone switching equipment is located in the J. Edgar Hoover F.B.I. Building and is physically under the control of the Files and Communications Division, and although all telephone closets serving the individual offices throughout the building are kept locked and under the control of cleared telephone company personnel, we can offer no absolute assurance that this telephone system cannot be penetrated from either inside or outside the confines of this building. The nature of the telephone switching equipment is such that it must be accessed electronically by telephone company personnel from their central telephone testing center in mid-town Washington. Such access is essential to assure continuous optimum performance on all lines and equipment. This access enables telephone personnel to electrically seize any telephone line in the Hoover Building to test its performance. When this is necessary, there is an automatic tone impressed on the line to signal the users that telephone company personnel are on the line. However, telephone company installers or repairman can also access any FBIHQ lines from any of the 188 telephone closets located in the building, and under such conditions, a tone is not placed on the line.

Memorandum to Mr. McDermott
Re: Security of Bureau Telephones

An additional hazard, which not only exists with this telephone system, but with any telephone system, is the possibility of an inadvertent cross connection between any FBIHQ telephone line to any other telephone line most anywhere in the world. Such occurrences, although extremely remote, can occur. The frequency of such occurrences is, of course, increased by virtue of our telephone system having direct dialing access from most anywhere in the world.

Although the Bureau conducts a full background investigation of all telephone company personnel who are assigned to the central testing facility in mid-town Washington and all of those assigned to installation and repair duties in the JEH Building, this does not provide us with sufficient assurance that such personnel could not be subverted. Accordingly, the potential hazards of discussing matters of a sensitive or classified nature over the telephone have to be recognized and treated accordingly. In this regard, the Files and Communications Division has provided a completely secure telephone system for use in certain areas of the Hoover Building serving primarily the executive offices and the Intelligence Division. This system is referred to as the "green phone" and can be used not only internally between "green phone" users, but can also be used for "secure" telephone calls to Washington Field, New York, San Francisco, and Boston Offices. Detailed instructions and a directory of users of the "green phone" system have previously been furnished to appropriate personnel having access to this system.

The trend toward the use of centralized dictation recording equipment, both at FBIHQ and in field offices, provides another inherent vulnerability to the access of sensitive or classified information via the telephone. Accordingly, there is attached a letter to the Albany Office with copies to all offices bringing these matters to the attention of the field.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. LEO CHERNE

Political scientist, economist, sculptor, lawyer, foreign affairs specialist -- any one and all of these descriptions fit Leo Cherne. A Renaissance man born of the 20th Century, he is equally at home in the fields of fine arts, public affairs, industry, economics or foreign policy.

As Executive Director of the Research Institute of America, Leo Cherne heads a distinguished group of analysts to whom business, governments, industry and educational institutions look for objective analysis and guidance.

Mr. Cherne was a practicing attorney when he joined the Research Institute in 1936. Anticipating the approach of World War II, he helped draft the Army and Navy industrial mobilization plans for war. At the close of the war, as economic advisor to General Douglas MacArthur, he constructed the program which revised the Japanese tax structure.

He was elected Chairman of the Board of the International Rescue Committee in 1951 and has been active in that organization since. Together with Dr. Albert Schweitzer and Dr. Tom Dooley, Mr. Cherne organized MEDICO. Now a division of CARE, it brings medical aid to parts of the world where there had literally been no medicine practiced.

Mr. Cherne has served on the faculties of the Georgetown School of Foreign Service, the New School for Social Research and the Industrial College of the Armed Forces. For many years he has annually delivered the opening lecture on "The State of the Nation" at the Industrial College and was recently appointed a member of the Board of Advisors of that institution. He is a member of the United States Advisory Commission on International Educational and Cultural Affairs, a member of the Commission on Critical Choices for Americans and was appointed by the President to the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board.

Among other honors, Leo Cherne was awarded the Legion of Honor by France, the Commander's Cross of the Order of Merit by the Republic of Germany, and the Kim Khanh medal, which is the highest decoration of the Republic of Vietnam.

SECURITY SURVEY
 OFFICE AND RESIDENCE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

In accordance with your request, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation conducted a microphones and telephone security survey of your office and residence from 5/25/76. On 5/27/76, a microphones and telephone security survey was completed at your residence, [Redacted] Washington, D.C.

The physical search during these surveys was limited to the most likely places a listening device could be hidden and was made without defacing walls and furniture. The survey included a check of all telephone instruments in both office and residence.

In addition to the security survey, a physical survey was made of your office suite to determine if the present locks and alarm devices are sufficient. The door was found to be physically secure and had no other opening devices located within the room. No microphones or other electronic equipment were found.

No evidence of eavesdropping equipment or tampering was detected at the time of these surveys.

This training more than justifies the cost of SA Suter's attendance at both training sessions which consists of travel, per diem, rental of a car to get to and from school at Silesia, Maryland (no public transportation serves this area), and loss of his services for this period of time. The total cost is estimated to be $2,500. SUBJECT: COUNTERMEASURES TRAINING -

Security Surveys

The Bureau is well aware of developments within the Houston Division concerning the increased use of countermeasure equipment by private investigators. Security checks made by these individuals have resulted in two instances wherein FBI personnel were required to conduct "follow-up" security checks to disprove their allegations.

There is currently another IOC case under investigation in this division wherein allegations were made that electronic surveillances were discovered by use of a "radar reflectometer".

It is anticipated that additional requests for FBI assistance, to refute or corroborate such claims, will be received from the U. S. Attorney's Office. I feel it is imperative that Bureau field agents be in a position to respond to these requests in a professional manner, understand and be familiar with all types of equipment being utilized by private investigators, and be capable of using countermeasure equipment available through the FBI Laboratory.

Significant advances in electronics technology have made available to the public many devices and techniques of surreptitious monitoring which were not available a few years ago. Foreign adversaries, as the Bureau is also aware, already are in possession of these devices. Increased sophistication of methods of electronic penetration, and means of discovery of such methods, virtually demand reliable protection of Bureau facilities.

likely places a listening device could be hidden without detaching walls, ceilings and furniture. No evidence of overhearing devices or tapping was observed at the SPECIAL AGENT [redacted]

INDIANAPOLIS DIVISION

Teletype 4/26/76, requesting countermeasures training for optional report.

SA [redacted] has been scheduled to attend two courses at the Interagency Training Center (ITC), Washington, D.C. area, 11/1/76 to 11/19/76 and 11/29/76 to 12/10/76. The week of 11/22-26/76 SA [redacted] will be offered additional countermeasures training by the Radio Engineering Section of the Laboratory.

SA [redacted] should report to the ITC prior to 8:00 a.m., 11/1/76.

NOTE: Bureau personnel have attended similar training sessions in the past including SA technical personnel from New York and Dallas. Attendance at this series of courses has updated our technical personnel with valuable information and techniques in order that they may respond to security problems with complete confidence of having been provided adequate training. This training more than justifies the expenditure. The cost of SA [redacted] attendance at both training sessions will consist of travel, per diem, rental of a car to get to and from school at Edlesia, Maryland (no public transportation serves this area), and loss of his services for this period of time. The total cost including travel, per diem and car rental, is estimated to be $2300. This has been coordinated with SA [redacted] of the Finance and Personnel Division and [redacted] of Data Processing Section, Administrative Services Division.

The Indianapolis Division is currently, and for the past several months, involved in numerous "political kickback" and "wiretapping" matters and requests have been made by Federal Judges and USAs for a sweep of their offices.

In view of the above, coupled with the fact that the Indianapolis Division does not have a trained countermeasures agent, the Bureau is requested to provide the Indianapolis Sound Coordinator, SA with appropriate countermeasures training.

TELEPHONE SERVICES

(C) TELEPHONES - SECURITY OF COMMUNICATIONS -- It has been suggested that when Special Agents are signing in and out by telephone or calling a lookout that they use their credential numbers and avoid mention of their squad assignments or names. This procedure is for security reasons and should be a valuable aid in many of our offices.

This system may be implemented by providing the duty desk and lookout locations with a list of Agents, their credential numbers and squad assignments. This procedure is not mandatory due to the varying needs of our offices but is being left to the discretion of each Special Agent in Charge to implement should he deem it necessary in the operations of his office.

 NEW OFFICE SPACE

Pat

The FBI Laboratory is requested to provide assistance in conducting a countermeasures survey of the new office space of the San Diego Division located at the Federal Office Building, 880 Front Street, Suite 6S31, San Diego. This survey is required in order to assure space and in-house telephone security of the San Diego Division.

Specific equipment required for this survey is not available at the San Diego Division and San Diego Division personnel are not fully trained in the use of the latest equipment available. The Bureau is therefore requested to authorize FBI Laboratory personnel to conduct the survey at San Diego. This would also allow San Diego personnel training in using this equipment.

SECURITY SWEEP
ALBANY DIVISION

Reurlet 9/2/76 and Butelcal 9/9/76.

Personnel from the Laboratory will arrive in Albany, N.Y. on 10/4/76 to assist personnel from your office in conducting a security check of Headquarters, Syracuse RA and Binghamton RA.

Your office is requested to supply Radio Engineering Section with the model telephones used in the above three locations.

Your office should make lodging arrangements for two during the week of 10/4/76. It is expected it will take three days to complete Headquarters and a day for each RA.

Note: Referenced letter requested the Laboratory to assist their personnel in performing a security check of the Albany Field Office and two RAs due to the fact that Headquarters was renovated and the Syracuse RA has recently moved into newly constructed quarters. The Binghamton RA has a large organized crime element in the area. The technical personnel of the Albany Office will be afforded countermeasures training by Laboratory personnel at this time. The Laboratory has performed similar surveys in the past when requested.

ALBANY DIVISION

The Albany Office is requesting that the Laboratory Division, Radio Engineering Section, furnish assistance in sweeping Headquarters, the Syracuse RA and Binghamton RA.

The request is due to the fact that Headquarters was recently completely renovated, and the Syracuse RA was moved into newly constructed quarters. Binghamton RA has a large organized crime element and as a result there is an ever present possibility of an attempt to compromise the RA.

The request as set out above is a one-time-only security sweep, taking advantage of the best equipment available to the Laboratory.

Soundmen of the Albany Division will assist the Lab personnel wherever needed.

Security Surveys
United States Attorney (USA) BARRY A. SHORT, Eastern District of Missouri, St. Louis, Missouri, advised that his office is currently investigating several political corruption cases which involve some high public officials in the St. Louis area.

Recently, information regarding these cases has been obtained by individuals who are not associated with the case and were not entitled to the information.

USA SHORT speculated that perhaps his office and/or his telephone may be "bugged". Former USA DONALD J. STOHR had discussed this same problem with the St. Louis FBI Office prior to his resignation. USA STOHR at that time was concerned primarily because his office was being remodeled by a construction firm which is associated with local hoodlum figures.

Request of the FBI Laboratory

The FBI Laboratory is requested to provide manpower and equipment necessary to electronically sweep USA SHORT's office which is approximately 12' x 20' and to examine the telephone which is a six-button key set type #2565HK with a 4-A speaker phone feature.

St. Louis currently has five sound trained Agents who will be available to assist Laboratory personnel. It is noted that St. Louis is not familiar with the equipment utilized by the Bureau

COUNTERMEASURES SECURITY CHECKS
CONDUCTED BY THE FBI

The purpose of this communication is to advise you of the current practice being followed by this Bureau in the conduct of countermeasures security checks requested by various members of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches of the Federal Government.

From time to time we receive requests from various offices within the government to conduct countermeasures security checks of specified government space, including telephone lines, for the purpose of determining whether or not the security of these areas or communications facilities has been compromised by the placement of such things as concealed microphones, telephone taps, and the like. Traditionally, because of our responsibility for the protection of national security interests, we have responded favorably to these requests which we insist be submitted to us in writing.

It is pointed out that there really is no other agency who can, or will, respond to such requests. Certainly, the CIA is more than capable of performing this mission; however, they have in the past refused to do so on the basis that their charter does not specifically permit such activity. As a result of these refusals, numerous requests in past years have been referred to us and we have complied with same.

In the absence of specific instructions to the contrary, we will continue to provide these security checks of Federal Government office space, for individuals at the cabinet level in the Executive branch, as well as any other area in that branch wherein there is a clear statement showing that the material handled within that area of concern impacts on national security or is of such a sensitive nature as to warrant these protective measures. Further, with regard to the Legislative and Judicial branches, we will continue to conduct such checks as are requested by judges or members of the legislature, with checks being extended to members of their staffs where specifically requested by the judge, senator, or congressman. Upon completion of each request, we will confirm the results of the check, in writing, to the head of the agency for whom the check was made, as well as confirming to that agency that such checks were conducted because it was the FBI's understanding activities within the areas checked involved those matters directly affecting national security or were of a highly sensitive nature.

COUNTERMEASURES SECURITY CHECKS
CONDUCTED BY THE FBI

Telephone Security Checks

Referring to your memorandum of October 21, 1976, you may be assured that countermeasures security checks are made only upon the request and with the full cooperation of those having control of the premises being checked. Obviously, any search for a clandestine transmitter involves a sweep of the airwaves for the purpose of establishing the legitimacy of each signal located. Although this is not construed to be "monitoring" of the type identified in the guidelines as an "Extraordinary Technique," we will adhere rigidly to full minimization procedures.

Note: Referenced Attorney General memo made the point that if checks of telephone lines or other measures involve non-consensual electronic monitoring regular authorization procedures for elsur must be followed. Security checks involve no telephone monitoring but do require search of radio spectrum, therefore, assurance of propriety being given.

Dear

Telephone Security Checks -

Referring to the second paragraph of the second page of my letter to you dated October 1, 1976, perhaps some explanation is in order to show why 100 seconds was proposed as the search time of the automatic search circuit intended to operate with your 7312 receivers.

In order to set up an oscillating loop (feed-back squall) between the search receiver and a local transmitter, the audio output from the receiver must travel to the pick-up microphone of the transmitter, modulate the transmitter, propagate to the receiver antenna, be demodulated by the receiver, and provide an audio output, thus closing the loop. The only element of the above chain of events that takes any significant time to accomplish is the transit time of the audio from the receiver speaker to the transmitter microphone. Remember that the receiver is scanning the frequency range of 10 to 500 MHz when in the search mode and the IF bandwidth of the receiver is 100 KHz. Therefore, the receiver must "dwell" within the IF bandwidth (100 KHz) for at least the audio transit time involved in the oscillatory loop. The search time proposed was 100 seconds or 490 MHz per 100 seconds. This reduces to 20 milliseconds per 100 KHz. Therefore, the receiver "dwells" within the IF bandwidth for 20 milliseconds. The speed of sound under standard conditions is 1127 ft/sec. This allows the distance from the receiver to the transmitter to be $1127 \text{ ft/sec} \times .02 \text{ sec} = 22 \text{ ft}$.

This allows a search radius of 22 ft for a high degree of probability of detection. If it is decided that a larger search radius is desirable, a longer search time would be required. For instance, if a search radius of 44 ft were required, a search time of 200 seconds would result, since the relationship between search radius and search time is linear.

