2. A second tract, known as [redacted] located across [redacted] was stated to be available. Examination revealed it to contain but approximately 45 acres. In addition, it was practically in [redacted] located directly across the river from [redacted] This area is unusable.

In addition, [redacted] was suggested by [redacted]. It is noted that this is [redacted] from which we are attempting to remove our [redacted] receiving station. Location of our receiving facilities was not revealed.

As additional observations, it is noted: (1) [redacted] was extremely cooperative; (2) [redacted] volunteered to "handle any Bureau land purchase, if necessary, through existing, well-founded Army land purchasing channels, provided, of course, the Bureau obtained money for the transaction," and he stated that he has handled such transactions for other Government agencies in the past; (3) [redacted] suggested that as a part of the procedure of covering all possibilities, we contact [redacted], Code 156, Extension 4077, at the Department of Interior. [redacted] should be able to bring us up to date on any excess or surplus Government land from any agency which has been turned over to his Land Management Office for disposal. Contact with [redacted] was made in accordance with your authorization at 4:30 P.M., 11/3/54. He had his surplus land records searched for possibilities and subsequently called my office at 4:15 P.M., 11/4/54, to report as to the results of the search upon its completion. Only two areas were tentatively suggested [redacted] both of which we previously had covered in our surveys; however, it was considered desirable to re-check them in the interest of an exhaustive survey. They are listed as follows:

Memorandum for Mr. Parsons

b7E November 5, 1954

1. [redacted] This area is on [redacted] approximately [redacted] and beyond [redacted]. It is noted that this area has been examined previously: it contains [redacted] as well as some [redacted] radio facilities. It is close to Washington. This area in general is wooded with rolling terrain.

2. [redacted] This land is in two pieces, separated by [redacted] and located about [redacted] between [redacted]. Terrain is rolling and wooded. It appears to be too close to [redacted]. In addition, this area is rapidly being developed for housing purposes.

Accordingly, it is concluded that there is no Government-owned land available to us in the vicinity of Washington suitable for relocation sites for our [redacted] radio stations.

RADIO STATIONS

SYNOPSIS:

Executives Conference memo dated November 1, 1954, makes certain recommendations re purchase of land and re-establishment of [redacted] Radio Stations. You instructed survey be made to determine possibility of Government-owned land in vicinity of Washington suitable for setting up radio receiving and transmitting stations. You also instructed a determination be made as to actual acreage needed for the re-establishment of receiving and transmitting stations. There is an immediate and pressing need to move the [redacted] stations because: (1) the antiqueness of our present setups, (2) continued encroachment by public through building of new homes, etc., in vicinity of [redacted] (3) element of risk from aircraft - Andrews Field, (4) need to have our radio stations in vicinity of war relocation center. It is recognized that an estimated $100,000 needed to move existing facilities and that such a move is entirely contingent upon availability of funds. We do not have available funds at this time.

It is agreed with FBI Laboratory 150 acres for each site (two sites necessary) are needed for following reasons: (1) necessity for desirable antenna coverage (explained in detail in attached memorandum) (2) two sites needed because one serves as transmitting station and the second as receiving station, (3) current acreage used by [redacted] not satisfactory (23 acres at [redacted] which is rented for $115.00 per month. 80 acres at [redacted] rented for $35.00 per month) because these stations established at time radio network encompassed only a few field offices, whereas, now there is a radio station in each field office. Consequently, there is necessity for expanded antenna facilities. Expanded facilities cannot be established on current used sites.

3. That FBI Laboratory enter into negotiations for two sites of a minimum of 150 acres each for reestablishment of these radio stations. The above-mentioned two sites should be first considered inasmuch as they already have been surveyed and appear good possibilities. In any negotiations, the following prerequisites should be definitely established:

(a) The owner's identity should be established and Bureau files should be checked re the owner.

(b) In order to properly amortize our own costs and make any move worthwhile we should insist on a one-year lease containing an optional renewal clause with rights to renew the lease on a yearly basis for a maximum of ten years.

(c) We should determine the desirability of having the owner erect improvements on the land and the total cost of such improvements on an amortization basis, i.e. to be absorbed by yearly rentals. This total figure should be compared with the total costs involved in erecting our own improvements, i.e. usage of Quonset huts, etc. A decision should then be made based upon the most economical and practical figure.

4. In the event it is more economical and practical to erect our own improvements, we should use Quonset huts. These huts are available through U. S. Navy Contacts (five-room size) from $50.00 to $1500.00 on a reimbursable fund basis. Relocation costs will be cut materially if these are used.

DETAILS

Reference is made to an Executives Conference memorandum to you dated November 1, 1954, wherein the Conference unanimously recommended that the FBI immediately seek appropriations for the purchase of land and re-establishment of our main radio stations allowing for a margin of safety of $50,000 for the land, $50,000 for the buildings and $100,000 for the antenna towers and structures. The radio equipment itself is already available. You instructed that a survey be made to determine the possibility of Government-owned land in the vicinity of Washington suitable for setting up radio receiving and transmitting stations. You had in mind the possibility that in any requests for appropriations the question might be raised as to suitable land already owned by the Government in this vicinity. You also instructed that a determination be made as to the actual acreage needed for the re-establishment of our receiving and transmitting stations. The results of this survey are as follows:

I DESIRABILITY OF MOVING [REDACTED]

(1) The present [REDACTED] (33 acres in size and rented for $115.00 per month) is in a very old farmhouse which has required constant maintenance, and at the present time, the owner is selling lots and building houses under our existing antenna structures. b7E [REDACTED] is 60 acres in size and rents for $35.00 per month.

(2) Since establishing our [REDACTED] the present Andrews Field Air Base has been established in the immediate vicinity and there is a constant element of risk from planes operating from Andrews Field. You will recall that within the last few weeks a plane crashed within the immediate vicinity of this station.

(3) In addition to the element of risk from planes using Andrews Field, there is the even greater lack of security occasioned by the fact that Andrews Field would be a primary military target in the event of enemy attack.

Because of the above factors, the Director previously has indicated his approval of moving the [REDACTED] Radio Stations. The move, of course, has been contingent upon the availability of b7E funds. We do not have sufficient appropriations at this time.

II ACREAGE:

It is agreed with the FBI Laboratory that 150 acres for each site (two sites necessary) are needed for the following reasons:

(1) The desirable antenna coverage would be approximately 1,000 feet in each direction from the centrally located station.

January 6, 1955

Each piece of land, if 150 acres in size, would run roughly 2,500 feet on the sides. Considering the fact that antenna coverage is 1,000 feet in each direction from the centrally located station, there would leave remaining approximately 500 feet which should be used for a necessary building and a small protective margin around the edges of the property.

(2) Two sites of land are needed because one has to serve as the transmitting station and the other as the receiving station. It is technically impossible to operate both the transmitting and receiving functions from a single site if communication is to be had with more than a single station at a time. These sites should be a minimum of a mile apart and preferably should be few miles apart for efficient operation.

(3) The argument may be presented that the [redacted] Radio Station has approximately 33 acres of land and the [redacted] Station 60 acres of land; therefore, there would appear to be no need for additional acreage as indicated in paragraph (1). The additional land is recommended over and above the current [redacted] for the following reasons:

A. The [redacted] Stations were established on a "crash" basis during the initial stages of World War II, and time did not permit the location and acquisition of better sites.

B. At the time of establishment of the [redacted] Stations, the Bureau's radio network encompassed only a few field office stations, whereas now there is a radio station in each field office. Consequently, there is an urgent necessity for expanded antenna facilities to communicate with these additional stations, which facilities cannot be established on the [redacted] property because of the limited acreage.

b7E

C. As pointed out above, new houses are currently being erected under our present antenna structures. The occupants of these houses possibly will receive interference from our operations and undoubtedly we will receive interference from electrical appliances in those houses. The larger acreage proposed will afford additional security against such mutual interference.

January 6, 1955

b7E

III SUGGESTED LOCATION OF RADIO STATIONS:

It is strongly recommended that consideration be given to relocating the [redacted] stations within the vicinity [redacted] This is recommended for the following reasons:

(1) [redacted] has been chosen as the war relocation center of the FBI in the event of hostilities. There is a definite necessity to have our radio facilities as near to the relocation center as possible. In the event of hostilities, there will be a definite need for emergency transmission of radio communications. The proximity of our radio stations to the war relocation center would promote a more efficient operation. The current microwave arrangement being established [redacted] will, of course, not be sufficient for radio transmission on a long-range basis to our field offices since it was established as a part of a separate communications system sponsored by the White House to interconnect certain so-called critical security agencies and will be used exclusively for that purpose. It is not feasible to use the microwave setup for transmission of radio messages inasmuch as such an arrangement allows for transmission only for short distances and then in order to establish greater transmission repeater stations are necessary. Thus, this operation becomes economically unsound for purposes of long-range radio transmission.

(2) The proximity of [redacted] our radio stations would allow promotion of security facilities. The [redacted] constantly patrolled and the land [redacted] [redacted] also receives the careful eye of the [redacted] security setup.

(3) We already have FBI personnel established [redacted] under the supervision of a Special Agent in Charge. The establishment of our radio stations within the vicinity of the FBI [redacted] [redacted] would allow for closer supervision of the radio station.

IV ATTEMPTS TO LOCATE GOVERNMENT-OWNED LAND IN THE VICINITY OF WASHINGTON:

Exhaustive attempts have been made to locate Government-owned land within [redacted] It was not deemed feasible to survey land beyond [redacted] [redacted] because of the distances that would be involved between the location of such sites and FBI Headquarters in Washington or the war relocation center [redacted] In addition, it would be economically unsound to move our existing equipment over long distances, i.e., the greater the distance the greater the cost of transfer. The problems of supervision and the problems of transporting messages into Washington [redacted] must be considered. All Government-owned land within the above-mentioned radius has been surveyed. Upon contacting the various Government agencies in Washington, no mention was made as to why the FBI desired land and, of course, no commitments were made regarding land if such were available.

January 6, 1955 b7E

[redacted]

This agency currently using all land it possesses. A complete survey was made of sites [redacted] however, no extra land available.

[redacted]

No available land within the desired radius of Washington.

[redacted]

However, consideration of this land reflects that it would have to be cleared in its entirety and that an additional site of 150 acres would still be needed in close proximity to land owned by [redacted] It is not felt we should become obligated to [redacted] by accepting his kind offer. It is additionally believed that it would be economically unsound to permanently locate our radio stations on land [redacted] inasmuch as his eventual heirs may not desire FBI radio stations on the property.

(3) Department of Commerce:

No land available.

[redacted]

Land surrounding [redacted] currently available for usage. This land surveyed; however, it is in plots of 20 acres or less and represents more or less swamp land that would be economically unsound to clear. In addition, this land is adjacent to an air base and would cause serious interference with radio transmission and receiving.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

(5) Department of the Army:

Map obtained from Army Engineers reflecting all Army-owned land within [redacted] No sites found available for relocation of radio stations. [redacted] surveyed; however, authorities reluctant to relinquish land in view of necessary training programs. This land believed not adaptable for purposes of relocating radio stations now.

(6) Department of the Interior:

Map obtained from Department of Interior officials reflecting all Government-owned land within [redacted] Only land available through Interior Department would be land currently comprising national battlefield areas. This land surveyed by the FBI Laboratory and declared not to be adaptable to relocation of radio stations.

(7) [redacted]

Two helicopter trips were made over the entire [redacted] Two days were spent in walking over a considerable amount of the [redacted] area. One 300 acre site located in [redacted] Minor authorities at [redacted] first indicated that [redacted] would interpose no objection to usage of [redacted] by FBI. This site would require only clearance of 150 acres at the cost of $275 an acre. [redacted]

[redacted] and it was decided that the [redacted] would have to regretfully decline the usage of this property by the FBI. [redacted] indicated that this particular site was part of the land used for the purpose of [redacted] and, consequently, it could not be released. There is no other cleared, partially cleared or wooded areas [redacted] which we might be able to use for the relocation of our radio station. It is not felt we should go over the heads of [redacted] by contacting [redacted]

[redacted] here in Washington relative to this matter. Our relations are currently too good with [redacted] to risk strained feelings as a result of a move of this nature.

(8) The legal officer, [redacted] was informally contacted relative to the possibility of [redacted] purchasing approximately 300 acres of land bordering on the [redacted] The legal officer advised that regretfully

[redacted] could not effect the purchase of any additional land at this time due to administrative rulings imposed upon them by [redacted] Headquarters in Washington.

(9) Farm Land Surrounding [redacted]

Two pieces of land have been located, already cleared and adjacent to [redacted]. One piece is known to be for sale for approximately $19,000. The Laboratory has examined the site and has indicated it to be an excellent transmitting site. The second piece of land is somewhat larger than the first but is in the proximity. This land is approximately $31,000. The realtor handling both pieces of property, [redacted] informally contacted regarding this land. [redacted] is not aware of the fact that he was contacted by a representative of the FBI or the U. S. Government. By letter to DeLoach dated 1-1-55, [redacted] one of two sites now available for leasing.

V QUONSET HUTS:

Five-room Quonset huts available to us through U. S. Navy contacts. If these huts suitable for radio transmission and receiving, [redacted] Code 131, Extension 64778, should be contacted regarding this. Usage of these huts can materially reduce relocation costs.

January 6, 1955

VI RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That [redacted] Stations be moved as expeditiously as available funds permit.

2. That relocation sites be physically located adjacent to or in vicinity of war relocation center [redacted]
[redacted]

3. That FBI Laboratory enter into negotiations for two sites of a minimum of 150 acres each for reestablishment of these radio stations. The above-mentioned two sites should be first considered inasmuch as they already have been surveyed and appear good possibilities. In any negotiations, the following prerequisites should be definitely established:

(a) The owner's identity should be established and Bureau files should be checked re the owner.

(b) In order to properly amortize our own costs and make any move worthwhile we should insist on a one-year lease containing an optional renewal clause with rights to renew the lease on a yearly basis for a maximum of ten years.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

ADDENDUM - NPG:gt 12/14/54

Inquiry of [redacted] Associate General Counsel, General Accounting Office who passes on matters relative to availability of appropriations, determined that specific language granting authority to this Bureau to acquire land and make improvements thereon would be necessary in the appropriation phraseology of this Bureau should it desire to acquire land either directly or on a reimbursable basis from other Government agencies. [redacted] referred to the 26th Volume, Comptroller Decision, page 677 in support of this opinion. Thus, it would not be possible for this Bureau to arrange for [redacted] to purchase this land and then turn it over to our use by reimbursing [redacted] for the cost of the land and any improvements constructed thereon.

Mr. Morrow further advised that agencies such as the FBI are not empowered unless specific authority is again set forth in its appropriation phraseology to negotiate leases for more than one fiscal year. He pointed out that there would be nothing to prevent this Bureau from negotiating a lease each fiscal year with a clause guaranteeing the Government renewal option for a five or more year period.

UBureau War Plans Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.

ReBulet 1/12/55, forwarding copy Number 12 of "Highlights of the Seat of Government War Plans for the Chain of Command for the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

I have thoroughly reviewed this document, as outlined in recommendation number two, page two, of Mr. HARBO's memorandum to Mr. TOLSON, dated 1/5/55.

The instructions appear to be concise and workable and by following them it is believed that the Bureau could continue its operation at its alternate headquarters with a minimum of confusion, consistent with the degree of the emergency.

It is noted, in reviewing these instructions, that a great deal of reliance is placed upon various employees at the Seat of Government to carry out certain assignments in moving headquarters from the Seat of Government to the alternate site. It is my thought that the only time the field chain of command would be called upon to take over the direction of the Bureau would be in case of a very serious bombing of Washington, D. C., which would have eliminated the Seat of Government command, either through serious injury or possible death, from taking over the direction of the Bureau. If this should happen, it would also more than likely eliminate a great majority of the other Bureau personnel that are designated in these war plans to handle certain assignments at the alternate headquarters. If one of the field chain of command was then called upon to take over direction of the Bureau, he would be without the help of the other Bureau employees who have been designated to handle certain operations at the alternate headquarters and he, in turn, would not have physically seen the arrangements that are in effect at the alternate headquarters.

I would therefore suggest that the Bureau consider the advisability of having each of the field chain of command physically inspect and become familiar with the alternate headquarters and the facilities that are available for their use. I believe this could easily be accomplished by having the field chain of command remain in Washington one extra day for a study of this alternate headquarters when they report for their two-day conferences or to handle this study when attending In-Service.

It is noted that the present Seat of Government War Plans, as reflected in Bureau memorandum 9/13/54 and subsequent evacuation listings, provide for only ten Laboratory employees to be evacuated during the initial emergency evacuation period. It is pointed out in this connection, as reflected in my memorandum of 8/18/54, that the listing of only ten Laboratory employees for evacuation was predicated upon the hypothetical basis suggested by the Training & Inspection Division that all radio, telephone and teletype communications facilities were installed in ready-to-go-condition at the relocation site. It is further noted that as of the present, radio communications facilities are not installed on a ready-to-go basis, although the Bureau has approved moving our main radio stations from [redacted] to the vicinity [redacted]. Accordingly, the Laboratory evacuation personnel properly should reflect a total of 52 rather than of ten.

Confirming information orally furnished to Mr. J. E. McArdle, it is considered that during the initial 24 to 48 hour evacuation period, desk space should be provided for a total of eight employees; it is contemplated that the remainder of the Laboratory personnel will be fully occupied in installing communications facilities. The installation work referred to will consist of erecting antenna poles, stringing antennas from such poles, uncrating and putting together some $75,000 worth of stored radio equipment in order to provide radio communications facilities at the earliest possible time.

There is attached a list of personnel to be included in such evacuation plans.

SUBJECT: EMERGENCY PLANS - MICROWAVE SYSTEM
On a regular War Plans Auxiliary Space For S.O.B.
 Reference is made to Mr. Harbo's memorandum to

Mr. Tolson dated January 21, 1955, captioned "War Plans - Evacuation," which, among other matters, sets forth a target date of 3/1/55 for the reinstallation of the microwave equipment now [redacted].
 [redacted] Mr. Tolson instructed, "See whether this can be expedited."

As you know, the contract was signed with Motorola Company 12/22/54 to handle this equipment move. The matter subsequently has been closely followed by the Laboratory, personal follow-ups being made approximately twice weekly. The actual moving of the tower and building is to be done by a subcontractor, and the local Motorola representative has now advised that the subcontractor will not have a crew available until approximately February 15th. The "top secret" status of the microwave network is a complicating factor in the delay. The urgency of the situation repeatedly has been pointed out to the Motorola representative and he has assured us that Motorola is making every effort to get the job under way as soon as possible.

While we are continuing to press vigorously the reinstallation [redacted] your attention is respectfully invited to the following two related situations:

1. Although the microwave network was originally intended to provide emergency interagency communication between the White House and a few so-called critical agencies, we now have learned that planning is being done in the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) to expand the microwave system to include between 30 and 40 government agencies. The enlarged plan calls for the construction of a major relay station somewhere in the general vicinity [redacted] the exact location being undetermined at this time. [redacted] the entire microwave network, orally has advised that any microwave communication which we establish at this time [redacted] will necessarily be temporary in nature since we will be expected to tie in to the major relay station when it is completed. This is estimated to be at least a year away. Thus, we can expect additional construction work to be necessary at such time as the main relay becomes available.

2. Although the FBI equipment [redacted] has been installed and operative for a considerable period, the remainder of the microwave system has not been fully operating even among the limited group of critical agencies. This same situation will continue to exist even after our installation [redacted] and there is no possible way at this time for the FBI to establish microwave communication with the majority of the other critical agencies simply because facilities for agencies [redacted] are not operative. The planning of an expanded system by ODM prior to completing the limited system has introduced a great deal of confusion into the entire program.

ACTION:

The [redacted] reinstallation will be closely followed by the Laboratory to insure that responsibility for delay in the over-all system cannot be placed on the FBI.

The Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, McGuire, Holloman, Rosen, Belmont, Sizoo, Conrad, Q. Tamm and Mohr on October 14, 1954, considered the question of obtaining the National Bureau of Standards' radio site [REDACTED] for relocation of our main radio stations now situated [REDACTED]

It will be recalled that on 8/12/53 the Conference recommended and the Director approved a proposal that relocation of [REDACTED] stations be deferred for an estimated period of 1 1/2 to 2 years, based on the probable availability within that period of the highly desirable Bureau of Standards' site. Close follow-up with the Bureau of Standards reflected their move [REDACTED] to be near completion this year and, accordingly, on July 19, 1954, the Bureau directed a formal inquiry to the Bureau of Standards as to the terms and conditions under which [REDACTED] site might be made available to the FBI.

A formal reply now has been received indicating that while the Bureau of Standards would prefer to retain [REDACTED] property for certain residual radio operations, approximately 1/3 only of its 450 acres is needed by Bureau of Standards, and the entire site could be made available to the FBI if the FBI in return would undertake to locate and equip for the Bureau of Standards an alternate smaller site at an estimated cost of approximately $200,000. It is noted that for technical reasons of mutual radio interference, it is not possible for the FBI and the Bureau of Standards to share the site.

It was pointed out to the Conference that although this cost is somewhat in excess of what had been expected, an even more serious obstacle lies in the physical conditions specified by the Bureau of Standards for the alternate smaller site. Accordingly, after careful study and informal conferences with Bureau of Standards representatives (the last of which was held 10/13/54), it was recommended to the Conference by the Laboratory that in view of the unrealistic conditions imposed by the Bureau of Standards on such a transfer, the Bureau make no further attempt to procure [REDACTED] site at this time, but that the way be left open to resume negotiations in the event of a subsequent change in the Bureau of Standards' position. Although the original  $1\frac{1}{2}$  to 2 years for which the move [redacted] was deferred has not yet expired, it is believed the Laboratory should proceed at once to study possible alternative radio relocation sites.

RECOMMENDATION:

The Executives Conference unanimously recommended in view of the facts presented that no further attempt be made to obtain [redacted] site at this time. A proposed letter advising the Bureau of Standards is attached.

GOVERNMENT EMERGENCY PLANS

b7E

I thought you would be interested in a major pending change in the over-all U. S. Government emergency planning as it relates to agency relocation centers and interagency communications facilities. It will be recalled that original relocation plans called for relocation centers for [redacted] and several critical agencies including [redacted]

[redacted] and FBI. [redacted] and the Office of Defense Mobilization were subsequently included. A microwave radio communications system has been under construction to provide emergency communication between the President and heads of the respective critical agencies. Although the FBI portion of this microwave system has been completed for some time, certain portions of the system belonging to other agencies are as yet incomplete.

We have learned in connection with a proposal of the Office of Defense Mobilization to relocate a greatly expanded number of Government agencies, understood to be between 30 and 40, that a correspondingly expanded microwave communications system is contemplated to link these various centers. Under the proposed larger system, a series of major relay stations will be established, and, FBI microwave communication from our new relocation center [redacted] [redacted] would enter a relay station which is not now in existence and which probably will not be completed for at least a year or two. It is understood that the cost of the contemplated microwave system in its expanded form will be in the vicinity of $30,000,000.

In the meantime we are moving our microwave equipment [redacted] from which latter point we will tie into the existing microwave system at a nearby station. A contract for the move has been signed and it is expected that the contractor will complete the work about March 25, 1965.

Reference is made to Executives Conference memorandum of 10/15/54 relating to relocation [redacted] radio stations to permanent sites, in which recommendation was made that the Laboratory study possible alternative sites. Mr. Tolson noted that this should be completed by November 1, 1954.

The additional site searches have been completed from the technical standpoint. Specific sites, technically suitable respectively for radio transmitting station and radio receiving station, have been located contiguous to [redacted]

The proposed transmitting site located [redacted] consists primarily of 250 acres of cleared, level land available, according to the real estate agent, for $19,500. Although slightly more land is involved in this tract than would be required for the antenna field, it is noted that the land is bounded by two roads, a power line and the reservation boundary in such a manner that only the acreage should be considered. The price is believed to be very reasonable being but $78 per acre. The proposed receiving site adjoins [redacted]

[redacted] It is believed that more than one owner is involved in this site. Availability is presently unknown; the area is well suited technically and except for a possible slight increase due to buildings appearing thereon, there appears to be no reason why this property should be substantially more expensive than the transmitting site. Because both of these sites are already level and cleared, they are far more preferable for radio installation purposes than any land which could be made available to us within the Reservation itself since, as previously reported, the cost of clearing and grading suitable land within the Reservation has been estimated to be approximately $600 per acre.

In view of the necessity to relocate [redacted] radio stations and in view of the fearlessness of the proposed sites to [redacted] it is considered that the Bureau should endeavor to secure the proposed sites for the purpose indicated. In this connection it is suggested that the Bureau may wish to consider contacting [redacted] in an effort to have this land included in [redacted] and subsequently made available for Bureau use; alternatively, the Bureau may wish to secure this land directly.

In connection with the establishment of emergency headquarters [redacted] the following Bureau employees stationed [redacted] were each given approximately two days of concentrated training in Bureau codes January 18, 19, 25 and 26: [redacted]

Their training covered all cryptosystems now in use and those issued or planned for emergency use, including unenciphered codes, digital double codes (Venley's, Universal Trade and Code Book C as bases), inter-office digital additive system, one-time letter pads with letter conversion charts, pocket pads with dinome substitution, emergency and modified emergency telephone codes, a typical "Y" system (personal concealment method using innocuous appearing cover text), Conelrad and radio authentication pads, CTR 1700, [redacted] and 1209 cipher machines.

We would like to point out that this was an extremely concentrated course of technical instruction in a very limited period of time. It involved six code books, six double codes (systems using cipher pads), three cipher machines and five miscellaneous systems for a total of 20 different cryptographic systems. The above listed employees were extremely diligent in applying themselves to this difficult task and their attitude and enthusiasm were most commendable.

SUBJECT:

RELOCATION BUREAU RADIO STATIONS

O Bureau War Plans Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.

My memorandum of January 19th advised of the discussion which Mr. Mohr and I had with [redacted] real estate broker in [redacted] with reference to the possibility of leasing sites with or without buildings for the relocation of our [redacted] radio stations.

Pursuant to our discussion with [redacted] of the Laboratory went [redacted] yesterday and outlined in a general way the specifications for the land and buildings which we would need. [redacted] reports that [redacted] and his partner, [redacted] both retired Army officers, are moving very rapidly. They have lined up one additional site of land with possibilities and also have discussed with [redacted] Richey and Sons, Contractors, for construction of buildings suitable to the Bureau's needs.

[redacted] made it very plain that the buildings should be of inexpensive construction since the amount of the lease would definitely affect our decision as to whether we were interested in their proposition. [redacted] telephoned [redacted] and he and his brother, the architect for the firm, both joined the conference and inquired as to size and construction of the buildings. They raised certain questions as to the floor load to determine how thick the concrete slab will have to be and advised [redacted] that they were immediately starting with architect drawings for proposed cinder block buildings. They indicated to [redacted] that in approximately a week they would have determined their construction costs and be in a position to show us the additional sites of land and be able to give at least a general idea as to terms of the lease they would require.

ACTION:

None, for information and an additional memorandum will be submitted February 2, 1955.

SUBJECT: HIGHLIGHTS OF SEAT OF GOVERNMENT
BUREAU WAR PLANS FOR CHAIN OF COMMAND.Auxiliary Space For S. O. G.

A copy of the original volume as captioned above was received and found to be sufficient in its purpose to highlight existing instructions relating to emergency operations of the Bureau. On page 3, the section entitled, "Evacuation", the telephone for Mr. J. P. Mohr is shown as Jackson 2-5012. The telephone number has been changed to Kenmore 8-5249 and the Training and Inspection Division was verbally advised of this on January 15, 1955, in order that referenced matter would reflect correct information.

At present there are no specific changes deemed necessary to be made to this record. New developments in emergency planning will be promptly called to your attention.

Reference is made to my memorandum of January 7, 1955, on the above subject wherein it was indicated that the Bureau defer any action on preparing any further emergency disbursement instructions until copies of the proposed instructions of the Treasury Department were available, it being indicated in the recommendation that this would be about March 20, 1955. It was indicated that a tickler would be set up to contact the appropriate officials of the Treasury Department to secure copies of the instructions when available.

I contacted the Treasury Department by telephone this morning and was advised that a meeting of Treasury officials involved in this project had been held yesterday, and it was found that the changes desired by them were more numerous than had been anticipated, and as a result such changes would have to be worked into the proposed instructions and again considered in their entirety. It was indicated that it was felt that it would be another 30 days before the final draft of the instructions could be secured. It will be noted that this means that the instructions will be available about March 10, 1955, which is about 10 days earlier than was stated in my previous memorandum.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Bureau defer any further action on a packaged emergency disbursement plan until copies of the Treasury Department's instructions are available about March 10, 1955. A tickler will be set up to contact the Treasury Department at that time to secure a copy of the instructions.

With reference to the memorandum from the Director dated 2/2/55, this is to advise that the only change to be made appears on the last page of the section tabbed "Evacuation." There are listed under "Division VI" the names of the persons to be initially evacuated. Under the column which indicates the identity of persons to advise personnel of evacuation orders, it is indicated that I will advise Mr. Price and Mr. Stanley. This should be changed to reflect that Mr. Winterrowd will advise Mr. Price and Mr. Malley will advise Mr. Stanley. A footnote should be added thereto as follows: "Messrs. The Director has instructed that a memorandum be submitted showing what remains to be done to put our evacuation headquarters [redacted] into usable condition. [redacted] can be used now as an evacuation headquarters even though the items listed below remain to be completed. Telephone, teletype, FM radio and 450 watt [redacted] (code) radio are all installed [redacted] necessary operating records are [redacted] with adequate security; coding apparatus, work supplies such as paper, pencils and related items, including portable type-writers, are all stored [redacted]. A reserve supply of non-perishable food is on hand; space has been assigned to evacuees; everyone to be evacuated has been notified and given an opportunity to make any necessary personal plans on a discreet basis. A system of notifying employees as to evacuation has been completed. Arrangements to be notified of any Civil Defense [redacted] have been completed and tested. Files have been marked for evacuation if time and equipment permit. Instructions have gone to the field as to taking up payroll matters with the local Disbursing Office of the Treasury Department; however, supplemental instructions will have to be issued after Treasury has completed its plans. Our chain of command has been established and furnished with the highlights of Seat of Government war plans and this chain includes [redacted]

[redacted] respectively. In the interests of brevity, the other completed phases are not being listed. For the Director's information, a monthly report is submitted to the Associate Director as to the status of the uncompleted aspects of war plans and the last such report was dated January 17, 1955. (Copy attached.)

3. Warning systems--Although the Bureau has a workable and daily tested system of being notified of any Civil Defense "alert" and each field office has temporary arrangements, an order was placed 1-14-55 for special "Conalert" receivers [redacted] one for each remaining continental office and one each for [redacted] radio stations and one for Belmont's office) to be delivered by February 4. I have asked for more complete explanation of this

EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES

2. Desk lamps. 72 are on transfer from the Chicago Office to be received shortly. Being expedited.

CRYPTOGRAPHIC MATERIALS

An initial supply is already on hand and this will be adequate for short term operation; however, by January 28 enough cryptographic material will be on hand for prolonged operations. Coding machines are already on hand.

FREE MOVEMENT OF PERSONNEL

FBI Agent credentials will be recognized throughout the United States; clerical passes will be recognized throughout the United States except in the District of Columbia where Civil Defense has agreed to recognize 300 of our clerical passes; Washington, D. C. Civil Defense is currently working on plans, not yet made public, to evacuate the city rather than use shelter areas and we are following to see the effect of this upon our planning.

DESTRUCTION OF FILES

The military and other governmental agencies have tried for years to find a suitable method of mass destruction of a great number of files such as ours; Laboratory has conducted research but has discovered no method more practicable than burning.

FIELD WAR PLANS

Complete except for newly established offices at Rome and Tokyo, which have not submitted their war plans. Foreign liaison expediting.

METHOD OF EMERGENCY EVACUATION OF KEY PERSONNEL

On December 14, 1954, while at the White House with the Attorney General, the Director discussed with the President the desirability of placing in stand-by capacity [redacted] for emergency evacuation use; President in agreement with basic idea but felt Office of Defense Mobilization should develop a pattern on this point. No communication yet received from White House or Office of Defense Mobilization. In an earlier contact by Mr. Nichols, Deputy Secretary of Defense Anderson pointed out he had the authority to order a boat in stand-by capacity but felt it better to have White House instructions inasmuch as the result would be more effective.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Liaison be authorized to contact Arthur S. Flemming, Office of Defense Mobilization, concerning [redacted] and ascertain how soon this matter will be resolved.

*I suggest memo to AG

2. In the event Office of Defense Mobilization is not prepared to offer an immediate solution to the [redacted] problems, Mr. Nichols be authorized to effect temporary arrangements with Deputy Secretary of Defense Anderson so that the temporary coverage will remain in effect until Office of Defense Mobilization provides permanent solution.

I think we should put this matter up to [redacted] — we will await action of A. G.

BUREAU WAR PLANS Auxiliary space For S.O.G.

As you are aware, copies of pertinent Bureau material needed for an emergency are retained at the Bureau's relocation center. It is believed that in order for the proper functioning under conditions requiring a transfer of activities to the relocation center a copy of the war plans for each foreign office should be on file at that center.

Inasmuch as the reproduction of the plans for each foreign office would involve extensive work if those plans were to be copied by a typist, it is believed that an additional copy of those plans should be made by Autostat machine for transmittal to the relocation center. It is noted that the Autostat machine in the Records Section normally handles a considerable volume of work. There is, therefore, some difficulty in obtaining access to it. There is, however, an Autostat machine in the Laboratory which is on the seventh floor near the Foreign Liaison Unit where the war plans in question are filed. It is also noted that [redacted] the principal clerk of the Foreign Liaison Unit, is experienced in using an Autostat machine. It is believed preferable, therefore, to request permission of the Laboratory Division to utilize the Autostat machine in that Division to reproduce the foreign war plans for transmittal to the relocation center rather than attempt to utilize the machine in the Records Section.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be referred to the Laboratory with the request that arrangements be made to utilize the Autostat machine in that Division for reproduction of the pertinent war plans after which the plans will be sent to the relocation center for filing.

Separately, instructions are being issued to the foreign offices to submit their war plans in the future in quadruplicate so that any changed pages can be sent to the relocation center.

This is to report the current status of negotiations for the proposed relocation of the Bureau's radio stations.

Since my memorandum of February 2, 1955, [ ] of the Laboratory had an additional conference on February 4, 1955, with the real estate agent and builder [ ] at which time he answered all their questions with reference to the Bureau's specifications after which they advised [ ] they now had all the information they needed to prepare drawings of the proposed building which they would submit to us for consideration along with a rental estimate.

[ ] pointed out to them that while we are interested in receiving their proposal at the earliest time, no decision could be reached until we also had information on the second site. He pointed out to them that one site would do us no good, and, therefore, we would want to consider the proposals for both sites at one time. [ ] has advised [ ] that he has a "deal" in progress on the land for the second site but it has not been solidified to the point where we could look at the property.

I think we have made good progress with respect to the proposed transmitting site though as yet we have received no indication of what their rental figure will be. They have indicated an estimate on the transmitting site will be forthcoming in approximately one week. We are making sure that any questions they have are promptly answered so that we are at no time delaying their deliberations and efforts to make a final proposal to the Bureau.

Applying space for C. J. R. b7E

You will recall that by memorandum dated November 8, 1954, I called to your attention the necessity of effecting arrangements to evacuate key Bureau officials with a minimum of delay in the event of an extreme emergency. You will also recall that we had informally discussed the matter with Deputy Secretary of Defense Anderson who was agreeable to having [ ] set aside under operating instructions to proceed immediately to [ ] when the signal was given; likewise, to having [ ] on duty [ ] under operating instructions to be at a given point at the given signal.

While you and I were at the White House early in December, the matter was mentioned to the President who stated that he was fully in agreement with the basic idea, but he thought he should call upon Mr. Arthur S. Flemming, head of the Office of Defense Mobilization, to ascertain what plans had been made for the evacuation of other key officials.

I am wondering if it would not be highly desirable at an early opportunity for you to again take this up with the President. It seems to me that there can be nothing wrong with the President going ahead and giving the instructions to the Defense Establishment in view of the peculiar assignments which the Bureau will have in the event of an extreme emergency. I cannot see where working out plans for the evacuation of other key officials would in any way affect the arrangements which have already been explored and which need the President's approval.

Liaison Agent D. J. Sullivan will accompany INS to their relocation site in the event hostilities necessitate evacuation from Washington. Formerly INS planned to evacuate [redacted] but new plans reflect INS will share, with the Department of Justice, the [redacted] SA Sullivan could thus act as Liaison Agent with the Department, as well as INS.

When the Department was planning to use [redacted] as a relocation site, the Director ordered Mr. Hugo Winterrowd to maintain liaison with the Department of Justice; Mr. J. R. Malley to be his alternate.

 [redacted] who has been assisting in the preparation of War Plans for the Department, has informally advised that it is most probable that Assistant Attorney General Tompkins and four or five of his immediate assistants from the Internal Security Division of the Department will accompany the Bureau to its relocation site [redacted] Tompkins and his immediate assistants will be included in the ten Departmental representatives the Director has agreed to accommodate [redacted] Tompkins' presence [redacted] would appear to eliminate the need for direct and immediate liaison between the Bureau and the Department from their respective relocation sites except in matters involving criminal cases. Although the Department has not specifically stated that the Attorney General and his 9 top assistants will evacuate [redacted] after the Department has made [redacted] fully ready for occupancy, it appears this group may ultimately plan to go [redacted]

It is quite possible that the President may order the evacuation of key employees of sensitive agencies in Washington to their relocation sites in advance of a hostile attack, in which event the remainder of the FBI personnel at the SOG would remain on duty in Washington. All Assistant Directors, except Mr. Quinn Tamm, are scheduled for evacuation [redacted] together with the Director, Messrs. Tolson, Nichols, and Boardman.

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Copy No. 11 of the volume entitled "Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans for the Chain of Command" referred to in your letter of January 12th, 1955, has been studied. From an all-over planning standpoint, the "Highlights" appear to embrace all major aspects of the Bureau's work in a time of emergency. There is one aspect of the plans that gives me concern, and that is the basic thinking that time will permit to evacuate Washington and thereby to carry on the Bureau's work under an emergency basis. I certainly pray that time will permit the saving not only of yourself but also the Bureau personnel in Washington.

In a conversation I had recently with General James W. McCauley, Commander, Eastern Defense Command, as well as with General Thomas W. Herren, Commanding General of the First Army Headquarters, presently located on Governors Island, it became clear to me that both of these men consider themselves not only to be in a prime target area but also believe that any attack against this country would be on a sneak basis. It was pointed out that low flying aircraft could avoid detection by radar until comparatively close to an eastern seaboard target which would thereby enable the attack to be accomplished with a minimum of warning to the seaboard. Such an attack, judging from a view of a global map, would start almost directly north of the Atlantic seaboard and after leaving Russian-held soil would fly over a large stretch of water, off our radar until almost within striking distance of target areas. An attack by guided missile launched from surfacing submarines is also a possibility according to the sources above named, in which event practically no warning time would be given.

I believe the military are of the opinion that Washington, D. C. and the heavily industrial areas, as well as New York, are prime targets. I recognize that it would not be feasible for any of the Bureau offices in possible target areas to do anything but to continue operating, and in view of your expressed statement that the FBI would not evacuate until so ordered by the President I know you feel the same about the Bureau. I know, too, that almost unquestionably you have closely considered the possibility of a surprise attack and its consequences. However, I could not let this opportunity pass without taking the liberty of pointing out what is probably already quite apparent to you.

Because of the possibility of a widespread attack on major targets, the field representatives on the Bureau's chain of command might be rendered incapable of being of assistance to the Bureau, and I would therefore suggest for consideration that the field representatives be increased in number, specifically to include some field representatives who are not in Grade A target areas.

Very truly yours,

On 1/12/55, SAC Kelly, New York, was furnished Copy #11 of the volume entitled "Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans for the Chain of Command." The Seat of Government has a chain of command in connection with its war plans so that designated Assistant Directors will succeed each other in taking charge of the FBI in the event higher officials are incapacitated and unavailable to administer necessary functions during any critical period. After running through the list of Assistant Directors the chain of command reverts to the field and to SAC Kelly of New York, McIntire of Detroit and D. K. Brown of Baltimore, in that order.

By letter of 1/31/55, SAC Kelly complied with the Bureau's instructions to submit his observations as to the adequacy, completeness and clarity of the first draft of the Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans; he concluded that the plans embrace all major aspects of the Bureau's work in a time of emergency.

In addition, Kelly made two observations:

1. His conversations with the military lead to the belief that low-flying aircraft can avoid detection by radar until close to the eastern seaboard, and coastal cities are vulnerable to guided missile attacks launched by submarines..... therefore, Kelly concludes that there will be very little advance warning of surreptitious attack and the Bureau should plan accordingly. This is well known to the Bureau and recognized by the White House, Office of Defense Mobilization and Civil Defense. This is the reason why air raid shelters have been designated, air raid drills have been conducted, and this is a primary reason why certain essential FBI records have been lodged in the vault [redacted] As far as the time element in advance of an attack is concerned, there are only two things which can be done and the decision as to which to do will rest entirely upon how much advance warning can be provided. The possibilities are: (A) Take shelter and stay there until the attack has passed; or (B) Evacuate the area if time permits.

In connection with the time element we have firm arrangements with the military for notification and these are tested daily. We have a double-check arrangement through [redacted] through the White House and through radio stations. We know of no other action which can be taken and Kelly does not suggest anything specific.

2. Kelly observes that the military is of the opinion that New York and Washington are prime targets; the chain of command in the field should be located in nonvital target areas. For your information, the Bureau has several times revised its chain of command. There is only one field office which is not considered a target area and that is [redacted] some field offices are located in more vital target areas than other Divisions. For example, [redacted] is considered the #1 target area in the United States, with [redacted] not far behind. Presumably, the most competent SACs are in the larger offices and the larger offices have the highest priority as far as a target area is concerned. At one time we had certain SACs on the chain of command from relatively innocuous cities not likely to be involved in an early attack, but it was considered by the Bureau that better talent was available for selection to run the entire FBI during any critical days of emergency.

On 8/12/54, the Executives Conference considered all aspects of this problem and decided that the Bureau should put its best foot forward in any period of emergency. Specific comment was made that, even though [redacted] is a critical target area, the over-all needs of the FBI throughout the Nation are more important than needs in the [redacted] area alone and that an Assistant Special Agent in Charge could run the [redacted] Office while the SAC succeeded to the over-all FBI command, if such became necessary. The Executives Conference on 8/12/54, therefore recommended deleting from the chain of command [redacted] [redacted] and recommended that the present SACs at [redacted] be the new chain of command. The Director approved. The Executives Conference of 8/12/54, did not consider it likely that an attack would disable the entire Bureau staff all the way down through the Assistant Director level and the three SACs concerned; Executives Conference did not feel it desirable to have more than three representatives on the field chain of command list.

CONCLUSIONS

The observations of SAC Kelly have previously been considered by the Bureau. Kelly knows of this previous consideration inasmuch as he was advised [redacted] telephonically on the morning of 2/3/55, prior to the receipt of Kelly's letter in the Training and Inspection Division, but after Kelly had already written this letter. His purpose in writing to the Bureau was to be sure the Bureau had considered these two aspects and he was glad to know that they had been carefully analyzed earlier.

SUBJECT: EMERGENCY PLANS-MICROWAVE SYSTEM

MAJOR CHANGE IN U. S. WAR PLANS

You will recall that in 1951 the White House sponsored a relocation program for a limited group of so-called critical agencies, including the White House, [redacted] State Department, Civil Defense (FCDA), Defense Department, and the FBI. [redacted] and Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) subsequently were added. An emergency communications system using "microwave" radio was planned to permit the President to maintain contact with the heads of these critical agencies. Under this program, the FBI established at [redacted] a microwave radio station for the purpose indicated. We have learned that ODM now plans to relocate between 30 and 40 Government agencies and that a greatly expanded microwave communications system is contemplated to link these various centers at an estimated cost of some $50,000,000. Under the expanded program, FBI microwave communications from our new relocation center [redacted] would enter a major relay station which is not now in existence and which probably will not be completed for at least 1 or 2 years. As an interim measure, it is proposed that the FBI maintain emergency communication with the existing portion of the original microwave network in the same manner as we did [redacted] namely, by tying into the nearest station of the system. From [redacted] the nearest station was the military installation [redacted] the nearest station will be that [redacted]. The entire expanded program is an excellent example of a good basic idea which has snowballed into an impractical monstrosity.

DEFINITION OF MICROWAVE

Microwave radio is merely radio of extremely short wave length (hence the term microwave), and its physical properties are such that communication by microwave radio is normally restricted to the same path over which a beam of light could be sent. Thus, direct microwave communication is limited to relatively short distances, and reflector or relay stations are required where intervening hills or other obstacles are present.

MEMORANDUM TO MR. TOLSON FROM D. J. PARSONS

RE: EMERGENCY PLANS-MICROWAVE SYSTEM

SECURITY

Microwave communication between points normally is accomplished by microwave beams established between the tops of tall towers. Hence, its inherent security is higher than that of ordinary radio since to intercept the signal it would be necessary either to place a receiver in the path of the beam or in the immediate vicinity of the microwave station. A large number (for example, 24) of simultaneous voice and teletypewriter circuits can be carried over a single microwave beam. Although additional security in the form of an enciphering system is readily applicable to the teletypewriter communication, no comparable increase of security is planned for the voice communication over the microwave system. Thus, the possibility is always present that the voice communications of one agency may be monitored by any other agency through whose microwave station the messages are relayed, just as it is possible now for a telephone operator to listen to telephone conversations.

SUBJECT: EMERGENCY PLANS - MICROWAVE SYSTEM

SYNOPSIS

This memorandum is to advise of a major pending change in the over-all U. S. Government War Plans relating to agency relocation centers and interagency communications facilities; further purpose to outline suggested Bureau course of action. Original relocation plans called for relocation centers for White House and so-called critical agencies including [redacted] State Department, Civil Defense, Defense Department and FBI. Microwave radio was to be used for the President to communicate with the heads of such agencies and for interagency communication.

Referral/Consult

Under the proposed larger system, FBI microwave communication [redacted] would enter a major relay station which is not now in existence and which probably will not be completed for at least a year or two. Thus, installation of microwave facilities [redacted] necessarily will be on a temporary basis pending completion of the contemplated relay station. Cost of connecting to major relay station probably will be in order of $5,000 but could be substantially greater depending upon choice of relay site. As an interim measure, based on conferences with Captain Gale [redacted] it is concluded that [redacted] entire program is excellent example of how basic idea which has been expanded and distorted to an impractical degree.

ACTION

I suggest making to [redacted] and [redacted]

476 FEB 16 1955

For the reasons outlined [redacted] microwave installation [redacted] will be made on the basis of a temporary [redacted] connection into the existing [redacted] system [redacted] after which a further change will be required involving microwave facilities [redacted] to a major relay station of the expanded system.

As you know, continuing effort is being made to achieve completion of a workable microwave communications link [redacted] to the relocation centers of the other so-called critical agencies. Two factors are involved, namely, the moving of our equipment [redacted] by Motorola and the establishment of a tie-in to the network which will provide communications circuits to the other agencies. A contract has been negotiated with Motorola for the former and every effort is being made to expedite this phase. In regard to the latter phase [redacted]

As pointed out in my memorandum of 1/26/55, plans call for an expanded network including 30 to 40 agencies rather than the original six; therefore, any tie-in we make now will be more or less temporary. In view of this, it is believed that no large expenditure of funds should be made at this time for additional relay equipment which will not be needed when the final plans are implemented. Referral/Consult

This whole situation appears to be an outstanding example of a basically good idea involving provision for an emergency nucleus operation which now has been expanded and distorted to a point where it is questionable as to whether it will be practical.

SYNOPSIS:

Emergency stand-by telephone and teletype equipment now at [redacted] consisting of direct telephone and teletype lines from [redacted] direct teletype line from [redacted] of East Coast teletype circuit and switchboard with sixty extensions. Costs Bureau $4500 annually. This stand-by equipment is now useless to Seat of Government since [redacted] is operationally ready as an evacuation center. Only communication system lacking [redacted] is microwave and Laboratory contracts call for microwave reinstallation [redacted] during February. Bureau is retaining [redacted] as relocation site for Washington Field Office and as reserve for Seat of Government overflow which cannot be taken care of [redacted]. Present equipment [redacted] is also useless to Washington Field Office in its present form. Only communications available to Field Office are local existing commercial facilities [redacted]. Bureau policy has been to expend no funds for Field relocation site communications. Believe exception should be made for Washington Field Office since [redacted] also will be used for Seat of Government overflow. Cheapest, bare minimum communications needed by Washington Field Office [redacted] would be: one, stand-by telephone circuit [redacted] costing $125 a month or $1500 a year; and one teletype at the [redacted] connected to the nearest telephone company teletype center using number nineteen-type machine, costing $137 a month or $1644 a year. Total cost would be $3144 a year. By cutting out presently installed equipment costing $4500 a year Bureau would save $1356 a year on fixed communication equipment expenses [redacted] if we install one stand-by telephone and one teletype for use of Washington Field Office.

DETAILS:

We have been maintaining [redacted] on a stand-by basis, various emergency telephone and teletype equipment, consisting mainly of direct telephone and teletype lines from [redacted] the Bureau's New York Office, a direct teletype line from the [redacted] the Baltimore Terminal of the East Coast teletype circuit and a switchboard in [redacted] basement with sixty extensions, all of which cost the Bureau approximately $4500 annually. This equipment is useless to the Bureau at the present time in view of the fact that all of the communications equipment desired is now installed [redacted] operationally ready for use as an evacuation center.

The only communications system which has not been installed [redacted] is the microwave station. The Laboratory has contracts outstanding now calling for the reinstallation of the microwave station [redacted] during the month of February.

The Bureau is retaining [redacted] as a relocation site for the Washington Field Office, as well as a reserve for the Seat of Government overflow which cannot be taken care of [redacted]. No specific functions have been outlined for the Seat of Government overflow and accordingly it is not felt we are warranted in retaining the presently installed communications equipment at [redacted] as it would appear to be useless due to the fact that the lines are largely direct lines to New York and to the East Coast teletype circuit. Likewise, the presently installed equipment at [redacted] is of no use to the Washington Field Office in its present form.

While it has been the Bureau's policy not to expend any monies for field office emergency communications systems at relocation sites, I believe we should make an exception in favor of the Washington Field Office since [redacted] will also be used for Seat of Government overflow which cannot be taken care of [redacted]. We have checked with the telephone company on various costs and the cheapest, bare minimum communications need by the Washington Field Office at [redacted] would be one stand-by telephone circuit from [redacted] costing $125 a month, or $1500 a year. This would be an engineered, military circuit. The cheapest type of teletype equipment for the Washington Field Office would be to install one number nineteen-type machine at [redacted] connecting it to the nearest telephone company teletype center, which would be [redacted]. This would cost $137 a month or $1644 a year. The total cost of both of these items would be $3144 a year. By cutting out the presently installed equipment, now costing $4500 annually, and placing the above two items in operation, the Bureau would save $1356 a year [redacted] on fixed communications expenses equipment.

I do not see any need for the extensive switchboard now installed in the [ ] basement and recommend it be taken out. Since there are no specific functions outlined for Bureau personnel to perform at [ ] who would be an overflow not taken care of at [ ] there is no need to keep the switchboard up there.

I have checked these matters with SAC Laughlin of the Washington Field Office who advised he felt the Washington Field Office had no need for the special telephone and teletype equipment now installed at [ ] as they were all direct line items of equipment and of no value to the Washington Field Office. Neither did he feel the Washington Field Office would need the switchboard in the [ ] basement. Mr. Laughlin has no objection, of course, to having one stand-by telephone line to the Bureau's relocation site [ ] and feels it would be desirable to have one TWX machine so he could get messages out to any of the Bureau's field offices.

Mr. Belmont has also been consulted and he has advised he could see no reason why any more in the way of communication facilities should be required for the Washington Field Office than for any other field office, but he pointed out since the Bureau was retaining [ ] as a reserve relocation site over and above [ ] that some type of emergency communication facilities should be considered.

I am in agreement and accordingly the recommendations as appearing above are submitted.

Mr. Philcox of the Liaison Section talked with Commander Edward L. Beach, Naval Aide at the White House and in charge of White House emergency war planning, on February 10, 1955, regarding the Bureau's plan for the Liaison Representative to accompany the White House staff in the event of an evacuation to the White House alternate headquarters. Commander Beach stated that he considers this an excellent plan and sees a real need to have a Bureau representative present in the time of emergency for consultation with the White House staff.

Each field office is aware of its own relocation site for emergency use, but it is not aware of the relocation sites of the Seat of Government or other field offices. Such data should be promptly provided for retention under strict controls and with access limited to the fewest practicable employees.

The attached SAC Letter sets forth only the essential data needed relative to the Bureau relocation site and the communications facilities which will be available when the site is activated.

A list showing the relocation site of each field office is attached to the proposed SAC Letter.

At approximately 3:30 PM on 2-16-55, Supervisor A. J. Baker took a call from Colonel Miller, who is handling negotiations for new sites for our [ ] radio stations presently installed [ ]. Colonel Miller advised that, although he has done a great deal of looking around, he has not found any good prospects for a receiving site other than [ ]. You will recall we have inspected this site and, although it is a very definite possibility, we have told Colonel Miller to see what else might be available before we make any commitments.

Colonel Miller advised that [ ] which we are interested in for the transmitting site, is ready. He stated that the party he had in mind for financing the receiving site was ready and willing to go ahead and had indicated that he thought he could build the receiving station building about twenty per cent cheaper than the estimate we had on the transmitting station building. He suggested that someone come down [ ] Friday afternoon to talk to his prospective client for handling the receiving station. Colonel Miller was advised that either Mr. Baker or Mr. Millen would be down there Friday to talk to him and to inspect any other prospective sites he might have.

RE: WAR PLANS - EVACUATION

Auxiliary space For S.O.G.

By memorandum 10/1/54 you were instructed to make certain that individuals scheduled for evacuation would be available should an evacuation be ordered and suggesting that the employees scheduled for evacuation lay plans in accordance with existing policy.

You have previously been instructed to designate an Agent not scheduled for evacuation to maintain contact with and insofar as possible care for the needs of the families of those employees scheduled for evacuation. Agent personnel scheduled to maintain contact with the families of the evacuees should at this time contact each employee scheduled for evacuation and ascertain what, if any, special plans the evacuee has made for the care and well-being of his family during a period of evacuation. If the evacuee has made no plans for the well-being of his family during the period of emergency, the "stay behind" should ascertain what the evacuee's wishes are in the matter. It should be definitely understood by the Agent having the responsibility to maintain contact with families of evacuees that he is to make every effort possible under the existing circumstances to care for the needs of the various families.

BUREAU WAR PLANS

Amplifying Bureau's work

In connection with our storage of cryptomaterial at the emergency relocation site and the training of Bureau employees for emergency handling of Bureau code communications [ ] it would appear to be essential that one employee with mechanical aptitude be given a concentrated training to handle emergency repair and maintenance of [ ] machines, the preparation of key lists and cipher pads.

b7E

It is believed that two weeks of special training in the FBI Laboratory would be sufficient for such emergency needs, one week in the Radio and Electrical Section for training in [ ] repairs and one week in the Cryptanalysis-Translation Section to cover procedures used in designing key lists and manufacturing cipher pads.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That approval be granted for an employee with mechanical aptitude presently stationed [ ] to receive 2 weeks of special training in repair and maintenance of [ ] cipher machines and design and manufacture of cryptomaterials.

b7E

2. That the Training and Inspection Division arrange for [ ] employee to be selected for this training and with the Laboratory set-up a two weeks school of special instruction as set forth above.

BUREAU WAR PLANS

Auxiliary space for S.O.G.

As you know we have recently stored a considerable volume of cryptomaterial at the emergency relocation site [ ] and have completed two special schools of instruction to enable [ ] employees to assume the handling of Bureau Communications in an emergency situation.

It is necessary that [ ] employees now trained for cryptographic duties continue to practice and review these duties and arrangements have been effected with the Seat of Government Code Room to exchange practice messages weekly with [ ] for that purpose.

As was indicated by my memorandum 1/28/55, the [ ] employees, responded very well to this training and are extremely interested in this aspect of the Bureau's war plans. They have, however, a difficult situation for practice work in trying to work within a small locked room [ ] which is the entire building's length removed from the emergency teletype room. This is not only very inconvenient but also presents a security risk when carrying cryptomaterial back and forth.

A safe was recently procured for the [ ] Teletype Room and I feel that with a change of combination lock on this safe, two [ ] cipher machines, pertinent key lists, manuals, code books and cipher pads could be stored in this safe permanently for practice purposes. In addition, if [ ] is ever required to handle Bureau Code Communications, it would be essential for efficient operation to have an adequate safe located in the same room with the teletype machines.

We have inquired about the cost of changing the lock on the present Herring Hall Marvin Safe in [ ] Teletype Room and have received an estimate from The Safemasters Co., 626 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C., of $55.00 to make the desired change [ ]

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That a change of locks be authorized on the Herring Hall Marvin Safe in the Teletype Room [ ] placing thereon a new Sargeant and Greenleaf manipulation-proof, three-way combination lock, plus a metal stop on the sliding door to protect the lock knob.
2. That the Administrative Division arrange for The Safemasters Co., Washington, D.C., to effect the necessary installation [ ]

Mr. Nichols has indicated that there will be a need for a lot of copy work [ ] should it be necessary for the Bureau to evacuate to that site. There are now two electro-copyist photostat machines [ ] both of which are old and very slow, and are similar to those which are now being replaced in our field offices by more modern and faster machines. b7E

There is in use in the Records Section, Crime Records and the Laboratory of the Bureau the Apeco Systematic Autostat which has proven quite satisfactory. This machine costs approximately $350.00. Personnel at the Seat of Government are familiar with its operations and past experience has indicated that it does a satisfactory job in a minimum of time. It must be pointed out, however, that this is not a production machine of the kind which is now used in the Mechanical Section and retails for in excess of $8400.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that there be procured for the Bureau's relocation site [ ] one Apeco Systematic Autostat machine together with the necessary timer, paper and chemical solutions. It is estimated that this machine will cost approximately $350.00. b7E

The Only Machine That Offers All These Advantages!

The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat is a complete photocopying department in one compact cabinet . . . an all-in-one photocopying unit that prints, processes and dries . . . so that copies are ready for instant use. No separate printer or timer is required. It eliminates slow, messy developing, fixing, washing and drying. With this remarkable unit, all photocopying work is done fully automatically from start to finish and there is no possibility for errors to appear in your copying work.

The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat is a desktop unit, so compact that it can fit on any convenient desk or table or into any available office space. It measures only 20¾" long x 10" wide x 11" high. It requires less than two square feet of working space. No dark room is necessary.

The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat is the fastest, most efficient method of copying anything written, printed, typed, drawn or photographed. There is no time-consuming drying. A finished black and white copy, exactly like the original, can be made in less than 45 seconds ready for instant use. It is clean . . . doing away with chemical trays, running water, wet hands and fumes. It is simple, requiring no special costly set-up, no exhaust pipes. It is all electric . . . just plug it in any electrical outlet and it is ready for immediate operation.

In normal office use, even an inexperienced operator can produce a minimum of 75 copies per hour. This unit is especially designed to handle letter and legal size copies as well as larger copies up to 11 inches x 17 inches. There is no limitation as to type of papers, documents or originals that can be copied . . . regardless of whether the original is printed on one or both sides, or on opaque or translucent paper. It is the ideal, economical method of copying anything—fast! There are no restrictions on the material, texture or color of the originals to be copied.

The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat is a photographically accurate process which bears no relationship or similarity to Diazo reproduction or ammonia machines. The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat process eliminates the necessity of going through separate operations in making negatives and positives. Every copy is always in positive form with the image appearing as black on white exactly like the original.

The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat is sturdily constructed of rust-proof stainless steel. It has been styled to fit into the decor of any business surroundings from the most elaborate administrative offices to a plain busy shipping room. The entire unit is in one modernly designed cabinet with handsome contrasting two-tone gray hammerloid finish.

Finally, it is remarkably low in cost. A complete Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat installation is priced well within the budget of even the smallest firm. It is economical to operate, too.

Here's How the APECO Systematic Auto-Stat Operates

So Simple!
So Fast!

① EXPOSE

Insert original and Auto-Stat Number 1 paper into continuous copier.

The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat is a complete unit for making photocopies. It occupies little more space than the average typewriter and can be operated on any desk or table top.

The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat operates on a transfer facsimile principle employing the use of two different types of paper, namely, Apeco Auto-Stat No. 1 paper and Apeco Auto-Stat No. 2 paper. Each paper is coated with a special emulsion.

The procedure in making an Auto-Stat copy is simplicity itself. The original to be copied is placed face to face with the Apeco Auto-Stat No. 1 paper and is inserted into the Systematic printer. Here it is exposed to light as it feeds through at a constant speed. No timing is necessary as controlled light intensity give the exact required exposure automatically. After exposure the original is set aside unharmed in any way.

Next, the exposed No. 1 sheet is placed face to face in contact with the Apeco Auto-Stat No. 2 paper. These two sheets are then inserted in the slot at the front of the Apeco Auto-Stat processing unit. Quickly and automatically the sheets travel through the unit. The sheets, adhered to each other, emerge from the Auto-Stat delivery slot. Then, you simply peel them apart. Almost like magic you have a positive reproduction on the No. 2 sheet. Every detail of the original is faithfully reproduced in black and white or varying shades of gray. The Auto-Stat No. 1 sheet can either be thrown away or saved as a reverse reading file copy.

The positive Auto-Stat copy is ready for immediate use and requires no fixing, washing or drying! The entire process, from the original to the finished, ready to use Auto-Stat copy, takes less than 45 seconds.

The Apeco Auto-Stat No. 1 paper comes in a variety of stock cut sizes and is also available in special sizes cut to order.

The Apeco Auto-Stat No. 2 paper is actually the paper that gives you your finished original copy. It is conveniently packaged in all standard cut sizes as well as special sizes cut to order. This is a fine paper comparable in grade and quality to paper normally used for office correspondence and other records. The finished black and white Auto-Stat copies produced on Apeco Auto-Stat No. 2 paper are permanent—will not fade, crack or chip.

② PROCESS

Feed exposed sheet and transfer sheet into Auto-Stat together.

③ COPIES PEEL APART

When copies emerge adhered together, simply peel copies apart.

Business today is faced with ever-growing office paper work created by complex regulations and our greatly expanded economy. The need for cost-cutting, time and labor-saving devices is more urgent than ever before. Efficiency has become all important in business . . . and in many organizations it represents the difference between profit and loss. Busy executives readily agree that now, more than ever before, there is a vital need for Auto-Stat's quick, low-cost method of copying important business records, letters, government forms and other documents.

Business methods experts are finding new ways every day to lower costs and increase the efficiency of handling office paper work by using the Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat. Today there are almost 30,000 Apeco users in every type of industry, as well as in most branches of the government.

The two charts below graphically show the time and money saved by using the Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat as compared to manual copying or outside commercial copying services.

1 Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat Copying Compared to Manual Copying

Number of Copies per Day	Manual Copying Cost (Labor only)	Auto-Stat Copying Cost Labor & Materials	Annual Money Saved with Auto-Stat
5	$ 1.35	$ .48	$229.68
10	2.70	.96	459.36
15	4.05	1.42	694.00
20	5.40	1.90	924.00
25	6.75	2.37	1156.32
50	13.50	4.74	2312.64

The above comparisons are made on letters or related material. Basis for computation: Typing labor: $1.25 per hour. Six letter-size copies per hour or 21c per copy. Proofreading cost: 6c per copy. No amount has been allotted for corrections. Even greater savings result in using the Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat to copy complicated office forms records requiring hours of tedious re-typing. The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat copies anything with equal ease!

2 Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat Copying Compared to Commercial Copying

If Your Present Average Monthly Photo-Print Bill is:	Here's What the Same Volume of Copies Cost With the Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat	Here is Your Actual Annual Savings by Using the Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat
$20.00	$ 3.80	$194.40 <small>SAVED ANNUALLY</small>
30.00	5.70	291.60 <small>SAVED ANNUALLY</small>

50.00	9.50	486.00 <small>SAVED ANNUALLY</small>
75.00	14.25	729.00 <small>SAVED ANNUALLY</small>
100.00	19.00	972.00 <small>SAVED ANNUALLY</small>

The above comparison is computed on an average commercial copying cost obtained from outside source. Besides the monetary savings, the Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat eliminates entrusting valuable papers to delivery boys. It also eliminates the need for purchase orders, delivery time, receiving tickets and other delays and fuss involved in outside processing that substantially add to the costs shown above.

NOW... Make Photocopies in Any Color

The Auto-Stat No. 2 paper can be pre-printed by your own local printer with a special form to fit in with any application that meets your business requirements. This pre-printing can be had either on the copying surface or the back of the paper, whichever is required to fit the specific application. Because of the fine quality of Auto-Stat No. 2 paper, both the copying and reverse surface are excellent for marking with pen, pencil or typing. Pre-printing Apeco Auto-Stat paper permits the quick transfer of variable information onto standard forms without tedious manual recopying.

Many present Apeco customers, in different types of business, have uncovered a variety of uses for pre-printed Auto Stat copies to eliminate much of their paper work. Other applications of pre-printed forms can be planned to increase the efficiency of office paper work in most any business. Trained Apeco copying experts can assist businesses in setting up an efficient system utilizing this pre-printed feature of Apeco Auto-Stat copying.

The Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat is equally as fast using either regular or pre-printed paper. With this unit an experienced operator can produce a minimum of 75 copies per hour.

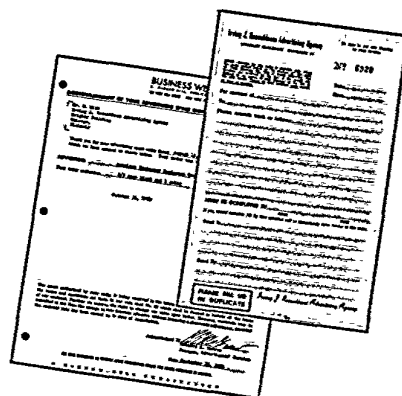

A new color copying process has been developed to meet the growing demand by business to be able to color-code copies for fast visual separation and it opens a vast new use for the Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat in office system work.

Surveys among Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat users have found many applications for color photocopies to increase the efficiency of paper handling.

Firms doing both government and civilian business can now separate the handling of the two types of business by means of colored photocopies. Also companies can now color code orders to direct them to the proper department to be filled or to designate priority in shipping.

To make colored photocopies with the Apeco Systematic Auto-Stat no additional equipment is used . . . just the one compact unit. The procedure is the same as for regular black and white copies.

SUBJECT: Bureau War Plans RECORDS MAINTAINED AT ALTERNATE
HEADQUARTERS FOR EMERGENCY USE S.O.C.

When I was in [redacted] on Wednesday, February 16, 1955, for firearms training purposes, I made an inspection of Security Division records which are kept [redacted] for emergency purposes. b7E

One clerk is assigned to keep the records properly filed and I was informed that he spends on an average of about two hours a day in connection with these duties.

I was impressed with the neat and orderly manner in which the records are being maintained and it is obvious that careful attention is being afforded these records by SAC [redacted] and the clerk who is assigned to this task. b7E

I did suggest in connection with the filing of the plans each office has submitted for placing the Detcom Program into effect in its division that cardboard separators be obtained and set up under the name of each office so that it would not be necessary to leaf through the entire group of fifty-two offices in an attempt to locate a particular office.

Also, in connection with the film of the handwriting specimens of key figure Communists, I noted that some of this film is in cans in alphabetical order. The file drawer in which this film is kept, however, contains a number of envelopes which contain additional strips of film. This film apparently is in no order at all. An effort to locate a specimen under the present system of filing would require considerable time. The clerk, [redacted], who handles the filing of all the material [redacted] in connection with this program, advised me that this matter has been of some concern to him for some time. He also stated that SAC [redacted] has been concerned about this matter. b6 b7C b7E

On Friday, February 18, 1955, I discussed this film with Mr. Bowles of the Laboratory. Mr. Bowles stated that although it was not feasible to put the loose film in alphabetical order, it could be spliced together and placed in a metal film container. This would put all of the film on one roll and at the same time the metal container would help preserve it. Mr. Bowles stated that he would see to it that this matter was taken care of in the immediate future.

In connection with the installation approved by the Bureau of a voice circuit on an EMC standby basis between [redacted] and the Bureau's relocation site [redacted] for use of [redacted] a technical problem arose as there were no available pairs on the [redacted]

At the present time, the FM radio equipment is connected to a pair in [redacted] building; however, since the microwave tower completely re-established [redacted] the laboratory contemplates moving the FM over to the microwave site and there will be a cable to that site sufficient to take care of the FM equipment thereby releasing the present pair now being used on the FM equipment [redacted] building. As an interim proposition, Mr. McGuire today arranged with Mr. R. R. McCathran, Manager of the CP Telephone Company of [redacted] to release LD 24 to the long lines division of AT&T in order that the [redacted] circuit could be completed and all other existing communications no longer needed [redacted] be physically pulled out. McCathran understands that LD 24 will be recovered as soon as the radio installation is completed and the FM moved to the microwave site.

Mr. Bill Herman of AT&T has been advised of the release by McCathran of LD 24. It is expected the [redacted] EMC voice circuit [redacted] will be completely installed by March 9, 1955. This matter will be followed in approximately 8 weeks when the microwave installation is completed in order that we can recover LD 24 for use of the Bureau's communications as originally planned.

Re memorandum from F. J. Baumgardner to Mr. Belmont dated 2/18/55, suggesting that the loose microfilm of handwriting of Communist key figures be spliced together and maintained in a metal film container.

The Laboratory does not have an employee who is going to [ ] in the next few days. Attached are a metal film container and spool which should be sent to [ ] for the purpose of maintaining the loose strips of microfilm now being kept in envelopes. The loose strips of microfilm should be spliced together by means of small pieces of Scotch tape. A sample strip of film is enclosed in the attached metal container to illustrate the manner of splicing. Any employee can do this in a few minutes because each strip of loose film now maintained [ ] has a small unexposed area at each end on which the Scotch tape may be placed. Scotch tape should not be placed over exposed areas of the film.

The next time an Agent from the Document Section is [ ] he will check this film to determine that it is being maintained properly in the metal container.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached metal film container and spool be forwarded to Mr. [ ] so that the loose strips of microfilm of handwriting of Communist key figures may be maintained in the manner outlined above.

Under the section entitled Communications [ ] it is suggested that a brief paragraph be inserted showing how the communications system there will be activated. You will recall that on December 14, 1954, we discussed with the President the possibility of his making available [redacted] for use in an emergency evacuation of key Bureau officials. At that time, the President advised he would refer the matter to Mr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director, Office of Defense Mobilization, to see what pattern for emergency evacuation had been established. On January 25, 1955, I advised you that no response had been received to date. I have now been advised that it has been recommended by [redacted] be provided for you, Mr. Tompkins and me. Our position has been that several Bureau officials having definite responsibilities in the security field must be evacuated immediately in order to assure the internal security of the country. Failure to accomplish this would greatly reduce the potency of Bureau operations during an emergency.

With reference to [redacted] there has been no information received indicating that the Office of Defense Mobilization [redacted] have considered evacuation by this method or the immediate need of the Bureau [redacted] to evacuate key personnel in the event of an emergency.

Noting that there has been considerable delay in this matter and in view of the responsibilities of the Bureau and its close relationship with the responsibilities of the Armed Services, I am wondering if, at an early opportunity, it would not be desirable for you to again take this up with the appropriate authorities.

On February 17, 1955, Mr. Joseph Musick, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), advised W. F. Musick stated he has been aware of the Director's interest in this matter and for this reason a task force comprised of representatives from ODM [redacted] recently submitted a report to [redacted] recommending [redacted] be provided for certain officials in the Government. SAC F. H. McIntire, Detroit, has pointed out that if it should be necessary for those SACs in the Bureau Chain of Command to assume the responsibility of operating the Bureau, they would have to rely quite heavily on the existing staff at Seat of Government. Mr. McIntire added that in all probability the existing staff at Seat of Government would be wiped out along with those in the Bureau Chain of Command above the SACs in question.

Mr. McIntire suggested that when SACs McIntire, Kelly and D. K. Brown next come to Washington for their two-day conference, some time be allocated for a conference on Bureau War Plans and that they be given an opportunity to inspect the installation and records [redacted]. This suggestion is concurred in by SACs Kelly and Brown. It appears to have considerable merit. Auxiliary Space S.O.G.

SAC McIntire is scheduled for the two-day conference at the Bureau beginning March 7, 1955; SAC Kelly of New York is scheduled for a two-day conference beginning March 28, 1955. SAC D. K. Brown of Baltimore has recently completed his two-day conference but advised that he was certain that he could arrange his schedules to meet with SACs Kelly and McIntire to arrange for a conference on Bureau War Plans and the installation and records [redacted].

The Administrative Division believes such a conference would be desirable and knows of no reason why it could not be conducted on March 30, 1955. Crime Records Section has no record of prior commitments for SACs Kelly, McIntire and D. K. Brown for March 28, 29 and 30, 1955 other than the scheduled conferences for Mr. Kelly above mentioned.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That SACs Kelly of New York, McIntire of Detroit and D. K. Brown of Baltimore be given an opportunity to become thoroughly familiar with Seat of Government War Plans and the installation [redacted] on 3-30-55.

(3) SAC D. K. Brown be instructed to attend a conference on Seat of Government War Plans beginning 9:00 a.m., 3/30/55.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION EDM:DMG 2/23/55

Present at the Executives Conference on 2/23/55, were Messrs. Boardman, Parsons, Sizoo, Tamm, Belmont and Mason. The Conference unanimously felt that a visit [ ] for the purpose of looking over the installation, types of records, where the records are kept, types of supplies, examination of the allocation of space, whereabouts of reserve food supplies and related aspects of war planning concerning use [ ] would serve no useful purpose for the three SACs who are members of the Seat of Government chain of command.

On the other hand, the Conference unanimously felt it desirable to have SACs McIntire and Kelly report to the Seat of Government for two-day conference at the same time and that these men, along with SAC D. K. Brown of Baltimore, go over the Seat of Government aspects of the Program for the Detention of Communists. The Conference felt that, while the SACs understand the program from the field operational point of view, there are a number of matters relating to the administrative control of the program for the Detention of Communists which the SACs should be briefed on in connection with their chain of command responsibilities.

If you approve, the Conference unanimously recommends that the Administrative Division arrange to have SAC McIntire of Detroit and SAC Kelly of New York report to the Seat of Government at the same time for conference (McIntire now scheduled for two-day conference March 7; Kelly now scheduled for two-day conference March 28) and at the commencement of the second day of the conference SAC D. K. Brown of Baltimore should also report to the Seat of Government. It is estimated that one-half day with the Domestic Intelligence Division would be adequate.

0 Bureau War Plans-Asphyxiation of J. Edgar Hoover

In the material which you prepared for me for use at the National Security Council Meeting this morning, I note that we have not as yet received a ruling from the Department as to who could issue the order for an evacuation. I think it would be well to immediately direct to the Attorney General a memorandum calling his attention to this unresolved problem and the fact that we have taken it up with Assistant Attorney General Tompkins who is having the Office of the Legal Counsel look into it. Reference should be made to the fact that I am directing this memorandum to the Attorney General in view of the discussion held at the National Security Council Meeting this morning.

Very truly yours,

Each division at Seat of Government has certain people scheduled for evacuation and in each instance one or more Agent Supervisors not scheduled for evacuation have been designated to maintain contact with the families of those individuals scheduled for evacuation.

In conformance with the Director's memorandum to all division heads 10/1/54, all personnel scheduled for evacuation have been contacted and have signified that they would be available for evacuation. The evacuees have been instructed in conformance with Executives Conference recommendation 9/30/54 that the Bureau has no objection to their making discreet and confidential arrangements for their families in the vicinity of the Bureau's relocation site or at some other location deemed more desirable. Some individuals scheduled for evacuation have made arrangements for their families to stay with relatives, others have made arrangements for their families to proceed to the interior and still others have elected to permit their families to stay where they are now located.

Because conditions vary with each family there can be no specific set of rules listing the things each "stay behind" must do for each evacuee's family with which he is to maintain contact. It is felt, however, that each "stay behind" should make contact now with each Agent scheduled for evacuation to learn of any special plans he may have made for the care and well-being of his family during a period of evacuation or to ascertain what wishes he has in the matter. It is, of course, essential that the "stay behind," maintaining contact with the family of an evacuee, take such steps as are possible for him to do under the circumstances to care for the needs of the family. He will, of course, make every effort to contact the evacuee at the Bureau relocation site if there appears to be a real need to do so. Likewise, he will make such contact as appears necessary with the appropriate civil or military authority then in charge to provide for the needs of the family including obtaining of food, water and shelter where necessary.

It has been Bureau policy that families will not evacuate with Agents. The Bureau has previously considered whether contact should be made with nearby motels, hotels, and tourist homes. Because of the indefinite nature of any possible evacuation it is not possible to make reservations now. No move has been made in this direction to date; however, there appears to be some merit to having the SAC [ ] make a list of nearby hotels, motels, tourist homes and rooming houses and the capacity and accommodations of each. Such a list could be of great value during a period of emergency.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That each division head submit a memorandum stating that all precautionary aspects of a reasonable nature have been explored and handled to insure insofar as practicable that "stay behinds" have contacted the evacuee and ascertained what, if any, plans he has made for the care and well-being of his family during a period of evacuation or has obtained from the evacuee his express wishes in the matter.

2. That SAC [ ] be authorized to draw up a list of the hotels, motels, tourist homes and rooming houses in the [ ] area showing their capacity and accommodations, the list to be retained for reference use during a period of emergency.

3. If recommendation one above is approved, the attached memo go forth to division heads instructing that the matter be handled by 3/4/55.

Director, FBI

EVACUATION OF KEY EMPLOYEES

In view of the discussion held at the National Security Council Meeting this morning relative to evacuation, I wanted to bring to your attention the fact that there is one question still unresolved relating to any proposed evacuation of the FBI.

Initially, it was the intention of the FBI to evacuate upon White House instructions. In January 1955 in connection with proposed modifications prepared for Departmental instructions to key employees, a new provision was inserted which seemed to indicate that a change was contemplated and that evacuation might be effected without waiting for White House instructions.

By memorandum of February 7, 1955, to Assistant Attorney General William F. Tompkins, I inquired as to whether your concurrence, or that of the President, would be necessary prior to ordering an evacuation.

Assistant Attorney General Tompkins, by memorandum of February 17, 1955, stated that this question had been referred to the Office of Legal Counsel for an opinion and that Mr. Tompkins could advise me as soon as a decision has been reached.

We have not yet been informed of the outcome of consideration given to this matter.

I think it will be well to immediately resolve this question.

The Bureau has approved installing an emergency generator [redacted] based upon Laboratory survey and recommendations of SAC, [redacted] the cheapest installation can be made by putting the generator in the [redacted] [redacted] by the Attorney General and his secretary. Inasmuch as [redacted] the [redacted] from the Attorney General's space and since the generator when in operation makes about the same volume of noise as that of a truck proceeding down a level highway, it is not believed that we should seek to locate the generator elsewhere. Of course, the generator will run only during those critical periods when emergency power is not available through any other source. In this instance the question revolves around economy through putting the generator in [redacted] or locating it elsewhere at greater expense to avoid the sound of the generator running, and we have resolved the question in favor of economy.

Unless you advise to the contrary, the generator will be put [redacted] when it is ultimately delivered.

Bids were solicited for the purchase of a diesel-electric generator set for the emergency site [redacted]. The specifications stated that quotations may be submitted for a 35 KW unit, a 40 KW unit, a 45 KW unit and for a 50 KW unit. The right was reserved to accept the bid on the one most advantageous to the government. It was also stated that time of delivery may be a determining factor in the award of the contract.

The following bids were received:

BIDDER	AMOUNT	DELIVERY
Caterpillar Tractor Co. - 40 KW Unit	$5,041.00	70 days
Curtis Engine & Equipment Co., Inc. - 35 KW Unit	5,300.00 (2% - 20 days)	90 days
General Motors Corp. - 40 KW Unit	4,489.49	60 days
60 KW Unit	5,665.00	60 days
Alban Tractor Co., Inc. - 40 KW Unit	7,545.00 (2% - 30 days)	4 weeks
(alternate bid) 40 KW Unit	8,024.00 (2% - 30 days)	4 weeks

The lowest bidder, the General Motors Corporation, qualified its bid by excluding starting batteries and a trickle charger which were included in the specifications and quoted delivery, F.O.B. [redacted] not within doors, [redacted] as specified.

The equipment offered by the Caterpillar Tractor Co., the next to the lowest bidder, and also the equipment of the Alban Tractor Co., Inc., has a 24-volt starting system instead of a 12-volt system which was specified.

Copies of the bids received were sent to the laboratory for review and recommendation. A memo from Mr. Conrad is attached recommending that the low bid of the General Motors Corporation be accepted and that arrangements be made to obtain the storage batteries and a trickle charger through a General Services Administration contract.

The matter of the award of the contract was discussed with Mr. Holewinski, of the Legal Division of the Department of Justice. He advised that we cannot properly award the contract to a bidder not fully meeting the specifications set forth in the invitation to bid.

ADDENDUM 2-18-55

Mr. Elmo V. Coons, Assistant General Counsel, General Accounting Office, advised that the bid of the General Motors Corporation is a qualified bid and that the contract should be awarded to the next lowest bidder, the Caterpillar Tractor Co.

Reference is made to the bids in the above matter opened at 2:30 P.M. on February 14, 1955. An examination of the four bids received indicates that the lowest bidder, namely the Detroit Diesel Engine Division of General Motors Corporation, will be satisfactory to the Bureau. This organization is bidding on a 40 kilowatt diesel electric set at $4,489.49, exclusive of 12-volt starting batteries and a 12-volt trickle charger. The company promises 60-day delivery [redacted]

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that the low bid of $4,489.49 be accepted from the General Motors Corporation.
2. It is recommended that arrangements be made with GSA to obtain wet-cell storage batteries and a trickle charger for this diesel electric set.
3. It is recommended that the foundation template supplied with the low bid be forwarded to Mr. [redacted] for use by [redacted] in preparing the mounting base.

OB Bureau was Plans-Engineering Spec. 1-25-55

You will recall that Colonel G. A. Miller of [redacted] called on Monday afternoon, February 21, 1955, requesting that an engineer come to [redacted] for the purpose of examining an available receiving station site in that area.

Accordingly, SA R. L. Millen was instructed to meet Colonel Miller at 10:00 A.M., Tuesday, February 22, 1955, at [redacted] for the purpose of reviewing the site which had been located. The site in question is at [redacted] in one of the areas previously recommended by the Laboratory. It is several miles closer to [redacted] than the previously considered [redacted] site. It has none of the disadvantages inherent in the [redacted] location. The [redacted] tract is available now, costs within $1000 of the [redacted] tract, is flat, mostly cleared, isolated from possible sources of interference, and has access to power. Phone lines are not available at present. These could come in from lines located on [redacted]. This tract of [redacted] acres is located [redacted] the area is located roughly [redacted] from [redacted].

ENCL with filed orig.

Colonel Miller has indicated that his prospective buyer, Commander, St. John, is interested in buying this property and building the radio receiving station thereon. He has been told to eliminate the [redacted] site from further consideration because of the superior technical possibilities inherent in the [redacted] tract. Having conducted his own search in addition to searching the areas referred to him by the Laboratory, it is Colonel Miller's conclusion that no other sites are available in this locality for purchase.

b7E

Accordingly, as a comparison site to the proposed transmitter location at [redacted] the [redacted] property appears to be well suited. Colonel Miller is expecting a call verifying this suitability, after which he can submit his joint proposals to the Bureau. Attached for record are two sketches of a proposed receiving station building layout favored by Commander St. John. Also attached is a trace of the [redacted] acre property.

ACTION:

Engineers are returning to [redacted] 2-24-55 for the purpose of checking antenna layout measurements and seeking any hidden flaws which might affect acceptance of the property from the technical standpoint.

BUREAU WAR PLANS - CIVIL DEFENSE MOTOR VEHICLE MARKERS (SF 139)

Executives Conference, 8/9/54, recommended the purchase of Civil Defense Motor Vehicle Markers (SF 139) for use on Bureau cars and issuance to Bureau personnel for use on their personally owned automobiles to insure free movement during periods of emergency. These Motor Vehicle Markers were to be retained by the various division heads and to be issued by them when an emergency appeared imminent. The Director o.k.'d the above conference recommendation. Subsequently, each division head at Seat of Government and each SAC was given what is believed to be an adequate number of the Motor Vehicle Markers (SF 139) to satisfy the needs of his division.

SAC Letter 55-4 modified previous instructions in this matter in that it permitted the SAC to place a sufficient number of the markers in the custody of each Senior Resident Agent occupying approved space so that the markers would be immediately available to the employees there assigned. The markers were to be maintained by the Senior Resident Agent the same as Manuals and other ~~confidential~~ documents. On 2/1/55, SAC [redacted] was authorized to issue the Motor Vehicle Markers (SF 139) to the firearms instructors assigned [redacted]. These markers were to be retained by the agent personnel [redacted] in a secure place at their residences to insure that no time would be lost in travelling to [redacted] in the event of an emergency.

The war plans of the Department of Justice that similar motor vehicle markers have been issued to all Departmental evacuees with the instruction that they be kept in "some safe part of the employees' privately owned automobiles so that they will be immediately available for emergency use." Mr. McGuire of the Records and Communications Division was of the opinion that that Division should be authorized to make distribution of the motor vehicle markers, currently in the possession of Mr. Nichols' office, to the personnel in Mr. Nichols' front office scheduled for evacuation, to the supervisors of the Bureau's radio stations [redacted] and to the evacuation squad leaders in the code room, teletype room, and switchboard as well as to the personnel of that Division scheduled for evacuation from the Records Section and the Statistical Section.

It is apparent that these vehicle markers have been issued on a fairly widespread basis by other Government agencies in the Washington area inasmuch as a walk through most parking lots in Washington will disclose several of these markers lying on the rear window deck of many cars.

There appears to be considerable merit to issuing the motor vehicle markers to those individuals who are designated for evacuation to further insure the expeditious movement of these individuals. If the motor vehicle markers are issued they must, of course, be recorded. There is space on the back of the marker for the employee's name and <sup>identification</sup> car number. The field was instructed in SAC Letter 55-4 that when these cards are issued a record should be retained by the issuing officer and that the employee's name and his credential or identification card number should be placed on the back of the motor vehicle marker. This marker must, of course, be turned in along with other Bureau property if the employee terminates his Bureau employment.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that each division head be authorized to issue the Civil Defense Motor Vehicle Markers (SF 139) to the personnel of his Division or office who are scheduled for evacuation should one be ordered.

2. That a record be maintained by the division head reflecting the name and credential or clerical identification card number of each person to whom he has issued a motor vehicle marker.

SAC Letter #55-4 dated January 18, 1955, Section E, authorizes distribution to Resident Agents of the Federal Civil Defense Motor Vehicle Marker (SF 139) which are designed to permit free movement of FBI personnel during an emergency. Additionally the Bureau has authorized distribution of these vehicle markers to the firearms men assigned [redacted]

It is recommended that this Division be authorized to make distribution of the motor vehicle markers currently in the possession of my office to the personnel in my front office scheduled for evacuation, to the supervisors of the Bureau's radio stations at [redacted] and to the evacuation squad leaders in the Code Room, Teletype Room, and Switchboard since these are the people who must immediately proceed to [redacted] in order to set up operating functions on our communications equipment the moment authorization is received to occupy [redacted] as the Bureau's evacuation site. Additionally, permission is requested to furnish these markers to Special Agent George Medler in charge of the Records Section evacuation group, who likewise are to proceed immediately to [redacted] and to Special Agent A. E. Leonard of the Statistical Section whose group also will report to [redacted]

It is our intention to record the name and credential or clerical identification card number of each employee receiving a marker, placing this identifying data in the appropriate blank of each motor vehicle marker issued, thus affording a control over these markers. Additionally, in the event any employees to whom these markers are given leave the service or are transferred to other duties, the marker is to be obtained from them prior to leaving their current assignments. No property receipts will be obtained, but each employee to whom the markers are given will be instructed to maintain them in the same secure manner as Bureau manuals and other confidential documents and to afford them full security. I see no need to carry the control any further on these markers as it is obvious that other agencies around Washington have issued them indiscriminately as they can be seen on parking lots lying on seats and on the rear window deck of many cars any day of the week.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Referral/Consult

The Director further pointed out that under the revised Portfolio the arrest of dangerous aliens and a number of other functions performed during World War II by the United States Attorneys and the FBI have been placed under the jurisdiction of I&NS. The Attorney General questioned the advisability of this and after discussion made the ruling that the apprehension of any dangerous individuals under an emergency program should be the function of the FBI and the Portfolio is to so state.

The Attorney General agreed with the above procedure.

D. Non-Chinese on the Security Index Who Are Sympathetic to Communist China

The Attorney General agreed.

E. Status of Portfolio

The Director pointed out that the revised Portfolio contains a number of fundamental changes as to who would make arrests and as to decisions and control of the Alien Enemy Program; that unlike during the last war, these functions were being shifted over to I&NS, rather than remaining with the United States Attorneys and the FBI. The Director pointed out we had questioned this procedure in our comments to the Department. Ford again said that this was being worked out in accordance with the FBI comments and in accordance with the Attorney General's decision that arrests should be made by the FBI. The Director pointed out that the Portfolio should also contain instructions to the United States Attorneys, the United States Marshals and others who would be involved.

The Director pointed out that it was of the utmost importance to resolve this matter of the Portfolio so that responsibilities in an emergency could be clearly understood and carried out.

The Attorney General asked where the copies of the Portfolio are located. Ford advised him that as to the original Portfolio, Rankin has one copy; the FBI has a copy; and a third copy is at Quantico. The Director verified this. As to the Portfolio being revised, Ford said that Rankin's office has two copies, the Internal Security Division of the Department has one copy, and the FBI has one copy. (I have verified the above, in so far as the FBI copies are concerned.)

F. Executive Order To Place Partial Security Index Operations into Effect in the Absence of Martial Law

The Attorney General advised that this was academic in view of the decisions which have been made above.

G. Executive Order Freezing Prices, etc., in Absence of Martial Law

The Attorney General, Rogers and Rankin discussed this.

Rankin said it could not be done under the present law. However, the Attorney General stated that an Executive Order should be made ready to be used in the event the President desires an order to immediately hold the line on prices, wages, etc., in the event of an emergency. Rankin said he would prepare this.

The Director pointed out that it stands to reason that care must be taken with respect to our borders in the event of an emergency; that there is a definite peril and this is primarily a civilian problem, rather than an Army problem and, therefore, the border patrol should be augmented.

The Attorney General asked [ ] to make a study as to whose responsibility this was. Rogers pointed out it might be possible to set up road blocks north of our borders with Canada to cut off persons coming down from Alaska.

I. Discussion of Department of Justice Emergency Relocation Plan

Copies of a memorandum dated February 7, 1955, were made available concerning Relocation Plans of the Department. It was pointed out that no one had had an opportunity to study these. Therefore, the Attorney General requested that they be studied and comments be sent to him concerning them.

This is being done in conjunction with the Training and Inspection Division.

Referral/Consult

The Attorney General said he thought [ ] should move this out of Washington. The Attorney General asked whether [ ] would be able to utilize FBI radio set-up in an emergency. The Director pointed out that FBI traffic would be such that it would utilize the entire capacity of our radio set-up.

With a memorandum dated 3/3/55, Assistant Attorney General J. Lee Rankin, Office of Legal Counsel, enclosed revised pages to Part I and an entirely new Part III for the revised Portfolio for the above-captioned Program. The Attorney General's Portfolio contains administrative plans and instructions to place the Emergency Detention Program into operation at the time of an emergency. The revised pages and the new Part III were submitted in response to our thirty pages of comments and suggestions on the revised Portfolio furnished to Assistant Attorney General Rankin on 9/28/54.

On Mr. Rankin's memorandum of 3/3/55, the Director commented "Give immediate attention."

The review of this material has received continuous attention since received in the Internal Security Section on 3/4/55. Revisions to Part I of the Portfolio consist of 87 pages and the new Part III consist of 75 pages. Many of the revised pages to Part I have been rewarded completely or in part which has made it necessary to closely analyze the revisions line for line and to compare the revisions with other related or supporting documents in the Portfolio.

The memorandum to Mr. Rankin furnishing our suggestions and comments as requested will be submitted under date of Thursday, March 10, 1955. The review to date indicates that there will be a number of comments and suggestions concerning form and content. A

You should make the following information available to those employees in your sections who are scheduled to maintain contact with families of evacuees.

Agent personnel scheduled to maintain contact with the families of the evacuees should at this time contact each employee scheduled for evacuation and ascertain what, if any, special plans the evacuee has made for the care and well-being of his family during a period of evacuation. If the evacuee has made no plans for the well-being of his family during the period of emergency, the "stay behind" should ascertain what the evacuee's wishes are in the matter. It should be definitely understood by the Agent having the responsibility to maintain contact with families of evacuees that he is to make every effort possible under the existing circumstances to care for the needs of the various families.

As you are aware, there is no objection to the evacuee's making confidential and discreet arrangements now for the well-being of his family during a period of evacuation.

You should assure yourself that the "stay behinds" are aware of their duties and responsibilities and have made contact with the evacuee to ascertain whether the evacuee has made prior arrangements for the well-being of his family during a period of emergency.

The above should be done and you should advise O. F. Myers, Room 5714, Extension 581, when all employees have been advised no later than noon March 3, 1955. A Present at the Executives Conference on 3/3/55, were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Winterrowd, Holloman and Mason.

Each division head, field and Seat of Government, has in his possession a supply of Civil Defense motor vehicle markers (SF-139). These were obtained by the Bureau in the summer of 1954 for ultimate issuance to key employees in order that those employees could travel freely through Civil Defense or police lines in any emergency. Agent or clerical credentials will be recognized by Civil Defense; the motor vehicle marker, however, will make it unnecessary for Civil Defense employees to stop the car driven by a Bureau employee and frequently demand identification.

The markers are cardboard placards designed for display through the windshield of the motor vehicle; the FBI is not identified; the placard describes the car as an essential Civil Defense vehicle. Such cards can readily be seen lying on the front seat or on the rear window shelf of many parked cars in the parking lot on 14th Street opposite the Department of Commerce. Obviously, some agencies have already issued the Civil Defense markers.

