At a recent meeting of the IIC Working Committee, Captain DuBois advised me that the Navy, in its disaster plans, has established its emergency headquarters at Princeton, New Jersey. He advised that he would appreciate being advised of the Bureau's alternate headquarters, at such time as the Bureau's alternate headquarters is established, in order that the appropriate plans can be perfected for the immediate establishment of liaison between Navy disaster headquarters and the alternate Bureau headquarters in case of an emergency.

Captain DuBois was advised that he would be notified of the location of the Bureau's alternate headquarters at such time as plans in this regard are completed by the Bureau.

At the Executives' Conference, May 31, 1950, Messrs. Tolson, Harbo, Mohr, McGuire, McIntire, Carlson, Rosen, Glavin, Tracy and Belmont in attendance, the Conference was advised that Captain DuBois, of the Navy, in connection with the Navy Disaster Plans, advised that the Navy has established its emergency headquarters at Princeton, New Jersey, and that he would appreciate being advised of the Bureau's alternate headquarters, at such time as the Bureau's alternate headquarters is established, in order that the appropriate plans can be perfected for the immediate establishment of liaison between Navy Disaster Headquarters and the alternate Bureau headquarters in case of an emergency.

It was pointed out that in February and March, 1942, a survey was made by the Training and Inspection Division in nearby Maryland and Virginia areas to locate auxiliary space for the Bureau which would be used in the event of an emergency. Specifically, survey of available space was made at Warrenton and Leesburg, Virginia, and at Marlboro, Waldorf, Hughesville, LaPlata, Olney, Rockville and Frederick, Maryland. The survey reflected that the best available space from all standpoints was at Frederick, Maryland.

In view of the present international situation, the Executives' Conference was of the unanimous opinion that an additional survey should be made by the Training and Inspection Division at this time, looking toward auxiliary space which would be available for the Bureau in the event of an emergency. In the event you approve, a survey will be conducted.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

Reference is made to the attached memorandum prepared by Mr. Sizoo for your attention concerning the auxiliary space for the Bureau, wherein you request my observations concerning the entire matter.

I am most sorry, but I cannot agree with the setup for auxiliary space for the Bureau in time of emergency. I make this statement because of the fact that should an emergency arise, I am definitely certain that we would have no opportunity to transport thousands of file cabinets and fingerprint cabinets, and miscellaneous furniture over trunk highways, which would necessarily have to be utilized by the military and by citizens for evacuation purposes.

I personally feel that if auxiliary space is to be set up in case of emergency that we should have a headquarters command with sufficient space for the Director and his staff, which would permit the handling of emergent matters under such emergency conditions. I feel that sufficient space must necessarily be available for radio facilities and in suggesting space it would be well to give consideration to availability of emergency radio sites. I feel that the majority of our routine files, including the fingerprint files, would necessarily have to be handled on an emergency basis in the city of Washington by possible volunteers.

I would like further to point out that insofar as the Fredericksburg, Virginia, location is concerned, this city undoubtedly would be one of the targets for any attacking force. Why? Because it is on the main highway to the south, ~~and~~ rail facilities go through the city and it could be easily spotted from the air due to its location near the river. I do not feel that such a spot would be desirable.

Harrisonburg, Virginia, would be less likely to be in the line of attack and it appears that sufficient space would be available there. Although, again, I point out that I don't feel that we should endeavor to secure anything like 500,000 square feet of space for emergency work. We must bear in mind that our mail and other facilities would be jammed. There wouldn't be any routine deliveries and an emergency headquarters could not handle all of the mail and correspondence and such matters that are handled at the Bureau at the present time.

The same is true of the Staunton and Charlottesville, Virginia, locations, although I definitely feel that insofar as the University of Virginia is concerned, this space would not under any circumstance be available for Bureau occupancy.

Memorandum for Mr. Clegg

With reference to Frederick and Westminster, Maryland, again we have the situation of the city being on a main trunk line, also being a railroad town and, in addition, being near certain Army installations. I would recommend discontinuance of consideration of Frederick and Westminster for any emergency headquarters for the Bureau.

With reference to Richmond, Virginia, the location of Richmond, its rail centers, its important industries, are sufficient in my mind to disqualify it as an emergency headquarters city. Again, it would be a city vulnerable to attack, easy to locate and, being one of the larger cities in the south, a desirable target for any attacking forces.

It is respectfully suggested that in further consideration of this particular matter, that thought be given to what facilities of the Bureau would necessarily have to be moved, taking into consideration the chaos which would be existing at the time of such a move and also taking into consideration that regular rail, highway and other traffic would be disrupted; that, too, normal means of communication would be disrupted. I personally feel that a small compact unit in an out of the way section in the Blue Ridge for the housing of absolutely essential activities of the Bureau would be the answer to our problem. This location should be such that emergency radio facilities could be installed so that radio communication could be had with other sections of the Bureau regardless of where they might then be located. I personally feel that in case of emergency we are going to have to realize that we cannot transport all of our files regardless of their importance from their present locations in Washington.

In accordance with instructions appearing in the attached Executives Conference memorandum dated 6-1-50, a survey was made of the likely cities in a radius of approximately 100 miles of Washington in an effort to locate facilities which could be used by the Bureau as emergency headquarters in the event of bombing of Washington or if bombing becomes imminent. It was determined that the Bureau now occupies approximately 485,000 square feet of space of which the Identification Division occupies about 276,000 square feet. Therefore, space in the amount of approximately 500,000 square feet was sought. Consideration was given to the fact that certain areas already have vital facilities located therein which would normally be the target of enemy bombing. Consideration was not given to facilities such as American University, Maryland University, etc., located in areas immediately adjacent to Washington.

There is set forth in the order in which I consider them most desirable the areas containing facilities which might possibly serve as emergency headquarters. No information as to the actual availability of any of these facilities in the event of an emergency is now known.

1. FREDRICKSBURG, VIRGINIA The city of Fredricksburg is located about 60 miles South of Washington on Highway No. 1. It is on the Richmond, Frederick, Potomac Railway and has an airport. Its population is approximately 10,000 to 12,000. It has 4 or 5 hotels; however, only one has as many as 100 rooms. There are, in addition, several tourist courts or motels along the highway in the vicinity.

In Fredricksburg there is located Mary Washington College which is a girls' school. It is about 1/4 mile from down town Fredricksburg. There are 13 buildings and 2 additional ones under construction. One of those under construction, according to workmen, will be a electric power plant, the other will be a central heating plant for the college. It has its own water tower. All are of substantial brick construction except 2 which are of wooden frame construction and appear to be residences. Both are of fair size. The buildings are situated in a large group of towering trees surrounded by a fence approximately 12 feet high. There are 2 entrances. The water tower and new heating plant are not within the fenced area. There are large lawn areas around which the buildings are located but the buildings themselves are among trees. There is additional space within the grounds some of which is now used for recreational areas. Some of the buildings are 2 stories high others are 3 stories in height. There is approximately 335,000 square feet of building space above the basement levels. There is about 130,000 square feet of basement space all of which appears to be of full size and to have full length windows. This would give a total of 465,000 square feet. These figures are based on outside measurements and some deductions would of course have to be made for halls, stairways, etc. There is also attic space in each of the buildings. It is believed that the Bureau could be accommodated in Fredricksburg if this college could be acquired considering the fact that this space could be augmented by the use of hotels or large residences in the area. The Stratford Hotel, which is a 70 room hotel and appears to be in good repair, is located on Highway No. 1 a short distance from the college and would accommodate a small division such as the Training and Inspection Division or serve as a "Command Headquarters" for top Bureau officials and staff. Then too, the additional area in the grounds of the college could be used for the construction of temporary buildings, housing or otherwise.

It is pointed out that Fredricksburg is approximately 30 miles from Quantico, Virginia which would permit the convenient use of training facilities there if we desired to use them. This location is within convenient automobile, bus, and train travel distance of Washington as well as Quantico. While this has some advantages it also has a disadvantage as far as the danger of bombing is concerned. It should also be noted that Fredricksburg is on the Rappahannock river. However, there are no vital facilities now located there and there is some doubt if an enemy would single out and seek FBI headquarters for bombing purposes. Furthermore, it is believed that the grounds of the college lend themselves to camouflaging and it is believed that at this location the Bureau headquarters could be adequately protected against acts of sabotage or distraction from persons operating within the United States. Considering all facts it is believed that this is a desirable location.

2. HARRISONBURG, VIRGINIA The city of Harrisonburg is located in the Shenandoah Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains on the East and the Shenandoah Mountains on the West, on the Southern Railroad and on Highway No. 11 approximately 125 miles Southwest of Washington. It has a population of about 15,000 people and has a small airport. It has no large hotels, the largest having 100 rooms.

In Harrisonburg there is located Madison College which is a Virginia State Teachers College for women. There are 20 buildings on the college campus all of which except for three are of stone construction. The walls appear to be about a foot thick. The other 3 buildings are frame residences but which appear to be in reasonably good repair. One of the buildings is a large residence at the top of the ridge overlooking the College grounds on one side and the valley on the other side to the Blue Ridge Mountains. The total floor space of the College is approximately 500,000 square feet. Of this 125,000 is basement space but such space appears to be of full height and has full sized windows. There is also attic space in most of the buildings. These figures are based on outside measurements but it is believed that even with the deductions of hall space, stairs, etc., there would be almost enough space to accommodate the whole Bureau. This space could be augmented if necessary by the use of the Augusta Military Academy at Fort Defiance, Virginia, 15 miles to the South of Harrisonburg, which has approximately 175,000 square feet of space, is located in a rural area along Highway No. 11, and it is believed that firearms ranges, etc., could be constructed nearby. However, it does not appear to be in the best of repair. The use of hotels or residences in the general vicinities, many of which are quite large, could also be considered.

It is felt that the Bureau headquarters could be conveniently accommodated in the area if Madison College could be obtained. It should be noted that this area is protected by its geographical location in the Shenandoah Valley. It is, however, a considerable distance from Washington but rail and bus transportation are available. It is noted that there is one vital facility in the general area. Merck and Company has a chemical plant at Elkton, Virginia which is about 17 miles East of Harrisonburg.

③ 3. CHARLOTTESVILLE, VIRGINIA Charlottesville, Virginia is located about 116 miles from Washington on the Southern Railway and on Highways No. 29 and 250. It has a population of 20,000 to 25,000 and has its own airport. It is a university town and therefore has many rooming houses, etc.

The University of Virginia is located in Charlottesville and at this time has a group of 10 new 4 story buildings under construction. Each building appears to have about 32,000 square feet making a total of approximately 320,000 square feet now under construction. The existing buildings appear to contain at least twice as much space as the new buildings under construction. It therefore appears that there is in excess of 1,000,000 square feet of space on the University of Virginia campus. All buildings appear to be of substantial brick construction and are in excellent condition.

The Monticello Hotel is the only one of any size in Charlottesville. It has 150 rooms and appears to contain in all approximately 60,000 square feet. There are also many large homes in Charlottesville and the surrounding area. There is certainly sufficient space on the University of Virginia Campus to accommodate the Bureau. In fact, the Bureau could be accommodated and the University continue to operate on a large scale. It should be noted that the requisitioning of other institutions mentioned herein would put them out of business while this would not be the case with the University of Virginia. However, there is of course a likelihood that the defense establishment would also want to use the University of Virginia for training purposes in the event of hostilities. This is a co-educational school and it is believed that more competition for the space would be encountered from the Army and Navy than would be the case if efforts were made to acquire a girls' school.

4. STAUNTON, VIRGINIA Staunton, Virginia is located in the Shenandoah Valley on the Southern Railway, on Highways No. 11 and 250, about 140 miles from Washington. It is a city of 15,000 to 20,000 population and has a small airport. It has one fair sized hotel, The Stonewall Jackson which has 100 rooms. This hotel appears to be a modern fireproof one and in good state of repair. Also about 1 mile North of Staunton on Highway No. 11 is Ingleside Hotel. This hotel while advertising only 49 rooms but appears large for a hotel of this size. It measures approximately 200 feet in length by 75 feet in width. It is 3 stories high and is surrounded by a golf course. It is situated about 300 yards off highway 11 on a high knoll. In the event other space mentioned immediately following is sought, the Ingleside Hotel would serve very well as a "Command Headquarters" for top Bureau officials and clerical staff or could accommodate a division or section which can be separated from the rest of the Bureau. It is in a sufficiently rural area so that firearms ranges etc. could be constructed near by.

Located in the city of Staunton about 1/4 mile Northeast of the down town area is the Staunton Military Academy. Seven buildings are of brick construction and while not particularly new, they appear to be in a good state of repair. One building is of frame construction and is also in a reasonably good state of repair. There is approximately 275,000 square feet of space at this academy of which about 10,000 is good full sized basement space.

It was also noted that within about 2 blocks of Staunton Military Academy an apartment project is under construction. There are 4 large buildings which will have a total of approximately 30,000 square feet.

About 1 block from the main street of Staunton, Mary Baldwin College is located. It is a girls' school, and has approximately 10 buildings of which 8 are of substantial brick construction and appear to be in reasonably good repair. One of these is a one story heating plant. There are also 2 frame buildings which are not in particularly good repair. There is a total of approximately 150,000 square feet of space on the campus of which 25,000 feet is basement space out of full size.

Also located in Staunton is the Western Virginia State Mental Hospital. There are 10 large brick buildings varying in size from 3 to 5 stories. There is approximately 250,000 square feet of space in these buildings. This institution is located on Highway 11, a few blocks South of down town Staunton on Highway 11 and along the highway but within the enclosure which surrounds the hospital, there are 5 large brick residences 2 stories high. It is estimated that these 5 residences contain approximately 35,000 square feet.

On Highway 250 approximately 1 mile East of Staunton there is located the DeJarnette State Sanitarium which consists of 2 large buildings having approximately 140,000 square feet of space.

Also on Highway No. 250 about 3 miles East of Staunton there is located the Woodrow Wilson Educational Center. Located in the Center are the Woodrow Wilson High School, The State Rehabilitation Center, U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, Service Garage, etc. for county school busses. This installation was about 3/10 of a mile square and had a series of 1 story buildings covering about 1/3 of the area. It is estimated that there is about 300,000 square feet of building space located in the Center.

By the use of the Staunton Military Academy and Mary Baldwin College and a combination of other facilities in the area it appears that there would be sufficient space to accommodate the Bureau. It should be noted that in this connection the Augusta Military Academy previously mentioned as having 175,000 square feet of space is located approximately 10 miles North of Staunton. This would make a total of 600,000 square feet. The Fishburn Military Academy located at Waynesboro, Virginia about 11 miles East of Staunton and has approximately 70,000 square feet of space. Also in Waynesboro is the Hotel General Wayne which previously had 50 rooms but has an additional portion under construction which will more than double its space. The area in which Staunton is located.

is protected by the Blue Ridge Mountains on the East and the Shenandoah Mountains on the West. However, it is a considerable distance from Washington and it should be noted that there is a large DuPont plant at Waynesboro listed as a vital facility. It is believed, however, that the area could absorb the additional personnel of the Bureau. Many of the schools mentioned are equipped for boarding students. There are many tourist courts and motels in the area many of which are heated.

5. FREDERICK AND WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND Frederick, Maryland is located 46 miles Northwest of Washington and 46 West of Baltimore on the B & O Railroad and has a small airport. It is on Highways 240 and 40. Frederick, however, has one vital facility which might well be the target of enemy bombing. It is Camp Detrick which is reported at this time to be the Army's only Bacteriological Warfare Research Center. This is a large installation covering acres of ground and located about 1 mile West of Frederick.

The largest single institute in Frederick is Hood College which is a girls' school and has 9 buildings all of substantial brick construction. There is a total of approximately 295,000 square feet of which 45,000 is basement space. However, this basement space is full height and has full sized windows. Hood College is located about 1/2 mile West of down town Frederick within walking distance of the down town area but is only about 1/2 mile from Camp Detrick. It is located in a good residential area and many fine homes are near by. There are the following additional buildings or groups of buildings of reasonable size in Frederick.

1. Maryland State School for the Deaf, South Market Street, brick construction, about 200,000 square feet.
2. Catholic School and Sisters' Home, 200 block of East Second Street, brick construction, about 100,000 square feet.
3. Francis Scott Key Hotel, down town Frederick, 200 rooms, about 50,000 square feet.
4. YMCA, Masonic Temple, Pythias Castle, and an apartment building in the same block with Francis Scott Key, about 50,000 square feet.
5. Frederick National Guard Armory, West Second and Bentz Streets, about 20,000 square feet.
6. Barbara Fritchie Candy Factory, on Highway 240, 1/2 mile South of Frederick, Quonset Hut type building about 15,000 square feet.
7. IOOF Home, about 1 mile North of Frederick on Highway 15, about 100,000 square feet.

In Westminster, Maryland which is approximately 30 miles Northwest of Frederick is located the Western Maryland College. This college has 20 buildings, 17 of which are of brick construction. Two of these are of rather old construction but the balance are new and appear to be substantial. Three of the buildings are of frame construction though 1 has solid stone walls up to the second floor level. These 3 frame buildings appear to be residences and to be in good state of repair. There is a total of about 300,000 square feet of space on the campus. Of this about 30,000 is usable basement space of full height. This college is about 1/4 mile from the center of Frederick and the buildings are located along the ridge of a hill. They are adjoined on the West by an athletic field and golf course. Westminster is a town of approximately 6,000 people and is located on the Western Maryland Railroad. It has a small airport. It is about 60 miles North of Washington and 27 miles Northwest of Baltimore.

Also in the Frederick area is located the West Virginia State Normal School at Shepherdstown about 125 miles West of Frederick. There is approximately 50,000 square feet in the brick buildings which make up the school.

It is believed that if Hood College could be obtained and this space augmented by the Western Maryland State College at Westminster, the Bureau could be satisfactorily accommodated in the area. This would be a total of about 645,000 square feet. Of course, Hood College could also be augmented by other space in Frederick but it is believed that this would require splitting the Bureau up too much. It is not believed that the Bureau could be accommodated at Westminster alone. Westminster is a rather small town and there is no space of any size nearer than Frederick which could be used to augment the space of Western Maryland College.

6. RICHMOND, VIRGINIA Richmond is about 110 miles South of Washington on Highway No. 1 and the R. F. & P. and Southern Railroads. It has its own airport but has a large DuPont plant classified as a vital facility about 15 miles out of Richmond. There are also other facilities classified as vital in the city of Richmond. Richmond has 7 hotels over 100 rooms each, The Capitol, 111 rooms; The Jefferson, 350 rooms; The John Marshall, 400 rooms; The Murphy, 260 rooms; The Richmond, 300 rooms; The Rueger, 130 rooms; and The William Byrd, 200 rooms. It is estimated that these hotels contain a total of close to 400,000 square feet.

There is located in the city of Richmond the Union Theological Seminary at 3401 Brook Road, which has approximately 175,000 square feet of space. It is of brick construction and has 5 separate buildings, each of which appear to be in reasonable repair. Across the road from the Union Theological Seminary is the Assembly School for Christian Workers which has about 70,000 square feet of space.

The Medical College of Virginia is located at 1200 East Broad Street, Richmond and consists of 6 large brick buildings, one of which serves as a hospital. There is a total of approximately 550,000 square feet of space here.

There is also a large tobacco warehouse on West Eighth and Lombardi Streets having a total of approximately 125,000 square feet.

The State Highway Department Building which is a modern 4 story office building located in the 1200 block of East Broad Street has approximately 70,000 square feet.

The Central National Bank Building located at Third and East Broad Streets is a first class commercial office building and appears to have about 160,000 square feet in space.

There are several large apartment developments in Richmond as follows:

1. Glenwood Farms, 1 mile Southwest of Richmond on Highway 360, a series of 1 and 2 story units, about 200,000 square feet.

2. Melvern Manor Apartments, Melvern and West Carry Streets, about 250,000 square feet.

3. Chesterfield Apartment, 900 block of West Franklin, about 90,000 square feet.

4. A 12 story apartment building at Franklin and Laurel, (800 block of West Franklin), about 120,000 square feet.

5. A 12 story apartment building at Franklin and Pine, (700 block of West Franklin), about 175,000 square feet.

6. An apartment development of 8 buildings, 2900 block of Chamberlayne, about 125,000 square feet.

7. The Wicker Apartments, 4200 block of Chamberlayne, about 120,000 square feet.

8. Chamberlayne Garden Apartments, 4300 block of Chamberlayne, about 200,000 square feet.

To accommodate the Bureau in Richmond would undoubtedly require splitting it up considerably. There appears to be no likelihood of obtaining space in the Medical College of Virginia. It would undoubtedly be necessary to use some hotels or apartments. It is believed that such space is not as desirable for our use as school or college space. It is further noted that there are present in the Richmond area vital facilities which might themselves be the object of enemy bombing.

RECOMMENDATION

That consideration be given to the designating of the Bureau's emergency headquarters in one of the above localities, preferably at Fredericksburg, Virginia using Mary Washington College or Harrisonburg, Virginia using Madison College. A map of the general area in question is attached.

The Executives Conference on 7/3/50, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Q. Tamm, Harbo, Belmont, Ladd, Carlson, Hargett and F. H. McIntire, considered the survey conducted by Special Agent J. A. Sizoo of the Training and Inspection Division relative to auxiliary space for the Bureau in the case of a national emergency.

PURPOSE AND RESULTS OF THE SURVEY:

This survey was conducted to locate space in the general vicinity of Washington, D. C. which could possibly be used as Bureau headquarters in the event it becomes necessary to evacuate Washington, D. C. Efforts were made to locate buildings in one general vicinity which would have a total of around 500,000 square feet of floor space, approximately what the Bureau now occupies. No contact was had with the individuals controlling the buildings considered. It was deemed inadvisable to make such direct contacts as this would more than likely lead to undue and undesirable publicity. Following are the areas having adequate space:

1. FREDRICKSBURG, VIRGINIA

Fredricksburg is 60 miles south of Washington, is on Highway No. 1, is on the Richmond, Frederick, Patomac Railway, has an airport, has a population of 10,000 to 12,000, and has 4 or 5 small hotels. Mary Washington College, a girls' school, is located 1/4 mile from downtown Fredricksburg, has 13 buildings and 2 additional ones under construction. One of those under construction is an electric power plant, the other a central heating plant for the college. All buildings are of brick construction, with the exception of 2 which are of wooden frame construction. The college has its own water tower and is surrounded by a 12 foot fence with two entrances. All buildings are two or three stories high and are located in a group of towering trees. The total floor space of this college is approximately 465,000 square feet. The Stratford Hotel, located on Highway No. 1 a short distance from the college, has 70 rooms, appears to be in good repair, and could house a small division or could serve as a "Command Headquarters" for top Bureau officials and staff. Fredricksburg is approximately 30 miles from Quantico, and would permit continued use of Quantico training facilities. There are no vital facilities located near Fredricksburg, but it is on a railway and on the Rappahanock River which would make it easily located for a bombing target. In view of the towering trees, however, the grounds of Mary Washington College lend themselves to camouflage.

2. HARRISONBURG, VIRGINIA

This city is located in the Shenandoah Valley between the Blue Ridge and Shenandoah Mountains, is on the Southern Railroad, on Highway No. 11, is approximately 125 miles southwest of Washington, has an airport and has a population of 15,000. Madison College, a Virginia State Teachers College for women, is located in Harrisonburg. This college has 20 buildings, 17 of which are of stone construction, the remaining 3 being frame residences which appear to be in good repair. One of these buildings is a large residence at the top of the ridge overlooking the college grounds. The total floor space of this college is approximately 500,000 square feet. This space could be augmented by Augusta Military Academy at Fort Defiance, Virginia, 15 miles south of Harrisonburg. This Academy has approximately 175,000 square feet of space and is located in a rural area along Highway No. 11. Firearms ranges and other training facilities could be constructed nearby. This area is generally protected by its geographical location in the Shenandoah Valley. One vital facility, Merck and Company, a chemical plant, is located at Elkton, Virginia, 17 miles east of Harrisonburg.

3. CHARLOTTESVILLE, VIRGINIA

Charlottesville, Virginia, is located 116 miles from Washington on the Southern Railway, on Highways Nos. 29 and 250, has an airport, and has an estimated population of 20,000 to 25,000. It is the site of the University of Virginia, and the city has many rooming houses which would be desirable for Bureau personnel. The University of Virginia has in excess of 1,000,000 square feet of floor space in buildings on the campus. Ten new four-story buildings, having a total of approximately 320,000 square feet, are under construction. All buildings are of substantial brick construction and are in excellent condition. The Monticello Hotel is located in Charlottesville, has 150 rooms and appears to contain in all approximately 60,000 square feet. The University of Virginia is a co-educational school. The Bureau could be adequately housed at the University of Virginia without putting this institution out of business. A great deal of competition probably would be had for this site as military authorities would probably want the University of Virginia to train men for armed services.

4. STAUNTON, VIRGINIA

Staunton, Virginia, is 140 miles from Washington, located in the Shenandoah Valley on the Southern Railway and on Highways Nos. 11 and 250. It has a population of 15,000 to 20,000 and has a small airport. The Stonewall Jackson, a modern, fireproof hotel of 100 rooms, is located at Staunton. One mile north of Staunton on Highway No. 11 is located the Ingleside Hotel which has 49 rooms, is approximately 200 feet in length and 75 feet in width. It is a three-story building, is approximately 300 yards off Highway No. 11 on a high knoll, is surrounded by a golf course and would serve very well as a "Command Headquarters" for top Bureau officials and their staffs. Staunton Military Academy is located 1/4 mile northwest of the downtown area, has 7 buildings of brick construction which are in a good state of repair, has one frame building in good repair, and has a total of about 275,000 square feet of space. Within two blocks of the Staunton Military Academy there is an apartment project consisting of 4 large buildings under construction which will have a total of about 30,000 square feet.

In downtown Staunton is located Mary Baldwin College, a girls' schools, which has 10 buildings, 8 of which are of brick construction and are in good repair, and 2 of which are of frame construction and are in fair condition. This college has a total floor space of 150,000 square feet. Augusta Military Academy, mentioned under No. 2 above, is 10 miles north of Staunton. It has approximately 175,000 square feet of floor space. A combination of Staunton Military Academy, Mary Baldwin College, Augusta Military Academy and the Ingleside Hotel would more than adequately house the Bureau.

Staunton, Virginia, is located between the Blue Ridge and Shenandoah Mountains, and from this standpoint would be afforded some protection. It should be noted, however, that at Waynesboro, Virginia, 11 miles east of Staunton, there is located a large DuPont plant which is listed as a vital facility. The Bureau's personnel could be absorbed in this particular area as the schools mentioned are equipped for boarding students.

5. FREDERICK AND WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

Frederick, Maryland, is located 46 miles northwest of Washington and 46 miles west of Baltimore on the B & O Railroad. It has a small airport, and is on Highways Nos. 240 and 40. One vital facility, namely, Camp Detrick which is reported to be the Army's only Bacteriological Warfare Research Center is located 1 mile west of Frederick. This would very probably be a target of enemy bombing. Hood College, a girls' school consisting of 9 buildings of brick construction having a total floor space of approximately 295,000 square feet, is located 1 mile west of downtown Frederick and also only 1/2 mile from Camp Detrick. Maryland State School For the Deaf is located in Frederick and has a total floor space of approximately 200,000 square feet. A Catholic School and Sisters' Home has approximately 100,000 square feet of space. The Francis Scott Key Hotel has 200 rooms and approximately 50,000 square feet of floor space. The Y.M.C.A., Masonic Temple, Pythias Castle and an apartment building in the same block with the Francis Scott Key Hotel have a total of approximately 50,000 square feet of floor space. The National Guard Armory has a total of 20,000 square feet of space and the Barbara Fritchie Candy Company has 15,000 square feet of floor space. The IOOF Home, 1 mile north of Frederick, has 100,000 square feet of floor space. A combination of some of the above-mentioned sites could easily house the entire Bureau.

Located at Westminster, Maryland, which is approximately 30 miles northwest of Frederick, is Western Maryland College which has 20 buildings, 17 of which are of brick construction and the majority of which are in very good shape. This college has a total of approximately 300,000 square feet of floor space. Westminster is a town of approximately 6,000 population, has a small airport and is located on the Western Maryland Railway. It is about 60 miles north of Washington and 27 miles northwest of Baltimore. The West Virginia State Normal School has approximately 50,000 square feet of floor space in its brick buildings. A combination of the space at Frederick and Westminster could easily house all of the Bureau's facilities.

6. RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

Richmond is located 110 miles south of Washington on Highway No. 1 and the R. F. & P. and Southern Railroads. It has its own airport, and has 7 hotels of over 100 rooms each, having a total space of 400,000 square feet. The Union Theological Seminary has a total of 175,000 square feet of brick buildings which are in reasonably good repair. The Assembly School for Christian Workers has a total floor space of approximately 70,000 square feet. The Medical College of Virginia, which consists of 6 large brick buildings, has a total floor space of approximately 550,000 square feet. One of these buildings, however, serves as a hospital. In addition to the above, there are several large apartment developments in Richmond which would have floor space of well over 1,000,000 square feet. A combination of the various buildings in Richmond could easily house the Bureau. It should be noted, however, that Richmond is a rail center, is a large city which would very probably be a bombing target, and has a large DuPont plant nearby which is classified as a vital facility and other vital facilities located in the City of Richmond.

All of the members in attendance at the Executives Conference recommended Charlottesville, Virginia, the home of the University of Virginia, as the Bureau's No. 1 choice.

In advance of the Conference, Mr. Glavin who was not in attendance had submitted a memorandum of his views after reviewing the results of the survey. Mr. Glavin feels that should an emergency arise, we would have no opportunity to transport thousands of file cabinets, fingerprint cabinets and miscellaneous furniture over trunk highways as these would be utilized by the military as well as civilians for evacuation purposes. If we are to set up emergency space, Mr. Glavin recommends that a headquarters command with sufficient space for the Director and his staff, which would permit the handling of emergency matters under emergency conditions, be set up. Sufficient space would have to be available for radio facilities, and in selecting such a location consideration should be given to the availability for emergency radio sites. He observes that the majority of the routine files, including fingerprint files, would necessarily have to be handled on an emergency basis in Washington, possibly by volunteers.

Mr. Glavin believes that Fredericksburg, Virginia, would very definitely be the target of an attacking force since it is on the main highway to the south, rail facilities go through this city, and it could be easily spotted from the air due to its location near a river. He feels that Harrisonburg, Virginia, would be less likely to be in the line of attack, but he does not feel that we should endeavor to secure anything like 500,000 square feet of space for emergency work. Since our mail and other facilities would be jammed, there would be no routine deliveries, and an emergency headquarters could not handle all the mail and correspondence in such matters that are handled at the Bureau at the present time. He feels that the same is true of Staunton and Charlottesville, Virginia, and definitely feels that the University of Virginia space would not under any circumstances be available for Bureau occupancy. In regard to Frederick and Westminster, Maryland, he observes that again we have the situation of the city being on a main trunk line, being a railroad town and near an Army installation. He recommends discontinuance of any consideration of Frederick and Westminster, Maryland as emergency Bureau headquarters. In regard to Richmond, Virginia, he believes that the location of Richmond, its rail centers, and its important industries would make it a city vulnerable to attack, easy to locate, and being one of the larger cities in the south would be a desirable target for attacking forces.

Mr. Glavin recommends that in further consideration of this particular matter, thought be given to what facilities of the Bureau would necessarily have to be moved, taking into consideration the chaos which would be existing at the time of such a move, and also taking into consideration that regular rail, highway and other traffic would be disrupted; and that normal means of communication would also be disrupted. He feels that a small compact unit in an out-of-the-way section in the Blue Ridge for the housing of absolutely essential activities of the Bureau would be the answer to our problem. This location should be such that emergency radio facilities could be installed so that communication could be had with other sections of the Bureau regardless of where they might then be located. In case of emergency, Mr. Glavin feels that we must realize that we cannot transport all of our files, regardless of their importance, from their present locations in Washington.

All of the members in attendance at the Conference recommended that a representative from the Bureau and a representative from the Richmond Office who handles liaison with the President of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville, contact the President of the University of Virginia on a strictly confidential basis, and determine whether or not space could be acquired on the University of Virginia campus for use by the FBI in the event auxiliary space must be had.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Nichols

DATE: July 10, 1950

FROM : Mr. Jones. *Bureau War Plans*SUBJECT: ESTABLISHMENT OF ALTERNATE HEADQUARTERS Seat of Government

It is respectfully suggested that in the selection of alternate headquarters for the Bureau the following aspects be given consideration:

SECURITY: Security should be subordinate to no other factor and no other factor should be considered until a totally secure location is selected with the possible exception of convenience of accessibility. Security in this matter should be threefold: from discovery, from ground attack, and from air attack. If our alternate headquarters is established in any community, or in any plainly observable site, its importance cannot be concealed for any length of time, and it follows that unless it is very heavily defended, a handful of determined individuals with nothing more than small arms can reduce it. Thus it would seem that an alternate headquarters should be selected with an extremely careful attention to terrain, in order to achieve the maximum protection from both discovery and attack by the type of guerrilla force we may expect to encounter. It is also true that the weapons organic to the Bureau are not sufficient in the event of an attack along the ground and it would seem proper to request the army to furnish automatic weapons and other defensive devices such as wire, sandbags, flares and the like, and certainly to include M-1 rifles. A thorough and painstaking preliminary map reconnaissance can be most helpful and I think the army has 1/20000 maps of most quadrants of area surrounding Washington in Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland.

ACCESSIBILITY: Accessibility is second only to security and it is suggested that a location within 100 to 150 miles of Washington be sufficient to requirements. It would seem that a maximum road net would be required and rail, water, or air facilities are not thought to be necessary.

CONVENIENCES: Living conveniences should not be considered until security is established, it is not difficult to do the best we can with what is available and a lot of ingenuity coupled with a minimum of equipment is sufficient.

EFFICIENCY: The point is not why a secure site does not afford efficiency, but how it can be made efficient.

Memo for Mr. Tolson (Con'd)

There is a voluntary fire department whose equipment appears to be fairly modern. There is no hospital in the town but one is located at Charles Town, 11 miles away. There are no hotels but the town contains numerous boarding houses utilized by the college students. A total of six church buildings are located in Shepherdstown. There appears to be an adequate supply of water and as a matter of fact, a rather small but active stream runs through the Shepherd College campus. The surrounding towns of Charles Town, Martinsburg, Harpers Ferry, and Hagerstown are fairly large centers where auxiliary housing and commercial facilities are available. I wish to emphasize that the chief recommendation that Shepherdstown has to offer is its isolated location and its strictly residential atmosphere devoid of industrial development which could be the target for air attack.

COLLEGE FACILITIES

Shepherd College claims to have 25 acres of ground with 15 buildings located thereon. The two main buildings which are adjacent to each other have approximately 50,000 square feet of usable office space. Supplemental buildings in the immediate area will build the usable space up to close to 100,000 square feet. I feel that this is ample for the Bureau's needs in an evacuation emergency. There is a dining hall located on the campus which is a one story new frame building that will hold 150 people at a time. It appears to be a fairly modern structure and is said to contain modern equipment. There are two dormitories presently housing men and women students having a total capacity of 150 people. Linens and bed clothing must be supplied by the students. Boarding houses presently in the town take care of the balance of the present 500 students at the college. Other residences in the town could take care of additional personnel and by augmenting this with housing space in the nearby towns, I feel we could very well accommodate 1,000 of our people in this location. The President of the College has a house on the campus which does not appear to be too pretentious but looks to be acceptable. It contains 10 rooms. There is a small athletic field and gymnasium. The college has an auditorium which will seat 500. There is a Science building containing laboratory facilities therein. In the basement of the main building there is a remote control radio unit used in connection with student study and from which some broadcasting is done. The place is small but yet it is isolated and still available for ready access from Washington, D. C.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

Driving time by automobile to Shepherdstown is within 1 hour and 45 minutes under normal driving conditions. There is no airport located within the town but there is one available at Martinsburg, 9 miles away. A railroad line passes through the town running from Martinsburg, West Virginia, to Roanoke, Virginia. This is a connecting line with the main B. & O. tracks at Martinsburg and also at Shenandoah Junction, 6 miles south of Shepherdstown. Rail time between Martinsburg and Washington is 1 hour and 45 minutes. Buses service the town from surrounding towns.

WINCHESTER, VIRGINIA

LOCATION

Winchester is located 73 miles west by north from Washington. It is on a main trunk highway to the west, route 50. There are 6 highways leading from the town.

TOWN FACILITIES

The chief industries of Winchester are the apple processing plants and there are several smaller industrial plants also located therein. The town has a population of 12,000 people, with a fairly large business district, and several hotels. The largest hotel is the George Washington which seems to be fairly modern and contains 150 rooms. Winchester is a town that is approximately half the size of Alexandria, Virginia, and its utilities and other facilities may be compared on this basis.

SCHOOL FACILITIES

The 2 largest educational buildings in Winchester are the Handley High School and the new James Wood High School which is scheduled to open this Fall. The Handley High School has 48 class rooms which includes laboratories. It accommodates 1500 students who of course commute from their homes. It has an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1600. There is a large indoor play area and a cafeteria that will accommodate 450 people. The school has a total square footage of 126,000 square feet and it is not believed that this figure covers a large basement area. The James Wood High School located on the outskirts of Winchester has 57 class rooms with a capacity for 1200 students. This school has an auditorium which will hold 850 people and a cafeteria that will accommodate 450 individuals. It has a gymnasium and its total square footage is 78,000 square feet.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

There is an airport located in Winchester. The chief method of transportation, however, is by highway either by automobile or bus, and its disadvantage in this respect is that it is on a main trunk highway which is subject to being cluttered by any mass exodus from Washington.

The Executives Conference of July 11, 1950, consisting of Messrs. Ladd, Rosen, Nichols, Tracy, Mohr, Belmont, Parsons for Harbo, McIntire for Clegg, and Callahan for Glavin, considered the results of a survey of space made by Mr. Glavin, bearing in mind the space would be utilized in the event of an extreme emergency and only sufficient space for the Director and the necessary emergency staff for handling emergency matters under emergency conditions was needed. Accordingly, the survey restricted itself to small compact units in out of the way sections, and the survey made reflected the best available facilities were located at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, which is 65 miles from Washington when traveling on Maryland highways and 77 miles on Virginia highways. It is in Jefferson County, West Virginia, the county seat of which is Charles Town. It is 11 miles north of Charles Town, 9 miles east of Martinsburg, West Virginia, and 12 miles north of Harpers Ferry. There are 5 highways converging from all directions into the town.

There are no industrial plants in the nearby area. The main activity in Shepherdstown is Shepherd College of the West Virginia State Normal School System.

FACILITIES

There are 2 small newspapers in the town which have presses that could be utilized by the Bureau. There is a voluntary fire department whose equipment appears to be fairly modern. There are no hotels but the town contains numerous boarding houses utilized by the college students. There appears to be an adequate supply of water and while there are no hospitals in the town, there are hospitals located in the nearby towns of Charles Town, Martinsburg, Harpers Ferry and Hagerstown, Hagerstown being approximately 20 to 25 miles distant.

Shepherd College has approximately 25 acres of ground with 15 buildings located thereon. Two main buildings which are adjacent to each other have approximately 50,000 square feet of usable office space. Supplemental buildings in the immediate area raise the usable office space up to close to 100,000 square feet which it was felt would be ample for emergency operations. the town take care of the balance of the present 500 students in the college. It is felt that a thousand people could be accommodated at this location. The Science Building contains laboratory facilities therein on the campus and in the basement of the main building there is a remote control radio unit used in connection with student study and from which some broadcasting is done. Glavin felt the location of Shepherdstown is such that no great difficulty would be experienced in having an emergency radio setup installed by the Bureau.

TRANSPORTATION

Driving time by automobile to Shepherdstown is approximately 1 hour and 45 minutes under normal driving conditions. There is no airport at Shepherdstown but a small one is located at Martinsburg, 9 miles away. A railroad passes through the town, running from Martinsburg, West Virginia, to Roanoke, Virginia, and there is a connecting line with the main Baltimore and Ohio tracks at Martinsburg and also at Shenandoah Junction, 6 miles south of Shepherdstown. Rail time between Martinsburg and Washington is 1 hour and 45 minutes. Buses service the town from surrounding towns.

COMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES

A representative of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company has advised the Bureau that there are a total of 6 toll lines into Shepherdstown, 3 from Hagerstown, Maryland, and 3 from Martinsburg, West Virginia, and that their central switchboard in Shepherdstown is overloaded. The contact further advised that no additional cables could be handled by the current setup and no alternative routing is possible. Mr. Nichols pointed out that the Bureau would need approximately 20 lines to service its activities at this location. Glavin has pointed out that, even though there are only 6 toll lines into Shepherdstown at the present time and that no additional cables could be handled by the current setup, he feels that in case of emergency necessary additional telephone facilities could be run into Shepherdstown to handle the Bureau's needs.

ALTERNATE LOCATION CONSIDERED

Winchester, Virginia, was also considered by the Conference, which is located 73 miles from Washington in a northwesterly direction from Washington and which has a population of 12,000 people, a fairly large business district and several hotels, the largest of which contains 150 rooms. It is approximately half the size of Alexandria, Virginia, and its utilities and other facilities may be compared on this basis. Its principal industry is apple processing and there are several other smaller industrial plants located in the immediate area.

Memorandum for the Director

SPACE FACILITIES

There are 2 high schools located in Winchester, namely, the Handley High School and the new James Wood High School. The Handley High School has 48 classrooms including a large auditorium with a seating capacity of 1600, and a cafeteria which will accommodate 450 people. The school has a total area of 126,000 square feet. The James Wood High School, located on the outskirts of Winchester, has 57 classrooms with a capacity for 1200 students and has a total area of approximately 78,000 square feet.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

There is an airport located at Winchester and the chief method of transportation is by highway. Its disadvantage in this respect is that it is on a main trunk highway which is subject to be cluttered by any mass exodus from Washington.

The Conference recommends the selection of the Shepherdstown, West Virginia, site. Mr. Nichols, however, pointed out the lack of present telephone communications to this particular location. In this regard, it is again pointed out that it is believed appropriate emergency lines could be run into Shepherdstown and, further, it is felt that through the establishment of a Bureau radio network operating at the emergency headquarters at Shepherdstown, our communications needs could be satisfied on an emergency basis.

In the event the Director concurs in the Shepherdstown, West Virginia, site for auxiliary space, it is respectfully recommended that steps be taken to confidentially contact the appropriate State official, who may be the Governor, to determine whether the space occupied by Shepherd College could be made available to the Bureau for emergency headquarters in case of evacuation from Washington. The Conference points out the necessity for such contacts being made very confidentially with no ensuing publicity.

I think we should do this at once.

If facilities can

Reference is made to the Executives Conference memorandum dated July 14, 1950, concerning the above-captioned matter, with the Director's notation to check with the appropriate United States Government agency in order that the Bureau would not be moving at cross purposes with them in obtaining auxiliary space for emergencies.

Special Agent T. D. Webb contacted David Stowe of the White House, who is handling emergency auxiliary space for the President and key personnel of the armed services in case of dire emergency, in order to discuss confidentially the Bureau's proposed plans for auxiliary space in case of extreme emergency.

Mr. Stowe revealed that he was in accord with the Bureau's proposal of emergency space within a nearby radius of Washington and that he was extremely anxious that the Bureau's communications officer and Major McNally be in close accord on communications inasmuch as that is the President's expressed desire. He stated that the President was particularly anxious that he and his staff be in very close contact via radio and/or telephone with the FBI and the Air Force.

He further revealed that the present plans for the emergency as far as the President's staff is concerned will be on a mobile setup with an intricate communications system manned by 40 men from the Army Communications, which will be a large mobile truck. The President and his staff will travel by railroad or automobile, depending on the exigencies of the situation, either to Richmond or some nearby town or city, the exact place not having been picked as yet; that the Secret Service of the White House has worked out detailed plans with the Metropolitan Police Department, Virginia and Maryland State Police, regarding road blocks and channeling of traffic in case of dire emergency.

The Congress will move to some city in the East, fairly close to Washington, where some university is located, which would give them ample facilities from which to conduct their business. This city also has not been picked as yet.

Mr. Stowe indicated that he felt the Bureau's toes in its foresightedness and asked that he be kept advised as to what developments the Bureau made on obtaining their auxiliary space and its communications setup.

Close liaison will be maintained with Mr. Stowe concerning Bureau plans for auxiliary space and communications as he desires to keep the President informed of same.

FROM : W. R. Glavin *W. R. Glavin*SUBJECT: AUXILIARY SPACE FOR THE BUREAU

Reference is made to the Executives Conference memorandum of July 14, 1950, concerning the above-mentioned matter on which the Director noted that an appropriate check should be made with the appropriate United States Government agency in order that the Bureau would not be moving at cross purposes with them in obtaining auxiliary space for emergencies.

In this regard, I communicated with Mr. Hunter, Deputy Commissioner of the Public Buildings Administration in the absence of Commissioner Reynolds of PBA, to determine whether there had been any organized plan for evacuation of Washington in case of emergency.

Hunter stated that all he knew about it was what Jerry Klutz stated in his newspaper columns and that Public Buildings Administration has been given no go sign to set up any particular plan. He says there is probably some thinking, but the only thing that he could say at this time is that there is nothing concrete being done at this time for the movement or evacuation of any of the Government agencies in Washington.

It appears, therefore, that no affirmative action is being taken by PBA, which would be the agency to handle any evacuation, in setting up evacuation plans for Washington, D. C.

Special Agent T. D. Webb contacted David Stowe of the White House, who is handling the emergency auxiliary space for the President and key personnel of the armed services in case of dire emergency. Confidential inquiry elicited the information that the present plans for the emergency, as far as the President's staff is concerned, will be on a mobile setup with a communications system manned by 40 men from the Army Communications in a large mobile truck. The President and his staff will travel by railroad or automobile, depending on the exigencies of the situation, either to Richmond or some nearby town or city. No exact place has as yet been picked.

The Secret Service detail at the White House has worked out detailed plans with the Metropolitan Police Department and Virginia and Maryland State Police regarding road blocks and channeling of traffic in case of such an emergency. Mr. Webb was confidentially advised by Mr. Stowe that Congress will undoubtedly move to some city in the east close to Washington where university buildings could be secured, which would afford them ample facilities to conduct their business. No location has yet been picked.

Mr. Stowe was advised by Mr. Webb that the Bureau had given very serious consideration to the evacuation of its own service and Stowe indicated that he felt the Bureau was on its toes in its foresightedness in making such preparations. Stowe pointed out that the President was particularly anxious that he and his staff be in very close contact with radio and/or telephone with the FBI and Air Force. Stowe pointed out to Webb that the President had commented to the effect that the two outfits that he wanted to keep in touch with were the FBI and the Air Force, and Stowe suggested that as our plans develop that liaison be maintained with Major McNally in charge of communications for the President's emergency setup so that our installations would be coordinated with White House emergency installations.

In view of the fact that the civilian agencies appear to be doing nothing concerning evacuation plans, it is respectfully suggested, particularly since the White House representation felt that our plans were sensible, that the appropriate contact be made with the appropriate official of the West Virginia State Government, presumably the Governor, for the purpose of determining what steps would necessarily have to be taken to secure emergency space at Shepherdstown should it be necessary to evacuate Washington. We could then plan coordinated radio and telephonic communications after we know whether the space at Shepherdstown would be available for us.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Tolson

DATE: July 28, 1950

FROM : W. R. Glavin

SUBJECT: AUXILIARY SPACE FOR THE BUREAU

Reference is made to my memorandum to you under date of July 21, 1950, concerning the above-mentioned matter, which is attached hereto.

In conformity with your instructions on July 25, 1950, I proceeded to Shepherdstown, West Virginia, and at that point discussed the Bureau's emergency space problem with Dr. Oliver S. Ikenberry, President of Shepherd College. I advised Dr. Ikenberry that my inquiries were most confidential. I pointed out the Bureau's plans for emergency space allotments in the event it became necessary to leave Washington and inquired as to his reaction to releasing school property to us for this purpose.

Dr. Ikenberry stated that he, of course, would want to cooperate to the fullest extent with the Director in the event such a move became necessary. He stated that he was hopeful that some arrangement could be made whereby a nucleus of the school could be held together. He pointed out to me that under West Virginia State law, there is no one man who would have the authority to say that the buildings of Shepherd College would or would not be available in an emergency situation for occupancy by the Bureau or any other agency. He pointed out that the State Board of Education is the Board which would necessarily have to pass on a matter such as this. He stated that the next regular meeting of the Board would be in September of this year. He also advised me that a new Chairman of the Board had been recently designated and he thought that it would not hurt to see the Chairman or other members of the Board to explain our problem to them.

Dr. Ikenberry was most courteous. I had luncheon with him at the school cafeteria and I spent approximately two hours going around throughout all of the school buildings. He advised me that they are going to build a new field house and gymnasium at a cost of more than $200,000. I also noted in going through the various buildings of the school that considerable modernization and repair work were being effected.

I have endeavored to communicate with Mr. Ross H. Tuckwiller, Chairman of the Board, and, as I advised you telephonically, he is not at his home at this time, being in the Midwest on a farm convention of some type. He is expected back over the week end and I will make immediate arrangements to go to his home at Lewisburg, West Virginia, to discuss this matter with him. It is entirely possible that he may call a meeting of the Board of Education before September so that the Bureau can present its problem to the entire Board. I will keep you advised in connection with this matter.

Bureau War Plans - Auxiliary Space - S.O.H.

On Wednesday, August 2nd, I proceeded to Lewisburg, West Virginia, and at that city discussed with Mr. Ross Tuckwiller, Chairman of the Board of Education for the State of West Virginia, the possibility of the Bureau being able to utilize the facilities of Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, in the event evacuation from Washington becomes necessary.

Mr. Tuckwiller was most cooperative and stated insofar as he was concerned, very definitely he would have no objection to having the college premises turned over to the Bureau for its use in the case of such emergency. He stated, however, that the entire Board would have to pass on it. He pointed out to me that the Board does not meet during the month of August; that many of the members, who are spread throughout the State, necessarily attend County and State Fairs and are away from their homes for this and for other business, and that it was his intention to meet early in September. Mr. Tuckwiller stated that he would have the Secretary of the Board of Education immediately get in touch with the members of the Board in an effort to set up a meeting as early in September as possible. I pointed out to Mr. Tuckwiller that I would be most happy to appear before the Board in its meeting and explain the Bureau's emergency needs.

I have endeavored to get in touch with Mr. Tuckwiller during the week of August 7th, but he has been out of town and has not been available. As soon as he returns to his home, I will contact him to definitely determine when the meeting will be held.

I was able to contact Mr. Tuckwiller, Chairman of the Board of Education for the State of West Virginia, on the morning of August 14th to determine when the full Board of Education for the State would meet in September of this year. It will be recalled that Mr. Tuckwiller was hopeful of having the Board meet at an early date in September.

He advised me that he had been in touch with the secretary of the Board, who had informed him that at the last meeting, early in July, the majority of the Board had set September 19, 20 and 21, 1950, as the three days which the Board should meet at Charleston, West Virginia. Mr. Tuckwiller was hopeful that it would not be necessary to change the meeting dates from those above listed. He stated if it were absolutely essential, he could get in touch with the members requesting that a special meeting be held; that the members would undoubtedly hold the regular meeting on the three dates in September afore-mentioned regardless. He stated that the entire Board would be very happy to meet with me on any of the three days in question.

I did not ask him to change the meeting dates since, from the information he furnished, it appears that these men would meet anyhow on those dates and a special meeting would necessarily have to be called, and the members of the Board come from all sections of the State. If the present dates are agreeable, and I recommend that they stand, I could appear before this Board on the morning of September 19th and get their final answer then, although we have been assured by the President of the Board and the President of the College up to the present time that they both are sure that the Board will go along with the Bureau, making the college buildings available for Bureau use in case of an emergency.

Pursuant to your request to ascertain the basis for the news which the Director heard on a broadcast at Noon today to the effect that the FBI and other Government Agencies would be moved to the outskirts of Washington, I have determined that this apparently emanated from hearings before the Senate Appropriations Committee, at which Mr. Jess Larson, General Services Administrator, made these comments in behalf of supplemental funds being requested for the purpose by General Services Administration.

The pertinent portions of his testimony appear on pages 411 and 756 through 784.

On page 756, Mr. Larson states that under date of August 30, 1950, a communication was submitted to the Senate from the President, requesting $39,800,000 for emergency construction of Government buildings under the proposed dispersal plan.

On page 779, Mr. McMahon states, "I do not know whether this is the perfect plan, or not. I do say that we must get the FBI and we must get the Central Intelligence Agency and we must get the Joint Chiefs of Staff out of the central target area." Other comments pertaining to the Bureau have been marked for your attention.

For your further information, I am also attaching a clipping from the Washington Daily News of September 13 concerning this matter.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY*Re Bureau War Plan Alternate Headquarters S.O.A.*

In the absence of Mr. Jess Larsen, Administrator, General Services Administration, I talked to his executive assistant, "Cap" Schneider, today. I asked Mr. Schneider whether he had any information indicating where the Bureau's emergency quarters would be located under the plans being drafted for the dispersal of governmental agencies.

Mr. Schneider stated that GSA was still discussing this with the Bureau of the Budget. It is anticipated that some forms will be prepared and sent to the various agencies, in this case the Department, in the near future and upon return a decision will be made as to where the various agencies will be located.

Mr. Schneider stated that no definite steps have been taken to designate any of the agencies for any particular locale at this time.

I told Mr. Schneider that we were very much interested in learning where our emergency quarters would be and would appreciate hearing from him when this was decided.

I will arrange to keep in touch with Mr. Schnieder for the purpose of determining this information.

SUBJECT:

Bureau War Plane Emergency
Headquarters for S. O. S.

With reference to the emergency headquarters at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, I have talked with [redacted] our AT and T contact in Washington. I told him we would like to know exactly what they could do to give us service in the event of an emergency. [redacted] had previously given a very dim view to telephone communications at Shepherdstown since the company there is independently owned and the nearest trunk line is at Morgantown, West Virginia. [redacted] told me in confidence that a big scale construction project was under way at Camp Ritchie; that 10 to 15 million dollars were to be spent for a main emergency communications center for the telephone company in the event of an emergency. They will have 150 channels running north and south and east and west.

[redacted] feeling was that the best thing would be to integrate Shepherdstown with Camp Ritchie; however, he will communicate with us later about this.

Reference is made to Mr. Glavin's memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated September 22, 1950 captioned as above, wherein it was suggested that Bureau engineers make an on-the-site survey of the terrain in and about Shepherdstown in order to set up tentative plans for radio installations when necessary.

Accordingly, unless advised to the contrary I propose to send Special Agent R. L. Millen to Shepherdstown for the purpose of ascertaining:

- (1) The nature, extent and possible adequacy for Bureau operations of reported existing radio facilities owned and operated by the college.
- (2) The possibilities of establishing Bureau radiotelegraph stations similar to Waldorf and Clinton
  - (a) On the college grounds, and
  - (b) On land located in the immediate vicinity.

In order to maintain secrecy with regard to the Bureau's evacuation planning, no individual contacts will be made except with Dr. Ikenberry, President of Shepherd College, who has been designated as our contact.

ACTION:

Unless advised to the contrary the above procedure will be carried out in the near future and a report submitted in which I will propose certain tentative steps with regard to the establishment of radio facilities at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

I. PURPOSE

- Bureau (1) and Plans Emergency Headquarters for S. O. S. J.*
- To report (a) Additional information regarding new buildings at this location.
(b) On nature, extent and possible adequacy of reported existing radio facilities owned and operated by the college.
(c) On-the-site survey of terrain in and about Shepardstown in order to
(d) Recommend tentative plans for radio installations there when necessary.

II. REFERENCE

Mr. Glavin's memorandum to Mr. Tolson September 22, 1950; my memorandum to you dated October 16, 1950.

III. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION REGARDING BUILDINGS.

Dr. Ikenberry, President of Shepards College was contacted by R. L. Millen on October 30, 1950. He advised that approval to add to the college plant a gymnasium and men's dormitory had been granted with excavation of the basements already under way. These buildings will be located on recently acquired college property directly overlooking the Potomac River. From the floor space and housing standpoint it is noted that the dormitory is designed to house 110 men. These approved construction projects are expected to be completed by the fall of 1951.

IV. COLLEGE RADIO FACILITIES.

No radio transmitting facilities are owned or operated by the college. In connection with speech class activities, a sound-proofed room and studio are maintained in the basement of the main building. From these rooms, the college originates from time to time, special programs which are fed into leased telephone wires to Martinsburg, West Virginia where the material is placed on the air by the local Martinsburg radio station. Accordingly, the facilities as described are inadequate for Bureau communications purposes.

V. TERRAIN SURVEY IN AND AROUND SHEPARDSTOWN, WEST VIRGINIA.

Shepardstown is a rural type community of less than 1000 inhabitants located on a high promontory overlooking the Potomac River. No industry is established in the town, it being partially dependent at this time upon the approximately 400 students who are in attendance at Shepard College. Due to the rural environment and non-transient nature of the inhabitants (very little change in population over the past 30 years) Dr. Ikenberry volunteered the view that any construction within the county prior to actual need would be subject to widespread gossip, rumor and possible alarm on the part of the local residents. After surveying the country side extending in all directions on all passable roadways for approximately twenty miles and observing the people residing therein, it is believed that Dr. Ikenberry's observation is indeed founded in fact.

The terrain which surrounds this community consists of rolling hills formed by outcropping limestone strata. In spite of the generally rough terrain, adequate radio sites were located upon which radio receiving and radio transmitting facilities can be established when such installations become necessary.

Briefly, the radio receiving station, comparable to Clinton, Maryland can be located conveniently on college property between the new men's dormitory and the Potomac River bank. This course of action would place the receiving station personnel within college buildings and the antennas on the college grounds. The transmitting station would necessarily be located several miles distant with the most promising sites enumerated as follows, (1) University of West Virginia Experimental Farm. Buildings, power, transportation and terrain are very favorable at this site. In time of need certainly the University of West Virginia would be in the same position as Shepard College with regard to the need of facilities for students. (2) Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration Hospital four miles out of Martinsburg, West Virginia on West Virginia highway number 9. This site is level, within the proper distance from the proposed radio receiving station, has power and proper terrain conditions on U. S. Government land. These constitute the primary sites. Others are included in detail on the attached sheet for future reference.

VI. TENTATIVE PLANS FOR RADIO INSTALLATIONS AT SHEPARDSTOWN WHEN NECESSARY.

My observations in this matter are predicated upon the premise that wherever the Bureau Headquarters is located, the Bureau's communications center will necessarily have to also be established. Since Shepardstown has been chosen, it appears that the communications center, comparable to our present facilities at Clinton and Waldorf would also have to be located in that vicinity. I further observe, upon examination of the conditions under which the Bureau's headquarters and communications centers in Washington are rendered inoperative that of necessity the Bureau's emergency communications facilities at Shepardstown must be able to fully perform the same function as the stations at Clinton and Waldorf are capable of discharging at present. I am assuming these conditions to be (a) certain bombing attack on metropolitan Washington or (b) actual invasion of the Eastern seaboard. From the technical standpoint I must add that duplex radio receiving stations and transmitting stations are by no means portable or readily moved from one point to another. A visit to the main transmitting station at Waldorf will bear me out in this regard.

Already, high priority military demands for communications equipment have resulted in long drawn out delays in the supplying of civilian agency orders. The equipment must be on hand when the time comes to install it. Accordingly, from the facts which I have at hand concerning the Bureau's plans in this matter and knowledge of conditions which govern procurement of communications equipment during emergencies, which conditions will grow progressively worse, I strongly recommend immediate steps to procure the necessary equipment in order to have such materials on hand ready to install when it is needed.

Accordingly, I recommend that the Bureau procure and store sufficient communications equipment to establish, when necessary, a radio receiving and transmitting station at Shepardstown, West Virginia. The total cost of all equipment would be approximately $85,000.

~~ADDENDUM: On December 6, the above recommendations were presented to the Executive Conference and a committee consisting of Messrs. Clegg, Glavin, McGuire, and Parsons was appointed to study the problem. On December 8, the following recommendations of the committee were presented to the Executive Conference:~~

- ~~1. The Clinton radio station be relocated and that an immediate survey be conducted to find a suitable sight.~~
- ~~2. That an immediate survey of equipment be made in order to insure that the necessary equipment can be immediately obtained for the relocation of the station.~~

RECEIVING SITE

Can be established when needed on campus between new men's dormitory and river, overlooking James Rumsey Bridge. This would place personnel in buildings already available and station on ground already available. Site could be located on other property enumerated here but would result in necessity of relay of information into headquarters.

POSSIBLE TRANSMITTING SITES

#1. Southwest of College on road #9 between Kearneyville and Martinsburg lies West Virginia University experimental farm. Excellent land, building, power, transportation and distance from receiving site. Since owned by a University, this site could be obtained it seems on same basis as Shepard College; that is, the university would not need it due to lack of students at such a time.

#2. Southwest of college on West Virginia #9, four miles out of Martinsburg lies the Newton D. Baker VA hospital on U.S. Government land. This could be used as a transmitter site from terrain and location standpoint. Power and transportation very good. Would be unsuited for any extensive receiving operations due to hospital apparatus.

#3. Northwest of college on Maryland State Road 34 two miles from receiving station lies farmland suitable from power, building and antenna standpoint. Would require consent and evacuation of owner. Transportation good except necessitates crossing of river on James Rumsey Bridge.

#4. Northwest of college on Maryland State Road 34 past Sharpsburg - various sites on Antietam Battleground some of which owned by U. S. Government. 2.9 miles from receiving station. Lacks buildings and in some cases power. Same disadvantage re transportation as #3.

#5. South towards Leetown - rocky upland to Kearneyville (5 miles) no sites, beyond Kearneyville first possible site is suitable farmland owned by [redacted] (6.7 miles from proposed receiver site). Power ends at this farm indicating there would be poor regulation. Need to evacuate owner.

#6. West on West Virginia #45 two miles this highway goes over Jefferson ridge which limits the usefulness of any sites beyond this high point. Terrain rocky and unsuited. Only possibility offered is farmland

at 3.2 miles out, however, power is none too good, transportation good, terrain poor. Only possibility in area before Jefferson ridge.

#7. Southeast of college, roads to Harper's Ferry and Charlestown offer no good possibilities. Terrain broken and falling off in elevation. At three miles a severe ridge is crossed thereby limiting any sites beyond.

#8. North - Northwest of college on passable narrow road the terrain is very rugged, sparsely settled and either without power or without adequate power. Only remote possibility lies in R. D. Beard farm lying 3.2 miles up this road. Transportation poor, site generally acceptable only as a last resort. No other partially acceptable sites in this direction.

Reference is made to a memorandum from Mr. R. W. Lawrence to Mr. Glavin dated November 30, 1950, in the above matter.

Urban Planning, General Services Administration, advised Mr. Lawrence of the Liaison Section on December 8, 1950, that testimony in the hearings before the House Committee on December 8, 1950, resulted in the question being settled that there will be a total of 8 sites to be located on a 20 mile perimeter, and that the number of individuals per site will be limited to 5,000. He had no further information concerning the selection of sites, nor as to the agencies who will be selected to occupy them.

This matter will be followed with  and you will be advised of any further developments in the program.

On Wednesday, September 20, 1950, I appeared before the State Board of Education for the State of West Virginia, meeting at Charleston, West Virginia, and presented to the Board the Bureau's problem in obtaining emergency headquarters in case of evacuation from Washington.

I pointed out to the assembled Board that the Director in preparing for any eventuality felt it absolutely necessary that temporary emergency headquarters be available in the event of an evacuation at some time in the future. I further pointed out to the Board that there were no developments at the present time which would lead us to believe that the occupancy of such temporary headquarters was imminent. I further pointed out to them that it is absolutely necessary that my discussion with them be maintained on a confidential basis; that we were endeavoring to be fully prepared for any eventuality, however, we are not desirous of having any wave of hysteria sweep any section of the country as a result of the FBI's preparedness plans.

The members of the Board were in entire agreement with my comments. No record was made of my appearance before the Board and there will be no record in the minutes of the Board of Education concerning our discussion. It was moved by a member of the Board and seconded that the facilities of Shepherd College should be made available to the FBI in case of an emergency which might necessitate the Bureau's evacuating Washington. On a vote being taken, it was unanimously approved, and the Chairman of the Board and others wished me to express to the Director their desire to be of assistance to the Bureau in any way possible and further wanted me to express to the Director the confidence they had in his administration. I expressed the Director's deep appreciation for their statements. The Board voted to have Dr. Ikenberry, President of Shepherd College, designated as contact with the Bureau in any future discussions concerning the college property.

Since arrangements now have been approved by the State Board of Education to make occupancy of the college property in case of evacuation from Washington, it is suggested that the appropriate contacts be made with the Telephone Company concerning installation of cables in the event of an emergency, no installations to be made at this time and, further, that our radio engineers be able to make an on-the-site survey of the terrain in and about Shepherdstown to set up tentative plans for radio installations when necessary.

Pursuant to instructions, Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section contacted Mr. Ramsey Potts, Special Assistant to the Chairman, National Security Resources Board, on January 23, 1951. Mr. Potts was advised that, in connection with the dispersal of Government agencies, the FBI desired to go on record as in favor of remaining in Washington rather than being allocated to a dispersal point outside of Washington.

Mr. Potts advised that he would make this a matter of record and stated that the NSRB recommendations to the Budget Bureau did not include specific agencies to be transferred out of Washington. He further stated that it is his understanding that more detailed plans concerning the dispersal of Government agencies will be presented to NSRB by the Budget Bureau within a few days.

On January 25, 1951, pursuant to instructions, Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section, called on W. Stuart Symington, Chairman of the National Security Resources Board. Mr. Symington was advised of the position taken by the Bureau in desiring to remain in Washington. To this Mr. Symington stated "it would be a disaster to remove the FBI from Washington" and that he would do all in his power to see that the Bureau remained in Washington. Mr. Symington thanked the Bureau's Liaison representatives for advising him of the Bureau's thoughts in this manner.

Reference is made to previous correspondence concerning possible dispersal of Government activities from metropolitan Washington.

I have carefully considered the Bureau's problems and responsibilities under the present tense international situation and feel that it would be unwise and undesirable for this Bureau to be considered for move to a dispersal point outside metropolitan Washington at this time or at any time in the future.

It is my understanding that it is anticipated the Cabinet Officers and other Government officials are to remain in their present quarters during any emergency period and will not be considered for dispersal assignments. I feel that the Bureau, having the responsibility for the coordination of matters pertaining to the internal security of the country, should continue in its present centrally located position since it will be necessary as conditions become more tense to continuously confer with representatives of other agencies of the Government and continuously interchange highly secret internal security information with other intelligence agencies of the Government. I feel that our present location in the Department of Justice Building is entirely satisfactory and operations can be continued efficiently in any emergency. The same holds true for our Identification Division activities housed in Federal Office Building Number One at 2nd and D Streets, S. W. The building is ideally set up for identification activities. It is centrally located, is secure all necessary record information data from that location without delay and it is felt that it should be continued in its present location.

It is recommended, therefore, that the appropriate Government agency having charge of dispersal activities be advised that it is felt that the Bureau should remain in its present quarters in metropolitan Washington at this time and should not be considered for any of the perimeter dispersal

Bureau War Plans Emergency Headquarters for S.O.G.

I am attaching hereto the Executives Conference memorandum of December 19, 1950, concerning the Executives Conference consideration of the dispersal of Bureau activities.

In accordance with the Director's telephonic instructions to me, no action has been taken in connection with this particular matter, but an effort has been made to find out just what other agencies of the Government, such as, Library of Congress, Archives, and others, are going to do.

Mr. Leo Laughlin of the Security Division has discussed this matter with Captain Schneider, Personal Administrative Assistant to Jess Larson of the Government Services Agency, concerning this matter. Schneider advised Mr. Laughlin this morning that there has been no decision by anybody as to any dispersal of any Government agency up to the present time; that there is no information available as to what agencies like Archives, Library of Congress and such would do under the dispersal program. Schneider further advised Mr. Laughlin that the General Services Administration has just gotten rid of this problem and it is now the responsibility of the Bureau of the Budget to determine who will and who will not be decentralized and/or dispersed.

This situation is becoming more confused every day and if it is now in the hands of certain representatives of the Bureau of the Budget, we can rest assured that, if it is not completely fouled up now, it will be in a very short period of time.

In view of this fact, I would respectfully suggest that we advise the Attorney General that at the present we do not feel that any decentralization or dispersion of the Bureau's activity is desirable or wanted.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : The Director

FROM : The Executives Conference

SUBJECT:

DATE: December 19, 1950

The Executives Conference of December 19, 1950, consisting of Messrs. Ladd, Tracy, Mohr, Parsons for Harbo, Nichols, Belmont, Sizoo, Hargett for Rosen, Clegg and Glavin, reconsidered its original decision concerning the dispersal of Bureau activities.

The original Executives Conference memorandum dated December 13, 1950, which recommended the dispersal of both the Seat of Government proper and the Identification Division is attached hereto.

Considerable discussion was held by the Conference in connection with this particular matter on Tuesday, December 19. Mr. Clegg pointed out in connection with the discussion that during the war,

 although _____ were twenty miles distant.
 and _____ also kept _____ with _____ being forty miles distant from _____

b7D

In discussing this matter this morning, it was pointed out by Messrs. Clegg and Tracy that in the first consideration of the possible moving of the Bureau headquarters, they had been of the opinion that such a move would be necessary and had voted with that thought in mind.

Glavin pointed out to the Conference that at the present time this entire matter of the dispersement of Government agencies is in a muddled condition. It was pointed out that there had been comment to the effect that the FBI, an important internal security agency, would necessarily be given high priority. It was pointed out to the Conference that Mr. Edgar Ford of the Department had pointed out that the FBI was the number one priority of the Department insofar as he was concerned in any move for safety of records, personnel and activities. The Conference, therefore, reconsidered the entire matter on the basis that it may not be necessary to move the main Bureau presently located in the Department of Justice Building. The Conference unanimously was of the opinion that the Identification Division activities of the Bureau should be removed to the perimeter of Washington in that area suggested by the Director between Bethesda and Gaithersburg, since many of the fingerprints and records presently on file in the Identification Division could not be duplicated if they were destroyed through bombing attacks.

Messrs. Tracy, Parsons, Clegg, Sizoo and Hargett also feel that the Bureau headquarters should be moved to the Washington perimeter if such moves are made. The members of the Conference recommending this move feel that we have information in our security files at the Seat of Government that should be removed from the heart of town; that we have certain information contained in those files that is not duplicated in any field file; that it is essential that the Bureau consider its responsibilities under the internal security program of the country; that we would not be assisting in the over-all security of the country if we continued to maintain quarters in downtown Washington which may be subject to bombings with the destruction not only of our records, but also of qualified experienced personnel. The members of the Conference voting for a dispersement of the main Bureau to the perimeter area feel that such a move should be made so that we would under any consideration have a sufficient qualified staff to continue our essential work.

Messrs. Ladd, Nichols, Belmont, Mohr and Glavin, while recommending that the Identification Division be moved to the perimeter area because of original unduplicated records maintained in that Division, recommend that since the Cabinet is going to remain in Washington proper, since we have received oral information that the Assistant Attorneys General will remain in Washington proper, there appears to be no reason why the Bureau headquarters should move from its present headquarters in the Department of Justice Building. Those voting in favor of continuing in our present quarters point out that if the Bureau is moved to the perimeter of Washington, even though the danger of attack by bombing may be dissipated in the future, such a move would give us permanent quarters outside of Washington with the resultant increase in administrative overhead. Those recommending remaining in our present quarters in the Department of Justice Building realize that we may have some records in our Files Section which are not duplicated in the field. However, a great majority of such records will be duplicated in the field and the great bulk of our closed investigative files which are presently housed in the Identification Division would go with the Identification Division to a perimeter location outside of Washington.

Pending the Director's decision in this particular matter, further action in advising the Attorney General of the Bureau's desires is being held in abeyance.

Respectfully,

[redacted] A copy of the communication in question labeled "Secret" dated November 9, 1950, which was received in the Bureau late on the afternoon of December 12, 1950, is attached hereto for the Director's information. Referral/Consult

Briefly, the Director of the [redacted]

[redacted]

It was pointed out to the Conference that the assumptions as approved by the National Security Resources Board and the General Services Administration, which may be made in preparing plans are as follows:

1. Washington will remain the Seat of Government.
2. A devastating attack may occur without any warning.
3. No additional Federal office buildings will be constructed in the central area, but new buildings will be provided in the dispersal area.
4. The temporary wooden buildings constructed during World Wars I and II will be vacated.
5. Office space will be provided for those organization units the functions of which can be performed in completely removed locations. ENCLOSURE 2
6. Bomb-proof or bomb-resistant shelter will be provided for personnel stationed in the central area.
7. Protected space will be provided for the preservation of valuable records and equipment which cannot be duplicated or transferred to locations outside the central area.

Memorandum for the Director

The Conference was advised that Mr. Edgar Ford of the Department of Justice had advised Glavin that from information he had received, it was expected that the Cabinet officers would remain in Washington under the dispersal plans. Ford advised Glavin that he understands that the Assistant Attorneys General would remain in Washington in the Department of Justice Building, even though there is a dispersal of certain of the Justice activities. The Conference was further advised that information was received from the same source that the Department feels that the FBT is the number one priority insofar as securing space in the dispersal area of Washington; that the Internal Security Unit of the Department of Justice is the next priority, and the Immigration and Naturalization Service is the next priority for moving to a dispersal location. There has been no definite determination of what parts of the Department of Justice would be moved to a dispersal location. The Department is desirous of being advised by the Bureau as to its desires regarding the location to be occupied by the Bureau in the event the dispersal plan is approved.

The Conference was advised that Ford had stated that one section of the Department had suggested that it be moved between Bethesda and Gaithersburg, Maryland, having in mind the fact that the B. & O. Railroad facilities could be used and, further, there are good highway facilities to that particular area.

The Conference gave serious consideration to the plans which should be promulgated by the Bureau in planning for the continuity of operation under emergency conditions. The majority of the Conference, with the exception of Messrs. Rosen and Sizoo, recommended that all Bureau functions presently handled in the Department of Justice Building and in the Identification Division Building be considered for dispersal within the dispersal perimeter around Washington. The Conference understands that this dispersal area would be no less than twenty miles nor more than twenty-four miles from Washington. The majority of the Conference felt that all activities of the Bureau should be contiguous in the dispersal area. They pointed out that if we occupy one of the sites on the perimeter of Washington, there would be little change of any direct hits as a result of bombings, and it was felt that we could much more satisfactorily perform our work if all of our activities, investigative, supervisory, laboratory, administrative, training, inspection and identification work, were maintained with strict central control. It was pointed out by the majority that decentralization of any of our activities, and by decentralization is meant the locating of certain of our activities in cities distant from Washington, would be undesirable since there is such a tie-in between the various activities at the Seat of Government. It was pointed out that under our present programs, the Loyalty program,

Memorandum for the Director

Atomic Energy program, Immigration and Naturalization program and Coast Guard program, it is necessary in many instances to have both our Ident files checked and our regular files checked, and if one portion of the Bureau was decentralized to a distant city, it would mean double handling of many of these requests.

Mr. Clegg agreed that it is desirable to have all of our activities together. He did state that if decentralization is necessary, that the Laboratory, with the exception of the Radio and Electrical, and Cryptanalysis Sections, and the Identification Division, the Crime Statistics Unit, and the training and Quantico phases of the Training and Inspection Division, could be decentralized to some distant point from Washington. Messrs. Rosen and Sizoo feel that the Identification Division, the Laboratory and the training facilities of the Training and Inspection Division should be considered for decentralization at this time. The members voting for decentralization understand that the cities to be utilized for such decentralization of Government activities are not yet known. However, these cities will be distant from possible points of attack. Messrs. Rosen and Sizoo felt that the activities of the sections of the Bureau which they recommend for decentralization could be handled without any difficulty if they were moved from Washington to some point distant from Washington. The entire Conference understands that if there is a decentralization under the present proposed program, such a decentralization is to be permanent and would not be brought back to Washington at any future date.

With reference to the possible location of the Bureau in the dispersal perimeter, Messrs. Ladd, Sizoo, Clegg, Belmont, Mohr, Parsons for Harbo, Nease, Nichols and Glavin recommend that we advise the Department that the Bureau feels that a dispersal location west of Washington in Virginia in the approximate area near Fairfax, Virginia, would be entirely satisfactory.

For the Director's information, Fairfax, Virginia, is a short distance off a big, main, double, trunk highway and it can also be reached by several other good first class roads from other sections of nearby northern Virginia. Fairfax is approximately sixteen miles from Washington.

Messrs. Rosen and Tracy recommend that the Bureau recommend to the Department that consideration be given to locating the Bureau in the northwest Maryland area, which area would encompass the area beyond Bethesda and cover through on Gaithersburg, Rockville, and that surrounding area there. Again, there would be good roads and access could be had to such quarters without a great deal of difficulty. Those who are partial to the northwest Maryland area point out that locating in Virginia, we would have to depend on bridges for travel from Washington to our dispersal location; that they felt such dependency would be undesirable. Mr. Clegg pointed out, however, that during the past war none of the bridges over the Thames in London were destroyed even though London itself was brutally punished by bombings.

The Conference gave further consideration to the protection of indispensable operating records for emergency use. It will be recalled that it was originally determined that the Bureau felt in case of enemy invasion, all of its records at the Seat of Government should be destroyed, the destruction of records to include not only our investigative and administrative files records, but also our fingerprint records maintained in the Identification Division. In considering this particular matter and the recommendation to be made by the Bureau regarding the retention of records which would be essential in the operation of the Bureau under emergency conditions, the Conference unanimously feels that it would be unnecessary to duplicate any of our fingerprint records, even though there are a number of fingerprint records on file in the Identification Division, copies of which are not on file elsewhere in the country.

The majority of the Conference feels that if the Identification Division was located in the dispersal area, there would be very little likelihood of the records being destroyed by bombings. Mr. Tracy pointed out that we have represented in our fingerprint files approximately 80,000,000 people and that 8,000,000 of these individuals are those on whom police fingerprint records have been submitted and copies of these fingerprint records, of course, would be located in the files of the law enforcement agencies which originally submitted the records to us for handling. The remaining 72,000,000 cover Government employees, members of the armed services, defense industry employees of World War II and the like, and are not duplicated elsewhere. It was pointed out by the Conference that it would not be necessary to actually destroy any of these records unless and until there was an actual invasion at which time the fingerprint records could be destroyed.

With reference to the remainder of our files, it was the consensus of opinion in the Conference that it would not be necessary to microfilm, to copy or to pull copies of any of our investigative files or reports maintained at the Seat of Government in the Records Section. It was pointed out by Messrs. Ladd and Belmont that information on our pick-up lists under the Detcom program has already been made available to an inland office, Omaha; that each divisional office has a copy of the security index cards of individuals in their particular territory, and it is not felt that additional records would be needed by the Bureau covering this program to pick up the people

✓ who would necessarily have to be apprehended in case of war. They further point out that in the majority of instances copies of the reports contained in our investigative files at the Seat of Government are contained in the office of origin in the field and it would be unnecessary, therefore, to have duplicate copies of our files here prepared at this time. It is pointed out again that if the Bureau is located in a dispersal area on the perimeter of Washington, there is every possibility that our location would not be bombed in case of a bombing attack. The Conference feels that in case of invasion, when it would be necessary to evacuate Washington, that the records should then be disposed of. 7

The Conference wishes further to point out to the Director that steps have already been taken to see that copies of our payrolls are forwarded monthly to the Omaha Division and arrangements have also been made to microfilm the fingerprint records of all Bureau employees for forwarding to the same office for safekeeping, these microfilmed records to be utilized for identification purposes if and when necessary in the event our original personnel records were destroyed.

|| The Conference recommends, therefore, that the attached memorandum go forward to the Department of Justice concerning the above particular matters.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

Bureau War Plans Emergency Headquarters for S.O.G.

Concerning previous memoranda submitted in connection with the above-mentioned matter this is to advise that I have again spoken to representatives of the Bureau of the Budget concerning the Bureau's decision that it should remain in its present quarters and not be considered either for decentralization or for dispersal on the Washington dispersal perimeter.

Mr. Schmid of the Bureau of the Budget discussed this matter with me in great detail. He stated that certain representatives of the Bureau of the Budget were wondering whether our records would in any way be jeopardized by retaining our present quarters.

I pointed out to Mr. Schmid, as I have pointed out in the past to Budget representatives prior to this time, that insofar as our investigative reports were concerned we have duplicate records in the field and duplicate case files could be secured from the various offices of origin in the field. I also pointed out to him that duplicate fingerprint records could be secured and, in response to his inquiry, I did point out that it is entirely possible that certain of the non-criminal fingerprint records could not be duplicated. I pointed out, however, that we felt that since the higher echelon of the government is to remain in Washington proper that in view of the fact that they would necessarily have to be contacted that the Bureau's headquarters could serve best by having a central location where information could be furnished to the administration, military or other authorized persons without delay and that we feel that being quartered as we presently are was just as safe as being quartered elsewhere. Comment was made that if we were on the perimeter of 20 miles from Washington we could probably render services as needed and it might be safer there from bombings. I advised Mr. Schmid that I did not feel we would be any safer on the perimeter than now and further we must remember if conditions come to exist such as is anticipated in a perimeter dispersal plan the roads would be clogged, ~~we~~ might be damaged through bombings, the wire services would be destroyed, there would be very little telephone service and radio transmission would probably be damaged and for all practical purposes we would not be able to do the job as we should if we were located outside the central Washington area. Mr. Schmid felt that we had a very good case and he is passing this information on to others in the Bureau of the Budget. I advised him that any repre-

Reference is made to your communication of March 23, 1951, with which you forwarded a photostatic copy of the Bureau of the Budget Bulletin Number 51-11, addressed to the Heads of the Executive Departments and Establishments concerning the subjects of emergency relocation planning.

Responding to the request for emergency relocation data, and utilizing the identification figure numbers furnished by the Bureau of the Budget, the Bureau wishes to advise as follows:

1. Federal Bureau of Investigation

2. The major functions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are the investigation of violations of certain of the Federal statutes such as kidnapping, bank robbery, extortion and many others; the investigation of matters pertaining to the internal security of the United States. You will recall that President Truman, under date of July 24, 1950, issued a directive designating the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a coordinating agency covering matters of an internal security nature of the continental United States and certain of its possessions and territories; the Bureau has the responsibility for the investigation of applicants for employment in a number of government agencies such as the Atomic Energy Commission, the Voice of America Program, et cetera; under the President's Loyalty Program the Federal Bureau of Investigation has the responsibility of checking its investigative and identification files of applicants for employment in the Security Branch of the Government; maintains the Identification Division which houses 117 million sets of fingerprints, exchanges fingerprints with law enforcement agencies throughout the United States and many foreign countries, these files being utilized for checking against the fingerprint records of Government employees, members of the armed forces, aliens requesting citizenship and many other such checks.

3. Washington area personnel as of June 30, 1951, is estimated at 6050, which includes personnel for whom supplemental funds are presently pending approval by Congress.

4. Yes. The Federal Bureau of Investigation maintains 52 divisional offices in the field located both in the continental United States and in the territories of Hawaii and Alaska, and the possession of Puerto Rico.

6. Instructions have been prepared.

7. Yes.

8-14. You will recall that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has requested that it be not considered for dispersal or relocation. The work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is such that it will be absolutely essential that its services be available at the Seat of Government proper in the event of any emergency. It is felt that we can function in our present location in Washington in view of any war emergency with the exception of complete evacuation of the city. The Bureau has set up a chain of command not only at the Seat of Government, but among the divisional offices so that the Bureau's emergency functioning will continue without delay in the case of death by disaster of its key personnel. Each of the Bureau's divisional offices and its divisions at the Seat of Government have set up appropriate emergency working schedules that can be placed into operation without loss of time under emergency conditions. Arrangements have already been made to see that necessary information concerning personnel and other important records are available in one of the inland divisional offices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the event our records in Washington are partially or totally destroyed.

I communicated with Dr. Ikenberry, President of State Teachers College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, today and made arrangements to see him tomorrow, June 5, between 1:00 and 2:00 P.M., concerning the possibility of procuring space in the college at this time for the purpose of running in telephone cables and possible storage space for telephone and teletype equipment. Dr. Ikenberry stated that the Chairman of the State School Board was in Shepherdstown at this time and he felt tomorrow afternoon would be an excellent time for me to go to Shepherdstown.

It is my intention to lay the groundwork with the Chairman of the Board and Dr. Ikenberry to have appropriate space set aside for us if this can be done and make arrangements for communications and radio men to proceed to Shepherdstown at a later date for the actual running of cables and storage of equipment.

BUREAU Plans Emergency Headquarters
FOR With reference to the attached memoranda concerning the installation of telephone lines at State Teachers College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, Messrs. McGuire, Parsons, Newman and myself met a representative of the Bell Telephone Company and also the Central Telephone Company, the independent telephone company servicing Shepherdstown at the college, on Tuesday, June 19, 1951.

Previous to this time I had discussed with Dr. Ikenberry, President of the College, the Bureau's desire to have the necessary emergency lines run in to the college at this time so that we would be able to function without any delay whatsoever in the event of an emergency. Dr. Ikenberry previously approved of having the technical men survey certain possible available space in the college to determine where the telephone and teletype cables could be terminated and where the necessary equipment could be stored. A room was found in the main administration building of the college in the basement floor where the cables could be terminated, where the switchboard could be stored and where the teletype, radio and other related equipment could be stored so that they could be immediately placed into operation in case it becomes necessary for the Bureau to occupy the college in that town. The room which was selected was a library storage room and, according to the technical men present, would be entirely satisfactory for the installation of the equipment in question. Mr. McGuire has acquainted Mr. Nichols with the matter and the telephone men are going ahead with the construction of the board and will do the necessary outside work on the stringing or laying the cable. I suggested to these men that the cable installation into the college and the moving of the switchboard and teletype machines should be held in abeyance until completion of the summer term of the school the latter part of August. There will be two weeks then before the beginning of the fall term where there will be very few people present at the college and these installations can be made without any comment being made concerning them.

I pointed out to all representatives present that it is absolutely essential that this entire project be maintained on a top secret level and that under no consideration must any comment be made about it at any time.

I expressed my sincere appreciation to Dr. Ikenberry for the Reference is made to the Executives Conference memorandum of May 12, 1951, concerning the installation of telephone lines at State Teachers College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. The memorandum also comments concerning emergency equipment which should be stored at that site.

On June 5, 1951, I proceeded to Shepherdstown and discussed with Mr. Baehr, Secretary of the State Board of Education, and Dr. Ikenberry, President of the State Teachers College, Shepherdstown, the Bureau's desire to have certain cables run to the school and the storing of certain teletype, telephone and radio equipment at that site. Both of these gentlemen stated they would have no objection whatsoever to the Bureau's having the necessary emergency lines installed and arrangements have been made to proceed to Shepherdstown on the morning of June 19, 1951, with a representative of the Telephone Company designated by Mr. Nichols and Mr. Parsons, of the Laboratory, to determine the best possible way to make the cable installation at the present time and the manner in which the equipment should be stored.

Completion of this particular project has been held up until June 19th because the telephone man whom Mr. Nichols desires to make this survey will not be available next week.

TO : The Director

DATE: May 12, 1951

FROM : The Executives Conference

SUBJECT: BUREAU War Plans
Emergency Headquarters FOR SAC

The Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Glavin, Tracy, Harbo, Mohr, Ladd, Belmont, Rosen, Sizoo and Nichols considered the matter of providing for communication services at the State Teachers College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, in order that a minimum delay would be encountered should it be necessary to utilize these facilities. The following were pointed out to the Conference by Mr. Nichols as the minimum facilities we would need:

- (a) A private branch exchange switchboard with 60 telephone stations in the college building.
- (b) Two trunks to the Shepherdstown Central Office.
- (c) Three foreign exchange trunks to Martinsburg Central Office.
- (d) One tie line to Washington.
- (e) Three tie lines to Camp Ritchie or vicinity.
- (f) One private telephone line terminating on instruments to New York.
- (g) One private line teletypewriter circuit to New York.
- (h) Two private line teletypewriter circuits to Chicago.

The facilities at Shepherdstown are being built up and in order to provide for a minimum delay, the following steps should be taken:

- (1) Construction of a cable from the main tie line of the telephone system which terminates in the central office of the Shepherdstown exchange to the college building. This cable will cost the Bureau $1,398.

It would be to the Bureau's advantage to have this cable run into a room on the college grounds so that the time required to hook up a two-position 80-line switchboard would be at a very minimum. It is believed that a minimum of 60 telephone instruments, the necessary cable and wire should be stock-piled along with two fully wired 80 line position switchboards. This will require a non-recurring charge of $81.75 per month while the equipment is held in storage. It, of course, would be to the Bureau's advantage if space could be provided where the switchboards could be installed. In the event this is not possible, cables could be terminated so that all that would be necessary would be to wire the switchboard to the cable.