In addition to the items I enumerated in my October 1 letter, I would like to suggest that you consider the installation of sub-carrier demodulators (double demodulation) in your 7312 receivers.

This is my suggestion

There has been much discussion of the tuning rate and ease of tuning of the present 7312 receiver. We have recently found a tuning knob which has a built-in 40/1 gear reduction which you may want to consider for your receivers as the main tuning knob. Since the tuning potentiometer at present requires 10 turns to tune from 10 to 500 MHz, installation of the new tuning knob would result in $40 \times 10 = 400$ turns from low end to high end. This would be somewhat time-consuming, however, the new tuning knob, when pushed, reverts to direct drive, allowing the entire range to be tuned in 10 turns. Unfortunately, in order to utilize this increased main tuning resolution, the 10-turn wire-wound (wire-wound is used for temperature stability) tuning potentiometer would have to be replaced by a 10-turn Cermet infinite resolution potentiometer.

Perhaps I could best summarize my suggestions regarding your 15 7312 receivers in the following table:

ITEM #	DESCRIPTION	PRICE	REMARKS
1	Installation of counters	$240/ea.	14 required
2	Installation of SDU's	$ 80/ea.	5 required
3	Supply BP-101 battery packs	$100/ea.	10 required
4	Develop and install auto-search function	$750/1st unit
5	Install search function	$200/ea.	15 ^{YAA} required
6	Install sub-carrier demodulators	$250/ea.	15 ^{YAA} required
✓ 7	Installation of 40/1 tuning knob and new tuning potentiometer	$100/ea.	15 required

The prices listed above are based on the assumption that all modifications are carried out at one time.

If any clarification is necessary, please let me know. Thank you for this opportunity to be of service to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Sincerely,

K. Ray Johnson
President

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

The USA's Office, Nashville, Tennessee, consisting of 15 rooms, has recently been completely renovated and the USA has moved back into his space after approximately two months of remodeling. No security was furnished during the remodeling period, and the USA has requested his space be electronically checked for security of the space and telephones by the FBI as soon as possible.

The Memphis Division requests the Scientific and Technical Services Division of the Engineering Section to provide proper electronic equipment and personnel to perform a security survey of the USA's offices, Nashville, Tenn., to comply with the USA's request. The Memphis Division does not have expertise or proper electronic equipment to perform the task. This will also serve as a training exercise for Memphis technically trained personnel, as they will assist the Engineering Section.

SAC HOUSTON RECOMMENDS IN VIEW OF OUR PAST EXPERIENCE WITH THE PRESENT USA, AS WELL AS THE FORMER USA IN THIS DISTRICT, THAT THE SWEEP OF THE USA'S PERSONAL OFFICE BE CONDUCTED, HOWEVER, NOT BY A SOUND MAN PRESENTLY ASSIGNED TO THE HOUSTON DIVISION. I WOULD RECOMMEND THAT IN THE EVENT A QUALIFIED FBIHQ EXPERT IS NOT AVAILABLE THAT THE BEST QUALIFIED EXPERT IN A NEARBY FIELD OFFICE BE SENT TO HOUSTON AS EXPEDITIOUSLY AS POSSIBLE SO THAT THE REQUESTED SWEEP CAN BE CONDUCTED.

advised that they received information from a Philadelphia informant that the Lansdale RA was either penetrated by a microphone or was being wiretapped. He stated information from their source furnished some details regarding activity in the RA which tended to substantiate the allegation. This information was not sufficient however to pinpoint whether it was a microphone or telephone interception. He stated that his SAC requested he contact Headquarters and request assistance in conducting a sweep of the RA on Monday, February 14. RA personnel have been alerted to this situation in a non-alerting manner, if in fact the RA is compromised. The Scientific and Technical Services Division is sending two agents to Philadelphia on 2/14/77 to assist Philadelphia in this sweep. Philadelphia has requested that no teletypes be sent to Philadelphia inasmuch as the matter is being held closely within the Philadelphia office. This response was coordinated with

SUBJECT: COUNTERMEASURES SECURITY CHECKS
CONDUCTED BY THE FBI

PURPOSE: Telephone security surveys

To delineate those circumstances under which we will, where requested, conduct countermeasures security checks of government space for the purpose of attempting to determine whether or not telephone lines and such space may have been compromised by eavesdropping devices.

SYNOPSIS:

A request has been received by the Office of the Secretary, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW), for a security check to be performed at Secretary Mathews' office and the office of Under Secretary Marjorie Lynch. It is felt we should comply with this request as we have responded favorably in the past to similar requests based on our responsibility for the protection of national security interests. Proposed guidelines concerning future security checks of government space are being set forth for the handling of requests of this nature. Letter to the Attorney General advising of our procedure is attached.

CURRENT BUREAU POLICY:

In the past, requests for such checks received from various members of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches have been complied with upon the approval of the Associate Director.

 RE: COUNTERMEASURES SECURITY CHECKS
 CONDUCTED BY THE FBI

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) If the procedure set forth is acceptable, checks will be handled on the authority of the Assistant Director of the Laboratory Division with appropriate written records being made in Bufiles to record each countermeasures security check conducted, the details relating to same, as well as the fact the requester has been advised, in writing, the check was conducted because of national security or sensitivity considerations, together with the results. We do not receive a large number of these requests so no impact on our resources is anticipated.

DETAILS:

From time to time in the past, the Laboratory has received requests from various offices within the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches to conduct countermeasures checks (security checks) of specified government space, including telephone lines, for the purpose of determining whether or not the security of these areas or communications facilities has been compromised by the placement of such things as microphones, telephone taps, and the like. Traditionally, because of our responsibility for the protection of national security interests, we have responded favorably upon the authority of the Associate Director's office.

Memorandum J. Cochran, Jr. to Mr. McDermott
RE: COUNTERMEASURES SECURITY CHECKS
CONDUCTED BY THE FBI

Currently we are in receipt of a request from the Office of the Secretary, HEW, for such a check to include Secretary Mathews' office, as well as that of Under Secretary Marjorie Lynch. While it is understood there is little, if anything, of a true national security interest going on in HEW, the fact that the Secretary, and in his absence the Under Secretary, participate in cabinet-level deliberations which conceivably could involve national security considerations, it is felt we should comply with this request.

It is pointed out that, with the exception of some limited capability in this area possessed by Secret Service, there really is no other agency within the Executive branch equipped to conduct such checks. To be sure, the CIA is more than capable of handling these requests; however, they have in the past refused to do so on the basis that their charter does not specifically permit such responses. As a result of this refusal, numerous requests in the past years have been referred to us and we have complied with same. Over the past three years, I am not familiar with a single request that we have turned down.

It is proposed that when requested in writing we provide security checks for government office space for anyone at the cabinet level in the Executive branch, as well as any other area wherein there is a clear statement showing that the material handled within that area impacts on national security, or is of such a sensitive nature as to warrant these protective measures. Further, with regard to the Legislative and Judicial branches, we conduct such checks as are requested by judges or members of the legislature, with checks being extended to members of their staffs where specifically requested by the judge, senator, or congressman. In the acceptance of these requests, it will be made clear to the requester that such checks are being conducted because it is the FBI's understanding that activities within the areas to be checked involve those matters directly affecting national security or are highly sensitive.

COUNTERMEASURES SECURITY CHECKS
CONDUCTED BY THE FBI,

The purpose of this communication is to advise you of the current practice being followed by this Bureau in the conduct of countermeasures security checks requested by various members of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches of the Federal Government.

From time to time we receive requests from various offices within the government to conduct countermeasures security checks of specified government space, including telephone lines, for the purpose of determining whether or not the security of these areas or communications facilities has been compromised by the placement of such things as concealed microphones, telephone taps, and the like. Traditionally, because of our responsibility for the protection of national security interests, we have responded favorably to these requests which we insist be submitted to us in writing.

It is pointed out that there really is no other agency who can, or will, respond to such requests. Certainly, the CIA is more than capable of performing this mission; however, they have in the past refused to do so on the basis that their charter does not specifically permit such activity. As a result of these refusals, numerous requests in past years have been referred to us and we have complied with same.

In the absence of specific instructions to the contrary, we will continue to provide these security checks of Federal Government office space, for individuals at the cabinet level in the Executive branch, as well as any other area in that branch wherein there is a clear statement showing that the material handled within that area of concern impacts on national security or is of such a sensitive nature as to warrant these protective measures. Further, with regard to the Legislative and Judicial branches, we will continue to conduct such checks as are requested by judges or members of the legislature, with checks being extended to members of their staffs where specifically requested by the judge, senator, or congressman. Upon completion of each request, we will confirm the results of the check, in writing, to the head of the agency for whom the check was made, as well as confirming to that agency that such checks were conducted because it was the FBI's understanding activities within the areas checked involved those matters directly affecting national security or were of a highly sensitive nature.

On 2/16/77, members of the Engineering Section conducted a security survey of the office of the Attorney General. On 3/31/77, a similar survey was conducted of his residence. No evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering was detected at the time of these surveys.

the Attorney General's office was advised that in the past a security survey was made of the Attorney General's office every six months and his residence once each year. She indicated that this schedule would be satisfactory in the future.

On 3/31/77, the Engineering Section made certain physical security improvements at the Attorney General's residence. The lock cylinders on the service entrance door and main entrance door were replaced and additional locks were installed on the three sliding glass doors to the balcony. The necessary locks and hardware in the amount of $43.72 were purchased locally. The installation of the locks was coordinated with Chief of Security Donald Carson, Office of Management and Finance, who advised that the Department would reimburse the Bureau for the cost of the material used.

PC

St. Louis has received several requests from the U. S. Attorney's Office to investigate claims of "surreptitious eavesdropping" in IOC cases. There are private investigators in the St. Louis area who offer "de-bugging services" but their techniques and equipment are questionable.

It is noted that the rapidly expanding electronics technology has placed on the open market numerous devices capable of surreptitious monitoring. The Bureau should be in a position to investigate these matters professionally and with a degree of proficiency and expertise. Accordingly, the Bureau is requested to consider SA [REDACTED] for attendance at captioned school.

b7C

SA [REDACTED] (Technical Coordinator) is a competent technically trained sound agent who performs approximately 90% of his duties in technical work. He has been very active in all phases of TESURS, MISURS, and associated technical endeavors. Such training, if afforded to SA [REDACTED] would be an asset to the Bureau's complement of sound agents.

Reurlet 4/29/77 requesting the Technical Services Division (TSD) to provide equipment and personnel to afford an electronic countermeasures sweep of your new office space.

The TSD will provide necessary equipment and personnel to conduct the requested sweep and provide Honolulu technically trained Agents instruction in the use of countermeasures equipment. The sweep and instruction will require two men approximately three days to complete.

Honolulu will advise completion date of move by secure communication and the sweep will be coordinated by secure communication.

NOTE: The TSD has in the past assisted field offices in the initial countermeasures sweep of newly acquired office space and at the same time offered training in the use of countermeasures equipment to the technically trained agents in the office. It is anticipated that two personnel from the TSD will be needed to provide sweep and training.

~~SECURITY COUNTERMEASURES TRAINING~~
SPECIAL AGENT MICHAEL STEWART
BOSTON DIVISION

Security Surveys

Re Boston letter dated 5/13/76 requesting counter-measures training for captioned agent.

SA Michael Stewart has been scheduled to attend two courses at the Interagency Training Center (ITC) Washington, D.C. area, from 8/15/77 to 9/2/77 and from 9/12/77 to 9/23/77. SA Stewart should report to the ITC prior to 8:00 a.m. 8/15/77. All equipment and material will be furnished by the school.

NOTE: Bureau personnel including technically trained personnel from FBIHQ and several field offices have attended similar training sessions in the past. Attendance at this series of courses has updated our technical personnel with valuable information and techniques in order that they may respond to security problems with complete confidence of having been provided adequate training. This training more than justifies the cost of travel and per diem. These courses are offered at no cost to the student and the cost of SA Stewart's attendance will consist of travel, per diem, and loss of his services for this period of time. The total cost is estimated to be $2300. Attendance at this school has been coordinated with the Finance and Personnel Division and the Administrative Services Division.

Memorandum Jay Cochran, Jr. to Mr. McDermott
RE: SECURITY CHECK REQUEST
CONGRESSMAN BRUCE F. CAPUTO

DETAILS:

On 9/15/77, the Technical Services Division received a copy of a memorandum from the Director concerning a telephonic request received on 9/13/77 from Congressman Bruce F. Caputo for a security check. Congressman Caputo advised that possibly he is having some intrusion due to his high visibility as a part of the Korean probe. Mr. Caputo advised the Director that he had received two reports of possible burglary at his residence and felt that there could have been an intrusion into his telephone system. The Director indicated that it appeared that the search request would be confined to his telephone in Congress, but that whatever Mr. Caputo's need might be in this regard, that we get in touch with Mr. Caputo and perform such services that we have available.

Inasmuch as the U.S. Capitol Police have a capability of conducting security checks and have primary jurisdiction in these matters on the Hill, Chief James M. Powell of the Capitol Police was contacted and advised of the above request. He stated that he had no objection to the Bureau performing the requested service for Congressman Caputo and made arrangements for the necessary building entry, parking, etc. in connection with the request. He requested, however, that if the opportunity presented itself that the Congressman's office be advised that the Capitol Police possessed the capability of conducting security checks.

b7c

Contact with Congressman Caputo and [redacted] [redacted] was made on 9/15/77. Mr. Caputo stated that he was leaving town in the evening and he would like to have the check performed on Friday, 9/16/77. It was determined that the primary area of concern was his residence rather than his office space and that the request also involves an attempt to determine whether certain documents had been tampered with. Arrangements were made to conduct the requested security check at 10:00 a.m. on 9/16/77.

Memorandum Jay Cochran, Jr. to Mr. McDermott

Mr. Mintz was contacted concerning this matter and it was agreed that our granting of the request could be considered a natural extension of our authority on the Attorney General's concurrence of the letter sent to him on 9/30/76 in which it was stated that security checks would be conducted for members of the Legislative Branch with the understanding that activities within the areas checked involve matters directly affecting national security or are of a highly sensitive nature.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

RE: CONGRESSMAN BRUCE F. CAPUTO

Security clearance

Congressman Bruce F. Caputo, who resides on Capitol Hill, and whose business phone number is 225-5536, phoned me on September 13, 1977. He said that he has had a couple of burglary reports, one September 2nd and September 3rd, which indicate that possibly he is having some intrusion as a result of his high visibility as a part of the Korean probe in Congress. He said the police were called but there was no visible sign of entry, but as a result of some evidence he has he thinks there was entry.

Mr. Caputo felt that there is a possibility that there could be an intrusion into his phone system and requested that he be contacted in order that a search might be made. He does not have a phone at his apartment and it appears that it would be confined to his phone in the Congress. At any rate, whatever might be his need in this regard, I would like to have you get in touch with him and perform such services that we have in this regard.