Copy for
It was pointed out to the Conference that presently the markers are retained by division heads; under such circumstances they will be useless when an employee tries to get from his home to the field office or to an evacuation point or to his position at the Seat of Government during an emergency period. Markers have already been issued to the firearms instructors [redacted] so that upon receipt of [redacted] they can promptly proceed [redacted] to ready the building for the key employees of the Seat of Government who will evacuate [redacted]. The Records and Communications Division feels that the need exists for automobile markers for use by certain key radio employees, switchboard employees and other essential people who are to report for duty in an emergency or who will have to evacuate [redacted].

promptly in order to keep communications open.

The Conference was requested to express its view as to whether: (1) Civil Defense motor vehicle markers (SF-139) should be issued now to key employees in the field and at the Seat of Government; (2) Rather than prepare a property receipt for each such marker whether the division head should arrange to have each marker numbered on the back and keep a list of the employees who have each marker and the number of the marker assigned to that employee.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION:

The Executives Conference unanimously agrees that the automobile markers should be issued to key employees in the field and at the Seat of Government now and that each division head should keep a listing of the markers issued without the necessity of property receipts.

If you agree, there is attached an appropriate SAC Letter.

My memorandum of March 9, 1955, advised of the progress of our negotiations for relocation sites for the Bureau radio stations. Since that time, all matters have been concluded with the exception of final agreement on financing and leasing terms. A proposed modification of the sample lease was submitted to the Bureau by Commander St. John, who is interested in financing the receiving site, and on behalf of [redacted] who are interested in supplying the transmitting site. It was the desire of these parties that the terms of the lease include a termination damage clause which would permit them to recover their investment if the Bureau cancelled the lease in less than ten years. This proposed lease was examined by the General Accounting Office as reflected in the memorandum from Mr. Callahan to Mr. Mohr dated March 14.

Mr. Mohr and myself had a conference on March 15, 1955, with [redacted] Commander St. John, and Messrs. Berkenfeld and Rosenfeld, representing the American Security and Trust Company from whom Commander St. John was seeking the necessary loan. All matters concerning the lease were agreed upon with the exception of the exclusion of the termination damage clause. The reasons for the exclusion of this were explained and general questions concerning the purpose of the radio installation were answered as a result of which [redacted] indicated their willingness to proceed immediately even without the termination damage clause. The representatives of the American Security and Trust Company advised Commander St. John that the proposal would be presented to the Executive Board of the Trust Company today and that he would be advised whether they were willing to advance him the money. It was, of course, pointed out to those present that there were expenses to the Bureau in making this installation which would be unprofitable unless it was utilized for at least ten years, and it was for that reason that we were including an option to renew for a ten-year period as a minimum intended occupancy.

Bureau War Plans - Auxiliary Space R.O.

This memorandum is to report the progress made in our negotiations looking toward the relocation of the Bureau's radio stations since my memorandum of March 2, 1955.

On March 3, 1955, the parties interested in supplying the needed facilities to the Bureau came to Washington for a conference with Mr. Mohr and myself. These parties included Colonel Miller and his partner, Colonel Monaghan, both retired military men who are real estate brokers who have been coordinating the efforts to secure suitable sites and building facilities. They brought with them [redacted] the builders interested in constructing the building and supplying the transmitting site, and Commander H. P. St. John, (USN Ret.), who is interested in financing the receiving site. A most satisfactory conference was had and no major issues were left unsettled. Colonel Miller had prepared an outline of matters to be considered in their proposed lease and this was discussed as well as a proposed leasing agreement that the Administrative Division had prepared as a sample. In accordance with the request of these gentlemen, copies of the proposed leasing agreement were made available to this group through Commander St. John on Friday March 4, 1955, and a few additional technical problems which arose were resolved by Mr. Millen of the Laboratory on a visit to [redacted] on March 7, 1955.

As a result of the conference and subsequent action, we have assurances from the parties interested that all questions have been resolved and as soon as possible they will submit to the Bureau a proposed leasing agreement drawn up with the minimum of changes in the Bureau's proposed form together with plans and rental estimate on the basis of a renewable one-year lease amortizing their investment over a ten-year period.

This matter is being expedited as much as possible and it is expected that a final proposal will be available from the parties in two weeks or less.

There is attached for reference purposes a copy of a Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) form ACA-117, which form is used to give notification to the CAA of structures which might constitute a hazard to airplanes. This form was obtained from CAA so that the CAA could be properly notified of the location of our microwave tower in the event it was high enough to be considered a hazard to aircraft.

This matter was taken up with [redacted] aviation people who volunteered to register the tower as [redacted] installation should registration be required. [redacted] has now advised that structures less than 150 feet in height do not require filing of the form; therefore, no action need be taken.

EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS FOR SOG

Re my memorandum 2/9/55 and Mr. MASON's memorandum to Mr. HARBO 2/24/55 concerning training [ ] employee in repair and maintenance of [ ] cipher machines, also design and manufacture of cryptomaterials.

Pursuant thereto Mr. [ ] gunsmith [ ] completed two weeks of special training in the Laboratory, 3/11/55.

During the first week, beginning 2/28/55, Mr. [ ] was given intensive training in emergency maintenance and repair of [ ] equipment. This training of necessity was limited due to Mr. [ ] lack of electronic background but with his excellent mechanical aptitude he absorbed the instructions satisfactorily.

During the second week, beginning 3/7/55, Mr. [ ] was given instructions and practical experience in preparing [ ] key lists, basic IBM theory for generating and preparing literal and digital one-time pad pages, binding, wrapping and shipping cryptomaterial. Security and accuracy were emphasized particularly.

Mr. [ ] has an adequate understanding of our procedures to handle emergency preparation of the Bureau's cryptographic material. He was an excellent student.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Mr. [ ] be encouraged to continue his interest in this problem and to consult with [ ] for assistance as he sees necessary in order to maintain adequate proficiency to handle cryptoequipment and material at the emergency relocation site.

Washington City News Service release, 3-21-55, reflects that there are evacuation tests planned for the near future. Six persons from each agency are to be dispatched to their emergency relocation site May 1, 1955, for a two-week tour of duty, and that another "dry run" is scheduled for June 15, 16, and 17, in connection with a nationwide Civil Defense exercise.

Mr. Bennett Willis, Jr., Relocation Coordinator, Internal Security Division, Department of Justice, telephonically advised that he has been informed by Mr. Musick of the Office of Defense Mobilization that the above-mentioned occupation of relocation sites has the blessing of the President and that there is forthcoming an Executive Order instructing that all agencies participate on a rotating basis for the period May 1, to June 17, 1955.

Mr. Willis advised that he would make a copy of the Executive Order, which he anticipates, available to the Bureau as soon as he has received same.

Since the FBI Relocation site is occupied at all times no problem is contemplated unless the forthcoming Executive Order makes it mandatory to staff the Relocation site during the test period with Seat of Government personnel, in which event a schedule will be prepared and submitted for the Director's approval.

RECOMMENDATION:

 BUREAU WAR PLANS - EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS
 For 3.06.

(DISPERSAL)

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT WILL BE RUN FROM ABOUT 30 SCATTERED CENTERS IF NUCLEAR WARFARE THREATENS OR HITS THE CAPITAL.

DEFENSE EXPERTS HAVE SELECTED LOCATIONS OVER A WIDE AREA--NORTH TO PENNSYLVANIA, WEST TO OHIO AND SOUTH TO NORTH CAROLINA.

NEARLY 30 EXECUTIVE AGENCIES WHICH WOULD HAVE ESSENTIAL WARTIME FUNCTIONS HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED THESE "EMERGENCY RELOCATION SECTORS" IN WHICH THEY WOULD CONTINUE TO OPERATE. THEY RANGE FROM 80 MILES NORTH AND WEST OF WASHINGTON TO 200 MILES SOUTH.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS HAVE NOT YET ACCEPTED AN INVITATION FROM THE OFFICE OF DEFENSE MOBILIZATION TO ASSIGN A HIDEOUT WHERE THE LAWMAKERS WOULD MEET IN EMERGENCY SESSION.

A SMALL SCALE TEST OF THE OUTLYING POSTS IS SCHEDULED THIS SPRING. ABOUT SIX PERSONS FROM EACH AGENCY WILL BE DISPATCHED TO THEIR EMERGENCY POSTS MAY 1 FOR A TWO-WEEK TOUR OF DUTY. ANOTHER "DRY RUN" IS SCHEDULED JUNE 15-16-17 IN CONNECTION WITH A NATIONWIDE CIVIL DEFENSE EXERCISE.

THE ULTIMATE GOAL OF THE DEFENSE PLANNERS IS TO HAVE SPECIALLY-TRAINED STAFFS, WHICH COULD TAKE OVER IN AN EMERGENCY, PERMANENTLY STATIONED AT THE OUTLYING POSTS. THEY WOULD DIRECT OPERATIONS IN AN EMERGENCY UNTIL HIGHER OFFICIALS ARRIVED.

IF THERE WERE ADVANCE WARNING OF AN ATTACK, TOP OFFICIALS AND REGULAR WASHINGTON EMPLOYEES WOULD START AT ONCE FOR THE EMERGENCY LOCATIONS. IF THE ATTACK CAME BEFORE WASHINGTON COULD BE EVACUATED, SURVIVORS WOULD RE-ASSEMBLE IN THOSE LOCATIONS AS RAPIDLY AS THEY COULD.

MOST OF THE "RELOCATION" CENTERS ARE SECRET SO FAR. AN EXCEPTION IS THE HUGE UNDERGROUND "PENTAGON" IN THE MOUNTAINS ON THE MARYLAND-PENNSYLVANIA BORDER WHICH COULD ACCOMMODATE THE PRESIDENT AND TOP MILITARY COMMAND.

OTHERS ARE IN OUTLYING GOVERNMENT INSTALLATIONS AND IN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES. DEFENSE PLANNERS CONSIDER COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES PARTICULARLY GOOD SITES BECAUSE OF THEIR DORMITORIES AND DINING FACILITIES.

Dept. of Justice relocation office advised that the President has OK'd, the test occupation of the relocation sites on a rotating basis from May 1, 1955 through June 17, 1955, and that it appears to be reasonably mandatory that all agencies participate - an Executive Order is coming from D. I thought you would be interested in knowing that although the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission does not make a practice of examining relocation sites of agencies, through our liaison arrangements Dr. [redacted] of the Division of Biology and Medicine of the Atomic Energy Commission examined our facilities [redacted] on March 22, 1955. The purpose of the examination was to secure professional advice as to the adequacy of our planning, as to the security of facilities, and the safety of personnel in the event of an atomic attack in the Washington area.

b7E

For your information an examination of wind directions and velocities as recorded over a period of more than eighty years was considered in connection with the designation [redacted] as a relocation site. The earlier planning of the FBI included many factors, such as the effects [redacted] of blast, heat, radioactivity, and "fall out" resulting from the detonation of atomic or thermonuclear devices in the Washington area. Due consideration was also given to such matters as purification of air, decontamination of physical facilities and personnel, most suitable shelter areas at the relocation site, adequacy and usability of water supplies, a stand-by food supply and protection of it from radioactivity, as well as a number of other important topics.

b7E

Dr. [redacted] concluded that of the general area within a reasonable distance of Washington, D. C., our site [redacted] appears to be the safest and most suitable. Prevailing winds over many years indicate the likelihood of minimum "fall out," detonation of an atomic or hydrogen bomb in Washington will bring about no noticeable effect [redacted] as to heat or radioactivity, and Dr. [redacted] estimates that the greatest physical damage would be the shattering of some windows, although he doubts very much that this will occur. Throughout the examination it was felt that we should assume the worst possible

Liaison Agent [redacted]

[redacted] Division of Biology and Medicine, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D. C., examined the physical facilities at the FBI relocation site [redacted] on 3/22/55. The purpose of the examination was to obtain professional advice as to whether all reasonable precautions for the security of facilities and safety of personnel have been taken; to ascertain whether any additional steps were needed. Matters covered included questions by FBI representatives as to the effects of blast, heat, radioactivity and "fall out" in [redacted] area resulting from the detonation of atomic or thermo-nuclear weapons in the Washington area. Also considered were such matters as purification of air, decontamination of facilities, best available shelter areas and other aspects relating to the usability of [redacted] relocation site.

 b7C
 b7E

FINDINGS

Dr. [redacted] position after completing the examination is best summed up by his statement: "I would like to be here in your building during any emergency period."

The results of a bomb detonation in the Washington area will bring about [redacted] no noticeable effect from heat or radioactivity; bomb detonation in Washington area might possibly blow out some of the windows [redacted] although Dr. [redacted] feels this is not likely. Throughout the examination consideration was given as to what the effects would be under the most unfavorable circumstances. Dr. [redacted] concludes that it is very unlikely that there will be any radioactive "fall out" in [redacted] area; in the event an unanticipated wind movement should bring "fall out" to [redacted] area, occupants of the building would be quite safe. Assuming the worst possible condition and extremely heavy radioactive "fall out" in [redacted] area, Dr. [redacted] feels that the occupants of our building could operate for an extended period of time provided any broken windows are covered and provided it is not necessary for the occupants of the building to go outside into the radioactive area for any prolonged period. Hosing down the streets with water will, after radioactive "fall out," make our building accessible. Inhalation is no problem; water supply adequately protected and an examination of filtration procedures leads Dr. [redacted] to the conclusion that we have no cause for alarm as to water. Food supplies in the building will be quite safe.

The [redacted]
[redacted] would be safe from radioactive "fall out," and would in Dr. [redacted] opinion be a safe location from a bomb blast in the general vicinity a few miles from our facilities.

CONCLUSION

It appears that FBI planning as to the usability of FBI facilities [redacted] as a relocation site has been sound; Dr. [redacted] of Atomic Energy Commission has no additional suggestions to offer and concurs in all planning effected thus far. SYNOPSIS

Recently publicized results of hydrogen bomb blasts indicate the desirability of having expert advice concerning certain aspects of security of [redacted] facilities. We propose that Liaison Section arrange for Dr. [redacted] of Atomic Energy Commission (or one of his associates) to examine our facilities [redacted] and offer his observations as to the safest shelters in the building; the adequacy of [redacted] as protection against radioactive "fall out"; most feasible decontamination techniques; the likelihood of radioactive penetration of the building area. No cost involved to FBI.

b7E

Similar examination should be made by a representative of Army Chemical Corps from the bacteriological standpoint. Again, no cost involved to FBI. Mr. T. D. Beach of Physics and Chemistry Section, FBI Laboratory, can probably arrange for an Army Chemical Corps representative to conduct an examination. Representative of Atomic Biological and Chemical Staff [redacted] feels that chemical warfare has been greatly overlooked because of publicity attendant to atomic warfare; he feels that any atomic bomb would certainly be followed by bacteriological warfare and possibly by nerve or other gases ~~or other gases~~ and bacteria which would paralyze or kill great numbers of people. We feel it important that we have the best available advice on the subject in order that our war plans and relocation aspects will be the best in the Government.

b7E

We have given due consideration to whether [redacted] should still be retained as our relocation center and we feel that it is well suited to FBI needs; since Atomic Energy Commission and top staff of Marine Corps still plan to evacuate [redacted] no change should be made in our plan to use [redacted]

b7E

Careful consideration has been given to an analysis of wind direction and velocity over the past 22 years, the effect of blast, heat, and radioactivity [redacted] in the event a bomb is dropped in the Washington area, the availability of uncontaminated water, and related important aspects of relocation plans.

Re: War Plans - Security of Evacuation Site [redacted]

b7E

We do not propose any financial expenditure and believe that the availability of an Atomic Energy Commission representative and a representative from the Army Chemical Corps for a period of less than one day each would provide us with helpful observations along technical lines as a means of strengthening our war plans and confirming our current conclusions.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Authority be granted for the Liaison Section to arrange for a representative of Atomic Energy Commission to examine [redacted] facilities on an early convenient date and offer technical advice.
2. Authority be granted for [redacted] to arrange for an Army Chemical Corps representative to examine [redacted] facilities and offer technical advice.
3. Inspector [redacted] be present on each occasion.

We have endeavored to give every possible consideration to the safety and security of our evacuation site [REDACTED] SAC [REDACTED] has kept close liaison with [REDACTED] authorities and he reports that some of the questions which we have raised had not earlier occurred to [REDACTED] and, based upon our inquiries, they are taking appropriate protective measures themselves, such as in connection with the reserve supplies of water, methods of purifying water after a bomb blast, et cetera, and we now find that we have proceeded as far as we can without having technical advice from the Atomic Energy Commission and from the Army Chemical Corps.

We have given due consideration to many factors, the highlights of which are:

FACTORS:

1. Direct bomb-hit on Washington: what effect will blast and heat resulting therefrom have [REDACTED]

According to [REDACTED] will be relatively safe and [REDACTED] will be used to provide emergency assistance to Washington.

2. Effect of radioactivity (Gamma rays) on [REDACTED] resulting from Washington bomb blast?

Little or no difficulty.

3. Effect of "fall out" from radioactive clouds [REDACTED] resulting from direct bomb hit on Washington?

Much depends on the wind; [REDACTED]

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

[REDACTED]

4. Assume the worst, such as direct hit on Washington and a [REDACTED] wind blowing "fall out" in [REDACTED] direction; what would be the result?

b7E

[REDACTED] per hour and there should be [REDACTED] period before any "fall out" occurs. [REDACTED] this should allow ample time for [REDACTED] personnel to take cover. [REDACTED] inform us that "fall out" occurs as a fine, radioactive dust and will not penetrate through the roof of our building [REDACTED] however, as in any building dust could seep in through window frames or door frames. While it may be concluded that occupants of the building will be generally safe from actual contact with "fall out," the possibility exists that occupants will have to stay in the building two or three days and another possibility exists of fine dust particles coming in through the window and door frames in which event those which settle can be removed by washing down with water.

5. What about radioactive particles in the air?

Individual gas masks will do the job; air purifiers designed to filter radioactive air should make our building habitable; [REDACTED] have just acquired two air purifiers from the Army Chemical Corps at a cost of $391.00 each. An air purifier can handle 300 cubic feet per minute and satisfy 500 adults; available information indicates same can be hooked into our air-conditioning system.

6. What about pure water?

Our hot water tanks hold 1,400 gallons; we know of no way to take radioactivity out of water; water tanks buried deep enough in the ground will be free from radioactivity; we are getting informal estimates on a larger water tank which can be buried outside [REDACTED] building.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

7. What about a direct bomb hit [ ] Radioactivity?

Considered unlikely; however, this is a calculated risk. The only preventive action is to be far beneath the ground:

(a) A special [ ] building would cost an estimated $120,000 -- we are giving no further consideration to this; b7E

(b) At [ ] approximately one-half mile from [ ] there is [ ]

However, we feel it important to have an Atomic Energy Commission engineer offer his analysis. Above comments relate to radioactivity; impossible to estimate blast and heat damage.

8. What about chemical warfare, such as nerve gas or other gases and/or bacteria?

Major [ ] of the Atomic Biological and Chemical Staff [ ] feels that chemical warfare has been greatly overlooked; he feels that any atomic bomb would certainly be followed by chemical warfare so that a great mass of people who might escape the bomb could be paralyzed or killed by gas. Gas masks and air purifiers are the only answers. [ ]

[ ] Gas masks and air purifiers previously mentioned may be the solution for the FBI site; however, we feel confirmation and analysis by the Army Chemical Corps to be highly desirable. b6 b7C b7E

Mr. T. D. Beach of the Physics and Chemistry Section, [ ] has excellent relations with the [ ]

and with Dr. [ ] in the Office of the Chief Chemical Officer of the Army; no difficulty would be experienced in having a qualified Army Chemical Corps Officer make safety suggestions.

9. Is [ ] a good relocation site for the FBI?

Can best be answered by the fact that Atomic Energy Commission intends to use [ ] as a relocation site; top command of [ ] plans [ ]; no plan for evacuating [ ] Just in case there should be a direct hit [ ] we are holding [ ] in reserve at [ ] b7E

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

10. Would any difficulty be experienced in securing technical advice from the Atomic Energy Commission and on-the-scene inspection from an Atomic Energy Commission expert?

Dr. [ ] of Atomic Energy Commission has been informally contacted by Agent Bates of the Liaison Section; [ ] generally confirms our analysis as set forth in this memorandum; [ ] is aware of air purification techniques used [ ] [ ] special shelters, protective clothing, and related topics. It would appear that a few hours' analysis and consultation with [ ] or an associate [ ] could be very helpful, particularly in confirming our plans or in pointing up any weaknesses which might exist.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Liaison Section arrange for Dr. [ ] of Atomic Energy Commission or one of his associates to examine our facilities [ ] on Tuesday, March 8, or as soon as practicable thereafter.

b7E

2. Section Chief T. D. Beach of the Physics and Chemistry Section, FBI Laboratory, arrange for an appropriate representative of the Army Chemical Corps to examine our facilities [ ] on March 9, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

b7E

3. If recommendations (1) and (2) above are approved, ~~Mr. E. D. Mason and Mr. [ ]~~ ~~Mr. [ ]~~ supervising Seat of Government War Plans, be [ ] during the presence of the Atomic Energy Commission representative and the Army Chemical Corps representative.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

4. Action to obtain gas masks for evacuees, air filter equipment, reserve uncontaminated water supply, designation of most protected areas [ ] building, use of [ ] [ ] be held in abeyance until after the recommendations of Atomic Energy Commission and Army Chemical Corps have been obtained.

At 5:15 p.m. on April 6, 1955, Messrs. Walter Yeagley and William Foley of the Department came to see me. They advised that following the Attorney General's Conference on Monday, April 4, the Attorney General requested the Internal Security Division to ascertain how many individuals are on the Priority List in the Security Index to be arrested in an emergency. The Attorney General also asked that a sampling of these Priority cases be made to determine the type of individuals listed for Priority pickup.

I pointed out to Yeagley that if the revised criteria for the Security Index are approved by the Department, the number of persons on the Index will be considerably reduced and the number on the Priority List will also be reduced. I told Yeagley that as a matter of fact we are currently reducing the number of persons on the list for Priority pickup and consequently, the number we would furnish him as of now will be considerably changed in the near future.

For your information, as of December 15, 1954, there were 11,215 persons listed for Priority pickup. As of March 15, 1955, this had been reduced to 8,768. The Statistical Section is running off a list as of today, and if you agree, we will furnish this figure to Yeagley on April 7, 1955.

Yeagley requested that we furnish the names of four or five persons on the Priority List so that the Internal Security Division can review the cases. If you agree, we will orally furnish to Yeagley the names of five individuals, such as Communist leaders in the underground, at the same time we furnish him the figure on the number of persons on the Priority List.

We have been trying to work out arrangements to relocate the transmitting and receiving radio stations which are now located at [redacted]

[redacted] We have made considerable progress in that we have located sites and have located two groups willing to purchase the necessary land and construct the necessary buildings. We had gotten the matter to the point where we had drawn up a proposed one-year lease with a right to renew in the government for one-year periods thereafter up to ten years.

The proposed lessors rejected the one-year lease because one of the groups is unable to borrow money to purchase and build on such security. The other group is unwilling to undertake a venture of such proportions without more security. It is estimated that the land and the buildings on each of the sites will cost about $60,000 each. It is also estimated that the rent on a per annum basis for at least the first ten years will amount to $8,000 or $9,000 on each site. In other words, the total annual rental will run from $16,000 to $18,000 per year.

In order to perfect the arrangements, I discussed the matter with officials at the General Services Administration with a view to having them negotiate a firm five-year lease with a right to renew for an additional five-year period of time. All of the various aspects of leasing the land and the buildings were gone over with the appropriate officials at GSA, including the possibility of GSA entering into a lease-purchase agreement over a twenty-five year period. It was the consensus of the officials at GSA that the best way to handle this matter would be for us, through the Department, to request the Administrator of GSA to delegate to the Attorney General the authority to enter into a firm five-year lease with the lessors with the right to renew for an additional five-year period of time. In this way we would handle the entire matter without any further reference to GSA. They seemed perfectly willing to handle this special purpose rental in this manner. I am of the opinion that it is to our distinct advantage to have the authority delegated to the Attorney General and thereafter delegated to the Bureau so that we can handle the entire rental agreement between the Bureau and the proposed lessors.

At our present sites [redacted] we are paying a monthly rental of $150.00 for both sites. We are handling the payment [redacted] this rental as a confidential item and making the payments through the use of blue slips. I do not think that it would be desirable to continue to pay the rental for our radio relocation sites from the confidential fund by means of a blue slip. I think that if we consummate this matter we should handle the rental item by a regular voucher, thereby increasing our open rental cost for future fiscal years in the amount of $16,000 to $18,000 at least for ten years. After the initial ten years have elapsed, we would then enter into year-to-year rental agreements with the lessors at reduced rentals because during the ten-year period of time they should have amortized their building, maintenance and other costs. In submitting future budget requests it may well be that our item on rents and utilities will show an increase but I think that any such increase can be completely justified.

In order to avoid publication of the Department's letter to the Administrator of General Services Administration, as well as the publication of his reply to the Attorney General delegating authority for the Department, and thereafter the Bureau, to enter into the lease agreement, we have classified the document to the Administrator at GSA. This was suggested by the officials at GSA and I think that the classification is logical and should be placed on the documents. I think it would be most unwise to have published in the Federal Register the fact that we, or the Department, are being delegated authority to enter into firm five-year agreements for land and buildings [redacted]

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT PLANS IN EVENT

DECLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM:
FBI AUTOMATIC DECLASSIFICATION GUIDE
DATE 4/14/2010

Reference is made to your memorandum under the above caption dated March 15, 1955, addressed to Messrs. Rogers, Tompkins, Swing, Rankin, Yeagley, and me in which you commented upon the status of the Departmental program and requested advice concerning any inaccuracies or omissions noted therein. I am setting forth my comments regarding the program under the headings utilized in your memorandum:

1. Status of Portfolio

Revised pages to Part I of the revised Portfolio and a new Part III were transmitted to me by memorandum from Assistant Attorney General J. Lee Rankin dated March 3, 1955. My comments and suggestions in reply to that communication were forwarded to Mr. Rankin in a memorandum dated March 11, 1955.

On March 10, 1955, I received additional revised pages to Part I and Part III and a completely revised Part II for the revised Portfolio from Mr. Rankin. My comments and suggestions on that material have been made the subject of a separate communication addressed to Mr. Rankin under the caption "Program for Apprehension and Detention of Persons Considered Potentially Dangerous to the National Defense and Public Safety of the United States; Attorney General's Portfolio for Use in Case of Emergency."

At the present time, two copies of the original Portfolio for the Emergency Detention Program are in our possession. We are retaining one of the copies here and the other copy is stored for safekeeping [redacted]. As soon as an additional copy of the Portfolio is received, it will be forwarded for safekeeping to the Special Agent in Charge of our office at Little Rock, Arkansas.

(b) Chinese on Security Index

In your communication of reference, you noted that Immigration warrants signed by Mr. William P. Rogers, Deputy Attorney General, are in the custody of this Bureau and that all instructions to this Bureau as to steps to be taken in the event of an emergency have been issued.

At our conference on March 14, last, General Edwin B. Howard, Special Assistant to the Commissioner, Immigration and Naturalization Service, furnished you with a memorandum in which the Immigration and Naturalization Service had raised a question as to the legality of the warrants now in the possession of this Bureau covering 36 alien Chinese on the Security Index.

You will recall that I advised you at that time that this Bureau is ready to proceed with this program in accordance with instructions previously received and that if an emergency should occur the next day, this Bureau would go ahead and arrest the 36 aliens based upon the warrants now outstanding. I noted the fact that the question of the type of warrant to be used is one to be resolved by Departmental Attorneys who have had the opportunity in the past to review our information on these aliens. I urge most strongly that any questions existing with respect to the legality of these warrants be resolved at the earliest possible date and that this Bureau be advised in the event it is necessary to change the plans which presently exist.

With regard to the United States citizens of Chinese racial origin who are on the Security Index, I should like to advise you that cases on these individuals are receiving this Bureau's current attention. Since it is not contemplated that these United States citizens will be taken into custody short of an over-all emergency, intensified coverage of these cases will be instituted in the event of Formosan open hostilities.

(c) Chinese at United Nations

At our conference on March 14, 1955, you requested that this Bureau follow with the State Department for the purpose of determining the evaluation procedures to be instituted by that Department in connection with alien Chinese at the United

The Attorney General

Nations. This has been done. The results of our inquiries in this connection have been made the subject of a separate communication which is being forwarded to you under the caption "United Nations Organization Chinese Personnel, Internal Security - CH."

Our cases on these alien Chinese at the United Nations are currently receiving this Bureau's attention and in the event of Formosan open hostilities, our coverage will be intensified.

(d) Non-Chinese on the Security Index
Who Are Sympathetic to Communist China

At our afore-mentioned conference on March 14, last, I advised you that a list of 13 non-Chinese on the Security Index who are sympathetic to Communist China had been compiled. This list is being maintained in a current status and names are being added to or deleted from it as developments and circumstances require. In the event of Formosan open hostilities, I will immediately furnish the then current list to you and will at that time intensify our coverage of these subjects.

4. Executive Order Freezing Prices, et cetera

I have no comment to make at this time with regard to this particular phase of the program.

5. Result of INS Talks With Army as to Guarding of the Borders

Since this is an Immigration and Naturalization Service matter, I have no comment to make with regard to this phase of the program.

6. Department of Justice Relocation Plans

At this time I have no comment to offer with respect to this phase of the program.

7. Status of Request for Helicopter and Boat Service for Exclusive Use of Department of Justice

At this time I have no comment to make with respect to this phase of the program.

The Attorney General

8. Draft of Announcement by President Alerting
Citizens to Dangers of Sabotage, et cetera

The draft of the announcement by the President alerting citizens to the dangers of sabotage, et cetera, will be inserted into the Portfolio for the Emergency Detention Program as soon as the material is received from Mr. Rankin.

9. Implementation of the Emergency Detention Program in the Event of a Surprise Attack on Washington, D. C.

In your memorandum to me dated April 27, 1953, you authorized me to implement the apprehension and search and seizure provisions of the Emergency Detention Program immediately upon ascertaining that a major surprise attack upon Washington, D. C., had occurred if it appears that the national security requires its implementation and that a communication of authority from either the President or the Attorney General cannot be obtained within the time necessary for action to be taken.

In a memorandum from Assistant Attorney General Rankin dated March 3, 1955, he advised that your memorandum dated April 27, 1953, was still in effect as modified by paragraph g, Section 3, Part II, of Instructions for Key Personnel of the Department of Justice in Event of a Civil Defense Emergency dated February 7, 1955. The modification provides that I am authorized to implement this program under the conditions outlined above when a communication of authority from the President, the Attorney General, or the first five persons in the Chain of Authority of the Department of Justice cannot be obtained within the time necessary for action to be taken.

It is suggested that amended instructions in accordance with the above-mentioned modification to your memorandum dated April 27, 1953, be prepared for insertion into Part I of the Portfolio under Item 3, "Instructions to the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

This memorandum is to record the results of the conference held at the Attorney General's office starting at 3:00 p.m., March 14, 1955, relative to the Justice Department's plans in the event of Formosan open hostilities. In addition to the Attorney General and the Director, the following were present:

From the Department - Legal Counsel Rankin, Walter Yeagley, William Foley, Frederick Ford, Office of Legal Counsel, Barrett McDonnell and John Lindsay;

From FBI - Belmont.

The Attorney General followed the agenda set forth in his memorandum to Rogers, et al, dated February 25, 1955:

1. Report on Status of Portfolio

Mr. Ford stated that Parts I and 3 of the Portfolio had been revised and furnished to the Bureau and that the Bureau's reply had been received setting forth additional suggestions. He said that Part 2 was completed on March 10, 1955, and was sent to the Bureau and the Bureau would not have had a chance to reply as yet. He said there were only a few minor details to be ironed out after which the [redacted] would be contacted to secure agreement relative to those portions pertaining to that Department. He said that the [redacted] is working up the details as to the administrative handling of aliens under Part 2 as this is primarily within the jurisdiction [redacted]. He said a copy of [redacted] would be sent to the FBI after the Internal Security Division of the Department had gone over those plans. The Attorney General asked if there were any serious disagreements between the Department and the Bureau regarding the Portfolio. The Director called attention to certain items which we had recommended in our most recent letter to the Department but it was agreed that these details could be worked out.

The Attorney General said it was most important that the Portfolio be completed promptly as the foreign situation is still very critical and we must be ready to implement the program.

Ford said an Alien Enemy Control Unit is being set up in the Department and Yeagley is to draft an order to transfer men into the Internal Security Division for this purpose.

Ford said there are presently four copies of the Portfolio — one to be kept in the Attorney General's safe, one for Ford to work on, one to be kept [redacted] and one at the Bureau. Rankin raised a question as to whether an additional copy should be prepared to be kept in the Midwest. It was agreed that a fifth copy would be prepared and furnished the Bureau to be sent to our [redacted] office (We will send this as soon as Ford makes it available to us.) -

2. Discussion of Inter-Agency Committee on National Censorship Planning, Also Report as to Activities of The Watch List Subcommittee

The question was raised by the Attorney General as to who should represent the Department on the Inter-Agency Censorship Committee, stating he thought it was a legal and constitutional question to be handled in the Internal Security Division. Yeagley proposed that a representative come from the FBI, Fred Mullen's office or Mr. Rankin's office. In reply to the Attorney General's question, the Director stated that as we had a representative on the Watch List Subcommittee it was not necessary for us to be represented on the Inter-Agency Committee. The Attorney General designated Mr. Rankin's office as the Justice Department representative.

Thereafter the Director explained the status of the Watch List Subcommittee which was to the effect that the FBI was ready and had been ready to function with the Committee but that the Committee had not met due to illness of a Subcommittee member. He made it clear that we are ready to proceed at any time.

3. Report on Status of Plans Relating to (a) Alien Chinese Scientists and Students

The Director pointed out that INS had furnished the Bureau information on a number of these persons but the information was insufficient; that INS had offered to make available the original files on these persons but this was an undesirable procedure and we had proposed that INS microfilm the files and that we would develop the microfilm. General Howard stated that all the microfilming has been completed and will be sent to the Bureau today. The Attorney General asked what action would be taken relative to these individuals. The Director advised him that we would check our files on these persons and intensify coverage wherever the information indicated that it was necessary. (We will give immediate attention to these names as soon as the microfilm is received.)

(b) Chinese on Security Index

The Director outlined the procedure we will follow relative to the thirty-six aliens on the Security Index, pointing out that Deputy Attorney General Rogers had signed deportation warrants regarding all thirty-six and that these warrants are now in our field offices ready for service. He pointed out that the Department is studying further whether there is a legal question as to the effectiveness of these warrants in those instances where INS already had deportation warrants concerning six of the subjects.

General Howard raised the question as to whether the evidence against these aliens is sufficient to hold them before the court except in those cases where deportation had already been authorized under INS procedures. After discussion, the Attorney General instructed that Mr. Rankin check the procedure as to the legality of the warrants signed by Deputy Attorney General Rogers and that Yeagley check the individual cases as to whether the subjects could be held under the deportation warrants.

General Howard furnished the Attorney General an INS memorandum dated February 14, 1955, regarding INS views. The Director pointed out that we had not been furnished with a copy of this memorandum.

The Director further pointed out to the Attorney General that we are ready to proceed and that if an emergency should occur tomorrow, we would go ahead and arrest these thirty-six aliens based on the warrants in our possession, further that the question of the type of warrant used is for the Department to decide as the Departmental Attorneys had gone over the cases and had drawn up the warrants. (If you agree, we will have Liaison get a copy of the INS memorandum of 2/14/55, mentioned above. It is noted also that some of these thirty-six aliens may be taken off the Security Index if the Department approves the change in our standards now pending at the Department.)

(c) Chinese at The United Nations

The Director gave the status of these cases pointing out that we have given the Department up-to-date reports in fifty-nine cases. [redacted]

Referral/Consult

Covered
Memo Bach

D.J.S.

(d) Non-Chinese on The Security Index Who Are Sympathetic to Communist China

The Director stated that this list is now composed of thirteen individuals and in the event of an emergency we would immediately furnish the names to the Department. As these thirteen are all United States citizens, in an emergency we would intensify our coverage of them but would not, of course, make arrests. Mr. Rankin raised the question as to the danger of Russian officials who would, of course, be sympathetic to the Chinese in the event of a Formosan emergency. The Director pointed out that the only action we could take there would be in intensifying our coverage of them which we would do.

4. Executive Order Freezing Prices, etc., in Absence of National Law.

Mr. Rankin stated a proclamation has been drafted but he does not think it has a sound legal basis. The Attorney General stated that the Defense Production Act going before Congress would give legality to the procedure. He instructed that a copy of the draft be placed in the Portfolio.

6. Discussion of Department of Justice Relocation Plan

Walter Yeagley went over the relocation plans of the Department, much of which have not been resolved. The Attorney General stated that Deputy Attorney General Rogers should go [redacted] when evacuation occurs. (Rogers is being added to our list of Departmental personnel to be [redacted]) b7E

Yeagley said that the Department is figuring on additional land telephone lines [redacted] He said that [redacted] b7E

The Attorney General instructed Yeagley to check into this as to [redacted] and upon whose authority he sounds a warning. The Attorney General further instructed Yeagley to check into the matter of an automobile for the Attorney General and Tompkins.

b7E

The Attorney General was advised that the FBI, of course, has appropriate liaison to receive an alert and the Attorney General will be immediately notified in the event of an alert.

7. [redacted]

Walter Yeagley said this was not yet settled. The Attorney General told him to get it settled. The Director pointed out that [redacted]. The working level should be evacuated. The Director stressed the desirability of having [redacted]. The Attorney General told Yeagley to follow through on this.

FROM : MR. R. T. HARBO *RT*SUBJECT: Bureau WAR PLANS — SECURITY OF EVACUATION SITE
 [redacted]

My memorandum of 3/17/55, mentioned earlier plans to have a representative of [redacted] take a look at our facilities [redacted] to offer any suggestions which might be helpful in assuring adequate protection of personnel and property. This was done on 3/22/55; Inspector E. D. Mason and Liaison Agent C. W. Bates were with Dr. Gordon Dunning of the [redacted] at [redacted] throughout the examination. Dr. Dunning's findings were favorable.

The Director also approved a representative of the [redacted] looking at our facilities [redacted] to ascertain whether any steps could or should be taken (not now existing) to provide greater security for personnel and property with regard to bacteriological warfare and gas or chemical attack.

Messrs. Porter and Carpell representing [redacted] and [redacted] will be at the Bureau at 10 a.m. on 3/24/55, for the purpose of accompanying an FBI representative to [redacted] in order to offer their observations.

CONCLUSIONS:

The consultation with the Army on 3/24/55, is purely precautionary; the big problem was protection against atomic attack and that has already been handled. Supervisor James E. McArdle of the Liaison Section, Domestic Intelligence Division, is thoroughly familiar with FBI relocation plans and it would appear that he would be well suited to accompany Messrs. Porter and Carpell to [redacted] on 3/24/55, without the necessity of any other FBI representative being present other than [redacted].

RECOMMENDATION:

Supervisor James E. McArdle, Liaison Section, Domestic Intelligence Division, handle fully the contacts with Messrs. Porter and Carpell of the Army in connection with their visit to [redacted] on 3/24/55.

BACKGROUND

By memorandum of 3/9/55, we expressed the belief that our relocation site [redacted] is the most suitable in the general area and we pointed out our analysis of the effects of a hydrogen bomb blast in Washington. We concluded that, although we felt our planning was sound, we should have technical advice from the [redacted] as to the designation of air raid shelters [redacted] how to decontaminate [redacted] after radioactive "fall out"; how to best preserve water supply from radiological and bacteriological contamination; the suitability of using our tunnels on the old ranges as protection against radiation and "fall out." We proposed no financial expenditure. It was recommended and approved that a representative of the [redacted] and a representative of the [redacted] meet E. D. Mason [redacted] at an early convenient date to offer technical advice.

DEVELOPMENTS

1. Mr. G. W. Bates of the Liaison Section has arranged for an [redacted] representative to offer Consultant services [redacted] the date will be set by the [redacted] today but we are seeking to have the appointment for next Tuesday, March 22, 1955.
2. The FBI Laboratory hopes to have a commitment today as to the identity of the [redacted] representative who will visit [redacted] and the date when he will be available; we are hopeful that this date will be next week.
3. In affirming on March 9, 1955, our belief that [redacted] is the most suitable relocation site, we made reference to wind directions and velocities which had been studied over a 78-year period and other matters having a bearing upon the suitability [redacted] from the aspects of, blast, heat, radioactivity, radioactive "fall out." We concluded [redacted] is very suitable for our needs.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

On March 17, 1955, Liaison Agent Bates rechecked with [redacted] and determined that [redacted] still plans to use [redacted] as its relocation site. [redacted] knew more than a year ago the effects which could be anticipated from a hydrogen bomb blast and thereafter designated [redacted] as its relocation site. The [redacted] analysis took into consideration wind velocities and directions primarily in altitudes from ten to fifty thousand feet and concluded that [redacted] is the safest spot in the [redacted] area in order to avoid radioactive "fall out." [redacted] is the most suitable locality with regard to safety from blast and heat, according to the [redacted] states that, in its computation concluding that [redacted] is the best site, they even allowed a [redacted] and still feel [redacted] is best. [redacted] has no intention at all of changing its relocation site from [redacted]

b7E

OTHER CONCLUSIONS

b7E

The majority of the Executives Conference on 3/16/55, recommended transfer of War Plans from the Training and Inspection Division to the Domestic Intelligence Division as to supervisory responsibility; recommended transfer of SA James E. McArdle to the Domestic Intelligence Division along with the War Plans. If these recommendations are approved by the Director, it would seem that it would be more desirable for SA McArdle to meet with the [redacted] representative and the [redacted] representative rather than Mason.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

b7E

1. In the event the Director decides to leave War Plans coordination in the Training and Inspection Division, Mason will meet with the [redacted] representative and the [redacted] representative [redacted] as soon as possible (possibly next week), as previously approved by the Director.

This has been decided, but Mason should go ahead with the arrangements

2. If the Director approves the transfer of War Plans supervision and SA McArdle to the Domestic Intelligence Division, then it is recommended that SA McArdle serve instead of Mason in meeting with [redacted] representatives.

The Director has requested to be advised of the basic facts relating to any proposed evacuation from the Seat of Government.

How to Notify People of Proposed Evacuation

Report of unidentified aircraft or likelihood of attack on Washington will be reported to Mr. Belmont's office via [redacted]

On receipt of alert

Liaison Agents will immediately go to [redacted] in order to stay abreast of developments throughout the country. The volume entitled "Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans for Chain of Command" (copy in Director's Office and copies in possession of other Assistant Directors) specifies the exact action to take. Mr. Belmont will notify the Director, Mr. Tolson, Mr. Holloman and the Attorney General. Other specified people will be notified by designated persons. This chain of notification will go into effect only after decision to evacuate has been made. Details are attached covering the entire Seat of Government. Attachments are marked Exhibit A and Exhibit B.

People will be notified by telephone, and inasmuch as this notification will be prior to attack, it is necessary to presume that telephones will still be working. However, if telephones are not working those employees charged with responsibility of notifying others will do so by best means available, including walking to their homes. Fewest practicable number of persons are scheduled to be notified by any one individual. This will permit the fastest possible operation and savings of time.

When to Evacuate

Up until now we have been planning to evacuate on orders [redacted]

Department of Justice recently proposed that evacuation would be ordered by Attorney General or by the Director; however Office of Legal Counsel of the Department is considering whether this is sound and will shortly issue a clarifying decision.

BUREAU WAR PLANS - EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS FOR S.O.G.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

Also under consideration by Civil Defense Headquarters, Washington, D. C., is a recently issued instruction from Federal Civil Defense Headquarters that key target areas should be evacuated in toto. If a general alert (evacuation) is sounded, before the key evacuees have been notified by Bureau personnel, these key people will proceed directly [redacted] by best means available on their own initiative. A separate memorandum is being submitted relative to rendezvous points for all other Bureau personnel if a general evacuation of Washington is ordered. Washington, D. C. Civil Defense Director John Fondahl states that it will take several months to work out plans for evacuating the Washington area in an orderly fashion and as soon as the city is notified of an evacuation at the present time a terrific traffic jam can be anticipated and the average motorist will get to the first intersection and no further. It is our aim to get ahead of the traffic jam by getting notification to our people instantaneously inasmuch as we expect early warning through the [redacted] b7E

Personnel to be Evacuated

How to Evacuate

Primary evacuation will be by privately owned motor vehicles. During nonwork hours car pools will be used; most of our people live in fringe areas and, therefore, minimum traffic difficulty should be encountered. During work hours a separate set of car pools exist and until the City of Washington arranges an orderly evacuation procedure the success of our evacuation program will depend upon the speed with which it is commenced in order to get ahead of the general public. Placards identifying motor vehicles as essential Civil Defense cars will be used.

RECOMMENDATION:

Informative ... aspects obviously incomplete, as indicated above, will be closely followed with each agency or part of the Department having jurisdiction over the incomplete item.

Inasmuch as all the communications facilities are not as yet installed [redacted] the Laboratory will evacuate an additional 42 people, whose primary responsibility will be to complete the installation of all communications facilities [redacted]. Reference is made to my memorandum of February 9, 1955, on the above subject indicating that Treasury Department's emergency disbursement plans were not yet available and that the matter would be followed about March 10, 1955.

The Treasury Department official with whom contact had previously been established has been absent due to family illness. However, after several attempts other contacts were established and it was determined that Treasury's plans have not "jelled" in final form. The principle point of change lies in the working-out of procedures for continuing the services of regional disbursing offices in the event any of these offices are completely "knocked out" in an attack. I was able, however, to secure a copy of the preliminary draft of the plan being considered by the Treasury Department (Photostat copy attached; original retained in Budget Unit). It should be borne in mind that this is an early draft and does not contain all of the latest changes. It was indicated to me that this embodies substantially all matters that would affect this Bureau, and it was felt that it could be used as the basis of preliminary planning, so that when the final plans were available only minor changes would be necessary. I have gone through the plans and have marked and underscored in pencil those parts believed particularly pertinent to this Bureau. A detailed analysis of same will be made from the standpoint of the Bureau's over-all accounting procedures. Copies are being sent to the Statistical Section, the Voucher Unit, and the Training and Inspection Division.

It was indicated by the Treasury contact that it will be at least another month before the final draft of the Treasury Department's emergency disbursement plans will be available.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1.) It is recommended that the Statistical Section, Voucher Unit, and the Budget and Accounting Section study the attached plan and determine what action is necessary on their part to initiate a preliminary draft of a "packaged emergency disbursements plan" for this Bureau. Any

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda setting forth the status of unfinished items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. These memoranda have heretofore been submitted by Mr. Harbo to Mr. Tolson.

1. COMMUNICATIONS

A. Microwave -- The Motorola Company has completed the erection of the microwave tower [redacted]. It has been necessary to send certain operating parts of the microwave system to the Motorola Company in Chicago to change the frequency to coincide with the frequency now being used by the Bureau in its connection with the general microwave network. It is anticipated that all work will be completed on or about April 22, 1955. The microwave station [redacted] is approximately 3,000 feet from [redacted] building wherein the microwave switchboard will be located. [redacted] will install a 51-pair cable connecting microwave station [redacted] for approximately $4,000. Mr. Parsons has recommended that the installation of this cable be deferred until funds become available. Microwave installation when completed can be operated from microwave station.

B. Radio -- Messrs. Parsons and Mohr are continuing negotiations for the lease of the sites in [redacted] which have been selected for the relocation of the radio stations [redacted].

2. EMERGENCY ELECTRICAL SYSTEMS

A. Justice Building -- General Services Administration awarded the contract for the installation of the emergency generators in the [redacted] to Anderson and Esterbrook Electrical Company 3/21/55. Contractor has 60 days therefrom to complete.

B. [redacted] -- Contract for emergency generators awarded 2/23/55. Delivery to take place 60 to 70 days therefrom. The Administrative Division making every effort to expedite delivery.

WAR PLANS - TEST EVACUATION

As you are aware, the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) and the Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) have issued a joint directive calling for a test evacuation beginning at 11:00 a.m. June 15 at Washington, D. C., and extending to 1:00 p.m. June 16 at the emergency relocation site of each agency involved. Other phases of this test evacuation are to extend through June 17. The FBI's relocation site [REDACTED]

For your information the Secretary of Defense has scheduled a Defense Conference to be held at the [REDACTED] from June 16 through June 19, 1955. The [REDACTED] as in the past is to be used to assist in accommodating those in attendance. There will be, therefore, a direct conflict as to the use of [REDACTED] on June 16 and 17 caused by the overlapping of the test evacuation and the Defense Conference.

I am advised that Secretary Wilson, Department of Defense, and ODM Director Flemming are aware of this conflict and may attempt to work out an adjustment.

NOTE ON YELLOW:

Colonel Carey Randall, Military Aide to Secretary Wilson, advised that Secretary Wilson and ODM Director Flemming are aware of this conflict. Details for Secretary Wilson's Conference are not yet completely worked out and an adjustment will probably be made, according to Colonel Randall, by the end of the week. Liaison will follow with Secretary Wilson's office. ~~The comments of Secretary Wilson and ODM Director Flemming are being included in the Director's brief to be used with his conference with the Attorney General on April 11, 1955.~~

BUREAU WAR PLANS - EMERGENCY RELOCATION

HEADQUARTERS FOR S.O.G.

Reference is made to the Attorney General's memorandum 3/28/55, suggesting a one-day test run of the relocation plans which pertain to the Department some time during May; that a set of problems involving the use of the Portfolio and related documents be worked out with Mr. Tompkins and that a specific date be set. The Attorney General also requested advice as to the Departmental officials who should be included in the test. There is attached a memorandum to the Attorney General stating that a Bureau representative will contact Mr. Tompkins early next week to work out the details for this test exercise and to set a date as well as discuss the identity of the Departmental officials who should participate in this exercise.

For the Director's information, there are attached (1) an order of the Office of Defense Mobilization dated 3/17/55, which requests key mobilization agencies to provide a skeleton staff for their relocation site for the period May 1 through June 17, 1955; (2) a Joint Office of Defense Mobilization - Federal Civil Defense Administration Order dated 3/22/55, which provides for a national civil defense exercise and emergency relocation test under the joint supervision of these agencies on June 15, 16, and 17, 1955. This exercise is to test the operational capability of civil defense and the operational readiness of the Federal agencies to carry on essential wartime functions from their relocation sites. So far as the Bureau is concerned this exercise will undoubtedly effect many of our field offices. Each agency is expected to participate with the maximum number of personnel scheduled for relocation, the number to be determined by the head of the agency.

With reference to the staffing of the relocation sites from May 1 to June 17, 1955, the Bureau relocation site is staffed and operational at all times. Therefore, it should not be necessary for the Bureau to send additional personnel to our relocation site.

To insure a smooth and efficient Bureau operation during a test exercise of Bureau relocation planning suggested by the Attorney General will take careful planning to carry out the exercise for both the Seat of Government and field level. To insure adequate planning, I am setting up a small temporary group in the Liaison Section to concentrate on this planning problem until we have completed and perfected a smooth and efficient workable plan. This is being done because it will take most careful preparation to insure Bureau participation goes off smoothly. It will be given my careful and continued attention.

If the Director agrees, we will call on key officials of the Training and Inspection Division, especially Mr. E. D. Mason to assist in the handling of this planning. We will also call on key officials of other Divisions on specific problems as they arise.

If it is agreeable with the Director, I will personally contact Assistant Attorney General Tompkins early next week to advise that we are working on this plan and suggest that he might designate someone from the Department to work on their phase of the exercise. I will, of course, not go into detail with Mr. Tompkins as to our plans at this time.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That the attached memorandum to the Attorney General, copy to Mr. Tompkins, go forth pointing out that a Bureau representative will contact Mr. Tompkins early next week in an effort to work out the details of the relocation exercise.

2. If the Director agrees, we will immediately take up the planning procedure outlined above.

The question as to where the New York office of the FBI was going to relocate should New York City be evacuated was raised during the last conference of military intelligence agencies in that city. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] All agencies present with the exception of the FBI made known their emergency sites.

The Bureau has made known only to the Office of Defense Mobilization the Seat of Government relocation site and has not made known to anyone outside the Bureau the emergency sites of our field offices.

The Delimitations Agreement provides for close liaison between field offices of the military intelligence agencies and the FBI. This liaison is to insure proper coordination of investigative work, avoid duplication of effort and insure proper coverage of the whole investigative field.

In the event the Emergency Detention Program or other emergency programs are placed into effect, close liaison between Bureau field offices and the various military intelligence agencies at all levels will be necessary.

Liaison with the military would be greatly facilitated if [REDACTED] could be confidentially informed of the relocation sites of the Bureau both in the field and at the Seat of Government.

ACTION:

(1) With the Director's approval, the field will be advised that the military intelligence agencies in a field division may be confidentially informed of the emergency relocation site of the Bureau's office in that division.

Reference is made to your letter April 4, 1955, recommending a Bureau relocation site in the interior of the country rather than that presently selected and suggesting that the identity of those in the Bureau Chain of Command be made known to the field.

The Bureau selected its relocation site only after having consulted military leaders at Seat of Government. It must be conceded that there is a possibility of the Bureau relocation site being damaged as a result of bombing in or near Washington; however, the military leaders are of the opinion that the community wherein our Seat of Government relocation site is located is not an essential target area inasmuch as [redacted]

The Bureau is not the only agency in Washington which has chosen the site in question for relocation. It must be borne in mind that any relocation site chosen by an agency in Washington must be one which can be readied now for emergency use and be accessible to at least the key personnel of the organization in an emergency.

The Bureau has carefully considered the desirability of making the identity of those in the Chain of Command known to the field and has concluded that such a move is not necessary at this time.

Your interest in the security of the Bureau and its ability to continue to operate in a period of emergency is indeed appreciated. Your continuous interest in this matter as well as your comments and suggestions are desirable.

While I have no responsibility in any way in connection with SOG planning, I have been given to understand here from various publications that the normal effect of a so-called central target area of total obliteration now runs up to several hundred miles from the point of impact. It occurs to me that as a probability any attack on Washington, D. C., would appear to endeavor to handle not only the panic for propaganda's sake of the destruction of Seat of Government, but also would have a dual object of military disruption as well by intending a main hit to be somewhat outside the immediate area of Washington, D. C., as follows:

Between ☐ and Washington, D. C. lies the ☐

☐ From the standpoint of destruction, it would appear that any bombing would be directed toward the destruction of as many of those points at one time as possible, and consequently with the present nuclear weapons it is suggested that the site chosen, which assuming the center of Washington is a target area would be ☐ gives dubious protection. It would appear for the reasons indicated that the target center might well be ☐ and Washington to cover the entire area.

It is with the above in mind that it would appear that a considerable further distance into the interior of the country would be indicated as an alternate SOG.

Further, with respect to this matter, it is suggested that the identities of the Bureau chain of command for alternate leadership be made known for the information of the Field.

A conference was held in the Attorney General's Office on 4/4/55, relative to further developments in the planning of the Justice Department to meet possible Formosan open hostilities. Present, in addition to the Attorney General and the Director, were Deputy Attorney General Rogers; Assistant Attorney General Rankin; Walter Yeagley, William Foley, Barrett McDonnell and Ed Ford, of the Department; Generals Swing, Partridge and Howard, of Immigration and Naturalization Service; and Mr. Belmont of the Bureau.

1. STATUS OF PORTFOLIO

Mr. Ford stated that the review of the Bureau's suggestions regarding the portfolio had been completed and had been sent to the Bureau on 4/1/55, and that this morning the Bureau's comments came back. Ford stated the only two items of any consequence, mentioned by the Bureau, were the following:

a. The question of whether forms to be used to register alien enemies should be distributed to the Post Office Department at this time. The Director remarked that we were raising this question from the standpoint of security. Rankin suggested that they be distributed to the FBI offices, but the Director felt this was undesirable, and it was decided that the forms would be distributed by central headquarters of INS to their local offices, in order that they could be distributed from those points to the post offices, in an emergency.

b. The question as to whether the Attorney General should designate subversive organizations with which an alien enemy cannot be affiliated, rather than having such designation made by both the Attorney General and the Secretary of Defense. The Director pointed out that confusion would exist if two different persons designated such a list. Mr. Ford said the only question involved was whether the Attorney General would have information on local subversive organizations in the outlying areas outside the jurisdiction of the Attorney General, whereas Defense might have this information. It was pointed out that such information could be secured from Defense, and that only one list should be drawn up, and that should be done by the Attorney General.

The Attorney General instructed that the portfolio be left in his safe overnight, starting tonight. Mr. Ford said that he would make a check in the immediate future with INS for their agreement as to the functions assigned to them, and with the Defense Department for their agreement.

2. DRAFT OF INTER-AGENCY COMMITTEE ON NATIONAL CENSORSHIP PLANNING, AND THE WATCHLIST SUBCOMMITTEE

The Director noted that there had been a meeting of the Watch Committee in March. The Director stated that hereafter any information having to do with the Watchlist Committee or the Inter-Agency Committee would be sent to the Attorney General, Mr. Rogers, Mr. Rankin, and the Internal Security Division of the Department.

3. (A) ALIEN CHINESE SCIENTISTS AND STUDENTS

The Director pointed out that we are searching the 5,000 names through our files and instituting investigations where warranted, and the investigations will be completed by the end of June.

The Attorney General raised the question of the 76 students now being allowed to go back to China. The Director pointed out that these cases should be carefully scrutinized, as some of them may be trained scientists whose knowledge would benefit China.

After a discussion, the Attorney General said that if the Defense and State Departments, which originally requested that these students not be allowed to depart the country, had withdrawn their objections, the Attorney General could not very well oppose. The Director pointed out that it should be clearly established that the departure of these individuals is not the responsibility of the Department of Justice, and the Department should have written clearance from State and/or Defense as the question may come up later.

General Swing said he would get a written release from State and/or Defense. The Attorney General instructed that General Swing and Mr. Rankin prepare a memorandum as to whether there would be any "kickback" on the Department if these individuals are allowed to depart.

The Director pointed out that 5 of these 78 students are among the 35 Chinese aliens on the Security Index. We will check to be sure that State Department and Defense Department have received information on these 5 individuals.

Be certain this is promptly done. H.

3. (B) CHINESE ON SECURITY INDEX

Mr. Rankin advised that he and the Internal Security Division of the Department had made a study of the 35 Chinese aliens on the Security Index, on whom warrants have been issued, and he has concluded that the warrants signed by Deputy Attorney General Rogers and presently outstanding are not applicable except as to those individuals presently considered deportable by INS.

Mr. Yeagley said that the Internal Security Division is going over these 35 cases carefully to consider the amount of evidence that is available.

The Director pointed out that the Internal Security Division had gone over the cases before the warrants were drawn up. Yeagley said that this was done on a "crash" basis and the Department is again going over the cases. The Attorney General stated that the warrants should not be cancelled, pending the review of the cases by the Internal Security Division of the Department, and should an emergency happen tomorrow, we would make the arrests of these 35 persons.

Deputy Attorney General Rogers requested the Internal Security Division of the Department to consider any other applicable statutes or methods whereby these 35 subjects could be detained in a limited emergency.

We are reviewing these 35 cases in light of the proposed revised standards, and if you agree we will point out to the Department those who would not be held under the revised standards.

This should be given top priority. H.

3. (C) CHINESE AT UNITED NATIONS

The Director gave the status of this matter, pointing out we would have reports on all 59 to the Department by the end of April. He also advised of the position of the State Department, as learned through our Liaison, namely that upon receipt of investigative reports from the Bureau, the Justice Department prepares a memorandum which, after being checked by the Bureau to insure that the information will not jeopardize our responsibilities, is sent to the Secretary of State, who submits it to the American Ambassador to the United Nations, for transmittal to the Secretary General. The State Department's position is that Justice will have to go one step further and recommend whether or not the individual should be treated as an enemy alien in the event of open hostilities.

After discussion, the Attorney General ruled that the Internal Security Division of the Department should follow this procedure, including the recommendation.

Mr. William Foley requested that we send investigative reports on these individuals direct to him or Yeagley, so that they could be handled on a special basis. He was informed that we would do this. He also requested that we advise him when the reports were sent to the Department on the 7 individuals on whom investigation has been completed. He was advised that this would be done.

3. (D) NON-CHINESE ON THE SECURITY INDEX WHO ARE SYMPATHETIC TO COMMUNIST CHINA

The Director noted the status of these 13 cases, and stated in the event of hostilities we would intensify our coverage.

6. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE RELOCATION PLAN Not a general case

Rankin said he had a memorandum prepared for the Attorney General as to whether instructions to the Bureau to relocate should come from the President or the Attorney General. He said he would submit it to the Attorney General. N.

Relative to the question of the system of alerts, the Director pointed out that the National Security Council subcommittee headed by Commander Beach had met and was considering clarification of the method whereby the Department should be alerted in connection with an evacuation. The Director pointed out that the alert system now in effect between [redacted] would give the Bureau notice in advance of civil defense notification.

A discussion was held as to the proposed test relocations, per Office of Defense Mobilization plans. Yeagley said he would like to avoid compliance with the requirement that a nucleus staff be in operation, starting May 1, 1955, at the relocation site. For the June 15th test, scheduled by ODM, Yeagley said this would require 85 attorneys and their clerical staffs to report to the Department's relocation site.

The question of compliance with these test runs, and with the Attorney General's suggestion of a test run in May, was left up in the air, pending further study. In accordance with our recent memorandum to the Attorney General, Belmont will confer with Tompkins relative to this. However, the Department will have to make up its mind as to the extent it is going to comply, and the Bureau will restrict itself to its functions under such conditions.

Handwritten: Audited this. H.
Yeagley stated he would recommend to the Attorney General that the [redacted] in the Justice Building unless he first checks with the Attorney General or someone designated by the Attorney General. The Attorney General said he would consider Yeagley's memorandum in this respect. b7E

9. IMPLEMENTATION OF NEW SECURITY INDEX EMERGENCY DETENTION PROGRAM
& 10. This was discussed in some detail. The Director strongly recommended that revised Security Index standards be adopted, even perhaps stronger than those which the Bureau had suggested, in view of the fact that the Department questions whether the 35 Chinese aliens on the Security Index can be arrested on deportation warrants. The Attorney General agreed that the criteria should be strengthened. The Attorney General instructed that Rankin and Yeagley study these criteria promptly and come up with a recommendation.

Press for action. H.
The Director read the proposed changes in the Security Index standards, and the Attorney General indicated they sounded logical to him.

11. TEST EVACUATION

This was not discussed further than as mentioned above, relative to Yeagley's comments.

The Attorney General stated that he felt all of these matters should be given urgent attention. Rogers stated that there have now been three meetings and no decisions are being made, and decisions should be made. The Attorney General said he would get out an order immediately to the Department to give top priority to all matters connected with the subject of this conference. The Director pointed out that these matters have been given top priority by the FBI, and will continue to be given such priority.

The next meeting was set by the Attorney General for Tuesday, April 12, 1955.

*It has been changed to 10 A.M.
April 11 - H.*

ACTION:

1. The Attorney General, Rogers, Rankin and Tompkins will be given copies of any information pertaining to the Inter-Agency Committee on National Censorship Planning, or the Watchlist Subcommittee.

2. We are checking to be sure that we have given the Defense Department and the State Department information on the 5 individuals who are on the Security Index, and who are part of the 76 students to be allowed to depart the country.

3. We are checking immediately the cases of the 35 alien Chinese on the Security Index under the new criteria, and will furnish you a memorandum reflecting those who will come off the index and those who will stay on, on a case basis.

We are also checking the 67 Chinese citizens on the Security Index and will give you the figures as to those who will come off and those who will stay on. This memorandum will also reflect whether we furnished reports in the 35 cases to Tompkins and Swing.

4. Instructions have been issued that reports dealing with Chinese at the United Nations be sent directly to Foley or Yeagley in the Department. Foley has been advised as to the date when the reports on the 7 cases already completed were sent to the Department.

5. A memorandum is being prepared giving a factual picture as to possible hazards along the Mexican border, including information coming from our Legal Attache, our Mexican border coverage program, and setting forth the extent of our border coverage and where our informants are located. Attached to this memorandum will be a copy of the memorandum we sent to the Department previously, reflecting our concern about coverage on the Mexican and Canadian borders.

Send this today. N. 4/7/55
Inasmuch as General Partridge of [ ] indicated he was going to visit his offices along the Mexican border in the immediate future, we are alerting our border offices to his visit.

See that our border offices promptly advise us of any contact with them by Partridge.

6. For the Director's information a memorandum is being prepared showing the set-up that we have on the question of [ ] for the purpose of pointing out that we have 24-hour coverage on this. We are also checking to see whether our civil defense automobile tags will allow us to go wherever necessary in an emergency, inasmuch as Yeagley stated that civil defense plans to throw up road blocks which will permit travel in only one direction.

7. When Teagley resolves the question of [redacted] with General Paul, we will consider resending our request to negotiate separately for [redacted]

In the event a test of the Bureau's War Plans is ordered by the Attorney General in the immediate future wherein it is expected that the Bureau completely activate its communications facilities, I wish to point out that there will be some expense in connection with the activation of certain voice circuits for a one-day test period.

At the present time the Bureau has [ ] long distance telephone circuits from [ ]. These circuits are now operable and if used we would be charged only actual toll call charges for any long distance telephone calls made. We have two teletype circuits from [ ] which are operable right now and the only charges incurred would be those for any actual messages sent to any field division. We have a voice telephone circuit from [ ] which avoids [ ]. This is an engineered military circuit and to activate it for 24 hours there will be a charge of $180.00 (GFP 1025). There is also a voice circuit from [ ] where the Washington Field Office will be relocated. To activate this circuit will cost us $20.70 for each 24-hour period (Circuit 1017). I have checked the activation of the circuits with Colonel Bliss of the C. & P. Telephone Company who advises that it would be the preference of his Company <sup>and</sup> that of the Long Lines Division of AT&T to have no advance knowledge of the time and date of the test as the communications company themselves would prefer to have the test made on a secret basis in order to be a real test. Colonel Bliss, of course, would like to know when the test is ordered so that he will be in a position on answering calls from associated companies and test rooms authenticating the test.

DECLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM:

The National Security Council Subcommittee concerning attack warning channels and procedures for civilians, of which Commander Edward L. Beach, Naval Aide to the President, is Chairman, was requested on March 24, 1955, to make a study, report, and recommendations to the National Security Council by May 15, 1955, for a mechanism to be established within the Executive Office of the President for monitoring the planning and execution of readiness tests. In effect, this study is to recommend a mechanism or "Watch" procedure at the White House which will insure that the President will have the information and "tools" to function immediately in the event of an emergency during off hours. It has been noted in the Subcommittee, on which I am represented as the IIC Chairman by Special Agent Edward S. Sanders, that this watch to be established is not to be a policy-making arrangement and is not to in any way stand between the President and his department heads, agency heads, and advisers.

The Interdepartmental Intelligence Conference was requested to brief the Subcommittee concerning measures which are now in effect which will insure that emergency information is received and appropriately transmitted regardless of the time when received. In addition, the IIC was requested to report those items for each agency which will require action by the President to "trigger" the actions to be taken by the agency.

On April 14, 1955, the Subcommittee was advised that the military members of the IIC have the appropriate arrangements, through a system of 24-hour duty watches, for receiving information and transmitting it through military channels to the appropriate agencies and Government officials, including the President. The Subcommittee was advised that the FBI offices are open 24 hours per day and that telephone, teletype, and radio facilities are available for reporting information to FBI Headquarters; further, that arrangements are in effect whereby, under the Intelligence Advisory Committee (specifically, the National Intelligence Center and Watch Committee under the IAC) and to the appropriate Government officials. Our Washington arrangements were explained. It was noted that Bureau personnel are on call at all times.

The NSC Subcommittee, of which Commander Edward L. Special Agent Edward S. Sanders has requested the military members of the IIC for appropriate information to be furnished concerning the military IIC agencies in order that the complete IIC picture may be furnished to the subcommittee.

Bureau offices are open 24 hours per day; telephone, teletype, and radio facilities are available for reporting information to Bureau Headquarters; and arrangements are in effect whereby urgent information could be transmitted to the Intelligence Advisory Committee (Watch Committee and National Indications Center) and to the appropriate Government officials. There are two Bureau actions which must be "triggered" by the President, and they are: (1) the detention of enemy diplomatic representatives which would be accomplished by Presidential instructions to the Attorney General through the Secretary of State; and (2) the pickup of dangerous subversive individuals which would be accomplished upon instructions from the President through the Attorney General.

The relocation of key Bureau personnel would be upon instructions from the President, but the Bureau would be included in a large list of agencies to receive such instructions. The Bureau would evacuate, along with the rest of the Washington population, upon a Yellow Alert which would indicate a probable attack. Relocation and evacuation could occur simultaneously.

Any final paper drawn by the subcommittee will be submitted for IIC comments prior to adoption.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman, 4/12/55

ACTION:

It is recommended that Special Agent Edward S. Sanders brief the subcommittee at its next meeting, April 14, 1955, concerning the present Bureau arrangements for receiving information at any time of the day or night and concerning the existing methods by which the information could be immediately placed in the hands of all individuals and agencies who should receive it. It is further recommended that Special Agent Sanders advise Commander Beach that there are two actions which are to be taken by the Bureau in the event of an emergency which must have the express approval of the President, namely, the placing in custody of enemy diplomatic representatives and the arrest of dangerous subversive individuals. These two items should appear on the President's "check-off list."

Sanders will brief the subcommittee concerning the position of the military members of the IIC on these matters.

Reference is made to my memorandum of April 7, 1955 reflecting the results of the initial conference with Assistant Attorney General Tompkins concerning the Attorney General's proposed one-day test of the Department's relocation plans during May.

This afternoon Supervisor James McArdle and I further discussed this matter with Mr. William Foley and John Airhart, who has been appointed Relocation Coordinator for the Department.

Airhart has been instructed by Mr. Tompkins to be present at the Attorney General's conference on April 11, 1955. Airhart plans at that time to ask the Attorney General to authorize the appointment of four assistant coordinators to be in charge respectively of transportation, personnel, supplies and equipment, and communications. In addition, the Attorney General's authority will be requested to appoint for each Division in the Department two relocation officers and three, wherever there is a real problem. Airhart is also going to request that a Budget and Fiscal Requirements Officer be appointed, namely, Mr. Bernard Schmid, formerly with the Budget Bureau. While the Office of Defense Mobilization's instructions currently require that expenses of test runs on relocation be absorbed within the current budget of the various departments, Airhart feels that sooner or later additional appropriation will be necessary and hence a Budget and Fiscal Requirements Officer is necessary.

Airhart said he had learned from Schmid that the Budget Bureau will send representatives to the various relocation sites during the test run, June 15-17, apparently for the purpose of gathering data as to budget requirements. It must, of course, be assumed that such representatives will also note the efficiency of the operation. Suggest Mr. Mohr check on this thru contacts.

Airhart said that relative to Office of Defense Mobilization instructions that nucleus groups from the various agencies occupy the relocation sites on a rotation basis from May 1 through June 17, he feels the Department will have to comply and he contemplates that each division of the Department will furnish the names of five representatives who will serve as a pool to supply the nucleus group of the Department to be stationed at [redacted] from May 1 through June 17. Airhart is going to request that each division in the Department furnish its essential functions during a war-time emergency and furnish problems that should be worked out during the test run. He said that at present the total sum of employees scheduled for relocation from the Department (not including the FBI) is 400. Foley and Airhart said that at the conference on April 11, the above matters will be discussed and they will not be in a position to give further details on the plans for the one-day test run on May 25, until these items have been resolved.

In accordance with the Attorney General's memorandum dated March 28, 1955, and our reply dated, April 4, 1955, Supervisor James McArdle and I went over to see Assistant Attorney General Tompkins this morning to discuss the Attorney General's proposed one-day test of the Department's relocation plans. William Foley and Barrett McDonnell of the Department were also present.

Mr. Tompkins was advised that the question of the number of Department officials who should participate necessarily should be decided by the Department, as should the problems which are to be handed to these Departmental representatives in sealed envelopes per the Attorney General's instruction. We pointed out that we would, of course, work closely with the Department as to problems which would confront Departmental attorneys in the event of a real emergency but that the Department should also consult Immigration and Naturalization Service as a number of the problems would arise from the Alien Enemy Control program which will be administered by I&NS. I told Mr. Tompkins that when the problems are worked up by the Department for the sealed envelopes, we would like to know in advance so that they would not conflict with the Bureau's operations. He agreed.

After discussion, a tentative date for this one-day test was set for Wednesday, May 25, as this would not conflict with National Security Council or Cabinet meetings. Tompkins said he was not sure exactly what the Attorney General had in mind or how far the Attorney General wanted to go, for example, whether Department attorneys would be sent to

He said this problem would come up for discussion next Monday morning at the Attorney General's conference and Messrs. Foley and McDonnell will work out by tomorrow those things which they plan to bring up at the conference on Monday and will advise us so that we will know.

There was a general discussion of the extent of the problem, but no actual decisions were reached other than the tentative date of May 25. We are going ahead with our planning and will have for the Director's assistance on Monday an outline of the planning up to that time, including comment on any problems the Department intends to raise or any plans that Tompkins desires to bring up. This should be done today. Monday will be too late

Foley said that Yeagley is over at the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) today checking further on the [redacted]

Tompkins said that the Department has given instructions to the [redacted] in the Justice Building that before an alarm is sounded in the building, the guards should get clearance from the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General, the Director, or someone appointed by the Director, in that order. Confirmation of this will be furnished to the Bureau in writing by the Department. We pointed out that it is possible that the alarm system in this building is tied in to a general alarm system for Government buildings and may be tripped off without advance knowledge of the [redacted] and, therefore, Foley should further explore this to be sure that the situation is fully understood by the Department. He said he would do this.

You will recall that ODM instructions require a nucleus staffing of relocation centers of Government agencies from May 1 through the test in June, 1955, and that the Bureau is complying because we have a permanent staff [redacted]. Foley said the Attorney General had raised a question as to how the Department was complying with this order and had suggested that as the Department's relocation site [redacted] could not be activated in advance, the Department might give token compliance by having a representative stationed [redacted] for the six weeks starting May 1. Foley said the Attorney General may raise this question on Monday. This seems unnecessary

I pointed out that the ODM order appears to be for the purpose of seeing that relocation sites are activated and that while, of course, we would comply with any instruction of the Attorney General, the stationing of a Departmental representative [redacted] for six weeks would accomplish nothing, as that site is already active by representatives of the Department, namely, FBI representatives. Tompkins said he agreed with that but they merely wanted to alert us to what the Attorney General had mentioned.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BOARDMAN

Tompkins said the Department is appointing a relocation coordinator, namely, John Airhart, now of the Criminal Division. Tompkins also mentioned that the Attorney General felt that John Lindsay, who replaced Metzner as Executive Assistant to the Attorney General, should be added to the list of officials to go [redacted] This will make a total of ten. A memorandum is being sent from the Department to the Bureau showing the addition of Lindsay and Deputy Attorney General Rogers to the current list.

b7E

Tompkins mentioned the revised criteria for the Security Index, stating that the Internal Security Division agreed with these criteria and this would probably be settled at the Attorney General's conference next Monday. He showed some concern about the Prominent Individuals whose cases the Department has been examining and mentioned that some of these individuals would come off the Index if the revised criteria were adopted. I said that those which the Department had approved would be reconsidered the same as anyone else on the Index and we would suggest that the Department again review any of these cases on Prominent Individuals if they did not meet the revised criteria; that on the basis of the new criteria, persons such as Bartley Crum would probably come off.

ACTION:

We will meet further with the Department on the planning for the one-day test and you will be kept advised.

Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator for the Department, called at 10:00 am today to advise that a meeting is being held at 3:00 pm this afternoon in the Attorney General's outer office to be attended by the various Relocation Officers of the divisions of the Department for the purpose of distributing and discussing relocation plans which Airhart has drawn up for Department officials. These instructions pertain to the Department's participation in the relocation test run. Airhart said the Attorney General will speak briefly to the assembled representatives and thereafter the instructions will be passed out and the questions will be answered by Airhart in the absence of the Attorney General. Airhart wanted to know if the Bureau would like to have a representative present.

I inquired as to how these instructions apply to the Bureau. He said they did not apply to the Bureau but that some questions might arise affecting the Bureau. He said a copy of the instructions is being sent to the Director for the Bureau's information and should reach the Bureau sometime this morning. I told Airhart we would look over the instructions upon receipt. I told him that if these plans do not directly affect the Bureau, it would not appear necessary for us to have someone present. However, I left the matter open so that if we want someone there, we can attend.

RECOMMENDATION:

If you agree, we will look over a copy of the Department's instructions and unless there is something directly affecting the Bureau, we will not have a representative present at the meeting.

With regard to the ~~Top Secret~~ book "Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans for Chain of Command," I would like to suggest that in the first section entitled "War Plans General" on page seven at the end of the data set forth on vital records, there be inserted the following suggested paragraph:

"The Records Section's Number One Squad of 10 employees will assist in maintaining and servicing the skeleton group of vital records now being maintained [redacted]. These consist of security index cards. No files or reports are now maintained [redacted]. Under emergency operations, no Bureau files are to be initially sent to the Evacuation Headquarters [redacted]. Therefore, the Records Section's Number One Squad of 10 people will process teletypes and other mail that begin to come in after the Bureau officials occupy [redacted]. File material, equipment, and other supplies are available [redacted]. Should additional key records subsequently be ordered transferred [redacted] after occupation is accomplished, additional Records Section personnel, if required, will also be transferred [redacted]."

The Executives Conference has consistently turned down the suggestion that a ~~copy of the summary report on each security index subject be placed~~ [redacted] now. The reason for this is that there are numerous changes on index and it would <sup>TAKE</sup> some maintenance to keep changing the records [redacted]

b7E

From a Records Section standpoint, there is actually nothing to work on [redacted] other than the security index cards which will be in the possession of the Domestic Intelligence Division broken down by field divisions. The only anticipated function for the Records Section employees that can be spelled out is that on arrival they will have to make up folders and index cards for each of the persons then on the security index as of the date of occupation of the Headquarters. In view of the number of changes made in the index, it is a waste of effort to make these as of now.

I do not see how the Bureau can operate from the scanty information on a security index card and personally favor there being a copy of the summary report kept [redacted] now.

It has been estimated that 15 to 20 file cabinets would be required to house these summary reports. There are 40 empty file cabinets down [redacted] now. One of the reasons why the Conference has been turning down keeping summary reports [redacted] has been the impression voiced by Mr. Tolson and others that we would only occupy [redacted] for a very short period of time, several days at the most, and that we would either return to Washington at the end of the period of several days, or if city were destroyed, move to some city where a field office is located.

it is not intended to interfere with or change the military portion of these matters, but that it would be necessary to be well-acquainted with the procedures.

Special Agent Sanders pointed out the concern of the Bureau and of the Department of Justice concerning the present vagueness as to who is to instruct evacuation of the appropriate people in the Department of Justice and under what conditions. Sanders further noted that the Bureau has a very acute "need to know" concerning information relating to possible attacks inasmuch as the Bureau has the responsibility for the apprehension of individuals under such conditions who might possibly commit sabotage to the extent of utilizing nuclear and thermonuclear weapons reaching into the megaton range. It was agreed that the two points made by Sanders will receive very early consideration in order that no doubt will be left in connection with these two items.

It was further agreed that the recommendation made in the "Killian Report," and referred to above, will also receive immediate consideration inasmuch as a report is due by May 15, 1955, concerning a mechanism to be established within the Executive Office of the President for promoting and monitoring the planning and execution of readiness tests. This contemplates the establishment of a mechanism which would insure that the President receives the information regarding possible attacks and that provision is made, day or night, for him to have the assistance he will need in determining the action to be taken. Commander Beach indicated that this

On April 14, 1955, Special Agent Edward S. Sanders attended a meeting of the NSC Subcommittee concerning the attack warning channels and procedures for civilians. The President's Naval Aide is the Chairman of this Subcommittee. Representatives were present from [redacted]

Sanders briefed the Subcommittee concerning FBI measures now in effect which will insure that, when emergency information is received, it will be appropriately disseminated regardless of the time when received. They were advised that the military members receive and disseminate such emergency information through the established military channels. It was noted that Bureau offices are open 24 hours per day and that the [redacted] which insures that such information can be received by the Bureau as well as the military agencies of the IIC.

The Subcommittee was advised that the military members of the IIC have no actions to take in an emergency which must be "triggered" by the President and that there are two such actions to be taken by the Bureau which will require Presidential initiation, namely, the detention of enemy diplomatic representatives and the arrests of dangerous subversive individuals.

Further discussion was held in connection with the report to be made to the National Security Council by May 15, 1955, concerning a mechanism which will insure that the President will have the information and "tools" to function immediately in the event of an emergency during off hours. In this connection, Sanders, for the IIC, was requested to submit at the next meeting on April 21, 1955, the answers to the following questions, which answers are to be classified as "Top Secret" and considered by the Subcommittee along with such answers

It is suggested that the Subcommittee be advised that the emergency warning information received during the early morning hours would be appropriately disseminated to the Government agencies and officials, including the White House, through the use of the telephone, by personal contact on the part of Bureau personnel, and through the Attorney General where appropriate. It is further suggested that the Subcommittee be advised that the Bureau will be prepared to carry on the detention of enemy diplomatic representatives and the arrests of the subversive individuals when advised that the President has instructed that these programs be placed into effect.

The Subcommittee has been advised that there are no actions to be taken by the military members of the IIC which must be initiated by Presidential action. They have been advised that the Bureau's program for the detention of the enemy

It is understood that there are no Department of Justice documents to be signed by the President in connection with the detention of the enemy diplomatic representatives. This program should appear on the President's action check-off list in order that he may appropriately advise the State Department which will in turn advise the Attorney General that this action should be taken.

Referral/Consult

It is believed that we should present the above four possibilities to the Attorney General and request his advice as to which method should be utilized, pointing out the desirability, from the security standpoint, of actions 1, 3, and 4 immediately above and the desirability, from a prompt action standpoint, of actions 2, 3, and 4. Attached is a suggested memorandum to the Attorney General bringing him up to date in connection with this matter and requesting his views concerning the manner in which the Presidential proclamation might be handled in order that suggestions may be made to the Subcommittee.

Due to the delicate nature of this program, which involves the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, it is believed desirable to refer to this proclamation in general terms when discussing it with the Subcommittee. The Subcommittee has not requested details concerning any documents; neither has the Subcommittee requested details of the programs to be triggered by Presidential action.

Special Agent Sanders has advised the Subcommittee that, while the IIC recognizes the need for the President to be in a position to take effective action during off hours, the actual decision as to the exact mechanism to be established within the White House appears to be a decision for the President and his staff.

ACTION:

It is suggested that the attached memorandum be forwarded to the Attorney General in order that his views in this connection may be obtained at an early date. If his views are not available by April 21, 1955, it is suggested that the Subcommittee be advised that this matter is under consideration by the Attorney General and his views will be submitted as early as possible.

In addition, the IIC was requested to report those items for each agency which will require action by the President to "trigger" the actions to be taken by the agency.

On April 14, 1955, the Subcommittee was advised that the military members of the IAC have the appropriate arrangements, through a system of [redacted] for receiving information and transceiving it through military channels to the appropriate agencies and Government officials, including the President. The Subcommittee was advised that the FBI offices are open 24 hours per day and that telephone, teletype, and radio facilities are available for reporting information to FBI Headquarters. Further, that arrangements are in effect whereby urgent information could be transmitted to the Intelligence Committee (specifically, the National Intelligence Council and each Committee under the IAC) and to the appropriate Government officials. Special Agent Edward S. Sanders has requested the military members of the IIC for appropriate information to be furnished concerning the military IIC agencies in order that the complete IIC picture may be furnished to the subcommittee.

Bureau offices are open 24 hours per day; telephones, teletype, and radio facilities are available for reporting information to Bureau Headquarters; and arrangements are in effect whereby urgent information could be transmitted to the Intelligence Advisory Committee (Watch Committee and National Indications Center) and to the appropriate Government officials. There are two Bureau actions which must be "triggered" by the President, and they are: (1) the detention of enemy diplomatic representatives which would be accomplished by Presidential instructions to the Attorney General through the Secretary of State; and (2) the pickup of dangerous subversive individuals which would be accomplished upon instructions from the President through the Attorney General.

The relocation of key Bureau personnel would be upon instructions from the President, but the Bureau would be included in a large list of agencies to receive such instructions. The Bureau would evacuate, along with the rest of the Washington population, upon a [redacted] Relocation and evacuation could occur simultaneously.

Any final paper drawn by the subcommittee will be submitted for IIC comments prior to adoption.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman, 4/12/55

ACTION:

It is recommended that Special Agent Edward S. Sanders brief the subcommittee at its next meeting, April 14, 1955, concerning the present Bureau arrangements for receiving information at any time of the day or night and concerning the existing methods by which the information could be immediately placed in the hands of all individuals and agencies who should receive it. It is further recommended that Special Agent Sanders advise Commander Beach that there are two actions which are to be taken by the Bureau in the event of an emergency which must have the express approval of the President, namely, the placing in custody of enemy diplomatic representatives and the arrest of dangerous subversive individuals. These two items should appear on the President's "check-off list."

Sanders will brief the subcommittee concerning the position of the military members of the IIC on these matters.

(1) Page 19, last paragraph, reflects we have submitted seven closing reports on alien Chinese at the United Nations, of this group. 4 subjects have departed for China, one is no longer attached to the United Nations at New York, one the allegations have been resolved as being unfounded, one has been closed and with State Department approval we are attempting to develop the subject as a Potential Security Informant or a Confidential source. There are still under investigation 52 of the original 59 subjects among the Chinese at the United Nations. These cases will be completed by June 4, 1955, unless it develops that some of them will need continuous investigation in which case this will be done. Pending reports received in all but 2 cases + have gone or will go to Dept.

(2) Page 28, opening sentence at the top of the page reflects that the Bureau, upon receipt of alert information, will immediately notify the Attorney General and the first two available in his Chain of Command. ## 1. Legal Basis for the Revised Criteria for the Security Index

Mr. Ford advised that the Legal Counsel's office had gone over the criteria and found that they came within the Presidential Proclamation which would go into effect in the event of an emergency. Ford said that item (d) in our proposed revised criteria is not worded exactly the same as the Presidential Proclamation relative to "acts inimical to the security of the country in time of emergency" although to his mind it means the same thing. The Director stated that we had no objection to having the wording changed exactly as set forth in the Presidential Proclamation. The Attorney General instructed

Mr. Tompkins to get up a memorandum this afternoon for the Attorney General's signature approving the revised criteria and incorporating this change in wording.
(This change in wording will have no affect on the criteria.)

Rec'd

The Attorney General asked whether Mr. Tompkins would again go over the list of prominent persons which the Department has been reviewing to see whether they should go on the Index. Tompkins said the Internal Security Division would go over the list of those which the Department has not passed on and will furnish the Bureau with memoranda at once. (Relative to those on the Prominent Persons list which the Department has already passed on, we are reviewing these files under the revised criteria and will advise the Department of our findings. However, we will require the Department to specifically comment on each one of these cases as to whether they should or should not be retained on the Index.)

2. Report of the Portfolio

The Attorney General stated that he had signed an order this morning authorizing the Director to go ahead and initiate the Emergency Detention Program in the event it was not possible to reach the first five people in the Departmental chain of command. You will recall that we have been after the Department to bring this instruction up to current status in order that it may be inserted in the Portfolio. Presumably, Mr. Ford will furnish us this by memorandum and will arrange to see that it goes into the Portfolio supplanting the outdated instructions. If this is not done promptly, we will follow up with Ford.

We have also been following the Department for some time to resolve certain questions with the Department of Defense relative to the temporary retention and custody of Security Index subjects picked up in time of emergency. Ford said that the Defense Department agreement has been received. Mr. Tompkins is to go over this carefully. Tompkins said that there are still a couple of points of disagreement. He stated he would get a copy of this to the Bureau this afternoon in order that we could look it over.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BOARDMAN

Relative to the proposal that the list of subversive organizations to which aliens may not belong should be drawn up by the Attorney General and agreed to by the Secretary of Defense, the Attorney General authorized Mr. Ford to contact the Department of Defense to get their agreement to this procedure. Mr. Tompkins stated there is a question in the minds of the Internal Security Division as to whether this list of subversive organizations should include all of the organizations listed by the Attorney General under Executive Order 10450. He pointed out that the current list includes Japanese and Italian organizations and many which had gone out of existence. He said the Internal Security Division would like to go over this list to eliminate those which should not be included by the Attorney General for purposes of the Emergency Detention Program. The Attorney General said this was worth exploring and the Internal Security Division is going over this list. This is essentially a Departmental problem and not a problem of the Bureau.

Mr. Ford raised the question as to whether the Attorney General, in an emergency, should not go direct to the President in order that the President could sign the Proclamation putting into effect the Emergency Detention Program. The Attorney General said this was a question that the President would have to resolve as he would be under instructions from the President. It was pointed out to the Attorney General that whatever was worked out in this respect should be worked out in advance in order that there would be no holding up of the Emergency Detention Program pending a conference between the Attorney General and the President; that conditions could well be such that the Attorney General would not be able to reach the President. The Director pointed out that the Attorney General should [REDACTED] b7E [REDACTED] This must necessarily be worked out through the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) and the Attorney General instructed that Tompkins should do this. As this is essentially a Departmental problem, we will not contact ODM on this, as the Attorney General instructed Tompkins to do so.

3. Review of the Immigration and Naturalization Plan for Guarding of the Borders

In reply to the Attorney General's question, Mr. Tompkins said he is getting up a memorandum today on his review of the proposed plan of I&NS to cover the borders. Tompkins said his memorandum may raise a question regarding advanced security screening of the recruits whom I&NS will use on border coverage. Yeagley said that he has referred the I&NS proposed program to the ICIS as this Committee studied this problem in 1951 and made a number of recommendations which, however, were not carried out because of budgetary problems. Yeagley further said that the proposed I&NS plan does not appear to cover "D-Day" or shortly before which would be a most important period. He said that ICIS would review the I&NS program and suggest any weaknesses in connection therewith.

RELOCATION PLAN FOR MR. SWING

General Howard said that if an emergency arose on short notice, 1112 I&NS officers now engaged on other I&NS work would be flown to the borders. The Attorney General stated he wanted I&NS to certify to him that I&NS would be able to do this and that I&NS should contact the Department of Defense to be sure that the necessary priorities would be granted.

Referral/Consult

The Attorney General furnished to General Howard our memorandum dated April 8, 1955, in which we pointed out additional specific facts reflecting potential security weaknesses on the Mexican border. The Attorney General stated that this memorandum should be very helpful to General Swing.

4. Implementation of the Department of Justice Relocation Plan

Mr. John Airhart, newly-appointed Relocation Coordinator of the Department, stated that there is a need to "organize the organizers" within the Department on relocation planning. He asked that relocation officers be set up in each of the Divisions of the Department and requested that Bernard Schmid be made available as a budget officer. He said the Department would also need a paymaster. He pointed out that during relocation tests the Bureau of the Budget would probably have observers sent out to the various relocation sites.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BOARDMAN

Relative to ODM instructions that nucleus personnel staff the relocation sites from May 1 until the test run, June 15, 16 and 17, Airhart said that a maximum of five people from each division in the Department would serve on a rotation basis at the Department's relocation site [redacted] and that the Department would ask that I&NS keep one man at [redacted] throughout this period for communications purposes. As the Department's relocation site is [redacted] Airhart is going to explore whether some other space can be obtained for the test purposes.

b7E

The Director pointed out that there is a conflict of dates between the ODM test runs, June 15, 16 and 17, and Secretary Wilson's Defense Department conference [redacted] from June 16 to 19, 1955. The Director noted that this has been brought to the attention of Secretary Wilson.

b7E

Mr. Tompkins said that the Departmental test run on relocation has been tentatively set for May 25. The Attorney General said that this may not be necessary in view of the nucleus force to be set up [redacted] from May 1 through June 17. Mr. Airhart proposed that the FBI be kept advised of the whereabouts of the Attorney General and his family in order that they could be taken care of in an emergency and the Attorney General could be taken immediately to the relocation site. Airhart said that the Department did not have the facilities to handle this competently. The Attorney General said this was all right with him if it could be worked out with the Bureau. (See "Action").

b7E

Mr. Tompkins said that he is trying to reduce the problems relative to relocation and relative to test runs to the simplest terms so that everyone will know what he is supposed to do. The Attorney General observed that there are a lot of problems and Mr. Tompkins was made responsible to see that they are worked out. Yeagley said that ODM has not crystallized its planning on relocation as yet and consequently he has been unable to get a commitment [redacted] At Yeagley's request, ODM is again exploring whether [redacted] in an emergency.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BOARDMAN

5. Status of the Warrants for the 36 Chinese Aliens on the Security Index

Mr. Noto, of I&NS, pointed out that there are now only 35 aliens, as one has died. He said that of the 35, 5 are under deportation now and I&NS is trying to get them out of the country. He said that 15 additional appear to be open to deportation on the basis that they are illegally in the country and not in connection with subversive activities and that 9 of these are to be served with deportation warrants this week. He said that relative to certain of the others, the FBI was being requested on a local level to furnish the identities of informants or witnesses who could testify. (We have received requests on certain cases from New York and we submitted a memorandum on this on April 9. Liaison is getting from Noto the exact status of their planning on these 35 cases so that we can see just where we stand. A memorandum will be submitted as to this.)

The Attorney General stated that the 35 warrants in possession of the FBI should be maintained for action by the FBI until I&NS has worked out these cases.

6. Chinese at the United Nations

Mr. Tompkins stated that the Department has received full reports on 11 of these subjects and 6 have been reviewed. He said that in certain of these cases there was insufficient derogatory information to prepare summaries to be delivered to the State Department for delivery to the United Nations. He said in the other cases summaries are being prepared and will be submitted to the FBI prior to being sent to the State Department. (This is a problem of evaluation by the Department. We work the cases and furnish the information, and the determination as to whether summaries should be sent to the State Department rests with the Department of Justice.)

7. Chinese Students in the United States

Mr. Noto, of I&NS, stated that I&NS is going to attempt to deport Chinese students who are illegally in this country. He said that General Swing had changed I&NS policy so that those students who have previously been in the country under the China Student Aid Act should now be removed from the country. I&NS is checking individually on these cases. These, according to Mr. Noto, are included among the 5,000 names sent to the FBI dealing with alien Chinese students and scientists now in this country. We are checking the files on these individuals on a special project basis to be completed by May 1, 1955, and investigations will be conducted where the information warrants. This is receiving special handling.

ACTION:

(1) We are reviewing the cases of the Prominent Individuals whom the Department has already approved for the Security Index under the old standards. We will submit our findings by individual memorandum to the Department with the request that the Department advise in each case whether the subject should or should not be included on the Index.