The Conference unanimously recommended that Mr. Glavin explore this possibility with the college authorities and that the site be agreed upon where the cable will be terminated in order that telephone company engineers can be advised.

(2) The necessary teletypewriter equipment with reperforators and automatic transmitters should be stock-piled in the immediate vicinity of Shepherdstown, preferably at Martinsburg, where they could be utilized on a moment's notice. This will require a monthly charge of $400 for rental.

(3) The telephone company advises that if the switchboards are stored in Martinsburg, a maximum of 16 hours' time will be required to install the switchboards and the 60 telephones. In the meantime, five telephones could be installed and connected to the local trunks and three foreign exchange trunks in Martinsburg.

The tie lines to Washington and Camp Ritchie will require from four to 16 hours to install and get into working order. (Camp Ritchie, in the event Washington is bombed, will become the Armed Services communications center operated by the Signal Corps with terminal facilities throughout the entire United States. The Bureau is being included in the master plan which is presently being worked on. Construction has already been started by the Signal Corps at Camp Ritchie.)

The private telephone line to New York will require from two to four hours to put into operation.

The teletypewriter service between Shepherdstown and New York will require between eight to twelve hours to install and put into operation and similar service between Shepherdstown and Chicago and Shepherdstown and Washington will require within 24 hours to complete. (In our communications plans it is contemplated to use Chicago as a relay point should we have to set up operations in Shepherdstown.)

To adequately provide for the Bureau's emergency communications services at Shepherdstown, the total cost at the present time would amount to $5,898 plus a monthly rental charge for equipment stock-piling of $481.75. Should we move to Shepherdstown and put the plan into operation, a termination charge for the switchboard will amount to $1,440 reduced at the rate of $40 per month each month the equipment remains in service until the liability has been amortized at the expiration of a three-year period. In other words, should the service be discontinued, the remaining unamortized portion of the termination charge would become a fixed liability.

Memo to the Director

All members of the Conference were unanimous in recommending that as soon as funds are available orders are to be placed for the above equipment and facilities, that Mr. Glavin arrange for the installation of the cable into the school building and if possible for the allocation of a corner or small room where the switchboards can be installed. These could be placed in an out-of-the-way place which would not attract attention.

Respectfully,

Constitution Ave. between 9 and 10 Sts.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Nichols:

You have informed us that you desire us to be prepared to furnish the following telephone service at the State Teachers College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia in case it should be necessary for your Bureau to occupy temporarily that location in case a serious disaster made it necessary to evacuate your present headquarters in Washington. You have also stated that no advance notice of the time of occupancy can be given and that the period of occupancy may be only 30 to 60 days. You have also stipulated that no installation work on the premises may be done in advance and that the cost of the standby arrangements should be limited as much as practicable.

This is the telephone service we are planning to furnish when you occupy the emergency location.

- (a) A private branch exchange switchboard with 60 telephone stations in the college building.
- (b) Two trunks to the Shepherdstown Central Office.
- (c) Three foreign exchange trunks to Martinsburg Central Office.
- (d) One tie line to Washington.
- (e) Three tie lines to Camp Ritchie or vicinity.
- (f) One private telephone line terminating on instruments to New York.
- (g) One private line teletypewriter circuit to New York.
- (h) Two private line teletypewriter circuits to Chicago.
- (i) One private line teletypewriter circuit to Washington.

FOR SOG

In order to be prepared to finish this service on such short notice, certain preparatory steps should be taken at once. Below, I am listing the action we should proceed to take at once and the charge which would be made to your Bureau for these standby arrangements. This tabulation shows the company responsible for the undertaking.

Central Telephone Company

Construction of cable between Central Office and College buildings -- $1,398.

Purchasing and storing two-position 80-line switchboard and 60 telephone instruments and necessary cable and wire -- $4,500 non-recurring charge and $81.75 per month while the equipment is held in storage.

Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of West Virginia

Secure and store teletypewriter machine with reperforator and automatic transmitter -- $50.00 per month, while equipment remains earmarked and in storage.

Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company (Washington)

Secure and store teletypewriter machine with reperforator and automatic transmitter -- $50.00 per month, while equipment remains earmarked and in storage.

American Telephone and Telegraph Company

Six teletypewriter machines with typing reperforator and automatic transmitter -- $300.00 per month while the equipment remains earmarked and held in storage.

With these preparatory steps completed the entire installation you will require on your occupancy of the location can be placed in service in accordance with the following approximate time intervals:

The cable construction, we are informed by the Central Telephone Company, will start promptly on receipt of instructions from you and will be completed as soon as possible.

The switchboard positions and station equipment will, on acceptance of the Plan, be ordered and stored as promptly as they can be shipped from the factory.

The installation of the switchboard and the PBX stations will require 16 hours to complete. Five stations, however, can be completed within three hours and connected direct to the two local trunks and the three foreign exchange trunks to Martinsburg.

The tie line to Washington and to Camp Ritchie will require between four and 16 hours to complete. The private line to New York terminating on instruments will require between two and four hours to complete.

The teletypewriter service between Shepherdstown and New York will require between 8 and 12 hours to complete, and the similar service between Shepherdstown and Chicago and Shepherdstown and Washington will be complete within 24 hours.

The above time intervals are all contingent on the availability of the interexchange facilities necessary to provide the circuits required. Under existing conditions we cannot agree to hold such circuits for possible use at an indefinite future date unless they are ordered into service now by you.

After the equipment is placed in service the following indicates the charges that will apply:

Standard tariff rates of the respective companies will apply to telephone station equipment, teletypewriter instrumentalities, mileage, service connection charges and messages. The Central Telephone Company will require a minimum contract period of three years for the two positions of private branch exchange, with a termination charge liability of $1440 reduced at the rate of $40.00 per month each month that the equipment remains in service, until the liability has been amortized at the expiration of the three-year period. If the service is disconnected within the three-year period the remaining unamortized portion of the termination charge liability becomes due at once.

At your request the provisions of this proposal were coordinated with all of the Companies involved. However, with respect to the Central Telephone Company, any final arrangements should be made directly with that Company for their share of this project.

Will you kindly advise me whether the proposal contained in this letter is satisfactory to your Bureau and if so authorize us to proceed with the preparatory action listed herein.

Sincerely yours,

b6

① BUREAU WAR PLANS - ALTERNATE

HEADQUARTERS SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

To summarize the captioned joint resolution which was introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Holifield on May 15, 1951, and was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

SUMMARY OF JOINT RESOLUTION:

This resolution proposes to establish a nine-member Commission on Government Security. This Commission would investigate and study the feasibility of establishing an alternate site for the United States Government to be used in the event of attack by a foreign power. The Commission would particularly consider the following points:

- (1) Possible sites for the alternate Seat of Government;
- (2) The buildings and other facilities which would be required at such site;
- (3) The extent to which duplicate records and documents would have to be made available at any such site to insure the efficiency and continuous operation of the Government;
- (4) The procedures to be followed in selecting successors to the President, Vice President and members of Congress in the event of casualties from an attack.

The Commission would be empowered to obtain information, facilities and personnel to carry on its study from any department or agency of the Government. A report of the study would be completed by January 31, 1952.

POSSIBLE EFFECT UPON BUREAU:

If enacted, the Study Commission could be expected to ask the Bureau and other Government agencies the following questions:

(1) What office space, communication facilities, etc., would be needed at alternate headquarters;

(2) What records would have to be duplicated and maintained at the alternate headquarters.

OBSERVATIONS:

The alternate space, records, etc., apparently, would be established in advance of any attack. At the threat of attack, there could be an orderly transfer of Government to the alternate site.

The movement of the Bureau in such circumstances would have to be a part of an overall Government plan. Until such overall plans become more concrete, either through such a legislative study as this bill contemplates or through study by the responsible agency of the Executive Branch, it does not appear that the Bureau can make any definite plans in this direction.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be routed to Mr. Glavin, who would serve as the coordinator of any contemplated evacuation and to the coordinator of the Bureau's war plans for their information.

I have your letter of September 25, 1951, advising that you had asked Mr. David H. Stowe, of your staff, to discuss with me the plans of the FBI to assure continued operation under times of emergency such as enemy attack.

I will be very happy to have Mr. Stowe call at my office at any time to discuss the matters he has in mind. We have made definite progress in our own planning and I will send our plans directly to Mr. Stowe in response to information requested by the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning within the next few days.

In accordance with your instructions, CW radio equipment was moved from the Bureau to dead storage in the basement of the Administrative Building at Shepherds College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia. Three 1-1/2 ton truck loads of equipment were moved into the building under cover of darkness on Saturday night September 15, 1951.

The equipment moved to this storage location constitutes a Simplex CW emergency radio station primarily designed to communicate when set up with the Bureau's main Duplex radio sites wherever they may be in the general vicinity of Washington, D.C.

For future reference purposes, there is attached hereto a list of equipment which was transported to and stored in the location mentioned above.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. LADD
MR. CLAVIN
MR. HARBO
MR. BELMONT
MR. NICHOLS

Yesterday I saw Admiral Sowers and Mr. David H. Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President, who called at my office to discuss with me the war plane relocation for the FBI in the event of a national emergency.

We had forwarded to Mr. Stowe the night before by letter a detailed memorandum on this matter. Mr. Stowe stated that he had an opportunity to glance through the memorandum and was quite pleased with it. He said there were two items, however, that he felt should be given careful attention.

First, he stated that he felt that representatives of this Bureau familiar with the matter should contact Colonel Bronson of the National Security Resources Board for the purpose of exploring the desirability of connecting our standby location at Shepherdstown with the Microwave Service which is only four miles distance from Shepherdstown. I would like, therefore, to have whoever is familiar with this matter make the appropriate contact at once with Colonel Bronson in order that this matter may be given prompt attention.

Mr. Stowe said that the second matter which gave him concern was the fact that we had no permanent standby headquarters, the one which we have planned being a temporary one on loan from Shepherd College at Shepherdstown. He stated that there were five agencies which the President had indicated should be in the special group for immediate removal from Washington in the event of a bombing or other disaster. He stated that two of these agencies, one of which is CIA, have a permanent setup which they are operating as a school somewhere in the vicinity of Warrenton, Virginia. He stated that the State Department and this Bureau had temporary standby setups and that the fifth agency in the group had not been able to develop any standby setup, permanent or temporary. He stated that he considered it to be very necessary for this Bureau and, in fact, all of the other four agencies in the five-agency group, to effect permanent standby operations. I informed him that I shared this view but that obviously we had no funds or authority upon which to set up any such permanent agency in the general vicinity of Washington. Admiral Sowers then commented that the discussion which he and Mr. George Elsey had had with me several weeks ago, concerning the desire of the President to have explored the expansion of our National Academy, might be the basis for the setting up of a permanent academy somewhere in the vicinity of Washington, which in turn could be used as a permanent standby setup in the event of an emergency and should the Bureau have to evacuate its present quarters in Washington. He also commented that the radio stations which we will shortly have to move from Maryland might be established in the same permanent setup.

I told Mr. Stowe and Admiral Sowers that, of course, this program would have to be one especially approved by the President and concurred in by the Budget Bureau and then forwarded to Congress for the necessary authorization and appropriation. Both Admiral Sowers and Mr. Stowe stated they thought that this should be done and that they were going to take steps immediately to explore the matter at the White House to see what the views of the President might be.

In view of the imminence of this, I think it is imperative that we give immediate attention to locating several appropriate sites in the general vicinity of Washington where we might have a permanent setup to accommodate the Bureau if we had to relocate in a war emergency; to accommodate the National Academy and training facilities for the Bureau; and to include the two radio stations which are now being operated in Maryland. I would much prefer to obtain developed land and buildings, rather than to obtain undeveloped land and have to put it into condition and have extensive buildings erected. Time, of course, is of the essence in this matter. What I do want to be prepared for is to be able to have something specific that I can discuss with representatives of the White House when this matter is given further consideration.

During the course of Mr. Stowe's conversation with me, he also mentioned that he would appreciate it if from time to time he could request the Bureau to make a few field investigations of some of the personnel who are assigned to his special task group in the White House. This is a highly secret group and consists of only a very few persons and he stated his request would not be for more than five or six investigations. I told him that when he had any matter of this kind, he should take it up with me or give it to Mr. Bartlett, the Bureau's liaison representative with the White House.

Very truly yours,

As you know, the National Security Resources Board has spearheaded the alert planning for the protection of key Government personnel.

Colonel Bronson, who is on loan from the Air Force to the National Security Resources Board to set up this program, contacted Mr. Bartlett of Liaison Section on July 31, 1951, and advised that recently the President has queried Mr. David Stowe several times as to how this program is moving along.

The agencies considered as the "key agencies" in this planning include: The White House, Federal Bureau of Investigation, State Department, Central Intelligence Agency, Civil Defense, and National Defense.

According to Colonel Bronson, the following are the emergency relocation sites for the key agencies:

Review War Plans Emergency Alert questions

In this regard, Colonel Bronson has prepared a questionnaire which has been approved by both Mr. David Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President, and Admiral Dennison, Naval Aide to the President. The questionnaire is attached hereto and requests information which the Bureau has never made available to sources outside of the Bureau.

There are also attached samples of three sheets, which, when completed, would form the basis for the information which would be on the President's desk.

There is also attached a sheet entitled, "Progress Sheet of Alert Planning." This sheet will be used by the NSRB in putting together the information received from the key agencies and will reflect at a glance the progress being made by the agencies on a month to month basis.

COMMENTS:

The Bureau's planning along this line has been handled by Assistant Director Glavin. It is believed that he is the logical person to forward this request to so that the proper information or answer can be obtained to pass on to NSRB.

It may be noted that Colonel Bronson desires to have this information prior to September 10 if possible.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum, with its attachments, be routed to Assistant Director Glavin for handling.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : THE DIRECTOR

FROM : THE EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE

DATE: August 15, 1951

SUBJECT:

BUREAU WER Plans Emergency
Headquarters Nichols S.O.G.

The Executives Conference of August 14, 1951, consisting of Messrs. Ladd, Laughlin, Mason, Belmont, Mohr, Parsons, Tracy, Nease, Rosen and Glavin considered two memoranda submitted by Mr. V. P. Keay concerning alert planning for the protection of key Government personnel. It was pointed out to the Conference that Colonel Bronson, who is on loan from the Air Force to the National Security Resources Board to set up the alert planning program for the protection of different Government personnel and has advised Mr. Bartlett of the Bureau's Liaison Section that the agencies considered as key agencies by the President in this planning include the White House, the FBI, State Department, CIA, Civil Defense and National Defense. Mr. Bronson stated that he is preparing a book for the President showing the planning for the key Government agencies as to the proposed operations in the event of an emergency and requested that the Bureau fill out the attached forms concerning this matter.

For the Director's information, the forms would reflect all information including the designated emergency sites, when we would be ready for operation in the emergency site, personnel trained for emergency functions; where our vital records would be; our communication facilities, which would reflect call signs, frequencies, code words, cryptographic facilities; principal external agencies, boards, committees, etc. directly essential to permit performance of our emergency functions for the first 90 days of operations. Further information is requested concerning our emergency relocation sites, what agencies would be utilizing them and for what purpose; the present use or status; number of feet, ownership; major facilities available now and after relocation. It also requests information concerning the directory of key personnel for emergency relocation. In addition, Colonel Bronson has requested additional information in an organization chart form, showing the Bureau's relationship to other important agencies, relationship to a superior agency, major sub-divisions into which the FBI is divided and relationship to the field organization of the agency.

It was pointed out to the Conference that this material is being gathered by Colonel Bronson at the suggestion of the President through a query raised to him by Mr. David Stowe of the White House staff. According to Colonel Bronson, the other agencies have already made known their emergency relocation sites as follows:

It was pointed out to the Conference that we have not advised persons outside the Bureau in writing concerning our suggested emergency relocation quarters at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. Further, we have not furnished much of the information requested by Colonel Bronson at this time at any time in the past concerning communications facilities, et cetera.

The Conference feels, however, that since it is the desire of the President to have this information, that it will be necessary for the Bureau to furnish the information requested by Colonel Bronson at this time.

Should the Director agree, immediate steps will be taken by the Bureau to secure the information desired by Colonel Bronson.

This matter will again be brought to the attention of the Director before submission to Bronson.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

Clyde Tolson.

Attached hereto is a self-explanatory letter addressed to the Director from Colonel Howard F. Bronson, Jr., Projects Officer, National Security Resources Board.

The attached letter is a request for the FBI to furnish the NSRB an organizational chart.

As you know the President has recently expressed considerable interest in the Alert Planning, which is being headed by Colonel Bronson at the NSRB. In this connection a Control Room has been set up in Room No. 1 at the Executive Office Building and it is expected that the President will visit this room in the near future.

Colonel Bronson advised that this organizational chart of the FBI is being requested along with the organizational charts of the other agencies involved in this Alert Planning. These agencies, in addition to the FBI, include the White House, State Department, Central Intelligence Agency, Federal Civil Defense Administration and the National Defense.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be routed to the Administrative Division for consideration as to the feasibility of furnishing to the NSRB the desired organizational chart.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Ladd
 FROM : A. H. Belmont
 SUBJECT: WAR PLANS

DATE: September 5, 1951

Reference is made to the attached questionnaire relating to emergency planning which is being handled by the Administrative Division. The following information is supplied in connection with questions referred by the Administrative Division to the Domestic Intelligence Division for handling:

Question:

What are your essential functions, and have you delegated, or will you delegate or decentralize any to the field?

Answer:

The functions of this Division, of course, are to supervise the security and intelligence work of the Bureau. It is not planned to delegate or decentralize any of these functions to the field under emergency conditions.

Question:

Personnel to move to each relocation site, indicating civilian and military and male and female; also, distinguish supervisory from administrative personnel.

Answer:

Personnel of this Division to be moved to a relocation site will depend upon the basic policy of the Bureau with respect to such a move. It would be necessary to know how many personnel would be included in such a move based, of course, on accommodations available, etc., and then the personnel in the Domestic Intelligence Division would be selected.

Question:

Personnel considered to be absolute minimum to perform essential functions in grave emergencies.

Answer:

The present personnel of this Division would be the absolute minimum in grave emergency. The apprehension of dangerous persons, the enhanced sabotage and espionage investigations, and other similar matters would require at least the services of the present personnel of the Division.

Bureau War Plans - Emergency Headquarters

VPK:ms 20 1951

Question:

Personnel to remain in Washington after an alert or an attack.

Answer:

This would depend on basic policy with respect to relocation site facilities in use as noted above.

Question:

Personnel to be phased into relocation site(s), if emergency conditions do not permit early return to Washington.

Answer:

Same answer as above.

Question:

Personnel available for civil defense for initial period of disaster.

Answer:

Due to the heavy responsibilities of this Division in connection with a grave emergency, no personnel would be available for civil defense.

Question:

Give your plan for appointing or insuring succession to your principal division.

Answer:

The plans for succession in this Division after the head of the Division would be:

Head of the Security Section.
Head of the Correlation Section.

Question:

Indicate what shelter is, or will be, available for what personnel.

Answer:

No shelter is available for personnel except in the Justice Building. Assignments of shelter space have not as yet been made insofar as this Division has been informed.

Question:

Describe briefly your general plan of operations after set up in your site; include your capacity to operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Answer:

Presumably this refers to the relocation site, and general plans of operation will depend on basic policy with respect to movement of personnel to a relocation site. This Division has the capacity and actual plans to operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week in the event of a grave emergency.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be referred to the Administrative Division for their consideration. ✓

The Chief Clerk's Office has requested suggested answers for certain items discussed in a memorandum outlining plans for evacuation of headquarters.

3. TOTAL PERSONNEL

- c. Personnel to Move - In event of a disaster at the headquarters site, all personnel, supervisory and clerical, should be moved to the relocation site. All employees would, of course, be civilians. All of the supervisors are male, but a considerable portion of the clerks are female.
- d. Minimum Personnel - As far as can be anticipated, all of the Investigative Division personnel will be required to perform essential functions.
- e. Personnel to Remain in Washington - In the event of an attack crippling headquarters, no one would remain.
- f. Personnel to be Phased into Relocation Sites - If emergency conditions do not permit return to Washington, all employees should be phased into relocation sites.
- g. Personnel Available for Civil Defense - It is not anticipated that employees will be so available in view of the Bureau's responsibilities at the time.

4. SUCCESSION IN OFFICE

Chain of Command - In accordance with the Bureau's war plans, it was previously indicated that the chain of command within the Investigative Division would be:

To: N. P. CALLAHAN
From: J. J. McGUIRE
Re: EMERGENCY RELOCATION SITE

At the present time we have ordered:

1. A private branch exchange switchboard with 60 telephone stations to be located in the basement of the college administration building
2. Two trunks to the Shepherdstown Central Office
3. Three foreign exchange trunks to Martinsburg Central Office
4. One telephone tieline to Washington
5. Three telephone tielines to Camp Ritchie vicinity
6. One private telephone line terminating at our switchboard in the New York Office
7. One private line teletypewriter circuit to New York
8. Two private line teletypewriter circuits to Chicago
9. One private line teletypewriter circuit to Washington

The work on these lines is currently in progress and should be completely installed by September 15, 1951.

Necessary associated equipment such as PBX switchboards capable of carrying the traffic and teletypewriting machines, are currently being obtained and will be earmarked and held in storage at the site.

We do not have the telephone numbers or call letters as yet.

As soon as it is determined as to what officials of the Bureau will operate from Shepherdstown, we can make a determination as to what records and what percentage of personnel will be used at Shepherdstown.

The only records we have reproduced and disbursed are the Security Index cards, duplicate sets of which are maintained at Omaha, and a duplicate copy of the payroll which is likewise being maintained at Omaha.

The personnel estimate shown above is based on the fact that the Bureau program will be almost entirely security work and will require the personnel to implement the program, regardless of the evacuation. If we are to carry out our responsibilities by effectuating the anticipated program, we must have the personnel to do so. The files listed above are the minimum number of files and as you will note, are restricted to the pending files on which action will be taken.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS

It is understood that the Administrative Division has requested an estimate of the number of people who would be necessary for assignment to a temporary headquarters in the event of the evacuation of the most critical files and operations from the Seat of Government to a temporary site.

The Domestic Intelligence Division is the only Division having a great number of files to be moved to such a temporary site. The attached tickler copy lists the categories of files to be moved. In connection with the identification of such files for removal in the event of an emergency, it will be necessary for the Records Section to be supplied with the file numbers or case captions of all files in these categories. A check with the general Investigative Division disclosed, according to plans, no active criminal investigative files would be transported to a temporary headquarters. A very limited number of policy files might be moved, however. It does not appear that other Divisions will be moving more than a few files of a general policy character. Any files of this type which other Divisions desire moved should be described to the Records Section for appropriate identification.

It is believed that a skeleton staff of 100 selected Records Section employees would be an adequate staff to service the first group of files considered for transportation to a temporary headquarters in the event of an emergency.

 SUBJECT: WAR PLANS, INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION m

DATE: September 26, 1951

In event of a wartime emergency necessitating an evacuation of FBI Headquarters in Washington, it is believed that the following persons should be evacuated:

Assistant Director Rosen
 Number One Man Winterrowd
 Supervisor in Charge F. L. Price
 Inspector G. C. Callan
 Inspector L. R. Pennington
 O. J. Keep
 R. D. Scott
 C. A. Evans

C. J. Martin
 E. L. Robbins
 C. P. Hartley
 R. S. Pitzer
 Winifred Wright
 Lois Strickland
 Leo Fitzpatrick

It is believed that no files should be evacuated, but that copies of the policy memoranda should be taken by those evacuated. However, the Criminal Informant Index and the fugitive indices (General, Deserter, and Selective Service) should be taken. Of course, such records, if totally destroyed, could be duplicated with difficulty since identical information exists in the field.

Honorable David H. Stowe
Administrative Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Stowe:

In accordance with the request which you made of Special Agent O. H. Bartlett of this Bureau for information concerning our plans for emergency relocation in the event of the necessity for evacuating Washington, I am attaching hereto a statement containing the questions asked by you and our answers.

It is a pleasure to have been able to furnish this information to you and if the Bureau can be of further assistance to the President and to you in this connection, please feel free to call upon me.

Sincerely yours,

1. THE EMERGENCY RELLOCATION SITE (S):

a. Name of site (s) (include separately the data for any secondary or alternate site).

Answer: Shepherd College

b. Addresses:

Answer: Mail - Shepherdstown, W. Va.
 Cable - None
 Telephone Numbers - None. Emergency lines have been installed for an immediate hook-up when needed
 Local directions for courier (if necessary) - See map attached Nearest airport - Martinsburg, West Virginia
 Nearest railroad station - Shepherdstown, W. Va., connecting at Martinsburg, W. Va. with the mainline of Baltimore & Ohio.
 Radio or communication net call signs - Call signs are not yet assigned although radio equipment is available at site.

c. Percentage of completion of site(s).

Answer: On emergency basis 100% complete.

d. Square footage available.

Answer: Approximately 100,000 square feet.

e. Square footage desired.

Answer: 100,000 square feet

f. Square footage occupied in present Washington offices.

Answer:	Justice Building	157,710
	Federal Office Building No. 1	300,715
	Old Post Office Building	7,001

ENCLOSURE

g. Nearest town and population figure.

Answer: Shepherdstown, W. Va. - approximately 1,000

h. To what degree do you now occupy the site(s) (your primary emergency relocation site)?

Answer: The site is not now occupied, however, emergency communication equipment has been installed on a standby basis and arrangements have been made for immediate occupancy in the event evacuation of Washington is necessary.

i. Brief description of site (Number of buildings, acreage, major facilities, etc.)

Answer: Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, W. Va. consists of 25 acres and 15 buildings containing approximately 100,000 square feet of useable space. At the present time a modern new field house is under construction, the facilities of which would be available to the Bureau for emergency occupancy. It is located 3 miles east of Martinsburg, W. Va., through which passes the mainline of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and there a small airport is located. There are five highways converging at Shepherdstown. The college laboratory will offer emergency facilities for the operation of the FBI Laboratory and the balance of the facilities will be adequate temporarily for the headquarters operation of the FBI. Radio and telephone facilities are available and emergency housing of the dormitory or rooming house type will be available.

j. Do you use the site(s) jointly with any other agency?

Answer: No.

k. Do you have enough space so that joint use with another agency or parts of another agency would be possible in serious crises?

Answer: No.

l. Do you have the necessary funds for maintaining and operating your site pre-alert?

Answer: Pre-alert operation is not contemplated.

m. General adequacy of site.

Answer: It is considered adequate on a temporary emergency operation basis.

2. ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS FOR THE 60-DAY RELATIONSHIP PERIOD:

- a. What are your essential functions, and have you delegated, or will you delegate or decentralize any to the field?

Answer: The essential functions of the FBI are the investigative matters pertaining to the internal security of the country; coordinating of internal security matters; investigation of violations of Federal statutes over which this Bureau has primary jurisdiction. Under these investigative responsibilities this Bureau investigates violations of internal security matters such as sabotage, espionage, treason and other subversive activities; under the original investigative jurisdiction, it has the responsibility of investigating alleged violations of more than 100 Federal statutes, among which are included bank robbery, kidnapping, extortion, unlawful flight to avoid prosecution and many other statutes. The Federal Bureau of Investigation maintains an international fingerprint file containing more than 120 million sets of fingerprints which are exchanged not only between law enforcement officials of this country, but other countries. The fingerprint files of the Bureau are also utilized as the depository of fingerprint records of Government employees, all members of the armed services and civilian fingerprints and other miscellaneous fingerprint records.

Under the President's Loyalty Program, this Bureau has the responsibility of checking its investigative files and technical fingerprint files insofar as all employees of the Executive Branch of the Government are concerned. It has the responsibility of conducting all investigations of employees of the Executive Branch of the Government against whom allegations of disloyalty have been made.

Under existing legislation, the FBI has the responsibility of conducting character and fitness investigations of applicants for employment in a large number of Government Departments and agencies such as the Atomic Energy Commission, Voice of America Program, and others.

Insofar as delegation of authority is concerned and the decentralization of functions to the field, the FBI maintains 52 divisional offices, continental and territorial, at the present time and the Special Agents in Charge of the various divisions have authority to supervise investigations conducted in their divisional territories, with assistance and supervisory advice from the Seat of Government.

In case it is necessary to evacuate Washington, an appropriate chain of command has been set up for the functioning of this Bureau's activities from the divisional service.

- b. Explain what instructions you have made, if any to the field, including a priority system for communications to insure that only essential functions will receive top priority.

Answer: Instructions have been issued to the field services detailing the scope of their activities for 1) the present emergency, 2) actual warfare brought about by attack against the U. S. or by declaration of war and 3) the necessity for evacuation of vital Bureau functions from Washington or any one of the various field installations. Instructions are presently in effect to insure transmission of urgent communications on a priority basis. The FBI has established a nation-wide emergency radio hook-up between all of its divisional offices to be utilized in case of extreme emergency when land lines or other commercial type of communication service is not available. This set-up insures the transmission of urgent messages in case of emergency.

8. TOTAL PERSONNEL:

- a. Personnel world-wide.

Answer: 15,508

- b. Personnel Washington.

Answer: 6,050

- c. Personnel to move to each relocation site, indicating civilian and military and male and female; also distinguish supervisory from administrative personnel.

Answer: Personnel to move immediately to the relocation site totals 516, consisting of 300 males and 166 females. There will be 25 employees of the executive class and the balance will be administrative.

- d. Personnel considered to be absolute minimum to perform essential functions in grave emergencies.

- e. Personnel to remain in Washington after an alert or an attack.

Answer: 5,543

- f. Personnel to be phased into relocation site(s), if emergency conditions do not permit early return to Washington.

Answer: Under the Bureau's war plans, arrangements have been made for all employees who may remain in the vicinity of metropolitan Washington to be in contact with key personnel of the Bureau and if it is essential that we remain at the relocation site for an extended period of time, through arrangements already perfected, it will be possible to relocate as many additional employees as the circumstances dictate at that time.

- g. Personnel available for civil defense for initial period of disaster.

Answer: All Bureau personnel will be urgently needed to handle its very urgent internal security work and no present emergency delegation of any particular individual or groups of individuals could be made for civil defense duties. In the event the services of any Bureau employee can be spared for the initial period of disaster for other assignments, they will be immediately made available.

- h. Personnel that can be hired locally in addition to your normal force required.

Answer: No local employment is contemplated.

4. EMERGENCY PLAN IN OFFICE:

- a. Give name, title, address and post of duty of each designated successor to the head of your agency. Indicate whether there has been Presidential approval and what possibility there may be that all of those persons could become casualties at the same time. Describe, if necessary, how successor designated will know when to assume control.

Answer: John Edgar Hoover, Director, Washington, D. C.;
Clyde A. Tolson, Associate Director, Washington, D. C.;
D. Milton Ladd, Assistant to the Director, Washington, D. C.;
Louis B. Nichols, Assistant to the Director, Washington, D. C.;

Line of succession at the Seat of Government would continue through those then occupying positions of Assistant Director at the Seat of Government. In the event the entire executive staff aforementioned were casualties, the line of succession is as follows with field executives assuming control of the Bureau's functions - Earl J. Connelly, Assistant Director,

Mr. Tolson _____
Mr. E. A. Tamm _____
Mr. Clegg _____
Mr. Glavin _____
Mr. Ladd _____

Mr. Nease _____
Miss Gandy _____

In Charge of Field Service, Special Agent in Charge,
New York, New York, Special Agent in Charge, Los Angeles, California, Special Agent in Charge, Chicago, Illinois.

Presidential approval has not been sought since the chain of command will be utilized only in the event of casualties and until such time as consultation could be had for naming a permanent successor to the Director. It is unlikely all persons enumerated would become casualties simultaneously.

- b. Give your plan for appointing or insuring succession to your principal division (bureau, office, etc.) heads.

Answer: A chain of command has been designated in each of the field installations.

- c. Indicate any statutory or other restrictions to the designations mentioned in a and b, above.

Answer: None.

5. COMMUNICATIONS:

(Submit a map or other schematic drawing, if possible) See map attached.

For the facilities listed below and any others that you may utilize, give a brief description of each facility, including the major components thereof. Indicate which are installed now and which are planned, showing traffic volume capabilities, range, power, frequencies, etc. Tell where the antennas, transmitters, receivers, keying, and other terminal equipment is located, if there is separation, showing which are in guarded sites and which are not. Indicate any major limitations or problems, including frequency assignments, security problems, etc.:

- a. Microwave radio, VHF radio, other radio, telephone, teletype, (radio and wire), facsimile equipment, handy-talkie radio, mobile radio equipment (including autos), emergency power, reserve, or back-up equipment.

Answer: This Bureau does not employ microwave or VHF radio, however, telephone and teletype and radio facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Mobile radio equipment, including walkie-talkie and automobile, as well as emergency generators are available at all terminal facilities.

- b. What flexibility do you have in alerting the points or channels that you plan to communicate with?

Answer: Complete flexibility among 52 different points.

- c. For the appropriate facilities, describe the communications net that you will be participating in, and/or the principal points or stations with which you will communicate.

Answer: See map attached and previously mentioned.

- d. Have you completed your informal or formal arrangements with the telephone company and/or Western Union?

Answer: Yes.

- e. What press-atire service facilities do you plan to have?

Answer: None.

- f. Describe briefly your cryptographic facilities, including telephone scramblers, etc.

Answer: Code books and cipher pads of FBI design and enciphering machines.

6. ALERT; SHELTER; MOVEMENT; AND A-B-D DECONTAMINATION:

- a. Describe briefly your planning from receipt of alert to your movement to the relocation site as pertains to alert actions, personnel control, warden service, and physical movement of personnel, equipment, and supplies.

Answer: If the alert is sounded during the evening or night hours certain designated key personnel have been directed to report to their posts of duty for the handling of assigned duties, the scope of which depends upon the degree of devastation by attack. Arrangements have been perfected with the telephone company to maintain service for key personnel so long as such service is not eliminated by direct hits from enemy activity. Alternate routes for transportation to the relocation site have been selected and absolutely essential records, supplies, and equipment have been designated for evacuation, and will be transported wherever possible in automotive equipment immediately available to this Bureau.

All other personnel will remain at their residences, arrangements having been perfected on a group leader basis to insure that employees in various areas of the metropolitan Washington area will have knowledge of the identity of the individual to whom they are to report. These leader positions are so set up that travel is cut to a minimum and in an emergency, travel could be made by other than automotive or common carrier transportation. Appropriate instructions will be issued for all employees other than those designated to remain in their residential areas, following instructions of their group leaders or alternate group leaders.

If the alert is sounded during the regular working hours, all but essential evacuative and protective personnel will proceed immediately to designated shelter areas where they will remain until safe dispersal can be effected. Shelter areas have been set up and appropriate planning has been inaugurated to insure orderly evacuation to such shelter areas considering that elevator service will not be available.

- b. Include plans and measures for registration of employees after an attack and for personnel and equipment identification.

Answer: All personnel have been fingerprinted and copies of these fingerprint cards have been transmitted to an interior divisional office. Arrangements have also been perfected to furnish each employee with an appropriate identification card.

All FBI equipment is properly identified through an inventory system at this time, which is so maintained that this information will be available.

- c. Indicate what shelter is, or will be, available for what personnel.

Answer: Emergency shelters will be available in the basement floor of the Justice Building, Federal Office Building Number 1 and the Old Post Office Building if the alert comes during regular working hours. If the alert comes during non-working hours the employees, other than essential personnel, have been instructed to remain at their homes or such shelter in the general area of their homes.

- d. Indicate the portion of your planning that is not capable of implementation for any reason at this date.

Answer: The Bureau's emergency planning for the occupancy of emergency headquarters in the event of an evacuation of Washington is such that it is capable of implementation on a moment's notice in case of urgent emergency. It should be understood that arrangements made for emergency headquarters at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, are made on the basis of the necessity of evacuating Washington.

- e. Tell what your plans and facilities are, if any, for decontamination of atomic, biological, or chemical attacks, to include personnel and equipment as distinct from the general civil defense measures available.

Answer: Will rely upon General Civil Defense facilities in addition to this Bureau's nursing staff and its employees who are qualified in Red Cross emergency first aid.

- f. Describe any special arrangements to transport the agency head and/or key personnel to the emergency site, under the various alert conditions.

Answer: There will be no removal of key personnel to the relocation site except in the case of direct and extensive enemy damage to the city of Washington. Transportation will be effected through the use of automotive equipment.

7. TRANSPORTATION:

- a. Describe briefly the dispersed transportation and mobile equipment available to you after an alert, relating to your over-all requirements.

Answer: The FBI has available equipment sufficient to transport essential employees to emergency sites. This Bureau will have available its buses, trucks and pursuit cars, not only in Washington, but within a perimeter of 50 miles of Washington, where such pursuit cars are strategically placed to assist in the evacuation of essential personnel to the emergency relocation site.

8. VITAL RECORD REPRODUCTION AND DISPERSAL:

- a. Give status of completion of this project.

Answer: Completed.

- b. Give brief description of your vital records and method of reproduction.

Answer: Vital records of this Bureau not available in our various field installations consist of payroll and retirement records, personnel fingerprints and the Security Index which consists of identifying data on persons dangerous and potentially dangerous to the security of the Nation. Such records have been reproduced and copies are being maintained in an interior divisional office.

A minimum of heavy equipment will be needed. Equipment for regular emergency operations as well as supplies for emergency operations are available at the emergency relocation site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. Other heavy equipment which we may find necessary to have at the time may be transported through Bureau trucking facilities and trucking facilities of automotive equipment which will be requisitioned at the time. Previous requisition commitments have not been made since it is not known at this time what damage could be suffered by such equipment in the event of enemy bombing attack.

- c. Tell where your vital records are dispersed; in what quantity or cargo.

Answer: Supplementing the information contained in b above, this is to advise that this Bureau's important and necessary records both in the investigative field and in the fingerprint field are such that it is not anticipated that the bulk of these records will be removed from Washington. It was pointed out that under this Bureau's operative procedure copies of the investigative records which are maintained at the Seat of Government are maintained in the divisional service in the field and the necessary information can be secured from the field in the event files located in Washington are destroyed. There will be a very limited number of files which will be carried into the relocation center since it will be necessary that the full files on these particular cases be immediately available in the event of evacuating Washington. These files have been identified, marked and will be transported without delay.

Insofar as our identification fingerprint records are concerned, the criminal fingerprints maintained in our service can be regrouped from fingerprint records maintained by law enforcement agencies throughout the country.

- d. Indicate name, title, and address of personnel who have access thereto in an emergency.

Answer: Insofar as the dispersal of records listed in answer to b, above, the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI, 1010 Federal Office Building, Omaha, Nebraska, is the individual who will have access thereto. Concerning the remaining records, the various Special Agents in Charge of the various divisional offices will have access thereto.

9. HOUSEKEEPING: Quartering, Rationing, and Hospitalization

- a. Describe briefly your plan and facilities for accomplishing each of the above.

Answer: At the emergency relocation site dormitories and rooming houses are available for quartering, by personnel affected by evacuation.

Rationing will be accomplished through utilization of college cafeteria at relocation site and food will be requisitioned locally.

Hospitalization will be accomplished through the utilization of such facilities in Martinsburg, W. Va., or other emergency facilities established at the site.

- b. Distinguish between the facilities contained within your site and those not under your control; i.e., "on the town"; and relate them to your over-all requirements.

Answer: Answered under 9 a.

- c. Indicate how many of your personnel might likely commute from their homes.

Answer: None.

- d. Do you plan to hire people locally to assist in this area? In what quantity?

Answer: No.

10. SECURITY:

- a. Describe briefly your plan and facilities for guarding or safe-keeping both your normal offices and your emergency relocation site(s). Include all vulnerable auxiliary facilities, such as record dispersal sites, micro-wave repeater stations, stockpiles of dispersed equipment and supplies, etc.

Answer: Regular security patrols are now utilized in all FBI offices in Washington and the field. These patrols will be strengthened at Washington in the event of war and will be utilized at the relocation site if evacuation becomes necessary.

- d. That quantity of personnel, if any, will you hire locally for this project?

Answer: None.

11. ADMINISTRATION, SUPPLY, EQUIPMENT AND PERSONNEL:

- a. Describe briefly your plan for having on hand at the site (or in dispersed stockpiles) supplies and equipment. Include and enumerate any special equipment (not previously outlined). Tell if your plan incorporates sufficient clerical or stenographic personnel and whether or not you plan to hire any such personnel. Will you buy any supplies locally?

Answer: The stockpiling of supplies and equipment is not anticipated and operation at the relocation site will be of an emergency nature, utilizing the equipment available at the site. Sufficient clerical and stenographic personnel have been included in the number to be assigned in order that emergency operation will proceed without delay. No personnel will be hired at the relocation site but emergency purchases of supplies are anticipated. The site is so located that emergency supplies can be secured from divisional offices or sub offices in areas not too distant from the location in question. Emergency supplies can be transmitted from this Bureau's divisional service to Shepherdstown by the time the emergency staff from Washington could proceed from Washington to Shepherdstown to perform the necessary duties. It is further pointed out that considerable supplies and equipment are available in the college at this time and would of course be available to us.

- b. Describe your plan for both emergency buying and requisitioning, and for payment of personnel, including those employees not proceeding to the site.

Answer: Emergency buying and payment of personnel, not being moved to the relocation site will depend upon usual available facilities for such purposes and the General Services Administration and Treasury Department plans will be adopted for these phases of activity. In the event the services of the General Services Administration become unavailable, this Bureau will have at the emergency site sufficient qualified personnel to handle any emergency buying or requisitioning of supplies or equipment needed by the Bureau. Insofar as payment of personnel is concerned, it will be necessary that this Bureau abide by regulations issued by the Treasury Department in this particular instance scrip payment if necessary, redeemable by the Treasury Department upon demand could be utilized.

- c. How will you render personnel services, such as assisting in locating missing family members, financial distress, etc.?

Answer: Our Counselling service will be utilized in assisting employees in distress and wherever possible, consistent with the war efforts, continuous assistance will be rendered employees by the National headquarters staff and the staff of the field offices. The full services of this Bureau's fingerprint division will be available for the identification of family members of Bureau employees as well as will the full investigative staff of the Bureau in the conduct of its emergency duties. There are no funds now available to assist employees in financial distress but whatever can be done consistent with statutes or regulations covering the expenditures of Federal funds will be done.

12. OPERATIONS:

- a. Describe briefly your general plan of operations after set up in your office; include your capacity to operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Answer: This Bureau will operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week on a continuing basis until such time as this schedule could be altered without endangering the Nation's security. Instructions have been issued to place such operation into immediate effect in the event of war.

- b. What joint operations, board membership, liaison, etc., will be required with other agencies (critical and non-critical), in order that you can carry out your essential functions?

Answer: Liaison will be necessary with the White House, State Department, Army, Navy, Air Force, Atomic Energy Commission and Central Intelligence Agency on a continuous basis. Liaison with other agencies will be necessary from time to time on a non-critical basis.

- c. Have you knowledge of other agencies' plans?

Answer: Yes, insofar as key personnel are concerned in the White House, State Department, CIA, Civil Defence, and National Defence.

- d. Describe your plan for gathering information from your field agencies, and transmitting reports to higher authority.

Answer: Through utilization of Bureau's radio network covering all 52 field installations and telephone and teletype facilities whenever and wherever wire communications are available.

- e. Describe briefly the reports that are to be rendered (up-and-down channels) without call.

Answer: The only reports to be immediately rendered are those affecting the Nation's security with increase to other reports as conditions permit.

13. PUBLIC RELATIONS:

- a. Describe your planning to maintain the necessary public relations, including keeping the public informed of what is going on.

Answer: An official of the Bureau has been designated to handle public relations matters if Bureau is unable to operate as usual through the present office of the Department of Justice.

14. DRILL OR TRAINING:

- a. Do you have a written, approved plan covering all of the above?

Answer: Yes.

- b. Indicate what phases of your plan have not been disseminated within your agency.

Answer: Pertinent phases of this plan have been discussed with the supervisory officials of the Bureau and field officials of the Bureau have been advised of their responsibilities under this plan. All divisional offices in the service have had their plans completed for some time and can go on the war basis immediately. Arrangements at the Seat of Government are such that immediate dissemination of the plan to every employee of the agency can be made without any delay whatsoever.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. NICHOLS
MR. CLEGG

Today I returned Admiral Souers call. Admiral Souers stated that he, Mr. George Elsey, and Mr. David Stowe had had a little session with the President concerning the proposed National Academy School to be used also as the Bureau's war relocation setup in the event of an emergency, about which we had talked several days ago. Admiral Souers said the President looked on this plan with favor and he thought the next thing to do now would be to get the plan worked up so it would be suitable for budgetary purposes, in other words, he thought the plan could be gotten under way. He stated that the next step would be to contact the Attorney General and advise him of the plan and he asked my advice as to when and how we should contact the Attorney General about the matter. I stated that I had already spoken to Mr. McGrath very generally about the matter, since I felt the President might mention it to the Attorney General, and the Attorney General indicated at the time that it made sense to him. I suggested that the Admiral just mention to the Attorney General the next time he saw him, in an informal manner, the proposal that we had discussed, and that no doubt in a short while it would be coming through for his consideration and estimate of it. Admiral Souers suggested that on the basic program, we make estimates on money, what we expect to have in the school finally, i.e. school capacity and the type of planning we are going to have for the school, and the money end of getting the people there, and what the estimate cost will be. He stated this would be something that would come formally through regular channels to the Budget Bureau. I told the Admiral that the only thing I need<sup>ed</sup> was the "green light" from the White House to make a move on it and the Admiral stated he thought it was time to begin to get the program ready as he thought the President would want to cover it in his State of the Union message.

Admiral Souers stated there might be some phases of it we would want to discuss informally with George Elsey and David Stowe of the White House and in the meantime he would alert them that Mr. Clegg would probably be in touch with them concerning the program. I stated I would start getting it into final form and when I sent it through to the Department I would let the Admiral know so the Budget Bureau could be alerted.

Very truly yours, OCT 12 1951

SUBJECT:

Reference is made to the letter from the President to the Director dated September 25, 1951, regarding the President's request to Mr. David H. Stowe of his staff to discuss with the Director plans to assure the continued operation of essential Government agencies under times of emergency such as enemy attack.

The President here is referring to the activities of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, set up by the National Security Resources Board, which Committee consists of representatives from the State Department, Defense Department, Federal Civil Defense Agency, CIA and the FBI. Supervisor O. H. Bartlett since February 1951 has been meeting with this Committee on matters of interest to the FBI.

Specifically, this Committee through Colonel Howard F. Bronson on August 6, 1951, by letter to the Director, requested an organizational chart of the FBI together with a lengthy and detailed, technical questionnaire which was to be filled out by the Bureau to show what the Bureau's planning was for proposed operations in the event of an emergency at an alternate headquarters. The information from the FBI and other agencies on the Committee was to be compiled in book form for the President and Mr. David H. Stowe, administrative assistant to the President, had delegated the job of gathering the information to Colonel Bronson.

The Executives Conference on August 15, 1951 recommended, and the Director agreed, that since the President desired to have the information which the Bureau had up to this point not furnished to anyone else, that steps would be taken to secure all the detailed, technical data called for in the questionnaire.

Mr. Bartlett has advised that Colonel Bronson told him informally last week that only two of the questionnaires have been returned to the White House and that the agencies not completing the questionnaires so far have indicated it would be another three to four weeks before they would complete their questionnaires. Mr. Bartlett states he told Colonel Bronson the Bureau's questionnaire would be completed before then.

The Administrative Division will be able to complete the questionnaire as soon as all necessary information is received from other Divisions. The data necessary for completion of the questionnaire is now being assembled.

Mr. Bartlett feels that the letter from the President was dictated by Stowe as a tickler follow-up so that the Bureau's questionnaire would be quickly completed and returned to the Ad Hoc Committee.

A suggested reply to the President is attached.

BUREAU WAR PLANS EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS
FOR SAC

The Executives Conference on 10/15/51, Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Tracy, Parsons, Mohr, Belmont, Gearty, McGuire, and Clegg, considered the status of the Bureau's evacuation program. Much is yet to be done. A great deal is being done that has not been brought to completion. Mr. Glavin is in charge of all aspects of the evacuation program including (1) the evacuation from offices to the air-raid shelter in the event of an air-raid and (2) evacuation of selected portions of personnel, records & equipment from the City of Washington.

Mr. E. D. Mason is General Coordinator of War Plans.

It was felt that there is so much detail work to be performed in order to complete the plans for evacuation that this work for the time being would require the full-time services of one man. Mr. Frank J. Holmes was recommended and unanimously approved for this full-time assignment until the arrangements are complete. He is assigned to the Training Section of the Training & Inspection Division.

Respectfully,
 FOR THE CONFERENCE

Bureau War Plans Emergency
Headquarters FOR SOG

In conformity with the Director's instructions, I proceeded to Warrenton, Virginia on Friday, October 12, 1951, for the purpose of looking into the availability of the Chrysler estate there. I was accompanied by Messrs. Conrad and Parsons of the Laboratory and Mr. Sloan of Quantico.

Some difficulty was encountered in connection with this particular matter since upon arrival in Warrenton, I ascertained that the real estate dealer who had first furnished the information to us that the Chrysler estate was for sale had died suddenly last week. He ran a one man real estate office and had no other associates with whom this matter could be discussed. I ascertained the administrator of the estate and upon checking at the County Court House, it was ascertained that he undoubtedly could be reached at the CIA school at Warrenton.

Blind inquiry at the CIA school reflected he was a guard at that place and no further effort was made to contact him.

I located a reputable real estate dealer, [redacted] who stated that he too had been given authorization to discuss the possible sale of the Chrysler estate. With [redacted] we made a tour of the estate which covers some 3400 acres. [redacted] also exhibited to us other land in that particular area some of which was very good with the exception of the fact sufficient housing was not available on the land in question. None of the other land exhibited had the acreage of the Chrysler estate.

b7C

Every effort was made to secure a plat of the Chrysler estate but after a lengthy search such a plat could not be found. [redacted] is going to endeavor to secure a plat of this entire property.

b6

An effort was made by the real estate representative to make arrangements for me to inspect the main building on the estate, however, he could not get in touch with the manager of the estate up until approximately 6:00 P.M., and called me at my home last evening. He stated that the Chryslers were having

BUREAU IN AR PLANS EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS
FOR SOG

Supplementing my memorandum of this morning, I wish to advise that [redacted] real estate agent at Warrenton, Virginia, telephonically communicated with me at approximately 10:30 A.M. this morning and stated that he had made arrangements with [redacted] of the Chrysler estate to discuss this matter at noon today. He asked if I could proceed to Warrenton which I immediately did, arriving there at approximately noon.

b6

I had opportunity of meeting Mr. Chrysler, Jr., and discussed with [redacted] and the real estate man on a confidential basis the interest the Bureau has in the estate. Mr. Chrysler personally conducted me through the main building. He advised me he did not know how many rooms were in the house since they keep adding and changing rooms from time to time.

Thereafter I had opportunity of visiting other houses on the estate in company with the [redacted] and the real estate dealer, [redacted]. From an inspection of the main house and other properties on the land, I am of the firm opinion that this is the type of property we could use. I feel it would take a minimum amount of money to set up housing needs on the estate. As I mentioned in my previous memorandum, I feel that the land is entirely satisfactory for range and radio installations. In discussing this matter in detail with Mr. Chrysler, he pointed out he is not desirous of making any money on the sale of the estate. He advised me that he does not have the estate on the market, but that he would consider the sale if satisfactory arrangements could be made.

He advised me that so far as he can recall, he had put in about 4 million dollars on the estate and he stated that he felt he should be able to secure that amount for the estate on sale. His auditor did not know the exact figures as to the amount put into the estate, however, he is going to secure such figures for me. For all practical purposes, however, it appears that the figure will be around 4 million dollars rather than 3 million dollars which we were formerly led to believe would be the cost of the estate. I frankly feel, however, that this amount would be reasonable, considering the facilities available on the estate.

at the present time, the size of the estate, and the fact that it could be made entirely satisfactory for the Bureau's use with far less expenditure than any other location or any other property I have heard of up to the present time.

I was able to secure an aerial map which is some years old and an outlined map of the estate.

I am having these two maps photographed and I must return the originals to [redacted]. In the meantime, [redacted] is going to endeavor to secure a new aerial map of the property and I have also requested that the floor plans of the main building particularly be secured if they are available.

Both Mr. Chrysler, Jr., and [redacted] were very cooperative and stated that they will be glad to further discuss this matter with me at any time. Mr. Chrysler stated he of necessity would have to go to New York City next week, but he would be available on short notice thereafter.

Mr. Chrysler asked me to extend to the Director his personal greetings and regards. He also wanted to be remembered to the Attorney General. He stated that the Attorney General has visited at his estate on a number of occasions in the recent past. He was very high in his praise of the Director's administration of the Bureau.

I feel that with the contacts I have made with Mr. Chrysler and [redacted] that we would have a minimum of difficulty in dealing with them in the future. I hope to get the up-to-date aerial map which would show all of the buildings on the estate as well as the plans of the main building early in the week and I will continue to personally handle this matter on top priority basis until it is settled.

REFERENCE

Referral/Consult _____

Reference is made to a memorandum addressed to members of the AD HOC Committee on _____

Reference is also made to my memorandum of July 10, 1951, reporting on a conference with Mr. Kullenberg concerning FBI participation in the microwave system, suggesting that the FBI might wish to consider tying into the microwave system at the location of the Bureau main station.

SUGGESTED COURSE OF ACTION

The memorandum from the National Security Resources Board requests comments from each member. It is my understanding that for security reasons, the Bureau does not desire at this time to name Shepherdstown as its ultimate headquarters relocation center. The purpose, of course, of the "Security Agencies Microwave System" is to provide emergency communication between the relocation centers of the "critical" agencies. Accordingly, if some other point than Shepherdstown is named as our microwave tie-in point, it will be incumbent upon the Bureau to provide emergency communication between Shepherdstown and the point where tie-in to the microwave net is established.

My memorandum of July 10, 1951, suggesting that tie-in be made at our main radio station was predicated upon the fact that we would maintain some emergency communication between Shepherdstown and our main station in any event. Since it now appears that considerable time may elapse before the radio station move to a suitable location in Virginia will be made, it is pointed out that possibly the same objectives may be achieved by locating our microwave tie-in point sufficiently close to Shepherdstown that ready wire or radio communications might be established (as, for example, at Charlestown, Martinsburg, etc.), and yet sufficiently far from Shepherdstown that in the event of a security leak, the name of Shepherdstown would not be identified with the actual location of the microwave equipment. It is pointed out in this connection that the closer such microwave tie-in point is to Shepherdstown, the greater will be the certainty of continuous communication with Shepherdstown. If the objective is to eliminate mention of Shepherdstown, the microwave tie-in point would obviously have to be closer to some other community than to Shepherdstown, so that it would be associated with the name of that community. However, if the objective were merely to avoid association with the specific school or other organization in Shepherdstown, possibly it would be sufficient simply to have the microwave facilities erected just outside the city limits of Shepherdstown.

RECOMMENDATION

Since a decision as to the best method of handling the NSRB inquiry undoubtedly involves many nontechnical factors not known to me, I do not feel in a position to recommend such a course of action but merely wish to suggest it as a possible course of action for consideration by the Bureau with the thought that it might solve some of the present problems.

FOR SOG On October 4, the Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Ladd, Glavin, Tracy, Belmont, Mason, Gearty, Sizoo, Laughlin, Mohr, Rosen and Parsons considered the Bureau's link in the security agencies microwave system. Referral/Consult

At that time the committee was not informed of the location of our emergency headquarters because other arrangements had been made to advise the White House and also because we did not intend to have any personnel assigned at our emergency headquarters in Shepherdstown. We, therefore, advised the NSRB representative that our link in the communication system would be at our main radio station which we were planning to relocate in nearby Virginia.

Referral/Consult

A memorandum has now been received from the National Security Resources Board outlining

It was proposed to the Conference that since we were now advising NSRB in a war plans memorandum that our emergency relocation headquarters will be at Shepherdstown, Virginia, we so advise the committee arranging these communications. The Conference considered that if the Bureau decides to erect the necessary tower and install the equipment to tie into the microwave system this could be done at

The Executives Conference memorandum of October 6, 1951, advised the Director that the Conference had reconsidered the Bureau's tie-in to the Security Agencies' microwave network and recommended that we now advise the Committee of our Shepherdstown plans and consider the installation of equipment at Shepherdstown under a pretext. The Director's notation on that memorandum asked why it had taken so long to arrive at this decision.

We were first approached in July 1951 and advised concerning the plan for a microwave system to link the emergency headquarters of the critical agencies and the White House. We were requested to supply the location of our emergency headquarters to a Subcommittee consisting of representatives from a number of other agencies. By Executives Conference memorandum of July 13, 1951, it was decided that since we were not in the position of most of the agencies having an occupied and controlled emergency headquarters, we were not in a position to install our equipment at Shepherdstown and operate it on a twenty-four-hour a day basis as was desired. Further, we were endeavoring to protect the security of our plans at Shepherdstown and we were advising the National Security Resources Board of our plans directly rather than through this Subcommittee which was headed by a Civilian Defense man. It was recommended that we advise the Subcommittee that we desired our microwave installation to be made at our main radio station which we were planning to relocate. It was not until we were requested to answer a questionnaire, which was answered by a detailed memorandum on October 8, 1951, that it became necessary and desirable to furnish the location of our emergency headquarters to the NSRB Planning Committee.

In accordance with Mr. Tolson's instructions, I conferred with Colonel Bronson of NSRB on October 10, 1951, and a separate memorandum is being prepared.

Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Colonel Bronson:

Reference is made to your memorandum of September 26, 1951, addressed to Mr. O. H. Bartlett of this Bureau, relative to a proposed "Security Agencies Microwave System."

Confirming information furnished orally by Messrs. D. J. Parsons and I. W. Conrad of this Bureau at meetings held in your office on October 10 and 16, 1951, respectively, it is noted that this Bureau's terminal equipment for the microwave network will be located in the vicinity of Shepherdstown, West Virginia. In view of the fact that it is understood that the Sharpsburg, Maryland, relay for the proposed system will not be in operation within the near future, consideration is being given to the plan of acquiring and installing at Shepherdstown the necessary microwave equipment to permit tying in to the system at the control point at Mt. Weather, in accordance with the suggestion of Mr. Leslie Kullenberg.

With regard to requested information relative to station identification, it is suggested that this subject might well be considered by Mr. Kullenberg's committee in connection with the drafting of procedures, in order to insure uniformity of approach.

Mr. Ritzell of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at Charlottesville, Virginia telephoned Mr. McGuire in connection with the Bureau's communications installations being made at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, stating that he had been working closely with Mr. E. K. Beckett, wire chief of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of West Virginia, headquartered at Martinsburg, and in going over the setup he had noted that while the cables are now in from the school to the central office and it is a direct line, that no provisions had been made for power outlets. He stated he would like to have definite advice as to the exact placement not only of the two switchboards but also of the teletypewriter equipment, as there is some associated equipment which must be put in the same room where the telephone and teletypewriter equipment is to be used.

Arrangements will, of course, have to be made for local power to be used to operate the teletypewriters and switchboard and I think this can be done right at the college by locating their main panels and then putting in a heavy duty cable to a switch box in the room where our equipment will be located.

This has been mentioned to Mr. Parsons and in view of other problems from the Laboratory standpoint which have arisen in connection with our installation, Mr. McGuire, Mr. Conrad and Mr. Parsons plan to go up to Shepherdstown at the end of this week as soon as a definite date of confirmation can be obtained from Mr. Ritzell, who wants to be present, along with Mr. Beckett.

For the Director's information, I proceeded to Warrenton, Virginia last week to further check into the availability of space at the Chrysler Estate there. I also had Mr. Parsons proceed to the location with both radio and firearms men to spot locations which we had tentatively picked out for location of radio and range facilities. Satisfactory locations for range and radio facilities have been located.

At the present time floor plans are being prepared of our studies which were made on the estate last week of the main building and several other buildings which it was felt could be used. These floor plans will be completed by the end of the week. I have talked to the manager of the estate and he tells me that eight outside men have been handling all of the maintenance work on the estate up to the present time and he stated that maintenance costs would vary by the amount of work which the owner would want done. I have also discussed with the manager of the estate and real estate man the two plots of ground which I felt we would not need for our activity and have been told that undoubtedly there would not be any trouble in connection with the disposition of this land.

I am going to work exclusively on this particular matter for the next week and I hope to have a complete memorandum for the Director by the latter part of next week reflecting costs and other items in connection with this particular project.

I wish to advise at this time that the real estate dealer Mr. Montgomery at Warrenton telephonically communicated with me today stating that some foreign interest had expressed an interest in purchasing the estate and was willing to pay $6,000,000 for it, as compared to the $4,000,000 figure which has previously been quoted to us. I am going to keep in touch with [redacted] on this matter and will keep the Director advised. [redacted] at this time does not know the identity of the outside interest. He is not handling

FORWARDED BY MAIL 10/17/51 PER SEC

There is attached a list of items for consideration in connection with the proposed evacuation program from Washington. Also, there is attached a list of items in connection with evacuation to shelters at Seat of Government offices in Washington.

As the Director has approved full-time work on this program by Mr. Frank J. Holmes, copies of this memorandum and attachments are being furnished to each division chief in order that there may be added by Mr. Holmes additional items for handling in connection with these evacuation programs based on the suggestions from each division.

The Director has instructed that the deadline be set. It is suggested that this deadline be December 15, 1951. The Director has instructed that there be a monthly report of progress. Mr. Holmes will be instructed to contact appropriate officials in each division in order to keep abreast of the development and progress of each of the items listed. In the event there are certain items listed which are undesirable these matters can be brought to the Executives Conference for recommendation as to such items and activities.

Mr. Glavin is in charge of evacuation. Naturally the work in connection with radio and micro-wave communications logically fall under the Laboratory for working out the details; general communications and records under the Records and Communications Section; and supplies, equipment, transportation, and the like under the Administrative Division. This means, of course, that each division in the Bureau has some functions to perform in connection with completing this program. Mr. Holmes will appreciate any suggestions in connection with the attached itemization of details having to do with evacuation.

In noting the various items for action or consideration as attached, it should be observed that some of these things have been done, some of them are being worked on, and some have not yet been planned.

ITEMS TO BE CONSIDERED IN THE EVENT OF EVACUATION FROM WASHINGTON

PERSONNEL

1. Of the 516 employees to be evacuated, what is the total from each division and the number for each type of work, such as, supervisors, filing, stenographers, typists, switchboard operators, radio operators, guards, etc.?

2. Each division on being informed of the specific number of each type employee from the division should prepare tentative lists of names of those for such evacuation. Alternates should also be selected in the same number. These lists should be brought up to date every 60 days.

In selecting those for the lists, consider their possible availability and willingness to leave Washington. Consider such matters as marital status, children, whether spouse is employed elsewhere in Washington.

3. Shall these employees on the tentative lists be now informed of the likelihood of their evacuation?

If not, then arrangements must be made to conduct a quick interview when the time is right within each section to determine their availability and if not available when the tentative list is exhausted, next take up the alternate list.

If employees are to be informed now, and this seems advisable, they should be requested to advise the Bureau promptly in the event the status as to their availability changes.

4. Complete arrangements so that upon signal for evacuation if employees are at work they can be sent home for packing needed clothing and luggage and make other arrangements for departure.

5. A system of mobilization of those who are sent home for their clothing, as well as a system for notifying and mobilizing those employees to go if the signal is received at other than working hours, should be completed.

6. What about the families of married supervisors who are to go?

a. Advise the supervisors now of the possibility of their being selected for evacuation. Let them make personal arrangements now for their families to depart either for the homes of relatives who may reside in or near the Washington area, or arrange for them to be billeted with the families of other supervisors selected on the basis of personal friendship for a few days until more permanent arrangements can be made.

b. Organize a squad of supervisors whose duty it would be to assist in the evacuation of families of the employees who leave Washington to some outlying area, perhaps in some hotel or large estate until more permanent arrangements can be made by their husbands who have been evacuated.

It is recognized that inadequate transportation facilities would prevent the movement of families of all the married employees who are evacuated during the urgent period of evacuation. At the place to which evacuation is planned, according to information received, there is inadequate housing to care for them unless temporary houses are subsequently built, or the citizens in that area will evacuate therefrom and thus leave adequate residential space.

TRANSPORTATION

1. On the signal for evacuation someone should be selected to depart immediately for the evacuation point to make arrangements for the arrival of Bureau personnel. If telephone lines are available, the call should be made promptly advising that there is to be an immediate evacuation from Washington to the evacuation point.
2. The number of cars and buses needed and available should be ascertained with a system of assembling this equipment for transportation of personnel. adv.
3. The quantity of files, supplies, and equipment should be ascertained now so the number of trucks needed can be ascertained and a system of getting them available and quickly loaded should be completed.
4. Do not travel to the evacuation point in long trains of cars or trucks. Departure should be in small groups as ready not exceeding 5 or 6 vehicles in any group. This is to avoid providing a target for strafing as well as to reduce traffic difficulties.
5. With each small group of cars and trucks there should be at least one car of supervisors with sidearms and other necessary firearms to protect personnel and records against hi-jacking or parachutists. The firearms, of course, should be inconspicuous during transit.
6. There should be a front office detail which should make arrangements to move the equipment, records, and facilities needed by the Director and Messrs. Tolson, Ladd, and Nichols so that their offices will be set up and ready for operation on the arrival of these officials. The facilities, records, and equipment to be evacuated should be identified now and a plan for loading them on a top priority basis should be completed.
7. A work detail should be selected; their job would be to effectuate immediately the loading of equipment, files, supplies, and facilities without delay.

8. Identify now the drivers of cars, buses, and trucks. Acquaint them with the various alternate routes to the evacuation point. Have them examine maps at this time and have maps available for immediate distribution at the time of evacuation.
9. Insist on strict enforcement of present regulations that cars, buses, and trucks at all times be filled with gas and in condition to operate to the evacuation point without difficulty.
10. Consider reserve gasoline stored at the evacuation point for subsequent travel between Washington, for operation of emergency generators, and for courier service as needed.
11. Arrange for truck to leave Quantico with ammunition, additional firearms equipment, and cabinets for storing the firearms, with the personnel accompanying these firearms and ammunition to be used as guard detail until permanent guard is established.

OCCUPYING QUARTERS AT EVACUATION POINT

1. Obtain blueprints or diagrams now of buildings at evacuation point. Plot the location of each office and storage space and residential or dormitory assignments.
2. Plot on diagrams the location of files, facilities, supplies, and equipment so that the unloading will be without confusion.
3. Designate work detail among those to be evacuated for prompt unloading of files and other facilities upon arrival at evacuation point with one employee directly in charge. This employee might be the one who left promptly for the evacuation point to make arrangements for acquiring the facilities there.

FILES

1. Complete the procedure now being followed of identifying files by cards which will be the basis for the primary index to the files taken to the evacuation point. Later make additional cards on other subjects of same files.
2. Select distinctive, colored file covers, front and back, for files selected for evacuation in order to facilitate location at evacuation time.
3. Identify cabinets in which selected files for evacuation are located by small label or paint spot of a distinctive type.

In selection of file back covers and marking cabinets, consider fluorescent material in case of power failure and night evacuation.

4. Ascertain monthly, volume of files selected so that the number of cabinets needed can be ascertained and number of trucks will be known for transportation purposes.

COMMUNICATIONS

1. Assign now all call signals for evacuation point and advise field of these signals now.
2. Obtain telephone equipment which has been ordered. Have telephone lines installed now or ready for prompt installation in the event unable to install them at this time. Set up one direct line circuit now between Washington and evacuation point.
3. Install interior wiring during Xmas Holidays for inter-office communications, buzzers, and such equipment as this, which may be essential in a few offices.
4. Complete arrangements concerning radio facilities. Obtain the equipment including antenna. Be ready to install antenna by selecting buildings now where installations will be located. Complete arrangements for teletypes including connection with Washington.
5. Complete arrangements now being made for micro-wave length system for communicating with temporary location of White House and critical agencies.
6. Complete arrangements now for courier service between evacuation point and Washington including autos, drivers, and armed guards for three trips each way daily.
7. Consider possible need for emergency courier service daily to emergency White House and critical agencies' locations.
8. Obtain and take along several commercial and short wave radio receivers for official use purposes as well as for recreation purposes.

FURNITURE AND SUPPLIES

1. Ascertain what furniture and supplies now available at evacuation point and then ascertain what additional furniture and equipment necessary.
2. Identify specifically items of furniture, cabinets, safes, and similar facilities which are to be transported.
3. Make a list of the supplies, forms, stationery, typewriters, carbon paper, and other items of this type necessary.
4. Have at least an estimated two weeks' supply packed at this time in containers and either stored at the evacuation point or if space is not available packed in boxes for prompt loading and transporting at time of evacuation.
5. Identify with some comparatively inconspicuous label each item to be transported. Assign it a number and plot on charts the location of this equipment in Washington and also where it is to be placed upon arrival at the evacuation point.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES

1. Locate and have available at the evacuation point a competent physician.
2. Include adequate nurses for evacuation point in selection of personnel.
3. Locate area at evacuation point for clinic facilities with small area for in-patient treatment over night of an infirmary type.
4. List needed medical supplies and medical equipment and store this equipment at evacuation point now.

FIREARMS AND AMMUNITION

1. Each supervisor to carry his own sidearm and one box of ammunition. These sidearms and ammunition supplies to be quickly available both at work and at home and wherever he is.
2. Select number of rifles, shotguns, machine guns, gas riot guns to be taken to the evacuation point and also amount of ammunition.
3. Select adequate number of handcuffs and detention kits.

MANUALS

1. Employees of each division to carry their own handbooks as assigned to the Agents selected for evacuation. Also take 20 Manuals of Rules and Regulations and 30 Manuals of Instructions.

BLACKOUT EQUIPMENT FOR EVACUATION POINT

1. Obtain and have ready for immediate installation blackout equipment for top executives' offices, communications offices, security index room, and one large assembly room.

AIR RAID WARDEN SERVICE

1. Designate now wardens, alternates, and assistants for evacuation point.
2. Designate now shelter areas at evacuation point.
3. Select now blackout warning system for evacuation point.

GUARDS

1. Make survey to ascertain number outside patrol personnel needed.
2. Arrange for inside security patrol for office and file space.
3. What guards needed at entrance doors to selected buildings and establish shifts.
4. Consider double security guard at telephone and radio facilities location 24 hours per day.
5. At regular entrance to facilities at evacuation point, such as, gates or places where roadway enters the area occupied, have system of escorting visitors to and from places where they have official business and include special pass arrangements.
6. Arrange for protection by police, National Guard, and, if necessary, FBI personnel of sources of power and lights, water, gas, and any other vital facilities.

EMERGENCY FOOD SUPPLIES

1. Have available approximately one week's supply of ingredients for bread baking, such as, Bisquick.
2. Select some simple food for temporary subsistence purposes, such as, canned soups - approximately one week's supply for staff.
3. Canned coffee, sugar, and canned milk in quantities for approximately one week's emergency.

ALTERNATE EVACUATION POINTS

1. In addition to selected evacuation point, consider as alternates:
  - a. Warrenton, Virginia, area - Chrysler estate or school buildings
  - b. Leesburg, Virginia, area - school buildings
  - c. Gaithersburg, Maryland, area - school buildings

FIRST AID

1. Train additional employees in first aid including 25% at least of those selected for evacuation.

RECREATION

1. Arrange for canteen including soft drinks, sandwich bar, magazines, papers, cigars, cigarettes, etc.
2. Arrange for a movie projector and sound screen to be available with a few selected films.
3. Get facilities for games, such as, dominoes and darts, and also for outdoor activities, such as, softball.
4. Have available a phonograph and records and radio facilities for recreation room.

ACTION IN EVENT OF AIR RAIDS IN WASHINGTON AND AT QUANTICO

1. Select now one over-all air raid warden. In addition, select a deputy air raid warden for the Justice Building, Ident Building, and Old Post Office Building and at Quantico. Also select alternates.
2. Select now assistant air raid warden for each division with additional aides in each section and whenever a section or unit is large enough, such as, the Records Section and the Typing Section in Ident, there should be a further assistant in each part of the building where such employees may be located. Class counselors will serve as assistants in each New Agents Class. Alternates should be selected for each of the above.
3. Assign shelter areas in each building. Assign the routes for each group of employees to proceed to the shelter areas.
4. Practice evacuation to the shelter areas twice in the next 30 days and once in each 60 days thereafter. (No siren. This can be done on a time of day basis for each shift.)
5. Organize and select a security patrol during the time the employees are in the shelter.
6. Written instructions and charts outlining the procedures and routes to be followed during an air raid should be prepared and distributed to the individuals selected as wardens.

Reference is made to the writer's memorandum to you on November 7, 1951, concerning Mr. Roach's discussion with Mr. David Stowe of the White House, dealing with the matter of facilitating a steel order on behalf of Shepherdstown College.

Mr. Roach today followed this matter with Mr. Stowe, and Stowe advised that he had discreetly discussed the matter with a contact of his in the National Production Authority to see what could be done to allocate the steel needed. Stowe further stated that as soon as his contact replies as to what can be done, he will see if some discreet action can not be taken to O.K. the steel order. Stowe explained that under a National Production Authority order no steel is being allotted for educational purposes unless it is in the construction of new elementary schools. Colleges have been specifically excluded.

Stowe stated he would follow this matter very closely, and would keep the Bureau informed of the developments.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be referred to Mr. Glavin for his information. Mr. Roach will follow this matter with Mr. Stowe.

On October 15, 1951, the Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Glavin, Tracy, Mohr, Belmont, Rosen, Clegg, Gearty, McGuire and Parsons considered the proposed microwave system to connect the relocation points of the critical agencies with the White House.

The Conference was advised that information had been obtained from Colonel Bronson of NSRB reflecting that the present status of the microwave system shows the system has already been started but is far from completion. The present plan calls for a system which will connect the emergency headquarters for the

This is the only part of the network now installed. The military agencies are not ready to occupy the facilities [redacted] which are to be rather elaborate. [redacted]

The Military will also install a link from [redacted]

Because of the distance from [redacted] a relay is only four miles [redacted] Because there are no facilities now [redacted]

it is proposed that the Bureau tie into the system at [redacted] but since they have no personnel there, they have erected no microwave system. As a stop-gap plan, in the event of an emergency [redacted]

b7E

Because of the arrangements which have already been made with the people in Shepherdstown, we feel that we can arrange to install microwave equipment at Shepherdstown under a pretext without revealing the exact nature of the installation. The equipment will appear similar to that installed and used by the AT & T in their nation-wide microwave network which is used for television and communications.

The Conference was advised that it will be necessary to reach a decision as to the number of channels which we will need in the Security Agencies' Microwave System. A channel would function substantially in the same way as a telephone line, i.e., it would permit one incoming or outgoing telephone call carried by microwave. The Committee must plan for a channelling procedure at [redacted] in order to handle the microwave communications and therefore desire to know the number of channels that the Bureau feels necessary for the handling of urgent voice conversations with the other agencies.

We do not know the number of channels presently planned for [redacted]

The Conference unanimously recommends that even though 6 channels (considering one for each of the critical agencies and the White House) would probably be sufficient, we should request 10 channels in order to have some flexibility. We estimate that equipment to permit 10 channels of microwave communication including a tower to be installed at Shepherdstown would cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

SECURITY AGENCIES' MICROWAVE SYSTEM

EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS FOR SOG

Pursuant to Mr. Tolson's instructions, I conferred with Colonel Bronson of the National Security Resources Board on October 10, 1951, concerning the proposed microwave communications system to link the critical agencies with the White House. Mr. Conrad accompanied me. After a brief discussion with Colonel Bronson, he called in members of the Subcommittee including [redacted] and Colonel Talbot of the Federal Civilian Defense Agency and [redacted] of CIA.

Memo to Mr. Harbo 10/15/51

Re: War Plans; Security Agencies' Microwave System

to be in touch with the whole nation. He stated that since they were necessarily acquainted with the security agencies' microwave system, he had asked Colonel Talbot to look into the possibility of the Bell system completing the unfinished part of the security agencies' network and maintaining it in much the same way they are now doing for emergency telephone lines and cables. It was pointed out that if this is feasible, each agency could contract with the telephone company for installation and maintenance. Colonel Talbot plans to discuss this with the telephone officials and call a meeting of representatives of all of the agencies involved including the White House early next week.

By the time we receive information as to whether this is feasible from the Bureau's standpoint, we will be able to estimate the cost of our installation if we obtain the equipment and do the work. It will be necessary for us to reach a decision as to the number of telephone and teletypewriter channels we will need in the microwave system. Each channel permits one voice line similar to a telephone line and it is felt that we should have as many voice lines as there are other contact points. One channel will handle approximately 18 teletypewriter circuits and it would therefore appear that one channel would be adequate. In order to provide for the possibility of expansion, it is recommended that we have equipment which will handle 10 channels and that we request the Committee to provide for 6 channels at this time.

Two problems remain to be worked out with the Committee and we will attend the meeting next week to find out (1) if arrangements are to be made by the other agencies for the telephone company to handle installation and maintenance, and (2) to determine if satisfactory arrangements can be completed for us to have an unattended installation at Shepherdstown. In this connection it is noted that other agencies still desire that the contact points be manned in order to have periodic tests and to work out procedures for channelling, handling the various contacts and avoiding confusion which would result from inexperience if the network is not used prior to an actual emergency.

RECOMMENDATION: That consideration be given to whether 6 channels should be requested of the Microwave Planning Committee.

The Executives Conference

1. EVACUATION—EMERGENCY

The Executives Conference on November 19, 1941, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Tracy, Eads, Mohr, Ladd, Rosen, Nease, Laughlin and Clegg, considered the following matters with reference to War Plans—Evacuation:

1. All employees are to be evacuated to the emergency relocation center. These employees have been selected as follows:

Division	No. of Employees
Executive Offices	22
Identification	11
Training and Inspection	9
Administrative	41
Records and Communications	134
Domestic Intelligence	225
General Investigative	70
Laboratory	38
Total	518

The Executives Conference unanimously recommended as follows:

- A. That the entire list of personnel be identity be completed and that an alternate list of the same number be completed at the earliest possible date.
- B. That the Assistant Director in charge of each division have notified personally the employees selected for evacuation so that they can make plans for prompt departure from Washington when necessary and so that they can also make personal plans for their families during their absence from Washington. These employees, due to a special or emergency situation or family situation, could not be able to leave Washington, would have alternate selected in their place.
- C. That a plan of mobilizing these employees selected for evacuation be completed, such a plan to be worked out on a basis of evacuation during working hours and also a plan for evacuation at night, on week days or holidays.

B. It was recommended that each employee selected after their notification would make their own personal plans as to their families during their absence. Some of them would undoubtedly arrange for their families to be billeted with other families temporarily. Others would arrange for their families to depart to homes of relatives or friends either near Washington or some considerable distance away. It was felt that these plans should be made personally.

2. It was unanimously recommended that no plans be made for the storage of a reserve supply of gasoline at or near the evacuation point, but that the Bureau could rely upon local gasoline filling stations and supply sources in the event of an evacuation.

3. Since a leased telephone line from the Bureau to the evacuation point would go through the telephone company facilities in Washington, the Conference was unanimously of the opinion that there should be no leased line obtained at this time since the bombing of the telephone company building would interfere just as much with the leased line which goes through the telephone terminal as it would with the regular connections through the telephone terminal switchboard.

4. The Conference recommended unanimously that at this time the Special Agent supervisors at the Seat of Government not be required to carry their own side arms to and fro from the Justice Building to their homes in order that their side arms would be available in case of emergency. It was felt that at this particular time there would be no need for the Agents to carry their firearms personally, and if necessary a supply of such firearms could be sent to the evacuation point either from the Administrative Division or from the Academy at Quantico.

There is attached a status report dated November 10, 1941, of the various steps completed, pending, and those not completed in connection with the various phases of the evacuation program.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

Clyde Tolson

On the afternoon of October 29, 1951, I attended a meeting of a Committee of the National Security Resources Board in the office of Colonel Howard Bronson, Jr., relative to the above-entitled matter. Representatives of [redacted]

[redacted] were present. You will recall that the Bureau by letter of October 20, 1951, advised Colonel Bronson that the Bureau was giving consideration to the plan of acquiring and installing at Shepherdstown the necessary micro wave equipment to permit tying into the micro wave system at [redacted]

Since it appeared obvious to the committee that the micro wave circuit will not be operative for several months, the committee discussed briefly other means of establishing emergency communication between the relocation centers of the critical agencies. The general sentiment expressed favored the immediate installation of a low-powered CW telegraph station at each of the relocation centers, with the necessary equipment being furnished by the Military to each of the agencies involved. Final consideration of the establishment of such a CW network was deferred to a later meeting. However, it is my opinion that the committee will decide in favor of installing such a system.

For record purposes, [redacted] Long Lines Division of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, advised Mr. McGuire that the proper official of the FBI designated to furnish instructions to the telephone company to place the Bureau's emergency switchboard and teletype equipment at Shepherdstown, West Virginia into operation should place the call for such service telephonically with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at Baltimore. The telephone call should be made to Lexington 9-900, asking for extension 5550 and if that is busy call the following extensions in the order listed: 5556, 5557 or 585. These are the test board numbers of the chief engineer and the Bureau's emergency telephone and teletype equipment at Shepherdstown are engineered through the Baltimore office of AT&T.

[redacted] was advised that such a call would probably be placed by the following Bureau officials, in the order listed: Mr. Louis B. Nichols, or Mr. J. J. McGuire, or Mr. Louis Wherry.

The procedure to follow is to state "This is (Mr. Louis B. Nichols) of the FBI, Washington, D. C. Establish FBI--EMC--telephone to (Shepherdstown) and FBI--EMC--teletype to (Shepherdstown)."

[redacted] advised that this was the designation of operation instructions being given to the Bureau's emergency network and would be filed with the office of the chief engineer in the test board in Baltimore and was advised that we would, likewise, file these instructions here at Washington for further reference if needed.

DATE: November 7, 1951

FROM : A. H. BELMONT *AB*SUBJECT: WAR PLANS
EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS

The attached memorandum, dated October 29, 1951, prepared by Mr. Parsons, reveals that [redacted] of Shepherdstown College stated that he was having difficulty obtaining structural steel to complete the new gymnasium and field house. He indicated that the school need 41 additional tons of steel to complete the building. He further advised that he had been to Washington and in contact with the National Production Authority to obtain an allocation for the required steel but without success.

At the request of Mr. Glavin, Mr. Roach contacted Mr. David Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President, who is the White House coordinator for National alert planning, on November 6, 1951. The problem mentioned by [redacted] was outlined to Mr. Stowe and his advice sought as to what discreet action could be taken. Mr. Stowe advised that he felt it was possible he could make a telephone call to the National Production Authority, without revealing any of the details concerning the Shepherdstown College's part in alert planning, and get an authorization for the required 41 tons of steel.

It was Mr. Stowe's very definite opinion that no approach should be made through the United States Office of Education, Federal Security Agency, as this would only "put more people in the act" and enhance the possibility of a leak of the Bureau's planning at Shepherdstown.

Mr. Stowe stated that he would check on this matter immediately and inform Mr. Roach of the results. This matter will be followed closely with Mr. Stowe.

As a matter of information, Mr. Stowe stated he felt the Bureau should know that the Government Services Administration is sending survey teams to all private and public schools and colleges in that vicinity. He stated that the purpose of the survey is to supply to his office facilities available at all schools. The allocation of these schools to Government agencies will be assigned from his office at such time as the surveys are completed.

RECORDED - 103

EX-3

Mr. Stowe therefore suggested that at such time as [ ] is contacted by GSA that he comply with their inquiry concerning available space, facilities, etc. and make no mention of the fact that the Bureau has previously been in touch with him.

b7C

Mr. Stowe advised that at such time as the surveys are completed he will see that the facilities of the Shepherdstown site are not placed on available space and therefore the GSA survey will not interfere with anything the Bureau has already planned.

Mr. Stowe was of the opinion that to inform GSA not to survey Shepherdstown would create suspicion on their part and possibly disclose the Bureau's plans for that college.

ACTION:

The matter of obtaining steel for Shepherdstown will be followed by Mr. Roach with Mr. Stowe.

It is suggested that this memorandum be referred to Mr. Glavin for his information so that if he desires he may forewarn [ ] of the anticipated survey to be made by GSA.

He was in Washington last week in an effort to obtain the necessary Government approval but ran into difficulty. [redacted] said he was told it would be necessary for him to show some National Defense aspect in order to expedite his request. He said that while he assumed this building would be very important to our plans if it were ever necessary for us to occupy the college, he could not afford, of course, to mention any of this to the National Production Authority people in view of the assurances he had given us to respect the confidential character of our plans.

PURPOSE:

To submit for your approval a plan to insure continued operations of this division in the event evacuation of Washington Headquarters becomes necessary.

EVACUATION PROGRAM:

Present plans contemplate that the Domestic Intelligence Division would evacuate approximately 22 1/4 of its total personnel of about 420 to alternate headquarters upon receipt of instructions to evacuate present Bureau headquarters. This includes all personnel of the Internal Security and Espionage Units except the Number One Man, 5 supervisors and 1 stenographer and 1 clerk in each of these Units; the Chief and Number One man of the Loyalty Unit; and the Chief, Number One Man, and Liaison personnel of the Correlation Liaison Unit. Planning for this contingency requires that consideration be given not only to the employees to be evacuated but also to those who are to remain in Washington, D. C. The primary concern in planning for continued Bureau operations is personnel and the next most important consideration is records. These two factors are discussed hereinafter in connection with various situations which have been considered.

1. Advance Notice to Evacuate is Received During Regular Working Hours.

The signal to evacuate might be received in the face of imminent air attack upon Washington, as a result of air attack upon other U.S. territory, or because of some other emergency circumstance. The amount of advance warning which will be received will vary. Insofar as time permits, the following action will be taken.

Personnel to be Evacuated:

The personnel scheduled for evacuation should be instructed to proceed to their homes, do the necessary packing, and proceed to the following evacuation centers for transportation to alternate headquarters.

Resident Agency, Rooms 216 and 217,
Professional Building, Hyattsville,
Maryland (alternate site Montgomery-
Blair High School, Silver Spring, Maryland), if employees reside in the District of Columbia or Maryland.

Resident Agency, Room 306, Post Office Building, Alexandria, Virginia (alternate site, Falls Church High School, Falls Church, Virginia), if employees reside in Virginia.

Alternate sites are designated above in the event the first location is rendered unusable. If circumstances permit an orderly evacuation, other evacuation centers more conveniently located can be designated at the time instructions to evacuate are relayed to employees.

In the event air attack is imminent, of course, it will not be possible for employees to carry out these instructions until after the attack is over.

It is anticipated that the Administrative Division will be able to provide transportation from the two evacuation centers named above to alternate headquarters. It is noted that of the approximately 224 employees of this division to be evacuated, 170 live in the District and Maryland and the balance of 54 reside in Virginia. Transportation will have to be provided for this number of personnel at the two evacuation centers.

Employees may provide their own transportation to alternate headquarters if they desire. Those employees who intend to utilize personal means of transportation should be requested to advise their unit chief so that the number of persons for whom the Administrative Division will have to provide transportation, may be revised. Those who do not make up their minds until the time of evacuation, should be requested to notify the person in charge of the evacuation center to which he would ordinarily report, that he intends to provide his own transportation. In this manner all employees can be accounted for prior to their departure from the Washington area for alternate headquarters. Employees are expected to provide their own transportation to evacuation centers from their homes.

I will be the person in charge of the evacuation center in Virginia, to be succeeded by Mr. Hennrich and Mr. Keay. Mr. Laughlin (to be succeeded by Mr. Baumgardner and Mr. C. B. Howard) will be in charge of the Maryland evacuation center. It is noted in this regard that the evacuation process undoubtedly will be prolonged and that the top officials of the division will necessarily have to depart for alternate headquarters as soon as possible and at that time will designate the alternate to remain in charge at the evacuation centers to account for future arrivals. The evacuation does not require the assembling of a large number of employees but should be arranged so that small numbers may depart as soon as they arrive and are checked off the list maintained by the person in charge.

It is felt that some employees will refuse to be evacuated. This problem may be handled in part at the present time by advising employees who are designated for evacuation of the plans which affect them. It is expected that some objections can be eliminated in this manner. However, it is felt that the problem cannot be eliminated altogether due to such last minute possibilities as illnesses of employees or members of their immediate families. In addition, plans which an employee has made for taking care of his family after his evacuation may fall through at the last minute, preventing him from being evacuated on schedule.

A majority of the personnel of this division is scheduled for evacuation and it is therefore not possible to designate man for man alternates to those scheduled for evacuation. It is felt that all employees of the division may be considered alternates and at the last minute may be requested to accompany the evacuation force.