Please do this at once and let me know after your contact with him.

Mr. Caputo advised the Director that he had received two reports of possible burglary at his residence. He stated further that possibly he is having some intrusion due to his high visibility as a part of the Korean probe. On 9/16/77, personnel of the TSD and a Fingerprint Examiner Supervisor of the Identification Division conducted a security check of Congressman Caputo's apartment at 312 A Street, S.E., Washington, D. The Congressman's apartment contained a telephone, however, it was not hooked up in accordance with the Congressman's desires. No evidence of clandestine microphones or transmitters was located during the checks. The following physical security hazards were noted and brought to the attention of Mr. Diefenderfer:

1. Locks were not changed when the Congressman moved into the apartment.
2. A window in the bathroom and the French doors to the back porch were not securely locked.
3. An access hole on the roof above the living room was not secured and a ladder from the attic to the hole was in place. A trial access to the apartment was conducted with relative ease.

[REDACTED] indicated that there was no need for a security check of Congressman Caputo's office space at this time. He was advised, however, that the Capitol Police have the capability if such a need were to arise in the future. He expressed his appreciation for the Bureau's efforts in this matter and stated he would advise the Congressman concerning the security hazards and would await the results of the latent fingerprint examination.

Security check

Dear Congressman Caputo:

On September 16, 1977, a fingerprint specialist of the Federal Bureau of Investigation received a notebook containing 23 documents from [redacted] of your office. A latent print examination was conducted and 100 latent fingerprints, 12 of which are tip, side, or lower joint impressions, and 22 latent palm prints were developed on the documents.

Thirty-three of the latent fingerprints which were developed on these documents have been identified as your fingerprints. The remaining latent fingerprints, 12 of which are tip, side or lower joint impressions, have been compared with your available latent fingerprints, but no additional identifications were effected. Inked impressions of the sides and tips of your fingers and your palm prints are needed for conclusive comparisons of the unidentified latent prints.

You were advised by letter dated September 21, 1977, of the result of the security check of your apartment.

Attached are the notebook and 20 documents, which were received for latent print examination.

Hand delivered to Rep. Caputo - R77

Security Survey

This afternoon Jim Adams called to advise he had conversed with the Attorney General and during the course of the conversation, the Attorney General inquired as to the security of his dictation equipment. While Jim did not get all the details, it would appear that the Attorney General's dictation is carried to another location over a wire (whether telephone or not is unknown) which terminates in a device which records his dictation. The Attorney General also inquired concerning the security of the tapes upon which the signal is captured wondering whether or not the dictation can be reconstructed after the tape is "erased."

Jim would appreciate it if your people could call the Attorney General's [redacted] and suggest that some day when the Attorney General is not in his office, we go over to make an assessment of the security or lack thereof in his dictating system. Please do so at your earliest convenience and advise me of the results.

Security Survey

In response to your expressed concern, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation conducted a security survey of your Lanier dictation equipment on 9/30/77. It was determined that the secretary, after she has completed transcribing your dictation, can erase the tape. Once this tape is erased, there is no known method to recover the intelligence. There was no tampering noted with any of the Lanier equipment or the cable connecting the equipment at the time of this survey.

NOTE: See informal note from [Redacted] to Mr. Campbell 9/29/77 requesting this survey be performed. ~~The request for a survey was initially made to Mr. Adams by the Attorney General's Counselor, Michael Kelly.~~ The Attorney General and the secretary transcribing his work are separated by a conference room. The wire connecting the dictating equipment runs under the conference room. No other lines access this wire. The installation is basically secure and the potentially weakest spot would be the secretary's inadvertent failure to erase the tape.

SUBJECT: ~~TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE~~
COUNTERMEASURES SUBCOMMITTEE (TSCS)

PURPOSE:

Security Surveys
~~Technical Surveys~~

To state a need for additional contributions from members of the intelligence community to complete the projects in a Threat Assessment Evaluation Program (TAEP) and to request that the Bureau contribute an additional $60,000 in the attempt to complete two projects in the program.

DETAILS:

Re memorandum dated 6/11/75 requesting that the Bureau furnish $50,000 as their share in TAEP to be undertaken by captioned committee.

The TAEP was planned by members of the intelligence community and was intended to make it possible to evaluate the threat against intelligence areas and sites. It would also help the Government determine the level of countermeasures equipment and activities need to protect a particular site. It would also serve as a guideline for activities of the United States Intelligence agencies.

The program was originally to be funded by members of the TSCS for $350,000. It was estimated to cost $300,000 with a $50,000 reserve. The Bureau contributed $50,000 in June, 1975, and completed its assigned project of domestic finds (Project P-1).

Memorandum W.D. Campbell to Mr. Cochran
RE: TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE
COUNTERMEASURES SUBCOMMITTEE (TSCS)

When the program was actually funded only $250,000 was contributed which caused the program to start off with a deficit. CIA contributed an additional [] but increasing costs have made the original estimate inadequate to complete all of the projects. Completion of all the projects would require an additional $150,000 to $200,000. b3 per CIA

A review by the oversight committee of TAEP advised that the TAEP as outlined in the original program consisted of different projects which were to be distributed among member agencies and private contractors and that all projects were not allocated funding or assigned in the original tasking because of lack of funds. Two of the projects, P-9 and P-10, vital to the overall study were partially funded and are underway and will not be completed without additional funding. These two projects are the 1974 and 1979 Practical Estimate Of Threat Parameters. For an additional $60,000 these two projects could be completed to insure a vital and needed area of the TAEP be finished.

Other projects planned in the original program and not funded will not detract from the TAEP and may be completed at a later date.

The Engineering Section feels the completion of the two projects is vital to the TAEP and should be completed.

Deputy Assistant Director Cregar of the Intelligence Division also feels that these projects are of value for future threat assessment evaluation and that the Bureau should assist the Threat Assessment Task Force with an additional contribution.

SUBJECT: SECURITY CHECK OF RESIDENCE OF CONGRESSMAN BRUCE F. CAPUTO

PURPOSE: To advise the results of requested latent print examination of twenty documents belonging to Congressman Caputo.

DETAILS: The Director advised in a memorandum dated 9-14-77, that a request for a security check has been received from Congressman Bruce F. Caputo and that the request should be handled at once. Arrangements were made with Congressman Caputo to conduct the check on 9-16-77.

Fingerprint Specialist [Redacted] received a notebook and twenty documents from [Redacted] to Congressman Caputo, at the residence of Congressman Caputo. These documents were alleged to have been tampered with.

The documents were examined and 165 latent fingerprints, 12 of which are tip, side, or lower joint impressions, and 22 latent palm prints were developed on the 20 documents. Ninety-three of the latent fingerprints have been identified as the fingerprints of Congressman Bruce Faulkner Caputo, born 8-7-43, in New York, New York. Sixty of the latent fingerprints are not identical with the fingerprints of Congressman Caputo. The remaining latent fingerprints, which are tip, side or lower joint impressions, have been compared with the available fingerprints of Congressman Caputo, but no identification was effected. Major case prints of Congressman Caputo will be necessary for conclusive comparisons of these latent prints and the 22 latent palm prints.

The result of the examination conducted by the Technical Services Division was furnished in a separate memorandum. 23 NOV 2 1977

Attached are the notebook and 20 documents and a letter to Congressman Caputo, which sets forth the results of the latent print examination.

Re Detroit telcall to [redacted] 8/24/77 and Detroit letter to Bureau, 4/27/77.

Referenced telcall and letter requested Bureau Counter-Measure/Security Team to assist Detroit Headquarters technical personnel in a Counter-Measure/Security Evaluation of captioned office space.

Due to construction as performed by civilian contractors and sub-contractors, and further to extreme size and complexity of office space, it is felt current headquarters Counter-Measure equipment is inadequate to provide appropriate and necessary security evaluation.

It is further felt that a Counter-Measure/Security Team could provide valuable assistance to Detroit sound Agents in the training of Counter-Measure equipment.

It is requested that a Counter-Measure/Security Team assist the Detroit Division re captioned matter on or about 9/19/77 through 9/23/77.

In response to your request made to personnel of the Tucson Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Resident Agency, representatives of the FBI Technical Services Division conducted a microphone and telephone security survey of the office space of the Tucson Narcotics Strike Force on November 30 thru December 1, 1977.

This search was limited to the most likely places a listening device would be hidden and was made without defacing walls and furniture. The survey included a check of all telephone instruments.

No evidence of eavesdropping or tampering was detected at the time of the survey.

Mr. Charles L. Dempsey
Acting Inspector General
Department of Housing and

Washington, D.C. 20410

Dear Mr. Dempsey:

Telephone Security Surveys

Reference is made to your letter dated January 18, 1978, requesting a security check of Department of Housing and Urban Development Suites 10000 and 10214.

The requested security check was conducted on January 27, 1978, by FBI personnel. No evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering was detected at the time of this check.

In regard to your request for an intermittent security check, it is our policy that a letter from the requesting agency be submitted before a security check is performed. Unless unusual circumstances exist, we would prefer that these checks not be conducted more often than at 6-month intervals due to budgetary restrictions and limited manpower.

Sincerely yours,

REC-30 62-9730A-847

EX-111

Jay Cochran, Jr.
Assistant Director FBI

Note: Due to budgetary constraints and other manpower commitments, it is not practical to provide security checks to HUD on a more frequent basis. In addition, since security checks are not normally conducted for the Director or the Attorney General more often than once every six months, it is not considered necessary to provide this service to HUD at more frequent intervals unless unusual circumstances are indicated.

SUBJECT: REQUEST OF CONGRESSMAN BRUCE F. CAPUTO

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to report a request made by captioned Congressman to have the FBI conduct a security check of Congressman Caputo's Yonkers, New York, office telephone lines for a possible eavesdropping device.

DETAILS:

On Tuesday, 1/17/78, b6
b7C

Congressman Bruce F. Caputo advised that the Congressman's residence in Washington, D. C., was recently burglarized. The Congressman at that time had the FBI conduct a security check of the telephone lines at his Washington residence and no eavesdropping device was located.

stated that the telephone lines at the New York State Correctional Office which adjoins Congressman Caputo's office were recently checked and the technician who conducted this security check advised the Congressman that he believes there is some type of sending device on the Congressman's telephone line. Congressman Caputo uses the telephone at his Yonkers office, located at 30 South Broadway, Yonkers, New York, telephone number (914) 476-3319 for official business and sensitive matters are often discussed. Congressman Caputo realizes that the local telephone company would be able to conduct a security check of his telephone lines but prefers that the FBI make this check.

COUNTERMEASURES SURVEY OF RESIDENT AGENCY SPACE AT CHATTANOOGA, TENNESSEE

Security Surveys.

Reurtel dated 2/2/78.

On 2/15 - 17/78, personnel from the Engineering Section, Technical Services Division, conducted a countermeasures sweep of the Chattanooga RA. This sweep included a check of all telephones in the space, the RF spectrum, and a physical search. No evidence of eavesdropping or tampering was detected during this survey. It is noted that what was purported to be a sweeping device might have indicated the presence of an RF field caused by a source other than a clandestine transmitter. Several high level signals were noted in the room that might have activated the device.

The common wall between the RA and Intelligence Associates, Inc., has no acoustical insulation and normal room conversations can be heard on the other side of the wall. It is recommended that some type of sound absorbing material be placed on this wall.

NOTE: The purported sweeping device was a simple field strength meter brought to the RA by a person who did not understand how it operated.

Mr. Cochran:

Concerns Atlanta teletype 3/17/78 requesting TSD to conduct security sweep of U. S. Attorney's office in Atlanta.

ASAC Ed Pisty of the Atlanta office advised SA Campbell on 3/20/78 that information from the U. S. Attorney's office concerning case strategy and other matters is being leaked out.
ASAC Pisty stated that they have a secretary in the U. S. Attorney's office that is under suspicion concerning the removal of documents from his office. The U. S. Attorney would like to eliminate all possibilities of a technical device being planted in his office prior to conducting his investigation concerning the secretary that may be furnishing information to unauthorized people.

In view of the above, it is recommended that this search be conducted since we will have people in Atlanta conducting other security surveys during this period.

SUBJECT: COUNTERMEASURES REGIONAL SWEEP TEAMS

NEW KEDY
5/10/78

At the present time most of the countermeasures requests at FBIHQ and the field are handled by the FBIHQ countermeasures team. The FBIHQ team finds it difficult to handle the increasing countermeasures requests and it has been planned to set up regional field sweep teams to assist in the handling of countermeasures requests.

As a beginning in the establishment of regional sweep teams it is planned to bring SA [redacted] Dallas and SA Richard Suter, Houston to FBIHQ during the week of 5/22-26/78 for briefing on new equipment and procedures. It is then planned that SA's [redacted] and Suter will assist the FBIHQ team on field sweeps to become fully qualified.

b6

RECOMMENDATION:

That approval be granted to afford advanced countermeasures training to SA's [redacted] and Suter during the week of 5/22-26/78. If approved, Gray and Suter will be advised to report to FBIHQ by separate communication.

This request is to handle a specific need for a capacity in the southwest to preclude HQ teams from having to make repeated long trips. The establishment of a program for field sweep teams will be requested and justified at a later time when we have sufficient equipment to outfit them. This memo will request approval of a Bureau-wide sweep team program.

Re: ASSOCIATED LOCKSMITHS OF AMERICA (ALOA)

New Orleans Hyatt Regency Hotel, July 9-16, 1978. During this convention the latest developments in locks, safes, and security devices will be exhibited and demonstrated. In addition to the exhibits numerous seminars and classes will be conducted for those in attendance. Attendance is limited to Association members, the security industry, and invited guests. It is not open to the public.

The major part of the convention this year is the classes which are being held from July 9-14. These classes offer a wide variety of training which cannot be found anywhere and which would take many years to accumulate on an individual basis.

Personnel assigned to the Engineering Section have attended ALOA's national convention for the past five years and information obtained at these conventions has proven extremely valuable in fulfilling the FBI's investigative responsibilities. Attendance has also facilitated the development of contacts in the industry that are invaluable in case examinations and matters involving national security.

New products and methods in the security field are appearing on almost a daily basis. In order to keep abreast of these developments and to insure that the Bureau obtains the best security for the cost, attendance at this convention is recommended.

Since much of the technical material of interest to the FBI is presented over five full days in numerous overlapping sessions, three attendees, SA's [redacted] [redacted] all of whom are knowledgeable in the field of physical security, are recommended to attend.

By sending three representatives, a maximum return on the information imparted at this convention will be assured. Because advances in the field of physical security are so dynamic and where pertinent areas of concern will be discussed simultaneously during the convention, every effort must be made to attend all topics of interest as they are offered. As stated earlier, nowhere else can information of this type be obtained in such a complete manner. For the FBI to function effectively in this field every effort must be made to ensure total coverage at this convention. The time and effort involved to duplicate this learning process would be impossible to calculate if attempted outside of ALOA and the value derived from attendance at this convention is evidenced by the number of other Government security representatives (State Department, CIA, NSA, Capitol Security, Secret Service, DOT, Department of Labor, DEA, all branches of the Military and DOD), who regularly attend this convention. Attendance at this convention not only will enhance the posture of the Bureau in this area but it will also guarantee its current standing in the government community that deals in this sensitive area of endeavor.