(2) As soon as the Attorney General's memorandum is received approving the revised criteria, an SAC Letter will be sent at once to the field instructing that these criteria be applied to the Security Index and that the review of the Security Index cases be reinstituted. We will set the same deadlines as we had on the previous review, namely, 60 days for all offices having less than 1,000 subjects; 90 days for those over 1,000, except New York which will be given 6 months. We will stress that the reviews should be completed prior to these deadlines, if possible. However, as the field will have to again go over all Security Index cases, based on the new criteria, it is believed that we will have to give them this much time.

(3) We will go over the revised agreement between the Defense Department and the Attorney General to make sure that it meets our requirements as soon as the Department sends it to us.

(4) Inasmuch as the proposal that the Bureau be responsible for the Attorney General's family and for getting the Attorney General to the relocation site arises from the Internal Security Division of the Department, if you agree, we will discuss this further with Mr. Tompkins and require that he work out the manner in which the FBI will be kept advised of the Attorney General's whereabouts and what action the Department desires relative to the Attorney General's family. When this has been crystallized, we will confirm it in writing to the Department.

(5) Liaison is contacting Mr. No-to, of I&NS, to get the exact status of the 35 Chinese aliens, and a memorandum will be submitted.

(6) We are going ahead with our planning for a one-day relocation test at [redacted] for May 25, 1955, to insure that the matter runs smoothly and that our communications, space, materials, etc., are in condition to be utilized immediately in the event of an emergency.

On April 21, 1955, Special Agent Edward S. Sanders attended a meeting of the NSC Subcommittee concerning the attack warning channels and procedures for civilians. The President's Naval Aide is the Chairman of this Subcommittee. Representatives were present from [REDACTED]

Sanders advised the Subcommittee that the military members of the IIC have no actions to take in an emergency which must be "triggered" by the President and that, should they receive emergency information during off hours, such as one or three o'clock in the morning, this information would be immediately transmitted through military channels. It was noted that the IIC military members have the capability of receiving emergency warning information at any hour of the day or night as a result of their "watch" system.

Sanders advised the Subcommittee that emergency warning information could be received in Bureau Offices, which are open 24 hours per day, and that it would be appropriately disseminated to the Government agencies and officials, including the White House, through the use of the telephone, by personal contact on the part of Bureau personnel, and through the Attorney General where appropriate. The Subcommittee was further advised that the Bureau will be prepared to carry on the detention of enemy diplomatic representatives and the arrests of individuals potentially dangerous when advised that the President has instructed that these programs be placed into effect.

Special Agent Sanders advised the Subcommittee that there are no Department of Justice documents to be signed by the President in connection with the detention of the enemy diplomatic representatives, but that obviously this program should appear on the President's action check-off list in order that he may appropriately advise the State Department, which will in turn advise the Attorney General that this action should be taken.

Bureau War Plans - Emergency Headquarters

Memorandum for The Director, 4/22/55

The Subcommittee was advised that there is a Presidential Proclamation which must be signed by the President which would enable the FBI to arrest those individuals potentially dangerous to the internal security of the United States. Sanders advised the Subcommittee that the Attorney General is out of the city and that it will be several days before the Subcommittee can be advised as to the views of the Attorney General pertaining to the most desirable manner for obtaining the President's signature to this Proclamation in an emergency. This was agreeable to the Subcommittee inasmuch as additional information is being obtained by other members of the Subcommittee in connection with this matter in their respective departments and agencies. Sanders noted that there are several other documents which must be signed in the event of an emergency, but that they would not "trigger" action which must be taken by the FBI although they should be signed at an early date after an emergency arises. They were not listed for the Subcommittee.

Commander Beach is now attempting to prepare a draft report of this matter, and it is expected that this draft will be available at the next meeting of the Subcommittee which is scheduled for May 5, 1955.

Mr. Ralph Spears, the Assistant Administrator for the Planning Staff of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, is a member of this Subcommittee and was invited by Sanders to discuss civil defense problems with several of the Bureau representatives at Bureau Headquarters on April 22, 1955. Spears accepted the invitation, and it is believed that he may be able to furnish some desired miscellaneous details to Bureau representatives in connection with our civil defense evacuation and relocation program.

RECOMMENDATION:

The foregoing is for your information. This matter is being closely followed, and you and the Attorney General will be kept advised of any developments.

SUBJECT: HIGHLIGHTS OF SEAT OF GOVERNMENT WAR PLANS FOR CHAIN OF COMMAND

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space For S.O.G.

The revised pages for Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans for Chain of Command transmitted by Bulet 4/6/55 have been carefully reviewed. The appropriate insertions have been made and old corresponding pages have been removed and destroyed.

It is observed that on page 7 of the Section captioned Emergency Detention Program - Summary Re Operations, OWEN LATTIMORE is listed as one of those individuals who has been removed from the Security Index because the Department has not rendered an opinion concerning retention on the Index. This situation has now changed and OWEN LATTIMORE is included on the Security Index. It is therefore suggested that the BU may wish to delete his name from this list when new revisions are prepared.

No other suggestions occur to me at this time.

RELOCATION PROGRAM TEST

Reference is made to your memorandum dated April 18, 1955, attaching a copy of the instructions issued to the Department with respect to the May 1 - June 17 Relocation Program test.

As you have been previously advised, the FBI emergency relocation site is staffed at all times, therefore, I do not plan an additional staffing from Washington, D. C., during the relocation test.

Information was received from the Office of the Secretary of Defense on April 15, 1955, that the Secretary of Defense's Conference will be held this year from Thursday afternoon, June 16, to Sunday afternoon, June 19, 1955. According to information from Secretary Silson's office, it is anticipated that 140 to 150 people are to be invited. The President is tentatively scheduled to attend from 2:00 P.M., Friday, June 17, and it is expected that he will remain until Sunday afternoon, June 19, 1955.

Reference is made to a memorandum from me to Mr. Boardman dated April 29, 1955, wherein it was pointed out that the Bureau is establishing control points to which employees other than those to be evacuated and their families could report in an emergency and that the Bureau would render such assistance as possible at these control points at the time. The Director noted, "This should be made quite clear. Just what assistance do you propose to render to these 9,000 persons?"

A comprehensive memorandum was prepared today (5/3/55) in connection with the Director's question but upon careful review of this memorandum, I felt that certain additions and corrections should be made and that further thought should be given to some of the problems raised therein. I, therefore, instructed that a further analysis be made of this problem and a detailed memorandum will be submitted tomorrow, 5/4/55, in response to the Director's question.

Mr. Nichols has suggested the insertion of a statement in the Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans for Chain of Command as to the duties of the Records Section emergency squad upon their arrival at the relocation site. This statement will be inserted in the next revision of the above-entitled document.

Mr. McGuire has suggested that a copy of the summary report in each Security Index case be kept at [redacted] b7E

You will recall that the Executives Conference considered this suggestion several times during August, September and October, 1954, and on each occasion recommended against this procedure. The Domestic Intelligence Division is now making a complete review of the Security Index and the effect of the new Security Index criteria on the Index. The new criteria may substantially reduce the Index and make possible the storage of summary reports at [redacted] b7E

The matter of the adequacy of the records at [redacted] will be given careful study in connection with the test evacuation of Washington which is now being considered.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the question of depositing copies of summary reports in Security Index cases at the relocation site again be considered after the Internal Security Section, Domestic Intelligence Division, has completed its survey of the effect of the new criteria on the Security Index.

On April 19, 1955, Colonel Randall, Military Aide to Secretary of Defense Wilson, advised that present plans for the Annual Defense Conference call for it to be held at Quantico beginning Thursday afternoon, June 16, to run through Sunday afternoon, June 19. Colonel Randall stated that Secretary Wilson has discussed the plans with the President and Office of Defense Mobilization Director Flemming, and it is planned that between 140 and 150 people will attend the Defense Conference at Quantico. It is anticipated that only a few officials who will be involved in [ ] will not be present at that time.

Under the present schedule, the President is to be at Quantico by 2:00 P.M., Friday, June 17 and it is expected that he will probably remain until Sunday afternoon, June 19.

Colonel Randall indicated that overseas commanders, including General Gruenther and Admiral Stump, will be brought in for the Conference.

Colonel Randall said that Secretary of Defense Wilson had indicated that he hoped the Director would be able to attend the Conference this year, but that if prior commitments precluded the Director from accepting, he hoped that one of the Director's "top flight assistants" would be able to attend in his place.

It will be noted that the Conference of the Secretary of Defense conflicts [redacted] June 15-16-17, 1955. You will recall that under date of March 21, 1955, I indicated that the Treasury Department's emergency disbursement plans were not yet available and that the matter would be followed April 21, 1955 to secure a copy of the final draft of such plans.

It was not possible to establish contact with the Treasury Department official responsible for these plans until May 3, 1955. This official advised that he felt their plans have progressed to the point that they have decided to try to issue their formal documentation of these plans June 1, 1955. It was indicated that a number of changes have been made since I last contacted this official on March 21, 1955. It was further indicated that there would no doubt be further changes made since they have not received all of the information needed from several Treasury agencies, but that it was felt that it would be better to go ahead and issue the plans subject to later revisions.

You will recall that at the time of my last contact with the Treasury Department I procured a copy of the preliminary draft of Treasury's disbursement plans. Copies were sent to the Statistical Section, the Voucher Unit, and the Training and Inspection Division. On the basis of its contents we have been making a survey of our disbursement needs by regional disbursing areas. This survey is nearly completed, being based upon an analysis of the disbursements for one complete month by geographical areas. As soon as this has been completed it is felt that we will be in a position to prepare a draft of a proposed emergency disbursement plan.

It was indicated by the Treasury Department official contacted that he would be glad to go over our plans before a final draft was made to insure that it met with the approval of the Treasury Department.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that we endeavor to secure a copy of the Treasury Department's disbursement plans on June 1, 1955, and defer final action on the Bureau's plan until that time. A tickler will be set up to contact the Treasury Department on that date to secure a copy.

It was requested that the FBI conduct the pistol and skeet shooting program for the conference, the same as last year. Appropriate prizes and awards are to be made by the Secretary of Defense.

[redacted] stated that the Department of Defense has been advised, he thought, by the Attorney General, [redacted]

He stated that the invitations were going out this week to the conferees. Mr. Wyeth stated that Secretary Wilson said that it would be impossible to hold this conference at Quantico without the use of the FBI Academy and that he was very appreciative of the Director making the Academy available to them for billeting. He stated that he hoped the Director would be available to attend the conference this year and that an invitation was being prepared for the Director or one of his representatives if he were unable to attend.

There are possibilities of six situations calling for relocation of Executive Branch personnel having essential wartime functions. With regards to the handling of Bureau mail, each situation is being set out below with appropriate recommendations for each situation.

I. STRATEGIC ALERT

This is a warning based on information from foreign or domestic sources concerning possible enemy intentions to initiate hostile action against the continental United States or United States and allied forces abroad. At the discretion of the President (a) he can order execution of the White House emergency plan, (b) order relocation of Executive Branch personnel having essential wartime functions, (c) all other orders he deems necessary relative to Civil Defense emergency.

RECOMMENDATION:

If the President orders relocation of Executive Branch personnel having essential wartime functions, the mail will continue to come to [ ] for review unless plans are made with the Post Office Department to change the delivery point. This mail will be reviewed at Seat of Government and all important mail (Prodip and Detcom, etc.) should be routed [ ] (relocation site) for handling. Personnel remaining in Washington will continue to process and handle the remaining incoming mail until further instructions or evacuation orders are received.

II. AIR DEFENSE READINESS

This is a condition calling for higher than ordinary combat preparedness on the part of the military based on information obtained through intelligence sources or the air control and warning system. The action under this situation would be at the discretion of the President, the same as set forth under I above.

RECOMMENDATION:

Same as I above.

III. AIR DEFENSE EMERGENCY

This is a situation in which there is intensified combat preparedness based on evaluation of information obtained through the air control and warning system or other intelligence sources indicating that hostilities are highly probable or imminent. The local Civil Defense authorities will take the necessary action (not defined) to meet developing situations following the public's awareness that limited radio transmission has been put into effect (Conelrad program) and an air defense emergency may be called.

RECOMMENDATION:

Mail should be handled the same as set forth under I above with the following exceptions:

It will be necessary to speed up the last minute functions in the Justice Building and immediately send to [ ] all other essential mail. Personnel scheduled for immediate evacuation will depart for [ ]. The additional personnel scheduled to augment the initial group at [ ] will proceed to evacuate within the next 48 hours if deemed necessary for the purpose of handling the additional mail at the relocation site. If a [ ]

[ ] between the movement of the first and second groups of evacuees to [ ] this second group will to the best of their ability proceed to the relocation site as under the present proposed planning will "sign in" at a registration point where they will be available to be sent to [ ] and when needed. If an "all-clear" is sounded and the [ ] proves false" all personnel will return to Washington.

b7E

IV. ATTACK PROBABLE

b7E

RECOMMENDATION:

In this situation no mail will be received from the local post office and accordingly cannot be processed as all personnel will be evacuated under the present planning. Mail in the Bureau at the time of the alert should be placed in file cabinets and locked prior to dispersal. Handling of mail must await the results of the [redacted] b7E [redacted] If an effective bombing occurred all mail would be destroyed. If the alert proved false all Bureau personnel will return to their duties and proceed with the handling of the mail as under I above.

V. ATTACK IMMINENT

This is a condition in which there is imminent air attack in any sector of the continental United States [redacted] based upon information received through the air control and warning system. All civilian population and civilian elements of the Government will take shelter (except those required by emergency assignments to do otherwise). b7E

RECOMMENDATION:

All employees will have taken cover. The handling of the mail will remain static. If after the all-clear is given, the Justice and Identification Buildings are habitable and there are Bureau employees remaining capable of carrying on Bureau operations, these functions should be carried on in so far as possible.

VI. ALL CLEAR

This is a condition [redacted] indicating that an attack by hostile aircraft is no longer considered probable or imminent. This information will be obtained through [redacted]

If an attack has occurred, [redacted] b7E

[redacted]

RECOMMENDATION:

Mail should proceed in accordance with the existing circumstances at the time the all-clear is given. This would fit into one of the above five situations and at that time the specific order should be given as to how it should be handled.

GENERAL RECOMMENDATION:

If you approve the foregoing recommendations, the Record Section of the Records and Communication Division should develop explicit and detailed plans and procedures for the handling of the mail with personnel available under the given conditions in each of the emergency situations set forth above.

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space For S.O.G. [initials]

Reference memorandum from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Boardman dated April 21, 1955, entitled "War Plans Handling of Mail in an Evacuation." The following are the Records Section's plans and procedures for the handling of the mail with personnel available under the given conditions in each of the emergency situations. Attached are the procedures to be followed by the Records Section employees for the handling of mail and records at [redacted] during an emergency.

I. STRATEGIC ALERT

Under this phase the President at his discretion can order the execution of the White House emergency plan, order relocation of Executive Branch personnel having essential wartime functions and issue all other orders he deems necessary relative to Civil Defense emergency. If the President orders relocation of Executive Branch personnel, the mail will continue to come to the [redacted] for review unless other plans changing the delivery points are made. In this case the mail will be reviewed at the Seat of Government and will be processed by the Records Section in the usual manner with the personnel available. All important mail will be designated by the appropriate Bureau official and will be routed to [redacted] the relocation site for handling. It is noted that plans for a courier system have been set up in the event of evacuation [redacted] Arrangements for the actual mechanical handling of this important mail will be made at the time the decision is made to send it to [redacted] This will be necessary in order to coincide with the conditions existing at that time.

EVACUATION

May 3, 1955

II. AIR DEFENSE READINESS

The action under this phase would also be controlled by the discretion of the President. The Records Section plans to handle the mail in the same way as set forth in phase I.

III. AIR DEFENSE EMERGENCY

Under this phase the local Civil Defense authorities will take the necessary action to meet developing situations. The Records Section plans to handle the mail in the same manner as stated under phase I until instructions are received through the proper Bureau officials from the Civil Defense authorities. It may be necessary to immediately send to [ ] all essential mail. b7E At this time a squad of 10 clerical employees and a Special Agent will be departed for [ ] by prearranged plan. This plan is set forth in detail in the Records Section's War Plans Summary. The personnel on duty at that time will be used for the collecting of this mail. If there is sufficient time the records that have been designated for evacuation (by orange covers) will be collected and transported to a designated area where they will be placed on trucks provided by the Administrative Division.

If it is decided to evacuate these records during off duty hours and the personnel available is small, then the Records Section has 300 employees who will, on instruction, proceed to the Bureau. The details concerning these employees are set forth in the Records Section's War Plans Summary.

In the event these records are forwarded to [ ] it will be necessary to send additional employees to service them. 75 of the 300 above mentioned employees have been tabbed for evacuation to [ ]. These employees were picked on a voluntary basis and have no personal problems which would preclude their evacuation. b7E

If a [ ] intervenes between the movement of the 10 employees and the 75 employees groups, the 75 employees will either proceed to the best of their ability to [ ] or, if conditions permit, meet at a designated place where transportation b7E will be provided at this designated place and if it is deemed necessary, the employees will be transported to

b7E

IV. ATTACK PROBABLE

This phase calls for the automatic activation of the White House emergency plan as well as automatic relocation of all Executive Branch personnel having essential wartime functions, both at the Seat of Government and elsewhere. The local Civil Defense officials may activate the Civil Defense survival plan. At this point there will be an automatic evacuation of the Seat of Government.

The Records Section plans at this time to use the available personnel to place all records in file cabinets and prepare all records for possible evacuation. The evacuation will take place upon instruction from the proper Bureau official. Under this phase no mail will be received from the local post office and accordingly can not be processed. In addition, under this phase all personnel will be evacuated.

V. ATTACK IMMINENT

Under this phase the Records Section will suspend operations inasmuch as all civilian population and civilian elements of the Government will take shelter. If after the all-clear is given and the Records Section is habitable, the Records Section employees remaining will carry on the Bureau operations as far as possible under the existing conditions.

It is noted that all employees of the Records Section have been instructed to report at their regular duty hours if at all possible under the then existing conditions.

MEMO FROM EAMES TO NICHOLS
RE: WAR PLANS - HANDLING OF MAIL IN AN EVACUATION

VI. ALL CLEAR

If after the Civil Defense authorities determine that the Records Section area is safe and it has been decided to continue operations in the Justice and Identification Buildings, the Records Section will take up operations and continue them in as near normal conditions as possible. If the decision is made to evacuate, the Records Section has set up tentative plans as for the evacuation of certain designated Records. These plans will be put in operation upon instruction.

The above Records Section procedures are to be followed during the various phases of alerts and will be made a part of the Records Section's War Plans Summary.

PROCESSING MAIL AT [REDACTED]

I. The handling of mail and records at [REDACTED] during an emergency will be performed by ten clerical employees and one Special Agent from the Records Section who will be evacuated to [REDACTED] upon instructions. Upon arrival of important mail, it will be separated according to the nature of the mail and delivered for review to the appropriate Bureau Official at [REDACTED]. The mail, after handling and after it is ready for file, will be placed temporarily in applicant type folders until time permits changing to regular indexing and filing procedures. These folders will be maintained in file cabinets in space allocated to the Records Section at [REDACTED]. Tentative work plans for the Records Section employees at [REDACTED] are as follows: b7E

SA O. George Medler	- Supervisor
[REDACTED]	- Assistant Supervisor
[REDACTED]	- Stenographic duties
[REDACTED]	- Routing and classifying

b7C

The actual mechanical handling of the important mail will be altered to fit the existing needs and conditions.

II. In the event there is sufficient time and instructions are received to transport to [REDACTED] records which have been designated for evacuation, the following tentative plans will be followed: b7E

The Special Agent Supervisor and ten clerical employees will already be at [REDACTED] performing certain functions as set forth under I. As the evacuation records arrive in [REDACTED] consisting of orange covered files and bulky enclosures, they will be placed in cabinets available at [REDACTED]. All files and enclosures will be maintained numerically. It is noted that an alphabetical index with the subject of the case and file number recorded on the card will be evacuated at the same time to [REDACTED]. All mail handled at [REDACTED] where the subject is not included in this card index, will be filed in an alphabetical folder with each folder containing all mail on any given case. b7E

ENCLOSURE

Memo Earnings to Nichols
FHF:Kb 5/2/55

It will not be possible during the preliminary stages of an emergency to perform any indexing on mail other than the indication of a main subject. After the preliminary stages are over and there is sufficient time, these alphabetical folders will be indexed and integrated into the usual records system.

III. In the event Bureau records are completely destroyed in Washington, D. C. and it is deemed necessary to reconstruct the Bureau records, the following procedure will be followed:

Plans are already in effect that the [redacted] upon an appropriate signal from a Bureau Official, will accumulate and coordinate certain data from the Bureau's Field Offices. The [redacted] Office, upon signal, will request all Offices to send to [redacted] one copy of all reports and all other records deemed important to the case in the following files in which they are the office of origin:

(1) [redacted]

(2) [redacted]

b7E

(3) All files on [redacted]

Attached to these records will be index cards recording the subject's full name, office file number, and the submitting office. In addition, any aliases by which the subject is commonly known will be put on a separate card. [redacted] will maintain the files fastened together with acco fasteners, however not using file covers. The files will be filed alphabetically by Field Office. All files under each Field Office will be filed numerically. The index card prepared on each serial will be maintained in one large alphabetical index. Upon an appropriate signal, [redacted] will forward this index and file system to [redacted] the auxiliary headquarters.

b7E

Upon receipt of this material at [redacted] the Records Section with the employees available will integrate this material with the records already on hand. A gradual change-over to our present approved system of indexing and filing will be made consistent with the existing conditions and personnel.

○ Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space For S. O. G.
 By memorandum 5/11/55 the Attorney General inquired as to the manner in which the Bureau plans to participate in Operation Alert 1955 scheduled for June 15, 16, 17, 1955.

Attached is a memorandum to the Attorney General with copies for Assistant Attorney General Tompkins and Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department, to which are attached copies of the problems which the Bureau expects to work in the June exercise. While the Attorney General has not been so advised in the attached communication, these are the problems we plan to carry out in our May 26 test exercise.

If there are any changes in the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) instructions relative to the June exercise between now and the implementation of these exercises, Bureau plans and problems will be changed accordingly. We plan to take only minimum personnel to [ ] in the May and June tests, inasmuch as the entire 173 personnel scheduled for relocation will not be needed in the absence of actual emergency conditions. ODM instructions for Operation Alert 1955 (June 15-17) instruct that "Each agency will participate in the test of its essential functions with the maximum number of personnel scheduled for relocation. This number of personnel will be determined by the head of the agency." We are taking up with the Attorney General the problem of whether we should comply with these instructions by sending all 173 employees to [ ] for Operation Alert 1955 inasmuch as that number is not necessary to conduct the test as now planned. The Attorney General is being told that we should not expand our test problems because our internal security programs are top secret and because of the extreme danger of security leaks it is not believed advisable to participate in any widespread test of the programs involving the detention of Security Index subjects and the taking into custody of diplomatic personnel of enemy nations.

To insure that there are no slip-ups insofar as the field offices are concerned in connection with the proposed test relocation scheduled for May 26, 1955, there is attached an air-tel to all SACs setting forth specifically the message which will be sent to certain of the offices and instructing the office as to what reply the Bureau expects should they receive a test communication.

This air-tel also instructs all offices to submit by return air-tel the telephone number, teletype number and other communications facilities which will be available to them at the relocation site.

Those offices which will be contacted in connection with specific problems to be worked out in connection with this test relocation will be advised by separate communication as soon as all details of the problems have been completed.

I received a telephone call this morning from Chief Warrant Officer [redacted] of the Army Command and Administrative Communications Agency, who desired to discuss cryptographic material with me. I was under the impression at that time that [redacted] was representing [redacted] with whom we have received in the past certain cryptographic material for use in exchanging emergency communications between our Relocation Site and the relocation sites of other critical agencies and the White House.

[redacted] requested a conference with me at 11:00 A.M. and said that he would bring with him a representative of the Army Security Agency. [redacted] did not divulge over the telephone the nature of his business except to say it concerned [redacted]. I invited [redacted] to come over in order that I could determine what he had in mind.

[redacted] came to my office at 11:30 A.M. today accompanied by [redacted] of the Army Security Agency. They are representing a communications agency, now being set up and as yet unnamed, which will coordinate communications between the relocation sites of the White House and the critical agencies. These gentlemen said they knew we were equipped with [redacted]. They wanted to know if there would be any problem connected with their furnishing us with two sets of [redacted] which would be identical with equipment they will furnish to [redacted] and the relocation sites of the [redacted] in order that we would be able to [redacted] with these sites during the evacuation tests June 15, 16 and 17, 1955.

On the afternoon of April 22, 1955, [redacted]

On the basis of current and projected early warning radar, the United States [redacted]

[redacted] For this reason, FCDA planning calls for evacuation of those areas having evacuation plans in event of air attack. One city where evacuation will be mandatory is Washington, D. C. This is planned because relocation of essential Government personnel would in effect commence an evacuation of Washington anyway.

Relocation procedures are contemplated for Executive Branch personnel having essential wartime functions anywhere in the United States. This would necessitate relocation of field office personnel in various cities when the headquarters of their agencies were required to relocate from Washington, D.C. This relocation of those agencies having essential wartime functions would be activated at the time there is an "attack probable" warning anywhere in the United States unless previously

In the event the President orders, prior to an attack warning, a relocation of personnel having essential wartime functions, these instructions would be relayed to the heads of the departments and agencies concerned either by the President's staff or more specifically possibly through the Office of Defense Mobilization. Supervisor Sanders is pressing for a more definite spelling out of this procedure in the NSC Subcommittee on Attack Warning Channels and Procedures for Civilians, of which the President's Naval Aide is Chairman.

ACTION:

The foregoing is for your information. It can be seen that, without prior intelligence indicating Soviet intentions to attack, it would be possible for a military attack to prevent effective operation of the Bureau's emergency detention programs in our principal cities. We will, of course, take all the above facts into consideration in our current war planning.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

DIRECTOR, FBI

ATTACK WARNING CHANNELS AND PROCEDURES FOR CIVILIANS

As you know, at the National Security Council meeting on March 3, 1955, a committee was designated to coordinate the implementation of the attack warning channels and procedures for civilians, which was the subject for discussion at the NSC meeting on that date. The committee is to be composed of representatives of [redacted] [redacted] Commander Edward L. Beach, [redacted] was designated as Chairman of the committee.

Special Agent Edward S. Sanders of the FBI, who is Executive Secretary of the Interdepartmental Intelligence Conference, has been designated to represent the IIC on this committee in connection with those matters falling within the IIC field of jurisdiction and in those matters directly affecting the IIC field. Commander Beach was advised on March 24, 1955, that Mr. Sanders will represent the IIC.

On March 28, 1955, Commander Beach advised that, as yet, representatives have not been designated from a few of the agencies concerned. He stated he plans to call a meeting of this committee in the very early future.

This matter is being closely followed, and every effort will be made to insure early and expeditious consideration of those matters to be considered by this committee in connection with the coordination of the implementation of the attack warning channels and procedures for civilians.

Reference is made to the memorandum from Mr. Mason to Mr. Harbo 3-31-55 setting forth the results of Mr. Mason's conversation with Dr. Dunning of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Dr. Dunning pointed out that it was advisable to have an ample supply of bandages and first aid equipment on hand and that it was considered desirable to re-examine the supply of first aid equipment such as burn ointment, splints, bandages, etcetera, to make sure that we have more than we could possibly need.

On 10-7-54 the Health Service examined the list of first aid supplies at [redacted] and found them to be adequate for approximately 300 people for a limited period of time. It must be borne in mind that the [redacted] and [redacted] are immediately available and would handle any first aid other than minor scratches and headaches. b7E

The SAC at [redacted] will be requested to re-examine their first aid supplies and attempt to gain professional advice from medical officers in the [redacted] as to the adequacy of the supplies now on hand. b7E

Dr. Dunning also examined and tested the radiac detection device (which is used for testing radioactivity) and found it to be satisfactory and in good working order. Dr. Dunning believes that more than one such device should be on hand wherever it is necessary to keep a radiation detector and that at least two and preferably three such devices should be on hand at each pertinent locality to guard against the failure of one device and provide a means of checking the accuracy of each device against others.

The Bureau has [redacted] radiac training sets which are similar to those used by the military. [redacted] b7E

These sets, when purchased, cost the Bureau approximately $80 each and if they were to be purchased in today's market would cost approximately $195 each.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - EVACUATIONAuxiliary Space For S. O. G.PERSONNEL, INITIAL EVAGUEES

The Director on 8-16-54 approved the total of 173 employees as the number needed at the relocation site for the first 24-48 hours. This estimate was based upon the work load which would immediately exist and the premise that it would be possible to supplement this group as the work load developed. The above personnel figure is broken down as follows:

79 Agents
 37 stenographers
 57 clerks
 Total 173 (72 females)
 (112 married)
 (61 single)

The above 173 have a total of 295 dependents which must be considered in any over-all personnel evacuation and/or relocation indicating a grand total of 468 individuals.

BASIS FOR SELECTION

The employees scheduled for this initial evacuation, with few exceptions, are the key employees in each Unit. They were selected because of their knowledge and understanding of the Bureau's work, procedures and a real need for their services at the relocation site.

AVAILABILITY

All those scheduled for evacuation on personal contact agreed to be evacuated, however, all but 26 of the employees having dependents are looking to the Bureau for such help and assistance for their families and dependents as Bureau personnel will be able to render under the then existing circumstances. Certain Agents have been selected to stay behind to care for the needs of the families of the evacuees insofar as is possible and to carry on the Bureau's work in Washington.

As of 4-1-55 there were 420 Agents and officials and 4,606 clerical employees at the Seat of Government, making a total of 5,026 employees. These employees have an estimated 4,000 dependents, making an estimated total of 9,000 persons to plan for. To carry out this proposed plan it will be necessary to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] detailed plans must be worked out.

In any general evacuation the population of the city will have to rely on the means of transportation then available. It may be cars, trucks, buses, bicycles or walking. It is contemplated that Bureau employees and their families would have to proceed as directed by Civil Defense up to the point where Civil Defense calls a halt to the general exodus and from that point they would have to proceed to the rendezvous point by the best means of transportation available. The Bureau has stressed the need for all our employees during a period of national emergency. SUBJECT: WAR PLANS -

RELOCATION SITE

In connection with consideration of the desirability of reactivating [redacted] as the Bureau's relocation site, Messrs. J. J. McGuire, R. R. Roach, A. J. Baker and myself went to [redacted] yesterday.

We discussed with [redacted] of [redacted] the additional conditions in connection with the Bureau's War Plans that would require a continuous active facility in order to permit storage of certain records and to permit operational procedures during tests of emergency operations. [redacted] said that he regretted very much that he could not assist, and it was for two reasons: (1) [redacted]

[redacted] and (2) that he must object for the same reasons he had with reference to locating the [redacted]. His reason for this is to avoid the appearance of defense or wartime facilities since this is considered by [redacted] to be detrimental to the best interests of [redacted]. In response to our specific question, he said there would be no objection to some arrangement [redacted]

Because of the uncertainty of any permanent establishment, our communications center should remain at [redacted]. It is therefore the Laboratory's proposal that any further installation at [redacted] tie into our field operations through our communications facilities which will soon be located near [redacted]. The Laboratory therefore proposes to have [redacted]

[redacted]. Efforts are now being made to obtain [redacted]

[redacted] To construct this equipment ourselves would cost approximately $32,000.

It should be here pointed out that the [redacted] will permit [redacted] to [redacted]

Re: War Plans - [redacted] Relocation Site

[redacted]
[redacted] will permit communications of every type now required under our present War Plans requirements except a voice tie-in into the other critical agencies which is provided in the microwave system. The Laboratory is opposed to the purchase of any additional microwave equipment at this time since the Office of Defense Mobilization and Signal Corps are planning drastic revisions in the microwave system. The two teletype circuits would, of course, not handle the entire capacity of our combined microwave and radio stations at [redacted]

b7E

If [redacted] is to be reactivated as the Bureau headquarters relocation site, it would be necessary to have space which would be occupied 24 hours a day off [redacted] and from which practice alerts could be held. [redacted]

b7E

While in [redacted] we also went to [redacted], visited the [redacted] which the Department officials are to use for living accommodations and found it very nice. We saw the County Court House building where they expect to get office space and found it quite old.

b7E

[redacted]
[redacted] it would not be suitable for our War Plans storage or operations.

EMERGENCY RELOCATION

DECLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM:
FBI AUTOMATIC DECLASSIFICATION GUIDE
DATE 4/15/2010

66-17381-778

Reference is made to your memorandum of May 11, 1955, requesting a general indication as to the manner in which the Bureau will participate in Operation Alert 1955. The Bureau will participate in Operation Alert 1955 on June 15, 16, 17, 1955, from our [redacted] relocation site. b7E

Inasmuch as our relocation site is separate from that of the Department, we are not submitting a list of the Bureau personnel who will participate in Operation Alert 1955.

There are enclosed the problems pertaining to our "essential wartime functions" which this Bureau plans to carry out during this test exercise. The essential wartime functions of the FBI include top secret emergency programs emanating from the State Department and the Department of Justice.

The details of these problems are not being set out for the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM); however, for your additional information, Bureau representatives will accompany the various essential agencies in the Executive Branch to their relocation site. A Bureau Agent will accompany the Department of Justice and the Immigration and Naturalization Service to the Departmental relocation site. In addition, radio and telephone communications between the Department and the Bureau relocation sites will be placed into operation in order to receive any Departmental instructions.

You will note from the enclosed problems for ODM are problems involving the Detention of Diplomats of Enemy Nations, and the detention of Security Index subjects. We do not plan to engage in any widespread ramifications of these problems, but we will pose these problems to selected field offices and simulate a notification to our field offices of the implementation of these programs in order to check our communications facilities and the time element involved in this notification.

During Operation Alert 1955, the FBI will run certain drills to test the following evacuation and relocation problems:

(1) Notification to Essential Personnel

A test will be run to determine the effectiveness of the personnel notification system as it exists in our war plans.

(2) Assembly of Personnel

A test will be run involving a check off system to prove the worth of a system under our war planning whereby personnel, should an alert be sounded during working hours, assemble at a given point at the Justice Building.

(3) Transportation

We will check by actual transportation of personnel from Washington to [ ] the effectiveness of the plans we have for such transportation to the relocation site.

b7E

(4) Communications

The effectiveness of any relocation site is the adaptability of its communications under emergency conditions. During the course of the alert practices, the FBI from its relocation site will contact a representative group of its field installations, some at their field relocation points. All phases of the communications test will be timed to determine their worth in effectiveness under simulated emergency conditions. These communications tests will also serve to test the readiness and operational aspects of our selected field installations.

(5) Security Programs

During the course of these communications activities, the FBI will send and receive test messages touching upon some of the essential wartime functions of the Bureau including top secret emergency programs which are of direct interest to the Department of State and the Department of Justice.

All phases of the above-enumerated tests will be carefully scrutinized and analyzed, thus highlighting the time element which will be required under actual operations to carry out the internal security responsibilities of the FBI in a national emergency.

Summarizing the attached memorandum, it is noted that [redacted] is available to the Bureau without cost for use in a national emergency, but we cannot run practice drills, we cannot construct visible communications facilities such as outside wiring, antennas and microwave towers; we cannot run a test of telephone equipment from [redacted] - any tests would have to be run off the premises from the vicinity with portable equipment - and [redacted] has no adequate storage facilities available for records, etc.

I would like to recommend that we run the May 26 practice test at [redacted] and also the June 15-16 national alert test from [redacted] (memo attached re May 26 test dated May 6).

I also recommend that we make an immediate survey to locate an entirely new site for relocation of the Seat of Government in the immediate vicinity of [redacted]

I am advised that hotel facilities are available at [redacted] I would suggest that we explore the possibility of [redacted] and also [redacted]

We might also explore the possibility of accommodations at [redacted] which is approximately [redacted] miles from [redacted] at [redacted] which is approximately [redacted] miles from [redacted] and approximately [redacted] miles from [redacted] and at [redacted] which is [redacted] miles from [redacted] and [redacted] miles from [redacted]

For the purpose of determining the work, planning, and costs necessary to reactivate the Bureau's relocation site at [REDACTED] Messrs. Parsons and Baker of the Laborator<sup>b7E</sup>, Mr. McGuire of the Records and Communications Division, and Mr. Roach of the Domestic Intelligence Division proceeded to [REDACTED] and vicinity on May 11, 1955.

AGREEMENT WITH [REDACTED]

In 1950 the Bureau negotiated with the [REDACTED] and with [REDACTED] and an oral agreement was reached whereby during a period of national emergency the Bureau would be permitted to set up its emergency operations in [REDACTED]. The agreement has continued since that time although our relocation site was subsequently moved to [REDACTED]. Since then we have kept the agreement and have designated [REDACTED] as the relocation site for the Washington Field Office. The conditions existing and the Bureau's needs at the time (1950) did not encompass the use of [REDACTED] premises other than at a time when evacuation would be made under actual conditions. The agreement, therefore, permitted the Bureau to keep in storage at [REDACTED] certain telephone and radio equipment which could be immediately made operable in case of a national emergency and the Bureau had taken possession of [REDACTED]. The agreement does not permit the Bureau to place, in advance of a national emergency, personnel on the premises on a continuing basis or for the purpose of running practice alert drills. Also under the agreement [REDACTED] has asked that no visible means of communications be constructed on [REDACTED].

Memo to Boardman

In discussing this matter with [ ] on May 11, 1955, he stated that so far as he and [ ] were concerned, the agreement was still firm and in full force and effect. He stated that there had been no change in conditions which would necessitate or permit altering the original agreement as far as [ ] was concerned. He mentioned that there had been four or five changes in the [ ] since 1950 but that these changes did not affect the agreement. He commented that the [ ] advised on a confidential basis of the relations between [ ] and the Bureau. Upon inquiry [ ] stated that it would not be possible under existing circumstances for the Bureau to become operational on [ ] as he did not have available space

b7E

[ ] and the previous condition still exists that would preclude any activities on the grounds other than normal [ ] The regular term of [ ]

[ ] advised the Bureau representatives that he does not see any need or reason for formalizing the agreement at this time but prefers that it continue on a firm but oral basis. (Our agreement with [ ] requires no payment of funds. [ ] is doing it for patriotic reasons.)

STATUS OF BUREAU WAR PLANS AND EQUIPMENT AT [ ]

Our agreement with [ ] as outlined above remains unchanged. We, of course, have not used the site since transferring our relocation activities to [ ] other than to keep it available for use by the Washington Field Office. A check of the storage space which has been allotted to the Bureau (an area the size of an average Bureau office) revealed that all operating equipment, with the exception of four telephone company-owned teletype machines, was removed at the time the Bureau transferred its relocation site to [ ] One of the machines is connected with the central telephone exchange at [ ]

b7E

[ ] There are some miscellaneous telephone frames which are not serviceable. There is no stored or [ ]

Memo to Boardman

[ ] Although there is some operational equipment at [ ]
[ ] it would be inadequate to run even a test at this time.
Further, under the basic agreement with [ ] we would not be b7E permitted to bring in personnel to conduct such a test short of a national emergency. If such a test were to be conducted from [ ] at this time, it would of necessity have to be conducted off [ ] or would have to be done contrary to our agreement and for the most part, on a clandestine basis. (Off-premise operations will be discussed hereinafter.)

USE OF [ ] SITE FOR OPERATIONAL TESTS

Considering that the [ ] will be available to the Bureau during an actual emergency and evacuation but cannot be used on an operational basis until such time, it becomes necessary that we have more than a "storage basis" agreement for our communications equipment if we are to run the periodic tests being requested by the Office of Defense Mobilization. The problem of running tests at [ ] site raises the following major points:

b7E

1. Any tests from [ ] short of necessary
"installation checks, would have to be done on an off-premises basis although in the immediate locality.

2. Any radio equipment used in such a test would have to be, for the present, portable in nature, which would restrict our ability to conduct an effective test.

3. The Bureau does not now have at [ ] any records from which we could conduct tests. Such records as a duplicate of the Security Index, the Prodip Program, codes and ciphers, etc., are now at [ ] and should not be sent to [ ] until we can b7E assure ourselves of adequate security. This is not now available at [ ] The Bureau's Resident Agency in the area is at [ ], and is handled by one Agent headquartering out of one room in the U. S. Post Office Building. [ ] is approximately [ ] miles from [ ]

PERMANENT RELOCATION SITE POSSIBILITIES
IN THE [ ] AREA

There are four possibilities of relocation in the [ ] area that can be mentioned:

[ ]<sup>1</sup> The Bureau could revert to its original position whereby [ ] would be available to us at such time as an actual

b7E

Memo to Boardman

emergency existed and the Bureau was ordered to evacuate. We could place operating equipment and facilities in storage as we did in the past for assemblage and use at the time of an emergency. Such an arrangement would not, of course, permit us to run any worth-while tests as we would not have access to the buildings or premises to conduct such tests which have been, and undoubtedly will continue to be, ordered by the White House. Although this arrangement was adequate in 1950 when the agreement was reached with [ ] it does not appear to be adequate under present conditions. (Not being considered favorably.) b7E

2. We could keep [ ] under existing arrangements as a location to which we could evacuate in time of a national emergency. [ ] in conjunction with this arrangement we could establish an [ ] installation for all Bureau communications facilities, records, [ ] and other necessary operations in the area. This would permit the permanent installation of all Bureau equipment, including vital Bureau records now stored at [ ] such as ciphers and codes, the Attorney General's portfolio, etc., and that equipment necessary to carry on evacuation and tests in a place under the complete control of the Bureau at all times. Such an installation would necessitate the [ ] moving to [ ]. It would also necessitate the utmost in security in view of the vital records that would be stored there, thus requiring Bureau personnel on duty 24 hours a day. The estimated cost would undoubtedly be high. Before an estimate could be made a detailed survey of an appropriate site would have to be made. From such an installation necessary standby connections could be made with [ ] whereby communications could be immediately routed through [ ] when it became necessary for the Bureau to occupy the [ ] premises. This arrangement appears to have merit and may be feasible; however, it will require further study to locate in the immediate area of [ ] suitable quarters which may be leased, together with a survey to determine costs and time to equip such an installation. (Further consideration being recommended in this regard.) b7E

3. It may be possible to work out an arrangement whereby [ ] would be retained under the conditions of the agreement but that [ ] remain the center of emergency communications and storage of vital records and documents. Under such an arrangement it would still be necessary to have an [ ] installation in [ ] whereby we could set up a relay point via radio and [ ] b7E

telephone to handle communications at [ ] during an emergency period. Such an arrangement would make operations difficult where, in fact, the Bureau had not taken over [ ] under emergency conditions. Practice alerts and other test operations would be very difficult as in effect we would be operating from two distant points. The records would be in [ ] and the test evacuation area would be in the vicinity of [ ] (Favorable consideration is not being given to this possibility.)

b7E

4. It may be advisable, while still retaining the [ ] arrangement, to look for an entirely new site for total operations, a site that could be made operational by the installation of equipment under the Bureau's continuous control. Such a site would, if it were to encompass all of the Bureau's requirements, necessitate detailed surveys of existing facilities in the areas of [ ]

b7E

[ ] relocation sites in those areas, particularly with relation to the Attorney General's relocation site at [ ] (A survey for such a site is not being recommended at this time.)

COMMUNICATIONS ESSENTIALS

In re-establishing the [ ] site certain basic communications facilities are needed; these communications to be comparable to those presently existing at [ ]

b7E

[ ] or newer-created device, to connect our relocation site with other essential wartime agencies in their relocation site areas. In order to arrive at estimates of cost and time necessary to install such equipment at [ ] under the possibilities above-mentioned, the Laboratory has made inquiries for [ ] radio needs. Inquiries have also been made at the telephone company in Washington concerning telephone and teletype equipment.

Radio [ ] Equipment

The Laboratory recommended that the Bureau's communications center remain at [ ] (our major transmitting and receiving stations are being relocated at [ ] and that any radio installation at [ ] tie into our [ ] field operations through the communications facilities being located there. The Laboratory, therefore, proposes to have mobile [ ] present war plans requirements, except a voice microwave system tied into the other critical agencies. The Laboratory is opposed to the purchase of any additional microwave equipment at this time since the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Signal Corps are planning drastic revisions in the microwave system. It is estimated that the results of our negotiations with the military for the obtaining of the mobile units will be consummated soon.

Telephone and Teletype Equipment

The telephone company in Washington has advised that it must of necessity work through four affiliated and independent telephone companies in the area to get cost and time figures. To install in [redacted] equipment, comparable to that presently at [redacted] on the premises or within a two-mile area of [redacted] will require considerable data to even supply rough estimates. Colonel [redacted] of the telephone company, the Bureau's contact, advised that he is immediately going to work on the problem and hopes to be able to have some figures by next Monday, May 16, 1955, and possibly the rest of the data from the independent companies by the middle of next week. He could supply no rough estimates until he had made inquiry.

OBSERVATIONS:

From the arrangements presently in existence with [redacted] and the lack of essential communications equipment that could be installed before June 15, it does not appear to be feasible that the Bureau could carry on a creditable test evacuation at [redacted]. It may, therefore, be to the best interests of the Bureau that while going ahead with our plans to reactivate [redacted] we hold the June 15 and practice May 26 test evacuation at [redacted]. We are in receipt of a communication from the Attorney General asking that he be informed of the manner in which the Bureau will participate in the June 15 national test. We must advise the Attorney General of our plans in the very near future.

b7E

So that we may give more factual consideration to the permanent relocation site possibilities in the [redacted] area as discussed in this memorandum, it is believed that we should give further study to the second possibility where we would keep our present arrangement with [ ] and look into the advisability of setting up [ ] installation to handle our needs. This arrangement would appear to be the best possibility of getting the [ ] site operational with the least expenditure of money.

b7E

Memo to Boardman

b7E

RECOMMENDATIONS:

It is recommended:

1. That while proceeding with our plans to reactivate our relocation site at [ ] we hold the June 15 national alert test at [ ] and that we run the May 26 practice test as previously scheduled. (memo dated 5/6/55 outlined the test evacuation and is attached for your approval)

b7E

and Domestic Intelligence

2. That representatives of the Laboratory and Administrative and Records and Communications Divisions make an appropriate survey in the [ ] area looking toward the establishment of an [ ] site suitable for Bureau operation as mentioned in the above observations. Such a site should be chosen from a [ ] [ ] as well as from an administrative approach, as it would have to house communications equipment, supplies, records, and other equipment needed for the Bureau's use at [ ] comparable to that presently in existence at [ ]

b7E

3. That the Laboratory and the Records and Communications Division expedite their efforts to obtain data necessary in arriving at cost and time figures to fully equip the proposed [ ] [ ] site.

b7E

Memo to Boardman

4. That we hold in abeyance notification to the Office of Defense Mobilization our intention to re-establish the [redacted] site until such time as that site becomes operational.

b7E

5. That approval be given to the attached proposed letter to the Attorney General advising him of our intentions concerning the June 15 national test and that we will hold the test at [redacted]

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

DATE: May 17, 1955

FROM : JFA DIRECTOR, FBI

SUBJECT: EMERGENCY RELOCATION

DECLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM:
FBI AUTOMATIC DECLASSIFICATION GUIDE
DATE 4/15/2010

Reference is made to your memorandum of May 11, 1955, requesting a general indication as to the manner in which the Bureau will participate in Operation Alert 1955. The Bureau will participate in Operation Alert 1955 on June 15, 16, 17, 1955, from our  relocation site.

b7E

Inasmuch as our relocation site is separate from that of the Department, we are not submitting a list of the Bureau personnel who will participate in Operation Alert 1955.

There are enclosed the problems pertaining to our "essential wartime functions" which this Bureau plans to carry out during this test exercise. The essential wartime functions of the FBI include top secret emergency programs emanating from the State Department and the Department of Justice.

The details of these problems are not being set out for the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM); however, for your additional information, Bureau representatives will accompany the various essential agencies in the Executive Branch to their relocation site. A Bureau Agent will accompany the Department of Justice and the Immigration and Naturalization Service to the Departmental relocation site. In addition, radio and telephone communications between the Department and the Bureau relocation sites will be placed into operation in order to receive any Departmental instructions.

You will note from the enclosed, problems for ODM are problems involving the Detention of Diplomats of Enemy Nations and the detention of Security Index subjects. We do not plan to engage in any widespread ramifications of these problems, but we will pose these problems to selected field offices and simulate a notification to our field offices of the implementation of these programs in order to check our communications facilities and the time element involved in this notification.

~~TOP SECRET~~

You may recall that Office of Defense Mobilization instructions for Operation Alert 1955 point out "Each agency will participate in the test of its essential functions with the maximum number of personnel scheduled for relocation. This number of personnel will be determined by the head of the agency." To adequately handle the problems as scheduled above and in the enclosure hereto, we plan to take only those employees necessary to run the problems and anticipate that this will be considerably short of the 173 employees now scheduled for an actual relocation. The problems relating to the Detention of Diplomats of Enemy Nations and the detention of Security Index subjects are top secret and there is always an extreme danger of security leaks. Therefore, it is not believed desirable to participate in any widespread tests of these programs.

I shall very much appreciate your comments as to whether the Bureau should participate with the maximum number of personnel scheduled for relocation or whether in view of security requirements we should participate with only those needed to carry out the problems involved.

During Operation Alert 1955, the FBI will run certain drills to test the following evacuation and relocation problems:

(1) Notification to Essential Personnel

A test will be run to determine the effectiveness of the personnel notification system as it exists in our war plans.

(2) Assembly of Personnel

A test will be run involving a check off system to prove the worth of a system under our war planning whereby personnel, should an alert be sounded during working hours, assemble at a given point at the Justice Building.

(3) Transportation

We will check by actual transportation of personnel from Washington to  the effectiveness of the plans we have for such transportation to the relocation site.

b7E

(4) Communications

The effectiveness of any relocation site is the adaptability of its communications under emergency conditions. During the course of the alert practices, the FBI from its relocation site will contact a representative group of its field installations, some at their field relocation points. All phases of the communications test will be timed to determine their worth in effectiveness under simulated emergency conditions. These communications tests will also serve to test the readiness and operational aspects of our selected field installations.

(5) Security Programs

During the course of these communications activities, the FBI will send and receive test messages touching upon some of the essential wartime functions of the Bureau including top secret emergency programs which are of direct interest to the Department of State and the Department of Justice.

All phases of the above-enumerated tests will be carefully scrutinized and analyzed, thus highlighting the time element which will be required under actual operations to carry out the internal security responsibilities of the FBI in a national emergency.

This memorandum is being prepared for the Director's use in connection with the Attorney General's Conference scheduled for May 20, 21, 1955. By memorandum 5/17/55 the Attorney General was advised as to the problems which the Bureau expects to cover in Operation Alert, 1955. (June 15, 16, 17) The problems to be covered during this national alert are those which the Bureau will work out during the intra-Bureau test exercise May 26, 1955. If there are any changes in Office of Defense Mobilization instructions relative to the June test, Bureau plans and problems will be changed accordingly. The Attorney General has not been advised that similar problems will be worked during both the above tests.

Bureau Liaison Agents will accompany those agencies with which they normally do business to their emergency relocation sites. A Liaison Agent will accompany the Immigration and Naturalization Service and the Department to the Departmental relocation site which Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department, has orally advised will be [REDACTED] b7E

The Bureau will also be in contact with the Department of Justice from our relocation site by telephone and radio to receive any instructions which the Department may find necessary to issue during Operation Alert, 1955.

Office of Defense Mobilization instructions relative to Operation Alert, 1955, state: "Each Agency will participate in the test of its essential functions with the maximum number of personnel scheduled for relocation. This number of personnel will be determined by the Head of the Agency." To adequately handle the problems planned for both the May and June test exercises, we plan to take only those employees necessary. This number will be considerably less than the 173 employees now scheduled for actual emergency relocation. The Attorney General has been so advised and his comments relative to the extent of Bureau participation in Operation Alert, 1955, have been requested.

As all personnel scheduled for actual relocation receive their notification. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Those scheduled to go to the relocation site will be so advised and all others will be instructed to return to their desks. Those going to the relocation site will be provided transportation by the Administration Division. However, some Bureau officials may elect to use their personally owned cars. A check system will determine the identity of those in each car, thus insuring all scheduled to take part in the test exercises are accounted for.

III. ARRIVAL AT [REDACTED]

b7E

As the personnel arrive at [REDACTED] SAC [REDACTED] will arrange to check them in and direct them to their space of assignment which will be determined from the assignment chart now available at [REDACTED]

IV. ASSIGNMENT OF WORK

The radio, teletype, and telephone facilities now operable will be checked and specific work assignments will be set out hereinafter. All communication facilities at [REDACTED] will be tested to determine if they are adaptable and operable. A test message substituting for the message which will alert the Field to the possibility of the program calling for the detention of Security Index subjects will be sent from [REDACTED] to selected Field offices. This will afford an opportunity to verify the time required to contact these offices from the relocation center. Each office so contacted will be instructed to acknowledge receipt of the communication, and those offices which will be called upon to assist in carrying out the Detention of Security Index subjects (Detcom) problem and the Detention of Diplomats of Enemy Nations (Prodip) problem will, of course, have to reply to the relocation site on the progress of the problems designed for them. The Washington Field and St. Louis Offices will be contacted at their relocation site during the May and June tests. Personnel from the Communications Section of the Records and Communications Division will operate all communications and coding facilities at the relocation site during these tests.

V. TEST PROBLEMS - are fictitious ←

(1) Detention of Diplomats of Enemy Nations (Prodip)

This problem is based on the assumption that all personnel have been previously evacuated from Washington and Bureau employees scheduled for relocation are already functioning under emergency conditions at the relocation center. The Secretary of State has instructed that this program be placed into operation. [redacted] will be required to carry on certain phases of this problem. One covering a situation where both of these Field offices have not relocated and the second covering a situation wherein the [redacted] has relocated. b7E

(2) Emergency Detention Program (Detcom)

The President and the Attorney General have authorized the institution of this program. Subject, John Doe, is a civilian employee of the Department of the Army working at "X" Arsenal, St. Louis, Missouri. His name appears on the Security Index. This problem will be carried out with the assistance of the [redacted] Office. b7E

(3) Emergency Detention Program - Espionage (Detcom)

The President and the Attorney General have authorized the institution of this program. John Smith, an espionage subject in [redacted] whose name appears in the Special Section of the Security Index, is under physical surveillance by the [redacted] requests permission to apprehend Smith immediately inasmuch as the surveillance is tying up agents needed on the emergency apprehension program. [redacted] advises Smith's apprehension would not jeopardize any double agent cases to its knowledge. [redacted] will be authorized to apprehend Smith. b7E

(4) We have 10 lines from our [redacted] Building to [redacted] for emergency use, in order that in an emergency we will not have to go through Washington, D. C. To test the effectiveness of these lines, liaison agents, during the May exercise, will place calls to [redacted] via these lines. The calls will be placed from various locations in Washington. In the June test operation the liaison agents will accompany those agencies with which they normally do business to their relocation sites and will contact the Bureau relocation site from wherever they may be, through the most expeditious means of communication available.

b7E

OBSERVATIONS:

It is anticipated that these test exercises will include 30 to 40 Bureau officials, supervisors, and clerical personnel.

All phases of these tests will be carefully scrutinized, timed where advisable, and aimed at working out the "kinks" in our relocation plan.

RECOMMENDATION:

The foregoing is for the Director's use at the Attorney General's Conference 5/20-21/55.

INTERNAL SECURITY SECTION
EXERCISE PROBLEMS AT [redacted]

b7E

1. Institution of the Emergency Detention Program

It will be assumed for the purpose of the test exercise that the Attorney General has authorized the institution of the Emergency Detention Program after the signing of the Presidential Proclamation.

Communication facilities at [redacted] and in the field will be tested by sending a test message which will simulate the institution of the Emergency Detention Program. Although in an actual emergency an appropriate message will be sent to all 52 field offices, the instant message will be sent to the following ten offices in order to reduce the cost of the test.

b7E

In addition, of course, the [redacted]

[redacted] Offices will be tested with special problems.

b7E

The following message will be sent: "This is test of communications under emergency conditions. You should contact Bureau Office at [redacted] within the hour by (telephone, teletype, radio) and indicate the amount of time required to actually make contact by the following message: 'Re test message. [redacted] office received Quantico message at [redacted] a.m. (p.m.).

a.m. (p.m.)."

First attempted contact with Quantico

66-17381-783

ENCLOSURE

Upon receipt of the replies from the ten offices listed above, a memorandum will be prepared for the Director showing the times the messages were received in each field office, attempts were made to recontact [ ] and the messages were actually received at [ ] b7E

2. Special Problem

This problem begins with the assumed situation that John Smith's name is included in the Security Index in the Special Section under United States Government Employees. He is a civilian employee of the Department of the Army at "X" Arsenal, [ ] The Master Warrant of Arrest is the authority for the [ ] to make the arrest. b7E

For the purpose of this test the [ ] will send personnel to their relocation site to and from which point telephonic contact with the Bureau will be made. The relocation site for the [ ] is [ ] b7E

[ ] it will be necessary to advise the [ ] in advance to man its relocation site during the pertinent hours of the test. This is being done by airtel instructions.

The following steps will be taken during this test problem.

a. It will be assumed that the Attorney General has authorized the institution of the Emergency Detention Program. [ ] will be contacted by Assistant Director Belmont at telephone number [ ], [ ] at any time after 10:30 a.m., E.D.T. b7E

[ ] will be telephonically advised that this is a test message and is the authority to recontact the Bureau at [ ] by telephone (return call should be made collect to the Bureau to Mr. Belmont) within the hour to advise that the problem has been handled and appropriate dissemination made. [ ] should be told that neither names or agencies should be mentioned in connection with the test problem. During recontact of the Bureau [redacted] should advise of the time of day the recontact was first attempted with the telephone exchange.

Upon receipt of this information, [redacted] should be advised that the test has been completed and that representatives return to their regular assignments.

b7E

b. At the same time as an attempt is made by Mr. Belmont to contact the [redacted] a memorandum will be prepared from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Roach in order that he may inform liaison representatives with G-2 that John Smith, a civilian employee at the "X" Arsenal, [redacted] will be apprehended as a dangerous person.

Mr. Roach in turn will telephonically advise the liaison representative to G-2 at a prearranged telephone exchange to simulate the advice that would under actual emergency be sent to the liaison representative at the agency's relocation site.

c. At [redacted]

Upon receipt of the recontact from [redacted] [redacted] advising that the problem has been completed which simulated the arrest, a memorandum will be prepared from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Boardman to advise of the arrest of John Smith, an Army civilian employee at [redacted]. A copy of this memorandum will be sent immediately to Mr. Roach in order that the liaison representative with G-2 can be telephonically advised that the arrest has been made and that such information should be relayed to G-2. This message will, of course, only be simulated and will test recontacts with liaison representatives.

x b7E

d. At [redacted]

John Smith's Security Index card (a dummy card will be placed in the Security Index for the test) will be removed from the Special Section of the Security Index along with the reference card in the main section of the Security Index. A notation will be placed on the back of the Security Index card indicating the date of the apprehension and the card will be refiled in the section of the Security Index cabinet marked "Apprehended Subjects" under a subheading "U. S. Government Employees."

b7E

The reference card in the main section of the Security Index referring to the Special Section should likewise be refiled in the alphabetical section of the apprehended subjects. The above will be handled by Supervisor Bibler.

b7E

A copy of the memorandum reporting the arrest of Smith and Schmoo (Espionage subject to be apprehended) will be routed to Supervisor P. L. Cox who will prepare a memorandum after all arrests have been made for the day (two subjects, one Espionage, one Internal Security) to the Director with a copy for Mr. Nichols reporting the total number of arrests for the day and identifying the appropriate Special Sections of the Security Index involved.

b7E

f. At

Supervisor P. L. Cox will prepare a memorandum (this will be done on a daily basis) for the Attorney General after all the arrests have been made furnishing the identities of the subjects arrested. It will be necessary to advise the Attorney General that the warrant for Schmoo was authorized by the United States Attorney at Philadelphia. No memos. will go outside the Bureau

b7E

3. Additional Work at  to be done During the Test

a. A sample Master Warrant of Arrest will be attached to the Security Index list by Supervisor P. L. Cox and delivered to Section Chief F. J. Baumgardner.

b. A sample Master Search Warrant will be attached to a list to simulate places to be searched under that Warrant.

This will be handled by Supervisor Cox and delivered to Mr. Baumgardner.

c. Supervisor Bibler will prepare a memorandum and deliver it to Mr. Baumgardner listing seven individuals considered potentially dangerous and not on the Security Index who are prominent in the business and professional fields. These cases have been presented to the Department for an opinion and to date no reply has been received. Mr. Baumgardner will furnish this list to Mr. Belmont to simulate taking the matter up directly with the Attorney General for opinions in each case. nothing will be taken up with anyone outside the

d. Supervisor Bibler will prepare a current list of Bureau subjects in the Security Index who are in the Special Section of the Security Index under the Foreign Government Employees and Espionage subdivisions. The Espionage Section will consider which subjects in the Espionage subdivision are to be considered for immediate apprehension. In regard to subjects' whose names are in the Foreign Government Employees subdivision the Espionage Section will arrange to discuss with the State Department the arrest of subjects in that section who are employees of friendly nations. A list will also be prepared of subjects whose names are in the United Nations Employees subdivision of the Special Section in order that the Espionage Section can advise the State Department that the individuals will be apprehended. This will be kept within the Bureau

e. Supervisor Cox will furnish by memorandum to Section Chief Baumgardner a copy of the latest Security Index statistical list by field offices for routing to the Administrative Division for their use in case Special Agent personnel must be reallocated due to emergency needs. 4

f. Supervisor Bibler will prepare a memorandum recommending the setting up of a new Sabotage-Communist Infiltration of Labor ~~Section~~ and will prepare teletype instructions for the field alerting regarding possible sabotage and advising that offices should arrange to keep in contact with appropriate officials at key facilities,*Procli plants and military installations in order that sabotage matters can be promptly reported to the Bureau.

*Protection of Classified Information

g. Supervisor Bibler will prepare a current list of individuals whose names are maintained in the Pro-Tito subdivision of the Special Section of the Security Index for consideration by Mr. Belmont as to whether action is to be taken at the time depending on Tito's relations with this country.

h. Supervisor Cox will prepare a teletype to pertinent offices (coastal offices) furnishing the names of all Security Index subjects who are reported to be out of the country and whose cards are maintained in the Unavailable Section of the Security Index. This can be determined from the last Security Index list run by the Statistical Section. Instructions should advise offices to furnish Customs and the Immigration and Naturalization Service officials (where available) the names of the subjects in order that appropriate stops can be placed in case a person by the same name attempts to re-enter the United States. This will all be confined to Seat of Govt. ✓

i. Section Chief Baumgardner will designate employees from the Internal Security Section on twelve-hour shifts in order that the Section will operate on a continuing basis. This will simulate both the assignment of personnel and a rebriefing of the personnel concerning their duties.

As you know, one of the test problems in connection with the above requires that a call be made to the [ ] relocation site at [ ]. This particular telephone is located in [ ]. The [ ] Office has an arrangement with the [ ] whereby the Bureau will have complete possession of [ ] during an actual emergency. There was, therefore, some question in the mind of the [ ] Office as to whether it would be able to receive the telephone call at [ ] without causing undue alarm to the [ ].

Pursuant to instructions, I contacted Special Agent Hugh Anderson, who was Acting SAC at [ ] on May 25, 1955, and told him that in view of the confidential relationship existing at [ ] the problem outlined for [ ] could be handled by the headquarters office rather than at the relocation site. Upon receipt of this information Anderson stated that ASAC H. K. This memorandum is an outline for the May 26, 1955, test evacuation of certain key personnel in the Bureau to our relocation site at [redacted]. At a predetermined time the test [redacted] call will be received by me in my office and I will then start the notification. Immediately following this notification, all key personnel (173) will assemble just outside room 1541. Transportation will be provided and a needed number of the key personnel at that time will be advised that they are to depart immediately for [redacted]. The remaining key personnel will return to their rooms and continue their regular duties (the purpose in calling all key personnel to the assembly point is to test the efficiency of our notification procedures and the availability of all our key personnel). Upon arrival at [redacted] a series of tests and problems will be instituted for the purpose of testing the equipment, facilities, availability of records, etc. It is recognized that there will be many problems in an actual evacuation. The test run will enable us to study the problems as they occur so that we may straighten out any "kinks" that may exist or arise during the test. A more detailed outline of each phase of the above is set out below.

I. NOTIFICATION

I will simulate receiving the [redacted] probable possibly two hours advance notice) over the special telephone in my office. From this point on we will follow our established war planning notification procedure. By this plan I will immediately notify you, thereafter you or I will notify the Director and Mr. Tolson. I will then immediately make the necessary calls of notification which in turn will be followed by the Chain of Notification to all essential Bureau personnel. No test notification call will be made to the Department in this test exercise.

II. POINT OF ASSEMBLY IN JUSTICE BUILDING

As all key personnel receive their notification they will immediately assemble in the 1500 corridor outside room 1541, at which point they will be checked in by SA James Bland. Those scheduled to go to the relocation site will be so advised and the others will be instructed to return to their respective desks. At this point transportation which is to be provided by the Administrative Division and other personally owned cars used for the trip will be loaded. A check system will determine the identity of those in each car, thus insuring all scheduled to take part in the test exercises are accounted for.

III. ARRIVAL AT [REDACTED]

As the personnel arrive at [REDACTED] will arrange to check them in and direct them to their space of assignment, which will be determined from the space assignment chart now available at [REDACTED] b7E

IV. ASSIGNMENT OF WORK

The radio, teletype and telephone facilities now operable will be checked and specific work assignments will be set out hereinafter. Problems concerning the handling of Detcom and Prodip, likewise are set out.

(a) Communications

All communications facilities at [REDACTED] will be tested to see if they are adaptable and operable. In an actual evacuation as much of the initial instructions as possible will be sent from the Seat of Government but for purposes of this test, a test message substituting for the message which will alert the field will be sent from [REDACTED] to each field office alerting them to the forthcoming instructions in connection with the Detcom program. This will afford an opportunity to verify the time required to contact each office from the relocation center. Each office will be instructed to acknowledge receipt of the communications and those offices which will be called upon to assist in carrying out the Prodip and Detcom programs will, of course, have to reply to the relocation site of the progress of the problem assigned to them. b7E

In an actual evacuation we may have a problem contacting our field offices, if they too have relocated, since each field office is now dependent upon the communications facilities installed in the buildings which they will occupy during the relocation. Each field office has been requested to furnish the telephone number, teletype number, and any other communications facilities available at their relocation site. For the May 26, test, [REDACTED] will send necessary personnel to their relocation sites, so that a test of their communications facilities can be afforded. (Washington Field Office and St. Louis are used because we have a direct telephone line to Washington Field Office site which should be checked, and St. Louis has a special problem on relocation as the city of St. Louis is scheduled for evacuation on the National June 15-17, test drill.)

Mr. Nichols has recommended that the direct-line voice circuit from [redacted] be activated for this test operation at a cost of $180 for each 24 hours of operation. He has also recommended that the voice circuit from [redacted] be activated for this test at a cost of $20.70 a day. b7E

V. TEST PROBLEMS

(1) Detention of Diplomats of Enemy Nations (Prodip)

This problem is based on the assumption that the Secretary of State has instructed that the program for the detention of diplomats of enemy nations be placed in operation. A problem involving the [redacted] is being worked out involving (a) a situation where the city of [redacted] has not been evacuated and [redacted] has been relocated and (b) covering a situation wherein both the [redacted] are operating from their headquarters offices. b7E

(2) Emergency Detention Program (Detcom)

The President and the Attorney General have authorized the institution of this program. Assume: Subject John Doe is a civilian employee of the Department of the Army working at "X" Arsenal, [redacted] His name appears on the Security Index. b7E

(3) Emergency Detention Program - Espionage (Detcom)

The President and the Attorney General have authorized the institution of the Detcom program. Assume: John Smith, an espionage subject in [redacted] whose name appears in the Special Section of the Security Index, is under physical surveillance by the [redacted] requests permission to apprehend Smith immediately, inasmuch as the surveillance is tying up agents needed on the Detcom program. [redacted] advised Smith's apprehension would not jeopardize any double agent cases to its knowledge. Insofar as this problem is concerned, the apprehension of Smith will not jeopardize any other espionage cases. This problem is designed to show that the field must have Bureau authority before picking up a person in the Special Section of the Security Index. b7E

(4) Liaison Agents will contact the Bureau's relocation site through the [redacted] telephone exchange by asking for [redacted] which are emergency numbers assigned to our switchboard. In an actual relocation Liaison Agents would accompany the key agencies with which they conduct liaison to the agencies' relocation sites. For the purpose of this test the calls to [redacted] will be made from [redacted] but not over the Bureau direct line. [redacted] b7E

OBSERVATIONS:

All phases of this test will be carefully scrutinized, timed where advisable and aimed at working out the "kinks" in our relocation plan.

This test operation will begin with a telephone call from me to the necessary officials at 9:30 a.m., on Thursday, May 26, 1955, and will end the same day upon completion of the test problems at [redacted]. Upon completion of the exercises, the personnel involved will return to the Seat of Government by the same means of transportation they used in reaching [redacted]. Upon arrival in Washington they will be dismissed or will return to their regular duties depending upon the time of return. b7E

SAC [redacted] has advised that the caterer at [redacted] can and will serve the necessary meals to the employees, upon receipt of appropriate notice, on a continuing basis from 12 noon to 2 p.m. (The cost to be borne by the individual employees) b7E

It is anticipated that this test exercise will include 30 to 40 Bureau officials, supervisors and clerical personnel. The exact number and identity will be determined prior to the test.

Transportation to and from [redacted] and communications costs including the activation of the direct lines from [redacted] to [redacted] and [redacted] to [redacted] are estimated at $400. This is in addition to an estimated $1,200 for salaries of the employees participating in the test. b7E

ACTION:

If you approve this program, we will proceed with the test evacuation as indicated on May 26, 1955, and the necessary detailed planning it entails.

You will recall that members of the Chemical Corps from the Army Chemical Center in Maryland, and a representative from Camp Detrick, Maryland, surveyed [REDACTED] at the Bureau's request on March 24, 1955, to obtain data on which to base recommendations for adequate protection against Chemical, Biological and Radiological agents.

By memorandum 5-13-55 from the Office of the Chief Chemical Officer, Department of the Army, there was obtained the results of this survey together with recommendations for the above protection. Among the items recommended in this survey is the purchase of individual gas masks for the personnel who would be at the relocation site. An order for 115 gas masks to supplement those the Bureau has on hand has already been placed with the Army. These will be needed no matter where the Bureau decides to relocate.

Inasmuch as the Bureau is now surveying areas for a new relocation site, there appears to be no need to go ahead with the preparation of [REDACTED] for protection against the above-mentioned agents.

b7E

There is enclosed a letter to Colonel Vincent F. Lapiana, Chief, Res and Dev Div, Office of the Chief Chemical Officer, Department of the Army, thanking him for the detailed survey and recommendations and advising that we will again contact his office if we see fit to go ahead with their recommendations.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the Administrative Division continue to press the Army for delivery of the gas masks now on order.

By memorandum dated April 20, 1955, it was recommended "That permission be granted to conduct the necessary surveys to locate suitable registration and rendezvous points and to prepare a workable plan whereby Bureau employees not included in the initial 173 evacuees, their families and the families of initial evacuees will, if Washington is ordered evacuated, proceed to a given point or points for a temporary period during which they await specific instructions or assignment from the Bureau." The Director asked, "Am I to understand you propose that the FBI is to arrange for relocation of all of its personnel and all of their families?"

Under the proposal mentioned above it was intended that temporary bases (yet to be selected) be set up outside metropolitan Washington to which FBI employees and their families could go to receive such instructions as the Bureau may have for them and give such advice as is possible to render under the circumstances. The Bureau will not accept responsibility for relocating all our employees and their families.

The primary responsibility for locating evacuees in any community is that of Civil Defense. The Bureau has scheduled and received commitments from 173 employees to report to the Bureau relocation site. Of this group 112 are married and have families for which they are responsible. Since the Bureau is moving the employee away from his family during the period of emergency it is believed that the Bureau must assume a certain amount of responsibility for the care and well-being of these families. Heretofore the "Stay Behind" program would have answered this responsibility. New Civil Defense instructions make mandatory the total evacuation of Washington on receipt of a [redacted] and under these circumstances we will be unable to use the "Stay Behind" program. Hence, the above proposal. It is believed that we should issue advance instructions to the families of the 173 who are being relocated at [redacted] advising that they can proceed to the control points (yet to be set up) and that at those points the Bureau will care for them to the best of its ability or assist them in getting to a community wherein they can be cared for. This would be particularly helpful to those families who do not have relatives in the area or specific plans for their care and well-being in an emergency.

It is believed also that other employees and their families should know that the Bureau is establishing control points to which they can report in an emergency, that the Bureau will issue such instructions as they may have through the control points and/or give such advice as can be rendered in light of the circumstances. It will not be mandatory for any employee or member of his family to proceed to these control points. They are merely points at which the Bureau will render such assistance as it can at the time, where those employees not scheduled for relocation and their families are concerned.

RECOMMENDATION:

That permission be granted to select the necessary control points and prepare and issue appropriate instructions to employees for dissemination to their families.

By memorandum dated 4/29/55 it was recommended, "That permission be granted to select the necessary control points and prepare and issue appropriate instructions to employees for dissemination to their families." This memorandum had to do with broad outlines for the relocation of Bureau personnel and their families during the period of emergency. It pointed out that, "It will not be mandatory for any employee or member of his family to proceed to these control points. They are merely points at which the Bureau will render such assistance as it can at the time, where those employees not scheduled for relocation and their families are concerned." To this the Director inquired, "This should be made quite clear. Just what assistance do you propose to render to these 9,000 persons? H."

We do not propose to provide any physical assistance to the wives and families of the Bureau personnel aside from the dependents of the 173 key personnel who are scheduled for immediate relocation.

Concerning assistance which could be provided for the 9,000 employees and their families, the following proposals are being made: (1) That registration points be located so that employees could register and determine Bureau instructions that may be forthcoming. (2) These points could be possible distribution points for salaries, as well as a center for gathering additional personnel to carry on the Bureau's responsibilities at temporary headquarters. (3) These gathering points could also serve as registration points for Bureau personnel as well as their families, at which forwarding addresses may be left, thus enabling employees and their families who become separated to locate one another. This will also serve as a media through which the Bureau will have knowledge of its employees' whereabouts. (4) These points will serve as a message center for the employees and their families that may become separated, and it will also be a message center for the Bureau to contact or leave messages for additional employees as they register.

It will be noted that these registration points will be used by the employees and their families strictly on a voluntary basis on their part.

Inasmuch as Civil Defense has the primary responsibility for locating evacuees in the period of emergency, a Bureau representative would at these gathering points maintain liaison contact with the local Civil Defense authorities and in turn furnish, where appropriate, information they have received to Bureau employees.

RECOMMENDATION:

By memorandum 5-5-55 it was recommended that an appropriate discreet survey be made looking toward the relocation of appropriate gathering points outside Washington at which Bureau personnel after having been evacuated from Washington could register and receive messages.

In conjunction with the above memorandum the question was raised as to whether the Office of Defense Mobilization had made plans to absorb Bureau and Departmental employees and their dependents within the [ ] which had been allocated to the Department of Justice for relocation purposes.

The Office of Defense Mobilization has allocated to the Department of Justice the counties of [ ]

The Office of Defense Mobilization has advised that it has made no provision for the care, protection or absorption of Department of Justice personnel or their families and that is a function which is the responsibility of Civil Defense. Mr. Terry Harté, Director of Security, Federal Civil Defense Administration, has advised that the question of providing food, shelter and essential needs for evacuees is the responsibility of local Civil Defense organizations and that to date there has been little done by these organizations along this line.

Insofar as the [ ] dependents of the [ ] scheduled for immediate relocation in an emergency are concerned, [ ] has made a survey of public housing facilities available in the [ ] area and has determined that there is a total of [ ] in the area which have a capacity in excess of the [ ] needed by the Bureau. It must be pointed out, however, that the Bureau has made no commitment or arrangement for emergency use of these accommodations. [ ] merely ascertained what is available. It is believed that the dependents of the above [ ] should be advised that unless they have made other plans for their families, they may take them to the [ ] area and there attempt to locate emergency accommodations for them.

As to Bureau personnel other than the [ ] and their dependents the Office of Defense Mobilization has advised that while the [ ] above mentioned, have been allocated to the Department of Justice for relocation purposes, they have no plan for providing the necessities of life for any evacuees within that area since it is the responsibility of local Civil Defense to absorb and provide for evacuees in any area. b7E

Arrangements have been perfected for the Bureau to take over [ ] in an emergency. We do have a direct line from the [ ] a [ ] allocated by the Office of Defense Mobilization to the Department of Justice. It, therefore, appears logical that this site should be used as the focal point for Bureau personnel to register and receive messages should Washington be evacuated. b7E

The Washington Field Office is preparing a recommendation for a relocation site for that office other than [ ] however, it is believed that the Bureau should retain [ ] as a reserve relocation site even though Washington Field is permitted to find another relocation site.

RECOMMENDATION: b7E

(1) That we prepare and distribute to the [ ] evacuees a list of the housing accommodations located by [ ]

(2) That in distribution of the above list we indicate to the evacuees that the Bureau has made no attempt to obtain a commitment from the proprietors of the establishments because of the indefinite nature of the whole evacuation problem but that should conditions become sufficiently bad we could make an approach at that time and attempt to obtain a firm commitment from the proprietors of the establishments in question.

(3) That we plan to use [ ] as the focal registration and message center for those employees and their dependents who are not included within the initial [ ] evacuees. b7E

(4) If the Director agrees to the above recommendations appropriate instructions to Bureau employees will be prepared and a communication will be directed to the Department advising that we would use [redacted] as the focal point for Bureau personnel rather than [redacted] as has been indicated by Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department. The Department is planning to use [redacted] as the rendezvous point for nonessential Departmental employees and their families.

Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department, called me on May 18, 1955, to inquire whether the Bureau would consider having its nonessential personnel report to the same site [redacted] as the Departmental and Immigration and Naturalization Service nonessential personnel in time of an emergency. You may recall that Mr. Airhart had previously inquired whether we were going to have our nonessential personnel, that is personnel who are not scheduled for evacuation to our relocation site and their dependents, report to the [redacted] set aside by Office of Defense Mobilization for Department of Justice personnel. These [redacted] I had told Mr. Airhart that our plans had not crystalized in this respect.

In answer to his inquiry today, I told Mr. Airhart that our plans are not yet complete relative to nonessential personnel and their dependents and that while it is possible that a gathering point may be established for them in this [redacted] area, it would not appear feasible to establish any community site with the Department inasmuch as it may be necessary for us to convert nonessential personnel into essential personnel at a moment's notice. Consequently, such arrangements as we make will probably require a site separate and apart from the Department.

Mr. Airhart stated that Mr. Tompkins had in mind proposing such a community site during the Attorney General's Conference at [redacted] this weekend; however, in view of his conversation with me, Airhart was going to suggest to Tompkins that Tompkins not raise this question at the Conference.

The attached memorandum reflects the status of our relocation planning for our employees.

Mr. Tolson noted on memorandum, entitled as above, dated 5/10/55, relative to the location of focal points for Bureau employees not scheduled for relocation and their dependents, and the care for dependents of employees to be relocated in an emergency as follows: "This should be promptly revised in light of proposed change to relocate at [redacted] T." The Director noted, "yes, H."

There are three basic problems raised in connection with the relocation of personnel, they are as follows:

(1) The [redacted] Bureau employees now scheduled for relocation in an emergency will go to the relocation site. In accordance with the Director's instructions, we are making a survey today of [redacted]

[redacted] and the areas surrounding these communities to ascertain if there is any installation within or near these communities which could be used for Bureau relocation. Every effort is being made to expedite this selection of a new relocation site for the Bureau.

(2) With reference to the dependents of the [redacted] employees scheduled for relocation, the selection of a site to which they may be directed will depend upon where our relocation site is finally established. We will attempt to locate them within a reasonable distance of our emergency relocation site. This will be settled as soon as a relocation site has been fixed. We are in position to designate [redacted] as the relocation point for these [redacted] dependents as we still have an agreement with [redacted] for its use during emergency periods.

(3) The problem of locating a focal point at which those employees not scheduled for relocation and their dependents may register, receive Bureau messages and leave forwarding addresses, will be solved and a point designated when the new relocation site has been designated.

SYNOPSIS:

To implement our war plans, arrangements should be augmented with the various branches of the Armed Forces and the Selective Service System to insure that Special Agents and key clerical personnel of the Bureau are granted occupational deferments in the event of a national emergency. There exists presently an agreement with the various branches of the Armed Forces, except the Air Force, to defer all Special Agents who are members of the reserves in the event of an emergency. The branches of the Armed Forces maintain a current list of our Agents who are members of the reserves. The Air Force maintains no list, but will defer an employee at our request if he has been ordered to active duty. Our present policy for reservists is that any Agent actively participating in military training in the reserves, such as two weeks summer training, the Bureau will not request his deferment in the event he is called to extended active duty. We now request a deferment for an Agent from the local Selective Service System board if he has satisfactorily completed 8 weeks of service. If the local board refuses to grant such deferment, we will request the case be referred to the local Appeal Board. No case at the present time is sent to the Presidential Appeal Board, Agent appointments are not made for those applicants who are active in the reserves or whose induction in the armed forces is imminent.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That the Liaison Section of the Domestic Intelligence Division contact the appropriate officials of Armed Forces and the Selective Service System headquarters for the purpose of ascertaining what procedure will be necessary to insure as far as possible deferment of our Special Agents and key clerical personnel in the event of a national emergency.

That this memorandum be referred to the Liaison Section for their information and appropriate action.

BUREAU WAR PLANS - EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS FOR S.O.G.

DETAILS:

In connection with the general War Plans for the Bureau, it is felt that certain steps should be taken and arrangements made with the various branches of the Armed Forces and Selective Service Headquarters, Washington, D. C., to insure that the Special Agents and key clerical personnel of the Bureau are granted deferments in the event of a national emergency.

Background:

The policy concerning deferment of Bureau personnel during World War II was as follows: In July, 1940, officials of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and National Guard agreed that no Special Agent of the FBI holding a Reserve commission would be called to active duty in case of a national emergency. Further, these men would not be called for temporary duty training periods.

In July, 1941, the Navy advised that FBI men who held Reserve commissions must make request in writing if deferment from active duty was desired, and each case would be judged on individual merits. It was no longer possible to exempt all key men as the Navy needed key men.

Regarding requests for deferment of personnel from serving in the Armed Services under the compulsory draft, the Selective Service Headquarters advised that Special Agents, confidential index and file analysts, laboratory technicians, fingerprint experts, cartographers, physical directors, and code and radio technicians would be granted occupational deferments by the local draft boards upon request for same by the Director, FBI. Deferments would be made for periods of six months and it was necessary to renew request for such deferment at expiration of this period.

Arrangements were made through the National Headquarters, Selective Service System, and the local draft boards to stop voluntary enlistments in Army, Navy, and Marines by individuals who had been granted occupational deferment under the foregoing request. All applications for enlistment had to be approved by the local draft boards and when application was received from an individual who had been deferred for occupational reasons, the local draft board communicated with the Bureau which in turn advised that it desired the individual's application for enlistment not be approved and that he be continued in an occupational deferment status.

Applications for Women's Army Auxiliary Corps were not accepted without Bureau clearance.

During National Emergency which was declared in 1950, deferments were requested from local draft boards for Special Agents who had been in the Bureau's service for periods of 6 months or more. Cases concerning radio communications officers and certain laboratory technicians were judged on individual merit. Special Agents who were members of Reserve components were automatically deferred from active duty with exception of Navy, who judged each case individually. No requests were made for deferment for individuals who elected to remain in an Active duty status. No agents were called by Selective Service System; however, no blanket deferments for Bureau personnel could be made at that time since such arrangements were illegal.

Deferments were requested for clerical employees in Grades GS-6 and above from reserve components and National Guard and local draft boards.

In March, 1951, arrangements were made to provide that lists of Bureau personnel who were members of Reserve components of the Armed Services would be sent to the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. Air Force requested no list as they canceled orders for active duty upon individual request from the Bureau. Monthly communications were forwarded to the above branches of the Armed Services setting forth names of Bureau personnel who should be added or deleted from the original lists. Lists for additions and deletions for clerical deferments were sent to the Department of Defense through the Liaison Section of the Bureau, and all branches of the service were included in one memorandum.

In connection with this deferment of members of reserve units, the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps established a system whereby Bureau personnel who were listed with them under these arrangements were automatically deferred. Most of the arrangements with Armed Forces and Selective Service for the deferment of our personnel were made through the Liaison Section.

Present Bureau Policy:

On July 20, 1954, the following policy was established concerning requests for deferment from active duty with reserve units and from military service under Selective Service System: No requests were made for clerical personnel, and requests were only made for Special Agents with 8 weeks service from the local draft board and the Appeal Board. If the Appeal Board denies the Bureau's request, no further action is taken. Special Agents who are members of the inactive reserves of the various branches of the armed services are still automatically deferred from active duty, and the Bureau continues to advise monthly the names of those individuals who should be added or deleted from the lists maintained by the individual branches of service. Agent appointments are not made to applicants who are active in the reserve units or whose induction in the armed forces is imminent.

By memorandum dated May 9, 1955, from Mr. Travers to Mr. Mohr, it was recommended that the Liaison Section contact appropriate officials of the Armed Forces and Selective Service System Headquarters in an effort to ascertain what procedure would be necessary to insure as far as possible deferment of Bureau Special Agents and key clerical personnel in the event of a national emergency.

On May 16, 1955, Lieutenant Colonel G. R. Evenson, Office of Director of Military Personnel, U. S. Air Force, advised SA D. J. Sullivan that the present procedure followed by the Bureau as far as the Air Force is concerned should be continued. He stated he saw no problems involved in this present procedure.

On June 1, 1955, Lieutenant Colonel Paul M. Hart, Reserve Components Branch, G-2, Department of the Army, advised SA John F. Sullivan that the present system followed by the Bureau regarding deferment of Bureau personnel should be continued.

On June 1, 1955, Lieutenant Commander Adrian V. Lorentson, Bureau of Personnel, U. S. Navy, advised SA Walter F. Woods that no change in the present procedure followed by the Bureau in requesting deferments should be initiated.

On May 31, 1955, Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director, Selective Service System, advised SA D. J. Sullivan that he thought that the present system used by the Bureau and the Selective Service in obtaining deferments for Bureau personnel was working satisfactorily and he saw no need for changing. General Hershey further advised for the Bureau's information that he anticipated in the near future legislation which would place individuals in the age group from 34 on in a more or less permanent deferred category. He also advised that individuals between the ages of 24 and 34 would not be called for service for a period of from 18 to 24 months after the declaration of a national emergency. With reference to individuals in this group, General Hershey stated that he did not anticipate that the Bureau need worry that any Bureau personnel would be called. General Hershey anticipated that individuals in the age group 18 to 24 would suffice to take care of the immediate needs in the event of a national emergency. He stated that he did not think that Bureau personnel on duty as of the time of the declaration of the emergency would be called to duty.

A Washington City News Service release of 5/31/55 indicated that, while the President and top Government officials will leave Washington for the full three-day test beginning at noon June 15, 1955, and closing 6 p.m. June 17, 1955, no Cabinet members will be with the President, but they will go to their own particular relocation sites and that while this national test is underway there will be Civil Defense tests in 50 other American cities.

Mr. John Airhart, relocation co-ordinator of the Department, on 6/1/55 advised that he has recently learned that the National Security Council is planning to hold a Cabinet level meeting at [redacted] during the early stages of the relocation test and that under these circumstances Mr. Airhart will propose to the Attorney General that he, the Attorney General, go directly to [redacted] and thereafter proceed to the Departmental relocation site at [redacted]. Mr. Airhart advised that to that end he has arranged a private office for the Attorney General at the [redacted] site.

Mr. Airhart further advised that for purposes of the June 15 test, the Attorney General will provide his own transportation to the relocation site and that no guard or protective staff of the FBI will be necessary. Mr. Airhart also stated that the Attorney General has set aside the three days, June 15, 16, and 17, for his participation in Operation Alert, 1955, and that it is quite likely that he may visit the FBI relocation site at some time during the three-day period.

Mr. Airhart stated the foregoing has not as yet been approved by the Attorney General but he is certain that Mr. Brownell will go along with his thinking and that he will confirm these plans to the FBI as soon as the Attorney General has agreed.

Mr. Airhart further advised that he has learned from the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) that two ODM inspectors have been assigned to the Department of Justice for purposes of this test. One will accompany the Department and the other will accompany the FBI to their respective relocation sites.

With reference to the Civil Defense tests in 50 other American cities, Federal Civil Defense Administration advised Bureau Liaison Agent this date that some of the cities have not been and will not be advised that they are to take part in

SUBJECT: DREW PEARSON BROADCAST
MAY 21, 1955

Reference is made to your memorandum to Mr. Boardman dated May 23, 1955, regarding the Drew Pearson broadcast of May 21, 1955. Pearson, in commenting on the warning system for the approach of enemy bombers, stated that radio stations will require thirty minutes to switch to emergency frequencies although the switch-over could be made in one minute if Civil Defense had the money to build equipment.

On June 1, 1955, Liaison Agent Bates telephonically contacted Mr. Harry Roderick of the Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) regarding this matter. Mr. Roderick pointed out that the alerts to radio stations during emergencies are under the control of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and the Air Force. He commented that the delay in notifying radio stations to switch to emergency frequencies had been apparent to FCDA in the past. At the present time, the Air Force and FCC do not have "hot line" circuits to all radio stations. This means that to alert all stations there must be a system of chain calling, that is, one station will receive the call and then will relay it to other stations. Therefore, there is some time delay. Mr. Roderick commented that FCDA was somewhat concerned about this but in discussions with the Air Force and FCC it was felt that this delay would be about fifteen minutes.

Although Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) has indicated that each agency should participate in the alert exercise with its full complement of employees scheduled for an actual relocation, the Attorney General on May 19, 1955, approved Bureau participation with only the actual number of people who will be required to carry out our test problems. It is estimated that [redacted] [redacted] the desired 24-hour coverage. If the Director approves, in order that as many of our personnel as possible may gain experience from this test, we will rotate on a daily basis as many of our clerical and supervisory personnel as is feasible. The communications staff and the Bureau officials taking part in the test will remain at [redacted] for the full three-day period.

The exercise, beginning at noon on June 15, will start with a general public alert. All [redacted] Bureau employees scheduled for relocation in an actual emergency will be notified in accordance with established notification procedures and will proceed to the corridor outside [redacted] where they will be checked off. Those scheduled to go to [redacted] or to their personally owned cars, per previous arrangement. All other employees will return to their desks unless Civil Defense orders the temporary evacuation of all Federal and district buildings and the Attorney General desires that we so participate. To date we have received no official instruction on this.

Upon arrival at [redacted] we will carry out the problems which are set forth in detail in the attached memorandum comprising JUN 9 1955 communications tests with all field offices on simulated security situations. They also involve contacts with our Liaison Representatives who will be stationed with designated agencies. Although contacts with Liaison Representatives are a part of several problems which will be worked out each shift, the actual liaison contacts will be held to one per shift with the pertinent Liaison Agent.

Bureau War Plans - Emergency Headquarters For 5.0.6.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

We have not yet been informed by ODM of the sequence of nation wide activity within the framework of which the participating agencies of the Government will be expected to perform their so-called essential wartime functions. The Bureau's problems will be operated on a shift-by-shift basis. In addition to handling the exercise problems involved in the test, the supervisory personnel of the [redacted] who will be participating in the test at [redacted] will, if time permits, review correspondence from the field and, where necessary, make file reviews in connection with the Security Index survey which is currently in progress at the Seat of Government. This is a performance of regular Bureau work and would be in compliance with ODM instructions that participating agencies should perform such normal functions in addition to their exercise problems as is feasible. The necessary files and correspondence will be taken to [redacted] for this purpose.

b7E

b7E

If and when the ODM submits the sequence of operational activity for this exercise, it will be carefully reviewed and appropriate revisions, where necessary, will be made in our plan. All phases of this test will be carried out in as realistic a manner as is possible under the circumstances in order that we may gain as much experience as is possible from this test.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That we conduct this test by retaining the officials and communications staff at [redacted] and bring in a new subordinate staff (clerks, stenographers and Agent supervisors) for each 12-hour shift, thus acquainting additional personnel with relocation activity.

b7E

(2) If the problems outlined in the attached memorandum are approved the field will be appropriately notified in advance of the test.

There is submitted herewith a plan for the three-day relocation test (June 15, 16, 17). There are, however, certain unknown factors which will affect any plans that are devised at this time. The Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), which organization is supervising this test exercise, has not as yet completed the "sequence of operational play for the exercise" which is the ODM's actual plan of operation. In addition thereto, although G-2, ONI, OSI, CIA, State Department, and the White House have indicated that they have devised no problems which would involve the FBI in any way, Mr. William Boleyn, Bureau of the Budget, who will inspect our operations as an ODM representative, has indicated that certain problems will be presented to each agency participating in the test. Mr. Boleyn had no information on the problems which may be presented to the FBI. Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department of Justice, has indicated that as yet the Department has no problem which would involve the FBI; however, he stated that they have not completed all their problems which they plan to use during the course of the operation. Problems may also be presented by other agencies growing out of assumed damage assessments to the various cities throughout the United States. Mr. Airhart has indicated that the Attorney General has set aside the entire three days for his participation in this test. He anticipates that the Attorney General will be at [redacted] for a Cabinet level meeting at 12 Noon or shortly thereafter on Wednesday, June 15, and that thereafter he will be at the Department relocation site, [redacted]. Mr. Airhart advised that he was certain that sometime during the three-day period, the Attorney General would visit the FBI relocation site at [redacted] and that he, Airhart, also anticipated visiting [redacted] sometime during the test to observe operations since he had been instructed by the Attorney General to prepare an over-all summary of Departmental operations during this test. b7E test the operational readiness of Federal agencies to carry out essential wartime functions from their respective relocation sites. Each agency is to participate in the test of its essential functions with the maximum number of personnel scheduled for relocation, the number of personnel to be determined by the head of the agency. The test is to start at 12 Noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time) June 15, and to continue on a full-time operation until 6 p.m., June 16; and from 6 p.m. June 16, to 9 a.m. June 17, a skeleton communications staff is to be available. Full operations are to resume at 9 a.m. June 17, and continue to 6 p.m. that date, with the last few hours of the day being devoted to the preparation of an evaluation of the test. Each agency participating was to submit an outline of problems and plans to handle during the course of the test.