Personnel Not Scheduled for Evacuation:

These employees will remain in their present jobs if conditions permit this. As noted above, all employees in this category are potential evacuees in the event it should develop at the last minute that persons now scheduled for evacuation are unable to accompany the evacuees.

As to these employees who remain in Washington, it is necessary to designate a person to be in charge of their work. J. L. Schmit, Number One Man in the Internal Security Unit, is designated for this purpose. S. B. Donahoe, J. A. Reilly and G. E. Gotschall would be in charge of the Units to which they are now assigned.

It is expected that the persons in charge of the evacuation centers in Maryland and Virginia could communicate with the person remaining in charge in Washington after the evacuation and could advise the latter of the identity of employees who had not been evacuated as scheduled and for whom replacements were needed. The person in charge in Washington could make the necessary arrangements for getting these replacement employees to alternate headquarters.

Records:

The files which this division would require at alternate headquarters have previously been designated and the Records Section is to be responsible for them.

The Internal Security Unit has submitted a list of special supplies and policy material, Informant indices and the Security Index, which the Administrative Division is being requested to provide transportation for if time permits its evacuation. The Supervisors in Charge of the desks to which the material to be evacuated pertains are designated to oversee its evacuation. The small quantity of policy ticklers to be evacuated from other units is the responsibility of those units. Each employee is responsible for the property assigned to him.

2. Advance Notice To Evacuate Is Received After Regular Working Hours.

This notice might be received under the same conditions as outlined under one above.

Personnel to be Evacuated:

Attached is a list of employees who are scheduled for evacuation. This list has been subdivided into key officials, group leaders, and squad leaders. Each such official and leader has a designated alternate. It is expected that through this system, orders to evacuate could be relayed to the affected employees in a minimum of time. Under this system I would contact four key officials, namely Mr. Hennrich and Mr. Stanley (located in Virginia), and Mr. Laughlin and Mr. Baumgardner (located in the District and Maryland). Mr. Hennrich and Mr. Stanley would notify the seven squad leaders in Virginia and these leaders would pass the instructions on to the total of approximately 54 employees residing in Virginia. Mr. Baumgardner and Mr. Laughlin would contact five group leaders who reside in the District and Maryland. These group leaders in turn would notify a total of 22 squad leaders who would pass on instructions to the 170 employees in Maryland and District of Columbia. It is noted that it has been necessary to insert group leaders in the chain of command covering the District and Maryland by reason of the larger number of employees who live in those places.

Through this system of communications, all employees would be instructed to report to the evacuation centers designated under one above.

Personnel not Scheduled for Evacuation:

At the signal to evacuate, I will contact the person in charge of the division employees remaining in Washington. He in turn will contact five group leaders who will pass on instructions to the 6 squad leaders (total employees, 41) in Virginia and the 20 squad leaders (151 employees) in Maryland and Virginia. Attached is a list of the employees not scheduled for evacuation reflecting the breakdown into groups and squads.

Record:

If circumstances permit, the files and other material will be taken.

3. Without Advance Notice or With Only Short Advance Notice the Department of Justice Building is Destroyed or Damaged or the Area Rendered Untenable by Air Attack During Regular Working Hours.

Personnel:

In the event of total destruction of the Justice Building, it is assumed that all employees on duty would be casualties. There would be a few employees on leave at the time. These surviving employees should report to the Resident Agencies designated hereinbefore. It will be the responsibility of the Richmond and Baltimore Offices to take care of these employees.

The action to be taken with respect to personnel in the event of partial destruction of the Justice Building during normal working hours, will depend to a large extent upon the nature and extent of destruction. Some employees now listed for evacuation would be casualties. It would be necessary to draw upon the remaining employees to staff alternate headquarters. It is assumed the surviving employees would be available in the designated air raid shelter areas in the basement of this building and appropriate instructions could be issued to them here at the building. It is believed the most practical instructions under the circumstances, would be that employees proceed to their homes, do the necessary packing, and report to the previously designated evacuation centers for transportation to alternate headquarters.

In the event the destruction to this building, or at least to the areas occupied by the Internal Security and Espionage Units, were slight, it might well be more efficient to continue operations in this building rather than undertake evacuation in such a critical period.

If it were decided to evacuate the necessary employees, those remaining behind would, of course, see to it that Bureau property and records maintained in this division were safeguarded. Such records as have been designated for evacuation and were not destroyed, could be evacuated.

With respect to the possibility of complete destruction of Bureau headquarters and personnel, it is noted that a chain of command of the Bureau has been designated in the Field.

4. Without Advance Warning or on Short Notice, the Department of Justice Building is Destroyed or Damaged or Area Rendered Untenable by Air Attack After Regular Working Hours.

Personnel to be Evacuated:

The bombed area, including this building, undoubtedly would have a police or military cordon around it as a result of which the building would be inaccessible to our employees coming to work on the next workday. Most of the employees would learn via the radio or other means of the catastrophe. A few might not learn of it until they attempted to come to work.

In the event the building is totally destroyed, employees should be instructed through the squad system to report to the evacuation centers named previously herein. In case of partial destruction to the building, they can be instructed to return to work in this building or to proceed to evacuation centers, as desired.

Personnel not Scheduled for Evacuation:

The same communications system could be utilized as under number two above. These employees should remain at their homes to await instructions or if they move, they should first get in touch their squad leader. It might be desired to instruct these employees to proceed to alternate headquarters, to report to the Justice Building to assist in salvage operations, or to proceed to a nearby field office where their services are required.

Records:

Such files and other material as are designated for evacuation and are not destroyed, can be taken.

LIAISON WITH OTHER GOVERNMENT AGENCIES:

The maintenance of continuous liaison with other agencies, during or after evacuation, presents a special problem in that such agencies will be evacuated to points other than the Bureau's alternate headquarters. It is felt that the Bureau's liaison representatives should accompany the agencies with which they are to maintain contact to whatever alternate headquarters sites those agencies select. It is suggested that the liaison representatives contact the agencies with which the Bureau will be maintaining liaison after evacuation, and ascertain the location of the alternate headquarters of those agencies and make arrangements with the agencies to be evacuated with them. The following assignments are being submitted reflecting the Liaison Agents who will accompany the individual agencies.

White House	Mr. R. R. Roach
State Department	Mr. M. W. Kuhrtz
Army Department	Mr. S. W. Reynolds
Navy Department	Mr. M. C. Clements
Air Force Department	Mr. E. S. Sanders
CIA	Mr. C. W. Bates
AEC	Mr. O. H. Bartlett
AFSA	Mr. S. D. Ellis
Civil Defense	Mr. W. F. Woods
Secretary of Defense	Substitute Liaison Agent to be designated later.

It is contemplated that the need for liaison with other agencies will arise after the evacuation and consequently qualified personnel from the Correlation-Liaison Unit are being designated for evacuation in order that they will be available to assume these liaison duties.

INSTRUCTIONS TO EMPLOYEES

The problem of what instructions should be issued to personnel at this time regarding Bureau plans for evacuation to alternate headquarters is understood to be scheduled for Executive Conference consideration.

It is believed employees should be advised generally of the plans in this regard. All employees of this Division can be told that in the event of an emergency and upon receipt of instructions to do so from the President a part of the Bureau, as well as other vital government agencies will be evacuated from Washington to Sheppardstown, West Virginia. They should be told that each of them might be called upon on short notice to evacuate Washington with the Bureau's staff. Since it apparently is not possible for them to take their families to alternate headquarters it will be necessary that they give consideration now to what provision they could make for their families' safety and care. They should make any other arrangements necessary so that on short notice they can go home, pack and proceed to evacuation centers outside the District where transportation would be available to take them to the alternate headquarters.

They should be advised of the identity of the evacuation centers and the alternate evacuation centers. They should be told it is their own responsibility to get to evacuation centers and that they should give this matter consideration now in so far as means of transportation and possible routes are concerned. It is not believed feasible to work out any system of transportation from office to home and thence to alternate headquarters beyond the car pools which now exist. It will be permissible for employees to drive their own cars to alternate headquarters if they desire, but if they intend to do so they should advise their Unit Chief in order that this information may be furnished to the Administrative Division for revision of its figures regarding the number of persons for whom it must provide transportation. At the time of the actual evacuation any employee who desires to provide his own transportation to alternate headquarters should notify the nearest evacuation center of this fact so that all employees may be accounted for prior to their departure from the Washington area.

Employees should be told that if any dire emergency arises and no one from Bureau headquarters contacts them, as, for example, if this building should be destroyed during working hours, they should report to the Alexandria or Hyattsville Resident Agency for instructions.

Employees should be reminded that they will be responsible for the safety of Bureau property assigned to them in any emergency situation. They should be told of the squad system which has been set up and advised of the identity of the Squad Leader and alternate from whom they can expect to receive instructions in an emergency.

In addition to the above general instructions, the key officials, group leaders and squad leaders (and alternates) should be apprised of their responsibilities under the evacuation program so that they may learn where everyone resides within their area and give consideration to the best means of communication within their squad.

PROVISION FOR FAMILIES OF EVACUEES

Of foremost concern to all employees to be evacuated will be their families. This problem may be solved by some employees on their own initiative when they are advised of the evacuation plans. The best solution for the remaining families would be for the Bureau to make arrangements for the families at or near alternate headquarters. A second possibility is that the Bureau could provide some haven for families at some other point, at least temporarily until the employees could make some other more satisfactory permanent arrangements.

NOTIFICATION OF RICHMOND AND BALTIMORE OFFICES

The Agents in Charge of the Richmond and Baltimore Offices should be advised of the intentions of this Division to use the Alexandria and Hyattsville Resident Agencies as evacuation centers. In the event these plans interfere with their own plans for use of these quarters, they should be requested to suggest alternate sites for this purpose. They should likewise be advised that if Bureau headquarters are destroyed with resulting casualties to Bureau officials, they will be responsible for surviving employees who will be reporting to the Resident Agencies named.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That all employees of this Division be advised of evacuation plans.
2. That arrangements be perfected for temporary housing of employees' families in the vicinity of alternate headquarters.
3. That the Bureau's liaison representatives contact the agencies listed above and make arrangements to be evacuated with those agencies.
4. That the Richmond and Baltimore Offices be advised of Bureau plans to use the Alexandria and Hyattsville Resident Agencies as evacuation centers and of their responsibilities in the event Bureau headquarters are destroyed and ranking officials are casualties.

5. That copies of this memorandum be furnished to Unit Chiefs and other officials affected with instructions to implement its provisions; that such further dissemination be made among employees as is necessary to implement the plan; that the Personnel Counselor each 60 days revise the squad system in accordance with personnel changes.
6. That this memorandum be referred to Mr. Glavin, the Coordinator of Evacuation, for his information concerning plans of this Division.

Reference is made to my memorandum of November 16, 1951, relative to the above-entitled matter advising that a committee of the National Security Resources Board had decided to establish a CW radio telegraph network between the various relocation centers of the so-called critical agencies as an interim means of communication pending completion of the microwave system. My memorandum further indicated that separate recommendations were being prepared relative to the operation and storage of the 2 and 1/2 ton radio truck being made available to the Bureau by the White House for this purpose.

Since the equipment is to provide for top level emergency communication between the relocation centers, it is essential that the Bureau make provision for the availability of the equipment in the immediate vicinity of Shepherdstown, West Virginia, for the purpose of holding the weekly drills which the White House representative has indicated are desired.

Three alternative methods of accomplishing this are listed below in decreasing order of desirability:

(1) Rental of suitable building and grounds at Shepherdstown for storage of equipment and assignment of operating personnel. This proposal is given preference because it also solves two related problems dealing with FBI relocation; namely, the need within the near future for a site on which the proposed microwave antenna structure can be erected, and secondly, the desirability of having some emergency radio equipment set up for immediate use at Shepherdstown in connection with the FBI's own radio communications network. In this latter connection, we do have equipment already in storage there but the availability of a house and associated grounds would make it possible to carry out a great deal more advance construction.

(2) Store the radio truck at Clinton or Waldorf and drive it to Shepherdstown each week for the weekly drill. This alternative is undesirable to the extent that it involves driving a two and one-half ton truck and associated trailer over mountain roads each week which not only will cause considerable wear and tear on the equipment, but also introduces a substantial element of risk in transit. In addition, it would take several hours to go from Clinton to Shepherdstown, particularly under traffic conditions which might prevail during an emergency, and emergency communication might therefore be unavailable for a substantial period of time.

(3) Storage of the equipment in garage space in the vicinity of Shepherdstown. I am opposed to this alternative, primarily because the equipment is White House property assigned for the highly specialized purpose of top level emergency communication. I therefore do not believe that the equipment should be left stored out of Bureau custody for the substantial periods that would be required under this proposal.

RECOMMENDATION

Accordingly, it is recommended that upon delivery, the equipment be held at Clinton or Waldorf for the immediate present and that an immediate survey be authorized in the vicinity of Shepherdstown looking toward the location of a suitable building and grounds which would serve as a site for our microwave tower and on which, if not already present, a suitable temporary structure could be erected to house the radio truck. It is contemplated that such a site would be manned continuously by Bureau radio operating personnel who would reside on the premises.

No action, Conrad will make preliminary survey after which more specific recommendation will be made.

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS

Emergency Headquarters FOR COA

[redacted] of the Long Lines Division of AT&T telephonically advised Mr. McGuire that the Maintenance Section of the Long Lines Engineering Division would like to check the installations of the Bureau at Shepherdstown at least once a month in order to be assured that while this equipment is in standby condition that it is at all times ready for immediate operation in the event the Bureau should ever take over the establishment and want the services planned for put into operation.

[redacted] was advised that the Bureau was in agreement that this should be done.

[redacted] also stated he was drawing up a set of instructions to be issued to the Engineering Center of AT&T, Baltimore, to be locked in the safe at that point, it being recalled that whenever the Bureau desires to put the Shepherdstown relocation center into active use, our plans call for notification to the Engineering Center of the telephone company at Baltimore where all of our equipment in Shepherdstown is controlled. [redacted] stated he would furnish the Bureau with a copy of these instructions.

Inasmuch as the Bureau Laboratory will be making periodic checks, particularly in connection with the mobile trailer unit which is being furnished to the Bureau by the Federal Civil Defense Agency, and I think we should coordinate the dates when the laboratory will make its checks at Shepherdstown so that I can advise [redacted] of AT&T so that his maintenance people can be there the same day and thereby eliminate the necessity of someone from the Bureau making a separate trip to Shepherdstown just for a maintenance checkup.

As previously pointed out, the two oldest buildings including the main administration building have no existing blueprints. Accordingly, in compliance with Mr. Parsons instructions these buildings were stepped off in order to provide a rough approximate floor plan. In that this procedure was necessarily undertaken while classes were in session, access was not possible into all of the rooms. The rough sketches have been furnished to the Cartographic Section for the purpose of placing them in permanent filing form. Upon completion they will be forwarded for Mr. Glavins attention. IC

*BUREAU WAR PLANS - Emergency
Headquarters, FOR S-25*

(1) To review status of radio equipment to be used at this site if necessary and (2) to recommend the purchase of radio equipment based on information now on hand regarding the above captioned location.

II. REFERENCES

1. My memorandum to you dated November 1, 1950, which, based upon information available at that time, recommended the immediate purchase of approximately $85,000 worth of radio equipment for the Shepherdstown location.

2. Mr. Parsons' memorandum to you dated December 1, 1950, commenting on the Shepherdstown proposal and making alternative recommendations that plans be made for permanent replacement of our Clinton-Waldorf facilities.

3. Mr. Parsons' memorandum of January 10, 1951, re War Plans, reflecting that an Executives Conference Sub-Committee recommended (a) plans for re-establishment of the main radio station (b) survey as to the source of radio equipment and (c) survey for a source of additional radio equipment which could be stored.

4. My memorandum to you dated April 25, 1951, entitled "Bureau War Plans" which pointed out that the Sub-Committee recommendations superseded my recommendation of November 1, 1950, relative to the purchase of radio equipment for installation of facilities at Shepherdstown and made recommendations regarding re-establishment of west and east radio stations behind mountain ranges. Contingent upon approval of this recommendation a recommendation was again made to place equipment on order immediately to be stored for the purpose of installing it at any future Bureau emergency headquarters in order to maintain contact between the emergency headquarters and the Bureau's main control station. Also, recommendations were made concerning the initiation of negotiations with land owners for the possible move of the Clinton radio site.

5. My memorandum to you dated October 5, 1951, reporting on the equipment which was transported to and carried into the main Administration Building at Shepherds College, Shepherds-town, West Virginia under cover of darkness on the night and early morning of September 15 and 16, 1951.

III. OBSERVATIONS

At the time the original survey at Shepherdstown was made no policy had been initiated or established in regard to a permanent site for the main CW radio station replacing the present Clinton-Waldorf site. Accordingly, in order to handle emergency traffic from the college building receiving site and transmitting site to be selected from various sites proposed, a recommendation was made on November 1, 1950, for the purchase of radio equipment to accomplish this purpose. Subsequently counter-proposals were made outside of the Radio and Electrical Section as new information was received concerning development in the permanent move of Clinton-Waldorf. Reasoning along these lines was predicated upon completion of the permanent move. In the meantime, however, as you will recall, Mr. Nichols completed his arrangement concerning the running of a telephone cable into a basement storage room at the main Administration Building of Shepherds College. You will also recall your instructions to me at that time which were to transport whatever radio equipment we had on hand which could be used to install a Simplex type radio station to Shepherdstown at the earliest moment. As previously reported in my memorandum of October 5, 1951, this was accomplished.

Assuming that the headquarters activity is shifted to Shepherdstown, it is my opinion that equipment should be on hand and available to that location which will handle either of the two circumstances outlined below:

Primary Requirement: To afford two high volume radio teletype circuits between Shepherds-town and the permanent Washington Duplex radio station located some where in the vicinity of Washington.

Second Requirement: To afford, in the event the permanent Duplex site mentioned above is incapacitated for any reason whatsoever, limited long range communications facilities with field offices directly from the separate transmitting and receiving sites in and around Shepherdstown. It is contemplated that the equipment, if secured, can be stored in some nearby city such as Martinsburg, West Virginia.

Memorandum to Mr. Harbo

IV. RECOMMENDATIONS:

Accordingly, in view of past events and developments coupled with the knowledge that commercial electronic equipment of this nature will require at least a 12-month delivery period, even with a Defense Order, it is my recommendation that the attached list of radio and communications equipment be approved for use at the Shepherdstown relocation site. This equipment amounts to approximately $73,679.

PURPOSE:

To advise you of the necessary special supplies, equipment, and material to be removed from the Seat of Government in the event of evacuation for use by the Internal Security Unit.

DETAILS:

There is listed hereinafter necessary special supplies, equipment and material to be removed from the Seat of Government at time of evacuation, time permitting. As you know, the master Security Index is maintained on tabulating cards from which 5 x 8 Security Index cards are prepared for the Security Index Desk and the field. It will be highly desirable in the event of complete evacuation to remove the following machinery and supplies from the Statistical Section in order to carry on the Security Index Program at another location:

International Business Machine Type #407 Rm 6232 IB

Sorting machine Rm 6232 IB

Punch machine Rm 6232 IB

Paper stock for IBM equipment Rm 6232 IB

However, it is pointed out that certain of the machinery mentioned above cannot be operated without direct high-voltage lines and is difficult to remove because of the weight of the equipment. In addition, certain of the equipment is the property of the IBM Company being used on a rental basis. Time permitting, it will be most desirable to remove this equipment from the Seat of Government as it is of the greatest value in following the program, preparing lists for apprehension, and in preparing lists of those apprehended after the program is in operation.

The Executive Conference

The Executive Conference of December 19, 1951, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, Clegg, Glavin, Ladd, Nichols and Rosen, in connection with the evacuation of Japanese-Americans, considered the following suggestions of the Executive Intelligence Division in connection with the evacuation of Japanese-Americans:

1. That Japanese agents cooperate with the agency to which they are assigned and that authority be given to the Japanese agent to contact their relatives and friends in the United States for evacuation.

The Conference of December 19, 1951, also considered the procedure to follow when the Japanese agent is assigned to a location to which they are assigned during the evacuation and after evacuation could promptly report necessary information to the Bureau at its evacuation headquarters.

The Conference recommends approval of the suggestion.

2. That the Bureau consider provision of temporary housing in the vicinity of alternate headquarters. It was pointed out that the Executive Conference Memorandum of December 19, 1951, suggested that employees have their own plans for care of families so that an alternate be selected to replace employees who for some special/emergency family situation could not be evacuated. It is pointed out that in this emergency most all of the Executive Intelligence Division will be evacuated leaving no alternates to select from.

The Conference is considering this matter with the idea that it could be undesirable for the Bureau to endeavor to provide temporary housing for the families of Bureau employees to be evacuated to our alternate headquarters. It was pointed out to the Conference that the student body at the alternate headquarters is in excess of 10 persons at the present time and that our total evacuation program contemplates only 375

Forwarded herewith for the attention of the Administrative Division are two lists of names. The first list comprises one hundred persons who would be designated for the evacuation area in the event of an emergency. The second list is made up of alternates for the first list of one hundred.

These lists are intended for use in the event of urgent evacuation because of an emergency condition. In the event evacuation action is ordered and there is time for selection and if the Bureau is to continue operating on a large scale in this building, persons will be selected from both lists to go to an emergency headquarters and additional substitutions might be made in order that we may have experienced personnel at both places. ~~if that becomes necessary.~~

O BUREAU WAR PLAN - Emergency 140294621/11/51

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : The Director

FROM : The Executives Conference

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS—EVACUATION

DATE: November 19, 1951

The Executives Conference on November 19, 1951, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Tracy, Parsons, Mohr, Ladd, Rosen, Gearty, Laughlin and Clegg, considered the following matters with reference to War Plans—Evacuation:

1. 516 employees are to be evacuated to the emergency relocation center. These employees have been selected as follows:

Division	No. of Employees
Executive Offices	22
Identification	10
Training and Inspection	6
Administrative	41
Records and Communications	134
Domestic Intelligence	235
General Investigative	15
Laboratory	53
Total	516

The Executives Conference unanimously recommended as follows:

- A. That the entire list of personnel by identity be completed and that an alternate list of the same number be completed at the earliest possible date.
- B. That the Assistant Director in charge of each Division have notified personally the employees selected for evacuation so that they can make plans for prompt departure from Washington when necessary and so that they can also make personal plans for their families during their absence from Washington. Those employees, who due to some special or emergency situation or family situation, would not be able to leave Washington, would have alternates selected in their place.
- C. That a plan of mobilizing these employees selected for evacuation be completed, such a plan to be worked out on a basis of evacuation during working hours and also a plan for evacuation at night, on week ends or holidays.

cc - Mr. Mohr
Mr. Clegg

D. It was recommended that each employee selected after their notification would make their own personal plans as to their families during their absence. Some of them would undoubtedly arrange for their families to be billeted with other families temporarily. Others would arrange for their families to depart to homes of relatives or friends either near Washington or some considerable distance away. It was felt that these plans should be made personally.

2. It was unanimously recommended that no plans be made for the storage of a reserve supply of gasoline at or near the evacuation point, but that the Bureau would rely upon local gasoline filling stations and supply sources in the event of an evacuation.

3. Since a leased telephone line from the Bureau to the evacuation point would go through the telephone company facilities in Washington, the Conference was unanimously of the opinion that there should be no leased line obtained at this time since the bombing of the telephone company building would interfere just as much with the leased line which goes through the telephone terminal as it would with the regular connections through the telephone terminal switchboard.

4. The Conference recommended unanimously that at this time the Special Agent Supervisors at the Seat of Government not be required to carry their own side arms to and fro from the Justice Building to their homes in order that their side arms would be available in case of emergency. It was felt that at this particular time there would be no need for the Agents to carry their firearms personally, and if necessary a supply of such firearms could be sent to the evacuation point either from the Administrative Division or from the Academy at Quantico.

There is attached a status report dated November 16, 1951, of the various steps completed, pending, and those not completed in connection with the various phases of the evacuation program.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

November 15, 1951

ITEMS IN CONNECTION WITH EVACUATION FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

PERSONNEL

1. 516 employees are to be evacuated to the emergency re-location center. The various divisions have submitted lists of employees to be evacuated. These lists include supervisors, clerks, stenographers, typists, switchboard operators, radio operators, code clerks, mail couriers, laboratory technicians, etc. The following is a tabulation of the number of persons from each division to be evacuated to the re-location center:

Division	Number of Employees
Executive Offices	22
Identification	10
Training and Inspection	6
Administrative	41
Records and Communications	134
Domestic Intelligence	235
General Investigative	15
Laboratory	53
Total	516

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

2. Should the employees on the tentative lists be now informed of the likelihood of their evacuation, now that the tentative lists have been prepared.

This matter is being presented to the Executives Conference for their consideration.

3. Complete arrangements so that upon signals for evacuation, if employees are at work, they can be sent home for packing needed clothing in luggage, and make other arrangements for departure.

4. A system of mobilization of those who are sent home for their clothing as well as a system for notifying and mobilizing those employees to go if the signal is received at other than working hours should be completed.

Items 3 and 4 cannot be completed until the persons listed on the tentative evacuation lists have been contacted as to their availability, as indicated in item No. 2. When this has been determined, the Administrative Division will complete these arrangements.

5. What about the families of married supervisors who are to go to the evacuation point.

This matter is being submitted to the Executives Conference for their decision.

TRANSPORTATION

1. Mr. Glavin has been selected to depart immediately for the evacuation point, on signal for evacuation, to make arrangements for the arrival of Bureau personnel. If telephone lines are available, Mr. Glavin will call the evacuation point prior to his departure, advising that there is to be immediate evacuation from Washington, D. C.
2. The Bureau has assigned, at the Seat of Government, three busses with an average capacity of 40 persons, four station wagons with a total capacity of 24 persons, and four automobiles with a total capacity of 24 persons. In addition, the Washington Field Office has assigned 113 automobiles. Of this number, 58 would be required to transport the remaining 348 individuals to the re-location center.
- The Administrative Division has the responsibility for arranging for this equipment and setting up a system for assembling it for transportation of personnel.
3. The quantity of files, supplies, and equipment to be evacuated has been ascertained. Arrangements have been made with the Public Buildings Administration to obtain trucks to transport this material to the evacuation point.
4. The drivers of the cars and busses assigned to the Seat of Government have been selected. 500 copies of the routes to be followed to the evacuation point have been prepared and are available for distribution.
5. Current Bureau instructions to the effect that all automotive equipment is to be stored with gas tanks filled and in a condition to operate have been reiterated to the various individuals currently using this equipment.
6. In connection with the storage of reserve gasoline at the evacuation point, Mr. Parsons of the Laboratory has advised that there are a number of gasoline stations in the area of the re-location center and that gasoline would probably be available at these stations.
7. Arrangements have been made for a truck to leave Quantico with ammunition and additional firearms equipment with the personnel accompanying these firearms and ammunition to be used as a guard detail until permanent guard is established.

TRANSPORTATION (Cont'd)

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

8. Do not travel to the evacuation point in long trains of cars or trucks. Departure should be in small groups as ready not exceeding 5 or 6 vehicles in any group. This is to avoid providing a target for strafing as well as to reduce traffic difficulties.

Instructions concerning this matter will be issued to the employees who are going to be evacuated to the evacuation center.

9. With each small group of cars and trucks there should be at least one car of supervisors with sidearms and other necessary firearms to protect personnel and records against hi-jacking or parachutists. The firearms, of course, should be inconspicuous during transit.

This will be completed after the final list of employees designated for evacuation has been completed.

10. There should be a front office detail which should make arrangements to move the equipment, records, and facilities needed by the Director and Messrs. Tolson, Ladd, and Nichols so that their offices will be set up and ready for operation on the arrival of these officials. The facilities, records, and equipment to be evacuated should be identified now and a plan for loading them on a top priority basis should be completed.

This matter is being handled by the Administrative Division and will be completed in the immediate future.

11. A work detail should be selected; their job would be to effectuate immediately the loading of equipment, files, supplies, and facilities without delay.

This is the responsibility of the Administrative Division.

OCCUPYING QUARTERS AT EVACUATION POINT

1. Blueprints of the buildings at the evacuation point with the exception of the main building have been obtained. There are no blueprints for the main building and a diagram will be made of the floor space in this building.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

2. Plot on diagrams the location of files, facilities, supplies, and equipment so that the unloading will be without confusion.
3. Designate work detail among those to be evacuated for prompt unloading of files and other facilities upon arrival at evacuation point with one employee directly in charge. This employee might be the one who left promptly for the evacuation point to make arrangements for acquiring the facilities there.

This matter will be handled upon completion of the final list of persons to be evacuated. The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

FILES

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

1. Complete the procedure now being followed of identifying files by cards which will be the basis for the primary index to the files taken to the evacuation point. Later make additional cards on other subjects of same files.

The necessary 3 x 5 cards have been ordered and this project will be completed upon receipt of these cards. The Records & Communications Division has the responsibility in this matter.

2. Select distinctive, colored file covers, front and back, for files selected for evacuation in order to facilitate location at evacuation time.

The necessary colored file covers have been ordered and this project will be completed when this material is received. The Records & Communication Division has the responsibility for this matter.

3. Identify cabinets in which selected files for evacuation are located by small label or paint spot of a distinctive type.

Upon completion of items 1 and 2, the cabinets in which the files are located will be appropriately identified. The Records and Communications Division has the responsibility in this matter.

4. Ascertain monthly volume of files selected so that the number of cabinets needed can be ascertained and number of trucks will be known for transportation purposes.

The Records & Communications Division has the responsibility in this matter.

COMMUNICATIONS

1. The radio call signals for the evacuation point will be the same as those currently in use. Therefore, there will be no necessity in advising the field since they are already aware of the call signals.
2. Two telephone switchboards have been installed at the evacuation point. A number of telephone instruments are in storage at the re-location center for prompt installation. 600 ft. of 26 pair cable, 1,000 ft. of 4 conductor wire, and 4,000 ft. of 2 conductor wire will be needed to install the telephone instruments at the evacuation point. Efforts are being made to obtain this equipment from the telephone company. The Laboratory is handling this matter. In connection with the installation of one direct line telephone circuit between Washington and the evacuation point at this time, the Records & Communications Division has advised that there is no difficulty in contacting the evacuation point through available telephone lines currently in operation.
3. The Laboratory feels that the installation of interior wiring during the Christmas Holidays for inter-office communications, buzzers, etc., would undoubtedly cause considerable comment among persons at the evacuation point. Therefore, from a security standpoint, they do not feel that it is desirable to make these installations. As an alternate, a quantity of this type material is stored at the evacuation point which could be installed promptly should the need arise.
4. A quantity of radio equipment is available at the evacuation point which would permit minimum radio communications. The purchase of additional radio equipment has recently been authorized and this equipment will be brought to the evacuation point if available. The Laboratory has made a preliminary survey concerning possible locations for radio antenna. Three teletype machines have been installed at the evacuation point, and additional power circuits have been installed in the rooms where these machines and the switchboards are located.
5. Plans for courier service between the evacuation point and Washington, D. C. and to the emergency White House and critical agencies locations have been made.
6. Several commercial short-wave radio receivers have been set aside to be brought to the evacuation point.

COMMUNICATIONS (Cont'd)

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

7. Complete arrangements now being made for micro-wave length system for communicating with temporary location of White House and critical agencies.

Bureau representatives are continuing to work with the N.S.R.B. Committee concerning this matter in an effort to select and obtain the available equipment to be utilized in this project.

FURNITURE AND SUPPLIES

1. Sufficient furniture is available at the evacuation point for use of Bureau personnel.
2. A list of supplies, forms, stationery, typewriters, carbon paper, and other necessary items has been prepared.
3. An estimated two weeks' supply of miscellaneous equipment and supplies has been packed in containers and set aside for prompt loading and transportation at the time of evacuation.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

4. Identify specifically items of furniture, cabinets, safes, and similar facilities which are to be transported.

The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

5. Identify with some comparatively inconspicuous label each item to be transported. Assign it a number and plot on charts the location of this equipment in Washington and also where it is to be placed upon arrival at the evacuation point.

The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES

1. Three nurses have been selected on the tentative list of personnel to be evacuated.
2. There is available at the evacuation point an infirmary which will be available for use of Bureau personnel.
3. A list has been prepared of the medical supplies and medical equipment needed, and this material has been ordered. Upon receipt of these supplies and equipment, they will be stored at the evacuation point.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

4. Locate and have available at the evacuation point a competent physician.

The Administrative Division has the responsibility in this matter.

FIREARMS AND AMMUNITION

1. A supply of rifles, shotguns, machine guns, gas riot guns, and ammunition have been set aside for transportation to the evacuation point in the event of an emergency.
2. A supply of handcuffs and detention kits have also been set aside for transportation to the evacuation point.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

3. Each supervisor to carry his own sidearm and one box of ammunition. These sidearms and ammunition supplies to be quickly available both at work and at home and wherever he is.

These instructions will be given to the supervisors listed on the final list of persons to be evacuated.

MANUALS

1. The Agents designated for evacuation will be instructed to take with them their own handbooks. A supply of Manuals of Rules and Regulations and Manuals of Instructions has also been set aside for transportation to the evacuation point.

BLACKOUT EQUIPMENT FOR EVACUATION POINT

1. Obtain and have ready for immediate installation blackout equipment for top executives' offices, communications offices, security index room, and one large assembly room.

The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

AIR RAID WARDEN SERVICE

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

1. Designate now wardens, alternates, and assistants for evacuation point.

These assignments will be made upon completion of the final list of persons to be evacuated.

AIR RAID WARDEN SERVICE (Cont'd)

2. Designate now shelter areas at evacuation point.

The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

3. Select now blackout warning system for evacuation point.

The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

GUARDS

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

1. Make survey to ascertain number outside patrol personnel needed.
2. Arrange for inside security patrol for office and file space.
3. What guards needed at entrance doors to selected buildings and establish shifts.
4. Consider double security guard at telephone and radio facilities location 24 hours per day.
5. At regular entrance to facilities at evacuation point, such as, gates or places where roadway enters the area occupied, have system of escorting visitors to and from places where they have official business and include special pass arrangements.
6. Arrange for protection by police, National Guard, and, if necessary, FBI personnel of sources of power and lights, water, gas, and any other vital facilities.

The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

EMERGENCY FOOD SUPPLIES

1. There is available at the re-location center a quantity of various food stuffs for use by persons presently at the evacuation point. These food supplies would be available for use of Bureau personnel. Therefore, it does not appear necessary that the Bureau store emergency food supplies at the evacuation point.

ALTERNATE EVACUATION POINTS

1. The utilization of the Chrysler estate at Warrenton, Virginia, is currently being considered.

FIRST AID

1. First aid training will be afforded 25 per cent of the personnel listed on the final list of persons to be evacuated.

RECREATION

1. There is available at the evacuation point a recreation hall, and there is available in this hall a number of items which could be utilized by Bureau personnel.

ACTION IN EVENT OF AIR RAIDS IN WASHINGTON AND AT QUANTICO

1. Mr. Glavin is the over-all air raid warden and is in charge of evacuation of personnel to shelter areas located in the Justice Building. Deputy air raid wardens have been appointed for the Identification Building, the Old Post Office Building, and Quantico.
2. Assistant air raid wardens have been appointed in each Division.
3. Shelter areas have been assigned in the Justice Building and routes to these areas have been assigned to the employees of the various Divisions. Shelter areas have also been designated at Quantico. Shelter areas have not been designated in the Identification Building nor in the Old Post Office Building.
4. Charts have been prepared indicating the routes to be followed by the employees in the various Divisions during an air raid, and are available for distribution.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

5. Practice evacuation to the shelter areas twice in the next 30 days and once in each 60 days thereafter. (No siren. This can be done on a time of day basis for each shift.)

The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

6. Organize and select a security patrol during the time the employees are in the shelter.

The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

BUREAU FILED PLANS 100-9-1-1
 HEAD QUARTERS FOR SW

At the request of [redacted] I met with him in my office on Sunday, December 9, 1951.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] had mentioned to him that the Bureau at the present time was not interested further in the [redacted] estate. He was wondering whether we were interested in other properties and whether there was any reason to feel that the Bureau would be interested in the estate at a future date.

I advised [redacted] that at the present time I did not feel that the Bureau would be interested in the [redacted] estate at any time in the foreseeable future. I reminded [redacted] that at the time we first discussed the property I pointed out to him certain reasons why we felt it was necessary to secure additional quarters and that developments up to the present time have made it unnecessary for us to secure land for certain of our activities. We are hopeful that at this time we will not find it necessary to expend considerable money in order to secure sufficient land to operate certain of our activities.

[redacted] was appreciative of my discussing this matter with him and advised me that he was primarily interested in knowing the Director's desires since he has had several other inquiries concerning his property in the recent past. You will recall that recently [redacted] the real estate man, advised that a foreign interest offered $6,000,000 for the property in question.

The Executives Conference of January 7, 1952, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Gearty, Clegg, Rosen, Ladd, Belmont, Mohr, Harbo, Tracy and Glavin, was advised in connection with the President's confidential book concerning emergency relocation sites that Mr. Bartlett in the Bureau's Liaison Section had advised that Mr. Russell Ash, former Bureau Special Agent presently handling this project for the National Security Resources Board, had requested certain additional information concerning the Bureau's emergency plans. The additional sheets are attached hereto. The Conference was advised of the information contained on the sheets in question, and was further advised that Mr. Bartlett had personally discussed this additional information with Mr. Ash and was assured that the information contained on the forms in question was entirely satisfactory.

There is also attached hereto a chart showing the emergency relocation sites of key agencies and high-lighting the Bureau's site at Shepherdstown, showing the mileage between the sites, which will also be forwarded to Mr. Ash in connection with the additional information on the forms in question. It is recommended that approval be granted to furnish this information to Mr. Ash through Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Ladd

DATE: December 4, 1951

FROM : A. H. Belmont

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS
DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE DIVISIONEMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS FOR S.I.D.

Reference is made to my memorandum of November 9, 1951, setting forth plans for the Domestic Intelligence Division in connection with an emergency evacuation of Bureau Headquarters. Reference is also made to the Executives Conference memorandum of November 19, 1951, concerning evacuation plans for the Bureau. There were a number of recommendations set forth in my reference memorandum, part of which were answered in the reference Executive Conference memorandum. The following, however, were not completely answered and it is suggested they be considered by the Coordinator of Evacuation Plans and answers provided in order that this Division may complete its evacuation plans prior to December 15, 1951, as is desired by the Director.

(1) It was recommended that the Liaison Agents not accompany Bureau personnel to our own temporary headquarters, but that they evacuate with the agency to which they are assigned. A schedule of the key agencies and the liaison men assigned to each was attached to my memorandum. It was recommended that the Liaison Agents be authorized to contact their agencies at this time and effectuate arrangements for evacuation.

(2) The resident agencies in Alexandria, Virginia, and Hyattsville, Maryland, have been designated as assembly points for personnel of the Domestic Intelligence Division in connection with evacuation at night or at a time when it will not be possible to collect at Bureau Headquarters. It was suggested that the Richmond and Baltimore Offices be advised of the Bureau's plans in this respect.

(3) It was pointed out that of foremost concern to all employees to be evacuated will be their families and while this problem may be solved by some employees on their own initiative, it will be necessary for the Bureau to make some arrangements for the remaining families at or near our alternate headquarters or at some other safe haven, at least on a temporary basis. It was recommended that consideration be given to providing temporary housing in the vicinity of our alternate headquarters.

The reference Executives Conference memorandum suggested that the employees make their own personal plans for care of their families and that where there is some special or emergency family situation in which the employee would not be able to leave Washington, alternates would be selected. It is pointed out that most of the Domestic Intelligence Division will be taken to the temporary headquarters and that not many alternates will be available. It is anticipated that competent alternates would be difficult to obtain as it is highly probable that family problems may interfere with plans to evacuate a number of key personnel who would be essential to our war effort. It is obvious that there will be infinite problems in connection with employees arranging for their families. Many will have no home to which they can send their families. Other will have a situation in which their home is such a long distance away, such as on the West Coast, that it would not be practical to send their families there. In a large number of instances due to small children in the family, it will be essential that the Agent or employee himself actually transport his family to the location where they will be housed. From a strictly practical standpoint, it would appear that a satisfactory personal solution without assistance from the Bureau will be possible in only a minimum number of instances as in most cases the first concern of the employee will be to take care of his family before he himself proceeds to the safety of the Bureau's temporary location. It is strongly urged that further consideration be given to the Bureau providing a safe haven out of the City of Washington, preferably in the vicinity of the alternate headquarters, where families can be evacuated on an orderly basis with Bureau assistance, thus relieving our employees of a part of the responsibility in order that they can devote their attention to their official duties with the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that these problems be referred to the Coordinator of Evacuation Plans, Mr. Glavin, in order that they can be resolved and the Domestic Intelligence Division can complete its plans prior to December 15, as noted above.

The following recommendations have been made by the Domestic Intelligence Division in connection with their overall plans for evacuation.

1. That Liaison Agents evacuate with the agency to which they are assigned and that authority be granted for Liaison Agents to contact their agencies at this time and effectuate arrangements for evacuation.

RECOMMENDATION: That this matter be considered at Executives Conference.

2. That the Bureau consider providing temporary housing in the vicinity of alternate headquarters. Executives Conference memorandum of November 19, 1951 suggested that employees make their own plans for care of families and that an alternate be selected to replace employees who for some special or emergency family situation could not be evacuated. It is pointed out that in this connection most all of the Domestic Intelligence Division will be evacuated leaving no alternates to select from.

RECOMMENDATION: That this situation be discussed at Executives Conference.

3. That in connection with evacuation of employees to alternate headquarters, the Richmond and Baltimore Offices be advised of the Bureau's plans to use the residence agencies in Alexandria and Hyattsville as rallying points.

COMMENTS:

It is felt that consideration should be given to more suitable assembly points for employees of the Domestic Intelligence Division. Location of the resident agencies are in downtown areas where automobile and pedestrian traffic may become congested. It is felt that the selection of 4 or 5 rallying points at the home of an employee centrally located in concentrated area of residences of other employees would afford more possibilities of the emergency plan functioning properly.

TO : The Director

FROM : The Executives Conference

DATE: December 17, 1951

SUBJECT:

Bureau War Plans - Emergency
Headquarters for 500

The Executives Conference of December 14, 1951, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Tracy, Harbo, Clegg, McGuire, Laughlin and Glavin, in connection with the Bureau's war plans considered the following suggestions made by the Domestic Intelligence Division in connection with their over-all plans for evacuation:

1. That Liaison Agents evacuate with the agency to which they are assigned and that authority be granted for Liaison Agents to contact their agencies at this time and effectuate arrangements for evacuation.

The Conference feels that this would be a most desirable procedure to follow since the Liaison Agents would be with the agencies to which they are assigned during the evacuation and after evacuation could promptly report necessary information to the Bureau at its evacuation headquarters.

OK. The Conference recommends approval of the suggestion.

2. That the Bureau consider providing temporary housing in the vicinity of alternate headquarters. It was pointed out that the Executives Conference memorandum of November 19, 1951, suggested that employees make their own plans for care of families and that an alternate be selected to replace employees who for some special/emergency family situation could not be evacuated. It is pointed out that in this connection most all of the Domestic Intelligence Division will be evacuated leaving no alternates to select from.

The Conference in considering this matter feels that it would be undesirable for the Bureau to endeavor to provide temporary housing for the families of Bureau employees to be evacuated to our alternate headquarters. It was pointed out to the Conference that the student body at the alternate headquarters is in excess of 800 persons at the present time and that our total evacuee program considers only 516

ITEMS IN CONNECTION WITH EVACUATION FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

PERSONNEL

1. The 516 employees who are to be evacuated to the emergency relocation center have been identified by name and have been advised of the likelihood of their evacuation should an emergency occur.
2. A plan for mobilizing the employees listed for evacuation has been completed. This plan includes arrangements for evacuation during working hours, as well as for evacuation during nonworking hours. The individuals listed for evacuation are in the process of being advised of this plan for mobilization.
3. The Executives Conference has recommended and the Director has approved the procedure whereby each employee selected for evacuation would make his own personal plans as to his family during his absence.

TRANSPORTATION

1. Mr. Glavin has been selected to depart immediately for the evacuation point on signal for evacuation, to make arrangements for the arrival of Bureau personnel. If telephone lines are available, he will call the evacuation point prior to his departure, advising that there is to be immediate evacuation from Washington, D. C.
2. The quantity of files, supplies, and equipment to be evacuated has been ascertained. Arrangements have been made with the Public Buildings Administration to obtain trucks to transport this material to the evacuation point.
3. The drivers of the cars and buses assigned to the Seat of Government have been selected. Five hundred copies of the routes to the evacuation points have been prepared and are available for distribution.
4. Current Bureau instructions to the effect that all automotive equipment is to be stored with gas tanks filled and in a condition to operate have been reiterated to the various individuals currently using this equipment.

5. In connection with the storage of reserve gasoline at the evacuation point, the Executives Conference has recommended and the Director has approved that no plans be made for the storage of gasoline at or near the evacuation point, but that the Bureau would rely upon the gasoline supply in the vicinity of the evacuation point in the event of an emergency.

6. Arrangements have been made for a truck to leave Quantico with ammunition and additional firearms equipment with personnel accompanying these firearms and ammunition to be used as a guard detail until a permanent guard is established.

7. Arrangements have been made whereby vehicles traveling to the evacuation point will depart in small groups as ready to avoid strafing as well as to reduce traffic difficulties. Arrangements have also been made for at least one car of supervisors with side arms and other necessary firearms to accompany each small group of vehicles to protect personnel and records while in transit.

✓ 8. A Front Office detail has been selected to move the equipment, records, and facilities needed by the Director and Messrs. Tolson, Ladd, and Nichols so their offices will be set up and ready for operation on the arrival of these officials at the evacuation point. The facilities, records, and equipment to be evacuated from these offices have been identified and a plan for loading them on a top priority basis has been completed.

9. A work detail has been selected to effectuate immediately the loading of equipment, files, supplies, and facilities, listed for evacuation to the emergency relocation center.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

|| The number of cars and buses needed and available should be ascertained with a system of assembling this equipment for transportation of personnel..

11/7/52
Hansen
878
The Bureau has assigned at the Seat of Government 3 buses which could transport a total of 120 individuals, 4 station wagons with a total capacity of 24 persons, and 4 automobiles with a total capacity of 24 persons. The Washington Field Office has assigned 113 automobiles which probably would be needed by that office to perform necessary duties in the event of an emergency. A survey is currently being made to determine the availability of automobiles necessary to transport employees to the evacuation point and a system of mobilization for this equipment is being prepared.

The Administrative Division is handling the arrangements for this equipment and setting up a system for assembling it for transportation of personnel.

OCCUPYING QUARTERS AT EVACUATION POINT

1. Blueprints of the buildings at the evacuation point, with the exception of the main building, have been obtained. A diagram of the floor space in the main building has been prepared.
2. A work detail has been selected from among those to be evacuated for prompt unloading of files and other facilities upon arrival at the evacuation point. Mr. Glavin will be in charge of this work detail.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

- 1/7/52 being handled
off*
1. Plot on diagrams the location of files, facilities, supplies, and equipment so that the unloading will be without confusion. done

This matter is currently being handled by the Administrative Division and it is expected that it will be completed by January 1, 1952.

FILES

1. The volume of files currently listed for evacuation will occupy 1500 cu. ft. if moved in boxes and 2357 cu. ft. if moved in cabinets. 815 sq. ft. of space will be necessary at the evacuation point to store the file cabinets containing these files.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

- Records
& Communication*
1. Complete the procedure now being followed of identifying files by cards which will be the basis for the primary index to the files taken to the evacuation point. Later make additional cards on other subjects of the same files.

The necessary 3 x 5 cards for the completion of this project have been received and it is estimated that this project will be completed by December 21, 1951.

2. Select distinctive, colored file covers for the files selected for evacuation in order to facilitate location at evacuation time.

Handled
The colored file covers for this project have been ordered and it is expected that they will be received December 28, 1951. This project will be completed when this material is received.

3. Identify cabinets in which selected files for evacuation are located by small label or paint spot of a distinctive type.

Upon completion of items 1 and 2 the cabinets in which the files are located will be appropriately identified. The Records and Communications Division is handling these matters.

COMMUNICATIONS

1. The radio call signals for the evacuation point will be the same as those currently in use at the Clinton radio station.

2. Two telephone switchboards have been installed at the evacuation point. Sixty telephone instruments are in storage at the evacuation site for prompt installation in the event of an emergency.

3. The Executives Conference recommended and the Director approved that a leased telephone line from the Bureau to the evacuation point should not be obtained at this time since the bombing of telephone building would interfere with the leased line as it would with the regular connections through the telephone terminal switchboard.

4. A quantity of equipment and material for installation of inter-office communications, buzzers, etc., is stored at the evacuation point for installation should the need arise.

5. A quantity of radio equipment is available at the evacuation point which would permit minimum radio communications. The purchase of additional radio equipment has been authorized. It will be brought to the evacuation point as available. The Laboratory has made a preliminary survey for possible location of radio antenna. Three teletype machines have been installed at the evacuation point and additional power circuits have been installed in the rooms where these machines and the switchboards are located.

6. Plans for courier service between the evacuation point and Washington, D. C., as well as to the emergency White House and critical agencies locations have been completed.

7. Several commercial short-wave radio receivers have been set aside to be brought to the evacuation point.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

1. The necessary cable, wire, and connectors to install the 60 telephone instruments stored at the evacuation point have been ordered and will be brought to the evacuation point when available. The Records and Communications Division is arranging for the purchase of this material.
2. Arrangements have not been completed for the micro-wave length system for communicating with temporary location of White House and critical agencies.

On November 30, 1951, the Bureau received from the Military through arrangements with the Federal Civil Defense Agency a truck and trailer containing a complete 450-watt CW radio station to be used in emergency communications with the White House and critical agencies relocation centers until such time as the proposed micro-wave system becomes operative. This equipment is stored at the Clinton radio station and could be brought to the evacuation point and put into operation in a very short period of time.

Bureau representatives are continuing to work with the National Security Resources Board committee concerning the micro-wave system in an effort to select and obtain equipment to be utilized in this project. The Laboratory is handling this matter.

FURNITURE AND SUPPLIES

1. Sufficient furniture is available at the evacuation point for use of Bureau personnel.
2. A list of supplies, forms, stationery, typewriters, carbon paper, and other necessary items to be evacuated has been prepared and an estimated two weeks' supply of miscellaneous equipment and supplies has been packed in containers for prompt loading and transportation at the time of evacuation.
3. Items such as cabinets and other facilities to be evacuated have been identified.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

Identify with some comparatively inconspicuous label each item to be transported. Assign a number and plot on charts the location of this equipment in Washington and also where it is to be placed upon arrival at the evacuation point. This matter is being handled by the Administrative Division and it is expected that it will be completed by January 1, 1952.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES

1. Three nurses have been selected for evacuation to the emergency relocation center.
2. There is available at the evacuation point an infirmary which will be available for use of Bureau personnel.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

- following*
1. List has been prepared of the medical supplies and equipment needed and this material has been ordered. Upon receipt of this material it will be stored at the evacuation point. The Administrative Division is handling this matter.
  2. Locate and have available at the evacuation point a competent physician. It is felt that it would be extremely difficult to make arrangements at this time for a physician to be available in the event of an emergency. Should an emergency occur arrangements could be made in the vicinity of the relocation point for a physician to be available for Bureau personnel.

FIREARMS AND AMMUNITION

1. A supply of rifles, shotguns, machine guns, gas guns, and ammunition has been set aside for transportation to the evacuation point in the event of an emergency.
2. A supply of handcuffs and detention kits has also been set aside for transportation to the evacuation point.
3. The Executives Conference recommended and the Director approved that at this time Special Agent Supervisors at the Bureau not be required to carry their side arms to and from the Justice Building to their homes. If necessary a supply of such firearms could be sent to the evacuation point from the Administrative Division or Quantico.

MANUALS

The Agents designated for evacuation will be instructed to take with them their own handbooks. In addition, a supply of Manuals of Rules and Regulations and Manuals of Instruction has been set aside for transportation to the evacuation point.

BLACKOUT EQUIPMENT FOR EVACUATION POINT

Blackout equipment for top executives' offices, communications offices, security index room, and one large assembly room has not been obtained.

This matter is awaiting the plotting of the space to be utilized by the various Divisions in the relocation center and will be completed when this allotment of space has been determined. The Administrative Division is handling this matter.

AIR RAID WARDEN SERVICE

1. Air raid wardens, alternates, and assistants for the evacuation point have been designated.
2. Shelter areas have been designated at the evacuation point.
3. A blackout warning system for the evacuation point has been established.

GUARDS

1. The number of outside patrol personnel necessary for the evacuation point has been determined and guards have been selected from the personnel listed for evacuation.
2. An inside security patrol for office and file space in the evacuation point has been established.
3. Guards have been selected for entrances to the various buildings at the evacuation point.
4. A double security guard has been selected for telephone and radio facilities on a 24-hour basis.
5. Guards have been selected for duty at regular entrances to the facilities at the evacuation point.
6. Guards have also been selected to protect sources of power, water, gas, and other vital facilities at the evacuation point.

EMERGENCY FOOD SUPPLIES

A quantity of various food stuffs is available at the relocation center for use by the present occupants of the relocation point. These food supplies would be available for use of Bureau personnel in the event of an emergency.

ALTERNATE EVACUATION POINTS

1. The Chrysler estate at Warrenton, Virginia, is no longer being considered as an alternate evacuation point.
2. Consideration will be given to school buildings in the Warrenton, Virginia, area as well as school buildings in the Leesburg, Virginia, and the Gaithersburg, Maryland, areas as alternate evacuation points. The Administrative Division has the responsibility for handling this matter.

FIRST AID

Now that the list of persons to be evacuated has been established it is planned to train 25 per cent of the personnel listed for evacuation in first aid shortly after January 1, 1952.

RECREATION

There is available at the evacuation point a recreation hall equipped with recreation facilities which would be available to Bureau personnel.

ACTION IN EVENT OF AIR RAIDS IN WASHINGTON AND AT QUANTICO

1. Mr. Glavin is the over-all air raid warden and has been designated by the Bureau as the person in charge of (A) Evacuation from Washington, D. C., to the evacuation point and (B) Evacuation of all Bureau personnel to shelter areas during air raid drills or an actual air raid. Deputy air raid wardens have been appointed for the Identification Building, the Old Post Office, and Quantico.
2. Assistant air raid wardens have been appointed in each Division.
3. Shelters have been assigned in the Justice Building, the Identification Building, the Old Post Office, and at Quantico.
4. Charts have been prepared indicating the routes to be followed to the shelter areas by the employees in the various buildings during an air raid.
5. A practice evacuation of Bureau personnel in the Old Post Office has been held. A practice air raid drill for employees in the Identification Building is planned for Wednesday, December 19, 1951.
6. A security patrol has been organized to operate during the time employees are in shelter areas.

ITEMS NOT COMPLETED

A practice evacuation has not been held for employees in the Justice Building. The building superintendent has advised that the Department has not yet completed plans for air raid drills, and a building-wide practice evacuation will be held when these plans are completed. The Administrative Division is handling this matter.

The Executives Conference of December 27, 1951, reconsidered the Conference memorandum of December 7, 1951, concerning the Bureau's war plans, particular reference being made to the possible procurement of temporary housing in the vicinity of the Bureau's alternate emergency headquarters for the families of Bureau employees designated to work at such headquarters.

It was pointed out to the Conference that the Director had commented that the Conference recommendation was not clear as to whether against moving the families into temporary housing or against moving families at all. It was pointed out that the Director is against moving families to our emergency headquarters.

The Conference again considered this matter and was of the unanimous opinion that families of Bureau employees assigned to our temporary headquarters be not moved into the temporary housing at our temporary headquarters by the Bureau, that those Special Agent supervisors who have been designated to stay behind at the time of evacuation of Washington is instructed be given the responsibility of keeping in contact with and taking care of the needs of the families of Bureau employees who have been evacuated to our temporary headquarters. The Conference feels that if such an arrangement is made Bureau employees to be evacuated would be less hesitant of leaving Washington knowing that their families would be taken care of.

It was pointed out by Messrs. Mohr and Tracy that they did not feel that the Bureau should object to an employee who has been evacuated locating emergency housing facilities on his own for his family nearby our relocation headquarters, pointing out that it is entirely possible that some employees evacuated might be able to find temporary headquarters for their families in Shepherdstown, Charlestown, Martins Ferry, or one of the other adjoining small towns and they felt that this was a problem to be handled by the employee, to which the Bureau should not object.

Should the Director approve the Conference recommendation

As you know, the Bureau has been discussing with Mr. David Stowe of the White House the matter of obtaining additional construction steel so that one of the buildings at Shepherdstown College may be completed. To date Mr. Stowe has been unable to perfect the allocation of this steel without informing all those persons interested of the reasons and the Bureau's interest in this matter.

Mr. Stowe informed Mr. Roach on January 9, 1952, that his efforts to obtain the steel through National Production Authority have been without success and he feels that the best approach now is to attempt to obtain the steel through the Chief of the U. S. Engineers Corps. Mr. Stowe stated that he would attempt to contact General Pick, Chief of the U. S. Engineers, and would arrange a conference, at which time he desired a representative of the Bureau to be present so that we may confidentially discuss the matter with him.

ACTION:

This matter will be followed by Mr. Roach with Mr. Stowe; and if you approve, the matter will be discussed with General Pick as soon as the conference can be arranged.

In connection with the Bureau's war plans, I have endeavored to plan specific squads to handle only those activities which would be necessary at the evacuation point. Alternates are not being designated in view of the fact that we have doubled up where possible and selected men who could serve on more than one squad. In this way it has been possible to keep our list to a minimum and at the same time assure that the essential people would be needed on one squad or another. These squads are in addition to Mr. Conrad, Misses Keough and Littrell, and myself.

Reference is made to my memorandum of December 18, 1951, indicating the status of the items being considered in connection with the proposed evacuation program from Washington, D. C., and also items concerning the evacuation of personnel to shelter areas at the SOG.

All items in connection with this program have now been completed with the exception of the following:

1. Transportation

A survey is currently being made to determine the availability of automobiles necessary to transport employees to the evacuation point. The system of mobilizing this equipment is being prepared. The Administrative Division is handling this matter.

2. Files

The 3x5 cards, which will be the basis for the primary index to the files taken to the evacuation point, have been prepared. These cards are now being checked against the security index cards maintained in the Domestic Intelligence Division. It is estimated that this check will be completed in the next several days. When this check has been completed, these cards will be made available to the Records Section.

The colored file covers for the files selected for evacuation have been received and are being placed on the pertinent files. The Records Section estimates that with the number of personnel available at this time this project will be completed in approximately 60 days.

The cabinets in which the selected files are located will be appropriately labeled upon completion of the file cover project.

3. Communications

The necessary cable, wire, and connectors to install the 60 telephone instruments stored at the evacuation point have been ordered and will be brought to the evacuation point when available. The Records and Communications Division is arranging for the purchase of this material.

Arrangements have not been completed for the micro-wave length system for communicating with temporary location of the White House and critical agencies. Bureau representatives are continuing to work with the National Security Resources Board Committee concerning the micro-wave system in an effort to select and obtain equipment to be utilized in this project. The Laboratory is handling this matter.

On November 30, 1951, the Bureau received from the military through arrangements with the Federal Civil Defense Agency a truck and trailer containing a complete 450 watt CW radio station to be used for emergency communications until such time as the proposed micro-wave system becomes operative. This equipment is stored at the Clinton Radio Station and could be brought to the evacuation point and placed in operation in a very short period of time should an emergency occur.

4. Furniture and Supplies

Each item listed for transportation to the evacuation point is being labeled with a small red scalloped tag. Each Division is handling the labeling of its own material to be evacuated.

5. Medical Supplies

Approximately 90% of the medical supplies and equipment which have been ordered have been received. Additional equipment is being received daily.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

6. First Aid

First Aid instructions will be afforded 25% of the personnel scheduled for evacuation. It is expected that this training will commence on January 28, 1952.

7. Air Raid Drills

A practice evacuation has not been held for employees in the Justice Building. The building Superintendent has advised that the Department has not yet completed plans for air raid drills and a building-wide practice evacuation will be held when these plans are completed. The Administrative Division is handling this matter.

Supervisor Riley, in Mr. Glavin's Office, has been in touch with me concerning any facilities, records and equipment that should be evacuated from the Director's Office in the event of an emergency evacuation, in order that your office could be set up and ready for operation upon your arrival at the emergency headquarters. They desire this information to carry out their planning for transporting the facilities, et cetera. It is my understanding that office furniture and supplies have already been provided for. Unless advised to the contrary, I contemplate submitting the following as necessary in an emergency:

- (1) An adequate telephone set-up, which should include connections through the central switchboard as well as a private line.
- (2) There should be two recording devices for use on the telephone lines.
- (3) There should be an annunciator system that could be readily installed for your use in summoning members of your office staff.
- (4) There should be a minimum of seven typewriters.
- x (5) There should be at least one dictating machine and three transcribing machines.
- x (6) The card indices in Miss Gandy's office, as well as one file cabinet containing the official confidential file, will be necessary.
- (7) Miscellaneous reference material maintained on the rack back of the Director's desk, which includes the Administrative Data Book, et cetera, should be taken.

It is believed that the above constitutes the bare essentials that would be necessary in the event of an evacuation, unless you have contrary views.

Respectfully submitted

Reference is made to the memo of Mr. Nease for the Director dated November 14, 1951, setting forth seven items to be handled in the event of an emergency evacuation.

It is presumed that item one consisting of an adequate telephone setup, which should include connections through the central switchboard as well as through a private line, is being handled through the office of Mr. Nichols.

This refers to a manual line from Dir's desk at the college to the local telephone Co. long distance operator without passing through switchboard

In connection with item two calling for two recording devices for use on the telephone lines, it is definitely recommended that consideration be given to obtaining two large electronic recording-reproducing machines with double mandrel similar to the two Model A-2-M Units presently in use for the Director's Office. It is noted that practically all telephone communications at the evacuation point will be long distance, and the best possible type of amplifier and equipment would be needed for connection to lines handling this type of traffic. In the event two of the small dictating machine units were utilized, both would have to be used as a single unit to obtain continuous recording of any conversation having more than 15 minutes duration. This in turn would prevent any simultaneous recording or stand-by protection in the event of failure on one machine. The small dictating type unit is not equipped with automatic volume control, which is practically essential on a telephone line and especially so for long distance operation. The smaller units, likewise, are not equipped with a hum balancing circuit to permit the optimum of quietness on any given telephone line. The smaller unit also has only a small amplifier designed primarily for dictation only where an individual talks more or less directly into a microphone for close range operation. In order to obtain a communication amplifier having sufficient reserve volume for long distance telephone signals, it will be necessary to utilize the larger units similar to those now in operation in the Director's Office. The large unit has sufficient capacity to permit mounting the various relays for remote control operation and this is not so with the smaller unit which would necessitate all relays being mounted externally. The large machine lists on the Government Schedule at $925 whereas the small machine lists at $410. For the difference in price, and considering the additional advantages obtained with the larger unit, it is recommended that two large units be obtained rather than two small units.

Item three calling for an annunciator system is being handled by the office of the Chief Clerk and the necessary descriptive data for the purchase of these units, similar to the ones already in use in the Director's Office, has already been turned over to the office of the Chief Clerk by the Laboratory. It is presumed that the annunciator system referred to implies only the buzzer and flagging system, and does not imply a voice inter-office system such as the Dictagraph system already in use also in the Director's Office.

The Laboratory has been advised that items 4, 5, 6 and 7 are all being handled by the office of the Chief Clerk.

Reference is made to the memorandum of Mr. Wherry to Mr. Nichols dated 1-21-52, in the above matter.

Relative to Item one, it is recommended that a Memobelt Recorder be utilized in conjunction with the standard transcriber for this type equipment used by the Bureau and stocked by the Chief Clerk's office. It is recommended that one Model A-2-M Dictaphone Electronic Recording-Reproducing Machine with a 15 minute capacity be used listing on Government schedule of supplies under contract No. 54-M-24695-10, Item 15 at $925. This unit provides for communications amplifier, a balance control for telephone line hum and also automatic volume control changes preferable for the type of use contemplated for such equipment. The smaller units presently in use for disguise purposes in the FBI switchboard room sell for approximately $410 each which would necessitate an expenditure of $820 for two small units to obtain continuous recording capacity. With the use of the two smaller units no automatic volume control would be available. Likewise, there would be no communications amplifier nor would there be any line hum balance control. The Memobelt transcribers are standard at the Seat of Government and one can in all probability be readily obtained by so requesting from the office of the Chief Clerk.

Relative to Item 2, it is definitely recommended that Mr. Wherry's original suggestion be followed; namely, that the equipment be obtained and transported to the emergency headquarters and stored at that point. It is not believed desirable to crate the equipment and store it at the Seat of Government in Washington.

Item 3. The Memabelts are standard media for dictating machines at the Seat of Government and a suitable supply of these belts for emergency use can readily be obtained by requesting them from the office of the Chief Clerk.

As you know, we have recording equipment installed in the Switchboard to record emergency telephone calls from the foreign liaison offices in the event diplomatic communications channels are not available. The code is designed in such a manner that it would not be likely to arouse the suspicions of foreign censors; however, it must be recorded. Our Code Room has a playback unit which can be used to obtain a typewritten copy of the code for decoding.

To date, no provision has been made to provide for recording these calls at the emergency headquarters site. I believe this should be done. Although the possibilities of its use after we were forced to utilize the emergency headquarters site may seem to be rather remote, the writer feels that we should be prepared as long as a possibility exists that the modified code could be used under these circumstances.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended

(1) That the Laboratory obtain and prepare suitable recording equipment for use with the emergency headquarters switchboards together with a playback unit.

(2) That this equipment be tested, crated, and be taken to the emergency headquarters site and stored there.

(3) That a sufficient quantity of recording blanks be obtained and stored with the equipment.

(4) That Switchboard and Code Room personnel be instructed in the use of the equipment before it is crated and stored, in the event it is unlike the equipment currently in use.

EVACUATION - PERSONNEL

All divisions at the Seat of Government have formulated plans whereby Special Agent Supervisors who are to stay behind at the time headquarters is evacuated, will assume the responsibility of maintaining contact with and taking care of the needs of the families of those employees evacuated to our relocation site. Each division has the responsibility of maintaining this plan on a current working basis.

TRANSPORTATION

A survey reflects that all divisions at the Seat of Government, with the exception of the Domestic Intelligence Division, have a sufficient number of privately owned automobiles available to transport those employees within the divisions who are to be evacuated to the relocation site.

The Domestic Intelligence Division contemplates evacuating 235 employees to the relocation site in the event of an emergency. The number of privately owned cars in the division will provide transportation for approximately 84 employees. Transportation for approximately 151 employees will have to be provided by the Bureau. The three Bureau buses will be ~~be~~ used to provide transportation for all evacuee employees within the Domestic Intelligence Division who lack private transportation.

This is in response to ~~several~~ requests by Mr. McGuire during recent conversation with particular reference to evacuation of certain key employees from this Section to an alternate Bureau headquarters.

The following plan contemplates that only a bare minimum of employees would be evacuated to alternate headquarters and as far as this Section goes that would include only personnel necessary to run the payroll and security index.

In connection with the payroll it is assumed that in such an emergency the only payroll changes that would be forthcoming from the payroll unit would be additions to and deletions from the over-all payroll of the Bureau.

The suggested employees for evacuation are as follows:

b6
b7c

Frederick J. Lonergan, and Maurice F. Row. I would probably go with the group to the alternate Bureau headquarters and either stay with them there or travel back and forth from time to time to Washington, depending upon the circumstances and the extent of our functions that would be continued here.

SA Reed would be in charge of those left in Washington and his first assistant would be [redacted] the latter being also assigned to the general problem of aiding the families of those who have been evacuated. [initials]

b7c

The following equipment should be moved at the time of evacuation: one 407 tabulator, one 082 sorter, one 024 punch, and one 552 interpreter. Approximately 100,000 tabulating cards and 10 file cabinets of tabulating cards and 5 x 8 security index cards.

Mr. Robinson would be the man to maintain liaison with the Chief Clerk's Office in connection with transportation facilities for this equipment.

Reference is made to my memorandum of January 16, 1952 indicating the status of the items being considered in connection with the proposed evacuation from Washington, D. C., and also items concerning the evacuation of personnel to shelter areas at the Seat of Government.

All items in connection with this program have now been completed with the exception of the following:

1. Files

The colored file covers for the files selected for evacuation have been received and are being placed on the pertinent files. The Records Section estimates that this project will be completed in approximately three weeks.

The cabinets in which the files to be evacuated are located are being identified with appropriate labels. The Records Section estimates that this project will be completed in about three weeks.

2. Communications

The necessary cable, wire, and connectors to install the 60 telephone instruments stored at the evacuation point have been ordered and will be brought to the evacuation point when available. The Records and Communications Division is handling this matter.

Arrangements have not been completed for the micro-wave length system for communicating with temporary locations of the White House and critical agencies. Bureau representatives are continuing to work with the National Security Resources Board committee concerning the micro-wave system in an effort to select and obtain equipment to be used in this project. The Laboratory is handling this matter.

BUREAU WARE PLANS - HEADQUARTERS FOR SOG

Reference is made to my memorandum of November 23, 1951, relative to the above entitled matter regarding the operation and storage of a 2½ ton radio truck being made available to the Bureau by the White House for emergency communication pending completion of the proposed microwave network. Reference memorandum pointed out the nonfeasibility of driving the big truck to and from Shepherdstown for the periodic drill contacts which will be scheduled in the near future, particularly in view of possible icy mountain roads involved.

Accordingly, I recommended the rental of suitable building and grounds at Shepherdstown for storage of the equipment and assignment of operative personnel, pointing out that this recommendation would also solve two related problems dealing with FBI relocation, namely the need within the near future for a site on which the proposed microwave antenna structure can be erected and secondly the desirability of having some emergency radio equipment set up for immediate use at Shepherdstown in connection with the FBI's own radio communications network. In this latter connection, we already have some equipment in storage at Shepherdstown, but the availability of a house and associated grounds would make it possible to carry out a great deal more advance construction. It was contemplated that if the 500 watt CW transmitter presently stored at Shepherdstown could be installed and made operative, this equipment would eliminate the need for the large radio truck, since the radio truck contains substantially identical equipment.

Inasmuch as action was deferred on my earlier memorandum pending submission of more specific recommendation as to specific possible sites, it is now desired to propose that the Bureau approach the owner, a [redacted] of a small estate near the home of [redacted] President of Shepherd College. [redacted] is retired, and lives on the estate at the present. However, it is felt that it might be possible to make arrangements with him whereby a Bureau employee, possibly under pretext of being a student at Shepherd College, would be permitted to set up radio equipment in a room of the [redacted] residence. This residence is sufficiently close to the school to be satisfactory as a site for our microwave equipment, and the grounds surrounding the residence are sufficiently large as to be well suited for additional radio receiving antennas in the event it became necessary to move to Shepherdstown and expand our operations.

Bureau War Plans - Group 1 - 11-27-52

Reference is made to Mr. Conrad's memorandum of January 10, 1952, concerning the need for suitable space at Shepherdstown and near Shepherd College to locate radio facilities to tie into the Security Agencies' emergency communications system.

Conrad
Wise

I asked SAC Hallford to have a very discreet inquiry made concerning some property immediately adjoining that of Shepherd College. It is known as the "Popebicon Farm". This farm is owned by Mr. Llewellyn Potts who is approximately sixty years of age. His wife is deceased and he has three children, one daughter being married and not living in Shepherdstown. Another daughter and his son are both attending a private school. In addition, there are living at Shepherdstown a sister, [redacted] whose husband, [redacted] works in New York City but spends frequent weekends at Shepherdstown, and an elderly maiden aunt. The Potts family is very highly regarded and considered to be very wealthy and even "snooty." The Potts family is supposed to have made a great deal of money in coal and originally came from Pottstown, Pennsylvania.

b6
 b7c

A search of the Bureau's files was negative and there appears to be no reason why we could not safely contact him in connection with this project.

RECOMMENDATION: That we contact Mr. Potts in an effort to secure space.

OR - coordinate with Mr. Glavin. Submit for approval specific plans for installation after contact with Mr. Potts.

Emergency Headquarters
FOR SUB

In accordance with approval of our proposal to contact Mr. Llewellyn Potts at Shepherdstown in order to secure space for location of radio equipment, Mr. Millen and Mr. Conrad on 2-28-52 made such contact.

Without indicating to Potts in any way that the Bureau was connected with Shepherd College, and without revealing that the Bureau planned emergency relocation in Shepherdstown, it was explained to Potts that the Bureau had certain highly confidential communications requirements which indicated the desirability of locating certain radio equipment in that area. The immediate problem of operating our C.W. equipment was placed on the basis of testing for an eventual relay station. In approaching Mr. Potts, immediately after identifying ourselves, we indicated that we were seeking his assistance on a highly confidential matter and that we had come to him because of his reputation as a responsible citizen and also because of the geographical situation of his land which made it suitable for our purpose.

Potts was most cooperative and indicated a desire to render any assistance possible. Facilities are available which would meet the Bureau's needs. However, Potts advised that two sisters each held one third interest in the estate and he would have to seek their concurrence. Accordingly, he requested that the matter again be presented Monday, March 10, 1952, at which time the additional owners would be available. The sisters are: _____ residing at _____ Shepherdstown, W. Va., and _____

b7c

A name check is being made and if the file search is negative, the matter will be pursued on the date indicated.

Occasion was also taken to examine the power wiring recently completed at Shepherd College; it was found to be in good shape. In addition, several boxes of telephone distribution wire were taken to Shepherdstown and left in storage there.

Receiving tests were conducted with a portable receiver to determine whether a new frequency being used by the White House C.W. network could be heard at Shepherdstown. The frequency, 4610 kc, was clearly heard even with the portable equipment. Hence, it is expected that this frequency will be satisfactory, although earlier tests of lower frequencies had been found unsatisfactory.

The Director's memorandum of February 8, 1952, requested that a status report be furnished on the war plans not later than March 6, 1952, and the five items specifically listed are being covered as follows:

1. I have examined the plans for adequacy and completeness and we are up to date on war plans for the Bureau and Laboratory Division except as enumerated under Item 4 below.
2. We have no additional suggestions to furnish relative to the Bureau's war plans at this time.
3. We will continue to furnish any changes or revisions as they occur for the war plans brochure.
4. (a) My memorandum of January 11, 1952, furnished the list of equipment to be evacuated to emergency headquarters in the event of an emergency. I would like to add to the equipment listed for Room 7318 in the Radio & Electrical Section the following:
  - 11a Miniaturized Sound Kit. added
- (b) The only remaining work to be completed so far as the Division war plans is the training of additional personnel in First Aid which is being done as new classes are held. We have not, but intend to designate Special Agents as key men in five residential areas of Washington as contact points for those employees not being evacuated to emergency headquarters. I expect to complete a proposed list for your approval by March 15. 100-17281-111
- (c) In connection with the Bureau war plans, we are separately handling the establishment of a radio communications post near the emergency headquarters primarily for the critical agencies from a microwave network as requested by the White House. The initial contact in this regard was made by Messrs. Conrad and Millen on February 28, 1952. Additional talks on this matter will be delayed for about two weeks. A further report will be submitted.

This memorandum gives the current status of our war plans.

3-4-52

PLAN FOR EVACUATION:

In the event evacuation is necessary the following instructions will be observed by employees?

- (1) Stay home unless otherwise instructed.
- (2) Make no attempt to telephone the Bureau.

Briefly, the overall plan to be placed in operation is as follows. Equipment and employees will be dispatched to the Evacuation Headquarters. Other employees have been designated to stand by for duty at the seat of government. Files and related materials will be either transported to the evacuation headquarters or destroyed at the seat of government.

The above will be accomplished as follows.

Chain of command: C. L. Trotter
W. G. James
L. E. Short
O. G. Hedler

b6
b7C

J. B. Engelstad
J. W. Marshall (ordered to Evacuation Headquarters)

Three squads of employees have been established to perform the above operations. The names of employees of these squads are maintained in Room 7509. All of the employees in these squads are aware of their individual assignments and duties.

SQUAD I:

b6
b7C

One hundred employees have been designated to go to Evacuation Headquarters in the event of Bureau instructions. SA J. W. Marshall and [redacted] would proceed independently and immediately to this point. The one hundred employees will rally at five points which are homes of individual employees. Sufficient automobiles are possessed by employees in this group to transport the entire one hundred to the Evacuation Headquarters. An up to date record of the make and seating capacities of these automobiles is maintained in Room 7509. These employees are ready to live and work at the emergency headquarters, having arranged to have their families cared for by relatives or friends, etc. They will set up the nucleus of the Records Section in the Evacuation Headquarters.

SA L. E. Short has been designated to remain behind

Memo to Mr. Nichols
Re: Bureau War Plans
Records Section

3-11-52

and be responsible for maintaining contact and taking care of needs of the families in Squad I.

SQUAD II:

Squad II is composed of alternates for the above one hundred employees in Squad I.

SQUAD III:

This squad consists of three hundred employees, both male and female, who are divided into sixteen groups. Groups in this squad will rally at designated rally points and will report for duty to the Records Section as ordered by the Bureau. This squad will perform any necessary duties in the Justice Building or the Identification Building.

FILES TO BE EVACUATED:

Files to be moved to the Evacuation Headquarters have been designated by orange striped covers. These files consist of those cases on security index subjects, confidential informants, and espionage subjects.

A numerical index is maintained in Room 7509 for these files. This has been compiled in the following manner. The Domestic Intelligence Division has furnished the names of all espionage subjects, confidential informants, and security index subjects whose files they desire to be transported to the Evacuation Headquarters. Whenever the Domestic Intelligence Division adds or deletes espionage subjects, confidential informants, or security index subjects, they notify the Records Section. Orange striped covers are placed or removed from these files on the basis of these instructions. In this manner the index of critical files is maintained in an up to date condition.

There are presently approximately twenty thousand files so designated for evacuation. Orange striped covers have been typed and placed on these files.

Inasmuch as these files will be in the Records Section and the offices of Supervisors, the following procedures will be utilized in collecting them for shipment to the Evacuation Headquarters. Red tabs have been pasted on file cabinets in the Records Section containing a critical file. Employees will be designated to take these files from these cabinets. Other employees will proceed through offices collecting all files with orange striped covers. They will be loaded on small hand trucks and subsequently placed in boxes for loading on the trucks for delivery.

Status: Complete.

REPLY HEADQUARTERS FOR SOG

By memorandum from Mr. Nichols to Mr. Tolson concerning Bureau War Plans dated November 28, 1951, it was suggested that inasmuch as the Laboratory would be making periodical checks in connection with the operation of the critical agencies emergency CW network, such visits should be coordinated with Division 4 in order that [ ] of AT&T could have his maintenance people available at Shepherdstown to make the telephone maintenance check. b6 b7C

As you know, it is anticipated that the CW tests will be conducted from the Potts property adjacent to the campus rather than at the school building and will be entirely independent of the school. In view of this it appears undesirable to coordinate the radio and telephone tests as it might tend to connect the radio operations with the school. P.D.

It is pointed out that the telephone system was installed by the Telephone Company without any assistance from the Laboratory and it is not believed necessary for the Laboratory to make any maintenance checks of the telephone equipment. It is understood that the Telephone Company people still have a key to our room at the college.

RECOMMENDATION:

That no maintenance checks of the telephone system at Shepherdstown be made by the Laboratory and that any checks made by the Telephone Company maintenance people not be coordinated with radio tests as such a procedure might tend to connect the radio operations with the school. RB

ERNMENT

TO : MR. NICHOLS

DATE: 4-7-52

FROM : W. G. EAMES

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS
RECORDS SECTION*Emergency 11-14-52 FOR SEC*

We are placing a red seal on the upper right-hand corner of every file cabinet containing a file to be evacuated to the Emergency Headquarters in the event of an emergency. This is being done in order to readily identify cabinets containing such files so that they can be collected with a minimum amount of delay. It has been found that approximately eighty-five per cent of the cabinets in the 100 classification contain files to be evacuated.

Inasmuch as the great majority of the files to be evacuated are in the 100 classification, much difficulty is being experienced in maintaining these red seals on the proper cabinet. Therefore, it is felt that as there are only fifteen per cent of the cabinets not containing evacuation files, that there is no real need for labeling each cabinet containing an evacuation file. In the event of an emergency, every cabinet in this classification could be checked with no appreciable difference in the time element.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN:

Unless advised to the contrary, the 100 classification cabinets containing files to be evacuated will not be labeled with a red seal.

Reference is made to my memorandum of February 15, 1952 indicating the status of the items being considered in connection with the proposed evacuation from Washington, D. C., and also items concerning evacuation of personnel to shelter areas at the Seat of Government.

All items in connection with this program have either been completed or are current and continuing with the exception of the following:

1. Communications:

The necessary cable, wire, and connectors to install the 60 telephone instruments stored at the evacuation point have been ordered and will be brought to the evacuation point when available. The Records and Communications Division is handling this matter.

Tentative arrangements have been made to obtain space at the evacuation point for the security agencies radio link. Arrangements have not been completed for the micro-wave length system for communicating with temporary locations of the White House and critical agencies. Bureau representatives are continuing to work with the National Security Resources Board committee concerning the micro-wave system in an effort to select and obtain equipment to be used in this project. The Laboratory is handling this matter.

On November 30, 1951, the Bureau received from the Military, through arrangements with the Federal Civil Defense Agency, a truck and trailer containing a complete 450 watt CW radio station to be used for emergency communications until such time as the proposed micro-wave system becomes operative. This equipment was used in connection with a practice communication test for all critical agencies on February 7, 1952 and operated satisfactorily.

All items in connection with this program have either been completed or are current and continuing with the exception of the following:

1. Communications:

The necessary cable, wire, and connectors to install the 60 telephone instruments stored at the evacuation point are presently on order. Four of these items have been ordered from the Graybar Electric Company, Richmond, Virginia, and attempts are now being made to secure a priority on this order. Reference is made to my memorandum of April 15, 1952, requesting Liaison Section to make inquiry at the National Production Authority with a view to obtaining a priority for the order placed by the Central Telephone Company of West Virginia with the Graybar Electric Company, Richmond, Virginia, for certain equipment desired by the Laboratory for use in installing 60 telephone instruments at Shepherd College, in the event that emergency re-location center should be activated.

Since more specific information was desired by the National Production Authority regarding the purchase order placed by the Central Telephone Company of West Virginia, SAC Johnson of the Richmond Office was requested to check with the Graybar Electric Company and he has advised Mr. McGuire of my office telephonically that he ascertained from the Graybar Electric Company that all of the items ordered by the Central Telephone Company had either been shipped, or would be shipped, within the next three weeks. At the present time the only items which have not been sent to the Central Telephone Company of West Virginia are 1,000 feet of brown four conductor Western Electric type JKT station wire, and 5 Type 30D connecting blocks. The Graybar Electric Company stated they will have no difficulty obtaining this material but are temporarily out of stock and have contacted their suppliers who advised the material would be in their hands in the next two or three weeks.

Accordingly, no further action is desired in so far as the National Production Authority is concerned, and we will follow with the Central Telephone Company of West Virginia regarding the proper storage at the college of this equipment when it is received.

PURPOSE:

FOR 500

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise you concerning the contact with [redacted]

[redacted] and Mr. Llewellyn Potts at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, on 3-10-52 concerning (A) obtaining permission to run interim CW radio tests from a location on their property and (B) arrangements for establishment of a leased site on their land on which the Bureau would place its Microwave building and tower. This memorandum further advises concerning the generally favorable reception of the Bureau's proposals and recommends the next steps to be taken by the Radio Section and the Chief Clerk's office.

REFERENCE:

Background information can be obtained from my memorandum dated 2-29-52 to you which outlines the approach taken on the initial contact with Mr. Llewellyn Potts who resides on the estate at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

DETAILS:

In accordance with the approval from your office and Mr. Tolson's office, Mr. Millen and Mr. Conrad on 3-10-52 proceeded to Shepherdstown, West Virginia, after making a telephonic contact to ascertain that the principals were present at the estate, and contacted the three individuals who legally hold the estate in question. These individuals are [redacted] and Mr. Llewellyn Potts. In addition, [redacted] was present, acting in the capacity of adviser for the family. It will be noted that the three principals who own the estate are well along in years and it would appear from the discussion that [redacted] and [redacted] who reside in [redacted] dominate the family affairs even though they do not actually live at the estate. Various points were brought up which clearly indicated that every item would have to be cleared by [redacted] who assumed a supervisory attitude over the other individuals involved.

preliminary discussion that Mr. Potts, in agreement with his earlier attitude at the initial contact, was entirely favorable towards both of the Bureau's proposals. On the other hand it was quite evident that [redacted] and her sister, [redacted] had already made up their minds that unfavorable consideration would be given to any proposals which had to do with placing anything on their land. It was drawn out in the conversation that these objections were basically as follows: (1) that the addition of a small building with a small antenna tower would detract from the sale value of the estate, (it was pointed out that under the terms of the will the estate could not be divided between the three and sold until the death of a maiden aunt who presently resides at the large estate house. It was further pointed out that she was past 90 years of age but that the family had a history of longevity.) (2) The possibility arose that the estate would be broken up into residential lots which would preclude having any one of the lots encumbered by a radio station site. (3) The possibility was set forth that the road which crosses the Rumsey Bridge across the Potomac might be extended and straightened to proceed across the portion of the estate which was being considered as a tentative possible site location. (4) The possibility of vandalism was strongly brought out in an attempt to discourage any proposed buildings on their property inasmuch as it was pointed out various hunters trespass on the property, molesting the cattle, breaking windows and cutting fences.

b7C

With these objections in mind the 2 ladies were presenting a united front against the favorable attitude of Mr. Llewellyn Potts. One by one the objections were eliminated by various means, the turning point being furnished by [redacted] who interjected that it would appear if the lease was written in such a manner as to provide removal of the equipment and restoration of the site to its former condition upon 90 day notification, that no reasonable objection could be made by the holders of the estate. It previously had been stated that any installation which might be made by the Bureau would be removed upon reasonable notice and the property restored to its original condition. Further discussion merely strengthened the Bureau's proposals and upon the conclusion of the interview the owners of the estate orally stated that they saw no reason why a suitable arrangement could not be worked out between the property owners and the Bureau.

b7C

With regard to the individual phases of the Bureau's program of a Microwave system at Shepherdstown, it is pointed out that the CW radio tests can be operated from a small brick 2 room house located on the estate as soon as the house can be cleared of lawn furniture and other materials which are presently being stored in the space. [ ] insisted upon supervising all of the removal of this furniture, etc., personally rather than letting Mr. Potts attend to this phase of the operation. Accordingly, it will be necessary to await word from the [ ] family as to when the small brick house will be ready for our equipment. [ ] has the Bureau's proper address. b6 b7C

With regard to the leased Microwave site there are 2 conditions which must be met. The first concerns the furnishing of a small rough sketch of the proposed building which will house the Microwave equipment and support the Microwave tower. Based upon information known to the Radio and Electrical Section regarding standardized building furnished by Motorola, Inc., and other manufacturing concerns who are presently in the process of supplying "packaged" Microwave stations, it will be possible for the section to provide a small sketch of the proposed building. In order that this can be presented in a favorable fashion, it is believed that the rough sketch prepared by the Radio unit should be furnished to the Cartographic Section for the purpose of preparing a more presentable final form sketch. The other remaining item has to do with a final lease for the land proper on which the Microwave station will be located. [ ] recommended that a representative of the Bureau familiar with the leasing operation present a proposed lease to him for the purpose of examination and possible execution. In this connection, the family requested some indication as to the average monthly sum which the Bureau might pay in other similar locations and they were advised that the rental, of course, fluctuated depending upon the local situation and the amount of land involved; however, it ranged from approximately $25 to approximately $100 per month, the principal purpose of the lower amount being to make the lease legally binding. It was tentatively agreed that a minimum figure of $25 per month would be acceptable to the owners of the estate. Accordingly, it is believed that if the lease is drawn with this figure in mind, that portion of it will be acceptable to the family. b6 b7C

RECOMMENDATION:

Accordingly, it is recommended that: (1) Radio and Electrical Section immediately proceed with rough sketches of the building and Microwave tower which might be anticipated to be constructed on the leased site turning such rough sketches over to the Cartographic Section for completion into a final form. On completion of this sketch it can be attached to the proposed lease and taken to

March 14, 1952

Shepherdstown by the Bureau personnel familiar with leasing arrangements.

(2) That the Chief Clerk's office draw up a proper lease to cover this type of situation including the following basic factors: (a) the removal and restoration of the property within 90 days after being notified by the owners, (b) payment of $25 per month rental for the site, (c) payment through separate metering facility of power consumed at the site, (d) the actual land required by the Bureau should measure 45' x 45' in size in order to accommodate a building approximately 11' x 12'.