Attached is a xerox copy of the classes offered at this years convention. Notations indicate classes attendees anticipate taking. In addition to these classes, there are numerous free clinics on related matters in the security field and it is the intention of all attendees to be present at all of these.

(S) In undercover operations, Title III cases and FCI investigations, there is a continuing requirement for the penetration of secured spaces. Since criminals and espionage agents alike utilize the latest in sophisticated security hardware, both of foreign and domestic construction, the FBI must maintain a liaison with the manufacturers of this equipment as well as be able to successfully defeat the security provided by these elements when called upon. Recent examples of this include [REDACTED] and UNIRAC-RICO.

Knowledge in this field is also required for the protection of sensitive and complex monitoring facilities utilized by the FBI and other government agencies. Since some of these facilities are shared, absolute requirements are mandated for protection and the most modern technology must be applied. A case in point is a new facility authorized for construction in New York where a whole floor will be utilized by another group.

Memorandum to Mr. Cochran
Re: ASSOCIATED LOCKSMITHS OF AMERICA (ALOA)

Approximate cost per attendee would be: Registration $10.00; Classes $200.00; per diem $396.00; and transportation $214.00.

Administrative details will be handled by the personnel involved. Earliest registration is requested as some classes are restricted due to class content and size. Payment would be by purchase order for all except per diem and travel.

By sending three trained Special Agents to receive instruction the Bureau will get maximum return for the expenditure of time and money. To obtain the same information from other sources, the three SAs would have to spend weeks in travel and a tremendous increase in cost over this convention. It is categorically stated that any lesser FBI representation will not be cost effective nor will full potential be reached.

If approved, training forms, OF-170, will be submitted by the attendees prior to departure.

PURPOSE:

Security Surveys

To request that representatives of the Engineering Section, Technical Services Division, sweep the telephone lines at my residence located at the above address.

SYNOPSIS AND DETAILS:

On 5/11/78 [redacted] located a Bell System device attached to the protector block located on the backside of our residence at [redacted]. I removed the device on the evening of 5/11/78 and on 5/12/78 gave the device to Section Chief William Campbell of the Engineering Section, Technical Services Division. The device is Bell System equipment and is normally used by telephone installers and repairmen. It could also be used by someone who was attempting to place a tap on my telephone.

b6

Mr. Campbell had the device checked and stated that it was in working order except the batteries had run down. Mr. Campbell arranged for one of his employees to make appropriate inquiries with the telephone company in Northern Virginia in an effort to determine whether the device had been left inadvertently by a telephone company employee. Information received from the telephone company discloses none of the telephone company employees who are assigned to perform work in the area of my residence have misplaced such a device.

Inasmuch as the possibility does exist that parties unknown could have attempted to monitor my telephone it would appear prudent to have

6/5/78. Re telephone call of SAC to [redacted]

Enclosed for the Bureau is a xerox copy of a letter received at Honolulu from the U.S. Marshal's Service.

Enclosed letter requests Bureau assistance conducting electronic sweep of the Judges' chambers and jury rooms for the presence of eavesdropping devices. The referenced phone call was made in this connection and this communication was suggested.

The space involved was visually checked and the Judges' chambers consist of a suite of rooms comprising a personal secretary's office and reception area, a law clerk's office, the Judge's personal office and conference area. This space which is a prime interest in the suite measures approximately 25 by 35 feet. In addition, each Judge's chamber contains a full bathroom and a wet bar. There are three Judges' chambers plus the offices of the U.S. Magistrate which consist of the Magistrate's office and a reception area.

There are two jury rooms both measuring approximately 25 by 25 feet each equipped with two bathrooms. There are no windows or telephone service. The jury rooms are adjacent to each other on the top floor of the courthouse building and accessible only by stairwell.

The current U.S. Attorney has orally made request of the former SAC, Honolulu for consideration of sweep service in the event a team of experts were to visit Honolulu in the future. In this connection, he advised he would like a sweep to be made of his office, the office of his five assistants, the office of the Strike Force Attorney assigned permanently to Honolulu, the conference room and library.

As stated above, there is no telephone service to the jury rooms; the Judges' suites are serviced by GSA Centrix Service plus a private line for each judge. In addition, there is an intercom system for security purposes between the Judges' chambers and the U.S. Marshal's Service. The U.S. Attorney's Office has a total of 11 telephone lines, 6 of which are part of the GSA Centrix System. The other lines are private lines servicing each attorney.

The U.S. District Judges have furnished the following information concerning their vacation plans for the summer:

Chief Judge SAMUEL P. KING advised he has no vacation plans for the months of June or July and that in Judge PENCE's absence Judge KING pointed out that PENCE was a senior U.S. District Judge and used his chambers only when scheduled to hear cases. Judge KING said Judge PENCE's schedule indicated he will be in Honolulu most of June and July. Judge DICK YIN WONG advised that he intended to be on the mainland and away from Hawaii from 6/17-7/14/78.

When apprised of the fact that the Bureau may be able to furnish a team of experts from the Laboratory to conduct a sweep, the U.S. Marshal's Service expressed concern over any possible charges they might accrue in this connection. He pointed out that should there be a charge for this service, payment of any fees would necessarily need to be worked out with their headquarters in advance.

For the information of the Bureau, space utilized by the Judges and the U.S. Attorney were completed and occupied after a security check was conducted by the Laboratory of space utilized by the Honolulu Division. Since the date of the sweep of the Honolulu Office, a number of alterations have been made and it is felt another sweep of this office may be appropriate. For the information of the Bureau, the Agana RA, Guam, has never been subjected to a survey and the Technical Services Division may decide inspection of both the Honolulu Office and the RA should be conducted.

Retelcall from [redacted] to SA BREIDENFELD, 8/7/78.

b6
b7c

It is requested that the Bureau arrange for SA [redacted] to attend Countermeasure School, October, November, 1978.

SA [redacted] is currently undergoing OJT in the Sound Field in the NY Division, and assigned to the CES in NY.

SA [redacted] has an extensive electronic background and extensive training in telephones and telephone systems.
It is NY's opinion that SA [redacted] has all the necessary pre-requisites to attend this training and that he will represent the Bureau in excellent fashion.

For your information, the Technical Coordinator in NY has only two other trained Sound Agents in the Countermeasures Field and due to the tremendous work load in this area, needs an additional agent to be formally trained.

Please advise as to your approval and scheduled dates.

TELEPHONE LINE ANALYZER
FPC

LEGAT, Bern (163-3242)

Security Summary

Reurlet dated 6/16/78, captioned as above.

Referenced letter requested information concerning a telephone line analyzer manufactured by Communication Control Systems, Inc., 605 Third Avenue, New York, New York.

Records of Dun and Bradstreet, New York (protect) reflect Communication Control Systems, Inc., 605 Third Avenue, New York, New York, was incorporated at New York, 10/15/75, to manufacture telephone and computer surveillance countermeasures systems. Corporate President is identified as George Scanlon and Vice-President is identified as Hugo Black. The foregoing information, furnished by Dun and Bradstreet, was provided in confidence and authority to disseminate to a foreign government was not granted.

(C)

Enclosed for the [redacted]

(C)

[redacted] is a brochure issued by Communication Control Systems, introducing the TA-1000B telephone analyzing system.

b1

It is noted that this telephone line analyzer incorporates a Tektronix 1503 TDR Cable Tester as an integral part of the analyzer. It is noted that the price of this analyzer is quoted at over $24,000. The price of the TDR 1503 is $3,000 plus optional accessories. As the TDR 1503 is the main part of the analyzer it appears that the analyzer is overpriced.

Specifications for TDR 1503 are enclosed for [redacted]

(C)

From information available to the Technical Services
Division it appears that the Communication Control Systems, Inc. does not engineer new equipment but instead incorporates other manufacturers' equipment into equipment it sells.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Dear Mr. McCommas:

Security Surveys

Your letters dated August 31, 1978, and September 20, 1978, requested sweeps of rooms 418 through 426A and 432 through 456 of the Federal Trade Building.

(700)

On September 5, 1978, and October 3, 1978, personnel of the Federal Bureau of Investigation conducted electronic and physical sweeps of those offices and the telephones therein.

No evidence of clandestine eavesdropping devices or of tampering was noted during the sweeps.

EX-114 REC-262-77200-894

It was noted during the October 3, 1978, sweep that the Chairman's Lanier Action Line Word Flow - Communications System, Model C/2, was transmitting recorded information in the playback mode on a radio frequency of 32.5 megahertz (MHz) with predominantly FM modulation. This was received approximately 100 feet from the transcriber.

22 ~~00~~ 1978

The transcriber was removed for more detailed examination. It was determined that a 14-pin integrated circuit, CD 4011, a Quad MOS Gate, was transmitting predominantly FM modulation at 32.5 MHz with harmonics at 63.4 MHz and 92 MHz. The transmission was received on a small FM radio with good quality audio.

It appears that this transmission capability is inherent in the manufacture of this model as it was also present in another identical model.

 (ATTN: FBI LABORATORY, TECHNICAL SERVICES DIVISION,

FROM : AFN/ SAC, MIAMI (66-2149)

SUBJECT: SECURITY SURVEY - FT. LAUDERDALE
 RESIDENT AGENCY

W

Recently, the Ft. Lauderdale Resident Agency (FLRA) of the Miami Division moved into new office space in the new Federal Building, located at Room 303, 299 E. Broward Boulevard, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. The Federal Building was under construction for more than two years and there were problems with the several unions, which included shoddy construction, as well as destruction of property at the site.

The Bureau is aware of the potential threat that exists for acts of terrorism in the Miami Cuban community because of the everchanging international political situation. Also, South Florida has become the winter haven and the retirement home for individuals associated with national organized crime groups, which are a continuing threat to any law-abiding community.

JC

Accordingly, in view of the foregoing information, it is felt that a security survey of the new Ft. Lauderdale, Florida Resident Agency would appear to be justifiable.

It is noted that the Miami Division does not have the equipment to perform such a survey.

REQUEST OF THE BUREAU

Re Chicago telcall to JERRY BREIDENFELD, 7/27/79.

For the information of the Bureau, the Chicago Division has had a new telephone (GTE 1000) system installed in its Headquarters office. The cutover from Bell Telephone to the GTE 1000 system was effected on March 16, 1979.

Due to numerous problems with the new telephone system, including major shutdowns of the switchboard, GTE personnel worked several months correcting the problems, and it is believed that the system is now operating efficiently.

AC

It is requested that a countermeasure survey be conducted in the Chicago office by Bureau personnel. SA [REDACTED] has had countermeasure technical training and will be available to assist Bureau personnel in conducting the countermeasure survey. 62-97308-105

Dear Mr. Webster:

There have been two instances recently, one in which not only did the contents of a written memorandum appear in a publication, but also a verbatim account of an oral discussion of a transaction by our Board of Directors. In the other instance a reporter for this same publication that printed the incident above, was able to give one of our Senior Officers an account of everything that had occurred at a meeting of the Bank's Board of Directors two hours earlier the same day.

(S)

In view of these happenings we would like to have our Board Room (Room 1141) inspected by your Agents.

SECURITY SURVEYS OF DOJ SPACE

Reference is made to your letters of April 28, 1980 and May 7, 1980, requesting microphone and telephone security surveys of the Attorney General's Office and the Office of the Associate Attorney General.

On May 1, 1980, personnel of my staff conducted an electronic countermeasures sweep of the Associate Attorney General's Offices in the Main Justice Building. No evidence of clandestine listening equipment was found during the sweep. It was noted, at the time of the sweep, that the secure telephone instrument was located in proximity to the commercial telephone. A minimum of six feet separation between these instruments is considered adequate to preclude acoustic coupling of the two systems. This potential hazard was rectified at the time of its discovery.

On May 8, 1980, a sweep was conducted in the Attorney General's Office and adjoining conference room. Once again, no evidence of clandestine listening equipment was found.

During the May 8, 1980, sweep, it was noted that contractor personnel, whose security clearances were unknown, were working in the Attorney General's Office and adjoining conference room unescorted. Such a situation is generally considered to be a potential threat to physical security and consequently tends to lessen the benefits of countermeasures efforts. This situation was brought to the attention of [redacted] of your staff.

NOTE: Sweep of Associate Attorney General's Office on May 1, 1980, was conducted by [redacted] and [redacted]. Sweep of the Attorney General's Office and adjoining conference room was conducted by the above ETs under the supervision of Unit Chief [redacted].

Memorandum from J. H. Geer to Mr. E. J. O'Malley
Re: AG Guidelines Seminar, June 2-5, 1980, Countermeasure
Security Sweep

DETAILS:

The Director has authorized the holding of an Attorney General Guidelines seminar at the FBI Academy in the auditorium from June 25, 1980. The first two days of this seminar will be devoted to an explanation of revisions in the Attorney General Guidelines and additions thereto. The Attorney General Guidelines are classified SECRET and expositions of them would likewise be classified SECRET. The Attorney General Guidelines lay out the fundamental investigative parameters of foreign counterintelligence investigations and allude to sensitive investigative methods and techniques. The conference will be attended by approximately 100 FBI counterintelligence field supervisors and about 50 FBI Headquarters counterintelligence supervisors. It is expected that a great deal of administrative, legal, operational, technical, and other sensitive discussions will take place. For these reasons, the dual recommendations above are imperative. ~~(S)~~

(U)

Because the FBI Academy auditorium is in use on June 5, the half day which will close this seminar will be held in the crime-scene classroom. That classroom is a large classroom above the swimming pool and adjacent to the crime-scene search rooms and audio visual facilities at the Academy. While only Field supervisors will attend this session and the Guidelines discussions will be over, it is likely that sensitive discussions will also be held in this room. Consequently, it is requested that this room be swept also. ~~(S)~~

(U)

During the seminar, a representative of the Training Unit, INTD, will secure the lecture space at Quantico during coffee or lunch breaks. (U)

RE: ATTORNEY GENERAL GUIDELINES SEMINAR,
JUNE 2 - 5, 1980
COUNTERMEASURES SECURITY SWEEP

ADDENDUM OF TECHNICAL SERVICES DIVISION (TSD): DWW:jam 6/5/80

On May 30, 1980, personnel of the Engineering Section, TSD, conducted an electronic countermeasures sweep of the auditorium of the FBI Academy at Quantico, Virginia. The sweep included a security check of telephones within the auditorium, and the RF spectrum was monitored from 3kHz to 2GHz. No evidence of tampering or presence of clandestine listening equipment was found during the sweep.

On June 2, 1980, to insure that no transmitters were activated during the seminar, a second RF spectrum scan was conducted while the seminar was in progress. No evidence of transmissions of any kind was found.

[REDACTED] INTD, advised that, due to schedule changes, there was no longer a need to conduct a countermeasures survey of the crime-scene classroom at Quantico.