By memorandum dated May 17, 1955, the broad outline of problems involving notification to essential personnel, assembly of personnel, transportation of personnel to the relocation site, a test of the effectiveness of communications established at our relocation site, and testing certain aspects of our essential wartime security programs, the Attorney General was advised that while this outline was being submitted to him for relay to ODM, per his request, we did not plan to engage in any widespread ramifications of the problems involving the detention of enemy aliens and the detention of Security Index subjects, but would propose the problems to selected field offices using substituted messages for implementation of the programs. The Attorney General's comments were requested as to whether this Bureau should participate with the maximum number of personnel scheduled for relocation or in view of security requirements, with only those employees needed to carry out the problems involved. The Attorney General returned the original of Bureau memorandum of May 17, 1955, and indicated thereon that in view of security requirements we should participate with only those personnel needed to carry out the problems involved.

PERSONNEL

To insure continuity of the over-all operation and complete and proper handling of the Bureau problems as well as the problems which may be presented by other agencies, at least those employees and officials at a policy-making level representing each Section and Division participating in this test, should remain at the relocation site for the entire period.

three-day period, a better showing for the Inspector present is anticipated and it is believed that it would enable the Bureau to more expeditiously and effectively handle the problems presented to the Bureau by outside agencies. Other than the Bureau officials, employees at a policy-making level and communications employees, all others taking part in this operation could rotate on a day-to-day basis. This would include stenographers as well as clerical and Agent supervisory personnel. This rotation of personnel would take place on an approximate 12-hour basis, which is the schedule we anticipate working in actual emergency conditions.

Those people who will remain at [redacted] during the entire three-day period include both male and female personnel. [redacted] will build a temporary but secure partition across the third floor corridor at a point which will allow ample sleeping and bathroom accommodations for the female employees at one end of the building and similar facilities for the male participants at the other end of the corridor. All bathroom facilities will be clearly marked for male or female occupancy.

It is contemplated that Messrs. Nichols and Boardman will remain in Washington in charge of Bureau operations at Seat of Government (SOG). However, a courier service between Washington and [redacted] will be set up to insure that the Director, Mr. Tolson and other officials who may be at [redacted] will have access to Bureau records, get correspondence which they must necessarily handle, and to deliver to the relocation site such files and records as will be needed during the test. There will be no Mail Room or Reading Room set up at [redacted] for the purposes of this test. All mail designated for outside SOG will be returned to Washington by courier service and handled through the Bureau Mail Room in Justice Building.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

It is estimated that a total of [ ] people plus the Director and Mr. Tolson will be needed to carry out the Bureau's problems and handle any incoming requests from other agencies for any [ ]

b7E

[ ] In addition thereto Mr. Boardman has indicated that he would like Mr. Scatterday and one of the clerical employees in his office to be at the relocation site during one of the three days of operation. Mr. Mohr has indicated that he and his secretary would be at the relocation site during a portion of the exercise.

THE EXERCISE

The exercise will begin by receipt of a simulated alert on public sirens and over the building alerting system. Upon receipt of the alert the previously established Chain of Command Notification system will be placed into effect and for purposes of this alert it will include notification to the Attorney General, if available, and to the first two available in the Departmental Chain of Command. All [ ] Bureau personnel or their alternates scheduled for relocation in an actual alert will assemble in the corridor outside [ ] where they will be checked in and accounted for. Those who are scheduled to go to [ ] for purposes of this test with the initial group will proceed to their personally owned cars, if they have previously indicated they would use them, others will be directed to the [ ] which will take the participants to [ ] for this test. All other employees will be instructed to return to their respective desks. There is indication that Civil Defense will require all Federal and district buildings to be evacuated for a short period of time following the simulated alert. Upon receipt of official information on this point, which we understand is forthcoming from the Department, a separate memorandum will be submitted. Those Liaison Agents scheduled to relocate with the agencies with which they normally do business will proceed to the relocation site of those agencies which are participating in this test operation. Each Agent who will accompany another agency has been given the telephone and teletype numbers of the Bureau's relocation site at [ ] and the telephone and teletype numbers of agencies participating in the test are set forth in [ ]

b7E

In addition to those problems which will be presented to us by other agencies participating in the program, the following problems will be carried out by Bureau employees in the relocation site during June 15, 16 and 17:

Internal Security Section

Exercise Problems And Work

Assumption: No attack has taken place, that Washington is intact, but situation is critical and a partial relocation has been ordered.

There are listed hereinafter the simulated exercise problems of the Internal Security Section as well as actual Bureau work which will be performed on the days indicated. All messages to the field regarding the exercise problems will be simulated for security reasons and upon receipt of replies from the field, this section at the relocation site will fully carry out the problem as if it was a real one insofar as action within the Bureau is concerned. In addition to the simulated problems which will be carried out over the exercise period, active Bureau mail concerning the Security Index review presently being conducted in the field will be taken or delivered to [redacted] where it will be processed in the same manner as being presently done at the Bureau. All personnel when not actively engaged in the exercise problems will be fully occupied in handling the Security Index review memoranda.

This processing will include the preparation of memoranda and communications to the field when necessary. In conducting such reviews it will be necessary to have available the files in all instances where the field is recommending retention of a Security Index subject's name in order that the file can be completely reviewed before approval. This will necessitate the movement of files to and from [redacted] by messenger service.

In addition, one clerical employee is scheduled for participation in the exercise. When this employee is not engaged in matters relating to the simulated problems she will be actually checking the duplicate Security Index at [redacted] against the current Security Index list prepared by the Statistical Section. This duty will enable the employee to be fully occupied and at the same time performing necessary Bureau work.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1955

1. Warning To Field Offices

Immediately upon arrival at [ ] a warning communication will be dispatched to all offices to simulate planned procedures in advising the offices that a critical emergency exists. No reply will be necessary. In order to test communications, the communications will be transmitted by teletype, radio or telephone. The following message will be sent: "Uncap. This is a test of communications under emergency conditions. No reply is necessary re this test."*

b7E

2. Institution Of Emergency Detention Program

A. Contact will be made with the Attorney General at [ ] for advice as to whether the following documents have been signed which would institute the Emergency Detention Program:

1. Presidential Proclamation suspending the Writ of Habeas Corpus and authorizing arrests and/or searches under the Program.
2. Master Warrant of Arrest authorizing the arrest of all individuals listed in the Security Index.
3. Master Search Warrant authorizing the search of premises presently listed for search under this warrant.
4. Instructions to the Director to proceed with the arrests and/or searches under the Program.

The contact with the Attorney General of course will be simulated for security reasons and will merely test emergency communications. If we are unable to reach the Attorney General attempts will be made to contact any one of the first five individuals in the chain of command of the Department at [ ]

b7E

*After communications are sent a memorandum will be prepared reflecting the time necessary to make contact with and transmit the message to all offices.

The institution of the Emergency Detention Program as outlined in the Attorney General's Portfolio will be based on the execution of the four documents mentioned above which will be the authority needed by the Bureau to proceed with the arrests and/or searches.

B. From [ ] contact will be made with the Statistical Section in the Identification Building to request the immediate preparation of an up-to-date list of Security Index subjects. Two lists will be prepared; one will list all Security Index subjects alphabetically, except those in the Special Section of the Security Index, and the other will list all Security Index subjects by field office, except those in the Special Section. The Special Section contains separate breakdowns for United States Government Employees, Foreign Government Employees, United Nations Employees, Espionage Subjects and Pro-tito Yugoslavs.

It will be requested that the lists be delivered to [ ] as expeditiously as possible and a check will be made as to the time required to prepare the lists and deliver them to the relocation sight.

C. A list of the premises scheduled for search under the Master Search Warrant will be available at [ ]. The identities of these premises are also in the possession of the Department.

D. After contact has been made with the Attorney General and it has been simulated that the Emergency Detention Program has been authorized, a message will be sent to all offices to simulate instructions to start the Emergency Detention Program. The following message will be sent:

All offices will be specifically advised in the communication as to the means of communication by which they should reply. This will be broken down equally to test the three methods.* During this test it will be necessary to reach distant offices by radio by means of relaying the message from [redacted] inasmuch as the [redacted]

Upon receipt of the replies from the fifty-two offices a memorandum will be prepared for the Director showing the times the messages were received in each field office, the times attempts were made to recontact [redacted] and the times the messages were actually received at [redacted]

b7E

*Telephone, teletype or radio.

3. Subjects in the Special Section of the Security Index

Upon receipt of the up-to-date Special Section of the Security Index list the following action will be taken:

The Espionage Section will be advised of the identity of foreign Government employees, United Nations employees, Espionage subjects and pro-Tito Yugoslavs.

The Espionage Section will determine the identities of the foreign Government employees who are employed by enemy nations in order that their names may be included under the Master Warrant of Arrest. Foreign Government employees on the Security Index who are employees of friendly nations will be presented to the State Department for advice re the arrests. This will be simulated by the contact from [ ] to the Liaison Agent assigned to the State Department provided State Department representatives are not at [ ]. The Espionage Section will simulate advising the State Department of the identity of United Nations employees who will be apprehended and whose names will be included in the Master Warrant of Arrest.

b7E

The Espionage Section will determine the identities of Espionage subjects in the Special Section who can be arrested without interfering with active Espionage cases.

The Espionage Section will simulate consideration of pro-Tito Yugoslavs in the Special Section by contact with the State Department to determine Tito's position in emergency and the action regarding arrests to be taken.

All the above situations will be simulated and no facts will be given to the State Department other than a communications test with our Liaison Agent.

The Internal Security Section will simulate advising all Government agencies through appropriate liaison communications tests to simulate the action that we would take under an actual emergency in advising that the United States Government employees will be apprehended.

4. Movement of Special Agent Personnel

A memorandum will be prepared for Mr. Belmont furnishing a copy of the latest Security Index Statistical List for field offices for routing to the Administrative Division for their use in case Special Agent personnel must be reallocated due to emergency conditions. It is not contemplated that Special Agent personnel will be reallocated in view of the fact that field offices are using police officials to make arrests. However, an actual attack or emergency situation might precipitate such a necessity. help

5. Sabotage-Communist Infiltration of Labor Section

A memorandum will be prepared recommending the setting up of a new Sabotage-Communist Infiltration of Labor Section and personnel assigned to this matter will prepare teletype instructions for field offices regarding possible sabotage and advising all offices to make arrangements to keep in contact with appropriate officials at key facilities, Procli (Protection of Classified Information) plants, Prosab (Protection of Strategic Air Command Bases) bases and military installations in order that sabotage matters can be promptly reported to the Bureau. This work will only be simulated and no communications on the point will leave

6. Prominent Individuals in the Professional Fields

A memorandum will be prepared listing the thirty individuals concerning whom we have had correspondence with the Department as to inclusion of their names in the Security Index. Seven of the individuals are not in the Security Index and we have been following the Department for advice as to whether their names should be included. Twenty-three of the individuals were approved for the Security Index by the Department prior to the adoption of the new criteria for the Security Index. We have reviewed the

To date no reply has been received.

The memorandum will recommend to Mr. Belmont that these thirty specific cases be taken up with the Department for advice concerning arrests. The actual contact with the Department will be simulated by a telephone contact to the Department's relocation center at [REDACTED]

b7E

7. Security Index Subjects Out of the Country

A list of the names of individuals on the Security Index who are "out of the country" will be prepared including birth dates, race, sex and office of origin. This list will be prepared for transmittal to all offices by airtel to advise them that the individuals are "out of the country;" that offices having ports of entry of any type should furnish the list to the Immigration and Naturalization Service and Customs offices in order that appropriate stops can be made; that offices of origin should immediately determine if the subject has returned to this country and that if an individual is identified by any office, immediate arrest should be made but that if there is a question as to identity, the checking office should immediately request for the identifying data from the office of origin and advise the Bureau.

The card will be refiled in a new section of the Security Index marked "Apprehension Subjects" under a heading "United States Government Employees." The filing of the Security Index cards for subjects apprehended will be handled in the same manner as the regular Index is handled today.

9. Special Problems at Boston, Miami, New Orleans and San Francisco

An arrest problem will be sent to the Boston, Miami, New Orleans and San Francisco Offices to simulate the arrest of regular subjects in the Security Index. Problems will be sent by teletype advising that it is a test of communications and that those offices should actually conduct a test of contact with representatives of ONI and Coast Guard where representatives are located in their divisions and submit replies by teletype furnishing the same information concerning times of contacts as indicated under the [REDACTED]

Dummy Security Index cards will be handled in the same manner as outlined in the [REDACTED]

10. Availability Checks With Field Offices

The following field offices will be contacted during the day by radio, telephone or teletype and requested to make actual availability checks of all Special Agent personnel. The request for such a check will be made of the Atlanta, Cincinnati, Kansas City and Minneapolis Offices during the regular working hours and a check of the Anchorage, Seattle, Denver and San Diego Offices during the evening hours.

Replies will be requested by the same type of communication by which the original message was sent showing in each instance:

- (1) The time the message was received in the field office.
- (2) The time required to contact [REDACTED] of the Special Agent personnel in headquarters city.
- (3) The time required to contact [REDACTED] Special Agent personnel in the headquarters city.
- (4) The time the first attempt to recontact [REDACTED] was made.

b7E

An over-all memorandum showing the results of the above availability checks will be prepared.

11. Statistics Re Arrests During the Day

A memorandum will be prepared for the Director at the close of the day reporting the identities of individuals arrested during that period. A copy of this memorandum will be designated for Mr. Nichols for his information. Subjects whose names are listed in the Special Section of the Security Index will be so identified.

In addition a memorandum will be prepared for the Attorney General furnishing the identities of the individuals apprehended during the day. This memorandum will be actually prepared but, of course, will not be disseminated from [redacted]

FRIDAY - JUNE 17, 1955

12. Special Problem at [redacted]

An arrest problem will be transmitted to [redacted]

On receipt of a reply from [redacted] contact will be made with our Liaison Representative for him to [redacted] at its relocation site. This Problem, of course, will be entirely simulated insofar as information going outside of the Bureau is concerned.

b7E

Dummy Security Index cards will be handled in the same manner as outlined in the [redacted]

13. Special Problems at Detroit, Chicago, and Pittsburgh

An arrest problem will be sent to Detroit, Chicago, and Pittsburgh to test teletype communications. The offices will be instructed to make test communications with ONI, G-2 and INS. Replies will be submitted furnishing the same information concerning times of contacts as indicated under the [redacted] (#8 above).

On receipt of replies, the dummy Security Index cards will be handled in the Security Index as has been indicated above.

14. Statistics Re Apprehensions Made to Date

Upon the receipt of the replies of all arrests simulated for this date, memoranda will be prepared for the Director and the Attorney General advising of the total number of arrests that have been completed under the test program as well as all identities of all individuals apprehended to date. A copy of the memorandum to the Director will be immediately routed to Mr. Nichols for his information.

15. Over-All Evaluation of the Program

The complete over-all evaluation of the three-day exercise will be made by the Internal Security Section.

Espionage Section Problems

The Espionage Section problems will fall in two categories. First are the intra-FBI communications tests. These will be repeated on each shift with different offices.

b7E

The communications problems to be carried out on each shift with Bureau field offices are as follows:

b7E

During the five shifts, the following offices will participate: For the day shift on June 15, Boston, Albany, Buffalo and Cleveland. For the night shift of the 15th, Detroit, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Louisville. For the day shift on the 16th, Knoxville, Memphis, Little Rock, Oklahoma City. Night shift, 16th, Dallas, San Antonio, Houston, New Orleans. Day shift, June 17th, Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Omaha.

*All these agencies might not be notified in reality but this offers communication test for Liaison.

We will furnish telephone notification to the Secretary of State that the Bureau's part in the program has been completed. Confirming memoranda for the Attorney General and the Secretary will be prepared.

Federal Civil Defense Administration has indicated that 50 cities throughout the United States and its territories will participate in Operation Alert, 1955 (June 15, 16, and 17). You are to advise by return Airtel as to the planning taking place in your city for this exercise. You should include therein whether you will be required to relocate during the test and if so what arrangements, if any, have been made to occupy your site and indicate what communications facilities will be immediately available to you should the Bureau find it necessary to make contact with you at the emergency site.

At approximately 3:30 p.m., 6-1-55, Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator for the Department of Justice, telephonically advised SA McArdle that Mr. William Boleyn of the Bureau of the Budget was in his office. Mr. Airhart advised that Boleyn will represent the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Bureau of the Budget as the inspector of the FBI relocation test on June 15, 16, and 17, 1955.

Mr. Boleyn advised McArdle and Airhart that he has been handling the Department of Justice and FBI accounts at the Bureau of the Budget and is known to Assistant Director Mohr and Inspector Callahan. He further advised that he will have to stay with the FBI during the test and that while there he will be interested in observing, among other things, our relocation plans; the manner in which we conduct our essential wartime functions under sustained alert conditions and our ability to conduct test problems under attack conditions. He stated that he will be interested in whether or not we will be able to carry out our problems effectively and if not, why not. Mr. Boleyn indicated that between now and June 15, he would like to meet with the official in the FBI who is responsible for the over-all coordination of our emergency plan and, at that time, would make known more detailed information as to the specific points in which he would be interested.

Mr. Boleyn was advised that unfortunately the Assistant Director, under whose supervision our emergency plan was being developed, was out of town, but on his return, arrangements would be made for them to meet and discuss the problems involved. Mr. Boleyn advised he could be reached on Code 189, extension 497.

ACTION:

Mr. Boleyn will be called and appointment arranged when Mr. Belmont returns to Washington.

It is to be noted that the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) is operating an inspection team in order to determine if the 30 key agencies in the Executive Branch of government are operating in accordance with the standards set out in ODM and FCDA's instructions. Concerning this, Mr. William Elloitt, Security Officer, ODM, advised Walter F. Woods, Liaison Section, on May 19, 1955, that the inspection team does not intend to "inspect" either the Central Intelligence Agency or the Bureau's facilities. He advised, however, that it is entirely possible that Joseph Musick of ODM, who is not a member of the inspection team may, during the June 15, 16, 17 period, contact the relocation sites of both CIA and FBI.

Mr. Musick has been a contact of the Liaison Section for several years and has been extremely helpful to the Bureau's Liaison representatives. His present assignment in ODM is that of Assistant to Lieutenant General Willard S. Paul, Deputy Director, ODM. According to Mr. Elliott, Musick will in all probability merely inspect the site and will in no way attempt to cause embarrassment by posing a hypothetical problem.

TELETYPE

Teletype communications were adequate. Messages were handled expeditiously. We had only one delay; a six minute delay in transmitting a message to Boston because their machine was busy at the time.

In a real evacuation where we would be trying to contact all of our field divisions, our two teletype (TWX) machines most likely would not be adequate. We feel we would need at least one more TWX machine, identical to the present circuits. We would need one leased teletype circuit between the Bureau's relocation site and the Bureau's main radio installation backed up by radio teletype facilities between the above locations.

CODE

Coding and decoding facilities functioned in a very satisfactory manner. No problems nor delays were encountered.

Equipment is adequate but space is entirely inadequate, especially if additional teletype equipment is to be installed. The coding personnel would need a space comparable to but separate from that now used for teletype and coding facilities. The space should be adjacent to the teletype facilities.

TELEPHONE

Telephone communications were handled quickly and satisfactorily. The switchboard at [REDACTED] in the afternoon did not receive the ring from [REDACTED] on the [REDACTED] leased telephone line, although we did receive the ring in the morning. The ring is received on the board actually by a light on the board. No audible sound is received. This will be corrected. One of the switchboard cords became inoperative but did not impair the overall efficiency of the board. This minor item will also be corrected. 66-17381-821

This cryptographic material was supplied to us June 2, 1955, for use by the Bureau in the above captioned evacuation test. One additional copy of the manual "Communications Security For CAPCOMM (KAG-8/TSEC, No. 57)" is being retained temporarily in the Cryptanalysis-Translation Section.

The manual "Communications Security for CAPCOMM" sets forth communications security provisions required by the National Security Agency for this test. All employees connected with the code work in this test should be thoroughly familiar with this manual and all other cryptomaterial listed above.

Two pocket cipher pads, one for enciphering and one for deciphering, are intended for use as a back-up system. These are one-time letter pads and use an enciphering card similar to our use of letter pads with the Australian Security Intelligence Organization. Instructions are bound inside the pads.

O.C. On the afternoon of June 7, 1955, I spoke to Mr. William Boleyn, of the Bureau of the Budget, who will represent the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Bureau of the Budget as the inspector of the FBI relocation test on June 15, 16 and 17, 1955.

Mr. Boleyn advised that it was impossible for him to get together with me at this time because of certain urgent deadline work at the Bureau of the Budget; however, he would call me at the earliest possible moment to arrange a meeting, probably on Thursday morning, June 9. I told him I was available at any time he could make it.

I inquired whether Mr. Boleyn had any particular problems in order that we might prepare for our discussion in advance. He said there were none--that he would be following an inspector's manual furnished him by the Office of Defense Mobilization. I told him we would be glad to look over the inspector's manual in order that we would be in a position to answer any questions. He thought this was a good idea, and arrangements were made for Liaison to pick up the manual this afternoon (June 7) so that we can go over it preparatory to our meeting on Thursday morning.

ACTION:

We will look over this manual and advise you of any problems in connection therewith.

You will be advised of the results of the conference with Mr. Boleyn on Thursday morning.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

Each employee on arrival at [ ] will sign an appropriate register and will sign out on same on his return to Washington. In addition, each employee will be required to sign divisional sign-in, sign-out registers just as is done at the Seat of Government, and it will be the responsibility of the representative of each division to call the time and attendance clerk at the Seat of Government of each division on Friday morning to bring the time and attendance records up to date.

All employees should be impressed with the seriousness of this operation and be instructed to refrain from frivolity. In the event you feel that there will not be sufficient work in connection with the test operation to keep all employees busy while they are on duty, additional work should be taken from the Seat of Government. Courier Service will be available to bring files and records to and from the Seat of Government. Each employee should know where to go when they get there and be thoroughly familiar with their assignment and what is expected of them.

Office of Defense Mobilization instructions specifically set forth that families are not to visit employees participating in this exercise at the relocation site. However, there is no objection to participating employees advising their immediate adult dependents that they will be at the relocation site for the three-day period and, if necessary, in case of an emergency they can be contacted by calling the individual in charge of their division at the Seat of Government who will arrange for the employee in question to contact their dependents. b7E

In addition to those individuals who will remain for the three-day period, there will be eleven individuals from the Domestic Intelligence Division going down Wednesday morning, June 15, who will return Wednesday evening. In addition thereto, eleven individuals will proceed to [ ] on Thursday and Friday morning and return each evening. This trip will be made by [ ] leaving the 9th Street side of the Justice Building at 9 a.m., on Thursday and Friday afternoon. These individuals will not be paid per diem and can purchase their lunch at [ ] for 75¢ each day. It will be the responsibility of each Section Chief to advise those individuals who are scheduled to participate in this exercise on a rotation basis, i.e., going to [ ] in the morning and returning in the evening.

RECOMMENDATION:

We received a copy of the Treasury Department's final emergency disbursement plan Thursday, June 9, 1955, at a conference held in the office of Mr. [ ] in the Department of Justice. This is a much more simplified plan than that contained in the rough draft originally secured from the Treasury Department. It is presently being studied by the Budget and Voucher Units of this Division and by the Statistical Section of the Records and Communications Division. As soon as this study has been completed, the over-all plan will be submitted to you for examination.

It was indicated by Mr. [ ] at the meeting in his office that some changes have already been proposed in the plan issued by the Treasury Department; and he stated that as soon as such revisions were available, he would pass them along.

At 2:45 p.m. on June 13, 1955, Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator for the Department, came to see Supervisor McArdle and me.

He advised that the Attorney General's plans as of now are to leave by his automobile for [ ] upon the alert at 12:05 p.m., June 15. The Attorney General will leave [ ] about 8:30 p.m. and go to [ ] where he will stay overnight and thereafter proceed in the morning to [ ] for the NSC conference. The Attorney General plans to return to Washington the afternoon of June 16; however, Airhart believes that a further meeting on June 16 or June 17 or both will be called at [ ] and he doubts that the Attorney General will return to Washington on June 16. Rankin will go with the Attorney General to [ ] and stay there as liaison officer. Deputy Attorney General Rogers and Tompkins will go to [ ] Olney is out of town.

General Swing is going to fly his personnel to [ ] in an INS plane.

Airhart said that the Department's nucleus staff at [ ] will be increased the night of June 14 and during the morning of June 15 because he understands that ODM (Office of Defense Mobilization) will be sending messages to the relocation centers of the various agencies probably starting at 8:30 a.m., June 15. Taking this into account, I propose that we send a nucleus staff capable of handling communications and problems which may arise during the morning to [ ] to arrive there by 7:00 p.m., June 14. This would include 1 radio operator, 2 code clerks, 2 teletype operators, 1 telephone operator, Mr. Wherry, to handle communications, and Section Chiefs Baumgardner, Branigan and Roach, and Supervisors Whitson and Cox with 2 stenographers to handle any operation problems that may arise. The remainder of the Bureau personnel will depart as scheduled shortly after 10:00 a.m., June 15.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

As noted in Mr. McGuire's memorandum of June 13, a teletype to receive messages from Civil Defense has been installed at [redacted]. This, together with mysterious ODM problems, indicates a strong possibility that we will be receiving messages that certain major cities have been bombed out.

b7E

It is not possible for our field offices to activate their relocation sites for a test such as this because many of the relocation sites are colleges, hotels, private business institutions, etc., which will turn over their quarters to us in an emergency but not for war games. I feel the Bureau should have the protection of being able to communicate with each field office at a simulated relocation site during this test. Consequently, there is attached a teletype to all field offices instructing that a Resident Agency near the relocation site be manned during the test period on a continuous basis and that the Bureau be notified by return teletype of the Resident Agency to be used and the names of the Agent personnel who will man it and the telephone number.

Airhart further stated that the Department had received envelopes from the Federal Civil Defense Administration purported to depict bomb damage in geographical areas which envelopes are not to be opened until after the alert on June 15 at the relocation site. Airhart said he would furnish a set of these envelopes on June 14 for our assistance.

ACTION:

If you agree, personnel as indicated above will be sent to arrive at [redacted] at 7 p.m., June 14 to act as a nucleus force.

Walter Yeagley of the Department on the evening of June 10, 1955, advised that as part of the agenda during the June 15, 16 and 17, 1955, relocation test, there is scheduled a National Security Council meeting on Thursday, June 16, 1955, at 10 A.M. at [redacted]. He did not know just where the meeting would be held at [redacted]. He said this will be a regular NSC meeting and one of the items on the agenda is the status report on Continental Defense Planning. He pointed out that the IIC and the ICIS have submitted a status report on this subject and it is possible, therefore, that the Director might be invited to attend. He said that notification to attend the NSC meeting will probably be made on Wednesday, June 15, 1955 during the alert. He said there was no indication so far that the Director would be invited but he wanted to let us know in advance of the possibility.

This item concerns the semiannual status report on Continental Defense Planning which is the responsibility of the National Security Council staff. A joint report was submitted several weeks ago by IIC and ICIS covering the interests of those two agencies. IIC has only a small interest as the majority of the planning is the responsibility of the Defense Department. Our interest concerns the status of the plan to use detection devices at certain U.S. ports of entry to detect the entry of fissionable material; and the fact that we have extended our coverage of Soviet and satellite officials in accordance with the desires of the National Security Council. We consider it unlikely that the Director will be invited to attend this meeting.

On the morning of June 14, 1955, Mr. William Boleyn, Bureau of the Budget, who will represent Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) as the inspector for captioned exercise at [redacted] on June 15, 16, 17 called at the Bureau and sought information relative to whether the Bureau had an established Chain of Command, the sufficiency of our records at the relocation site, and the extent of Bureau war planning.

Mr. Boleyn was informed that the Bureau did have a Chain of Command both at Seat of Government and at the field level and that each Division at the Seat of Government had a Chain of Command within the Division. A general summary of the records available at Quantico was given to Mr. Boleyn by Mr. Belmont.

Mr. Boleyn was also given information as to the extent of our war planning both at the Seat of Government and in the field. This briefing included an outline of the general format of field office war plans including Chain of Command, relocation site, communications, confidential records, and in addition thereto he was informed that all individuals at all levels who had specific assignments in connection with the Bureau war plans were familiar with these assignments and that they would need no last minute briefing as to what was expected of them in an emergency.

Mr. Boleyn appeared to be quite pleased with the extent and completeness of Bureau war planning and stated that his report would reflect very favorably on our war planning.

In connection with the relocation of key personnel on Wednesday, June 15, 1955, Mr. Philcox of Liaison has confirmed arrangements with the White House. He has been invited by the White House to accompany key personnel of the White House staff to the President's relocation site at Camp David, Thurmont, Maryland. While at Camp David he can be reached by merely calling the White House switchboard. The person making the call should not ask for Camp David but should merely call the White House switchboard and ask for Mr. Philcox and the caller will automatically be connected with him at Camp David.

The White House personnel are planning to leave Camp David to return to Washington about noon, Friday June 17, 1955, at which time Philcox will return to the Bureau.

Lieutenant General Willard Paul, USA (retired), Assistant to Doctor Flemming, Director, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), advised Walter F. Woods, Liaison Section, on June 13, 1955, that some time Wednesday afternoon, June 15, there would be a meeting at [redacted] (ODM relocation site) of the Inter-assembly Group. This group, organized for this test will consist of the President and approximately 25 cabinet officers and high-ranking military personnel. The President will preside at this meeting and, according to General Paul, Assistant Attorney General Tompkins will represent the Department of Justice. The purpose of this meeting is not known to General Paul but he assumes that it is being held to draft problems for various agencies during the test. He also assumes that the question of availability during the three-day period of key government officials will be stressed at this meeting.

Mr. William Elliott, Security Officer, ODM, advised Woods that Dr. Flemming had issued specific instructions to those individuals working on hypothetical test problems to not, under any circumstances, reveal to anyone the problems to be posed. This includes inquiries from the White House, as it is Dr. Flemming's opinion that this is a test for every agency to see where if any "loop holes" exist. Mr. Elliott advised that it is contemplated that the President will remain in [redacted] for dinner on Wednesday and then proceed directly to Camp David. Mr. Elliott informed that 36 cabinet officers and military leaders will proceed to [redacted] Wednesday by helicopter.

It was discreetly ascertained that officials of ODM have no knowledge as to the simulated dropping of a bomb on Washington, D. C. at 2:33 p. m. on June 15, but that such a possibility should not be overlooked. Mr. Elliott advised that Dr. Flemming is extremely enthusiastic about this test and is most anxious to ferret out any flaws in the war plans of any agency. Mr. Elliott advised that to his knowledge the test problem is predicated on the theory that the continental U. S. has been bombed and not in problems wherein the U. S. may be at war abroad.

Mr. James O'Donnell of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company today advised Mr. McGuire that the Bureau's order for a new teletype machine and circuit to be installed [redacted] was being expedited and had been planned to be installed today; however, in view of the last minute rush by other Government agencies the Telephone Company was pressured for personnel and time. O'Donnell told me they had the equipment earmarked for us and would not be able to get it in today and wondered if it would be satisfactory to bring it down over the weekend and have it installed as they want to give the Bureau a top priority order. O'Donnell stated he could have it delivered by a crew [redacted] between 3:00 and 4:00 p.m. tomorrow, Saturday, and have it completely hooked up by 7:00 o'clock.

I told him by all means to do this. I subsequently advised [redacted] in order that the Communications Officer [redacted] can be advised that there will be work done down there by the Telephone Company on our teletype equipment late tomorrow afternoon.

All employees participating in captioned exercise, when boarding the Bureau bus and when entering the FBI Academy at [redacted] will be required to identify themselves with the regular Bureau credentials carried by Special Agents and officials, by radio operators' credentials, and by the clerical identification passes carried by other employees. Certain of the plastic clerical identification badges have the red seal of the FBI on them whereas others have the blue seal. *

There are 399 red-seal clerical passes now in existence at Seat of Government and Washington Field Office. These red-seal passes were designed to comply with the request of the Civil Defense Agency of Washington, D. C., at a time when there was no assurance that Bureau personnel would be permitted freedom of movement during a period of emergency and Mr. Fondahl, Director, Civil Defense, Washington, D. C., agreed that Agents' credentials would, of course, be honored and clerical employees carrying badges with a red seal thereon would also be permitted freedom of movement during a period of emergency.

Federal Civil Defense has since requested all local Civil Defense organizations to honor all Bureau credentials and clerical passes as long as the photograph of the bearer and the signature of the Director is affixed thereto. Mr. Fondahl was recently contacted relative to the red-seal badge situation and requested that it be continued. All SACs have contacted their local and state Civil Defense directors and have reported that Civil Defense agencies will honor Bureau credentials and passes of all kinds.

Liaison Agent Bates made discreet inquiry on the morning of June 14 of Mr. Lester Boykin of Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) regarding sealed instructions to the various agencies. Mr. Boykin stated he would check. He called back and said that one set of instructions was sent to Mr. John C. By letter dated May 16, 1955, to the Heads of All Departments and Agencies, the President directed that each department and agency of the Executive Branch of the Government cooperate fully with Civil Defense authorities in compliance with their instructions concerning Civil Defense exercises. Mr. Andretta of the Department by letter dated June 3, 1955, advised that plans were being made for the evacuation of the Justice Building with a "curb" drill in compliance with the Presidential Directive mentioned above. The Department of Justice furnished the Bureau on June 8, 1955, a copy of its instructions concerning evacuation of all personnel in the Justice Building. The instruction states that a three to five minute duration of the Building air raid Klaxon Horns would be sounded and that all personnel would be requested to leave the building via the shortest route to the nearest exit. This is to be done in an orderly manner after all rooms are locked and secure. This order stated that personal belongings should be carried or secured at the time the drill occurs and, further, that the elevators should not be used except by the handicapped persons.

Further instructions from the Department are as follows: Personnel who ride in automobiles parked within the Justice Building are requested to assemble in or near these cars. The engines are not to be started and the automobiles should not be moved. Drivers or riders who have passenger space available should invite other personnel to their cars so that each car will have a full load of passengers assigned. The "all clear" signal, according to the Department instructions, has been eliminated. Therefore, the waiting in the assembly areas should continue until the Building has been completely evacuated. It is estimated that a reasonable waiting period would be ten to fifteen minutes. In case of inclement weather the Building personnel should proceed to shelter areas within the Building as has been done on previous drills.

The Department has advised that this drill will actually commence with the sounding of the horns in the Building at 12:05 p.m. Wednesday, June 15, 1955. In accordance with the above instructions all personnel should be instructed to proceed via the stairs to the nearest exit and assemble between the curb and the building and wait per suggestions above. Those with cars in the Building should comply as indicated above and in this latter group it will not be necessary for them to go to the curb.

In order to properly discharge our responsibilities, complete compliance with the above suggestions appears necessary. As a result it will be necessary to temporarily suspend all Bureau tours.

The Department has advised that the retention of skeleton crews in phases where absolutely necessary is permissible.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

- (1) That the above suggestions be complied with.

all asst Directors advised 6/14 by Director approved

(2) If the above recommendation is approved, each Assistant Director as well as the SAC, Washington Field Office, will issue the necessary instructions to all personnel under them. These instructions should be issued in compliance with the instruction sheet which is attached, a copy of which is being provided for each Assistant Director as well as the SAC at Washington Field Office.

all asst Directors are issuing instructions 6/14

(3) That all tours be suspended for a period of time during this test so that none of the tourists will be in the middle of a tour at the time this test drill takes place.

Tours suspended from 11 to 1 - 6-15-55 per JG McKinnis JHL

(4) That the attached memorandum to Mr. Andretta of the Department be approved and forwarded. This letter answers his inquiry as to "What extent the Bureau intends to participate in this exercise."

approved + forwarded 6-13-55 per A/B Fipp JHL

(5) We are contacting each Assistant Director to determine what skeleton force in each Division will be necessary and a separate memorandum will be submitted reflecting this.

memo 6/13/55 to Director re skeleton force.

TO: All FBI Personnel

SUBJECT: Evacuation of Building, Operation Alert 1955

In cooperation with the National Civil Defense authorities test exercise on June 15 and 16, 1955, the following plan is provided for the evacuation of FBI personnel from the buildings to which they are assigned:

Upon hearing the alert signal (steady blast of building Air Raid Klaxon Horns) which will be of 3 to 5 minutes duration, all personnel are requested to leave the building via the shortest route to the nearest exit. This should be done in an orderly manner, after rooms are locked and secure. Personal belongings should be carried or secured. Elevators should not be used except by handicapped persons.

Upon leaving the building, proceed at once to the assembly area determined by the exit used in leaving. (For example - Justice Building)

EXIT USED	ASSEMBLY AREA (Between Curb &amp; Bldg.)
9th & Penn Doors 9th Street Gate 9th Street Door	9th St., between Penn & Const Avenues
Center Door Penn Ave 10th & Penn Doors	Penn Ave., between 9th and 10th Sts.
10th Street Gate 10th & Const Ave Doors	10th St., between Penn & Const Avenues
Center Entrance Const Ave )	Const Ave between 9th & 10th Streets

The "All Clear" signal has been eliminated. Signals for this will not be given by general alarm systems since the release from this condition is dependent upon the radioactive fallout in a particular area. Therefore, waiting in assembly areas should continue until the building has been completely evacuated. A reasonable waiting period would be 10 to 15 minutes.

In case of inclement weather, personnel will proceed to shelter areas within the building as has been done on previous drills.

Attached hereto is a list of the evacuees of the Records and Communications Division as of this date. This list includes all employees of the Division who would be required to go to [redacted]

In connection with the Operation Alert scheduled for June 15, 16 and 17, 1955, only 26 employees of this Division will go to [redacted]. All employees of the Division scheduled to go to [redacted] on June 15 will report upon receipt of notification through the chain of command of the Division to the 1500 corridor in this building in order that they may be checked off the transportation list and assigned space in Bureau transportation or checked off as proceeding to [redacted] in personally owned vehicles. (There will only be one personally owned car used in the June 15 test in this Division transporting Mr. DeLoach, [redacted].) All other Divisional employees on the evacuation list are to report to the 1500 corridor to be checked off the transportation list, and those not scheduled to go to [redacted] will be instructed to return to their desks.

b7E

However, in view of the fact some of our employees are physically located in the Identification Building, we will have them on receipt of notification of evacuation report to the office of Assistant Director Quinn Tamm in order that they can be accounted for and then immediately return to their duties.

In the Communications Units in this building, it will be impossible to have all of those on the evacuation list who are not going to [redacted] leave their units just for the purpose of being checked off in the 1500 corridor as to do so would deplete the units at a critical time when they are needed. Instead, we will account for the whereabouts of all personnel on the evacuation

Inasmuch as there is a possibility that the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) and Civil Defense officials in any given area may contact a Bureau field office for information or present a problem to the field office, it is deemed desirable that each field office be so advised of this possibility and instructed that should a properly authenticated individual from ODM or Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) present a question or problem the office should be alert to exercise good judgment and advise the Bureau at the relocation site of all such contacts or problems presented.

For record purposes when the Bureau was considering the possibility from a cost standpoint of having a relocation site off the premises of [REDACTED] but in the vicinity of [REDACTED] we had the telephone company make a rough estimate of cost and construction that would be involved in the event we were to have a duplicate set of all communication devices some where within the [REDACTED]. Colonel Bliss checked into this and advised that there was need for considerable construction, laying of cables and the like unless we moved into some building or store practically adjacent to [REDACTED]. His rough estimate was [REDACTED] just to duplicate our requirements at [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] Bliss was advised that nothing should be done on this matter unless he hears specifically to the contrary from the Bureau.

No further action is being taken on this matter in view of the nonfeasibility of entering into this type of arrangements in view of the tremendous expense involved.

The attached clipping refers to the Governmentwide "Operation Alert 1955," set for June 15, 1955. Individuals receiving this memorandum should immediately give consideration as to what papers, documents, and equipment must be taken to the evacuation center and the functions which will be performed by the different individuals from the Investigative Division who travel to the evacuation site. ## President to Head Evacuees June 15

Government to Quit Capital for 3 Days, Operate Secretly in Civilian Alert Test

By Warren Unna
Staff Reporter

At noon of June 15, for the first time since the British captured Washington in 1814, the National Government will desert its headquarters.

The President, Cabinet members, agency heads and some 15,000 Government employees from 30 agencies will be evacuated to emergency sites up to 300 miles away. The movement will be part of the Federal Civil Defense Administration Office of Defense Mobilization "Operation Alert 1955."

The Government will be gone from the Capital for three days. Decisions bearing on wartime functions will be made from out of town. Cabinet Secretaries, used to Foxhall road mansions and Sheraton-Park Hotel suites, will be spending their nights in makeshift quarters, some of them on bunks in tents.

Employees will leave in pre-arranged car pools along designated routes. Some must look forward to a 10-hour drive before they reach their new "office." Wives and children won't know where the family breadwinners are. They will simply have to wait for a phone call saying, "Don't worry. I'm all right."

Half the emergency sites are on Government property, such as on military camps and in Federal office buildings. Others are on university and college campuses and in resort towns which possess sufficient housing facilities. Some new construction will be utilized, as in the case of the so-called "Underground Pentagon," which was blasted out of a mountain-side near Camp Ritchie, Md., some time ago.

Much publicity was given to the superior bomb shelter built under the White House during its reconditioning. But today's nuclear and thermonuclear bombs are considered such a threat that several alternate out-of-town sites have been set aside for the President.

Sites Widely Separated

Each Government agency has been allocated a sector, in an area varying from 50 to 300 miles from Washington. Some sectors will encompass several counties. Where an agency's functions demand it, the sector will be even larger. Top agencies, as in the case of the White House, will have alternate sites. Each sector will be far enough removed from the others to prevent joint casualties from the same bombardment.

Advance "nucleus" crews from various Government agencies have been readying the emergency sites since May 12. Local editors and radio station managers have been alerted to expect an influx of "visitors." They have been told that their voluntary cooperation will safeguard Government leaders and keep their communities from becoming target sites should Washington have to be evacuated on a no-f fooling basis.

The President is known to have a closed-circuit television network for communicating with his chief advisers. But facilities at other emergency sites have been described by ODM as "pretty austere" so far. Smaller communities up to now have never had to handle the communications load required in Washington.

Commandeering Authorized

Many of the areas chosen are regarded as self-sufficient in providing food. The ODM has prepared official letters empowering the bearers to commandeer certain university housing accommodations at specified rents in event of an emergency.

"Operation Alert" represents the first time the Government has identified its essential wartime services and earmarked them for evacuation. Not all these priority-rating services are so obvious as the Central Intelligence Agency and the Atomic Energy Commission. The Postoffice Department is considered essential to maintain the delivery of Government mail and the dispersal of such items as social security checks; the Treasury for the printing of currency.

The military nonessentials, which won't be bothered by the evacuation, include the American Battle Monuments and Fine Arts Commissions.

morrow if there were an attack on the United States tomorrow."

ODM had a few hundred of its personnel participate in last June's Nationwide Civil Defense test, when President Eisenhower took to the White House bomb shelter.

About 1200 persons participated in a small ODM evacuation last November.

Congress, Court to Stay

This time, ODM wants to see how well the Government's agencies could carry on their wartime functions from emergency sites and how well they would be able to maintain Civil Defense functions at the same time.

Notably missing among the evacuees in the June 15-17 test will be members of Congress and the Supreme Court. Proposals have been made for their departure from the Capital in an emergency, but as yet there has been no indication of acceptance.

Although "Operation Alert's" evacuation will be confined to wartime Government functions, ODM points to the need of preserving industrial functions during such an emergency as well.

One major national oil company was laudably cited for having spent $500,000 in setting up an evacuation headquarters, complete with vital production and financial records and an emergency food supply. The oil company has even outlined a succession of officers in case its top men should become casualties.

The 15,000 or more Government persons taking part in "Operation Alert" will represent a cross-section of their agencies. As one ODM official explained: "You can't operate only with generals."

Some activity will continue in the "evacuated" Government agencies back in Washington, but only that which would normally be curtailed during wartime.

Of those who are scheduled to go, and who will bring their overnight bags down to the office June 15, many are beginning to plan for their families in case of the real thing.

One ODM official has instructed his wife to head for a certain town so he would know where to find her during a mass evacuation. And she, in turn, has been instructed to communicate with him via a police precinct in an area near where he expects to be.

To date, there is no arrangement for spiriting key Government personnel out of town ahead of any general evacuation. An alert is expected to reach all alike, and agency employees, in the event of actual evacuation, have been told to get to their posts when they can.

One of Five Plans

Although the Nationwide Civil Defense drill is scheduled to last only 36 hours, ODM is having Government agencies remain away a full three days. Agency heads have also been encouraged to leave some personnel behind at the evacuation centers after the three days are over so they can become familiar with the sites.

Operation Alert will come under "Plan D-minus," one of five ODM readiness plans. Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Fleming described it as a plan "we would put into effect to-

In connection with Operation Alert 1955, it is very necessary that Liaison as a whole, and Supervisor Woods in particular, maintain very close liaison prior to noon on June 15, 1955, in order that we may be aware of any problems connected with Operation Alert 1955 which will effect the Bureau. We do not want to be in a position where we will be confronted suddenly with problems during the alert where we could have anticipated the problem.

ODM has a section concerning problems to be posed. Mr. Woods should be very alert as to this. Mr. Boleyn of the Bureau of the Budget passed a remark that there may be a simulated dropping of a bomb on Washington at 2:33 P.M. on June 15. We should try to find out if this is contemplated and just what problem there is posed for this.

This was new information to me and accordingly the Domestic Intelligence Division was asked to make a check. Remymemo June 11, 1955, reflecting that Director might receive an invitation to attend a National Security Council (NSC) meeting scheduled for morning of June 16, 1955, at [redacted]

Liaison Agent Sanders this afternoon (June 13) ascertained from Pat Coyne of NSC that an invitation, at the direction of the President, is being extended for the Director to attend a National Security Council meeting to begin at 10:00 a.m., Thursday, June 16, at [redacted] and that the same invitation covers a meeting to be under the auspices of the Office of Defense Mobilization at the same place, at 9:30 a.m. the same date. This latter meeting is a briefing by ODM regarding the relocation exercises. According to Mr. Coyne, the Director will not need any information for the ODM briefing.

Mr. Ralph Stohl, of the Office of the Secretary of Defense, advised Liaison Agent Sanders that the people attending the conferences should arrange to get to [redacted] by 9:00 a.m., inasmuch as the building in which the conferences will be held is [redacted]. He further advised that the Office of the Secretary of Defense has made arrangements for the individuals attending the conferences to be assigned an escort upon arrival at the gate to take them to the conference building and subsequently back to the gate. The area is, of course, a highly classified area and under the complete control of the Military.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Parsons

DATE: June 6, 1955

FROM : R. L. Willen

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS - COMMUNICATIONS
(Bufile 66-17385)EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS FOR 5.00

In accordance with instructions from your office, Supervisor A. J. Baker of the Radio-Electrical Section conferred with Mr. Hoy J. Walls of Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) concerning arrangements for radio contact between FBI and INS during the forthcoming evacuation exercises.

The call signs FIG 1 for the Departmental relocation site at [redacted] FIG 2 for the [redacted] and FIG 3 for the [redacted] were agreed upon. The call signs were suggested by Mr. Walls and have no significance, having been arbitrarily chosen. Other combinations of letters would serve equally as well; however, inasmuch as those suggested by Walls did not conflict with any current FBI call signs, no alternate was proposed.

Since it is anticipated that FBI frequencies suitable for communication over the distances involved will be in use during FBI traffic, Mr. Walls was requested to advise what frequencies he could use to contact the FBI station. Walls suggested 4617.5 kc and 2822 kc for day and night operation, respectively. These frequencies were agreed upon since they are proper for a circuit of this length and inasmuch as their use would result in our regular frequencies being kept clear for FBI exclusive use.

As you know, we do not normally maintain radio contact with INS and these arrangements are for the duration of the evacuation exercises only. The INS emergency station [redacted] will function as a radio contact for the Attorney General during the exercises.

These arrangements have been discussed with Mr. McArdle of the Domestic Intelligence Division and there is attached a proposed memorandum to Mr. John A. Harhart, the Department of Justice Relocation Coordinator, confirming the above agreements.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached memorandum be forwarded to Mr. John A. Harhart, Relocation Coordinator for the Department of Justice.

It is possible that during Operation Alert 1955 calls will be made as a part of the operation to Bureau Headquarters in Washington asking for Bureau officials or personnel relocated at [ ] during the test period June 15-17.

b7E

Positively no information should be furnished that these individuals are at [ ] as the Bureau's relocation site is classified information. The caller should be advised that the official is not present and should be requested to leave the name and telephone number and the message will be transmitted to the official being called. It is suggested that after the call has been completed a checkback be made to determine if the call is legitimate or an enterprising newspaperman attempting to pick flaws or test security of Operation Alert 1955.

If the call is legitimate, the Division receiving the call should attempt to handle the matter in the absence of the official being called. If it is a matter that necessarily must be called to the attention of the official at [ ] this should be done by the receiving official and not by referring the caller to [ ].

At 10:28 a.m., 6/16/55, Agent Daunt called from the Justice site at [redacted] and advised that John Airhart, the Department's relocation officer, had contacted him and stated that if agreeable to the Bureau, he would desire to come to the Bureau's relocation site sometime during the test alert. I told Daunt that we would be glad to have Mr. Airhart drop in on us at any time during the exercise as his visit to the [redacted] had been mentioned by him some days ago and we had extended an invitation to him. On June 13, 1955, I talked to Mr. Boleyn, of the Bureau of the Budget, relative to his status as inspector at the FBI relocation site during Operation Alert 1955, and inquired whether he will have reason to discuss anything with the Director while he is at [ ] and, particularly, whether he will have occasion to talk to the Director concerning administrative planning of the Bureau in anticipation of and during this alert.

Special Agent Edward S. Sanders maintains the official records of the Interdepartmental Intelligence Conference in Room 7635. Since these IIC records are in Bureau custody, it is believed that the Bureau has the responsibility to make provision for the records essential to the operation of the IIC to be microfilmed in order that the film could be utilized in the event the original records are destroyed during an emergency.

It is believed that only the minutes of the IIC meetings, not the Working Committee meetings, and certain selected documents such as the IIC Charter should be microfilmed.

The IIC minutes reflect an analysis of all matters handled by the IIC as well as the IIC position and actions taken in connection therewith. This would eliminate the necessity for microfilming the large number of documents and studies which have been received by the IIC for comment or action. It would involve microfilming only approximately 1250 pages at a total cost of about $12.50.

The other members of the IIC have approved the microfilming of these records.

ACTION:

It is recommended that the IIC minutes and certain IIC documents be microfilmed in connection with the Bureau's war plans and that the microfilm be stored at Quantico. Only the essential IIC records would be microfilmed.

On the evening of June 10, 1955, Walter Yeagley of the Department called to advise that by memorandum to the Attorney General from the Office of Defense Mobilization dated June 6, 1955, the Attorney General was advised that the agenda for the first day (June 15) of "Operation Alert 1955" calls for a conference on cabinet level at [redacted] The agenda lists a briefing from 5:30 to 6 P.M. in which the Attorney General will take part. His subject will be internal security conditions as of 3 days after an attack. b7E Yeagley said that Internal Security Division is working up a brief for the Attorney General to use in this briefing and they contemplate keeping the briefing rather general covering such things as a general statement that the Emergency Detention Program was a certain percent completed, etc. Yeagley said that he had contacted ODEM to see what action might flow from statements made by the Attorney General and that he was advised that information furnished by the Attorney General would "be fed into the machine" as part of the problems to be worked for the remainder of the relocation test. Yeagley suggested that we get together with the Department to work-up this brief in order that no statements would be made by the Attorney General which would place a burden on the Bureau during the test.

I told Yeagley that the Department should work-up a brief but that we would get together with him Monday morning, June 13, 1955, to see what he is putting in the brief insofar as any burden on the FBI is concerned. I pointed out to him that from the standpoint of security the brief should be very carefully worded both as to the Emergency Detention Program and any statements concerning a simulated sabotage problem or anything of that nature which might leak out and cause alarm.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - EMERGENCY RELOCATION TEST, JUNE 15, 16, 17, 1955

SYNOPSIS:

Reference is made to my earlier memorandum today to which was attached a proposed brief to be used by the Attorney General for conference on Cabinet-level at [ ] June 15, 1955. b7E

Statements in proposed brief are not predicated upon recognizable facts, nor could they be factually supported. For a person of Attorney General's stature to make such statements would not only make him appear silly but would create impression of ineptness on part of the Bureau. Attorney General's comments should be dignified, dispassionate account of implementation of simulated program connected with this exercise. Such presentation would minimize public comment or criticism if they became known.

RECOMMENDATION:

None. This is for your information, inasmuch as this brief reportedly will be subject of discussion at Attorney General's conference, 2:30 p.m., 6/14/55.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

DETAILS:

Reference is made to my earlier memorandum today to which was attached a proposed brief to be used by the Attorney General for conference on Cabinet-level at [ ] June 15, 1955, and which will be the subject of discussion at the Attorney General's conference at 2:30 p.m., 6/14/55. b7E

The entire statement which has been proposed for the Attorney General to make at [ ] on June 15 is not predicated upon any demonstratable facts or even related to any specific enemy attack. Therefore, the proposed statement as it now stands would place the Attorney General in the ridiculous position of playing games from which no planning value could be assessed since even though simulated, they are not drawn from any related factual situations.

AG Brief:

Paragraph 2 on page 1 reflects that the Emergency Detention Program has been placed into operation but that due to casualties in bombed-out areas, difficulty has been experienced in locating subversives evacuated from those areas and that approximately 60% of the persons marked for detention had been picked up.

Comment:

Inasmuch as there has not been indicated what cities were bombed out, there is no way in which the Attorney General could draw an assumption that only 60% marked for detention had been picked up. If heavy industrialized areas are bombed and casualties are heavy that fact will have a bearing on our ability to apprehend Security Index subjects in those areas. However, if our cities have not been bombed at the time the Emergency Detention Program is placed into operation, we expect to have apprehended a much higher percentage than 60% of the subjects at the end of three days.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

AG Brief:

Paragraph 3, page 1, reflects the Attorney General has been advised that 40% of the dangerous aliens had been detained. In this connection, it was indicated that many of dangerous enemy aliens were located in large metropolitan areas and might be casualties.

Comment:

It is difficult to understand why the proposed brief would make a point regarding dangerous enemy aliens in connection with our Emergency Detention Program since the Program applies to both citizens and aliens alike. There are very few aliens listed, comparatively speaking, in our Security Index. The number is less than 500. It is obvious that the 40%-figure is plucked out of the air and has no basis in fact whatever under any reasonable assumed conditions.

AG Brief:

Paragraph 4, page 1, reflects that efforts are being made to bring court proceedings on behalf of those detained under the Emergency Detention Program to test the validity of the Government's action within the next 10 days.

Comment:

If this statement is to be used, it would appear it would be more effective if the Attorney General would indicate that his office was preparing the Government's case inasmuch as the whole Emergency Detention Program would be tested in a court action of this nature.

AG Brief:

Paragraph 1, page 2, reflects that the FBI had interned most of the diplomatic corps in Washington but that ten persons, last known to have been in their embassy recreation areas on Chesapeake Bay have disappeared. Furthermore, it would appear from crates that had been found open on the summer cottage premises that these missing persons may be in possession of fission weapons.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

Comment:

This statement makes the FBI appear inept in its handling of the diplomatic program. During the summer months most of the dependents of diplomatic personnel assigned to the Soviet Embassy, for example, stay at the Chesapeake Bay area all week long and a large percentage of the Embassy officials and employees are on the Bay during the weekends. For this reason, immediate steps would be taken in the event diplomatic program was instituted to block the roads of access to Bay resort areas. For this reason, it would be much easier to confide diplomatic personnel of an enemy country in the Bay area than it would be to relocate them within the District of Columbia.

The assumption regarding assembly of fission weapons at a beach resort is not in accordance with sound operations since the enemy embassies would be much more secure for such purposes than the beach resort. If a statement by the Attorney General to this effect leaked to the press, there could be a most unwholesome reaction.

AG Brief:

Paragraph 2, page 2, reflects that even less success was achieved by the FBI in the internment of enemy personnel attached to the UN.

Comment:

This again is an unwarranted reflection upon the FBI planning and operation in the New York area. Short of an atomic disaster in New York, the operations there should be comparable to those in Washington.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

AG Brief:

Paragraph 3, page 2, reflects in part that the [redacted] b7E [redacted] was the signal by which Communist Party members were to commit acts of sabotage, including dissemination of rumors tending to incite panic and disrupt evacuation of civilians personnel from target areas. It further reflected every Bureau office had been flooded with reports of alleged sabotage, some of which were traceable to this cause and others to a feeling of panic and hysteria that had been anticipated.

Comment:

There is no reason why this statement could not be used in the event the Attorney General decides to use this proposed brief.

AG Brief:

Paragraph 3, page 2, in part further reflects that some of the most serious damage resulting from direct enemy action had been traced to pre-arranged plans of sabotage.

Comment:

This statement by the Attorney General might lead those in attendance at the conference to believe the Communists actually have pre-arranged plans to commit sabotage. We have no information that any such plans are in existence and we have made specific investigative efforts to determine whether any such plans are in existence. All of the information which we can develop indicates the Communists have no pre-arranged plans to commit sabotage in the U.S. during an emergency. If such a statement became public knowledge, it would undoubtedly create the impression that such plans are in existence and that the FBI would be powerless to prevent them in the event of a real emergency. It would appear that this would be a very dangerous statement for the Attorney General to make. Although the Communists do not have any specific sabotage plans, it is inherent in the Communist doctrine for Communist members to commit sabotage if such action would benefit Russia.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

AG Brief:

Stoppage of aviation gas,
Paragraph 3, page 2 continuing to the top of page 3, reflects in part that the FBI had traced the production of ~~stoppage of~~ tetraethyllead at the Baton Rouge plant of the Ethyl Corporation to fires in the transformers caused by incendiary bullets. The damage would probably take from 3-to 8 months to restore the plant to normal production which is in excess of 90% of the total output of tetraethyllead in the U. S.

Comment:

Sabotage of this type plant was surveyed during the study made in 1954 by the IIC and ICIS. The Baton Rouge plant of the Ethyl Corporation is only one of three major producers of this product. It is less susceptible to this type of sabotage envisaged than a similar plant at Deepwater, New Jersey. An FBI investigation would not be necessary to recognize transformer fires in an ethyl plant. This would be apparent to anyone in the vicinity. This type of statement could lay the Attorney General open to ridicule and should not be used.

AG Brief:

at work
Paragraph 3, page 3, reflects the FBI has located a large mortar-like device in a garage near Carswell Air (Force) Base which is presumed to have been used to launch two fission weapons which destroyed the field at the Base only a short time after the Strategic Air Command's bombers had left the Base.

Comment:

This is a silly type of statement for any responsible Government official to make. It would be expecting too much for Soviet agents to waste two valuable atomic weapons on an empty air-strip.

AG Brief:

Paragraph 4, page 3, reflects the FBI investigative reports based on information received from FCDA* and other sources regarding the incidences of the outbreak of diseases of unusual virulence may indicate biological warfare activity in several areas of the U. S.

*Federal Civil Defense Administration

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

Comment:

The Attorney General in making an announcement regarding the outbreak of virulent disease which would indicate biological warfare would in the normal course of things pinpoint the area in which these outbreaks had occurred. Actually even though he did not advise the identity of the diseases he should indicate the steps which were being taken by responsible authority to counteract their spread. The proposed statement leaves all this hanging in the air and consequently subject to criticism.

OBSERVATIONS:

The material prepared for the Attorney General by the Internal Security Division of the Department is wholly assumed and has no relation in fact to actual problems and is not of such character as befits the dignity of the Office of the Attorney General of the United States. It would appear to be far better for the Attorney General to make a factual statement concerning the progress made on problems being carried out by the Department and the FBI in connection with the test operation than to use the material that was prepared for him by the Internal Security Division of the Department.

There is set out below a brief outline of some of the subjects the Attorney General might wish to report on at the conference.

(1) Immediately after the test alert was sounded the Department successfully relocated its essential personnel to its relocation site. The operation was carried out smoothly and without incident and the Department is carrying on its functions at the relocation site.

(2) The FBI relocated its necessary personnel as planned. From the relocation site the FBI immediately contacted all 52 of its field offices by telecommunications including field relocation sites as a test of communications.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

(3) The FBI executed certain field problems simulating the programs which they will be expected to carry out during an actual emergency, in all offices.

(4) The President has issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens to report all acts of subversion and sabotage to the FBI promptly. In addition, I have called upon all citizens and law enforcement agencies to promptly notify the FBI regarding any subversive acts or sabotage.

(5) During the course of the alert we have tested plans for the detention of dangerous individuals during an emergency and have found that it has proceeded as planned except in those areas which have been declared bombed under the test program.

(6) We have found from the test problems we have worked on during "Operation Alert 1955" that the plans of the Department and the FBI for protecting the internal security of the nation in time of an emergency are sound and from our experience in this test I am confident they can be successfully carried out during a real emergency.

There is attached for your further information a Photostat of the material which was prepared for the Attorney General by the Internal Security Division of the Department.

Remymemo June 11, 1955, advising that the Internal Security Division of the Department was working up a brief for the Attorney General's use when he briefs a conference on Cabinet level at [ ] between 5:30 and 6 p.m. on June 15, 1955. His subject will be internal security conditions as of 3 days after an attack.

b7E

Attached is the proposed brief to be used by the Attorney General which was furnished this afternoon by Mr. Yeagley and Mr. Foley of the Department. We are analyzing this proposed brief and will furnish you a memorandum containing our objections inasmuch as this will be the subject of discussion at the Attorney General's conference at 2:30 p.m. on June 14, 1955.

Frankly, I think it would be far better if the Attorney General took a dignified position during the briefing rather than to play war games as indicated in this proposed brief.

The portion of the statement dealing with 10 members of enemy diplomatic corps being missing with the presumption that they may be in possession of fission weapons appears objectionable. In fact, while there is supposed to be a high degree of secrecy at this briefing, there is no assurance that publicity may not result from the Attorney General's statement and it appears undesirable for him to make statements such as contained in this brief on a purely suppositious basis.

Attached also is a Photostat furnished this afternoon by Yeagley of the agenda of the "Interim Assembly" to be held at [ ] On page 3 mention is made of the briefing, a portion of which the Attorney General will handle.

My memorandum of June 13, 1955, showed the proposed brief to be used by the Attorney General at conference on Cabinet level at [ ] June 15, 1955, and our objections to it.

Pursuant to instructions, Section Chief Roach and I conferred personally with Walt Yeagley and William Foley of the Department this morning (June 14) and pointed out the objections we had to this proposed brief. While we were there, Mr. Tompkins came in and our objections were reiterated to him.

Besides the specific objections, we pointed out that the Attorney General would be making supposititious statements not based on fact nor on a factual background and, in the event he were asked questions, he would have nothing factual to fall back on; further, the brief did not present the Department nor the FBI in a good light, as it indicated loopholes exist which could be plugged at this time and that this is not factual.

Mr. Yeagley said he thought the Attorney General should not paint too rosy a picture, as this would open him up to criticism; rather, he should attempt to point out, by examples, some of the real problems which do exist. I told him there was no objection to this, certainly, but any examples should be of a factual nature that could be backed up--for example, there is no objection to showing that the Communist Party doctrine would subscribe to sabotage in an emergency and that the FBI would receive a flood of calls on subversive activities and sabotage--however, the Attorney General should point out that the calls were receiving attention and immediate investigation and that what appeared to be Communist propaganda was being run out immediately and any sabotage complaints were being checked at once. If specific examples were used of a plant or plants sabotages, the Attorney General should state that the matter was receiving immediate investigation and that suspects had been developed. If examples of enemy espionage agents were cited, it should be shown that the FBI had the matter in hand or was conducting immediate investigation. In other words, any examples used should show an alert, aggressive handling by the Department and the FBI and should be based on a factual situation rather than vague imaginings of diplomats carrying fissionable material.

I briefly outlined the fact that we are going to run tests at [ ] simulating alerting our offices, simulating the Emergency Detention Program and the Detention of Enemy Diplomats, as well as sabotage and espionage cases, and even availability checks of our agents.

b7E

Tompkins, Yeagley and Foley agreed with our objections and said they were going to try to work up another statement for the Attorney General's conference at 2:30 p.m. today (June 14), but might not be able to do so and might have to discuss it orally at the conference. Yeagley asked if I would dictate a statement. I told him no.

Attached is a Photostat of a memorandum to Rankin by Mr. Ford of the Department, dated June 9, 1955, which was given to me by Yeagley this morning. This reflects conditions that will exist at [ ] on June 15.

Point 3 indicates that the Attorney General may be declared a casualty and that Rogers will run the Department.

Point 7 states that subjects to be discussed at [ ] will include internal security proclamations.

By memorandum dated June 13, 1955, you were advised of the President's plan to be at [redacted] [redacted] on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, June 15, to hold a meeting of the Inter-assembly Group. It was pointed out that according to Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) officials availability of key government personnel would be stressed at this meeting. Walter F. Woods, Liaison Section, has now been confidentially advised that although the President will proceed to Camp David following the meeting on Wednesday, he will return to [redacted] sometime Friday, June 17. This was a subject of discussion at an ODM staff meeting held in Dr. Flemming's (Director of ODM) Office today. The President's purpose will be to spot check availability of key government officials and determine the length of time it will take such officials to convene at a given spot.

b7E

William Elliott, Security Office, ODM, who was in attendance at this meeting, told Woods that Dr. Flemming also mentioned that in conversation with the President last week he, the President, told Flemming that he did not want this test "bogged down" with a lot of miscellaneous problems but rather his primary interest is in availability and communications.

At 5:45 p.m., we received a telephone call from "Quarterback," the Public Information Service of the Federal Civil Defense Administration at [redacted] b7E [redacted] advising that press inquiries had been received re following: "Can FBI advise what special measures are being taken re security matters during these exercises, or would be taken if actual emergency existed."

The caller who identified himself as one Bill Schorbel, was advised that we had absolutely "no comment" to make.

From his remarks, it would appear that Schorbel's usage of the code word "Quarterback" would indicate he is an employee of the Public Information Service of Civil Defense and that he is relaying press inquiries received by Civil Defense. At conclusion of conversation, Schorbel stated he wanted name of FBI representative talking for press release purposes. He was told this was not considered necessary.

In connection with the attached memorandum of June 16, from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Boardman, explaining the unavailability of the Special Agents in Charge of seven of our Field Divisions when the Bureau first contacted these Divisions incident to "Operation Alert - 1955, Warning to Field Offices," on June 15, 1955, I have a number of observations which I desire to make.

In the first place, it is quite obvious that some of our Field executives did not consider this project of prime importance and, from the recommendations made by Mr. Belmont, Mr. Boardman, and Mr. Holloman, I would assume that they did not sense completely the vital importance of the operation.

It was known for some time in advance that there would be such an "Operation Alert" and that the Bureau would play a major part in it. In connection with the recommendations which have been made in the attached memorandum and with some of which I heartily disagree, there was no excuse whatsoever why both the Special Agent in Charge and the Assistant Special Agent in Charge should not have been on duty at the time the first message was placed. The taking of annual leave, the making of speeches, and the adherence to a strict schedule of obtaining nourishment seem to me to be matters of most secondary importance. It had been indicated far in advance as to the time when the operation would take effect and yet, as indicated in the attached memorandum, it was impossible to get in touch with the ranking official of seven of our Field Divisions.

Memorandum for Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, Belmont,
Nichols, Harbo, Mohr, Holloman

June 17, 1955

It seems to me that when the President of the United States and all of the top-ranking officials of Government inconvenience themselves to the extent of personal participation in this operation, we have a right to expect that officials in charge of our Field operations should make the same sacrifice. I happen to know that those of the FBI personnel at headquarters, who actively participated in this operation at our headquarters at [redacted] were not able to adhere to any schedule of personal convenience and certainly the Associate Director and several of the Resident Agents and Liaison Representatives and myself on June 16 were not able to follow normal procedures nor adhere to any regular schedule of nourishment.

b7E

It is significant to note, I think, that in four of the seven offices the Special Agents in Charge were already on probation for not properly handling their Division operations in other matters prior to the "Operation Alert."

I think that an SAC Letter should be sent to all of our Special Agents in Charge, pointing out the concern which the headquarters of the Bureau feels about the manifest indifference upon the part of seven of our Field Offices who were called upon to participate in "Operation Alert" and that such an attitude will not be tolerated in the future but will meet with immediate removal of the official manifesting such indifference.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover

On receipt of advice from [redacted] that trouble had developed on the [redacted] telephone direct line, inquiry was made of the test board at AT&T in Washington and through the Central Telephone Company at [redacted] as to the cause of the trouble. [redacted] of the Long Lines Division, AT&T, advised that the circuit was malfunctioning from 12:40 p.m. to 1:55 p.m. today and the trouble was located on the east-west line and carrier between [redacted] and service fully restored at 1:55 p.m., it being noted that the leg of the circuit from [redacted] was in proper operational condition. The trouble was located in the Central office equipment running between [redacted] Both locations had to be checked and the circuits readjusted. b7E

Mr. Baumgardner's memorandum to Mr. Belmont June 15, 1955, pointed out that there was difficulty in establishing contact with the Washington Field Relocation Site. [redacted] at 12:33 p.m. The message was eventually sent by teletype at 1:34 p.m. The [redacted] line had previously been checked by both Messrs. DeLoach and Wherry and found to be satisfactory.

Contact has been made with the Telephone Company relative to this matter. The test board of American Telephone and Telegraph advises that the circuit to [redacted] between 12:30 p.m. and 1:55 p.m., June 15, 1955, (circuit No. [redacted]) was out of order due to trouble which was eventually located on the east-west end carrier between [redacted]. This was corrected and service was restored at 1:55 p.m. Basically, AT&T representatives explained that the trouble developed in a central office connection and not on the [redacted] line. However, the reason for the considerable delay between 12:30 p.m. and 1:55 p.m. was due to the necessity of checking both ends of the line. They have assured us the difficulty was of a temporary nature and that it has been fully corrected.

For record purposes, at 11:45 a.m. today, Jack Adams of Associated Press advised Mr. McGuire that Fred Mullen, Director of Information in the Justice Department, had confirmed that the Attorney General was leaving Washington with his top aides in connection with Operation Alert.

Adams inquired as to whether the Director was leaving the city and going to a relocation site. Adams was advised that the FBI was participating in Operation Alert and beyond that we could make no comment whatsoever. Adams stated he understood.

My memorandum to you June 15, 1955, reflected difficulty experienced between 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 p.m., June 15, 1955, regarding inability to reach SAC Laughlin at [REDACTED]. The Telephone Company indicated, upon contact, that the trouble had been found and fully corrected.

b7E

At 8:08 a.m. this morning, June 16, 1955, SAC Laughlin attempted to contact [REDACTED]. He was unable to reach us. Our operator upon ascertaining there was difficulty, contacted the Telephone Company in Washington, National 4-9900, at 8:15 a.m. and requested immediate attention to this matter. The Telephone Company stated that men were already working on the problem, that they felt it was the same difficulty which was experienced yesterday and that the difficulty should be cleared up in short order.

We will follow this matter closely.

ADDENDUM, CDD:FML, 6/16/55:

At 9:03 a.m. the Telephone Company advised that the situation had now been corrected. We immediately made a test check with SAC Laughlin and the call came through clearly without difficulty.

The Telephone Company reported that the same trouble as experienced yesterday had once again come up.

We will personally discuss this repetition of difficulty with representatives of the Telephone Company upon return to Washington. Our displeasure expressed telephonically does not seem to have the desired effect, consequently this incident along with any other problems concerning communications will be vigorously pushed upon return.

Supervisor McArdle and I today talked to Mr. William A. Boleyn*, of the Bureau of the Budget, who will represent the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Bureau of the Budget as the inspector of the FBI relocation test on June 15, 16 and 17.

I mentioned to Mr. Boleyn that we are going to start operating on June 15 at about 10:00 a.m. on the basis of a simulated alert. I pointed out that our employees will not have advance notice of the exact time of this alert, so it will test our assembly procedures in getting off to [redacted] b7E

We arranged for Mr. Boleyn to report to the office of Assistant Director Mohr at 9:15 a.m. on June 15, in order that he can observe our operations and accompany Mr. Mohr to [redacted] b7E

Mr. Boleyn said that he thought this plan was better than the ODM procedures, as he would be able to actually observe the FBI operations.

We then went over the ODM Inspectors Handbook and the Guides for the Inspectors, copies of which are attached. We discussed the fact that we will be operating under simulated conditions, because of the secrecy of our program, but will simulate, insofar as possible, actual emergency conditions and particularly will test our communications ability. We discussed the fact that we have provided for a succession of command and delegation of authority; that our personnel know their responsibility; that our records and supplies are available in [redacted] and that he can look over for himself the communications facilities, the space, maintenance of security, etc. He was told that we will have armed guards patrolling our relocation site. b7E

It was noted that Mr. Boleyn was required to submit by teletype a notice of his arrival and the preliminary report at noon Thursday, June 16, and the second report by 11:00 a.m., June 17. He was told facilities would be available to submit

We briefly went over the type of problems we will engage in at [ ] and emphasized that we must necessarily simulate these problems because of the secrecy of their nature. Mr. Boleyn appeared to be impressed by the number of problems we are going to utilize.

The attached Guides for ODM Inspectors reflects the type of inquiries that Mr. Boleyn will be making. We went over them with him briefly as to any questions he might have at this time.

Mr. Boleyn was businesslike, but friendly, and stated he had the highest respect for the FBI. I can foresee no difficulty in connection with his presence at [ ] I suggest that Mr. Mohr insure that Mr. Boleyn's needs are fully met while he is at [ ] b7E

In line with the Attorney General's memorandum of June 6, I attended a meeting in the Attorney General's office at 2:00 p.m. on June 14, at which were present the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General, Mr. Rogers; Assistant Attorneys General Rankin and Tompkins; the Director of the Bureau of Prisons; the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization; Mr. Airhart and Mr. Yergley, of Mr. Tompkins' Division; and one of the Captains from the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The Attorney General opened the meeting by stating that he wanted to go over the proposed set-up to be followed by the various participants in the 1955 Alert which was to start on June 15.

Mr. Airhart advised the Attorney General that 86 persons would be evacuated from the Department to the evacuation headquarters of the Department at [redacted]. Sixteen of these 86 were representatives of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. b7E The Attorney General was further advised that 69 of the personnel of the FBI would be evacuated to the FBI evacuation Headquarters at [redacted].

The Attorney General was advised that as regards the personnel journeying to [redacted] each individual would have a Civil Defense Identification Card with the individual photograph of the employee thereon. In addition, all automobiles to be used would have available a [redacted]. The Attorney General raised the question as to the time for departure, as he understood that it was set for 12:05 p.m. and he questioned the desirability of leaving prior thereto. I informed the Attorney General that in so far as the FBI was concerned, some of our personnel were leaving for our evacuation headquarters on the evening of June 14 and that the remainder would leave at 10:00 AM on June 15, and we anticipated that our evacuation headquarters would be completely ready for operation shortly after [redacted] on June 15. After some discussion, it was agreed that there was no restriction imposed by ODM or the Civil Defense Administration as to the exact time when personnel should leave. I pointed out the fact that we had been advised that ODM would start sending messages early on the morning of June 15, and that this meant it was necessary for us to be in operational status so as to be able to receive the messages and act thereupon.

I reminded the Attorney General that it was imperative that immediately upon his arrival at [redacted] to attend the meeting called by the President, he should immediately communicate with the Department of Justice headquarters at [redacted] authorizing the FBI to initiate the pick-up of the persons on the Security Index and the foreign diplomats coming within the Diplomatic Program. I stated that until the FBI received instructions from the Department of Justice headquarters at [redacted] it would not be able to initiate these two programs. It was agreed that Mr. Rogers would proceed to [redacted] to be in charge of the Department of Justice staff there and that the Attorney General would leave Washington at 12:05 PM to go with Assistant Attorney General Rankin and proceed to [redacted] where the first meeting was to be held and that upon arrival at [redacted] he would take steps to give clearance to Mr. Rogers at [redacted] for the initiation of the necessary programs by the FBI.

b7E

The discussion brought out the fact that there was no code that had been developed for use by the [redacted] [redacted] so that they therefore would not be able to participate in activities that might require the testing out of the sending of classified information over communication lines. It also developed that there was no coding machine at [redacted] which would enable the Department of Justice agencies there to code or decode messages. Since the telephone cannot be used for any classified information, the most that the Department of Justice could do at [redacted] would be to communicate with [redacted] through a code arrangement and [redacted] in turn, would decode the message and then recode it for transmission to the FBI headquarters at [redacted]. It was recognized that this would be a long delaying process, but it was the best that could be done.

b7E

MESSRS. TOLSON, BOARDMAN, BELMONT, NICHOLS June 15, 1955

I advised the Attorney General that we had stationed at each of the evacuation sites of the various Government agencies a Liaison representative and that there would be such a representative at the Department of Justice headquarters in [redacted] I informed the Attorney General that in view of the fact that there was no arrangement to code messages, we had worked out a very simple code with our Liaison representative at [redacted] so that he could by telephone to our headquarters at [redacted] indicate the authority to initiate the various projects that would be necessary to the carrying out of our programs.

b7E

Mr. Airhart presented certain information taken from an ODM mimeographed memorandum setting forth the time of the various exercises which were to be carried out during the three-day period but which really theoretically covered a thirty-day period of operation. On my return from this conference, I asked Mr. Belmont to let me have a copy of this memorandum because I had not seen the same.

Mr. Airhart also had a copy of a memorandum of the various problems that would be initiated by the various branches of the Department of Justice at [redacted] which memorandum would be made available to the employees upon arrival at [redacted] Mr. Airhart stated in answer to a query of mine that we had been furnished a copy of this memorandum. I have asked Mr. Belmont to let me have a copy of the same because I do not recall seeing it. Mr. Airhart also advised the Attorney General that there had been furnished to ODM ten copies of all the problems which were to be participated in by the various branches of the Department of Justice, including the FBI. I have asked Mr. Belmont for a copy of this document because I have not seen the same.

b7E

Mr. Airhart stated that there had been some confusion incident to a number of sealed envelopes sent out by the Federal Civil Defense Administration; that these envelopes should have been received by the FBI several days ago but were not delivered until the Fourteenth. I have asked Mr. Belmont to find out for me the reason for this delay and why we did not have better liaison coverage at the Federal Civil Defense Administration so as to have procured these envelopes earlier.

MESSRS. TOLSON, BOARDMAN, BELMONT, NICHOLS June 15, 1955

It was indicated also to the Attorney General by Mr. Airhart that it would be entirely possible that CDM might send certain fictitious messages with faked signatures so as to test out the security of the various agencies and that all branches of the Department of Justice should be alert and make certain that any messages or instructions received have actually emanated from the person purporting to sign the same who has the authority to issue such instructions.

Assistant Attorney General Tompkins advised the Attorney General that at the meeting at [redacted] on the afternoon of June 15, he, the Attorney General, would be expected to brief the President and the other officials attending that meeting as to the status of Operation Alert on the presumption that three days had passed since the yellow alert had been given. Mr. Tompkins presented to the Attorney General the attached memorandum of suggestions which the Attorney General might desire to use at this briefing. b7E

Mr. Tompkins advised the Attorney General that there had been a previous memorandum prepared and it had been submitted to the FBI, but that the FBI had raised certain objections to the same and that I might be able to better explain the Bureau's views concerning the first memorandum which had been prepared. I advised the Attorney General that the first memorandum set forth a number of fictitious instances which were supposed to have taken place, such as the actual commission of sabotage by Communists in the United States and the finding of evidence indicating atomic weapons having been secreted within the United States, as well as the inability of the FBI to make effective apprehensions of large numbers of persons on the Security Index. I told the Attorney General that I thought it would be best for him to confine this statement to what had been set up and accomplished by the various branches of the Department of Justice in a dignified and objective manner. The memorandum which was handed to the Attorney General by Mr. Tompkins largely adhered to this idea.

Before the meeting closed, I also suggested to the Attorney General that I thought that one of the first things that should be listed for attention was the preparation of a code for the [redacted] b7E [redacted] so that there might be proper communication between all branches of the Department of Justice with proper security.

MEK:SRs. TOLSON, BOARDMAN, BELMONT, NICHOLS June 15, 1955

The Attorney General inquired as to whether this Bureau could handle any messages in time of an emergency carrying instructions to the United States Attorneys. I stated that the FBI would be glad to handle such messages through our local field offices which, in turn, would communicate them to the United States Attorneys.

There was some inquiry made as to whether we could handle any additional messages for the Immigration and Naturalization Service and I indicated that we could not. I stated that our circuits would be heavily loaded as it was and it would be impossible for us to take on any additional duties other than that of handling messages to the United States Attorneys.

I reminded the Attorney General that in addition to what had already been stated, he was scheduled to attend a meeting of the National Security Council to be held at [redacted] at 10:00 AM on June 16 and which was to be preceded by a general briefing at [redacted] at 9:30 AM on June 16. The Attorney General apparently had not been advised of this and had no material pertaining to the same. He requested that Mr. Tompkins' Division be certain to see that he was furnished with the necessary material so that he could take it along with him when he planned to leave Washington at noon on June 15.

b7E

I can report ~~that~~ the Departmental Relocation Site at [ ] and the FBI Relocation Site became operational from the sounding of the [ ] b7E [ ] since each site is a permanent installation with a nucleus staff. Each has radio, teletype, and telephone installations. The Bureau of Prisons and the Immigration and Naturalization Service have also activated their relocation sites.

UPON the signing of the necessary documents by the President 4/31/2010 authorizing the programs for the detention of dangerous persons and for the internment of enemy diplomatic and consular personnel and the personnel of international organizations in this country, the FBI immediately went into action and I can report that progress is being made in all areas except in those areas which have suffered heavy personnel casualties.

As we have been repeatedly warned by the FBI, the Communist strategy called for acts of sabotage by Communists upon the outbreak of hostilities. I can report that every Bureau office in the country has been flooded with reports of alleged sabotage, some of which may be due to a feeling of panic and hysteria that had been anticipated, but others are undoubtedly acts of sabotage resulting from Communist strategy. Some of the rumors are undoubtedly also the result of Communist efforts to incite panic and generally disrupt relocation of civilian personnel and restoration of civilian morale.

After talking with you at 1:50 P.M. today I telephoned   and talked to Section Chief Baumgardner in the absence of Belmont and instructed that all persons not immediately currently engaged in operational aspects were to promptly return to Washington, D. C.

Mr. Baumgardner explained that quite a few of the people were still engaged in dictating, transcribing and typing memoranda pertaining to the test problems which had been completed by noon today and in the preparation of the summary memorandum concerning the entire operation. I instructed Baumgardner to advise me as to the departure of those people not needed as above indicated.

Baumgardner informed me at 2:45 P.M. that at 11:00 A.M. today three of the night shift employees assigned to Belmont's Division and four of the night shift employees assigned to Nichols' Division had departed for Washington. He further advised that at 2:30 P.M. today eighteen additional employees, including Messrs. Holloman and Rosen, departed   for Washington. He stated that the balance were employed in winding up the operation and that all will have departed by 4:30 P.M. today or prior thereto, if the work has been completed.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS OPERATION ALERT 1955
 JUNE 15-16-17

The concluding activity of the problem on the alert practice for those liaison representatives stationed with their respective agencies was to contact the Bureau and report their departure for Washington from those agencies' relocation sites prior to their termination of liaison functions on their particular assignments. In this regard there are set forth the terminating contacts made by these liaison representatives at the places and times designated:

AGENT	AGENCY TO WHOM ASSIGNED	TIME &amp; DATE OF DEPARTURE
J. J. Daunt	Department of Justice and INS	1:30 p.m. 6/17/55
N. W. Philcox	White House	1:40 p.m. 6/17/55
S. J. Papich	Central Intelligence Agency	2:00 p.m. 6/17/55
M. W. Kuhrtz	Department of State	4:05 p.m. 6/17/55 ETD
C. W. Bates	Atomic Energy Commission	5:00 p.m. 6/17/55 ETD
W. F. Woods	Office of Defense Mobilization	6:00 p.m. 6/17/55 ETD

The Agents' time of departure from the respective relocation sites of the agencies in question range from Agent Daunt's departure at 1:30 pm from the Justice relocation to Agent Woods' departure at 6 p.m. from the ODM relocation site. This spread of time denotes that some of the agencies closed their relocation sites earlier than others and eliminated the necessity for further liaison contacts.

Each of the above Liaison Agents will submit an individual report on the activities of the relocation site to which he evacuated with his particular agency.

A teletype machine and a telephone line have been installed at [REDACTED] for the use of the Washington Field Office in the event an evacuation of Washington is ordered. The Seat of Government for years has handled all of the Washington Field Office teletype and switchboard communications, except for the brief time when the Washington Field Office was located up on K Street, N. W. At the present time the Washington Field Office does not have any personnel trained in handling teletypewriter equipment. Neither does the Washington Field Office have any trained code clerks.

We accordingly made arrangements with the Washington Field Office to train three employees beginning Monday, April 25, 1955, in the handling of teletype equipment. When these employees have been given basic training for one week period they will be returned to the field office and then one day each month thereafter we will have them over to the Seat of Government for a refresher in order to keep them up-to-date.

When this initial training has been completed, we will then embark upon a basic training course for the same three Washington Field Office employees in the handling of the Bureau's code material. The Washington Field Office does not have any coding equipment at the present time for use at [REDACTED]. Here again the Seat of Government has handled in the past all coding problems for Washington Field Office.

It is recommended the Cryptanalysis Section have appropriate crypto materials available which can be utilized at [REDACTED] by the Washington Field Office at such time as the Field Office may have to occupy that relocation site and in this connection the code room of this Division will work out with the Cryptanalysis Section details for having these materials made available to Washington Field Office.

Mr. NICHOLS memorandum 4/22/55 to Mr. TOLSON recommended that cryptomaterial be made available for Washington Field Office use at [REDACTED] in case of evacuation.

The Cryptanalysis-Translation Section believes there is sufficient cryptomaterial now on hand at the Bureau's relocation site at [REDACTED] to take care of WFO in the event of an emergency, without handicapping the stock supply being held in reserve for general Bureau use provided only that one extra [REDACTED] is made available.

Consequently we propose that in the event of an emergency need by WFO for cryptomaterial [REDACTED] make available to WFO at that time the attached list of items from stock he has on hand.

The problem of relocation of Bureau personnel and their dependents consists of two basic parts.

I Dependents of Personnel Having Essential Wartime Functions

The 295 dependents of the 173 employees scheduled for relocation should be directed to an area close to the Bureau relocation site. If an emergency were called at this time this would be [redacted]. In order that the dependents may establish direct contact with those members of their family at the relocation site, it is believed that the adult dependents should be given the [redacted] telephone number which terminates at the [redacted] exchange. This telephone number is [redacted].

b7E

In the event the dependents are still in Washington, D. C., and desire to convey a message to the members of their family at the relocation site, they should be advised to call the office of Mr. H. L. Edwards of the Administrative Division (extension 887) and leave messages with that office for transmittal to the relocation site.

In the event the President sees fit to order a relocation of the employees having essential wartime functions prior to a total evacuation of Washington, the so-called "stay-behind" program should be retained in effect. This program is one wherein a Bureau Agent not scheduled for relocation has been advised that he is to provide such help and assistance for the family of the person who has been relocated as is possible for him to do under the circumstances. This program has been in effect in connection with Bureau war plans for the past few years and each employee scheduled for relocation has been advised of the Agent staying behind who will provide such help and assistance as he can for the family of the person being relocated. This program should remain in effect.

Re: WAR PLANS - RELOCATION OF BUREAU PERSONNEL

[redacted] has previously conducted a survey of hotels, motels, tourist courts and rooming houses in the [redacted] area to ascertain what accommodations might be available. No agreement has been entered into, no commitment of any kind has been made and the proprietors of these establishments have not been advised of the Bureau's interest. A list of the establishments so surveyed should be made available to each person scheduled for relocation so that he might make it available to adult dependents in his family. b7E

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the "stay-behind" program outlined above remain in effect.

OK.
(2) That each person scheduled for relocation be permitted to advise his adult dependents that messages may be relayed to him through the Bureau by calling the office of Mr. H. L. Edwards, Bureau extension 887, and the message will be accepted for relay to the employee at [redacted] b7E

Memorandum to Mr. Boardman

Re: WAR PLANS - RELOCATION OF BUREAU PERSONNEL

Should the Bureau find a new relocation site this entire matter will have to be revised accordingly.

II Employees Not Scheduled for Relocation
And Their Families (Approximately 8500)

Under present plans these employees and their dependents would not evacuate Washington, D. C., unless there were a general evacuation of the city and if such is the case they, like all other citizens in Metropolitan Washington, will be under the control of the local Civil Defense organization and, therefore, must follow the rules and instructions laid down by Civil Defense for the evacuation of the city. It is believed, however, that these employees should be advised that if it is determined that they are unable to return to their homes after such an evacuation that they might make contact with the Bureau installation, which under the circumstances will be Washington Field Office at [redacted] where they may leave messages, forwarding addresses and obtain such instructions or messages as the Bureau may desire to convey to them at the time. In furtherance of this, this group of employees should be given the telephone number of the [redacted] which is [redacted] by prior agreement, will be made available for Bureau occupancy in a period of actual emergency. b7E

It is not contemplated that the Bureau will offer any active assistance as to food, shelter or medical attention at this focal point since that is the responsibility of Civil Defense organizations in an emergency.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That those employees not scheduled for relocation be advised and permitted to relay to adult dependents that should Washington be evacuated and they are thereafter unable to return

My previous memorandum reflected a call received from Liaison Agent Woods at 2:18 p.m. from the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) site at [redacted]. At that time Woods stated that the Attorney General and Deputy Attorney General Rogers had arrived and that Woods had talked to the Attorney General and Rogers and had extended all possible courtesies. The Director pointed out on a previous memorandum that Rankin rather than Rogers was at [redacted]. Mr. Tolson inquired what briefing was given Woods re Rogers, was he shown photographs, etc.

At 3:50 p.m. I recontacted Woods and explained to him that he was in error when he had reported that he had met Rogers with the Attorney General, whereas in fact, it was Rankin who was there with the Attorney General at [redacted]. I inquired of Woods if he knew Rogers by sight and why it was his impression he was talking to Rogers, when in fact it was Rankin.

Agent Woods stated that his reporting of the facts to [redacted] was confusing as he felt that he must be circumspect and discreet and that, therefore, it was necessary not to use full names and that when he had stated, "The head of Justice and his right-hand man Mr. R. had arrived," it was intended to mean the Attorney General and Rankin and not Rogers. Woods stated he realizes now that he should have given the name of Rankin and not used the initial "R" and the descriptive data which he did.

I told Woods that his message had been erroneous and misleading to the Director in describing Rankin as Rogers and asked that he makes sure in passing on such information in the future that he reports it correctly. I, of course, was at fault in not specifically requesting that Woods identify Rankin by name rather than by the description used.

In answer to Mr. Tolson's inquiry, SA Woods and all of the Liaison men were specifically briefed as to their assignments prior to the practice alert. In view of the fact that it was not the Bureau's information that Rogers was going to [redacted] Woods was not given any specific instructions concerning Rogers as mentioned by Mr. Tolson. Woods was not shown photographs of the Department officials prior to his leaving for his assignment as he states he knows Rogers, Rankin, and the Attorney General by sight.

ACTION: None. The above is submitted for your information.

The following is a brief resume of activities for June 16, 1955, up to 4:00 PM:

Availability Checks

As mentioned in my memorandum of June 15, 1955, availability checks were conducted of Atlanta, Miami, Boston, New Haven and New York on the night of June 15. A separate memorandum has been submitted to the Director showing the results of these checks. Availability checks will be conducted starting at 10:00 PM tonight of the following offices: Denver, Milwaukee, Charlotte, Los Angeles and Chicago.

At 2:40 PM, Liaison Agent Daunt with Justice at [redacted] called and advised that Deputy Attorney General Rogers had suggested that the Bureau may want to simulate a security alert along the Canadian Border in view of a teletype from the Federal Civil Defense Administration dated 11:06 AM, June 16, reporting that the [redacted] had apprehended several thousand followers of enemy ideology in Canada and reliable reports indicate fifth column element had been instructed to make a concerted effort to create diversion by propaganda and assassination of key personnel. Agent Daunt was instructed to immediately advise Mr. Rogers that this Bureau had simulated such an alert among our offices along the Canadian Border at approximately 11:30 PM the night of June 15, because of information received from Civil Defense the night of June 15, indicating that Canadian cities were under attack. Further, we had simulated

(2) Philadelphia was contacted by teletype simulating instructions to apprehend an espionage agent at 1:19 AM, June 16. A reply was received by teletype, 1:25 AM, June 16.

(3) The problems simulating the landing and apprehension of enemy agents from a submarine were simulated by test message to Seattle by teletype at 4:35 AM, instructing Seattle to contact Portland and have Portland contact [redacted] Portland recontacted [redacted] at 4:52 AM. Notification to six intelligence agencies was simulated by contact with our Liaison Agents with those agencies. b7E

(4) Memorandum was prepared reflecting consideration of the thirty Prominent Individuals whose cases the Department is reviewing as to whether they should be on the Security Index. On June 10, the Department advised that of the thirty names, seven should be included in the Security Index and that the remaining twenty-three did not come within the new Security Index criteria. Therefore, the problem concerning the prominent individuals has been settled and the seven individuals are on the Index.

(5) The problem involving enemy diplomats touring the United States was repeated by messages to Memphis, Oklahoma City and Little Rock by teletype at 10:53 AM. Knoxville was contacted by telephone at 10:25 AM at its resident agencies, as Knoxville itself had been bombed out. There was no delay in reaching the Bureau in the return calls from these offices. Appropriate Liaison Agents were advised, simulating notification of arrests to those agencies.

(6) The Cincinnati Office was instructed by teletype to set up a radio-activity detection meter, take a reading and upon completion, sutel results to [redacted]

(7) A list of all Security Index subjects outside the country was prepared and notification to all offices was simulated through preparation of an airtel (not sent). A total of 218 names were listed. b7E

(8) A teletype was sent to [redacted] instructing that [redacted] operate its CW radio station on emergency power for 30 minutes and thereafter radio the Bureau using emergency power: This is a test of emergency power. Results not yet received.