(3) Upon completion of the above mentioned draft of a suitable lease, it is recommended that Mr. Glavin or a designated qualified employee of the Administrative Division present the lease to the Potts family in order that any legal technicalities relative to government leasing of private land can be answered to the satisfaction of both the government and the owners of the estate.

WAR PLANS

SECURITY AGENCIES' MICROWAVE SYSTEM

You will recall that under White House planning provision has been made for an emergency radio communications system to link up the emergency headquarters of the White House and security agencies in the event it is necessary to evacuate Washington. The Director has approved participation in this plan and the actual ordering of microwave equipment is held in abeyance until the White House Communications Officer has decided upon the type of microwave equipment to be utilized so that all agencies can obtain the same type equipment.

In the meantime weekly tests are made of this emergency radio network utilizing low frequency radio telegraph equipment which is available. So far we have conducted these tests from our Clinton-Waldorf station but as soon as arrangements can be made, the plan is to install equipment at Shepherdstown near the college for use until the microwave equipment is received and installed.

Pursuant to your approval Mr. Conrad and Mr. Millen of the Laboratory contacted Mr. Llewellyn Potts and his two sisters who own the Potts estate which is adjacent to the college grounds. They agreed to permit us to use an existing building on their property to house the radio telegraph equipment which we propose to employ for weekly tests until the microwave equipment is obtained and installed. This will be without cost to the Bureau. The equipment will be unattended at this house and it will only be necessary for a radio operator to proceed to Shepherdstown for the weekly test.

With reference to a site for the erection of the microwave tower and a small building, approximately 11 by 12 feet, to house the radio equipment to be purchased, Mr. Potts and his sister have tentatively agreed to lease the needed plot of land at a charge of $25.00 per month. The cost of the building to be constructed would probably be some less than $1,000.00. The lease would provide for cancellation upon ninety days notice with a requirement that the Bureau restore the property to its original condition.

The site is highly desirable since it would be necessary to run any electric power cable only about 300 feet from it to the building on the college grounds where it is proposed we would have our radio receiving station in the event we evacuate Washington. Any other available site would involve running a power cable for almost a mile which is undesirable and would be more expensive.

Memorandum for Mr. Tolson

The members of the Potts family requested that a representative of the Bureau familiar with the handling of Government leases present a proposed lease to them for examination and possible execution. Also they requested a sketch to illustrate the appearance of the building and microwave tower.

RECOMMENDATION

That the Chief Clerk's Office draw up a proposed lease covering the following items:

- (a) Removal of building and the equipment and restoration of the property to its original condition within ninety days after being so notified by the owners.
- (b) Payments of $25.00 per month rental for the site.
- (c) Payment through separate metering facility of power consumed at the site.
- (d) The actual land required by the Bureau should measure 45 by 45 feet in order to accommodate the microwave tower and a small building approximately 11 by 12 feet.

The Laboratory will handle the preparation of the sketch of the building and tower requested by Mr. Potts. If the foregoing is approved it is proposed that a representative of the Administrative Division and a representative of the Laboratory present the proposed lease upon completion to the Potts family at Shepherdstown for execution.

Gentlemen:

We hereby grant you permission, subject however to the conditions, agreements and limitations hereinafter stated, to erect, install, maintain, service, and operate at your own cost, expense, and risk and without cost, expense or damage to us or our property whatever, a radio tower and a small building of the approximate size of 11 x 12 feet, on our property known as the Potts Estate at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

1. This agreement shall be in force from month to month from and after the date of acceptance hereof. This agreement may be terminated by either party by written notice delivered by such party to the other party at least 90 days prior to the effective date of such termination. All notices pursuant to the provisions of this instrument shall be deemed to be duly given if delivered to the Potts Estate, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, or the Federal Bureau of Investigation, U. S. Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., as the case may be.

2. The building and radio tower shall be erected by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on a plot of land approximately 45 feet square situated on the Potts Estate adjacent to Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

3. Until such building and radio tower are installed and in operation, we agree that the Federal Bureau of Investigation may have use of the small brick two-bedroom house located on our property to house radio equipment.

4. Notwithstanding any other provision in this letter, we have the right at any time for any reason whatsoever to terminate or revoke said permission granted to you <sup>herein</sup> under. In the event that said permission shall at any time be terminated or revoked by us, you shall thereupon within 90 days at your own expense and risk and without cost, expense, damage or injury to us or our property, remove said building and radio tower erected on our property along with equipment installed by you and restore the property where they had been located to its original condition.

Reference is made to your memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated March 19, 1952, recommending that the Chief Clerk's office prepare a lease for a small plot of ground on the Potts estate in Shepherdstown.

Reference is also made to Mr. Glavin's memorandum for Mr. Tolson dated April 9, 1952, attaching a proposed lease for the purpose indicated.

On the afternoon of April 24, 1952, Mr. Gunsser and I proceeded to Shepherdstown and turned over to Mr. Llewellyn Potts the original lease, together with photographic copies of a sketch showing the rough outline of the facilities contemplated on the leased site. Mr. Potts looked over the lease and advised that so far as he was concerned the lease was completely satisfactory; however, since neither of his sisters was available, a final decision as to the signing of the lease will have to wait until the lease has been reviewed by the two sisters, [redacted] and [redacted] b6 b7C

Inasmuch as Mr. Potts orally indicated that he expected both of his sisters to return to Shepherdstown within approximately 10 days, Mr. Potts was requested to discuss the lease with his sisters upon their arrival and thereafter to advise the Bureau when further conference could be held, if necessary, and execution of the lease completed. He advised that he would do this.

There is attached hereto for record purposes a copy of the sketch furnished to Mr. Potts. W

EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS FOR SOG

Reference is made to my memorandum of November 27, 1951, in which I requested that the Chief Clerk's Office obtain two wind-up Marine-type wall clocks with a 24-hour face such as is used in radio stations. These clocks were requested as it is felt that they are needed to be set aside for use at the Emergency Headquarters Site where they would be needed in an emergency by the Code Clerks and Radio Operators.

The Department recently advised under communication dated March 24, 1952, that they were unable to identify this item and that our request was cancelled.

I have ascertained through personal correspondence with Radio Communications Officer  of the Boston Office that eight-day wind-up GMT clocks can be purchased at one of the Marine supply houses in Boston for a cost of approximately $45.00 (forty-five dollars) each.

b6

It is requested, therefore, that the Chief Clerk's Office make arrangements with the Boston Office to have  purchase two of these clocks.

THE DIRECTOR

April 15, 1952

THE EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE

The Executives Conference of April 14, 1952, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Tracy, Harbo, Clegg, Gearty, Winterrowd, Ladd, Belmont, and Glavin, was advised that Mr. C.H. Bartlett of the Liaison Section of the Domestic Intelligence Division, had received a copy of a secret security information communication dated April 10, 1952, from A Russell Ash, Chairman of the AD HOC Committee on Alert Planning. The Communication in question is attached hereto.

It will be noted that the communication, which is addressed to each member of the AD HOC Committee on Alert Planning, advises that the Office of the Chief Signal Officer of the Department of the Army, is preparing a consolidated Signal Operation Instruction covering all facilities involved in insuring continuance of present communications and establishing other necessary channels in the event of a disaster in the Washington area. Further, that in order that this Signal Operation Instruction will be complete, it is proposed to include the Alternate Headquarters of the National Security Agencies, together with their locations and the communication facilities serving each one.

The communication points out that this Signal Operation Instruction will include data of such nature that it will not be classified higher than "Secret - Security Information." The proposed inclusion of data concerning the Security Agencies would be limited to name of agencies and placename locations of their alternate emergency headquarters, if such information is classified by the agencies no higher than "Secret - Security Information." Mr. Ash, in his communication, states he would appreciate early advice from the Bureau as to the security classification currently applied to our agency, on a "need-to-know" basis, to the geographical location of our emergency headquarters site.

The Conference feels that Mr. Ash should be advised that the Bureau's emergency headquarters site is considered "Secret - Security Information" and since it is desired that such information be furnished by the National Security Agencies for inclusion in the Signal Operation Instruction on a "need-to-know" basis, the Bureau would have no objection to its alternate headquarters being included in the Instruction in question.

Should the Director agree, Mr. Bartlett will be instructed to so advise Mr. Ash.

In connection with the emergency relocation center at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, certain necessary cable, wire and connectors necessary to install 60 telephone instruments now stored at the college have been ordered through the Central Telephone Company of West Virginia.

Colonel Bliss of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company at Washington has advised Mr. McGuire that the Central Telephone Company had placed an order with the Graybar Electric Company, Richmond, Virginia, Order No. 22-09-1004, for the following listed items:

5 Western Electric type GB26 cable terminal boxes complete with fanning strips and type 30D connecting blocks.

750 feet of outside plastic 26-pair telephone cable.

4,000 feet of brown two conductor type JKT Western Electric station wire.

1,000 feet of brown four conductor Western Electric type JKT station wire.

The Central Telephone Company has advised Colonel Bliss that Graybar Electric Company cannot expedite the order unless it receives a Government priority.

It is recommended that Liaison check with the National Production Authority to see if a priority for these four items cannot be issued to the Graybar Electric Company under purchase order of the Central Telephone Company of West Virginia, No. 22-09-1004.

Colonel Bliss indicated the monthly storage charge for these items of equipment, when obtained, will be approximately $3.95 a month.

On receipt of advice from the Liaison Section as to the possibility of granting a priority to Graybar Electric Company we will pass on the results of this contact to Colonel Bliss in order that these items may be obtained and appropriately stored at Shepherdstown when obtained.

PLANS - Security - 1100. 20115
In October, 1951, the Director approved purchase of microwave radio equipment to cost approximately $50,000 to enable the Bureau to participate in a communication system to connect the relocation points of the critical agencies with the White House. On May 8, the Conference, composed of Messrs. Ladd, Glavin, Mohr, Clegg, Rosen, Gearty, Laughlin, McGuire, Tracy and Harbo, was advised that CIA, after a technical survey, has proposed that the entire network be engineered with microwave equipment to operate in the 7000 megacycle band. Motorola is the only firm in a position to furnish this equipment and it is planned to purchase the equipment on a negotiated contract basis, rather than through competitive bids. CIA has suggested that they procure equipment from Motorola for all the agencies involved in the communications network and that CIA be reimbursed by the various agencies through transfer of funds.

The proposal has the advantages of uniform engineering of the various parts of the network, probably better purchase price because of one large purchase, and greater security since fewer people will be made aware of the activities in this field.

The Conference unanimously recommends approval of the plan whereby CIA will purchase the microwave equipment to be used by the FBI (and all other agencies in the network) with the FBI to reimburse CIA through transfer of funds. If the Director approves, CIA will be so notified and, in addition, will be notified that the FBI will not be in a position to make any such transfer of funds until after July 1, 1952.

CRITICAL WAR PLANS - Emergency Microwave Network

As you know, plans for installation of the microwave network linking the emergency headquarters of the various critical agencies have been held in abeyance, pending the completion of a survey by the firm of Jansky and Bailey to determine the frequency band and type of equipment to be used. This was done to insure that each individual agency's installation would be compatible with the rest of the network.

I have been informed by [redacted] of CIA that the survey has been completed and that FM microwave equipment in the 7000 mc. band will best serve the purpose. Since Motorola is the only firm in a position to furnish this equipment it is contemplated that the equipment will be obtained on a negotiated contract rather than through competitive bids. It is believed that the equipment choice is a good one, particularly in view of the fact that the FM microwave equipment is much easier to maintain than the more complicated Pulse Modulated systems. b3

[redacted] suggested that CIA take steps to procure the equipment from Motorola for all the agencies and that they be reimbursed by the various agencies through transfer of funds. Mr. [redacted] indicated further that it would take a couple of weeks to get all the details worked out concerning the necessary equipment for each individual terminal. I believe the obtaining of the equipment for all agencies by CIA is a good idea and I informed [redacted] that it would be all right to go ahead with the planning on that basis but that I could not make an official commitment of funds for the Bureau. b3

The question as to [redacted]

[redacted] I will follow this matter closely.

 Reference is made to my memorandum of April 14, 1952, indicating the status of the items being considered in connection with the proposed evacuation from Washington, D. C., and also items concerning evacuation of personnel to shelter areas at the Seat of Government.

All items in connection with this program have either been completed or are current and continuing with the exception of the following:

1. Communications

The necessary cable, wire, and connectors to install the 60 telephone instruments stored at the evacuation point have been ordered. The Graybar Electric Company, Richmond, Virginia, has advised that all of the equipment ordered has been shipped with the exception of two articles which are temporarily out of stock and which will be supplied within two weeks. In connection with this equipment, the question of priority has been resolved.

A discussion has been held as to the equipment necessary for the proposed security agencies' radio link. We are at the present time preparing specifications for complementary-type equipment to be used in the micro-wave system for communicating with temporary locations of the White House and critical agencies. Final action on the plans to obtain space at the evacuation point for the security agencies' radio link has been delayed due to the illness of one of the owners. The approval and signing of the lease for the necessary quarters are all that remains to be done in connection with this part of the program. The Laboratory is handling this matter..

2. First Aid

First Aid training classes are continuing. This program consists of two day classes and one evening class. The course lasts for a period of three weeks and at its conclusion

3. Air Raid Drills

As a result of the practice air raid drill held in the Justice Building on March 27, 1952, a conference was held with Mr. Donaldson, Chief Building Warden for the Justice Building. In view of the fact that the previous drill had demonstrated that the basement area was too congested, the Department has designated to us shelter areas on the 5th floor through the 1st floor in corridors running parallel with Pennsylvania Avenue. Employees on the 7th and 6th floors working within the general area of Pennsylvania Avenue will proceed down to the shelter areas on the 3d and 2d floors. The Great Hall located on the 2d floor will be for the exclusive use of FBI employees working on the 6th and 7th floors in the general area of Constitution Avenue. Mr. Donaldson advised that inasmuch as a major change had been made in the shelter areas, the time of the next proposed test drill will be made known to the employees but that subsequent drills will be on a "surprise" basis.

[redacted] occupies office space in Room 7651 which immediately adjoins the space occupied by the Correlation-Liaison Unit. He is assigned a Bureau secretary by the Correlation-Liaison Unit. He maintains his files, supplies, etc. in cabinets which are stored within the mentioned space.

He has been advised of the Bureau's Air Raid Program and has participated in one air raid drill. However, the following questions arise in connection with his participation in the Bureau's Emergency and Evacuation Programs:

1. Should [redacted] be evacuated to alternate headquarters with other personnel of the Bureau?

It is believed advisable that [redacted] be evacuated, in the event of an emergency, along with the other personnel of the Bureau designated for evacuation, as it would be necessary to contact him in matters relating to [redacted] and he, likewise, would be in a position to maintain his close contact with the Bureau in matters of mutual interest.

TO : MR. A. H. BELMONT

DATE: May 15, 1952

FROM : V. P. KEAY

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated April 23, 1952, wherein certain recommendations were made concerning [redacted] in connection with his participation in the Bureau's Emergency and Evacuation Programs. These recommendations which pertained to evacuation, removal and destroying of his records, files and supplies, as well as arrangements for securing a pass to travel in an emergency, were approved.

[redacted] has been contacted and apprised, on an abstract basis, of the Bureau's Emergency and Evacuation Programs. He indicated that he desired to be evacuated along with other personnel of the Bureau in the event of an emergency. In view of his statement in this regard, arrangements have been made to place / his name on the Domestic Intelligence Division list for evacuation and on the list providing for care of families of evacuated personnel. /

[redacted] was furnished information concerning the Bureau's procedure in labeling cabinets and files for evacuation and he indicated his desire to utilize the same procedure. Accordingly, he was furnished with a sufficient number of red scalloped tabs for marking file cabinets and large red tabs for designating specific files for evacuation. He has indicated that approximately three file cabinets have been labeled which contain about 50 files of secret and top secret designation, supplies which, of course, are peculiar for his own use and would not be available with regular Bureau supplies, and his index cards which he desired to be removed. He was informed also of the Bureau's procedures for destruction of files not to be evacuated and he indicated a desire to utilize these facilities.

A Liaison representative has contacted the Civil Defense Authorities to arrange for the issuance of a pass to [redacted] to travel in the event of an emergency. Civil Defense Authorities have indicated that it will be necessary for them to present the matter to the National Security Resources Board for approval. It is anticipated that Civil Defense Authorities will be in a position to furnish a pass for [redacted] in the very near future.

Emergency - 11-10-52 - 11-10-52 FOR

In connection with the removal of files and related material from the Records Section space on the sixth and seventh floors of the Justice Building, experiments have been conducted in lowering these items by means of block and tackle. Such methods must be considered in the event of any power failure which would render the elevators useless.

[redacted] of the Cartographic Section of the Administrative Division has devised a block and tackle rig which will lower materials safely to lower levels. However, it has been found that the rope used which is new has a tendency to loop and curl so that the lines become entangled. Also, extremely heavy gloves would be necessary inasmuch as manila splinters from the rope penetrate the hands. The above block and tackle rig is a good one and reflects well on [redacted] ability. However, it is not believed to be suitable or adaptable to our purposes inasmuch as it will not allow rapid lowering of materials.

Experiments conducted so far reflect that this lift is capable of handling twelve loads per hour. Obviously, with thirty thousand files and other equipment to be removed, this method would not be sufficiently expeditious enough for this purpose.

It is felt that consideration should be given to the securing of auxiliary power for an elevator adjacent to Records Section space. I have in mind the type of engine utilized by construction companies for their lifts which they raise their construction materials to the higher levels of buildings which are being constructed.

Such a gasoline powered engine, which could be used to generate sufficient power to operate an elevator, could be located adjacent to an elevator bank in the attic.

[redacted] who has given considerable thought to the matter of lowering materials and equipment from the Records Section feels that such auxiliary power for an elevator would be satisfactory and more advantageous than block and tackle operated manually.

Reference is made to the attached memorandum to Mr. Nichols from Mr. Eames recommending that consideration be given to installing an auxiliary power supply for an elevator adjacent to Record Section space to be used in the event of an emergency for the lowering of evacuation files and related materials to the ground floor.

In response to a request from the Chief Clerk's Office SA A. J. Baker of this section along with [redacted] of the Chief Clerk's Office talked to [redacted] Department of Justice Building Superintendent, concerning the availability of space for such a generator as well as the generators presently on order to furnish emergency power for some of our communication facilities and emergency lighting in certain administrative offices. [redacted] pointed out space in the subbasement which can be utilized for placement of the three generators. Space is adequate and the exhaust pipe can be connected into a nearby smokestack.

It was further requested that the Laboratory determine the type of generator necessary to operate the elevator in question. The elevator motor-generator requires a 208 volt, 60 cycle, 3 phase, 4 wire power source with a capacity of 97 amperes. It was determined from [redacted] an electrical engineer of the Government Services Administration, that the government building electrical code requires a safety factor of 25 per cent for elevator power systems.

The power requirements plus the required 25 per cent safety factor amount to between 25 and 30 kilowatts. Since a 25 kilowatt unit is not large enough to provide the prescribed safety factor, it is suggested that a 35 kilowatt unit should be obtained since that is the next larger standard size. A 35 kw, 120/208 volt, 3 phase, 4 wire power plant would cost approximately $4000 exclusive of any wiring or installation costs. If the purchase of such a generator is approved the Laboratory will furnish the necessary technical specifications to the Chief Clerk's Office.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be forwarded to the Chief Clerk's office for their information.

BUREAU WAR PLANS

EMERGENCY HEADQUARTERS FOR SOG

The Executives Conference of April 9, 1952, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Gearty, Clegg, Winterrowd, Ladd, Belmont, Mohr, Harbo, Tracy and Glavin, was advised in connection with the setting up of war plans for the evacuation of the Bureau from the Department of Justice Building, that a study had been made of ways and means to expeditiously move the files from the Files Section to the street floor so that those files could be sent to our emergency headquarters. It was pointed out to the Conference that originally a hand-operated block and tackle rig was devised by the Administrative Division which would lower files safely to lower levels. The Files Section felt that the utilization of a hand-operated block and tackle rig would be too slow for all practical purposes in the event we had to lower our files safely to the lower levels in case of emergency. It was suggested that consideration be given to securing auxiliary power for an elevator adjacent to the Records Section so that an elevator could be operated by an auxiliary generator or donkey engine in the event it became necessary to evacuate the building and to move certain of our files to emergency headquarters.

It was pointed out to the Conference that under Civil Defense procedures, in case of attack or bombing all elevators in the building would be cut off and there would be no electrical power available from regular sources. A check had been made to determine whether an auxiliary generator could be secured to operate one elevator on an emergency basis and it was ascertained that such a generator would cost at least $4,000, exclusive of any wiring and installation costs. Wiring and installation costs would increase considerably the total cost of this auxiliary equipment.

The Conference was further advised that the General Services Administration officials and Department of Justice officials stated that their funds could not be utilized for the installation of such an auxiliary generator, that if such a generator were to be installed, it would necessarily have to be installed through the utilization of Bureau funds.

The Conference is of the unanimous opinion that no such auxiliary generator should be installed at this time.

On April 11, 1952, the Executives Conference considered unfavorably the Records Section's suggestion that an auxiliary or donkey engine be secured to operate an elevator, in case of power failure, so that files could be lowered expeditiously from the sixth floor to the ground floor of the Justice Building if the necessity arose to evacuate the Bureau from Washington.

As you know, plans have been made to move all files from the Justice Building to the basement and first floor of the Identification Building in the event additional space is acquired outside the Bureau for the Supply Section. When this move is accomplished, the problem of evacuating files from the upper floor of the Justice Building will be erased.

However, I have given considerable thought to the problems involved in evacuating files from the Justice Building, inasmuch as it is estimated that 25 hours of continuous operation of a block and tackle rig would be required to lower 30,000 files. Obviously only male employees could perform this job, and, because of the strenuous nature of such an operation, several crews would be necessary. 5 men working on both levels would be required for each crew. They could only perform this work for a maximum of 8 to 10 hours, then only if they were given periodical relief, say every 2 hours. By working 2 crews for 8 to 10 hours, 2 hours on and 2 hours off, it is felt a minimum of 6 crews, a total of 30 men would be needed. Conceivably, in the event such an evacuation occurred, we would not have 30 men available in the Records Section because they would have probably long before entered military service.

ALTERNATIVE SUGGESTIONS:

Utilization of Mobile "Crane Boom"

66-17351-134

[redacted] Cartographic Section, Administrative Division, was again contacted regarding more effective utilization of a block and tackle rig. He stated that he had recently observed a PBA "crane boom", mounted on a truck body, that had lifted a heavy air conditioning unit to the sixth or seventh floor of a government building. It was his immediate reaction that such a crane boom, with a cargo net, could be utilized to lower files from the upper floor of the Justice Building. He likewise felt that perhaps such a boom could be borrowed from PBA.

It is our understanding that PBA has already been approached for 6 trucks to be used to transport equipment, etc. in evacuating the Bureau in the event of an emergency. [redacted] observation lends new light to this problem and offers to solve same in the event such a "crane boom" could be lined up with PBA. Such a maneuver would result in no outlay of money by the Bureau and could be accomplished by liaison.

b6
b7C

Loan of Auxiliary Engine from PBA

It is likewise felt that PBA could conceivably have on hand an auxiliary engine that would be suitable for use in operating an elevator in the event of power failure and that through liaison arrangements a loan could be perfected of this equipment to the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That no further action be taken in this matter at this time, but that it be reconsidered at the expiration of 60 days. In the meantime there is a strong possibility of the entire situation being taken care of by a movement of all Records Section files to the Identification Building. Should this action fail to materialize in the next 60 days the following 2 recommendations should then be considered.

2. That PBA be requested to designate one of their mobile "crane booms" for use by the Bureau in lowering 30,000 files from the sixth floor of the Justice Building in the event of an emergency.

3. That efforts be made to determine if PBA has an auxiliary engine suitable for operating an elevator and, if so, that efforts be made to have PBA commit themselves to lend this unit to the Bureau in the event of an evacuation emergency.

Colonel Bliss of the Chesapeake Telephone Company, Washington, D. C., in a telephone conversation with Mr. McGuire this morning confirmed the completion of this phase of the installation.

Mr. Pfafman of the Laboratory has been advised and states that on the next trip to Shepherdstown, the electrical section of the Laboratory will arrange to check all of the equipment and to return to the Laboratory the emergency supply of wire, etc., which had been placed there until the Telephone Company materials were received.

Upon arrival, execution of the lease was completed by Mr. Gunsser and the first month's rental of $25 was paid. Future Rentals to be paid 5 hours Sunday in custody Y. Y. McQuire.

[redacted] turned over to me a key to the little brick cottage which we are to use for our CW operations on a temporary basis. Accordingly, all of the necessary ground work has been completed for us to proceed with insulation of a CW station immediately and with a detailed survey looking toward selection of the specific spot on which we wish to erect our microwave tower. I indicated to [redacted] and to Mr. Llewellyn Potts that we were attempting to secure the use of the name of the AT&T for our operations and that in the meantime any inquiries from neighbors or other curious persons should be answered with the statement that the work being done was that of a communications company in the Washington area.

ACTION

We are proceeding at once to assemble and take to Shepherdstown the necessary equipment to establish our CW operations for the weekly test drill and will then proceed with the microwave plans.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Tolson ✓

DATE: May 26, 1952

FROM : R. T. Harbo ✓

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS
SECURITY AGENCIES MICROWAVE SYSTEMEmergency Headquarters For SOG

My memorandum March 19, 1952, advised that in accordance with the White House plans for emergency radio communications between the evacuation headquarters of the security agencies arrangements had been made with the owners of a private estate in Shepherdstown adjacent to Shepherd College. Because none of the agencies were yet ready to install the microwave system, which was planned by the National Security Resources Board, a low frequency radio telegraph link was established and the Bureau planned its installation on the private estate of Mr. Llewellyn Potts at Shepherdstown. In this connection we are now ready to take the necessary equipment to Shepherdstown and will begin installation in a day or two.

I further advised you that we were negotiating with Mr. Potts to lease a site on his property to erect the necessary building and tower when we are ready to install our microwave equipment. On May 21 the Bureau completed the proposed lease at $25.00 per month and we will be ready to construct the microwave station when equipment is obtained.

Our equipment will be unattended on the estate and it will only be necessary for a radio operator to make a weekly trip to Shepherdstown for a test operation in communication with other sensitive agencies.

SHEPHERDSTOWN EVACUATION CENTER

HEADQUARTERS FOR SOG

Incidental to the construction of a complete 450 watt CW radio station on the Potts estate at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, on May 27, 1952, SA R. L. Millen contacted Mr. Llewellyn Potts relative to the manner in which he desired monthly rental payments to be made on land rented by the Bureau from the Potts Estate.

In this regard, Mr. Potts indicated that it would be satisfactory to both himself and the other parties involved if the Bureau would mail the checks made out to the "H. W. Potts Estate." The envelope should be addressed to  Shepherdstown, West Virginia. In accordance with my earlier conversation with Mr. J. J. McGuire, it was indicated to Mr. Potts that the Bureau would pay the monthly $25 rental as of the first of each month. It was also indicated that a self-addressed return envelope would be enclosed with the check in order that Mr. Potts could enclose a properly executed receipt in the envelope and place it in the mail. This arrangement was said to be quite satisfactory and it is recommended that this information be made available to Mr. McGuire as a matter of guidance in handling the payments of rental at the Potts estate.

DATE: 6/13/52

FROM : MR. CLEGG

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - EVACUATION

Reference is made to my memorandum of 5/15/52 LSOG indicating the status of the items being considered in connection with the proposed evacuation from Washington, D. C., and also items concerning the evacuation of personnel to shelter areas at the Seat of Government.

In this connection the status of the following items are called to your attention:

1. Communications

The Laboratory is still working on the specifications for the micro-wave equipment which will link the critical agencies. Continuing conferences between the engineers of these agencies and the Bureau are being held to resolve all basic problems. The rental of the necessary space has been consummated, and a lease has been executed, under which the Bureau is paying a rental for the land on a monthly basis.

On 5/27/52, as an interim-communications link, a CW radio station was set up, until the micro-wave system is installed. This is located on property adjacent to the emergency evacuation point. Appropriate weekly tests of this CW radio station are made by Bureau personnel.

2. First Aid

First Aid training classes are continuing.

In connection with the completion of rental arrangements concerning the microwave site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, on the Potts estate and with regard to the interim establishment of a CW radio station which would be capable of operating from this site to the sites occupied by the other designated critical agencies, a complete 450 watt CW radio station was installed in a small brick building located on the above mentioned estate on May 27, 1952. Key

Radio engineers under supervision of R. L. Millen of this section established this 450 watt CW station without incident and made contact with the main headquarters station of the Bureau in Clinton-Waldorf on the evening of May 27, 1952. A few hours work remains within the building in order to complete the facilities for routine test operation by the Bureau radio operators. This will be handled within the next few days.

Upon completion of the entire station facilities, you will be advised in order that the necessary regularly scheduled test contact subsequent to that time can be handled from the Potts estate by the Communications section employees. It is contemplated that the next trip to Shepherdstown to complete the interior work will include a representative from the Communications division operators in order that he may be familiar with the route to the site and the equipment installed.

Attached hereto for record purposes is an inventory of the major items which are presently located at this site.

Reference memorandums of May 28 and June 9, 1952, from Mr. I. W. Conrad to Assistant Director Harbo regarding the interim establishment of a CW radio station on the Potts estate at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, from which we would operate the emergency CW network which has been set up to communicate with the White House and critical agencies, pending the installation and operation of a radio microwave system for emergency communications with these agencies.

You will recall that these radio tests have been held weekly for some time now, utilizing a complete CW radio station installed in an Army truck and trailer which had been maintained at the Clinton radio station.

In Mr. Conrad's memorandum of June 9 he advised that the installation of the CW station at Shepherdstown to be used for the above-mentioned network had been completed.

On June 2 last, I sent Radio Communications Officers [redacted] and [redacted] to the Emergency Headquarters site with the Bureau engineer, at which time the final testing of the station was completed. These operators did not have the opportunity of operating the equipment at that time, however.

 b7C

The next weekly test scheduled for this network will occur Thursday, June 19, at 3:00 p.m. I have arranged telephonically with Mr. Conrad to send Radio Communications Officers [redacted] and [redacted] to make this next test from the Emergency Headquarters site under the supervision of a Bureau engineer. On subsequent weekly tests, unless advised to the contrary, I will send one of the operators who has operated the equipment, along with another operator who has not operated the equipment, until we have trained all the radio operators on our War Plans evacuee list to operate this

Only by operating from the Emergency Headquarters site will we be able to obtain a clear picture of the efficiency of the emergency CW radio network with the White House Signal Branch. I have instructed the Chief Operator of the Clinton radio station,  that the code machine which we have been b6 b7C furnished to use on this circuit should not be taken to the emergency headquarters site. It will be necessary, however, for the operators to take an unclassified "Q" signal handbook and an operating manual with the security classification of "Restricted" to the site for reference purposes. This material will be transported to and from the Emergency Headquarters site in a locked brief case.

For security purposes, I plan to send two men to the Emergency Headquarters site to conduct these tests in the future even after all the Radio Operators on our evacuation list are familiar with the operation of the equipment.

It is contemplated that one agency, probably CIA, will handle the procurement of equipment for all agencies and contract for the necessary installation work with Motorola. Naturally certain officials of Motorola will have to be cleared for receiving whatever information is necessary in completing the contract. It is believed, however, that steps should be taken to provide a suitable cover for our anticipated installation on the Potts estate near Shepherdstown. It is believed neither necessary nor desirable that the installation crew know that the installation is for the FBI. Furthermore, the installation will excite considerable curiosity among the inhabitants of the rural community at Shepherdstown and some good cover must be provided if we don't want the FBI connection to become known. In fact, Mr. Potts has already suggested that the installation be identified with some commercial company to prevent any embarrassment in talking to his neighbors.

Since certain high officials at ~~AT&T~~ have already been contacted in connection with the emergency telephone service for Shepherdstown it would appear that AT&T would provide a good cover for our microwave installation. As you know, AT&T has a lot of microwave installations and are building more all the time in connection with television networks, cross country toll circuits, etc. Since our installation will have the same general appearance as theirs it is believed such a cover would be highly desirable.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that contact be made with the appropriate high level officials of AT&T to arrange for the use of that company's name as a cover for our anticipated microwave installation on the Potts estate near Shepherdstown.

SUBJECT: CRITICAL AGENCIES MICROWAVE SYSTEM (m)

Emergency Headquarters - FOR SEC

It is anticipated that the antenna and radio equipment to enable the Bureau to participate in the microwave emergency radio network to link the emergency headquarters of the various critical agencies of the United States Government will be installed on the Potts' estate bordering the college at Shepherdstown. On May 14 the Conference composed of Messrs. Tolson, Ladd, Mohr, Clegg, Gearty, Laughlin and Harbo was advised of the desirability to provide a suitable "cover" for this installation. It is believed preferable that neither the installation crew nor any other individuals be advised that the installation is for the FBI although it is recognized the installation will arouse considerable curiosity among the inhabitants of this community. Mr. Potts has suggested that the installation be identified with some commercial agency to avoid any embarrassment on his part in conversations with his neighbors.

Since certain high officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company have already been contacted in connection with emergency telephone service for Shepherdstown the Conference unanimously concurs in the Laboratory proposal that appropriate contacts be made with officials of AT&T to arrange for the use of that Company's name as a "cover" for our anticipated microwave installation on the Potts' estate near Shepherdstown. AT&T already has a substantial number of microwave installations similar in appearance to ours in various parts of the country.

If the Director approves, Mr. Nichols will arrange for an appropriate contact with the local representative of AT&T for this purpose.

Respectfully,
 For the Conference

BUREAU WATER PLANTS - EMERGENCY HEAD

I have had pending for some time with Washington representative of AT&T, two requests:

1. Whether AT&T would object if the Bureau utilized the cover of AT&T in the installation of our anticipated microwave installation at Shepherdstown.
2. Whether AT&T would make available through loan certain items of microwave equipment.

I have been a little bit nonplussed since [ ] has been so cooperative in the past and so prompt. In checking further with him this morning he stated he had taken the matter up again yesterday in New York, and his company in view of their high regard for the Bureau was on the horns of a dilemma, inasmuch as they do not want to say no. He pointed out, however, that the area in the vicinity of Shepherdstown is known in telephone company parlance as "independent territory." In other words, AT&T does not have any legitimate right to be doing anything in that vicinity and they are fearful if the name of AT&T is used this might cause considerable questions to be raised. I told him in view of those circumstances to forget about it, that we would withdraw the request and would handle the matter in our own way.

With reference to the microwave equipment [redacted] explained that the Motorola people have the initial contract for installing the microwave network with which ours would be linked. Motorola is a competitor of AT&T's, and from what I can ascertain there is a good possibility that Motorola will withdraw in which event ~~AT&T~~ would take over the project. He stated that under these circumstances it would be rather difficult for AT&T to make available equipment. However, he said if there were any one individual piece we needed just to ask him for the piece and he would get it, if, on the other hand, we wished to purchase equipment they would be glad to make it available to us, that while there is a very short supply they would see to it that we were given preference.

As you will recall, the purchase of microwave radio equipment to enable the Bureau to participate in a communication system to connect the relocation points of the critical agencies with the White House has been approved. Inasmuch as the equipment of the other Critical Agencies Microwave system is being procured from Motorola, Inc., it has been recommended that the Bureau's equipment also be purchased from this concern in order to provide compatibility with the rest of the system.

In order to purchase the material direct from the Motorola, Inc. without the solicitation of bids, it is necessary to direct a letter to the Attorney General stating the reasons for procuring the equipment in this manner. The attached memorandum has been prepared to be forwarded to the Attorney General if it meets with your approval.

PURPOSE

To advise concerning suggested cover name for operations relating to FBI microwave radio installation on Potts estate site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

REFERENCE

Mr. Nichols memo to Mr. Tolson dated 7-3-52 concerning reluctance of AT&T representative [ ] to permit Bureau to use AT&T firm name as cover for our microwave operations at Shepherdstown.

DEVELOPMENT

Following the disclosure of AT&T's reluctance to permit the Bureau to utilize their firm name in connection with this operation, the local Motorola Company representative was contacted on a personal basis by representatives of this section to determine whether or not the Motorola Company would permit the Bureau to use its name in connection with the construction and installation activity in the vicinity of Shepherdstown in the event it was necessary for the operation to be identified. Motorola, as you know, is the commercial contractor responsible for placing the entire microwave network between the critical agencies into operation. They are presently proceeding with preliminary field engineering of the project.

[ ] district manager of Motorola, Inc., indicated that he would be very happy to have the Bureau use the name of Motorola, Inc. for the cover purposes intended. Anyone directing inquiries to him will be advised that, "The operation is a Motorola field equipment test station." Any individual pressing for further details would be advised that, "The electronic equipment is on a competitive commercial market therefore he is not at liberty to discuss any details of the tests on the equipment." [ ] further stated that the Bureau should feel free to use signs posting the area which contain the firm name as desired.

The name of the firm, [ ] name, along with the Washington phone number [ ] would constitute the information furnished to the interested parties at the Potts estate.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS Emergency Headquarters For S.O.G.
~~SECURITY AGENCIES~~ MICROWAVE SYSTEM

On July 24, 1952, the Conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Ladd, Nichols, Glavin, Tracy, Belmont, Rosen, Mohr, Mason, Gresham, Holloman and Parsons, considered the use of "Motorola, Incorporated" as a cover name for the FBI microwave installation at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

In accordance with the White House plans to have a microwave communications system linking the evacuation headquarters of the critical agencies, the Bureau has leased a site on a private estate adjoining the Bureau's evacuation headquarters at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. A contract is being negotiated with Motorola, Incorporated, one of the leading manufacturers of radio equipment. The Motorola Company will make the actual installation and necessarily will have its employees and trucks at the site. In order to preserve the security of the Bureau's war plans, it will be necessary to have a cover name to satisfy the curiosity of persons in Shepherdstown inquiring about the microwave installation. Preliminary inquiries had been made of American Telephone and Telegraph as to the possibility of using their name but they indicated reluctance because the phone systems in the area of Shepherdstown are not AT & T property.

Because all of our equipment will be manufactured by Motorola and they will do the actual construction work, it would be entirely appropriate to use their name for cover purposes. The district manager has advised that he would be very happy to cooperate in this respect and any inquiries concerning the installation could be directed to him. He will advise that "The operation is a Motorola field equipment test station." He further indicated that the Bureau should feel free to use signs in the area, if desired, containing their firm name, but this will not be necessary.

The Conference unanimously recommends the use of Motorola as a cover name for microwave installation.

Respectfully, JUL 25 1952
For the Conference

Emergency Material - For SOG
 For record purposes it is noted that on 7-24-52 Mr. Millen accompanied by Bradley, Stevenson and Stahl of this section transported the following material to the storage room at Shepherdstown:

3 new telediphone machines for use by Director's office, radio crystals for the BC339 transmitters,

4 large type fire extinguishers.

These fire extinguishers are of the soda-acid type and accordingly were not charged since they are placed there primarily for storage for possible future use.

Although summer school is in session at this time, suitable precautions were taken in unloading this equipment and placing it within the storage room so that the operation attracted no attention.

For record purposes it is noted that one [REDACTED]
 [REDACTED] Social Security [REDACTED] resides in the tenant house

A check of the indices was made and one possible reference was noted. One [REDACTED] was accused by the subject in a case entitled "[REDACTED] NMVTA," Bureau file 26-116253, of being with the subject when he stole a car in Virginia in 1948. The [REDACTED] mentioned in instant case was a PFC in the Marine Corps stationed at Quantico and the [REDACTED] living at the Potts estate is known to have been in the Marines.

The case file revealed that in separate interviews 2 other names were given by the subject as the one who was with him when the no charges were made against [REDACTED] and no further investigation was conducted.

PURPOSE

[Handwritten: Headquarters for SOG]

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise concerning the activities of Motorola, Inc. with regard to the establishment of a microwave radio network for the FBI and other critical agencies, along with observations made by Bureau engineers relative to Motorola engineering activity and military communications construction in the vicinity of [redacted] b7E

DETAILS

Motorola, Inc. having the over-all contract to install microwave radio equipment linking the relocation centers of the critical agencies, has initiated preliminary surveys of the radio paths between the various sites. In connection therewith, an engineering crew accompanied by Bureau engineers on 7-15-52 surveyed the Shepherdstown microwave site and radio path to the terminal on [redacted] property identified as [redacted]. Access to [redacted] (the site of the microwave tower on [redacted] property to which FBI microwave signals will be directed) was denied by military personnel on the location because of the lack of proper clearance papers in possession of the Motorola crew. Bureau personnel were not involved in these conversations. Arrangements are being made by Motorola to contact the proper Pentagon officials in order to obtain the necessary clearance. During this preliminary survey, a surveying transit was established near a public road running across the end of [redacted] thereby enabling adequate bearings and elevations toward our site at Shepherdstown to be taken. The commercial engineers are presently studying the ground contour, elevation ranges and related data to determine the necessary antenna tower heights to be erected at our site at Shepherdstown and at [redacted]. The Bureau will be subsequently advised of their findings.

COPIES DESTROYED

- 10 SEP 30 1969 It was observed that the commercial engineers are proceeding on this installation in a rather haphazard manner, considerable time being consumed in setting up procedures which are rather elementary. It was also observed that several extensive military communications establishments are presently being constructed on various sites northwest of [redacted]. Several hundred rhombic antenna poles are located on one site with some land leveling having been completed. At [redacted] foundations are being laid for buildings and a well being drilled for a 150' water tank. These military communications installations lie only 6 1/2 miles from the Bureau's emergency relocation center. b7E

ACTION

This section will continue to follow the progress of Motorola, Inc. engineers in the establishment of the microwave radio network between the designated critical agencies.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended, because of the apparently extensive new military communications construction work being undertaken in the vicinity of [redacted] that the Liaison Section determine discreetly the actual extent of this operation in order that the Bureau can evaluate its significance relative to the Emergency Relocation center. <sup>b7E</sup>

DECLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY DERIVED FROM:
FBI AUTOMATIC DECLASSIFICATION GUIDE
DATE 4/14/2010

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Reference is made to this Agency's basic document dated October 8, 1951, submitted to the Honorable David E. Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President, which described in question and answer form detailed information pertaining to plans formulated for emergency operation at a predetermined relocation site outside of Washington, D. C.

The following information is to be considered as additional provisions subsequently formulated by this Agency which currently describes the referenced basic document.

A. TOTAL PERSONNEL:

WORLD-WIDE: 15,200

WASHINGTON, D. C. 5,000

B. EMERGENCY RELOCATION SITE:

The designated emergency site is Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, telephone 881 - 3712.

The readiness of this site for emergency operations is considered to be 100% on a marginal basis. Pre-alert maintenance and operation of the site is not considered necessary under existing conditions.

A map depicting routes between Washington, D. C. and the relocation site is attached.

C. TIMING AND MOVEMENT TO EMERGENCY SITE:-

President of Shepherd College will be telephonically advised concerning the immediate need for occupation of the college by this Agency in order that he can effect plans to evacuate the college staff and student body.

The Assistant Director in charge of evacuation will depart immediately to coordinate setting-up operations at the College. Emergency occupation will be effected within three hours after notice for evacuation has been issued. Travel time from this Agency's Headquarters in Washington, D. C. to the relocation site is approximately three hours.

ENCLOSURE

The head of this Agency will stay through the "red" alert during an initial surprise attack. In event predetermined information dictates that emergency measures be taken before attack, this Agency will follow the instructions issued by the White House in connection with effecting its plans for occupation of the relocation site. It is felt by the Agency head that so long as the heads of Government remain in Washington, it is essential that he remain in view of the responsibilities of this Bureau for the internal security of the country.

In the absence of Presidential instructions, no action will be taken to effect plans to occupy the relocation site during a "yellow" alert.

D. EVACUATION TO RELOCATION SITE:

The number of personnel scheduled to report to the relocation site for assignment to duty is 319. These employees are kept informed of all evacuation plans that will affect them, except for the identification of the relocation site.

Material necessary for emergency operation has been designated and set aside for immediate removal to the relocation site via trucks and automobiles. The relocation site is such that emergency supplies from their stock would be available upon arrival.

Employees will if time permits, proceed to their homes, pack and assemble at previously designated rally points for further transportation to site via government and personally-owned automobiles. Families and dependents of employees will not be moved to the relocation site. Arrangements have been made to provide for the needs of these individuals through designated key employees who are scheduled to remain in the headquarters area during the initial stages of war emergencies. Employees will not be instructed to travel to the relocation site during a "red" or "yellow" alert.

E. TOTAL EVACUATION OF AGENCY FROM WASHINGTON, D.C.:

A total of 605,978 square feet of floor space is presently utilized by this Agency in Washington, D. C. The relocation site provides for approximately 100,000 square feet of usable space.

In the event an extended emergency exists requiring all employees (stay behind) to evacuate Washington, D. C., existing plans make it possible to reassign these employees (approximately 5,000) to nearby relocation sites established by Bureau field divisions. This will provide for the complete administration of this Agency's duties during an extended total evacuation of Washington, D. C.

Employees are divided into geographical groups according to places of residence. In the event of an outbreak of actual warfare between the United States and any other nation or an invasion of the territory of the United States, all employees at that time will be instructed concerning specific duties and regulations that are to be adhered to during the initial emergency. Subsequent instructions will be issued to employees as exigencies occur.

All employees of the Bureau have knowledge of the plans pre-arranged for emergency functioning of the Bureau. Written instructions will be promptly distributed at inception of emergency to fit the needs at that time.

F. PERSONNEL IDENTIFICATION:

Bureau personnel in the Washington area are issued identification cards which are divided into the following types:

1. SPECIAL AGENT CREDENTIALS:

The District of Columbia Office of Civil Defense has advised that this credential will be honored during any type of Civil Defense limitations that may be enforced during an emergency.

2. CRITICAL CLERICAL EMPLOYEE PASSES:

The District of Columbia Office of Civil Defense will honor this pass when it is necessary for key clerical employees to reach their office during any type of emergency when Civil Defense restrictions are being enforced. The services of these employees are considered necessary in order that all segments of this Agency continually function during a

3. GENERAL EMPLOYEE PASSES:

All clerical employees other than critical clerical employees are issued passes which appropriately identify them as employees of this Agency. The District of Columbia Office of Civil Defense will not require persons to honor this pass when civil defense restrictions are being enforced with regard to travel. In event it is necessary to have the services of an employee possessing this type of pass during an emergency, a Special Agent will be dispatched to escort the employee to the point where the service is required.

Due to the fact that all Bureau employees are issued appropriate identification cards and also because of the Group Leader Plan which will serve to mobilize employees during any type of emergency, this Agency is not participating in the defense plan which calls for the registration of all Government employees in the Washington, D. C. area through the use of the U. S. Mail service. All employees will be urgently needed to perform emergency duties of an internal security nature in harmony with this Bureau's current responsibilities.

G. COMMUNICATIONS:

Telephone, teletype and radio facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Mobil radio equipment, including walkie-talkie, and automobile, as well as emergency generators are available at all terminal facilities.

A micro-wave terminal is planned at the site to connect with similar installations of other critical agencies. Construction is expected to begin in the near future. A temporary radio-telegraph circuit has been established at the relocation site for communication with the White House Signal Branch until such time as the micro-wave installations are completed.

In addition, an emergency radio telegraph system is available between Washington and the various field divisions as reflected in the attached chart "FBI Radio Communications Network."

At certain of the larger field divisions, 250 watt FM voice radio stations have been installed to provide communications for the control of investigative operations within the respective metropolitan areas. See attached chart "Installed and Approved FM 250 Watt Radio Station Systems."

This Agency also has in operation a teletype system between field divisions and headquarters in Washington, D. C. See attached chart "FBI Teletype Network."

Attached is information describing additional provisions to our basic document dated October 8, 1951, submitted to the Honorable David H. Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President. This information was requested by A. Russell Ash, Chairman, Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, in order that this Agency can study with a view to relating current provisions to final plans formulated for action of the President in the event of the emergency in question.

I had the opportunity to personally discuss the attached information with Mr. Ash (former Special Agent) in the presence of Special Agent O. H. Bartlett of the Liaison Section. Mr. Ash informed me that the attached material will adequately provide the President with information concerning our emergency relocation plans.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the attachments be approved and forwarded to Special Agent O. H. Bartlett for delivery to Mr. Ash no later than the close of business on September 10, 1952.

DATE: September 9, 1952

FROM : Mr. Conrad *Conrad*SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS
MICROWAVE RADIO EQUIPMENT*EMERGENCY NEED, VERIFIED FOR SUB*

The Bureau has been requested to furnish instructions for delivery of Microwave radio equipment being purchased as a part of the Critical Agencies Microwave Network from Motorola, Inc. Because of the highly confidential nature of the intended use of this equipment there is some question as to what instructions should be furnished for delivery of the equipment. At the time of the purchase of this equipment it was my belief that to afford maximum security it would have been desirable to make the purchase under a fictitious cover name. However, the Bureau did not feel that such precautions were necessary and accordingly the purchase was made in the name of the FBI. Since the purchase of the equipment was made in the Bureau's name it is believed that we now should request Motorola to make delivery directly to the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that Motorola, Inc., be advised to make delivery of this Microwave radio equipment directly to the Bureau.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this memorandum is to obtain a decision on what type of security clearance is necessary for employees of Motorola, Inc. who will of necessity deal with our ~~contract to purchase equipment for the Bureau's terminal in the Critical Agencies Microwave Network, which has been classified as "Security Information - Secret."~~ June 1964

BACKGROUND:

You will recall that the equipment for the Critical Agencies Microwave Network was engineered as a complete system by Motorola, Inc. to issue complete compatability of all individual terminals. [ ] has placed the contract with Motorola for equipment for the other agencies in the network except the FBI; however, as you know, it was the Bureau's decision that we negotiate our own contract with Motorola rather than to obtain our equipment from [ ] on a transfer of funds. Inasmuch as the contract for the Microwave equipment is in the name of the Bureau rather than a cover name, it is apparent that Motorola employees who deal with the contract will know that the FBI will be one of the participants in a Microwave system to be set up in the Washington area.

DEVELOPMENTS:

[redacted] of Motorola, Inc. who is negotiating the contract with [redacted] of the Department called my office to ascertain what precautions his company would have to take to comply fully with our security regulations. He was informed that the question would be referred to the appropriate officials and that he would be advised. [redacted] advised that a minimum of two and a maximum of six employees of Motorola would have to be cleared to allow handling of the contract. He stated that these same employees have previously had

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that a decision be made as to what type of clearance is necessary for the employees of Motorola, Inc. who will handle our Microwave contract. Inasmuch as the installations at some of the other locations are already under way it is suggested that this matter be given expeditious attention to avoid any delay in the furnishing of the equipment by Motorola.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Harbo RG
 FROM : I. W. Conrad IWC
 SUBJECT: ~~EMERGENCY PLANS MICROWAVE NETWORK~~
Emergency Microwave Plans For SOG

DATE: September 9, 1952

PURPOSE

To propose that the Bureau approve sending 2 technical employees of this section to Motorola, Inc, at Chicago for a period of 2 weeks to attend free of charge a special school designed to furnish maintenance, construction and technical procedures on Motorola microwave equipment which will be installed in the security agencies microwave network of which the Bureau is a part.

BACKGROUND

The President has directed the critical security agencies including the Bureau to establish a microwave radio network between the emergency relocation centers of these agencies. The Bureau has contracted for such equipment. Delivery is due very shortly. Motorola, Inc will install the equipment for the entire network including the Bureau. Inasmuch as we have no other microwave equipment at this time and further by virtue of the fact that microwave techniques, procedures, and technical maintenance departs from the usual radio trouble shooting techniques, it is imperative that we prepare to handle our maintenance responsibilities in this field. The curriculum of the school has been tailored to be most effective for those employees who will be responsible for the actual trouble shooting and maintenance of the equipment involved.

Motorola, Inc is offering a 2 weeks special maintenance school beginning on or about 9-22-52 in their Chicago, Illinois, plant free of charge to employees of those agencies which will receive Motorola microwave equipment assigned to this network. It is my belief that the Bureau should take advantage of this offer. In order to have some depth of personnel in this type of assignment, I believe 2 men from the section should be so trained at this school.

RECOMMENDATION

Accordingly, it is recommended that the Bureau approve sending SA G. L. Davy and Radio Engineer W. E. Stahl to the Motorola school at Chicago on or about 9-22-52 for the purpose outlined above. In the event approval is granted I will handle any further necessary arrangements with [redacted] of the local Motorola district office.

A meeting was held in the office of Russel Ash, Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee for Alert Planning in the National Security Resources Board, concerning the problem of tying the Critical Agencies Microwave System into the AT&T land line facilities during an emergency to provide maximum flexibility. After discussing the matter with Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section and Mr. McGuire of the Communications Section, the meeting was attended by A. J. Baker of the Laboratory.

It was proposed by [ ] of the Federal Civil Defense Administration that during an emergency much greater flexibility of communications could be had if arrangements were made to cross-connect the land line facilities into the microwave system. The various technical problems which would be involved were discussed at some length as well as the question of necessary coordination with the telephone company.

Mr. Ash advised that he would direct a memorandum to the members of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning with a request for each agency's views on a proposal for a representative from each agency to meet with [ ] of AT&T to discuss the problem.

It appears, from the Laboratory standpoint, that the cross-connecting of the land line facilities and the microwave system in an emergency would be a desirable feature, although it is recognized that certain other factors, such as security problems and the fact that the land lines to the Bureau relocation center are under the control of an independent telephone company rather than AT&T, must be taken into consideration.

Reference is made to my memorandum dated 9-16-52 outlining reasons why, and recommending that the Bureau furnish Motorola, Inc., Chicago, Illinois, a cover name to which the Bureau's microwave equipment could be shipped here in Washington. In accordance with your instructions [redacted] local Motorola representative handling the entire security agencies' microwave contract, was contacted and his opinion solicited concerning the shipment of FBI microwave equipment to the site at Shepherdstown as needed by Motorola. His reaction was negative on 2 counts: #1, FBI microwave equipment is an integral part of an entire microwave system which system is classified for security purposes. Shipping our portion of this network to Shepherdstown would locate geographically one of the operating points of this system. Motorola people at the factory handling crating, labeling and shipping would necessarily recognize this fact. This would jeopardize over-all security of the entire system. In this connection, [redacted] will have their portion delivered to a "drop" under a cover name. #2, Motorola Inc., cannot see how commercial billing could be satisfactorily handled insofar as the paper work was concerned with our fiscal people under the present contractual agreement wherein they will bill upon delivery. [redacted] was opposed to such a procedure for the above-stated reasons. Secondly, an inquiry was directed to him as to the use of Motorola as a cover name at the Redskin Building. [redacted] advised that this could not be done inasmuch as Motorola, Inc., does not do business of this type in the District of Columbia, therefore they would become liable to corporate tax requirements of the District if they ship material addressed as above.

[redacted] further advised that the equipment was going through final tests today with completion tonight. He stated the factory procedure was to ship such completed equipment within 24 hours. Accordingly, it is important from a liaison contact standpoint that we do all that we can to expedite shipping instructions to [redacted]

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated September 9, 1952, a copy of which is attached, recommending that delivery of the Microwave equipment be made directly to the Bureau. The memorandum was approved and the Chief Clerk's Office directed that the equipment be shipped to the Redskin Building storage space. This information was given to [redacted] of Motorola, Inc.

b6

This afternoon [redacted] called at my office and explained certain internal paper work procedures of the Motorola plant which put an entirely different light on the matter.

With every order a number of invoices are made up and used for various internal control functions in the plant. Each invoice bears a "Sold to:" and a "Ship to:" block. Since these papers float all around the factory it would be almost impossible to obtain a security clearance for all the people who might have occasion to see the invoice. [redacted] suggested that the "Sold to" block on the invoices be marked with a code number [redacted] which has been assigned to the project for production purposes in the plant. He further suggested that the "Ship to:" block bear some individuals name and the address of the warehouse in the Redskin Building.

b7C

If this procedure is followed, no employee in the Motorola Company will know that the FBI is buying the Microwave equipment except the few high-placed officials in the office who have access to the contract itself. A separate memorandum is being prepared concerning security clearances for these few people.

BUREAU OF PLANS EMERGENCY
HEADQUARTERS FOR E.O.G.

Mr. David H. Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President advised in his letter to the Director dated September 16, 1952, that the President had approved an emergency relocation plan for the executive branch in order to provide for continuity of essential activities in the event of attack, or in anticipation of attack, upon the Washington, D. C. area.

In response to the request made by Mr. Stowe during the month of September, 1951, the Bureau submitted to the President's Assistant on October 8, 1951, detailed information pertaining to our plans formulated for emergency operations at a predetermined relocation site outside of Washington, D. C. Subsequent information has been furnished to Mr. Russell Ash (former Special Agent) which described additional provisions subsequently formulated in connection with the Bureau's basic document. The most recent information submitted to Mr. Ash is dated September 10, 1952. Mr. Ash is Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, Executive Office of the President, National Security Resources Board, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Stowe advised that since our operation plans have already been formulated, the enclosures attached to his letter were intended for information purposes in order that we may consider the advisability of incorporating into our plans such portions of the over-all plan as is deemed necessary. In order to clarify this statement which I feel represents the thinking of Mr. Ash, the Committee on Alert Planning has to date received and reviewed the plans submitted by the following key critical agencies:

FBI.

b7E

. As a result, various portions of plans submitted by these Agencies have been incorporated in the Bulletin and Letter of Information forwarded to the Bureau by Mr. Stowe at this time. Our basic plan as well as the plans of the other key agencies have been approved by the President. Apparently the President has made the observation that there is a need for maximum coordination of emergency operations plans between the more sensitive departments and agencies.

It is felt that the receipt of Mr. Stowe's letter, which does not require an answer at this time with regard to the subject matter involved, should be acknowledged as soon as possible in conformity with the Director's policy concerning matters of this nature.

 Remy memo dated 4-15-52 concerning the stated need for additional storage space in the vicinity of Shepherdstown, West Virginia, to accommodate the installation of radio transmitting and receiving equipment presently on order and the Executives Conference approval dated 4-29-52.

A quantity of the above-mentioned equipment has arrived and is presently located in the new storage space at 9th and H Street, NW. Large transmitters, a part of this same order, will not be delivered for several months.

Accordingly, due to the necessity to curtail expenses plus the ready availability of space at the 9th and H storage building it will not be necessary for the Chief Clerk's office to arrange rental of storage space near the relocation center at present. Due to the poor security afforded the storage of relocation center communications equipment in Washington on a long-range basis, the question of acquiring additional storage space outside of the city will again be raised at the time of delivery of the large transmitters which in themselves will pose a space problem even in the new storage building.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the Chief Clerk's office be advised of the above change in emergency planning,
2. That the question of additional space be raised with them at a later date.

RELOCATION PLANS
FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

In order that you might be informed of the plans in effect by this Bureau for relocation in the event of an enemy attack on Washington, D. C., I wish to point out that in June, 1950, surveys were conducted of the surrounding areas on a most discreet basis to locate suitable quarters for the continuity of essential activities in the event of attack or in anticipation of attack upon the Washington, D. C. area.

As a result of these surveys this Bureau has perfected arrangements for continuing its activities at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, which is located 65 miles from Washington, D. C. by way of highways on the Maryland shore of the Potomac and 77 miles by roads on the Virginia shore. There are five highways converging from all directions into this town.

A representative of this Bureau appeared before the West Virginia State Board of Education on September 20, 1950, and in a closed session final arrangements were perfected which would permit the entire facilities of the college, both its grounds and buildings, to be made available immediately upon notice for emergency operations of this Bureau. [redacted] President of the College, was designated and empowered by the Board of Education to consummate arrangements with this Bureau in the implementation of these plans. As a result of these arrangements, communications equipment has been installed on a most confidential basis in buildings located on the campus and [redacted] and this Bureau are the only ones who are familiar with this arrangement and it is installed in such a manner that it can be placed into an immediate operation within an hour or two after occupation of this site by this Bureau. In addition, arrangements have been perfected with the owner of a nearby location for the setting up and operations of a micro-wave radio installation in order that our relocation headquarters can be in constant contact with the relocation centers of other key critical agencies.

EMERGENCY Headquarters 1-12 FIK 503

For record purposes, [ ] of the Long Lines Division of AT & T, contacted Mr. McGuire to inquire as to whether the discontinuance of Teletype Circuit 7040 (This is the West coast leased line teletype circuit which we discontinued) which had been disconnected also would mean the disconnection of the emergency standby teletype circuit from Shepherdstown, West Virginia, to our various Field Offices. [ ] was advised this was not so as the Bureau had merely ordered out Circuit 7040.

The standby link from Shepherdstown to the [ ] Test Room into the Baltimore Test Room was to stay intact as we would still, in an emergency, be able to reach our Field Divisions out of the Baltimore Test Room by TWX rather than by leased line.

[ ] stated he felt that was absolutely correct but he would have the matter checked thoroughly as it would require certain instructions of the Telephone Company to be revised in order to reflect the discontinuance of Circuit 7040 in so far as the emergency plans of the Bureau at Shepherdstown are concerned.

PURPOSE*Emergency Headquarters FOR SCB*

The purpose of this memorandum is to introduce some new information pertaining to the Bureau's pending microwave system plans which facts it is believed warrant re-evaluation at this time of the security level now desired at Shepherd College in light of the pending action now necessary, the present international situation, our security experience to date with the college administrative personnel and finally in light of SAC Letter 83 dated 8-29-52 concerning the critical shortage of funds. Re-evaluation at this time will necessarily direct the course of action to be taken with respect to the installation of the Bureau's microwave equipment presently on order.

BACKGROUND SUMMARY

As you know, the President has directed that the critical agencies provide microwave radio connections between their respective relocation headquarters which radio links will handle both telephone and teletype communications. Orders have been placed with Motorola, Inc. which company has the responsibility of engineering the network, installing the equipment, tower, antennas, and necessary buildings required. Delivery is scheduled for the very near future.

Telephone and teletype facilities for the Bureau's relocation center are established in a locked basement room in the main administrative building of Shepherd College. CW radio equipment is also located therein which can be broken out in an emergency and a receiving station established in the present girls dormitory with radio controlled CW transmitters located at a site some 6 miles distant. When plans for the microwave network were made known to the Bureau, because of the very tight security restrictions placed on the Bureau's connection with the college, it was considered impossible to place the microwave equipment on college property without jeopardizing such security. Accordingly, surveys were made at the vicinity of Shepherdstown for the purpose of locating a tentative site as close to the college buildings as possible (in order to keep the two 26 pair interconnecting cables between the microwave termination building and the basement room short in length). Such a tentative site was located on the Potts estate adjoining college property. A CW radio station acting as an interim emergency installation of the microwave equipment also was established in a small brick building on the Potts estate and is presently operated by Bureau radio personnel.

Subsequently the Motorola engineers conducted terrain surveys over the microwave path from the tentative Potts estate site to Fort

[redacted] in the vicinity of [redacted] where Bureau microwaves circuits tie into the Security Agencies Network. Their preliminary survey established that approximately a 100 foot steel antenna tower would be necessary on the Potts estate site in order to clear intervening hills and obstructions. On the basis of present plans of this project, the Motorola Company will install such a tower, along with a building to house the equipment, on the Potts estate site unless some alternate course is desired by the Bureau. b6 b7C b7E

Final engineering study to determine the exact location on the Potts estate has not been completed. Since the decision to locate on private property rather than on school property was based primarily on security factors, (namely the desire to limit knowledge of FBI interest in the school to [redacted] and the school Board, recognizing that the installation on private property would be somewhat more expensive) and since for reasons set out below, it is felt this security restriction properly may be relaxed at this time, it is considered desirable to raise at this time for review and reconsideration the question of whether final installation should be made on school property or on private property. b6 b7C

DISADVANTAGES TO LOCATING ON SCHOOL PROPERTY

The principal disadvantage to locating on school property is that such location would undoubtedly involve somewhat more extended knowledge of the Bureau's connection with the school. However, the following factors are pertinent in evaluating such relaxation:

1. Recent decision has been made by the National Security Resources Board to advise the necessary officials of the telephone company of the existence of the microwave system and the location of all relocation sites. This represents a practical relaxation of former security restriction although not accompanied by a corresponding down grade in classification.
2. The Bureau's plans have been furnished the White House and NSRB in detail and have received fairly wide dissemination in the various sub-committees of NSRB.
3. Appropriate officials of the Motorola Company, by virtue of their contract to install the microwave system for the various security agencies are aware of the microwave system plans and the general location of all relocation sites and their occupants.
4. Accordingly, the only major security factors involved

September 11, 1952

in moving on school property would be:

- a. permitting Motorola officials to know of FBI connection with the school (Motorola already knows FBI's plans to locate somewhere in Shepherdstown).
- b. a few additional school officials and teachers undoubtedly would become aware of FBI connection with the school and with the radio installation, although the general public would still be told only that the station was an installation of Motorola Company, in accordance with our presently arranged cover.

ADVANTAGES TO LOCATING ON SCHOOL PROPERTY

The primary advantages are an increase in physical security resulting from shorter wires and cables and an estimated reduction in cost of a few thousands dollars. Detailed items are listed as follows:

1. Cost of foundation and building to house the equipment would be eliminated.
2. Monthly recurring rental charges would be eliminated.
3. The uncertainty of tenure of Bureau emergency communications operations in this vital network on rented ground where our existence is at the whim of the land owner could possibly be eliminated by more firm arrangements with the college now that we have gotten along with them over a period of time in an agreeable manner.
4. More security from vandalism could be arranged at a lesser expense.
5. A short antenna tower on the roof of the Science Building, for example probably would suffice thereby effecting a savings.
6. The radio path from the school location to the   is believed to be technically superior. b7E
7. Interconnecting cables from the equipment to the basement room occupied by the Bureau would be short and secure from normal disruptive dangers otherwise inherent in running two 26 pair telephone cables through the town and country on telephone poles.

Memorandum to Mr. Harbo

September 11, 1952

8. There would be a considerable saving in power line expense in the event space could be located in a building suitable to accommodate the equipment.

RECOMMENDATION

Accordingly, in light of the above facts, it is recommended that the Bureau re-evaluate the desirability of establishing our radio equipment directly on the college grounds, prior to final installation. As indicated above, the major price paid would be a slight relaxation of security of the Bureau's plans and the major gain would be increased physical security and reduced cost. Preliminary engineering studies indicate the installation probably would be feasible on college property although the subject has not been given final engineering study since the question has not yet been raised with [redacted] It is my personal feeling that from the cooperation and security awareness evidenced by President [redacted] to date that location on school property would probably result in a minimum loss in security and a substantial savings in money. b6 b7C

ADDENDUM: DJP 9/22/52 - In view of the technical advantages which would accrue to place this on the college building, I favor this proposal, but only if it is not inconsistent with the commitments Mr. Glavin has made to [redacted] and the State Board of Education. The location on the Potts estate is still feasible but less desirable than on the college grounds. b6 b7C

ADDENDUM: RTH 10-1-52 - On October 1, the Executives Conference approved Mr. Parsons making a contact with [redacted] to ascertain whether he will agree to placing the microwave equipment on the college property. Present were Messrs. Tolson, Ladd, Glavin, Tracy, Mohr, Laughlin, Rosen, Mason, Gearty, Holloman, Nichols and Harbo.

Emergency Memorandum for Sec

Mr. Conrad's memorandum of September 11, 1952, recommended that consideration be given to the possible location of the Bureau's microwave equipment on the college property at Shepherdstown, W. Virginia.

On October 8, 1952, Mr. Millen and I talked with [redacted] and told him that we were exploring all possibilities before a definite decision was made on the location of our emergency equipment. He was obviously not enthusiastic about it being located on a college building or on college property. His principal reason was that in that quiet little hamlet, any mysterious structure might give rise to the feeling that Shepherdstown was becoming a strategic installation and this might affect the enrollment. He further offered that he thought locating it in a less conspicuous place than on college property would be a benefit to the Bureau's security. [redacted] did not give us a flat refusal at the time, but indicated that he would talk to one or more of the members of the State Board of Education and give us a final answer.

On Friday, October 10, [redacted] phoned me and said he had discussed this with the Board and they would prefer our not locating this installation on the college property.

On Friday, October 10, Mr. Millen and I talked to Mr. Llewellyn Potts, the owner of a private estate which adjoins the college property and where we now have our small CW station located. A lease previously has been negotiated with the Potts estate for the location of our microwave equipment in a pasture adjacent to the college property. Since negotiation of the original lease, new developments have indicated the desirability of moving the microwave site to a higher elevation on the Potts estate. The preferred location is within an apple orchard, but there is ample space to make the installation without disturbing any of the fruit trees. We pointed out to Mr. Potts that if the agreement could be changed to permit the installation in the orchard, there would be the definite advantage that a smaller tower could be utilized and the installation would be less conspicuous. He was very much in agreement with this proposal and said he would actually favor this change. He pointed out, of course, that his two sisters would have to be consulted since they were joint owners, but he felt there would be no objection on their part.

A final answer is expected from Mr. Potts in the next few days. Upon receipt of this information a definite recommendation can then be made on the location of the microwave equipment.

ADDENDUM: JWC 10/17/52

This morning a telephone call was received from [ ] who advised that after consultation, all owners of the estate were willing to make the change in the original lease, and, indeed, preferred our more recent choice of location.

b6

Accordingly, arrangements are being made for engineers to proceed to Shepherdstown Monday, accompanied by representatives from Motorola Company, to begin preliminary engineering work on the microwave installation.

ACTION: Appropriate recommendations for modification of the existing lease will be submitted immediately following the preliminary survey. It is not anticipated that there will be any change in rental because of the change in location.

SUBJECT: COORDINATION OF FBI WITH DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN THE EVENT

BUREAU WORK PLANS EMERGENCY #224-114-1506

The Director has inquired as to why there was delay in recommending a specific person to handle liaison with the Attorney General and the Department in the event the FBI has to evacuate Washington under emergency conditions.

In preparing the memorandum covering this matter, Mason should not have been so brief.

Actually, stay-behind personnel exists in every Division of the Bureau, with an appropriate chain of command, and persons designated to be in charge and to carry on liaison with their regular contacts in the Department of Justice. This has been in effect for many months.

Mason had deliberately delayed in initiating a recommendation for someone to carry on liaison with the Attorney General until there was a definite indication as to where the Attorney General will be located in an emergency. Information to the effect that the Attorney General would be located at the [redacted] was not learned by the Bureau until October 16 and then it came not from the Department, which is still formulating its plans, but from the National Security Resources Board, at the FBI's request.

b7E

It can still only be presumed that the Attorney General may be in Washington, for the President may order the Attorney General to accompany him to [redacted] in which event liaison will, as has been previously planned, be handled through the Bureau's Liaison Section.

To advise concerning receipt of microwave equipment shipment from Motorola, Inc., Chicago, Illinois.

BACKGROUND

Microwave radio equipment for the Bureau's emergency evacuation center and its corresponding terminals at [redacted] was purchased by the Bureau from Motorola, Inc., by negotiated contract. In order to maintain the ~~top secret~~ security level in the factory this equipment was manufactured and shipped to a fictitious name, [redacted]

In connection with installation of this radio link Motorola engineers will actually install the electronic equipment. Such engineers are in the city October 8, 9, 10 for the purpose of taking a preliminary look at the various microwave sites. A subcontract crew handling antenna tower erections has been working in the area of the other sites for approximately 2½ weeks. One of these crews is ready to proceed with guy anchors and antenna foundations on the Bureau site at such time as they are so directed. It is my understanding at the moment that all crews are working at [redacted] and will be there at least into next week.

SUMMARY

BUREAU WIRE PLANS
Emergency Microwave Site Lease for Site
 Motorola engineers, under contract to install Bureau's microwave radio station at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, as a part of the President's security agencies microwave network, have surveyed and approved a site on the Potts Estate which is higher in elevation and therefore technically superior than the original tentative site chosen. The owners agree to and prefer the proposed change in sites. Mr. Llewellyn Potts, owner living at the Estate, has examined the proposed tower and guy anchor locations in the orchard clearing and has given his unqualified approval as to the exact locations of these installations. Bureau now needs to modify present lease papers to include description of location change, statement covering extension of the power line to the site and a statement reflecting that the installation will not interfere with normal operation of the apple orchard. These changes have been made in attached proposed lease. Recommends that Chief Clerk's office execute lease for Bureau. Papers then to be sent to Potts Estate for signatures after which Motorola Company will be advised to proceed without delay on microwave tower and technical installation before bad weather is encountered in the mountains.

PURPOSE

To recommend expeditious Bureau approval on attached modification of present microwave site lease between Bureau and the Potts Estate at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

REFERENCE

Mr. Parsons memo to you dated 10-13-52 and my addendum of 10-17-52.

DEVELOPMENT

As pointed out in above-mentioned addendum, Bureau and Motorola engineers surveyed the proposed microwave site located in a clearing on the top of a high ridge in the apple orchard on the Potts Estate Monday, 10-20-52. From the engineering standpoint the Motorola engineers, who will erect and install the equipment, indicated a marked preference to the orchard site because of the increased elevation in ground level. A power line to serve the microwave building and associated equipment will have to be extended up the hill through the orchard by means of several poles. No problems of any consequence are anticipated in this regard. Technically, therefore, the Motorola Company engineers are well satisfied with the orchard site and would like permission to proceed immediately with construction of guy anchors, building and antenna bases. Construction crews are awaiting word to proceed. Location stakes have been driven for the tower and concrete guy anchors thereby completing all preliminary work necessary at the site prior to actual beginning of construction. As indicated in reference memo all owners are willing to change the site and as a matter of fact prefer the orchard location. The only requirement stipulated was that the proposed tower and guy cables not interfere with the spraying and harvesting of the apple crop. Accordingly, upon completion of the transit work by the engineers and the driving of the stakes marking anchor and tower sites, Mr. Llewellyn Potts was taken to the site to examine the proposed locations with specific reference to the apple trees. Mr. Potts stated he was perfectly in agreement with the locations as staked out and thought it would be "ideal for all parties concerned."

A proposed modified lease has been drawn up by this section following exactly the original lease with the exception of including reference to the changed site location, extension of power line facilities and restriction on interference with maintenance of the apple orchard. A rough sketch of the site location with reference to the Potts water tank has also been prepared and is attached to the proposed lease.

RECOMMENDATION

Accordingly, it is recommended that the attached modified lease be executed by the Chief Clerk's office for the Bureau as was the previous document. Upon completion it should be returned to the Radio and Electrical Section as soon as possible in order that it can be taken to Shenherdstown, West Virginia, signed by Mr. Llewellyn Potts and mailed expeditiously to the 2 sisters who are now in New York City. As soon as their signatures have been affixed and the Bureau is so notified this section will be in a position to advise Motorola to proceed with the construction without delay in order to complete the installation before inclement weather is experienced in the mountains.

Federal Bureau of Investigation
U. S. Department of Justice
9th and Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D. C.

Gentlemen:

We hereby grant you permission subject however to the conditions, agreements and limitations hereinafter stated, to erect, install, maintain, service and operate at your own cost, expense and risk and without cost, expense or damage to us or our property whatever, a radio tower and a small building of the approximate size of 11 x 12 feet, on our property known as the Potts Estate at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

1. This agreement shall be in force from month to month from and after the date of acceptance hereof. This agreement may be terminated by either party by written notice delivered by such party to the other party at least 90 days prior to the effective date of such termination. All notices pursuant to the provisions of this instrument shall be deemed to be duly given if delivered to the Potts Estate, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, or the Federal Bureau of Investigation, U. S. Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., as the case may be.

2. The building and radio tower shall be erected by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the clearing adjacent to the water tank in the apple orchard on the Potts Estate. It is agreed that these facilities shall be erected in such a manner as not to interfere with the hauling, spraying or other necessary operations in conjunction with caring for and harvesting the apple crop..

3. Until such building and radio tower are installed and in operation, we agree that the Federal Bureau of Investigation may have use of the small brick two-bedroom house located on our property to house radio equipment.

4. Notwithstanding any other provision in this letter, we have the right at any time for any reason whatsoever to terminate or revoke said permission granted to you hereunder. In the event that said permission shall at any time be terminated or revoked by us, you shall thereupon within 90 days at your own expense and risk and without cost, expense, damage or injury to us or our property, remove said building and radio tower erected on our property along with equipment installed by you and restore the property where they had been located to its original condition.

5. In consideration for providing the plot of ground on our property and permitting the erection of the proposed building and radio tower, the Federal Bureau of Investigation agrees to pay to the Potts Estate the sum of $25.00 per month during the period that this agreement is in force.

6. The Federal Bureau of Investigation agrees to obtain a separate metering facility for the electric power consumed at the site and we agree to permit the installation of necessary power poles and power wires subject to the same general conditions with regard to the apple crop set out under paragraph number 2 above.

7. We agree that personnel of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is to have access to the proposed building and radio tower.

Please indicate your acceptance of all the terms and conditions of this letter by signing a copy of this letter at the appropriate space at the bottom and returning it to us. This letter shall not be effective until the receipt by us of such copy of letter containing your written acceptance.

Yours very truly,

Mr. Llewellyn Potts

TO : MR. TOLSON ✓
 FROM : THE EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE

DATE: 10/17/52

SUBJECT: LIAISON WITH DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IN EVENT OF EVACUATION

Emergency Headquarters For F.G.

The Executives Conference on 10/17/52, Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Tracy, Harbo, Mohr, Belmont, Ladd, Rosen, Gearty, Nichols & Clegg being present, considered the matter of liaison with the Department of Justice in the event the Justice Building was destroyed or untenable and the Department moved its headquarters to the [redacted] Building in nearby Virginia, while the FBI was at its evacuation center about 2 hours' travel time removed from Washington.

The Executives Conference unanimously recommended that in the event of such evacuation both by the Bureau and by the Department that the liaison representative with the Department be Mr. E. H. Winterrowd, now assigned to the Investigative Division as Number One Man of the Criminal Section and Special Inquiry Section. As alternate Mr. J. R. Malley, assigned to the Investigative Division as Number One Man of the Accounting, Fraud, Selective Service and Civil Section, was recommended.

In the event the FBI selected staff had gone to its evacuation point and the Department continued to stay in the Department of Justice Building, and the remainder of the FBI Staff not at the evacuation point was also at the Department of Justice Building, the senior representative of each division would continue to carry on its normal conferences on routine matters with the Attorneys of the Department just as Messrs. Rosen, Belmont, and their assistants are handling such contacts at present.

If the Department moves to [redacted] building, then Mr. Winterrowd, or his alternate Mr. Malley, as above recommended, would make those necessary contacts with the Department as instructed by the Director or other Bureau officials.

It is desired that you obtain a set of West Virginia license plates for a passenger vehicle through your regular source and forward same to the Bureau, attention Laboratory.

The plates will be needed on a continuing basis to provide cover for a car from the SOG going into West Virginia in connection with the Bureau's emergency planning.

NOTE: Above request being made based on oral discussion with Mr. Parsons. It is anticipated that frequent trips will necessarily be made to Shepherdstown in connection with the microwave installation and it is believed that D.C. plates will attract considerable attention in the isolated rural community of Shepherdstown.

0 Bureau Way Plans Auxiliary SPACE FOR S.O.G.

The Conference considered whether the basic facts of the Bureau's evacuation plans should be made available to the SACs in New York, Los Angeles, and Chicago, who are listed in the Bureau's Chain of Command. The Chain of Command consists of the following people in the order named: The Director, Mr. Tolson, Mr. Ladd, Mr. Nichols, the Assistant Directors stationed at the Seat of Government, Assistant Director Connelley, the SACs of New York, Los Angeles and Chicago.

All members present except Mr. Mason felt it undesirable to advise the above-listed SACs because of the possibility that these men will be transferred, and the Chain of Command covers the position of SAC in the above-listed places and not the individual presently serving at that place.

Mr. Mason felt that since it is a possibility that a bombing attack might kill all the members of the Chain of Command residing in Washington and that Assistant Director Connelley might be in Washington or unavailable to assume command, it would be desirable for the above-mentioned SACs to know of the Bureau's basic evacuation plans. He pointed out that at present they have not been informed of the evacuation site or the duties which will be performed at that place.

This matter is being held in abeyance pending the Director's decision.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

Reference is made to my memorandum dated 10/13/52 indicating the status of the items being considered in connection with the possible evacuation from Washington.

All items have been completed with the exception of the following:

(1) Communications

The contract for the micro-wave equipment, which will link the critical agencies in their evacuation quarters, has been awarded to the Motorola Company and delivery has been made except for the tower. [redacted] of the Administrative Division stated that a representative of the Motorola Company has advised that the tower has been shipped from Sioux City, Iowa and should be delivered in the very near future.

On 11/12/52, Mr. I. W. Conrad of the Laboratory advised by memorandum that one of the owners of the property where the equipment was to be located has now objected to the use of the land for this installation. Conrad has recommended that inquiries be made by the Pittsburgh Office to secure another suitable location for the installation of the equipment. This matter has been handled by the Laboratory.

(2) First Aid

First aid training classes at the Seat of Government have been abolished for the rest of the fiscal year as an economy measure.

RECORDED-94
EX-120

In connection with certain phases of the Bureau's war plans the Bureau desires to locate storage space for radio equipment in a Federal building at Martinsburg, West Virginia, if possible. It is desired that you promptly ascertain whether storage space is available at the Post Office Building at Martinsburg or in other Federal space in that city. At present the Bureau would need a minimum of 200 square feet and it is anticipated that as additional equipment is received from the manufacturer the Bureau will need an additional 2,000 square feet between now and June 30, 1953. It is desired that a discreet inquiry be made concerning the availability of part or all of the space needed at Martinsburg. If the desired space is not available in that city similar inquiries should be made concerning the availability of space in Federal buildings in other cities in that portion of the State. This matter should be given prompt attention and your reply should be marked for the attention of the FBI Laboratory.

RTH:VH

This pertains to the storage of emergency radio equipment which is on order for storage to be held for possible use at the Bureau's alternate headquarters.

PURPOSE

To advise Chief Clerk's office of necessity to immediately obtain for security reasons storage space in vicinity of Shepherdstown, West Virginia, for purpose of storage emergency radio equipment recently delivered.

BACKGROUND

Remymemo 9-26-52 relative to the storage of such emergency radio equipment.

DETAILS

Additional radio equipment for emergency radio station at the Bureau's emergency evacuation center has been received and is being held in Washington at 9th and H Streets, Northwest and in the Department of Justice Building pending removal by Chief Clerk's office to a safe area. This equipment is contained in 34 wooden crates with a total displacement of 814 cubic feet. Of course, some of this equipment such as generators cannot be stacked thereby necessitating additional floor space. Some crates weigh between 2000 and 3000 pounds. Attached is a breakdown of the boxes presently on hand showing physical dimensions.

Since the above equipment was ordered for storage at or near Shepherdstown to provide communication from our relocation center in the event Washington became untenable due to enemy action and since the above equipment consists solely of items which would be difficult or time-consuming or impossible to replace in the event they were lost due to bombings, it is my position that they are not serving the intended purpose for which they were purchased unless they are physically stored at Shepherdstown or another point remote from Washington. Some of this order such as 3 kw transmitters, Rhombic antenna kits and teletype machines have not been delivered; however, this does not in any way change the necessity securitywise to remove equipment presently on hand from the Washington area as rapidly as arrangements can be effected by the Chief Clerk's office. F

RECOMMENDATION

Accordingly, it is recommended that storage space in the vicinity of Shepherdstown be secured by the Chief Clerk's office for the purpose indicated. In my opinion Clinton and Quantico are undesirable because they also are at or near military targets.

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated September 19, 1952, Bureau file #62-86157-250, wherein information received from Mr. David H. Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President relating to emergency relocation plans was generalized for the Director.

Referral/Consult

The provisions contained in each document are set forth below with comments concerning particular aspects bearing on our basic plans for the continuity of operations on a short term basis in the event that it becomes necessary to evacuate Washington, D. C.

Mr. Stowe advised that since our operation plans have already been formulated, the following documents are intended for information purposes in order that we can consider the advisability of incorporating into our plans such portions of the over-all plan as is deemed necessary.

Referral/Consult

Bureau Plans

The designated emergency site is Shepherd College, Shepherds-town, West Virginia. The readiness of this site for emergency operations is considered to be 100% on a marginal basis. It will require 3 hours to become operational. A force of 519 key headquarters personnel are presently designated to staff the relocation site. The relocation site will permit additional expansion of most essential functions over an extended period. In addition, if and when an extended emergency exists which requires all employees (stay behinds) to evacuate Washington, D. C., divisional plans make it possible to reassign these employees (approximately 5,000) to relocation sites established by Bureau field divisions. This will provide for the full administration of our essential duties on a decentralized basis during an extended total evacuation of Washington, D. C.

Remarks:

It is felt that our basic plans previously submitted to the White House adequately meet the requirements of the "short-term" provisions.

Bureau Plans:

Referral/Consult

Plans for expansion of full operation on a decentralized basis from relocation sites formulated by nearby field divisions mentioned above under the "Short-Term Plans" appears to be adequate at this time in the absence of further instructions concerning NSRB plans for Long-Term planning.

Remarks:

No further planning necessary until detailed instructions received from NSRB.

Referral/Consult

Bureau Plans:

Referral/Consult

A force of 519 key headquarters employees will move into the relocation site to carry on essential duties during a temporary emergency. Remaining employees (approximately 5,000) will stay behind to continue the over-all duties of the Bureau until such time as the Nation's capitol becomes uninhabitable.

Telephone, teletype and radio facilities will be available between relocation site and operations in Washington. Micro-wave communication is in process of planning making available communication between the White House, other key security agencies, and the FBI relocation site in the event land or air-wave mediums are destroyed.

Bureau Plans:

Referral/Consult

The Director will stay through the red and yellow alerts during an initial surprise attack. In event pre-determined information dictates that emergency measures be taken before attack, the Director will follow the instructions issued by the White House in connection with effecting its plans for occupation of the relocation site. The Director feels that he should remain in view of the responsibilities of the Bureau for the internal security of the country.

Staffing our relocation site with employees outside of Washington, D. C., in the event that becomes necessary is not provided for in our basic plans.

Remarks:

Consideration should be given to the advisability of including the SAC at Baltimore (who is the nearest field official to our emergency relocation site), in our plans for emergency relocation operations to the extent of advising personnel in these offices that it may be necessary to evacuate them to another point to perform emergency duties. Further that the SACs in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Richmond be advised that the SAC at Baltimore will in the event it becomes necessary issue instructions to them for the utilization of their personnel both in headquarters and Resident Agencies to staff the Bureau's relocation site. (see attached map).

In the event that our plans are amended to provide for staffing outside of Washington the Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning will be advised accordingly.

Remarks:

No inspection of the Bureau's relocation site has been made by the GSA to date.

Bureau Plans:

Referral/Consult

Readiness of our site for emergency operations is considered to be 100 per cent on a marginal basis. Pre-alert maintenance and operation of site is not considered necessary at present.

Bureau Plans:

Referral/Consult

Evacuation of key employees to relocation site will be via Bureau and private owned vehicles. All personnel are issued appropriate passes identifying each as employees of the Bureau. The Civil Defense authorities will honor all Special Agent credentials under any condition of emergency. Clerical passes generally will not be honored by Civil Defense authorities when effecting travel restrictions. Evacuation plans provide that a Special Agent be assigned to each vehicle moving equipment and/or personnel to our emergency site.

Bureau Plans

Essential records and equipment necessary to carry out vital duties during a limited emergency have been ear-marked on a divisional basis for immediate transportation to the relocation site.

The Bureau has in operation a teletype system between field divisions and headquarters operations; a micro-wave terminal is in process of completion at our relocation site to connect with other critical agencies; telephone, teletype and radio facilities installed at the site but not activated; and mobile radio equipment, including walkie-talkie and automobile voice transmitters and receivers. Post attack transportation will be via Bureau and private owned equipment and heavy trucking facilities arranged for through GSA.

[Redacted]

Bureau Plans:

Referral/Consult

Due to the fact that all Bureau employees are issued appropriate identification cards and also because of the Group Leader Plan which will serve to mobilize employees during any type of emergency, the Bureau is not participating in the defense plan which calls for the registration of all Government employees in the Washington, D. to totally evacuate Washington, D. C. headquarters, employees will be dispersed to inland field divisions or to their relocation sites. Seat of Government employees are not specifically scheduled to move into field division offices under existing plans. Details of field plans have not been discussed with GSA.

Remarks:

It is felt that maximum security for emergency planning requires that we continue to handle emergency planning in the field on the basis of Bureau responsibility of keeping the Chairman, Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, Executive Office of the President, National Security Resources Board, advised at all times of any changes to the basic plan.

Bureau Plans:

Referral/Consult

The above provision for relocation sites for headquarters and field divisions have been formulated independent of GSA. Problems concerning supplies and equipment which are needed over an extended emergency will be discussed if necessary with GSA.