SECURITY SURVEY OF SPECIAL SECURITY CENTER

Reference is made to your letter of May 23, 1980, requesting a security survey of the Special Security Center (SSC) and the Judge's Chambers, room 6725, of the Main Justice Building.

On May 29, 1980, personnel of my staff conducted a telephone security check and monitored the RF spectrum from 3kHz to 2GHz in Judge Hart's chambers (6725). Since the only telephone in the SSC is a KY-70, only an RF spectrum sweep was conducted there. No evidence of clandestine listening or transmitting equipment was found in either location at that time.

Re Baltimore airtel, 5/2/80, requesting an electronic countermeasures survey of captioned RA space. (U)

On 5/28/80, personnel of the Engineering Section, Technical Services Division, conducted a telephone security and RF spectrum sweep of the RA located on the second floor of the Centreville, Maryland, Post Office. (U)

No evidence of tampering with respect to telephones or evidence of clandestine audio transmission equipment was found during the sweep. (U)

(U) During the survey of the space containing special collection and transmission equipment; however, potentially hazardous conditions were noted. The separation between the secure data communications equipment and telephone lines, alarm lines, and other electronic equipment was not within the normally acceptable limits. Such a situation increases the possibility of highly sensitive information radiating outside the facility either through spatial radiations or conductive emanations down telephone lines or other fortuitous conductors. SUBJECT: COUNTERMEASURES MATTERS

Survey

PURPOSE: To obtain authority for SA David W. Wade and [redacted] to travel to Dallas and San Antonio, Texas, to assist the Dallas Office in conducting a countermeasures sweep of new office space and to effect on-site contractor monitoring at San Antonio.

b6

DETAILS: Dallas teletype, dated June 16, 1980, captioned "Relocation of Dallas Office - Countermeasures Survey," requested FBIHQ technical assistance in conducting an electronic countermeasures sweep of the new office space recently occupied by Dallas personnel.

It has been the policy of the Engineering Section to provide technical assistance to field offices in conducting the initial sweep of newly occupied office space. This insures that personnel experienced in electronic countermeasures are made available to the field to support the first technical inspections of the office. This is considered a good security policy and should be implemented whenever possible. It is anticipated that a 2-3 day effort will be required to support Dallas' request.

SA Wade and [redacted] will be available on July 9-11, 1980, to support the Dallas request and are experts in electronic countermeasures.

b6
b7c

In addition, FBI contract J-FBI-7838 with Southwest Research Institute (SWRI) has recently been modified to require the production of two each BODET III devices. Extension of the Dallas field support trip to include San Antonio (SWRI) for the purpose of monitoring the SWRI contract is considered appropriate.

Re Baltimore letter to San Antonio, dated 6/23/80

Being shipped to Dallas by Federal Express under separate cover is the Dektor telephone analyzer received by San Antonio from Baltimore. The two cartons received were not opened by San Antonio and reshipped to Dallas for utilization by Special Agent David Wade, FBIHQ.

Baltimore indicated that the only number that could be located on either case was 990, which is probably the serial number.

*Dallas will forward to FBIHQ for Re San Antonio letter dated June 9, 1980.

In response to your request for technical equipment and information as set forth in relet, copies of the Telephone Security Manual and Technical Surveillance Countermeasures Committee Procedural Guide Number 3 were provided to SA [redacted] on July 10, 1980. Procedural Guide Number 3 includes Guidelines for Conducting Audio Countermeasures Surveys.

Your request for the permanent assignment of additional technical equipment is being held in abeyance. At the present time, there are only a limited number of Scanlock receivers in the Bureau's inventory and the available units are being assigned to those offices having fully trained countermeasures personnel. As additional equipment becomes available your request will again receive consideration. Should you require the use of a Scanlock receiver in the interim, advise FBIHQ, Attention Technical Services Division, Engineering Section, and appropriate action will be taken to temporarily transfer equipment to you from another field office.

Regarding your request for a modified Triplet, model 3400 digital meter, FBIHQ is currently in the process of having several units modified to incorporate an amplifier suitable for use in countermeasures sweeps. When this modification is completed, your request will be considered.

The amplifier, tone generator, and RF signal generator requested in relet should be available in your Kaiser 1040 kit. If this equipment is not operating properly, return it to FBIHQ for repair and/or replacement.

Any questions regarding the above should be directed to SA David W. Wade, FBIHQ, extension 2700.

(U) During the period that we have limited availability of equipment, it is necessary to apportion existing capacity between offices having the most compelling need from an FCI viewpoint. INTD oversight of apportionment of secure telephone equipment is the purpose of captioned matter. It is most logical that responsibility for evaluating cross-divisional programs' impact on individual field offices, and establishing FCI policy for Secure Telephone System disposition be centered in the CI-3 Section's Unit overseeing resource allocation and management. ~~(C)~~

Telephone Security Surveys

Dear Judge Featherston,

In response to your telephonic request of September 17, 1980, personnel of my staff conducted an electronic countermeasures sweep of the offices of Judge Samuel B. Sterrett, Room 422, United States Tax Court.

The sweep, conducted on September 19, 1980, consisted of a thorough physical and electronic examination of all telephones within the offices of Judge Sterrett, his secretaries, and his law clerks, as well as a local scan of the radio frequency spectrum from 3 kilohertz to 1.5 gigahertz.

No evidence of modification to the telephones or the installation of clandestine listening equipment was found at the time of the sweep. This fact was brought to the attention of Judge Sterrett at the conclusion of the sweep.

Should you have any further questions regarding this matter, please contact Special Agent David W. Wade, telephone 324-2700.

DETAILS: Detroit has moved their off-premise location to a newly constructed building and have requested FBIHQ technical assistance in conducting an electronic countermeasures sweep.

The Engineering Section has in the past provided technical assistance to field offices in conducting initial sweeps of newly occupied space, or when a specific problem arises where sophisticated equipment and expertise are required. This insures that personnel experienced in electronic countermeasures are made available for field support. It is anticipated that a 2 1/2 days effort in Kansas City and 2 days effort in Detroit will be required to support these requests.

SA [redacted] Indianapolis, should be available February 23-25, 1981, to help FBIHQ personnel in Kansas City. [redacted] will be available February 23-25, 1981, in Kansas City then travel to Detroit for February 26-27, 1981, to support the request for both Kansas City and Detroit Field offices.

At about 5:30 p.m. April 1, 1981, I received a call from Secretary of Interior Watt. Apparently his Chief of Security, Robert A. Smoak, Chief of the Division of Enforcement and Security Management, Department of the Interior, Room 5426, telephone 343-8357, has recommended a number of sweeping security changes, including guards, Park Service participation, automobiles before and after, etc., for the protection of the Secretary. D.C.

The Secretary says that before he relies on all of these recommendations he wants to know whether we know if the Chief of Security is sufficiently competent for these requirements to be respected.

Is there anything that we have in files or do we have any other information which we are in a position to furnish to the Secretary in response to his inquiry?

COUNTERMEASURES MATTERS

SECURITY SURVEYS

Reference is made to your letter of May 6, 1981, requesting an audio countermeasures security survey. (U)

(U) On May 20, 1981, in response to your request, FBI personnel conducted a countermeasures security survey of the Special Security Center, Room 6744 and the Judges' Chambers, Room 6725 of the Main Justice Building. The security survey consisted of a radio frequency spectrum check, a check of all telephone lines and a physical search. No evidence of clandestine listening devices or tampering with the telephone lines was found. (S)

(U) During the survey three telephones in the room next to the Special Security Center were checked. Examination of these telephones determined that two telephones were Western Electric 2500 instruments utilizing 270B Automatic Disconnects. The purpose of the 270B Automatic Disconnect is to disconnect the telephone instrument from the line when the telephone is on hook. The same two instruments were also noted to have G-5 Handsets installed which have a push-to-talk button on the handset to disconnect the handset microphone when the button is released. The G-5 Handset does not, however, provide security to the telephone in that audio is passed by the telephone earpiece when in the off-hook position even when the push-to-talk button is released. The appropriate handset to utilize when the 270B Automatic Disconnect is used is the G-10F handset if telephone security is a consideration. It was further observed that the third telephone was a Western Electric 565 instrument which was located approximately 3 feet from the above described protected telephones. The 565 instrument had no protective devices installed which tends to negate the effectiveness of the protective devices installed on the other two instruments. This matter is being brought to your attention for your consideration in evaluating the security requirements of that room. (S)

SECURITY - ALIENS

Dear Senator Denton:

In response to [redacted] telephonic request on April 20, 1981, personnel of my staff conducted an electronic sweep of your apartment at [redacted]

b6
b7c

The sweep, conducted on April 23, 1981, consisted of a nondestructive physical check, a thorough physical and electronic check of all the telephones in the apartment, as well as a scan of the radio frequency spectrum. No evidence of tampering with the telephones or the installation of a clandestine listening device was found.

As you are aware Senator, an audio countermeasures sweep conducted in a place that is not physically secure has no lasting effect. The sweep is only good for the duration of the audio countermeasures team's presence and ceases to be valid upon their departure.

Sincerely yours,

William A. Bayse

(U) PURPOSE: To propose the establishment of guidelines for countermeasures surveys requested by the Congressional Affairs Unit (CAU) to be conducted in offices on Capitol Hill. ~~(S)~~

DETAILS: The Technical Services Division (TSD), Engineering Section, Electronic Analysis Unit (EAU), has been requested on a regular basis by the CAU to conduct countermeasures sweeps at offices of Senators, Congressmen, and at both House and Senate hearing rooms. The sweeps are conducted prior to a scheduled closed hearing or a briefing given by the Director or any other Bureau official. ~~(S)~~

(U) Countermeasures sweeps conducted by TSD, EAU, personnel consist of a scan of the radio frequency spectrum, a check of the telephones in the office, a check of the telephone lines, and a nondestructive physical search. The radio frequency spectrum checks take approximately two hours to conduct. The check of the telephones and telephone lines will consist of disassembling telephones to check for any modifications made on the telephones which would allow audio information to leave the room or office. The telephone lines are checked to insure that no audio is present when the telephone is not being used and to check for microphones on the lines. In doing the nondestructive physical search, all walls, ceilings, and floors are checked for any evidence that might indicate the presence of a clandestine listening device. Wall mounted items, including mirrors, picture frames, and plaques are checked visually and electronically for a transmitting device or microphones. The furniture in the room or office is checked in the same manner. ~~(S)~~

Memorandum to Mr. Young
RE: COUNTERMEASURES MATTERS

(U) The length of time it takes to conduct a countermeasures sweep depends largely on the size of the space to be checked and the number of personnel conducting the sweep. No less than two hours should be budgeted for a thorough check of the space. (C)

(U) Even if there is no evidence of electronic eavesdropping at the time of the countermeasures sweep, it does not preclude the possibility of electronic eavesdropping in the future. (C)

(U) The EAU countermeasures team will carry with them about four pieces of equipment; most of it will be in Samsonite attache cases and in Halliburton cases. (C)

(U) TSD personnel have in the past experienced being questioned regarding their presence in offices and/or hearing rooms and also regarding equipment being used in conducting countermeasures sweeps. This, of course, is disadvantageous to the countermeasures sweep team as it would alert the adversary should the room or office be compromised in any manner. This would also make it harder to find transmitting devices, since some can be switched off remotely. (C)

RECOMMENDATION: 1. It is being recommended that upon receipt of a request for a countermeasures sweep to be conducted at Capitol Hill offices or hearing rooms, the CAU discreetly advise appropriate personnel at the place where the sweep is to be conducted of the following:

A. The number and names of TSD personnel conducting the sweep (names will be provided to CAU by TSD's EAU).

B. That TSD personnel will have with them about four pieces of electronic equipment.

C. Request that no questions be asked of the countermeasures sweep team regarding the team's presence, the equipment, or its function until after the conclusion of the sweep.

D. That telephones in the hearing rooms and/or offices to be checked will be disassembled and inspected. Telephone lines will be checked also.

E. That a nondestructive physical search will be conducted of the space and that unavoidably some disruption of the office routine will occur but to the extent possible the office should carry on with normal business so as not to unduly indicate the presence of the sweep team.

F. The fact that no evidence of electronic eavesdropping is detected at the time of the countermeasures sweep does not preclude the possibility of electronic eavesdropping in the future.

(U) G. That at the conclusion of the sweep, an effort will be made to answer questions they might have pertaining to the countermeasures sweep. ~~(S)~~

Security Survey

Reference is made to your letter dated February 25, 1982, requesting a technical survey of the offices of Chairman John Shad and four commissioners.

On March 4, 1982, personnel from the Technical Services Division conducted a countermeasures survey of Chairman Shad's office, the offices of the four commissioners and the office of the Director of Enforcement. The survey included a radio frequency spectrum check, a check of all telephones, telephone lines and a nondestructive physical search. (P)

No evidence of electronic eavesdropping or tampering with the telephones was detected at the time of the survey. However, it was noted that the sliding glass doors on the Commission Meeting Room could not be locked. The technical and physical security of the Commission Meeting Room would be improved by locking the sliding glass doors to prevent access by unauthorized personnel. It is suggested that a bar be used to secure the doors.

Subject : COUNTERMEASURES MATTERS

Security Surveys
PURPOSE: To make a record of countermeasures survey conducted at the Northeast Regional Computer Support Center.

DETAILS: On August 17, 1982, personnel from the Technical Services Division conducted an audio countermeasures survey of the Northeast Regional Computer Support Center at Ft. Monmouth, New Jersey. The sweep included a check of the radio frequency spectrum, a check of all telephones, telephone lines, a check of the 200 pair cable going to the computer center and a check of all 900 pairs coming into the building from the central office. No evidence of eavesdropping devices or tampering with the telephone lines was found. However, it was found that several pairs in the incoming cable from the Telephone Company central office had a high value of capacitance and excessive crosstalk on them. Following the Countermeasures survey SA [redacted] was orally advised of the results.

The above survey was conducted by ET [redacted] and SA [redacted]

RECOMMENDATION: None. For information only.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Dear Mr. Kusserow:

SECURITY SURVEYS

Reference is made to your letter dated April 20, 1983, requesting a countermeasures security sweep of the offices of the Department's Secretary, Under Secretary and Chief of Staff.

pk

On May 4, 1983, personnel from the Technical Services Division (TSD) initiated a technical surveillance countermeasures (TSCM) survey, however, it was aborted after telephone company personnel walked into the offices of the Secretary while the TSCM survey was in progress. The telephone company personnel were advised by the Secretary's staff that the "FBI was checking the telephones" and asked them to conduct their business at a later time.

In view of the above, and of the possibility that an eavesdropping device could have been remotely turned off, which would have made it harder to detect, the TSCM survey was terminated.

AC

The FBI will be glad to arrange for another TSCM survey at the earliest time of mutual agreement.

It is requested that personnel who will be working in the area during the survey be advised to refrain from verbally discussing the TSCM survey either prior to or during the survey and not to remark about the equipment or the work in progress. Any such remarks will clearly alert a possible eavesdropper and will nullify the usefulness of the TSCM survey.