Operation Alert 1955

(9) Five additional problems involving arrests of seamen, espionage suspects, landing of enemy agents were instituted during the afternoon of June 16. In instituting the above problems with the field offices, wherever Civil Defense teletypes had advised us that the headquarters city housing our field offices was bombed out, we utilized the field relocation site as represented by our resident agencies. We encountered no difficulty in contacting and securing replies from the resident agencies.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

PROBLEMS RECEIVED FROM OUTSIDE AGENCIES

Continuing my memorandum of June 15, 1955, the following additional problems from outside agencies were received:

1. By teletype received 11:15 p.m., June 15, Omaha referred to Bureau teletype alerting all offices that problems might be posed to the field by other agencies during this alert operation and instructing how to handle. Omaha informed that Administrator of Civilian Defense, Omaha, advised at 7:15 p.m., June 15, he received information from Civilian Defense Control Center in Lincoln, Nebraska, re theoretical problem alleging sabotage at Cornhusker Ordnance Plant in Grand Island, Nebraska. Omaha accepted the information, considered it as theoretical, and conducted no inquiry. Omaha considers investigation adequately handled. We are taking no further action as to this.
  2. By teletype from Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) received 1:45 a.m., June 16, advice received that due to extent of damage from the attack under Operation Alert the President has declared martial law throughout the nation. We sent a teletype to Justice relocation site at 5:10 a.m., June 16, requesting immediate advice as to jurisdiction of FBI under martial law and extent control and authority had passed from Justice to Military as pertained to FBI operations.
- By teletype received 7:19 a.m., June 16, ODM advised that civilian agencies in civil defense and mobilization areas were to continue to discharge responsibilities delegated to them by the President and that under martial law the Military will aid in the enforcement of those decisions.
- By teletype received 10:41 a.m., June 16, Justice replied to our teletype: "Under terms of Proclamation FBI will continue to operate under jurisdiction of Department of Justice. However, FBI and all civil officers are required to give full effect to the proclamation and all orders and regulations issued thereunder. Where conflict exists between martial law regulations and Department of Justice instructions, FBI shall obey Military Commander and promptly advise Department of facts. Where necessary, Department will advise Defense of conflict and seek resolution thereof so that objectives of civil authorities may be accomplished to greatest extent possible within framework of martial law."

3. By teletype received 5:18 a.m., June 16, Civil Service Commission (CSC) requested all agencies to report within 24 hours their estimate, from information at hand, as to "number of additional personnel critically needed by your agency and number of surplus personnel your agency can release for employment by other agencies. .... This information needed for negotiations and discussions with Manpower Control Agency concerning personnel needs and surpluses." By teletype dated June 16, 9:28 a.m., the Civil Service Commission was advised: "Additional personnel not critically needed now this agency. In view of essential responsibilities affecting internal security, no surplus personnel available."

4. At 5:22 a.m., June 16, we received from Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) an announcement for the purpose of the simulated alert that Civil Service Commission (CSC) will conduct national agency checks for background investigation under Executive Order 10450 to the fullest extent possible under emergency conditions. Teletype instructed that all agencies comply and take appropriate action as it pertained to their agencies and advised that CSC will continue to conduct limited security investigations whenever derogatory information is developed through national agency checks.

CSC advised our Liaison some weeks ago they proposed to use this so-called test problem during the national alert. We advised Kimbell Johnson of CSC that the Bureau would continue to handle name checks to the fullest extent possible at Washington headquarters until Washington was not habitable, after which CSC should refer their name check inquiries to our local field offices. We notified other Government agencies who make name checks with us that this would be our policy during an emergency. We are not replying to the above teletype as no request for reply is made.

5. By teletype received 12:16 p.m., June 16, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) advised that by virtue of authority vested in ODM under Executive Order 13422, Federal Communications Commission (FCC) was directed to establish a priority of restoration system for private line communication facilities in the continental United States,

Hawaii, Alaska, and Puerto Rico. All Government agencies were requested to certify to the FCC remaining private line communication facilities under their control which would carry priority messages and which should be given priority of restoration.

By teletype reply 3:25 p.m., we advised FCC only private line facility available to our relocation site is from our site to [redacted]

[redacted] No request for priority restoration of other lines is being made by us in view of complete destruction of points previously served. In other words, our reply to FCC was couched in terms simulating the destruction of all our direct lines with the exception of our line to [redacted]. This is logical because Washington and New York are presumably bombed out. b7E

6. At 6:55 a.m., June 16, Assistant Director Parsons was notified that a teletype had been received from ODM, directed to all Government agencies, outlining emergency restrictions being placed on the use of radio. The instructions state: ".....After the effective date of this order no radio station or electrical apparatus within the jurisdiction of the United States shall use any radio frequency between 10 kilocycles and 100,000 megacycles for the purpose of communicating with any other radio station, or stations, transmitting any information by means of radio, testing, or emitting electromagnetic radiations except in accordance with specific authority of the Director of the ODM."

As this, upon checking, appeared to apply to FBI radio communications, Mr. Parsons contacted Liaison Agent Woods at 9:45 a.m. and requested that he get clarification of the ODM instructions, as they would appear to stop all FBI radio communications. A teletype was dispatched at 10:02 a.m. to the Director of ODM referring to these instructions and requesting authority to utilize our authorized frequencies for any radio messages essential in carrying out the internal security responsibilities of this Bureau in accordance with previously approved [redacted]. Woods took this up with ODM and a teletype was received from ODM 3:51 p.m. advising no restrictions on the use of our radio frequencies. b7E

7. A teletype was received from General Services Administration (GSA) at 1:54 p.m. (for all agencies), stating GSA was preparing to send teams to relocation centers of various agencies to establish liaison and determine overall agency requirements for real property, personal property and records. GSA requested information relating to number of personnel to be serviced, space occupied, space required, vehicles required, etc. A teletype reply was sent to GSA stating our relocation plans provide for overall agency needs at relocation points of indefinite duration, obviating at this time any problems concerning real and personal property; that we have provided for our own records rehabilitation; and if need arises for liaison, it will be requested.

AT 100 - FBI - MEMPHIS
JUN 1, 1955

I thought you would be interested in some of the highlights of an intra-bureau test relocation conducted on June 26, 1955. The relocation exercise was started by a simulated alert phone call at 9:30 a.m. Immediate notification was made to 175 bureau personnel scheduled for actual relocation in an emergency. All personnel so scheduled assembled in a first-floor corridor in the Justice Building within seven minutes after the receipt of the simulated alert and by 10:10 a.m., the 35 employees who actually participated in this test exercise had reported for thirteen offices were contacted by various means of communication during this exercise. Three of the above thirteen offices were given specific assignments on individual problems. All assignments were completed and the test was terminated shortly after 2 p.m.

Problems dealing with the emergency detention program and the program calling for the protective custody of diplomats of enemy nations using substituted messages were successfully carried out. A problem dealing with contacts by radio by persons who in an actual emergency will accompany various agencies in the Executive Branch of the Government in their respective offices, was carried out successfully.

While this test was necessarily limited for security reasons, it did reflect that the notification of personnel at the Bureau was accomplished promptly and without congestion. The communications installations, accompanied by the necessary checking and clearing procedures, were efficient. It is expected, however, that some congestion will undoubtedly be experienced under the volume of communications in an actual emergency.

This intra-bureau test was run in preparation for participation in operation Alert 1955, June 15-17, 1955.

As proposed in memorandum Belmont to Boardman dated May 6, 1955, a test evacuation from Bureau Headquarters in Washington, D. C., to our [REDACTED] relocation site was held on May 26, 1955. b7E

Starting with a simulated [REDACTED] received by Belmont at 9:30 a.m., immediate notification was made to Bureau personnel scheduled for relocation in an emergency. Personnel were instructed to assemble in the 1500 corridor where a check-off system was established to insure that all personnel scheduled for relocation appeared. Only 38 persons actually participated in the test run to [REDACTED] the remainder of the 173 scheduled for relocation immediately reported back to their offices and resumed work. Within 7 minutes of the receipt of the simulated alert--that is, by 9:37 a.m.--the check-off of persons to be relocated had been completed either by the physical appearance of the employee or notification to the checkers that the employee had been notified. Thirty-two employees in the Records and Communications Division did not physically report, in accordance with instructions given to them, as it was not deemed feasible to take them off their assignments--namely, telephone switchboard, code room, etc. The important thing here is that within 7 minutes all 173 Bureau personnel scheduled for relocation had been notified and either assembled in the 1500 corridor or had been accounted for.

b7E

Of the 38 persons scheduled to go to [REDACTED] 23 went in the Memorandum to Boardman from Belmont

May 26, 1955

Re: WAR PLANS - TEST EVACUATION TO [REDACTED]
RELOCATION SITE, MAY 26, 1955

b7E

Under real emergency conditions, a message would be sent to all 52 field offices instructing that the Emergency Detention Program be put into effect. As a test of communications, the following test message was substituted for the actual message:

"Communications Test. This is test of communications under emergency conditions. You should contact Bureau Office at [REDACTED] within the hour by teletype and indicate the amount of time required to actually make contact by the following message: 'Re Test Message. [REDACTED] Office received [REDACTED] message at [REDACTED] (Time). First attempted contact with [REDACTED] (Time). Hoover'"

b7E

Four of these messages were sent by teletype (to San Francisco, Dallas, Boston and Detroit) and required teletype replies; four by radio, requiring radio replies; and two by telephone, requiring telephone replies.

The four teletype messages were dispatched to Communications at 10:41 a.m. They were actually sent between 10:47 and 11:02 a.m. Replies were received by us from all four offices by 11:20 a.m.

The four radio messages were dispatched to Communications at 10:41 a.m. They were sent (after encoding) and replies were received as follows:

Office	Sent	Reply Received
Miami
San Juan - sent via Miami
Chicago
Honolulu - sent via San Diego

b7E

We first attempted to handle the radio messages through existing facilities at [REDACTED] which are limited (these facilities are necessarily limited because of [REDACTED] to install major equipment at [REDACTED] which will communicate with all Bureau stations), under the assumption that our [REDACTED] stations had been put out of commission. At 1:33 p.m. we shifted to the [REDACTED] stations, and the Chicago and Honolulu messages were sent as we had been unable to reach them through [REDACTED] facilities.

b7E

separate memorandum is being submitted by the Records and Communications Division as to adequacy of radio communications at [REDACTED].

The remaining two offices, Washington Field (at relocation site at [REDACTED]) and Pittsburgh, were furnished the test message by telephone at 10:45 a.m. and 10:49 a.m., respectively. Their replies were received at 11:11 a.m. and 11:11 a.m., respectively. b7E

As will be seen from the above, no difficulty was encountered in communications with the exception of radio. Attached is a sheet showing the exact times of sending and receiving these ten test messages.

SPECIAL PROBLEMS

1. Protection of Enemy Diplomatic Officials (Prodip)

We simulated a notification to the appropriate offices that would be involved in the event this program went into effect. We assumed that the Secretary of State had authorized the implementation of this program.

A telephone call was placed to the New York Office at 10:59 a.m. SAC Kelly was on another floor, therefore, Supervisor McAndrews was instructed to immediately communicate with the Philadelphia Office and instruct Philadelphia to teletype FBI headquarters at [REDACTED] within an hour, sending the following message, "Re test message. Received message from New York by (telephone or teletype) at (time)." This telephone call to New York was confirmed by teletype to New York sent 11:19 a.m. A teletype reply was received as instructed from Philadelphia at 11:45 a.m., following receipt of instructions from New York to Philadelphia by telephone at 11:07 a.m. b7E

Washington Field Office was contacted at its relocation site by telephone at 11:05 a.m. SAC Laughlin was instructed to communicate with the Baltimore Office at Baltimore by the quickest means available and instruct Baltimore to radio the FBI at [REDACTED] within an hour and send the following message, "Re test message. Received message from relocation WFO by (telephone or teletype) at (time)." SAC Laughlin called back at 11:24 a.m. to advise the message was delivered to SAC Brown at Baltimore by telephone at 11:15 a.m. Baltimore was unable b7E to reach [REDACTED] by radio and consequently sent a teletype to [REDACTED] received at [REDACTED] at 1:42 p.m. Subsequently Baltimore reached [REDACTED] by radio at 2:10 p.m. The question of radio facilities at [REDACTED] is being covered by a separate memorandum from the Records and Communications Division as stated above.

b7E

2. Emergency Detention Program

In order to make a further communications check and simulate the arrest of a Government employee which would require notification to the interested Government agency, a telephone call was placed at 11:16 a.m. to the St. Louis Office at its headquarters. All circuits were busy to St. Louis. ASAC Moss at St. Louis was reached at 11:22 a.m. and was instructed to call back within an hour indicating the length of time it took St. Louis to reach our [REDACTED] headquarters. At 11:47 a.m. ASAC Moss called back and advised that it took him five minutes to reach [REDACTED] as he placed the call at 11:42 a.m. A call was placed to our Liaison Agent in Washington for the purpose of simulating notification to G-2 that this Government employee was to be apprehended. We then went through the actual procedure of removing and appropriately filing under "Apprehensions" the fictitious Security Index card we had prepared for the subject. A memorandum was prepared to advise G-2 that the subject had been apprehended.

3. Liaison Test Problem

In order to test the ability of our Liaison Agents, who in an emergency would be stationed with their respective agencies, to reach our [REDACTED] headquarters, three Liaison Agents placed telephone calls from various locations in Washington, D. C., to [REDACTED] during the day. In each instance the Liaison Agent experienced no difficulty in reaching our [REDACTED] headquarters through the emergency telephone lines. The longest time it took a Liaison Agent to reach [REDACTED] was five minutes.

4. Espionage Subjects in Special Section of Security Index

Espionage subjects carried in the Special Section of the Security Index are not to be apprehended in an emergency without first clearing with the Bureau. This is in order that we will not interfere with an

May 26, 1955

Re: WAR PLANS - TEST EVACUATION TO [REDACTED]
RELOCATION SITE, MAY 26, 1955

b7E

important espionage investigation which we may desire to continue operating rather than effect an immediate apprehension. As a test we simulated a situation where the Philadelphia Office had called [REDACTED] to request permission to apprehend a fictitious espionage subject. After appropriate consideration was given to the case, a teletype was dispatched to the Communications Division at 11:20 a.m. and dispatched to the Philadelphia Office at 11:33 a.m. This message, which was a substitute for authorization to apprehend the subject, instructed Philadelphia to contact the FBI at [REDACTED] by radio within the hour and advise the exact time that the message from [REDACTED] was received. A radio message was received back from Philadelphia at 2:26 p.m., advising the [REDACTED] message had been received at 11:33 a.m. As stated above, a separate memorandum is being prepared by the Records and Communications Division as to the adequacy of radio facilities at [REDACTED]. The card of the fictitious subject was thereupon removed from the Security Index and filed under "Apprehensions," to be included in the appropriate list of apprehensions to be furnished to the Attorney General at the end of the day. Of course, none of the memoranda which would normally be sent outside of the Bureau will leave the Bureau. The entire relocation operation was confined to Bureau personnel.

b7E

Each Assistant Director present at [REDACTED] today checked those items pertaining to his Division and will submit separate memoranda in the event problems were encountered which require additional attention.

b7E

A separate memorandum is being prepared reflecting, insofar as is possible, the cost of this one-day relocation test.

The test was concluded shortly after 4 p.m. and [REDACTED] at 4:23, arriving at Washington headquarters at [REDACTED]

Re: WAR PLANS - TEST EVACUATION TO [REDACTED]
RELOCATION SITE, MAY 26, 1955

EVALUATION OF TEST

This was necessarily a very limited test of what our actual operations would be in an emergency, particularly from a standpoint of volume. Nevertheless, it did reflect that notification of personnel at the Bureau was accomplished promptly and without congestion. The elapsed time between receipt of the simulated alert and the departure of personnel for [REDACTED] was 10 minutes. The personnel were at [REDACTED] ready to work, within [REDACTED] after receipt of the alert. b7E

No difficulty was encountered in telephone communications within the [REDACTED] as there are 60 extensions. Telephone and teletype communications, including encoding and decoding, from [REDACTED] operated efficiently and promptly. No congestion of telephone and teletype communications was experienced. However, congestion undoubtedly would be experienced under the volume of operations in an emergency. b7E

A teletype operator in the Richmond exchange exhibited curiosity concerning the location of our machines. A separate memorandum is being submitted as to this, reflecting that this operator was given no satisfaction and the Special Agent in Charge at Richmond has been instructed to contact the telephone company regarding this.

The direct line to [REDACTED] and the direct line to New York were activated without difficulty. No trouble was experienced with the ten trunk lines leading out of our [REDACTED] switchboard. b7E

SAC Laughlin experienced difficulty with the teletype machine at [REDACTED] and is submitting a separate memorandum.

Radio facilities at [REDACTED] are not adequate to handle even limited traffic with the field. However, the move now under way of the [REDACTED] stations to the [REDACTED] relocation site should provide adequate facilities. b7E

Memorandum to Boardman from Belmont

May 26, 1955

Re: WAR PLANS - TEST EVACUATION TO [REDACTED]
RELOCATION SITE, MAY 26, 1955

b7E

The security at the [REDACTED] appears to be highly adequate. The facilities provided by [REDACTED] were well set up and we had no difficulty operating. Messenger service was set up and administrative filing was accomplished while the test was going on.

b7E

We had no difficulty with the field offices. They handled their assignments promptly.

This one-day test will prove to be of considerable value relative to the forthcoming relocation test in June. Regardless of the forthcoming test, it has shown that we have a workable arrangement now in existence.

Mr. Philcox of the Liaison Section accompanied approximately twenty-five members of the White House staff to the White House relocation site on Wednesday, June 15, 1955. The White House relocation site is at Camp David in the Catoclin Mountain National Park near Thurmont, Maryland, approximately seventy-five miles from Washington, D.C. The President was at the relocation site except for the periods when he was attending meetings at [redacted]. There were approximately twelve representatives of the press present at the relocation site. They were allowed to take one photograph of the President at his desk but no photographs outside of the building were allowed. There were four Marine helicopters standing by at the relocation site for use in an emergency. Most of the telephone calls from Camp David were made to other relocation sites via microwave through [redacted]. The switchboard at Camp David handled approximately 1,400 calls on Thursday, June 16, 1955.

After attending a meeting at [redacted] on the morning of June 17, 1955, the President did not return to the relocation site but proceeded to his farm at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. Colonel Andrew Goodpaster, Staff Secretary to the President, and Commander Edward Beach, Naval Aide to the President, returned to the relocation site after the meeting at [redacted] and stated that this last meeting had been very helpful in that it demonstrated to many of those present just what is needed in order to operate successfully from a relocation site.

The operation at Camp David ended at approximately 1:30 P.M., June 17, 1955. Enclosed is a copy of the White House plan.

ACTION:

None. This is for information. There were no unforeseen incidents or problems which involved the Bureau.

For record purposes, Mr. McGuire received a telephone call from [redacted] Assistant Manager of the C&P Telephone Company [redacted] referred to the fact that the Bureau had five long distance circuits direct from [redacted] to the telephone company at [redacted] and that one of these circuits, [redacted] was connected from a phone company at [redacted] to the frame [redacted] but was not run from the frame into the [redacted]. He advised that another agency of the Government needed additional circuits urgently during the period June 15 to June 20 and he wondered if there was any possibility of the FBI releasing [redacted] for this five day period. Mr. [redacted] was told that we did not want to release this circuit under any circumstances.

Shortly thereafter, [redacted] of the telephone company advised Mr. McGuire that the [redacted] needed two loops from the [redacted] where [redacted] is relocating for purposes of the war plans test next week and he wondered if it was possible that the Bureau was not going to be able to use [redacted] during that period and if not, would we be agreeable to releasing that circuit for five days for the use of [redacted]. [redacted] advised that they had absolutely no other circuits that they could provide [redacted] on this last minute basis. [redacted] was informed the Bureau did not want to release [redacted] that he knew the [redacted] had begun construction on a new cable which should be completely installed within the next few days which would give us additional pairs from the [redacted] into our building and that we could thereafter take our FM radio circuit off of [redacted] and have it reconnected to our switchboard prior to the test next Wednesday, June 15, and accordingly, we could not give up [redacted]. [redacted] stated he understood and he was going through the motions of making the request. He advised the telephone company was able to provide one circuit to [redacted] and that it was going to be up to [redacted] to make some other arrangements. No further action is required.

At 2:05 p.m. June 15, 1955, the District of Columbia air raid siren will blow throughout the District of Columbia. This is scheduled to include an air raid test for all of the metropolitan Washington area. The Bureau was advised by Mr. Albright, air raid coordinator of the Department, that no part of the Department of Justice would take part in this air raid drill.

For your information, at 10 a.m. June 15, 1955, the test exercises for the Bureau will commence. Shortly after 10 a.m. selected personnel will proceed to [ ] for the purpose of the 3-day test exercises. At 12:05 p.m. June 15, 1955, the Klaxon horn in the Department of Justice will sound commencing the "curb" air raid drill. Instructions were issued by memorandum dated June 9, 1955, to all Assistant Directors and other Bureau officials advising that the Bureau would take part in this latter drill. This latter drill is a complete evacuation of the Department of Justice building with all personnel scheduled to leave the building and stand for approximately 10 minutes in the area between the street curb and the building.

Mr. Willis of the Department of Justice, Code 197, Extension 956, telephoned today (6-17-55) and asked if the Bureau planned to submit a report concerning its participation in Operation Alert 1955. He asked if so when the Bureau planned to submit it and to whom. He said that Justice plans to submit a preliminary report to the Office of Defense Mobilization by noon, Tuesday, June 21, 1955. Mr. Willis stated that the Justice report would be a preliminary report and that they would not necessarily have to have the Bureau's report prior to that time.

I advised Mr. Willis that the Bureau would prepare a report on our participation in Operation Alert 1955 and would submit it to the Attorney General early next week.

LIAISON

JUN 27 1955

MEMORANDUM TO THE DIRECTOR

our Liaison from Justice advised Attorney General had approved arrest of dangerous enemy aliens only. At 4:00 p.m., our Liaison advised Attorney General had approved program involving enemy diplomats.

We had Liaison recontact Deputy AG Rogers to be sure only dangerous enemy aliens had been approved for pick-up. I contacted Rankin at [ ] personally to verify this. b7E

PROTECTIVE CUSTODY ENEMY DIPLOMATS

At 4:41 p.m. (completed 4:43 p.m.) Washington Field Office at relocation site was telephonically notified to contact Baltimore Office at once and have Baltimore radio us within an hour. At 4:47 p.m. (completed 4:50 p.m.), New York Office telephonically instructed to contact Philadelphia Office and have them teletype us within the hour. These calls simulated this program. Confirming teletype sent to Code Room 5:02 p.m., and dispatched to New York 5:39 p.m. Reply teletype received from Philadelphia 5:05 p.m. and radio message from Baltimore at 5:50 p.m. No delay was encountered in this program.

Total [ ] personnel involved:
New York - [ ] 192; [ ] 149; - Washington - [ ] 271;
[ ] 143; TOTAL - 755. As Washington, D. C., and New York were both either evacuated or bombed, according to Civil Defense teletypes prior to authority for apprehension of diplomats, number apprehended is strictly problematical. b7E

EMERGENCY DETENTION PROGRAM

After instructions were verified through Rankin that Program restricted to dangerous enemy aliens, all Offices notified (simulated) to apprehend dangerous enemy aliens on Security Index; 14 by telephone, 15 by teletype, and 23 by radio. Replies were required from each office within 2 hours.

Telephone calls placed from 4:53 p.m., to 5:52 p.m. Replies received from 5:03 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. No delays. Longest time for us to make contact 13 minutes. Longest time for field to make contact with us 10 minutes.

MEMORANDUM TO THE DIRECTOR

Radio and teletype messages placed starting 5:38 p.m., and ending 7:16 p.m. All replies received by 8:37 p.m. Longest delay encountered by office attempting to reach [redacted] was 1 hour, 27 minutes. (Teletype from Oklahoma City).

A check of dangerous aliens of our Security Index reflects a total of 211 enemy aliens representing the Soviet bloc. The remainder of the 481 aliens on our Security Index are not citizens of iron curtain countries. The number of these aliens who would be apprehended as of this time is problematical because Civil Defense teletype received 9:15 p.m. June 15, stated 54 cities had been hit with 6,957,000 fatalities and over five million injured, and 15 million displaced. (You may wish to mention this figure of 211 to the Attorney General as in effect it represents total number of arrests he authorized by his first instructions.)

At 4:50 p.m. our liaison at Justice advised that Deputy Attorney General Rogers and Tompkins were trying to contact the Attorney General recommending authorization to effect the arrest of citizens on the Security Index but the Attorney General was en route from [redacted]

At 6:10 p.m. our liaison advised that the Attorney General had authorized the arrest of all other persons on the Security Index, both citizens and aliens. According to "Telescope Timetable" 6:10 p.m. would be D-Day plus three and consequently some 22 thousand persons would have been allowed to run free to commit sabotage and go into hiding prior to authorization for their arrest. Under the bombing conditions as set forth by Civil Defense above and the delay in authorizing arrests, it is impossible to say what success could be achieved in making the arrests of the more than 22 thousand persons. (You may wish to point this out to the Attorney General.)

b7E

MEMORANDUM TO THE DIRECTOR

OTHER PROBLEMS WORKED

Other problems, as set forth in our brief on this exercise, were:

1. [redacted] tested and operated 11:05 a.m. b7E

2. Laboratory sent teletypes to Newark and Philadelphia requesting handwriting from Communist suspect and simulated secret ink message.

3. List of dangerous aliens of non-enemy nations attached to United Nations and its international organizations prepared for Attorney General and Secretary of State for decision as to action. (Not sent.)

4. Radioactivity detection meter set up at [redacted] for periodic readings of radioactivity. b7E

5. All our Liaison Agents who relocated with their agencies had established contact with us from relocation sites by 2:59 p.m.

6. Current list of Security Index subjects, showing last-minute changes, secured from Washington.

7. Four offices contacted on simulated problem requiring taking into custody 4 enemy diplomats touring the United States. One problem simulated New York securing Bureau authority to arrest espionage subject. We simulated problem concerning subjects in Special Section of Security Index, consulting State Department concerning status of pro-Tito Yugoslavs, foreign government employees, United Nations employees; considered espionage subjects, as to whether they should be apprehended; and simulated notification of appropriate Government agencies as to arrests of U. S. Government employees on Security Index.

8. We contacted telephonically St. Louis Office on simulated problem involving arrest of civilian employee of Department of Army at arsenal in St. Louis and appropriate notification of Government agency of arrest.

9. A memorandum was prepared showing number of Security Index subjects in each office, in order to consider need to transfer Special Agents to assist where necessary.

10. We contacted Savannah by teletype, simulating instructions to investigate probable [REDACTED].

b7E

11. A memorandum was prepared recommending the setting up of a new Section in the Domestic Intelligence Division to handle sabotage, in view of expected heavy influx of these cases.

AVAILABILITY CHECKS

Beginning at 10:00 p.m., calls were placed to the following offices instructing availability checks of Agents at headquarters cities be made and reported to Bureau by teletype: New York, Boston, Atlanta, Miami, and New Haven. Instructions given to SACs except at Boston and Miami, where instructions were given to night supervisor, who was instructed contact the SAC and advise him of the Bureau instructions. Weeks of Miami was en route to the office at time of the call. Powers of Boston was in ~~Providence~~, Rhode Island. Results of these checks not yet known. You will be advised.

PROBLEMS RECEIVED FROM OUTSIDE AGENCIES

1. Office of Defense Mobilization coded teletype received 3:58 p.m. reporting Communist infiltration in labor union for Copper Smelter and Refinery at Garfield, Utah, and asking investigation actual or threatened damage and advice on measures for protecting facilities. Coded teletype reply sent 8:19 p.m., advising immediate investigation instituted at designated refinery for possible sabotage; that intensive investigation previously conducted concerning Communist infiltration in labor union and that reports have been furnished to G-2 as Army has security responsibility for plant; that Army being alerted locally, and suggesting ODM contact Army re protecting facilities, as this is their responsibility.

2. Teletype received 10:53 p.m. from General Services Administration, advising personnel records at Federal Records Center, St. Louis, and Civil Service Retirement Records at Washington completely destroyed; instructing maximum practical protection be given to personnel records, pay roll records, and service records in custody of Federal agencies. Reply sent by teletype 12:37 a.m., June 16: "Records secured [redacted] FBI records exempted Federal Records Center Storage." [redacted] b7E
(code name for FBI relocation site.)

Referral/Consult

4. At 12:13 a.m., June 16, a radiogram was received from Justice requesting Bureau to report as to damage to St. Louis Tierright Shoe Manufacturing Company and transmit information to U. S. Attorney at St. Louis and to Justice. Liaison had advised us at 10:27 p.m. that this was being sent as a test message. Reply radiogram being sent for information: "Uncap. Your message June 15, '55 re problem No. 10 received and request handled. Uncap." We are not contacting the U. S. Attorney.

Memorandum for the Director

DELAYS

Listed below are some of the delays encountered today:

(1) When we tried to reach Washington Field Office over direct telephone line to [ ] the line was inoperative. Contact was made with the telephone company who advised that the trouble developed in the central office connection and not on the [ ] line and the difficulty has been fully corrected.

b7E

(2) Authorization for the Emergency Detention Program and the program involving custody of enemy diplomats. This was covered in detail above.

(3) Despite the fact that employees in the Code Room worked assiduously without going to lunch the volume was so great that delays occurred in coding. We will have to take this into account in an emergency.

(4) Liaison Agent at AEC had difficulty reaching us because of faulty AEC communications at relocation site.

(5) We had difficulty reaching Liaison Agent at [ ] due to confusion existing in communications at [ ]

b7E

(6) Our Liaison Agent at Camp David was delayed in reaching [ ] due to faulty handling of his call at the relay at [ ] and finally had to come through Washington exchange which would not have been possible had Washington been bombed as indicated by Civilian Defense.

b7E

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S REQUEST

This evening Liaison Agent Daunt advised he had talked with the Attorney General who asked for information on the route to [ ] Daunt gave him details on how to reach [ ] The Attorney General

b7E

Memorandum for the Director

asked Daunt as to the number of pickups made on dangerous aliens. I thought the Director might want to tell the Attorney General on the morning of June 16 that the total number of dangerous enemy aliens on the Security Index is 211 and point out the number apprehended is problematical in view of the evacuation and bombing as reflected by Civilian Defense reports; also that the delay in authorizing the apprehension of the 22,000 other subjects on the Security Index plus extensive damage to 54 cities according to Civilian Defense at 9:15 p. m. makes it impossible to determine the success of the apprehension program; that the delay in authorizing taking into custody enemy diplomats until after Washington and New York were evacuated or bombed makes it impossible to advise the number of enemy diplomats who could be apprehended. If the Director desires that we have Liaison Agent Daunt handle this with the Attorney General, we will do so.

OPERATION ALERT 1955 (June 15, 16 and 17)
REPORT OF FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

OFFICIAL IN CHARGE

John Edgar Hoover, Director, FBI.

ESSENTIAL WARTIME FUNCTIONS

A great percentage of FBI wartime functions pertain to the internal security of the United States, and in time of emergency, this responsibility will be greatly intensified. The problems selected for testing in connection with Operation Alert 1955, all related to this primary responsibility of the FBI. All 51 problems previously planned by the FBI for this 3-day period were completed, as well as 16 problems presented to the FBI by outside agencies. During the course of this 3-day test, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Based on the receipt of simulated damage information from Federal Civil Defense Administration, many of the above contacts were made with FBI field offices at their relocation sites.

Because of our internal security responsibilities, the FBI cannot alter its essential wartime functions.

INTERAGENCY COORDINATION AND COOPERATION

Six FBI liaison Agents accompanied other agencies in the Executive branch of the Government to their relocation sites where they carried on liaison for the entire 3-day period. In addition thereto, other FBI liaison Agents were in direct contact with other agencies in the Executive branch of the Government who did not actually relocate during Operation Alert 1955.

~~TOP SECRET~~

We were able to maintain contact with our liaison Agents at other relocation sites; however, delay was encountered in one instance in making contact with the liaison Agent [redacted] to its relocation site. A short delay was also encountered in one contact with the liaison Agent at the [redacted] its relocation site. Investigation disclosed that both difficulties were not at the FBI relocation site, but pertained to communications difficulties at the relocation site of the other agency.

DAMAGE ASSESSMENT INFORMATION

The damage assessment information obtained from the Federal Civil Defense Administration by direct teletype was voluminous and contained considerable data which would have little or no direct value to FBI operations in a period of emergency. However, the information pertaining to Presidential directives, Executive orders, and information reflecting new regulations and procedures being placed into effect as well as the time a given area was evacuated, the time an area was bombed and the extent of bomb damage together with "fall out" information and weather conditions, which would reflect the direction of "fall out" and indicate the extent thereof, are extremely important to the FBI and its operations. This type of information will assist in carrying out our responsibilities; indicate which of our field offices are no longer tenable at headquarters city and will, to a great degree, indicate whether or not the selected relocation site of each of the offices is available and of value at the time. It will also indicate whether it is expedient to dispatch additional personnel to a given area to handle specific problems which may develop as a result of an evacuation, a bombing, or resultant "fall out." Of course, information as to basic medical resources, food stocks and water supply is important in any operation. With reference to radio transmitters and telecommunications exchanges, the FBI communications network has been engineered to operate independently of any outside source of power.

ADEQUACY OF SITE

The FBI relocation site is believed to be adequate for essential emergency operations insofar as floor space, living accommodations and office accommodations are concerned. There is no problem as to security at the relocation site inasmuch as the [redacted] during the course of Operation Alert 1955, maintained [redacted]

COMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES, PROCEDURES AND PERSONNEL

The FBI relocation site is equipped with telephone, teletype, and [redacted] In the very near future, the FBI leg of the microwave network will be completed. It is believed that with the completion of this microwave installation, FBI communications facilities will be wholly adequate for communication between other Government agencies and FBI field installations. No difficulty or delay was encountered in communications between the FBI relocation site and FBI field installations during the course of this test operation. The FBI relocation site has an independent electrical power supply and, therefore, our radio facilities will be available for communications at all times short of demolition of the relocation site itself.

ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS

All operations at the FBI relocation site follow standard administrative procedures used during normal operations at the Seat of Government. There was no shortage of technical and office equipment and supplies. There is maintained an adequate inventory of office equipment and supplies at the relocation site. These supplies are being replenished after Operation Alert 1955. It is believed that sufficient business machines and facilities are available at the relocation site and that administrative operations are adequate and complete.

FIELD TEST

The St. Louis office of the FBI participated in the evacuation of all premises occupied by the FBI in St. Louis. The St. Louis office, like all other offices of the FBI, was called upon to execute certain phases of various problems. Except for the initial contact with the St. Louis office during Operation Alert 1955, all other contacts and problems were worked out by St. Louis personnel at their emergency relocation site. As previously set forth, all 52 field offices of the FBI were contacted at least twice during the course of Operation Alert 1955 and, in addition thereto, [redacted] required some activity on the part of the Bureau field offices.

While talking to Herbert Hoover, Jr. on other matters Saturday he started commiserating about Operation Alert and the so-called interlopers. His remarks were being directed at Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) and their so-called empire building tactics which I quite frankly egged on a little.

He wondered how we got along. I told him that so far as our operation was concerned we got along very good although at one time State tried to get in touch with us and were told by the ODM switchboard operator that we were not participating. When we ran this down, we found out that what the operator had in mind was that we were not participating on the microwave network and the operator did not have sense enough to try to get us on the telephone.

Herb stated that he felt that one thing that was absolutely necessary was to provide a communication network for the action agencies which would include [redacted] and one or two others, and take the action agencies out from under [redacted] controls and communication facilities; that [redacted] could handle the so-called non-essential operations. I told Herb that there, of course, were a lot of problems that he might have an idea that would warrant further study. He stated that he felt very definite about this; that he was still burning over [redacted] and that he personally was going to take this matter up with the President. While he was somewhat guarded, I would gather that he has pretty well sized up Arthur Flemming. I know that his father does not have too much patience with Flemming.

While discussing other matters with the Director this morning, I mentioned necessary repairs made on teletype equipment. By way of explanation, upon attempting to transmit teletype acknowledgment to [redacted] at 10:24 p.m., June 14, 1955, the tape "feeder" to machine failed to function properly. Call immediately placed repair office, Richmond, and repair man arrived [redacted]. He departed 1:15 a.m. Trouble lay in Richmond office (telephones) failing to furnish sufficient voltage for machine. No messages missed in view of two additional teletype machines on hand for usage. This incident will be discussed with Telephone Company, along with any other incidents that arise during test.

At 9:30 a.m., June 15, 1955, SAC [redacted] for test purposes. As result of overloaded line, fuse blew out on teletype machine installed by [redacted]. Fuse immediately substituted and no messages lost because of fifteen minute interruption. This machine installed on Monday, June 13, 1955, & following completion [redacted] on Tuesday, June 14, 1955, this was [redacted]. Survey will be made to determine need for additional power which will support this added machine, when [redacted].

Director not advised of above incidents prior to my call because equipment immediately repaired, no messages lost, and both incidents occurred during "testing period" prior to beginning of actual alert. A careful log is being kept on all such incidents. Director will be immediately advised of any breakdown in equipment.

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY ELLTON LEWIS, JR.

(COPYRIGHT, 1955, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.)

WASHINGTON, June 23--President Eisenhower reflected the thinking of most reporters when he told the press during "Operation Alert-1955" that he had never thought so many complications could develop and that he was "convinced the job could have been done much better."

Here in Washington the "exercises" are being referred to as "Operation Foul-up" or "Operation Goof-off," evidencing the frustration felt by so many newsmen who covered the mass evacuation of key government workers from the city.

Initially, reporters arriving at the emergency press headquarters showed remarkable restraint in going along with the simulated atomic attack and attempted to play the news with all seriousness.

It soon became evident, however, that some of the officials and many of the key government workers were conducting themselves as though on a picnic. The emergency press headquarters, through which all information from the 31 relocation centers of the Government was supposed to flow, was running from 2 to 10 hours behind New York and Washington news rooms.

Murray Snyder, Assistant News Secretary for the President, was up until one a.m. the first night of Operation Alert trying to persuade some of the Administration's top brass to hold news conferences at the emergency headquarters so that the reporters would have something to write about.

To many reporters, it appeared that most of the 15,000 Federal workers assigned to evacuate at the first sound of the siren regarded "Operation Alert - 1955" as nothing more than a lark--a chance to get away for a couple of days. INDEXED - 66-17381-937 NOT RECORDED

Officials insist that much routine work was done at the relocation centers, but this can not be proved. As a matter of fact, several trucks carrying office files and supplies arrived at the wrong places and were hours late getting to their proper destinations. Some workers were lost, the inevitable result of operations which left it to the individuals to find their own way.

Most of this confusion came from too casual briefing or lack of planning for the actual field activities.

Bureau War Plans Adv. Div. Update For S.O.C.

BY FULTON LEWIS, JR.

xx activities.

The ebullient Val Peterson, Administrator of Civil Defense, used every opportunity to claim success for Operation Alert, but failed to substantiate his claims. Further, he quoted figures on casualties and damage prepared weeks in advance of the test and his own bureau's reports clearly established that it had assumed that the Defense Department had failed to intercept many of the "enemy" bombers with our own fighters or guided missiles.

Perhaps the prime purpose of Operation Alert was to strike fear in the hearts of most Americans and thus bring about more serious interest in Civil Defense. If so, Mr. Peterson failed miserably since it is generally agreed that the exercises were less than successful and impressed no one.

The one man in Washington with gumption enough to call upon the Civil Defense Administration to postpone Operation Alert was fired from his unpaid, volunteer job. John Garrett Underhill, Deputy District Civil Defense Director, was sacked after publicly stating that Federal civil defense policies were disastrous.

Underhill contended that "it is shameful that this dreadful exhibition has been staged before all the world."

"The embassies and legations of our allies, as well as the Communists," he said, "have had grandstand seats to observe the incompetence of Civil Defense leadership, the lack of well-laid policies and plans and the almost total absence of Civil Defense cooperation by the people."

Underhill appears to make sense, for it is almost impossible to have the public take some of the Civil Defense Administration's alarms seriously when their own officials seem confused by conflicting orders and recommendations.

Summed up, Operation Alert was less than successful and as one wag at the emergency press headquarters put it, Underhill's analysis of the situation prior to the exercises proved to be correct.

Perhaps the wrong man was fired.

In addition, he commented that the Department's portfolio re "Essential Wartime Functions" for the purpose of future tests and certainly in anticipation of any emergency should be more widely studied by essential Department personnel. He pointed out that such was lacking for this test.

At 10:30 p.m. on the same date Rogers called a meeting of all personnel for the purpose of briefing them on conditions [redacted] [redacted] This, according to Rogers, would be necessary in a real emergency in view of the natural and intense curiosity that relocated personnel would have.

Observations

The Department's Message Center which was set up to control all incoming and outgoing messages, both to route incoming and approve outgoing, did not function as well as expected. Experience proved that information obtained via telephone by high level Department officials was not always routed to the Message Center and in other cases, when made available, was considerably delayed. In addition, single copies of incoming communications from teletype and radio proved a problem since they were routed through the Attorney General and Deputy Attorney General for information and finally to the Action Officer. Often a considerable delay was involved here.

There was little dictation. Most intra-Department messages and outgoing messages by teletype and radio were written in longhand. Only one switchboard operator was brought to the site and she proved to be slow and confused. Encoding and decoding of messages caused great delay due to inexperienced personnel.

Robert Hailey of [redacted], who is assigned as the [redacted] observer at the site, advised that his report on the Department's operation would be generally favorable, that his biggest objection would be the presence of Rankin [redacted] which resulted in the cutting out of [redacted] problems for the [redacted] In addition, Hailey was well aware of the failure of the Message Center to function properly and thus the lack of a single center to coordinate all activity. Hailey felt that the number of completed problems proved a sound test of the Department's communications at [redacted]

Memo Roach to Belmont

John Airhart, Relocation Officer, Department of Justice, advised after receiving Hailey's oral report on 6-17-55 that Hailey's remarks had been generally favorable and that he himself, Airhart, would have been much more critical of the Department operation. Airhart's disappointment stemmed from the fact that many of those with assigned responsibilities carelessly handled same or did so unrealistically that beyond the overall Department planning there was very little Divisional planning. He pointed out that although all Divisions had been notified several times of the necessity of a final report on the status of problems prior to leaving the site the Legal and Civil Divisions of the Department failed to make such reports prior to their departure. He commented that the Message Center was never fully cognizant with the status of all problems as it was intended it should be. He stated that Hailey, the [redacted] observer, was very interested in Rankin's assigned duties [redacted] and discussed this with Hailey at some length. According to Airhart, he told Hailey that it made little difference from the standpoint of this test whether [redacted] problems for the Department were handled by Rankin [redacted] or the Department [redacted]

In connection with my earlier memorandum today, attached, setting out the delivery times of the initial radio message to 10 field offices, the Director inquired why [ ] was the latest of all when it was the relay point.

The [ ] radio station [ ] had to deliver the message to six offices by radio in addition to delivering it to the [ ] office by teletype. The message was received at [ ] during a time of the day when radio signals are normally very good and [ ] radio station put all of its personnel to attempting to deliver the message by radio as soon as possible to the other six offices before radio conditions (weather - atmospheric conditions) could change, knowing that they would experience no difficulty in getting the message into the San Diego office by teletype.

We have been receiving a steady stream of teletype messages addressed to the Government network over the [REDACTED] which was installed just prior to the current operation. Yesterday, at approximately 4:40 p.m. the [REDACTED] called us on one of our toll teletype machines and repeated some 22 wires which we had already received over the [REDACTED]. This tied up one of our [REDACTED] at times we could have been using it to send messages to the field offices.

In addition to the above usage of one of our machines, we noted that in messages coming in over the [REDACTED] there were no numbers assigned at first but yesterday they began numbering the messages. Numbers 58 and 59 received at 11:16 p.m. on the 15th, Number 73 received at 2:17 a.m. on the 16th, and Number 98 received at 7:49 a.m. on the 16th contained garbles. By teletype, we requested repeats on these messages. None of these repeats had been received as of 10:45 this morning. Communications Chief Wherry called [REDACTED] by telephone and pointed out the uselessness of tying up our machine and the failure to send the mentioned repeats. They have now stopped utilizing our machine. As of 12:30 p.m. today, we still had not received the repeat messages. Another request has been sent.

Also, we have received one unnumbered, encoded teletype message from [REDACTED] which contains garbles and on which we have been unable to obtain corrections. This particular message is not addressed to the Bureau but is addressed to the Justice Department. We wish to have it decoded and made available for the Bureau's information. Corrections to this message have been requested.

We will continue to follow these items.

At 12:45 p.m. a call was placed to Agent Woods, the Bureau's liaison representative with the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) at [redacted]. At 2:18 p.m. contact was made with Woods and he was instructed to appropriately notify ODM that the Bureau had become operational at its relocation site [redacted] at 11:15 a.m. Woods stated that he would immediately pass this information on to General Paul, who is handling such matters.

Woods advised that the Attorney General and Deputy Attorney General Rogers had arrived at 2:10 p.m. and the President had preceded them and had arrived at approximately 2 p.m. Woods stated that he had occasion to talk to the Attorney General and Rogers and extended all possible courtesies. Woods was told, of course, to keep alert and let the Bureau know as soon as he could determine that the Attorney General had signed appropriate orders that we could go ahead with our pick-up program. Woods stated that he would keep constantly alert and would call the Bureau as soon as he had learned anything.

I inquired of Woods why it was not possible to reach him at 12:45 p.m. and I told him that the Bureau was informed that he did not answer a page call which was made at the time of this call. Instructions were left with ODM for Woods to call me. He did not return the call and another call was placed to him at 2:04 p.m. At 2:18 p.m. Woods made contact with the Bureau. Woods explained that he was available at Extension 61, a location where he could be reached at all times.

RECORDED - 15 66-17581-945

Agent Woods stated that there is so much noise and confusion re communications messages at [redacted] that it is difficult for anyone to know when he is called. He stated it is nearly impossible to understand the many page calls being put out. Woods emphasized the fact that he was available at all times but that he was not called to answer the phone at the time in question. Woods stated that in order to make sure that he received promptly the calls from the Bureau, he would stay within arm's length of the telephone extension designated for him and would not trust that messages be called to his attention by the paging system; further, that he would immediately inquire to see why the call was not given to him upon its original receipt at [redacted].

Attached hereto is a summary and chart showing communication facilities the Bureau will have [redacted] with the alternate headquarters of other government agencies as set forth in [redacted]

It is noted that the telephone is not a classified means of communication and must not be used to discuss classified information.

It is also noted that the instructions require, in order to distinguish training or exercise messages and telephone conversations from bona fide messages and conversations, that the text of such messages and communications begin and end with the identifying word [redacted]

All inter-agency teletypes must carry a priority. We suggest the priority Routine be used unless conditions indicate a higher priority should be used. Telephone calls will be placed direct wherever possible. Copies of this summary have been furnished to the Domestic Intelligence Division (Mr. McArdle) and to the Communications Section for the use of the relocation staff who will be [redacted]

Supplements to this information will be issued as the information is received from ODM or the Communications Coordinator of the inter-agency communications network. There is nothing in the [redacted] instructions calling for [redacted]. Since the Bureau's microwave equipment is not in operation, we will be unable to participate in any inter-agency contact through the [redacted]. The Justice Department [redacted]

However, in lieu of exchanging traffic the Bureau's radio station [redacted] will listen for any calls from the Justice station and will acknowledge any calls of a test nature which the Department radio setup might make. [redacted]

REPORT OF FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

OFFICIAL IN CHARGE

John Edgar Hoover, Director, FBI.

ESSENTIAL WARTIME FUNCTIONS

A great percentage of FBI wartime functions pertain to the internal security of the United States, and in time of emergency, this responsibility will be greatly intensified. The problems selected for testing in connection with Operation Alert 1955, all related to this primary responsibility of the FBI. All 31 problems previously planned by the FBI for this 3-day period were completed, as well as 16 problems presented to the FBI by outside agencies. During the course of this 3-day test, [redacted]

[redacted] based on the receipt of simulated [redacted] information from Federal Civil Defense Administration, many of the above contacts were made with FBI field offices at their relocation sites.

Because of our internal security responsibilities, the FBI cannot alter its essential wartime functions.

INTERAGENCY COORDINATION AND COOPERATION

Six FBI liaison Agents accompanied other agencies in the Executive branch of the Government to their relocation sites where they carried on liaison for the entire 3-day period. In addition thereto, other FBI liaison Agents were in direct contact with other agencies in the Executive branch of the Government who did not actually relocate during Operation Alert 1955.

~~TOP SECRET~~

We were able to maintain contact with our liaison Agents at other relocation sites; however, delay was encountered in one instance in making contact with the liaison Agent [redacted] to its relocation site. A short delay was also encountered in one contact with the liaison Agent at the [redacted] its relocation site. Investigation disclosed that both difficulties were not at the FBI relocation site, but pertained to communications difficulties at the relocation site of the other agency.

DAMAGE ASSESSMENT INFORMATION

The damage assessment information obtained from the Federal Civil Defense Administration by direct teletype was voluminous and contained considerable data which would have little or no direct value to FBI operations in a period of emergency. However, the information pertaining to Presidential directives, Executive orders, and information reflecting new regulations and procedures being placed into effect as well as the time a given area was evacuated, the time an area was bombed and the extent of bomb damage together with "fall out" information and weather conditions, which would reflect the direction of "fall out" and indicate the extent thereof, are extremely important to the FBI and its operations. This type of information will assist in carrying out our responsibilities; indicate which of our field offices are no longer tenable at headquarters city and will, to a great degree, indicate whether or not the selected relocation sites of each of the offices is available and of value at the time. It will also indicate whether it is expedient to dispatch additional personnel to a given area to handle specific problems which may develop as a result of an evacuation, a bombing, or resultant "fall out." Of course, information as to basic medical resources, food stocks and water supply is important in any operation. With reference to radio transmitters and telecommunications exchanges, the FBI communications network has been engineered to operate independently of any outside source of power.

ADEQUACY OF SITE

The FBI relocation site is believed to be adequate for essential emergency operations insofar as floor space, living accommodations and office accommodations are concerned. There is no problem as to security at the relocation site inasmuch as the [redacted] during the course of Operation Alert 1955, maintained [redacted]

COMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES. PROCEDURES. NO RECORDS

The FBI relocation site is equipped with telephone, teletype, and [redacted] In the very near future, the FBI leg of the microwave network will be completed. It is believed that with the completion of this microwave installation, FBI communications facilities will be wholly adequate for communication between other Government agencies and FBI field installations. No difficulty or delay was encountered in communications between the FBI relocation site and FBI field installations during the course of this test operation. The FBI relocation site has an independent electrical power supply and, therefore, our radio facilities will be available for communications at all times short of demolition of the relocation site itself.

ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATIONS

All operations at the FBI relocation site follow standard administrative procedures used during normal operations at the Seat of Government. There was no shortage of technical and office equipment and supplies. There is maintained an adequate inventory of office equipment and supplies at the relocation site. These supplies are being replenished after Operation Alert 1955. It is believed that sufficient business machines and facilities are available at the relocation site and that administrative operations are adequate and complete.

FIELD TEST

The St. Louis office of the FBI participated in the evacuation of all premises occupied by the FBI in St. Louis. The St. Louis office, like all other offices of the FBI, was called upon to execute certain phases of various problems. Except for the initial contact with the St. Louis office during Operation Alert 1955, all other contacts and problems were worked out by St. Louis personnel at their emergency relocation site. As previously set forth, all 52 field offices of the FBI were contacted at least twice during the course of Operation Alert 1955 and, in addition thereto, [redacted] required some activity on the part of the Bureau field offices.

Inspector Mason reported from [ ] at 5:10 p.m. today that the last stages of work are being wound up and remaining evacuees will shortly depart.

Mason reported that his analysis of employee performance reflected enthusiastic, serious, willing handling of all matters by all employees. Assistant Director A. H. Belmont demonstrated efficiency and capability in the handling of his many duties and, of course, he had the lion's share of responsibility thrust upon him. He and his subordinates worked very long hours and late into the night handling the various test problems and procedures.

Communications employees and Records Section employees were all cheerful, hard-working, earnest and competent.

It appears that the Bureau's participation in Operation Alert was highly successful and was a worth-while test of our operating procedures.

A tremendous amount of work had to be done by SAC [ ] and the [ ] Staff in anticipation of the alert problem during the test evacuation period and subsequent thereto. Each item was thoroughly and properly handled. Employees commended that food and arrangements for their care were excellent.

ReButel captioned, "UNCAP," dated 6/16/55, instructing this office to forward to the Bureau [redacted] of that date; airtel to Bureau same date informing Cincinnati Office has no personnel to use radio set; and telephone call from Assistant Director DON PARSONS requesting explanations from this office.

[redacted] as reflected by a handwritten notation in the file, "Rec'd 3-19-52, checked by Kellerman." The particular serial in Cincinnati File #66-330 (Scientific, Electrical and Technical Equipment) bears the initials of SAC Charles W. Brown. I have been informed by personnel of the office that Kellerman was formerly a Radio Operator assigned to the Cincinnati Office. There is no indication in the file that the sound man assigned to the Cincinnati Office at that time had received the set or that he had been informed of its receipt by this office.

There is also no notation in the file concerning the fact that the Handbook accompanied the set, although it may be assumed, inasmuch as apparently Kellerman checked the set, the Handbook probably was received. The Handbook does not constitute a portion of the file and a diligent search of the office did not result in the finding of the Handbook.

I have conferred with the Bureau-trained sound men assigned to the office, as well as with the present Radio Technician Operator, and none of them has had any previous training or experience with the set. There are no ticklers in the office indicating the set should be checked periodically and that batteries pertaining to the set should be ordered from the Bureau, nor does the file indicate that any such ticklers had been prepared. So far as is known to the office, batteries for this set have not been ordered since its receipt in March of 1952. Personally, I was not familiar with the set, inasmuch as at the time of their distribution to the

I do not feel that any of the personnel presently assigned to the Cincinnati Office should be held responsible for the fact that the set was and is in a non-operating condition, inasmuch as the personnel who ordinarily would be responsible had had no training in the matter, nor was there available instructional material through which they could have kept the set in an operational condition. As a matter of fact, from an administrative standpoint, there was nothing in the office calling attention to the personnel that the set required attention, aside from the SAC Letter, which apparently had not been called to the attention of the sound-trained personnel.

**Bureau operator advised at 12:33 P.M. that there was trouble on the line to the relocation site of the Washington Field Office and that she was unable to make contact. She stated she had reported the trouble and efforts were being made to clear the line. A call was then placed to the New York Office and the Bureau operator was told to keep trying to reach the Washington Field Office at its relocation site. At 12:59 P.M. the Bureau operator advised she was still trying to reach the Washington Field Office whereupon Miss Mooney in the teletype room was requested to contact the Washington Field Office's relocation site by teletype. Miss Mooney stated the teletype to thirty offices giving the alert was in the process of being sent and she would add the Washington Field Office's relocation site to the list. Miss Mooney was asked to advise when the contact was made with the Washington Field Office. The teletype room subsequently advised that the Washington Field Office had been contacted at its relocation site at 1:34 P.M. by teletype.

In connection with the attempts to reach the relocation site of the Washington Field Office, it was possible for the Bureau operator to hear SAC Laughlin answer the telephone but Mr. Laughlin could not hear the Bureau operator [redacted] At 1:10 P.M. Special Agent Halsey Smith called [redacted] from an outside phone at the relocation site of the Washington Field Office. He said the phone at the relocation site had rung and that it had been answered by SAC Laughlin but that Mr. Laughlin was unable to get any response from the caller. Mr. Smith was told that we had tried to reach the Washington Field Office's relocation site by phone but had not been able to make contact due to a faulty line. He was told that Washington Field would be contacted by teletype at its relocation site. At 2:08 P.M. SAC Laughlin called from the relocation site. He said he did not know what was wrong with the telephone line earlier in the day.

ACTION:

(1.) This matter was called to the attention of Inspector De Loach of the Records and Communications Division. Mr. De Loach stated he had not as yet been able to determine what the trouble had been with the line to the Washington Field Office's relocation site. He said that he would check the matter out completely in order to determine what had caused the failure.

(2.) A teletype to thirty field offices and a radiogram to ten field offices were sent through at approximately 12:06 P.M. today. When we have obtained information from the Communications Section as to the time required to make these contacts, an over-all memorandum will be prepared which will include the information set forth in this memorandum concerning the telephone contacts.

According to our Liaison representatives, Operation Alert 1955 will probably be repeated at more or less unknown intervals. The next alert can well be without advance notice. It is imperative that we have prepared for the Director a complete up-to-date brief on evacuation plans in order that the Director, in the event of a surprise alert or an actual emergency, will have at his fingertips all the essential information he needs relative to relocation--the relocation sites of other agencies and the names of our Liaison Agents who will accompany other agencies--data concerning our relocation site and plans, etc. It is realized that our over-all War Plans Brief contains a great deal of information and it must be continued and kept up to date; however, the evacuation and relocation brief mentioned herein should be along the lines of the one we prepared for the Director prior to Operation Alert 1955. It must be kept up to date.

This should be made the responsibility of Mr. McArdle and, in the event he needs assistance, you should discuss such assistance with me. It is imperative that we afford this close attention so that the Director will have available an up-to-date, workable brief.

In response to a request from Special Agent McArdle, of the Liaison Section of the Domestic Intelligence Division, this division has worked up an estimate of the cost for the above operation, based upon information furnished by Mr. McArdle as to the specific employees participating in the alert, the duration of their participation, etc. The estimated cost of communication services was furnished by the Communications Section of the Records and Communications Division. There is attached a tabulation setting forth these costs by the items requested by the office of Defense Mobilization in its instructions concerning the alert. b7E

The $7,050 shown for travel is composed almost entirely of per diem for participating employees while away from their official headquarters. The salary figure is the actual cost for the employees who participated.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the figures on the attached tabulation be referred to the Domestic Intelligence Division for transmission to the office of Defense Mobilization through appropriate channels.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : THE DIRECTOR

DATE: June 17, 1955

FROM : A. H. BELMONT

SUBJECT: ~~OPERATION ALERT 1955 (June 15, 16 and 17, 1955)~~

This is a summary memorandum concerning Operation Alert 1955, covering the actual period of relocation from June 15 to 17, 1955, [redacted] Brief resumes of our activities were submitted daily on June 15, June 16, and June 17; however, this memorandum sums up the operation at the relocation site.

THE ALERT

SCHEDULED PROBLEMS

A series of more than 50 problems simulating actual problems which would face us during an emergency were drawn up in advance of the test. All of these problems were carried out during the test. Additional official work, such as necessary reviews of Security Index cases, was brought [ ] to insure that all personnel would be kept busy. We were able to handle only a limited amount of this work because of the volume of activities connected with the actual test.

In connection with our problems during the test, actual conditions were simulated [redacted] However, no security information was transmitted in our messages to the field--rather, the messages were devised as a heavy test of our communications system and the ability of the Bureau and our field offices to respond promptly to the problems posed.

A brief resume of the problems is set forth below:

Alert Message to Field

An alert message was sent to all field offices by either telephone, radio or teletype. Action started at 12:10 p.m., June 15, and all offices had been contacted by 2:23 p.m.

MEMORANDUM TO THE DIRECTOR

[redacted]

Authority simulated through Liaison from [redacted] at 12:14 p.m., June 15. Held up, for purposes this test, until Attorney General notified and agreed. Attorney General agreed 4:00 p.m. Program launched 4:41 p.m. to correlate with Emergency Detention Program. Four offices involved [redacted]. Replies received from field by 5:50 p.m. and action completed. [redacted]

Emergency Detention Program

At 3:58 p.m., June 15, our Liaison from Justice advised Attorney General had approved apprehension of dangerous aliens only. It was our understanding that the Attorney General approved only dangerous enemy aliens, whereas subsequently we learned that Justice Department understood the approval was extended to all dangerous aliens on the Security Index. This pinpoints the absolute necessity for a secure communications system between FBI and Justice relocation sites so there can be no misunderstanding. This is being taken up with Justice in writing. Letter prepared June 16.

Simulated messages were sent to the field to arrest dangerous enemy aliens, starting 4:53 p.m. and ending 7:16 p.m. Replies had been received from all field offices by 8:37 p.m.

At 6:10 p.m. our Liaison advised that the Attorney General had authorized the arrest of all other persons on the Security Index, both citizens and aliens. According to "telescope timetable" used during this alert, 6:10 p.m., June 15, would be D-Day Plus 3 and, consequently, some 22,000 persons would have been allowed to run free to commit sabotage and go into hiding before authorization received for their arrest. Many U. S. cities had been bombed by this time, according to Civil Defense bulletins. Because of these factors, it is not possible to say what success could be achieved in making the arrests of the more than 22,000 persons.

This pinpoints the absolute necessity for advance arrangements, so that this Bureau will be given immediate authority to launch the Emergency Detention Program.

Laboratory Problems

The Laboratory worked a number of problems staggered throughout the test period, including [REDACTED]

Espionage Problems

In addition to the Protective Custody of Enemy Diplomats Program, a series of espionage problems were posed throughout the test, involving the apprehension of espionage subjects on the Security Index; the location and arrest of enemy agents landing by submarine; the location and arrest of enemy diplomats touring the United States; simulated notification Attorney General and Secretary of State regarding dangerous aliens of nonenemy nations attached to international organizations; simulated consideration of subjects in Special Section of Security Index as to action to be taken on espionage subjects; consideration of pro-Tito Yugoslavs; and presentation of cases to State Department regarding United Nations employees and foreign government employees of friendly nations.

Internal Security Problems

In addition to the Emergency Detention Program, problems were worked involving Emergency Detention arrests requiring notification to other Government agencies; setting up a separate Sabotage Section; securing Departmental instructions re arrests of certain prominent individuals; and alerting all field offices as to Security Index subjects out of the country.

MEMORANDUM TO THE DIRECTORAvailability Checks

Availability checks were made on a surprise basis with 10 field offices (5 on June 15 and 5 on June 16), starting at 10:00 p.m. In the smaller offices, all Agents were contacted promptly. In the larger offices, prompt contacts were made with Agents in the majority of cases. Where it required more than one hour to contact all Agents, the Special Agent in Charge was required to explain, and separate memoranda have been submitted.

Liaison

Liaison Agents who relocated with their agencies had established contact with the Bureau's relocation site by 2:59 p.m., June 15. All contacts were made promptly. Some of the Agents did not leave Washington until 12:05 p.m., June 15, as their agencies did not leave until that time.

Throughout the exercise, Liaison Agents were in contact with our relocation quarters. We found it possible to reach our Liaison Agents promptly in most instances. We had difficulty reaching the Liaison Agent [redacted] due to congested conditions and confusion existing [redacted]. Our Agent [redacted] had difficulty reaching us, again due to confusion in communications [redacted]. Our Agent at [redacted] had difficulty reaching us, due to inadequate communications facilities [redacted].

Problems from Outside Agencies

[Redacted content]

Memorandum to the DirectorDifficulties Encountered (within Bureau):

Taken up with Noted 6/15 + 16/55
(1) We encountered difficulty on the direct telephone line between [redacted] on June 15, and again on June 16. An immediate check was made with the telephone company and in both cases it was found that the trouble was located at the central switchboard of the telephone company. A vigorous protest is being made to the telephone company.

Comm. for next 6/15/55
(2) Despite the fact that employees in the code room worked assiduously without going to lunch on June 15, the volume was so great that delays in coding occurred. We will take this into account in any future exercises or in an emergency by providing additional coding assistance.

(3) Availability Checks - There was some delay in contacting Agents in our larger offices during availability checks. This has been made the subject of separate memoranda with recommendations.

Letter to [redacted] 6/15/55
(4) [redacted] A separate memorandum submitted as to this and an explanation is being secured.

Difficulties Encountered (outside Bureau):

See that above are given immediate attention & let me have report by July 1 on corrective measures.
(1) As reflected herein, delays occurred in securing the Attorney General's authority to launch the Emergency Detention Program and his approval of launching the program involving custody of enemy diplomats. Further, when authority was given, it was first based only on dangerous aliens which involved only a minute portion of the dangerous persons on the Security Index. It is imperative that this issue be resolved on two points: (1) a method whereby an immediate decision will be made as to the launching of these programs; and (2) that policy be set in advance by the Department as to the circumstances under which the entire program will be authorized. Certainly under conditions supposedly existing on June 15, the entire program should have been authorized at once. This question is being raised in the memorandum to the Attorney General dated June 20, 1955.

memo to ARL/10/55 AHB
(2) [redacted] we will examine our set-up in this respect also to insure that an immediate decision is made in an emergency.

Memorandum for the Director

memo to AS 6/17/55

It is essential that no misunderstandings occur on grave issues involved in an emergency. In connection with the Emergency Detention Program, apparently there was a misunderstanding as to what dangerous aliens had been authorized for arrest. We will push with the Department to insure that the Department sets up a satisfactory communications system at its relocation headquarters which will enable it to send security information [redacted]

*memo to AS
+ 6/27/55*

(4) There were delays in contacting our Liaison Agents due to inadequate communication set-up in other agencies. We will point this out to the Attorney General in our memorandum to him.

(5) Apparently, [redacted] was not set up to handle promptly the volume of teletype communications. In one instance we dispatched a teletype at 10:00 AM to ODM which was not actually received by ODM until afternoon. This would indicate a [redacted] Further, we received a number of teletypes which reflected delays up to six hours in answering between other agencies.

We received a telegram from Justice relocation at 10:38 AM, June 17, 1955, which is marked for priority sending by Justice at 7:05 PM, June 16; went through [redacted] communications center and was marked for priority sending there 12:16 AM, June 17. It did not reach our teletype machine until 10:35 AM, June 17.

These points are indicative of delay and congestion in communications in other agencies.

COMMUNICATIONS

Communications [redacted] were well set up and operated smoothly in spite of the heavy volume. As of 2:00 p.m., June 17, the Communications Section had received a total of 250 incoming teletypes and had sent 89 outgoing teletypes during the exercise.

Of the incoming teletypes, four were garbled so badly from [redacted] that it was necessary for us to request repeats. [redacted] failed to acknowledge our request, although we requested clarification of these garbled messages on three separate occasions.

PERSONNEL

Attached is a list of personnel who took part in Operations Alert 1955, including Liaison Agents who operated with their agencies and personnel regularly assigned [redacted]

It was my observation that all personnel who took part in this operation did so in a serious, businesslike manner. Due to the number of problems and intense activity surrounding this test, it was necessary for employees to work 12-hour shifts in many cases and, in fact, it was necessary for many clerical employees, as well as Agent personnel, from the day shift of June 15, to work as late as 3:00 o'clock the morning of June 16. There was a general air of willingness and an excellent attitude on the part of personnel engaged in the test.

[redacted] and his staff likewise did an excellent job, despite the fact the influx of personnel from Washington required special handling relative to sleeping accommodations, setting up appropriate office arrangements, and off-schedule dining arrangements. Security at the [redacted] during this test was excellent. This, too, was the responsibility of [redacted]

DECLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM:

RECORDED-10

For your information I am setting forth the summary of the activities of this Bureau in connection with the Operation Alert 1955 on June 15, 16, and 17, 1955.

A series of more than 50 problems simulating actual problems which would be posed by the FBI during an actual emergency had been drawn up in advance of the test. All of these problems were carried out during the test under actual conditions insofar as they could be simulated. However, we refrained from actually transmitting security information to our field offices in view of the delicate nature of the emergency programs of this Bureau.

In addition specific problems required the passage of instructions between field offices and subsequent reply to our relocation site.

Immediately following our arrival [ ] all field offices were alerted to be prepared and immediate preparations were made to launch the emergency programs which are the responsibility of this Bureau. As you are aware, the launching of our Emergency Detention Program and the program involving taking enemy diplomats into protective custody require authority from the Attorney General and the Secretary of State, respectively. Under the conditions simulated in Operation Alert 1955 it is exceedingly clear that arrangements must be made to provide a method whereby a decision can be made immediately as to the launching of these programs. Unless these decisions are made immediately and appropriate authority furnished this Bureau, the effectiveness of these programs will be critically reduced.

By the time authority was received under the simulated conditions of Operation Alert 1955 many of [ ]

I believe it is also important to determine specifically in advance of emergency the policy the Department intends to follow relative to the Emergency Detention Program. For example in this test operation, the original authority was limited to dangerous aliens and it was not until D-Day plus three that authority was given to apprehend over 90 percent of the persons on the Security Index who are citizens.

The decisions to be made in connection with the Emergency Detention Program and the program involving enemy diplomats are indeed serious. However, the consequences of failure to arrive at these decisions immediately in the event of an emergency are so grave that I am impelled to stress the absolute necessity of setting up an infallible system whereby these decisions may be reached immediately and results furnished at once to the FBI for implementation.

During this alert period there was an evident need for [redacted] communications system between the relocation sites of the FBI and the Department of Justice. I feel that it is essential there be the closest possible communication between the Department and the FBI in an emergency. I urge that attention be given to this promptly.

For your information our Liaison Representatives who accompanied [redacted]

I wish to advise that the entire Operation Alert 1955 was handled with dispatch and careful thought by this Bureau. In addition to the many problems devised to test the thoroughness and adequacy of our procedures in an emergency in the [redacted] [redacted] we received a number of problems from other agencies during the alert period. These were handled promptly and appropriate advice given to the agencies in question. Throughout the period of the alert we carefully examined our procedures and made changes where necessary in order that this Bureau will be fully prepared to meet its responsibilities in the event of an actual emergency.

DETAILS:

At approximately 8:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time (EST), June 14, 1955, the Bureau's Liaison representative to the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), Walter F. Woods, [redacted]

[redacted] Contact was made with the Bureau relocation site [redacted] On Wednesday, June 15, Lieutenant General Paul, U.S. Army (Retired), Assistant Director ODM, was advised that the [redacted] [redacted], EST. that date. At approximately 1:30 EST, [redacted]

[redacted] After luncheon the President called a meeting of the Inter-assembly Group, composed of cabinet officers, officials of the Executive Office of the President, and liaison representatives of the various government agencies. It was at this meeting that the test problem books were passed out to the department and agency heads. This was the first time anyone had the opportunity of seeing the problems. General Paul later advised Woods that the problems for the FBI were submitted to ODM by the Justice Department classified Top Secret and that all problems received from the Department heads were maintained in strict confidence at the specific request of Dr. Arthur Flemming, Director of ODM.

The President pointed out at the meeting, which was attended by the Liaison representative, the importance of this exercise and told all assembled that he is deeply concerned with the ability of government to relocate. He advised that we will have more and more tests until all the "bugs" are worked out. He reminded all that during the exercise he expected everyone to work in carrying out the continuity of government and that this was not to be considered a respite from normal work. He advised that he wanted everyone to be available should he have to call for any reason.

The President departed [redacted] EST, and the Attorney General left about 15 minutes later. Assistant Attorney General Rankin remained and attended the several meetings of the Inter-assembly Group that convened and in fact the meeting of the Inter-assembly Group, which convened at 8:30 p. m., June 15, lasted until 3:15 a. m., June 16. During the 24 hour period from 8:00 a. m., June 16 to 8:00 a. m., June 17, there was an excess [redacted]

It is estimated that during the [redacted]

[redacted]

Dr. Flemming and several others of the Inter-assembly Group left [redacted] on two occasions for a meeting with the President. Dr. Flemming briefed the Inter-assembly Group upon his return and both times stressed the President's interest in the exercise. At the final meeting on June 17, Dr. Flemming told the Group that the purpose of this exercise was: (1) procedure in evacuation, (2) ability to handle regular work, (3) ability to handle alert work (4) meetings of the Inter-assembly Group to discuss and approve and to recommend to the President procedures to adopt during an alert period. Dr. Flemming stated that this test had indicated that there was a [redacted] He advised that there had been [redacted] [redacted] He stated that the President was "very disturbed" at those who frowned at this test and he, the President, is insistent that continuity of government be speeded up." Dr. Flemming stated that the President told him that there are to be more tests and that planning should be tested frequently. He advised that in the preplanning phase he, Dr. Flemming, had been remiss in not making the instructions more complete but that he also felt that the department or agency heads represented on the Interagency Committee for Alert Planning should have more thoroughly briefed their respective agencies.

[redacted]

In connection with the Interagency Committee for Alert Planning, it is noted that Justice represents the Department [redacted]
[redacted]

The Bureau

*including the FBI

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont

Liaison representative has been advised that frequently the Justice representative is not present at meetings of this Group. It is further noted that the Bureau previously represented the Department on an Adhoc committee on Alert Planning but this committee was abolished over a year ago. Since that time [redacted] has not been represented and has had to depend on Justice for information concerning continuity of government planning under alert conditions. This information has not always been received from Justice and it has been necessary for the Bureau to obtain this information from ODM on a confidential basis.

During the three day period, the Bureau's Liaison Agent was in close contact with General Paul and Assistant Attorney General Rankin and was at all times available. It is to be noted that during the first day of this [redacted]

This undesirable situation was corrected when this fact was called to the attention of Dr. Flemming.

OBSERVATION:

It is believed that in order to obtain information firsthand, the Bureau should consider representation on the aforementioned committee and not depend on Justice to receive same, it being noted that such exercises will continue and agencies or bureaus having less responsibility than this Bureau are represented on this Committee. There are 31 different departments or agencies represented. In the absence of representation, the Bureau should insist that the Department keep the Bureau advised as to developments of this Committee. During the past year and one-half, three different individuals have been charged with the responsibility of coordinating alert planning at ODM and each has been of the opinion that information received by or furnished the Department was, of course, furnished the Bureau. This has not always been the case and it has frequently been necessary to obtain information on a strictly confidential basis from ODM that had previously been furnished the Department. Consideration of Bureau representation is the subject of a separate memorandum.

AVAILABILITY OF AGENTS

Beginning at 10 PM June 16, 1955, calls were placed to five offices instructing availability checks of Agents at headquarters cities be made and reported to the Bureau by teletype. The five offices were Charlotte, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles and Milwaukee. Each office was instructed to advise the length of time necessary to contact [redacted] and the length of time necessary to complete the [redacted]. The results are set out as follows:

Charlotte Office

The Bureau message was given to Night Duty Agent P. D. Williams since SAC Abbaticchio was speaking at a police convention. Excluding Agents on leave or outside the city on official business, [redacted] were subject to the availability check. [redacted]

ACTUAL COMMUNICATIONS PROBLEMS DURING ALERT

In addition to the simulated problems which were planned and executed during the test period, there were some actual problems and developments of interest and significance to the over-all operation, for example:

1. Microwave radio station

We were able to place this facility in operation on June 15, 1955, from the radio station house and make contact to Liaison Agent Papich at [redacted] before he was able to reach us by land line telephone. Again on June 17, Papich was unable to satisfactorily reach the Bureau by regular telephone and he called in over the microwave radio system to report the [redacted] and advise concerning his expected departure. The excellent clarity of the microwave phone system was not only demonstrated to me*but also to Mr. Mohr and our official ODM Inspector, Mr. William Boleyn, by actual conversations over the system. Mr. Boleyn expressed keen interest in this facility and made complimentary remarks concerning its functioning from the technical standpoint.

assembled from parts on hand sufficient antenna, transmitting, receiving and teletype equipment to effect a [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] This equipment was placed in a stand-by status at the beginning of the June 15 test to be used only if needed.

During the course of the test, some messages at the [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] service. [REDACTED] were transmitted by this system to the receiving point [REDACTED] in a total elapsed time of 11 minutes, thus proving the technical operation of this equipment and justifying the planning in this connection. This service, of course, will be available on future test or real alerts.

3. Minor problems observed

As the test period progressed under extended emergency conditions, various minor problems arose which were changed on the spot to increase the over-all efficiency of operations, such as a need for extension cords, minor rearrangement of work space, incoming and outgoing boxes, supplies, folders, etc. All of these were handled as the problem arose and notations retained for use on subsequent alerts under test or real conditions.

Mail service from the Newark and Philadelphia offices to the relocation center was found to be very good. Physical evidence in simulated cases was received by airtel from these two offices in less than 25 hours after teletype request for the submission of same were dispatched from the relocation center.

As you are aware, [redacted] has, on occasion of previous contacts with him, inquired as to the possibility for reimbursement of personal expenses, and when asked as to the expenses to which he had been put at that time, has advised that they were minor and he had not kept any record, but had inquired for his guidance in the event it was necessary for him to expend additional funds out of his pocket. He advised that the only expenses to which he had been put were in the use of his personal car on a few occasions in the Bureau's behalf. It is known that he has cooperated to the extent of performing services on his own personal time by arranging for telephone and power service personnel and Bureau personnel to have access to the space made available to us at [redacted].

Although [redacted] has made no request for any specific reimbursement, he has indicated that he would like to be reimbursed for any material expenses to which he is put and also for his personal efforts beyond those of his official capacity.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. BOARDMAN
MR. BELMONT
MR. NICHOLS

Today I attended a conference in the Attorney General's office at which were present the Attorney General; the Deputy Attorney General; Assistant Attorney General Tompkins; Mr. Yeagley, of Mr. Tompkins' Division; a representative from Mr. Rankin's Division; General Swing, Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization; and, General Howard, assistant to General Swing.

The Attorney General took up for discussion the matters which he had outlined in his memorandum of July 7, 1955, calling the conference.

As to the first item, which raised the question as to where the permanent relocation headquarters of the Department of Justice would be located, the Attorney General inquired of me as to whether we had made any progress in locating a desirable place. I told the Attorney General that a survey had been in progress ever since "Operation Alert." I stated that we had looked at a number of places in [redacted] and had not been able to find any place which would be suitable for a relocation headquarters for the entire Department of Justice, including the FBI.

The Attorney General then inquired of General Swing whether he had any suggestions to make and General Swing stated that he had located [redacted]

[redacted] He stated that [redacted] would be entirely suitable for the use of the Department of Justice. He indicated that there was adjacent to [redacted] a warehouse which by certain alterations and the cutting of windows and doors could house additional personnel. General Swing had had General Howard view this particular place and General Howard stated that it was quite adequate for the use desired by the Department of Justice. General Swing indicated that [redacted]

b7E

General Swing stated he had checked with ODM and that the site suggested was [redacted].

b7E

The Attorney General suggested that I have someone from the FBI look at this set-up to see whether it would be suitable for the FBI also. Assistant Attorney General Tompkins stated he would like to have someone likewise look at it from the Internal Security Division. General Howard, who is apparently spearheading this project, stated that he would be very glad to take representatives from the Internal Security Division and from the FBI to [redacted]

b7E

[redacted] any time that representatives are desirous of going. I have instructed Mr. Boardman to arrange for Mr. Belmont and Mr. Nease to immediately make an inspection of this new place. I have asked Mr. Boardman to get in touch with General Howard and advise General Howard that we are ready to inspect this at once and would prefer to do so this week so that the situation may be resolved.

I cannot help but observe what a complete and colossal failure was made by Messrs. Boardman and Belmont in surveying the areas for a relocation headquarters. It certainly seems to me that if the Immigration and Naturalization Service was able to locate [redacted]

b7E

[redacted] the FBI could have likewise done so long ago which would have given us the advantage of having something to say about the set-up, if it be the decision of the Attorney General that the FBI and the Department of Justice relocate at [redacted]

As regards the second question raised by the Attorney General in his memorandum of July 7, 1955, dealing with the setting up of an advisory committee and the supervision of the relocation problems by the Deputy Attorney General's office, it was the view of the Deputy Attorney General that this should not be assigned to his division, but should remain in the Internal Security Division. Assistant Attorney General Tompkins vigorously opposed this. I stated to the Attorney General that while this particular question did not involve the

Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, Belmont, Nichols

July 13, 1955

FBI, I thought he would be interested in knowing what the experience in the Bureau had been. I told him that we had originally had the matter dealing with relocation operations assigned to the Training and Inspection Division, which largely deals with administrative matters, but that I had found it to be better to transfer the responsibility for this work to the Domestic Intelligence Division since so many aspects of security were involved and that he might want to keep this in mind in making the decision as to whether the Internal Security Division of the Department should continue handling the matters dealing with relocation. The Attorney General stated that he would make the decision himself in a few days.

I took occasion to also observe my general disapproval of the formation of a committee, in that I believed that more delays occurred when committees were set up to handle a matter than when it was assigned to a particular individual to take charge of it.

The next question raised in the Attorney General's memorandum of July 7, 1955, No. 3, dealt with the establishment of a Departmental cryptograph system. General Swing had apparently had a survey made as to procuring scrambling machines which could be leased on the A. T. & T. Company.

I pointed out to the Attorney General what the system was within the Bureau and that [redacted] was procured by the Bureau from [redacted] which has the authority for the supplying of this equipment. I advised the Attorney General that all of our field offices, as well as our relocation center at [redacted], and the Seat of Government were already equipped with this machine and that the Department might desire to consider procuring the same from [redacted]. I also pointed out that [redacted] would train personnel in the operation of these machines. The Attorney General indicated that he desired to utilize the same system as the Bureau and would take steps to have the same procured from [redacted].

b7E

No. 4 of the Attorney General's memorandum of July 7, 1955, was then taken up and dealt with the enlargement of the Portfolio. It was the opinion of all that the Portfolio should include additional matters that had been discussed. I made the suggestion that the Portfolio be divided into two volumes, the first volume to contain Parts 1, 2 and 3, and the second volume to contain the new matters which are being added and which do not directly pertain to Parts 1, 2 and 3. This suggestion was adopted.

Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, Belmont, Nichols

It was also suggested by the Deputy Attorney General that the Chain of Command be briefed as to the contents of the Portfolio and this suggestion was adopted and will be handled by Mr. Rankin's Division.

Question 5 of the Attorney General's memorandum of July 7, 1955, was then taken up, and I briefed the Attorney General upon the status of this problem, as reflected in the brief transmitted to me by Mr. Boardman under date of July 11, 1955, and the memorandum dated July 13, 1955.

Question 6, of the Attorney General's memorandum of July 7, 1955, dealing with the matter of martial law was then taken up, and I made the observation that I hoped that the various problems incident thereto would be resolved before any real emergency arose. I pointed out the possibility of delays unless proper decisions were made in advance of the emergency. The Attorney General agreed with this and Mr. Rankin's Division will apparently handle the same.

No. 7 of the Attorney General's memorandum of July 7, 1955, was then taken up, dealing with the matter of the Security Index. I advised the Attorney General of the progress we had made in applying the new criteria to the Index. I also had occasion to urge the necessity for some review of the Index by Departmental personnel. Assistant Attorney General Tompkins stated that there were no attorneys or funds available for this to be done. I pointed out the imperative necessity for some action being taken along this line. The Attorney General directed that Assistant Attorney General Tompkins should assign one attorney who would "sample" the cases of persons in the Security Index. I would like to be advised not later than August 15, whether we receive any word from Mr. Tompkins' Division indicating initiation of this action.

I also called the Attorney General's attention to the fact that there were a number of questions which we had raised, such as whether the Defense Department would provide detention facilities in certain areas; whether the Defense Department would administer regulations in United States territory other than the Continental United States; and whether the suggestions made by the Bureau upon the control regulations affecting non-dangerous alien enemies to be enforced by the Immigration and Naturalization Service had been accepted. The Attorney General asked the representative of Mr. Rankin's Division to look into this matter.

July 13, 1955

No. 8 of the Attorney General's memorandum of July 7, 1955, was then taken up which dealt with the Mexican Border Plan.

General Swing stated he had a letter drafted which he handed to the Attorney General for the Attorney General to send to the Secretary of Defense, requesting the use of the Army to establish proper control along the border in case of emergency. This request calls for 15,000 troops for a period not to exceed sixty days. These troops will be under the direction of the Border Patrol should the Army accede to the request.

General Swing then advised that he had recently, indicating it was last week, sent some representatives of the Immigration and Naturalization Service to Mexico City to inquire into the situation in Mexico as regards the Mexican Communist Party. General Swing stated that he had procured the names of the two officials of the Mexican Foreign Office who had married two Russian women and had learned that one of these officials had indicated to his wife that unless she became naturalized as a Mexican citizen, she could go back to Russia.

General Swing also stated that

Referral/Consult

General Swing also stated that at the present time the Communist Party is not on the ballot in Mexico because they cannot procure enough signatures of Communist Party members to entitle them to be represented on the ballot.

General Swing stated that the State Department has informed him that they have been most favorably impressed with the efforts of the present Mexican Government in toughening up in handling the Communist problem in Mexico.

Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, Belmont, Nichols

July 13, 1955

General Swing stated that

Referral/Consult

I cannot help but observe that the information which General Swing has been able to procure concerning conditions in Mexico dealing with security and subversive activities is contrary to the information with which I have been supplied by this Bureau. He seems to have more up-to-date and current information on these problems than we do here.

The last item on the Attorney General's memorandum of July 7, 1955, was then taken up and was approved by the Attorney General.

Very truly yours,

On June 9, 1955, the National Security Council adopted an NSC relocation plan which had been submitted by the Planning Board. The plan states that, under conditions of attack emergency, the NSC will be convened by the President on such occasions and at such places as he may from time to time elect. The plan notes that NSC members will proceed to the relocation sites of their respective agencies. The NSC Planning Board members, advisers, and observers will also proceed to their respective agency relocation sites and will be available for reporting on call to such location as the Chairman of the Planning Board may from time to time designate. The NSC Staff under attack conditions will relocate to  b7E

At the NSC meeting on June 9, 1955, the President stated that future tests of the emergency relocation plan should include a number of National Security Council meetings with a view to assuring that emergency relocation plans will enable the Council under wartime conditions to meet frequently and function effectively as the key policy advisory body to the President.

ACTION:

The foregoing action by the NSC and the statements of the President at the NSC meeting are of interest in connection with our consideration of a new relocation site.

Supervisor Kuhrtz was assigned desk space in [redacted] which housed [redacted]. This consisted of one large unpartitioned area housing approximately 60 personnel. This unit in [redacted] was headed by [redacted]

During the course of this three day operation a total of 12 telephone contacts were made between Supervisor Kuhrtz and the Bureau's headquarters at [redacted] by way of commercial telephone line. (The attached schedule will reflect the contacts with Bureau headquarters during the three day operation.)

During this exercise, the following agencies had liaison representatives at [redacted] in addition to the Bureau: [redacted]

At 4:41 p. m., June 15, Supervisor Kuhrtz was requested to attend a meeting [redacted]

[redacted] Simulation of [redacted] b7E

[redacted]
[redacted] This information was furnished to Mr. Roach at [redacted] by phone at 5:05 p. m., on June 16.

The Washington Post and Times Herald on June 16, printed an article entitled "State Department Takes Shift in Stride." The article referred to State Department's evacuation on June 15 and appeared to be very favorable as far as State's conduct in this operation. The article stated that "somewhere within 300 miles of Washington" State Department personnel arrived in an orderly fashion without creating any traffic jamings or disquieting the community. The article continued that "the town looked just about as it does every day."

In connection with "Operation Alert" it is pointed out that [redacted] activities at [redacted] were primarily geared for the handling of all action matters arising within each unit during the three days. Direct teletype and mail service operated between Washington and [redacted] and each unit was sufficiently staffed for this purpose. The business conducted by the Bureau's Liaison representative at [redacted] was comparable to that conducted on a regular day-to-day basis. [redacted] did attempt to follow the test problems as they developed via the microwave contact at [redacted] b7E
However, this contact was continually poor and inadequate for necessary wartime operations. It is also pointed out that [redacted] operations at [redacted] coincided with their regular working hours at Washington and no effort was made to create test problems after regular hours similar to those enacted in other agencies at their relocation sites.

By memorandum dated June 27, 1955, concerning war plans Operation Alert 1955, it was recommended and approved that the Bureau accept an invitation when tendered by the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) to serve on the Sensitive Agencies Group, the formation of which will begin immediately by General Willard Paul, Assistant Director, ODM. Referenced memorandum pointed out that ODM contemplated a surprise test for each agency in Government sometime during the next three or four months and that only the agency head and relocation representative will be advised as to the time.

On June 30, 1955, Mr. W.F. Woods of the Liaison Section contacted General Paul and was advised that the formation of the Sensitive Agencies Group is in the process of being "molded together" and that something definite concerning this group will be forthcoming in the near future. General Paul was advised that concerning the surprise tests that the Bureau had conducted a surprise relocation test on May 26, 1955, at which time we successfully tested the speed of our evacuation of essential personnel and placing into operation our relocation site. He was also told that in connection with the recent June test we tested the speed of operation in the same manner. It was pointed out to General Paul that in view of this and the fact that we were in the process of locating a new site it would probably not be practical for the Bureau to engage in a surprise test during the next three or four months. General Paul advised that in planning for this surprise test it is not anticipated that the agencies will be required to relocate but that they may do so if they desire in order to test their relocation plans. He indicated that each agency, however, will receive from ODM a guide to enable each agency to "clean their own dirty linen" in so far as errors in previous tests have been noted. He felt that because the Bureau had very actively participated in the recent test as well as the fact that the Bureau has previously conducted a test that it will not be necessary for us to relocate until the next scheduled general test in June, 1956. He advised, however, that the Bureau would be furnished a guide which will enable us to detect and correct any errors made on previous tests.

In a memorandum to you dated June 15, 1955, captioned as above, I pointed out that Justice had represented the entire Department and its component agencies at meetings covering plans for operation alert. Justice has not always forwarded documents received as a result of their participation to the Bureau and frequently much of the information coming to the attention of the Bureau has been obtained through liaison on a confidential off-the-record basis from the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM). Concerning this, the Director commented "What steps do you suggest we take so as to be kept properly & promptly advised? It is obvious that Dept. will not do it. H."

Lt. Gen. Willard Paul, USA (ret.), Assistant Director, ODM, has advised Walter F. Woods, Liaison Section, that information pertaining to alert planning originates from two sources. One is the Interagency Committee for Alert Planning, which is concerned with all facets of relocation sites and other war plans of agencies in Government. The other is the Continuity of Government Planning Groups within ODM composed of several units within that agency whose purpose is to plan for all Government on an alert basis. Both committees, according to Gen. Paul, work very closely together with regard to alert planning. General Paul advised that Justice is the recipient of information from both groups and he assumes that such information is passed on to the Bureau. He pointed out that there are no regularly scheduled meetings of the Continuity of Government Planning Group but that all department heads are notified well in advance of a contemplated meeting in order that a representative may be present. He advised there are 31 departments and/or agencies represented. It is pointed out that many of these agencies have far less responsibility under alert conditions than the Bureau. General Paul advised that actually there is no one individual responsible for planning and that there are approximately 20 units or offices in ODM engaged solely in Continuity of Government Planning.

As previously reported to you, Justice has not always made information coming to their attention available to the Bureau and further, according to officials of ODM, Justice has not always

During the recent test, the President indicated an extreme interest in alert planning and stated his desire for additional and frequent tests. It, therefore, is imperative that the Bureau be kept promptly advised of developments in this field.

ACTION:

1. In view of the fact it is vitally necessary that the Bureau be kept promptly advised of developments concerning alert planning, the Liaison Representative will determine through contact with Lt. Gen. Paul of ODM the feasibility of the Bureau's seeking representation to the above committees. It will be determined what responsibilities the Bureau would have, how much time would be consumed through attendance at these meetings and what steps should the Bureau take to gain membership. It is noted that General Paul has indicated a desire for the Bureau to participate.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - OPERATION ALERT - 1955

SYNOPSIS:

Prior approval having been obtained for Liaison to contact the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) concerning the feasibility of the Bureau seeking membership on the Interagency Alert Planning Committee as well as the ODM Continuity of Government Planning Group, Liaison representative Walter F. Woods, on June 23, 1955, contacted Lieutenant General Willard Paul, U. S. Army (retired), Assistant Director for Plans and Readiness, ODM. At the outset General Paul was advised that during the prephase planning in connection with the recent test, Bureau had not always received information promptly. He was reminded of Dr. Arthur Flemming's, Director of ODM, statement at the last Inter-assembly Group meeting at [redacted] that he, Dr. Flemming, felt the various departments' representatives to the Interagency Committee on Alert Planning had been remiss in not promptly disseminating information within their respective departments. He was also reminded of the Bureau's membership on the former Adhoc Committee on Alert Planning wherein the Bureau was kept constantly advised. The Adhoc Committee was abolished approximately a year and one-half ago. General Paul stated that ODM and particularly his office, had, since the test, received several complaints from agencies and commissions within departments that they had not received any information regarding alert planning from their department's representative and that some units of [redacted] were conversant with the test only through newspaper articles.

b7E

General Paul advised that earlier, on June 23, he attended a meeting concerning the recent test and that those in attendance included among others [redacted]

b7E

General Paul stated that many "flaws" in the test exercise were brought to light and particular emphasis was placed on the fact that information coming to the attention of the various department representatives had not been furnished the agencies within the respective departments. It was at this meeting that a decision was made to reconstruct and reconstitute the planning committees for future exercises. General Paul stated that it is now the intention of his office (Plans and Readiness, ODM) to return to the sensitive agencies "setup." General Paul told Woods that Continuity of Government Planning will, of course, continue but that problems arising within this Group will not concern the responsibilities of the FBI. In view of this and the fact that he appreciates the need for the Bureau to be represented in alert plans as they pertain to our responsibilities he is creating a sensitive agency group composed of FBI, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] This group will be similar to the former Adhoc Group on Alert Planning and will deal solely with problems affecting the Bureau's responsibilities in the event of an emergency, as well as the problems of the other sensitive agencies in the intelligence community. Representation by the Bureau will enable us to be in a position to be kept continually and currently advised of planning developments. b7E

General Paul advised that formation of the ~~Sensitive Agencies Group~~ will begin immediately and he will keep the Bureau advised of developments. Justice, according to General Paul, will continue to represent the component agencies within the Department on the over-all Interagency Committee on Alert Planning and Continuity of Government Planning Groups, however, General Paul assured Woods that information developed within these two groups would be made available to the Bureau through direct liaison. He advised Woods that "his door will always be open" to the Bureau as he appreciates our responsibilities.

Regarding future tests, General Paul stated that the next general test is scheduled for June, 1956, but that some time during the next three or four months a request will be made of each agency to conduct a trial test. This is to be a surprise test and only the agency head and relocation representative will be advised as to the time. He stated that at least one week's notice would be given the agency head in order to plan the test relocation. He indicated the exercise will be intended to test the ability to evacuate quickly and place into operation the relocation site.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That the Bureau accept an invitation when tendered to serve on the Sensitive Agencies Group.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BOARDMAN

2. Liaison will follow closely with General Willard Paul, Assistant Director, ODM, to make certain that Bureau will be asked to participate, and to obtain all information regarding alert planning.

3. The Bureau has already conducted a surprise relocation test on May 26, 1955, at which time we successfully tested the speed of our evacuation of essential personnel and placing into operation our relocation site. These are the two factors which General Paul states will be covered in the surprise tests. If you approve, we will acquaint General Paul with the fact we had a surprise test and advise him of the speed with which we effected our evacuation and relocation. We will further tell General Paul that we tested speed of operation in the same way in the recent June test. By advising General Paul of this he may decide that we have already conducted our surprise tests and that we will not be asked to conduct another.