Remarks:

Present procedure of developing plans through the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, Executive Office of the President, National Security Resources Board, should be following in lieu of dealing with GSA.

Bureau personnel in the Washington area are issued identification cards which are divided into the following types:

1. SPECIAL AGENT CREDENTIALS:

The District of Columbia Office of Civil Defense has advised that this credential will be honored during any type of Civil Defense limitations that may be enforced during an emergency.

2. CRITICAL CLERICAL EMPLOYEE PASSES:

The District of Columbia Office of Civil Defense will honor this pass when it is necessary for key clerical employees to reach their office during any type of emergency when Civil Defense restrictions are being enforced. The services of these employees are considered necessary in order that all segments of Bureau operations can efficiently function during a limited emergency.

3. CLERICAL EMPLOYEE PASSES:

All clerical employees other than critical clerical employees are issued passes which appropriately identify them as employees of this Agency. The District of Columbia Office of Civil Defense will not require Wardens to honor this pass when civil defense restrictions are being enforced with regard to travel. In the event it is necessary to have the services of an employee possessing this type of pass during an emergency, a Special Agent will be dispatched to escort the employee to the point where the service is required.

This Agency has requested the District of Columbia Office of Civil Defense for the issuance of an appropriate pass which will identify [redacted] as a liaison official between this Agency and the [redacted]. It is considered necessary that [redacted] have unrestricted travel during an emergency between his home and office which is located in the Department of Justice Building. b6 b7C b7D

Remarks:

It is felt that the Bureau plans outlined above which have been approved by the Ad Hoc Committee provides for us the opportunity of maintaining confidential the names of our employees. The procedure of issuing passes through Civil Defense authorities would result in making the names of Bureau employees generally known. The basic planning of the Ad Hoc Committee for key critical agencies would be defeated. No further action is necessary concerning this phase of emergency planning.

States and any other nation or an invasion of the Territory of the United States, all employees at that time will be instructed concerning specific duties and regulations that are to be adhered to during the initial emergency. Subsequent instructions will be issued to employees as exigencies occur.

Due to the fact that all Bureau employees are issued appropriate identification cards and also because of the Group Leader Plan which will serve to mobilize employees during any type of emergency, the Bureau is not participating in the defense plan which calls for the registration of all Government employees in the Washington, D. All employees will be urgently needed to perform emergency duties of an internal security nature in harmony with this Bureau's current responsibilities.

All employees of the Bureau have knowledge of the plans promulgated for emergency functioning of the Bureau. Written instructions will be promptly distributed at inception of emergency to fit the needs at that time.

GENERAL CONCLUSION:

Our basic plans which were submitted to and approved by the President through the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, are considered to be adequate and in no need at this time to have incorporated portions of reference communications. One possible exception is the reference to developing plans that will provide alternate supervision and staffing of our relocation site from employees presently assigned outside of Washington (see page 5 of this memorandum item "E" - Delegation of Authority).

ACTION:

Proposed plans are being developed in cooperation with all Divisions to formulate provisions for supervision and staffing our relocation site from sources outside of Washington in the event that after a heavy surprise attack, personnel working or living in Washington who are scheduled for evacuation might not be available for the adequate staffing of relocation functions. These plans will be submitted for the Executives Conference consideration when completed.

EX-54

In connection with certain phases of the Bureau's war plans, it is necessary for the Bureau to erect in the immediate vicinity of Shepherdstown, W. Va. a high frequency radio station known as a "Microwave" Station. At the present time it is desired that your office ascertain the ownership of the high land located in the triangular section of Shepherdstown, contained between state roads #45 and #48. It is noted that the municipal water tank is located in this area and that a substantial part of the high elevation is covered by an extensive orchard purported to be owned by a Goldsborough family. For your information it is expected that it will be necessary to erect a metal tower approximately 100 ft. in height, and accordingly primary interest centers on points of highest elevation in order to hold the height of the tower to this figure. The Bureau would not be interested in ownership of the lower lots fronting along the highway since on such premises a tower of approximately 200 ft. would probably be required. Guying of the necessary tower will require a total ground area of approximately 75 ft. radius about the base of the tower. The area in the immediate vicinity of the municipal water tank is considered reasonably satisfactory for the desired purpose.

The above information is furnished for background only. It is desired that you not approach the owners at this time in order to secure permission to use the land, but only that you ascertain who owns the areas in question, and that you develop sufficient information covering the background of such owners as to permit the Bureau to decide whether one or more of them may be approached.

Installation of the above equipment is part of a program which has been classified as ~~top secret~~. Therefore your inquiry should be most discreet, and the matter should receive most expeditious attention.

SYNOPSIS

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.
 One of the 3 owners of the Potts estate at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, where the Bureau has been negotiating for a site on which to place its microwave radio station, now disagrees with the other 2 owners regarding desirability of placing station on property. College property represented the #1 choice but it is not available. The Potts estate is the only suitable adjoining land to the school and it appears not to be available because of one of the 3 owners fearing it might hamper sale of the property. A third site area farther away is less desirable but the only one left without locating an excessive distance from the school. Recommends Resident Agent ascertain data as to land owners in this area so Bureau can consider approaching owners in effort to rent land and establish station.

DETAILS

You will recall that our plans heretofore have called for erecting a microwave radio communications station on the so-called Potts estate which is immediately adjacent to Shepherd College property, Shepherd College being the Bureau's chosen relocation headquarters. A detailed actual engineering survey by Motorola Company engineers from the proposed Potts site has reflected that, since the military changed their station site, a somewhat higher tower than originally anticipated would be required in order to provide the necessary line-of-sight path to the military installation northwest of Sharpsburg. As you know, the town of Shepherdstown is considerably lower than the surrounding terrain. In an effort to reduce the necessary height of the microwave tower, exploration has been made of other areas on the Potts estate and a second site selected which we initially were advised was actually preferred by the 3 owners of the property. However, upon presenting a modified lease for signature, we now have been advised by [redacted] the co-owner residing in New York City, that she does not agree with the other 2 co-owners and that the second site selected is not satisfactory to her.

 You will recall, in this connection that Mr. Llewellyn Potts, who resides on the Potts estate, has been most cooperative from the very beginning and has repeatedly expressed his belief that utilization of either site by the Bureau was not objectionable in any way. The third co-owner, [redacted] who also resides on the property, likewise has been very friendly and cooperative although she is guided more by the view of [redacted] than she is by the views of her brother, Mr. Potts. [ ] latest position is that for a variety of reasons she is not at all happy with the proposal to establish the radio station on the Potts estate. She points out that the 3 co-owners will undoubtedly immediately sell the property as a unit upon the death of an aged aunt who resides on the estate and she feels that the radio installation would jeopardize such sale. This is not a new argument and, indeed, was advanced by [ ] at the time of the initial contact. It was reiterated to [ ] that under the terms of the lease the Bureau, upon 90 days notice, would remove the installation and restore the premises to their original condition. [ ] in replying indicated that nevertheless she felt that going ahead with the installation at any point on the property was undesirable. b6

While [ ] has used the increased height of the required microwave tower as a partial excuse for her position, we in the radio unit who have talked to the owners during the various stages of negotiations are convinced that her objections are much deeper and stem originally from a desire not to do anything which would in any way jeopardize the immediate sale of the property or detract from obtaining the maximum monetary value from such a sale. Since it now appears that [ ] has been somewhat unhappy over the entire proposal from the beginning, it is now considered that we should not press the installation on the Potts estate further and that we should immediately seek a new site. In attempting to place permanent type radio station equipment and towers on rented land at any new site we will, of course, again be subject to the desires, convenience and general inclination of the owner. b6
b7C

In summary, it is noted that the school property which represented our #1 choice from an over-all standpoint is not available to us since college authorities are not willing to permit such an installation. The Potts estate which represented our #2 choice from the standpoint of desirability likewise does not appear to be available in view of the position taken by co-owner [ ]. In this connection, it is noted that all other property adjoining the school premises is either in the downtown congested business area or is low ground sloping to the river, and in either case completely unsuited for the installation of microwave equipment, it being noted that microwave communications requires a free, line-of-site pathway between transmitting towers. There is only one other general area in the immediate vicinity of Shepherdstown which can be considered reasonably satisfactory from a b6 technical standpoint, if we are to avoid having to run either our own or a leased telephone cable a mile or more from Shepherd College property to the microwave station. (Two 26 pair telephone cables are required.) This #3 choice is the triangular area between state roads #45 and #48, containing the municipal water tank and an extensive orchard farm reported to be owned by a Goldsborough family.

RECOMMENDATION

Accordingly, it is recommended that immediate inquiries be made by the appropriate Resident Agency covering this area to ascertain pertinent data pertaining to the owners of the high land in the triangular section mentioned, in order that the Bureau may consider approaching one or more of the owners with a view toward erecting the necessary microwave station there.

There are attached for convenient reference 3 maps. Map #1 shows the detailed vicinity of Shepherdstown; map #2 shows the location of Shepherdstown with relation to Washington, D. C., and map #3 reflects relation of eastern area with regard to U.S. as a whole.

Your attention is called to item two of the specification which describes the radio communications receivers (general coverage) to be furnished. The general description of the unit to be supplied states that each unit must be supplied in a table model cabinet and further that each unit must be furnished complete with speaker.

This is to advise that to date neither the cabinets nor the speakers have been received. Please advise whether these items have been shipped, and if so advise the shipping details in order that we may

Regarding no number SAC letter dated September 17, 1952, there is attached an itemized list of office supplies which are boxed and stored in the Supply Section for the use of the Records Section in the event of an emergency. These supplies would be forwarded to the Evacuation Headquarters for the use of the Records Section.

In view of instructions in reference letter, these supplies can be uncrated and returned to the Bureau's supply room for use in the Bureau.

put back in stock

In addition, the Records Section has 500 rounds of service ammunition, 50 gas masks, 20 blackjacks, 3 large first aid kits, and one dozen flashlights which have been maintained for emergency purposes that can also be declared surplus at the present time.

Rec Sec Keep

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Administrative Division cause the above supplies to be returned to the Bureau's Supply Section if they can be utilized by the Bureau.

Reference is made to my memorandum dated 11/13/52 indicating the status of the items being considered in connection with the possible evacuation from Washington.

All items have been completed with the exception of the following:

1. Communications

[ ] of the Administrative Division has advised that the Motorola Company has delivered all of the micro-wave equipment which will link the critical agencies in their evacuation quarters.

b6
b7c

Mr. Parsons of the Laboratory has advised that the survey has been made to locate a suitable site on which to place this equipment. All sites within a radius of one mile from evacuation quarters have been eliminated for various reasons. He has made arrangements with the New York Office to recontact one of the owners of the Potts Estate, where we had originally planned to locate the equipment, to determine if she is now agreeable to giving a lease for the use of the Estate to locate this equipment. This matter is being handled by the Laboratory.

2. First Aid

First aid training classes at the Seat of Government have been abolished for the rest of the fiscal year as an economy measure.

Major General Carl R. Gray, Jr.
Administrator
Veterans Administration
Washington, D. C.

Dear General Gray:

Recently Special Agent John L. Quigley of this Bureau spoke with you concerning the possibility of obtaining storage facilities for the Federal Bureau of Investigation located within a reasonable distance of Washington, D. C. where field operating equipment can be securely maintained.

Pursuant to your thoughtful suggestion to Agent Quigley, the following information has been prepared by our technical staff:

LOCATION - Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration Center, Martinsburg, West Virginia.

TOTAL SPACE REQUIRED - 2,000 square feet.

TOTAL WEIGHT - Approximately 100,000 pounds.

COMPONENT DESCRIPTION - Equipment is packed in crates some of which weigh in excess of 2,000 pounds. The smallest dimension of the wooden crates involved measure 30 inches. The character of the equipment contained within the crates is such that a comparatively dry storage condition must exist at all times.

REMARKS - Due to the weight and size of the crates, it appears that space on the ground floor will suffice in the event elevator facilities and oversized doors are not available to handle this type of freight service to upper floors.

I do want you to know how much I appreciate your efforts in assisting me to solve our problem at an early date.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

SYNOPSIS Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space for S.O.G.

Approximately 2000 sq. ft. of storage space capable of supporting approximately 100,000 pounds of equipment will be needed. Equipment includes individual crates weighing over 2300 pounds making ground floor space or adequate freight elevator facilities necessary. Equipment also includes crate with smallest dimension of 50 inches necessitating space with over size door. Equipment delivered as of this date requires approximately 300 sq. ft. of space and weighs approximately 15,000 pounds. Bulk of remainder should be delivered within 30 to 60 days.

REFERENCE

Re memo Mr. Keay to Mr. Belmont dated 12-12-52.

DETAILS

Reference memo indicates need for information as to approximate size and weight of material to be stored at the Newton D. Baker VA Center near Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

Approximately 2000 sq. ft. of storage space capable of supporting approximately 100,000 pounds of equipment is needed. It is pointed out that some of the crates weigh in excess of 2000 pounds each which makes it necessary either that the space be located on the ground floor or that adequate freight elevator facilities are available. It is further pointed out that some of the individual crates are rather large, for example the smallest dimension of one transmitter crate is 50" which means that selected space must have over size doors to allow moving the equipment in and out.

All the equipment has not been received; however, estimated delivery dates indicate that the bulk of the remainder should be delivered within another 30 to 60 days. The equipment on hand as of this date requires approximately 300 sq. ft. of space and weighs approximately 15,000 pounds.

RECOMMENDATION

That this memo be referred to the Administrative Division for assistance in negotiating for storage space at the Newton D. Baker VA Center near Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary Space for S. O. G.

SYNOPSIS

Possibility of arranging with the Veterans' Administration through General Carl R. Gray, Jr., Administrator, for suitable storage space for emergency radio equipment at the Newton D. Baker VA Center in the vicinity of Martinsburg, West Virginia.

BACKGROUND

General Gray has requested a formal communication from the Bureau, stating therein the location, amount of space required, and approximate size and weight of materials to be stored.

DETAILS

As you know, the security afforded our plans for relocation of our activities in the event of an emergency is classified as top secret. The knowledge at this time of limited information concerning storage space, even in the possession of the Veterans Administration, may jeopardize the over-all plans of the White House for relocating other key critical agencies. It is believed necessary that any formal written request made of General Gray be very circumspect concerning the need for storage space in the general vicinity of Shepherdstown, West Virginia, which is our designated relocation site. It is felt that the attached letter to General Gray should be delivered to him personally, at which time he should be advised that any arrangements made concerning storage should be held in strict confidence by those under his jurisdiction who may be responsible to carry out the details of this matter. Adequate security measures which can be followed by the Veterans Administration and the Bureau concerning the storage of this material should be discussed with the General.

RECOMMENDATION

That the attached letter be approved and forwarded directly to General Gray through our Liaison Section.

SYNOPSIS:Bureau War Plans Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.

General Gray, Veterans' Administration (VA), advised space at Newton D. Baker VA Center vicinity Martinsburg, West ~~in Conrad~~ Virginia, would be available to Bureau for storage of emergency Bureau equipment. However, was desirous of having a formal letter making such request which should include details as to exact location and amount of space needed together with approximate size and weight of materials to be stored. Recommendation: For your information and referral to Laboratory Division for action.

DETAILS:

Reference is made to Mr. Conrad's memorandum of December 1, 1952, to Mr. Harbo concerning the obtaining of storage space at the Newton D. Baker VA Center in the vicinity of Martinsburg, West Virginia.

Mr. Quigley of the Liaison Section contacted General Carl R. Gray, Jr., Administrator, VA, on December 9, 1952, concerning this matter. He advised that he would make such space available to the Bureau for storage of emergency equipment. However, he would like to have a formal communication making such a request which should state specifically the location and amount of space needed together with the approximate size and weight of the materials to be stored in order that his staff could determine if the space selected could hold such weight.

RECOMMENDATION:

For your information and referral to the Laboratory Division for action.

Rebureau dated 11/5/52.

SA WILLIAM J. KUBASTA, Resident Agent at Martinsburg, W. Va., made the following inquiries:

It was discreetly ascertained from [redacted] U. S. Post Office and Federal Building, Martinsburg, W. Va., in which building the Martinsburg Resident Agency is located, that there are two available store rooms located on the fourth floor and additional space is available in the attic of this building for storage purposes. Inspection of the available space disclosed that the two store rooms located on the fourth floor are approximately 18 by 30 feet each. Additional space of about 40 by 35 feet is available in the attic, but this room must be kept available for building use for storage and also to permit employees to raise and lower the American flag. As a matter of information, the elevator in this building runs only to the third floor which would necessitate carrying the equipment approximately 20 steps to the fourth floor and an additional 6 steps to the attic, if utilized. The ceilings in the two available store rooms are approximately 15 feet high.

No contact was made with [redacted] Postmaster, since he bears the reputation of being very inquisitive, and his reliability may be subject to question. It is rumored that with the change of administration he may be removed from office.

Located only 4 1/2 miles directly east of Martinsburg, W. Va., on State Route No. 9, between Martinsburg and Charles Town, W. Va., is the Newton D. Baker V. A. Center. At the present time there are many wards closed up and from conversation with [redacted] Newton D. Baker V. A. Center, additional wards will be closed in the near future due to a decrease in the Veterans Administration appropriation. From a standpoint of moving and handling bulky equipment, the V. A. Center would make a more convenient storage location.

There are no other Federally owned buildings in the eastern section of West Virginia near Martinsburg, which would be suitable for storage due to their size. However, the Bureau's attention is called to the fact that the States of Maryland and Virginia surround the Martinsburg section of West Virginia. Hagerstown, Maryland, and Winchester, Virginia, which both have Federal Buildings, may have available space, and are both located approximately 22 miles from Martinsburg, W. Va.

Reference is made to the attached letter from SAC Pittsburgh setting forth the results of discreet inquiry by the Resident Agent at Martinsburg, W. Va. concerning the availability of storage space for emergency radio equipment in the vicinity of Shepherdstown, W. Va.

It is believed that the available space in the Post Office would be unsuitable due to the lack of elevator service, in view of the fact that much of the equipment to be stored consists of crates weighing 2 or 3 thousand pounds.

It appears that space at the Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration Center would serve the purpose very well and from the information available to the Radio & Electrical Section it would appear desirable to try to make the necessary arrangements to utilize the available space for storage of our emergency equipment.

RECOMMENDATION:

Unless some policy reason exists to the contrary, it is recommended that the Chief Clerk's Office enter into negotiations with the Veterans Administration to secure storage space for radio equipment for the emergency headquarters at Shepherdstown.

SYNOPSIS

Logical sites for immediate installation of microwave station in close proximity to our alternate headquarters at Shepherdstown have been eliminated as unusable, and to install the microwave facilities at this time would necessitate obtaining a site approximately a mile or more from Shepherd's College. This would require running telephone cables from the microwave site to the college which in terms of distance would be a substantial percentage of the eight mile path from Shepherdstown to the microwave terminal point near Sharpsburg. Since the entire plant at Shepherdstown is not on an occupied or "ready" basis it is recommended that the microwave equipment be held in storage until an actual emergency occurs and that 4 telephone lines be leased from our switchboard at Shepherd's College to the microwave terminal near Sharpsburg. It is pointed out that it would take from a few weeks to 60 days to install the microwave equipment; however, the leased lines would give us limited access to the microwave network immediately upon setting up headquarters at Shepherdstown. The relative advantages and disadvantages of the proposal are set forth hereinafter in detail for consideration.

REFERENCE

Reference my memo to you dated 11/12/52.

BACKGROUND

The referenced memorandum pointed out that the school property itself which represented the number one choice for our microwave station was not available since college authorities are not willing to permit such an installation. It was pointed out further that the number two choice, the Potts estate, was likewise unavailable in view of the position taken by co-owner [redacted]. The number three choice, a high ridge of ground in an apple orchard belonging to a Mr. E. Lee Goldsborough is considered eliminated also due to security reasons. A check of our files reveals that Mr. Goldsborough's [redacted] who resides on the property was on friendly terms with Duncan Lee, a principal subject in the Silvermaster Case and presently the subject of an espionage investigation. This situation is being treated separately in another memorandum.

Since all the logical sites within close proximity have been eliminated as unusable, it appears that in order to install the microwave facilities at this time it would be necessary to obtain a site approximately a mile or more from Shepherd's College. Inasmuch as the operations point at the college must be connected to the microwave equipment by means of two leased 26 pair telephone cables this would mean that the cable run would be not only an expensive proposition but also a substantial portion of the distance from the relocation center to the microwave terminal at Sharpsburg which is approximately 8 miles. It is pointed out that the reason for the microwave system is to eliminate the necessity for depending on telephone cables which is considered more vulnerable to enemy action than radio signals.

In view of this situation, coupled with the fact that the entire plant at Shepherdstown is in a "storage" status rather than a "ready-to-go" condition, it appears that it would be reasonable to put the microwave equipment in storage and not make the actual installation until the actual emergency occurs. Since the installation is a complicated one and would require from a few weeks to 60 days or more to complete, such a plan would not be feasible without some immediate access to the critical agencies microwave network at least on a limited basis. This could best be handled by leasing four telephone lines from the college to the microwave terminal near Sharpsburg. This would permit at least limited communication with other critical agencies over the microwave system until our microwave equipment could be installed. This course of action would necessarily be an integral part of the proposal to store the microwave equipment at this time.

This course of action appears to be a good compromise between a completely "ready-to-go" system and a complete lack of back-up communications facilities to other critical agencies. The equipment would be on hand when needed which would eliminate the biggest drawback to setting up radio communications after the emergency actually arises. You will recall that we have adopted a similar course of action in connection with radio equipment for our own CW emergency network.

The primary advantages and disadvantages of this course of action are set out below for consideration:

ADVANTAGES

- (1) Would provide maximum flexibility in the event the Bureau should actually go to a different relocation center or should a different alternate headquarters be selected in advance.
- (2) At time of emergency, we will occupy the school and the adjoining land. We will then be in position to choose the best possible site for the microwave installation, i.e., right on the school property immediately adjacent to building housing our switchboard, teletypes etc.
- (3) Unless suitable land were purchased, and we install the station at this time on rented property we would be tenants subject to the whim of the lessor and could conceivably have to move the station many times over the next several years.
- (4) Would eliminate the security problem we would have if the station were installed now at an unguarded and unoccupied location out away from town.

DISADVANTAGES

(1) The primary disadvantage would be the few weeks to 60 days delay in placing the equipment in operation; this could be partially overcome by the four leased lines to Sharpsburg which would provide limited communication in the interim.

(2) The Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning will probably oppose the "non-ready" status since their desire is to advise the President that the emergency communication system is all set up and ready to go. However, the rest of our plant at Shepherdstown is in a storage condition and our position on the microwave station would not be inconsistent with our other plans. Of course, should the White House order completion of the system we would simply go out farther from town until a suitable microwave site could be obtained and have the necessary interconnecting cables installed.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that:

(1) The microwave equipment be held in storage until emergency conditions require evacuation to Shepherdstown.

(2) Four telephone lines from the college at Shepherdstown to the microwave terminal near Sharpsburg, Maryland be leased from the telephone company.

X Conf recommends.

In connection with the possible erection of the Bureau's microwave station on the Goldsborough property at Shepherdstown, W. Va., a name check disclosed a close association between [REDACTED] and DUNCAN LEE, a principal subject in the Silvermaster Espionage Case. In view of this the Radio & Electrical Section feels that no further action should be taken to utilize this property.

PURPOSE:

To set forth the security aspects involved in considering the Goldsborough property at Shepherdstown, W. Va., as a site for the Bureau's terminal in the critical agencies top secret microwave network.

BACKGROUND:

Following the establishment of the critical agencies microwave network, it became necessary for the Bureau to locate a suitable site for its microwave terminal. The first choice, on the property of Shepherds College, was unacceptable to the school authorities. The second most desirable site, on the Pott's Estate adjacent to the school property, was fully explored but was abandoned due to the unwillingness of one of the owners to permit the installation. The third choice was a high spot of ground in an apple orchard on the estate of Mr. E. LEE GOLDSBOROUGH, approximately one-half mile from Shepherds College.

DETAILS:

Prior to making any contact concerning the property under consideration at Shepherdstown, W. Va., the Pittsburgh Office was requested to ascertain discreetly the ownership. Accordingly, it

The search produced no additional information and Agent ZANDER stated that he did not associate the name of [REDACTED] with DUNCAN LEE. b6 b7C

Special Agent THOMAS A. Agent MENDENHALL advised that he did not recollect the name of [REDACTED] in conjunction with DUNCAN LEE. Agent MENDENHALL was unable to state if a possible relationship existed between DUNCAN LEE and E. LEE GOLDSBOROUGH, but did state that DUNCAN LEE has [REDACTED] an employee of the State Department. b6 b7C

It would appear that if prosecution of DUNCAN LEE should occur, [the GOLDSBOROUGH family might become character witnesses in the trial and thus create a situation that could result in embarrassment to the Bureau, inasmuch as, the other critical agencies in the microwave network will know where the Bureau microwave equipment is located.] (X)

Reference is made to my memorandum dated 12-15-52, indicating the status of the items being considered in connection with possible evacuation from Washington.

All items have been completed with the exception of the following:

(1) COMMUNICATIONS:

The microwave equipment which will link the critical agencies in their evacuation quarters has been delivered.

Mr. Parsons of the Laboratory has advised that negotiations are still under way to obtain a lease for a portion of the Potts estate on which to locate this equipment. Informed that this matter should be cleared up within two or three weeks. The delay in the negotiations has been caused by the death of the husband of one of the owners of the estate.

(2) FIRST AID:

First-aid training courses at the Seat of Government have been abolished for the rest of the fiscal year as an economy measure.

(3) DESTRUCTION OF FILES:

A plan is being worked out to set up a priority system for the destruction of files should the military situation make it necessary. This matter is being handled by Inspector Vechery. nd

EMERGENCY RELOCATION PLANNING - SECURITY AGENCIES
(Communications)

Reference is made to your Secret memorandum, dated December 18, 1952, with attachment, to Mr. O. H. Bartlett of this Bureau, captioned Emergency Relocation Planning - Security Agencies (Communications).

In response to your inquiry, 1. (a), concerning the need for retention of a terminal of the inter-Security Agency microwave network at a location in the Washington area for use during the pre-emergency period, please be advised that at the present time this Bureau has no need for these facilities since, as you have been previously advised, it is not anticipated that our relocation center will be occupied during a pre-emergency period.

In regard to your inquiry, 1 (b), this Bureau does not desire to finance a land line tie-in with the proposed microwave terminal in the Washington area at the present time.

Concerning the single agency system maintenance program, please be advised that this Bureau concurs in the proposed maintenance procedures as outlined in your memorandum and the attachment thereto.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Harbo

DATE: January 5, 1953

FROM : Mr. Conrad

SUBJECT: SECURITY AGENCIES MICROWAVE SYSTEMBureau Wbr Plans Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.SYNOPSIS:

Mr. A. Russell Ash, Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on alert planning, by memorandum dated December 18, 1952, to Mr. O. H. Bartlett, the Bureau's representative on this Committee, asked to be advised of the Bureau's comments on the following two points:

1. (a) The need for retention of a terminal of the Security Agencies Microwave Network in the Washington area during the pre-emergency period.
- (b) The desire of the Bureau to finance land line tie-in with such a terminal.

2. The desirability of adopting a single agency system maintenance program for the network to handle at their expense)

These questions have been studied in the Laboratory and the following comments in respect to the above points are recommended:

1. (a) Since the Bureau does not intend to occupy its relocation site during the pre-emergency period, we have no need for access to a terminal of the Microwave Network in the Washington area.
- (b) The Bureau does not desire to finance land line tie-in with such a terminal for the same reason set forth in 1 (a) above.

2. The Bureau concurs in the proposal for a single agency system maintenance program as outlined in the attachment to the referenced memorandum.

It is noted that the Bureau will retain full responsibility for its own microwave station and the system. maintenance crew will be called in to assist in problems involving simultaneous adjustment of our equipment along with that of another agency.

A suggested letter to Mr. Ash is attached for approval.

PURPOSE:

To recommend appropriate Bureau comments in response to a request from the Ad Hoc Committee on alert planning concerning the Security Agencies' Microwave Network.

REFERENCE:

Reference is made to the attached memorandum from Mr. A. Russell Ash, Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning to Mr. O. H. Bartlett, the Bureau's representative on the Ad Hoc Committee, dated December 18, 1952.

DETAILS:

The referenced memorandum requests the Bureau's comments on the following points:

1. (a) The need for the retention of a terminal of the Security Agencies Microwave Network in the Washington area during the pre-emergency period.
(b) The desire of the Bureau to finance land line tie-in with such a terminal.

2. The desirability of adopting a single agency system maintenance program for the network [ ] b7E to handle at their expense).

In regard to the first point, this question arises from the fact that the Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) has decided to increase the capacity of their microwave circuits between [ ] and to discontinue the use of their offices in [ ] b7E as a microwave communications center. They have proposed to either move the microwave relay equipment they have presently installed at [redacted] or, in the event the other agencies see a need for the present Washington area installation, to leave it for them and buy new equipment for [redacted]. If this is done they expect the other agencies to pay for the new equipment for [redacted]. FCDA representatives have tried very hard to convince the other agencies that they need the [redacted] terminal and it is obvious that they would like to have the other agencies take over their old equipment and pay for new equipment for installation at [redacted].

Inasmuch as the Bureau does not intend to occupy the relocation center during the pre-emergency period there appears to be no particular need for the [redacted] terminal as far as the Bureau is concerned.

It is noted that at the meeting of the Ad Hoc Committee on December 17, 1952, when the subject was discussed in general terms, although some of the other agencies expressed the opinion that it might be desirable to keep the [redacted] terminal, it was indicated that they had no desire to finance FCDA's expansion at [redacted].

b7E

It is likewise believed that there would be no particular benefit derived to the Bureau by financing land line tie-in to a terminal in the Washington area for use during the pre-emergency period, since we will not go to Shepherdstown during the pre-emergency period and inasmuch as we already have both land line and radio communication to the White House from the Justice Building.

In regard to point 2, the single agency system maintenance program, it is believed that the proposal outlined in the attachment to the referenced memorandum is a desirable one.

As pointed out in the proposal, a system maintenance program is essential in a network involving different agencies since proper operation depends on certain circuit adjustments being performed simultaneously at the separate locations.

6/8/56

It is noted that the individual agencies will retain complete responsibility over their own installations and will work with the system maintenance crew only on adjustment problems affecting other stations in the network.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Bureau's comments on the questions posed in the referenced memorandum be as follows:

1. (a) Since the Bureau does not intend to occupy its relocation site during the pre-emergency period, we have no need for access to a terminal of the Microwave Network in the Washington area.

(b) The Bureau does not desire to finance land line tie-in with such a terminal for the same reason as set forth in 1 (a) above.

2! The Bureau concurs in the proposed single agency system maintenance program.

A suggested letter to Mr. Ash is attached for approval. Upon approval the letter should be forwarded to Mr. O. H. Bartlett, Room 7647, for personal delivery to Mr. Ash.

SYNOPSIS:

Attached NSRB Bulletin 53-3 "Continuity of Government" submitted to the Bureau by A. Russell Ash, Chairman Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning dated January 7, 1953, was reviewed since it dealt with emergency relocation planning. The provisions contained in this document were previously analyzed by the Bureau on November 5, 1952 (see attachment) as set forth in NSRB Bulletin 53-1 received by the Bureau on September 16, 1952. There appears to be no need to incorporate portions of reference Bulletin NSRB 53-3 in our present emergency relocation site plans.

PURPOSE

To determine whether certain aspects of NSRB Bulletin 53-3 contains information which should be incorporated in our Emergency Relocation Plans.

BACKGROUND

The Bureau has been closely working with the Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning which Committee to date has accepted our present plan for emergency operations at our relocation site.

DETAILS

NSRB Bulletin 53-3 is intended to assist departments and agencies of the Executive Branch in completing their short-term emergency phase of plans dealing with the continuity of essential functions customarily performed at the Seat of Government.

Since the Bureau's emergency operation plans have already been formulated in cooperation with the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning and since these plans have been accepted by the President (White House Communication to the Director, FBI dated September 16, 1952, Bureau file 62-86157-250) there is no need to have incorporated portions of reference Bulletin NSRB 53-3 in our present emergency relocation plans.

SYNOPSIS

Arrangement with the Veterans Administration for suitable storage space for emergency radio equipment at the Newton D. Baker VA Center in the vicinity of Martinsburg, West Virginia, has been perfected with Mr. Wales E. Finnegan, Manager of the Center subject to the Bureau signing a permit for the use of approximately 2500 square feet of warehouse space.

BACKGROUND

In connection with the formulation of relocation site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, the Bureau requires approximately 2500 square feet of storage space to house emergency radio equipment that will be used at the site in the event the Bureau is required to operate outside of Washington, D. C. The nearest storage space available is at the Newton D. Baker VA Center which is approximately seven miles from our relocation site and approximately 70 miles from Washington, D. C. Preliminary arrangements were made with General Carl R. Gray, Jr., Administrator, Veterans Administrations, through Bureau liaison to have this matter discussed further with his office.

DETAILS

On January 22, 1953, Special Agent Arthur Baker, FBI Laboratory, and Special Agents R. C. Renneberger and L. J. Gauthier of the Administrative Division visited the Newton D. Baker VA Center in the company of Colonel William Z. Bowie, Director Real Estate Service, Veterans Administration, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C. code 139, extension 2485, Room 3074, for the purpose of ascertaining what space might be available which could be used by the Bureau for storage.

The following officials at the VA Center were contacted in connection with this visit: Wales E. Finnegan, Manager, Martinsburg, West Virginia, 8941; [redacted] Assistant Manager; and [redacted] Supply Officer. These men were very cooperative in their efforts to obtain suitable storage space for the Bureau. The most adequate and suitable space obtainable in the opinion of Baker, Renneberger and Gauthier was building #312. This building is a one story, brick-constructed warehouse. The building is approximately 50' by 150'. An area of 50' x 50' within this building is walled off with a wooden partition having two locked access doors. Windows and doors opening into this area are protected by heavy metal grills. The space is further serviced by loading ramps requiring no elevators to be used in handling the equipment. The floor consists of a cement slab on ground level which will sustain weights in excess of 2,000 pounds per square foot. All doors are large enough to permit passage of the largest crate involved. The room is heated and is considered dry throughout the seasons to insure against damage from dampness and/or outside elements. The security is considered to be maximum. A watchman makes checks throughout the evening hours. The warehouse is situated well within the hospital grounds. The VA Center is completely circumscribed by a hurricane wire fence. Entrance to the grounds is controlled through a guard house at the main entrance. Colonel Bowie informed the above-mentioned individuals of the requirement to keep this matter in absolute confidence.

ACTION

Colonel Bowie informed Mr. Finnegan that no lease will be necessary and that if the Bureau desired to utilize this space, arrangements will be made by the Bureau direct with him and all that will be necessary is to have the FBI sign the usual permit. Mr. Finnegan was advised that the space appeared to be adequate and we would notify him officially in the near future concerning the acceptance of his kind offer to be of help to us.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that Bureau authority be granted for a representative of the Administrative Division to sign whatever permit is required by the Veterans Administration Center in order that specific arrangements can be made by the Laboratory and Mr. Finnegan for the storage of supplies at the Center in the near future.

of Bureau War Plans- Emergency Headquarters For S.O.G.

SYNOPSIS

The Bureau has been formulating emergency relocation site plans in cooperation with the President's Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning for key critical agencies, also known as sensitive operations, of the Federal Government. These plans have been accepted by the President (White House Communication to the Director, FBI dated September 16, 1952, Bureau file 62-86157-250). NSRB Bulletins are issued from time to time to both key critical agencies and other Departments and Agencies of the Executive Branch of the Government for the purpose of assisting in formulating plans for the continuity of essential functions customarily performed at the Seat of Government. Our basic plans are analyzed against provisions contained in such NSRB Bulletins for the purpose of maintaining such plans within the general requirements of the over-all plans promulgated by the NSRB where applicable.

PURPOSE

Referral/Consult

To present a proposed plan for alternate staffing of the FBI Relocation Site with employees outside of Washington, D. C. to the Assistant Directors of each Division for their views and for final action by the Executives Conference.

RECORDED - 44

BACKGROUND

INDEXED - 44

The Bureau is considered by the President as one of several key (sensitive) critical agencies and as such, plans have been formulated by the Bureau in cooperation with the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning. Our basic plans have been completed and accepted by the Ad Hoc Committee. One provisions which the Committee stresses is the need to provide alternate supervision and staffing of relocation sites with employees presently living and working outside Washington, D. C. Our plans presently call for some 519 employees living and working in Washington to staff our relocation site in an emergency. Our plan does not provide alternate measures.

LJG:gt 56 JUN 23 1953

2-2115 Exa of new 5-19-53 WJH

ACTION

Attached proposed plans and SAC Letter have been generally formulated whereby field divisions will effect plans to activate our relocation site in the event a very heavy surprise attack on the Washington area makes our initial plans to staff the site with employees working and living in this area impossible of execution.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended:

1. That the War Plan Coordinator in each Division study the attached plan for the purpose of describing specific aspects of divisional responsibility which will be of help to the field in the event our relocation site had to be activated by nearby SACs.

2. That the Domestic Intelligence Division consider the problems that would result relative to effecting the Detcom program by the Washington Field Office in the event a very heavy surprise attack resulted in the investigative personnel of the Washington Field Office working and living in the metropolitan area not being available for the adequate continuity of operations.

FROM : V. P. Keay

SUBJECT: CONTINUITY OF GOVERNMENT FOLLOWING ATTACK D.C.SYNOPSIS: Bureau War Plans Emergency Headquarters
FOR S.O.G.

On February 5, 1953, the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, National Security Resources Board (NSRB) briefed representatives of the White House concerning the Continuity of Government following Attack. Included in this group was Governor Val Peterson and Mr. James C. Hagerty, the President's Press Secretary.

DETAILS:

On February 5, 1953, Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section was requested to attend a meeting of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning at the NSRB for the purpose of briefing White House personnel on the subject of Continuity of Government following Attack. This meeting took place at 2 p.m. in the office of Mr. A. Russell Ash, Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, in the Executive Office Building. In addition to the regular members of the Committee, the White House representatives were as follows:

Governor Val Peterson, Administrative Assistant to the President

Mr. James C. Hagerty, Press Secretary to the President

Mr. Murray Snyder, Assistant to Mr. Hagerty

Colonel Carroll, Aide to the President

Mr. Ash outlined to the assembled group the plans that were presently in effect concerning the operations of Government after attack on the part of the security agencies, including the Bureau, as well as the proposed operations of the mobilization agencies.

As you know, these security agencies

The present plans call for 4,877 personnel of the security agencies to immediately report to emergency headquarters following attack to continue operations. The mobilization agencies,

Dear General Gray:

I do want you to know how much I appreciate the fine cooperation extended by your office in assisting me to resolve the problem of obtaining suitable storage space for the official use of this Bureau in the vicinity of Martinsburg, West Virginia. Colonel William Z. Bowie of your office extended considerable effort conferring with my staff for the purpose of working out details involved. The Colonel's efforts are personally appreciated.

The provisions contained in the memorandum of agreement, No. VI001, SR-239, shall be strictly adhered to and further, whenever this Bureau has no further need for this storage space, your office will be advised immediately.

Sincerely yours,

John Edgar Hoover

There is attached hereto a memorandum of agreement with the Veterans Administration for the use of certain storage space by the Bureau at the Veterans Administration Center, Martinsburg, West Virginia. Approximately 2500 square feet of storage space is needed to house emergency radio equipment that will be required whenever it becomes necessary to activate our relocation site. General Carl R. Gray, Jr., Administrator, Veterans Administration, has available space at the Martinsburg Center and this agreement permits the Bureau the use of this space without cost.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended:

1. That the Laboratory make whatever arrangements necessary with Mr. Finnegan, Manager of the Veterans Center for the early storage of equipment.
2. That the attached letter to General Gray be approved.

SYNOPSIS

SA Arthur J. Baker of the Laboratory was instructed to interview [redacted] (nee [redacted]) for purpose of resolving her objections to installation of FBI terminal of Security Agencies Microwave System on the Potts estate, adjacent to Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia. Interview conducted Friday afternoon 1-30-53. Details of proposed installation were discussed thoroughly with [redacted] in an effort to determine specifically the basis for her previous objections. It was ascertained that her principal objection boiled down to the fact that she felt, in view of the size of the proposed installation, that more rental should be paid than the $300 per year which was originally discussed. She also felt that the exposed guy wires presented a safety hazard. As a result of discussions, [redacted] agreed to the proposed installation provided that the two exposed guy anchors be fenced in to eliminate any possible safety hazard and provided further that a rental of $700 per year (payable quarterly in advance) be paid. [redacted] was very cordial throughout the interview and seemed to be entirely sympathetic to the Bureau's needs but maintained that the stipulated rental was necessary to insure the estate against possible loss of revenue from the apple orchard and to compensate adequately for the inconvenience, etc. It is pointed out, however, that the possibility exists that the rental may be increased from time to time in the future as has been the case in some of our other rented radio station sites. If the Bureau approves the above leasing arrangement the Laboratory can supply the necessary changes in wording to the previously proposed agreement for submission to the Potts family for signing.

b7CPURPOSE

To report the results of interview with [redacted] one of the owners of the Potts estate at Shepherdstown, concerning the installation of the Bureau's terminal of the Security Agencies Microwave System on the Potts property.

b6
b7CREFERENCE

Reference is made to my memo dated 12-5-52 pointing out the difficulties encountered in locating our microwave station in the immediate vicinity of Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

Memorandum to Mr. Harbo

February 3, 1953

BACKGROUND

You will recall that negotiations with the Potts family for the erection of our microwave station on their property fell through when one of the co-owners, [redacted] would not agree to the proposed installation. Since other possible sites in the immediate vicinity were unusable for one reason or another, I suggested in my memorandum dated 12-5-52 the possibility of storing the microwave equipment and renting four leased telephone lines from the College at Shepherdstown to the military microwave terminal near Sharpsburg, Maryland, as an interim measure. b6 b7C

As you know, Mr. Tolson then instructed that an Agent talk to [redacted] personally for the purpose of convincing her that the FBI should be permitted to install its microwave station and tower in the Potts apple orchard. Since [redacted] was in New York at the time, on December 15 the New York office was instructed to have supervisor Tom Spencer contact [redacted] for a person-to-person discussion. [redacted] husband had been ill for some time and died on December 22. Due to the illness and death of her husband, [redacted] has been extremely busy and Spencer has been unable to see her. b6 b7C

On Friday, January 30, New York advised that [redacted] had gone back to Shepherdstown for the week-end and was then going on a vacation in Florida for approximately a month. In order to resolve the matter without further delay, SA Arthur J. Baker of the Radio and Electrical Section was instructed to contact [redacted] immediately in an effort to reach a satisfactory agreement on the matter. b6 b7C

DETAILS

Accordingly, on Friday afternoon, January 30, Baker proceeded to Shepherdstown to talk to [redacted]. The details of the proposed installation were discussed thoroughly with [redacted] in an effort to determine specifically the basis for her previous objections. It was ascertained that her principal objection boiled down to the fact that she felt, in view of the size of the proposed installation, that more rental should be paid than the $300 per year which was originally discussed. She also felt that the exposed guy wires might possibly constitute a safety hazard. b6 b7C

As a result of further discussion, [redacted] agreed to the proposed installation, provided that the two exposed guy anchors be fenced in to eliminate the possible safety hazards and provided further that a rental of $700 a year (payable quarterly in advance) be paid. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that such an arrangement would be entirely satisfactory and that the only reason the Bureau might have to move at

February 3, 1953

some future date would be if they decided to sell the property and removal of the station became necessary in order to make a satisfactory sale. She stated further that if such became necessary they would give us a minimum of 3 months notice. Mr. Llewellyn Potts and [redacted] the other two owners, were present during the discussions and each expressed complete agreement with [redacted]

b6

[redacted] was very cordial throughout the interview and seemed to be entirely sympathetic to the Bureau's needs but maintained that the stipulated rental was necessary to insure the estate against possible loss of revenue from the apple orchard and to compensate adequately for the inconvenience, etc. Agreement on the basis of increased rental represents a definite modification of the attitude of [redacted] inasmuch as she definitely indicated in prior discussions that rental was not a primary factor in her objection to FBI occupancy.

It is noted that the Bureau is presently paying the Potts family $300 per year rental for use of one room in a brick outbuilding on the estate where we have our emergency CW station set up for communication with the critical agencies. As you know, the CW station is an interim measure which, according to present plans, we would continue to maintain until such time as the microwave station is installed and operating.

It is pointed out that the possibility exists that the rental again may be increased from time to time in the future as has been the case with our other rented radio station sites at Anchorage, San Diego and in Washington. However, since it has been the policy to rent rather than purchase land for such purposes it appears that such possibility need not be a bar to the renting of the site on the Potts estate.

ACTION

If the Bureau approves the rental of the apple orchard site on the Potts estate for the Bureau's microwave station in accordance with the terms stipulated by [redacted] the Laboratory will supply the necessary changes to the originally proposed agreement for transmittal to the Potts family for signature.

b6
b7C

It is suggested that prior to final approval, a representative from the Administrative Division and a representative from the Records and Communications Division may wish to inspect the proposed site in order to insure that the space is satisfactory from their respective standpoints.

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary SPACE FOR S.O.G.

SYNOPSIS

Memo outlines present status of microwave installation at Shepherdstown from standpoint of money already committed, (approximately $47,528.29), the estimated cost needed to place the microwave station itself in operation on a test basis ($2200 to $3700), a suggested additional rough estimate of expense which may be necessary to connect the microwave station into Shepherd College buildings on a traffic handling basis (approximately $9000). This latter figure of $9000 can vary greatly since it depends to a great extent on the amount of teletype equipment estimated to be needed. (The simplest teletype set costs approximately $1000 per machine.)

PURPOSE

In accordance with your request, to point out status of microwave installation at Shepherdstown and to present estimate of costs involved to complete the installation.

DETAILS

You will recall that on 10-15-51 the Executives Conference approved the installation of a 10 channel microwave station to be installed at Shepherdstown to tie in to the security agencies microwave system at an estimated cost of approximately $50,000.

A contract totaling $47,528.29 has been placed which covers the microwave equipment, multiplexing equipment, prefabricated building, antennas and antenna tower for the installation at Shepherdstown. This contract also covers the installation work to be done by Motorola. This contract is some $10,000 or $12,000 higher than originally anticipated as subsequent to the time the Bureau decided to buy its equipment direct rather than using a common pool of equipment purchased by   (see Executives Conference memo dated 5-8-52),   advised that they would be unable to furnish all of the equipment needed at the tie-in point, and the Bureau had to purchase the necessary equipment to make the Bureau part of the circuit complete. Prior to this time it had been indicated that the FBI would be required to purchase only the terminal equipment at Shepherdstown with   furnishing the necessary equipment at either   or  . This will probably have the effect of increasing the cost somewhat above the original $50,000 estimate, since the estimate was based on the earlier understanding. Although the contract totaling $47,528.29 already has been placed, the actual charge may be substantially less since the $47,528.29 represents a maximum figure for which the government can be held liable, and certain contract provisions depending upon amount of labor involved could cause the figure to be substantially smaller.

Immediate installation of the station on the Potts estate would require additional expenditure of from $2700 to $3400, depending upon the cost of power service. Inasmuch as the Potts estate has not been approved as a site, no contact has been made with the local power company for estimates for, obvious security reasons. It could normally be expected that the power lines could be run in for approximately $500; however, due to the rocky terrain involved this figure could run up as high as $2000. The other costs involved may be broken down as follows:

Power	$500	to	$2000
Necessary fencing (including installation)	500	to	500
Local telephone equipment	200	to	200
One teletype machine	1000	to	1000	can be diverted 7-1 if use not ordered as a requirement
Total	$2200	to	$3700

It is noted that this would make the microwave installation operative from the station on the Potts estate for testing purposes but the station would not be capable of full utilization on all channels simultaneously, since extent of such simultaneous use depends upon terminal equipment desired by Bureau.

At such time as the system is made operative from the Shepherd College building, i.e., possible utilization of multiple channels from the school administration building, the following estimated additional equipment will be required, totalling approximately $9000 and probably a monthly recurring charge in the neighborhood of $100.

1. Two 26 pair cables connecting the communications center at the school with the microwave station. The telephone company has not been contacted in advance for security reasons but this cost is estimated at approximately $3000 plus a monthly recurring charge in the neighborhood of $100.

2. To make the system completely flexible and to allow for integrating the microwave system with the available commercial facilities, switchboard and terminal equipment costing approximately $3000 will be required.

3. To allow for a reasonable volume of traffic at least 3 additional teletype machines should be acquired at a cost of about

Memorandum to Mr. Harbo

February 5, 1953

$1000 each for a total of $3000. (The exact number of teletype circuits has not yet been decided by the Bureau.)

OBSERVATIONS

Immediate installation of the station on the Potts property at this time would allow us to participate in the testing schedules of the system. In the event of an actual emergency necessitating the Bureau operating from Shepherdstown a courier service would have to be set up between the school and the station, a distance of about .4 miles. It is noted that the distance to the microwave terminal at  is <sup>b7E</sup> approximately 8 miles.

With the installation of the switchboard and terminal equipment at the school, along with the interconnecting cables, communications service would be immediately available from the school to an extent limited either by the capacity of the microwave system or by the amount of terminal equipment such as telephones and teletypewriters desired by the Bureau. (The maximum capacity of the microwave link to Shepherdstown is 10 voice channels.) Any one voice channel may be deleted and approximately 14 teletype channels substituted therefor.)

PURPOSE: SPACE FOR S.O.G.To report for information only, progress noted in construction of the  b7EDETAILS:

You will recall how, through our attendance at meetings of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, we have been aware of the fact that the  are in the process of building the  at a point near  will also have microwave facilities at this location and it is at this point that our proposed microwave installation will tie in to the Critical Agencies Microwave Network. b7E

On 2/12/53, employees of this section made a visual observation of the site. The microwave tower has been erected and a passive reflector is mounted thereon which appears to be for the other end of our circuit. Several buildings have been built, the water tank is up and a great deal of land has been cleared. What appear to be rhombic antenna poles are scattered all over the countryside and it is apparent that this is going to be a huge installation. It is noted that this installation is only some 6 to 8 miles from our relocation headquarters at Shepherdstown.

It appears that the Military are following the same general plans I previously recommended for the Bureau, that is, moving their main communications facilities back behind the first ridge of mountains for security reasons.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Tolson

DATE: February 24, 1953

FROM : The Executives Conference

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS AUXILIARY SPACE FOR S.O.G.
SECURITY AGENCIES MICROWAVE SYSTEM

On February 20 the Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Tracy, Mohr, Laughlin, Belmont, Nichols, Clegg, Gearty and Parsons considered the Bureau's proposed microwave installation at Shepherdstown.

Under the White House war plans each of the critical agencies is to have a microwave installation as a means of communication between the evacuation centers to connect the Bureau.

In May, 1952, the Bureau approved the proposed contract with the Motorola Corporation for the installation of our terminus at Shepherdstown and the contract which totaled $47,528.29 was negotiated. The most desirable site was on a private estate adjoining the Shepherd College property where we now have a temporary radio installation at a rental cost of $300. per year until our microwave installation can be erected. One of the owners of the estate objected to the microwave installation and after exhausting all other possibilities the one objecting owner of the Potts' estate was recontacted and on January 30 agreed to the installation at a cost of $700.00 per year.

In order that the contractor can proceed with our installation, the Conference unanimously recommends that we immediately negotiate the lease with the owners of the Potts' estate at $700.00 per year which will mean a cost of approximately $130.00 between now and the end of this fiscal year over and above that for which we are now obligated.

In order to complete the construction of the installation on the Potts' estate and to satisfy the owners, a fence will be required around the guy wires of the tower. The Conference unanimously recommends the expenditure of $500.00 to complete the construction.

Our best estimate of the cost to run electrical power to the installation is approximately $500.00 and the telephone and teletype equipment to be put in the installation will cost approximately $1,200. The Conference unanimously recommends these expenditures which will put our station into operation with the controls located at the site on the private property leased by us.

The installation is located approximately 3/10 of a mile from the College buildings where we would have office space and telephone switchboard and it would cost up to approximately $9,000 for telephone cables and equipment necessary to operate the microwave station from the school property. The Conference unanimously recommends against expenditures to operate from the school property at this time.

All identifying data has been removed from the boxes for security reasons, and each box is marked with a code number for our own use. The equipment, weighing approximately 34,000 lbs. with an approximate cubage of 2500 cu. ft., is ready to go.

Due to the size of the shipment it appears that arrangements will have to be made either with GSA or with a commercial trucking company to do the hauling. This is one of a series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with evacuation plans.

All items have been completed with the following exceptions:

1. Communications.

The microwave equipment which will link the critical agencies in their evacuation quarters has been delivered and is being stored at the Newton Baker Veterans Hospital in a secure fashion. This is located near the evacuation site.

The terms of the new lease on the Potts estate have been agreed on and one of the three owners has executed the lease. The lease has been sent to New York for execution by the other two owners. As soon as the lease is signed, construction will be started on the tower to be used in connection with the equipment. This matter is being handled by the Laboratory.

2. First Aid Training.

First aid training at the Seat of Government has been temporarily halted until July 1, 1953, as an economy measure.

3. Destruction of Files.

The Laboratory has explored all known methods of mass destruction of documents, and to date has found nothing suitable for mass destruction of Bureau records. Further data is being sought in regard to this matter, and the Laboratory is continuing on the project.

As you know, Motorola Inc has indicated that they will begin installation of our portion of the critical agencies microwave network in the very near future.

Since our tie-in point will be at the military installation at [redacted] it will be necessary from time to time for employees of the Radio and Electrical Section to have access to the microwave station at that location. Although the Signal Corps through the ADHOC Committee on Alert Planning knows the complete network plans, the guards, construction men, etc. at the Army site do not know of FBI participation in the network. Lt. Col. V. N. Simmons, the Signal Corps representative on the ADHOC committee has agreed to take the necessary steps to provide clearance for our personnel to have access to the Army installation. He asked that a letter be directed to the Chief Signal Officer setting forth the names of the people who might find it necessary to go to their microwave station.

ACTION

There is attached for approval a letter to the Chief Signal Officer requesting that arrangements be made for myself and four other employees of the Radio and Electrical Section to have access to the Army microwave station at [redacted] b7E

Re Executive Conference memorandum 2/24/53, approved 2/25/53, authorizing the going ahead with the microwave installation on the Pott's estate at Shepherdstown.

A representative of the Radio & Electrical Section, under pretext as a consulting engineer to Motorola Inc., has obtained the attached forms for agreement with the Potomac Light and Power Co. to run power to the microwave installation. Under company policy the Potomac Light and Power Co. will provide the necessary extension of existing lines free of charge but require the execution of the attached agreement by the customer to pay the minimum charge of $1.00 per month for five years. The company may require a deposit of the minimum charge for 5 years ($60) which will be applied against monthly bills as they come due.

As you know, the communications section handles the power bills for the installation at the College and it appears this could be handled in the same manner; however, they may wish to use a different name and P.O. box number to prevent power company employees from linking the installation in the school to the microwave station.

If this method of handling the power bills is approved it is suggested that the signed forms and a check for the sixty dollars deposit be returned to the Radio & Electrical Section for delivery to the Potomac Light and Power Company as expeditiously as possible inasmuch as construction work has already started on the microwave installation and lack of power would prevent the completion of the installation.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum and the attached agreements be referred to Division 4 for handling.

This is one of a series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Evacuation Plans.

All items have been completed with the following exceptions:

1. Communications

Emergency communication equipment which will be needed at the evacuation quarters to link critical agencies is stored at the Newton Baker Veteran Hospital in a secure means. This is located near the evacuation site.

The new lease for a portion of the Potts Estate has been executed and the Motorola Company has completed construction of the tower to be used in connection with the microwave equipment and has begun construction on the building where the equipment will be installed. It is estimated that it will take about sixty days to complete the construction and installation. This matter is being supervised by the Laboratory.

2. First Aid Training

First aid training at the Seat of Government has been temporarily halted as an economy measure until July 1, 1953.

3. Destruction of Files

The Laboratory is continuing its research in an effort to find a suitable means for the mass destruction of Bureau files should it become necessary.

SUBJECT: CRITICAL AGENCIES MICROWAVE NETWORK

Bureau War Plans Emergency Headquarters For. S.O.G.

As you know, construction is proceeding on our microwave installation on the Pott's estate at Shepherdstown, W. Va. The installation will consist of a small prefabricated hut and a 100 ft. steel tower.

of Motorola, who is making the installation for us, has advised that according to CAA regulations the tower will not require aircraft warning lights.

It appears that it would be a good idea to get some specific assurance from CAA that warning lights are not required. Due to the classified nature of the microwave installation, it is believed that it would be unwise to direct any correspondence concerning this matter to the CAA regional office at New York, which would be the normal channel. I believe this matter could be better handled through liaison channels at a high level in the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Liaison Section discreetly obtain assurance from the Civil Aeronautics Administration that our microwave tower will not be required to have aircraft warning lights installed. If this is approved, details of the tower height, location, et cetera, will be furnished to the Liaison Section by the Radio and Electrical Section of the Laboratory.

Bureau War Plans Emergency Headquarters For S.O.G.

Reference is made to the memorandum from Mr. Conrad to Mr. Harbo dated April 15, 1953, in the above-captioned matter. It was recommended that a representative of the Liaison Section discreetly contact officials of the Civil Aeronautics Administration to determine if warning lights were needed on the Bureau's microwave tower which is being installed at the Bureau's emergency relocation site.

On April 21, 1953, Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section personally contacted [redacted] Administrator, Civil Aeronautics Administration. [redacted] was advised of the confidential nature of this inquiry and he was specifically asked if warning lights were necessary on this installation. [redacted] advised that warning lights were not necessary on a 100-foot tower and that the minimum height of a tower needing lights was 170 feet. [redacted] advised that he would keep instant inquiry strictly confidential.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended this memorandum be routed to the Radio and Electrical Section of the Laboratory.

EMERGENCY RELOCATION PLAN -- "SECURITY" AGENCIES

1. Q. Have all officials and employees scheduled for emergency relocation received notice as to their designation, and as to the location of alternate headquarters to which they would report in an emergency: If the total emergency force has not been notified, please advise as to the number of employees to whom such instructions have been issued, and the circumstances under which the remainder of the emergency force will receive such instructions.
  - A. Instructions have been issued to key headquarters employees concerning their duties as designated evacuees to operate relocation site facilities in the event such becomes necessary. Officials know of the site designation. Evacuees are kept informed of all evacuation plans that effect them except for the location of the site
2. Q. What do the instructions provide with respect to circumstances under which personnel scheduled for relocation will be expected to report to emergency headquarters? (Upon receipt of notification from a designated agency official? Automatically, upon public announcement of air defense warning YELLOW or RED? Automatically, following an attack without warning? In other words, do instructions to personnel scheduled for relocation provide for automatic movement to emergency headquarters in the event of a public air raid warning, or following an attack, or is movement of such personnel to take place only when ordered by the head of the department or agency?)
  - A. Instructions have been issued to evacuees to be prepared to evacuate upon notice from their Division Supervisor. The order to evacuate will be issued by the Director of the FBI upon instructions from the President or in the absence thereof after attack which may require the Director of the FBI to evacuate without instructions from the President. No evacuation will be carried out during a period covered by either a "RED" or "YELLOW" alert.
3. Q. Have instructions for emergency action been issued to headquarters personnel who are not among those scheduled to report to emergency headquarters upon execution of the emergency relocation plan?

The Executives Conference of May 14, 1953, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Nichols, Belmont, Mohr, Gearty, Clegg, Rosen, Ladd, Parsons, Tracy, and Glavin, in considering War Plans recommended that the line of command in the Bureau in the event all executive officials at the Seat of Government lost their lives or were incapacitated due to an air raid or other war-time catastrophe be as follows:

1. Assistant Director E. J. Connelley (now head of Cincinnati Division)
2. Special Agent in Charge L. V. Boardman (now assigned to the New York Office)
3. Special Agent in Charge Richard B. Hood (now assigned to Washington Field Office)
4. Special Agent in Charge John F. Malone (now assigned to Los Angeles Office)
5. Special Agent in Charge F. H. McIntire (now assigned to Detroit Division)
6. Special Agent in Charge J. E. Mumford (now assigned to Dallas Division)

It was pointed out to the Conference that Connelley has previously been advised of the chain of command; however, the others have not. The Conference recommends that each of the individuals above listed be advised of their position in the Bureau's chain of command and be advised of the location of our alternate headquarters and the plans for occupying such headquarters in the event we are instructed to evacuate our headquarters in Washington, D. C. Pending approval, preparation of such a communication is being held in abeyance.

The Conference also considered the desirability of setting up an alternate field force to man our alternate headquarters in the event those who had been designated from the Washington headquarters are incapacitated or killed due to a surprise or sneak attack.

It was pointed out to the Conference that considering this matter it was felt each of the various divisions at the Seat of Government should be requested to designate Agent personnel in the field thoroughly familiar with the activities of the particular divisions at the Seat of Government, and that these Agents be designated to proceed to our alternate headquarters at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, in the event of a catastrophe in Washington. The Conference was opposed to such designation at this time, it being pointed out that it would be necessary to continually bring such lists up-to-date if they were to be of any value and we would have no knowledge as to whom would or would not be available for assignment to our alternate headquarters from the field service in case catastrophe struck. The Conference does not recommend that such alternates be set up at this time.

For your information we have approximately 519 employees at the Seat of Government, both clerks and Agents, who are designated to immediately proceed to Shepherdstown, West Virginia, upon the Bureau's receiving evacuation orders. In addition thereto, we have alternates for each of the principals assigned to Shepherdstown so if a principal cannot go the alternate will be available to proceed without delay. Further, at the Seat of Government we have complete plans drawn up, these plans being kept up-to-date as to rallying points throughout the metropolitan area where Bureau employees would meet for instructions and work assignments in case of a catastrophe.

The Conference therefore feels that nothing additional needs to be done at this time.

It was also brought up at the Conference that the Conference might wish to give consideration to restaffing the Washington Field Office so that that office could handle its Detcom Program with outside Agents if a catastrophe struck and Agent personnel of the Washington Field Office were wiped out.

The Conference felt that such a happening would be unusual and the Agents would be handling regular work duty and would be scattered throughout metropolitan Washington and many would survive any sneak attack. After office hours Agents would be again scattered throughout the entire metropolitan district and the Conference feels a sufficient number of Agents would survive any sneak attack to enable the Washington Field Office to handle its responsibilities under the Detcom Program.

The information contained in this communication is to be held in strict confidence. No copies or parts thereof shall be made, nor is this communication to be shown to anyone without specific authority of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The White House has approved an emergency relocation site to provide for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau in the event of attack, or in anticipation of attack, upon the Washington, D. C., area. These plans were formulated in cooperation with the Ad Hoc (special temporary committee) Committee on Alert Planning, Executive Office of the President, Office of Defense Mobilization. This Committee also assisted in formulating plans for other key critical agencies, namely:

b7E

The FBI together with other key critical agencies, is considered to be a sensitive function of the Government and it is the desire of the President that adequate plans be approved now to provide for:

1. Immediate emergency relocation of the FBI at a site relatively near to the President outside of the Washington area in the event of attack or in anticipation of attack;
2. That maximum consideration of emergency operations be carried forth by a limited force of key headquarters personnel designated to keep the most essential functions of the FBI in operation during the first few weeks or months of an emergency and until adequate staff and facilities can be provided.

INFORMATION CONCERNING EMERGENCY RELOCATION PLANS
FOR CONTINUITY OF ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS OF THE FBI
OUTSIDE OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

A. EMERGENCY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND FOR RELOCATION SITE OPERATIONS:

In the event that activation of relocation site plans by FBI officials located outside of Washington, D. C., becomes necessary the following field chain of command shall be adhered to as far as is practical under existing circumstances:

1. Assistant Director E. J. Connelley
2. Special Agent in Charge L. V. Boardman
3. Special Agent in Charge R. B. Hood - me - 7/3/53

B. ACTIVATING FBI PLANS BY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND:

In the absence of prior notification the field chain of command, in the order mentioned above, will immediately, upon knowledge that the Washington area has been under a heavy surprise attack and destruction is wide-spread, be responsible for activating FBI relocation site plans.

C. STAFFING RELOCATION SITE

Additional Bureau personnel shall be obtained from the field divisions as replacements for key headquarters employees (519) scheduled to staff the site who as a result of a surprise attack on Washington, D. C., are unable to report for assignment to scheduled duty.

D. FBI RELOCATION PLAN

1. Site Identification:

Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, telephone 2241 - 3711 (see attached map depicting routes between Washington, D. C., and Shepherdstown, West Virginia)

2. Timing and Movement:

President of Shepherd College, will be telephonically advised concerning immediate need for occupation of the college in order that he can effect and arrange plans to evacuate the college staff and student body. The Assistant Director in Charge of Evacuation (W. R. Glavin) will depart immediately to coordinate setting up operations at the college.

Chain of Command Responsibility - to effect above operation in event it becomes necessary.

3. Evacuation to Relocation Site:

Personnel scheduled to report to the relocation site for assignment to duty number 519. Material necessary for emergency operation has been designated and set aside at the Seat of Government for removal to relocation site. The relocation site is such that emergency supplies from the college stock will be available upon arrival.

Chain of Command Responsibility - additional office supplies and equipment will be obtained from other field divisions as the circumstances require.

4. Communication:

Telephone and teletype facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Radio equipment is stored at the college site and at the Newton D. Baker Veterans' Hospital, Martinsburg, West Virginia, for installation when necessary. Micro-wave terminal facilities are established in the vicinity of the site to connect with similar installations of other key critical agencies. Investigative reports affecting the nations' security will be transmitted to the relocation site over the Bureau's radio network facilities whenever and wherever wire communications are available.

Chain of Command Responsibility - qualified FBI technicians shall be obtained from other field divisions as the situation requires.

5. Vital Records:

The reproduction and dispersal of vital records (personnel fingerprints, personnel administrative data, payroll, emergency detention list) have been completed. These records are maintained under the supervision of the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Office located at 1010 Federal Office Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

This is another in a series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with evacuation plans. All items have been completed with the following exceptions:

1. Communications - construction on a communications building at the emergency evacuation center has been completed. The Motorola Company has completed the installation of the microwave equipment and is presently testing same for successful operation.

The over-all microwave circuit which will link the emergency evacuation center with other Government agencies is not complete insofar as other agencies are concerned. It is contemplated that the over-all network linking the FBI evacuation center with all other Government agencies will be completed on or about September 15th.

2. First Aid Training - First Aid training at the Seat of Government has been temporarily halted as an economy measure until July 1.

3. Destruction of files - The Laboratory is continuing its research and efforts to find a suitable means for mass destruction of Bureau files should this become necessary.

Reference is made to my memo dated February 5, 1953, advising you of costs in connection with the installation of the microwave station at Shepherdstown. Included in these estimates was an item of $500 for fencing around two guy wires of the microwave tower as a precaution against trucks hitting these guy wires. This was requested by the owners and written into the agreement between them and the Bureau.

The Armco steel building at the microwave station is of galvanized steel construction, but as an additional protection against rust the building should be painted. Painting was not included in the original contract with Motorola.

[redacted] of the tower construction company, who was in charge of the building and tower installation, submitted a verbal bid of $220 for material and labor to paint the building and install the fencing around the two guy wires. [redacted] advises that he will be available to do this work only on the weekend of May 30, 1953.

Due to the security classification of the microwave station no other bids have been solicited for the above work but it is believed that a lower bid would be difficult to obtain.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that above oral bid in the amount of $220 be accepted. [redacted] will be contacted by an engineer from the Radio Section and advised of the above-requested decision.

As you know, the Bureau has prepared a plan under the provisions of Executive Order 10312 of 12-11-51 to control radio transmission in the event of enemy attack to prevent use of radio signals for air navigation purposes by the enemy. Further, this plan was to be approved by both the Chairman of the National Security Resources Board and the Secretary of Defense. Recently the functions of the NSRB were in part transferred to the Office of Defense Mobilization. Matters relating to Conelrad were transferred at that time.

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS
KEY EMPLOYEE LIST

Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.

As you know our relocation site will be activated by key headquarters personnel whenever that becomes necessary. Our plans call for 519 employees to evacuate Washington for the relocation site to provide for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau in the event of attack or anticipation of attack upon the Washington, D. C. area.

The President desires that emergency planning provide for staffing the relocation site with alternates living outside the Washington area. In this connection the Bureau is transmitting instructions concerning the effectuating of relocation site plans to three Bureau field officials, namely: Assistant Director Connelley, SAC Boardman and SAC Hood, in the event the chain of command at headquarters is not in a position to function during an initial emergency. These officials will draw upon field personnel to assist in staffing the site as it may be necessary.

It is felt that in order to facilitate requests that may be made of the field for specialized personnel it is highly desirable that each field office have in its war plans a ready reference list of key employees having prior experience of the duties normally performed at the Seat of Government. An SAC Letter has been prepared whereby each field division will institute and keep current a list reflecting names of employees in their division having prior experience at headquarters which will serve as a ready reference in the event requests are made of them for specialized employees to be assigned to the relocation site.

RECOMMENDATION

That the attached SAC Letter go forward to the field.

Dear Mr. Malone:

I am enclosing herewith a copy of a communication which has been addressed to Assistant Director E. J. Connelley concerning the Bureau's war plans and the emergency relocation site for the FBI headquarters.

There is also enclosed herewith a statement concerning information regarding emergency relocation plans for continuity of essential functions of the FBI outside of Washington, D. C.

For your information, you have been designated third in the chain of command in the field service replacing SAC R. B. Hood who recently resigned.

You should thoroughly familiarize yourself with the information contained in the attached documents so that in the event it becomes necessary for you to assume command you will be thoroughly familiar with the plans already perfected by the Bureau for continuity of operations of essential functions of the Bureau outside of Washington, D. C.

Sincerely yours,

The Executives Conference of June 4, 1953, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Tracy, Harbo, Mohr, Belmont, Ladd, Rosen, Mason, Gearty, McGuire, Holloman, and Glavin considered a suggestion submitted by Special Agent Leo J. Gauthier of the Administrative Division concerning the Bureau's War Plans. AUXILIARY SPACE FOR S.O.G.

It was pointed out in Mr. Gauthier's memorandum that our emergency evacuation plans call for 519 employees to evacuate Washington for the relocation site to provide for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau in the event of attack or anticipation of attack upon the Washington, D. C. area. He further points out that the President desires that emergency planning provide for staffing the relocation site with alternates living outside the Washington area. Mr. Gauthier pointed out in this regard the Bureau has notified Assistant Director Connelley, SAC Boardman and SAC Hood concerning the chain of command responsibilities in the event the relocation headquarters cannot be staffed by any of the members of the chain of command presently located at Washington. The chain of command is the Director, Associate Director, Assistant to the Director and Assistant Directors. The field chain of command officials would necessarily have to draw upon field personnel to assist in the staffing of the relocation site if Washington personnel were completely annihilated due to a sneak attack, bombing, or other catastrophe.

Mr. Gauthier in his memorandum states that in order to facilitate requests that may be made of the field for specialized personnel, it is highly desirable each field office have in its war plans a ready reference list of key employees having prior experience of the duties normally performed at the Seat of Government. He suggests that an SAC Letter go forward to the field instructing that each field division institute and keep current a list reflecting names of employees in their division having prior experience at headquarters which will serve as a ready reference in the event requests are made of them for specialized employees to be assigned to the relocation site. A suggested communication to the field was attached and is attached hereto.

The Conference with the exception of Messrs. Harbo and Glavin felt that no additional instructions need go forward to the field at this time. They pointed out that in the event officials and employees in Washington cannot man the relocation site, the appropriate officials in the field have been advised of the responsibilities of manning the relocation site and these officials, Messrs. Connelley, Boardman, and Hood, in that order are all familiar with the duties which necessarily would have to be performed and they could call upon the various divisional offices for assistance which is necessary at that time. The majority of the Conference which voted against the transmission of the suggested letter to all SACs concerning this particular matter felt that there would be a considerable waste of time and effort in keeping such a list up-to-date in the various divisional offices when in an emergency appropriately qualified persons could be secured with a minimum of difficulty from the various divisions.

concur H.
Messrs. Harbo and Glavin are of the opinion that some communication comparable to the one suggested should go forward to the field at this time. They point out that in their opinion this is a weak link in our war plans and that if every person in Washington were completely disabled through a sneak attack or bombing or otherwise, and the communications facilities in the field were disrupted, we could not conduct business as usual. These members feel that some staff should be available in the various divisional offices and the identities of those employees who could handle specialized tasks and would be urgently needed in the relocation site should be known to the Bureau. This would include Agent personnel having laboratory experience, radio technicians and operators, and other Agent and clerical personnel who have had experience at the Seat of Government and could handle work at the relocation site from the Seat of Government's point of view. Messrs. Harbo and Glavin feel that the various SACs could be advised that in case of an emergency necessitating evacuation from Washington and where the field chain of command would have to take over the relocation site, that these qualified employees be instructed to report to the official in charge of the relocation site as promptly as possible and by the quickest means of transportation then available.

Pending the Director's decision in connection with this matter, further action is being held in abeyance.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

LETTER TO ALL SPECIAL AGENTS IN CHARGE

RE: BUREAU WAR PLANS
KEY EMPLOYEE LIST

Dear Sir:

The White House has approved an emergency relocation site to provide for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau in the event of attack or in anticipation of attack upon the Washington, D. C., area.

Activation of our relocation plans will be effected by key headquarters personnel working and living in the Washington area. The President desires that emergency planning should preclude any assurance that advance warning can be given concerning the possibility of a very heavy surprise attack at which time personnel working and living in Washington at the time might not be available for the adequate staffing of the relocation site. Therefore, it is essential that planning for continuity of operation, even on a short-term emergency basis, includes alternate provisions for supervisors and staffing our relocation site from sources outside of Washington.

With the above thought in mind, the Bureau desires that you keep current in your war plans information concerning employees assigned to your division who, as a result of past assignment at the Seat of Government, possess work experience qualifying them for assignment at the relocation site in the event staffing of the site with employees outside of Washington becomes a reality.

Specific types of Seat of Government experiences considered essential for the successful activation of the relocation site are listed as follows:

A. Special Agents

1. Domestic Intelligence
2. General Investigative
3. Records and Communication
4. Administrative
5. Identification
6. Laboratory

B. Clerical Employees

1. Payroll - Voucher
2. Inventory Control
3. Radio Communications
4. Records and Files
5. Coding and Decoding

Separate lists should be maintained for Special Agents and Clerks. The form to be used is as follows:

KEY EMPLOYEES

Special Agents

Name	Type of Experience	Extent of Experience	Proficiency
-------------	---------------------------	-----------------------------	--------------------

The Special Agent in Charge should be in a position to evaluate the employee's proficiency as "Excellent, Very Good, Good or Fair". The rating should be arrived at on the basis of the length of time the employee has been separated from the work at the Seat of Government and upon the individual's own confidence to utilize past experience to a degree that will insure reasonable efficiency under emergency conditions existing at the time.

Should the occasion arise when it becomes necessary for staffing the relocation site with Bureau employees from sources outside of Washington, requests for employees having certain background qualifications will be made of you by a Bureau official responsible for effectuating relocation site plans.

It is imperative that you give this matter immediate consideration and full thought in order that this phase of war planning can be satisfactorily completed and maintained on a current basis.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

Presidential approval has not been sought since the chain of command will be utilized only in the event of casualties and until such time as consultation could be had for naming a permanent successor to the Director. It is unlikely that all persons enumerated would become casualties simultaneously.

Insofar as delegation of authority is concerned and the decentralization functions to the field, the FBI maintains 52 divisional offices, continental and territorial, at the present time. The Special Agents in Charge of these divisions have authority to supervise investigations conducted in their divisional territories, with assistance and supervisory advice from the Seat of Government. Instructions have been issued to the field services detailing the scope of their activities for (1) the present emergency, (2) actual warfare brought about by attack against the United States or by declaration of war, and (3) the necessity for evacuation of vital Bureau functions from Washington or any one of the various field installations.

5. TIMING AND MOVEMENT TO EMERGENCY SITE:

The President of Shepherd College will be telephonically advised concerning the immediate need for occupation of the College by this Agency in order that he can effect pre-arranged plans to evacuate the college staff and student body.

The Assistant Director in charge of evacuation will depart immediately to co-ordinate setting-up operations at the College. Emergency occupation will be effected within 3 hours after notice for evacuation has been issued. Travel time from this Agency's headquarters in Washington, D. C., to the relocation site is approximately three hours.

The head of this Agency will stay through the "red" alert during an initial surprise attack. In the event pre-determined information dictates that emergency measures be taken before attack, this Agency will follow the instructions issued by the President in connection with effecting its plans for occupation of the relocation site. It is felt by the Agency head that so long as the heads of Government remain in Washington, D. C., it is essential that he remain in view of the responsibilities of this Bureau for the internal security of the country.

In the absence of Presidential instructions, no action will be taken to effect plans to occupy the relocation site during a "yellow" alert.

Activation of the relocation site will be effected by employees living and working outside of Washington, D. C. in the event a heavy surprise attack on the Washington area results in key headquarters employees not being available to function during an initial emergency.

6. EVACUATION TO RELOCATION SITE:

The number of personnel scheduled to report to the relocation site for assignment to duty is 519. These employees are kept informed of all evacuation plans that will affect them, except for the identification of the site.

Material necessary for emergency operation has been designated and set aside for immediate removal to the relocation site via trucks and automobiles. The relocation site is such that emergency supplies from their stock would be available upon arrival.

Evacuees will if time permits, proceed to their homes, pack and assemble at previously designated rally points for further transportation to site via Government and personally owned automobiles. Families and dependents of evacuees will not be moved to the relocation site. Arrangements have been made to provide for the needs of these individuals through designated key employees who are scheduled to remain in the headquarters area during the initial stages of war emergencies.

7. TOTAL EVACUATION OF AGENCY FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

In the event an extended emergency exists requiring all employees (stay behinds) to evacuate Washington, D. C., existing plans make it possible to reassign these employees (approximately 5,000 to nearby relocation sites established by Bureau field divisions.

Employees are divided into geographical groups according to places of residence. In the event of an emergency, all employees at that time will be instructed concerning specific duties and regulations that are to be adhered to during the initial emergency. Subsequent instructions will be issued to employees as exigencies occur.

8. PERSONNEL IDENTIFICATION:

Bureau personnel in the Washington area and key employees in the divisional service are issued FBI identification cards.

Due to the fact that appropriate identification cards have been issued to employees and further because of the Group Leader Plan which will serve to mobilize employees during any type of emergency, this Agency is not participating in the defense plan which calls for the registration of all Government employees in the Washington, D. C. area through the use of the U. S. Mail service. All employees will be urgently needed to perform emergency duties of an internal security nature in harmony with the Bureau's current responsibilities.

This Agency has pending a request with the District of Columbia Office of Civil Defense for the issuance of an appropriate pass which will identify Inspector [redacted] as a liaison official between this Agency and the [redacted]

Our Counselling service will be utilized in assisting employees in distress and wherever possible, consistent with the war efforts, continuous assistance will be rendered employees by the National headquarters staff and the staff of the field offices. The full services of this Bureau's fingerprint division will be available for the identification of family members of Bureau employees as well as will the full investigative staff of the Bureau in the conduct of its emergency duties. There are no funds now available to assist employees in financial distress but whatever can be done consistent with statutes or regulations covering the expenditures of Federal funds will be done.

9. COMMUNICATIONS:

Telephone and teletype facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Radio equipment is stored at the college site and at the Newton D. Baker Veterans' Hospital, Martinsburg, West Virginia, for immediate installation when necessary. Micro-wave terminal facilities are established in the vicinity of the site to connect with similar installations of other key critical agencies. Investigative matters affecting the nation's security will be transmitted to the relocation site over the Bureau's radio network facilities whenever and wherever wire communications are unavailable.

In addition, an emergency radio telegraph system is available between Washington and the various field divisions as reflected in the attached chart, "FBI Radio Communications Network."

At certain of the larger field divisions, 250 watt FM voice radio stations have been installed to provide communications for the control of investigative operations within the respective metropolitan areas. See attached chart, "Installed and Approved FM 250 Watt Radio Station Systems."

This Agency also has in operation a teletype system between field divisions and headquarters in Washington, D. C. See attached chart "FBI Teletype Network."

Working arrangements have been completed with telephone companies to facilitate land communications. Utilization of Western Union facilities are not contemplated at present.

Code books and cipher pads of FBI design and enciphering machines will be utilized during an emergency.

10. ALERT, SHELTER, FIRST AID TRAINING:

A. Alert:

If the alert is sounded during the evening or night hours, certain designated key personnel have been directed to report to their posts of duty for the handling of assigned duties, the scope of which depends upon the degree of devastation by attack. Arrangements have been perfected with the telephone company to maintain service for key personnel so long as such service is not eliminated by direct hits from enemy activity. Alternate routes for transportation to the relocation site have been selected and absolutely essential records, supplies, and equipment have been designated for evacuation, and will be transported wherever possible in automotive equipment immediately available to this Bureau.

All stay behind personnel will remain at their residences, arrangements having been perfected on a group leader basis to insure that employees in various areas of the metropolitan Washington area will have knowledge of the identity of the individual to whom they are to report.

B. Shelter:

Practice air raid drills are held periodically in all space occupied by this Bureau. If alert is sounded during regular working hours, all but essential protective personnel will proceed immediately to designated shelter areas where they will remain until safe dispersal can be effected.

C. First Aid Training:

Red Cross instructions in first aid are being made available to employees assigned at the Seat of Government and divisional facilities.

11. TRANSPORTATION:

This Agency has available equipment sufficient to transport essential employees to emergency sites. Government-owned equipment of this Bureau as well as personally owned cars will be available for emergency use.

12. VITAL RECORD REPRODUCTION AND DISPERSAL:

The reproduction and dispersal of vital records have been completed. These records are maintained under the supervision of the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Division located at 1010 Federal Office Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

13. SECURITY:

Regular security patrols are now utilized in all FBI offices in Washington and the field. These patrols will be strengthened at Washington in the event of war and will be utilized at the relocation site if evacuation becomes necessary.

The stockpiling of supplies and equipment is not anticipated and operation at the relocation site will be of an emergency nature, utilizing the equipment available at the site. Sufficient clerical and stenographic personnel have been included in the number to be evacuated in order that emergency operation will proceed without delay. No personnel will be hired at the relocation site but emergency purchases of supplies are anticipated. The site is so located that emergency supplies can be secured from divisional offices or sub offices in the areas not too distant from the site. Emergency supplies can be transmitted from this Bureau's divisional service to Shepherdstown by the time the emergency staff from Washington could proceed from Washington to Shepherdstown to perform the necessary duties. Considerable supplies and equipment are available at the site at this time and would, of course, be available to us.

Emergency buying and payment of personnel, not being moved to the relocation site will depend upon usual available facilities for such purposes and the General Services Administration and Treasury Department plans will be adopted for these phases of activity. In the event the services of the General Services Administration become unavailable, this Bureau will have at the emergency site sufficient qualified personnel to handle any emergency buying or requisitioning of supplies or equipment needed. Insofar as payment of personnel is concerned, it will be necessary that this Bureau abide by regulations issued by the Treasury Department in this particular instance scrip payment, if necessary, redeemable by the Treasury Department upon demand could be utilized.

15. OPERATIONS

This Bureau will operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week on a continuing basis until such time as this schedule could be altered without endangering the Nation's security. Instructions have been issued to place such operation into immediate effect in the event of a national emergency.

Liaison will be necessary with the [redacted]

[redacted] and with other key government agencies on a continuous basis. Liaison with all other agencies of the government will be necessary from time to time on a noncritical basis.

The Bureau's war plans have been completed with the exception of the following matters:

1. Communications

The FBI link of the microwave setup, which will eventually link the Bureau with other sensitive agencies, has been completed; and test runs from the radio station itself have been made. However, there is at this time no cable connecting the radio station at Shepherdstown with Shepherd College. The laboratory is at this time preparing recommendations for this hookup.

2. First-Aid Training

The Executives Conference on 8/3/53 postponed first-aid training until 10/1/53.

3. Destruction of Files

The FBI Laboratory has not as yet found suitable means of mass destruction of Bureau files. It is continuing its research in this matter.

Towering Pole Arouses Interest Shepherdstown-Antietam Area

SHEPHERDSTOWN, Aug. 11 — A great field of giant poles, 150 feet high, which is springing up in this area and around Antietam, Md., just across the Potomac from here, is creating much interest but it seems impossible to pin down the plan back of the pattern of towers.

Workmen have been in this area for weeks erecting the poles, but they are totally uncommunicative other than to say they were sent here to help set them.

The same bareness of information covers the Maryland operations.

It seems certain, however, from what can be gathered that the project has something to do with the top-secret "underground Pentagon now abuilding in RavenRock Mountain a few miles north of Hagerstown, Md., in Pennsylvania. But the Government doesn't say just what the connection is.

Published local rumor has it that the pole project near the Antietam Battlefield is a giant radio receiving point and a similar project in nearby Pennsylvania, will contain the radio transmitter facilities.

The poles, which are 15 stories above ground, actually are two poles spliced together. Workmen spent several months erecting them and guying them in place in the form of a mammoth cross.

As a site for the poles, the Government some months ago bought up seven Washington county (Md.) farms.

Already revealed is the fact that a three-story structure is just about completed deep inside solid rock of Raven Rock Mountain. This largest man-made rock cave in the world presumably would become the new Armed Forces' brain center in case the Washington Pentagon were knocked out by atom bombs.

Personnel to operate this "joint supplemental communications facility" continues to arrive at nearby Fort Ritchie, d.

All phases of the project are expected to cost 35 million dollars.

FBI File No. 66-HQ-17381 Bureau War Plans - Section 5

October 8, 1953

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

While in conference this morning with the Attorney General, he stated he had received a letter from some agency of the Government relative to the actions to be taken by the Department if a national emergency occurred, and as he was not here when the plans were laid for this matter, he was wondering what the plans were. I told the Attorney General that in so far as the FBI was concerned, that we had a stand-by headquarters in West Virginia with all necessary cables and equipment set up and that we had definite plans for official leadership of the Bureau in the event any of the higher officials were killed or seriously injured and that, as a matter of fact, we had worked out quite a detailed program. I told the Attorney General that in so far as the Department was concerned, I was not familiar with what they had done, although I knew it had been handled by Mr. Andretta and suggested he get in touch with Mr. Andretta about this. The Attorney General indicated that he would.

The Attorney General stated he thought it would be desirable, at an early date, to have a briefing of the ranking staff of the Department on what the plans were and wanted to know what I thought of this idea. I told him I thought it was a good idea in that most of the staff of the Department now were new officials and probably many of them did not know what procedures were to be followed. He stated he thought he would arrange for this to be done shortly and would like to have representatives of the Bureau attend and would like to have me be prepared to brief the staff as to what the FBI program would be. In view of this, I would like to have you prepare for me the necessary material which I will need to give the Department staff the briefing which the Attorney General has in mind.

This is another of a series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. All items have been completed with the following exceptions:

1. Communications

The microwave station located about one-half mile from the evacuation site has been installed and it can be used to communicate with other sensitive Government agencies in the network. Not all of the agencies have installed their stations at this time. In accordance with the decision on 2/20/53 of the Executives Conference, cable has not been laid between our station and our evacuation site because of the cost involved. The station, however, can now operate.

2. First Aid Training

In accordance with the decision of the Executives Conference, First Aid Training Classes will be resumed at the Seat of Government on 10/26/53, and classes will continue until at least 15 per cent of the employees in the various buildings occupied by the Seat of Government, possess a current Red Cross First Aid Certificate. The following is a compilation of the percentage of employees now possessing such a certificate:

Justice Building.....	11.1%
Identification Building.....	12.6%
Old Post Office Building.....	25. %
Quantico.....	28.6%
Redskin Building.....	9.8%
Clinton Radio Station.....	5. %
Waldorf Radio Station.....	14. %

3. Destruction of Files

The problem of mass destruction of files has been studied by the Military authorities and other Governmental agencies. The Bureau has been in touch with them and the FBI Laboratory has studied this problem. No method more desirable than burning has been found. The Laboratory is continuing its efforts to find a more suitable method.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : MR. TOLSON

DATE: 10/14/53

FROM : MR. H. H. CLEGG

SUBJECT: Bureau

WAR PLANS Auxiliary SPACE FOR S.O.G. ✓

As requested, the following information is submitted:

1. What is the exact situation as to passes for Agents and Clerks at the Seat of Government and in the field?

Ans. Agents will use credentials and National Civil Defense Headquarters states they will be recognized without question. All Seat of Government and Washington Field Office clerks have plastic FBI passes. The 399 clerks at the Seat of Government and Washington Field Office occupying the most essential positions have red seals imprinted on their plastic passes which local Civil Defense has agreed will permit these employees to travel in emergency periods. The key clerks in each field division also have plastic passes issued by the Bureau. Red seal passes exist only in Washington to meet a local problem.