Sincerely yours,

Where is Attach #2? — The WRA was found to have a Horizon Communication System (See Attachment #2 for specifications on telephone system utilized), housed inside the RA under their control. The following are numbers and types of telephone instruments utilized by the WRA:

- 9 - Model 2500 DMG-82084 Bell System telephone sets
- 1 - Model Z2500 MMGA/83109 Western Electric set
- 1 - Model 500 DZM Bell System rotary set
- 1 - Model 2500 DM/79141 Bell System set
- 1 - Model 2500 MM/79003 Western Electric set
- 1 - Model 2500 MM/79243 Western Electric set

- 1 - Model 2500 MM/83052 Western Electric set
- 1 - DSS Console (Horizon)
- 1 - 30-button console for Horizon - Model 9A3-82DR5-5D69937-01-ISS.1

It was found that the Dektor Telephone Analyzer cannot be used when making off-line telephone checks on the main telephone console. The console cannot be unplugged for it will lose its program. If the power for the Horizon Unit is unplugged, it also will lose its program. Also, when doing various checks, the Dektor unit puts 115 VAC on the telephone lines which will cause damage to the IC circuits inside of the telephone unit.

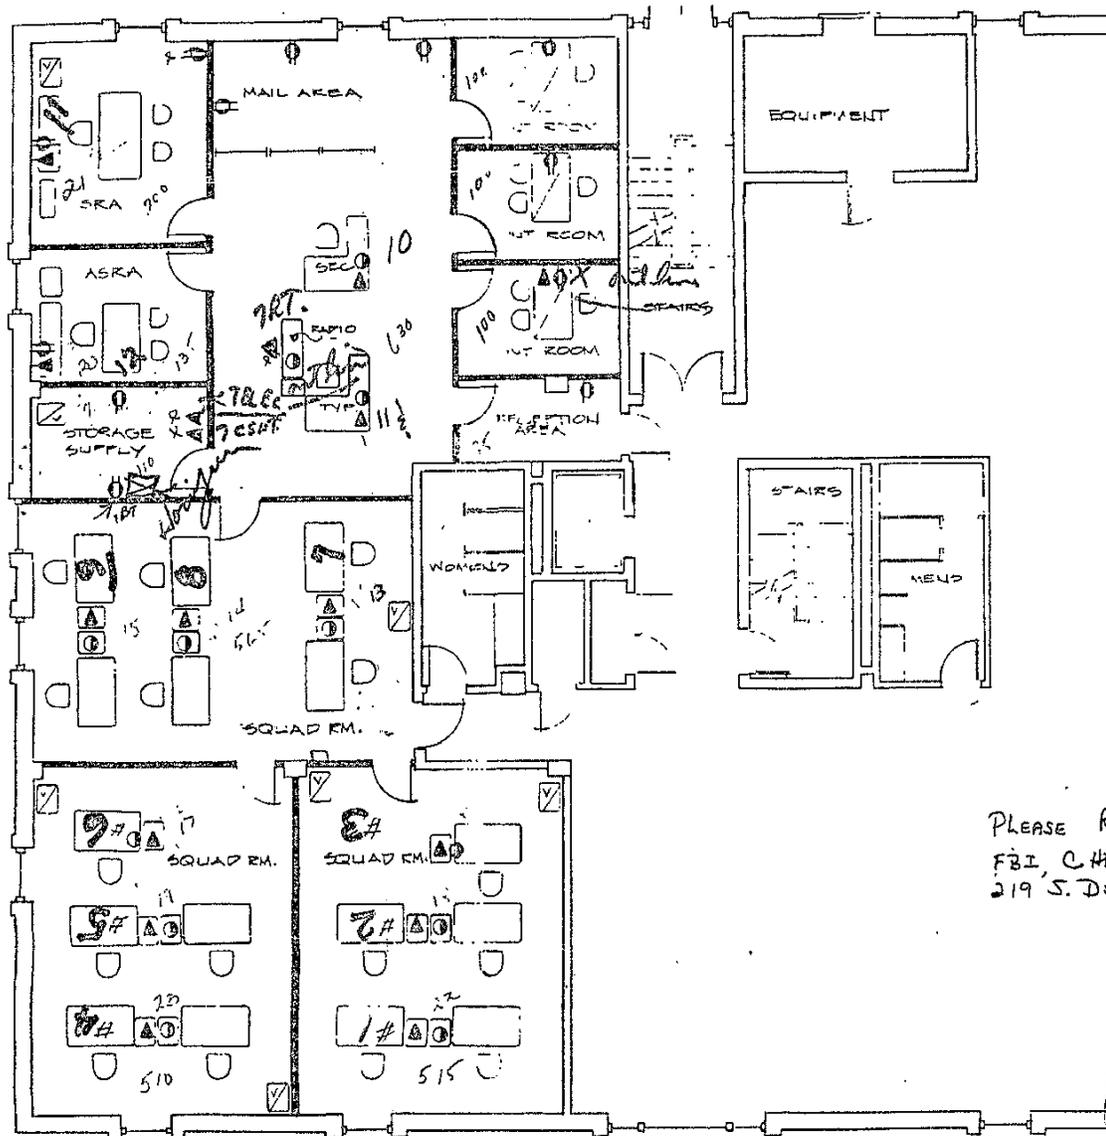

It is not known whether the Horizon unit itself has remote maintenance capability. The WRA does have and securely maintains a portable computer attachment for reprogramming the Horizon unit if a problem develops.

Another problem encountered was that all telephone wiring from the outside telephone house closet on the second floor to the storage supply room inside the RA was exposed. This storage supply room houses the Horizon unit. From this room, all individual wires to telephone sets run through the floor and across a drop ceiling of space directly below the RA. This space is unoccupied but is locked. To defeat the WRA telephone system, someone knowledgeable could cut into any exposed wire and tap into the talk path of another telephone in the RA.

The above information was brought to the attention of the WRA Senior Resident Agent and to Chicago Office Services Manager (OSM).

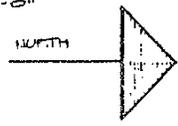

The Bureau is requested to review the above stated potential telephone wiring hazard and advise Chicago if changes should be made. If so, appropriate funding for needed changes should be made.

(A) TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE COUNTERMEASURES (TSCM) SURVEYS AND

Security Survey

The MIOG, Part II, Section 16-7.2(6), Page 1268, has been changed to indicate the duties of Technically Trained Agents (TTAs) concerning security checks, henceforth referred to as technical surveillance countermeasures (TSCM) surveys. These changes are in effect upon receipt of this communication.

Previously, it was required that TSCM surveys be conducted on a quarterly basis at field office cities and on an annual basis at resident agencies occupying Federal or commercial building space. This policy has been changed by reducing the frequency at field office headquarters city (from four times a year to twice a year) and increasing the required frequency for TSCM checks at resident agencies (from only once a year to twice a year). Consequently, all TSCM surveys will be performed on at least a semiannual basis. The new policy further clarifies what constitutes a proper TSCM survey by specifying that it encompass a radio frequency check, physical and electronic checks of telephones and a comprehensive physical search of the space surveyed. Further, it specifies that at minimum, the offices of the SAC, the ASAC, the FCI and organized crime supervisors, the communications center and off-premises locations should be surveyed at the prescribed frequency.

A new major topic, Section 16-17, on Technical Surveillance Countermeasures (TSCM) Policy has been added to the Manual of Investigative Operations and Guidelines, Part II. The following TSCM Policy, which is effective immediately, provides guidelines to respond to the numerous requests received from various Federal and non-Federal agencies for TSCM surveys.

The primary objective of FBI-performed TSCM surveys is the protection of FBI space, sources and methods and the continued integrity of matters for which the FBI has investigative interest.

MEMORANDUM 31-83

68 NOV 30 1983

All TSCM surveys performed for other Federal agencies should be in response to a valid requirement to protect matters of National Security or of high sensitivity and should not be performed as a routine service. Requests for TSCM surveys from agencies outside the Department of Justice should be in writing with sufficient justification and may be conducted as FBI resources permit.

Prior to conducting a TSCM survey for other Federal agencies, it should be established that the requesting agency does not already have an in-house TSCM capability. For example, the Military Services and the Department of Energy have their own TSCM-trained personnel.

Under normal circumstances, TSCM surveys of residences, including those of FBI officials, SACs and other FBI personnel, are not routinely performed because continuing security or integrity of space, telephones and telephone lines cannot be assured in a private residence. However, TSCM surveys should be conducted when there is an indication that the residence in question has been technically compromised, when a residence is being used for a special case where its security and integrity can be maintained, or when circumstances indicate a special TSCM survey would be prudent.

TSCM surveys may be conducted, upon request, for the office space of Federal Judges, United States Magistrates, United States Attorneys and other Offices of the Department of Justice. However, all such requests must have SAC approval. The SAC should exercise good judgment to ensure that surveys are conducted in response to valid security requirements and are not performed with excessive frequency.

TSCM surveys may be performed, with FBIHQ approval, for officials of the Legislative and Executive Branches of the Federal Government provided that requester certifies that one or more of the following conditions exist:

- (a) Matters discussed in that office involve National Security Information or are highly sensitive.
- (b) Matters discussed involve joint Agency/FBI investigations.
- (c) There are substantial indications that the office space of the requesting agency or official has been technically compromised.

TSCM surveys may be conducted for state and local law enforcement agencies only where the FBI has a joint investigative interest. The SAC must approve these surveys.

8-2-83

Upon receipt of a request by, or on behalf of a U. S. Congressman, a written communication should be immediately directed to FBIHQ, Attention: Congressional Affairs Section, Office of Congressional and Public Affairs, and Engineering Section, Technical Services Division, stating all pertinent details concerning the request. All TSCM surveys for U. S. Congressmen must be approved by FBIHQ.

Arrangements for TSCM surveys should be made discreetly. Prior to conducting a TSCM survey, the telephone numbers, number of telephones, model of telephones and all line appearance information should be obtained.

Upon completion of the TSCM survey, the results and recommendations should be orally furnished to the requester followed by a letter formally advising of the results. A copy of the letter should be designated for FBIHQ.

Immediately upon completion of a TSCM survey conducted for a Congressman or in connection with a particularly sensitive matter the field office must direct a communication to FBIHQ Attention: Engineering Section, Technical Services Division. The communication must contain the following:

- (a) Name of the Technically-Trained Agent(s) who performed the requested TSCM survey.
- (b) Name of requester and location(s) surveyed.
- (c) Number of rooms or offices covered.
- (d) Telephone number(s) and model(s) of telephone(s) checked.
- (e) Complete appearance information on telephone line(s) checked.
- (f) Problems or discrepancies encountered while performing the TSCM survey.
- (g) Recommendations made to requester.

The results of all other TSCM surveys conducted should be reported on the office Monthly Technical Report using the above format, but deleting items c, d and e.

Manual change follows.

Subject : ~~C~~ COUNTERMEASURES MATTERS

PURPOSE: To report the results of a technical surveillance countermeasures inspection (TSCM).

DETAILS: On June 5, 1984, [redacted] conducted a TSCM at the Xerox Training Facility, Room 3370, Leesburg, Virginia.

The TSCM included a radio frequency spectrum check and a nondestructive physical search. During the physical search, the telephone was disconnected and all wires were removed and checked for room audio. The Medeco lock cylinder was installed by Xerox personnel and a five-drawer safe was moved into the room (Bureau safe).

No evidence of clandestine listening devices was found. At the end of the TSCM survey, the door was locked and only FBI personnel had keys to the room.

The Xerox Training Facility is an international training facility, and many foreign personnel attend training sessions at various times. The frequency of using this facility for training and/or conferences should be kept to a minimum as the technical integrity of the spaces used cannot be maintained or controlled.

RECOMMENDATION: That conference and/or training of a highly sensitive nature not be conducted at the Xerox Training Facility.

Subject : ~~TECHNICAL INSPECTION AT THE RAYBURN BUILDING~~

The entire contents of this memorandum are classified "~~Confidential~~."

PURPOSE: To report the results of a technical inspection of the Altec amplifiers used at the Rayburn Building, Capitol Hill, Washington, D. C.

DETAILS: During several countermeasures surveys conducted at the Sam Rayburn House Office Building, by personnel of the Engineering Section and by other agencies of Intelligence Community, numerous radio frequency signals have been found to be emanating clear text audio from Altec amplifiers. In view of this, [redacted] who works for the Architect of Capitol Hill, was contacted regarding this problem. He stated that he would try to solve this problem. Engineering Section personnel provided some technical assistance.

On April 6, 1984, [redacted] of the Engineering Section (ES), Electronic Analysis Unit (EAU), conducted a technical inspection of the Altec Lansing 1593B amplifiers located in the Rayburn Building. The following rooms with Altec amplifiers were inspected: 1100, 2200, 2203, 2226, 2337, 2318, 2325, 2212, 2118, 2154, B352 and B318. However, there were radio frequency oscillations detected at 4.2 MHz with a strong harmonic at 8.4 MHz in Room's 2200, 2203 and 2226. This problem was resolved by technicians from the Capitol Hill House Legislative Sound Call System Electronic Shop by removing the defective amplifier board, P/N 41830-12 and replacing each of the Altec amplifier units with a different amplifier board, P/N 41830-15.

All the aforementioned rooms were then found to be free from the detected radio frequency oscillations.

RECOMMENDATION: None. For information only. DE-118

ELECTRONIC COUNTERMEASURES SURVEY

The San Juan Division has been conducting intense investigations against terrorist organizations, organized crime elements and corrupt police officials which have revealed that each of these have utilized to varying degrees advanced electronic communications equipment. The San Juan Division has suffered one close call in an attack against bureau office space with a high explosive, rocket propelled ordinance and due to the nature of several very sensitive investigations is extremely vulnerable to electronic surveillance.

Jko

The San Juan Division currently has no personnel trained in electronic countermeasures. Due to the intense workload placed on San Juan TTA's by major case work, the Division is unable to spare any TTA's for in-service training.

As a result of the above, the Bureau is requested to provide experienced headquarters personnel to conduct a thorough countermeasures survey of the San Juan Division. In addition, during this survey, training should be provided to San Juan TTA's and suggestions made to improve San Juan's countermeasures program.

66-111-1056

In order to maximize the benefit of such a visit to the San Juan Division, it is also requested that the headquarters assistance be provided as soon after July 16, 1984 as possible.

March 21, 1984.

FBIHQ SSA [redacted] and Honolulu SA [redacted] [redacted] conducted technical surveillance countermeasures (TSCM) surveys in your office, the Guam Resident Agency (RA), and in several Federal agencies located in your division during the period of March 21, 1984, through April 9, 1984. At the conclusion of each TSCM survey, each agency was advised of the outcome. The TSCM surveys included a radio frequency spectrum check, a telephone and telephone lines check, an electronic check for possible hidden electronic surveillance devices on desks, books, furniture and other items. A cursory physical check was conducted in most offices with the exception of your field office and the Guam Resident Agency where a more thorough physical examination was conducted.