In my memorandum to the Director June 17, 1955, summarizing the results of Operation Alert 1955, certain difficulties encountered within the Bureau were set forth. The Director noted, "See that the above are given immediate attention and let me have report by July 1, as to corrective measures. H."

Among the difficulties encountered were:

(1) Difficulty with direct telephone line between [redacted] and [redacted]. Inspector McGuire, Communications Section, Records and Communications Division, advised that this difficulty was taken up with Mr. [redacted] Long Line Division, AT and T, on June 15 and 16. It was determined that this was a difficulty located within the central switchboard at the Telephone Company and was immediately corrected.

(2) Although Code Room employees worked assiduously without time for lunch on June 15, the volume was so great that delays in coding were incurred. In an actual relocation and in any subsequent relocation tests, additional coding employees will be included to insure no delay in encoding and decoding messages.

(3) Availability checks. There was some delay in contacting Agents in our larger offices during the availability checks. The Administrative Division is preparing an SAC letter to correct this difficulty and is considering the advisability of certain manual changes relative to the availability of Agent personnel.

(4) The Cincinnati office encountered difficulty in a problem relative to setting up a Radiac detection meter, which device is used to test the presence of radioactive particles. The SAC, Cincinnati, has received instructions on this matter by letter 6/22/55 and an SAC letter prepared 6/27/55 is being sent to all offices with instructions to incorporate information relative to the Radiac testing meter in their Bureau War Plans and instructing that they follow procedures set forth in SAC Letter No. 23 dated 3/4/52. This matter will be given careful and continuous attention.

Referenced memorandum set forth certain difficulties encountered outside the Bureau. To these the Director noted, "Give prompt attention. H."

Among the difficulties were:

(1) The delay encountered in securing the Attorney General's authority to launch the emergency detection program and his approval for launching the program involving custody of enemy diplomats. By memorandum to the Attorney General 6/20/55 this delay was pointed out. The Attorney General was advised that unless necessary decisions are made immediately and appropriately furnished this Bureau, the effectiveness of these programs will be drastically reduced. With reference to the program involving the detention of enemy diplomats, it should be noted that Presidential authority is necessary before [redacted] can request the Bureau to proceed with the program. Once the President has instructed that this program be placed into operation, no delay is anticipated. The plan as it is now devised includes the presence of a Bureau liaison man with [redacted] at their relocation site and the presence of [redacted] representatives with the FBI to answer questions on policy matters affecting [redacted] insofar as this program is concerned.

b7E

(2) The lack of a safe and secure communications system between the FBI and the Department of Justice was noted. By memorandum dated 6/16/55 the lack of a cryptographic system available to both the Department of Justice and the FBI was called to the Attorney General's attention. To further alleviate this situation, strenuous efforts are now being made to find a relocation site which will accommodate the essential personnel of both the Justice Department and the FBI. This will negate the necessity for a cryptographic system between the Bureau and the Department.

Memorandum to Mr. Boardman

(3) Delays were encountered in contacting our Liaison Agents due to inadequate communication setup at other agencies. These delays due to inadequate communication facilities in the other agencies were set forth in memorandum to the Attorney General dated 6/20/55.

(4) Referenced memorandum pointed out that [redacted] was apparently not set up to promptly handle the volume of teletype communications during Operation Alert 1955. There is enclosed a memorandum to the Attorney General with copies of Messrs. Rogers, Tompkins, and Airhart setting forth this problem. The Department is submitting the report for all agencies within the Department on Operation Alert 1955 to the Office of Defense Mobilization.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the enclosed memorandum go forth to the Attorney General.

Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department, called me at 11:35 a.m. today (7/6) to advise that the report of Mr. Boleyn concerning the Bureau's part in Operation Alert 1955 had been received at the Department. (Mr. Boleyn was the  representative who accompanied us to .) Mr. Airhart said that the report was highly complimentary and that it was going directly to the Attorney General. Mr. Airhart thought we would like to know.

You will recall that Mr. Boleyn displayed to us a copy of the contemplated report he was going to send in and made several changes at our suggestion.

Yesterday, while having luncheon with Edmund F. Mansure, Administrator of General Services Administration, he mentioned to me how impressed he was with the Bureau's participation in Operation Alert. He stated that in his capacity he had an opportunity to view a lot of the problems and the answers to problems submitted by various agencies and it appeared to him the Bureau had a very carefully conceived and very carefully worked-out plan that presented excellent problems and that problems presented to the Bureau had been excellently handled.

He stated that this was in contrast to other agencies which did not seem to be as well prepared. He specifically mentioned [redacted] and stated that his reaction to [redacted]'s participation was that they were "asinine."

I thought you would be interested in hearing of this.

SA [redacted] of the San Francisco Office, pursuant to prior Bureau authority, was in attendance in a liaison capacity at [redacted]

[redacted], during Operation Alert 1955. SA [redacted] advised that the simulated declaration of Martial Law by the President on June 16 came as a complete surprise to [redacted]

b7E

[redacted], in a summary relative to declaration of Martial Law pointed out that the President declared this simulated Martial Law only after he determined it essential to the national interest and to permit the Government to operate until Congress could come into session and normal channels of Government re-established. The summary points out that the President may require certain action on the part of agencies of the Federal Government as well as state and local Governments who may be refusing to cooperate with neighboring areas which are under an attack.

b7E

It is further pointed out that a state of Martial Law authorizes Federal, State or local Governments to intercede and order necessary actions in behalf of the nation's welfare and permits the President to appoint responsible persons to act for him in the administration of relief, support and protective measures at the State and local level if this becomes necessary because of the lack of action by those in charge; a state of military law provides a uniformity of emergency law throughout the nation.

In my memorandum of June 14, captioned as above, I pointed out that the question of a code system between the FBI and the Department of Justice had been raised with John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department, on several occasions during the past six weeks. The Director noted, "Did we ever put in writing to the Department the need for a code? H."

The question of the need for a code for confidential communications between the FBI and the Department was not put in writing to the Department. Mr. Airhart advised on each occasion this question was brought up that their information was that [redacted] was preparing a code system which would enable them to code messages as needed and that it was expected shortly. Mr. Airhart further advised that insofar as he was concerned there would be no need for a code between the FBI and the Department for any test operation since he had no intention of permitting any message to be sent over the communications network during a test operation which would require coding. He felt that security was of paramount importance and that there should be nothing put over a communication system which could in any way be interpreted to constitute a security risk.

Mr. Airhart further advised that if some situation did arise which would indicate the need for a coded message during a test operation, this would be taken care of by direct courier service between the agencies. As recently as June 14, 1955, Mr. Airhart was questioned as to when the Department was going to have a code system which would permit coded communications between the two agencies. He replied that [redacted] was supposed to supply the cryptographic system for the Department.

INDEXED-35

RECORDED-35

Referenced memorandum also stated that coded messages could be sent between the FBI and the Department by sending the coded message to [redacted] where the message would be decoded and re-coded in the cryptographic system known to the Department. The Director noted, "This isn't clear to me. Why should they be breaking a code in order to get proper messages intended for us? H."

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. BOARDMAN

June 15, 1955

Re: War Plans - Operation Alert 1955
(June 15, 16, 17)

The code pad which the Department now has for the purposes of this test exercise is for operations between the Department and [redacted] only. This means that the Department can communicate with [redacted] only and with no other agency, including the FBI. If the Department wishes to communicate with another agency, such as the FBI, the message must first be sent to [redacted] where it is decoded and then re-encoded in a system held by that other agency. The FBI code, on the other hand, can be used for communications not only with [redacted] but with all other agencies which have [redacted]. The Department does not have [redacted]. b7E

The Cryptographic Section of the Laboratory Division has advised that if the Department can obtain [redacted] from [redacted] [redacted], the Bureau could prepare unique rotors and key lists which would permit the FBI to communicate directly with the Department, much as we now do with our field offices, in a secure system so that no one else would be able to read our messages. b7E

There is attached a memorandum to the Attorney General with a copy for Deputy Attorney General Rogers and Assistant Attorney General Tompkins, setting forth the need for a cryptographic system between the FBI and the Department of Justice.

In response to Mr. Nichols' inquiry as to delay in receipt of Annex 3, Part B of Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) instruction dated April 28, 1955, referenced memoranda pointed out this annex was transmitted to the Department by cover memorandum dated 6/9/55. The date of 4/28/55 refers to the basic release of ODM. The exact date Annex 3 was prepared is unknown. Mr. Tolson inquired, "But why didn't our liaison know about it? T." The Director noted, "I would like to know. Our liaison at ODM seems to be dismally ineffective. H."

Justice has always represented the entire Department and its component agencies at all meetings covering the plans in question. The ODM Inter-Agency Committee is made up of the heads of 31 agencies or their designated representatives. Justice represents the FBI. Many of the ODM documents we have ultimately received concerning Operation Alert 1955 have been received by the Bureau only after Liaison has determined through contacts that they exist and as a result has made special arrangements to receive them from ODM direct. Frequently the documents we have been able to obtain by this special request and off-the-record, have been documents previously furnished to the Department two or three weeks prior to the time of the Bureau request. In only a few instances has Justice indicated the documents were in their possession. The ODM communications manual being used in Operation Alert 1955 was obtained from the Department only after a special request was made for this document. The Bureau had no knowledge that such a document existed until after Liaison had ascertained from ODM through contacts that there existed a communications manual to be used for Operation Alert 1955.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached memorandum to the Attorney General, with copies for Messrs. Rogers and Tompkins, go forth.

What steps do you suggest we take so as to be kept properly & promptly advised? It is obvious that Dept will not do it.

Reference is made to my memorandum of June 21, 1955, relating to a new relocation site for both the Bureau and the Department near [redacted]. The Director noted that we should expedite the location of a usable site.

Special Agent John F. Sullivan made a survey of [redacted] on June 21. Detailed memorandum attached. This memorandum reflects [redacted] will accommodate, with its present facilities, 1,000 persons and therefore would be adequate for both the Bureau and the Department provided we had the entire facility. It is noted, however, that [redacted] [redacted] have made inquiry as to the availability of [redacted] for their use. It would, therefore, appear that there is little chance that we can obtain [redacted] for our exclusive use, and that, at best, it will take a lengthy period to resolve whether it would be available to us.

Special Agent [redacted] made a check of the general area in [redacted]. Detailed memorandum attached. It was determined that there are a number of [redacted] throughout this area such as [redacted]

[redacted]. There are also a number of [redacted] in the area which appear suitable from the standpoint of accommodations for a relocation site, such as [redacted]

[redacted]. The facilities at the above [redacted] were not examined in detail.

Our experience to date has indicated that [redacted] are not suitable for a relocation site due to our lack of control over them; availability of them for test purposes and so forth. Our examination has also indicated that our best bet for a relocation facility would be in Government quarters, such as [redacted] military reservations or areas under control of Governmental agencies outside the military. Another very satisfactory solution would, of course, be the purchase or lease of facilities for our use.

It is believed that we should make an orderly, systematic and concentrated check on Government facilities already available and sites which could be purchased or leased by us. With reference to Government facilities, we could do this by determining through inquiry by Liaison the Governmental facilities available [redacted].

b7E

This inquiry would be made of the military services, as well as civilian agencies, such as General Services Administration, and we would endeavor to obtain full facts regarding these potential sites here in Washington which would permit us to pick and concentrate on sites considered most desirable. At the same time, we can have our SAC's survey their respective areas, not only listing desirable Governmental facilities, but also furnishing the Bureau information on any sites that we could possibly purchase or lease. It is believed we should make inquiry both here in Washington and through the SACs due to our desire to expedite the finding of a suitable relocation site.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Through liaison we are endeavoring to ascertain all Government facilities located [redacted], together with all information regarding them in order that we can concentrate on the most logical sites.
2. If you approve, we will telephonically instruct the SACs [redacted] to have a complete survey made within their respective territories [redacted] in order not only to locate the best Government facilities for our purpose, but also to locate any sites that might be purchased or leased by us.

In an effort to resolve the question of our relocation site, Belmont and Parsons drove up to [redacted] [redacted] on Sunday, July 10, 1955. We talked to the Resident Agent at [redacted].

We looked at [redacted] and it appears to be entirely unfit for our use.

We went over with the Resident Agent at [redacted] what there might be available in [redacted], without coming up with anything practical.

Leaving [redacted], we stopped at [redacted]

[redacted]. This is a large establishment on which additional buildings could be erected. [redacted]

At [redacted], I was impressed with the layout of [redacted] as it has a number of buildings which seem to be in good condition, including [redacted]. We could allocate certain of these buildings to the Department of Justice and retain the rest, thus having complete control of our own relocation operations. yet immediate proximity to the Department.

Memo to Boardman from Belmont
Re: BUREAU RELOCATION SITE

[redacted] is a stone's throw from [redacted].
At one time we had our microwave tower on [redacted]. On the theory that we could set up our communications, store our supplies and records, and create sufficient space to handle [redacted] persons during relocation tests, we instructed the Resident Agent to ascertain the size of [redacted] and any other [redacted] in the immediate vicinity of [redacted], so that we could readily run a cable from [redacted] to [redacted] and be in a position to take over [redacted] in an emergency.

b7C
b7E

The Resident Agent called me on the afternoon of July 11 to advise as follows, after he had checked the tax records and made careful inquiry through the postmaster and contacts concerning [redacted]:

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that we have a representative of the Administrative Division, the Laboratory, and the Domestic Intelligence Division proceed to [redacted] to contact [redacted] listed above, to ascertain whether they would be willing to lease [redacted] to store our supplies and to provide working space for a minimum of [redacted] and a maximum of [redacted] personnel. It may be that [redacted] would be interested in such a deal from an investment standpoint.

b7C
b7E

If the owners are not willing to build additional buildings, we should ascertain whether they are willing to lease the land, subject to the additional buildings being built thereon.

If they are not willing to lease, we should get a figure as to sales price.

The goal here is to locate a relocation site where in an emergency we can handle [redacted] people and that a portion of space in the immediate vicinity of the relocation site be available for relocation tests, capable of handling up to [redacted] people, with a minimum of [redacted]. [redacted] appears to be a satisfactory relocation site. If we can set up [redacted] for relocation test purposes, storage and communications center, it may be the answer to our problem.

b7E

Attached is a sheet setting out what appear to be the factors to be considered in connection with a relocation site.

This is utterly silly & impractical. What you are suggesting is procuring a "stand-by" relocation site. Just how you effort to get the money for such a thing I don't know.

The following factors should be borne in mind in connection with a joint Bureau-Department relocation site:

1. In a real emergency, we should be able to occupy the site immediately, with all necessary communications facilities already set up so that we can start operating at once.

2. The Bureau has [ ] essential persons to relocate; the Department advises it has about [ ], including [ ]. In an emergency it may be necessary to augment these figures; therefore, the relocation site should be capable of handling at least [ ] persons.

b7E

3. It is not essential that we control all the space capable of handling [ ] people, except in an actual emergency. In fact, unless we could justify such space by using it continuously today, we could be subjected to criticism for upkeep of facilities not being used.

b7E

4. Setting up a room or two under our control at the relocation site, in which we could store our equipment and records under proper security, would be sufficient except that we may expect additional relocation tests. We would, of course, need warehouse space for our supplies. As we are faced with additional relocation tests, we must have under our continuous control sufficient space to handle personnel during a relocation test.

5. We had [ ] people at [ ] in the recent test. Only [ ] people were there at any one time, as the others rotated. John Airhart of the Department advised that the Department and [ ] together had [ ] personnel at [ ] during the test. He feels this could be cut down. It appears then that we could get by with space during a relocation test for between [ ] and [ ] personnel, for the Department and the Bureau combined.

6. Our need, therefore, is to locate a relocation site where in an emergency we can handle [ ] people and that a portion of space in the immediate vicinity of the relocation site be available for relocation tests capable of handling up to [ ] people, with a minimum of [ ].

SYNOPSIS:

_____ surveyed June 21, 1955, as possible relocation center for Bureau in the event _____ does not relocate there. Results of survey set forth. Availability and/or space available depends upon _____.
 If _____ is abandoned and _____ does not use it, facilities are more than adequate for work and living quarters of Bureau personnel, as approximately _____ could be accommodated. If _____ is abandoned and _____ relocates there, facilities would not be adequate without some construction. If _____ continues and _____ does not relocate there, minimum or emergency facilities are available for short period. If _____ is curtailed and _____ does not relocate there, facilities would be adequate for Bureau's purposes.

RECOMMENDATION:

Since _____ is considering relocation at _____ and facilities are not sufficient even for _____ without building, it does not appear at present that their plans would be resolved in the immediate future. Likewise, in view of _____ it does not appear that the future status of _____ will be immediately determined by _____. Since the time element is important in obtaining a relocation area for the Bureau, it is not deemed advisable at this time to give further consideration to _____. Further efforts, therefore, are being made to find another relocation point. Liaison will explore with _____ to determine whether there are any other suitable areas. _____

Liaison will maintain contact with _____ to determine final disposition with respect to _____

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

DETAILS:

Reference is made to the memorandum of Mr. Hennrich to Mr. Belmont dated June 17, 1955, in the above-captioned matter, in which it is stated that [ ] has considered but had no definite plans to relocate at [ ] [ ]; that they will have to build additional quarters if they go there and if the FBI were to also go with them construction would have to take place for the Bureau's purposes, and there was some question concerning availability of land for such new building. It was recommended that Liaison would follow with [ ] in this matter and Mr. Tolson noted that [ ] should be surveyed to see whether the facilities would fit the Bureau's needs in the event [ ] did not relocate there. The Director agreed to Mr. Tolson's suggestion.

(G) "OPERATION ALERT - 1955" - AVAILABILITY OF ALL SPECIAL AGENTS IN CHARGE -- I want to point out my deep concern with the manifest indifference on the part of [redacted] Special Agents in Charge who were unavailable when their offices were telephonically contacted at the start of "Operation Alert - 1955" or subsequently in connection with a test problem. It had been indicated in advance the time when the operation would take effect, yet it was impossible to get in touch with the ranking officials of [redacted] of our field offices. The excuses given for unavailability, such as the taking of annual leave, the making of speeches, and the adherence to a strict schedule of obtaining meals, seem to me to involve matters of most secondary importance with relation to the test being made. b7E

Such an attitude on the part of officials will not be tolerated in the future, but will be met with immediate removal of the official manifesting such indifference.

In connection with the brief prepared for your use for a discussion with the Attorney General today on Department war plans, you inquired concerning the methods of notification of the various alerts.

Commander Beach, the Naval Aide to the President, has advised that, if the President desires the departments and agencies to relocate prior to [REDACTED] b7E [REDACTED], the departments and agencies will be notified by the President's Staff in the most practical manner under the existing circumstances. Beach stated no further details are available at this time.

In the event of [REDACTED] b7E the relocation plans will be automatically activated. Relocation will be automatically activated by the buzzer and siren system which will sound a steady three-minute blast. In the case of Washington, D. C., this will also automatically set off evacuation of the city. (Approved in NSC 5513/1)

In the event of [REDACTED] b7E the buzzer and siren system will sound in a rising and falling manner and the entire city is expected to take immediate cover. (Approved in NSC 5513/1)

The Bureau is tied in with the Air Force Command Post in the Pentagon and should receive [REDACTED] b7E
a very few minutes before they are sounded generally. Upon receiving this notification from the Air Force Command Post, either Mr. Belmont or the official acting for him will notify you, Mr. Tolson, the Attorney General, me, and Mr. Hennrich. During the recent Operation Alert, the equipment in the Teletype Room at [REDACTED] was adequate. Certain minor items such as the need for an electric clock with Greenwich civil time dial and various rubber stamps for interpreting coded inter-agency address symbols and traffic routing symbols were noted. We are obtaining these items.

The space, however, in the Teletype Room is inadequate for any additional machine equipment. We have been advised that the teletype machines to be associated with the micro-wave network are now estimated to be four micro-wave teletypes. In order to accommodate this additional equipment, it will be necessary to shift the Teletype Room to a larger room than now occupied. We propose to use the room now occupied by the switchboard at [REDACTED] and to shift the switchboard equipment into the room presently occupied by teletype. No additional switchboard equipment is anticipated and the space will be sufficient in the Teletype Room to accommodate the switchboard equipment and the micro-wave switchboard equipment.

We have ascertained from Mr. [REDACTED] of the Central Telephone Company at [REDACTED] that it will cost approximately $600 to move the switchboard from its present location into the Teletype Room and, of course, the teletypes will have to be moved from their present location into the room now utilized by the switchboard. In addition, we have found that our present switchboard arrangement allows work space for two operators. It actually consists of two manual switchboards installed side by side with all incoming trunk jacks appearing on the left board only and the extension jacks spread out in chronological order across both boards. The extension jacks, as well as the trunk line jacks, appear in only one place. This arrangement, of necessity, requires the operators to pass switchboard cords in front of each other on approximately 50% of the trunk-extension switchboard code combinations.

This arrangement becomes awkward and cumbersome when a high volume of calls are made and especially so when calls from one [REDACTED] extension to another must be handled manually by the operator. We have gone into this problem with the telephone company. There is no other way to handle such calls without dial equipment and Mr. [REDACTED] has estimated that it would cost him approximately $25,000 to purchase the dial equipment and install it and he would have to require the Bureau to tie itself up on a five year lease for such an arrangement.

b7E

I do not think that we could justify this expensive equipment in the building standing idle except during those short periods of a day or two of actual test operations that are conducted. The best solution to the problem would be to rewire the manual boards in order that we can have a two position multiple type switchboard. This means that on a multiple type board all trunk lines and all extensions appear in each operator's position eliminating the necessity of the operator having to pass cords in front of each other on any trunk-extension combination. The cost of multiplying the extension jacks on our presently installed switchboard would be between $500 and $600. Mr. [REDACTED] estimates that it would take approximately one week to ten days to do this job. He also states it would take from one and a half to two days to completely move the switchboard and the teletypes, as we proposed above, and recommends that if we are going to multiply the switchboard that we do the work simultaneously with the moving of the equipment. We are in agreement.

b7C

Accordingly, I recommend we authorize Mr. [REDACTED] to immediately make the move of the switchboard to the Teletype Room and the teletype equipment will have to be moved by representatives of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of [REDACTED] to the room presently occupied by the switchboard. We have no alternative here as there is just not enough space. As indicated above, this will cost approximately $600. Furthermore, I recommend we authorize [REDACTED] to multiply the extensions on the switchboard at an approximate cost of from $500 to $600. We will coordinate this move with the representatives of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of [REDACTED] and with the Central Telephone Company at [REDACTED] in order that it can be done simultaneously.

LOS Angeles

BUREAU WAR PLANS Emergency Headquarters for SOG.

Reference is made to my memorandum dated June 20, 1955, setting out results of an availability check of agents in the Los Angeles Office as a part of Operation Alert. My memorandum stated that initial notification from the Bureau was issued to the field regarding the alert on June 3, 1955. The Director inquired, "When did we first learn of proposed Alert at Wash. Hdqts.?"

b7E

The Bureau first learned of the proposed alert through a joint directive of the Office of Defense Mobilization - Federal Civil Defense Administration dated March 17, 1955, which was received by the Bureau several days later, exact date unknown. Upon receipt of this directive, a memorandum was submitted by the Domestic Intelligence Division on April 2, 1955, regarding this alert which was proposed to be held on June 15, 16 and 17, 1955. At that time (April 2, 1955) it was not known whether the Bureau could participate in the alert because of a conflict in the use of the Bureau's relocation site, it being noted that [redacted] had been previously scheduled at [redacted] for June 16 through June 19, 1955. This conflict was subsequently resolved and we advised the Department on April 29, 1955, that the Bureau would participate. At that time we were in the midst of preparing for another war plans' test to be held on May 26, 1955. After the May 26, 1955, test was completed, plans were begun for the operation scheduled for June 15, 16 and 17, 1955.

The field was first notified by the Bureau that we would participate in the June 15 test by airtel dated June 3, 1955. Subsequently another airtel was sent on June 10, 1955, to the field furnishing instructions regarding the proposed alert and ordering that field offices should be sure their war plans were in shape to handle any special problems which may be assigned them during the test and that field offices should have persons on duty to receive telephone, radio and teletype messages and to transmit replies to [redacted] 24 hours a day during the entire test period.

Reference is made to the memorandum from Mr. Mohr to the Director dated June 21, 1955, submitted in answer to the Director's question "When did we first learn of proposed alert at Washington Hdqts? H." On this memorandum the Director noted "Why did it take us from April 29 till June 3 to notify the Field? If we had done so promptly speech commitments & leave schedules could have been readjusted."

The initial information from the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) as to Operation Alert 1955 is in a bulletin dated March 22, 1955, received at the Bureau sometime thereafter. This bulletin states "Each agency will participate in the test of its essential functions with the maximum number of personnel scheduled for relocation. This number of personnel will be determined by the head of the agency. Except for the [redacted] area, regional and field operating units where they have existing plans may be brought into the play for the relocation exercise, otherwise these units will participate in the Civil Defense exercise." This bulletin also stated "tentative schedule for release of operational plans for the test is May 1." There is no mention any place in the ODM releases relative to Operation Alert 1955 to indicate how broad this test would be. The only city mentioned any place in the releases is [redacted]

It was not until May 31, 1955, that the Washington City Hall Service released that date that it was determined that there would be Civil Defense tests in 50 other American cities. Liaison ascertained that Federal Civil Defense Administration had not advised and did not intend to advise some of the cities which were to participate in this test operation, but rather they were to participate had not been advised were to participate on a surprise basis, and that the extent of Civil Defense participation would be determined by the state and local Civil Defense authorities. The Bureau never received a list of the cities which were to participate in this exercise.

The information relative to possible participation of 50 cities in the Civil Defense test was recorded in my memorandum to you dated June 1, 1955. It was recommended at that time that an air-tel be dispatched to each SAC. This air-tel was dispatched to the field under date of June 3, 1955.

As preparations for Operation Alert, 1955, gathered headway by O. D. M. we gleaned information that there might be problems presented by O. D. M. or other agencies which would involve the Bureau. Consequently to protect the Bureau's interest, on June 10, 1955, we advised all offices by air-tel that the Bureau would participate in the nationwide test, that they would be contacted sometime on June 15, and instructed each office to have persons on duty to receive telephone, radio and teletype messages and transmit replies twenty-four hours per day during the entire three-day period. On June 14 all offices were instructed to staff the resident agency nearest their relocation site for the entire period and if they received inquiry or test problems from properly authenticated O. D. M. or Civil Defense officials they should be circumspect in their reply and immediately contact the Bureau relocation site.

It would have eliminated some of the excuses by the field if we had alerted the field earlier.

ACTION:

One of the lessons we learned from Operation Alert 1955 is that we cannot depend on the Department to keep us advised in matters of this kind. We are, therefore, exploring the desirability of becoming member of the committees handling Alert procedures so that we can secure prompt and accurate information in advance.

I telephonically contacted Belmont, who is available to examine the site at [redacted] on either July 14 or 15. I gave him the specific instructions you told me to and immediately thereafter called General Howard, Immigration & Naturalization Service, and told him that Belmont would be available to go tomorrow morning or at any time on Thursday or Friday of this week. General Howard stated that would be fine; that he would get in touch with Tompkins and see whether Tompkins' representative was available to go on the morning of the 14th. General Howard stated he would call me back as to final arrangements.

I will advise you concerning the final arrangements.

By airtel dated July 11, 1955, SAC [redacted] of the [redacted] Office furnished the results of his survey concerning his effort to locate a suitable relocation site for the Bureau [redacted]. Included in this survey was information concerning [redacted] that were located in [redacted].

b7E

SAC [redacted] ascertained that [redacted] were [redacted] located at [redacted]. He stated that at the present time [redacted] is undergoing a building expansion program and [redacted] is located [redacted]. It is noted that according to Mr. [redacted], Relocation Officer, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), [redacted] is not in a target area and based on estimates of the recent evacuation test was not in the fall-out area. He pointed out that [redacted] has not been, to ODM's knowledge, surveyed by any agency in the Government. Mr. [redacted] strongly recommended that the Bureau consider this as a possible relocation site.

Memorandum to Mr. Boardman

b7E

ANALYSIS OF THE BUREAU'S NEEDS:

b7E

We have made an earnest effort to locate a site adaptable to the Bureau's use. We have not located a satisfactory site. The Bureau and the Department need a site into which we can move at a moments notice for immediate operations. It would not be satisfactory to have to set up a site even partially at the time of an emergency. We expect further relocation tests. Therefore, our site must be capable of immediate occupancy by approximately [ ] people (FBI and Department combined) with room for further expansion if needed. Our ability to move into [ ] at a moments notice exemplifies the desirability of this as contrasted as to having to empty [ ]

We feel, therefore, that the answer to this problem is to establish [redacted] at the appropriate location. This will provide security, complete control, immediate adaptability & availability for immediate occupancy. It follows that by establishing at our selected relocation site [redacted], we will avoid criticism over the years for an expensive site for operation only during relocation tests or during an actual emergency.

PROPOSAL:

b7E

(1) Therefore, we propose that a permanent relocation site for the Bureau and the Department be established by securing an appropriate piece of land, Government owned if possible, in the area [redacted] upon which we would construct the necessary buildings. (2) These buildings would be used on a permanent basis to house [redacted]. We considered the possibility of moving [redacted] however, we understand there would be serious operational difficulties, therefore, we are not suggesting this. It may be possible to move certain other sections of the Bureau to such a relocation site; however, this would require careful study.

b7E

It is our feeling that the Bureau and the Department of Justice as sensitive agencies should receive immediate consideration as to funds for such a proposal, particularly if the proposal encompasses not only a relocation site but a necessary permanent function of the Bureau at the same time.

We realize that this would cause a delay in securing a relocation site, nevertheless, it is logical and we feel the Bureau can justify its position, particularly, as we can require the Department of Justice to carry the ball to a considerable extent in seeking funds.

b7E

Meanwhile, as a temporary stop-gap for this we can fall back on [redacted] in an emergency and if necessary can consider [redacted]

b7E

The above is set forth for your consideration. If it is desired, we will of course, immediately press for [redacted]

This is the most pitiful attempt to handle this pressing problem. It would be ludicrous if it wasn't tragic. Nothing has been accomplished & nothing practical suggested. H.

I have just gathered to move any portion of this Bureau to suitable D.C. in order to get a new building & get new flow & to adjust that. H.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont

b7E

[REDACTED]

It should be born in mind that a relocation site must be such that it can be taken over and occupied by the Bureau and Department evacuees within a matter of one or two hours notice. At the same time it must possess the necessary facilities to sleep and feed all personnel from the Department and the Bureau that would participate in any test exercise as well as the number of people that would have to go in the event of an actual state of emergency. Consequently, places such as [REDACTED] and others to be mentioned below are not considered suitable for the Bureau and the Department's needs. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] could afford space for communications and the storage of records as well as accommodating approximately [REDACTED] persons with working, sleeping, and eating space. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]. The only way as mentioned above to appropriately make use of [REDACTED] would be to take it over and have it as a "going concern" immediately available to the Bureau's use, it does not appear feasible under existing conditions.

[REDACTED] was surveyed and considered, but when Bureau Agents inspected the place it was found that the buildings in general would require extensive renovation. Bedding and lavatory facilities were completely inadequate. Also the lighting was considered entirely inadequate and primitive. [REDACTED] has been considered for several years by the Bureau as a potential relocation

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont

site. [ ] buildings appear to be in fine condition and at present contains [ ]. The draw back concerning [ ] is that [ ] authorities will not grant the Bureau permission to install any outside antennas or use the facilities under any circumstances unless during an actual state of war. We have been denied permission to use it for any test operations. The possibility exists, however, that land could be secured in the vicinity of [ ] and thereon extensive construction could be made of a permanent nature which would house the Bureau's records, communications system, and office space. However, this construction would still not be ample in size to feed and sleep all persons necessary on a test exercise. Again, our construction at this site would be a "going concern" as mentioned above. b7E

Examples of additional [ ] that have been considered are as follows: [ ] b7E

On July 7, 1955, Arthur S. Flemming, Director of Office of Defense Mobilization, advised that he recommended that Government agencies assign groups of employees to work permanently at the agency's actual relocation site. This statement was contained in the Washington Star of July 7, 1955, in which it was stated that this recommendation by Mr. Flemming was disclosed in Mr. Flemming's report to President Eisenhower on "Operation Alert, 1955." According to the article, a White House Summary of Mr. Flemming's report indicated that many sites used during Operation Alert, 1955, were temporary and hence inadequate for prolonged use, while others, such as colleges, were practical only for short test periods during vacation seasons and accordingly he felt that some agencies may find it necessary to select new sites. Mr. Flemming stated that all agencies were being urged to develop plans under which small groups of employees would perform regular year-round duties at the agency's relocation site and at the same time be trained to operate the relocation headquarters until employees from their respective Washington headquarters were able to reach them in the event of an attack. [redacted] were taken into consideration including the possibility of securing [redacted] and converting [redacted] into working space. This could be done. However, due to [redacted] no further consideration is being given at this time to [redacted]. b7E

As a result of our surveys, it has been determined that the basic needs for a potential relocation site can be summed up as follows: (1) That we move into a building or group of buildings that are at present a "going concern" which is [redacted] but immediately available to the Bureau at all times upon a moment's notice; (2) at least a part of a "going concern" which the Bureau could take over immediately and as in all cases subject to the exclusive control of the Bureau at all times primarily because of security factors involving our records, coding machines, and communications equipment; (3) taking into account the above basic requirements, it does not appear desirable that the Bureau consider [redacted]. These places would not be immediately ready to occupy, yet might be suitable for a real emergency. b7E

Again, places of this nature would not be available for test purposes inasmuch as they would be occupied by [redacted] and would necessitate our moving them out "within the hour" and setting up complete operations. This latter does not appear feasible. b7E

It would seem that the answer to the Bureau's relocation problem is to have a building or group of buildings that are subject to expansion and absorption for the Bureau as well as the Department of Justice evacuees, and under the Department or Bureau's control and operation at all times. The following three possibilities or combinations thereof, appear to be most appropriate for the Bureau's needs, bearing in mind that the relocation should be [redacted] yet out of the immediate target area. b7E

(1) Moving the Bureau's [redacted] out of [redacted] and construct the necessary buildings. b7E

(2) Construct a [redacted] building. b7E

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont

(3) Construct a building of ample size and keep it as a "going concern," moving into it some portion of the Seat of Government operations such as [redacted]

b7E

These three possibilities are naturally based on a long-range program. If this program is completed we would have a permanent relocation site as well as a site that would accommodate other Bureau facilities at all times. By keeping this new site as a "going concern" the Bureau would avoid any possible criticism from Congress or others for having a large constructed area idle at all times other than during test exercises or emergency use. (Actually the site would never be completely idle because it would be necessary to have a 24-hour clerical guard force on duty for the purpose of guarding the Bureau's Security Index records, communications facilities, coding machines, etc.) If this long-range program is considered the Bureau could still fall back on [redacted] for use during any test exercise that may be scheduled prior to the completion of this long-range program. In addition, [redacted] could be stripped of all sleeping accommodations and the entire building transformed into office space accommodating approximately [redacted] people. By doing this it would be necessary to contact [redacted] authorities and secure from them on a temporary basis [redacted] that would afford sleeping accommodations for the personnel involved.

b7E

CONCLUSIONS:

We could pursue through high-level conferences [redacted] if the Director feels as though the facilities offered as mentioned in the details above would be satisfactory as a Bureau relocation site.

b7E

If, on the other hand, the Director does not believe that [redacted] would be a satisfactory relocation site we could pursue, with the Director's approval, the possibilities of establishing a permanent site on the long-range basis of constructing a building and using [redacted] for emergency purposes until a permanent site is completed.

Memo to Mr. Boardman from Mr. Belmont

RE: RELOCATION SITE

b7E

RECOMMENDATION:

We do not believe that the space now vacant at [redacted] is suitable for our relocation site for the following main reasons:

b7E

1. We feel we should plan for facilities to house up to [redacted] minimum of [redacted] people in an emergency. [redacted] would not do this. At the minimum of [redacted] per person, [redacted] would hold approximately [redacted] people. However, with essential partitioning, aisles, file room, etc., this would be materially reduced and I doubt that we could accommodate [redacted] people. To get [redacted], [redacted] would have to be moved.

b7E

2. The space is not desirable space. It is hot, a possible firetrap, would have to be completely renovated and partitioned, would pose a possible ventilation problem, and has inadequate sanitary facilities which, of course, could be added to.

3. The basic purpose of [redacted] is to [redacted]. In an emergency it would be [redacted] and we would be [redacted]. In other words, we would be out of place.

b7E

4. Even though the space was partitioned according to our plans, privacy for the Attorney General and the Director would be difficult.

7. From comments passed by General Howard, Mr. Nease and I got the definite impression that General Howard was considering this as a very temporary relocation site. He is, of course, overlooking the fact that because of the essential operations of the Bureau we will have to go to considerable expense to establish the necessary communications to serve us during an emergency.

Enclosed is a proposed letter to the Attorney General, copy for Deputy Attorney General Rogers, setting forth certain of the above observations relative to [REDACTED] as a possible relocation site.

On the morning of July 15, 1955, I spoke to Walter Yeagley, of the Department, and went over with him the points which should be borne in mind in connection with this proposed site. Yeagley stated he felt definitely the site was not desirable and that he had made a note of the same things which had come to our attention. He said he was going to dictate his memorandum this morning and that it would probably get to Mr. Tompkins early this afternoon and to the Attorney General later this afternoon. He said he would call me after he had completed it.

Dear [redacted]:

Mr. Roach has informed me of the discussion he had with you yesterday concerning the matter of mutual interest to [redacted] and to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Your willingness to be of additional assistance to us is greatly appreciated. I did not want this opportunity to pass without expressing my personal appreciation for the many courtesies extended in the past and your understanding of current problems.

As mentioned to you yesterday, there are many considerations that have to be taken into account which necessitate temporary deferment of decision of the acceptance of [redacted]'s kind offer at this time. You will, however, be advised promptly when the final decision has been made.

If at any time you feel that this Bureau is in a position to be of service to you, please do not hesitate to call upon us.

Please accept my kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

As a matter of possible interest, [redacted] has [redacted] approval to build a new permanent building [redacted]. From conversations with [redacted], the site location for this building will be announced some time in [redacted]. The possibilities are good that the building will be [redacted].

The building is to be built with the idea in mind of having it as near bomb proof as possible. It is anticipated that it will be finished and ready for occupancy in [redacted].

It is believed that if the Bureau feels it desirable, arrangements could be made with [redacted] for the Bureau and the Department to have facilities for a permanent relocation site in this building. Consideration should, however, be given to the fact that if we approach [redacted] at this time they could possibly use this to make their building larger so as to accommodate the Bureau and the Department which might result in the building costing more than originally anticipated by [redacted].

No comments have been made to [redacted] by Liaison in this connection but it was felt that this idea should be brought to your attention.

It is pointed out that the installation of microwave facilities by the Bureau to any of the Bureau's present terminals would require the establishment of several intervening relaying stations and would involve tremendous expense. In addition to the equipment, which would cost approximately $25,000 per station, suitable land on the various mountain tops would have to be acquired, access roads built or improved and power lines constructed. There appears, however, to be space for the construction of adequate antenna for [ ] facilities such as we now have at [ ], as well as for radio teletype circuit to our main radio stations.

b7E

This site could be used although it has very apparent objections, namely: the buildings now existing are not sufficient in type to meet the Bureau's needs; the cost of establishing our communications system, including microwave, would be excessive; we would be [ ]; and the site is [ ].

While we secured the concurrence of [ ], concerning possible use of this site, further inquiry indicates that [ ] would expect to use the entire [ ] in an emergency and we would, therefore, have to force concurrence from [ ].

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont

b7E

Conclusion:

The physical space at [redacted] is more than sufficient. However, in view of the above objections to [redacted], it is suggested we hold off on any further consideration of [redacted] at this time. b7E

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS -
RELOCATION SITE

This afternoon I instructed SAC [redacted] to have an immediate survey made as to possible relocation sites in the general vicinity of [redacted].

You will recall that the Office of Defense Mobilization has advised us that [redacted] has been selected as a possible relocation site for [redacted].

I told [redacted] that we were interested in first determining whether there are any [redacted] in this area which could be utilized by us. I also told him to determine if there are any [redacted] suitable for use as well as [redacted]. I instructed that this be done forthwith and that he advise us of [redacted] details of any likely possibilities. I told him that any inquiries made should be under pretext and no commitments should be made.

I reiterated to [redacted] that what we need is a site where we can get some space under our control immediately for storage, communications and so forth. We would then need additional space for tests which should take care of [redacted] to [redacted] people. In the event of an emergency, we would need space that would accommodate at a minimum [redacted] or [redacted] people. I pointed out it was desirable that this space be on a "going basis" - that is - space that would be immediately useable.

[redacted] will advise me the results of this survey no later than tomorrow and we will pursue any possibilities uncovered by him.

In addition, thru liaison we are obtaining a list of all [redacted] in this general vicinity and a list of any [redacted] through [redacted].

These will be examined to see if we can discover any facilities suitable for our use.

Prompt action will be taken with respect to any possible sites that are discovered in this survey and you will be advised.

Reference is made to your memorandum July 15, 1955, reflecting [redacted] located at [redacted] might be suitable and available as a relocation site for the Bureau.

Pursuant to approval, at 5:30 p.m. on July 15, 1955, Resident Agent [redacted] was instructed to contact [redacted] [redacted] on an exploratory and informal basis regarding the use of [redacted] as the Bureau relocation site. It was pointed out to [redacted] that we would need some space immediately over which we would have absolute control. This space would be needed for storage, supplies, files, records and communications equipment<sup>and</sup> so forth, and for the installation of a communications center. It was further pointed out to [redacted] that we would need space to conduct tests as ordered by the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), which space should accommodate [redacted] to [redacted] persons. In the event of a true emergency it was pointed out we would need space for [redacted] or [redacted] persons. I pointed out to [redacted] that no commitments were to be made and this contact would be solely for the purpose of determining the attitude of [redacted].

On July 16, 1955, [redacted] advised telephonically that he had contacted [redacted] and [redacted] had shown a favorable attitude. However, [redacted] indicated that they had no space which they could allocate to the Bureau at present as both are pressed for space, in fact, [redacted] has a building program. They stated, however, that they felt certain arrangements could be made to take over [redacted] in the event of an emergency and that they felt that some satisfactory arrangements could be made for the Bureau to use [redacted] for test purposes particularly if these tests were held [redacted].

(The last test was held on June 15, 16, 17, and according to ODM the next test will be held the same time possibly and maybe a surprise test in addition.) It was pointed out by [redacted]

On July 5, 1955, Mr. Edward Cox, Relocation Officer, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), was telephonically contacted by Liaison representative Walter F. Woods in order to determine whether or not [REDACTED] was considered by ODM a prime target area.

Subsequently, on July 12, 1955, Joseph Musick, also of ODM, was contacted relating to this same problem. According to both Cox and Musick, [REDACTED] is not listed for planning purposes as a prime target along the same lines that they have listed [REDACTED] and other important population centers. According to both Cox and Musick, however, it is thinking in ODM that in view of the fact so much publicity has been given to [REDACTED] the area will be considered a prime target in the event of war.

MR. BOARDMAN
MR. BELMONT
MR. NICHOLS

In discussion with the Attorney General last Tuesday about relocation areas for the Department of Justice and the FBI, I left with the Attorney General the latest copy of the map which has been prepared showing the various relocation centers and some which are under study at the present time. I told the Attorney General that we were endeavoring to locate a suitable relocation center for the entire Department and the FBI and one which would be nearer to where the President may be located, but that to date we had not been able to find such a location but would continue our efforts.

The Attorney General indicated that no further consideration was being given by him to the suggested relocation center at [REDACTED] b7E

The Attorney General indicated that he had received word that there would be another alert test sometime in the Fall, which test will come without warning. I think that we should be thoroughly prepared to meet such a test and have no unnecessary delays in responding to the same and setting up our operations at [REDACTED] b7E. If we are still using [REDACTED] as the relocation center at the time the next alert is sounded. Of course, if some other location has, in the meantime, been selected, we should take prompt steps to have arrangements made so that we might immediately implement the occupation of the same upon the giving of the surprise alert.

Very truly yours,

At 5:30 p.m., 7/13/55, Walter Yeagley of the Department called relative to going to [redacted] to examine the proposed relocation site, at 9 a.m., 7/14/55, and stated he had been examining material in his office and ascertained [redacted] is [redacted]. He stated it was his recollection [redacted] is considered to be a target area and, if so, [redacted], which is [redacted], would also be in the target area. He stated he, therefore, was wondering about the feasibility of considering General Swing's proposed relocation. I asked Yeagley whether he had any positive knowledge that [redacted] was designated as a target area and he stated he did not but that he was going to check further.

I apprised you of the above conversation, at which time you stated it was desirable for Belmont and Nease to go with General Howard to the relocation site, notwithstanding the above information. I so instructed Belmont.

Yeagley again called later and stated he had mentioned his information to the AG and Assistant AG Tompkins, who had stated it might be worthwhile to postpone a trip to [redacted] until a determination was made as to whether the proposed relocation site was in a target area. I told Yeagley that I had mentioned his conversation to you and that I had nevertheless instructed Belmont and Nease to go with General Howard to [redacted] for the purpose of looking over the site, irrespective of the possibility that it might be in a target area. Yeagley stated that since Belmont and Nease were going he might also decide to go. I told Yeagley that I would not presume to recommend that he go or not go, since that was a matter for him to decide. This morning I ascertained that Yeagley plans to go. 35-11-1028-1089

We are making checks relative to [redacted] and the question as to whether the proposed relocation site might be in a target area, and as soon as information is received in this regard you will be advised.

On July 14, 1955, the liaison representative to the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) obtained a list of relocation sites which sets forth the location and facility for the departments and agencies in the Executive Branch of Government. At the specific request of Dr. Arthur Flemming, Director, ODM, this list has not been disseminated beyond the White House and General Services Administration. The list was obtained through General Willard S. Paul, Assistant Director, ODM, after he obtained the approval of Dr. Flemming. ## SYNOPSIS:

Recently local newspapers and press services have carried articles relating to "Operation Alert - 1955." These articles were based on a press release issued by Arthur F. Flemming, Director of Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), and more or less summarized a forthcoming report on the test.

Mr. John Grady, Assistant Director, ODM, who was in charge of planning for the recent test, advised Walter F. Woods, Liaison Section, that the final report concerning the test is in the process of being prepared and that it may be several weeks before it is completed.

The press release pointed out that the test, according to Flemming, was a pilot operation and that its underlying purpose was to uncover as many defects as possible in plans for maintaining the continuity of government and dealing with emergency problems in the event of attack on continental U. S. It pointed out that unlike the military, the civilian agencies generally were unfamiliar with this type of field test but that personnel assigned to the test on the whole did an exceptionally fine job and performed their duties with a real sense of urgency. It was indicated that another test of even greater magnitude will be made of readiness plans in 1956 and that the test will not only be tied in with a Civil Defense test but that it will also be an integral part of a military war-gaming exercise. The press release further indicated that all agencies that participated in the recent exercise will run additional individual tests under ODM guidelines of their own operations at relocation sites sometime during the period between November 15, 1955, and January 15, 1956, but without prior announcement of the exact time of the test. It is presumed, according to Dr. Flemming, that the White House will participate in the individual tests.

Dr. Flemming, in issuing this release advised that "Operation Alert-1955" proved that it is possible to develop operating plans under which essential wartime functions of the Executive Branch of government could be effectively performed at relocation sites. He noted that many sites were temporary and, hence, inadequate for prolonged use, while others, such as colleges, were practical only for short test periods during vacation sessions. He said that some agencies may find it necessary to select new sites. He urged all agencies to develop plans under which small groups of employees would perform regular year-round duties at the relocation sites and at the same time be trained to operate the relocation headquarters until employees from Washington were able to reach them in the event of an attack.

Dr. Flemming, according to the release, said he had received detailed reports from heads of agencies from an inspection group drawn from the Bureau of the Budget and the Civil Service Commission and from a group of ODM executive reservists and consultants and that specific recommendations and conclusions based on these reports included the following:

1. Wartime organization should be perfected and used for future test exercises and planning. Plans for regional coordination should be thoroughly developed.
2. The communications system and training procedures for its use should be strengthened.
3. Locations of relocation sites should be reviewed in terms of interagency relationships under wartime conditions.

Regarding the proposed "surprise" individual test to be staged during November, 1955, and January, 1956, it will be recalled that recently General Willard S. Paul, Assistant Director, ODM, advised Liaison that in all probability it will not be required of the Bureau to conduct such a test. At that time it was pointed out to General Paul that the Bureau had successfully conducted a test in May, 1955, and participated fully with the test in June, 1955, at which time our procedures were tested. He was also advised that the Bureau was in the process of locating a new site for relocation purposes and that in view of this it would probably not be practical for the Bureau to engage in a surprise test.

ACTION:

Liaison will follow closely with ODM and obtain a copy of the Operation Alert report when completed. Liaison will also follow with General Paul and report on developments of the surprise test.

Liaison Agent John Sullivan was advised by [redacted] that a large installation was constructed by [redacted] in [redacted], during the last war. After the war, this installation was turned over to [redacted] and is now utilized as [redacted]. It was suggested that it might be possible to make arrangements with [redacted] to use the property as a relocation center. b7E

At 12:30 p.m. today I called ASAC [redacted] of [redacted] and told him to check on this installation - that is - as to the type of building involved and as to what use it is presently being put so that the Bureau could decide whether it desired to endeavor to secure this space as a relocation site. At 4:30 p.m. ASAC [redacted] advised that [redacted] Resident Agent in [redacted] had checked on this installation. He stated that it consisted of two large modern buildings about [redacted] square feet of space. These two buildings have a total of [redacted] square feet of space. They have one building at present which consists entirely of open space. The other building has a number of offices partitioned off in it and also has some open space along the lines of the [redacted] building in [redacted] which we used during the last war. It was stated that these buildings during the war had a great many more partitions in them making office space available, but these have been taken out by [redacted] so that the buildings could be used for [redacted]. The buildings have very adequate and modern sanitary facilities, lighting, water and so forth. b7E

These two buildings are used very little and the only definite use at the present time is as follows: [redacted]

[redacted]. There has been criticism regarding these two very modern and up-to-date buildings which are left idle during most of the year and [redacted] would undoubtedly be very anxious to make any other use of them. b7E

RECORDED-45 66-17381-1056

According to the Resident Agent, these buildings are very flexible as to their use. There could be facilities constructed in them, such as dining space and so forth if it was desired. However, insofar as living quarters are concerned, [redacted] and there would appear to be ample facilities to absorb the persons who would be relocated. b7E

Although the Office of Defense Mobilization has stated that [redacted] is considered [redacted], I think we should look into this site. We, of course, do not want to relocate in a critical area or a primary target area, but it may be necessary that we obtain a site [redacted]. [redacted] advised that according to the Resident Agent, it will be necessary to talk to [redacted] regarding this. The Director and Manager of the building recently resigned. b7E

If you approve, we will have the Resident Agent on an exploratory and informal basis talk to [redacted] regarding the availability of the site for Department of Justice relocation, in the event we decide that it would be desirable as a relocation site. We will also have the Resident Agent get plans and additional details relating to the Buildings themselves, such as whether there are any removable partitions which are stored away which could be used, exact type of lighting, type of heating and other pertinent factors relating to use of the buildings as a relocation site. b7E

Reference is made to my memorandum of July 15, 1955, reflecting information regarding the possible use of [redacted] as a Bureau relocation site. You will recall that this site consists of two large modern buildings about [redacted]. The buildings have a total of [redacted] sq.ft. of space, chiefly in open show space, but do have some offices. The buildings were built by [redacted] and turned over to [redacted] after the last war and are presently used for only a small portion of the year for [redacted]. The Special Agent in Charge of the [redacted] Office was instructed to make a contact with [redacted] to ascertain on an exploratory basis whether these buildings could be obtained for our use as a relocation site.

On July 19 and 20, 1955, SAC [redacted] reported on the results of contacts with [redacted], who it was determined is actually in charge of this building. [redacted] stated that he could see no objection to making an arrangement for the Bureau to use this space in the event of an emergency or using it for test purposes. He stated, however, that during [redacted] the space is entirely contracted for in advance and that, therefore, there would be no space available to rent to the Bureau on a permanent basis. We, of course, would need about [redacted] sq.ft. of space on a permanent basis for storage, communications facilities and so forth. He stated also that during [redacted] there would be no space for test purposes since all of the space was utilized for [redacted].

Resident Agent [redacted] of the [redacted] Office obtained a chart and pictures of the building which are attached and made a survey of the building. He determined that there is on the second floor above the "East Lobby" approximately [redacted] sq.ft. which would be suitable for the Bureau's use and is apparently not used for [redacted]. An additional contact was made with [redacted] concerning this space and [redacted] stated it might be possible to work out something relative to this space. He stated, however, that it would be necessary that the whole matter be taken up with [redacted].

Attached is a detailed memorandum relating to a survey of facilities which might be available and suitable for the Bureau's relocation site within approximately [redacted]. The [redacted] Office, through the Resident Agencies, made a complete check of the territory and through liaison at the Seat of Government, we checked for United States Government facilities, either military or civilian.

There are no military facilities within a [redacted] area of the size that would permit Bureau relocation. [redacted] which has quarters for approximately 25,000 troops, is about [redacted] and is deactivated and in bad condition. Buildings are of temporary type and it is not suitable. [redacted] has temporary-type space available but is approximately the same distance from [redacted] as is [redacted]; therefore, it presents no advantages.

b7E

As to United States Government civilian facilities, there are two [redacted] Hospitals in the area but they have been previously eliminated as relocation sites due to the fact they would be overcrowded as hospitals in the event of hostilities and location on the facilities by the Bureau would violate Red Cross Convention. Department of the Interior has a large amount of space in the [redacted] but it is cut up and scattered, some of it useable only in the summer. There is a [redacted] owned by the National Bureau of Standards at [redacted] but it has insufficient space.

As to private facilities, the [redacted] at [redacted] would be large enough for our needs, according to the SAC at [redacted] but it has already been tabbed Bureau War Plans - Emergency Headquarters for S.O.C.

Memo Mr. Keay to Mr. Belmont

Re: War Plans - Relocation Site

as an internment point for foreign diplomats. [redacted] does not have sufficient space. [redacted] is large and has excellent facilities but is a very popular hotel and has bookings for a year or two in advance for conventions and meetings. It would not appear practical to endeavor to secure it since we need some space immediately. b7E

A survey of schools reflected the following schools have already been arranged for by other Governmental agencies: According to the Office of Defense Mobilization, [redacted] - Civil Service Commission. [redacted] - various divisions of the Department of Commerce. [redacted] - Government Services Administration. [redacted] - Health, Welfare and Education Department. [redacted] - Labor Department. A number of schools were surveyed and found to be too small or in such a run-down condition as to be unsuitable. [redacted] will be utilized by the military. [redacted] a state teachers college, little over [redacted] from [redacted] has ample space and could be obtained for relocation emergencies. It would be difficult, however, to work tests at the college either during the regular term or during the summer term as it is crowded. There is no space immediately available at the college or in the vicinity of the college. b7E

[redacted] from [redacted] has ample facilities for us (over 600 students now there) and is available although during the school term, use of the college for tests would present some problems. There is on the campus a modern building with about 8,000 square feet and a residence with 3 bedrooms and 2 baths which was built in 1950 by the National Gallery of Art for moving the art treasures for storage in event of bombing. These are unused and have been used very little over past years by the school. According to [redacted] these buildings would be available if arrangements could be made with the National Gallery of Art. Contact with officials of the National Gallery of Art reflects these buildings would probably b7E be available to the Bureau, but would require final approval of the Board of Governors of the National Gallery of Art. According to National Gallery of Art, they deeded these buildings to the college and have a contract whereby they would take them over in the event of emergency. Attitude of National Gallery of Art is that they probably would not use these buildings even in the event of emergency because they could not get their paintings to [redacted]. Full details of survey of facilities are contained in the attached memorandum.

The use of [redacted] for actual evacuation and the acquiring of the use of the building built by the National Gallery of Art would provide us with excellent relocation facilities. Even if we could secure the buildings from the National Gallery of Art only for use until actual emergency occurred, this would be satisfactory inasmuch as at that time we would have the entire college facilities available to us. The indications are as noted above, that the buildings would not be used by the National Gallery of Art even in a real emergency. There are ample facilities for absorbing, if necessary for test purposes, the persons who would proceed to [redacted] as [redacted] is a town of about 50,000 and has excellent hotels. b7E

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that we not pursue this matter [redacted] further at this time. It can be considered at a future time in the event the President does move to [redacted] and it appeared desirable for the Bureau to secure a site in that area.

I agree. ✓

A survey has been made of facilities which might be available and suitable for the Bureau's relocation within approximately [redacted] by the [redacted] Office. Also, we have made a check through liaison here in Washington relating to any U. S. Government facilities in that area, either military or civilian. A [redacted] from [redacted] would include a small portion of [redacted] however, no inquiry has been made in [redacted] since actually this area is over [redacted] from [redacted] by road due to the nature of the mountain highways. The results of this survey are as follows:

b7E

Military Facilities in the Area

There are actually no military facilities within a [redacted] distance of [redacted] that are of a size that would make it possible for the Bureau to secure relocation space. There is a radar station at [redacted] which is part of the defenses of the City of Washington, but there is only personnel of about 200 taking care of this installation. Outside of the [redacted] range there is [redacted] which has quarters for about 25,000 troops which is approximately [redacted] from [redacted]. There is ample space available at [redacted] but it is now on a "stand-by basis." SAC [redacted] of [redacted] however, advised that a survey of [redacted] reflected that all buildings are of wood and frame construction and there are no permanent-type buildings. The place has grown up in weeds, the buildings need paint and repair and there is no furniture of any kind on the base. This is a typical temporary-type [redacted] in a bad state of repair at the present time. There is a railroad spur to [redacted]; there is an airfield with four runways and black top roads throughout [redacted]. It would not appear that [redacted] would be suitable for a relocation site even though it was in good condition and activated since it is lacking the type of space we need.

b7E

There is another [redacted] which is activated, but which has about 40,000 sq. ft. of vacant administrative space at [redacted]. The housing there also consists of temporary-type wood/buildings. [redacted] however, is approximately [redacted] from [redacted] and it would be necessary to go thru [redacted] to get to [redacted] and from a distance [redacted] is considered undesirable and no further inquiries are being made concerning it. It should be noted that it is about the same distance from [redacted] as the [redacted] which is only approximately [redacted] from [redacted]

U. S. Government Civilian Sites

The General Services Administration survey on Government-owned property was reviewed by liaison for possible relocation sites in the [redacted] area. This survey revealed two [redacted] hospitals at [redacted] and [redacted]. [redacted] hospitals have previously been ruled out as possible relocation sites. The remaining civilian Government-owned property in the [redacted] area is under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior. This includes land in the form of [redacted] at [redacted] and [redacted]. The Department of the Interior property does not offer adequate office or housing facilities for relocation purposes. The only additional Government-owned civilian property within the pertinent area is a [redacted] owned by the National Bureau of Standards at [redacted]. This contains 27,000 sq. ft. of building space, only a small portion of which is office-type. b7E

Inquiries were made by liaison with the Department of the Interior concerning the [redacted] with headquarters at [redacted]. The GSA survey listed 199,000 sq. ft. of office space, housing and storage area. However, it has been determined from the Department of the Interior that only 12,000 sq. ft. is suitable for office space and is presently in use. This is the Department of the Interior Administration Building at [redacted]. It was pointed out that there are commercial hotels at [redacted] and [redacted] which are located within the [redacted]. However, these points are widely separated by [redacted] or more miles and, in most instances, are not equipped for year-round living. At best, it was pointed out that these hotels could accommodate a total of approximately 200 people. The [redacted] is therefore ruled out as offering inadequate and unsuitable space.

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

Private Facilities

According to SAC [ ] the [ ] at [ ] would be ample for our needs, but discreet inquiry has revealed that it is already committed for use in interning foreign diplomats in the event of war. No further inquiry is being made regarding this hotel in view of this.

The [ ] Office also made inquiries relating to the [ ] which is another resort-type hotel owned by the State of [ ]. This hotel will accommodate only about 250 to 300 persons. There is some space immediately available in the basement of a display building 200 yards from the hotel. This space amounts to about 10,000 sq.ft. According to SAC [ ], there would be no possibility of this space being adequate for the Bureau if it was desired that it ultimately take care of 500 or 600 people. This hotel is located in the mountains approximately [ ] from [ ]. SAC [ ] also advised that the [ ], a very fine hotel in [ ], [ ] could probably take care of 1,000 persons. It is a commercial-type hotel which is very popular and is booked up for a year or two in advance for conventions and so forth. [ ] is approximately [ ] from [ ]. It would obviously be impossible to secure any present space in this hotel for storage and so forth or to arrange for tests at the hotel even though we might be able to arrange for taking over the hotel in the event of an emergency. It does not present a good prospect for a relocation site at this time.

b7E

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

School Facilities

The following schools are already being utilized by Governmental agencies according to the Office of Defense Mobilization: [redacted] by the Civil Service Commission. [redacted] by a group of the divisions of the Department of Commerce. [redacted] Government Services Administration. [redacted] Health, Welfare and Education Department. [redacted] by Labor Department.

b7E

SAC [redacted] advised that the following schools were surveyed and found to be too small for Bureau relocation site or in such a run-down condition as to be unsuitable: [redacted]

[redacted] which would be adequate, due to the fact it is a military college would be in complete use by the military in the event of war according to college authorities.

[redacted] is a state teachers college with slightly over a thousand students. According to SAC [redacted], the college is crowded and there is no space available at the college for storage at present. Also, the college has a summer term and probably is not available for tests except for a period of a week or two at a time during the summer. The survey of the vicinity reflected that there is no available space which could be obtained for purposes of immediate occupancy and storage such as the Bureau desires. [redacted] is a small town. [redacted] also has a disadvantage of being [redacted] from [redacted].

A check was made also at the Seat of Government as to facilities of [redacted] and [redacted]. Both of these schools have accommodations for between 200 and 300 students and, therefore, would be insufficient for our purposes inasmuch as we need space for [redacted].

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

[redacted] is located at [redacted] which is approximately [redacted] from [redacted]. [redacted] is a community of about 50,000 people. This school, according to SAC [redacted], appears to be suitable and adequate for the purpose desired. According to [redacted], discreet inquiries reflected that the school could be made available for use for the Bureau during an emergency and would be available for tests definitely during the summer since there is no summer term for the school. Whether it would be available for short tests during the school year was not definitely determined. The college has 10 buildings. There is a main administrative building with 5 or 6 offices and several classrooms and with a dining room and kitchen. There is dormitory space in this building for 200 students. In addition, there are 4 dormitory buildings for students which have dormitory space for 100-125 students each. All of these buildings have dining facilities in them. There is a music building with a small auditorium seating 225 persons, with 10 small rooms each containing a piano. There is an auditorium building seating about 1,200 people and a banquet hall in the basement seating about 400 people. There is a gymnasium building with a swimming pool and a full sized basketball court and other gymnasium facilities. There is a 20 bed infirmary. There is a classroom building called the science, English and psychology building. There is a total of 32 classrooms in this building and the administration building noted above. There are 10 relatively small sorority houses in addition to the other school buildings. b7E

The school has central heating. All buildings are red brick. There is a switchboard with 90 extensions and 15 in-and-out trunk lines.

The school is in excellent condition according to SAC [redacted]. The president of the school has been very cooperative in the past. His name is [redacted]. A separate memorandum is being prepared as to what out. files show regarding him.

[redacted] also advised there is on the campus of [redacted] a good sized building built by the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C. There is also a good b7E sized cottage on the campus built by the Gallery of Art as a curator's cottage. According to [redacted], these buildings were built several years ago with a view to moving the art treasures from the National Gallery of Art in the event of a bombing of Washington. [redacted] pointed out that these buildings are presently unused and have received very little use over the years by the school. He stated that their discreet inquiry reflected that they would be available to the Bureau providing arrangements could be made with the National Gallery of Art who is to occupy them in the event of a bombing.

These are modern brick buildings. The large building is built along the lines of a museum and has some small offices in it. The cottage has three bedrooms and a bath upstairs and a living room, dining room, kitchen and bath downstairs.

b7E

MacGill James, Assistant Director, National Gallery of Art, advised Liaison on July 19, 1955, that the Gallery had put a quarter of a million dollars into two buildings, a museum and 3-bedroom cottage at [redacted]. He stated that the museum, which is fireproof, has its own auxilliary heating system and a brick concrete block construction containing approximately 7,700 square feet of space. This building has 3 small offices, a large storage area and an exhibition area. He pointed out that the house contains 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, is of brick construction and is a 2-story building. According to James, the Art Gallery has ceded title of these buildings to the college. This was done by agreement of March 16, 1951, on condition that the Gallery could take over both buildings in the event of an emergency. James stated that the Art Gallery would be very happy to be of assistance to the Bureau should it desire to utilize these buildings; however, final approval would have to come from the Board of Governors. In addition, James pointed out that the Bureau would have to obtain an acceptance from the board of trustees of [redacted] since title to the property is in their hands. In this regard, James suggested that the Bureau contact [redacted] Chairman, Board of Trustees, and also President of [redacted] Trust and Saving Company.

SAC [redacted] advised that the only commercial facilities in [redacted] which were determined to be available based on a quick and discreet check were as follows: The [redacted] in [redacted] has 2,000 or 3,000 square feet of space above it which would be available immediately. Also the theater, which is not profitable, can be obtained and the owner of the building will convert the space for lease purposes.

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

A friend of one of the Resident Agents is planning on erecting a skating rink, a brick type building, in the immediate future in [ ] for investment purposes. This friend would be willing to add a floor or two of office space for rental purposes if the Bureau would take a lease on it. b7E

It should be noted that [ ] is approximately [ ] from [ ] from [ ] and approximately [ ] from [ ]

During Operation Alert 1955 the peak volumes of telephone traffic definitely showed that our simple switchboard at [redacted] would not be adequate in a real emergency. The fault of the present board is that the trunk lines and extensions make only one appearance each on the board.

We have requested [redacted] of the [redacted] Telephone Company of [redacted] to correct this inadequacy by arranging to have the trunks and extensions appear twice each on the board, that is, each of the two operators would have access to any line or trunk without reaching across and in front of the other operator.

b7E

[redacted] first indicated he could rewire the present board to meet our needs for approximately $600. He has now informed us that after further checking into the matter that it is mechanically impossible to rewire the present board as we requested; that he will have to purchase a new board to meet our needs at a cost of $7200. to $7500. We have a five-year contract with [redacted] company for the present board. In order to obtain the board we need, it would be necessary to pay off our present contract with his company at a cost of approximately $2000., and enter into a new five-year contract with him for the new board. The new contract would increase our monthly switchboard rental from the present $60. to $120. or $125.

You will recall that I advised you by memorandum of June 30 last that the space in our teletype room at [ ] is inadequate and recommended that we exchange our teletype and telephone switchboard equipment there to correct this deficiency. This recommendation was approved.

Reference is also made to Mr. Millen's memorandum to Mr. Parsons dated June 8 last recommending that we have the eleven trunk jacks on the [ ] board made multiple in order that we will be able to record the emergency modified telephone code - a peculiarity of this code requires that it be recorded.

We delayed effecting these recommendations pending advise from the [ ] Telephone Company of [ ] as to whether the extensions as well as the trunk jacks on the present board could be multiplied and if not what the cost of replacing the board would be. In my memorandum of July 13 last, I advised that the present board could not be completely multiplied, that the cost of the new board is prohibitive, especially in view of the Bureau's attempts to secure a new relocation site, and recommended that we not change the board. You instructed "We should see what happens re new relocation site - then decide." the Director concurred.

In view of the fact that when a new relocation site is selected, it will take some time to equip it for operation, and in order that we will be fully prepared for an emergency in the meanwhile, we have told [ ] to have the local telephone company move the board and the teletype equipment to provide sufficient operating space for the teletypes and to have the trunk lines on the board multiplied so we can record the telephone code.

Subsequent to Operation Alert 1955 (June 15, 16, and 17, 1955) the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) issued press releases concerning the results of this test. In their releases Dr. Flemming, Director of ODM, indicated that due to the publicity received concerning the Government's test most of the general public were aware that the Government would relocate in times of emergency as well as periodically relocating during test exercises. ODM also indicated that some of the Government agencies that were relocating were using colleges at the present time for their relocation sites. Based upon this new information as released by ODM it is considered feasible to recontact [redacted]. By virtue of [redacted] knowledge of the Government's general plans, as he has no doubt read in the newspapers, he may be more inclined to grant the Bureau space at this time so that we could establish ourselves at [redacted] and use it for any test relocation as well as during an actual emergency. In the event that [redacted] receives this suggestion favorably, the State Board of Education for the State of [redacted] having final jurisdiction over [redacted] could be contacted for a firm commitment.

You will recall that arrangements were made several years ago by former Assistant Director Glavin with [redacted] to the effect that [redacted] could be used by the Bureau for its relocation headquarters. Prior to Operation Alert 1955 [redacted] advised that [redacted] could not be used by the Bureau on any test relocation exercises, but did confirm the original agreement whereby the Bureau could use this site under real emergency conditions. [redacted] is approximately [redacted] from [redacted] and approximately [redacted] from [redacted].

So that we may have a definite decision regarding the Bureau's future use of [redacted] particularly, in view of recent publicity concerning colleges as made by ODM, it is proposed

As set forth in the attached memorandum from you to Mr. Boardman dated July 15, 1955, and as approved by the Director, I contacted [REDACTED], on July 19, 1955. After discussion with [REDACTED] in considerable detail, he advised that the college would be made available to the Bureau so that we may run practice relocation tests on the campus. This would permit bringing onto the campus as high as 200 people, including both Bureau and Justice personnel to run necessary tests for short periods of time as was done during the June, 1955, test. [REDACTED] pertinent comments are as follows.

[REDACTED] stated he would be able to accommodate test operations with little or no difficulty during the months of June, July, and August. Although the school is in operation during these months, enrollment drops down to approximately 50 or 60 students. During the period September through the first week of June he could handle the test operation but it would be difficult, particularly insofar as housing is concerned although he felt it quite feasible to make available space for a period of two or three days, both as it regards office space, feeding, and some rooming accommodations. He was of the opinion that if there were inadequate rooms in the men's and women's dormitories during the winter session, there were ample facilities in private homes in [REDACTED] or at the [REDACTED].

The college would turn over to the Bureau such room as is necessary for office space in the new physical education building (There is ample space there). With reference to costs [REDACTED] stated that the college would only be interested in being reimbursed for actual costs involved, i.e., costs of food, janitor service, utility charges, etc. With reference to storage space that the Bureau would need for the storage of desks, filing cabinets, and office equipment generally, [REDACTED] stated that we could, of course, continue to use the storage space we have and that he may be able to find additional storage space for desks and furniture in the gymnasium building. This would have to be further explored. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] stated that he felt that arrangements could be worked out and suggested that in his presence we confidentially discuss the matter with [REDACTED] (State Board of Education Member [REDACTED]), an attorney in [REDACTED]. This was done and [REDACTED] concurred with [REDACTED] that the entire matter was feasible and he felt it should be done. [ ] was of the opinion that there was no need to bring the matter to the attention of the full [ ] State Board of Education but that [ ] should, or the Bureau could if it desired, confidentially advise the members individually. [ ] defers to the Bureau's desires in this matter.

b7E

To choose the college as our relocation site would, of course, entail the establishment of necessary communications, including teletype, telephone, radio, and microwave facilities. Although [ ] did not specifically state that radio antennas, etc., could not now be constructed on the grounds, he intimated that it may be best to have these on an off-campus site as we had done before with our microwave tower, although he has no objection to running the necessary internal wiring throughout the college, and particularly in the buildings that the Bureau would occupy as office space during test alerts.

It is to be noted that [ ] is a very considerate individual, has great praise for the Bureau, and is willing and anxious to do what he can to be of assistance.

ACTION:

hawk The writer contacted Mr. Robert Peck, Assistant Director for Administrative Services of the International Cooperation Administration (ICA), on July 15, 1955. Mr. Peck is in charge of the relocation site for ICA. The ICA site is located at [redacted] near [redacted]. Mr. Peck stated that [redacted] was personally acquainted with the President of this College which facilitated their contact there. After contacting school officials, a letter of understanding was signed permitting the use of the school facilities during emergency periods. The letter of understanding made no reference to the use of these facilities during tests.

ICA needed facilities for approximately 1,200 people. ICA ran a test of their own of these facilities in May, 1955, but since the school term had not ended they were unable to use the school facilities and had to rent office space in downtown [redacted]. During the June, 1955, test, they used the school facilities where they set up offices in the gymnasium. ICA paid $125 for the use of the gymnasium and $75 for utilities during the June test. A purchase order was issued to the College for this payment plus $1.50 per person for lodging each night and $1.25 per person for each meal served. Mr. Peck pointed out that this total charge came to considerably less than if full per diem had been paid to each employee.

DEPARTMENT RELOCATION SITE

~~Downgrade to Secret~~

Following your conference on July 13, 1955, representatives of this Bureau accompanied General Howard of Immigration and Naturalization Service and Mr. Walter Yeagley of the Internal Security Division to the [redacted] [redacted] on July 14, 1955, for the purpose of looking at space which was indicated as suitable for the Department relocation site.

From the examination of [redacted] it appears transportation facilities would be adequate. While communications facilities are not presently adequate, it appears they could be established. Inasmuch as this is an [redacted] it appears that security factors would be adequate. The location of [redacted] from [redacted] would be adequate, independent, of course, on the stability of current plans of other government agencies for which you may desire to relocate.

b7E

Bearing in mind the necessary cost to establish appropriate communications and to set up relocation quarters that would serve the Department on a permanent basis, there are several factors connected with [redacted] which I feel I should mention to you.

The space in question consists of approximately 30,000 square feet in a two-story, World War I brick building, formerly used as [redacted] 22,000 square feet being on the second floor and 11,000 square feet on the first floor now occupied by [redacted]. The other half of the first floor is occupied by [redacted]. The building is attached to the end of one of the warehouses containing supplies and shops. The second floor is reached by two wooden stairways, one at each end of the building. The interior of the building is wooden construction.

Walter Yeagley of the Department telephonically advised that at Tompkins instructions he had talked to Ralph Stoll of the Department of Defense concerning possible relocation sites for the Department. Stoll's office told Yeagley that the information they had had been furnished to Liaison Agent John Sullivan of the Bureau. Yeagley was informed it was assumed that the Department did not want duplicate information. Yeagley called in order to confirm that we had obtained the information and that we were running down any leads based on it.

Yeagley was informed that we did obtain the information Defense had, consisting chiefly of a list of defense establishments in the area being considered for relocation. Yeagley was also advised that we were utilizing the material in our own survey for a relocation site.

Yeagley mentioned that he personally did not think that a military establishment would be very desirable for relocation. He pointed out that in the event of war it would be most likely that there would be many restrictions laid down by the military as to the use of their establishment and it would be possible that we might be "pushed off" the military reservation. Yeagley stated that would be particularly true in the event of martial law. Yeagley asked if the Bureau had considered colleges at [redacted] and at [redacted].

I said we had along with many other sites. I pointed out to him that the Department should be advised in the event we were successful in locating a site.

Yeagley mentioned that consideration was given by the Department to facilities belonging to the Bureau of Prisons and the Immigration and Naturalization Service but none of them appeared to be suitable. He stated that some thought had been given to the [redacted] in the event the Congress should go to [redacted]. He stated, however, this site did not appear to be desirable.

On July 20, 1955, [redacted], Security Officer, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), advised Walter F. Woods, Liaison Section, that the long range plans of ODM for test evacuation indicate that general tests will be held during the Summer months. It is noted that the initial test (Operation Alert 1955) was held in June and the next scheduled general test is set for June, 1956. [redacted] advised that in planning for the general test it was realized that several agencies contemplated relocating in colleges or universities and for this reason it would not be practical to hold a test during a school year. From information previously furnished the Bureau, it is noted that 21 agencies of approximately 49 scheduled to relocate have college facilities for relocation sites.

Subsequent to discussing this matter with [redacted] the Liaison Representative in talking to General Willard St. Paul, Assistant Director, ODM, was advised by Paul that it was planned to schedule tests during the Summer months for the same reasons indicated above, however, he informed Woods that several agencies are seeking new relocation sites and he could give no assurance that tests after June, 1956, would be scheduled during the Summer months. He informed Woods that their plans for surprise tests are scheduled for other than the Summer period, but that it was not anticipated that agencies would evacuate a full complement of personnel during a surprise test.

Liaison is following closely with ODM to report promptly on alert planning developments.

While contacting [redacted] on July 28, 1955, in connection with another matter, I gave $100 cash to [redacted] from the confidential fund of WFO, as authorized in Bulet of July 1, 1955. I explained to [redacted] that this money was being given to him by the Bureau as a means of showing our appreciation for his splendid cooperation and particularly for his personal efforts beyond those of his official capacity, as well as a means to reimburse him for any material expense to which he may have been put.

[redacted] was most appreciative and stated he was only too happy to be able to be of some assistance to the Bureau and that he would do his utmost to continue to render whatever aid he could to the FBI.

[redacted] exhibited to me the Director's letter to him of July 20, 1955, and he commented that he was very much honored by Mr. HOOVER'S communication. He said he had planned on writing a note to express his gratitude to the Director but asked if I would convey his thanks for the Director's thoughtfulness. I told him I would do this.

In connection with the study being made of Soviet War Plan "A" involving attack with no strategic warning, the IIC and the ICIS were given the problem of sabotage of communications and power facilities serving the Continental Air Defense and Strategic Air Command bases and their tie-ins with key Governmental control centers. Sabotage of such communications would be calculated to impede U.S. defense and the initiation of U. S. nuclear attack the USSR.

The military agencies of the IIC have completed a survey of sabotage of the military communications concerned and are preparing a documented report. The ICIS agencies and the Office of Defense Mobilization have been studying the governmental control centers and their relocation sites. The Office of Defense Mobilization has designated as key Government control centers for the purposes of this problem [redacted] agencies of the IIC have not studied possible sabotage of the FBI relocation site according to assurances given by Mr. Leonard Bienvenu, Executive Secretary of ICIS. Bienvenu was told by Supervisor [redacted] that any study of FBI vulnerability would be made by the FBI and not by any other agency.

The military agencies of IIC have considered [redacted]

OBSERVATION:

The current FBI relocation site [redacted] cannot be considered as the FBI relocation site for 1958 since the Director has instructed that another site be obtained.

William Foley, Internal Security Division of the Department, stated that temporarily the Internal Security Division is handling the Department's war plans, but no final decision has been made, as yet, as to who will have final responsibility. Foley stated they have ☐ people now listed for evacuation and about ☐ of these participated at any one time during the recent test. He pointed out, however, that there is a great deal of dispute in the Department as to "essential functions" and it is not at all certain as to who will be finally listed for evacuation. He stated that probably the number would run around ☐ although it might go somewhat higher and in the future in any of our tests if the final number is around ☐ ☐ people would be relocated during the tests.

b7E

We will necessarily have to use the above figures furnished by Foley even though tentative in connection with our location of a new evacuation site. For this purpose, we will use the figures ☐ for full evacuation and ☐ for test purposes.

SYNOPSIS:

By memorandum 7/18/55 from Mr. Keay to Mr. Belmont, it was pointed out that [redacted] Resident Agent at [redacted] had checked at [redacted] and determined that college officials favorably considered the Bureau's use of their facilities as a relocation headquarters. Agent [redacted] also determined that a vacant factory existed in [redacted] which could be leased or purchased in whole or in part. [redacted] is [redacted].

[redacted]. In [redacted] is a vacant factory containing over 169,000 square feet of factory floor space. On factory grounds is a large sheet steel warehouse containing approximately 20,000 square feet of space. In addition, there is the old factory office building containing approximately 8,300 square feet of floor space plus a partially completed basement. General Services Administration (GSA) requested by Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) to locate 40,000 square feet of storage space so that FCDA can store supplies and medical equipment. GSA interested in space at this factory. Factory representative offered space to GSA at a yearly rental of 55¢ per square foot. GSA not interested in office building. Office building contains 11 partitioned offices on the first floor and the same on the second floor. There are two 15 by 18 foot fireproof vaults on the first floor and the other on the second floor. Buildings approximately 60 years old but in excellent condition. Central heating system for all factory space through one large boiler. [redacted] and [redacted] adjacent to each other located approximately one-half mile from factory. [redacted] has 375 students and [redacted] has 300 students, both exclusive girls' schools. Both schools have auditoriums, gymnasiums, residence dormitories, infirmaries, lounges, classrooms, kitchens, and dining halls capable of handling all students and faculty. Both schools receptive to Bureau using their facilities as a relocation site during an actual emergency. Both schools also receptive to Bureau using their space during test exercises providing Bureau can assure them of financial remuneration plus a guarantee that students will not be asked to leave and that no conferences scheduled to be held at the school be "thrown out." Both schools insist upon a positive written contract which should be considered satisfactory to them as well as to the Government. [redacted] of [redacted] is the [redacted] which is a major storage depot for ammunition including guided missiles. On [redacted] grounds there is sufficient space for a Bureau relocation site. However, the site area would be completely surrounded by storage warehouses and tunnels containing all of the ammunition, and consequently the area is not considered as a favorable relocation spot for the Bureau. See details for additional facts, backgrounds, space, and so forth, concerning [redacted] and both schools.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That no further consideration be given to the [redacted] by virtue of it being [redacted]

(2) That the final decision concerning the acquisition of space in the [redacted] as well as entering into a final agreement with the two schools be held in abeyance pending the final determination by the Bureau as to whether it will use [redacted] at [redacted], as its permanent relocation site.

b7E

DETAILS:

By memorandum dated 7/18/55, from Mr. Keay to Mr. Belmont, it was pointed out that [redacted] and [redacted] located at [redacted], had been surveyed by [redacted], Resident Agent at [redacted]. [redacted] had stated that the college officials were receptive to considering making space available to the Bureau for a relocation site. [redacted] further stated that a vacant factory was located in [redacted] and that space therein might be made available to the Bureau. In light of that information, Supervisor Fipp, at the Seat of Government, proceeded to [redacted] on 7/19/55 to make an on-the-spot detail survey, accompanied by Resident Agent [redacted]. [redacted] is a city of approximately 18,000 people located [redacted]. [redacted] is also approximately [redacted]

Located in the northern section of the city of [redacted] is a factory known as the [redacted]. It is completely idle and contains no machine equipment in it. This factory, until 6 months ago, was rented by [redacted] and used for storage purposes.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

All buildings with one exception are about 60 years old but appear to be in a state of good repair. The factory buildings are primarily red brick and cement block. Within the confines of the chain-link fence there is a sheet metal storage warehouse, 80 by 260 feet (20,800 square feet). This warehouse is empty at the present time. It has a 26 foot ceiling, no partitions but contains a concrete floor, lights and water. Immediately inside the entrance gate is an old cement block office building, 2 stories high, which is 60 by 72 feet in dimensions. This building contains 8,640 square feet of floor space plus a partially completed basement. The office building is completely partitioned into offices and has, in addition thereto, two fireproof storage vaults, each 15 by 18 feet in size. One vault is located on the first floor and the other on the second floor. Each floor contains 11 offices already partitioned, plus a one-position switchboard and an autocal (intercommunication system) connecting the various offices and other suboffices in the various factory buildings. All the floors are wood but most of them are covered with a heavy linoleum. There is no elevator in the office building but there is a large wooden staircase leading to the second floor. The rooms have 12 foot ceilings. Approximately half of the basement has a cement floor and the other half has a dirt floor. Exclusive of the washrooms in the basement, the space is used for storage. The lavatory facilities are located in the basement and on the second floor. All factory buildings, as well as the office building, are heated by a central boiler system. All factory space has an added sprinkler system installed for fire protection. There is no sprinkler system in the office building.

It has been determined that the General Services Administration (GSA) has been in search of storage space for the Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA). The Bureau ascertained that they had just discovered this factory and had surveyed it. GSA had offered to them as much space as they needed at a yearly rental of 55¢ per square foot of floor space. GSA apparently is desirous of securing 40,000 square feet. The entire factory floor space, including storage, is estimated at 169,792 square feet. It was further determined that the buildings immediately behind the office building and the sheet metal warehouse mentioned above were the buildings being considered by GSA. GSA, at the present time, is preparing a report of their findings and will present it in the near future to FCDA officials for the purpose of determining whether FCDA is willing to accept this space. FCDA intends to use this storage space for the maintenance of supplies, medicines, etc. Attached find a blueprint of the [REDACTED].

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

[redacted]

Approximately [redacted] of the [redacted] is [redacted], an exclusive girls' school. [redacted] President of [redacted] discussed with the Resident Agent at [redacted] and Agent Fipp the possibilities of the Bureau using [redacted] as their relocation site. [redacted] was very receptive to the idea stating he and the Board of Trustees were desirous of serving the Director, the FBI and the Attorney General in any way possible. [redacted] pointed out that there were many problems entering his mind concerning making the college available during periods of test exercises, as well as during an actual emergency. With particular reference to test exercises he stated it would have to be definitely understood that the students would not be asked to leave the college for a two or three day period, and consequently housing accommodations would not be available. He did state, however, that it might be possible to feed the Bureau's personnel in their dining hall, inasmuch as they had a seating capacity of 485, whereas they only have 375 students. He, of course, pointed out that the school, even though willing to cooperate, would have to have an understanding as to the financial compensation by the Bureau for the use of their facilities, food, etc. In the event of an actual emergency he stated, of course, the Bureau could undoubtedly secure permission from the Board of Trustees to take over the operation and use of their entire campus providing, of course, the students at the school at the time of the emergency were provided for until called for by their parents. All buildings on the campus are kept in an excellent condition. b7E [redacted] is the newest building on the campus which [redacted] thought would be the most suitable for the Bureau. [redacted] has a large ultra-modern auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,000. At the end of the auditorium is a raised stage, back of which contains all of the most modern equipment for this type of operation. In back of the stage are all of the power lines coming in which would be a suitable place for the Bureau to bring in its cables and wires for radio and other communications. The auditorium floor space measures 105 feet by 50. This large room has 2 ceiling to floor accordion-type doors that separate the auditorium into 3 separate rooms, each measuring 35 feet by 50 feet. Immediately adjacent to this auditorium is large, extremely well lighted hallway, 15 feet and 105 feet long. At the front entrance of the auditorium is a large lounge, approximately 25 by 50 feet.

The gymnasium is an old well kept basketball court measuring 48 feet by 75 feet. At the end of the basketball court is a raised stage. Underneath the basketball court is an indoor swimming pool.

[redacted] a stone building, is 4 stories high and contains faculty offices and classrooms. Most of the rooms were locked but [redacted] determined that the building contained over 300,000 cubic feet of space. Other buildings on the campus consisted of [redacted], which is a 3-story classroom building and chapel. This building contains 325,000 cubic feet of space. Science Hall and [redacted] Building are both rather small buildings, the former containing 92,000 cubic feet of space and the latter 118,000 cubic feet of space. [redacted] has 200,000 cubic feet of space in which are offices, reading rooms and a gallery.

In addition to the space mentioned above, there are 5 dormitories capable of sleeping 409 people. These buildings are all stone and brick construction and known as [redacted] and [redacted].

The campus buildings are heated through a central steam heat system and municipal electric and gas utilities are being used. There is no emergency power on the campus. Also on the grounds is a building called [redacted] which contains 7 faculty apartments. Attached for your information is a [redacted] "Bulletin" containing descriptive data of the school.

b7E

Immediately adjacent to [redacted] is another small exclusive girls' school known as [redacted]. No person was available at the time Agent Fipp was there, however, the Resident Agent furnished the Bureau a bulletin concerning the general descriptive data of the school. (This bulletin is attached for your information.) This school has on its campus 5 buildings. One of these 5 is nothing but a large red brick stable for riding horses. In the center of the campus is the main building, 3½ stories high and all red brick construction. This building is in the shape of a [redacted]. The front of the building is approximately 150 feet wide and the wings are about 200 feet long. In this building are dormitory reception rooms, lounges, a solarium, the dining room and kitchen, as well as storage. There are also a [redacted] in the basement of the building. The dormitory part of the building is arranged in suites of 2 rooms with a bath between containing water, shower, bath and lavatory facilities. Adjacent to the main building is the Arts Building built in the form of an [redacted]. The building is about 125 feet across the front and 115 feet deep. There are various departments of art in the building, plus 36 dormitory rooms, a conservatory of music with several studios for private lessons, 14 practice rooms, a 2-manual Moller type organ, classrooms and auditorium, and a club room. There are also speech and drama, lecture rooms, as well as a drama studio. In addition there are 2 large laboratories for the use of classes in Foods and Clothing.

Behind the main building is a small red brick two-story building approximately 15 by 50 feet in dimensions housing an infirmary ward, private rooms, a diet kitchen, dispensary, isolation wards and nurses' quarters.

The Resident Agent advised that he spoke with [redacted] President of the [redacted] and that she expressed a desire to cooperate with the Bureau and the Department, but voiced many of the same questions as did [redacted] of [redacted]. Both Presidents appeared to be very receptive to the use of their colleges by the Bureau and the Department but stated that they would, of necessity, have to have a written contractual agreement in advance of any actual participation by the Government.

[redacted] which handles 375 students, and [redacted] with an enrollment of approximately 300 students would afford more than ample space for housing all of the Bureau and Department personnel as to work space, sleeping accommodations and eating, in the event the two schools were completely taken over during an actual emergency.

A check of the Bureau's records failed to reflect any derogatory information concerning either of the 2 college Presidents.

OBSERVATIONS:

b7E

The available space at the [redacted] and at the 2 colleges should be jointly considered along with other relocation sites but held in abeyance pending a final determination of the possibility of the Bureau relocating at [redacted]. In the event these colleges are favorably recommended, it would be necessary for the appropriate Bureau officials to contact the Presidents of these 2 schools and meet with the Board of Trustees so that a written agreement could be entered into.

[redacted]

Incidental to the above-mentioned survey, it was ascertained that [redacted] of [redacted], was the [redacted]. Accordingly, Supervisor Fipp and Agent [redacted] made a spot check of [redacted] and determined that it contains over 20,000 acres of land. Virtually all of the buildings have been built since

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

Pearl Harbor and, accordingly, all of them appear to be in excellent condition. This [redacted] is a huge storage center for ammunition, including all sizes up to and including [redacted]

[redacted], Chief of the Civilian Guard Force at [redacted], stated that [redacted]

[redacted]. In addition to being a large ammunition depot, it is a storage, maintenance and repair depot for military vehicles and tanks. [redacted] stated that one of their comparatively new warehouses (warehouse #4) was to be converted into office facilities. Warehouse #4 is a red tile, one-story building, 200 by 500 feet (100,000 square feet of floor space), located in the heart of the reservation. This building has ample light, power, water and lavatory facilities. To use a portion of this building, it would be necessary to erect partitions, put in windows and make other necessary alterations to suit the Bureau's needs. The building is adjacent to a [redacted]

[redacted]. This base has two sources of power, namely the [redacted] Power Company and the [redacted] Power Company. In addition, the base has its own emergency facilities which are considered ample to carry the important functions of the entire base. There is no air strip on the base. This warehouse, located in the middle of the base, does not appear to fit the Bureau's needs unless considerable construction was made. In addition, by virtue of the base being a large ammunition supply center, it could be considered a vulnerable location.

We have been able to secure from [ ] of the Telephone Company an estimate to provide for adequate communication facilities at [ ]. It was understood that the figures are not accurate, in fact it would take the Telephone Company a week or ten days to compile an accurate figure. However, this figure is a fairly good one according to [ ]. The following is a breakdown:

A 3-position multiple dial switchboard with 80 extensions at a monthly recurring cost of $1,794.00 and a $590.00 installation charge. If a multiple manual switchboard were used, the cost would be $1,661.00 per month plus an installation charge of $500.00. This would be inadequate for our purposes and experience has demonstrated there is a tremendous savings whenever a dial system is utilized which also provides for intercommunicating between the exchanges.

10 Teletype machines (TWX, Model 19, 60 words per minute) with two typing reperforators which can be associated with any of the machines by the jack and plug arrangement. Cost $400.00 per month plus $500.00 installation charge.

10 2-way foreign exchange trunks to [ ] and 10 long distance trunks to [ ]. This will involve a construction cost of between $15,000 and $20,000. The monthly cost is included under teletype and switchboard.

[ ] tells me that a part of this construction cost might be waived and the possibility exists that all of it might be waived. However, he could not say until the matter is gone into.

This would make an annual charge of $25,328 for recurring costs plus $1,090.00 non-recurring costs, plus the cost of construction between $15,000 to $20,000.

Since [ ] is handled by a private company, [ ] cannot guarantee when the installations could be made. However, he feels that [ ] could be

We have included in the above estimate 20 extensions for the Department with five foreign exchange trunks and five long distance trunks and four TWX machines. Obviously, in considering the cost, the Department would have to foot its fair share.

[REDACTED] further told me on a confidential basis that it appears that ODM is going to press for a universal microwave setup and the possibility existed that AT&T may be requested to provide this setup. [REDACTED] suggested that we should explore this if we considered putting in a microwave tower at [REDACTED] as his feeling is that AT&T could provide the service more economically than the Bureau could install it and that we should explore this possibility. I think that when the decision is made to go back to [REDACTED], we should then explore this in detail.

Our surveys have reflected four suitable and available sites for the Bureau's relocation, in addition to [redacted]. All of them have sufficient facilities so that the Justice Department could also be accommodated. All of these sites present some administrative difficulties, but the problems can be handled. Separate detailed memoranda have been submitted or are being immediately submitted on all of these sites. These sites are as follows:

1. [redacted]

Consists of two large buildings along the line of the [redacted] [redacted], with 169,000 sq.ft. of space. They are modern and have ample facilities and are capable of being made into office space. The two buildings are little used, in fact, only a few times each year during shows, such as [redacted]. There is some office space that may possibly be acquired on a permanent basis for storage and communications facilities. [redacted] is a town of 90,000 population, has ample facilities to house and feed persons who would be evacuated outside of the [redacted]. [redacted] is a [redacted] but this does not prohibit relocation there. [redacted] is approximately [redacted] from [redacted], [redacted] from [redacted] and [redacted] from [redacted]. If we want to pursue this site further, it will be necessary to write a letter to the [redacted] who will call a meeting of the Board of Governors with whom arrangements will have to be made.