Civil Defense will recognize these passes in all localities except the State Director of Civil Defense at Richmond, Virginia and the Director of the City of Los Angeles. The Bureau has been unsuccessful in getting these two officials to recognize passes so that employees will have unrestricted movement in emergencies. National Civil Defense Headquarters points out it cannot require any local Civil Defense Director to recognize any type of document during peacetime, but that as soon as an emergency arises National Civil Defense will then be in complete charge and can force local Directors to do its bidding and National Headquarters will force all local Civil Defense Directors to recognize FBI passes. The Bureau decided that all field clerks should not be provided with passes at this time; however, photographs have been taken so that if conditions appear to get more acute all clerks can be provided with passes. At the present time, however, the essential and key field clerks have passes. Local Civil Defense, Washington, recognizes our red seal passes for Seat of Government Clerks, and Washington Field Clerks.

In addition, Civil Defense Headquarters advised 10/13/53, that it has had Bureau of the Budget approval to print personnel passes and windshield placards for automobiles identifying the bearer or driver as an essential Federal employee (agency not named) who should be allowed to travel unimpeded anywhere during an emergency. It has already been approved by the Bureau that a supply of these personnel passes and windshield placards will be obtained when available for distribution by Civil Defense. Civil Defense has agreed to furnish quantities to the Bureau. As soon as these passes and placards are available for distribution Federal Civil Defense Headquarters will then advise local Civil Defense Directors throughout the country (including Richmond and Los Angeles) that these documents should be honored. As soon as an emergency develops National Civil Defense Headquarters will order these documents be honored.

2. Does each field office have a set place to which to evacuate?

Ans. All field offices have a set place to which to evacuate.

3. Have arrangements been made for space to be used by Mr. E. H. Winterrowd and his alternate, J. R. Mollen, who would handle liaison with the Department of Justice at the [redacted] b7E [redacted] to which site [redacted] will evacuate their top staff in the event [redacted] building becomes unuseable?

Ans. No such arrangement has been made. These selected employees of [redacted] will evacuate to [redacted] only if [redacted] is untenable. It is the plan that Winterrowd will be in and out of [redacted] and could operate from one of the remaining FBI buildings in Washington, or from our facilities at Quantico, or from the FBI race facilities at [redacted] b7E [redacted] depending upon what facilities are still standing. If you deem it advisable, Mr. J. R. Glavin, in charge of evacuation matters, who has been handling air raid and shelter matters with [redacted] and liaison capacity will make appropriate contact with the [redacted] as to a request for space for Winterrowd at [redacted] or if you wish, I will do so.

Done
10-15-53

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

4. Are telephone communications set up between the FBI evacuation headquarters at Shepherdstown, West Virginia and [redacted] which [redacted] will occupy? b7E

Can we contact the Bureau of Prisons at its evacuation site?

Can we contact Immigration and Naturalization Service at its evacuation site?

Ans.

In the event both the present Bureau switchboard on the Fifth Floor and the two alternate switchboards in the old detention rooms and the range in the basement become inoperative, it would be likely that local telephone service generally could be inoperative. Because of the security of the old detention rooms and range, it is possible that the upper part of [redacted] may be unuseable and we may still have communication facilities from the basement. When telephone service fails, it is the plan to use radio from Shepherdstown, West Virginia to the [redacted] facilities of the FBI. If for any reason radio should fail, courier service will be used. b7E

The Bureau of Prisons is not a sensitive agency (the FBI is) and thus is not scheduled for any early evacuation. As a last resort if building space becomes unuseable the Bureau of Prisons will evacuate to [redacted] in [redacted] which is [redacted] evacuation site. b7E

The Immigration and Naturalization Service, if necessary to evacuate, will use the existing Immigration and Naturalization field installation at Buffalo, New York, with a total of twelve people scheduled for evacuation. Our communication with Immigration and Naturalization Service will be by long distance telephone from Shepherdstown, West Virginia, as needed, or by air (code) radio communication directly with the Buffalo Office. We have been assured by the Telephone Company that the FBI will receive the highest order of priority service as a first critical agency.

With regard to the Detention of Communists Program, those persons arrested will not be turned over to the Bureau of Prisons until after they have been given their hearings. Meanwhile they will be held in U. S. Marshal or military custody. It is not likely that any will be turned over to

The Bureau of Prisons for at least some time after arrest, depending on the rapidity of handling by the Department of Justice.

5. Do we have a highway priority in order to evacuate essential FBI personnel from Washington, D. C. to Shepherdstown, West Virginia?

Ans.

No road priorities have yet been set up for the [redacted] FBI, or any other sensitive agency. This matter is currently receiving study by [redacted]. [redacted] supervises War Plans.

b7E

[redacted] intends to inform Federal Civil Defense Headquarters of the needs of sensitive agencies so that Civil Defense can set up some coordinated plans as to traffic control and priorities during the evacuation period. The only apparent action which the Bureau could take in the meantime has already been taken through the establishment and charting of five routes to Shepherdstown. This has been done. As soon as it appears that evacuation will be necessary, Assistant Director W. R. Glavin will leave for Shepherdstown and by radio advise the Bureau as to existing traffic conditions in the event evacuation becomes necessary before Civil Defense has set up its priority system.

6. Has a dry run been made on travel to the evacuation point?

Ans.

Evacuation Coordinator Glavin and certain representatives of his Division have made test dry runs to the evacuation site. Certain divisions have also had dry runs on the mobilization of personnel, notably during the last streetcar strike.

A review of the war plans submitted for the Director's Office and for the office of the Associate Director disclosed that arrangements had been made for transportation for the Director and Associate Director from their office or residence to the evacuation site and, inasmuch as a review of the plans for the Administrative Division did not specifically include such arrangements, I contacted Mr. Glavin.

Mr. Glavin advised inasmuch as he was in charge of evacuation under emergency circumstances it was his responsibility, and one which he had fully assumed, to insure that the Director and the Associate Director were provided with adequate transportation either from the office or from their residence to the emergency site should this become necessary.

Present at the conference of November 4, were Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Tracy, Harbo, Mohr, Belmont, Ladd, Rosen, Holloman, Nichols and Mason.

BACKGROUND:

Copy filed in 46-2854

In connection with the Bureau's war plans, it is contemplated that certain essential files will be evacuated, in the event of an emergency, to our evacuation site at Sheperdstown, West Virginia. Only those crucial files will be evacuated and for the most part they pertain to Security Index subjects, very important investigations in the security field, personnel files, payroll matters and related topics. There will remain millions of files in Washington. Concern exists as to exactly what would happen in the event of a parachute invasion, or landing nearby by the enemy with sufficient force to capture the City of Washington. FBI files listing Agents, informants, subjects and other data might be used by the enemy to the detriment of the United States or serve as a basis for searching out FBI employees and their relatives.

The military agencies have for years experimented unsuccessfully with techniques for destroying huge volumes of files, such as we have in the FBI. They have much the same problem as we have. As a matter of fact the Germans endeavored at the end of World War II to destroy their files in Berlin and were quite unsuccessful with the net result that much valuable information fell into the hands of the Allies. The military is continuing its research for means of destroying files. The use of explosives in file cabinets has been explored. The use of chemicals and other techniques have been considered. The Laboratory recently pointed out that the surest means of destroying files would be to reduce them to pulp in a technique similar to that used in making paper. However, this would cost nearly a quarter of a million dollars and much advance effort to set up the necessary facilities.

Memo to Mr. Tolson

In the absence of a more suitable means, it has been the Bureau's plan to endeavor to destroy those Secret of Government files in the Justice Building by means of a bonfire in the court yard. The majority of our files are in the Identification Building and it was contemplated that a bonfire in the street near the Identification Building would be used to destroy files there (no attempt would be made to try to destroy fingerprint files). Mr. Mason expressed to the Conference the view that bonfires for the destruction of the files would be unsuccessful because the fires would be so huge as to jeopardize buildings in the area. To do a really destructive job on the files, tremendous heat would be necessary and the pages in the files would have to be separated with the net result that an up draft of hot air from the fires would carry partially burned pages into the air and distribute them over a radius of miles, depending upon the wind.

THE PROPOSALS:

1. Mason requested that the Conference consider establishing contact with the D. C. incinerators, finding out who is in charge, whether any other agency has arranged for the use of the D. C. incinerator, determine the capacity of the incinerator and make all necessary arrangements so that we can destroy as many files as possible at the D. C. incinerator.

The Conference had a divided view as to this and the majority, Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Tracy, Harbo, Mohr, Belmont, Rosen, Holloman, and Nichols felt that this should not be done. Majority opposition was based primarily upon the tremendous number of files that we have, problems attendant to getting those files to an incinerator during an emergency, the belief that if an acute emergency exists it may be better to try and destroy the files by means of explosives rather than through another medium, as well as the possibility that even if the files were seized by the enemy the files might be of little value to the enemy.

The minority, consisting solely of Mason, felt that the Bureau should make every possible plan to protect itself in an emergency and that we should have Mr. Glavin, who is coordinator of evacuation, appropriately contact the D. C. incinerator officials and see what could be done relative to the destruction of our files.

Memo to Mr. Tolson

Depending upon the Director's wishes appropriate action will be taken.

2. The Conference unanimously agreed that the FBI Laboratory should maintain close liaison with the military so as to be cognizant of any developments by the military as to ways and means of destroying large volumes of files and that the Laboratory should continue to seek suitable methods for destruction of Bureau files. The Conference did not feel that the Laboratory should engage in a tremendous project, but that all reasonable avenues should be explored.

Reference is made to the memorandum dated October 14, 1953, from Mr. Clegg to Mr. Tolson in the above-captioned matter. Set forth in this memorandum were several questions and answers regarding the Bureau's war plans, including the following question No. 5:

AUXILIARY SPACE FOR S.O.G.
Do we have a highway priority in order to evacuate essential FBI personnel from Washington, D. C., to Shepherdstown, West Virginia?

Answer - No road priorities have yet been set up for the [redacted] FBI b7E or any other sensitive agency. This matter is currently receiving study by ODM.

Concerning this Mr. Tolson noted, "We should try to get an early decision on this."

Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section has been in touch with Mr. A. Russell Ash, Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, Office of Defense Mobilization, concerning this matter. Mr. Ash advised Mr. Bartlett on October 30, 1953, that after making a study of all the available plans which have been submitted to ODM, he advises that the problem of highway priority for the evacuation of the personnel of sensitive agencies to their relocation sites is included in a plan drawn up by the District of Columbia Civil Defense planners and is now before the District Commissioners for approval. This plan calls for the handling of traffic during moments of emergency; however, the number of key personnel from sensitive agencies included in the over-all plan and no special provision has been made for this limited group. Mr. Ash explained that this particular planning is controlled by Civil Defense and not ODM.

Liaison will follow this matter and you will be advised as soon as the definite plan is approved by the District Commissioners.

Reference is made to Executives Conference memo 2-24-53 approving various expenditures in connection with the microwave station at Shepherdstown. In this memo the Conference recommended against expenditures for the installation of telephone cable to permit operation from the school property at this time.

As you know, tests can be conducted from the microwave building both by telephone and teletype but in the event of a national emergency considerable time would be required to install cable, even if such cable could be obtained in wartime, from the microwave site to the school to place the telephones and teletypes on an operational basis.

As far as is known to date, there has been no identification made between the microwave station on the Potts estate and Shepherds College by anyone outside of Bureau employees with the possible exception of a [redacted] local manager of the power company in Shepherdstown, who made a comment when he noted the name of J. J. McGuire signed to the electric power contract. This was pointed out in my memo to you 4-16-53.

Therefore, in order to preserve the security and separation of the two places, as requested by the school officials, it would be impossible to run cable from the microwave site directly to the school without persons being able to trace the cable from one location to the other.

It is believed that the Bureau may wish to reconsider the cable installation at this time. Engineers of the Laboratory have devised a plan whereby the cable could be run from the microwave site to the telephone exchange and from the telephone exchange to the college building, thereby making it very difficult for anyone to connect the two sites together by tracing the telephone cable. This plan, of course, would require the consent and cooperation of the telephone company.

As you know, [redacted] of the Martinsburg Telephone Company made the existing telephone installation at the school and is aware that it is for the Bureau. However, he has no knowledge of the microwave station belonging to the Bureau.

DEC 16 1953

Therefore, if Bureau approval is granted, [redacted] will be contacted concerning the above plan, and if [redacted] and the telephone company is agreeable to this plan, a cost estimate will be obtained.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that Bureau approval be granted for the above contact with [redacted] so that cost estimates of cable installation may be obtained and submitted to the Bureau for further consideration.

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS - EVACUATION

Auxiliary space P.O.C.

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. All items have been completed with the exception of the following:

1. Communications - the microwave station located approximately one-half mile from the evacuation site has been installed and can be used to communicate with other sensitive Government agencies in the network. The Executives Conference of 2/20/53 decided against purchasing the cable which is necessary to connect the station with the evacuation site; therefore, communications over the microwave system must begin in the station itself and not from the evacuation site proper.

2. Four first aid training classes of approximately 30 students each have been completed. It will be necessary to continue with a minimum of three more classes of the same number and to institute refresher courses for those individuals whose certificates are expiring in the near future.

3. Destruction of files - to date no method more desirable than burning has been found for the mass destruction of files. The FBI Laboratory is continuing its research in this matter.

4. Highways - Liaison Section of the Domestic Intelligence Division is continuing to negotiate with the Office of Defense Mobilization and Federal Civil Defense Administration in an effort to ascertain the proper procedure to be followed in an emergency insofar as travel on highways is concerned. To date no specific priority system has been set up.

Apresos of our conversation this morning concerning your desire that accommodations be made available for yourself, the Deputy Attorney General, and eight other persons, at the site selected for the relocation of this Bureau's activities in the event of an emergency, I wish to advise that it has been determined that we will be able to comply with this request.

This Bureau's relocation site is the Shepherdstown College Buildings at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

I have arranged, by redistribution of space, so that we will be able to accommodate yourself, the Deputy Attorney General, and eight others.

In connection with this, I am attaching, for your information, five copies of maps that have been sketched showing routes which may be taken to reach this relocation site.

On December 17, 1953, Mr. A. Russell Ash, Chairman, Ad Hoc Committee for Alert Planning, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), advised Mr. Bartlett that he had received a request from the [redacted] of the committee to determine if it was possible for him to view the FBI microwave tower installation at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia. Mr. Conrad

As you know, the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning is made up of members of the security agencies of the Government. Recently [redacted] has become a member of this group and their representative is [redacted]. At the [redacted] he is Chairman of their Emergency Disaster and Mobilization Committee.

According to Mr. Ash, [redacted] plans to use [redacted] the FBI is using Shepherd College. As a result they have a technical problem concerning the installation of a microwave setup which was experienced by the Bureau at its emergency site. Mr. Ash said that [redacted] contacted him to see if any precedent had been set concerning the visiting of a site such as the FBI's site. It appears that the FBI emergency planning is similar to that being considered by the [redacted] therefore, the FBI installation is a logical one to observe. [redacted] would like to merely make an observation of the tower and the building with its equipment, and it is believed that this might be done on a day when the Bureau's Laboratory representatives are at the site checking the equipment.

According to Mr. Ash, [redacted] would like to take with him two members of his staff, [redacted] and [redacted] a radio technician.

Comments: It is believed desirable from a cooperation standpoint, both with [redacted] and the Ad Hoc Committee, to permit these three representatives of the [redacted] to view the FBI installation at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended that permission be granted by the Bureau to allow [redacted] representatives to visit the FBI emergency communication site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. (This visit would in no way include the Shepherd College campus.) Mr. Conrad agrees.

Mr. Thomas Donegan talked with me about a week ago about the Bureau's memorandum to the Attorney General, advising that the Bureau could take care of the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General, and eight others, at its evacuation center at Shepherdstown. He stated the Attorney General had asked him to coordinate this matter, and in connection therewith the Attorney General was wondering whether we would be able to assign a stenographer to him for any necessary dictation, and whether it would be possible for the Bureau to arrange transportation for the ten Departmental personnel. Mr. Donegan further stated he would want to explore the problem with the Bureau of getting the necessary stationery supplies down at Shepherdstown for the Attorney General.

In accordance with your instructions I today saw Tom Donegan and advised him that the Bureau would be able to make a stenographer available to take any necessary dictation for the Attorney General, but not for any other members of the Departmental staff, and that the Bureau would not be able to arrange transportation for any of them; that in the event Donegan had any necessary stationery supplies which he wanted stored at Shepherdstown he should get these supplies together and make them available to the Bureau.

Donegan stressed the fact that these talks are all informal at the present time. He expressed appreciation for the information furnished.

Mr. Thomas Donegan of the Department telephonically contacted the writer in your absence at Executives Conference and stated that he had been in conference with Mr. Ladd with reference to the arrangement whereby the Attorney General and nine other officials of the Department would be afforded facilities at this Bureau's relocation site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. He stated that in line with his conversation with Mr. Ladd he understood that the Bureau could not make any transportation facilities available nor could it make available any clerical assistance other than providing a stenographer when needed for the Attorney General in order that he could dictate on necessary items. Further, that the Bureau would arrange for the transportation of a limited amount of necessary supplies for the Attorney General's use when they were boxed and furnished the Bureau.

Mr. Donegan stated in connection with this latter item of making available the supplies, he was desirous of knowing who should be contacted to turn them over to to see that they were placed with the other materials that would be shipped to Shepherdstown. He also indicated that he had been designated by the Attorney General to draw up a short brief for transmission to the White House with a copy to this Bureau of the instructions and plans in this regard that would be furnished to the Attorney General and nine other individuals concerning this matter and as close to the format which the Bureau may have utilized in briefing the White House on this subject.

Accordingly, the writer arranged for Mr. Gauthier of this Division who has handled the monograph of information furnished to the White House to outline briefly and generally the format layout of this information. After his discussion with Mr. Donegan concerning this matter he advised that Donegan had further raised the question of him, Gauthier, as to what type of credentials would be necessary under all conditions of emergency which would pass them in and out of crowded areas under emergency conditions, and it was pointed out that it had been necessary for this Bureau to take up this matter with the Civil Defense authorities and it was suggested to Donegan that the Department would have to do this themselves. He also inquired as to what plans this Bureau had to get in touch with our employees who are scheduled for evacuation. Mr. Donegan was not furnished any details in connection with this matter and it was pointed out to him the Bureau had nonetheless pre-arrangements which adequately provided for this situation and that it would be up to him and the Attorney General to devise their own arrangements in this regard. Mr. Donegan also inquired as to whether or not the Security Index Files and records of the Bureau would be available to the Attorney General and the nine officials at the site and this question was answered by stating this is a matter which should be discussed with Mr. Ladd.

No specific information with reference to the Bureau's War Plans was divulged to Mr. Donegan according to Mr. Gauthier and the above information which was furnished was of a general nature to be used as a guide by Donegan in formulating the Department's own plans in connection with this matter.

The information contained in this communication is to be held in strict confidence. No copies or parts thereof shall be made, nor is this communication to be shown to anyone without specific authority of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The White House has approved an emergency relocation site to provide for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau in the event of attack, or in anticipation of attack, upon the Washington, D. C., area. These plans were formulated in cooperation with the Ad Hoc (special temporary committee) Committee on Alert Planning, Executive Office of the President, Office of Defense Mobilization. This Committee also assisted in formulating plans for other key critical agencies, namely: [REDACTED]

b7E

The FBI together with other key critical agencies, is considered to be a sensitive function of the Government and it is the desire of the President that adequate plans be approved now to provide for:

1. Immediate emergency relocation of the FBI at a site relatively near to the President outside of the Washington area in the event of attack or in anticipation of attack;
2. That maximum consideration of emergency operations be carried forth by a limited force of key headquarters personnel designated to keep the most essential functions of the FBI in operation during the first few weeks or months of an emergency and until more adequate staff and facilities can be provided.

Activation of our short-term plan will be effected by personnel working and living in the Washington area. The President desires that the emergency planning should preclude any assurance that advance warning can be given concerning the possibility of a

FOR CONTINUITY OF ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS OF THE FBI
OUTSIDE OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

A. EMERGENCY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND FOR RELOCATION SITE OPERATIONS:

In the event that activation of relocation site plans by FBI officials located outside of Washington, D. C., becomes necessary the following field chain of command shall be adhered to as far as is practical under existing circumstances:

1. Assistant Director E. J. Connelley
2. Special Agent in Charge L. V. Boardman
3. Special Agent in Charge R. B. Hood

B. ACTIVATING FBI PLANS BY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND:

In the absence of prior notification the field chain of command, in the order mentioned above, will immediately, upon knowledge that the Washington area has been under a heavy surprise attack and destruction is wide-spread, be responsible for activating FBI relocation site plans.

C. STAFFING RELOCATION SITE

Additional Bureau personnel shall be obtained from the field divisions as replacements for key headquarters employees (519) scheduled to staff the site who as a result of a surprise attack on Washington, D. C., are unable to report for assignment to scheduled duty.

D. FBI RELOCATION PLAN

1. Site Identification:

Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, telephone 2241 - 3711 (see attached map depicting routes between Washington, D. C., and Shepherdstown, West Virginia)

2. Timing and Movement:

[REDACTED] President of Shepherd College, will be telephonically advised concerning immediate need for occupation of the college in order that he can effect and arrange plans to evacuate the college staff and student body. The Assistant Director in Charge of Evacuation (W. R. Glavin) will depart immediately to coordinate setting up operations at the college.

3. Evacuation to Relocation Site:

Personnel scheduled to report to the relocation site for assignment to duty number 519. Material necessary for emergency operation has been designated and set aside at the Seat of Government for removal to relocation site. The relocation site is such that emergency supplies from the college stock will be available upon arrival.

Chain of Command Responsibility - additional office supplies and equipment will be obtained from other field divisions as the circumstances require.

4. Communication:

Telephone and teletype facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Radio equipment is stored at the college site and at the Newton D. Baker Veterans' Hospital, Martinsburg, West Virginia, for installation when necessary. Micro-wave terminal facilities are established in the vicinity of the site to connect with similar installations of other key critical agencies. Investigative reports affecting the nations' security will be transmitted to the relocation site over the Bureau's radio network facilities whenever and wherever wire communications are available.

Chain of Command Responsibility - qualified FBI technicians shall be obtained from other field divisions as the situation requires.

5. Vital Records:

The reproduction and dispersal of vital records (personnel fingerprints, personnel administrative data, payroll, emergency detention list) have been completed. These records are maintained under the supervision of the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Office located at 1010 Federal Office Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

FROM : EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE

SUBJECT: C WAR PLANS - CHAIN OF COMMANDAuxiliary Space For S.O.G.

Present at the Executives Conference January 25, 1954, were Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Trotter, Tamm, Mohr, Belmont, Ladd, Rosen, McGuire, and Mason.

The Conference considered the chain of command of the Bureau under War Plans. The present chain of command is:

Director, Associate Director, Assistants to the Director (Ladd and Nichols), Assistant Directors (no particular order named), and from the field, Assistant Director E. J. Connelley, SAC Boardman (New York), and SAC John Malone (Los Angeles).

In view of the proposed retirement of Mr. Ladd and the transfer of SAC Boardman to the Seat of Government, it was unanimously recommended by the Conference that the chain of command be as follows:

Director, Associate Director, Assistants to the Director (Mr. Nichols and Mr. Boardman), Assistant Directors (no order named), and from the field, Assistant Director E. J. Connelley, SAC R. J. Abbaticchio (Philadelphia), and SAC John Malone (Los Angeles).

If approved, appropriate background information will be provided to SAC Abbaticchio, who has not previously had a responsibility in the chain of command for the Bureau, and Mr. Boardman will be advised of his new designation after he assumes his new position.

see This is another in the series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. All items have been completed with the exception of the following:

1. Communications - The microwave station located approximately one-half mile from the evacuation site has been installed and used to communicate with other government agencies in the network. Contact has been made with the appropriate telephone officials covering the evacuation site for an estimate of installing a cable connecting the evacuation site with the microwave station. To date the estimate has not been received.
2. First Aid - With the completion of the series of first aid courses on 2/10/54, all buildings occupied at the Seat of Government now have in excess of 16 per cent of the personnel trained in first aid. Training will be resumed whenever percentage drops below 15 in any building.
3. Destruction of Files - To date no method more desirable than burning has been found for the mass destruction of files. The FBI Laboratory is continuing to follow this matter.
4. Highways - SA O. H. Bartlett of the Liaison Section advised there is no indication that the Office of Defense Mobilization is contemplating a system of highway priorities which in any way ties in with the state system of defense highways, however, he will remain alert for such plan on the part of Office of Defense Mobilization and will continue to make inquiry as to the possibility of a system being organized.

Revisions to referenced plans have occurred since the last submission of our basic plans to the White House on July 22, 1953.

Accordingly, there is attached hereto information recently formulated which changes portions of our basic document as last submitted.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended:

1. That the attached information go forward to Mr. Ash in order that he, as Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, can be on notice of the revisions which affect FBI plans previously submitted.
2. That the attached information be furnished to the chain of command outside of Washington (Connelley, Abbaticchio, and Malone) in order that previous instructions to them concerning their duties can be kept current.
3. That in order to afford this matter proper security handling, the communication to Mr. Ash be delivered to him via our Liaison Section.

At the request of Mr. Bowles, five boxes of Document Section supplies were placed in the warehouse at the Veterans Administration Center near Martinsburg, West Virginia, on February 24, 1954.

Metal bands were placed around the boxes for added security and the boxes were numbered C1, C2, C3, C4 and C5. The physical location of the boxes has been noted on the warehouse floor plan maintained in the Radio Section.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Quinn Tamm Q

DATE: March 5, 1954

FROM : I. W. Conrad *IWC*SUBJECT: MICROWAVE RADIO STATION
SHEPHERDSTOWN, WEST VIRGINIA*Operating War Plans Auxiliary space for S.O.G.*

As you know, the Bureau is a participant in the microwave radio network being established between the emergency relocation centers of certain designated critical agencies.

The function of the network is to provide teletype and telephone services between the microwave stations in the event land line services are disrupted. The network responsibility of the Bureau has been to provide the microwave radio station at our terminal near the Shepherd College campus. This station is now complete.

Accordingly, with the physical plant of the radio station completed, the physical custody and operation of this station is now being turned over to Division 4, in accordance with Bureau policy relating to the over-all radio communications system.

It is noted that no operation of this station is contemplated in the immediate future on the microwave radio frequencies, since the remaining microwave stations with which the Bureau would communicate are not yet in operation. Upon activation of the microwave network, periodic test operation will be required. In the meantime it is noted that Division 4 personnel are at present making regular periodic visits to the microwave site at Shepherdstown for the purpose of operating a small CW radio station located at the site.

RECOMMENDATION:

Accordingly, it is recommended that this memorandum be forwarded to the Records and Communications Division for their consideration and action.

 SHEPHERDSTOWN, WEST VIRGINIA

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space FOR S.C.G.

Reference Mr. Conrad's memorandum to Mr. Tamm, dated 3-5-54, captioned as above.

This will come down.

It will be necessary for the Laboratory to thoroughly instruct two or three Communications Section employees in the operations of the equipment when the microwave system is first activated on a regular test basis with the other critical agencies. Mr. Davy of the Laboratory gave some instructions for the operation of the microwave equipment to two Communications Section employees when the microwave station was being installed; however, the station could not at that time be actually tested in contact with similar installations of the other critical agencies and, consequently, we feel that further instruction on an actual operating basis will be necessary when the system is activated.

As you know, the Communications Section is currently operating the CW radio equipment in the microwave building on a weekly basis with the control station of the CW Network system currently set up to furnish communications between the critical agencies until such time as the microwave systems of the critical agencies can be activated.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be forwarded to the Laboratory Division for appropriate consideration and action.

Reference is made to my memorandum of March 5, 1954, relative to the above-entitled matter advising of the completion of the physical plant of the radio station.

For record purposes it is noted that the equipment in our microwave station at present consists of two basic types, namely, CW radio telegraph equipment and microwave equipment. The CW radio telegraph equipment is primarily a temporary means of communication with the other participating security agencies until such time as the full microwave system goes into operation. At that time the CW telegraph equipment probably will be retained at the site for possible emergency communication with other Bureau field office stations. This CW telegraph equipment, of course, provides for only a single channel of communication. The microwave equipment on the other hand makes provision for a total of ten simultaneous general-purpose communications channels. In our operation of this equipment, nine of the general channels will be used for voice communication and the tenth general-purpose channel will be subdivided to provide for ten simultaneous teletype channels. Thus we will have over-all nine voice circuits and ten teletype circuits available into the microwave system. The voice circuits will, of course, terminate in telephone equipment.

The microwave portion of our station near Shepherd College is intended to communicate over approximately an eight-mile distance to a [redacted] in the vicinity of [redacted] at which point the microwave beam ties into the over-all microwave network. Accordingly, there are attached hereto diagrams of the floor plans of the Bureau's microwave station house and that portion of [redacted] containing Bureau terminal equipment. These diagrams reflect a general inventory identity of the major equipment and its location.

b7E

It is noted that representatives of Division IV already are operating the CW telegraph equipment from this site and have taken a detailed inventory of the CW equipment. We will, of course, furnish any additional assistance needed in properly identifying the microwave equipment for inventory purposes by Division IV. Preliminary training insofar as possible has been given to representatives of Division IV in the operation of the microwave equipment; however, actual communication with other participants has not been possible because the rest of the microwave network is not yet in operation. At such time as the rest of the system becomes operative, we will provide any additional training deemed necessary by Division IV to insure complete familiarity with the operation of this equipment on the part of Division IV personnel under actual operating conditions.

ACTION: None for record only.

Dear Sir:

This will have reference to our recent conversation in my office at Front Royal, Virginia.

The monthly rental on 50 standby trunks as we discussed in my office recently is $262.50 per month. This would require a three year contract with the standard termination provisions.

After this contract has been approved it will require approximately 120 days to get materials and do the required construction work. Considering emergency, we could complete the job earlier.

If you require additional information, please advise.

Very truly yours,

The Executives Conference of March 4, 1954, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Holloman, McGuire, Harbo, Rosen, Boardman, Belmont, Mohr, Tamm, Tracy, and Glavin, considered a communication received on 2-25-54 from Mr. A. Russell Ash, Chairman, Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning,

It was pointed out to the Conference that this communication was personally delivered to Mr. Glavin by Liaison Special Agent O. H. Bartlett on the afternoon of March 3, 1954.

The purpose of this communication was to advise members of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning of the proposed test of Agencies' relocation plans.

Mr. Ash desired the answers to two questions:

(1) Advisability and practicability of a test of agency emergency relocation plans, in conjunction with the local civil defense exercise, in terms of security and other considerations.

(2) Assuming that your agency could participate in such a test of operational readiness, please indicate (a) number of personnel to take part (b) number of transportation units to be employed (c) street and highway routes to be used by relocation personnel in reaching emergency sites (d) whether emergency sites would actually be occupied by relocation forces (e) whether a lesser degree of movement to the site would be contemplated (e.g., movement of personnel only to outskirts of the city), and (f) any further extent to which plans could be tested (emergency communications, e.g.)

RECOMMENDATIONS:

The Conference, after considering the questions asked, is of the very definite opinion that the Bureau should not have a trial run at this time to its relocation site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. Such a trial run would necessitate securing automotive

Reference is made to my memorandum dated November 27, 1953, wherein it was pointed out there had been no telephone cable installed between the microwave station and the school building at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, and recommending that the Bureau approve contacting the telephone company to obtain cost figures for the proposed cable installation.

The above recommendation was approved by the Executive Conference on December 3, 1953.

On March 1, 1954, [redacted] advised by letter that the proposed installation would cost $262.50 per month for a 50 pair cable from the microwave station to the school and that this installation would require a three-year contract with the standard termination provisions, i.e., their total cost of the installation would be $9450.00 and would be amortized at the rate of $262.50 per month for a period of three years. Attached is a copy of the Federal Civil Defense Administration Manual M18-1 dated December 15, 1953, entitled "Emergency Operations" which was brought to the attention of the Bureau by the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning for the purpose of furnishing to us an outline for determining the effectiveness of planning along emergency lines, which planning had previously been furnished to that committee.

In the event that no material modifications have been made in essential elements of the plan of our Bureau since last reported, a statement to that effect is desired by the committee including a reference to the most recent submission of information of this nature.

On July 22, 1953, the Bureau submitted to Mr. A. Russell Ash, Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee, this Bureau's complete over-all planning currently directed toward providing continuity of essential functions of this agency at a predetermined relocation site whenever it becomes necessary to evacuate key operations from the present facility located in Washington, D. C. On January 12, 1954, there was submitted to Mr. Ash material describing recently formulated revisions of the plans which will serve to maintain referenced basic document in a current status.

It is felt that it is not necessary at this time to submit a new basic document because no changes have taken place since the last communication to his office. It is felt that the next time changes occur to our plans and it is necessary to advise the chairman's office, that the basic document be retyped to include the revisions.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the attached letter go forward to Mr. Ash.

(2) That the communication to Mr. Ash be delivered to him via our Liaison Section.

The Bureau has on its various circuits at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. It is recalled that charges for each teletype machine for example, were increased $10.00 a month last July and charges on reperforators likewise were increased. Mr. Ben Willis of the Department, who has responsibility for Departmental war plans, advised informally March 24 that the Office of Defense Mobilization is "taking a new look" at evacuation plans for various Governmental agencies in view of recent developments as to the power of atomic bombs.

Willis stated that apparently the Office of Defense Mobilization plans to divide the area around Washington into pie-shaped segments with Washington at the center and allocate a segment for each Government agency. According to Willis, ODM will take cognizance of firm plans for evacuation already existing for certain critical agencies. The FBI has firm plans for evacuation to Shepherdstown. On the other hand, the Department had plans to go into [redacted] in [redacted] except for the ten Department officials who will evacuate with the FBI, and it now appears that such a plan would be undesirable because of the proximity of [redacted] to Washington. Willis felt that the trend was to get agencies a safe distance from Washington, meaning roughly 50 or 100 miles, depending upon the protective nature of the terrain. b7E

We have not been advised of any plans ODM might have for altering the FBI evacuation site at Shepherdstown or for altering evacuation sites of other critical agencies with which the FBI must do business.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that Liaison Agent Walter Woods contact Mr. Russell Ash of the Ad Hoc Committee of the Office of Defense Mobilization to ascertain if there are any contemplated changes in evacuation sites which might affect the Bureau or the Bureau's communications with other critical agencies. Mr. Woods may be able to pick up other information as to the general thinking of the Ad Hoc Committee as to likely future adjustments in war plans.

Reference Mr. Mason's memorandum to Mr. Harbo dated 3/25/54 concerning captioned matter wherein it was requested that Liaison determine from the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) if there were any contemplated changes in evacuation sites which might affect the Bureau or the Bureau's communications with other critical agencies. This recommendation was predicated upon an informal conversation between Mr. Ben Willis of the Department and Mr. Mason, wherein Mr. Willis advised that ODM was "taking a new look" at evacuation plans.

On 4/1/54 Mr. Russell Ash, ODM, advised W. F. Woods, Liaison representative, that his office on 3/8/54 prepared a memorandum setting forth a new emergency relocation plan, a copy of which was furnished the Bureau on 3/29/54. Basically this plan indicated that relocation would be for the duration rather than a temporary 90-day period, and that relocation sites would be located within a westerly arc approximately 20 to 300 miles radial distance from the Washington, D. C. urban target zone. This new plan also indicated that all persons performing essential wartime functions are to be scheduled for emergency relocation.

To implement this plan, ODM indicated that functional groupings of agencies have been made for close proximity location based on frequency of contact, and that the relocation arc has been divided into sectors to match the space needs of each agency. In this connection the new plan does not affect the Bureau in that the sector assigned the Bureau under this plan includes the county in which our present relocation site is located. This sector encompasses the counties of Jefferson, Berkeley and Morgan Counties in West Virginia and the southern half of Frederick County in Maryland. In addition to the Bureau, the Justice Department and the Subversive Activities Control Board is also scheduled to occupy space in this sector. It is noted that all security agencies are not affected by this new relocation plan, and that agencies within the Department of Defense will be immediately adjacent to the Bureau.

At this time the proposed plan applies to Washington only but consideration is being given to other large metropolitan areas, particularly on the eastern seaboard.

Recommendation: None. For your information.

BACKGROUND:

Per the Director's instructions following Executives Conference recommendation in memorandum of March 10, 1954, Mr. Bennett Willis of the Department was contacted concerning the Department's emergency relocation plan. The questions previously raised by the Bureau were discussed and Mr. Willis advised the necessary revisions would be made in the Department's plans.

On 3/30/54, the revisions in the Department's plans were received at the Bureau. The revised pages have been analyzed and the following points have been noted:

1. The Bureau has previously agreed to provide such communications facilities as are available to the Attorney General and Departmental officials who are to be evacuated to the relocation site. It is noted that among those officials to be evacuated is the Commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The attached memorandum to Mr. Donegan points out that the communications facilities at the relocation site were designed to accommodate only urgent messages of the FBI, thus, of necessity, limiting the number of messages which can be transmitted from the site.

2. The attached memorandum to Mr. Donegan points out that the FBI microwave equipment at the relocation site has been installed and that when the microwave equipment at the relocation sites of [redacted]

[redacted] have completed their installations, contact with these sensitive agencies may be had. b7E

3. The Bureau has previously agreed to deliver to the relocation site for the Department such supplies and equipment as the Department will need at the site. The attached memorandum acknowledges the five cartons of supplies now stored in Room B205 of the Justice Building and requests that the Department advise at an early date the number of typewriters, file cabinets and special equipment they plan to relocate per revised page one of the Departmental instructions.

4. Item 3, page 11, of the Departmental plans amends the Attorney General's memorandum to the Director dated 4/27/53 wherein the Director is authorized to implement the emergency detention program if the President and the Attorney General are incapacitated. The new instructions provide that this program may be put into effect only by order of the President, the Attorney General, or the first four persons in the chain of authority of the Department of Justice, provided, that if the Director of the FBI, or his alternate, is unable to communicate with these persons, he is authorized to implement that program in accordance with the above-mentioned memorandum.

Mr. Belmont pointed out that in effect the setting up of the chain of command in the Department is additional insurance that the authority to implement the emergency detention program will come from the Department, thus, relieving the Director of the responsibility of having to institute the DETCOM program and is in line with the thoughts expressed by Mr. Belmont and Supervisor Paul Cox during their conference with Assistant Attorney General Olney and Mr. William Foley of the Department on the afternoon of 5/26/53, which conference is recorded in a memorandum from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Ladd dated 5/26/53.

5. Paragraph 1, page 4, states that if it should be necessary for the FBI to notify a person who is not among the first four in the chain of authority in the Department the FBI shall be authorized to furnish the person whom they are able to contact the contents of this instruction and the contents of the Attorney General's war plans portfolio.

The foregoing instruction is not clear and the attached memorandum to Mr. Donegan points out that he may wish to clarify the statement to set forth specifically what instructions he is authorizing the FBI to issue to the person not among the first four in the chain of authority at the time of contact and that we presume the only instruction relates to the whereabouts of our evacuation site.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That the attached memorandum and five maps enclosed thereto showing the routes to the Bureau's relocation site go forward to Mr. Donegan.

Your File 44-3-1-4

Reference is made to your undated memorandum received at the Bureau March 30, 1954, with which you transmitted amended pages to copies eleven and twelve of captioned instructions. The amended pages have been inserted and the obsolete pages destroyed as you requested. There are here enclosed five copies of the map showing various routes to the vicinity of the FBI relocation site per your request.

The revised pages you submitted have been reviewed and the following comments are being submitted for your information:

1. With reference to communications facilities mentioned on pages one and two, I wish to point out that the communications equipment at the relocation site is designed to accommodate only urgent messages of the FBI. This will of necessity greatly limit the number of messages which can be transmitted from the site. I point this out to you because I note that one of the individuals whom you plan to take with you to the relocation site is the Commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, who will undoubtedly require extensive communications equipment. You may be assured, however, that such communication facilities as remain available will be placed at the disposal of the Attorney General and the Departmental officials who will occupy space at the relocation site.

2. The microwave radio equipment of the FBI has been installed and is ready for communication with the relocation sites of [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] when those agencies have completed their microwave installations.

3. The five cartons of supplies previously submitted by the Department for FBI delivery to the relocation site are now stored in Room B205 of the Justice Building. So that we might

You will recall that approximately five tons of radio equipment were stored in the basement room at Shepherds College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, on September 15, 1951, which was prior to the time arrangements had been made for warehouse space at the Veterans Administration Center near Martinsburg, West Virginia.

On a recent trip to this basement room in connection with our Microwave radio plans, it was noted that although now perfectly dry, the walls apparently had been damp at some previous time, indicating that high humidity conditions had existed, possibly as a result of heavy rains, summer humidity, et cetera.

It is noted that sufficient space is currently available at the Veterans Administration warehouse near Martinsburg to accommodate the radio equipment presently in the basement at the college and it, therefore, appears desirable to transfer this equipment to the VA warehouse. If feasible, this move should be completed before summer, since the moisture conditions normally are particularly bad during the summer season.

ACTION:

Unless advised to the contrary the radio equipment presently stored in the basement room at Shepherds College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, will be moved to the warehouse at the Veterans Administration Center near Martinsburg, West Virginia, at the earliest opportunity. Arrangements will be made, of course, with Dr. Ikenberry so that the move may be effected when school is out of session or at another appropriate time.

See Reference is made to my memorandum dated March 11, 1954, referring to radio equipment presently in storage in Shepherds College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia. Arrangements have been effected with [redacted] President of the College, concerning the best time to remove the heavy equipment from the basement room of the Administration Building. It is his opinion that there would be a minimum of student and college personnel activity at the school on Friday, April 16, 1954. Accordingly, plans are being made for a crew made up of personnel of this Section to take a large rented truck, two small  $1\frac{1}{2}$  ton Bureau trucks and an automobile to Shepherdstown on April 16 to effect the move of the  $6\frac{1}{2}$  tons of equipment to the Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration Hospital at Martinsburg, West Virginia.

A flat bed van type truck of two tons capacity equipped with an hydraulic lift if possible will be required because of the unfavorable loading conditions encountered at the school, particularly in connection with handling the two 840 pound BG-339 radio transmitters. Also, two refrigerator handling carts or dollies should be rented if possible. It is suggested that complete arrangements for this truck and equipment be effected by the Chief Clerk's Office, making the unit available in the Department of Justice Building court on the evening of the 15th, inasmuch as it will be necessary to start to Shepherdstown prior to 6:00 A.M. on Friday, April 16. In addition, it will be necessary to reserve two of the  $1\frac{1}{2}$  ton closed panel Bureau trucks, along with one passenger vehicle. These should be made ready to go by 6:00 A.M., April 16, 1954, at the Esso Servicenter. Instructions as to the disposal of the rented equipment should be made available to this Section inasmuch as the truck itself will not be returned to Washington until late Friday evening.

SUBJECT: AD HOC COMMITTEE ON ALERT PLANNING

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.

On March 9, 1954, Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Woods of the Liaison Section conferred with Captain Robert Richardson of the White House Signal Corps. Captain Richardson has been detailed to do some work with the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning in an attempt to set up some control over the microwave system which has been installed between the security agencies involved in this planning. These agencies, in addition to the Bureau, are:

[Redacted Box]

b7E

Captain Richardson asked the following specific questions:

1. What is the minimum number of telephone circuits that the Director of the FBI will require from the FBI's emergency site to the President?
2. What is the minimum number of teletype circuits that the Director of the FBI will require from the FBI's emergency site to the President?
3. In connection with the teletype circuits, what will be the group count per day (number of words)?
4. Exclusive of the White House, how many telephone and teletype circuits will the FBI require to handle their daily communications with the other security agencies?
5. What positions in the FBI will have priority in connection with the emergency telephone circuits?

Captain Richardson pointed out that requests for telephone circuits should be kept to a minimum in view of the fact that twelve, and possibly more, teletype circuits can be carried in place of one telephone circuit.

RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended this memorandum be routed to Assistant Director Glavin for handling.

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. The following items have not been completed:

1. Communications

The microwave station located approximately 1/2 mile from the evacuation site is installed and can be used to communicate with other Government agencies in the network. The Executives Conference on 3/9/54 approved an expenditure which will permit the installation of a cable connecting the evacuation site with the microwave station. The cable to date has not been installed.

2. Destruction of Files

To date, no method more desirable than burning has been found for the mass destruction of files. The FBI Laboratory is continuing to follow this matter.

3. Highways

In a statement of assumptions and plan for continuity of essential wartime functions of the Executive Branch of the Government prepared by the Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization and discussed at the National Security Council meeting of 1/28/54 under the heading, Limitations of Emergency Relocation, there appears this statement, "Emergency Relocation among other difficulties is wholly dependent upon adequate warning! "...with even the best system of early warning, traffic jams and civilian panic may prevent the orderly evacuation of key personnel to the relocation points designated. No presently foreseeable system (even if some advance warning before a yellow alert is available for key personnel) can overcome this danger. At the present time no feasible method of warning in advance of the yellow alert and the initiation of Conelrad is considered possible."

SUBJECT: AD HOC COMMITTEE ON ALERT PLANNING

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space for S.O.G.

Reference is made to the attached memorandum from Mr. Keay to Mr. Belmont dated 3-11-54 setting forth certain specific questions posed by Captain Robert Richardson of the White House Signal Corps Detachment concerning FBI circuit requirements on the security agencies microwave network. As you know, our microwave terminal equipment has been installed and most of the critical agencies terminals are substantially completed. Captain Richardson has been assigned the task of coordinating the various agency requirements into an over-all plan of circuitry for the entire network.

For the information of Mr. Nichols and Mr. Glavin, our microwave equipment presently installed provides nine voice channels and ten teletype channels. To utilize all ten teletype channels would, of course, require the installation of ten teletype machines at the school. Purchase of additional equipment could expand the microwave facilities to 24 voice channels with the possibility of substituting as high as 18 teletype channels for any one voice channel.

You will recall that at the time equipment was ordered, the Ad Hoc Committee's plans were very vague on the circuit requirements of the various agencies and the original plan was for [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] It was decided that the Bureau would purchase its equipment directly from Motorola (see Executives Conference memorandum 5-8-52). In light of information available at that time, equipment was ordered which would provide the facilities outlined above so the project could proceed, with the thought in mind that additional equipment could be procured later should it become necessary (see my memo to Mr. Harbo dated 5-20-52). It is pointed out that, in planning, the objective of the microwave network has been to provide facilities for the handling of urgent high-priority traffic only, rather than to accommodate communications on a "business as usual" basis.

Of course the Laboratory is not in a position to determine Bureau emergency communications requirements. However, the following observation is offered as one possible solution for consideration, recognizing that the ultimate coordinated plan can only be achieved through an around-the-table discussion between all the agencies involved. Our equipment could provide for one direct voice circuit to each of the other seven critical agencies, leaving two voice circuits available for patching-in to supplement communications to any agency desired through some central switchboard. The facilities likewise could provide for a direct teletype circuit to each of the other seven agencies with three circuits left to go through a central board for patching-in where needed. The Committee has discussed the possibility of a "round robin" teletype circuit where all agencies would be connected on one common teletype circuit for conference-type connections. If this is found feasible, one of the teletype channels would be needed to satisfy this requirement.

As you know, negotiations are presently under way to have a cable installed between the microwave station and the school. The problem of switchboard facilities to provide complete flexibility within our own installation is being studied and will be made the subject of a separate memorandum.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be forwarded to Mr. Glavin and Mr. Nichols for their information.

Reference is made to my memorandum of 4-6-54 concerning plans for moving all of the stored radio communications equipment from the basement room at Shepherds College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, to the Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration Hospital at Martinsburg, West Virginia.

For record purposes this is to advise that employees of the Radio-Electrical Section, under supervision of R. L. Millen, removed this equipment from Shepherds College and transported it to our space at the Veterans Administration Hospital without incident. [redacted] b7E [redacted] President of Shepherds College, is aware that the equipment has been removed from the College. Only the emergency telephone and teletype facilities, which are, as you know, being rented from the telephone company, remain in the College basement room.

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. The following have not been completed:

1.- Communications

A contract to install the cable connecting the relocation site with the microwave station is being negotiated. The Telephone Company has advised that it will take approximately three months to obtain the necessary materials after the contract has been signed.

2. Destruction of Files

No method more desirable than burning has been found for the mass destruction of files. There is an estimated 856.77 tons of Bureau records to be evacuated or destroyed. Of this amount 84.76 tons are personnel records, and 19.41 tons are records relating to Security Index and Espionage cases. The FBI Laboratory is continuing to follow this matter.

3. Highways

The most recent statement from the Office of Defense Mobilization is that even with the best system of early warning, traffic jams and civilian panic may prevent the orderly evacuation of key personnel to relocation points. The Federal Civil Defense has stated that within the near future they expect to have a warning system developed whereby they can give one hour advance notice of possible attack to coastal cities and two hour advance notice to cities inland. There is no indication that any positive steps have been taken by any agency to insure that highways will be kept open to the extent that an evacuation of key personnel could be successfully carried out. The matter is being followed by the Liaison Section.

4. First Aid

At least 15% of all employees at the Seat of Government have Red Cross First Aid Certificates; however, some buildings are under 15%, and the Identification Building has only 15.46% trained in First Aid as of 4-1-54. A First Aid class for 30 employees is being scheduled to begin 4-26-54.

WAR PLANS - CIVIL DEFENSE
(HIGH PRIORITY)

Reurlet 5/14/54.

The expeditious manner in which you brought the Virginia Civil Defense system of highway priorities to the Bureau's attention is appreciated. Any additional information coming to your attention which you feel would be of interest to the Bureau and the Bureau evacuation plans should be closely followed and brought to the Bureau's attention at the earliest possible date.

Federal Civil Defense Administration is being contacted by Bureau Liaison Agents in an effort to induce Federal Civil Defense to issue a nation-wide advisory bulletin requesting State Coordinators of Civil Defense to grant Bureau personnel a sufficiently high priority to permit the Bureau to fulfill its responsibilities during a period of emergency. You will be kept advised of the outcome of this request.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Director, FBI

DATE: 5/14/54

FROM : SAC, Richmond (100-5015)

SUBJECT: CIVIL DEFENSE MATTERS

(Travel on Highways in Event of Emergency)

On May 12, 1954, [redacted] State Coordinator of Civilian Defense, Richmond, Va., furnished this office copies of a recently printed map of the State of Virginia, captioned "Civil and Military Defense Routes", which has been enlarged and most all of the arterial highways have been heavily colored in purple and green to indicate these highways are to be used for Military and Civil Defense purposes in the event of war or other similar emergency. Small insets in this map depict Military and Civil Defense routes in the following areas: Hampton Roads (including Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News), Richmond, Alexandria-Arlington, Lynchburg, Roanoke and Petersburg.

[redacted] has advised that this map was drawn up by his office in consultation with U. S. Army officials from Second Army Headquarters, Ft. Meade, Md. He said the present plans for use of the highways of Virginia do not include any agencies except Military and Civil Defense. He said he was not unmindful of the FBI's functions and responsibilities but insofar as non-military personnel of the U. S. Government was concerned, his office was forced, for reasons of simplification, to be guided by directives and recommendations of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, and up to this time FCDA has not requested that the FBI be given any special privileges in connection with travel in an emergency.

It is, therefore, suggested that the Bureau take up with FCDA the problem of travel by Bureau personnel in order that FCDA will issue a nationwide directive to State Coordinators of Civilian Defense in order that we will be permitted to travel on all routes in wartime or other emergency as a part of the defense forces of the nation.

Since the above maps are large, it is suggested Norfolk obtain any extra copies from the local CD Office. If they cannot be obtained locally, it is suggested you write [redacted] directly, Room 20, State Capitol, Richmond, Va.

The Bureau and Washington Field Office are being furnished one copy each of the map herewith since the northern area of Virginia may be of interest in your CD or other emergency plans, and one copy is being furnished Norfolk.

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. The following have not been completed:

(1) COMMUNICATIONS

The telephone company at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, has been instructed to proceed with the installation of the cable connecting the relocation site with the microwave station. It is estimated that it will take approximately 2½ months to obtain the necessary materials. There is installed in the microwave station near the relocation site a 450 watt CW radio station which, under good conditions, is capable of contacting all the continental field offices one at a time.

(2) DESTRUCTION OF FILES

No method more desirable than burning has been found for the mass destruction of the estimated 856.77 tons of Bureau records to be evacuated or destroyed. Of this amount, 84.76 tons are personnel records and 19.41 tons are records relating to security index and espionage cases. The FBI Laboratory is continuing to follow this matter.

(3) HIGHWAYS

Information Bulletin #1, Series 1954, Office of Civil Defense, District of Columbia, dated April 20, 1954, contains an excerpt of a memorandum by Colonel Barnet Beers, U.S.A. Military Liaison Officer to Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) dated April 24, 1951, re Policy on Usage of Highways by Military During Emergency which states, "No overall plan for control of road nets is contemplated by the Army. specific road net will be in the hands of civil authorities and the Army movements necessary at this time will be coordinated with the local restrictions that have been imposed. The U.S. Army will not impose any restrictions on the use of road needs and in case the use of highways is desired, such use will be coordinated with civil needs and through local civil authorities." There is no indication that any positive steps will be taken by any agency to insure that highways will be kept open to the extent that in evacuation of key personnel could be successfully carried out. This matter is being followed by the Liaison Section.

(4) FIRST AID

At least 15% of all employees at the Seat of Government have current Red Cross first aid certificates. However, less than 15% of the employees in the General Accounting Office Building and at the Clinton Radio Station have been trained in first aid. Due to personnel shortages at this time, no first aid classes will be held until July 15, 1954.

You will recall that Executive Order #10312 required Government agencies to prepare plans providing for emergency control over radio stations under emergency conditions. The Bureau plan was prepared and has been approved by the Secretary of Defense and the Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization in accordance with the provisions of the Executive Order. The War Plans Supervisor in Division II, the Liaison Section in Division V, the Communications Section in Division IV and the Laboratory are exploring the various ramifications of the problem, and recommendations as to the best method of implementing the plan will be treated in separate memoranda.

Since our plan has been disseminated to the various Air Defense Command Posts throughout the country, it is felt that the SAC's should be advised immediately of the existence of the plan should any inquiries be received from the Air Defense Command in the field. A suggested SAC letter is attached for approval and sufficient copies of the plan are available in the Radio Section to provide a copy of it for each field division. A copy of the plan is attached to this memorandum for your information.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the attached SAC Letter be approved and distributed to the field.

SUBJECT: CONELRAD

Plan No. 1
Revised 10-15-53

An outline plan for the control of electro-magnetic radiation under Executive Order #10312.

I. PURPOSE

Recognizing advances in the development of electronic control devices designed for directing aircraft or guided missiles, as well as the continual growth of radio navigational aids since World War II, the Federal Bureau of Investigation is desirous of so utilizing its radio facilities, in the event of enemy attack or imminent threat of attack, as to carry out the purpose of Executive Order #10312, namely, to minimize possible use of such radio signals by an enemy.

It appears most likely, that the activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, in Internal Security, Espionage and Sabotage matters, and in the control of subversive persons and organizations, will be at the highest peak during or just prior to an enemy attack. Accordingly, radio operations will be reduced to the minimum consistent with the need for emergency communications during an alert.

II. AUTHORITY

The plan hereinafter described will be implemented under Executive Order #10312.

III. DEFINITIONS

FX	FIXED	Station: A station in the fixed service. (A fixed station may, as a secondary service, transmit to mobile stations on its normal frequencies.)
FL	LAND	Station: A station in the mobile service not intended for operation while in motion. (A land station may communicate, on a secondary basis, with fixed stations or other land stations of the same category.)
MO	MOBILE	Station: A station in the mobile service intended to be used while in motion or during halts at unspecified points.

IV. SCOPE

This plan covers all radio facilities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the continental United States and in the Territorial and Insular possessions of the United States.

V. INVENTORY OF FACILITIES

The Federal Bureau of Investigation utilizes both Radio-telegraph and Voice transmitters as described in the following summary:

a. Categories of facilities include:

1. Radiotelegraph stations in FX (fixed) category which utilize the following frequencies in kilocycles per second with 0.1A1 and 1.1F1 emission at a maximum of 3.0 kilowatts power throughout the United States and with the Territorial and Insular possessions

b. Methods of control:

Upon receipt of Conelrad alert notification from the appropriate Air Defense Commander, radio stations of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be controlled as follows:

1. Radiotelegraph stations in the Fixed category will shut down operation during an air attack unless there is urgent need for this service at the time.
2. FM stations in the Fixed and Land categories will reduce transmission to the minimum consistent with successfully carrying out essential Internal Security and National Defense operations.
3. FM stations in the Mobile and Portable categories will reduce transmission to the minimum required to carry out essential Internal Security and National Defense operations.

SECURITY INFORMATION - ~~SECRET~~

4. In conducting essential Internal Security and National Defense operations during enemy attack, or imminent threat of attack, all Federal Bureau of Investigation radio stations will use suitable code identifiers in place of regularly assigned call signs. Operators of stations in Fixed and Land categories will be directed not to identify their frequency or station location and not to keep carrier on the air during periods of no transmission.
5. Nothing in the present Conelrad plan should be construed to affect the right of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to carry out and fulfill its established responsibilities in Internal Security and other matters.

VI. ALERTING OF STATIONS TO BE CONTROLLED

1. Upon receipt of Conelrad alert from the appropriate Air Division (Defense) Commander, such alert will be channeled to FBI stations concerned in the most practical and expeditious manner, making maximum use of existing alerting facilities. The FBI assumes responsibility for making arrangements for prompt receipt of alert notifications at the stations concerned from an existing official alerting network.
2. With regard to the Federal Bureau of Investigation operations in the Territorial and Insular possessions, the Special Agent in Charge of each field office will maintain liaison with the appropriate local military authority to insure receipt of local alert warnings and subsequent control of radio signals.

You will recall that early in 1953 the Administrative Division perfected arrangements with the Veterans Administration for approximately 2500 square feet of warehouse space at the Newton D. Baker VA Center near Martinsburg, West Virginia.

All the equipment for which the space was requested has now been received, checked and transported to the warehouse, the last load having been placed therein on February 24. It is noted that there are no loose items in the warehouse; all items are contained in sturdy wooden crates. It is further noted that all identifying data have been removed from the crates and each box is marked with a code number for our own use. Keys to the warehouse have been turned over to Mr. N. P. Callahan of the Administrative Division.

Inasmuch as all equipment is enclosed in wooden boxes, no technical inspections of the equipment are contemplated and the warehouse is being considered as long-term dead storage in connection with the Bureau's emergency plans. Since the stored equipment represents a substantial monetary investment, it is suggested that the Administrative Division may wish to set up a program of periodic inspections of the space if this has not already been done.

2 Bureau War Plans Auxiliary - p. 1 - 2 - 3

Reference is made to my memorandum of May 20, 1954, (attached hereto), concerning the above-mentioned matter.

Appropos to our discussion of May 24, 1954, I telephonically communicated with [redacted] President of Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, this morning and advised him of my retirement from active service. I further advised him that Mr. Parsons would drop up to see him within the next week or so.

[redacted] was very appreciative of the call and stated that he would be very happy to see Mr. Parsons when he came to Shepherdstown.

b6

For Mr. Parson's information, I advised [redacted] that in the future if any matters of interest to the Bureau involving the college came up Mr. Parsons would be the Bureau's Liaison Man with him [redacted].

[redacted] advised me that he and [redacted] are going to take a tour of Europe this summer. However, he will be at Shepherdstown until July 12, 1954.

You will recall that I personally perfected plans with [redacted] President of Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, to utilize the college as alternate headquarters in the event it becomes necessary for the Bureau to evacuate Washington. I also appeared before the State Board of Education in connection with this matter, at which time [redacted] was designated by the Board as the sole contact with the Bureau concerning utilizing the school property in case of emergency.

In the setting up of certain emergency installations I had Mr. Donald J. Parsons of the Laboratory meet [redacted] There-fore, Mr. Parsons is acquainted with [redacted]

In view of the fact that I will cease active duty at the close of business on Friday, May 28, 1954, I feel that it would be desirable for a new contact to be designated.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

It is respectfully suggested that Mr. Parsons be designated that contact and that Mr. Parsons and I visit [redacted] some time next week so that he will be familiar with the fact that Mr. Parsons will take over the contact with him in the event it is necessary to occupy the college property.

For record purposes, Mr. McGuire of my office checked with [ ] Manager of the Virginia Telephone and Telegraph Company at Front Royal, Virginia, (parent company owning Central Telephone Company, Shepherdstown, West Virginia) regarding the Bureau's previous order for a fifty standby trunkline to be installed between the microwave station and the Bureau's installation in the Administration Building of the College. [ ] advised that the matter was being handled satisfactorily and that the order had in fact been placed for the materials. [ ] stated, as we had previously been advised, it would take 2 1/2 or 3 months to obtain the necessary materials in that area and that he personally had rechecked this matter only this week and found that there would probably be no additional delay in obtaining the appropriate type cable. [ ] felt, however, that in view of the fact that the school was still occupied with the current semester that it might be desirable to wait an additional several weeks until the school is closed and make the installation at that time prior to the commencement of a summer session. In this manner [ ] felt his people would have less interference from any student body and faculty who might become curious. [ ] was told this was perfectly satisfactory.

[ ] also advised that he had a contract drawn in line with Mr. McGuire's oral conversation with him on March 20, 1954; however, he had not submitted it to the Bureau until he could be assured that there would be no changes in the costs in view of any possible difficulties in obtaining the equipment. Now that this latter item has been settled and clarified, [ ] stated he would send the contract on for the Bureau's signature and return to him. As soon as it is received the contract will be appropriately signed and returned to [ ]

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. The following have not been completed.

1. COMMUNICATIONS

The telephone company at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, has been instructed to proceed with the installation of the cable connecting the relocation site with the microwave station. The contract has been let and the material has been ordered. The cable will be installed between the end of the current semester and the beginning of the summer session at the college if it arrives in time. If not, the installation will take place between the end of the summer session and the beginning of the regular fall term.

2. DESTRUCTION OF FILES

No method more desirable than burning has been found for the mass destruction of the estimated 856.77 tons of Bureau records to be evacuated or destroyed. Of this amount, approximately 85 tons are personnel records and 19.5 tons are records relating to Security Index and Espionage cases. The FBI Laboratory is continuing to follow this matter.

The Records Section estimates that it will take approximately 2 hours during the normal work day to gather and deposit at a central point for evacuation the essential working records consisting basically of the Security Index and Espionage cases. It was estimated that it will take 12 hours to collect the same files should instructions to do so come during the midnight shift. The Records Section is continuing its efforts to arrive at some plan whereby this period of time will be reduced.

3. HIGHWAYS

The Liaison Section since 10/30/53 has been negotiating with Federal Civil Defense Administration and Office of Defense Mobilization relative to highway priority for FBI personnel. On 5/20/54, it was ascertained that Federal Civil Defense Administration and Office of Defense Mobilization have formulated a committee to draft a system of highway priority which could be correlated with state Civil Defense organizations. An SAC Letter has gone forth instructing all SACs to arrange with state Civil Defense organizations for FBI personnel to be given free access to all military and Civil Defense highways during periods of emergency. This will be followed closely by the War Plans Desk of the Training and Inspection Division.

4. FIRST AID

There is in excess of 15 per cent of all employees in the Justice Building, Old Post Office Building, Waldorf Radio Station and Quantico trained in first aid. There are 14.3 per cent of the employees in Identification Building trained in first aid, 9.5 per cent at the Clinton Radio Station and no employees trained in first aid at the General Accounting Office Building. Mr. Mohr on 4/20/54 instructed that no first aid training would be conducted before July 15, 1954. It is contemplated that first aid training classes will begin during the week of July 19, 1954, with priority given to the employees of the Identification, General Accounting Office and Clinton Radio Station buildings.

For record purposes, in view of the extensiveness of damage in H-bomb warfare wherein any enemy strike in the Washington area might also affect Baltimore where all of our war plans communications channel through AT & T facilities, it was felt desirable to have AT & T consider a routing of the Bureau's standby emergency communications out of Shepherdstown to one of the three nearest field divisions (Richmond, Louisville and Cincinnati) avoiding the cities of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

[ ] of AT & T, who has been handling the Bureau's emergency standby network at Shepherdstown, is taking this matter up directly with the engineers of AT & T and from a preliminary check has advised that there would probably be some office construction required at several local points; that it looked best to him for the Bureau to evaluate the desirability of having as an alternate circuit out of Shepherdstown a connection with the nearest terminal center which would provide all our requirements and that this is Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. [ ] stated that as soon as he got the definite cost, he would let us know in order that we can consider the desirability of incurring additional expense in connection with our Shepherdstown setup in providing for an alternate routing.

The main problem involved results from all of our emergency war communications plans utilizing land lines being channeled through Baltimore. If Baltimore were knocked out our entire land lines communications at Shepherdstown would also go out. We will follow on this matter with AT & T.

It is current planning of the Bureau that in the event Assistant Directors and persons of higher position in the FBI should be disabled in an emergency, that the chain of command will revert to:

- (a) Assistant Director E. J. Connelley
- (b) SAC J. F. Malone, Los Angeles
- (c) SAC R. J. Abbaticchio, Philadelphia

Mr. Connelley is retiring. There is some doubt in our mind as to whether SAC Malone should be in the chain of command, because an absolute minimum of nine hours flying time would be necessary for him to get to the Bureau's evacuation site at Shepherdstown and because of its strategic importance and security problem, it is doubtful that an SAC should leave Los Angeles in a period of emergency.

It appears that it would be more suitable to eliminate completely from the chain of command any officials, such as the SAC at New York, who will have a tremendous security problem, and whose field division contains critical targets of primary importance. Same thinking applies to the other of the largest field divisions, such as, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Detroit, Newark, Washington Field.

Suggested chain of command to take charge upon the demise or disability of Assistant Directors and higher:

(1) SAC F. Hallford, Pittsburgh. (Although a metropolitan area and industrial area, Pittsburgh does not have as acute security problems as some of the larger offices and the SAC could get from Pittsburgh to Shepherdstown rather quickly.)

(2) SAC R. J. Abbaticchio, Philadelphia.

(3) SAC J. M. Lopez, Savannah. (Relatively no security problem and located immediately adjacent to the Hunter

Air Force Base, from which he could borrow a plane to fly to Shepherdstown.

(4) SAC W. A. Murphy, Charlotte.

If these names are suitable, you may wish to indicate whether this chain of command is satisfactory or whether you would prefer to have this matter considered by the Executives Conference.

Per your instructions to Mason 6/21/54, it is suggested that a specific chain of command be set up among the Assistant Directors at the Seat of Government. Heretofore there has been no clear-cut line of authority under War Planning as to which Assistant Director will take precedence over another should emergency conditions necessitate such action. It is proposed that the chain of command for War Plans be:

Director
Associate Director
Mr. L. B. Nichols
Mr. L. V. Boardman
Mr. A. H. Belmont
Mr. R. T. Harbo
Mr. J. P. Mohr
Mr. Quinn Tamm
Mr. D. J. Parsons
Mr. A. Rosen

It is suggested that all members of the chain of command, including field, be fully advised of the nature of the Bureau's War Plans, policies, and plans in connection with the program for the detention of Communists, plans for the reconstruction of the Bureau's files, and the availability of certain vital information now stored in the field on microfilm.

RECOMMENDATION:

Director's wishes be ascertained as to these matters.

The Director has approved my memorandum of 6/21/54 setting up a new chain of command for division heads at the Seat of Government and certain selected Special Agents in Charge to operate under emergency conditions in connection with war planning.

Attached are certain communications necessary to carry out these instructions.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Following communications, which are attached, be dispatched:

(1) Memorandum to Seat of Government Division Heads advising them of the Seat of Government chain of command.

(2) Letter to Mr. Connelley, advising that his retirement necessitates change in the chain of command and requesting that he return to the Training and Inspection Division any war plans documents he now holds.

(3) Letter to SAC Malone eliminating him from the chain of command because of revisions made to cut down in travel time and the need for him to be in his own field division in the event of an emergency; letter also requests return of war plans documents.

(4) Letter to SAC Hallford, Pittsburgh, with copies to SAC's Abbaticchio, Philadelphia; Lopez, Savannah; and SAC Murphy, Charlotte, advising them of the newly established chain of command.

Dear Mr. Malone:

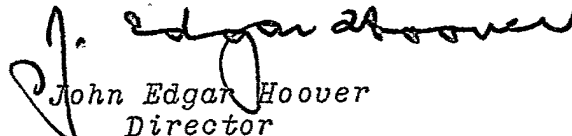

I am enclosing herewith a copy of a communication which has been addressed to Assistant Director E. J. Connelley concerning the Bureau's war plans and the emergency relocation site for the FBI headquarters.

There is also enclosed herewith a statement concerning information regarding emergency relocation plans for continuity of essential functions of the FBI outside of Washington, D. C.

For your information, you have been designated third in the chain of command in the field service replacing SAC R. B. Hood who recently resigned.

You should thoroughly familiarize yourself with the information contained in the attached documents so that in the event it becomes necessary for you to assume command you will be thoroughly familiar with the plans already perfected by the Bureau for continuity of operations of essential functions of the Bureau outside of Washington, D. C.

Sincerely yours,

The information contained in this communication is to be held in strict confidence. No copies or parts thereof shall be made, nor is this communication to be shown to anyone without specific authority of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The White House has approved an emergency relocation site to provide for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau in the event of attack, or in anticipation of attack, upon the Washington, D. C., area. These plans were formulated in cooperation with the Ad Hoc (special temporary committee) Committee on Alert Planning, Executive Office of the President, Office of Defense Mobilization. This Committee also assisted in formulating plans for other key critical agencies, namely:  b7E

The FBI together with other key critical agencies, is considered to be a sensitive function of the Government and it is the desire of the President that adequate plans be approved now to provide for:

1. Immediate emergency relocation of the FBI at a site relatively near to the President outside of the Washington area in the event of attack or in anticipation of attack;
2. That maximum consideration of emergency operations be carried forth by a limited force of key headquarters personnel designated to keep the most essential functions of the FBI in operation during the first few weeks or months of an emergency and until more adequate staff and facilities can be provided.

Activation of our short-term plan will be effected by personnel working and living in the Washington area. The President desires that the emergency planning should preclude any assurance that advance warning can be given concerning the possibility of a

FOR CONTINUITY OF ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS OF THE FBI
OUTSIDE OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

A. EMERGENCY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND FOR RELOCATION SITE OPERATIONS:

In the event that activation of relocation site plans by FBI officials located outside of Washington, D. C., becomes necessary the following field chain of command shall be adhered to as far as is practical under existing circumstances:

1. Assistant Director E. J. Connelley
2. Special Agent in Charge L. V. Boardman
3. Special Agent in Charge J. F. Malone

B. ACTIVATING FBI PLANS BY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND:

In the absence of prior notification the field chain of command, in the order mentioned above, will immediately, upon knowledge that the Washington area has been under a heavy surprise attack and destruction is wide-spread, be responsible for activating FBI relocation site plans.

C. STAFFING RELOCATION SITE

Additional Bureau personnel shall be obtained from the field divisions as replacements for key headquarters employees (519) scheduled to staff the site who as a result of a surprise attack on Washington, D. C., are unable to report for assignment to scheduled duty.

D. FBI RELOCATION PLAN

1. Site Identification:

Personnel scheduled to report to the relocation site for assignment to duty number 519. Material necessary for emergency operation has been designated and set aside at the Seat of Government for removal to relocation site. The relocation site is such that emergency supplies from the college stock will be available upon arrival.

Chain of Command Responsibility - additional office supplies and equipment will be obtained from other field divisions as the circumstances require.

4. Communication:

Telephone and teletype facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Radio equipment is stored at the college site and at the Newton D. Baker Veterans' Hospital, Martinsburg, West Virginia, for installation when necessary. Micro-wave terminal facilities are established in the vicinity of the site to connect with similar installations of other key critical agencies. Investigative reports affecting the nation's security will be transmitted to the relocation site over the Bureau's radio network facilities whenever and wherever wire communications are available.

Chain of Command Responsibility - qualified FBI technicians shall be obtained from other field divisions as the situation requires.

5. Vital Records:

The reproduction and dispersal of vital records (personnel fingerprints, personnel administrative data, payroll, emergency detention list) have been completed. These records are maintained under the supervision of the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Office located at 1010 Federal Office Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

6. General Plan of Operation at Relocation Site:

The Bureau will operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
Liaison will be carried on with the [redacted] b7E

Special Agents regularly assigned liaison duties with these agencies will operate directly from the agencies' relocation sites in event of an emergency. This will provide for close Bureau contact with sensitive agencies of the Government.

Revisions which affect the basic document submitted to you under date of June 3, 1953, are being called to your attention. These revisions should be incorporated into the basic document immediately. I wish to again point out that the contents of this document must be fully understood at all times in order that you can efficiently carry out the plans for the activation of the site in the event that becomes necessary during a national emergency. The duties involved in this respect must, of necessity, be maintained in the strictest confidence at all times.

The following revisions are set forth under the same paragraph outline utilized in the basic document:

PROBLEM:

The Training & Inspection Division is desirous of keeping those records which must be evacuated to the emergency relocation center to a bare minimum and at the same time have data available for reconstruction of FBI policies and procedures for use after an extreme emergency.

There are maintained in the Training & Inspection Division master copies of all Bureau Manuals, Bureau Bulletins since 1/1/43, copies of SAC Letters since 1/1/44, lecture outlines used in the training of FBI personnel, before the National Academy and in field police schools, and copies of Executives Conference memoranda since 1/1/45.

Manuals

Generally speaking, all Bureau personnel are responsible for the manuals in their possession at the time of an emergency. Instructions have been issued that manuals should be evacuated or destroyed so as not to fall into enemy hands. Copies of all manuals except the following are maintained in all Bureau field offices: (a) Seat of Government Stenographers' Manual, (b) Seat of Government Supervisors' Manual, (c) Seat of Government Employees' Handbook, (d) Seat of Government form books (9 volumes approximating 2,000 pages).

All manuals, both in the field and at the Seat of Government, are kept current by manual revisions which are issued periodically. Therefore there appears to be no reason to evacuate the master copy of a manual in preference to any other manual. It is believed, however, that one copy of each of the three manuals listed above and the form books which are available only at the Seat of Government should be dispatched to the Bureau's record repository at Little Rock for use in an emergency or subsequent thereto.

Bureau Bulletins and SAC Letters

Copies of SAC Letters since 1/1/44 consisting of approximately 9,760 pages, and an estimated 3,200 pages of Bureau Bulletins dated from 1/1/43 are maintained in the Training & Inspection Division. Current instructions to field offices are that SAC Letters and Bureau Bulletins may be destroyed if of no value after they have become three years old. Therefore, these records could be reconstructed from field office files only with difficulty.

Mr. P. F. O'Connell of the Records Section advised that the file of Bureau Bulletins maintained in the Records Section date from 12/1/19 and that the Records Section SAC Letters date from 9/30/20. It is believed that these records should be microfilmed at this time and the microfilm dispatched to the Little Rock Office for safekeeping. It is further believed that for the duration of the emergency that additions of these records should be microfilmed each six months and the microfilm dispatched to the Little Rock Office so that in the event of an expeditious evacuation it would be unnecessary to evacuate these files.

Mr. O'Connell has advised that to microfilm the Bureau Bulletins now on record in Records Section would cost approximately $118.13; to microfilm the SAC Letters in Records Section would cost $318.97. He has further estimated that if only the SAC Letters and Bureau Bulletins on file in the Training & Inspection Division were microfilmed, it could be done for approximately $72.60. Mr. O'Connell has advised that these estimates include labor, film and rental of equipment; that the equipment is now available as is the personnel to perform the work.

Memoranda to all Bureau Officials

The Records Section maintains a file of all memoranda to all officials at the Seat of Government dating from 5/18/25. Mr. O'Connell estimates that these memoranda can be microfilmed for $34.13. It must be pointed out that the Bureau Bulletins and SAC Letters maintained in the Training & Inspection Division since 1/1/43 and 1/1/44 respectively also include the memoranda to all Bureau Officials.

It is believed that these memoranda should be micro-filmed to preserve them for use after an extreme emergency at Seat of Government.

Executives Conference Memoranda

There are maintained in the Training & Inspection Division approximately 10,800 pages of copies of Executives Conference memoranda dated from 1/1/45, most of which do not contain the notations of Bureau officials. The Records Section has maintained a file of the yellow copies of Executives Conference memoranda since 1/12/29. This file now contains 11,430 serials, most of which contain the comments of the Director.

Mr. O'Connell of the Records Section estimates that these Executives Conference memoranda can be microfilmed for approximately $7.60 per thousand and that the entire file maintained in the Records Section could be microfilmed for approximately $87.00. It is believed that the yellow copies of the Executives Conference memoranda now maintained by Records Section should be microfilmed for use in the event of an extreme emergency and the period following thereafter.

Thus it is seen that Bureau Bulletins since 12/1/19, SAC Letters since 9/30/20, Memoranda to all Bureau Officials since 5/18/25 and Executives Conference memoranda since 1/12/29 could be microfilmed and preserved in the Bureau's records repository at Little Rock for an estimated $558.23. However, the Bureau Bulletins since 1/1/43, SAC Letters since 1/1/44 which include memoranda to all officials at the Seat of Government, could be microfilmed for approximately $72.60. The Executives Conference memoranda since 1/1/45 could be microfilmed for an estimated $60.48.

Lecture Outlines

There is maintained in the Training & Inspection Division a master copy of each outline used in the training of FBI personnel, before the FBI National Academy, and in conducting field police training schools. It is estimated that these outlines total 33,650 pages of typed material.

Mr. O'Connell of the Records Section, after viewing the lecture outlines in question, has estimated that they could be microfilmed for $ .0112 per page, or an estimated cost of $377.00 to microfilm the master copy of these essential training outlines. It must be pointed out that these lecture outlines are not present any place else in the Bureau; they have been built up over a period of years and are considered essential to conduct FBI training. It has been ascertained that a vast majority of these lecture outlines do not change very often and that by microfilming the outlines at this time they would be available for use elsewhere in the event the Justice Building and the records maintained therein are destroyed.

Executives Conference Consideration;

EDM:ATN

Present at the Executives Conference 6/24/54 were Messrs. Tolson, Callahan, Tamm, Parsons, Mohr, Boardman, Belmont, Rosen, McGuire, and Mason.

The minority of the Conference, Mason, felt that the Bureau's training outlines involving lectures to Agent and clerical schools, field police lectures, and related documents which have taken years to amass, and which are not duplicated elsewhere, should be microfilmed at a cost of $377.00.

The minority also felt that not only from the historical standpoint, but as an aid in reconstructing the Bureau after an emergency, assuming that most of our records and employees have been destroyed, that we should now microfilm Bureau Bulletins issued since 1919 (cost - $118.13); SAC Letters since 9/30/20 (cost - $318.97); memoranda in bulletin form issued to All Bureau Officials and Supervisors which date back to 5/18/25 (cost - $34.13); Executives Conference memoranda which date back to 1/12/29 (cost - $87.00). Minority recommends that such microfilm be sealed and stored at the Little Rock Office, where other vital records are currently stored.

The majority of the Conference, Messrs. Tolson, Callahan, Tamm, Parsons, Mohr, Boardman, Belmont, Rosen, and McGuire, felt there was no need to engage in this micro-filming program; that the documents are not essential to the reconstruction of the Bureau; that SAC Letters and Bureau Bulletins are on file in field offices for at least three years and the more important ones are probably on file for a longer period. The majority was opposed to all proposals.

Present at the Executives Conference July 12, 1954, were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, J. E. Edwards, Hennrich, Boardman, Rosen, Kemper, Nichols, and Mason.

It was pointed out to the Conference that the Training and Inspection Division has the responsibility for supervising field war plans and for generally coordinating FBI war plans as a whole. However, at the Seat of Government, until Mr. Glavin's retirement, he had the responsibility for all matters relating to evacuation to Shepherdstown, movement of Seat of Government personnel to Shepherdstown, movement of equipment, files, etc., to Shepherdstown. Subsequent to Glavin's retirement, Parsons of the Laboratory was designated coordinator of evacuation with the same responsibilities formerly held by Glavin.

In order to effect a more unified control, the Conference unanimously felt that there should be centralized direction of war planning. It was felt that this would fix responsibility, prevent duplication, and possibly result in a measure of streamlining.

The Conference unanimously recommends that the Training and Inspection Division serve as general coordinator of all war planning, field and Seat of Government, and that the Training and Inspection Division fix responsibility on other Seat of Government divisions for individual aspects of war planning and evacuation and follow through to see that those divisions handle their individual war planning and evacuation responsibilities.

For example, under centralized supervision in the Training and Inspection Division, it will still be the responsibility of the Administrative Division to provide trucks to transport files and equipment to Shepherdstown; it will still be the responsibility of the Records and Communications Division to accumulate its files and get them to the loading platform for evacuation; it will still be the responsibility of Domestic

Mr. Glavin's memorandum of May 20, 1954, was approved designating me to take over his responsibilities in connection with liaison and arrangements with Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, the Bureau's emergency relocation site. On June 30, 1954, I visited [redacted] with whom I have had a number of previous discussions concerning the Bureau's emergency arrangements. [redacted] advised me that he was leaving for an extended tour of Europe today, July 12, and would not return to Shepherdstown until approximately September 1, 1954. I assured [redacted] that the arrangements which he had made for us had been most satisfactory and though I anticipated no problems, I would like to know who would be acting in his absence whom we could contact if absolutely necessary. [redacted] told me that no one to his knowledge in Shepherdstown, other than himself, knew of Bureau arrangements. He has now advised me that he has informed [redacted] who is the business manager of the College, that certain arrangements have been made with the school in the interests of national defense. He said that he told [redacted] nothing of the details other than that the room in the basement was committed and not to be disturbed by anyone, and that if any action were necessary on his part, he would be contacted by the Federal Agency concerned.

b7c

[redacted] told me that in his absence he wanted us to feel free to continue as we had done in the past and it was not necessary to contact his office or [redacted] if we wanted access to the room in the basement to which we have a key. He mentioned that on one occasion he recalled our having to come to his home to get a key to the Administration Building proper in order to get to the room made available to us. He loaned me his building key from which I have had two copies made and I have since returned his key to him.

b6
b7c

While in Shepherdstown I looked at the room in the basement where our switchboard is connected to the telephone cable but there are, of course, no instruments running from the switchboard to the various offices in the building. Teletype machines are installed and ready for operation and the room was in good order. I also visited the microwave station which is ready but unable to communicate with any of the other sensitive agencies because their microwave facilities are not yet operating. On a prior visit I noted the construction of the new men's dormitory was progressing and on this visit found that the building has been completed. It is an excellent structure with accom-

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS
EMERGENCY RELOCATION SITE
FOR FBI HEADQUARTERS OPERATION

Revisions which affect the basic document submitted to you under date of June 3, 1953, are being called to your attention. These revisions should be incorporated into the basic document immediately. I wish to again point out that the contents of this document must be fully understood at all times in order that you can efficiently carry out the plans for the activation of the site in the event that becomes necessary during a national emergency. The duties involved in this respect must, of necessity, be maintained in the strictest confidence at all times.

The following revisions are set forth under the same paragraph outline utilized in the basic document:

A. EMERGENCY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND FOR RELOCATION SITE OPERATIONS:

In the event that activation of relocation site plans by FBI officials located outside of Washington, D. C., becomes necessary the following field chain of command shall be adhered to as far as is practical under existing circumstances:

1. Assistant Director E. J. Connelley
2. Special Agent in Charge J. F. Malone
3. Special Agent in Charge R. J. Abbaticchio

D. FBI RELOCATION PLAN:

4. COMMUNICATION:

Telephone and teletype facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Radio equipment is stored at the college site and at the Newton D. Baker Veterans' Hospital, Martinsburg, West Virginia, for installation when necessary. The microwave station, located approximately one-half mile from the relocation site, has been installed and can be used to communicate with other sensitive government agencies in the network. Investigative matters affecting the Nation's security will be transmitted to the relocation site over the Bureau's radio network facilities whenever and wherever wire communications are unavailable.

Dear Mr. Malone:

I am enclosing herewith a copy of a communication which has been addressed to Assistant Director E. J. Connelley concerning the Bureau's war plans and the emergency relocation site for the FBI headquarters.

There is also enclosed herewith a statement concerning information regarding emergency relocation plans for continuity of essential functions of the FBI outside of Washington, D. C.

For your information, you have been designated third in the chain of command in the field service replacing SAC R. B. Hood who recently resigned.

You should thoroughly familiarize yourself with the information contained in the attached documents so that in the event it becomes necessary for you to assume command you will be thoroughly familiar with the plans already perfected by the Bureau for continuity of operations of essential functions of the Bureau outside of Washington, D. C.

Sincerely yours,

The information contained in this communication is to be held in strict confidence. No copies or parts thereof shall be made, nor is this communication to be shown to anyone without specific authority of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The White House has approved an emergency relocation site to provide for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau in the event of attack, or in anticipation of attack, upon the Washington, D. The FBI, together with other key critical agencies, is considered to be a sensitive function of the Government and it is the desire of the President that adequate plans be approved now to provide for:

1. Immediate emergency relocation of the FBI at a site relatively near to the President outside of the Washington area in the event of attack or in anticipation of attack;
2. That maximum consideration of emergency operations be carried forth by a limited force of key headquarters personnel designated to keep the most essential functions of the FBI in operation during the first few weeks or months of an emergency and until more adequate staff and facilities can be provided.

Activation of our short-term plan will be effected by personnel working and living in the Washington area. The President desires that the emergency planning should preclude any assurance that advance warning can be given concerning the possibility of a

FOR CONTINUITY OF ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS OF THE FBI
OUTSIDE OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

A. EMERGENCY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND FOR RELOCATION SITE OPERATIONS:

In the event that activation of relocation site plans by FBI officials located outside of Washington, D. C., becomes necessary the following field chain of command shall be adhered to as far as is practical under existing circumstances:

1. Assistant Director E. J. Connelley
2. Special Agent in Charge L. V. Boardman
3. Special Agent in Charge R. B. Hood.

B. ACTIVATING FBI PLANS BY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND:

In the absence of prior notification the field chain of command, in the order mentioned above, will immediately, upon knowledge that the Washington area has been under a heavy surprise attack and destruction is wide-spread, be responsible for activating FBI relocation site plans.

C. STAFFING RELOCATION SITE

Additional Bureau personnel shall be obtained from the field divisions as replacements for key headquarters employees (519) scheduled to staff the site who as a result of a surprise attack on Washington, D. C., are unable to report for assignment to scheduled duty.

RE: BUREAU WAR PLANS
SURVEY - SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

Reference is made to the memorandum to Bureau officials dated August 24, 1950, captioned Bureau War Plans. To clarify any questions as to the division at the Seat of Government responsible for the handling or planning of any particular phase of the Bureau War Plans, the following divisions are responsible for the matters hereinafter indicated:

TRAINING AND INSPECTION DIVISION

1. Firearms training for the Security Patrol, both in the Identification Division Building and in the Justice Building. The referenced memorandum provides "The present security patrol should be armed with side arms after a minimum of training and will continue in their patrol duties." This is under War Phase (Plan WB). It is desired that at this time training in the use of the Bureau's side arms be given to the Security Patrol, both in the Identification Division Building and the Justice Building. If during the course of the firearms training it is determined that any one of the present Security Patrol is incapable of using the Bureau's side arms, appropriate replacements should be made by the Administrative Division.

ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION

1. Obtaining and installation of blackout equipment, helmets and gas masks.

2. Under War Phase (Plan WB), the referenced memorandum provides "Armed Special Agents should immediately be dispatched from the Washington Field Office to guard the Director and provide continuous 24-hour protection to him." It should be the responsibility of the Administrative Division to appropriately advise the Washington Field Office when this is to be placed into effect.

3. Enlarge the present pass system. The Administrative Division should study and make appropriate recommendations concerning this phase of the Bureau's War Plans.

100-17381-316

4. Additional check points with a guard should be established at various floors, corridor entrances and elevator banks where confidential records are maintained or activities are in progress, such as the Records Section, the Laboratory, the Espionage Section, Communications Section, Internal Security Section and the Director's Office. This function is included under War Phase (Plan WB). Appropriate plans should be made by the Administrative Division.

5. Auxiliary headquarters. The Administrative Division is charged with the initial responsibility of providing for auxiliary headquarters for the Bureau.

RECORDS AND COMMUNICATIONS DIVISION

1. Gasoline and fuel oil for radio station.

2. A plant security survey should be conducted at the radio station (Clinton and Waldorf, Maryland) and whatever protective devices, such as fences, appear necessary should be procured.