Letter to SAC, Honolulu
RE: TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE COUNTERMEASURES MATTERS

The telephones had dial intercom service which was the reason for the two voltage readings on hook. The higher voltage readings were measured by disconnecting the bar which allows the buttons to stay on the depressed position while on hook. By depressing the button for each particular line, the higher voltage readings were obtained.

All telephones are connected to a Key Service Unit (KSU) located within the RA office space. The five trunk lines go from the KSU to a connecting block above the ceiling of the interview room in the RA and continue to the telephone/electric power room located on the 4th floor. These lines appear on a 66 block and have the following line designations:

	W/BL, BL/W wire, House pair (HP) 210, cable #10
	W/O, O/W wire, HP 211, cable #10
	W/G, G/W wire, HP 212, cable #10
	W/B, B/W wire, connects to a small box (marked IT&E)
	W/S, S/W wire, HP 209, cable #10
	W/R, R/W wire was not being used

These lines continue and terminate on the 3rd floor telephone/electric power room. This room and the one located above on the 4th floor were locked and the keys maintained at the Manager's office. These are the last appearances within the building. The house pair information on the third floor is as follows:

	Trunk pair (HP) #710	b6
	Trunk pair #711	b7c
	Trunk pair #712
IT&E	Connects to a small box labeled "IT&E overseas lines"
	House pair #709

It was noted that lines 4 and 5 appear to have unusually low and high off-hook current readings respectively. However, it is pointed out that line 4 is the IT&E overseas line and line 5 is the unlisted telephone number and does not go through the same switch as the other three lines. Attempts to have the local telephone company personnel explain the reason for the measurements taken on these two lines failed as the telephone personnel did not answer our calls. It is possible that they may have been working in another island.

The following observations were made while conducting the TSCM at Guam.

1. One of the two doors in the RA that open from the hallway did not have a dead bolt.
2. The RA did not have an alarm system.
3. There were several manuals on top of the safes in the bulky room.
4. A cabinet is needed for storage of firearms (e.g. shotguns).

On March 25, 1984 (March 26, 1984 Guam time) the office of U.S. Marshal Edward M. Camacho Room 507, PNB, Guam, was checked.

The following telephones were checked:

Telephone#	on-hook (Volts)	off-hook	on-hook (current in milliamps)	off-hook

No discrepancies were noted on any of the telephones and telephone lines checked.

The following observations were made concerning the physical security of the DEA office.

1. The office is located adjacent to the U.S. Attorney's office on one end and the Grand Jury Room and restrooms at the north end and west side, respectively.
2. All walls on the perimeter of the office are constructed past the ceiling and up to the floor above.
3. Both doors leading to the hallway have dead bolts.
4. The office does not have an alarm system.
5. The door to the reception area is maintained open and not restricted to entering the office space.
6. Four pairs of telephone wires were removed from the DEA's space. These wires were terminated on a 66E block in the women's restroom located inside the Grand Jury Room space. No telephones were connected to their wires and which were part of the old telephone system that was replaced within the last year.

It is noted that physical security inspection is normally not part of the TSCM survey, however, in view of the many sensitive public corruption cases being worked in Guam and the fact that the RA is located in a public building with somewhat inadequate physical security, the following recommendations are being made:

1. That all doors leading to the hallway from the office space of the RA be outfitted with double cylinder dead bolt locks and installed by Bureau personnel only.
2. That the RA be provided with a cabinet or a large safe so that weapons (e.g., shotguns) left in the RA office can be stored safely.
3. That the RA be provided additional safes to store manuals and other sensitive materials.
4. That an alarm system be installed in the RA at the earliest time possible.
5. That the combinations to the safes be changed according to the MLOG, Part II, Section 16-7.2(7) a and b, each safe having a different combination number.

In addition, personnel from the Guam RA should advise The United States Attorney's office that they could improve the physical security of their office by having a double cylinder dead bolt in the main entrance door. All other Federal offices checked in. Guam appeared to have adequate physical security and no discrepancies were found during the TSCM survey.

In identifying all telephone pairs located in Headquarters City, it was found that extension #47 was leaving the office premise and this extension also appeared at the First Hawaiian Annex, S. King St. 20th Floor. Inasmuch as this extension was also located and used in the Confidential File room, it was disconnected from the lease line leaving your office space. This extension was replaced by extension #40 which was not in use.

Dear [redacted]

Reference is made of your letter to [redacted] Chairman, Security Committee, dated June 25, 1984, and his response to you by letter, dated July 3, 1984.

In response to your request, on July 16, 1984, the FBI, with the assistance of other members of the Intelligence Community and U.S. Capitol Police, conducted a series of technical tests from various locations within the Senate Chamber. These tests were conducted in order to evaluate the vulnerability of this space to a technical penetration.

The tests consisted of transmitting a very low power signal with the receiver located in a van in several areas outside the Capitol Building. The results of this test indicated that the Senate Chamber is susceptible to a technical attack by a person placing a small, low power, radio frequency transmitting device in this room.

The survey team also placed two recorders in different locations within the Chamber. Several recordings were made by reading from printed text. Although the recorded audio was not excellent, by enhancing the tape recordings, most of the recorded text can be recovered.

A physical inspection of the Senate Chamber revealed that the main floor is raised approximately three feet and hollow underneath. The Gallery floor also presents a problem. These areas provide easy access for the placement of a technical surveillance device which would be very difficult to find during a physical inspection.

Also, the main amplifiers to the public address system in the Chamber are located outside the Senate Chamber which causes some concern as they can be used as surveillance devices.

It is pointed out that an adversary having access to the attic directly above the Chamber could easily hear proceedings of any sensitive information or briefings being presented.

In addition, the survey team performed a physical survey of the areas surrounding the Senate Chamber. It was noted that various services of the Press have offices on the third floor adjacent to the North Gallery of the Senate. This would pose a problem in securing the Senate Chamber each time a sensitive briefing on National Security issues is conducted.

Based on the observations noted above, it would be very difficult to secure the Senate Chamber each time briefings of a sensitive nature are to be held.

However, in the event that the Senate Chamber is used for briefings on issues of National Security, the following recommendations are made for temporarily securing the Senate Chamber to a limited degree:

1. Post a U.S. Capitol Police Officer in the attic directly above the Senate Chamber to preclude an adversary from listening during the briefings.
2. Re-key all doors leading to the Senate Chamber and provide keys only to a limited number of personnel, keeping a record of all persons with keys.
3. Permanently relocate all Press services from the north end of the third floor, making that area a corridor where it can easily be checked prior and during briefings.
4. Post U.S. Capitol Police Officers outside each door leading to the Senate Chamber during briefings.
5. Disconnect the public address system.
6. Trace all telephone lines and public address wires before each briefing to ensure that they are not being used with surveillance devices.
7. Conduct a very thorough physical inspection of the Senate floor and Gallery before each briefing.
8. Disconnect all telephones in the Senate Chamber.
9. Provide radio frequency coverage of the Senate Chamber through the proposed In-Place Monitoring System, which is to be installed in the Capitol Building.

~~SECRET~~

b6
b7c

[REDACTED]

10. Provide at minimum 24-hour notice prior to a briefing in order to conduct a thorough physical inspection of the Chamber during that 24-hour period.

We want to emphasize that taking the above precautions will not preclude hostile intelligence services from technically compromising the Senate Chamber.

To fully secure the Senate Chamber for briefings of National Security issues would require the necessary changes to bring the Chamber in compliance with the U.S. Intelligence Community Physical Security Standards for Sensitive Compartmented Information Facilities.

We will be happy to show and discuss with you these requirements, if you so desire.

If we can be of any further assistance, please call on us.

Sincerely yours,

WJ

Dear [Redacted]

Pursuant to your request for a sweep of the Crisis Management Center, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Room 6217, Chester Arthur Building, 425 I Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., Special Agents from the Washington Field Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation conducted an audio countermeasures sweep at that facility on September 6, 1984. The sweep included online and offline tests of the telephone sets, an rf sweep and a physical search of the room and its furnishings. No devices were found.

From a security standpoint, several unused 25 pair telephone cables appear in the room and pose a potential hazard. You may want to consider removing them.

If I may be of any further assistance in this regard, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Norman A. Zigrossi
Special Agent in Charge

Reference Director teletype to Alexandria dated October 3, 1984.

This entire communication is classified "~~Confidential~~."

On October 3, 1984, a thorough TSCM was conducted in classrooms 310 and 312 of the FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION (FBI) ACADEMY. No intercept or attempted intercept devices were located.

While the overall security at the QUANTICO TRAINING COMPLEX appears to be adequate, the use of training classrooms for high-level conferences is not recommended from a TSCM stand point. These classrooms were designed for training purposes utilizing State of the Art Audio Visual Aids, which could be utilized for a technical surveillance. The following are items prone to attack by anyone desiring technical coverage of classroom 312:

Memorandum from R. W. Witzel to Mr. Bayse
RE: TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE COUNTERMEASURES (TSCM) MATTERS
ENGINEERING RESEARCH FACILITY (ERF)
NEWINGTON, VIRGINIA

The following are the findings of the inspection of the EPBX:

A. A cable enters the building and makes its only appearance in the switchroom, where 300 pairs attach to 66-type blocks. The first four blocks (100 pairs) contain pairs leading to the central office. According to information furnished by the Building Manager, the other 200 pairs are unterminated in a boot at the road outside the building. The FBI's trunks (19 ground-start, or 19 pairs), and (15 four-wire tie trunks, or 30 pairs) enter on this cable. They total 52 pairs, and only these 52 pairs are cross-connected from that cable to other terminal blocks in the switchroom.

The following checks were conducted on the 300 pairs:

- (1) Voltage checks between wires on each pair
- (2) Voltage checks between each wire and ground
- (3) Audio checks between wires of each pair
- (4) Audio checks between each wire and ground
- (5) Oscilloscope checks between wire of each pair
- (6) Oscilloscope checks between each wire and ground
- (7) Conductance checks between each wire and all other wires of the 200 floating pairs
- (8) Conductance checks between each wire of the 200 floating pairs and ground
- (9) All cross-connects from this cable were checked to insure that only 52 legitimate pairs are further connected inside the facility.

B. In addition to the FBI's legitimate trunks enumerated in paragraph A above, at least 23 other pairs appearing in the cable are trunks which have nothing to do with the FBI. Eighteen of them are loop-start lines, four are ground-start lines evidently in service on one or more PBXs, and one is a pair, both wires of which are at the same -50.6 VDC potential to ground, which contains telephone conversations most of the working day. Each one of these (except the last one with same potential on each wire) can be seized, and dial tone drawn, by a lineman's handset in the FBI switchroom.

C. All connections of the PBX purple connector field (all AX, LX, TX and TCX cables) and PBX red connector field (all KX cables) were checked for legitimacy, from which it was ascertained that all cross-connects from the PBX fields to station and trunk connector blocks are legitimate. The following checks were performed on all station pairs at the cross-connect point from the PBX field:

- (1) Voltage checks between wires of each pair
- (2) Voltage checks between each wire and ground
- (3) Audio checks between wires of each pair
- (4) Audio checks between each wire and ground
- (5) Oscilloscope checks between wires of each pair
- (6) Oscilloscope checks between each wire and ground
- (7) Ohmmeter checks on all pairs which contained no voltage

D. The checks made in C, above, were done without any telephones connected downstairs. Therefore, although useful checks of the wiring were accomplished, further checks should be made at a later date on the downstairs part of the DIMENSION system's station network.

E. No off-line tests were made on any telephones.

F. A copy of a Telephone Security Panel approved procedure for updating master memory tapes is being sent to the Building Manager for consideration. This procedure, if followed, will add to security of the system by insuring that the master program tape of the DIMENSION system contains only translations entered by authorized personnel.

DETAILS: On 3/7/85, personnel from the Electronic Analysis Unit (EAU), conducted a TSCM survey of the Executive Conference Room at 7142, FBIHQ.

The survey consisted of a nondestructive physical and electronic search, physical and electronic examination of the telephone instruments and lines serving the area and a search of the radio frequency spectrum.

No discrepancies were noted in the technical performance of the telephone system nor was there an indication of clandestine listening devices or radio frequency transmitters. Nothing was noted which would indicate any type of technical attack directed against this conference room.

SECURITY SURVEY OF BUREAU FACILITIES

It has been brought to the attention of FBIHQ that the Federal Protective Service (FPS), General Services Administration (GSA), has been conducting physical security surveys of Government buildings, including FBI space. These surveys of Government facilities are conducted by the GSA under the authority of Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 101, Subpart 101-20.5 - Physical Protection.

For information, these physical security surveys range from small blocks of leased space to comprehensive complex facilities and are conducted once every four years for all GSA controlled property and buildings as a part of the standard level protection provided under the Standard Level Users Charge (SLUC). The surveys are part of the FPS's security and crime prevention program and are designed to identify risks, assess crime potential, and evaluate weaknesses in current operations of occupant agencies. These security surveys are conducted with the intent to provide a safe work environment for Federal employees and customers and to protect Government property by recognizing, appraising, and taking action against potential problems.

The security surveys and reports have included location of space, physical description, access areas, locking devices, alarm systems, and photographs of areas. Though parts of such surveys and reports concerning FBI space may be public record, i.e., location and outside appearance, dissemination of information relative to inside operations and security features of FBI space represents serious security concerns, inasmuch as this information must not be routinely disseminated outside the FBI.

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight
Re: Security Countermeasures (S/CM) Working Group
Minutes of First Meeting, January 13, 1987

2. Implementation of the FBI's Industrial Security Program (ISP) was approved by Judge Webster September 3, 1986. The Department of Justice, on January 12, 1987, formally approved the FBI's request for an independent ISP, exempting the FBI from the Department of Justice Order and dependence on the Defense Investigative Service.

There were two primary reasons for the development of an independent ISP for the FBI: 1) The Defense Investigative Service could not get the required investigations done on a timely basis; and 2) the FBI at times did not want to disclose to the Defense Investigative Service the nature of its classified contracts.

The Defense Investigative Service retains primary responsibility for the inspection of facilities in connection with the U.S. Government's ISP. The Department of Energy, National Security Agency, and Central Intelligence Agency, each has their own ISP. Those four agencies, with their expertise and personnel, will be consulted regularly while the FBI develops its own ISP.

Our ISP must include: clearances of top echelon personnel of the parent corporation, personnel involved with the contract, subsidiaries involved; accounting for FBI material (classified and unclassified) provided to the contractor; furnish user's guides for the safeguarding of National Security Information.

3. Develop user's guides for the ISP and provide them to each Headquarters and Field Office Security Officer to outline rules, regulations, and procedures. These guides should be developed from those used by the Central Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency, Department of Energy, and the Defense Investigative Service.
4. Develop immediate "stop-gap" measures on the following current vulnerabilities as part of the short-term goals:

Group R-1 and Group R-1, combination locks, which are General Services Administration-approved for the U.S. Government's use; and the Burroughs hard disk, which is not adequately safeguarded from penetration, even with the use of passwords.