2. [redacted]

Two girls' colleges: [redacted] with approximately 675 students have ample facilities for the Bureau and the Department. Contacts with the Presidents of the colleges reflected arrangements can be made for use of the buildings although there will be problems in connection with using them for test purposes. Also, the colleges have no space immediately available. There is in [redacted], however, an abandoned factory in good condition in which the General Services Administration is now endeavoring to procure 45,000 sq.ft. for storage of civil defense supplies. This factory has an office building with about 8,600 sq.ft. of space which would be excellent for the Bureau's use for permanent storage and for setting up communications facilities. It could also be used as an office for our Resident Agent at [redacted]. This building can be procured through a lease. [redacted] is a town of 18,000 located [redacted] of [redacted]. It is [redacted] from [redacted] and approximately [redacted] from [redacted]. It has excellent hotel facilities and a large number of motels since it is in a resort country. It has the disadvantage of having a tremendous [redacted] only [redacted] away where a great deal of explosives are stored. To consummate arrangements in this area, it would be necessary that we obtain a lease on this office building at the factory and that we make formal arrangements through the Board of Trustees of the two colleges, including working out arrangements whereby we can hold tests at the college.

[redacted] has excellent facilities for over 600 students and is located in [redacted] a town of 50,000 people. Discreet inquiries have indicated that the college would be available, although there will be some problems to work out in connection with tests which might be held during the winter term. There is on the campus a building with 7,700 sq.ft. of space and a residence with three bedrooms and two baths built by the National Art Gallery for possible storage of art treasures. Both the school and the Art Gallery have indicated these buildings could be used by the Bureau - possibly on a permanent basis. They would be suitable for storage and communications facilities and could possibly be used as a Resident Agency for Agents in [redacted]. These buildings were transferred to the college, but the Art Gallery has a contract for taking them over in the event of an emergency. They are not in use by the school. It would be necessary to make formal arrangements with the President and the Board of Trustees of the college both for use of the college in an emergency and for tests and for use of the buildings built by the National Art Gallery. It would also be necessary that we clear with the Board of Trustees of the National Art Gallery the use of the buildings built by them. The Chairman of the Board of Trustees is [redacted]. [redacted] is located [redacted] of [redacted] is [redacted] from [redacted] and approximately [redacted] from [redacted].

(4) [redacted]

This College was the Bureau's original relocation site and is still the relocation site of the Washington Field Office. It has over 600 students and ~~very~~ adequate facilities for our purposes, including the Department. The previous drawback was that the President of the College did not desire that we use it for tests as he did not want to alarm the students and persons in the vicinity. The President, who is very cooperative, has now decided that in view of recent publicity, there would be no objection to using the facilities for tests and, in fact, he was most cooperative in his offer to work out arrangements whereby such tests as might be desired could be held. He does not want radio towers, however, located on the campus. Although there is some dead storage space, there would not be adequate storage space available for us on the campus as we will have to store files which must be guarded twenty-four hours a day. This would mean that we would have to rent a building with sufficient room for storage and communications facilities and a possible Resident Agent's Office (we have a Resident Agent at [redacted] away). There is available, according to a previous survey, at least four large houses or estates which might be rented or leased by the Bureau. We previously had a small building rented on one of these estates where we had microwave facilities erected. [redacted] is [redacted] from [redacted] and is approximately [redacted] of [redacted] (approximately [redacted]). It is [redacted] of [redacted], the Civil Defense and Office of Defense Mobilization relocation site and also one of the sites for the use of the President. It is about [redacted] from [redacted].

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended we concentrate on [redacted] as possible relocation site in preference to the other three sites listed above. The reasons are:

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

1. Geographically it is well located with respect to the various locations already selected for the President and with respect to other key agencies.

2. Arrangements are already in existence for use of the College. We have had experience in dealing with the college authorities and time and expense would be saved by not having to go through with the same type arrangement with other sites.

3. Surveys and tests as to communications have already been made at [redacted] which would also mean a saving in time and expense.

b7E

4. It is a better site from a target standpoint than [redacted] or [redacted] in that [redacted] and it is a good distance from [redacted]

If you approve, we will determine definitely whether we can rent or lease adequate facilities for storage and communications off the college campus. We will also compile the cost of moving our relocation site, [redacted] to [redacted]. This will include the cost of fixing up any building we might rent so it will be suitable for our purposes, the establishing of communications facilities such as a switchboard, telephone lines and teletype facilities, ☐ and microwave radio stations, etc. b7E

Previous memoranda regarding captioned matter have reported the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) plans for a surprise evacuation during the period November, 1955, through January, 1956. Dr. Flemming, Director, ODM, has publicly stated that surprise tests will be conducted without prior announcement as to the exact time of the test.

On 7-27-55 [redacted] to General Paul (Assistant Director), ODM, advised W. F. Woods, Liaison Section, that planning for the surprise tests commencing in November had "slowed down" considerably. [redacted] attributed this to the fact that Dr. Flemming, at the request of the President, had accepted additional responsibilities and that the ODM manpower was being utilized to discharge the responsibilities of the extra duties. [redacted] stated that ODM is "completely confused" and several of the officials are referring to ODM as an "intellectual workhouse."

In connection with the surprise tests, however, [redacted] stated that it is planned to notify the head of an agency a week or ten days prior to the time they are to test their relocation plans in order that arrangements may be made for the use of the relocation facility, it being noted that many of the agencies are relocating at colleges or universities. [redacted] pointed out that because of the fact that several agencies are relocating at colleges, the surprise tests will probably be held at either the Thanksgiving, Christmas or between the semester recess. He also indicated that ODM does not expect agencies to relocate the full complement of personnel but that the tests are merely to determine the speed in which a relocation site may be activated.

By memorandum dated 6-30-55, captioned Bureau War Plans, mention was made of General Paul's advising Liaison that ODM is furnishing each agency a guide to enable each agency to "clean their own dirty linen" insofar as errors in previous tests have been noted. [redacted] advised that [redacted] has been charged with the responsibility of preparing this guide, but that as yet it has not been completed.

Previous memoranda have reported Office of Defense Mobilization's (ODM) plans for a surprise test on evacuation for government agencies between November, 1955, and January, 1956.

[redacted] to General Paul (Assistant Director), ODM, advised Liaison on August 11, 1955, that planning for these surprise tests has not been accelerated to any extent since he advised of the "slow down" the latter part of July. He stated, however, that General Paul has been out of the city and that no one in the organization appears to exert the necessary initiative to formulate plans in his absence. [redacted] advised that [redacted]

[redacted] Assistant to General Paul, is preparing the "guide lines" but to his knowledge nothing is being accomplished. [redacted] was advised that the Bureau is extremely interested in ODM planning in that it was absolutely necessary the Bureau be prepared to evacuate on an alert because of the vital responsibilities of the Bureau.

Colonel Beasley, Signal Corps, U. S. Army, assigned to ODM, advised Liaison that communications will play a major role in the surprise test of any agency. He stated that the test would not be as much of a surprise as indicated publicly by Dr. Flemming, Director of ODM, in that the planning group in ODM is convinced that you have to "learn to walk before you can run." Colonel Beasley was also advised of the Bureau's extreme interest in ODM's alert planning and the fact that communications are extremely necessary to the Bureau in the discharge of the Bureau's internal security responsibilities. Colonel Beasley advised that he would keep the Bureau advised of pertinent developments in the communications field.

[redacted] Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), advised Walter F. Woods, Liaison Section on August 16, 1955, that at the last two weekly staff meetings of ODM officials no mention has been made of the scheduled surprise evacuation tests starting in November, 1955. [redacted] attributed this to the fact that General Paul, Assistant Director, ODM, has been out of the city for approximately three weeks and no one in ODM will assume responsibility in his absence. [redacted] stated that planning for the surprise test continues <sup>to</sup> lag and probably will until General Paul's return the latter part of August. [redacted] pointed out that due to the shortsightedness on the part of some officials in ODM, [redacted] is on extended leave and no one has been directed to carry on the responsibilities of his office during his absence. It is noted that [redacted] is specifically charged with coordinating all relocation plans with other agencies in government. [redacted] stated that in view of this it was not expected that any changes in relocation sites or planning would be forthcoming for at least three weeks.

The attached memorandum to you dated July 27, 1955, sets forth arrangements which were perfected whereby Liaison Agent Edward S. Sanders would go to the relocation site of the Joint Chiefs of Staff at [ ] during any future Operation Alert or during an actual emergency. The Director commented: "OK, but if Armed Services are finally fixed for elsewhere as to relocation then our Liaison should be there. I think we should further consider if Sanders is the proper one to be assigned or whether it should be our Liaison Agent at the Pentagon. H."

The Bureau's relations with the 3 military departments (Army, Navy, and Air Force) lie principally with the 3 intelligence agencies of those departments (G-2, Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI), and Office of Special Investigations (OSI).) 90 per cent of our contact with the Air Force is with OSI. 75 per cent of our contact with the Army and Navy Departments is with G-2 and ONI, respectively. The Office of the Secretary of Defense is handled in conjunction with civilian liaison assignments, while the Joint Chiefs of Staff is handled in conjunction with the Army liaison assignment. b7E

For purposes of relocation it was felt advisable that our Agents should evacuate to the relocation sites of the intelligence agencies of the three military services rather than to any relocation sites that the Secretaries of those departments or the Joint Chiefs of Staff may choose. With reference to the Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD), it was felt that the services of the Agent handling this assignment could be better utilized in relocating with the [ ], which is the center of all communications intelligence. Immediately prior to the last national test alert it had been determined that the Secretaries of the military departments and the Office of the Secretary of Defense, not having a relocation site of their own, would go to [ ], which is a military command post and the relocation site of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. In view of this concentration of the military at [ ], coupled with the fact that a National Security Council (NSC) meeting was to be held there, we assigned a Liaison Agent to be present.

Memorandum from Roach to Belmont

The designation of Liaison Agent Sanders to be present at [ ] during any future tests was made in view of the fact that he is Secretary of the Interdepartmental Intelligence Conference (IIC), which gives him a knowledge of matters pertaining to the three military departments. He is also the Bureau's liaison representative with the NSC, which during the last test held a meeting at [ ]. Sanders, it is felt, has the best knowledge and experience to handle the [ ] assignment in the absence of the Agents handling the military intelligence agencies, who have been designated to relocate with their respective agencies. b7E

As noted in the attached memorandum and commented upon by the Director, the relocation sites of the Secretaries of the military departments and OSD are uncertain at this time. Should the military Secretaries and OSD be located away from [ ], we will, of course, make necessary liaison shifts to obtain the best coverage from our liaison assignments.

TELEPHONE AND TELETYPE
Emergency Headquarters
FOR S.O.C.

Through the field offices at Philadelphia and Little Rock we have received advice that the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) had issued instructions to the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company setting forth a system of communication priorities to be utilized during national emergencies or during serious natural disasters. We have heard nothing about this here in Washington from the local telephone company. Accordingly, it is suggested the Domestic Intelligence Division through Liaison contact the ODM concerning this matter and obtain from that source advice as to whether the priorities referred to are applicable in all sections of the United States and its possessions and carry the official authorization of ODM for use by all Federal agencies during a national war emergency.

— I also believe that clarification should definitely be obtained from ODM as to the priority the Bureau would use in discharging its basic responsibilities. I believe we should utilize [redacted] as the success of any Bureau operation during an emergency will depend entirely upon the speed afforded Bureau telephone calls and teletype messages during the initial stages of any national emergency.

b7E

As we have not been furnished with any copy of the ODM Regulations on this point, it is suggested Liaison obtain sufficient copies in order that they can be disseminated to our field offices and Seat of Government Divisions for advice and guidance.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

July 8, 1955

Director, FBI

BUREAU WAR PLANS
COMMUNICATIONS PRIORITIES FOR TELEPHONE AND TELETYPE SERVICE

Several field offices of this Bureau have recently furnished copies of a precedence system for the transmission of vital communications essential to the national defense recently compiled by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) with the cooperation of local telephone companies. This system, although made available to telephone companies throughout the United States, was not scheduled to be distributed to Government agencies until July 5, 1955. A copy of the procedures for telephone and telegraph transmission is enclosed. It is noted that the system will be available to the President, Vice President, Cabinet Officers, Members of Congress; Federal, state and municipal governmental departments and agencies; essential war industries and services such as communications, transportation, power, public utilities, press associations, news media, health and sanitation services, the American Red Cross, and such other individuals and organizations as may be designated. It is also noted that under this system there are three types of emergency priorities wherein a total of sixteen types of calls are described; none of which are clearly defined insofar as the Bureau's usage of priorities is concerned. The Office of Defense Mobilization in submitting this to governmental agencies is advising that it is not practicable to provide any rules to govern the level within agencies at which the use of the precedence system should be authorized, and is suggesting that the heads of each government department or agency use their best judgment in making such authorizations.

It seems essential that availability of priorities to the Bureau be clarified in view of its many internal security responsibilities in the event of an emergency. Therefore, the Office of Defense Mobilization and FCC are being advised that the Bureau's responsibilities require rapid communications channels, and advice is being requested as to what steps can be taken to clarify the priorities to make it clear that this Bureau can use the highest available priority.

Synopsis:

Reference Mr. Nichols' memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated June 30, 1955 captioned as above, suggesting that Liaison look into a system of communication priorities to be utilized during national emergencies. It was indicated that instructions regarding the use of a system were issued by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

On July 5, 1955, in the absence of Harold Botkin, Assistant Director (Telecommunications), ODM, the Bureau Liaison representative contacted Colonel William A. Beasley, his assistant, who advised that the precedence system for communications essential to the national defense and developed by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) had not as yet been made available to government agencies. He added, however, that the draft advising agencies of this has been completed and would be mailed to agencies July 5th. It is noted that the Bureau was on the mailing list as a result of a request made of Colonel Beasley by the Bureau's Liaison representative to [redacted] during the recent relocation test. Colonel Beasley advised that although government agencies had not received copies of this system, the communication and telephone companies working with FCC on this system have already furnished the system to their carriers throughout the country.

Colonel Beasley advised that ODM had requested FCC to develop a precedence system for transmission of vital communications and that through the cooperative efforts of the FCC and privately owned communication companies a precedence system has been created. These precedence systems, designed for use on both telephone and telegraph facilities, are being made available on a national basis in order that vital information may be transmitted throughout the country without delay during periods of extreme stress when congestion occurs on communication channels. Colonel Beasley pointed out that as of July 1, 1955, systems would be available for use by each branch of the Federal government. In furnishing copies of the precedence system to government agencies,

ENCLOSURE

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

ODM is suggesting that the heads of each agency use their best judgment in authorizing the use of the precedence systems, it being noted that ODM does not feel it practicable to provide any rules to govern the level within agencies at which the use of the precedence systems should be authorized. Colonel Beasley advised that the FBI is entitled to use [redacted] in accordance with the criteria of each [redacted]

ODM, in advising government agencies, indicated that in all probability the telephone and telegraph companies have contacted each agency and supplied information relative to the details of applying the precedences. Referenced memorandum indicates this was not done by the telephone company in Washington, D. C.

This precedence system will be made available for use by the President, Vice President, Cabinet Officers, members of Congress, Federal, State and Municipal governmental departments and agencies, essential war industries and services such as communications, transportation, power, public utilities, press associations, news media, health and sanitation services, the American Red Cross and such other individuals and organizations as may be designated. As indicated previously, each agency head is being asked to use his best judgment in authorizing use of this system. With so many users in and out of government and without any provision as to how to use it other than "wholehearted cooperation" on the part of persons authorized to employ the system, this system could be self defeating. It is noted, however, that there was a system of voluntary cooperation concerning priorities during World War II which worked with relative success. It is therefore not possible to say that this system would not work without a trial. b7E

There is enclosed one copy each of the procedures (telephone and telegraph) as agreed upon by the FCC and the telephone and telegraph carriers. A review of these procedures regarding telephone and TWX calls reflects that [redacted] shall be used only for calls which directly concern:

It is noted that the types of calls are not clearly defined but the Bureau could in all probability utilize type 2 emergency.

[redacted] shall be used only for calls which require [redacted]

[redacted] The same definitions and types are indicated for telegraph traffic.

Although, as noted above, Colonel Beasley advised that the Bureau was entitled to use [redacted] as it saw fit; we do need clarification. It appears that it is intended we could use [redacted] as we see fit, however, it is not clear that [redacted] could be used for other than [redacted]. We should be entitled to [redacted] in connection with [redacted] and other urgent responsibilities that will be imposed on the Bureau as a result of a war emergency.

RECOMMENDATION:

There are attached letters to the Attorney General and ODM, with a copy for FCC, which will be forwarded if you approve. These letters point out the necessity for a clear cut definition of priorities which could be used by the Bureau in the event of an emergency and request advice as to steps that can be taken to clarify the priorities the Bureau can utilize.

The following is submitted for record purposes in connection with a survey by Mr. Keay of the Domestic Intelligence Division on August 4 and 5, 1955, when [ ] of this Section accompanied him in connection with radio problems. Survey was conducted at and around [ ] [ ] accompanied him in order to determine the technical suitability of an off-campus relocation site which would be usable as a temporary headquarters for test runs.

Contact of the President of the College resulted in probable agreement for use of space in the basement of the [ ] or space in the seldom-used auditorium in the basement of the [ ]. There is no space on the campus which would be suitable for installation of a microwave relay tower.

The owners of the [ ] where the microwave tower was originally installed stated that they would not be agreeable to leasing their property in view of their plans to sell it in the near future.

In lieu of the [ ], the [ ] directly across the road toward the river was determined to consist of approximately 11 acres of ground, the highest point of which was approximately 80 feet below the previous location of the microwave tower. Although the majority of the property slopes very rapidly down to the river, it is considered suitable for a relatively low microwave tower and one long wire CW antenna for possible use on a radioteletype circuit. There is no adjacent property which would be suitable for expansion of the radio facilities.

The [ ] adjacent to the [ ] is largely covered by huge trees and is even lower than the [ ] making it very unsuitable for both microwave and [ ] installations.

The above is submitted for your information and for record purposes.

RELOCATION SITE

There is attached a memorandum reflecting a survey made by Inspector Keay relative to our proposed relocation site at [redacted]. This survey reflects that arrangements can be made to use this site and the site would be adequate in an emergency. The survey reflects certain drawbacks which, however, are not prohibitive and which are applicable in the main to any site other than a site which is a going Bureau operation completely under the Bureau's control.

The basic needs of the Bureau require a properly located relocation site where we can, in advance, set up our communications; store all the equipment and supplies for immediate use; safely store our essential records necessary for our operations in an emergency; and space into which we can expand immediately, which space will be set up in advance to permit immediate operations without drastic changes in physical arrangements, partitions, communications and so forth. [redacted] meets these requirements as to location and under the conditions of the survey, the other requirements with the exception of the last, namely, space which will be set up in advance completely suited for our immediate operations. As stated above, this drawback would be present on any relocation site which is not completely under the Bureau's control and on a going concern basis.

The survey reflects an initial cost to relocate at [redacted] of an estimated $189,000 and an estimated annual cost of $52,000. This represents an expenditure of funds for which there will be no return unless an actual emergency occurs. This, of course, would be true of any relocation site unless the site is being used for other purposes by the Bureau. It should also be noted that our agreement with [redacted] has not been reduced to writing and I think this should be done in order to protect our investment, although there is a question as to whether such an agreement would carry real legal weight. Likewise, we should work out any rental or lease agreement for necessary space outside the college on a careful basis so that we may protect our investment and retain possession of the space as long as we need it. I mention these factors as possible trouble points inherent in any relocation site not completely under Bureau control, but they are factors which we will work out to our best advantage.

I am strongly of the belief that our best bet for a really satisfactory relocation site is to establish a going concern utilized by the Bureau on a day to day basis, under complete control of the Bureau, which can be expanded to meet the needs of the Bureau and the Department as a relocation site. It is only under such conditions that we can, in advance, set up exactly what we want to insure smooth and immediate operations in an emergency. Because I believe this to be true, I offer the following for consideration:

At [redacted], immediately adjoining [redacted] there is a 50 acre plot of land being held in reserve by the [redacted]. I am advised that the [redacted] has indicated a willingness to take over [redacted] [redacted]. I propose that we explore the possibility of erecting a new building on this 50 acre tract which will serve as our [redacted], but which will be built on a scale sufficient to serve as a relocation site for the Department and the Bureau. It is possible that we can receive substantial credit from the [redacted] toward the cost of this new building by turning over [redacted] to the [redacted]. There are certain very obvious advantages to this suggestion -

(1) We would have a going concern completely under our control where we could set up our space in accordance with our needs in advance.

(2)

Mr. Belmont - Mr. Boardman

- (4) The cost of the site would be far less than if we built somewhere else. For example, we may be able to get credit for [redacted]. Communications facilities can be readily installed utilizing existing facilities and the assistance of the [redacted]. It would be unnecessary to move [redacted]. As indicative of savings, we recently requested the [redacted] to install a telephone cable at an estimated cost of $4,000. We were billed for a little over $2,600 and were not charged for labor.

(5) [redacted]

b7E

I realize that the Attorney General has indicated in the past that the [redacted] may not be desirable for a relocation site. However, there have been a considerable number of shifts in the relocation picture. The President has proposed alternate sites [redacted] and the proposed site for Congress is [redacted]. Other agencies have not completely crystalized their plans. I am fearful that we will sink a lot of money into a temporary relocation site and be required to shift our position later.

RECOMMENDATION

In the event the Director feels that it is feasible to make further inquiry, we can have [redacted] sound out the [redacted] as to the establishment of a new building at [redacted] and whether the [redacted] would desire to take over [redacted] upon the completion of the new building and give us credit for it to be applied against the cost of the new building. It is realized that this would require us to utilize [redacted] as a relocation site for some time, until the new building was completed.

I see no objection to exploring this but we'd have to get funds to build. JF 8/20

The Executives Conference on August 12, 1954, recommended that SAC's Kelly, New York, McIntire, Detroit, and D. K. Brown of Baltimore, make up the Bureau's chain of command from the field. The Director approved this recommendation and the SAC's in question were so advised by letter dated 8-27-54.

The resignation of former SAC F. H. McIntire of Detroit makes necessary a replacement in this chain of command. The Executives Conference on 8-12-54 was of the opinion that the best talent in the field should be used in the Bureau chain of command and that the field offices would have to be run by ASAC's during an emergency period if necessary, in order to permit the field chain of command to be available at the Bureau relocation site should their services be needed in the event of demise or unavailability of the Bureau staff down through the Assistant Director level.

Three Special Agents in Charge have been considered for the Bureau's chain of command. These SAC's are D. S. Hostetter of Chicago, H. G. Foster of Newark, and J. F. Malone of Los Angeles. The basis for considering these three is because they are in charge of some of the Bureau's largest offices and accordingly, thought to be capable of handling this type of assignment. SAC Hostetter of Chicago is being favorably considered over the other two SAC's because SAC Foster of Newark is located on the eastern seaboard and adjacent to New York City and SAC Malone of Los Angeles is too far distant from the Seat of Government operations. The SAC in Chicago is more centrally located in the Midwest and more readily available to the Seat of Government in the event of an actual emergency.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Executives Conference consider the advisability of replacing former SAC McIntire in the Bureau's chain of command with SAC D. S. Hostetter of the Chicago Office.

The Executives Conference on August 9, 1955, considered a replacement for former SAC McIntire, Detroit, in the Bureau's chain of command from the field which consisted of SAC's Kelly, New York, McIntire, Detroit, and D. K. Brown of Baltimore. These are the SAC's to serve in the event of disaster wiping out the chain of command at the Seat of Government. Present at the Executives Conference were Messrs. Nichols, Boardman, Parsons, Sizoo, Rosen, Trotter for Tamm and Keay for Belmont.

The Executives Conference unanimously recommended that SAC D. S. Hostetter of Chicago be designated to replace McIntire. If approved, the necessary steps will be taken to effecuate this change in the chain of command.

Those above you in the chain of command emanating from the Director on down are the Associate Director, Assistants to the Director, Assistant Directors, and Special Agent in Charge J. J. Kelly.

For your information certain vital records of the Bureau are currently stored at the Bureau's relocation site. The Bureau has to date made no provision for removal of copies of investigative reports from the Washington area and is relying upon the records which are now in the various field offices. It is contemplated that should Washington be destroyed and it becomes necessary to rebuild the central Bureau records, this will be done in the Memphis Field Office. The Special Agent in Charge, Memphis, has been given certain instructions in connection therewith; however, he will seek the authority of the person then in charge of the Bureau prior to instituting this program.

The Bureau wishes to again emphasize the confidential nature of this assignment.

SEAT OF GOVERNMENT WAR PLANS

Attention: Training and Inspection Division

CLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM FBI AUTOMATIC DECLASSIFICATION GUIDE
DATE 4/14/2010

ReBulet 1/12/55, forwarding copy Number 12 of "Highlights of the Seat of Government War Plans for the Chain of Command for the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

I have thoroughly reviewed this document, as outlined in recommendation number two, page two, of Mr. HARBO's memorandum to Mr. TOLSON, dated 1/5/55.

The instructions appear to be concise and workable and by following them it is believed that the Bureau could continue its operation at its alternate headquarters with a minimum of confusion, consistent with the degree of the emergency.

It is noted, in reviewing these instructions, that a great deal of reliance is placed upon various employees at the Seat of Government to carry out certain assignments in moving headquarters from the Seat of Government to the alternate site. It is my thought that the only time the field chain of command would be called upon to take over the direction of the Bureau would be in case of a very serious bombing of Washington, D. C., which would have eliminated the Seat of Government command, either through serious injury or possible death, from taking over the direction of the Bureau. If this should happen, it would also more than likely eliminate a great majority of the other Bureau personnel that are designated in these war plans to handle certain assignments at the alternate headquarters. If one of the field chain of command was then called upon to take over direction of the Bureau, he would be without the help of the other Bureau employees who have been designated to handle certain operations at the alternate headquarters and he, in turn, would not have physically seen the arrangements that are in effect at the alternate headquarters.

I would therefore suggest that the Bureau consider the advisability of having each of the field chain of command physically inspect and become familiar with the alternate headquarters and the facilities that are available for their use. I believe this could easily be accomplished by having the field chain of command [redacted] for a study of this alternate headquarters when they report for their two-day conferences or to handle this study when attending in-service. 66-17381-1106

Dear Mr. McIntire:

By letter dated August 27, 1954, you were advised that you were being placed in the Bureau's chain of command in connection with war plans, and on December 20, 1954, you were advised that the [redacted] is now the Bureau relocation site.

b7E

There is being forwarded to you under separate cover copy No. 12 of a volume entitled "Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans for the Chain of Command." This ~~top secret~~ document is not all inclusive of the war plans of the Seat of Government but is designed merely to give the recipients thereof a guide should they find themselves in the position of directing the emergency operations of the FBI. The detailed war plans for each division at Seat of Government are contained in a separate volume for each division, a copy of which will be available to you at the emergency relocation site.

Any suggestions which you believe will clarify and more succinctly state the problems at hand will be appreciated. They will be considered and, where possible, incorporated in future revisions of the volume.

This volume is for your confidential information and is not to be discussed with anyone in your office.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Kelly:

Reference is made to my letter of August 27, 1954, advising that you had been placed in the Bureau's chain of command in connection with War Plans.

Our telephone, teletype, [redacted] radio station and [redacted] radio facilities are now completely installed at [redacted]. Therefore, should an evacuation of Washington be ordered, the Bureau will evacuate to the [redacted] even though the microwave station (designed to [redacted]) remains at [redacted]. It is anticipated that work on dismantling and transferring this station from [redacted] to [redacted] will begin in the very near future. The estimated completion date is February 15, 1955.

b7E

The Bureau is retaining [redacted] as a reserve relocation site should it become necessary to use it in addition to [redacted] at some future date. The Washington Field Office will use [redacted] as its relocation site.

All confidential records believed necessary for the prosecution of essential wartime functions, and certain records believed necessary to resume normal operations of the Bureau after a war, have been deposited at [redacted] for safekeeping.

The foregoing is for your confidential information and is not to be discussed with anyone in your office.

Dear Mr. Kelly:

For your highly confidential information and for discussion with your assistant Special Agent in Charge and no one else, you are advised that in the event of an emergency making it impossible for the Bureau to use Seat of Government facilities in Washington, plans are in existence to evacuate essential employees to a relocation site, [redacted] if final arrangements for communication facilities can be worked out. If not, the relocation site will be [redacted] where standby communication facilities are now available. You will be advised as soon as the final decision has been made.

An appropriate chain of command has been established through the various division heads at Seat of Government. In the event emergency conditions, demise, disability or unavailability make it impossible for the Associate Director, Assistants to the Director or the Assistant Directors to take command of the Bureau, you are to assume temporary command of the Bureau, activate the Bureau's relocation site at [redacted] or [redacted] and take such other emergency action relating to the Detcom and other programs as may be desirable under the circumstances. ASAC A. J. Marchessault will be in charge of the New York Office in your absence.

At the time you assume command of the Bureau you are to make such use of Seat of Government personnel as may be desirable, supplementing this staff as is necessary by employees from the field. Immediately following you in the chain of command and next in succession in command of the Bureau in the event you should be incapacitated are Special Agent in Charge F. H. McIntire--Detroit and Special Agent in Charge D. K. Brown--Baltimore in that order.

For your information certain vital records of the Bureau, other than investigative reports, are currently stored at the [ ] for safekeeping. In the event the records in Washington are completely destroyed, these records may prove helpful. The Bureau has to date made no provision for getting copies of investigative reports out of the Washington target area other than those which are now in the various field offices. It is contemplated, however, should Washington be destroyed and it becomes necessary to rebuild the central Bureau records this will be done in the [ ] [ ]. The Special Agent in Charge at [ ] has been given certain instructions in connection therewith. However, he will seek the authority of the person then in charge of the Bureau prior to instituting this program. It is anticipated that in the very near future the records now at [ ] will be augmented by certain records placed at [ ] for safekeeping.

There is here attached a map showing the various routes from Washington to [ ] [ ]. You are familiar with routes to [ ]. Additional data will be made available to you as it is developed.

The Bureau wishes to again emphasize the ~~confidential~~ nature of this assignment.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - RELOCATION SITE

Additional data obtained re use [ ] as a relocation site and rental of property adjacent to college for permanent storage and communications site. President of College advises that for a test during the winter term of school, could make available at least two buildings which would give us ample office space. Could accommodate, however, but a few people for sleeping inasmuch as dormitories would be occupied by students, therefore, persons participating in the test would have to be housed in [ ] or other nearby towns. During holidays or during the summer, there would be no problem incidental to housing, feeding and officing people involved in the test. For actual evacuation, there would be ample office space for all and sleeping accommodations for a maximum of 350 people. Initial evacuation by the Bureau would involve [ ] persons and [ ] from the Department. The Bureau would need additional personnel in a short time (estimate [ ] persons) or a total of Bureau and Department evacuated personnel of [ ]. [ ] from the Department is considerably above that which they previously advised us they would evacuate, which figure was [ ]. Yeagley of the Department states that a study is being made with a view to reducing this figure of [ ]. We are also studying our needs for additional personnel after the initial evacuation to determine if the figure of [ ] can be reduced. All beyond 350 would have to be accommodated off the campus in towns outside [ ] although part of them might be taken care of by sleeping in shifts since there would be a two-shift operation. The Director, Attorney General and other officials would probably have to be housed in the hotel at [ ] which is [ ] from [ ].

The [ ] adjoining the college consisting of over 10 acres with a modern twelve-room five and one-half bath house is available for rent at $400.00 a month. This would take care of the communications center, storage, office for security patrol personnel, microwave radio station and part of the [ ] station. Some additional land would be needed in connection with the radio station.

The initial cost of relocating at [ ] would total approximately $189,000. The annual continuing cost would be $52,760 per year (details on pages 8 and 9 on the attached memorandum).

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

[ ] has drawbacks as a relocation site, most of which would be true of any site we do not control 100%. The drawbacks include the make shift nature of the arrangements, the necessity of housing our personnel off the campus in a tent during a winter school term, the housing of some personnel in other towns in a genuine emergency evacuation, the fact that [ ] is definitely a small country town almost totally lacking in the services and accommodations we need and which must be procured in surrounding towns. Also, the question of relocation is extremely uncertain from the standpoint of planning by the Office of Defense Mobilization. b7E

[ ] is the most satisfactory evacuation site which has been found for the Bureau and the Department within a reasonable distance of the [ ] area. It has the advantage of being well located geographically and is away from any critical targets.

Our next step in considering [ ] is to discuss the matter with the Department to see if they desire to participate with us at this location.

On August 4 and 5 an additional survey was made at _____ relating to the use of the college as a relocation site and as to the possibility of renting property adjoining the college. Special Agent R. W. Swartz of the Laboratory made the survey as to radio communications. Additional data was obtained by the Bureau Resident Agent at _____ Special Agent _____ and transmitted by letter of August 12, 1955. This survey supplemented information previously obtained.

The following figures as to personnel involved were used as a basis of the survey:

Personnel for a test - Bureau -  (number used at any one time in the last test). Department of Justice -  (figure furnished by Yeagley of the Department). Total - Personnel for actual emergency evacuation - Bureau -  Department of Justice -  (figure supplied by Yeagley of the Department). This is considerably above the figure the Department previously furnished which was . Yeagley stated this figure is being studied with a view to reducing it.

b7E

Additional personnel needed by the Bureau immediately after initial evacuation (Domestic Intelligence Division personnel) in order to take care of responsibilities - . Department of Justice has no plans for additional personnel. We are studying this figure of  to determine if it can be reduced.

Bureau War Plans - Emergency Headquarters For S.O.G.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
from Mr. Keay

[redacted] President of [redacted] was interviewed relating to various problems still pending as to use of the college as relocation site for the Bureau and the Department of Justice, and all the facilities of the college were examined with the following results:

Space of The College That Can be Used on Permanent Basis
by Bureau

At present one basement room in the [redacted] [redacted] is used for Bureau storage purposes and now has in it one teletype machine for the use of the Washington Field Office inasmuch as they presently consider [redacted] as their relocation site. This room has no outside windows, is damp and is insufficient in size to be of any significant use in connection with the Bureau's permanent relocation site.

[redacted] advised that the college was crowded but that there was certain space not being used by the college which could be considered. The space is as follows:

b7E

Old Men's Dormitory - This is an extremely old building which has fifteen rooms, in large part unused. Two of the faculty have fixed up small apartments in the building. The building is extremely antique. The fire underwriters will not approve it for insurance, and it is almost past redemption. It would not be suitable for permanent relocation use by the Bureau except with the expenditure of a prohibitive sum of money. It could be of some use in the event of evacuation as temporary housing. It is used for this purpose by [redacted] [redacted] inasmuch as they do house visiting athletic teams in the building.

Old Auditorium in The Basement of the [redacted]
[redacted] - This space which is now being used by drama classes is forty-five by seventy-five feet with ten outside windows in the rear and with a balcony which has been made into small office space. The room is not in a good state of repair

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
from Mr. Keay

but would be large enough to accomodate communications facilities such as the switchboard and teletype machines which would be necessary on a permanent basis. The room would have to be modified by building partitions, repairing the floor, putting bars on the windows, etc. According to [redacted], the heating in this room is inadequate and would have to be supplemented. It would be necessary that a rental be paid for this room.

Locker and Shower Room in The Basement of Old Gymnasium - The old gymnasium has been made over into a classroom building and is in excellent condition. The basement of the gymnasium building, however, has been used only in part by the college for its carpenter and painting shops. There is a room used only for miscellaneous storage which is available, according to [redacted], if desired by the Bureau. This room is the old locker and shower room. The room is fifty-four by twenty-six feet, with an outside entrance and an inside entrance to the first floor, has a concrete floor, is adequately heated, has five windows above the ground (in fact almost all the room is above the ground). It could be used with modification and repairs, possibly as a communications room. A rental would have to be paid on this room if the college repairs it for us.

[redacted]
[redacted] is practically on the campus of the college. The town is building a [redacted] and, according to [redacted], it is contemplated the college will acquire the [redacted] for a classroom building. He stated that the college would probably buy it on the time-payment plan. This building, however, will not be available to the college, even if acquired, for about another year. The building is an old one but appears sound and substantial.

on [redacted] suggested that/a long-range basis the Bureau might be interested in part of this space in the building when it is acquired and the college would be able to

*Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
from Mr. Keay*

*apply any rental by the Bureau against the purchase price.
Due to the time element, it does not appear that any further consideration should be given to this building.*

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
from Mr. Keay

Capacity of The College

According to [redacted] the college now has 600 students with ample classroom facilities for them. One hundred fifty men are housed in the new men's dormitory and 50 girls in the girls' dormitory. Seventy-five students have rooms in the town of [redacted]. The balance of the students commute from various towns throughout the area, most of them, of course, living at home. [redacted] stated that they are endeavoring to obtain a new women's dormitory but this is a long-range proposition. He pointed out that the rooms in the new men's dormitory are fairly large and that another single bed could be added to each of them. There are some twenty-five or thirty extra beds and cots available at the college. It can, therefore, be seen that the maximum for sleeping at the college would be 275 persons, plus 75 in the town of [redacted] or a total of 350 persons. Anything above 350 would have to be housed in surrounding towns such as [redacted] and [redacted].

b7E

Equipment at the College

Sheets, pillow cases and blankets are not supplied at the dormitories but are supplied by the students. Everything else necessary for occupying the dormitories is furnished.

[redacted] furnished the following estimate of furniture and supplies which would be available at the college for office use:

Typewriters	50
Straight chairs	100
Arm chairs	500
Folding chairs	200
Office desks	40
Office tables	20
Mimeograph machines	2
Ditto machines	1

There are, of course, chairs and tables utilized in the cafeteria and other normal small supplies that would be kept at a college.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
from Mr. Keay

[ ] stated that there would be no objection to wiring the various buildings with telephone jacks, inter-communications systems and installing electrical wiring where necessary. Wires can be installed in rigid conduits on the inside of the walls of the building where necessary.

Use of the College for Tests

[ ] stated that during the winter term of college he might be able to house 15 to 20 people, some in vacant rooms in the dormitories and perhaps some in the old men's dormitory. He stated that no more than that could be taken care of since the dormitories would be occupied by students. He advised, however, that during holidays there would be no difficulty as very few of the rooms would at that time be occupied by students and, therefore, would be available for our occupancy on temporary basis. During the summer,

[ ] pointed out that while some of the rooms in the dormitories would be occupied there would be ample room left to house 150 people at least. He advised that he could feed all such persons, provided a day or two's advance notice was given so that he could arrange for additional supplies and help. b7E

- For tests, [ ] stated that he would turn over to us a couple of buildings for two or three days at the time even though the test occurred during the winter term when the college is full. He suggested that he could turn over to us entirely the new gymnasium which is an excellent building with offices in addition to the space involved in the basket ball courts and [ ], the old gymnasium which has been converted into a classroom building. It is in excellent condition and has four large classrooms, three large office rooms and four small office rooms. Both of these two buildings are well lighted and well equipped. [ ] indicated that if additional space was needed, it could be arranged for.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
from Mr. Keay

If an actual emergency evacuation occurred, [ ] [ ] contemplates disbanding the college and turning all facilities over to us.

b7E

Off-Campus Locations

A check was made with reference to an off-campus location on which we could immediately install our communications, store our equipment, files and supplies and utilize for other immediate needs. It is noted that the college does not have adequate space available to us which we can take over at once and retain on a permanent basis.

[ ] which is just off the campus and which would be ideal for our purposes was examined in detail.

[ ] and [ ] were interviewed. [ ] which has 138 acres is partially located on a high point which would be ideal from the standpoint of microwave radio station. The house is brick, has sixteen rooms, four baths, three stories in height, is substantial in construction. It was built in 1907. In addition to the main house, there are a brick carriage house 30 by 26 feet, a modern tenant house of four rooms, a two-room brick guest cottage, 21 by 15 feet, a large barn, cattle shed, implement shed and a meat house.

b7E

[ ] stated that they were interested in disposing of their estate including 115 acres of the 138 acres in the farm. The 22 acre orchard is now leased out as is pasture rights on the land. These contracts could be terminated or continued as desired. They stated they would want $125,000 for the house and the land. They stated, however, that they would lease it on a year-to-year basis at $12,000 per year.

b6
b7C
b7E

Subsequently [ ] got in touch with the Resident Agent at [ ] and advised him they would not lease their property because it might hurt the sale of it and they are anxious to sell. No further consideration is, therefore, being given to [ ].

b6
b7C
b7E

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
from Mr. Keay

[redacted] owned by [redacted], located 3/4 mile from the campus, and [redacted], located 1/2 mile from the campus were also examined. Both of these involve good-sized tracts of land but both of the houses are not in particularly good condition and both of them are much lower in elevation than is desirable from the standpoint of radio communications. They are not being considered further as the distance from the college alone is an extremely undesirable factor.

b7E

There is a location adjoining the campus, a large home and slightly over ten acres of land belonging to [redacted] [redacted] who has cancer of the throat is planning on leaving [redacted] for Florida for permanent residence. He is interested in renting his property for $400 a month.

b6

The house is 55 by 20 feet of stone veneer, three stories. The basement has three separate well kept rooms 18 by 20 feet, 22 by 20 feet and 15 by 15 feet, with additional laundry and storage space. There are two outside entrances to the basement as well as a staircase to the interior. First floor has kitchen 15 by 13, a pantry 12 by 8 feet, a dining room 18 by 12 feet, a living room 18 by 20 feet, a large hall, two staircases to the second floor and a half bath. Second floor has a bedroom 15 by 15 feet with an attached nursery 12 by 8 feet, private bath; bedroom 15 by 15 feet with private bath; 15 by 15 feet bedroom with private bath; two bedrooms 13 by 7 feet each with adjoining bath. The third floor has bedroom 15 by 18 feet and bedroom 12 by 12 feet with connecting bath. The house has considerable closet and storage space and is in good condition. It has oil fired hot water heat. It has an attached two-car garage.

According to the Laboratory survey, this estate could be used for microwave radio but a repeater station would be needed (this would be true of any site at [redacted] which is available to us at this time). Also [redacted] radio receiving or sending station could be placed on this site but some additional land would have to be acquired for the other station or it would have to be put on the college campus. No particular difficulty is anticipated in connection with this arrangement. The house is strategically located with respect to the campus and a minimum of cable expense would be necessary between the house and the various buildings on the campus.

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

There are in the town of [ ] two vacant garage buildings in good shape which might be suitable if needed for storage and for use in a real emergency for storage of Bureau cars. One of these garages is a two-story building 38' x 54' belonging to [ ]

b6
b7C
b7E

[ ] It is a cement block building with one office partitioned off on the first floor and the second floor is divided into rooms. It is located two blocks from the college campus.

Directly across the street from the above garage is a garage belonging to [ ] which was formerly utilized by him as a [ ]. The building is 60' x 75'. The garage space is 40' x 75', the balance of the space being divided into offices. This building is heated by steam heat with a coal stoker furnace. It has fluorescent lighting. [ ] stated he would rent this garage for $150.00 per month.

b6
b7C
b7E

COST OF RELOCATING AT [ ]

The estimated cost of setting ourselves up at [ ] for relocation is set forth hereinafter. These are rough estimates, but are the best that can be obtained at this time as there are many factors which can only be determined by proceeding with the actual relocation arrangements. For example, the telephone company is privately-owned at [ ] and the cost of installing our equipment by them may vary from the figures we are using which are based on Bell Telephone figures.

b7E

1. Cost of moving equipment from [ ] to [ ] - truck hire and labor - $800.00
2. Installing switchboard, 10 teletype machines, construction cost of trunk lines, [ ] to [ ] and allied costs of communications equipment -
  - (a) Nonrecurring costs 1,090.00
  - (b) Construction of trunk lines - $15,000-20,000.00
  - (c) 80 telephone jacks installed in various buildings, plus cable costs from communications center to various buildings 5,000.00

b7E

(no actual figures available and this is a rough estimate)

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

3. Radio Communications Cost

a. Microwave Station	$70,000
b. Repeater Station	35,000
c. <input type="checkbox"/> Station	37,000
d. 50-watt Station	3,000

b7E

4. Miscellaneous Costs

☐ Sheets, ☐ pillowcases and ☐

3. Utilities - power, heat, etc. at ☐

5. Personnel -
3½ guards at $4,075 per annum 14,262.50
1 guard in charge 4,970

6. Labor for maintenance of property 1,200
TOTAL COST ..... $52,760.50

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

Since we would have [ ] stored on the property, it would be necessary that it be guarded twenty-four hours per day. This could be done by security-type personnel who could also do a limited amount of typing and clerical work which could be supplied to them by the Bureau. There would, of course, be clerical work incidental to keeping files which would be stored on the property. It would take three persons on an eight-hour shift and these three persons would each have two days off a week. Therefore, it would take an additional guard for relief purposes with one day of extra work involved. This one day of extra work, plus vacations and sick leave of the regular force, would take approximately one half-time of an additional guard. The Security Patrol utilized at the Bureau is Grade GS-5 and the salary of a Grade GS-5 employee has been used in the above estimate. One of the guards should be in charge which would be of Special Employee caliber at least, which would involve a Grade GS-8. It is not believed that it would be feasible to establish a Resident Agency at [ ] as it would put the Resident Agent a long way from the bulk of his work. There would be little gain inasmuch as the Resident Agent would be away practically all of the time and would not be able to supervise the installation. It would appear best that the Resident Agent at [ ] away, be required to periodically check the installation at relatively short intervals and that we place someone, as indicated above, in charge of the force utilized to occupy the premises as a guard force.

b7E

OBSERVATIONS

L. [ ] would have the following drawbacks as a relocation site:

- a. It would involve definitely a make shift arrangement which can never be 100% satisfactory.
- b. While there would be ample space for officing, anything over [ ] persons could not be handled on the campus for sleeping and it might be difficult to arrange sleeping quarters for additional personnel if the countryside were filled with evacuees from cities such as Baltimore and Washington, D. C.

Mr. Keay - Mr. Belmont

- c. During tests we would have to make arrangements for housing participants entirely off the campus if the tests were during the winter school term. This would involve housing persons at [ ] which is [ ] miles away. b7E
- d. [ ] is definitely a small country town almost totally lacking in services and accommodations which we would need. These services would have to be procured in surrounding towns such as [ ] and [ ], located respectively [ ] and [ ] away. b7E
- e. While the Director, the Attorney General and other officials could be housed at the dormitories or in the [ ] in a real emergency evacuation, it would seem more practical for them to reside at the hotel at [ ]. [ ] will have in it our operating communications facilities including a number of tele-types and it will not be particularly suitable for a residence. The hotel in [ ] is an excellent small hotel (150 rooms) and has an excellent restaurant. [ ] is [ ] from [ ], but there is an excellent road between the two points. b6

2. The cost of establishing a relocation site at [ ] [ ], or for that matter any other new site for relocation, will be extremely costly, not only to initially set up, but on an annual basis. This is true even though the Department pays its share of the costs. b7E

3. This whole business of relocation is extremely uncertain from the standpoint of planning by the Office of Defense Mobilization and the picture could change overnight making all of our plans obsolete, even after we had expended the necessary funds to re-establish ourselves. Also, we might be forced to change our plans due to conditions changing at the site since it is not possible for us to enter into any long term commitments. For instance, if we rent property on a year-to-year basis and fix it up for our purposes, the owner could decide after one year that he wanted the property back which would necessitate removal of our radio stations and so forth and the location of another site with the expenses incidental thereto.

4. [ ] can be used satisfactorily as an evacuation site for the Bureau. It is the best relocation site we have been able to locate within a reasonable distance of the [ ] area. It is well located geographically and is away from any critical targets. The drawbacks incidental to [ ] are for the most part the same as will be encountered at any relocation site not entirely controlled by the Bureau.

NECESSARY ACTION

b7E

The next step, if [ ] is to be developed as our new relocation site, is to discuss with the Department to see if it is in agreement and will participate with us at that location. We are following with Yeagley of the Department with reference to the number of people they plan on evacuating to see if this figure can be reduced to a more realistic level. We are also studying our own needs in the second group to be evacuated - that is - [ ], to determine if we can make a reduction in this figure.

[redacted] was requested to install, on a transfer of funds basis, a 76 pair lead covered telephone cable from the Micro Wave tower to the [redacted] estimated cost $4,000.

Today, the writer received a 1080 form (Voucher for Transfer Between Appropriations) listing the cost of material, fuel, and trucks at $2648.48. A separate invoice showing the cost of labor at $512.56 with this notation "For record purposes only, no reimbursement required," was also received.

[redacted] advised the writer that they did not charge the FBI the difference between the 51 and 76 pair cable which they installed inasmuch as they contemplate using the 26 additional pair for trunk lines to our building and that they could not charge us for labor of [redacted] hence the $512.56 is not being charged against this project.

In order to be sure of the exact number of personnel the Department contemplates using in both a relocation test and an actual emergency, I contacted Mr. Yeagley of the Department on August 21, 1955. Then Mr. Yeagley made a check and on the morning of August 23, 1955, advised that in a relocation test the Department would relocate  persons and INS would relocate  or a total of  persons. He said this is the same number used in Operation Alert 1955.

Yeagley said that the Department's records show that in a real emergency a total of [ ] persons would be relocated. I asked him for the breakdown which he gave as follows:

b7E

TOTAL . . . . .
------------------------	--

Yeagley said that some of these figures are old ones and he feels they need study and revision downward, particularly the Administrative Division. He said that the Department was going over this matter.

These figures should be taken into account in connection with our present study of relocation.

On August 8, 1955, [REDACTED] that city, who was contacted by SA WILLIAM J. KUBASTA, informed he would be interested in leasing his home and his garage area also located in [REDACTED], to this Bureau. bedroom 12' by 12' with a connecting bath.

The house has considerable closet space and storage space and is in excellent condition. The grounds are well maintained with only one small flower bed, and the property nearest the college campus is fairly high.

[redacted] informed the house has oil fired hot water, heat and an underground electric cable to supply his electricity. b7E

[redacted] informed he owns a garage building located on the corners of [redacted] which he would also rent. He informed that [redacted] of [redacted] has made several offers to buy it, but that if this Bureau desired, it, he would lease it. He said the garage is located on a lot 160' by 100'. The building itself is 60' by 75', has asbestos shingles on the front and tin sides. The garage area of this building is about 40' by 75', has a wooden floor over cement, two large doors, and is heated by stoker steam heat pushed by ceiling fans. The remainder of the building is divided in an office and parts space which are both finished off and equipped with fluorescent lighting. The garage area is equipped with plaster board and could be plastered at any time turning this area into office space. The building has running water and a half-bath. b6 b7C b7E

In regard to the two story concrete block building located at [redacted], efforts to determine if this building which is for sale might be available for lease from [redacted] have been unsuccessful. However, [redacted] informed that his building is owned by [redacted] of [redacted], and is of the opinion [redacted] is forced to sell the building because of financial conditions. [redacted] indicated this building has no heat or conveniences. b6 b7C b7E

The above information was telephonically furnished to Inspector KEAY on August 8, 1955.

On August 9, 1955, [redacted] informed that they would lease their home and grounds for $400 per month and the garage on [redacted], for $150 per month. b7E [redacted] said he is considering going to Florida to look for a location to settle and open a small business, but that his wife could furnish all necessary information in this matter.

Attached is a brief containing background data as well as pictures, facts, and estimated costs concerning the possible use by the Bureau of [ ] as the Bureau's new relocation site.

In the event this site is favorably considered it would be necessary to locate and arrange for the rental of land and a small building off the campus for the purpose of erecting Bureau radio antenna, microwave towers as well as the storage of confidential records, etc. It would also be necessary to work out the details with the college officials concerning the use of the school during test exercises as well as to move and re-establish the Bureau's equipment and communication facilities. It would also be necessary to contact the Department and advise them of this new site and to determine what their needs are so that those needs could be taken into consideration and complied with at the time the Bureau sets up into full operation this new relocation site.

POSSIBLE NEW RELOCATION SITE

Location:

[REDACTED] located in [REDACTED]
a town of approximately [REDACTED] population, is located [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Geographically [REDACTED] is located in road miles the following distance from each point set out below:

Arrangements for [REDACTED]

In August, 1950, former Assistant Director Richard Glavin entered into an oral agreement with [REDACTED], President of [REDACTED] whereby the Bureau could use the facilities of [REDACTED] in times of an actual emergency as a relocation site. This oral agreement did not take into consideration the possibility of any test exercises being conducted by the Government on relocation problems. Following the original agreement with [REDACTED] the Bureau moved radio equipment into dead storage in one of the campus buildings on September 15, 1951. After storing the Bureau's 450-watt [REDACTED] radio equipment in the school it was determined that a microwave station and microwave antenna would be necessary. As a result a survey was made in the vicinity of [REDACTED] for the erection of the necessary antenna and microwave towers. It will be noted that [REDACTED] specifically stated that he desired that the Bureau not erect any microwave towers or radio antenna on the campus grounds.

b7E

On March 18, 1953, after the survey was completed for available land a small portion of ground was formally leased from the [REDACTED]. Immediately following this the 450-watt short wave radio antenna and microwave towers were erected. The erection of same was completed on July 15, 1953. During this same period of time in 1953 the Bureau erected on this leased land a small metal building in which was erected the 450-watt radio station as well as the microwave station.

Inasmuch as it was later determined in 1954 that [ ] had never granted the Bureau permission to use [ ] during test exercises the Director, on September 9, 1954, approved the abandonment of [ ] as the relocation site for the Bureau and at the same time approved the use of [ ] as the Bureau's new relocation site. On September 22, 1954, the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) officially approved the Bureau's selection of [ ] as our relocation site. On October 13, 1954, the Washington Field Office was advised that they could take over the space at [ ] and consider using it as their field relocation headquarters. Since that time and up until the present Washington Field has been using [ ] as their relocation headquarters.

On February 21, 1955, the microwave tower was torn down at [ ] and the new microwave tower was installed at [ ] by June 14, 1955. To date the cable connecting the completed microwave tower at [ ] to the [ ] has not been hooked up.

On July 19, 1955, [ ] informed Mr. Roach of this Bureau that he would make [ ] available to the Bureau during any actual emergency as well as during any test exercise. [ ] stated, however, that during test exercises it would be necessary for the Bureau to furnish the school advance notice as to when they would expect to use the facilities so that he could rearrange his classroom schedules and make provisions for limited sleeping accommodations and cafeteria privileges. [ ] also stated that with reference to storage space the Bureau could, of course, continue to use the storage space that had been agreed upon at the time Mr. Glavin entered into the agreement with him. In addition to this storage space which is located in the basement of the main administration building [ ] stated he may also be able to find additional storage space in the gymnasium building. The exact amount of additional space was not known and accordingly would have to be explored further.

[ ] Facilities:

[ ] has an approximate enrollment of 600 students. On the grounds are 15 buildings including the [ ] cafeteria, [ ] and one fraternity and one sorority house. The campus is located on [redacted] near the heart of the [redacted]. To the east of the campus there are [redacted] and in the distant west the [redacted]. Both north and south of the campus is the [redacted]. [redacted] is located at the intersections of [redacted]. The [redacted] passes through [redacted] away. In [redacted] is an airport with a 5,000 foot paved runway which is used for both day and night landings.

The facilities on the campus most suitable for the Bureau's needs are described as follows:

- (1) New Men's Residence Hall - modern three-story fireproof structure housing 150 students;
- (2) Cafeteria - can accommodate 150 people at each sitting;
- (3) [redacted] - three-story building containing classrooms and laboratories;
- (4) [redacted] - contains two basketball courts, a swimming pool, classrooms and offices;
- (5) Library - occupies a well lighted section of the first floor of [redacted];
- (6) [redacted] - main college building containing a newly equipped remote control radio, a book store, drama work shop, office of the President and other college officials, the library, classrooms, miscellaneous offices and laboratories;
- (7) [redacted] - recently renovated, provided new facilities for Business Administration Division of the school;
- (8) [redacted] - former men's dormitory containing 27 bedrooms, 2 reception rooms, plus bathrooms. (This building condemned but in existence yet not used.)
- (9) [redacted] - three-story residence hall for women containing laundry, kitchen and serving room facilities plus large reception room and 9 bedrooms;

b7E

- (10) [ ] - a redesigned and remodeled building in which forums, motion pictures, plays, and assembly programs are held;
- (11) [ ] - used for music classes;
- (12) [ ] - a ten-room residence house.

Attached as Exhibit No. I are the floor plans of the buildings which would be most suitable for use by the Bureau. In addition there is attached as Exhibit No. II an aerial photograph showing the complete campus as well as individual pictures of various campus buildings. No floor plan is attached for the new men's residence hall, which appears to be the most desirable, inasmuch as it is not available. Floor plans for new residence attached furnished by Lipp 8-3-55

Office, Sleeping and Eating Space:

At the present time the new men's residence hall can accommodate 150 people. The women's dormitory accommodates 40 people. The fraternity house and the sorority house can each accommodate 20 people. Based upon these figures 230 people could sleep in the campus facilities very comfortably. Inasmuch as the Bureau and Department will work on a 24-hour basis the relocation plans call for the working of the personnel on two 12-hour shifts. As a result, if necessary, 460 people could sleep in the above-mentioned space by doubling up on each of the accommodations. In addition to this space many of the students live in private homes in [ ]. [ ] has stated that all of these residence homes would be available to the Bureau personnel in the event of an actual emergency. [ ] also stated that the overflow of personnel could very conveniently take up residence quarters in the hotels and motels in the cities immediately surrounding [ ]. These would be in [ ] and [ ]. [ ], a town of 5,000, has one very small hotel with 18 rooms. There are 3 motels in [ ] which can accommodate at least 60 people. The Chamber of Commerce at [ ] claims they have a list of private residences, motels and hotels in which they can accommodate between 1,000 and 1,500 people during any unusual occasion. [ ] is [ ] from [ ]. [ ], a city of 17,000 people, is located [ ] from [ ]. In [ ] is located a first class hotel containing 150 rooms. In addition there are two second class hotels containing 60 rooms. [ ], a city of 35,000 people, which is [ ] from [ ], has a first class hotel which has in it 200 rooms and 175 baths. Of all the sleeping facilities on the campus and in the surrounding hotels and motels it is to be noted that the new men's residence dormitory appears to be the most suitable. In this dormitory there are two suites of rooms which are occupied by counselors and which during a real emergency would be made available for the Director and the Attorney General if they so desired.

As pointed out before during an actual emergency all of the college facilities and buildings will be at the disposal of the Bureau. This would include the cafeteria and the personnel necessary to operate it. [ ] stated that the school would be able to accommodate Bureau personnel during a test exercise with little or no difficulty provided the test exercise occurred during the months of June, July or August. He stated that the school is in operation during these months, however, the enrollment consists of only 50 to 60 students. [ ] stated that if a test exercise was held during the school year (September through the first week of June) it would be a little more difficult for the school to accommodate the Bureau's personnel. He did state, however, that the most pressing problem he would have if the test exercise was held during the school year would be the housing facilities. [ ] stated that he could easily make available space for the Bureau's personnel for a two or three-day period so far as working space and eating accommodations were concerned. He felt that he also would be able to house a portion of the personnel and that the rooming houses or surrounding commercial facilities would be able to accommodate the remaining group.

[ ] stated that with reference to cost the college would be only interested in being reimbursed for the actual cost of food, janitorial service, service personnel (waitresses, cooks, etc.) and utility services. If a test exercise were held during the summer months he stated, the school would be able to accommodate the approximate 150 personnel from the Bureau and the Department as to work space, sleeping accommodations and eating facilities.

Off-Campus Facilities:

[ ] granted permission on June 19, 1955, for the Bureau to install any internal wiring necessary in the college buildings for the proper furnishing as a relocation site during either test or actual emergency conditions. He did state, however, that it was the desire of the school that microwave towers and radio antenna not be installed on the campus grounds. In addition, it is believed that approximately 5,000 square feet of floor space will be needed by the Bureau to store and house its equipment and supplies and space is needed in addition to the storage space offered the Bureau in the college buildings. It will be noted that the confidential records and cryptographic materials now in the [redacted] when moved to a new relocation site, must be afforded absolute security 24 hours a day. This would include such things as the coding machines, Security Index and personnel records. As a result of the confidential records and equipment the Bureau of necessity would have to have on 24-hour duty personnel who could act possibly in the dual capacity of clerk and security guard. In addition thereto it would be appropriate to move the Resident Agent from [redacted] to [redacted] and let him be the overseer of the above-mentioned clerks in this storage building. b7E

The telephone switchboard, teletype machines, radio equipment, and the microwave installation would have to be set up in this off-campus facility. The storage space in the basement of the main building on the campus is available for the Bureau's telephone switchboard, however, and if this latter location were selected for the switchboard, the cost of installation would undoubtedly be much less. The necessary wires and cables could at this time be connected between the off-campus facility and the college buildings. This would include the installation of telephone "jacks" in all of the space which the Bureau would take over during the relocation period. It has been estimated that the yearly rental or leasing of an off-campus facility or building capable of handling the Bureau records and supplies as well as land to erect antenna and microwave towers would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $5,000 to $6,000. (Minimum)

On July 10, 1955, Assistant Directors Parsons and Belmont surveyed the area in an around [redacted]. During this survey consideration was given to locating land and facilities that could be used as the off-campus site for the erection of the radio antenna, the microwave tower and the storage of confidential records. This survey included the checking of the following places: b7E

(1) [redacted]. This estate consists of 138 acres, 3 tenant houses of about 6 rooms each plus a house, which is a brick 18 to 20-room home. b6
b7C
b7E

(2) The [redacted]. This is an 11-acre estate fronting on the [redacted] which has on the land a well kept house of 12 to 15 rooms.

(3) The [redacted]. This is a 154-acre estate on which are located several barns, several tenant houses and the main home consisting of 15 to 18 rooms.

(4) The [redacted]. This property has a home of 15 rooms, a tenant house and a double garage all situated on 26 acres of land.

b6
b7C
b7E

(5) [redacted] owns 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  acres of land 4 blocks from the college on which there is located a 12 to 15-room building presently used as an apartment building.

Estimated Costs to Relocate:

A. Moving of records and equipment costs:

The Administrative Division ascertained that it would take twelve (12) large trailer trucks to move the Bureau's records and equipment from [redacted] to our new relocation site. The rental of 12 trucks with drivers would cost $336. ($28 for [redacted] hours per truck, including driver). In addition, it would take 16 laborers to load and unload at an estimated cost of $464. Thus, the entire moving cost would amount to approximately $800.

b7E

B. Estimated communication facilities cost:

[redacted] of the telephone company advised Mr. Nichols that it would take a week or 10 days to compile an accurate set of figures concerning the estimated communication facilities cost which would be required if [redacted] was used as a relocation site by the Bureau and the Department. [redacted] did furnish the following information which was thought to be fairly accurate:

b7E

A 3-position multiple dial switchboard with 80 extensions at a monthly recurring cost of $1,794 and a $590 installation charge. If a multiple manual switchboard were used the cost would be $1,616 per month plus an installation charge of $500. This would be inadequate for our purposes and experience has demonstrated there is a savings whenever a dial system is utilized which also provides for inter-communicating between the exchanges.

10 Teletype machines (TWX, Model 19, 60 words per minute) with two typing reperforators which can be associated with any of the machines by the jack and plug arrangement. Cost $400 per month plus $500 installation charge.

10 2-way foreign exchange trunks to [ ] and 10 long distance trunks to [ ]. This will involve a construction cost of between $15,000 and $20,000. The monthly cost is included under teletype and switchboard. [ ] stated that a part of this construction cost might be waived and the possibility exists that all of it might be waived. However, [ ] could not say for certain until the matter had been thoroughly explored. b6 b7C b7E

This would make an annual charge of $25,328 for recurring costs plus $1,090 nonrecurring costs, plus the cost of construction between $15,000 and $20,000.

[ ] advised that [ ] is handled by a private company and, therefore, cannot guarantee when the installations could be made. However, he felt that [ ] could be made operable by November, but he would not give a commitment until all ramifications had been looked into. It was [ ] thinking that they would have to put a 50-pair cable in from [ ] to [ ] to allow for emergencies. b6 b7C b7E

20 extensions for the Department with 5 foreign exchange trunks and 5 long distance trunks, as well as 4 TWX machines, have been included in the above estimate. Obviously the Department would have to "foot its fair share" of the costs. [ ] advised Mr. Nichols on a confidential basis that it appeared that the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) was going to press for a universal microwave setup and the possibility existed that AT&T may be requested to provide this setup. [ ] suggested that the Bureau explore this if we considered putting in a microwave tower at [ ] as his feeling is that AT&T could provide the service more economically than the Bureau could install it. If the decision is made to go back to [ ] this matter should be explored in detail. b6 b7C b7E

C. Estimated cost to rent or lease land and building on off-campus facility:

It has been estimated that the yearly rental or leasing of an off-campus facility or building capable of handling the Bureau records and supplies, as well as land to erect antenna and microwave towers would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of a minimum of $5,000 to $6,000.

D. Cost of establishing minimum radio facilities:

1. Microwave

White House has sponsored an interagency communications system, known as "Microwave" for use between relocation centers. Bureau Microwave installation originally started at [redacted] on the [redacted] at total estimated cost of approximately $65,000. Prior to completion,* this station was moved to [redacted] at a cost of approximately $14,000 for the move. Estimate it would cost approximately $20,000 to move it back to original location. Since Office of Defense Mobilization now planning greatly expanded Microwave system using new type equipment, considered to be in Bureau's best interests to retain present equipment at [redacted] for use with our two new radio stations there, and to procure a new Microwave station for installation at whatever off-premise site may be selected in the vicinity of [redacted].

Since the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) has not yet determined the type of microwave equipment which will be used, or the location of the main relay stations, or, in fact, whether the entire system may be put in by American Telephone and Telegraph under contract, it is not proposed that the Bureau should buy any additional microwave equipment at this time, but that such purchase should be deferred until the necessary decisions have been made by ODM. The cost shown below, however, would have to be borne by the Bureau at some future time when the ODM program becomes more firmly crystallized. b7E

Estimated cost of establishing new Microwave station at [redacted]
(assuming it can be placed at original site)..... $70,000

Estimated cost of repeater station
(if original site not available)..... 35,000

Additional cable cost for connecting Microwave station to College (if original site not available).....per half mile 10,000

In summary, minimum Microwave cost estimated to be $70,000, could run as high as $105,000 to $115,000, depending upon off-premise site selected.

* Station itself completed but $10,000 cable to [redacted] not completed.

2. ☐ Radio Facilities

In view of the relocation of our main radio stations from  to the vicinity of   it is considered that we need provide at  primarily radio means for communicating with our new main radio stations.

b7E

Estimated cost for equipment and antenna structure needed for this purpose (will provide two teletype circuits each direction)..... $ 37,000

3. FM Voice Station

It is considered that Bureau will wish to have a 50-watt FM voice station installed at the off-premise location to permit coordination of movement of Agents in automobiles in that area.

Estimated cost ..... $ 3,000

Total Cost of Establishing Radio Communications Facilities:

Nonrecurring cost ranging from $110,000 to $155,000

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - RELOCATION SITE

The following is submitted with reference to the cost of a [ ] at [ ] which would also serve as a relocation site for [ ] persons. (Expandable on two-shift basis to [ ]).

AMOUNT OF SPACE REQUIRED

100,500 sq. ft. would furnish adequate facilities for relocation. This is roughly  $2\frac{1}{2}$  times the size of the present [ ]. This figure is arrived at by the figures relating to our present use at [ ] as follows: Sleeping space and sanitary facilities, 52 sq. ft. per person totaling [ ] sq. ft.; space for dining including kitchens, 21 sq. ft. per person totaling [ ] sq. ft.; office space, 70 sq. ft. per person totaling [ ] sq. ft.; miscellaneous space for communication and records, 4,000 sq. ft. Additional space for corridors, storage, elevator banks, stairs, so forth, 25,000 sq. ft.

b7E.

COST OF BUILDING

In July the General Services Administration furnished us figures of $16 to $20 per sq. ft. for permanent-type construction in the [ ] area. This was in connection with consideration of building at [ ]. On August 22, the officer in charge of construction at [ ] advised SAC [ ] that the cost of building at [ ] of a permanent-type building similar to [ ] would run $16 to $20 per sq. ft. but the chances are that it would be the upper figure, that is, close to $20. This officer pointed out that there was constructed at [ ] two years ago a school building which cost $16 per sq. ft. but it did not have air conditioning and other facilities contained in our building at [ ].

RECORDED - 64

It might be desirable to build two or three buildings rather than one, that is, an office building, a dormitory building, and a dining hall. This would contribute to more efficient operation, but the cost would be somewhat higher, since there would be more roof space in three buildings than there would be in one. The cost of a building of 100,000 sq. ft. at $20 per sq. ft. would be $2,000,000.

USE OF THE BUILDING FOR [ ] PEOPLE

If it were necessary, the above-outlined facilities could be used in an emergency by considerably more people who would work and sleep in two shifts. It would not be possible, of course, to split personnel on the two shifts on an even basis as some personnel would have odd hours. Also, chances are that more people would be needed during the day than during the night time; however, it would appear the above-described facilities could comfortably take care of [ ] people on a two-shift basis.

b7E

USE OF [ ]
FOR OFFICE SPACE ONLY

SAC [ ] estimates that office space could be provided for 313 people in the building if there were no sleeping quarters. This would not include using the dining room and kitchen as office space, but would include use of the gymnasium and the [ ] [ ].

On July 25, 1955, the Executives' Conference consisting of Messrs. Nichols, Parsons, Rosen, Mohr, Nease, Trotter (for Tamm), Hennrich (for Boardman) and Keay (for Belmont) considered the question of a new relocation site for the Bureau.

Mr. Hennrich pointed out that an extensive survey had been made of all types of facilities in a reasonable distance of [redacted] as well as in the vicinity of [redacted] where the President may locate if Congress should relocate to [redacted]. Four possible suitable and available sites for the Bureau's relocation have been located as follows:

Two large modern buildings located in the town of [redacted] totaling 169,000 sq. ft. of floor space. Utilized only a few times each year for shows such as [redacted]. They could be utilized for office space, but living facilities would have to be procured in the town of [redacted] which has a population of 90,000. The town is located [redacted] from [redacted] and [redacted] from [redacted]. The Director approved no further consideration be given to this site at this time due to better facilities being considered.

This college of 600 students has excellent facilities and would be available for the Bureau's use although tests during the winter term would present problems. Located on the grounds is a building of 7,700 sq. ft. and a residence with three bedrooms and two baths built by the National Art Gallery for possible storage of art treasures in an emergency. The National Art Gallery indicated that these buildings probably could be made available for [redacted] the Bureau's use and they would be sufficient for our permanent storage space which the college does not have available. The college is located at [redacted] from [redacted] and [redacted] from [redacted]. The Director approved no further consideration pending a decision with reference to location of the President at [redacted].

(3) [redacted]

Two girls' colleges [redacted] with approximately 675 students have ample facilities for the Bureau and the Department. Contacts with the Presidents of the colleges reflected arrangements can be made for use of the buildings although there will be problems in connection with using them for test purposes. Also, the colleges have no space immediately available. There is in [redacted] however, an abandoned factory in good condition in which the General Services Administration is now endeavoring to procure 45,000 sq.ft. for storage of civil defense supplies. This factory has an office building with about 8,600 sq.ft. of space which would be excellent for the Bureau's use for permanent storage and for setting up communications facilities. It could also be used as an office for our Resident Agent at [redacted]. This building can be procured through a lease. [redacted] is a town of 18,000 located [redacted] [redacted]. It is [redacted] from [redacted] and approximately [redacted] from [redacted]. It has excellent hotel facilities and a large number of motels since it is in a resort country. It has the disadvantage of having a tremendous [redacted] only six [redacted] away where a great deal of explosives are stored. To consummate arrangements in this area, it would be necessary that we obtain a lease on this office building at the factory and that we make formal arrangements through the Board of Trustees of the two colleges, including working out arrangements whereby we can hold tests at the college. b7E

(4) [redacted]

(detailed memorandum attached)

This College was the Bureau's original relocation site and is still the relocation site of the Washington Field Office. It has over 600 students and adequate facilities for our purposes, including the Department. The previous drawback was that the President of the College did not desire that we use it for tests as he did not want to alarm the students and persons in the vicinity. The President, who is very cooperative, has now decided that in view of recent publicity, there would be no objection to using the facilities for tests and, in fact, he was most cooperative in his offer to work out arrangements whereby such tests as might be desired could be held. He does not want radio towers, however, located on the campus. Although there is some dead storage space, there would not be adequate storage space available for us on the campus as we will have to store files which must be guarded twenty-four hours a day. This would mean that we would have to rent a building with sufficient room for storage and communications facilities and a possible Resident Agent's Office (we have a Resident Agent at [redacted] away). There is available, according to a previous survey, at least four large houses or estates which might be rented or leased by the Bureau. We previously had a small building rented on one of these estates where we had microwave facilities erected. The college dormitories would sleep comfortably on two shifts approximately 500 people. A new men's dormitory has two suites in it and the [redacted] on the campus has ten rooms, all of which would be available for housing the Director and the Attorney General in the event of a real emergency necessitating relocation. For test purposes and for possible use during an extended relocation, there is a 150-room hotel at [redacted] away, as well as motels in the vicinity. The College cafeteria will seat 150 persons at a sitting and it is available, according to the head of the College, for tests, as well as in a real emergency. [redacted] is [redacted] from [redacted] and is approximately [redacted] of [redacted] (approximately [redacted]). It is [redacted] [redacted] the Civil Defense and Office of Defense Mobilization relocation site and also one of the sites for the use of the President. It is about [redacted] from [redacted].

It was recommended to the Conference that we concentrate on [redacted]; that contact be made to determine whether we can rent or lease adequate off-campus facilities for storage and communications and that a detailed cost survey be made. The reasons [redacted] was picked as the most logical relocation site if we move from [redacted] are: (among the 4 above-listed prospective sites)

1. Geographically it is well located with respect to the various locations already selected for the President and with respect to other key agencies.

Executives' Conference to Mr. Tolson

2. Arrangements are already in existence for use of the College. We have had experience in dealing with the college authorities and time and expense would be saved by not having to go through with the same type arrangement with other sites.
3. Surveys and tests as to communications have already been made at [redacted] which would also mean a saving in time and expense.
4. It is a better site from a target standpoint than [redacted] or [redacted] in that [redacted] it and it is a good distance from [redacted].

b7E

Preliminary estimates of cost of the move and of installing adequate facilities at [redacted] (chiefly communications facilities) indicate that the potential minimum cost would be from $55,000 to $125,000 depending on whether it was necessary to erect a microwave station (Office of Defense Mobilization is considering a new microwave network and it might not be necessary that we put up a new microwave station at [redacted] in the immediate future) and a recurring cost of over $30,000 annually (chiefly communications cost and rent of property). It was noted that these costs are substantial but that similar costs probably will be incurred in a move from [redacted] to any site we may pick. It was also noted that the Department, of course, should pay its proportionate share of these costs.

The Conference unanimously recommended that we fully explore the [redacted] site; make necessary surveys as to off-campus space and as to the cost and thereafter a final decision can be made.

DECLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM:
 FBI AUTOMATIC DECLASSIFICATION GUIDE
 DATE 4/14/2016

It is the Bureau's desire that the New York and Washington Field Offices have a set of instructions, plans, and procedures relative to the program calling for the protective custody of diplomats of enemy nations outside headquarters city. This should include a list of the individuals to be taken into custody in connection with that program. This list of individuals should be kept current on a monthly basis.

The New York Office should place these materials in the personal custody of the Senior Resident Agent at the Resident Agency which affords the utmost security for these records near your relocation site. The Washington Field Office will deposit similar records at the Bureau relocation site, from which location these records can be transported to the Washington Field relocation site in an emergency. The Senior Resident Agent selected by the New York Office will, with appropriate guard force, transport these records to the New York relocation site in an emergency.

This precaution is being taken to insure that the necessary records and instructions will be available to these offices to further insure Bureau responsibilities will be carried out in a period of emergency.

Your war plans and Prodip program plans now on file at the Bureau should be amended to reflect the identity and location of the individuals having custody of these records.

On 8/30/55 [redacted], who advised that he has been instructed by Mr. John Lindsay of the Department that he is to resume the position of relocation coordinator, made available the attached folder on [redacted] "which property has recently been placed on the market.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] was built as the personal home of [redacted] who until recently operated [redacted] at [redacted]. The home was built in 1948, is of reinforced concrete construction, contains 14 rooms plus baths, has a living room 24 x 40 feet, two spacious recreation rooms, and generally is designed for luxurious living. There is also a caretaker's cottage on the site. [redacted] stated that if the Attorney General was agreeable, it was his thought that temporary buildings such as Quonset Huts or Butler Buildings could be erected on the balance of the 8-acre tract to provide office space and sleeping and dining accommodations for the rank and file employees of the Department and the Bureau.

[redacted] advised that he was in no position to comment on what the Attorney General's attitude might be on the acquisition of [redacted] and that he was most desirous of finding a relocation site away from a [redacted]. Re my memorandum August 31, 1955. John Airhart Approximately 2:30 P. M., September 1, 1955, telephonically advised the writer that he plans to send up a memorandum to the Attorney General recommending a relocation site similar to "[redacted]" Airhart advised that he believes a location such as "[redacted]" wherein there is a building large enough to supply office and living accommodations for the various officials as well as a good communications center and has available land for expansion to care for the other so-called essential personnel of the Department is most desirable.

Airhart stated that it may not be necessary for the Department, Bureau and INS to share an individual relocation site. However, it is quite essential insofar as he is concerned, that they are all located in the near proximity of each other. Airhart mentioned [redacted] as being the maximum distance between the three agencies, but that of course the best situation would be wherein they are all together, thus avoiding a communications problem and all would be immediately available for consultation and close cooperation in an emergency.

Mr. Airhart advised that Mr. Yeagley is flatly opposed to his recommending [redacted] or similar properties but has given no reason for his views.
 Airhart added that he is going to make this recommendation in an effort to get the Attorney General's views on what type of relocation site would be acceptable to him and at the same time is hoping that he will be able to settle the relocation problem for the Department.

By letter dated August 17, 1955, Commander Beach, the Chairman of the NSC Special Committee on Attack Warning Channels and Procedures for Civilians, requested the Attorney General to advise of any problems or comments which the Department may have in implementing the plan for attack warning channels and procedures for civilians which was outlined in National Security Council Document 5513/1. By memorandum of August 29, 1955, Assistant Attorney General Tompkins requested Bureau comments.

Attached is a suggested memorandum to Mr. Tompkins advising that insofar as the FBI is concerned, we have no problems in connection with the channeling of information regarding attack which might be received by the Bureau. The attached memorandum notes that there is no problem insofar as the furnishing of attack warning alerts to the Department by the FBI is concerned. The memorandum notes, however, that there is still an unresolved question as to which individual or agency will advise the FBI and the Department in the event the President decides to order relocation of executive branch personnel having essential wartime functions prior to the civil defense alert signal. Relocation would, if not previously ordered by the President, be executed upon [redacted]. The memorandum further notes that there is still an unresolved question as to whether [redacted].

Your Survival Kit. In event of an attack, you may have to remain under cover, or away from your home for some time. PREPARE NOW by assembling in your basement or shelter a sufficient supply of non-perishable food, water, first-aid kit, blankets, a battery-operated radio, and a flashlight. At all times, be sure there is plenty of gas in your car. You may need the following tools:

1 round pointed shovel      1 axe
1 pinch bar      1 keyhole saw

The above things should be assembled in your shelter, but in such a manner that, if evacuation is ordered, they can be picked up readily and placed in your car quickly.

Warning. There is always danger of radio-active fallout after an attack. Shelter or cover will protect you. Even a foxhole deep enough to get you below ground level will afford some protection.

DO these things . . .

Now—Prepare a shelter according to Civil Defense specifications. Stock it with a Survival Kit. (See opposite page for Survival Kit items.)

On take cover signal—Go to shelter immediately, and tune your radio to either 640 or 1240 on the AM dial for Civil Defense instructions.

On alert signal—Carry out the instructions of the Evacuation Plan for your locality at once. If it calls for evacuation, take your Survival Kit with you.

Prevent fire—On either signal, turn off gas and electric stoves. Disconnect appliances. Do not turn off gas, electricity, or water at the meters.

Prior to Operation Alert 1955, the Department made available to the Bureau [redacted] [redacted] has been retained in the Communications Section for training purposes and [redacted] has been retained at [redacted]. Both copies were used during Operation Alert 1955 and both were needed.

The Department originally received from ODM only 3 copies of referenced publication. The Department has now made a request to Mr. McArdle that the Bureau return [redacted]. We should, of course, have one copy to retain at Quantico and one at the Bureau for training purposes; however, as long as we have only one copy it will have to be retained here at the Bureau where it can be revised, studied and used for training purposes. [redacted] has been returned to Mr. McArdle to be turned over to the Department.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1) That [redacted] now retained at [redacted] be forwarded to the Communications Section to be retained here until we can acquire an additional copy.

2) That the Liaison Section make arrangements to obtain from ODM or the proper distributing agency an additional copy of this publication and arrange for the Bureau to receive at least 2 complete sets of any publications which will replace this [redacted] document. For the information of the Liaison Section, it is my understanding that the [redacted] publication will be replaced by other publications as soon as their preparation has been completed.

On 8/24/55 the Executive's Conference, consisting of Messrs. Boardman, Belmont, Harbo, Mohr, Parsons, Rosen, McGuire, Trotter, and Sizoo, considered problems involving field relocation.

It was pointed out to the Conference that most Bureau field offices will be facing the same problem of relocation as in the Bureau, in that Civil Defense in most headquarters cities is planning a general exodus of the city in an emergency, in which event there will be no cross-town traffic and all traffic will flow out of town. The basic problem for the field is having sufficient communications facilities and records with which to operate at the relocation site. The Conference was advised that from a practical standpoint field offices, being comprised of trained personnel, in an emergency are capable of temporarily operating without Bureau records except for the programs calling for the protective custody of diplomats of enemy nations (Prodis) and the program calling for the detention of individuals dangerous to the security of the United States (Detcom). These programs require specific records to insure their efficient operation.

The Conference was advised that 72% of the Security Index subjects are in the New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, Washington Field, and Newark Offices, which offices were also advised to be the focal points for prospective espionage and sabotage activities, and, therefore, would have need for at least basic communications facilities.

Executives Conference Recommendation

The Executives Conference was unanimous in its recommendation on each of the following points:

(1) That there be prepared by the Bureau and made available to each field office an additional set of the Security Index cards pertaining to the subjects residing in each field office. This set of Security Index cards is to be placed in the personal custody of the Senior Resident Agent in the Resident Agency wherein the best security is available near the field office relocation site. This index is to be kept current by the field office, forwarding to the Resident Agent in question, through the mail, revised or changed cards as they are received by the field office from the Bureau. In the event of field relocation, the Senior Resident Agent, with appropriate guard, is to transport this index to the field relocation site, it being contemplated that the office will have insufficient time and inadequate guard force to transport the Security Index now at headquarters city to their relocation site in an emergency.

(2) Inasmuch as only the New York and Washington Field Offices are primarily concerned with the program calling for the protective custody of diplomats of enemy nations (Prodip), the New York Office be instructed to make available to the Senior Resident Agent having custody of the above Security Index one set of instructions for carrying out this program together with a list of individuals to be taken into custody under the program. This material would be kept current on a monthly basis. The Washington Field Office will place similar information as well as their additional copy of the Security Index pertaining to their office in the confidential records repository at the Bureau relocation site.

 SUBJECT: ATTACK WARNING CHANNELS AND PROCEDURES FOR CIVILIANS
 (NSC 5513/1)

By letters dated August 17, 1955, Commander Beach, Chairman, NSC Special Committee on Attack Warning Channels and Procedures for Civilians, asked the heads of various departments and agencies, including the Attorney General, for comments concerning the chart outlining these channels and procedures, which chart is known as National Security Council Document 5513/1. By memorandum of August 29, 1955, Assistant Attorney General Tompkins requested Bureau comments.

FBI views were furnished Mr. Tompkins by letter dated September 1, 1955, which noted three problems:

1. What individual or agency will advise us in the event relocation is ordered by the President prior to a declaration of "attack probable?"
2. Would the District of Columbia automatically evacuate if an "attack probable" is called in a distant section of the country?
3. Would key FBI personnel evacuate simultaneously from all field offices in the event of an "attack probable" in any section of the U.S.?

Mr. Tompkins was advised that these problems had previously been presented to the NSC Special Committee by Special Agent Edward S. Sanders who has requested the Interdepartmental Intelligence Conference on the Special Committee.

The Attorney General by letter September 6, 1955, copy attached, replied to the request of Commander Beach and advised that the Department of Justice is represented on the Intelligence Advisory Committee and the Watch Committee by FBI personnel who will report pertinent indications of an attack. It was further noted that the Department participates in the "bell and lights" system for Federal buildings, thus receiving warnings issued by the local Civil Defense Office. The letter does not include the FBI questions but notes two problems:

1. The NSC chart provides that, upon declaration of a condition known as "Warning White," the President will decide whether relocation shall be instituted, whereas instructions issued by the Office of Defense Mobilization indicate that relocation will automatically follow declaration of a similar condition.
2. The NSC chart provides for Presidential decision regarding proclamation of a national or civil defense emergency in the event of conditions known as "Strategic Alert," "Air Defense Readiness," or "Air Defense Emergency," whereas no such provision is made in the event of more urgent condition known as "Attack Probable."

The letter notes that much of the emergency action of the Department might depend upon such proclamations during whatever condition might exist and suggests that provision be made for issuance of Presidential proclamations in case of an "Attack Probable."

With reference to the omission of the FBI questions, it is noted Ben Willis, of the Department, telephonically inquired, September 1, 1955, as to whether Bureau views were being furnished. He was informed that FBI comments had been included in a letter of that date, and he was reminded that the Departmental inquiry had not been forwarded until August 29. Willis stated that, if received in time, Bureau comments would be included in the Department's letter and, if not, would be forwarded separately.

ACTION:

None. This has been prepared for your information inasmuch as the Department designated a copy of its communication for the Bureau. The questions raised by the Bureau will be followed through FBI representation on the NSC Special Committee.

This is a telephone company warning device rented by the U.S. Government and is installed in the majority of the Government buildings in Washington, D. C. The central control for this system is in the Washington Civil Defense headquarters. The Department of the Air Force will receive the initial warning and in turn notify the local Civil Defense headquarters. The Civil Defense headquarters are set up to send out the appropriate warning under this Bell and Light system. The following signals can be given through Civil Defense headquarters:

(1) CIVIL DEFENSE READINESS - This is a "yellow light" alert consisting of two short rings followed by a pause and then repeated in the same way continuously for 3 minutes. This particular alert is for Civil Defense personnel only and no action is scheduled to be taken by the public. However, Civil Defense headquarters will activate the Bell and Light warning system in the event of this type of alert, and the yellow light will flash and the prescribed ring will occur in the guard's office of the Justice Building. The alarm will not be sounded throughout the building. Upon the receipt of this alarm the guard will notify the Attorney General, Deputy Attorney General, and the Director's office of the alert. No action is necessary during this type of alert as it is based on unevaluated information received by Civil Defense from the Air Force. There is no indication here that there is any immediate danger of attack.

(2) ALERT (EVACUATION) - This alert is received from Civil Defense headquarters by means of the blue light and 3 short rings followed by a pause and then the same repeated continuously for 3 minutes. In this type of alert the general public is scheduled to evacuate the District of Columbia. When Civil Defense dials this type of alert on the Bell and Light equipment, alarms sound in all buildings equipped with this system automatically. This alert requires no action on the part of the guard's office. The building alarm is activated by Civil Defense headquarters.

Memorandum Belmont to Boardman

(3) TAKE COVER - This warning is reflected by a red light coming on through the Bell and Light system. The bell that rings when the red light flashes can be distinguished by virtue of continuous short rings for a 3-minute period. This type of warning means that everyone should seek shelter immediately. When this signal is sent out by Civil Defense the warning devices in the building will automatically sound and there is no action to be taken on the part of the guards in sounding the alarm.

(4) CIVIL DEFENSE SAFETY SURVEY - This is a white light and backed up by steady ringing for 16 seconds followed by a long pause and then continuously repeated in the same manner for a period of 3 minutes. This warning means that the Civil Defense authorities have initiated the necessary radiological monitoring and have concluded that harmful radiation has dissipated itself to the extent that it is safe for the general public to come back into the city or on to the streets. This warning is received in the guard's office in the Justice Building from Civil Defense headquarters through the Bell and Light system. The signal devices in the building do not automatically sound and it, therefore, is a manual operation which would have to be set off by the guards in the building. This amounts to an "all clear" signal.

Mr. Albrecht, Departmental Civil Defense Officer, advised that "only the Take Cover signal will be given" in the Justice Building since Colonel Fondahl, Civil Defense Director of Washington, D. C., will not authorize the signal to evacuate Washington inasmuch as the local Civil Defense headquarters have not drawn up and tested an acceptable evacuation plan for Washington. Therefore, the only signal that will be sounded in the Government buildings or to the general public will be the "Take Cover" alert (red light). If at a later date the Washington Civil Defense authorities test and accept an evacuation plan for the general public in Washington, D. C., the complete set of alert notices as described above will be placed into operation.

It should be noted that the "Take Cover" (red) signal is automatically placed into effect by Civil Defense authorities and the guards in the Justice Building have no action to take in sounding this alert. However, it is possible that a Justice Building guard may manually sound this "Take Cover" alert if he so desires, but he does not have authority to do this.

For your information the Justice Building's warning devices are Klaxon horns. The warning device to the general public is sounded through a series of sirens. The Klaxon horns by virtue of the way they are constructed will produce short blasts on a "Take Cover" signal within the building. The sirens on the other hand for a "Take Cover" signal to the general public will be a rising and falling wail. As a result the personnel in the Justice Building will, of necessity, have to be familiar with these two types of sounds in order that they will be familiar with the outside as well as the inside warning devices both of which mean "Take Cover."

Memorandum Belmont to Boardman

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) If you approve, Bureau personnel will be familiarized with the two types of warning sounds (inside building and outside general public) for their information and guidance.

(2) That Civil Defense will be followed closely and as soon as they formulate and accept an evacuation plan for the City of Washington and place into effect all of the above-described warning signals, Bureau personnel will be so advised.

Reference is made to the memorandum from Mr. Tompkins to Mr. Andretta, copy to the Director, dated 8/18/55 and memorandum from Mr. Ford to Captain Donahue of the Building Guard Force dated 8/24/55. These memoranda point out the desirability of testing the building warning system each Monday instead of on alternate Mondays as has been done in the past. The building alert system was tested at 11:55 am Monday, 8/22/55 and again on Monday, 8/29/55, thus indicating that the building alert system will be tested each Monday per Mr. Tompkins' suggestion.

On 8/29/55 Mr. Albrecht, Civil Defense Coordinator of the Department, made available a copy of instructions to all personnel in the Justice building dated 8/26/55 setting forth the alerting signals which would be sounded in Justice building. These instructions indicated that both the alert or evacuation signal and the TAKE COVER signal would be sounded in the Justice building. The Bureau had been previously advised by Mr. H. N. McKillen, Assistant Director of Civil Defense for the District of Columbia, that only the TAKE COVER signal would be given in the Justice building since Colonel John E. Fondahl, Director of Civil Defense for the District of Columbia, would not authorize the alert or evacuation signal in Washington until such time as local Civil Defense had drawn up and tested an acceptable evacuation plan for Washington, D. C.

On 8/31/55 Mr. McKillen substantiated the information he had previously given the Bureau and stated that if the Air Corps Command Post in the Pentagon were to transmit a yellow alert to local Civil Defense at this time, he did not know what, if any, signal would be given either over the public alerting network or the alerting network in Federal buildings in the District of Columbia.

On 9/7/55 SA Thomas Jenkins of Washington Field Office was advised by Colonel Fondahl that until such time as District of Columbia Civil Defense organization has approved evacuation plan and the people are educated to it, he (Fondahl) would not put out the evacuation warning.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

Mr. Fondahl advised that on receipt of the yellow alert from the Air Corps, local Civil Defense would probably go into Conelrad (controlled radio broadcasts) and over Conelrad would instruct the citizens as best they could on how to protect themselves in an emergency. Fondahl further stated that if it developed that an actual raid on Washington was coming, he would declare a red alert (TAKE COVER) and tell the people to seek shelter. Colonel Fondahl also advised SA Jenkins that [redacted] had no evacuation plan and the [redacted] plan as announced a few weeks ago is in Mr. Fondahl's opinion purely a paper plan and he questioned whether it would work because the people have not been educated to the plan.

b7E

It is believed that all Bureau employees at the Seat of Government should be familiar with Civil Defense warning signals as they may be sounded in both Federal buildings and over the public warning network.

RECOMMENDATION:

- (1) That the enclosed memorandum to all employees at the Seat of Government setting forth the warning signals which may be sounded over the building and public networks go forth.
- (2) That Liaison closely follow local Civil Defense organization to determine if and when the alert (evacuation) signal will be given over the building and public warning networks.

MEMORANDUM TO ALL EMPLOYEES

(A) AIR RAID WARNING ALERT SIGNAL -- It has been brought to my attention that the Department of Justice, Identification, and Old Post Office Buildings are equipped with an air raid warning system which is connected to the central office of the Civil Defense Administration. In the above-mentioned buildings the "TAKE COVER" signal will be given, if necessary, by the sounding of the Klaxon horns in the Justice Building and bells in the other two buildings consisting of continuous short rings for a 3-minute period. This type of warning means that everyone should immediately seek shelter.

The general public will be warned at the same time by the sounding of sirens which are strategically located on many of the public buildings in the District of Columbia. These sirens are likewise connected with the central office of the Civil Defense Administration. When the public sirens are sounded for a "TAKE COVER" signal, the general public will likewise be expected to immediately seek shelter. The sound that will be generated by the sirens on this "TAKE COVER" signal will be a rising and falling wail.

You will note that there are two different sounds, both of which mean "TAKE COVER." The latter sound of the sirens will be applicable to each and every one of us if we are outside of our respective buildings. The former, of course, will apply if we are on duty and working in our respective buildings.

I want you to have the benefit of this information so that you will know the meaning of the signals as mentioned above.

RECORDED-37

771-X3

Reference is made to your memorandum of August 29, 1955, which requested FBI views concerning the implementation or problems which have arisen in connection with attack warning channels and procedures for civilians as outlined in National Security Council Document 5513/1.

Under existing circumstances the procedures for receipt of alerts by the FBI and communication thereof to the appropriate officials of the Department appear to be adequate.

The question is still unresolved as to which individual or agency would advise the FBI or the Department in the event the President instructs relocation of executive branch personnel having essential wartime functions prior to the time such relocation would normally be made under conditions of the Civil Defense alert calling for evacuation and relocation.

There still exists under NSC 5513/1 confusion as to whether the District of Columbia would automatically evacuate in the event an "attack probable" (yellow alert) is called in another section of the country such as the West Coast.

Additionally, a problem exists as to whether the key personnel of the FBI would, in the event of a yellow alert in any particular section of the country, relocate in that particular section only or whether key FBI personnel throughout the country would relocate at that time.