3. Discontinuation of tours at the Seat of Government, under War Phase (Plan WB). If this phase is put into effect, the Records and Communications Division should take appropriate action to discontinue tours.

4. A teletype machine, Type No. 19, which is an automatic tape machine capable of handling a larger volume of traffic should be installed at the Waldorf radio station.

SECURITY DIVISION

1. Alternate codes for use particularly with our foreign attaches should be prepared and forwarded to all Legal Attaches.

2. When War Phase (Plan WB) is placed into effect, the Security Division shall advise all offices.

3. When the Detcom Program is to be put into effect, the Security Division shall give appropriate instructions to all field offices.

4. The Security Division has the responsibility under the Detcom Program of determining which confidential national defense informants should be apprehended with other Security Index subjects, and which confidential national defense informants should be scheduled to testify at the hearings against the detainees.

5. The Security Division has the responsibility of making appropriate recommendations concerning the transfer of Agents on special temporary assignments to effectively handle the Detcom Program.

6. A complete list of the individuals investigated under the Loyalty Program and other type applicant programs, who were found to present a security risk and who were retained in government service, should be prepared at this time. This list should be referred to the Attorney General for his information when War Phase (Plan WB) is placed into effect.

7. A complete list of individuals investigated under the Atomic Energy Program who present a security risk and who are still employed by Atomic Energy facilities should be prepared at this time. When War Phase (Plan WB) is placed into effect, this list should be referred to the Attorney General with appropriate recommendations.

LABORATORY

1. A survey should be made at this time to determine the availability of emergency power for the office installations. All divisions at the Seat of Government should be contacted by the Laboratory to determine what equipment requiring emergency power is utilized in the various divisions. Consideration should also be given to some means of lighting not requiring electric wiring.

2. Appropriate study and recommendations should be given concerning the purchasing and utilizing of scrambling devices or other similar equipment. Secret ink should be prepared and facilities established for making secret ink examinations.

3. Study and appropriate recommendations should be made concerning the necessity of increasing our facilities for cryptanalyst examinations.

4. Consideration should be given and recommendations made concerning the obtaining of an emergency generator for the CW emergency station located in Room 4642.

5. Consideration should be given and recommendations made for alternate CW radio stations for the Seat of Government and San Diego should these principal stations and relay points be incapacitated.

6. Consider and make recommendations for alternate radio equipment to be available for at least the strategic field offices in the event of bombing or evacuation.

RESPONSIBILITY OF ALL DIVISIONS AT THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

All divisions at the Seat of Government must make full and detailed plans concerning all other matters set forth in the referenced memorandum. These plans at present may be limited to War Phase (Plan WA) and (Plan WB). These plans should be worked out in detail, reduced to writing, and submitted to me within two weeks after the receipt of this memorandum. It should be apparent to all officials at the Seat of Government the imperative necessity of adequately planning for these possible emergencies to insure that the work of the Bureau may continue as effectively as possible under whatever circumstances may exist.

Very truly yours,

(A) BUREAU WAR PLANS SURVEY -- All Special Agents in Charge should certainly be cognizant of the importance and imperative necessity of making appropriate plans at this time in contemplation of possible emergencies to insure that all phases of the Bureau's work and its responsibilities function properly. Previous instructions have been sent to all offices concerning Bureau War Plans. Surveys in some Field Offices and a review of information submitted to the Bureau indicate a variation in interpretation and the extent of planning by the Field. To effect uniformity so far as practical and to insure adequate planning, it is desired that all offices reconsider their present plans in accordance with instructions previously issued and those hereinafter set forth. The Bureau desires to have concise, but adequately detailed plans from each office. It is also desired that the information submitted be set forth in the same chronological order and under the same headings as in this SAC Letter to insure appropriate filing and coordination of the information at the Seat of Government. By Field Offices giving appropriate attention to this matter, it will be possible to have in this one document the full and complete War Plans of each Field Office of the Bureau. Immediate attention should be given to this survey and the detailed War Plans submitted to the Bureau within two weeks after the receipt of this letter. These plans should be mimeographed and five copies submitted to the Bureau. Adequate copies should be retained in the Field Office to insure that a copy is readily available to each person named in the chain of command of the Field Office and for any other contemplated use. Hereafter, when any information is submitted to the Bureau, questions raised or suggestions forwarded in connection with any of the Bureau War Plans, the communication should be appropriately captioned under one of the major headings hereinafter set forth. The matters to be covered in this survey, even though previously submitted to the Bureau, should be set forth under the following headings and each major heading should begin on a new page, which will permit the division of the report at the Seat of Government and facilitate filing:

A. MISCELLANEOUS EQUIPMENT

A thorough analysis should be made of all supplies required to insure that each office is adequately prepared for an emergency. Good judgment must of course be used in resolving this matter and supplies should not be requisitioned or ordered promiscuously. The adequacy of supplies and the steps taken to obtain them should be set forth, together with a statement as to whether the equipment or material has been received or whether it is being requisitioned or ordered. The various problems which might be anticipated in connection with apprehensions under the DETCOM Program should be carefully considered in analyzing the adequacy of your present equipment and supplies.

1. Medical Supplies
2. Ammunition
3. Tear Gas
4. Firearms
5. Handcuffs
6. Blackjacks
7. Fire Extinguishers
8. Blackout Equipment for Office Space
9. Other Supplies

B. AUTOMOTIVE EQUIPMENT

An analysis of the adequacy of all types of automotive equipment should be made and set forth under the sub-headings indicated. The adequacy of the automotive equipment and the steps taken to obtain it if needed should be set forth, together with a statement indicating that the equipment has either been received, requisitioned or ordered.

1. Automobiles - We are limited to 2,300 cars, have more than 4,000 Agents, and we cannot have a car for each Agent. We are limited to spending a maximum of $1,400 for an automobile; as a result, we cannot get up into the large car field.
2. Tires
3. Batteries
4. Blackout Equipment for Autos - This equipment is being sent by the Bureau to the field offices. Indicate if received.

5. Gasoline Supply

In the event of failure of electricity and inability to operate pumps, it is suggested that, if a Field Office has difficulty in making suitable arrangements for this emergency supply of gasoline, consideration be given to the purchase of a few portable hand pumps to meet this requirement.

6. Protection of Automobiles

Plans should be made to insure that the Bureau's automotive equipment is adequately protected in the event of an emergency. If it appears that the security of Bureau automobiles could not be insured by maintaining the autos in the contract garage, plans should be made to consider garages in an outlying area or the further dispersing of Bureau cars by having Agents drive them home. Your plans in this respect should be set forth.

7. Other Automotive Equipment

C. COMMUNICATIONS

It should, of course, be recognized that the importance of adequate communications facilities is paramount in an emergency. Careful study should be given to your radio and telephone facilities.

1. FM Two-Way Radios for automobiles
2. Moving CW and FM Stations

It is desired that you consider the feasibility of moving your CW emergency radio station and also the FM station if one is maintained in your office. Such plans could include consideration of alternate space, the availability of power, and the problems which might arise in erecting even emergency antenna. Advise the Bureau of your plans and any particular problems which you can anticipate.

3. Do you presently have surplus antennas? Would they be desirable to have?
4. Have you installed the alternate generators? If not, what is the reason?
5. Do you have a radio technician assigned to your office?
6. How many radio operators are presently assigned?
7. Do you have Agents who were formerly radio operators? If so, give their names.
8. Would it be desirable to train any female clerks in your office, who could serve in an emergency as radio operators?

9. Set forth your recommendations resulting from the telephone survey you were requested to make by SAC Letter of August 22, 1950.

D. OFFICE ADMINISTRATION

1. Alternate Office Space

Every office should make plans without, however, making contacts outside the Bureau at this time for alternate office space in the event of an emergency. The various possible contingencies should be taken into consideration. The alternate office space considered in your plans should be set forth numerically in the order of preference.

2. Chain of Command

The personnel to be in charge in the event of an emergency should be set forth. This should include the SAC and ASAC.

3. Destruction of Bureau Files and Other Confidential Matters

Specific plans should be made and submitted following the suggestions in the SAC Letter of July 11, 1950, setting forth the provisions in your office for the destruction of Bureau files and other confidential matters including manuals. All "OO" files should be placed in one file cabinet but the pending and closed sections thereof should be maintained separately. The files containing material to be destroyed should be appropriately but innocuously labeled to indicate priority of destruction. You should in making your plans consider the most expeditious and practical method of handling this problem. All of your plans should be submitted to the Bureau in this survey.

4. Incinerators

The availability of incinerators should be set forth. Any other plans you have concerning the destruction of files and Bureau records should also be included.

5. Instructions to Agents and Other Bureau Employees

It should be recognized that, in the event of certain types of emergencies, it will not be possible to hold conferences with all employees of your office. In anticipating this you should, therefore, prepare whatever instructions are believed by you necessary to be given to Agents and other employees to insure appropriate functioning under such emergencies. Sufficient copies of these instructions should be prepared and placed in the office safe so that if such an emergency arises it will only be necessary to pass out the appropriate instructions to the personnel. Copies of these plans should be submitted to the Bureau as an attachment to your report.

6. Creating squads according to geographical location of residences.

An analysis should be made of the geographical location of the residences of the employees assigned to your office along with the availability of personally-owned automobiles. Plans should then be made to divide all the personnel of your office into squads according to geographical area and availability of automobiles. A squad leader and alternate should be appointed for each squad. It would then be possible for the Field Office in an emergency to call only the squad leader who would have the responsibility of notifying the other members of the squad, picking them up and transporting them either to the Field Office or other designated place. By such planning, it is believed that it would be possible in an emergency for a Field Office to contact and collect more Bureau employees than would be possible if it were necessary to contact each one personally.

7. Identification for Clerical Employees

When a Civilian Defense office is set up in your state or headquarters city, it is believed advisable to make appropriate contacts to determine what steps are necessary to identify appropriately FBI clerical employees to insure that it would be possible for these clerical employees to reach the Field Office headquarters without delay in emergency situations. If, in an emergency situation, it is necessary for the Agent in Charge to issue some sort of identification for the clerical employees on a temporary basis, this may be done. If at some time in the future it is believed necessary for the Bureau to issue appropriate identification cards to all clerical employees, this will be done.

E. CIVILIAN DEFENSE

1. Liaison should be established with State Civilian Defense organizations and those in major cities as soon as they are established. The jurisdiction and responsibilities of the FBI should be explained. Care and caution should always be exercised to insure that the FBI does not become involved in any Civilian Defense problems, nor our opinions sought in connection with matters not within our jurisdiction.
2. The Civilian Defense plans should be obtained, reviewed in your office to determine if there is any conflict with Bureau plans or jurisdiction and submitted to the Bureau. The plans of the Civilian Defense organization for evacuation should be obtained and considered for the purpose of enabling you to issue appropriate instructions, when necessary, to Bureau personnel and their families.
3. Any information believed of significance concerning Civilian Defense matters should, of course, be brought to the attention of the Bureau.

F. FIRST AID TRAINING

1. Instructors for this program should be selected from available personnel in your office who are presently qualified as First Aid instructors or who may be qualified as First Aid instructors in the very near future by reason of participation in a Red Cross instructors' course. If you do not have a qualified instructor in your office and it is not practical to have a Bureau employee or employees trained as First Aid instructors, you should consider utilizing the facilities and services of the Red Cross, Public Health, local police, etc. The Bureau should be advised of your specific plans.
- 15/12/50
11/3/51
2. Twenty-five per cent of the personnel assigned to your office, including both men and women, Agents and clerks, should be afforded the Red Cross Standard (Civilian Defense) Course in First Aid. This phase of the program should be completed within 90 days after the receipt of this letter and the Bureau should be advised.
3. After twenty-five per cent of your personnel have received First Aid training, other employees assigned to your office may be afforded this training on a voluntary basis.

If you have any suggestions to make to the Bureau concerning any of the Bureau's War Plans, it is desired you submit these suggestions now as an attachment to your survey report. Each suggestion should be set forth on a separate page and should bear the appropriate caption as indicated in this SAC Letter. I cannot overemphasize the importance of each office making adequate plans to meet any foreseeable emergency. I desire that this matter be thoroughly and expeditiously handled and a report submitted to the Bureau within two weeks after the receipt of this SAC Letter.

(B) BUREAU WAR PLANS - COMMUNICATIONS -- Reference is made to SAC Letters (no numbers) dated July 11, and July 25, 1950, entitled "Bureau War Plans."

After a review was made of some of the telephone codes proposed by the several field offices, it would appear to be entirely impractical to consolidate all of the code terms submitted into one code because it would then become too voluminous and hence too unwieldy and cumbersome for use on the telephone under emergency conditions. Therefore, it will not be necessary for those offices not having already done so to submit any further proposed code vocabularies. In addition, all offices are not to use such proposed codes, but instead are to use only the code outlined herein for the purpose of exchanging communications by telephone with the Seat of Government and between field offices in the emergency. Thus, these present instructions will supersede any and all previous instructions issued in this regard.

Copies of the code and instructions for its use should be furnished in the field to all SACs, assistant SACs, and those agents in each field division's emergency chain of command. Likewise all officials at the Seat of Government having a need therefor, including those in the chain of command in each Division are to be provided with copies.

In order to insure the proper functioning of this code in the emergency, it is desired that practice runs be made locally in each field office between all such officials and the Bureau notified in the Bureau War Plans Survey Report under the caption "Bureau War Plans - Communications" that this has been done.

The telephone code, which is given in its entirety on the attached sheet, and instructions for its use are as follows:

It consists of 102 plaintext words, phrases, letters of the alphabet, digits and punctuation marks which are to be replaced in the code communication by numbers ranging from 1 through 127 (with gaps) which are to be disguised by using them in the telephone conversation as file classification numbers of imaginary file numbers of cases whose status is the subject of the conversation. Moreover, while it will be necessary to fill out these classification numbers by the addition of fictional case numbers, the only meaningful portion of the telephone conversation will be contained in the classification numbers. It is necessary to impose this restriction so that the listener will be given time to decode as the conversation is in progress in event he finds it necessary to encode some questions he may need to ask to clarify some point or seek additional information.

As an indicator of the fact that the ensuing telephone conversation is to contain this code, it should be concerned with a report on the status of the case load in the field division and should state that the information is being furnished in response to a "request from Mr. Nichols, not Mr. Glavin." The listener should as a consequence be immediately alerted to the contradiction in the fact that a request which should logically emanate from Mr. Glavin is being attributed, not to him, but to Mr. Nichols in whose division, of course, is located the Bureau's code section.

An illustration of the operation of this code on the telephone is as follows: "The report on the status of cases in this office, as requested by Mr. Nichols, not Mr. Glavin, is: as follows:
We have opened the following new cases:

58 dash 1871
104 dash 2398
106 dash 2712
84 dash 318
104 dash 2399
6 dash 117
81 dash 121

"In addition the following cases are delinquent although I am making every effort to expedite their handling:

114 dash 6147
115 dash 7216
106 dash 2341
104 dash 1873
65 dash 4947
21 dash 141

"If I find that I need more manpower to handle these cases or if any new cases arise which might affect the status of the work here, I shall communicate with you further on the matter. Do you have any questions or instructions?"

It should be realized that in actual use one or more similar comments regarding each case cited will be given after each such item.

The decode of the above conversation, which, of course, should have been made during the progress of the conversation, is as follows:

Classification Numbers	Plaintext
58-	RUSSIAN
104-	S
106-	U
84-	B
104-	S
6-	ATTACKED
81-	YESTERDAY
114-	1
115-	2
106-	U
104-	S
65-	SHIPS
21-	DESTROYED

In using the code, the following rules should be adhered to:

1. The code should be kept available at the desk where coded calls might be received and should, of course, be afforded appropriate security and locked when not attended.
2. Immediately prior to using same, the official should thoroughly familiarize himself with the plaintext vocabulary so that he will be able to use the code quickly and accurately on the telephone.
3. If possible, the coded message should be made up before establishing the telephonic contact.
4. Sufficient meaningless patter should be injected into the conversation at logical intervals to give the listener time to effect the decode during the conversation.
5. Only the code described herein is to be used as given here and no supplements or other modifications are permitted. Only the file classification numbers (never the character of the case) are to be used as code terms to substitute for the plaintext words, phrases, etc.

ENCODING

6. Common abbreviations whose meaning will be unmistakably clear to the listener may be used in setting up the plaintext for encoding. (See "SUBS" and "U.S." in the illustrative example).

7. The phraseology of the plaintext message should be carefully selected to restrict it as much as possible to those plaintext terms in the vocabulary in order to avoid the laborious and time consuming process of spelling out letter by letter the words not contained in the code.
8. In this latter connection, it will be observed that the code system provides an alphabet and a number series which will enable the users to spell out or otherwise convey any words, names, numbers, or other plaintext equivalents not contained in the necessarily limited vocabulary given.
9. Since it will be noted in the code that one code term may represent one root word, together with several cognate forms thereof, as SINK, SANK, SUNK, SINKING, the possibility arises that some ambiguity may result therefrom in some cases. Where this is anticipated, and it is necessary for clarity to use a specific form (such as tense of a verb for example) of the word in question, then the entire word desired should be spelled out letter by letter or as in the case of the word "destroy-ing" where the root word does not change but merely adds the ending, the code substitute for the root word plus those spelling out the ending may be used, as 21-4063, 92-4671, 98-2716, 89-1416.
10. Whenever it becomes necessary to repeat the classification numbers, as in the example above, different case numbers should obviously be affixed to them each time they are repeated, if necessary, to avoid the undesirable situation where the same complete file number (that is, same classification and same case number) is unwittingly repeated in the course of the conversation with different and thus possibly contradictory comments each time it recurs. Otherwise, the suspicions of any censor who may be monitoring the conversation during the critical period may be aroused, thus possibly causing him to interrupt or cut off the conversation.

DECODING

11. Immediately upon hearing the indicator phrase concerning the case load figures "request from Mr. Nichols, not Mr. Glavin," the listener should prepare to take down and decode the fictional file numbers following, paying most particular attention to the classification numbers but not completely ignoring the "patter," since a knowledge of the latter may be necessary in the event it is desirable to encode any questions to be asked relative to the secret communication.

Any such questions should then be encoded and disguised with some such covering conversation as previously given.

12. The classification numbers should be written down in column form so that their corresponding meanings can be set out opposite them, as in the above example. Sometimes, of course, it may be necessary to slow the sender down, but in such event the remarks should be of such a nature as not to arouse the suspicion of a censor. Also, if the receiver needs more time to decode he should ask the sender to give him file numbers of inactive cases, it being understood by all users hereof that these would have no meaning in the code itself, but were merely used as a delaying tactic. If after decoding the message, something about it is not clear, it can be checked with the sender, of course, by reading the case numbers back to him, although care should be taken to avoid arousing suspicion in this connection.

GENERAL

13. It must be realized that it has been necessary in its formulation to sacrifice security in order to gain sufficient simplicity to permit ready use on the telephone. As a consequence, it would be desirable for security's sake to restrict its use to an absolute minimum and even then to convey only the briefest possible message consistent with the requirements at the time, relying for extensive communications purposes on the more flexible existing code communications system.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover

RE: BUREAU WAR PLANS

In the event hostilities involving this nation should commence, you will be advised by telephone or teletype to put Plan W (meaning war) into effect immediately. The basic Bureau war plan which is set forth hereinafter involves the protection of Bureau personnel and property, the detention of persons dangerous to the internal security, appropriate liaison with other agencies involved in the war effort, and prompt handling of all matters affecting the internal security of this country.

The details regarding the detention of persons dangerous to the internal security of the United States will be covered in a separate SAC letter.

The contents of this letter should not be discussed with anyone outside the Bureau but you should so familiarize yourself with its contents that in the event of hostilities the instructions contained herein will be followed promptly and efficiently.

Upon receipt of instructions from the Bureau to put this plan into effect, you should comply with the following instructions:

1. Your Field Office, until further notice from the Bureau, will be open on a twenty-four-hour, seven-day week basis with an adequate number of personnel, Special Agent and clerical, to conduct emergency business at all times.

2. All leaves except sick leaves shall be cancelled and employees called back to duty.

3. Armed Special Agents shall be assigned in appropriate shifts to guard duty in the Bureau offices and contract garages in the headquarters city. You should make appropriate arrangements for the protection of Bureau Office property and automobiles in the outlying residencies.

4. The Bureau's radio stations where not located in Bureau office space should be under twenty-four-hour per day armed guard.

5. All Special Agents should be armed at all times when on duty outside of the Bureau Field Office.

6. Emergency blackout equipment should be obtained to blackout all necessary windows in your office space so that the work of the Bureau will not be impeded by any emergency blackout until such time as regular blackout equipment can be obtained. Bureau automobiles which are being used in necessary night work should have their headlights painted black with the exception of a strip one half inch high and three inches long on the bottom portion of each lens which should remain unobscured.

7. You should assure yourself that an auxiliary engine and an adequate fuel supply for such engine are installed for auxiliary use with your radio equipment.

8. You should obtain an extra battery for each of your cars equipped with radio. You should obtain an extra set of tires and tubes for each of the automobiles assigned to your office.

9. You should assure yourself of an adequate source of gasoline supply for the Bureau cars in the event electric power in your community is shut off for any reason and you are unable to obtain such gasoline from electrically driven pumps.

10. The San Diego and Seat of Government radio stations will be on the air twenty-four hours per day. You should advise the Bureau by radio through the appropriate relay point at the first proof of a break in telephone or teletype communication with the Seat of Government. You should likewise advise the Seat of Government immediately if you are unable to make a necessary telephone or teletype contact with any adjoining Field Division.

11. You should arrange immediately with all transportation companies in your district to stop all travel of nationals of hostile nations, diplomatic or civilian, by train, bus, aircraft, or vessel. If any transportation company refuses to comply, immediately advise the Bureau by telephone.

12. You should arrange with all communications services to prevent the transmittal by nationals of the hostile nation, either diplomatic or civilian, of all telephone, telegraph, express, radio, radio telephone, cable, mail, or parcel post communication outside of the United States. If any communications service refuses to comply, immediately advise the Bureau by telephone.

13. You should take immediate steps to stop all communications, including press communications, to hostile countries.

14. You should institute immediately through appropriate contact with law enforcement agencies in your district every possible precaution with regard to sabotage, espionage, or organized fifth column activity.

15. In the event you are in an area under hostile attack or bombardment, forward to the Bureau immediately by coded radiogram appropriate English words to be used by you in any telephonic conversation to the Seat of Government for describing conditions pertaining to such hostile action and other conditions upon which you desire to report. Endeavor to use words which will readily fit into syntax of conversations.

16. All National Police Academy sessions are cancelled. You should discontinue all investigations and notify all departments to whom invitations have been extended as indicated by copies furnished to your Division that cancellation is due to emergency conditions. All In-Service classes will be discontinued.

17. Appropriate and continuous liaison should be established in your district with the Armed Services, the Atomic Energy Commission (where located within your Division), and with the duly constituted law enforcement agencies.

18. All allegations of sabotage should be checked immediately to determine if they are well founded. If so, the Bureau should be advised immediately concerning:

- A. The effect of such sabotage on the community or on the war effort.
- B. The length of time it will take to repair the damage or to install emergency equipment.

19. Sabotage investigation kits should be available in each Field Office and sabotage investigations should be conducted promptly and thoroughly.

20. A Complaint Desk should be set up for taking complaints quickly and courteously and all complaints should be carefully screened thereafter and those having investigative possibilities should be thoroughly exploited.

21. Contacts with your informants should be made as frequently as possible, bearing in mind the necessity for utmost security.

22. The utmost security should be placed in effect for the technical and microphone surveillances operated in your Field Division. You should discontinue immediately any such surveillances on residences of subjects after their detention has been effected so that your equipment may be available in other cases developing out of the war emergency.

There will, of course, be additional instructions from the Bureau which will apply to specific offices, but the foregoing plan should be put into effect by all SAC's upon notification from the Bureau.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover

SUBJECT:

WAR PLANS Auxiliary space for S.O.G
EVACUATION SITE

In accordance with your instructions to Mr. Mason and me, the following is a summary outline of information concerning the Bureau's emergency relocation site.

1. Location

a. The Bureau's emergency relocation site is at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, located on the upper Potomac River 50 air-line miles from Washington and approximately 75 miles by any of several highway routes. The attached map shows the access highways. Shepherdstown is on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and the nearest airport is at Martinsburg, W. Virginia, nine miles away.

2. College facilities

a. Shepherd College is a West Virginia State Teachers' College. The property consists of approximately 25 acres and 15 buildings having approximately 100,000 square feet of useable space. This space is considered adequate for the 542 Bureau personnel listed for evacuation and the Attorney General, Deputy Attorney General and eight other Department of Justice officials.

b. The recently completed men's dormitory together with two older dormitories provides normal accommodations for approximately 220 people. By using additional cots in the present dormitories and using rooms in other buildings, it is felt that sleeping accommodations can be provided for all that will be able to sleep at one time under emergency conditions.

c. There is a cafeteria building which will accommodate approximately 200 people at one sitting.

a. In the basement room of the administration building a switchboard has been installed and is connected by cable to the telephone company office. Telephone instruments are stored in this room but have not been placed in the various offices and connected to our switchboard because of the confidential nature of our arrangements.

b. Teletype machines are also installed in this room and connected by cable to the telephone company office.

c. Approximately one-half mile from the College property on rented land has been installed a microwave station to permit communication with the other sensitive agencies designated by the White House. These include [redacted]

In connection with any proposed plan by the Attorney General or his associates for a trial evacuation to Shepherdstown, it might be pointed out that in March the Ad Hoc Committee on War Planning inquired of the Bureau as to the practicability of a trial evacuation of Bureau personnel to the relocation center. The Bureau advised that this would be highly undesirable because our arrangements are highly confidential and we have no personnel occupying the premises.

It was pointed out to the Conference that during the past several months there have been rumors that the President will order an early evacuation of Washington under emergency conditions, however, there has been nothing specific in this respect. It was presented to the Conference that it would be far easier to make specific war plans and plans for the evacuation of Washington if it were possible to ascertain under what conditions the President proposes ordering the evacuation of particularly the Sensitive Agencies whose services are necessary for the continued operation of the Executive Branch. It was suggested that Liaison make some effort to ascertain if the President has laid down any list of circumstances or conditions under which he would order an evacuation of Seat of Government.

EXECUTIVE CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: EDM:cs

Present at the Executives Conference of 7/21/54 were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Hennrich, Boardman, Rosen, Kemper and Mason.

The Conference unanimously felt that it would be entirely possible and desirable for a Liaison Agent in connection with his routine contacts at the Office of Defense Mobilization to ascertain whether the Office of Defense Mobilization desires that sensitive agencies:

- 1 - Plan to evacuate upon the issuance of a yellow alert or other signal that a hostile attack is imminent, or,
- 2 - Plan to remain in Washington until ordered to evacuate by the White House.

In reaching this conclusion the Conference took cognizance of the fact that Federal Civil Defense is planning to advise the public of the imminence of any hostile attack and encourage the public to endeavor to walk out of Washington

Present at the Executives Conference of 7/21/54 were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Hennrich, Boardman, Rosen, Kemper and Mason.

The Conference unanimously agreed that a Liaison Agent should contact the Office of Defense Mobilization to ascertain that the FBI is in possession of all suggestions, instructions and guides the Office of Defense Mobilization has to offer in connection with the preparation and compilation of evacuation and other war plans.

It was believed by the Conference that we should assure ourselves that nothing has been issued which could be helpful in our war planning that might have escaped FBI attention.

If approved, there is attached an appropriate memorandum of instructions.

In the event the Director approves a separate memorandum in which the Executives Conference recommends that all war plans functions be coordinated and correlated in the Training and Inspection Division, it is our intention to:

(1) Re-evaluate all planning relating to the Seat of Government evacuation and operations in an emergency and do so vigorously.

(2) We have ~~initiated~~ initiated steps to set up new planning with a separate plan for each of the circumstances below:

- a. Washington completely destroyed, including all records, presumably over a weekend or night, when minimum personnel casualty resulted.
- b. Washington attacked but Justice Building only partially destroyed, remainder of building not usable, no repeat air raid immediately contemplated.
- c. Washington subjected to series of attacks, making it inadvisable to try to operate from this area and presumably between attacks there is time to permit removal of limited volume of remaining facilities.
- d. United States attacked, but Washington not attacked and fear of future attack on Washington causes President to order sensitive agencies out of Washington to a safer location.

Under each of the above, we wish to re-evaluate the number of people who should be evacuated, what these people will do when they are evacuated, and what facilities should be evacuated with them.

(3) To set up plans to ascertain whether the White House, Office of Defense Mobilization, or ad hoc committee have yet arrived at any sensible plan for evacuating top echelon of Government employees, and if none exists, inquire as to whether there are any objections if FBI commences such planning on its own. Based upon the findings, go ahead with appropriate discreet contacts.

(4) Through liaison, ascertain planning considerations by other sensitive agencies to make certain that we have overlooked none in our own planning.

(5) Re-examine program for removal of facilities, Security Index, key files, and other items which will be needed, and make certain that they can be evacuated safely and promptly.

main planning done (6) Set up a system for each division, coordinating with the war plans coordinator of the Training and Inspection Division any instructions sent to the field in connection with war plans or subitems related thereto.

(7) Correlate with Domestic Intelligence Division to make certain there is no overlapping between war planning and separate programs, such as, emergency detention program, program calling for protective custody of diplomatic officials, program calling for searches of various places, etc.

End of message (8) Prompt issuance of instructions to field chain of command. We are already receiving contributions to be included in those instructions.

(9) Re-evaluation to see if additional vital records to be put in a safe field location.

summary (10) Ascertain whether radio facilities now at Shepherdstown should be augmented so that we can contact a larger segment of field offices. Present CW radio facilities have definite range limitations.

(11) Tabulate physical facilities available at Shepherdstown; physical facilities which will be needed under various evacuation plans; and thus determine additional facilities not now available which will have to be obtained.

Based on #4 (12) Recheck and re-evaluate proposed plans for courier service with other sensitive agencies.

Based on #2 (13) Re-evaluate and replan chain of command for stay-behind personnel in Washington.

1000 (14) Present for consideration as to alternates for the evacuees to take care of casualties and whether contact should be made with these individuals to make certain that they will be available for evacuation purposes.

FIELD PLANNING:

Field planning has recently been re-evaluated and we have had the responsibility for this supervision all along. We believe this field planning to be complete, sound, workable, and sensible.

HOW TO GO ABOUT ABOVE PLANNING:

It is our intention to analyze each situation along with representatives of the various divisions concerned and endeavor to reach a mutually acceptable plan, and if necessary an alternate plan for each and then present these plans for Bureau consideration and approval.

It is our hope to be able to prepare one document, appropriately subdivided and indexed, so that the Director and the various Assistant Directors will have immediately available all necessary details as to Seat of Government war plans. We realize that it is going to take a considerable amount of time to carry out all of the above thoughts, but we are anxious to bring the entire matter to consummation at the earliest possible date, and we will work on it steadily and you will receive frequent progress reports.

RECOMMENDATION:

Reference is made to Mr. Harbo's memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated July 13, 1954, wherein it was pointed out that the Executives Conference unanimously recommended that the Training and Inspection Division serve as general coordinator of all war planning for the Field and the Seat of Government and that the Training and Inspection Division fix responsibility on other Seat of Government Divisions for individual aspects of war planning and evacuation and follow through to see that those divisions handle their individual war planning and evacuation responsibilities.

In this connection the Training and Inspection Division requests that each Division re-evaluate their planning relating to the Seat of Government evacuation and operations in an emergency for the purpose of setting up new planning and the Training and Inspection Division to be advised for each of the following circumstances:

SITUATION "A"

"Washington completely destroyed, including all records, presumably over a weekend or night, when minimum personnel casualty resulted."

Seventeen (17) employees from the various Sections of the Administrative Division will be required to be evacuated to perform all duties of an administrative nature.

The present plans for establishing key functions at the evacuation site is predicated upon sufficient warning to clear the area where total destructions can be expected. The storage of emergency supplies, automobile, bus and truck facilities, however, under the circumstances, would be completely liquidated. As a result, evacuation requirements will be severely crippled. Office supplies and equipment to be transported to the relocation site will no longer exist. The number of employees fortunate to be away from the target area will be relatively few.

Under these conditions some of the salient requirements that must be provided for and which will require considerable planning are as follows:

1. Availability of Personnel:

Alternate staffing of relocation site will have to be temporarily provided from the offices of Resident Agencies of the Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Richmond Divisions for manning the site until specific job experienced employees from other field divisions can be ordered in. In other words, it will be necessary to inform all SAC's now that their war plans must provide a list of employees who have had prior Seat of Government training and of the possibility that should headquarters employees not be available for staffing the relocation site, field employees may be instructed to report to relocation headquarters immediately.

2. Availability of Office Supplies and Equipment:

An inventory of supplies and equipment available at the relocation site should be made. Additional supplies and equipment will have to be provided for by nearby resident agencies to provide short term operation. The war plans for the Richmond Office should provide a ready source from which such supplies and equipment (list of requirements to be furnished Richmond) can be immediately requisitioned and transported to the site for long term operation.

3. Availability of Automotive Equipment:

In connection with staffing the site with employees living outside the Washington area, nearby field offices and resident agencies should be responsible to have available automobile, truck and bus equipment if such is needed.

SITUATION "B"

"Washington attacked but Justice Building only partially destroyed, remainder of building not usable, no repeat air raid immediately contemplated."

Seventeen (17) employees of the Administrative Division are to be evacuated to handle administrative duties at the relocation site.

Under the stated set of facts with the Justice Building only partially destroyed and no repeat air raid immediately contemplated, it is expected that the personnel scheduled for evacuation will be started toward the evacuation site and office supplies and equipment set aside for evacuation will be loaded and transported as soon as possible. General Service Administration agrees to provide fifteen (15) large trucks.

SITUATION "C"

"Washington subjected to series of attacks, making it inadvisable to try to operate from this area and presumably between attacks there is time to permit removal of limited volume of remaining facilities."

Seventeen (17) employees will be required at the site.

Under existing plans evacuation will be put into effect immediately upon instruction from the Director to evacuate key headquarters functions from Washington, so that key functions can be established as soon as possible at the site. There are no definite plans at present for the mass evacuation of stay-behind employees if it becomes inadvisable to try to operate from this area. Specific plans should be formulated looking forward to the dispersal of all headquarters including Washington Field Office employees and Bureau records that can be removed to field divisions which are considered to be unlikely initial targets for enemy attack. We have several such offices throughout the field located in primarily non-industrial areas. It is felt that FBI employees should be shifted in groups to field divisions where restoration of FBI services on a long-term basis after attack by the enemy can be realized. The planning can be accomplished within the framework of our field divisions and careful consideration should be given to formulating specific instructions that can be issued now to the Special Agents in Charge of those offices which fall within the pattern of such emergency planning.

SITUATION "D"

"United States attacked, but Washington not attacked and fear of future attack on Washington causes President to order sensitive agencies out of Washington to a safer location."

Seventeen (17) employees required at the relocation site.

The present evacuation plans to shift limited personnel, supplies and equipment from Washington to the evacuation site is adequate relative to situation "D." Further, the situation appears to be sufficiently provided for if the plans to staff and equip the site from headquarters is augmented by alternate planning to staff and equip the site from nearby field divisions if the master headquarters plan becomes inoperative.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the general comments contained herein to questions put forth in referenced memorandum be made available to the Training and Inspection Division.

In the event of the total destruction of Washington, the chain of command will be passed on to those individuals designated in the field service.

With respect to the operation of the Investigative Division, instructions concerning the handling of violations and investigative matters under the jurisdiction of the General Investigative Division are set forth in the Manual of Instructions, Manual of Rules and Regulations and the FBI Handbook. Supplementing these instructions are Bureau bulletins and SAC Letters. This material is now in the possession of each field office and is available to the personnel who will assume command. In addition, the persons assuming command and particularly those persons directly responsible for the discharge of the duties of the General Investigative Division should, as soon as it is appropriate and logical, take the following steps:

(1) Establish contact with Departmental officials with regard to the problems of the Investigative Division as are required.

(2) Establish contact with the branches of the military service for the handling of deserter cases. This liaison is now handled directly by the supervisors on the Deserter Desk, either by telephone or by mail.

(3) Establish contact with Selective Service Headquarters officials in connection with the handling of selective service matters. This contact is now handled by the supervisor on the Selective Service Desk either by telephone or by mail.

(4) Establish contact with the Federal Housing Administration in connection with fraud cases which liaison is now maintained by supervisors in the Accounting and Fraud Section on a telephone and mail basis.

(5) Establish contact with the Civil Service Commission primarily in connection with matters handled in the Special Inquiry and Security of Government Employees Sections which contact is now maintained by the supervisors by mail and in some isolated instances by telephone.

The Director has inquired as to whether or not the Bureau has received copies from the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) of all plans, guides and instructions that have been issued to sensitive agencies regarding evacuation and relocation. Further, the Director inquired as to any policy ODM has "set up" regarding the evacuation program.

On July 23, 1954, Mr. Russell Ash, Chairman, Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning, ODM, advised W. F. Woods, Liaison Representative, that his records reflect that the FBI has been furnished copies of all material issued to this date, with the possible exception of a paper dated March 8, 1954, entitled "Criteria for Use in Determining Essential Functions," and a paper of approximately the same date entitled, "Maintenance of Executive Direction," both of which have been furnished to Mr. Andretta of the Department. Mr. Ash was not in a position to state whether or not copies of these two papers have been furnished the Bureau by the Department and therefore a file review is being made to determine if copies have been furnished the Bureau. 11

Concerning a policy with regard to evacuation, Mr. Ash has advised that there has been no policy announced either in document form or any other form, although ODM has been advocating to each sensitive agency that they prepare to evacuate on a yellow warning. He stated, however, that a study is currently being made of the warning system in government and that ODM is working closely in this study with the Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA). The results of this study will be made available to the Bureau. The yellow warning will be used to warn of a probable hostile attack. 11

RECOMMENDATION:

The results of the file review will be reported and Liaison will follow closely with ODM to ascertain the results of their study with FCDA of the warning system and their proposals for changes, if any.

The Director's memorandum of June 24, 1954, specified that each division make available a synopsis of any specific facts, plans, policies or procedures which should be assembled in succinct form for transmittal to the chain of command. I think the following information should be made available to all members of the chain of command both at the Seat of Government and in the field:

1. The chain of command. In this connection I think that in addition to specifying the chain of command, the responsibilities prior to an actual emergency, such as the place and preparations of the emergency location site and specifically the responsibility of action yet to be taken, should be well defined and specified.
2. The location of the emergency relocation site or evacuation headquarters should be described and accompanied by a copy of the map which has already been prepared. There should be included under this category a specific plan for taking over the relocation site.
3. The facilities available to the evacuation headquarters. This should include a description of the switchboard and teletype installation, radio and microwave facilities. This description should include what these facilities were engineered to provide, such as communications by microwave with the other agencies specified by the President. The description of the radio and microwave facilities, the installation of which is the responsibility of the Laboratory Division, is in Section II of the attachment.
4. The brief for the members of the chain of command should also specify where there is available a copy of the Seat of Government War Plans. In addition, a suggestion should be included as to steps which could be taken to reconstruct or provide a substitute for the critical functions of the Divisions at the Seat of Government. To this end Section I of the attachment lists personnel assigned to the field who have had Laboratory experience and who would be available in taking over Laboratory functions if the Seat of Government were totally destroyed.

Re: War Plans

5. There should be a description of the vital records stored away from the Seat of Government, presently at Little Rock, and perhaps also the means of obtaining them for use at the evacuation center.

6. It would probably also be desirable to include some instruction as to steps that should be taken to safeguard any files or records at the Seat of Government should personnel be wiped out but records not totally destroyed.

It is suggested that all previous briefs for prior members of the chain of command be recalled.

RECOMMENDATION: That the above items be considered in preparing the brief for the members of the chain of command.

ADMINISTRATIVE BRIEF OF LABORATORY WAR PLANS

I. CONTINUITY OF LABORATORY EXAMINATIONS AND OTHER FUNCTIONS

A. A problem will arise only if the entire headquarters Laboratory facilities and personnel should be lost, since otherwise any remaining nucleus of personnel and facilities would form the basis for carrying out Laboratory functions and the process of rebuilding.

B. In the event of total destruction of the headquarters Laboratory facilities and personnel, there is set forth below a list of former Laboratory personnel who have since transferred to the field and who could be called upon to rebuild Laboratory operations:

II. COMMUNICATIONS ENGINEERING SERVICES OF LABORATORY

A. As a part of the Bureau's over-all war plans involving an emergency relocation center at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, the following facts relative to radio communications are considered pertinent:

1. Security Agencies Microwave Communications System

At the request of the White House, a multiple-channel radio link is being established between the respective relocation centers of the following critical agencies:

b7E

Federal Bureau of Investigation

The FBI station of this system is presently located on a private estate near Shepherdstown, West Virginia, and will be controlled from within the Shepherds College quarters. The system, upon completion, will permit both telephonic and teletypewriter communications between the above-listed critical agencies.

2. CW Radio Network

The primary control radio station for the Bureau's entire CW radio telegraph network is presently located immediately outside the Washington area. The receiving portion of this station is located near Clinton, Maryland, and the transmitting portion near Waldorf, Maryland. This station will remain the primary control station for this network so long as the station remains operative. Sufficient radio communications equipment has been procured and stored in the vicinity of Shepherdstown, West Virginia, for the construction and operation of a radio station which will perform either of the two following functions as required:

a. Maintenance of communications between relocation center and the primary control station in Washington area if that station remains operative.

b. The assumption of the functions of a primary control station linking the emergency relocation center with all field offices in the event the Washington area control station is lost.

RECORDED - 3

Director, FBI

IDENTIFICATION DIVISION, FBI
POSSIBLE RELOCATION

In my memorandum of July 8, 1954, several considerations were set forth as to the reasons why the Identification Division should continue to remain in Washington, D. C. You will recall I pointed out the close ties binding this Division's work with the Bureau as a whole and the use of these records by other Federal agencies here in Washington. Personnel considerations along with economy and other efficiency factors were also cited.

In your memorandum of July 15, 1954, you agreed with the soundness of our reasoning. You further stated that the only argument against our conclusions was whether the loss of the fingerprint cards, in the event of attack on the National Capital, would be so irreplaceable as to warrant removal of the Identification Division outside the target area.

I am sure you will agree that there is a calculated risk involved no matter where Government records are kept. For sometime past decentralization of portions of the Federal Government from the City of Washington to other areas and to perimeter building sites has been the subject of much study. It appears that the cost of decentralization and the inefficiency resulting therefrom have blocked any general move in this direction.

The problem of preservation and relocation of all FBI functions and records in the event of actual enemy attack on Washington has, of course, received our close and continuous consideration for sometime past in connection with our planning for any evacuation emergency. With respect to the Identification files, we have even considered microfilming these records. However, it was felt that the cost of such an operation would be prohibitive. As we have previously advised the Office of Defense Mobilization, insofar as our Identification fingerprint records are concerned in the event of total destruction, the original fingerprints now maintained in our service can be regrouped from fingerprint records maintained by law enforcement agencies throughout the country.

(ATTACHED)

I have your memorandum of July 8, on the subject, "Identification Division, FBI Possible Relocation". In my opinion the arguments against moving the Identification Division outside the Washington, D. C. area are valid.

The only argument that I can see against your conclusion would be the one as to whether the loss of the fingerprint cards, in the event of an attack on the National Capital, would be so irreplaceable as to warrant removal of the Identification Division outside a target area. I presume you have taken this argument into consideration in reaching your conclusion.

EMERGENCY DETENTION PROGRAM BUREAU WAR PLANS AXIOMATIC

space for 5040 G. 8-24-70

This memorandum is prepared to answer the comment made and questions raised by the Director.

1. The Director has commented that he desires that we should have a copy of everything in the Attorney General's Portfolio.

The administrative plans, forms and operational procedures to place the Emergency Detention Program in operation are contained in the Attorney General's Portfolio. Two copies of the Portfolio as presently approved and on which our planning is based are maintained by the Bureau. One copy is maintained by the Internal Security Section in Room 1503. The other copy, at the Department's request, is maintained in the Little Rock Office for security reasons in the event the copies maintained by the Bureau and the Department at the Seat of Government are destroyed by enemy attack. This document is in the personal custody of the Special Agent in Charge at Little Rock along with other important papers and documents which have been reproduced for emergency use if necessary. (* Other documents and papers identified in addendum)

For your information, since December, 1953, the Office of the Legal Counsel in the Department has been reviewing the Attorney General's Portfolio but to date the suggested revisions have not been submitted to the Bureau for comment so that we can carefully consider all factors involved in any suggested revisions. However, the Portfolio which is in our possession contains the instructions from which we would operate at this time if an emergency occurred.

2. The Director has inquired as to whether there is a safe at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, in which the Attorney General's Portfolio could be placed and whether it is desirable to do so.

We do not have a safe at Shepherdstown in which the Portfolio could be placed. It is not believed desirable that arrangements should be made to place a safe at the evacuation site at Shepherdstown to store important documents such as the Attorney General's Portfolio because the space there is not occupied by Bureau personnel and complete security could not be assured at the location.

2. The Director has inquired as to whether we do or should have papers stored at Shepherdstown.

At the present time no papers or documents are stored at the planned evacuation site at Shepherdstown and although we have some space there controlled by locks it is not occupied by Bureau personnel and cannot be considered secure insofar as the storage of such important documents and papers as the Attorney General's Portfolio. Because of the lack of complete security it is believed that it would be highly inadvisable to store important documents or papers at that location at this time.

ACTION:

This is submitted in answer to the Director's inquiries.

* Addendum 7-8-54

The following items in addition to the Attorney General's Portfolio are maintained in the personal custody of the SAC at Little Rock: (1) Duplicate copy of the Security Index list for the entire field (new list submitted every month and old list destroyed); (2) photographic copies of handwriting specimens of Security Index subjects catalogued as Key Figures and Top Functionaries (leaders in subversive movements on a local and national scale); (3) copy of the Bureau payroll; (4) copy of the Bureau personnel retirement records; (5) photographs of FBI personnel fingerprint cards and (6) complete photographic duplicates of the Typewriter Standards File and film transparencies of the more used specimens of this file.

No other papers or documents have been specially reproduced for emergency use or stored in any other repository away from the Seat of Government. Of course, each field office maintains its own Security Index cards and corresponding security files.

O Bureau
Re: WAR PLANS - EVACUATION
Auxiliary space For S.O.G.

You are aware that the Federal Civil Defense Administration has plans to advise the public of the imminence of a hostile attack and encourage the public to endeavor to walk out of Washington as a means of reducing the casualty rate. On the other hand, the FBI had earlier advised the Office of Defense Mobilization in connection with its war planning that the FBI chain of command would evacuate to the emergency relocation site when ordered to do so by the White House.

It is requested that an appropriate Liaison Agent, during the course of other contacts at the Office of Defense Mobilization, ascertain the recommendations of the Office of Defense Mobilization as to when sensitive agencies should plan to evacuate. Is it the wish of ODM that evacuation be effected upon the issuance of a yellow alert or other signal of imminent hostile attack, or does ODM desire that sensitive agencies await instructions from the White House as to evacuation? Comments should be made available to the Training and Inspection Division by memorandum.

It is desired that an appropriate Liaison Agent contact the Office of Defense Mobilization and make certain that the FBI has received copies of any plans, guides or instructions which the Office of Defense Mobilization has made available to sensitive agencies to guide them in planning for evacuation from Washington or in compiling other phases of war plans.

There are many aspects to war planning and it is possible that the Office of Defense Mobilization might have some aspects in mind which have not been communicated to all sensitive agencies. It is the desire of the Bureau to make certain that its war plans are as complete as possible and to reduce to a minimum the likelihood of overlooking any pertinent phase of planning. Comments should be obtained, if possible, and should be made available to the Training and Inspection Division by memorandum.

ReBulet to Little Rock dated 11/23/53 entitled as above. For the information of the SAC at Little Rock, your office is no longer considered as the repository of certain vital records. In accordance with the instructions here following, you should forward to the Richmond Office by appropriate means, bearing in mind their confidential nature, the following records:

1. Copies of the Bureau's payroll.
2. Copies of the Bureau's personnel retirement records.
3. Photographs of FBI personnel fingerprint cards.
4. Photographic copies of handwriting specimens of the Key Figure List.
5. The Photostat of the suggested draft agreement dated 12/15/50 between the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Office of Censorship.

The duplicate copy of the Bureau's security index, which is now on file in the Little Rock Office, may be destroyed at the time the foregoing records are forwarded to the Richmond Office. The current copy of the Bureau's security index is being forwarded under separate cover to the Richmond Office.

The Attorney General's portfolio, copy No. 8, which is now on file in the Little Rock Office must be sent to the Bureau by a mature experienced Agent coming to Washington, D.C. for In-Service; on arrival in Washington the portfolio should be turned over to Assistant Director A. H. Belmont. The SAC at Little Rock is to advise the Bureau with whom he plans to send the portfolio and obtain Bureau permission for the Agent in question to transport the portfolio from Little Rock to Bureau headquarters.

It is the responsibility of the SAC at Richmond upon receipt of the vital records from the SAC at Little Rock to maintain them in the Richmond Office in such manner as to insure their utmost security. All records received by you

In the event of the destruction of Bureau records at the Seat of Government, you will be instructed to make available those duplicate records which you have in your personal custody to the Bureau official then in command of the Bureau.

There will be forwarded to the Richmond Office on a periodic basis a complete new security index. From time to time additional handwriting specimens of key figures will be submitted as will photographs of FBI personnel fingerprints, the FBI payroll and FBI personnel retirement records. At the time each item is submitted to you for retention, appropriate instructions will be issued as to the manner of disposing, if necessary, of any records that you may have then on hand.

The Bureau wishes to point out that these records are being forwarded to your office as a precautionary measure in order to insure that certain essential Bureau records are outside the Washington target area should the Seat of Government and the records retained therein be destroyed.

Present at Executives Conference 7/12/54 were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, J.E. Edwards, Hennrich, Boardman, Rosen, Kemper, Nichols and Mason.

The Conference considered how acute a need might exist at the Bureau's emergency evacuation headquarters at Shepherdstown for the use of certain vital records currently stored at Little Rock....and whether these documents should continue in storage at Little Rock or at some closer point.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION:

1. Records now at Little Rock relate primarily to the program for the detention of Communists, which information is already in possession of the field, the Department, and the Bureau at Washington. Consequently, it is not vital that these records reach Shepherdstown immediately upon an evacuation inasmuch as the field can go ahead and operate if need be. Nevertheless the records should be as close to Shepherdstown as practical and therefore the Conference unanimously recommends transfer of the records from Little Rock to Richmond, Va. Although Richmond is listed as a target area (all field office cities are target areas except Butte), Richmond is not a critical target area. If the Director approves, records will be moved from Little Rock to Richmond.

2. Undesirable to locate any records at Shepherdstown inasmuch as we do not have control over the college; not safe to have records in storage unless they are guarded 24 hours per day.

As you know, we have been planning to use Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, for emergency headquarters in the event it becomes necessary to evacuate Washington during a period of war or other catastrophe. There are certain practical problems posed to the use of Shepherd College, involving principally the fact that the college is not under our control at this time, and we cannot store needed equipment and records there at present. Transportation poses a problem.

We have contacted the Marine Corps at Quantico, and there is no objection on the part of the Marines to our considering the FBI facilities on the Marine Base as the site for emergency operations. We are very confidentially informed that the Atomic Energy Commission and possibly the Joint Chiefs of Staff will also use the Marine Base at Quantico as emergency headquarters. Many of our problems would be solved in the event it is possible for the FBI to evacuate to Quantico in an emergency. Quantico is approximately seventy miles from [redacted] b7E
[redacted]

Of course we must clear with the Office of Defense Mobilization. I have instructed that the views of the Office of Defense Mobilization be obtained. You will be ultimately notified of the findings, and I wish to emphasize that any consideration given by the FBI to the use of facilities at Quantico is purely exploratory at this time.

Although Quantico is a Marine Base, it is used as a training school, as distinguished from a military post, established for offense or defense. We are informally advised that Quantico is not considered a prime target.

The Executives Conference, 7-19-54, recommended consideration be given to changing our evacuation headquarters from Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, West Va., to Richmond Field Office or FBI Academy at Quantico. Director instructed that contact be made with Marine Corps at Quantico to ascertain what plans exist for use of Quantico by Marines or other agencies in an emergency and whether Marines would have any objection to FBI establishing emergency headquarters there.

ADVANTAGES OF USING QUANTICO

Referral/Consult

1. We already have full possession of a building and can store therein, with complete security, vital records; building could be arranged for emergency use at any instant.

2. Quantico is close enough to Washington to possibly make it unnecessary to sleep many people; however, sleeping facilities for small emergency staff could be arranged; hospital and medical facilities are available.

3. Necessary supplies, equipment, vital documents and records can be stored at Quantico now, thus eliminating shipment problems in an emergency period.

ACTION TAKEN

Mr. Parsons of the Laboratory has been requested to obtain full facts and costs as to moving our micro-wave establishment from Sheperdstown to Quantico, setting up radio at Quantico, availability of wires for phones and teletypes and to prepare an appropriate memorandum. It will be necessary for us to link in with some other sensitive agency, and if AEC is already establishing microwave facilities at Quantico, as reported, this will greatly facilitate our problem. Parsons will give secondary consideration to the possibility of moving our radio stations from Clinton - Waldorf to the Marine Base in Quantico (Plenty of land available - we already hold 99 acres and can get other land as needed at no cost.) and will submit recommendations as to this point.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN

1. Attached memorandum go forth to Attorney General advising we are giving consideration to using our facilities at Quantico; however, nothing definite has been decided, but that we contemplate contacting Office of Defense Mobilization to see if they have any objections and Attorney General will be kept fully advised.

2. Attached memo go forth instructing that Liaison Section make appropriate contact with Office of Defense Mobilization and the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning (Russell Ash until August 1) to ascertain if they have any objection to FBI using facilities at Quantico as emergency headquarters; to ascertain whether they can foresee objection by any other agency.

The Washington Daily News, City Edition, Friday, 7/16/54, at page 5 carried an article entitled "Head Start Out of Town - VIPs May Get Tips of Bombs in Advance." The article states that Civilian Defense officials said they have a plan to speed Government officials out of town before the rest of the city is warned that an attack is expected. They have named the plan "Operation Warning Yellow." Other information in the article appears to have come from Mr. William Royce of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

The Bureau has had no previous information on "Operation Warning Yellow."

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that Liaison Section contact both Federal Civil Defense Administration and the Office of Defense Mobilization to ascertain the details of Warning Yellow. Newspaper clipping is attached.

A Head Start Out of Town

VIPs May Get Tips of Bombs in Advance

Civilian Defense officials today said they have a plan to speed Government officials out of town before the rest of the city is warned that an attack is expected. They have named the plan "Operation Warning Yellow."

"Warning Yellow" won't sound off over the city's alarm system, but will work quietly thru phone calls.

The idea, CD said, is to get these key people to "out-of-target areas" so they can still carry out the operation of Government."

"We want to get these government heads out on the highways before they jam up with people," an official said.

ANYTIME

William Royce, of the Office of Defense Mobilization, said Warning Yellow will be used when there is merely a slight chance the city will be attacked and we have the time to get them out and still be able to work our regular city-wide plan."

Several area colleges have been selected as out-of-target sites where the Government heads are supposed to go.

"We can't have the whole city in on 'Warning Yellow' since it's liable to be a dry run," Mr. Royce said. "We can't have a mass exodus from the city everytime we believe we may be attacked."

At the same time that the Government officials get the word, he said, CD staffers also will be notified to take their posts.

"People may get a little suspicious when they see wardens running around. Government workers seeing their bosses take off in a huff may put 2 and 2 together and take off with them," a CD official said.

TRIED ONCE

The official said the Warning Yellow had one test, which, for some reason didn't turn out too well.

"Those that left said they felt a little silly," the CD man said, "but they did enjoy the drive out of town."

An H-Bell in Every Bedroom?

Scientists are trying to perfect a buzzer or bell that could be installed in a bedroom of every home in a bomb target area and could be set off electronically to warn of an approaching atomic attack.

Civil Defense Administrator Va Peterson disclosed the plan today but warned that such a device is still far from being ready for widespread use. He said we have to count on sirens for the present.

Mr. Peterson made a broad appeal to Congress for more funds to prepare for mass evacuation of cities in the event of war.

"We may never reach a situation where we can get all of the people out of any great American city," he said. "That will be a goal we can strive for, but every time we can get an hour, two hours, three hours, four hours or whatever number of hours we can get, we can save hundreds of thousands of American lives in any city."

Mr. Harbo in a memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated July 16, 1954, made reference to a Washington "Daily News" article entitled "A Head Start Out of Town - VIPs May Get Tips of Bombs in Advance," and recommended that Liaison contact the Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) and the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) to ascertain the details of "Warning Yellow." According to the newspaper, FCDA officials were quoted as saying that a plan had been devised to speed government officials out of town before the rest of the city is warned that an attack is expected. The article stated that the plan had been named "Operation Warning Yellow."

Liaison, after checking with FCDA and ODM, was advised on July 23, 1954, by Mr. Henry F. Hurley, ODM, that the newspaper article was embarrassing to both of the afore-mentioned agencies and that it was a particularly poor job of reporting. Mr. Hurley stated that Mr. William Royce of ODM had been telephonically contacted by a reporter, but that at no time did he advise this reporter that any plan had been devised to remove very important persons ahead of anyone else. Mr. Hurley stated that if such a plan had been devised it certainly would not have been published. Mr. Hurley furnished the Liaison Agent with an advisory bulletin of the FCDA dated January 13, 1953, which defines "Warning Yellow," as well as the definition and use of other attack warnings. This advisory bulletin and other instructions issued concerning attack warnings are attached.

A memorandum from me to Mr. Belmont dated July 23, 1954, entitled "War Plans" advised that a study is currently being made of the warning system in government and that the results of this study will be made available to the Bureau upon completion.

ACTION:

That this memorandum with the attachments be furnished Supervisor J. E. McArdle of the Training and Inspection Division.

Reference is made to Mr. Harbo's memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated 7-13-54 relative to the above-entitled matter, outlining a proposed re-evaluation of existing SOG war plans. Based on the outline contained therein, there are attached hereto observations under the following headings:

I. BUREAU WAR PLANS GENERALLYA. Present Relocation Center

Suggests consideration be given to occupied ready-to-go relocation center rather than present stand-by center.

B. Suggested Relocation Plans1. Required:

Outlines certain required phases of relocation program as imposed by White House planning.

2. Desirable:

Suggests consideration of supplementary plan to be held without dissemination for ultimate emergency situations.

C. Present Facilities at Shepherd College

Describes briefly radio and wire communications facilities presently available at existing relocation center.

II. LABORATORY DIVISION WAR PLANS

Sets forth comments relative to Paragraphs (2) and (14) of referenced memorandum from Mr. Harbo as these paragraphs relate to Laboratory war plans.

The attached material is set forth for Bureau consideration as a preliminary step in the over-all re-evaluation outlined in Mr. Harbo's memorandum, inasmuch as certain additional points contained in the referenced memorandum will be dependent upon decisions resulting from the suggested considerations.

RECOMMENDATION:

The attached material should be referred to the Training Division for subsequent Executives Conference consideration.

I. BUREAU WAR PLANS GENERALLY

A. Present Relocation Center

It is respectfully suggested that reconsideration should be given to the basic premise of the Bureau's present war plans for the SOG, namely the choice of an unoccupied stand-by relocation center. While such a choice may have represented a sound calculated risk in terms of earlier concepts of bombing attack including the early atom bombs, the approach appears to be unrealistic in the light of the hydrogen bomb development and known Russian capabilities. The only advantage of such an approach is that of economy. The disadvantages are numerous and arise primarily from the fact that, being unoccupied, the site inherently cannot be ready for immediate occupancy and use. At a time when our major effort will be required for security operation, it appears almost certain that a substantial effort will have to be diverted in order to make the site ready for occupancy and operation. Two major categories in this respect are as follows:

a. Since no confidential material can be stored at the relocation center, all operating records and documents necessarily must be held elsewhere and transported to the relocation center at the time of emergency. From the files' standpoint alone this appears to be a formidable and unfeasible operation.

b. Since no operating equipment other than the barest communications facilities can be ready in place, substantially all remaining office supplies, office equipment, communications equipment and, in short, substantially all other operating materials must be held elsewhere and transported to the center under emergency conditions.

In addition, with respect to our present site, it is noted that since the selection of this site by the Bureau, the Military has established within a few miles a major radio communications station which is understood to be the principal Army receiving point for all transatlantic Military communications. The area thus would appear to be a potential target area.

66-17381-334

B. Suggested Relocation Plans

1. Required:

The Bureau as one of the so-called critical agencies

[redacted] FBI, and [redacted] included in ~~Top Secret~~ White House relocation planning is required to have a relocation center, integrated with the relocation centers of the other critical agencies. Complete details relative to this integrated relocation plan are necessarily known to many people outside the Bureau, and in my opinion it must be assumed that the enemy likewise is acquainted with these plans. Thus, these relocation centers may become potential target areas in themselves. (The Military relocation center on which millions of dollars were spent was recently publicized in the newspapers; within the last few days Federal Civil Defense has publicly announced in the newspapers that near-by "college towns" are being selected as relocation centers.) Regardless of the security weakness of such an over-all plan, the Bureau's portion of the plan must be operatively worked out, since the possibility always exists that the plan may be placed into effect. Therefore, for reasons set forth in paragraph 1A above it is my feeling that the Bureau's relocation center should be on an occupied, ready-to-go basis. If the Bureau is unable to lease or procure such a site (as [redacted] already have done), then the use of a near-by field office such as Richmond would seem to me a better choice than the present unattended site for this purpose. b7E

2. Desirable:

Because of the wide-spread dissemination of the integrated relocation plan, information as set out above, regardless of whether the Bureau ultimately decides to retain its present stand-by site or to select a new, ready-to-go site, it is considered that the plan may be rendered inoperative by enemy action at or immediately following an initial attack. Therefore, it is suggested that consideration be given by the Bureau to the development of a supplementary plan, without any dissemination outside the Bureau, which would provide for emergency headquarters operation under conditions rendering the integrated war plan inoperative. For this purpose it is suggested that consideration be given to the selection of a field office (or large Resident Agency) which would not otherwise be a substantial target area, and that the necessary records and equipment for minimum headquarters emergency operation be installed on a ready-to-go basis at that point. Although entailing additional expense, it is my feeling that this expense would not all be chargeable to "insurance" since it would appear that a substantial amount of productive work could be carried on during normal times at such location.

C. Present Facilities at Shepherd College

With respect to Paragraph (11) of Mr. Harbo's memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated 7-13-54 calling for a tabulation of facilities which will be needed in Shepherdstown, as well as facilities which are already there, the Laboratory is in a position to list the radio facilities and, by reference from Division IV, the wire communications facilities now available. These are as follows:

1. Radio:

a. Approximately one-half mile from the college property there has been installed on rented land a microwave radio station which will permit several channels of communication with the other sensitive agencies designated by the White House to take part in the integrated relocation plan. As noted above, these include [redacted]

[redacted] This station is complete but communication cannot be had with the other relocation centers until the other cooperating stations are completed.

b. On the microwave station site there is also installed a radio telegraph station similar to those in the majority of our field offices. This radio telegraph station will permit communications by radio with the Bureau's main radio station at Clinton, Maryland, or with the majority of our continental field offices, such communications being restricted to contact with a single station at a time, as distinguished from our main control station at Clinton which can communicate with several different offices simultaneously. This equipment is ready to go.

c. Necessary additional radio equipment to permit an increased volume of communications with other field offices has been procured and is being held in storage in the Veterans Hospital approximately five miles from Shepherd College. Installation of this equipment at Shepherdstown would permit the relocation center to assume the principal control functions and communications now handled by our Clinton station. (It is noted that the question of immediate installation of some of this equipment is being made the subject of a separate memorandum.)

2. Wire Communications:

a. In a basement room of the Administration Building at Shepherd College a two-position switchboard has been installed and is connected by cable to the telephone company office. Telephone instruments are stored in this room but have not been placed in the college offices and connected to our switchboard because of the confidential nature of our arrangements.

b. Three teletypewriters likewise are installed in the same basement room and these are connected through the Shepherdstown exchange into Hagerstown where they can be connected into existing Bureau teletype networks upon request of the Bureau.

II. LABORATORY DIVISION WAR PLANS

A. Plans for Different Conditions of Damage

With reference to paragraph (2) of Mr. Harbo's memorandum to Mr. Tolson, dated July 13, 1954, relative to War Plans under differing conditions of Washington destruction, the Laboratory's plans have been reviewed, and it is considered that no present change should be made on the basis of degree of destruction. In this connection, it is noted that the personnel and facilities presently earmarked for evacuation represent a minimum nucleus for emergency operation at Shephardstown. Any increase made possible by various conditions such as advance notice to evacuate prior to attack could be more effectively worked out after the initial evacuation, since the available facilities at the evacuation center will set a limit to any such increase. Accordingly, any increase above our minimum needs will thus be made as permitted by time and available facilities.

With regard to the immediate duties of the personnel to be evacuated under our present plans, it is pointed out that there will be a substantial amount of communications installation work, both radio and wire, and it is considered that any available personnel not urgently required on other Laboratory matters will be assigned to assist in placing the communications equipment in operating condition.

B. Alternate Evacuees

With reference to paragraph (14) of Mr. Harbo's memorandum requesting consideration of alternates for evacuees, it is not desired to make any change at this time since the personnel selected for evacuation intentionally have been selected to provide depth and overlapping in ability to handle various Laboratory functions, and the alternate problem thus appears already to have been handled.

Pursuant to the Director's instructions dated June 24, 1954, to make available to the Training and Inspection Division no later than July 12, 1954, a synopsis of any specific facts, plans, policies, or procedures which should be assembled in succinct form for transmittal to the field chain of command, the following information is set forth:

A. STAFFING RELOCATION SITE:

Additional Bureau personnel should be obtained from field divisions as replacements for key headquarters employees (542) scheduled to staff the site who as a result of a surprise attack on Washington, D. C., are unable to report for assignment to scheduled duty.

B. EMERGENCY MATERIALS AND SUPPLIES:

Supplies necessary for emergency operations have been designated and set aside in the Justice Building for removal to the relocation site. In the event an enemy attack makes it impossible to put into operation basic emergency plans, limited supplies from the site will be available upon arrival. Additional equipment and supplies should be obtained from nearby field divisions or requisitioned from civilian sources as the circumstances require.

For information purposes, all the plans formulated by Mr. Glavin as Coordinator of Evacuation (air raid and relocation site) have been discussed with and left in the possession of Inspector-in-Charge D. J. Parsons, who has been designated successor to Mr. Glavin, responsible for all types of evacuation action which may be required during any type of emergency. The above records are as follows:

1. RELOCATION SITE PLANS (Volumes 1, 2, and 3):

Contains information relative to the establishment of the Relocation Site, the reporting of such plans on a current basis to the White House (Ad Hoc Committee), furnishing Approximately a year ago a complete duplicate set of the Laboratory's typewriter standards was forwarded to the Omaha Office and later transferred to Little Rock along with other records of the Bureau to be kept out of Washington as a means of protecting these records in the event Washington was destroyed by bombing. These standards consist of photographs of the Laboratory's file and were sent out of Washington because of the fact that it would be extremely difficult if not impossible to ever reconstruct this file as it now exists. At the time these records were sent to the field, we had no adequate storage space outside of Washington for their retention. Since that time we have acquired storage space at the Newton D. Baker Veterans' Hospital near Martinsburg, West Virginia, only a few miles from Shepherdstown and we have emergency radio equipment uninstalled and stored at this Veterans' facility. Although the typewriter standards are important enough to be protected from bombing, they do not require a high degree of security such as the other vital records of the Bureau demand and can be stored with the other material we have at the Veterans' center.

The Little Rock Office is being requested to forward the Bureau's other records to the Richmond Division for safe-keeping, but inasmuch as these typewriter standards do not require the degree of protection that the other records do, we are having them returned to Washington in order that they may be stored with other nonsecurity material at the Veterans' facility or wherever else that equipment may be moved.

RECOMMENDATION: That the attached letter be forwarded to the Little Rock Division.

Re: WAR PLANS - EVACUATION SITE FOR EMERGENCY USE

As the Office of Defense Mobilization has been advised, we are scheduled to use the Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, as a relocation site in the event evacuation from Washington becomes necessary.

Referral/Consult

Many practical problems are posed in connection with our plans to evacuate to the Shepherd College. The College is not under our control; we cannot store badly needed top secret records at the College now; equipment cannot be stored at the College now and would have to be transported to the College after an emergency period commences. Some difficulty might be experienced in removing the students from the College in an emergency period; there would be a period of delay in activating certain portions of our communications equipment, excluding, of course, microwave and radio.

On the other hand, we are in full control of the FBI Academy at Quantico; we can store whatever may be needed at Quantico immediately in contemplation of ultimate emergency use; our work would be greatly facilitated; a great many problems could be eliminated if permission could be obtained for us to consider Quantico as emergency relocation headquarters.

Although Quantico is a Marine Base, it is used as a training school, as distinguished from a military post, established for offense or defense. We are informally advised that Quantico is not considered a prime target but could be a target in event enemy bombers were unable to reach their first target and had bombs to spare.

Immediately contact Office of Defense Mobilization and the Ad Hoc Committee and ascertain whether there are any objections to our using Quantico as relocation headquarters in lieu of Shepherd College. Ascertain whether it is likely that any other agency would offer an objection. If objections are encountered, specify each with full background. If no objections are encountered, ascertain the exact steps which must be followed in order to effect the use of our facilities at Quantico in the event our exploratory consideration shows such planning would be practical and economical.

This matter is to be handled immediately, and findings are to be submitted in memorandum form for the attention of the Training and Inspection Division.

Present at the Executives Conference 7/19/54 were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Hennrich, Boardman, Rosen, Nichols and Mason.

The Conference considered whether we should continue to consider Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, as the most logical site for emergency evacuation headquarters for FBI or whether we should hold Shepherd College in reserve and consider the Richmond Field Office or the FBI Academy at Quantico as first choice for evacuation.

DISADVANTAGES OF SHEPHERD COLLEGE AS AN EVACUATION SITE:

1. College is not under FBI control; therefore, impossible to store vital records at Shepherdstown; will take a varied period of from several hours up to hook up appropriate telephone and teletype communications; radio facilities limited to contact with Washington and Waldorf-Clinton and very nearby field offices; radio facilities currently installed at Shepherdstown use hand key sending which is slow and contact cannot be made with distant offices without extensive and expensive remodeling.
2. Shepherd College is located right in the town of Shepherdstown with houses interspersed between college buildings so that a guard problem is posed.
3. We are spending monthly the sum of $1,121.70 for stand-by communications facilities and can currently get no use out of them and any expenditure we make at Shepherdstown is made on property not under FBI control and no return is likely for any of these expenditures except during an emergency.

ADVANTAGES OF SHEPHERDSTOWN:

1. It is close to [redacted] rather centrally located as to evacuation points of other key agencies.

2. Being in the mountains, it is 75 miles from Washington and thus not likely to be affected in the event of a Washington bombing. Richmond is 110 miles from Washington. Quantico is roughly 35 miles from Washington.

b7E

3. We already have a small radio station installed at Shepherdstown and do have a microwave link installed (cost $50,000). At any evacuation point we must have a microwave link with other sensitive agencies and we would have to explore what it would cost to run microwave to Richmond or to Quantico.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS:

Every field office city (except Butte) is a target area. Some are critical target areas, such as Washington, New York, Baltimore. We have complete possession of the building at Quantico. We might be able to work out arrangements to use it as evacuation headquarters and take care of any training of Agents during an emergency from buildings at our new ranges. There is some talk of Quantico becoming alternate headquarters for the Marine Corps. SAC Sloan states the feeling among the Marine command is that Quantico will not be a critical target but will be a secondary target in the event enemy bombers could not drop bombs on first target. As you know, the Marines use Quantico as a school rather than as a garrison. We occupy space in the Southern States Building in Richmond; we have no extra space in the Southern States Building. In order to keep us in their building they have already diverted many of their own employees to commercial space elsewhere in Richmond. Possibly we could arrange with Southern States Co-operative to make immediately available to us an additional floor or two above or below the Richmond Field Office in an emergency. If we use Richmond as an alternate headquarters, we could arrange for ample telephone and teletype facilities; already installed is a radio station of identical power with that now at Shepherdstown and this could be increased in power; we would have complete control of the space and could store any vital documents there at will. If we use Quantico, some difficulty might be experienced in putting in additional telephone lines and teletype and this would have to be explored. We would also have to check on whether a radio station could be installed. None is now installed at Quantico.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION:

The Conference unanimously recommended that the Director's approval be obtained to do the following:

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

1. Have liaison immediately contact the Office of Defense Mobilization and ascertain whether there would be any objections to our considering Richmond as first choice for evacuation headquarters; our facilities at Quantico as second choice for evacuation headquarters. Office of Defense Mobilization is in charge of War Plans for sensitive agencies such as FBI; Civil Defense is in Charge for non-sensitive agencies. All of our War Plans have been submitted to Office of Defense Mobilization. If approved, SAC Sloan, Quantico, will first contact Quantico Commandant to see if he has any objections before Liaison contacts Office of Defense Mobilization.
2. Appropriate facts be obtained as to costs, availability of space and other factors so that the Bureau can reconsider whether to designate Richmond as first choice and Quantico as second choice in lieu of evacuating to Shepherdstown.

In the event the Director approves there is a memorandum attached instructing Mr. Belmont to have Liaison obtain views from the Office of Defense Mobilization. Also attached is an appropriate memorandum to Mr. Parsons instructing that he obtain facts and figures on what it would cost to install a microwave link at Richmond and also the cost for such installation at Quantico, as well as additional costs which might be necessary in connection with increasing radio station power at Richmond and completely installing a radio station at Quantico. The Training and Inspection Division is also securing facts and figures regarding Quantico. Contact by Richmond with Southern States Co-operative will be held in abeyance temporarily pending other findings.

Lieutenant General Thomas, Commandant of Quantico, returned today and advised SAC Sloan that he is fully in accord with having the FBI establish emergency headquarters at Quantico. The Director has approved having a Liaison Agent contact the Office of Defense Mobilization to see if they have any objections.

RECOMMENDATION:

General Shepherd, Commandant of entire Marine Corps, is temporarily out of the city. It is recommended that immediately upon his return, SAC Sloan secure the views of General Shepherd. Sloan knows Shepherd well. It is believed, however, he will appreciate this courtesy.

Re: WAR PLANS - EVACUATION

Since October, 1953, there have been indications from the Office of Defense Mobilization that possibly that agency or Civil Defense might devise a plan whereby top echelon of sensitive government agencies could be successfully evacuated from Washington under emergency conditions. Apparently the President had some concern as to exactly how this evacuation could become a reality.

An appropriate Liaison agent should contact the Office of Defense Mobilization and find out:

1. Has any plan been devised which has not yet been communicated to the FBI?

2. Is a plan now under consideration which may shortly be ready for dissemination?

3. If the answer is in the negative as to items 1 and 2, does the Office of Defense Mobilization have any objection if the FBI makes contact with the Military in an effort to ascertain whether any type of air transportation can be arranged for emergency evacuation?

Handle promptly. Submit findings in memorandum form for attention of the Training and Inspection Division.

FROM : Executives Conference

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS EMERGENCY HELICOPTER EVACUATION

The Conference was advised that Federal Civil Defense Administration and Office of Defense Mobilization (FCDA and ODM) have since 10/53 been talking about some plan whereby the top echelon of the various sensitive agencies could be successfully evacuated from the Seat of Government under emergency conditions. The President remarked several months ago that he has difficulty moving in normal Washington traffic even with an escort and could see no way of successfully leaving Washington in an emergency period. He suggested helicopters might be the answer.

It was suggested that Liaison contact FCDA and ODM in an effort to ascertain what, if any, plan or procedure has been adopted to evacuate the top echelon of the various sensitive agencies. If no such plan has been perfected or adopted, an effort be made to see if they have objections to the FBI making discreet contact with the various military agencies in an effort to arrive at some plan which will assure insofar as possible, Bureau officials being safely evacuated from Washington during a period of emergency so they will be available to organize and direct the operations of the Bureau from our emergency relocation site.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: EDM:cs

Present at the Executives Conference of 7/21/54 were Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Hennrich, Boardman, Rosen, Kemper and Mason. The Conference unanimously recommends a liaison man contact the Office of Defense Mobilization to see if any plans are in existence which have not been made available to the FBI regarding a relatively sure way of evacuating key personnel of sensitive agencies; if no such plans are in existence, to ascertain whether there is any objection to the FBI contacting the Military to see if plans can be set up for any necessary FBI evacuation by air and to what extent this technique may be employed. If approved, attached memorandum should go forth containing appropriate instructions.

SAC Sloan, Quantico, on July 28 saw General Lemuel C. Shepherd, Commandant of the Marine Corps, as to our using Quantico as emergency headquarters.

General Shepherd is delighted to have FBI establish emergency headquarters at Quantico. General Shepherd plans to be in Quantico in an emergency.

General Shepherd stated he was greatly honored recently by having lunch with the Director in Washington; that he wants to do everything in his power to help the FBI. General Shepherd mentioned he was leaving July 29 for San Diego. He expects to be on the West Coast for several days.

[redacted] of the Long Lines Division, AT & T Washington Test Room #1, advised me today that he was making a routine test check on voice circuiting of #1025, Martinsburg line (this is our New York direct line telephone war plans line to Shepherdstown). [redacted] was inquiring as to the best time when the New York telephone line would be free for purposes of the check. I told him we would be glad to set aside 15 minutes over some week end when the line would not be busy, but I wondered if he had checked on the availability of a representative of the Central Telephone Company at Shepherdstown being available in the College as our equipment up there was unattended. [redacted] stated he had checked through as far as Martinsburg and there would be someone available at Martinsburg, but he had not considered going all the way through on the local loop from Martinsburg to Shepherdstown. [redacted] thought this should be done as there is no point in a test check being only partially made. He stated he would go into the matter further with his office and would be in touch with me as to when they could do it.

I told <sup>him</sup> this would be fine and that we would then set up a time over some week end when this could be done. When we do hear further from [redacted] there, of course, will be the necessity of advising [redacted] at the College so that the local telephone man at Shepherdstown can have access to the basement in order to answer and test the equipment with [redacted] straight through. As you recall, the Martinsburgh line on this circuit is tied in at Philadelphia and it should be checked all the way through and not partially.

Dear General Tucker:

Reference is made to an undated request received in this Bureau July 23, 1954, from your headquarters for fifteen (15) copies of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Conelrad Plan.

I regret that the Bureau has no additional copies of the plan for distribution. However, it is noted that under date of May 10, 1954, sixteen serialized copies of this plan were furnished to the Secretary of Defense, Washington, D.C., for the Air Defense Command, and it is suggested that you may wish to make additional inquiry there.

Marine Corps at Quantico; General Shepherd, Commandant of entire Marine Corps; and Office of Defense Mobilization have all agreed FBI may use Quantico as emergency relocation headquarters in the event evacuation from Washington becomes necessary.

On the other hand, we are paying $8,687.28 per year for telephone and teletype facilities at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia. We can move our micro-wave facilities to Quantico, but, of course, we have incurred cost of installation of telephone and teletype equipment. Meanwhile, the Department of Justice is seeking to find a relocation center for itself and is currently trying to obtain a hotel at Winchester, Va. The Director may wish to suggest to the Attorney General that since we are planning to use Quantico, we would offer no objection to the Department making its own arrangements for the use of Shepherd College at Shepherdstown. The proper person to contact would be [redacted] President of the College, and any contact by the Department should be held in abeyance until we have told [redacted] that the FBI has changed its relocation site. [redacted] should not be contacted until we have made some arrangements for radio, telephone and teletype service at Quantico. It will take a couple of weeks to get full details as to availability and costs of phone service for Quantico. [redacted] will be in Europe until early September.

It may save the Department some effort if we were to advise them of the possibility of their using Shepherdstown.

The thought behind our suggestion is that in the event the Department does decide to use Shepherd College, possibly we can arrange a transfer of funds and get the Department to compensate us for some of the expenditures we have made at Shepherdstown and to possibly take over existing contracts.

RECOMMENDATION:

In connection with the proposed move of the Bureau's relocation center to Quantico, a preliminary study has been completed relative to the estimated cost of moving our present Clinton receiving station and Waldorf transmitting station to Quantico sites.

On the basis that suitable sites can be found, and excluding any cost for clearing or grading land, and on a basis of providing facilities and capacity comparable to existing situations, it is estimated that the move of both stations will cost approximately $93,000. It is understood that the present FBI "field kitchen" building near our ranges cost some $22,000 and this building is approximately the size and construction required for the radio stations, thus accounting for $44,000 of the estimated total. The remainder of the estimate, $49,000, is required for the erection of the necessary electrical distribution systems, antenna poles and related structures at the two stations. All necessary radio transmitters and receivers are already on hand or on order, and do not enter the above estimate.

We always have been greatly restricted in antenna capacity and corresponding operating capacity at our existing locations, primarily because of limited land. For example, although Clinton and Waldorf contact directly over two-thirds of our field offices (the remainder being relayed through San Diego), we can operate with only five simultaneously at present. On a long-range basis, we should seek double that capacity; accordingly, if land and funds will permit, such additional capacity should be planned for in the Quantico move. It is estimated that such additional capacity would add another $45,000.

ACTION:

Above estimate of $93,000 for move on present capacity basis and $138,000 on projected basis should be included in consideration of possible move of present facilities to Quantico.

 QUANTICO RADIO FACILITIES

66-17381-

Jefferies
 11-26-54

In connection with the proposed move of the Bureau's relocation center to Quantico, consideration has been given as to what radio facilities should be established in the present FBI building at Quantico immediately following any decision to relocate there, and prior to possible longerange plans for moving the microwave and main emergency network control stations.

It is suggested that there be installed a 450-watt CW station comparable to that in most of our field offices and comparable to that now installed at Shepherdstown. Equipment for this is on hand and no substantial cost will be involved. Such an installation would permit radiotelegraph communication with the majority of our continental field offices on a one-at-a-time basis during optimum communications conditions, including contact with a similar emergency station in the basement of the Justice building.

In addition it is suggested that we install a 60-watt voice FM station operating on the frequency of the Washington Field Office. Such a station primarily would permit two-way voice communications between Quantico Headquarters and any two-way cars or portable units assigned to operate in or near the main base. Equipment for such installation is on hand and no substantial cost will be involved. Although not certain until tested after installation, it is considered probable that such a station would also permit direct voice communication with the Washington Field Office station.

RECOMMENDATION

That immediately upon a decision to use our present Quantico building for relocation purposes, there be installed a 450-watt CW station and a 60-watt FM voice station as outlined above.

Reference is made to Executives Conference memorandum dated July 21, 1954, wherein was set forth the unanimous recommendation of members in attendance that the Administrative Division recontact General Services Administration to ascertain where the FBI stands on the priority list for fifteen (15) trucks and drivers required to complete our evacuation from Washington to the relocation site should that become necessary. M. G. G.

Prior arrangements made with Mr. Weeks are no longer effective due to the fact that the General Services Administration has created a Civil Defense Branch under its Public Buildings Service Division. Mr. George G. Gross, Jr., Logistics Section Chief, Civil Defense Branch, was consulted for the purpose of discussing workable plans whereby the FBI can be assured, within possibility of performance, trucks and other transportation facilities as are necessary for our use during an emergency.

Mr. Gross stated that he is responsible for the current accounting of all government vehicular equipment in the Washington area and that the primary goal they are striving for is a plan that will permit them to get all rolling equipment out of the target area (Washington) if at all possible whenever an attack becomes imminent. Valuable and necessary equipment such as vehicles, according to Mr. Gross, should not be left exposed to destruction but steps should and are being taken at this time to move out for safe-keeping equipment which will be needed to fight fires, clear destroyed areas, aid the critically injured and move necessary personnel, equipment and records to outlying areas. Insofar as the Bureau is concerned Mr. Gross stated that he will have fifteen (15) vehicles available with drivers any time the Bureau wishes them to be assigned. However, this depends upon equipment and personnel being in existence and possibility of assignment; and secondly, that if such a request came during an alert, the prime job, as stated, is to get the equipment out, not to keep it in Washington. I advised Mr. Gross we did not intend to move on any type alert and that his personal assurance at this time that trucks will be available before and if at all possible after alerts, is sufficient for our present day planning. For purpose of recording the above information in the Relocation Site Plans maintained by the Training and Inspection Division the following is set forth:

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES:

The General Services Administration on August 3, 1954, advised that the FBI will be furnished fifteen (15) vehicles upon notice to be utilized for transporting files, supplies and other equipment to a point outside of Washington, D. C. Such equipment will be made available together with qualified GSA drivers. Employees required for loading and unloading operations will be furnished by the FBI. It is further understood that if such notice is forthcoming during a period of alert that the availability of equipment will occur immediately after such alert has ceased.

Mr. Ben Willis, a former Agent, who is in charge of war plans for the Department of Justice telephoned 8/11/54. He stated that he had just returned from leave and had seen a memorandum from the Director to the Attorney General to the effect that the FBI was exploring the possibility of using Quantico as emergency relocation headquarters. Willis wanted to know if anything definite now existed. I told him that our status was still exploratory and that there was a tremendous amount of engineering work necessary in the communications line before any definite commitment could be made.

Willis stated he was interested because the Department of Justice has been seeking a relocation site at Winchester, Virginia, and planned within the next week to draw up a contract with a hotel owner in Winchester so the Department could use the hotel facilities if necessary. He stated that he would "go slow" in closing the deal because if the FBI moved to Quantico the Department might very well want to move to Richmond in order to be somewhere near the FBI. I told Willis we had no recommendation to make at all as to any action by the Department. He stated that he would like to know of the ultimate outcome and I assured him that the Attorney General will be informed of any development of significance within the meantime. Our evacuation site remains the same: Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

On July 28, 1954 the Liaison Section ascertained from General William S. Paul, USA retired, serving as assistant director of Office of Defense Mobilization, that President Eisenhower advised him it was desired that sensitive agencies, including the Bureau, evacuate Washington, D. C. upon receipt of a yellow alert. General Paul also advised that he thought instructions to evacuate would be forthcoming soon. No such instructions have been received.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That Liaison Section again contact General Paul and ascertain, if possible, when the instructions as to who will evacuate Washington, D. C. upon the receipt of the yellow alert will be issued.

(2) In the event no definite information is received from General Paul, that a memorandum be directed to the Attorney General suggesting that he ascertain the President's wishes concerning any evacuation action to be taken upon receipt of the yellow alert.

Reference memorandum from Mr. Harbo to Mr. Tolson dated August 12, 1954, requesting the Liaison Section to again contact General William S. Paul, USA (retired), to ascertain when the instructions as to who will evacuate Washington, D. C., upon the receipt of the yellow alert will be issued.

On August 17, 1954, in the absence of General Paul, Mr. Joseph Musick, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), advised the Liaison representative that as yet no directive has been issued. He advised that ODM has completed a draft which, when approved by Mr. Fleming, Director of ODM, will be sent to all sensitive and key mobilization agencies. The draft, according to Mr. Musick, is a series of questions relating to agencies' plans for relocation. Its purpose is to make available to the President through ODM the current relocation plans of each agency, it being noted by Mr. Musick that plans now in possession of ODM are not current in every respect. These questions have been answered by the Bureau in the past but due to revision of certain plans, as well as the contemplated change in the relocation site, the Bureau as well as other agencies who may also have changed plans are being asked to submit current information. Mr. Musick advised that one of the questions will pertain to the yellow alert and will specifically request information as to whether or not the agency head contemplates evacuating upon the yellow alert. It is to be noted in this regard that the Director has indicated and is on record with ODM that he will not evacuate until ordered to do so by the President. Mr. Musick stated that the information when returned will be compiled and furnished to the office of the President, with a specific request from Mr. Fleming that agency heads be directed by the President to evacuate upon the yellow alert. Mr. Musick stated that he would keep the Bureau advised of all developments concerning ODM's emergency planning, as well as furnish to the Bureau any directives or instructions issued by the President or ODM.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be forwarded to the Training and Inspection Division for their information.

Attached hereto are two keys for the micro-wave installation now located at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, a key to the door and a key to the cabinets housing the micro-wave technical equipment. Since it is contemplated that the micro-wave installation may be moved to Quantico, it is recommended that this set of keys be maintained in the Quantico telekey cabinet.

Two other sets of keys are maintained at the Bureau, one in the Communications Section and one in the Laboratory. At such time as the micro-wave installation is moved to Quantico, disposition will be made of the extra set of keys.