5. A long-term goal should be to develop strategy in budgeting and funding for the Bureau's security countermeasures. Countermeasures must be included as a part of the Bureau's foreign counterintelligence and criminal missions.

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight
Re: Security Countermeasures (S/CM) Working Group
Minutes of First Meeting, January 13, 1987

6. Presentation by the Contract Review Unit, Administrative Services Division, furnished an overview of the contract process with the two types of contracts: sole-source contract, wherein the company chosen generally has both facility and personnel security clearances from the Defense Investigative Service; and competitive contracts. The present policy is for the requesting Division to be responsible for certifying the clearances of the contractor's personnel, and ensuring the company can have access to and properly store classified information.

Discussion of the type and scope of background investigations required for the granting of a "Secret" security clearance, and the granting of a facilities clearance: All personnel involved with the hierarchy of a subsidiary/company/corporation and those involved with the actual contract must be certified with the proper clearances before the subsidiary/company/corporation can receive a facilities clearance. Interim security clearances for contractor personnel can be granted by the Department of Justice, pending completion of the required security clearance investigation.

Before interim clearances can be granted, the following basic criteria must be met: satisfactory credit, arrest, and indices check of the field and Headquarters indices, and passing a polygraph examination, if deemed necessary.

In summary, the requesting Division submits the contract proposal to the Contract Review Unit which awards the contract and, in turn, the Security Programs Unit is advised to handle personnel and facility clearance certifications and, when needed, conduct the necessary investigations for the granting of personnel and facility clearances.

7. Technical Services Division presentation centered on the methodology of its contract arrangements with the private sector regarding National Security Information.

This Division deals primarily with companies already handling classified contracts with other U.S. Government agencies and, therefore, these companies are familiar with handling such information. However, they do have contact with companies with old (ten/twenty years) Defense Investigative Service clearances which must be updated.

When a contract is awarded to a company for the Technical Services Division, the company must submit a list of people holding Defense Investigation Service clearances, which clearances are all re-verified by the Technical Services Division Security Officer, together with the date of their clearance; who, in addition:

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight
Re: Security Countermeasures (S/CM) Working Group
Minutes of First Meeting, January 13, 1987

b6
b7c

reviews all security measures in place; checks the information the contractor has been provided; ensures a signed form (SF-189a) is received from each person who has access, and these people have "Secret" clearances and a "need-to-know." The SF-189a enables an individual to be briefed into a special access program.

Written authority from the FBI is required before the contractor is allowed to show/divulge any FBI information to anyone (subsidiary/subcontractor).

The Technical Services Division maintains a data base with the name of each person working on any of their contracts, their work place, clearance level, and what project the individual is assigned to.

Problems encountered by Technical Services Division include:

Central Intelligence Agency's reluctance to furnish the FBI information regarding Sensitive Compartmented Information access data;

The "Secret" clearance level issued by the Defense Investigative Service is based on a National Agency Check, but should include, at a minimum, a local credit and arrest check;

Defense Investigative Service's inspections at facilities used by both that Service and the FBI have resulted in the Defense Investigative Service seizing FBI documents because they are not covered by the DD-254 form, used to accompany classified documents by the Defense Investigative Service. (It was proposed the FBI develop its own form for its own information based on the DD-254, especially when the FBI grants the facility clearance.)

8. A discussion of where personnel resources to handle the burgeoning security workload would come from disclosed most of the personnel being assigned to the Security Programs Unit were coming from the Records Management Division, and there was some reprogramming of Direct Agent Work Years from the Foreign Counterintelligence Program.

The Field Office Security Officers' responsibilities will, most likely, result in the Security Officer becoming a full-time position, along the lines of the Principal Legal Advisor or the Privacy Control Officer. Instead of Headquarters personnel traveling to conduct facilities inspections, it is anticipated the responsible Field Office Security Officer will conduct these inspections and reinspections, once properly trained to do them.

b7c

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight
Re: Security Countermeasures (S/CM) Working Group
Minutes of First Meeting, January 13, 1987

- 9. The Drug Enforcement Administration does not enter into the FBI's ISP or security clearance arena until the two agencies are fully merged, which appears unlikely unless the law is changed to allow the Drug Enforcement Administration to become an "excepted service."
- 10. The next S/CM Working Group meeting will be held February 24, 1987, from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., in Room 5641; to include discussion of the A-76 potential contract problem wherein maintenance, library, and warehouse positions at Quantico will be contracted out (wage grade employees) requiring either a "Top Secret" clearance or the same type of investigation for access into FBI space.

In addition to A-76, discussion will include all service contracts not involving National Security Information, i.e., computer repairmen, photocopier repairmen, etc.

For the information of FBIHQ, on 1/20/86, SA [] spoke with [] about the VA's TSCM requirements. [] advised the VA's current Administrator for Veteran's Affairs is a retired general officer who, during his military service, was accustomed to periodic sweeps of his offices and who feels his current office should be swept. There are no problems or other reasons to believe it has been technically compromised, according to []

On 1/27/87, SA [] conferred with SSA [] (TSD/EAU) regarding the VA's request and the appropriateness of doing the sweep vis a vis the Bureau's stated TSCM policy (MIOG, Part II, Section 16-17, page 1286.05). SSA [] concurred that the VA's reason was not in line with the Bureau's policy, and he authorized SA [] to decline the sweep. Accordingly, on 1/27/87, [] was informed the FBI would not perform the sweep.

Dear [Redacted]

This is in reference to your agency's request for countermeasures assistance from the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and your subsequent conversation with Special Agent [Redacted] on January 27, 1987.

The Bureau recognizes and appreciates other agencies' needs for security from technical compromise, and its policy is to conduct countermeasures sweeps in response to specific and valid indications that violations of the Interception of Communications (IOC) statute have occurred or to protect matters involving national security. Unfortunately, the FBI's manpower and equipment resources are very limited, and because of the large number of requests it receives it cannot respond to those that do not meet the above criteria. After due consideration of your request, the Bureau feels that it does not satisfy FBI policy requirements and, therefore, must respectfully decline to do the sweep.

If my office can be of any further assistance to you with this matter, please call Supervisory Special Agent [Redacted] file environment to limit access. Ideas by the attendees on this matter should be presented to SSA [redacted] who will author the proposed policy statement for a uniform policy of storing and accessing classified information throughout the FBI.

2. The proposed Top Secret Security Clearance Program was explained and discussed. The Program will consist of the following:
 - a. Applicant investigations and the security adjudications;
 - b. Briefings/Debriefings of new, on-board, and employees separating from the FBI;
 - c. Personnel Security Reinvestigations of on-board employees and the security adjudications; and
 - d. Security Clearance Revocation Process.

The Records Management Division is hopeful this proposed Program will be approved soon.

3. Four new file classifications have been established for Security Programs for TURK purposes:
 - 259 - Security Clearance Investigations for non-FBI personnel;
 - 260 - Industrial Security Program;
 - 261 - Security Officer matters - a "catch-all" not falling into 259 or 260; and
 - 67E - FBI Employee Reinvestigations.
 - a. Marriage Program (marriage of an on-board employee to a non-FBI employee),
 - b. Travel Program (any foreign travel outside the continental United States which should be brought to the attention of the SPU 30 days in advance of the travel in order to review the impact the trip will have on the employee's trustworthiness, to brief the employee concerning the trip, debrief and possibly polygraph the employee upon return), problems constitute both suitability and trustworthiness issues, but will undoubtedly be handled in discipline and dismissal situations as suitability issues most of the time,

- d. Five-Year Reinvestigation Program (consists of a personnel file review and may in the future include credit and criminal checks),
 - e. Sensitive Compartmented Information Access (subjects the individual to credit and criminal checks).
4. The Laboratory Division made a presentation as to the use of computers and diagnostic equipment which meet TEMPEST standards and the problems associated with securing TEMPEST laboratory equipment. It was ascertained the Laboratory Division does not process National Security Information in its computer and laboratory equipment, and any emissions from their equipment would have no value to either hostile intelligence or the criminal element. At the present, the Laboratory Division has no demonstrated need for use of TEMPEST equipment.
 5. The general responsibilities in Government for Computer Security and Communications Security rest with the National Security Agency pursuant to National Security Decision Directive (NSDD). NSDD 145 coordinates computer security throughout the Government and requires a definition of "sensitive but unclassified, but needs protection" information.
 6. The following items were suggested as topics for the next meeting:
 - Neil Price, Technical Services Division (TSD), to discuss Physical Security matters of alarms, locks, and vaults.
 - Another representative from TSD to discuss the security presently used for safeguarding STU IIs and the safes which secure the codes located in certain private residences where they may be unattended for periods of time and may be subjected to break-in/theft. In addition, this representative will discuss the security presently used for the Voice Privacy and Digital Voice Privacy Systems.
 7. The sixth meeting of the S/CM Working Group will be held June 30, 1987, in Room 5641, from 9 to 11 a.m.

UTILIZING THE TELEPHONE FOR DISSEMINATION OF SENSITIVE INFORMATION

SECURITY SURVEYS

At the conclusion of a recent investigation in the Denver Division information was telephonically disseminated to local authorities as a matter of courtesy and possible investigative interest. The conversation, as a matter of routine, was recorded by the local authority and then later played for the local city council.

This led to a somewhat embarrassing situation wherein the original complaint alleged the FBI had made the recording and provided it to the city council. The matter was easily resolved but points out an obvious concern regarding sensitive information.

You are requested to remind all personnel of the necessity to be discreet when discussing sensitive matters on the telephone. Whenever possible, the matter should be discussed in person or proper steps should be taken to ensure the conversation is not being recorded.

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight
Re: Security Countermeasures (S/CM) Working Group
Minutes of Eighth Meeting, January 26, 1988

Security issues discussed at this S/CM Working Group meeting included:

1. The use of SF-189, "Classified Information Nondisclosure Agreement," has been discontinued pursuant to the rider attached to the budget bill. The rider states the word "classifiable" used in the SF-189 is not adequately defined and is too broad in its coverage. This rider is in effect for one year. CIA Form SF-4193, "Sensitive Compartmented Information Nondisclosure Agreement," was also affected; however, the CIA attached an addendum to the form to conform with the rider, and the use of SF-4193 continues. The rider also prohibits such agreements wherein Executive Branch employees are prevented from use of the "Whistle-Blower Law." The FBI will continue to use the FD-291, "Employment Agreement," which covers nondisclosure of information as well as prepublication review. The Legal Counsel Division is to review the FD-291 to ensure no conflict exists with the budget bill rider.
2. Presentation by [redacted] of the Administrative Services Division concerned the proposed policy regarding security of Bureau space.

b7c

There have been three serious fires within FBI Headquarters since the Hoover Building was occupied. The most recent was in the Laboratory Division and caused over $100,000 damage. Because of this danger to both personnel and property, the Security Unit has initiated a policy memorandum to Mr. Glover recommending a severe reduction in Medeco and cipher locks. These locks restrict the access of the Security Patrol to monitor FBI space to check for safety violations (plugged in coffee makers, space heaters, and other heat-element appliances), as well as security violations.

Policy has been developed for approval by Mr. Glover in which deviations from the Bureau's keying-by-Division system must be justified in a memorandum and approved by the requesting Division's Assistant Director, the Assistant Director of the Administrative Services Division, and possibly the Executive Assistant Director - Administration. Requests must clearly demonstrate the need for a Medeco or cipher lock where information is already stored in security containers. Medeco or cipher locks must not be used to circumvent rules for the storage of material and classified documents.

It was reiterated, "The Bureau's habit of allowing the storage of classified material under lock and key must be ended. There is no provision allowing for the unattended storage of classified information under key-operated locks. The requirement is to use combination locks. Medeco locks on office doors do not provide any more protection for this material than any other office or car key would allow."

Memorandum from [redacted] to Mr. McCreight
Re: Security Countermeasures (S/CM) Working Group
Minutes of Eighth Meeting, January 26, 1988

There are areas within the Hoover Building designated as Sensitive Compartmented Information Facilities (SCIFs) which fall within the security parameters of Director of Central Intelligence Directive No. 1/21, "Manual for Physical Security Standards for Sensitive Compartmented Information Facilities (SCIFs)". These areas are restricted from Security Patrol and other unauthorized access because of the nature of the sensitive and classified information and equipment located therein.

3. Presentation by [redacted] of the Technical Services Division concerned the threat to automated data processing systems.

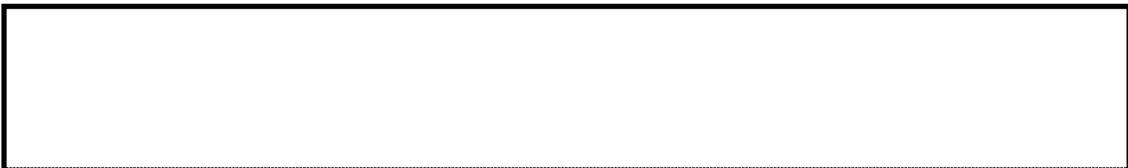

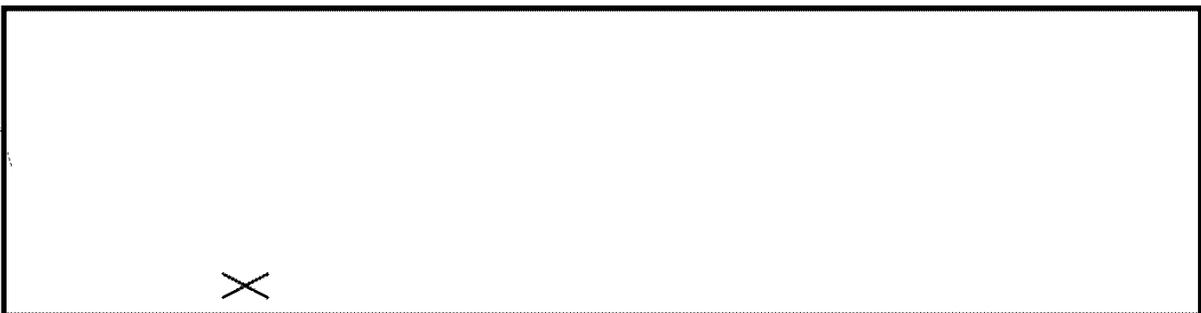

Security of Automated Data Processing/Telecommunications relies on the countering of threats and vulnerabilities and the lessening of associated risks.

A risk analysis is a process used to determine an expected loss. Both the threats and vulnerabilities must be evaluated or analyzed so that risks can be abated, transferred, or spread out. The risk analysis evaluates six areas: Physical, Personnel, Administrative Procedures, TEMPEST, Communications Security, and Technical (hardware and software).

The greatest Personnel threat is the insider, the employee. More often than not, the greatest risk is making mistakes; followed by employees trying to get even; to actually trying to compromise the system. Human Intelligence (HUMINT) is the greatest threat to security. The cheapest way to corrupt a system is to co-op an employee with access to the system.