The foregoing questions appear to be the result of the fact that apparently if a yellow alert is called in only section of the country, the adjoining section is obligated to initiate a similar alert which results in the alert rippling across the country.

WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

MEMORANDUM TO ALL EMPLOYEES AT SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

(A) AIR RAID WARNING SIGNALS -- You will recall that in my memorandum dated August 25, 1955, you were advised of the Civil Defense TAKE COVER signal, which when sounded in Government buildings, will consist of continuous short rings for a period of three minutes. The TAKE COVER signal, when sounded over the public sirens, will be a rising and falling wail. This signal means you should immediately proceed to an air raid shelter. It has been ascertained that the Civil Defense ALERT signal may also be sounded in all Federal buildings in Washington, D. C., as well as over the public warning system.

The ALERT signal, if sounded in Government buildings in Washington, will be three minutes in duration and consist of a series of three short rings, followed by a pause. This means that everyone should evacuate Washington, D. C.

The ALERT signal which may be sounded over the public warning system differs from the building signal in that the public alert (evacuate Washington) is a steady blast of three to five minutes' duration over the sirens located in various parts of the city.

The ALL CLEAR signal has been eliminated. Notification of a safe condition in a particular area will be given by methods other than the general alarm systems above-mentioned since the determination that an area is safe will be dependent upon tests for radioactivity.

Henceforth tests of the building alerting system will be made each Monday at 11:55 a.m. and will last for only one minute as contrasted with an actual ALERT or TAKE COVER signal which will last for three minutes or more. If any changes are made in the foregoing signals, you will be immediately advised.

You should be familiar with all Civil Defense alerting signals in the District of Columbia, both the signals inside the Government buildings and the sirens outside.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover

pick

During "Operation Alert, 1955" (June 15, 16, 17), there was a large volume of "fall out" data and damage information received at the relocation site over the direct teletype machine from [redacted]

b7E

In order to properly tabulate and evaluate this information as it relates to each field office territory, there has been prepared a folder for each field office containing a map of the territory and several blank sheets of paper for tabulation of the information as it arrives. Thus the Bureau will have a ready reference at the relocation site in a period of emergency as to the "fall out" and damage picture in each field office territory. The individual handling this project in the relocation site should review each communication designated for a Bureau field office to insure that it is addressed to the proper location and that the field office or relocation site has not been bombed out in the interim.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the folders described above be forwarded to [redacted] to be retained for use in connection with Bureau relocation operation.

Reference memoranda from Mr. Roach to Mr. Belmont of August 2 and August 26 last itemizing the telephone, teletype, and cryptographic facilities and equipment being furnished to the Bureau's Relocation Site by ODM. The above facilities and equipment are our portion of a interim interagency communications system completion of which had a target date set by ODM of November 1, 1955.

I received a telephone call this afternoon from Captain Fred Stivers, currently assigned to the Office of Chief Signal Officer of the Task Force set up to plan this interim communications system.

Captain Stivers said that because of excessive costs which would be incurred in expediting the completion of the system a tentative date of March 1, 1956, had been set for the completion of the system. Captain Stivers said that this information would be confirmed later in writing.

SENT DIRECTOR

8-27-55

Bureau War Plans - Emergency Headquarters For 3.0.6

RECORDED COPY FILED IN 66-2554-12357

Executives' Conference - The Director

- (3) Other Government agencies, including the White House, are still crystalizing their relocation plans. We may find that we would have to shift our relocation site when other agency plans are formed with the loss of the heavy investment we would have made in establishing this site.

Despite the above drawbacks, [redacted] meets the requirements for a relocation site and the above drawbacks are inherent in any relocation site and particularly in any site which is not part of a going Bureau operation.

b7E

Alternate Suggestion

The basic needs of the Bureau require a properly located relocation site where we can, in advance, set up our communications; store all the equipment and supplies for immediate use; safely store our essential records necessary for our operations in an emergency; and space into which we can expand immediately inasmuch as it will be set up in advance to permit immediate operations without drastic changes in physical arrangements, partitions, communications and so forth. Only under such conditions can we, in advance, set up exactly what we want to insure smooth and immediate operations in an emergency.

At [redacted] immediately adjoining our new [redacted] the [redacted] is holding in reserve a 50 acre plot of land for FBI expansion. It is proposed we explore the possibility of erecting a new building on this 50 acre tract which will serve as our [redacted] but which will be built on a scale sufficient to serve as a relocation site for the Department and the Bureau. There are certain very obvious advantages to this proposal:

b7E

- (1) We would have a going concern completely under our control where we could set up our space in accordance with our needs in advance.
- (2) We would have manpower at the relocation site at all times available for security purposes and to keep the site in first class condition for immediate operation.

Executives' Conference - The Director

- (3) From a security standpoint, we would be on a military reservation which is desirable. Also our own personnel engaged in training work would provide security.
- (4) The cost of the site would be far less than if we built somewhere else. The [ ] has indicated that if at any time we gave up our present [ ] they would be interested in it. This presents the possibility that we could make a deal to get credit for the value of this building to be applied against the proposed new building. Communications facilities can be readily installed utilizing existing facilities and the assistance of the [ ]. It would be unnecessary to move our microwave station. As indicative of savings, we recently requested the [ ] to install a telephone cable at an estimated cost of $4,000. We were billed for a little over $2,600 and were not charged for labor.
- (5) As a new building in [ ] would be continuously used for essential work of the Bureau, namely, training we could not be charged with spending funds for which no return is received, as might be the case in setting up a separate relocation site.

It is realized that the Attorney General has indicated in the past that the [ ] location may not be desirable for a relocation site. However, there have been a considerable number of shifts in the relocation picture. There are several proposed alternate sites for the President [ ] and the proposed site for Congress is over [ ]. Other agencies have not completely crystalized their plans. By having a relocation site which is part of a going Bureau operation, we reduce the possibility that we will sink a lot of money into a temporary relocation site and be required to shift our position later.

A rough estimate has been made on the cost of a new building. Based on a relocation site for 500 persons, expandable on a two-shift basis to 750, a building two and one-half times the size of the present Academy would run 100,000 sq. ft. A preliminary check with the construction engineer at [ ] indicates a cost of

'Executives' Conference - The Director

$16.00 to $20.00 per sq. ft. with $20.00 more likely. Cost of the building on this basis would be $2,000,000. It is not proposed that any attempt be made to secure these funds now, but rather in the future. Meanwhile, the present [ ] would serve as the relocation site.

Present [ ]

b7E

Utilizing all bedrooms as office space, the present [ ] would accommodate a maximum of 313 persons. However, this would be cramped working space as there would be seven persons allotted to each bedroom. Under these conditions, the bedrooms on the second and third floors would not be available for sleeping quarters, therefore, personnel would have to sleep at motels, etc. in the area. To the extent that shifts of personnel were utilized (the Bureau would, of course, have to use night shifts) more people would be accommodated in this working space. Bearing in mind that in a joint relocation site space would be allotted to the Department, it is not believed that the maximum of 313 persons in any one shift could be practically accommodated.

In a relocation test, the FBI would utilize 73 persons (eliminating rotation), the Department would use 60 persons and INS 16 persons, or a total of 149. These could be accommodated.

In a real emergency, the Bureau contemplates 173 persons in the first wave and a supplemental wave of 187, if necessary, or a total of 360. The Department has a figure of 307 persons, however, Yeagley states this will be cut down, probably drastically. If the present building is considered as a permanent site, the Department's figure will have to be drastically reduced and the Bureau will probably have to reduce its anticipated personnel in the second wave. We are examining this.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Messrs. Parsons, Trotter, Sizoo, Boardman, Harbo, McGuire and Belmont recommended that we explore the possibility of planning for a new building along the lines suggested above - pending a decision as to whether such a new building is feasible, the current [ ] to be utilized as a relocation site.

b7E

Executives' Conference - The Director

Mr. Mohr felt that in the absence of funds and the improbability of securing funds for a new building, the Bureau could use the present [redacted] as a joint relocation site for the Bureau and the Department. Agree. We do not have the funds AND we might as well face it.

only for FBI
Mr. Rosen recommended that we keep our present arrangements at the [redacted] but that we activate the relocation site at [redacted]. If this recommendation is followed, the first step will be to have a Departmental representative go to [redacted] for the Department's appraisal as to whether it will meet the needs of the Department.

b7E

Dependent on the Director's desires, we will proceed.

V. P. [signature]
Respectfully,
For the Conference

Changes in Civil Defense evacuation plans in various Bureau headquarters cities throughout the country make it necessary to amend existing field evacuation plans. Although many areas including Washington, D. C., have not yet devised an acceptable evacuation plan most headquarters cities are formulating plans providing for one-way traffic out of town, no cross-town traffic and general evacuation of the metropolitan area on an appropriate signal.

Since an order to evacuate may come at a time when there is only a skeleton staff in the office and without sufficient advance warning to permit even essential records and equipment to be assembled and relocated, appropriate instructions have recently been issued on steps to be taken in connection with the removal of highly confidential records and equipment where adequate personnel is not available to afford appropriate protection. Existing instructions permit the SAC to make known his field war plans and relocation site only to those individuals who have specific assignments and need to know. Because of the change in the evacuation-relocation picture throughout the country it is believed that each SAC should confidentially advise those members of his staff whose services will be needed during the first 24 to 48 hours after relocation, as to how the evacuation and/or relocation is to be carried out, where the field relocation site has been established and how it may be contacted in an emergency.

The SAC should also be permitted to confidentially advise all other employees of his office not included in the group whose services will be absolutely essential for the first 24 to 48 hours, as to what telephone number or means of communication they can use to contact the office at the relocation site. These individuals should not be given the identity of the Bureau's relocation site but merely a means of contact with the office at or near the relocation site. Of course, all employees should be impressed with the confidential nature of the office plans and and advised that the disclosure of this information to them at this time in no way indicates a change in the international situation. Each individual in the office after having been appropriately instructed by the SAC should be permitted to confidentially advise adult dependents as to the manner in which they could contact the Bureau employee in a period of emergency should this be necessary. *

Present field office relocation plans are adequate in any situation wherein ample advance warning will be given and the office staff is available to carry out the relocation. Provision must be made to cover situations where there is no advance warning and an evacuation or relocation must be carried out in other than normal working hours and in the situation where there is very little advance warning during normal working hours and where the office Agent personnel is carrying on their work outside the field office.

Attached is a proposed SAC Letter instructing each SAC to confidentially outline the basic war plan including the identity of the relocation site and plans for its activation to the personnel needed at the relocation site for the first 24 to 48 hours, and to give all other employees the telephone number they could use to contact the office relocation site, receive messages and instructions as well as leave messages and forwarding address. Each SAC is also instructed to perfect plans for evacuation and relocation in situations where little advance warning will be received during nonworking hours when only a skeleton staff is in the office and during normal working hours when most Agents are out of the office. These plans are to be compatible with the evacuation plan for the city in which each headquarters office is located.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached SAC Letter go forth.

Re my memorandum to you captioned as above dated September 6, 1955.

Simultaneous Communication System.

Referenced memorandum set forth the desired changes which would enable the Air Force Command Post to have installed an alert warning system utilizing a gang bar device from the Command Post to critical government agencies.

In order to effect these changes it will be necessary that the alarm warning system now terminating off of the Bureau's main switchboard be changed to have the two direct lines which we now have between the Bureau and the Command Post terminate in Mr. Belmont's Office. This procedure has been authorized by the Bureau and Colonel Tormoen advised telephonically this morning.

Colonel Tormoen advised that the Bureau, to his knowledge, was the only agency on this warning system that was currently paying the rental charges for such lines and inquired as to whether the Bureau would object to the Air Force taking over control of the lines and effectively paying for them. Colonel Tormoen was told that there would be no objections on the part of the Bureau to the Air Force doing this inasmuch as the Bureau has no control of the lines from the Command Post at the present time. Attached is a confirmation letter of our conversation with the Colonel advising that the Bureau is in accordance with these suggested changes.

Those employees not included in the group needed at the relocation site during the first 24 to 48 hours should not be given the identity of the relocation site and should be advised that in a total evacuation of headquarters city they should proceed out of town under Civil Defense guidance and after 24 hours if they are unable to return to their residence in headquarters city they should contact the relocation site. These employees should be given a telephone number or other means of communication they should use to contact the relocation site. When these employees contact the relocation site you should issue appropriate instructions to them as to your need for their services and receive from them their current address or forwarding address if you do not need their services immediately. These and the other individuals in your employ should be advised that they may confidentially give the adult dependents in their family the telephone number they might use to contact the Bureau employee in a period of emergency. This is the telephone number you will be giving to employees who are not needed at the relocation site during the first 24 to 48 hours. to be completely familiar with their responsibilities and the manner in which they are to be carried out.

All employees should be advised that the disclosure of this information at this time in no way indicates a change in the international situation.

The evacuation and relocation portion of your war plans should be amended to include plans for the evacuation of your present office and relocation at your emergency site under situation (1) where the local Civil Defense authorities order immediate evacuation of the city during other than normal working hours and you have only a skeleton staff on duty in the office; (2) where an immediate evacuation of headquarters city is ordered during normal working hours when the Agent personnel of the office are on the streets and not available to give assistance in the evacuation of personnel, records and equipment.

It is believed that present field relocation plans are adequate in a situation where ample advance warning will be given and the office staff is available to carry out the relocation. Provisions for this situation should be retained in your war plans.

In each situation above, the local Civil Defense plans for the evacuation of the city must be taken into consideration since during an emergency it is anticipated that Civil Defense will be in charge of the evacuation of the metropolitan area wherein your field office is located.

We have two direct telephone lines from our switchboard to the Command Post switchboard in the Pentagon Building. These two lines have alternative routing and each would supplement the other in an emergency. These lines are for the purpose of passing alert warnings to the FBI.

I received a telephone call this morning at 11:40 A.M. from Colonel Tormoen, Air Force Command Post, Code 131, extension 71205. Colonel Tormoen said that in the near future the Air Force would be installing a crash alarm system whereby the Command Post could sound an alarm in fifteen or more agencies simultaneously rather than having to call each one individually as they do now. In order to install this crash alarm or gang bar system on our switchboard it would require both our lines for one warning termination; however, if the lines are terminated in an office rather than the switchboard it will take only one line (a pair of wires) in each termination. In other words, to operate on our switchboard the alarm device would need both our Command Post lines and if one line were knocked out the device would not operate.

The Colonel suggested that at the time the Air Force puts in this gang bar warning system that they be authorized to move the termination of one of the lines to the Director's Office and the other to our "Watch Officer" (Mr. Belmont's Office). Arrangements then would be to have the alarm ring in Mr. Belmont's Office and if that particular line were knocked out the alarm would then ring in the Director's Office. Each termination, wherever made, would consist of a telephone instrument and an audible alarm device. Colonel Tormoen also advised that the Command Post was putting in a conference system at the Command Post Switchboard whereby General Twining could talk with up to 20 officials and the suggested termination of these Command Post lines would permit the Director to be in on such a conference with department heads such as Secretary of Defense, Director of CIA, Secretary of Air Force, etc.

Memorandum to Mr. Nichols

September 6, 1955

I feel that at the time the Air Force is ready to install the new gang bar warning system that both our Command Post lines should be removed from the switchboard and installed with the new system in Mr. Belmont's Office for the following reasons:

1. There is always an Agent on duty in Mr. Belmont's Office qualified to receive and pass on the alert warnings.
2. There should be one and only one location for receiving the alert warnings since the purpose of the second of the two lines is to have a back-up or spare line to receive the alert on in the event the first line is inoperative. The alerts, under the new system, would be given on only one of our lines - if the first line were inoperative the Command Post would ring the second line.

RECOMMENDATION:

That both our direct lines from the Air Force's Command Post Switchboard be removed from our switchboard and terminated in Mr. Belmont's Office when the Air Force has the system ready for installation.

Director of Communications

Headquarters, United States Air Force
Washington 25, D. C.

Attention: Mr. Moulton, Communications Systems Division

Dear Sir:

Recently Colonel Tormoen, of the Air Force Command Post, telephonically contacted this Bureau relevant to the Air Force proposed plan to install a new type of crash alarm warning system between the Air Force Command Post and critical government agencies.

Due to the technicalities involving the use of telephone lines, this Bureau desires that the present two separately routed telephone lines terminating on our main switchboard be removed and connected to two instruments located in the office of Mr. Belmont our "Watch Officer." In so doing, any "alert warning" will be received at the same location over either line. This office is attended on a continuous 24-hour basis.

I believe you are aware of the fact that this Bureau is presently paying the mileage costs for these lines and according to Colonel Tormoen, the Air Force would be agreeable to assuming control of them. If so, the FBI will have no objection as I understand this is the practice in connection with similar lines to other government agencies.

These changes may be undertaken at your convenience or at such time as this new alarm system is ready for installation.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

You will recall that ODM is furnishing a telephone line and certain teletype and cryptographic facilities for our relocation site for use in emergency interagency communications.

will be installed, maintained and serviced by telephone company employees.

~~American Telegraph and Telephone Co.~~

Mr. Bill Herman of AT&T called today to advise that telephone company employees who will install, service and maintain this equipment are now attending NSA schools to prepare them for these duties. He said NSA is giving telephone company employees assigned to this project a secret clearance of "military secret." He wanted to know whether we would require any special additional clearance for telephone company employees to have access to our relocation site to maintain, repair and service above-mentioned equipment. I told Mr. Herman that I would check into the matter and that we would advise him.

I see no reason for our requiring any special clearance for entry into our relocation site; however, since some of the cryptographic equipment being furnished by ODM will be operated in our Crypto Room at [ ] and since security regulations require that we have posted in the Crypto Room a list of persons authorized to enter same, it is suggested that we tell Mr. Herman that we will require no special clearance, that we do require, however, from AT&T the names of all AT&T employees who might possibly be used to service our equipment together with their identification badge numbers and that he keep this list current with us.

RECOMMENDATION: That we require no special clearance for AT&T employees who will service interagency cryptographic equipment at [ ] but require names and badge numbers of any and all of the personnel who may have occasion to service such equipment at our relocation site and that this list be kept current.

In compliance with the Inspectors' suggestion, Bureau war plans will continue to receive my personal attention, particularly the document known as "Highlights of Seat of Government War Plans for the Chain of Command."

A tickler has been prepared to insure that the book is brought up to date at least once each 90 days, i.e., 11/15, 2/15, 5/15 and 8/15. All substantive or policy changes of interest to the Chain of Command will be prepared for all copies of this book as these changes are approved. Amended pages for "Highlights" were submitted on September 2, 1955, and additional amended pages are being prepared at this time to insure that all phases of this document are current.

Mr. W. J. Walls, Supervising Engineer, Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) and Communications Coordinator for the Department of Justice on 9/2/55 telephonically inquired of SA J. E. McArdle of the Liaison Section as to the need for direct telephone and teletype communications system between the FBI, Justice Department, and INS relocation sites.

Mr. Walls advised that the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) is furnishing the Justice Department with 2 voice circuits (telephone lines) and 1 teletype circuit from the Department relocation site at [redacted]. Walls advised that [redacted] would also be made available to the Department. Mr. Walls advised that none of this equipment has been installed to date, however, ODM has been instructed to make the teletype and telephone installations in the Departmental relocation site at [redacted] with the understanding that it may have to be moved at a future date. In this connection Walls advised that he has learned from Messrs. Yeagley and Foley in the Department, that the Department plans to equip and prepare for use their present relocation site at [redacted] until such time as a better site is available to them.

Mr. Walls stated that at this time he was in no position to advise as to whether the Department or INS was desirous of direct telephone and teletype lines between the relocation sites of the Department and INS, and the Bureau. Mr. Walls indicated a desire to sit down with Bureau representatives and discuss the problem of communications facilities at the relocation sites. Mr. Walls was advised that Bureau representatives would discuss the communications situation with him at his convenience.

It would appear that the question of direct communications facilities between the Bureau relocation site and the relocation site

It is suggested that representatives of the [redacted] and Supervisor McArdle of the Liaison Section discuss this with Mr. Wall, bearing in mind that the Bureau is going to use the [redacted] as its relocation site and the Department and INS will be located elsewhere. However, prior to such discussion the Department should advise where its relocation site will be.

On 8/31/55 Walter Yeagley of the Department contacted Mr. Belmont and asked if there were any developments concerning a joint relocation site for the Department and the FBI. Mr. Yeagley was advised that we had informed the Department by letter dated 7/15/55 that the Bureau's relocation site would be the [redacted]. Yeagley was advised that Mr. Belmont would call him back if there was any change.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Mr. Belmont call Yeagley and advise him that there has been no change and the Bureau will continue to use the [redacted] as the FBI relocation site and as soon as the Department decides on its relocation site, the Bureau will get together with the appropriate Departmental representative relative to a secure communications system between the two relocation sites.

 September 22, 1955, captioned as above pertaining to emergency evacuation of key officials and essential personnel.

Rotating shift assignments in the Communications Section make it impossible to identify those employees from this section needed immediately at relocation headquarters since the number and identity of selected evacuees and alternates on duty at a given time vary on a daily basis.

Best estimates indicate no less than ten nor more than fifteen Communications Section employees would have to be provided for under the proposed plan.

The identities of all evacuees from Communications

The NSC Net Evaluation Subcommittee study in connection with sabotage in support of an attack preceded by strategic warning included the FBI relocation site as a sabotage target.

The SAC at [ ] has made certain recommendations for the physical protection of the Bureau's communications facilities for [ ] the Bureau's relocation site, which could be in effect in the event the international situation indicates the probability of a Soviet attack against the United States. For the purpose of this study, however, it is believed desirable that the Net Evaluation Subcommittee should be advised that even though all logical physical protection measures would be in effect in such a situation, sabotage attack by forces having numerical and firepower superiority over the persons charged with the operation and protection of the relocation site could sabotage these facilities. It is believed desirable to point out, however, that the Continental Air Defense and the Strategic Air Command do not depend upon the FBI for any communications support. The communications for Continental Air Defense and the Strategic Air Command have been the subject of study from a sabotage standpoint during this portion of the study being made by the Net Evaluation Subcommittee.

ACTION:

It is recommended that the Director, FBI, sign the attached letter to the Net Evaluation Subcommittee which advises that all logical protective measures would be taken regarding the Bureau's relocation site in the event of warning that an attack might occur, and that sabotage attack by forces having numerical and firepower superiority could sabotage the communications for the relocation site. The letter further notes that Continental Air Defense and the Strategic Air Command do not depend upon the FBI for any communications support.

In the past in our liaison with the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) we have obtained considerable information of interest to the Bureau regarding alert planning and other matters of interest to the Bureau. As you know, however, it is the policy of ODM to handle their official dealings on a departmental level. They furnish all instructions officially to the Department on alert planning. We have found in the past that we cannot rely upon the Department to keep us advised. This will be particularly true in the future since the Department now feels that we are on our own in so far as alert planning is concerned.

The Department is also represented on the Interagency Planning Group which establishes policy and works out details of tests such as Operation Alert and the surprise test which will be coming up this fall. The Department again has not kept us advised as to all of the details in this planning.

The information which we have obtained from ODM in the past has been on a personal and confidential basis as far as ODM is concerned. It is believed that we can establish a more effective liaison by placing this on an extremely official and formal basis. It is also believed that the Bureau should be represented on the Interagency Planning Group in addition to the Justice Department. If this is accomplished, it is felt that this may help to solve our problems in so far as ODM is concerned. Of course, it is realized that ODM is a mass of confusion and many times ODM officials are not even properly advised as to what is going on within their own organization.

It is believed that a letter from the Attorney General to Arthur S. Flemming, Director of ODM, would result in setting up an official, direct liaison for the Bureau with ODM and would

In accordance with Mr. Roach's memorandum to me dated September 2, I called Mr. Yeagley of the Department on September 7 and advised him that the Bureau will continue to use the [redacted] as our relocation site, and as soon as the Department decides on its relocation site the Bureau will get together with the appropriate Departmental representative relative to a secure communications system between the two relocation sites. (In accordance with instructions, when such a conference does take place we will look after FBI interests first and let INS think out their own problems.)

Mr. Yeagley asked whether this means that we are not any longer looking for a joint relocation site for the Department and the FBI. I told him we are not currently looking for such a site. He wondered if the Attorney General knew this, as Yeagley thought the Attorney General understood the FBI was looking for such a site. I pointed out that by letter dated July 15, 1955, we had informed the Department that the [redacted] would be our site. I was reiterating this now in view of Yeagley's call to me of August 31, 1955, inquiring as to any developments. Mr. Yeagley wanted to know if we had run across any site that might be suitable for the Department during a survey for a joint relocation site, and particularly whether we had picked up any information from the Defense Department, as he knew we had checked at the Defense Department. I told him we had not come across a satisfactory joint relocation site. In answer to his request, I told him we would make available to the Department any information we had received from the Defense Department.

go ahead and look for a Departmental site. He wanted to know whether we had come across a site during our survey that would suit the needs of the Department. I told him Mr. Yeagley had inquired as to any information furnished us by the Department of Defense and that we would make such information available to Mr. Airhart, if he desired. He said he would like to have this.

Mr. Airhart advised that he understood we had established direct liaison with the Office of Defense Mobilization. I told him this was correct, in order that we would receive promptly any information pertinent to the FBI. I pointed out, however, we are interested in receiving from the Department any information having a bearing on relocation tests, Civil Defense planning, et cetera, which comes to the attention of the Department and which would be of interest to us.

It was apparent from the conversation that neither Mr. Yeagley nor Mr. Airhart relish the thought of having to locate a relocation site for the Department. In the meanwhile, Martinsburg will continue to serve as a relocation site for the Department. Neither Mr. Airhart nor Mr. Yeagley was questioning the Bureau decision in this matter, however.

RECOMMENDATION:

Yeagley requested any information concerning possible relocation sites which the Defense Department gave to the Bureau. When the Department checked at the Defense Department some months ago, they were advised that the FBI had secured such information. I think we should furnish such information to Airhart as the Defense Department gave to us, and we will do this unless advised to the contrary.

OK. And don't waste too much time. We are not going to do the "homework" for the Dept. We did survey Shepherds College and found that it can be used. However, the Washington Field Office is considering [redacted] as its relocation site. Therefore, we will not furnish information regarding the college to the Department.

No further action being taken on this matter. Dept. follow up their request. It will be considered then. 9/23/55

My memorandum of September 7, 1955; reviewed problems which had been raised by the chart, known as National Security Council Document 5513/1, outlining warning channels and procedures to be followed following various warnings. It was noted that AAG Tompkins had requested Bureau comments concerning the chart since the Attorney General's comments had been requested by the NSC Special Committee studying the captioned problem.

We raised three questions:

1. What individual or agency will advise us in the event relocation is ordered by the President prior to a declaration of "attack probable?"
2. Would the District of Columbia automatically evacuate if an "attack probable" is called in a distant section of the country?
3. Would key FBI personnel evacuate simultaneously from all field offices in the event of an "attack probable" in any section of the U. S.?

By letter dated September 16, 1955, AAG Tompkins furnished these questions to the NSC Committee. At the meeting of that committee, held September 20, 1955, Mr. Tompkins' letter was discussed and Liaison Agent Day, who attends these committee meetings inasmuch as the Director is a committee member as IIC Chairman, reported the following answers to the questions noted, had arisen from discussion:

1. The Office of Defense Mobilization is now responsible for dissemination of the President's instructions. No specific channels have been established since the instructions may be issued at a Cabinet meeting in which case the FBI would receive word from the Attorney General or the decision might be made while the President is away from Washington, necessitating establishment of communication by whatever means are available.

2. The Federal Government, at Washington, D. C., will automatically evacuate upon the declaration of an "attack probable." District of Columbia civil defense officials have not yet completed plans for evacuation and the local civil defense director has reportedly stated that he will not order evacuation until his plans have been perfected.
3. An "attack probable" results from issuance by the Air Force of a "warning yellow." This "warning yellow," when declared in any Air Division of the United States, automatically is declared in adjoining divisions and, therefore, ripples across the country. The NSC Directive indicates that under conditions of "attack probable" Executive Branch personnel having essential wartime functions will relocate, both at the Seat of Government and elsewhere. It has been brought to the attention of the NSC Special Committee, however, that in view of the Bureau's special problems, relocation would be subject at all times to special instructions from Bureau Headquarters.

The committee is in the process of considering comments and suggestions made by a number of departments and agencies. A reply to all these will be furnished upon completion of the committee's deliberations.

ACTION:

This is to inform you of the results of discussion by the NSC Subcommittee concerning the questions raised by the Bureau.

My memorandum of September 21, 1955, informed you of discussion within the National Security Council Subcommittee on Attack Warning Channels and Procedures for Civilians concerning questions raised by FBI. With reference to the question of evacuation of the District of Columbia, it was noted that local Civil Defense officials have not yet completed evacuation plans and that the local Civil Defense Director had reportedly stated he would not order evacuation until these plans had been perfected.

Liaison Agent Day, who attends meetings of the NSC Subcommittee as a representative of the Director who, as IIC Chairman, is a member of the Subcommittee, attended a meeting of the Subcommittee on the evening of September 22, 1955. This was an enlarged meeting, to which leading Civil Defense officials in the Metropolitan Area had been invited. During the course of the meeting Colonel John E. Fondahl, Director, Government of the District of Columbia, Office of Civil Defense, noted that the President had ordered that the District, including the Federal Government, be automatically evacuated upon declaration of a "warning yellow" by the Air Force. He stated that he had no choice but to obey the President's instructions although no evacuation plan has been completed.

No other matters of particular interest to the Bureau were raised during the evening's discussion, which centered primarily on the necessity for complete cooperation between the Civil Defense officials in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

This memorandum is being submitted to bring up to date the plan, for the emergency relocation of the Director. The plan was originally prepared in March, 1955.

During Normal Working Hours:

If the Bureau is ordered to relocate during normal working hours and the Director is in Washington, his limousine would be at his disposal.

During Nonworking Hours:

If instructions are received to carry out an immediate relocation during nonworking hours and the Director is in Washington Mr. Holloman or Miss Gandy, on being so advised by a member of the Domestic Intelligence Division, will immediately contact one of the following individuals, both of whom live in the near vicinity of the Director's residence and will use their personally owned automobiles to carry out the relocation of the Director:

Inspector G. C. Gearty
Telephone EMerson 2-3215

Mr. Orrin H. Bartlett, Liaison Section,
Telephone OLiver 2-6823

In the event the above individuals are not available arrangements have been made whereby the Administrative Division leaves the key to a Bureau car parked in the Justice Building with the night, midnight and weekend supervisors of the Investigative Division. During the normal work week the key to the car will be in the Investigative Division between 6:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m., and on weekends from 6:00 p.m. Friday to 8:00 a.m. the following Monday. If necessary the supervisor on duty in the Investigative Division will be called by Mr. Holloman or Miss Gandy who will instruct him to proceed directly to the home of the Director to carry out his relocation. This car is not FM radio equipped. The night supervisor in the Investigative Division was selected in preference to the night supervisor of the Domestic Intelligence Division because it is contemplated that the Domestic Intelligence Division supervisor will be completely tied-up in handling last minute relocation details and the notification of Bureau officials.

Another alternative concerns arrangements which have been made with SAC Laughlin of Washington Field whereby Agents manning the LOOKOUT at [redacted] and Agents manning the LOOKOUT at [redacted] telephone b7E [redacted] may be called by Mr. Holloman or Miss Gandy in an emergency to carry out the relocation of the Director. Agents of the Washington Field Office man these LOOKOUTS from 8:00 a.m. to midnight, seven days a week. On Sundays and holidays when there are normally fewer surveillance cars on the street, Bureau cars are made available to the Agents manning the LOOKOUTS. The LOOKOUT Agents will use the cars themselves if they cannot make immediate contact with Agents on surveillance as would normally be done when there are sufficient surveillance cars on the street.

The Bureau's present war plans call for eleven Agents to relocate with eleven of the most critical Government agencies at a time when those agencies leave Washington. These arrangements were made with the concurrence of the interested agencies. Previously there were ten Liaison Agents and one alternate who handled these relocation assignments. Under our present streamlining we are operating domestic liaison with eight Agents and one alternate and, therefore, we are short two Liaison Agents to cover the eleven critical agencies with whom the Bureau must maintain contact during an emergency. To fill the vacancies caused by the reduction in Liaison force two Agents from the Special Memoranda Unit will be designated to handle Liaison relocation assignments with other agencies.

There is attached a list showing the critical U. S. agencies, their relocation sites and the Agent designated to accompany them. The eight Liaison Representatives are assigned where possible to the agency that they normally cover; however, in those cases where one Agent maintains liaison with one or more critical agency it becomes necessary to split up his assignments for purposes of relocation. Agents Landis and Woods are not on the Liaison Staff for normal liaison purposes, however, they are being used for relocation assignments in view of the shortage of regular Liaison Representatives to handle the necessary assignments.

ACTION:

If you approve, these assignments will be made a matter of record in our war plans and interested agencies will be advised of any change in the identity of Agents who will accompany them.

Emergency Headquarters

for Seat of Government

(Q) WAR PLANS - FIELD RELOCATION, SECURITY INDEX, AND TRANSPORTATION OF CRYPTOGRAPHIC MATERIALS -- In the near future, you will be given an additional set of the Security Index cards pertaining to your office together with specific instructions as to how this index should be maintained and filed. The index is to be placed in the personal custody of the Senior Resident Agent at the Resident Agency affording the utmost security and one in which the Bureau has complete control of the space. Changes in this index are to be kept current by forwarding through the mail one copy of each new card as it is received at your office from the Bureau. A copy of the Emergency Detention Program Survey of your office should accompany this index at the Resident Agency. By return mail directed to the attention of the Subversive Control Section of the Domestic Intelligence Division, you should advise as to the identity of the Resident Agency wherein this index will be kept and set forth your personal recommendation that it is a secure site.

The placing of an added copy of this index outside headquarters city is believed necessary to further insure that Bureau responsibilities will be carried out under emergency conditions. The Senior Resident Agent could deliver the index to the field relocation site if necessary.

Current war plans should be modified to reflect that no cryptographic materials should be transported from a field office to an emergency relocation site, even during a period of emergency, without maximum security in the form of an appropriate guard force accompanying these materials at all times. This is particularly [redacted] and related materials. (S)

b7E

If during an evacuation of your office proper security cannot be afforded the transportation of these materials as well as the Security Index, they should be locked in the most secure place in your office and all points of entry into that office should be securely locked before the last person leaves the office. Similarly, all records and materials which cannot be safely transported should be properly stored before the last person leaves the securely locked office.

All personnel who might be in control of the office at the time an evacuation is necessary should be thoroughly instructed as to the procedure outlined in the above paragraph and your war plans should be amended to reflect the location and identity of the Senior Resident Agent who will have custody of the Security Index outside your headquarters city. Reference is made to SAC Letter 55-K dated 6-2-55 setting forth the home address and schools being attended by members of the Attorney General's family.

On 9-23-55 Mr. John Lindsay, Administrative Assistant to the Attorney General, telephonically advised Supervisor McArdle of the War Plans Desk that there is no change in the home address of the Brownell family or the schools being attended by the children. Mr. Lindsay advised further that there has been no change in the Attorney General's thinking in that the FBI will not be required to voluntarily render assistance to members of the Attorney General's family but rather, we will render such assistance as is possible only by request of a member of the Attorney General's family.

Reference is made to my memorandum captioned as above, dated 6/14/55, wherein SAC Laughlin had designated SAs Bernard E. Buscher and Rudolph D. Gerbitz as the WFO Agents who might be called upon during nonduty hours to relocate the Attorney General or members of his family.

SAC Laughlin on 9/27/55 advised that SA Gerbitz has moved from his prior address at [redacted] and it is, therefore, necessary for Mr. Laughlin to substitute the name of SA Donald T. Perrine who resides in [redacted]

SA Donald Thomas Perrine entered on duty as a clerk typist 8/22/49 and received Bureau Agent's appointment on 12/18/50. He has been assigned to WFO since 1/20/54 having previously served in Cleveland, Seattle and Honolulu in that order. SA Perrine completed the Bureau Russian Language School 12/17/54 where he received a final grade of very good.

SA Perrine, a veteran, is not on probation; his record has been satisfactory.

SA Perrine will replace SA Gerbitz as one of two representatives from WFO to carry out the relocation of the Attorney General during nonduty hours if that should become necessary.

At the invitation of the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), Mr. Philcox of the Liaison Section attended a meeting at ODM on 10-4-55 regarding a plan to set up the Regional Defense Mobilization Committee (RDMC) at Dallas, Texas, on an operative basis. A Justice representative was not present. Philcox made it clear that he was representing only the Bureau. The ODM representative said it was through error that Mr. Andretta of the Department was not present and ODM intends to inform Andretta as to what took place.

The enclosed documents were received which indicate that ODM is attempting to implement the work of the RDMC at Dallas on an experimental or exploratory basis to determine what problems they will run into and how they will be solved. A complete coordination is being set up to enable the Dallas Region to cope with an emergency in the event of an enemy attack including mobilization of resources in the disaster area and continuity of government. No test is definitely planned as yet for the Dallas area but this could possibly take place simultaneously with the June, 1956, test in Washington. The Dallas Region covers the States of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. Mr. John O'Neill of ODM will arrive in Dallas on 10-10-55 and will contact the various Government agencies which he thinks should assist in coordination of this plan. We have eight field offices within these five states. Since the RDMC will be set up in Dallas, we are designating the SAC, Dallas, as the principal coordinator or liaison contact with RDMC. The SAC, Dallas, is being instructed to establish close liaison, to make himself personally available for consultation, to handle whatever is logically expected of the Bureau and to keep the Bureau fully informed of all developments. Copies of the communication to Dallas are being forwarded to the other seven field offices in that area for information. Copy of the documents furnished by ODM also being furnished to SAC, Dallas, for background information.

ACTION:

There is enclosed for approval a letter to the SAC, Dallas.

Mr. John O'Neill of the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) will arrive in Dallas on October 10, 1955, to start arrangements to implement the work of the Regional Defense Mobilization Committee (RDMC) in the Dallas Region. Copies of documents received from ODM are enclosed for background information for you. The RDMC in the Dallas Region is being set up on an operative basis as an experiment to determine what problems will arise and how they will be solved. The region covered by the RDMC in Dallas includes the States of Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Copies of this communication are being furnished to the other field offices within this area for information. You are being designated as the principal coordinator and liaison contact for the Bureau. You should establish close personal liaison with Mr. O'Neill upon his arrival; make yourself available for consultation, handle any assignments which should logically come within the Bureau's jurisdiction or interests without becoming involved in the planning of this project, and keep the Bureau carefully advised of all developments.

No relocation test is planned as yet for the Dallas area but it is possible that a test may be attempted in conjunction with the June, 1956, test planned at the Seat of Government.

Mr. O'Neill can be contacted at the Southland Hotel, Dallas, Texas, after October 10, 1955. He plans to have his first meeting of representatives of interested Government agencies on October 17, 1955. You should attend this meeting and advise the Bureau as to the results.

Reference is made to my memorandum of September 22, 1955, pointing out that Ed Cox of the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) advised Liaison that it has been decided that Congress will relocate at [redacted] in the event of an emergency.

In an effort to further verify this, it was discussed with Lieutenant General Willard S. Paul, Deputy Director of ODM, on 10-6-55. He stated that Congress has definitely chosen [redacted] as its relocation site. He stated that this information is confidential and should not be discussed outside of the Bureau. He stated that the use of [redacted] as an alternate site for the President is only a possibility at this time and no definite steps have been taken to set up a site there.

SUBJECT: INTEROFFICE COMMUNICATING SYSTEM
FOR EMERGENCY RELOCATION CENTERSYNOPSIS: Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space For S.O.C.

The bids on Invitation No. 169 covering the interoffice communicating system desired for [redacted] were opened at 2:30 P. M. on 9-9-55. Four bids were submitted as follows:

1. American Amplifier and Television Corporation bid on RCA modernphone (English manufacture) at $844.36 with 30 days delivery.
2. Transelectric Manufacturing Company bid on Foner at $1,025.65 with 30 days delivery. b7E
3. Shrader Sound, Incorporated, bid on DuKane at $1,046.03 with two weeks delivery.
4. Dictograph Products, Incorporated, bid on Dictograph at $1,802.27 with ten days delivery.

The Specifications on the bid Invitation were prepared around Dictograph equipment. No bidder made any exception to the specifications, proposing to furnish equivalent product to that called for in the specifications. In that operation of the low bidder's equipment would be foreign to the Director while at [redacted] it is recommended that the bids on Invitation No. 169 be cancelled in their entirety.

In lieu thereof, it is suggested that old Dictograph units recently removed from service here in the building be overhauled ~~and~~ ~~installed~~ by Dictograph Company and the Laboratory obtain and run the cable. It is believed that this procedure would incur less than $500 in costs rather than the bid quotations as set forth.

Dictograph's labor estimate for installation is $240, with an additional $54 required for rewiring the units presently in Bureau possession, for a total of $294. The Laboratory has sufficient equipment and cable to meet the needs of the system, except for special jacks and plugs from the Cinch-Jones Sales Company which will cost approximately $25.42. It will be necessary for the Exhibits Section to construct a cabinet to house the executive station with its associated amplifier, microphone, loud-speaker, relays and gong.

By letter September 5, 1955, attached, A. H. F. Hurley, Office of Defense Mobilization, forwarded a proposed memorandum, attached, for distribution to the heads of executive departments and agencies in this area concerning action to be taken by all employees of the Executive Branch in the Metropolitan Washington Area on receipt of the alert signal. The Director is a member of the National Security Council Special Committee on the captioned matter, and Liaison Agent Day has been attending meetings of that committee. For this reason, Hurley's letter was addressed to Day with a request for his informal comments "so that I may advise Dr. Fleming of the views of the Special Committee."

The proposed memorandum notes that by direction of the President, all Executive Branch employees will evacuate upon an alert; that evacuation routes and procedures will be the same as prescribed by local civil defense authorities for the general public; that each department and agency is responsible for furnishing instructions to its employees; and that department and agency heads should, after evacuation, proceed to their relocation sites.

Nothing in the proposed memorandum is inconsistent with FBI plans.

ACTION:

If you approve, Liaison Agent Day will orally and formally advise Hurley, who is a member of the NSC Special Committee, that we have no objection to his proposed memorandum.

The [REDACTED] provided an emergency light for use in the Generator Room at the FBI Academy. This set consists of two small flood lights mounted on a wet cell battery and charger case and is plugged into a 110 volt electric outlet. Whenever electric power fails, the light automatically comes on providing illumination for the starting of the emergency generator.

This equipment is ideal for this purpose and a similiar unit could be used advantageously in the telephone switchboard room inasmuch as the switchboard will, on the failure of electric power, continue to operate on a battery system.

ADDENDUM: ACF:dps 10-12-55. We presently have provided in the Switchboard Room a battery operated neon tube emergency light which I believe to be satisfactory for use during those periods where commercial power fails and prior to emergency power being put into use. It is understood that the cost of this suggested item is approximately $80 and though it would be a very definite convenience and would afford continuity to our Switchboard operations, we feel that the problem of power failure is not such as to warrant this expenditure at this time.

Memorandum, Mr. Harbo to Mr. Tolson, 8/16/54, pointed out that a minimum of 173 employees would be necessary to carry on Bureau activities at the relocation site for the first 24-48 hours. R. P. Rich

A re-evaluation of this essential number was requested in Director's memorandum of 9/19/55. The result of the survey reflects this figure has been increased to 184. This increase is due primarily to an increase in the number of individuals needed for communications operations in an emergency.

The following is a tabulation of evacuation personnel as of 8/16/54 and at the present time:

	8/16/54	Present time
Director's Office	8	9
Mr. Tolson's Office	5	4
Mr. Nichols' Office	5	5
Mr. Boardman's Office	5	5
Identification Division	2	2
Training and Inspection Division	3	2
Administrative Division	6	7
Records and Communications Division	41	51
Domestic Intelligence Division	82	83
Investigative Division	6	6
Laboratory Division	10	10
	173	184

Personnel from Records and Communications Division will have to be increased, if IBM equipment can be relocated in time to operate it and if it is possible to continue central payroll procedures in an emergency. If all communications equipment is not installed at the time of emergency, additional Laboratory Division personnel will be necessary. Two representatives from the State Department whose services are required in connection with protective custody of diplomats program will also be at the relocation site.

ACTION:

Unless advised to the contrary all 184 individuals certified by each Division or office as being essential RECORDED - 87 INDEXED - 87 66-17381-1193 considered the new relocation group for the first 24-48 hours.

A number of changes have been made at the relocation center since the last alert. Collapsible partitions have been added and personnel space reassigned necessitating changes in the Dictograph and buzzer systems.

It will now be necessary to install a separate buzzer system for each of the following individuals: Tolson, Boardman, Nichols, Belmont, Nease and Sizoo. Each of these systems will necessitate a push button in the official's office with a buzzer in the outer office designated for secretarial use. It will also be necessary to install the Dictograph system in such a manner that it can be used by Tolson wherever he is located, dependent upon the Attorney General being at [redacted] or not.

ACTION:

Unless advised to the contrary the Laboratory will procure the necessary buzzers, push buttons and transformers and make the installations desired. The Laboratory will also run the additional cable for the extension of the Dictograph system.

On October 18, 1955, Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section attended a meeting at the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) concerning relocation sites. The group that met was the relocation officers from various Government agencies and they were called together by Mr. Henry Hurley, Administrative Assistant to General Willard Paul, ODM. Mr. Hurley explained that in getting ready for the fall relocation test, ODM would like to be in a position of knowing that each agency was capable of operating with its present relocation facilities. Mr. Hurley specifically asked that a letter be sent to ODM from the head of each agency saying that the relocation site is satisfactory for conducting tests and operations in an emergency. Mr. Hurley stated that if it is necessary to operate from the sites for a long period of time, it is understandable that some construction would be necessary. However, that is not the problem immediately at hand.

RECOMMENDATION:

If you approve, it is recommended that the attached letter be sent forward to ODM.

Reference is made to your memorandum of 9-22-55, in which it was pointed out that we will take steps to procure the necessary accommodations for the emergency relocation of key Bureau personnel in the event of an emergency. Transportation for approximately 40-50 is needed.

b7E

Mr. D. J. Sullivan of the Liaison Section discussed this with Colonel E. H. Lahti of the Department of Defense. Colonel Lahti advised that it would be necessary to first get the approval of the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) before the Defense Department could make any attempts to obtain the necessary facilities for transportation.

Mr. Philcox of Liaison discussed this with Lieutenant General Willard S. Paul and Jack Hurley of ODM on 10-3-55. They advised that ODM has no objection if the Bureau can work out its own arrangements with the Defense Department. They advised, however, that the possibility of the Defense Department acceding to such a request is rather dubious in so far as helicopters are concerned. At the time helicopter transportation was proposed for key government officials, the White House limited this to 63 officials to be relocated by helicopter and the White House is using 30 of these 63 spaces. The other 33 spaces are allotted for key officials, including cabinet members and the heads of key agencies. The Defense Department, in order to comply with this request, has provided a helicopter company which is stationed in the Washington area and has requested an additional one and one-half million dollars through the Bureau of the Budget to maintain this operation on a stand-by basis. General Paul pointed out that it is possible that if the Defense Department should accede to the Bureau's request, it would then request additional funds on the basis thereof. General Paul suggested that the Bureau would probably have more success in attempting to obtain the use of a boat from the Defense Department. He suggested that we discuss this with Carter Burgess, Assistant Secretary of Defense, who is familiar with this problem.

ACTION:

Liaison is discussing this further with Assistant Secretary of Defense Carter Burgess.

By memorandum dated 10-4-55 in captioned matter, you were advised that the possibility of procuring necessary accommodations for the emergency relocation of key Bureau personnel in the event of any emergency had been discussed with the Department of Defense (OSD) and with the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM). Re memorandum pointed out further that General Paul, ODM, suggested that the Bureau would probably have more success in attempting to obtain the use of a [redacted] from OSD. He suggested the Bureau discuss this with Carter Burgess, Assistant Secretary of Defense.

Liaison has ascertained that Assistant Secretary of Defense Burgess is presently out of the U. S. and not expected to return until the first part of next month. In his absence, this matter was again discussed with Mr. John Fanning, Director, Office of Domestic Programs, OSD. Fanning advised that his office has taken over its present duties within the past two weeks, that he is just now becoming acquainted with the different sections and divisions within his office, that the Bureau problem has been mentioned to him but as yet nothing concrete has been developed towards a solution. Fanning advised further that he would make arrangements for a conference between OSD personnel handling this type problem, himself, and SA D. J. Sullivan, Liaison Section, for the first part of the week of 10-17-55.

This matter will be followed closely by Liaison.

Re my memoranda to you dated September 9, 1955, and September 15, 1955, captioned as above. By memorandum of September 9, 1955, you were advised that the Office of Defense Mobilization would be furnishing the Bureau with several items of communications equipment which were set forth in detail in my memorandum of September 15, 1955.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T) has been engaged by ODM to install, maintain and service this equipment at the Bureau's Relocation Headquarters. It was recommended at that time that the AT&T employees that would perform these services should not be required to furnish any further clearance for admittance to our facilities other than the military clearance which has been granted through ODM. It was suggested by Mr. Tolson at that time that we should check these names through our indices.

Mr. Herman of AT&T recently furnished the Communications Section with the names of all those employees who would have occasion to enter our space at relocation headquarters either to make installation or to perform maintenance or repair on the aforementioned ODM equipment.

The following is a complete current list of AT&T employees who would have reason to enter Bureau space.

Milbourne C. Gallion

Herbert L. Pocklington

Frank A. Plunkett

Wynel P. Cooper

William E. Aklin

Newell D. Wakeman

Sammel R. Sanford

On my memorandum of September 2, 1955, recommending representatives of the FBI Laboratory and the Liaison Section discuss the matter of a secure communications system between the Department and Bureau relocation sites the Director in approving the recommendation noted "But in any conference look after FBI interests first - that is our problem and let INS think out their own problems. H."

Mr. Willis of the Department telephonically advised that Departmental representatives would like to meet with Bureau representatives at 11 a.m., October 12, 1955, in the office of John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator for the Department, to discuss the communications problem.

Mr. Willis advised that a Mr. Hulbert of the National Security Agency (NSA) will be present with the Departmental representatives. Hulbert will be present to insure appropriate security measures are being taken by the Department in connection with the cryptographic equipment NSA is making available to the Department.

At the time the Director originally approved the FBI-Department conference on a secure communications system between the FBI and the Department it was not known that Mr. Hulbert of NSA would be present. Bureau representatives will endeavor to find out what it is the Department wants and will not commit the Bureau in any way.

RECOMMENDATION:

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Hulbert will be present, it is recommended that Bureau representatives meet with Department representatives and Mr. Hulbert to determine what it is the Department wants in connection with the secure communications system between the Bureau and the Department.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - SECURE COMMUNICATIONS BETWEEN DEPARTMENT AND BUREAU RELOCATION SITES

Pursuant to my memorandum of 10/11/55, Messrs. Conrad and Downing of the Laboratory Division and McArdle of the Liaison Section attended a conference called by Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department, in his office at 11 a.m. today. Also in attendance were Mr. Willis of the Department and Mr. Walls, INS and Communications Coordinator of the Department, and Messrs. Hulbert and Cook of the National Security Agency (NSA).

b7E

Hulbert advised that the Department would be supplied with

The more desirable alternative appears to be for the Bureau to prepare special key lists for use between the Bureau and Department relocation sites. Mr. Downing of the Cryptanalysis-Translation Section advises that a three-month supply of key lists can be prepared for approximately $100, all of which is for salaries. This is a relatively small problem since the Bureau is presently supplying all field offices with comparable key lists, and preparation of key lists by the Bureau is the only feasible way to insure security of the traffic between the Bureau and the Department.

Airhart advised that the Department is considering the feasibility of a direct telephone and teletype circuit between [ ] and [ ] the circuit to be on a standby basis pending an emergency or test relocation. The Department relocation site is now equipped with one commercial teletype circuit and commercial telephone circuits.

Re my memorandum captioned as above, 10/12/55, relative to a meeting between Departmental and Bureau representatives on a secure communications system between the Department and the FBI relocation sites, and recommending that the Bureau advise the Department that the Bureau would prepare [redacted] the Bureau and the Department relocation sites. The Director noted, "Did Department ask for this? H." The Bureau has on two previous occasions indicated to the Department the desirability and need for a secure communications system between the Bureau and the Department relocation sites. The Department did not request the Bureau to prepare [redacted] nor did the Bureau representatives present indicate such lists could or would be prepared by the Bureau.

Mr. John Airhart, Department Relocation Coordinator, asked if it would be possible for the Department to use the [redacted] which the Bureau now uses in its everyday operations. Bureau representatives present advised Mr. Airhart that this matter would be given further consideration. For Bureau information, it would be undesirable to furnish the Department with special [redacted] being used by the Bureau in its day-to-day operations since it would enable the Department to read intra-FBI communications.

It is believed that the only manner in which communications between the Bureau and the Department relocation sites can be held secure is for the Bureau to provide the Department with the special lists mentioned in my memorandum of 10/12/55. This would assure utmost security of any communication between the Bureau and the Department in an emergency and would prevent any other agency from decoding the message. A 3-months supply of these special key lists can be prepared for an estimated $100, all of which is for salaries.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Boardman 9/21/55 in which it is recommended that the Laboratory take any necessary action to stay abreast of new developments concerning the ~~filtering, pressurizing plan recommended for~~ [redacted] in order that the Bureau will be in a position to quickly install any equipment necessary to protect [redacted] site against radiological, biological and chemical warfare agents.

It is noted that the ~~Army Chemical Corps~~ <sup>MC</sup> in March, 1955, surveyed our facilities at [redacted] and recommended detailed steps necessary to furnish the desired protection, including procurement of Chemical Corps Model E-34 Collective Protector ($3,000) and two Model M-6 Collective Protectors ($580). The recommended plan also provided for installation of special doors and other items requiring construction work. It is estimated that it will require from one month to four months to secure delivery of the necessary equipment and to have the necessary installation work carried out. In addition, it has been the experience of the Laboratory that unless military-type equipment is obtained prior to the onset of an emergency, it may be impossible to get the equipment at all, since after the emergency has arisen, the military equipment is all retained for military purposes.

The Laboratory has maintained very close liaison with Dr. Henry I. Stubblefield, Research and Development Division, Office of Chief Chemical Officer, for several years and will, of course, continue to maintain such close liaison with this branch of the service. Current information obtained from Dr. Stubblefield indicates that the equipment recommended in March, 1955, is still the best equipment for the purpose.

The above facts are pointed out as pertinent in connection with Mr. Belmont's recommendation that the Bureau be in the position to quickly install the necessary equipment if such installation becomes desirable. It is pointed out that a decision as to desirability and steps toward procurement of the equipment would have to be taken well in advance of the anticipated need since procurement and installation, rather than a determination of the most recent type of equipment, appear to be the factors which will determine how quickly such an installation could be made.

You will recall that members of the [redacted] and a representative from [redacted] surveyed the [redacted] at the Bureau's request in March, 1955, to obtain data on which to base recommendations for adequate protection against chemical, biological, and radiological agents. The Director o.k.'ed a recommendation in May, 1955, that we do not equip the [redacted] or any part thereof for protection against the above agents at this time.

The Bureau has purchased 115 gas masks to supplement those the Bureau had on hand, thus bringing the total to 173 gas masks at [redacted]. The gas masks will be adequate for the protection of individuals against the inhalation of radiological, chemical, and biological agents, but the personnel handling telephone communications in [redacted] will be unable to wear gas masks and still carry on their duties.

The Chemical Corps representatives have recommended that the communications rooms be equipped with ~~an~~ filtering pressurizing system to protect the employees in those rooms against dangerous agents. These men advised in March, 1955, that constant improvements were being made in equipment which would filter out radiological, biological, and chemical agents and that if at some future date, the Bureau decided that such installations should be made, some research should be done in the development of new equipment before that equipment is installed.

Although it is highly desirable to equip the communications rooms with appropriate machinery to filter out the undesirable agents, it is not believed that it should be done at this time because of budgetary difficulties. However, it is believed desirable that the Laboratory keep abreast of developments in equipment which will filter out radiological, biological, and chemical agents.

RECOMMENDATION: (1) That we refrain from equipping the [redacted] with filtering equipment at this time, and reconsider the matter if changing world conditions so indicate, in any event in 6 months.

(2) That the Laboratory take such steps as are necessary to stay abreast of the developments in equipment which will safeguard Bureau employees at the relocation site against radiological, biological, and chemical agents so that the Bureau will be in a position to quickly install the necessary equipment if this becomes desirable.

Handwritten: Headquarters - 10 9

By memorandum dated September 13, 1955, from Assistant Attorney General Tompkins to the Attorney General copy to the Director there was attached a memorandum from Mr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), to the Attorney General which states that in the event of an emergency requiring activation of relocation plans during office hours special transportation plans have been made for the Attorney General, Assistant Attorney General for the Internal Security Division and the FBI Director. The memorandum further directs that the above individuals should proceed as quickly as possible to the "Mall" between Fourth and Seventh Streets, Northwest, which will be the assembly point for those personnel receiving special transportation.

Mr. Tompkins' memorandum sets forth the ODM plan is effective as of the date of receipt; the ODM plan is applicable during "office hours" only; that arrangements during other than the duty hours will be made by each agency to satisfy its own needs; that approximately 40 high Government officials will be involved; three or four helicopters will take-off from [redacted] at an appropriate signal arrive at [redacted] fifteen minutes later and take-off from [redacted] as each is filled. The helicopters will go to [redacted] only, this trip will take 30 to 35 minutes; officials involved will have to make their own arrangements to get from [redacted] to any other location.

Mr. Tompkins added that because the responsibility for the transportation of the Attorney General during a defense emergency has been delegated to the FBI, it will be assumed that any further action will be undertaken by that Bureau.

SENT DIRECTOR

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman.

Plan for Relocation of Bureau and Attorney General

The Bureau has made plans to relocate the Director and the Attorney General by automobile at any hour of the day or night. The Attorney General is to go to [redacted] or wherever he so desires and the Director will be taken to the Bureau relocation site unless he specifies otherwise. b7E

The Bureau has arrangements for emergency evacuation through use of personal cars, Bureau cars and [redacted] during normal working hours and personally owned cars during nonduty hours. In addition to this plan it is desirable to have an arrangement through the facility of a [redacted]. The plan proposed by ODM does not permit the use of [redacted] in other than normal working hours. With reference to the use of [redacted] there is some information that [redacted] may not be open during other than daylight hours. During nonworking hours it is to be noted that the Bureau personnel is widely dispersed throughout the metropolitan area and the use of personally owned cars is believed to be more desirable than attempting to congregate on the Mall for use of [redacted] or proceeding to [redacted]. Therefore, backup facilities are needed primarily during daylight working hours. b7E

With reference to emergency relocation by [redacted] the Director advised the Attorney General by memorandum February 28, 1955, that a plan calling for the use of [redacted] to provide for the relocation of the Attorney General, Mr. Tompkins and himself appeared to be a most unsatisfactory arrangement insofar as the Bureau was concerned. Several Bureau officials and some key personnel have definite responsibilities in the security field and must be evacuated immediately in order to assure the internal security of the country and failure to accomplish this will reduce the potency of the Bureau's operations during an emergency. b7E

On 2-23-55 a Bureau Liaison Agent advised Colonel E. H. Tahti, Department of Defense, who has been organizing the emergency [redacted] that any such plan which did not include key personnel of the Bureau was inadequate from the Bureau's standpoint. Colonel Tahti advised that the evacuation of Government officials by [redacted] was in relation to their importance in the all-out defense and security effort. b7E

OBSERVATIONS

Any system wherein we have to rely on another agency to transport Bureau personnel is undesirable. It is believed that we should stick to our present relocation plan using automotive transportation but that we should have some backup plan to be used during working hours when it may be impossible to leave Washington by automobile.

Memorandum for Mr. Boardman

You will recall that Mr. Yeagley of the Department was instructed by the Attorney General to explore the possibility of getting a [redacted] in an emergency. It is suggested b7E that further efforts be made to have such [redacted] available for emergency daylight use when the need will be greatest.

The helicopter plan presented by Mr. Flemming, ODM, may be adequate insofar as the Attorney General is concerned. However, we are again advising the Attorney General that the present [redacted] plan is inadequate insofar as the Bureau is concerned and are requesting that he further explore the possibility of [redacted] b7E [redacted] as backup transportation for key Bureau personnel. The Attorney General is being informed that if he uses [redacted] to go to [redacted] we will have an Agent available at [redacted] to take him to his desired destination unless he advises to the contrary.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) If the Director desires to take the [redacted] to [redacted] we will have the Resident Agent at [redacted] take him to [redacted] or wherever he desires to go. If the Director does not desire [redacted] out of Washington, D. C., we will rely on automobile transportation, if possible, or the use of a boat if it can be procured.

b7E

*Certainly am not going to for it is in absolute discretion

(2) Insofar as the Attorney General is concerned if he goes by [redacted] we can have the Resident Agent at [redacted] and take the Attorney General to wherever he desires to go.

DECLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM:

DATE 4/14/2010 DIRECTOR, FBI

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

WAR PLANS - EMERGENCY RELOCATION

Reference is made to the memorandum from Mr. Tompkins to you dated September 19, 1955, to which was attached a memorandum directed to you from Mr. Arthur S. Fleming, Director, Office of Defense Mobilization, dated September 8, 1955, both pertaining to emergency relocation by use of [redacted]

b7E

You will recall that this Bureau has gone to considerable effort to obtain [redacted] for the emergency relocation of key Bureau personnel whose services are essential in a period of emergency. The need for such emergency transportation facilities was discussed with the President on December 14, 1954. Subsequently the Office of Defense Mobilization proposed a plan similar to that set forth in referenced communications. Bureau representatives advised Office of Defense Mobilization representatives on February 23, 1955, that any plan which did not include the emergency relocation of key Bureau personnel was inadequate from the Bureau's standpoint. You were similarly advised by memorandum February 23, 1955. I am still of the opinion that any plan which does not include key Bureau personnel having definite emergency responsibilities in the security field is inadequate.

I am wondering if at an early opportunity it would not be desirable for you to again take up with appropriate authorities the matter of procuring [redacted] to accommodate key Bureau personnel having essential emergency functions. [redacted] would be used as a backup system to relocate these key people if our present plans for relocation by automobile cannot be put into operation. You will recall that Mr. Teagley of the Department was given the responsibility of obtaining [redacted] for emergency relocation of key personnel of the Department and this Bureau.

Following instructions given at the conference February 7, 1955, this Bureau made arrangements for your evacuation from Washington by automobile in an emergency

In connection with the study being made of Soviet War Plan "A" involving attack with no strategic warning, the IIC and the ICIS were given the problem of sabotage of communications and power facilities serving the Continental Air Defense and Strategic Air Command bases and their tie-ins with key Governmental control centers. Sabotage of such communications would be calculated to impede U.S. defense and the initiation of U. S. nuclear attack the USSR.

The military agencies of the IIC have completed a survey of sabotage of the military communications concerned and are preparing a documented report. The ICIS agencies and the Office of Defense Mobilization have been studying the governmental control centers and their relocation sites. The Office of Defense Mobilization has designated as key Government control centers for the purposes of this problem the [redacted] and the FBI.

The military agencies of IIC have considered the Joint Chiefs of Staff relocation center at [redacted] because of alternate joint military communications center there. The ICIS agencies and ODM have not studied possible sabotage of the FBI relocation site according to assurances given by Mr. Leonard Bienvenu, Executive Secretary of ICIS. Bienvenu was told by Supervisor [redacted] that any study of FBI vulnerability would be made by the FBI and not by any other agency.

OBSERVATION:

The current FBI relocation site at [redacted] cannot be considered as the FBI relocation site for 1958 since the Director has instructed that another site be obtained.

Since a new relocation site has not been chosen and communications facilities installed therein, no estimate can be made of the vulnerability of the Bureau's relocation site in 1958.

In accordance with the oral request of Supervisor L. Whitson, the following information is set forth.

Assuming that this country is under attack and one or two Russian saboteurs have specific missions to be carried out at a specific time to knock out (a) the microwave tower site and (b) the two headquarters CW radio stations, then "from the standpoint of the enemy, what is the quickest and best way to sabotage above communications, bearing in mind that it must be done at a specific time?"

With regard to (a) the microwave site, the best means of sabotaging this station is to physically destroy the horizontal reflector and wave guide horn located on the separate housing outside of the building proper between the two antenna tower legs. This could be done by means of battering with a heavy hammer or maul. The effective counter to this attack is believed to be in the form of posted armed guards.

Regarding (b) the CW radio stations, the saboteur must penetrate to the equipment proper in the station house itself in order to be completely effective. He must approach the building and where only one man is on duty, as in the case of the transmitting station, he must dispose of the employee by pistol shot and gain entry to the building proper where he can destroy the equipment by sledge hammer blows. Where more personnel are to be neutralized he must resort to poison gas or explosives thrown through the window. Following up he can then destroy the physical equipment by breaking with sledge hammer.

The effective countermeasure needed for these sites under the conditions posed is an organized armed guard force operating separate and distinct from the communications men assigned.

While the above represents an answer to the specific question as posed, there are other means of accomplishing the destruction such as small charges of explosive to destroy the outside housing at the microwave site or explosives to destroy personnel and equipment at the CW radio sites. In each instance it would require penetration by a saboteur and it is believed that the effective counter to this penetration must be in the form of armed guards.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this information be forwarded for the attention of Supervisor L. Whitson of the Domestic Intelligence Division.

In connection with the ~~Top Secret~~ study being made for the National Security Council regarding sabotage in support of a surprise air attack, the FBI relocation site at [ ] has been indicated by the Office of Defense Mobilization to be a key Government control center. One of the hypothetical sabotage operations being studied is the sabotage of communications serving the Continental Air Defense Command, the Strategic Air Command and key Government control centers. The FBI interest would be in receiving warning of impending air attack, instructions from the President to intern enemy diplomats and instructions to detain dangerous persons and the relaying of such instructions to the Field.

The Director has stated that although the problem involves a surprise attack in mid-1958 we must consider our relocation site to be at [ ] until we have found something better.

Assumptions:

The assumptions with which we have to work are as follows:

1. The surprise attack by enemy bombers will penetrate our radar net at H-hour, which is 0500 Z (12 midnight EST or EDT), July 1, 1958.
2. Saboteurs specially trained and equipped for their sabotage mission will receive a coded signal from Radio Moscow one hour before the air attack commences (H minus 1 hour) and they will attempt to commit their sabotage at the precise minute of the attack or as soon as possible thereafter.
3. The purpose of this particular sabotage operation is to impede the U. S. defense and the initiation of U. S. nuclear attack on the USSR by preventing exchange of information and orders between the Continental Air Defense Command, the Strategic Air Command and key Government control centers.

4. The main FBI relocation installation [redacted] can be attacked with a small atomic weapon with a 1 kiloton yield (1 thousand tons of TNT) but other communications points will be attacked by conventional sabotage means. b7E

5. Washington, D. C., will be wiped out in an explosion of a 10 megaton weapon (10 million tons of TNT) at H-hour plus 30 minutes.

6. The air attack will be a complete surprise following several months of an intense propaganda and diplomatic "peace offensive" on the part of the enemy.

Identification of the Target:

The sabotage target consists of the telephone, teletype, microwave and radio facilities of the FBI serving the relocation site. The main [redacted] building is a control center for all of these communications services.

The microwave structure is located on the [redacted]
[redacted]

Telephone and teletype lines could be sabotaged at various locations off the [redacted] assuming the saboteurs were able to identify them. The microwave capabilities could be attacked either at [redacted] or at the microwave structure. Radio communications could be attacked at [redacted] and also at the transmitter and receiver sites. These sites also have telephone and teletype communications. b7E

The Problem:

The problem is to determine from the standpoint of the enemy what is the quickest and best way to sabotage the above-mentioned communications.

If [redacted] building was demolished, the microwave structure and the two radio sites could operate without it.

Memo for L. V. Boardman

If, on the other hand, the microwave structure and the two radio sites were rendered inoperative and the telephone and teletype lines serving [ ] were sabotaged at a distance from the [ ] would be forced to depend upon such communications as it might be able to obtain in an emergency from the [ ] or through insecure long distance telephone lines at some exchange off the [ ]

b7E

On the other hand, if [ ] and the two radio sites were knocked out, it would not be necessary to attempt sabotaging the lines supplying them with telephone and teletype communications.

Description of Installations:

A. The [ ] building at [ ] is a three story brick building with communications facilities in the north end of the building. It is located on the main street of the reservation, which is well lighted at night. There is a parking lot at the rear of [ ] and across the parking lot are the [ ]

Countermeasures:

A. Countermeasures for a nuclear weapon attack such as is indicated would involve a physical check of all motor vehicles coming [redacted] This does not appear to be possible during peacetime.

B. A deterrent for the type of sabotage indicated for [redacted]

b7E

C. The effective countermeasure for the radio sites under the conditions posed would be an [redacted] [redacted] operating separately from the communications staff assigned to the radio stations.

D. There are no countermeasures which can be applied by the FBI that can prevent sabotage of telephone and teletype lines serving the relocation site.

Observations:

1. The purpose of the relocation site is to provide an alternate headquarters with appropriate communications facilities to direct activities of the Field.

2. Sabotage of communications would nullify the purpose of the relocation.

3. There are no practical countermeasures to prevent sabotage of telephone and teletype lines and the FBI would not normally place wartime security provisions in effect (and extra precautions against sabotage of telecommunications would fall in this category) unless there was a clear and convincing indication of need for implementing war plans. There is no such indication at this time and under the assumptions of the problem there would be none.

4. We must balance the practical necessity of avoiding unnecessary operating costs against the tactical necessity of admitting to other agencies that our radio and microwave installations serving the [redacted] relocation site are and will be in 1958 extremely vulnerable to conventional sabotage.

b7E

Memo for L. V. Boardman

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that [ ] be informed that no wartime security provisions would be in effect for the FBI relocation site in the absence of strategic warning; that the main relocation building would be vulnerable to an atomic weapon; that the telephone and teletype lines serving the relocation site can be cut by a saboteur knowing their location and no practical countermeasures can prevent this being done; that the microwave and radio sites are vulnerable to surprise sabotage attack by forces having numerical and fire power superiority over the persons charged with the operation of those sites.

NET EVALUATION SUBCOMMITTEE (SECURITY MEASURES - FBI INSTALLATION)

Reference is made to Mr. Belmont's memorandum to Mr. Boardman dated August 15, 1955, in which it was recommended that the writer submit suggestions for (A) security measures short of full wartime security by the FBI (B) security measures to be placed in effect in time of proclaimed national emergency and full alert in anticipation of war by (1) Provost Marshal and (2) SAC,

RADIO STATIONS

On Saturday, September 10, 1955, the writer inspected the sites of the Radio Station at [redacted] Both stations are located in a rural, sparsely settled area. The radio station at [redacted] is visible from the road on two sides and the one at [redacted] is set back from the road and is not easily seen from the road. At both stations, however, both electric lines and communication cables run from the road to the station and the antenna fields will identify them as radio stations. Both stations are located on private property and security will rest solely with the FBI.

The Radio Operators have received training in the use of a revolver and at the present sites, a revolver is maintained at each station.

The following recommendations are being made for security when these stations are activated under present world conditions:

(1) All outside doors of the radio stations should remain locked at all times. Operators will each have a key, and a door bell installed at the front entrance will be available for those persons who have official business at the stations and do not possess a key. The entrance of both stations are lighted and visitors may be identified before the door is unlocked by the operator. In this connection it is recommended that the Laboratory consider whether it is feasible to install some type of speaking tube or amplifier which would permit the operator to converse with the visitor before the door is opened.

(2) At the radio station at each location there is to be a wooden "ranch-type" fence with a cattle guard to permit automobiles to enter without opening a gate. It is recommended that the Laboratory consider the advisability of installing an infrared light beam on this fence, which when broken anywhere around the fence or through the opening, will sound an alarm in the building. This will warn the operators of the approach of an automobile or of someone who might try to climb the fence. In the event of an alarm or such action that would be suspicious, [ ] can be contacted on leased land lines or by FM Radio and agents can be dispatched to investigate by automobile or helicopter (a stand-by helicopter is available 24 hours a day at the [ ] [ ]). Two of the factors which of necessity must be considered are the cost of such an installation and the availability of funds. b7E

(3) Each station, in addition to being equipped with a .38 caliber revolver should be equipped with a .12 gauge shotgun and the operators trained in its use. This training could be given at their regular scheduled training session.

(4) Both radio stations should be "posted" in accordance with the laws of [ ] (by the owners of the property) and the sites suitably marked to the effect that they are posted.

The above recommended are based on the operation of the sites under present alert conditions. In the event of a full alert in anticipation of war it is recommended that armed guards be placed at each radio site for maximum protection against sabotage. In this connection, both radio stations are flood lighted and there could be installed on the flat roof of each station, an observation post which will give greater visibility of the antenna fields as well as the main station. Short of actual war time conditions, this should not be considered. b7E

MICROWAVE TOWER

The microwave tower and building are located approximately 400 yards from [ ]. The building remains locked and no one is in occupancy at that place. The [ ] patrol the area of the Microwave Tower every two hours during the night. For additional security, it is recommended, consistent with availability of funds, that an eight foot cyclone fence be placed around the tower and building with a locked gate. There are spare telephone lines from the microwave building to [redacted] and it is recommended that the Laboratory consider the advisability of placing an infrared light beam around the fence in order that an audible warning may be sounded at [redacted] in the event someone tampers with the fence. In the event of a proclaimed national emergency, the [redacted] will supply a sentry over this installation.

[redacted] has 24-hour agent coverage. As a second step in security, it is recommended that should funds be available steps be taken to install flood lights at each corner of the building which will make it impossible to gain entrance through windows without being observed. It is believed that maximum security is being maintained at the present time insofar as illegal entrance is concerned.

[redacted] has advised that in the event of a proclaimed national emergency or full alert, security regulations will be tightened throughout the entire base and that a more careful screening of visitors will be conducted at the sentry booth, and that sentry booths will be placed throughout the base and will decrease to a greater degree, the free movement of enemy personnel.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be forwarded to the Domestic Intelligence Division for their information.

Reference is made to the technical phases of Mr. [redacted] memorandum to Mr. Mason captioned as above, dated 9-16-55.

The following observations are made by the Laboratory with reference to the pertinent portions of the recommendations:

(1) That feasibility of installing an amplifier or speaking tube be explored. Laboratory does not believe voice amplification is necessary in order to be adequately heard through the wooden entry door.

(2) That the advisability of installing an infrared light beam alarm system on the wooden fence surrounding the buildings be explored. An infrared alarm system, projecting a single beam barrier along the fence, will cost approximately $700 per site. Laboratory does not believe expenditure would be sound in that a trained saboteur could readily avoid such beam systems. An electromagnetic alarm system, forming an electronic barrier along the fence for 16 to 18 feet in all directions will cost approximately $2500 to $3000 per site. Laboratory believes this expense too high for amount of security gained. Warning of the approach of automobiles can be accomplished at no cost by installing the road alarm systems presently in use at the [redacted] as soon as they are vacated.

As a separate item, the recommendation that a fence be erected around the unattended microwave station near the barracks building in [redacted] is concurred in by the Laboratory. The Laboratory can and will, if approved, equip the building proper with an alarm system which will sound in [redacted] Building in the event entry is made into the microwave station.

RECOMMENDATION:

Accordingly, it is recommended that the above observations be forwarded for consideration along with other items included in the referenced memorandum.

My memorandum of August 24, 1955, stated that the Bureau's present war plans call for eleven Agents to relocate with eleven of the most critical Government agencies at a time when those agencies leave Washington, D. C. These arrangements were made with the concurrence of the interested agencies. Reference memorandum pointed out that under our present streamlining we are operating domestic liaison with eight Agents and one alternate; therefore, we are short two Agents to cover the eleven critical agencies with whom the Bureau must maintain contact during an emergency. To fill these vacancies two Agents from the Special Memoranda Unit were previously designated to handle liaison with other Government agencies during relocation.

Since the submission of reference memorandum there have been changes which necessitate making new assignments. Agents O. H. Bartlett and N. W. Philcox have exchanged assignments. Agent S. D. Ellis has resigned. Agent J. G. Landis has been transferred. Agent B. A. Wells has been moved from the Special Memoranda Unit-Alternate Liaison Agent assignment to full-time liaison and Agent W. T. Whaley has taken over the job formerly handled by Wells.

Enclosed is a new list showing the eleven critical U. S. agencies their relocation sites, and the Agents now designated to accompany them during relocation. The eight regular Liaison Agents are assigned for relocation purposes, where possible, to the agencies they normally cover. Agents C. A. Moynihan and W. F. Woods are not on the liaison staff for normal liaison purposes but are being used for relocation assignments in view of the shortage of regular Liaison Agents.

ACTION:

If you approve, these assignments will be made a matter of record in our war plans and interested agencies will be advised of any changes in the identity of the Agents who will accompany them.

Reurlets dated 10-7-55 and 10-17-55 transmitting for the information of the Bureau and for forwarding to the Bureau's relocation site copies of amended detailed procedures for carrying out all phases of the captioned program by the Washington Field Office.

Before the Bureau forwards a copy of the WFO plans to the Bureau's relocation site, from which location they can be transported to the WFO relocation site in an emergency, certain revisions in your procedures will be necessary.

The general method of presentation for each of the Soviet Bloc establishments is similar enough so that the basic comments are being made only with regard to your procedures for the establishments of Czechoslovakia. Other procedures should be appropriately revised in the light of such comments.

On page 1, paragraph 2, under "Conditions," statements are made regarding access of Bureau Agents to residences of diplomatic personnel. Accessibility to such residences has been modified by agreement with the Department of State as set forth in Bureau letter to WFO on this matter 10-11-55.

On page 2, the procedure relating to rendezvous with State Department personnel has been modified by Bureau letter 10-11-55 to provide for an alternate meeting place in the event relocation has been affected.

On page 3, in discussing searches of enemy establishments and the opening of locked areas, you will again note that the Bureau's activities in this regard have been enlarged to include all enemy residences, as set out in Bureau letter 10-11-55.

On page 5, in the first paragraph, in discussing the responsibility of the Atomic Energy Commission in the event of a nuclear war, you indicate that the AEC will be required to step up its search for atomic devices.

Letter to SAC, Washington Field

Your document should be amended to show that the AEC would be requested to dispose of "special nuclear materials" and that the military would have the responsibility of disposing of the balance of any bomb or atomic weapon. Page 6, Item (7) discusses action to be taken at private residences of enemy personnel. These procedures have been modified by Bureau letter 10-11-55. The same is true with regard to Item (9) on page 7. A prompt check should be made of enemy residence premises for atomic weapons or other weapons of mass destruction as soon as access can be had.

Item (10) on page 7 contemplates that couriers of enemy nations, where their mode of transportation and their reservations are known, will be apprehended at their point of destination if that destination is within the United States. If a courier is engaged in travel carrying him beyond the borders of the United States, he will be taken into custody as soon as possible and in any event before he crosses the continental limits of the United States. Under existing national war planning, civil aviation may be grounded in an emergency and it is conceivable that trains bound for areas which may come under attack might be halted or rerouted. Under such circumstances it might be difficult to locate a courier if the responsibility for taking him into custody is placed solely on the office covering the point of destination. Washington Field should, therefore, plan to telephonically instruct the offices covering the area traversed by the plane or train in every instance to get the courier off as soon as possible. On page 8, Item (12) makes mention of the seizure of "contraband" as contained on the "Attorney General's Contraband List." In this regard your attention is directed to Bureau letter 2-10-55 in which you were instructed to avoid reference to a "Contraband List" since there is a possibility that the Attorney General's Contraband List under the detention program might be confused with the limited number of items which we are permitted to seize under the instant program.

On page 9, the first paragraph refers to contraband documents "in the archives of" the enemy embassy. You should omit reference to archives in this regard. The Department of State has stated that it could not authorize seizure of enemy

Letter to SAC, Washington Field

"archives." If documents are genuinely contraband, there might be some question regarding their status as official "archives." In any event, such documents found on enemy embassy premises should not be physically seized without prior notification to the Bureau and in most instances the photographing of the documents will serve the Bureau's purposes.

On page 10, you discussed "Action to be taken prior to institution of this program." You state, "Likewise, the intensified coverage of enemy personnel and enemy establishments will immediately detect an effort on their part in moving an atomic weapon or fissionable material from one of their buildings." It is suggested that this language could more accurately be: "in moving a suspected atomic weapon or suspected fissionable material." If the fact that an atomic weapon or fissionable material was in a diplomatic establishment had been established, that in itself could be a basis for the institution of this program. You indicate that you would conduct surveillance in such a manner that the location of such material would be constantly known in order that it could be seized immediately on institution of the instant program. In this regard the language of your instructions should show that your surveillances would be conducted in such a manner that the location of such material would be constantly known in order that it could be seized immediately upon receipt of instructions from the President or other authority designated by him.

Throughout your programs for the respective Soviet Bloc establishments you make reference to "lookouts" and "control agents" by the name of the country involved rather than indicating that they refer to special agents of the FBI assigned to the WFO. Your program should be so phrased as to remove any possible ambiguities.

With regard to the establishments of the USSR, the WFO plan should show a prompt notification to Baltimore, or directly to the resident agent in Annapolis, during the summer months in order that the Anne Arundel County police can establish necessary roadblocks at the [redacted] b7E

The plan should show what action will be taken thereafter by the agents of the WFO with regard to such Soviet personnel.

When the requested revisions are made, the WFO plan will be forwarded to the Bureau's relocation site.

Mr. John Airhart, Departmental Relocation Coordinator, telephonically advised Supervisor McArdle on 10/21/55 that Assistant Attorney General Andretta has verbally advised that he, Andretta, is of the opinion that it is illegal to spend money for stand-by communication equipment and relocation activity. Mr. Airhart advised that Andretta also indicated that the Attorney General thinks there is some substance to Andretta's opinion and that the Attorney General is planning to bring up the matter at Cabinet level. You may recall that the Office of Defense Mobilization in a bulletin to the heads of key mobilization departments and agencies advised that the costs incidental to the June relocation test were to be borne by the individual agencies concerned. Mr. Airhart advised that insofar as he knows there is no existing brief on the subject of legality of using existing funds for relocation activity.

Mr. Airhart advised that as a result of Andretta's statement Assistant Attorney General Tompkins has prepared a memorandum for the Attorney General advising that as of now he has instructed Mr. Airhart to expend no funds for communications or other emergency relocation matters until further notice. Airhart stated that he has ceased all relocation activity and it has therefore become necessary to set back the test originally planned for some time between November 15, and December 1, 1955. Mr. Airhart indicated that a copy of Mr. Tompkins' memorandum would be made available to the Bureau.

My memorandum 10/13/55 attached a Cabinet paper outlining the fall and winter, 1955, - 1956 relocation test. Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) by memorandum 10/14/55 to heads of Executive departments and agencies submitted a set of instructions for this test exercise which is identical to the Cabinet paper with the exception of the fact that Annex 1, the assumptions in the ODM paper, is classified secret.

Annex 1, the assumptions, is designed by those agencies that plan to work problems during this test. ODM contemplates this fall-winter test will be primarily a test of communications operations and no problems are required.

On 10/26/55 ODM advised that [redacted] communications center will be operational during the fall-winter relocation test if they are given ~~an~~ advance information that we plan to test our microwave installation. ODM advised that they will handle any messages which <sup>b7E</sup> the Bureau desires to transmit through the communications center at [redacted] and that there is some possibility that the [redacted] communications center may on their own initiative dispatch messages to agencies taking part in the test. They have to date not formulated any plans along this line, however. On 10/25/55 Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department, advised that as a result of Assistant Attorney General Andretta's <sup>(C)</sup> having raised the question of the illegality of using funds for the relocation activities, the Department-wide relocation test originally scheduled for November 15-December 1, 1955, has been postponed until such time as the Attorney General determines that there is no question about the legality of spending funds for relocation activities.

SYNOPSIS:

Referral/Consult

ODM on 10/3/55 advised they had no objection to Bureau making arrangements with Defense Department for [redacted] Liaison ascertained 10/23/55 that Assistant Secretary of Defense Carter Burgess is to be out of the United States until early November. John Fanning, Director, Office of Domestic Programs, Office of Secretary of Defense (OSD) has recently taken over duties which encompass the Bureau problem. Mr. Fanning requested time to study the problems and familiarize himself with his new section and on 10/25/55 Mr. Fanning advised he was unable to give a definite answer but would arrange a conference in the immediate future. He did state that from early observations he did not believe there was a sufficient number of [redacted] available to handle the key staff and that all available equipment has apparently been committed. This matter is being followed closely.

Upon receipt of an alert during working hours a Bureau Supervisor will have a Bureau car available for Attorney General at basement entrance of his elevator. Two Supervisors, Administrative Division, have been given this assignment. These same Supervisors reside in vicinity of the Attorney General's home and if the alert is given during nonduty hours they will proceed in personal cars to Attorney General's residence and carry out his relocation. Arrangements have also been made with Washington Field Office (WFO) to have two Agents who live in vicinity of Attorney General's residence use their personal cars to carry out his relocation if that should become necessary. In addition there is an Agent manning a WFO "lookout" near the Attorney General's residence who could be called upon at any time between 8 a.m. and 12 midnight, 7 days a week. It can be reasonably assumed that at least one of the four Agents mentioned above will always be available after midnight and therefore it would be unnecessary to have an extra Agent assigned to the "lookout" after midnight. Referral/Consult

The Director has previously approved of the following evacuation plan for the Attorney General:

Normal Working Hours:

If the relocation is ordered during normal working hours and the Attorney General is in Washington, SA Supervisor Charles Q. Smith, Administrative Division, with SA Supervisor Joseph I. Cavanaugh as his alternate will immediately secure a Bureau car from the basement of Justice Building and with it at the basement entrance to Attorney General's elevator stand ready to take Attorney General wherever he wants to go. If the Attorney General is out of the building either of these same Agents using a Bureau car will pick him up wherever he may be and deliver him to his desired destination. If the Attorney General desires to use [redacted] plan, either of these Agents will accompany him [redacted] b7E [redacted] In any emergency evacuation the SAC at Richmond will dispatch the agent nearest [redacted] to meet the Attorney General and take him to his desired destination.

Non-duty Hours:

If an alert is received during other than normal working hours and the Attorney General is in Washington (Attorney General resides [redacted] SA Supervisor Charles Q. Smith who resides at [redacted] or SA Supervisor Joseph I. Cavanaugh who resides at [redacted] will be dispatched by Assistant Director Mohr in their personally owned cars to relocate the Attorney General to his desired destination. b6 b7C

Memorandum Belmont to Boardman

If SA's Smith and Cavanaugh are not available, Assistant Director Mohr will instruct SAC Laughlin of Washington Field Office to dispatch one of the following Agents to carry out the evacuation of the Attorney General. Mr. Mohr may call either or both of these Agents direct. The Agents are Bernard E. Buscher, [redacted]

[redacted] or Donald T. Perrine, [redacted]
In addition, SAC Laughlin could if necessary dispatch an Agent from a "lookout post" at [redacted] to carry out the evacuation of the Attorney General. There is an Agent at this "lookout" between 8 a.m. and 12 midnight 7 days a week. It can be reasonably assumed that at least one of the four Agents mentioned above will always be available after midnight and therefore it would be unnecessary to have an extra Agent assigned to the "lookout" after midnight. b6 b7C b7E

If the Attorney General Is Not in Washington:

All field offices by no number SAC Letter 55-K (June 2, 1955) were advised that if the Attorney General or individual members of his family contact a Bureau office for assistance in a period of emergency they should be given all help and assistance possible under the circumstances.

By memoranda of September 6 and September 14, 1955, you were advised that

One situation which may exist in the event the Director desired to have such service made available in his office would be that over a period of time it may become a matter of practice for some officials at the other agencies to use this method of communication rather than the normal channels. It is thought that this could eventually become a nuisance and would offer very little in the way of value as far as top level matters are concerned. It is not possible for this conference type telephone instrument to be terminated on the Bureau's main switchboard nor in the Director's Telephone Room because of the low line level of volume that would result.

It was for this reason, that the present two tie lines used for alert warning signals are to be removed from the Switchboard and installed on two instruments in Mr. Belmont's Office. It is considered that rather than have an additional telephone instrument installed in the Director's Office to provide the conference service between government officials as outlined above, that we should advise the [redacted] when this proposal becomes a reality that the Director does not care to be included in this conference system. Bureau presently has direct lines from the main Bureau switchboard to [redacted] Security board (not main board).

SYNOPSIS:

Pearson War Plans - Auxiliary
Specs For 5.0.1.6

On 10-12-55 John Airhart, Department Relocation Coordinator, advised SA McArdle, Liaison Section, that the Attorney General had approved the Departmental and FBI relocation sites at [redacted] and [redacted] respectively. There is attached a cabinet paper made available by Airhart. This paper is the basis for Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) instruction for the forthcoming relocation test. Airhart stated the Attorney General had approved a Department-wide relocation test to be held sometime between 11-15 and 12-1-55. The test is to be called during a workday. Communications facilities are to be tested and the time to activate the relocation site is to be recorded. Airhart advised that the Bureau will be consulted as to the exact date which has not yet been set and 4 hours advance notice will be given. He contemplates it will be necessary to remain at the relocation site overnight. There will be an ODM Inspector as there was in Operation Alert 1955.

On 6-30-55 General Willard Paul, Assistant Director, ODM, advised he felt it would not be necessary for FBI to participate in this Fall-Winter test because of our May and June tests. Subsequent interviews with General Paul, however, indicate participation by all agencies who took part in Operation Alert 1955 is desired. Airhart advised Attorney General making formal request for Bureau participation in this test and that he contemplates no problems as such but that communications, personnel and equipment are to be fully tested. It is believed that the Bureau must take part in at least a thorough communications test involving the activation of the direct lines from [redacted] to [redacted] and [redacted] and that we handle Departmental communications requests, if any, to U. S. Attorneys and U. S. Marshals, test our microwave installation between [redacted] and [redacted] as well as contact the [redacted] offices by telephone; [redacted] through the [redacted] direct line.) These are large nearby offices handling a volume of security work. That we contact 2 nearby offices by teletype, [redacted] a distant office having a volume of security work. Further that we make a radio contact with all offices at 12:45 p.m. EST as all offices monitor their radio receivers at this time each day. It is believed that the above outlined test can be handled by 30 to 40 people most of whom are from communications.

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont

RECOMMENDATION:

(1) That the Bureau comply with the forthcoming Attorney General's request for Bureau participation in the Fall-Winter relocation test to be held between November 15 and December 1, 1955, as outlined above.

(2) If you approve we will work out the details in accordance with the forthcoming requests from the Attorney General and the ODM outline when it is received; at which time appropriate instructions will be issued to the field.

DETAILS:

On 10-12-55 Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department, advised SA McArdle, Liaison Section, that the present Bureau and Departmental relocation sites had been approved by the Attorney General and that the Attorney General had approved a Department-wide relocation test to be held sometime between November 15, and December 1, 1955. This test, according to Airhart, will be called during a workday, the exact date has not yet been determined. Airhart indicated the Director would be consulted as to a desirable date. We will get approximately 4 hours advance notice and be expected to remain at the relocation site a minimum of 8 hours in accordance with prior ODM instructions, according to Airhart.

Mr. Airhart made available a Photostat of a cabinet paper upon which ODM instructions will be based relative to this test. This paper discloses that all departments and agencies who participated in Operation Alert 1955 will conduct additional relocation tests between November 15, 1955, and February 15, 1956, without prior announcement to their personnel as to the time or date of the test. The paper discloses that generally speaking the test will disclose the stage of mobilization readiness, whether or not agencies have corrected difficulties that they encountered in Operation Alert 1955 and will include field installations where applicable. Communications facilities are to be fully tested. The date and the hour of the test are to be at the discretion of the head of the agency, a minimum of 8 hours actual operation at the relocation site is being recommended. Airhart advised that the Department is now contemplating remaining at the relocation site overnight.

The cabinet paper indicates that the scope of this test does not bar the consideration of substantive problems but that it is directed primarily to the activation and operational readiness of the emergency relocation sites. Airhart does not contemplate substantive problems at this time. This test is to be a surprise, is designed to test alert procedures, evacuation of headquarters area, speed with which the relocation site can be activated, and the communications system. The paper points out that if the agency desires to maintain absolute security of its relocation site in the absence of other security means, communications can be relayed through the agency's regular headquarters. Also included in the test should be the adequacy of arrangements for the maintenance of executive direction and command in the event key individuals are not available at the relocation site or field offices at the time of the test.

The attached paper provides that the head of each agency shall arrange for an inspection and evaluation of his agency's test exercises, that one inspector from another agency will be designated by ODM to work with the inspection team of the agency conducting the test, and following the test the head of each agency is to report to the Director of ODM within two weeks. This report is to include a brief evaluation of the Bureau's readiness as revealed by the exercise and indicate progress which has been made since Operation Alert 1955. Mr. Airhart has indicated that the Department will endeavor to obtain Mr. William Boleyn, Bureau of the Budget, to act as the inspector for the FBI while participating in this test. Boleyn was present in Operation Alert 1955.

On 6-30-55 General Willard Paul, Assistant Director, ODM, advised he felt that it would not be necessary for the FBI to participate in this Fall-Winter test because of the manner in which the Bureau had participated in the May and June relocation tests. However, subsequent interviews with General Paul have indicated that participation by all agencies who took part in Operation Alert 1955 is desired. Inasmuch as the Attorney General is contemplating making a formal request for Bureau participation in this test, it is believed that the Bureau must participate in at least a thorough communications test. Such a test would include the activation of the stand-by direct lines between [ ] and [ ] and [ ] and [ ]. We will, of course, handle all communications between the Department's and the Bureau's relocation sites and based on an earlier commitment to the Attorney General we will relay through our field offices any messages which the Department desires sent to U. S. Attorneys or U. S. Marshals. We will test our microwave installation both as to telephone and teletype transmission between [redacted] and [redacted] b7E [redacted] It is suggested that we contact the [redacted] and [redacted] offices by telephone; [redacted] through the [redacted] direct line, and that we contact [redacted] by teletype. The [redacted] offices have a large volume of security work, [redacted] are nearby. These offices have been selected with the thought in mind of keeping expenses as low as possible. The [redacted] (code) radio station should be used to contact [redacted] and relay messages to the [redacted] offices and, further, that we make an all office contact at 12:45 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. All field offices monitor the Bureau control station at this time each day.

Notification procedures used in previous tests will be used in alerting Bureau personnel and transportation to the relocation site will be in accordance with existing Bureau plans. It is believed that the procedures outlined above can be handled by 30 to 40 individuals at the relocation site, the majority of which will be communications personnel.