There is available the following space at the old ranges, which with little or no alteration could be used for offices, classrooms or storage:

- (a) 3 frame buildings, 2 with concrete floors, the third with wooden floor, each 20' x 40', or a total of 2400 square feet. Space heaters will be needed if occupied by personnel during winter months.
- (b) 2 frame target houses, with wooden floors, each 10' x 30', a total of 600 square feet. Space heaters necessary if occupied by personnel during winter months.
- (c) 1 washroom, without bath, but containing 5 stools, 1 urinal and 2 wash bowls.

The rifle deck, 15' x 120' (800 square feet) is now open on one side. By enclosing this with an inexpensive building material it could be used for storage or even sleeping, or office space by using space heaters during cold weather.

The tunnel which is 5 feet wide and 600 feet long is damp, but could be used for certain rough storage as is. The 100 and 200-yard butts are each 8 feet wide and 120 feet long. They are only partially roofed; with the installation of roofs an additional 1920 square feet of storage space could be made available.

New Ranges

There are 3 cinder block buildings with concrete floor, which with no alteration could be used for any purpose the Bureau desires. All three have radiation heat in the floor.

- (a) 2 buildings (Mess Hall and classroom) 30' x 70', totaling 4200 square feet
- (b) The office, Tour room = Shop, 20' x 40', total 800 square feet.

In addition to the above there are 2 similarly constructed target houses, each 10' x 30', totaling 600 square feet, and a target house and garage, 20' x 40', totaling 800 square feet, all of which would need space heaters during the winter months.

The rifle ramp, 240' x 15' has a concrete floor and is open on one side. By enclosing it, 3600 square feet of good storage space is available. By enclosing it and installing space heaters in the winter months, it will hold a minimum of 48 double deck beds; however, if it was converted to this use, it would be necessary to construct bath facilities nearby. SAC Sloan says the water-sewerage pipes are close at hand and no serious problems would be raised.

The tunnel is 8' x 600' (4800 square feet) and is waterproof. It would be good storage space for most anything that could be stored in an underground unheated area.

Again by roofing the 100 and 200-yard butts which are 8' x 240' an additional 3840 square feet of storage space could be obtained.

From the foregoing it will be seen that the new ranges particularly provide many opportunities for emergency operations.

RECOMMENDATION:

None . . . . informative.

Remymemo 8/2/54, relating to the installation of a 60 watt FM station and a 450 watt CW morse code station at the FBI Academy Building on the Quantico Marine Base.

In connection therewith, the Radio and Electrical Section established a mobile 450 watt CW radio station truck, complete with emergency generator, adjacent to the Academy Building on August 11, 1954. This military truck, on indefinite loan to the Bureau, had been located at our Clinton, Maryland, radio station.

Preliminary surveys were conducted and tentative unofficial approvals received for the establishment of a remotely controlled 60 watt FM 40 mc station unit.

ACTION:

In that a decision has not as yet been reached to use the Quantico area for relocation purposes, no further action will be taken with regard to CW and FM facilities at this time. In the event such a decision is reached, then arrangements will be made to establish above facilities on a permanent basis.

ADDENDUM: For record purposes, it is considered that responsibility for physical custody and security of this military equipment now rests with the Training and Inspection Division and the keys have been turned over to Mr. Sloan. Pending a final decision concerning a possible permanent 450 watt CW station at Quantico, the Laboratory will assume responsibility for the maintenance and periodic testing of the mobile station. Necessary additional crystals have been furnished by the Laboratory. For the present no gasoline storage in addition to the tank capacity will be provided since there are supply depots on the Marine Base. IWC:bgc 8-17-54

It is requested that the Exhibits Section prepare 100 maps showing several different automobile routes from Washington to the FBI Academy at Quantico. Although our emergency evacuation site has not yet been changed to Quantico, the maps could be useful in portraying routes to Quantico whenever road conditions might be hazardous as well as in connection with war plans. Even if we do not subsequently designate Quantico as evacuation headquarters, it will serve as a partial staging area and certain things will be stored at Quantico which will have to be moved to Shepherdstown, W. Va., thus necessitating these alternate routes.

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation planning. The following have not been completed:

1. Relocation Site

Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Va. Quantico now being considered because of possibility of making more complete installation of necessary facilities prior to occupancy under emergency conditions.

2. Communications Facilities
Shepherdstown:

450 watt CW (code) radio installed and ready to operate.

Micro-wave radio ready to operate except for installation of cable connecting the station to the College. Held in abeyance pending final decision as to evacuation site.

Telephone switchboard installed and ready to operate except instruments not connected. Cannot be done until space actually occupied by Bureau.

Teletype. Three machines installed and ready to operate.

Quantico:

450 watt CW (code) maintained on truck. Is ready to operate. Arrangement is temporary, as truck loaned by White House. May be recalled at any time. Permanent installation will be made if Quantico becomes relocation site and can be completed within four days.

Micro-wave. No facilities. Will have to be moved from Shepherdstown if Quantico approved. Laboratory will conduct engineering survey to determine cost and feasibility of moving to Quantico. Such move would require minimum of 45 days.

Telephone. No emergency facilities now available.

Survey being made by telephone company to determine feasibility and cost of providing same telephone facilities as are now at Shepherdstown. Problem is to avoid lines going through Washington and to find lines going through nontarget areas only. Telephone company is as anxious as we are to complete survey.

Target date 9-1-54. McGuire, Records and Communications, following. Report expected by 8/20/54, possibly earlier.

Teletype. No facilities available. Same problems exist as set forth above for telephone.

3. Office Space - Relocation Site

Final assignment of working space (Quantico or Shepherdstown) held in abeyance pending a determination of site to be used. McArdle, Training and Inspection Division, handling.

4. Chain of Command

Heretofore established but due to personnel changes memorandum recommending revision submitted for Executives Conference consideration 8-12-54. Instructions will be furnished the chain of command (Assistant Directors down through certain SACs) as soon as decisions regarding relocation site and as to those who are to serve have been made.

EX: Conf. memo
8/16/54.

5. Supplies and Equipment

Office supplies previously determined as necessary at relocation site now in storage at Quantico. No office equipment has been provided for relocation site. Procurement and storage thereof must await approval of number of personnel to be evacuated and final selection of relocation site.

6. Essential Working Records

Present plans do not call for duplication of any Bureau files or records at evacuation headquarters. Copies of certain vital records now located at Richmond, and Executives Conference on 8-12-54 recommended, with Mr. Nichols and Mr. Mason dissenting, the copies of summary reports in security index cases should not be maintained at Quantico. Each division has submitted recommendations concerning certain records (not investigative reports) to be maintained outside Washington. Training and Inspection Division will correlate and present to Executives Conference 8-19-54.

7. Disposal of Files After Alert Warning

National Security Agency on 8-11-54 advised no known satisfactory way of destroying large volume of records. Evacuation of files after an alert probably not possible due to shortness of warning that will be received; possibility downtown Washington will be evacuated by a "walk out" with no motor vehicle traffic permitted and because General Services Administration, previously depended upon to provide trucks, advised on 8-4-54, their equipment will upon receipt of an alert be dispersed to perimeter area in order to preserve it. Destruction of files will be by burning in accordance with priority schedule already approved. Liaison requested on 8-12-54 to determine from appropriate government agencies circumstances under which destruction of records should be undertaken. Laboratory following developments in methods of destruction. Training and Inspection Division, McArdle handling, is following Liaison and will prepare necessary instructions.

8. Highways and Free Movement of Personnel

Val Peterson, Administrator, Federal Civil Defense Administration, advised he was requesting all State Civil Defense organizations to grant full freedom of movement to Bureau personnel on all highways and in all areas during periods of emergency. On 7-28-54 letter directed to Chief of Transportation, Department of Army, concerning need for free movement of FBI personnel in event any part of the country is placed under Marshal law. By letter dated 8-2-54 Bureau was advised this request required staff coordination within the Army to establish and implement a policy and that the Bureau would be advised after the method has been studied. Training and Inspection Division will have Liaison follow at 30-day intervals.

9. Advice to Bureau Officials on Receipt of Alert

Most satisfactory method of promptly communicating to Bureau officials any warning received being studied by Training and Inspection Division. This study includes adequacy of personnel on duty outside regular working hours. McArdle handling. Target date for completion 9-1-54.

10. Emergency Generators

To provide electric power to Code Room to operate teletype machines, switchboard, CW (code) radio and limited lighting for offices of the Director, Mr. Tolson, Mr. Nichols and Mr. Boardman and to the Domestic Intelligence Division approved by Executives Conference 7-28-54. Memorandum requesting General Services Administration to install sent to Department 8-5-54. Newman of Administrative Division following.

11. First Aid Training

Classes in first aid training will be resumed 9-20-54 per Executives Conference consideration 7-17-54.

12. A concise, but complete document setting forth overall Bureau War Planning including the Emergency Detention Program (Detcom) and the program calling for the detention of Diplomats of enemy nations (Prodip) will be prepared when all details of Bureau War Planning have been ironed out.

Present at the Executives Conference 8/16/54 were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, McGuire and Mason.

It was brought to the attention of the Conference that immediately upon the sounding of a signal for evacuation from FBI Headquarters to a relocation site, certain of the evacuees might have in their possession, in the form of current mail on their desks or tables in the office, vital documents. Some of these documents might be essential in carrying out wartime operations.

It was pointed out to the Conference that there are approximately 1,000 heavy leather briefcases equipped with padlocks of the type used by Agents on hand in the Supply Section. It was mentioned to the Conference that perhaps certain officials scheduled for evacuation might desire to have one or more of these briefcases on hand so that without undue delay they could be immediately stocked with vital documents and could be carried along with the evacuee to the relocation site. It was mentioned to the Conference that evacuees would not wish to take with them all mail and documents on their desks but certain documents might necessarily have to go. The briefcases presumably would provide an economical and efficient method for transporting any such vital documents.

The view was expressed at the Conference that difficulty might be encountered in determining what documents would have to be evacuated and it was felt by the Training & Inspection Division that this is a matter which would have to be determined by each individual evacuee and that there would be no practical way of listing every type document which should be moved to the relocation site.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION:

The majority of the Conference favored not issuing an SAC Letter calling attention to the availability of briefcases but leaving the matter in the hands of each person who might have to evacuate for a determination as to the most economical and feasible method. The majority pointed out that Agents are already equipped with briefcases and padlocks.

The Training and Inspection Division has requested that a suitable container be obtained which would securely maintain highly important documents that may be in the offices of key officials which would have to be gathered up quickly and carried to safety by employees who happened to be nearby during an emergency.

In this connection, it is felt that the regular type Agent's brief case (large durable accountant type) which can be secured with a padlock will meet every requirement contained in this request. Sufficient cases can be maintained in each divisional front office to meet the needs of each key official in this respect. The brief case appears to be suitable for the purpose intended. Loaded to full capacity, the brief case is not too bulky or heavy to be handled by female employees if such becomes necessary in an emergency.

In compliance with your memorandum dated 8/12/54, the first aid supplies at Quantico have been inventoried and the following results are to be noted.

	on hand	on order
Swabs	2,800
Boric Acid Ointment	60-1/8 oz. tubes
BFI Powder	2-1/2 Pound Cans	6 lbs.
Lenzol	438-1 Fl. oz. bottles
Burn Ointment	720-1/8 oz. tubes
4" Bandage Compress	90
2" Bandage Compress	280
Iodine Swabs	2,100
Hydrogen Peroxide	28 Fluid ounces
Benzoin	6-1 ft. each
Ammonia Inhalants	200	100 units
Tourniquets & Forsepts	60
Mertheolate	8 pints
Aspirin 5 gr.	100 cts.	5,000
1" Adhesive Plaster	12 (1" x 10 yd.)
2" Adhesive Plaster	12 (2" x 10 yd.)
Salt Tablets	6,000
Rubbing Alcohol Compound	14 pints
Calanol Cream	210 tubes (3 ounces each)

Stretcher and splints are maintained on the ranges for emergency purposes.

It is to be noted that the first aid supply room in the Academy is maintained for both the Academy and ranges. It is also to be noted that the first aid administered at the Academy and new ranges is that of a minor nature inasmuch as the services of the U.S. Naval Hospital and Dispensary are immediately available and would handle any first aid other than minor scratches and headaches.

Supplies above the amount now on hand and on order will not be stored, unless advised to the contrary, in view of the medical services of the U.S. Naval Hospital and Dispensary which are so close to the Academy and ranges that they are considered almost a part thereof.

It is respectfully suggested that consideration be given to purchasing a first aid supply cabinet to house first aid equipment in the FBI Academy and also a cabinet for use on the ranges.

Present at the Executives Conference 8/12/54 were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Hennrich, Kemper, Winterrowd, Nichols and Mason.

The Conference was advised that the present chain of command for the Bureau runs through the various Assistant Directors at the Seat of Government and then shifts to the field and to the SACs as indicated below:

- 1 - SAC F. Hallford, Pittsburgh
- 2 - SAC R. J. Abbaticchio, formerly of Philadelphia, now under transfer to Charlotte
- 3 - SAC W. A. Murphy, formerly of Charlotte, now under transfer to Dallas
- 4 - SAC J. M. Lopez, Savannah

Because of the transfers as indicated above, the Conference felt it desirable to propose a new chain of command for the field as follows:

- 1 - SAC J. J. Kelly, New York
- 2 - SAC F. H. McIntire - Detroit
- 3 - SAC D. K. Brown, Baltimore

Copy filed in 66-2557

Despite the tremendous security problem which the SACs would have at New York, Detroit and Baltimore, it was the feeling of the Conference that the best talent in the field should be used in the chain of command and that the field offices would have to be run by ASACs during an emergency period, if necessary, in order to permit the field chain of command to be available at the FBI relocation center should their services be needed in the event of demise or unavailability of the Bureau's staff down through the Assistant Director level.

It will be recalled that initially it was planned to evacuate 542 people in the event the Bureau was ordered to its alternate location. Reconsideration has resulted in a drastic reduction of this figure to 173, who would be needed in the first 24 to 48 hours. A schedule showing the number proposed for each Division is attached. The various Assistant Directors have concurred in the proposal. This schedule shows a total of 31 for the Communications Section of the Records and Communications Division, which figure does not include personnel required to man the radio facilities now located at Clinton and Waldorf, Maryland. Should these facilities be moved to Quantico in the event it becomes the relocation site, an additional 26 men would be required. Further, this schedule shows a total of 10 men from the Laboratory Division, which figure presupposes that communications facilities needed at the relocation site will be completely installed before evacuation. Should it be necessary to evacuate Washington prior to such time Mr. Parsons estimates, it would be necessary to evacuate a total of 56 men.

This schedule also shows only <sup>12</sup> people from the Records Section. This estimate is based on the present (8/16/54) situation that no files will be available at Quantico. All estimates were based on the workload which would immediately exist and upon the premise it would be possible to supplement the staffs as the workload developed.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum covering the proposed evacuation of 173 people be presented to the Director for his consideration.

Mr. J. J. Kelly
Federal Bureau of Investigation
290 Broadway
New York 7, New York

Dear Mr. Kelly:

Emergency Plans Available for FBI S.O.C.

For your highly ~~confidential~~ information and for discussion with your Assistant Special Agent in Charge and no one else, you are advised that in the event of an emergency making it impossible for the Bureau to use Seat of Government facilities in Washington, plans are in existence to evacuate essential employees to a relocation site, the FBI Academy at Quantico, Virginia, if final arrangements for communication facilities can be worked out. If not, the relocation site will be Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, where standby communication facilities are now available. You will be advised as soon as the final decision has been made.

An appropriate chain of command has been established through the various division heads at Seat of Government. In the event emergency conditions, demise, disability or unavailability make it impossible for the Associate Director, Assistants to the Director or the Assistant Directors to take command of the Bureau, you are to assume temporary command of the Bureau, activate the Bureau's relocation site at Quantico or Shepherdstown and take such other emergency action relating to the Detcom and other programs as may be desirable under the circumstances. ASAC A. J. Marchessault will be in charge of the New York Office in your absence.

RECORDED - 58

At the time you assume command of the Bureau, you are to make such use of Seat of Government personnel as may be desirable, supplementing this staff as is necessary by employees from the field. Details of Bureau planning will shortly be made available to you and other members of the chain of command receiving copies of this letter. Meanwhile, you and the other Special Agents in Charge receiving copies of this letter are being put on notice of the responsibility fixed on you so that you may take immediate action in the event unforeseen contingencies strip the Bureau of leadership through the Assistant Director level.

Immediately following you in the chain of command and next in succession in command of the Bureau in the event you should be incapacitated are Special Agent in Charge F. H. McIntire--Detroit and Special Agent in Charge D. E. Brown--Baltimore in that order.

For your information certain vital records of the Bureau, other than investigative reports, are currently stored at the Richmond Office for safekeeping. In the event the records in Washington are completely destroyed, these records may prove helpful. The Bureau has to date made no provision for getting copies of investigative reports out of the Washington target area other than those which are now in the various field offices. It is contemplated, however, should Washington be destroyed and it becomes necessary to rebuild the central Bureau records this will be done in the Memphis field office. The Special Agent in Charge at Memphis has been given certain instructions in connection therewith. However, he will seek the authority of the person then in charge of the Bureau prior to instituting this program. It is anticipated that in the very near future the records now at Richmond will be augmented by certain records placed at Quantico, Virginia, for safekeeping.

There is here attached a map showing the various routes from Washington to Shepherdstown, West Virginia. You are familiar with routes to Quantico. Additional data will be made available to you as it is developed.

~~The Bureau wishes to again emphasize the confidential nature of this assignment.~~

Very truly yours,

~~John Edgar Hoover~~

In order that the Bureau war plans may be complete, it is necessary that the exact procedure to be followed by each division in getting notification to those presently scheduled for evacuation be obtained and made a matter of record. In addition, the master war plan and the plans for each division should show the transportation which will be used by each person in getting to the evacuation site, i. e. personally owned automobile; will ride with Special Agent _____, etc.

Information regarding the exact manner in which each person scheduled for evacuation is to be notified, i. e. who is to notify whom, and as to the transportation each evacuee will use in reaching the relocation site, has not been received from the Administrative Division, Records and Communications Division, the Domestic Intelligence Division, nor the Laboratory Division. It is recognized there will be changes in these plans from time to time, necessitated by changes in personnel. It is believed, however, that the detailed plans reflecting the current situation should be furnished at this time.

RECOMMENDATION:

That information regarding the above matters be supplied by each of the four divisions mentioned in paragraph 2, such information to be forwarded to the Training and Inspection Division not later than September 2, 1954.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : MR. QUINN TAMM Q.T.

DATE: 7/20/54

FROM : Mr. R. C. Anderson *per*SUBJECT: IDENTIFICATION DIVISION, FBI
POSSIBLE RELOCATION

O Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space for S.O.G.

By memorandum dated July 8, 1954, to the Attorney General the Bureau advised that the possibility of relocating the Identification Division had been previously considered but it was felt that such a move to another city would be extremely expensive, impractical, and would reduce the efficiency of operations.

The Attorney General replied under date of July 13, 1954, that the Bureau's arguments against moving the Division outside Washington were valid. The Attorney General stated:

"The only argument that I can see against your conclusion would be the one as to whether the loss of the fingerprint cards, in the event of an attack on the National Capital, would be so irreplaceable as to warrant removal of the Identification Division outside a target area. I presume you have taken this argument into consideration in reaching your conclusion."

The Director noted: "What is our answer to this?" W

In considering war plans, the Identification Division has considered the possibility of replacing the criminal fingerprint files in the event of destruction. Three alternatives involving microfilming were presented to the Executives Conference and the Director noted on Conference memorandum of September 17, 1951, that more thought should be given so as to explore all angles and possibilities with reference to the fingerprint files.

It was subsequently pointed out that the criminal fingerprint files could be reconstructed from fingerprint records maintained by law enforcement agencies throughout the country. Further, in this connection, it is noted that 38 states maintain state bureaus of identification. Copies of fingerprints could be obtained from these state bureaus together with copies of the FBI record sheets which have been forwarded to the state bureaus in reply to fingerprints submitted.

Memorandum for Mr. Quinn Tamm

July 20, 1954

The up-to-date war plans of the Identification Division submitted under date of June 15, 1954, reflected the following with reference to the study of microfilming the criminal fingerprint file:

"Further study has been made pertaining to the microfilming of the criminal fingerprint file in the Identification Division, and it is believed due to the excessive cost and also to the fact that the Identification Division is in a steel and concrete building that the files would only be destroyed in the event of a direct hit. In the event this did occur, a new criminal file could be started by securing fingerprints from state fingerprint bureaus, state and Federal penitentiaries, and from local law enforcement agencies. Therefore, it is recommended that the microfilming of the criminal fingerprint file not be done."

Further, in this connection, Supervisor J. E. McArdle of the Training and Inspection Division advises that the Bureau has furnished information to Honorable David H. Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President, and more recently to the Office of Defense Mobilization to the effect that "insofar as our identification fingerprint records are concerned, the criminal fingerprints maintained in our service can be regrouped from fingerprint records maintained by law enforcement agencies throughout the country."

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS (CLT:edm) jm

The idea of moving the Identification Division out of Washington now to get ready for hostilities that might involve the city of Washington is, frankly, a unique one. As you know, Washington houses many, many types of valuable Government records which, if destroyed, could not be replaced. Our records in the Identification Division are but duplicates of the records of thousands of law enforcement agencies scattered throughout the country. We can reconstruct ours.

Memorandum for Mr. Quinn Tamm

July 20, 1954

The thought occurs as to what reconstruction of records could take place on such valuable collections as are housed in the Library of Congress, the Archives Building, the Census Bureau, and even the Pentagon itself. There is a calculated risk involved no matter where Government records are kept. Decentralization of the Federal Government from the City of Washington to other areas and to "perimeter building sites" has been the study of Congressional Committees and defense planning for a long time. The only conclusion that I have been able to determine from these surveys has been the fact that the cost of decentralization and the inefficiencies resulting therefrom have blocked any general move in this direction.

I am still firmly of the opinion that the records of the Identification Division are so closely entwined with the other operations of the Bureau that for the sake of efficiency, economy, and plain common sense they should remain where they are, in Washington.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached memorandum be forwarded to the Attorney General.

BACKGROUND:

Reference is made to the attached communication from the Director to the Attorney General dated July 20, 1954, concerning the above-captioned matter wherein a statement is made that the Bureau in the past, in connection with its planning and evacuation program in the event of an emergency, has considered microfilming fingerprint records; however, it was felt that the cost of such an operation would be prohibitive. Mr. Tolson has requested data as to the cost of microfilming such records.

DETAILS:Records Section Cost

In connection with a recent Records Section survey which related to the microfilming of some 330,000 loyalty forms, it was determined that the unit cost per image in connection with this project amounted to $.00563. This included all costs (labor, material and overhead) to produce one image; that is, one side of a typewritten document.

Factors Affecting Fingerprint Costs

Mr. Trotter of the Identification Division has informed me that he is familiar with the foregoing unit cost figure. Further, that it was possible to achieve such a low unit figure since it involved mass production microfilming of "typewritten copy" and that comparable figures could not be used for microfilming of finger impressions.

With respect to the application of microfilm equipment to fingerprint records, Mr. Trotter pointed out the different densities of ink used for each card, which may even vary from finger to finger; the sensitivity of fingerprint ridges; the fact that highly delicate mechanical adjustments may be necessary, both as to camera and light sources, for each individual fingerprint card in order to obtain legible microfilm images -- all of which would correspondingly increase the Records Section unit cost figure as applied to fingerprints.

Identification Division Costs (Fingerprints)

In the opinion of Mr. Trotter, his most conservative estimate to produce one fingerprint image; that is, one side of a fingerprint card, would be ten times the Records Section unit cost per image or approximately  $5\frac{1}{2}\%$  per image. It would be necessary to microfilm 130 million fingerprint cards on both sides, resulting in 260 million images, which, at a unit cost of  $5\frac{1}{2}\%$  per image, would amount to \$14,300,000.

Identification Division Costs (Index Cards)

Auxiliary to this, Mr. Trotter indicated that the fingerprint microfilming project would necessarily require that the index cards in connection therewith likewise be microfilmed. He estimates this can be done on a production basis at the Records Section unit cost figure per image of $.00563. There are approximately 120,400,000 index cards. At a unit cost each of $.00563 (one side only), this would amount to $677,852.

Total Over-all Cost: $14,977,852

Computed as follows:

To microfilm 130,000,000 fingerprint cards (both sides) at  $5\frac{1}{2}\%$  per image ..... \$14,300,000

To microfilm 120,400,00 index cards (one side only) at $.00563 per image ..... 677,852

||| Total Over-all Cost ..... $14,977,852 |||

RECOMMENDATION:

None. For your information.

I think we will ultimately have to face the inevitable. I think either move our Ident. Div. to an inland city or microfilm the records. H.

Aug. 11/13/54 For S. O. G.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Harbo to Mr. Tolson under same caption dated August 17, 1954, wherein it was requested that the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), Air Force, and Civil Defense be contacted to determine whether an enemy attack in Washington would most likely occur during working hours or during the night time, and whether such an attack would be likely to cut off bridge travel across the Potomac River to the south.

Mr. J. W. Musick, Governmental Relocation Specialist, ODM, was contacted by Liaison Agent J. J. Daunt on August 23, 1954. Musick advised that the Military had prepared estimates as to when an air attack on Washington would most likely occur and what damage would probably result. He stated for purposes of preparing relocation and evacuation plans each agency must assume that an enemy air attack on Washington would destroy the city and all bridges and cause major damage up to a 30-mile radius. Musick stated that an attack during night hours would, of course, offer enemy planes less chance of detection. However, an attack during working hours would have greater destructive value. According to Musick, plans must be made for both possibilities.

Referenced memorandum also requested that an inquiry be made as to whether vehicular traffic would be permitted for evacuation purposes and whether there would be public notification of the Yellow Alert. Musick advised that local Civil Defense has not as yet a firm plan of evacuating Washington, D. C. At the present time a survey is being conducted for the Federal Civil Defense Administration by Operations Research of the Army. According to Musick, the latter group consists of persons from Johns Hopkins University who are working as Consultants for the Army. Until there is a firm evacuation plan for the District, the plan of egress in the event of an enemy attack would be to take the most direct and expeditious route.

Musick pointed out that at the present time ODM, FCDA, and the Air Force are discussing the advisability of a Yellow warning for the general public. It is ODM's feeling that the Air Force, with its ever-improving methods of detection, can now very soon guarantee some warning of an enemy air attack. He also pointed out that FCDA in their planning assumptions for 1955 includes a Yellow warning for the public. He stated, however, that there was nothing beyond a planning stage with regard to this matter.

BACKGROUND

In connection with Seat of Government evacuation planning it is important for us to know whether an enemy attack in Washington would most likely occur during working hours or during the night time. Although, of course, we would have to plan for both eventualities a guide could be very helpful. In planning our egress from Washington it would be helpful to know whether the contemplated attack on Washington would, in the opinion of the military, cut off bridges across the Potomac River on the southern approaches to the city. We have a direct line with the Air Defense Command at the Pentagon and we will be notified of a yellow alert in the Washington area; however, we are not sure whether the Air Defense Command post in the Pentagon will notify us over this direct line of other attacks elsewhere in the United States, such as an attack on New York, Seattle, or one of our territories. It is important to the Bureau to know immediately that one of its field offices is scheduled for an attack so we can check with that office just in case local arrangements broke down and the office was not promptly notified by the local Air Defense Command or Civil Defense.

RECOMMENDATIONS

(1) Liaison be requested to check with Civil Defense, Office of Defense Mobilization and the Air Force to ascertain: whether there is any estimate as to whether an enemy air attack on Washington would be likely to cut off bridge travel across the Potomac River to the south and whether the military has any other data of an estimate nature which might be helpful in connection with FBI war plans.

(2) Contact be made with the Air Defense Command post to ascertain whether we will be notified of an impending attack anywhere in the United States or territories or just in the Washington area, and whether the Air Defense Command post, in advising of a yellow alert, anticipates being able to estimate the amount of advance warning which can be given, as well as whether progress reports will be subsequently received following the initial yellow alert.

(3) It is known that Civil Defense has been contemplating banning vehicular traffic and notifying the public of any yellow alert. It was indicated following the test air raid of June 14 that the public might be instructed to "walk out" of Washington in the event of a future yellow alert. It would be helpful to know whether these plans have been crystallized and exactly what Civil Defense contemplates in the way of permitting vehicular traffic to evacuate; public notification of a yellow alert?

Dear Mr. Hallford:

For your strictly ~~confidential~~ information and for discussion with your Assistant Special Agent in Charge and no one else, you are advised that in the event of an emergency making it impossible for the Bureau to use Seat of Government facilities in Washington, plans are in existence to evacuate certain essential employees to an emergency site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

An appropriate chain of command has been established through the various division heads at the Seat of Government. In the event emergency conditions, demise, disability, or unavailability make it impossible for any of the Assistant Directors to take command of the Bureau, SAC Fred Hallford at Pittsburgh should assume temporary command of the Bureau, activate the Bureau's evacuation site at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, and take such other emergency action relating to the Detcom and other programs as may be desirable under the circumstances. The Assistant Special Agent in Charge at Pittsburgh will, for the necessary period, operate the Pittsburgh Office.

Mr. Hallford will make such use of Seat of Government personnel as may be desirable and, if necessary, supplement this staff by ordering other necessary employees from the field to the Bureau's evacuation site. Full details and a synopsis of the Bureau's planning will be shortly made available to Mr. Hallford. Meanwhile, he is being put on notice as to the responsibility fixed on him, so that he may take immediate action in the event unforeseen contingencies strip the Bureau of leadership through the Assistant Director level.

For your information, certain vital records of the Bureau are currently stored at the Little Rock Office, and in the event the records of the Bureau in Washington are completely destroyed, those records should be helpful.

Within a reasonable period of time, the Bureau will make available a synopsis of its emergency plans relating to the Seat of Government, in order that there will be no delay on the part of field chain of command in carrying out the Bureau's wishes in the event the field chain of command, as stipulated in this document, finds it necessary to take charge.

The Bureau wishes to again emphasize the ~~confidential~~ nature of this arrangement.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Abbaticchio:

The Bureau has revised its chain of command and you have been relieved of your responsibilities in connection therewith insofar as Seat of Government operations are concerned.

It is desired that you return to the Bureau, Attention Training and Inspection Division, all documents and letters you have received that in anyway indicate you have had a connection with the emergency chain of command of the Bureau, and any documents pertaining to the Bureau relocation site.

Very truly yours,

WAR PLANS
EMERGENCY RELOCATION SITE
FOR FBI HEADQUARTERS OPERATION

Revisions which affect the basic document submitted to you under date of June 3, 1953, are being called to your attention. These revisions should be incorporated into the basic document immediately. I wish to a point out that the contents of this document must be fully understood at all times in order that you can efficiently carry out the plans for the activation of the site in the event that becomes necessary during a national emergency. The duties involved in this respect must, of necessity, be maintained in the strictest confidence at all times.

The following revisions are set forth under the same paragraph outline utilized in the basic document:

A. EMERGENCY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND FOR RELOCATION SITE OPERATIONS:

In the event that activation of relocation site plans by FBI officials located outside of Washington, D. C., becomes necessary the following field chain of command shall be adhered to as far as is practical under existing circumstances:

1. Assistant Director L. J. Connelley
2. Special Agent in Charge J. F. Malone
3. Special Agent in Charge R. J. Abbaticchio

D. FBI RELOCATION PLAN:

1. COMMUNICATION:

Telephone and teletype facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Radio equipment is stored at the college site and at the Horton D. Baker Veterans' Hospital, Martinsburg, West Virginia, for installation when necessary. The microwave station, located approximately one-half mile from the relocation site, has been installed and can be used to communicate with other sensitive government agencies in the network. Investigative matters affecting the Nation's security will be transmitted to the relocation site over the Bureau's radio network facilities whenever and wherever wire communications are unavailable.

5. VITAL RECORD REPRODUCTION AND DISPERSAL:

The reproduction of vital records has been specifically delegated to the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Division located at 1104 Sterick Building, Memphis 3, Tennessee. The dispersal of vital records has been completed. These records are maintained in a current status and are under the supervision of the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Division located at 445 Federal Building, Little Rock, Arkansas.

RE: WAR PLANS
EMERGENCY RELOCATION SITE
FOR FBI HEADQUARTERS - AUXILIARY CHAIN OF COMMAND

Dear Mr. Abbaticchio:

The information contained in this communication is to be held in strict confidence. No copies or parts hereof shall be made, nor is this communication to be shown to anyone without specific authority of the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The White House has approved an emergency relocation site to provide for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau in the event of an attack, or in anticipation of an attack, upon the Washington, D. C. area. These plans were formulated in cooperation with the Ad Hoc (special temporary committee) Committee on Alert Planning, Executive Office of the President, Office of Defense Mobilization. This Committee also assisted in formulating plans for other key critical agencies; namely, White House, Civil Defense, Central Intelligence Agency, State Department, Department of Defense, and the Office of the Chief of Staff.

The FBI, together with other key critical agencies, is considered to be a sensitive function of the Government, and it is the desire of the President that adequate plans be approved now to provide for:

1. Immediate emergency relocation of the FBI at a site relatively near the President outside the Washington area in the event of attack or in anticipation of attack. (To date, the President has not indicated what site he has chosen.)

2. That maximum consideration of emergency operations be carried forth by a limited force of key headquarters personnel designated to keep the most essential functions of the FBI in operation during the first few weeks or months of an emergency and until more adequate staff and facilities can be provided.

Activation of our short-term plan will be effected by personnel working and living in the Washington area. The President has advised that we should not rely on getting advanced warning of possible heavy bombing or surprise attacks, in which event personnel working and living in Washington at the time might not be available for adequate staffing of our relocation functions. Therefore, it is essential that planning for continuity of operations, even on a short-term emergency basis, include alternate provisions for supervisors and staffing our relocation site from FBI sources outside Washington. The attached instructions should be fully understood in order that sufficient activation can be effected by you in the event of a national emergency.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

INFORMATION CONCERNING EMERGENCY RELOCATION PLANS
FOR CONTINUITY OF ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS OF THE FBI
OUTSIDE OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

A. EMERGENCY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND FOR RELOCATION SITE OPERATIONS:

In the event the chain of command at Seat of Government is incapacitated and it is necessary to activate the relocation site, the following field chain of command shall be adhered to insofar as is practical under then existing circumstances:

1. Assistant Director E. J. Connelley
2. Special Agent in Charge John F. Malone
3. Special Agent in Charge R. J. Abbaticchio

B. ACTIVATING FBI PLANS BY FIELD CHAIN OF COMMAND:

In the absence of prior notification the field chain of command, in the order above mentioned, will immediately upon knowledge that the Washington area has been under a heavy surprise attack and destruction is widespread, be responsible for activating FBI relocation site plans.

C. STAFFING RELOCATION SITE:

Additional Bureau personnel should be obtained from field divisions as replacements for key headquarters employees (519) scheduled to staff the site who as a result of a surprise attack on Washington, D. C., are unable to report for assignment to scheduled duty.

D. FBI RELOCATION PLAN:

1. Site Identification:

Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, telephone 2241 - 3711 (See attached map showing routes between Washington, D. C., and Shepherdstown, West Virginia.)

2. Timing and Movement:

President of Shepherd College, will be telephonically advised, if possible, concerning immediate need for occupation of the college in order that he can effect and arrange plans to evacuate the college staff and student body. Assistant Director W. R. Glavin, in charge of the evacuation operations in Washington, will depart immediately to coordinate setting up operations at the college.

Chain of Command Responsibility - to effect above operation in event it becomes necessary.

3. Evacuation to Relocation Site:

Personnel scheduled to report to the relocation site for assignment to duty number 519. Material necessary for emergency operation has been designated and set aside at the Seat of Government for removal to relocation site. The relocation site is such that emergency supplies from the college stock will be available upon arrival.

Chain of Command Responsibility - additional office supplies and equipment will be obtained from other field divisions as the circumstances require.

4. Communication:

Telephone and teletype facilities are installed at the relocation site but are not connected. Radio equipment is stored at the college site and at the Newton D. Baker Veterans Hospital, Martinsburg, West Virginia, for installation when necessary. Micro-wave terminal facilities are established in the near vicinity of the site to connect with similar installations of other key critical agencies. Information affecting the nation's security will be transmitted to the relocation site over the Bureau radio network facilities whenever and wherever these facilities are deemed necessary for expeditious and secure transmission of the information in question.

Chain of Command Responsibility - qualified FBI technicians shall be obtained from other field divisions as the situation requires.

5. Vital Records:

The reproduction and dispersal of vital records (personnel fingerprints, personnel administrative data, payroll, emergency detention list) have been completed. These records are maintained under the supervision of the SAC of the FBI Office located at 445 Federal Building, Little Rock, Arkansas.

6. General Plan of Operation at Relocation Site:

The Bureau will operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Liaison will be carried on with [REDACTED]

b7E

[redacted] by b7E
Special Agents regularly assigned liaison duties with these agencies who will operate directly from the agencies' relocation sites in the event of an emergency. This will provide for close Bureau contact with sensitive agencies of the government.

7. Successor Designated to the Director, FBI:

1. C. A. Tolson, Associate Director
2. L. B. Nichols, Assistant to the Director
3. L. V. Boardman, Assistant to the Director
4. Through Assistant Directors at the Seat of Government (6)
5. E. J. Connelley, Assistant Director
6. SAC John F. Malone, Los Angeles
7. SAC R. J. Abbaticchio, Jr., Philadelphia

E. APPREHENSION AND DETENTION OF PERSONS CONSIDERED POTENTIALLY DANGEROUS TO THE NATIONAL DEFENSE AND PUBLIC SAFETY OF THE UNITED STATES:

The Attorney General, by memorandum dated April 27, 1953, authorized the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to implement the Emergency Detention Program under conditions of a surprise attack making it impossible for the President to issue a proclamation delegating appropriate authority to the Attorney General.

The above authority which the Attorney General has delegated to the Director will, under similar circumstances, be vested in the individual who has succeeded the Director in the Chain of Command. It will then become his responsibility in effectuating relocation site activities and providing for continuity of essential activities of the Bureau to place the Emergency Detention Program into operation.

By memorandum to you dated August 26, 1954, Mr. Harbo requested that the exact procedure to be followed by each Division in getting notification to those presently scheduled for evacuation be obtained and made a matter of record and that the master war plan of each Division show the transportation that would be used.

All personnel involved in evacuation plans in this Division are on the key telephone list which means that their telephones are under line-load control whereby their phones will be operable in an emergency and they will be able to make outgoing calls as well as to receive them. All notification plans during other than working hours will be made telephonically. In the event of complete and total disruption of all telephone service in the greater metropolitan area of Washington, notification will be made personally or by courier. That is, each person from the highest official of the Division will make notification personally to the next in line under evacuation plan as best as he can work it out under then existing conditions so that the notification will fan out ultimately reaching members of each evacuation squad of each Unit of this Division. For example, I live near McGuire; McGuire lives near Wherry and Kemper etc.

Notification of evacuation is expected to be received in this Division from the Director or the Office of the Associate Director or any Bureau executive so designated by the Director at that particular time. This notification is expected to be made to me personally or in my absence to Mr. McGuire, Mr. DeLoach or Mr. Wick in that order either by person or by telephone call. Whoever receives this call of notification is to advise me personally or in my absence Mr. McGuire, Mr. DeLoach or Mr. Wick in that order. On receipt of notification in the Front Office of this Division Mr. DeLoach and I will start for the evacuation center.

Memorandum for Mr. Tolson from L. B. Nichols

RE: BUREAU WAR PLANS - EVACUATION
NOTIFICATION AND TRANSPORTATION OF EVACUEES

The details are set forth in my memorandum of May 18, 1954, captioned Bureau War Plans, Office of Assistant to the Director L. B. Nichols. Mr. McGuire, (Mr. Wick alternate) who stays behind, is responsible for notifying Miss Lurz, Miss Mathers and Miss Pownell of my office who are also scheduled for evacuation and for implementing with appropriate Telephone Company officials the emergency communications setup at the evacuation site. Mr. McGuire is responsible for notifying Communications Chief Wherry (or alternate Mr. Frank) or in their absence Supervisors in Charge (or Assistant Supervisors as alternates) of each Communications Unit to implement evacuation orders to the leaders of the evacuation squads or their alternates in each Communications Unit. In other words, whoever Mr. McGuire first reached in the Communications Unit is then responsible for passing it on down the line through the Supervisors in Charge or their alternates and by them in turn to squad leaders and to evacuees. The same principle applies to each Unit.

Mr. McGuire (or Mr. Wick) will also notify Mr. Medler of the Records Section who is in charge of the evacuation group of the Records Section who will in turn notify Unit leaders in the Records Section and they in turn will notify squad leaders who are in turn responsible for evacuees on each squad. Mr. Waikart (or Mr. Eames etc. in chain of command) will also be telephonically notified by Mr. McGuire (or Mr. Wick). Mr. Leonard will be notified by Mr. McGuire (or Wick) who will in turn pass word down through to the evacuees in the Statistical Section. Mr. McGuire (or Mr. Wick) will also telephonically notify Mr. Kemper of the Crime Records Section who is scheduled for evacuation as a liaison officer for Mr. Nichols.

All transportation involved in evacuation plans will be by personally owned automobiles then available at that moment. The Training and Inspection Division has been requested to provide identifying cards for personally owned vehicles in this Division for use under emergency conditions which will permit movement in and about Washington by military or Civil Defense authorities. Should personally owned vehicles not be available due to the disaster, standby personnel in the Division will organize a pickup service with such Bureau owned automobiles as are then operable. Special Agents of Crime Records are considered available for this duty. If all personally owned automobiles and all Bureau vehicles are destroyed and any evacuees are still alive who can be notified, the evacuees then are to make their way as best as they can to the Resident Agencies at either Alexandria or Hyattsville from which points transportation provided by nearby field offices can be arranged by them to get them to the evacuation site. It must be realized that no positive reliance can be given to the availability of personally owned cars at any given moment under actual H-bomb conditions due to numerous personal situations which can develop in a wholesale disaster. Neither can we be assured that Bureau owned automotive equipment will be operable under these conditions. It would be misleading to state categorically that Mary Row will ride with John Doe. What we have done in this Division is to organize squads according to the locale of residence among evacuees whose squad leaders have personally owned cars available for this purpose. If the squad leader's car is not available under bombing conditions, although he previously said it would be available, and no other squad member has a car then available, then the squad leader is to pass word back up the line so that a courier service can be initiated by stay behind personnel and if that fails the evacuees then are to migrate to predetermined meeting places such as the nearby Resident Agencies outside of Washington, to wit, the Resident Agency at Alexandria or Resident Agency at Hyattsville, Maryland, where field office automotive equipment can be sent in from Baltimore or Richmond to effect the transportation of evacuees to the evacuation site.

RE: BUREAU WAR PLANS - EVACUATION

The specific plans of each Unit are set forth in detail in the War Plans File of each Unit showing the identities of squad members and their leaders. My memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated May 18, 1954, mentioned above gives the specifics regarding transportation of persons scheduled for evacuation in my front office. Mr. Leonard's memorandum to me dated July 14, 1954, outlines the personnel from the Statistical Section to be evacuated. Mr. Leonard's personally owned car will transport Mr. Row and Mr. Robinson. Mr. Lyman's personally owned car will transport Mr. Naperskey and Mrs. Soden. In the event transportation fails in the Statistical Section as indicated above, people scheduled for evacuation, if they cannot be reached by courier service, will migrate to the Resident Agencies at Alexandria or Hyattsville. Mr. Kemper in the Crime Records Section will use his own personally owned vehicle and if that is not available will be picked up by courier service or will, in the event that fails, migrate as best he can to the

RE: BUREAU WAR PLANS - EVACUATION

Resident agency in Alexandria, which is closest to his home. Details of operating squads and breakdown of notification for the Records Section is outlined in Mr. Eames' memorandum to me dated June 2, 1954, and the Communications Section up-to-date war plans contains the squad breakdown for evacuees. In view of the numerous changes of residences, telephone numbers and the changing availability of automotive equipment personally owned, we have not included in the actual writeups of the Records Section war plans the details of who will ride with who; however, this information is maintained on cards on file in the Records Section war plans material maintained in Room 7509.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR IMPLEMENTING FBI EMERGENCY MILITARY TELETYPE CIRCUITS
SHEPHERDSTOWN, WEST VIRGINIA

The Chicago Office presently has in its possession a number 19-70 word per minute teletypewriter machine which is stored for emergency use in the event Bureau War Plans are implemented, which machine is to be terminal equipment on a direct line teletype circuit from the Bureau's evacuation site at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, to Chicago. This circuit is designated as number 7065 and is presently on an unconnected standby basis. Circuit 7065 formerly constituted the direct teletype line the Bureau maintained several years ago between Washington and Los Angeles and San Francisco through the Chicago Office.

In the event of war it is contemplated that this circuit would be reactivated from Shepherdstown to Chicago. In the event of complete disruption of local telephone communication in the greater metropolitan Washington area and in Baltimore, it would be possible to activate this circuit through Chicago Number One Telegraph Test Room, Office of the Chief of Telegraph Service located on the Tenth Floor of 311 West Washington Street, Chicago 6, Illinois, telephone number Official 3-9300, extension 4425 and 4426. The Special Agent in Charge of the Chicago Office of the Bureau has been designated as a person authorized to activate the Bureau's emergency circuits insofar as the records of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company are concerned. This is merely an emergency measure to provide a means of activating the circuits if all other means in the Washington-Baltimore area fail and authorization to you to so activate the circuit would have to come from the Bureau either by long distance telephone call or by radio, depending on the existing exigencies of the emergency situation at the given moment. Such instructions would come to you from the Director or a Bureau executive acting with his authorization.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS
RELOCATION SITE TESTAuxiliary 3/2-3, Feb 3, 04.

Mr. J. W. Musick, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), advised Liaison Agent J. J. Daunt on August 23, 1954, that ODM will direct a letter to all Government agency heads this week advising of a relocation test to be held on November 20, 1954, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Musick stated that the test will be conducted from the relocation sites only. It will be a test to determine whether adequate records, personnel, and equipment are available to operate effectively. There will be intercommunication among the agencies at their relocation sites.

In addition, Musick advised that he hoped to have a questionnaire prepared for distribution shortly to the various Governmental agencies confirming their relocation plans. Each agency will be requested to complete the questionnaire and return it to ODM by October 4, 1954.

Further, Musick advised that ODM was discussing with the General Services Administration the cost involved in having an audible warning system installed in all Government buildings. He pointed out that such a system could be used in alerting those persons designated to go to relocation sites. He also pointed out that the use of the telephone in giving such an alert as had been planned by most agencies is now considered inadequate.

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS - Airline SPACE EVACUATION inf

Reference is made to Mr. Harbo's memorandum to you dated August 26, 1954, requesting that the master war plan and the plans for each division should show the exact procedure to be followed by each division in notifying those presently scheduled for evacuation, and the exact manner of transportation which will be used by each evacuee in getting to the evacuation site.

As you know, the personnel of the Laboratory are in constant travel status, a substantial portion of the total personnel on an average being out of town at any given time. Consequently, it has not been considered feasible in the past and is not now considered feasible to place the responsibility on any given employee either to notify other personnel as to evacuation orders, or to furnish transportation for other personnel.

Our present plan with regard to notification is to have the notification handled through the existing administrative supervisory system, which includes appropriate chain-of-command alternates. With regard to transportation arrangements, until such time as the Bureau may provide an over-all plan using Government owned or rented busses and automobiles for such evacuation, the most feasible plan and the one preferred by the Laboratory, is to place upon each employee the responsibility for making his own arrangements for proceeding to the evacuation site after receiving the orders to proceed. This approach has been discussed with the evacuees and is also preferred by them.

ACTION

Unless otherwise advised the plans of the Laboratory will continue as at present.

Re memorandum from The Executives Conference to Mr. Tolson dated August 16, 1954, in which it was recommended that Liaison make appropriate contact with the Treasury Department to ascertain plans for meeting payrolls and other necessary disbursements during an emergency or evacuation.

This problem was discussed with Mr. Edward Heid, Administrative Division, Treasury Department, on August 19, 1954, and with Mr. James Stover of the Administrative Division and Mr. J. F. Cannon, Chief, Disbursing Office, Treasury Department, on August 23, 1954. According to these individuals, it was thought that the best way for the Bureau to handle the meeting of payrolls and other necessary disbursements for equipment, supplies, etc., during an emergency would be to designate "the highest surviving officer" in any of the respective Field Divisions as the person to designate the certifying officer who would certify as to the vouchers for payrolls and other disbursements. Mr. Cannon stated that arrangements have been made with the respective regional disbursing offices of the Treasury Department to honor the vouchers received from such individuals. Cannon further stated that it would be inadvisable to designate any one particular person at this time in view of the constant changes of Bureau personnel and also in view of the possibility of the named individuals being among those killed in the event of an attack.

Cannon suggested that the Bureau issue the stand-by instructions to the respective Offices and in the event it became necessary to set such a plan in operation, then the highest surviving official could designate the certifying officer and at the time of designating this officer, it would be necessary to fill out the designation form in duplicate, along with three signature cards of the individual so named. A bond would also be necessary. However, Cannon advised that instructions had been issued to the regional disbursing offices to accept such bonds on the spot, disburse the necessary funds immediately, and the regional disbursing officer would not have to wait for the approval of such bond before making the disbursement. This procedure, according to Cannon, would apply whether it was for the purpose of meeting payrolls or other necessary disbursements.

According to Cannon, the Treasury Department was also prepared with mobile units to travel throughout their respective regional disbursing office divisions. In the event the regional disbursing office was destroyed, then the mobile units would be used until such time as the disbursing office became operational again. Cannon stated that at the present time instructions to the respective Government agencies relative to this matter are being revised and as soon as a revised copy is available, he will forward same to the Bureau.

Conference was advised that there is no indication in Bureau records that the Treasury Department has any provision for payment of Bureau salaries or payment for necessary equipment, services and supplies in the event normal procedures now employed cannot be followed.

It was suggested to the Conference that Administrative Division ascertain from the appropriate Treasury officials -

(1) What, if any, plans Treasury has for meeting the payrolls and other necessary disbursements for equipment, services and supplies incurred by government agencies during periods of emergency?

(2) If Treasury plans payments on an regional basis, what steps must the Bureau take to insure that our various Field Offices can certify Bureau vouchers to the Treasury for payment? Similarly, what steps must be taken to certify to the Treasury for payment of vouchers for equipment, services and supplies needed by the various field installations?

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: EDM:cs

Present at the Executives Conference 8/16/54 were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, McGuire and Mason. The Conference unanimously recommended that the Liaison Section make appropriate contact with the Treasury Department to ascertain plans for meeting payrolls during any emergency or evacuation period.

On the hypothetical basis suggested by the Training and Inspection Division that all radio, telephone, and teletype communication facilities were installed ready-to-go at a chosen relocation center, it is considered that the following key personnel should be evacuated to the relocation center during the first twenty-four hours of an emergency:

PERSONNELDUTIES

D. J. Parsons	Administrative, organization, and evaluation
I. W. Conrad
M. E. Keough	Secretary-Stenography
G. A. Berley	Sabotage, explosives, weapons, locks
M. E. Williams
T. D. Beach	Chemical warfare, Bacteriological warfare
C. F. Downing	Secret writing, cryptography, chemistry
F. M. Miller
R. L. Millen	Communications maintenance and continuity
J. M. Matter

It will be observed that the above personnel have been selected primarily to handle general administration, evaluation, security, and protection functions.

Under present planning six (6) employees of the Administrative Division are scheduled to proceed to the Relocation Site to assist in the re-establishment of key functions away from Washington, D. C. during the initial stages of a national emergency. As you know, these employees are considered adequate in number and experience to handle limited key functions of the Administrative Division at the site during such time that regular units of operation can continue to function in Washington, D. C.

In addition to this spearhead group additional employees of the Administrative Division will be available as a standby group to be assigned to the site in the event it becomes necessary to extend operations away from Washington, D. C.

In order that the Bureau war plans may be complete, information concerning manner of notifying evacuees and the transportation they will utilize in reaching the site is set forth as follows:

STANDBY EVACUEE GROUP:

In order to provide alternates for the spearhead group and further to have available evacuees to supplement the initial staff in handling increases in workloads that may occur at the site during an extended period of operation away from Washington, D. C., the arrangements set forth under "Evacuee List" in the Administrative Division War Plans as amended July 1, 1954, will continue to be operative. This plan as can be seen provides for notification and arrangements for transportation for evacuees through Special Agent group leaders from residences of certain Special Agents living in Virginia and Maryland as rallying points from which evacuees can proceed to the relocation site.

RE: WAR PLANS - RELOCATION SITE

Available Sept 15, 1954

On 9-9-54 Quantico was approved as the Bureau relocation site. Formal approval will be obtained from the Office of Defense Mobilization. (Prior oral approval has been received.) You should take immediate steps to re-evaluate the war plans of your division in light of the new relocation site and see to it that all problems connected therewith are resolved, and appropriate action taken. Thereafter necessary revised pages must be submitted for the war plans of your division.

RECORDED - 23

It is the responsibility of each person receiving a copy of this communication to review the war plans of his division and insure that they are complete and workable under emergency conditions.

Under the present emergency evacuation plans a total of 173 evacuees is considered sufficient for the first 24 to 48 hours. Employees are allocated for this initial emergency period as follows:

You will recall that on July 26, 1954, I advised you that we were considering using the FBI facilities on the U. S. Marine Corps base at Quantico as our emergency relocation site. We have completed our preliminary inquiries as to the possibility of obtaining appropriate communications facilities at Quantico and have determined that these can be obtained.

I am directing a communication to Dr. Arthur J. Fleming, Director, Office of Defense Mobilization, informing him of my decision to use our Quantico facilities as our emergency relocation site.

Pending receipt of formal approval of this decision from the Office of Defense Mobilization no actual installations of necessary communications equipment will be made at Quantico. As soon as such approval is obtained, however, we will proceed with haste to ready this installation as our emergency relocation site. You will be advised when this approval has been received.

RE: WAR PLANS - COMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES

In approving Quantico as the Bureau relocation site, I desire that the Records and Communications Division, on a continuing basis, maintain contact with appropriate telephone company officials with a view to the possibility of their providing increased telephone and teletype facilities at a more reasonable figure than presently quoted.

It is my desire that, where possible, steps be taken to provide communications equipment, both telephone and radio, at Quantico with which to carry on emergency operations before all similar equipment is dismantled at Shepherdstown. The Bureau must not find itself in the position of being unable to carry out its responsibilities to the country at either the Quantico or Shepherdstown relocation site at any one given time.

As you are aware, the Office of Defense Mobilization correlates all emergency relocation plans for the White House. A communication is being directed to the ODM advising them of our selection of Quantico and requesting their formal approval. (Previous oral approval has been obtained.) Until this formal approval is obtained, no funds should be expended to ready Quantico for emergency relocation; however, all other necessary plans should be perfected immediately.

The Director's memorandum of July 26, 1954, requested information as to records which should be duplicated and stored out of Washington for safekeeping in the event of bombing. Two categories were set forth which are separately discussed.

Under category (a) consideration has been given to records which would be needed for prosecution of the war and should be immediately available at the relocation headquarters. In this category the Laboratory has already duplicated the Security File which contains samples of handwriting, handprinting and typewriting of security subjects in order to identify and connect sources of material recovered in security cases. Each 90 days reproductions are made of all <sup>new</sup> specimens and forwarded to the place of safekeeping. The Laboratory has no other material falling within this category.

The second category (b) concerns irreplaceable records not immediately needed at the relocation center, but which would be necessary for the resumption of normal operations. In this category the Laboratory has duplicated the Typewriting Standards File which because of the difficulty of replacing, has been stored with the security index and other records needed for the immediate prosecution of the war. These have been removed from that category and will be sent to Quantico as a place of safekeeping. No other records or material is recommended by the Laboratory for this category.

While the Laboratory has many other reference files which would be difficult or impossible to entirely replace, the difficulty in duplicating and storing these files makes such a procedure unfeasible. Such things as the reference collection of firearms, the automotive paint file, ammunition specimens, etc., if totally destroyed, would have to be started again with the resumption of normal operations.

Reference is made to the Director's memorandum to Assistant Attorney General S. A. Andretta, 8/17/54, requesting the Department to review a document entitled "Maintenance of Executive Direction" prepared by the Office of Defense Mobilization and submitted to the Department on or about 3/8/54.

On 8/23/54, Mr. E. E. Ford of the Department telephonically contacted J. E. McArdle and requested that he review the pertinent document in Mr. Ford's possession.

McArdle did review the document in question and ascertained that it contained no information which the Bureau did not already have. It was ascertained, however, that Mr. Ford was in possession of a document from the Office of Defense Mobilization dated 3/8/54 entitled, "Criteria Governing Determination of Essential Functions in Event of Attack of Government." This document reflects that since the use of nuclear weapons may result in damage to buildings within a radius of 10 miles, it must be assumed that Government personnel living or working in a principal target zone anywhere in the United States at the time of attack will be endangered. That final reliance for the continuity of Government operations must be placed on facilities and personnel located outside principal target zones in advance of hostilities. The document goes on to point out that in the event of nuclear attack, the District of Columbia would be a primary target. The enemy would expect to make the effort worthwhile, i.e. destroy the Seat of Government.

This document further points out that even though protective measures are taken, communications between major urban areas will be disrupted either by the attacks themselves or by flood of priority calls following attacks, therefore, regional offices should be able to operate on their own for from 48 to 72 hours.

By way of administrative criteria, the document points out that the threat of an attack is assumed to be permanent and, therefore, plans must embody permanent arrangements for insuring the continuity of Government and adds that any agency planning to insure continuity of Government must take into consideration:

- a. The United States as a battlefield.
- b. Demolition of Governmental ~~come~~ at Washington, D. C.
- c. Possibility of widespread and simultaneous attacks on major urban areas, which are also the centers of Central Federal field operations.
- d. Immediate termination of all activities not absolutely essential to bedrock continuity of Government for a period of time after the attack and for planning purposes, this period should be considered as one year.

Among the essential bedrock operations of this Government would be the protection of the internal security of the country including apprehension and custody of saboteurs and enemy aliens, protection of vital installations and personnel, and prosecution of persons endangering the country's security. It is further pointed out that all employees performing essential functions should be earmarked for special consideration, that agencies and individuals sharing in the Chief Executive's functions of direction coordination and control should be within commuting distance of Chief Executive.

Nearest airport commercial flights Hagerstown, 18 miles distant, 2 flights daily. Baltimore served by major airlines approx. 70 miles distant.

Quantico

Only rail line out is used by Southern, RF & P, Atlantic Coastline and Seaboard Railroads.

On U. S. 1, main north and south route.

None on post. Ample motels and hotels within 20 mile radius.

Naval hospital on post.

C.W. Network:

Consideration presently being given to moving stations located Clinton and Waldorf to Quantico. Laboratory has estimated total cost as $273,000 of which $180,000 is for clearing 300 acres of land to be made available by the Marine Corps and $44,000 is for buildings to house the equipment.

Micro-Wave Station:

Micro-wave station is presently installed and ready to operate at Shepherdstown. The only cost presently involved is a land rental of $700 per year. The Laboratory has estimated that the cost of moving this station from Shepherdstown to Quantico would be a minimum of $10,000 and a possible maximum of $20,000 depending upon the necessities at [redacted] There<sup>b7E</sup> would be no land cost or other stand-by costs involved at Quantico.

450 Watt C.W. Station:

A 450 watt C. W. station has already been installed at Shepherdstown for which there are no stand-by costs. It is estimated by the Laboratory that the cost of installing a similar station at Quantico would not exceed $600.

Railroad Facilities

Hotel Facilities

Hospital Facilities

Shepherdstown

Nearest main line facilities Martinsburg, 9 miles distant, main line of B & O.

On West Virginia Rt. 34 main U. S. 40, about 20 miles distant.

Hotel accommodations at Martinsburg, W.Va., 9 miles distant; motel situation not known

Veterans Administration Hospital at Martinsburg, 9 miles distant

Other Advantages:

There are certain other advantages inherent in locating at these two sites, which are listed as follows:

Quantico

1. On evacuation can be reached by water as well as by highways which may become impassable.

2. Now under our control so that any alterations such as partitions, telephones in rooms, intercommunication systems, supplemental lighting, etc. can be immediately provided for.

3. Stand-by space is available without cost for such items as records, desks, chairs, etc. which will be needed by the evacuation force.

Shepherdstown

1. In the event <sup>of</sup> the evacuation of Washington can be reached without using Potomac bridges.

2. Presents possibilities for expansion greater than those available at Quantico using existing buildings.

3. No known reason for enemy attack, whereas Quantico is internationally famous Marine post.

4. Shepherdstown is approximately 20 air miles farther from the Washington target area than Quantico. This may be important if bombs are made larger and more powerful as seems to be the case at this time.

5. Quantico has an estimated 32,000 square feet of useable space which is estimated to accommodate a maximum of 300 people per shift allowing no space for sleeping accommodations, ~~on this basis~~ for 205 people per shift ~~and~~ reserving the third floor for sleeping accommodations. Shepherdstown College has an estimated 100,000 square feet of useable floor space and therefore will be able to accommodate far more people than will the FBI Academy.

There is here attached a memorandum directed to the Honorable Herbert Brownell, Jr. from Arthur S. Flemming, Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), dated August 26, 1954, which was received in the Bureau by special messenger September 9, 1954, from ODM.

This document reflects that ODM is planning to conduct a second test of the "emergency relocation plan" and the "interim assembly plan" on November 20, 1954. This test will be conducted from the relocation site of each participating agency.

You will recall that there was an emergency relocation plan test conducted on June 14 and 15, 1954, in which the Bureau participated only to the extent of having a liaison Agent present at the headquarters of Federal Civil Defense Administration.

It will be noted that attached document is directed to the Attorney General and that the attachment thereto makes no reference to the FBI as an agency which should take part in the emergency plan. The Justice Department, however, is included therein. The objective of the test is to determine operational readiness of agencies to carry on war time functions from their respective relocation sites. It is contemplated that each agency will participate to the maximum extent feasible, in some instances including 50 per cent of the personnel scheduled for relocation. It is pointed out that it is not a Civil Defense exercise. There will be no yellow warning in connection therewith. However, each agency will simulate a yellow warning to test its internal warning system at a time just prior to the departure of its personnel for the relocation site. Travel to a relocation site should be by the most direct route. It is further pointed out that if employees leave from their residences the agency will have an opportunity to test the relocation plans that have been devised for off-duty hours.

The information in the attached document reflects that it is contemplated that each agency will be given a problem assignment within the general scope of their essential wartime functions and activities. A bombing attack against the United States "will be developed and an assessment of the attack damage" will be furnished to each agency at their relocation sites.

With reference to the "interim assembly" which is to take place at [redacted] the communications center of the [redacted] the head <sup>b7E</sup> of the agency or his next senior representative is expected to participate at [redacted] and to take part in a program to be outlined by a later memorandum. The F.B.I. is not listed as an agency invited to participate in the "interim assembly" operation. Dept. of Justice is so listed. It is noted that this communication is a copy of a communication addressed to the Department. In this connection, Bennett Willis, War Plans Coordinator of the Department had advised that the Department is considering this matter, and will in the near future, direct a memorandum to the Bureau setting forth the Department's views concerning the extent of Bureau participation desired.

RECOMMENDATION:

On receipt of the Department's views, this entire matter will be analyzed and recommendations submitted as to how far the Bureau should participate in the program.

Shepherd College, Shephardstown, West Virginia, has heretofore been designated as the emergency relocation site of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It has been necessary for several reasons to select a different site, the most compelling of which is the fact that the College is not now under control of the FBI and it has been impracticable for us to so prepare this site that we would be able to function satisfactorily immediately upon occupancy.

It appears that with proper preparation, use of this site will permit immediate resumption of our activities should it become necessary to evacuate Washington, D. C.

On 9-9-54 the Director approved Quantico as the Bureau relocation site. Liaison has previously obtained oral approval of this site from the Office of Defense Mobilization.

As you are aware the Office of Defense Mobilization is the correlating agency for the White House for all war planning of sensitive agencies. It is believed that approval in writing should be obtained from the Office of Defense Mobilization. There is attached a letter to Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, indicating that the Director is desirous of his approving the FBI Academy at Quantico as our emergency relocation site.

To insure that Bureau war planning can go forward expeditiously, an early approval by ODM is believed necessary.

RECOMMENDATION

(1) That the attached letter to Dr. Fleming go forward via liaison.

To Fleming thru Joe Musick, ODM 9-16-54 WFW

(2) That the Liaison Agent delivering above letter to ODM endeavor to obtain an immediate favorable reply in writing. Actual installation of necessary communications equipment at Quantico is being held in abeyance pending receipt of approval by ODM of Quantico as the Bureau relocation site.

In connection with considering the feasibility of utilizing Quantico as an evacuation site rather than Shepherdstown, West Virginia, Colonel Bliss of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and Mr. [redacted] of the Long Lines Division of AT & T were requested to look into the availability of circuits and to obtain estimations of cost for providing the same type of phone and teletype service which we now have provided at Shepherdstown for Quantico, Virginia. Inasmuch as all circuits, voice and teletype, in the northern Virginia area are keyed through down town Washington Telephone Company facilities, Colonel Bliss was instructed in planning the engineering for communications services out of Quantico to completely avoid Washington.

Colonel Bliss and [redacted] reported back that they had two plans of service for Quantico, both of which were considerably more expensive than the Bureau now pays at Shepherdstown due to the fact that there are no land circuits now immediately available south of Quantico avoiding Washington and that it would be necessary to pay full time for certain portions of the engineered circuits which were a considerably longer haul than that required from Shepherdstown to Martinsburg or in the Baltimore, Maryland, area under the old setup at Shepherd College.

Plan one involves the use of microwave facilities completely. The microwave station of AT & T is located in Garden City, Virginia, which is in North Arlington between Clarendon and East Falls Church. It was described as being two air miles distance from the Pentagon and, therefore, on the fringe area of conventional bombing, but would have to be considered in the area of destruction for H-bomb purposes. It is also known that any lines brought into the microwave station at Garden City would be carried in overhead and therefore would be subjected to disruption due to falling trees, fire hazards, possible high winds etc. While I am attaching the details of the service for each circuit, it is noted that the total cost under plan one for Quantico would be approximately $10,466.40 a year on a standby basis as against our present cost of $5,454.72 at Shepherdstown.

Memorandum for Mr. Tolson from L. B. Nichols

RECOMMENDATION:

It is the recommendation of this Division that we not utilize any communication facilities handled by microwave through Garden City in view of the hazard involved and the fact it, for H-bomb purposes, <sup>is</sup> on the Washington target.

The second plan proposed by the Telephone Company involves the use of land line circuits completely avoiding the Washington area. In view of the fact that existing facilities are so limited, the Telephone Company has advised it would be necessary for the Bureau to lease full-time now circuits between Quantico, Atlanta and Chicago, which involves a very high cost. The standby cost for plan two for comparable service with that now existing at Shepherdstown would be $49,334.40 a year as against our current cost of $5,454.72 at Shepherdstown. The details of the routing of these circuits under plan two are included in the attachment; however, since the costs are so far out of line under plan two, it is recommended that we not ~~move to Quantico and~~ ~~continue to~~ utilize land line communications as suggested by the Telephone Company under plan two.

In view of the unsatisfactory nature of plans one and two, the Telephone Company was requested to refigure engineered cost to the Bureau of supplying two voice circuits from Quantico to Richmond and two teletype circuits (60 words a minute only) from Quantico to Richmond.

The third plan suggested involves the following cost: <sup>(A)</sup> Two voice circuits from Quantico through Frederick<sup>sburg</sup> to Richmond terminating at the Telephone Company test room in Richmond would be $1,041.00 per year each or a total for two circuits on a standby basis of $2,082.00. When activated these two voice circuits would cost $6,882.00 per year. The line from Quantico to Fredericksburg would be connected from our Academy building to the Fredericksburg toll office and would be on a full-time basis. The leg from Fredericksburg to Richmond is an engineered circuit for which no charge is made, but which circuit the Telephone Company guarantees furnishing service on to the Bureau whenever the lines would be activated.

Memorandum for Mr. Tolson from L. B. Nichols

(B) Two teletype circuits from the National Academy building at Quantico to the test room of the Telephone Company at Richmond, both of which would have to be on a full-time basis now, would cost $116.75 a month or $1501.00 per year each, or a total cost of $3,002.00 a year for both circuits.

(C) A direct line voice circuit from the National Academy building at Quantico through Fredericksburg to Richmond, Virginia, (full time) engineered then through Lynchburg, Virginia, to Charleston, West Virginia, to Baltimore, Maryland, would connect with our present New York-Washington direct telephone line (GFP1025) and would provide voice communication direct to New York avoiding Washington. On a standby basis, this circuit would cost $216.00 per month or $2,592.00 a year.

(D) A direct telephone line from the Academy building at Quantico to the Seat of Government at Washington through the Chestnut exchanges in North Arlington would provide voice communication between Quantico and Washington in the event Washington had to be evacuated but the site of Washington and Seat of Government headquarters still operable by stay behind employees. This costs $1,272.72 a year. We now spend about $10.00 monthly for long distance calls to Quantico. Calls from Quantico to Bureau now are made over National Defense circuit at no cost, but in emergency this circuit would not be fully available to the Bureau.

(E) A direct teletype line from the Academy building at Quantico to the Bureau at Washington to likewise provide wire communication between Quantico and the Seat of Government in the event the evacuation headquarters was activated and the Seat of Government was still operable by stay behind personnel, would cost $164.95 per month or $1979.40 per year. The total cost per year under the third plan would be $10,928.12 and would provide a bare minimum of communications from Quantico to Richmond. We would have to rely on the experience, personnel and engineering ability of the Bell System when Quantico is activated to get our communication lines out of Richmond to wherever we want to go.

Colonel Bliss and [ ] of AT&T are of the opinion that under the third plan the Bureau would be bringing its lines from Quantico to Richmond which is out in the open and which is not a military target from which point it would be much easier for the Telephone Company to try to go in any direction desired than to be boxed in a corner as we would be in using the Washington toll office or even the Baltimore toll office such as we had under the Shepherdstown arrangement. We sacrifice, of course, a guarantee of immediate service when activated such as we did have under our Shepherdstown plan; however, in view of the cost factors in favor of adopting the third plan, it would be the recommendation of this Division that we use plan number three in preference to plans number one and two in the event Quantico is to be designated as the relocation center.

b7c

Memorandum for Mr. Tolson from L. B. Nichols

It is further recommended that the Training and Inspection Division utilize this basic information in considering the costs of communications and the problems involved with those being worked up by the Laboratory on radio and microwave matters as one of the bases for considering shifting our evacuation center from Shepherdstown to Quantico.

In connection with Executives Conference memo 9-9-54 captioned as above, the Director raised two questions and Mr. Tolson indicated that further inquiry regarding space allocation should be made.

Question No. 1 by the Director was raised regarding the statement that "The Laboratory is negotiating with the National Bureau of Standards working toward the acquisition of a radio site at Sterling, Virginia..." The Director asked:

"1. When is this going to be resolved?"

Under date of 7-19-54 Bureau addressed a formal request to Director of National Bureau of Standards requesting advice as to conditions and costs under which the site could be made available to FBI. This formal request has been followed up by the Laboratory on an informal telephonic basis on several occasions, and we have been advised that the necessary information is being assembled in Boulder, Colorado. The Bureau of Standards' representative handling the matter is now in Boulder, and the Bureau has been advised he will return about 9-20-54. The Laboratory has advised that immediately upon receipt of the necessary factual data this matter will be resolved.

The second question raised by the Director related to the selection of Quantico as a relocation site. The Director asked:

"2. Just where has this project been reposing and why the delay?"

The determination of whether Quantico might be suitable as a relocation site depended upon whether adequate communications facilities could be made available at a reasonable cost. Quantico was first proposed as a possible relocation site on July 19, 1954. The telephone company was requested to conduct the necessary survey on July 22, 1954. The first response was received by the Bureau on August 3, 1954. This indicated a job of considerable magnitude. The second progress report was received from the telephone company on August 23, 1954, only after vigorous follow-up by the Bureau, the telephone company indicating they were encountering numerous technical difficulties due to the fact that part of the area involved is covered by independent telephone companies. This second report contained two proposals, neither of which was satisfactory. The Bureau requested an additional survey and on Friday, 8-27-54, the telephone company submitted plan 3 to the Records and Communications Division, where analysis and study were necessary. This study required two days (8-30 and 8-31) and on September 1, 1954, the data was forwarded to the Training and Inspection Division, which has responsibility for over-all coordinating of war plans. Thereafter, a comprehensive memorandum covering the space situation, the entire communications picture, and other features of the two proposed sites was prepared for presentation to the Executives Conference. A total of four working days after receipt of plan 3 from the Records and Communications Division was used in obtaining and correlating the necessary data for presentation to the Executives Conference. All available data was presented on September 8 as is set forth in the Executives Conference memorandum of reference.

With regard to Mr. Tolson's instructions, the allocation of office space has been inquired into and it may be stated that, in general, space was allocated Bureau supervisors and the clerical staff on the basis of 40 square feet per person. This compares with a general standard of 80 square feet per person which has been used by the General Services Administration for allocation of office space.

Space tentatively allocated for the Director and Bureau officials and for the Attorney General and his staff exceeds the average as set forth above.

A separate memorandum will be submitted reflecting the tentative allocation of space for offices of Bureau officials, the Attorney General and his staff, and Bureau supervisors and clerical personnel.

ACTION:

The Training and Inspection Division is expediting necessary steps to put in effect the Director's decision to use Quantico as evacuation headquarters, including such steps as written notification to the Office of Defense Mobilization and the Attorney General, and to all Divisions at the Seat of Government to make necessary changes in their War Plans.

On September 13, 1954, the Conference consisting of Messrs. Boardman, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Rosen, McGuire, Mohr, Holloman, Harbo and Belmont, considered the following items which had been suggested by divisions at the Seat of Government for duplication and sending to Quantico for retention, these records not being classed as needed during a war emergency period but which were considered necessary for resumption of normal Bureau operations after a war period. The Conference voted unanimously unfavorably as to all of the following items:

1. Conference was advised that it is estimated it would cost $242 to microfilm the 22,000 cards on which are recorded the serial numbers of firearms, badges and Agents' credentials. This film to be effective would have to be micro-filmed at least every two years. Storage space - eleven reels of microfilm.

2. A copy of the semiannual audit report of the Confidential Fund which could be used to reconstruct the current status of the fund if the ledger account book maintained in the Voucher Unit was destroyed. Conference was advised that if this audit were retained at Quantico, it would be necessary to go back only six months at any time to bring the fund up to date.

3. To microfilm, at a cost of $165 annually, the permanent time and attendance cards. Conference was advised that this record is not duplicated or obtainable in any other place. It consists of approximately 15,000 cards.

4. Microfilm the 15,000 current pay cards in the Personnel Action Unit, Administrative Division, at a cost of approximately $165. Cards in question bear the employee's name, EOD, salary, pay changes, job title, etc. Conference was advised that the information available on these cards would not be available any place in the Bureau if the personnel files were destroyed. Conference was advised that the Director had O.K.'d the Conference recommendation of August 19, 1954, that no effort should be made to evacuate personnel files from Washington in an emergency period, unless ample time was available.

5. Microfilm, at the cost of approximately $165, an estimated 2000 classification job descriptions. Conference was advised the information contained therein is not duplicated anywhere else inside or outside the Bureau, and that if these records were to be kept current, it would be necessary to microfilm them at least once each year.

6. Conference was advised that the cost of duplicating the following budget materials would be nominal, but that it would be necessary to duplicate the following budget materials to insure the proper functioning of the Budget Unit in the event of the loss of its present files:

(a) Obligation Report (Voucher Register) for past year and current year.

(b) Audited Voucher Report on Reimbursements Received from Other Agencies for past and current year, including funds advanced by AEC and CSC for investigative work to be performed during year.

(c) Recap of obligations by months upon the basis of which SD-133 is furnished to Budget Bureau. Sheet would also show apportionment of funds.

(d) General Ledger report of month's transactions showing account totals as of end of month.

(e) Recap of weekly count of personnel by Divisions showing average employment.

(f) Cumulative tabulations of investigative matters received by classification.

(g) Cumulative payroll report.

(h) Recap of average rates of expenditure per employee for personal services and other objects (not prepared quarterly -- to be sent at least annually).

(i) Report showing analysis of obligations by kind of personnel actions for SOG Agents, SOG Clerks, Field Agents, Field Clerks, cumulative for the fiscal year through the month as of which the report is made.

(j) Copies of History Books containing appropriate phraseology, funds available, green sheets and testimony of Bureau officials before Congressional Committees for all past years. Book for new year to be sent annually.

7. A duplicate of the Special Mailing List now maintained in Crime Records Section consisting of approximately 300 names.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE RECOMMENDATION:

The Conference unanimously felt that we should not undertake to duplicate any of the above-mentioned records for storage at Quantico.

WAR PLANS - RELOCATION SITE

You will no doubt recall that on September 13, 1954, I advised you that we had completed our preliminary inquiries as to the possibility of obtaining appropriate communication facilities at Quantico and that we were awaiting receipt of formal approval of Quantico as the FBI relocation site from the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Formal approval has been received from the Office of Defense Mobilization and we will proceed as rapidly as possible to reach Quantico as the Bureau emergency relocation site.

If an evacuation is necessary in the immediate future we will plan to use Shepherd College, Shenherdstown, West Virginia, but as soon as essential communications facilities have been installed and adequate office equipment is available at Quantico, we will occupy that site in an emergency. I plan, however, to retain the college as an emergency site on a purely standby basis. The CW (code) radio, microwave, telephone and teletype equipment now at Shepherd College will be removed and reinstalled at Quantico.

For your convenience there are attached 10 maps showing alternate routes from Washington, D. C., to Quantico. You have previously been furnished maps showing alternate routes to Shenherdstown.

Bureau war plans have considered the necessity for moving certain IBM equipment to the relocation site for use of the Cryptanalysis Section. Inquiry by SAC Sloan indicates that there is ample IBM equipment of the required type under control of the Marine Corps at Quantico. Mr. Parsons has been consulted regarding the necessity for providing IBM equipment at the relocation site and has advised that since there is such a wide distribution of IBM equipment, he feels there is no necessity for specifically providing such equipment at any Bureau relocation site for the use of the Cryptanalysis Section.

RE: WAR PLANS - QUANTICO AS RELOCATION SITE

Auxiliary Space for S.O.G.

Reference is made to my memorandum, September 13, 1954, advising that until formal approval of Quantico had been received from the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) as the Bureau relocation site, no funds should be expended to ready Quantico for emergency occupation but that all other necessary plans should be perfected immediately.

This is to advise that the Office of Defense Mobilization has formally approved Quantico as the Bureau relocation site. It is, therefore, my desire that you expedite the installation of the necessary telephone and teletype communications facilities; that the 450 watt CW (code) radio station be installed at Quantico at the earliest possible date. This is to be followed by the expeditious installation of a 50 watt FM radio station at Quantico and the removal from Shepherdstown and the rebuilding at Quantico of the microwave station.

The preparation of essential wartime records for retention at Quantico should be completed and deposited at Quantico not later than September 30, 1954. All other aspects of war planning are to be given top priority and must be completed immediately.

If an evacuation is ordered in the immediate future, we would plan to use Shepherdstown as the relocation site. However, as soon as communications and office equipment are

On September 8 the Conference, composed of Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Holloman, McGuire, Belmont, Rosen and Harbo, considered the feasibility of changing our emergency headquarters from Shepherdstown to Quantico. The Conference was advised that at the FBI Academy at Quantico there were 32,000 square feet of useable space whereas at Shepherdstown there are approximately 100,000 square feet. At Quantico using only the third floor for sleeping quarters (remainder to be used for office space) 206 could be accommodated using double-deck beds, making 16 per room as compared with the present eight beds per room; at Shepherdstown sleeping quarters for approximately 400 are available. Dining facilities at Quantico are adequate for 175 persons, at Shepherdstown 150 persons. Office space at Quantico can be provided for 205; this is based on using the first and second floors as well as the gymnasium and gun cleaning room in the basement. At Shepherdstown office space exceeds 400.

Proposed office should be checked again. Dr

The cost of our present telephone and teletype facilities at Shepherdstown is $5,454 per year. This consists of a 2-position switchboard with two outgoing lines now connected to the Shepherdstown exchange and provides for eight additional lines when needed. The board can handle 60 internal calls. It is proposed to move this switchboard to Quantico. The cost per year for maintaining telephone and teletype facilities as set out hereinafter at Quantico would be $10,928. At Quantico there would be two outside lines providing service to Richmond. From Richmond we would have to rely on the telephone company to connect us with whatever part of the country we desired to communicate. With reference to the possibility of adding additional lines from Quantico to Richmond after an emergency has occurred, depends on the capacity of the telephone company at that time. Telephone officials have indicated they will do everything possible to meet our needs. To furnish stand-by telephone facilities at Quantico comparable to those we now have at Shepherdstown would cost $49,334 per year.

looks excessive

|| which the Conference felt was excessive.

In addition to the foregoing the $10,928 annual cost for communications facilities at Quantico would provide a direct line from Quantico to Richmond with stand-by connection to Baltimore which would enable connections with our east coast direct line without going through the Washington target area. It also provides a direct line between Quantico and Washington, D. C., which we can obtain the benefit of currently and also have it available for communications in the event it was found that Washington headquarters was operable after a move had been made to the evacuation headquarters.

With reference to teletype facilities at Quantico the plan provides for two full time lines to Richmond, Va. and we would depend upon the telephone company to make connections from there to any of the field offices with which we would desire to communicate. Also it provides one direct teletype line between Quantico and Washington, D. C. The present teletype facilities at Shepherdstown consist of three teletype circuits.

With reference to radio telegraph facilities, at Shepherdstown we presently have one 450 watt transmitter set up in operating condition which would provide a minimum of immediate radio facilities on the outbreak of an emergency. In addition a substantial amount of radio transmitting equipment is stored in the Shepherdstown area so that immediately after the evacuation headquarters is activated the radio personnel of the Laboratory could begin installation of this equipment in order to substantially increase the capacity of radio network. It is proposed that these phases of the plan would simply be transferred to Quantico with the 450 watt transmitter put in operating condition and the remaining equipment placed in storage on a stand-by basis. The Laboratory looked into the possibility of moving our present Clinton and Waldorf radio stations to Quantico. However, it was found that this would involve a total cost of $273,000 of which $180,000 would be for clearing 300 acres of land which representatives of the Marine Corps have informally indicated could be made available and $44,000 would be for the erection of two buildings to house the equipment. The Conference recommends that no further consideration be given to this proposal at this time. It is noted that the Laboratory is negotiating with the National Bureau of Standards working toward the acquisition of a radio site at Sterling, Va. which is considered to be one of the best sites in this area.

when is this going to be resolved? N.
At Shepherdstown we have erected a micro-wave station which is in operating condition to communicate with the emergency headquarters of other sensitive agencies. At Shepherdstown our only recurring cost at present is a land rental of $700 per year. It will cost from $10,000 to $20,000 to transfer this micro-wave station to Quantico depending upon problems involved in connecting with [redacted] There would be no other costs connected with this move. b7E

Possible advantages of the Shepherdstown location, other than those previously mentioned herein are:

1. In the event of evacuation, Shepherdstown can be reached without using Potomac River bridges.
2. Greater possibilities for expansion of the work force and activities than those available at Quantico using existing buildings.
3. No known reason for enemy attack whereas Quantico is an internationally famous Marine post.
4. Shepherdstown is approximately 20 air miles farther from the Washington target area than Quantico. This could conceivably be of importance if bombs are made larger and more powerful than those presently available.

On the other hand advantages of using the Quantico site other than those previously mentioned are:

1. Upon evacuation, Quantico can be reached by water as well as by highways which may become impassable.
2. The big advantage of using a building presently under our full control is that any installation of equipment, storage of supplies, storage of vital confidential records essential for carrying on the war functions of the Bureau can be made now whereas this could not be done at Shepherdstown.

The Conference unanimously recommends that the Bureau's emergency relocation center be transferred from Shepherdstown to Quantico, feeling that the advantages of using Quantico far outweigh any possible disadvantages. Mr. Belmont, while agreeing with the majority recommendation, desired to point out that he felt the telephone and teletype facilities to be provided at Quantico under the proposed plan would be inadequate in time of emergency. He feels that, on a continuing basis, the Records and Communications Division should maintain contact with the telephone company officials with a view to the possibility of providing increased telephone facilities at a more reasonable figure than presently quoted.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

Reference is made to the Executives Conference memorandum dated September 14, 1954, concerning the preparation of duplicate records and their retention in Quantico for use in event of emergency.

Item 14 in referenced memorandum was concerned with duplicate assignment cards maintained by the Chief of the Internal Security Section on cases handled by supervisors in the Section. A 3x5 Photostat has been made of each assignment card and these Photostats are arranged alphabetically according to title of case and the supervisor to whom assigned.

These Photostats are in Room 1243 and when an appropriate cabinet is transmitted to Room 1243, the Photostats will be placed therein properly labeled for transmittal to Quantico. li

These assignment slips are brought up to date monthly in the Internal Security Section and in the same manner ~~photostats~~ will be prepared of each new assignment slip for transmission to Quantico in order that the indices of Quantico will be kept current. At the same time, a list of those slips which should be destroyed will be made available to Quantico.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be routed to Training and Inspection Division in order that these Photostats of assignment cards may be placed in a labeled cabinet for transmittal to Quantico.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - VITAL RECORDS TO QUANTICO

Reference is made to the Executives Conference memorandum dated September 14, 1954, concerning the preparation of duplicate records and their retention in Quantico for use in event of emergency.

Item 5 in referenced memorandum dealt with Security Informant Index cards. This is to advise that a Photostat has been made of each alphabetical 3x5 active Security Informant Index card maintained by the Security Informant Desk. These Photostats are in alphabetical order by Field Division and are ready to be placed in a labelled cabinet, which should be delivered to Room 1243. When the cabinet is received the Photostats will be placed therein for transmittal to Quantico.

In order that this duplicate record may be maintained on a current basis, each week there will be transmitted to Quantico additional Photostats of new records as they are made on security informants by the Security Informant Desk. At the same time each week a list will be furnished to Quantico of those cards which should be destroyed due to the discontinuance of the particular informant.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that this memorandum be routed to the Training and Inspection Division in order that the Photostats of the Security Informant Index cards may be placed in a labelled cabinet for transmittal to Quantico.

As you have been previously advised, the Bureau has considered all personnel files as essential records to be evacuated during a period of emergency. There are in existence over 84 tons of personnel files at the Seat of Government.

The above-mentioned personnel files are made up of three groups:

(a) 13.83 tons of personnel files and records of current Bureau employees.

(b) 27.62 tons of personnel files and records of former Bureau employees.

(c) 43.31 tons of applicant files.

The most recent information from Federal Civil Defense Administration reflects that within 18 months they hope to be able to give as much as 2 hours' notice of an impending attack on Washington. At the present time they anticipate being able to give an hour's notice but there is no assurance there will be as much as 15 minutes. Thus, it would appear most unlikely that it would be possible to assemble for evacuation the files in question. Further, Civil Defense has recently indicated that there will be no vehicular traffic moving in Washington after an alert has been sounded. Thus, there will be no opportunity to evacuate records by truck as has been planned in the past. Thus, there appears to be little or no possibility of evacuating personnel records after an alert has been sounded.

The following are the alternatives to the above situation:

1. Try to burn all active personnel files at the time an invasion or destruction of Washington appears imminent. This does not appear feasible because of the volume involved and would have to be done in the courtyard or on the street. This procedure would also deprive the Bureau of these records at some future date, should the invasion or expected devastation of Washington not materialize.

2. Leave the active personnel files in their present file cabinets, locking the cabinets where possible (and a majority of the cabinets do have locks), with the thought in mind that these files will be completely destroyed as a result of the bombing of the City of Washington prior to the actual invasion thereof.

3. Microfilm the personnel files themselves or the briefs which exist in a majority of the cases. This does not appear practical because of the cost involved and the ever changing status of each file which would necessitate frequent microfilming of the current volumes.

There does exist in each field office a field personnel file which is fairly complete on all employees assigned to that field division. This file could be of use and assistance in the rebuilding of the personnel file should it become necessary. In the event Washington is bombed and files in question totally destroyed, only the personnel files of those individuals who are assigned to Seat of Government and on various foreign assignments would be totally lost.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Bureau abandon any thought of trying to move any personnel records from Seat of Government in event the evacuation of Washington is ordered unless Bureau intelligence information reflects that there will be ample time to assemble, load and move from Washington the files in question. No files and records should be evacuated at the possible expense of loss of life to those employees who are engaged in the assembling and loading of files and records.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE ACTION EDM:fk

Present at the Executives Conference August 19, were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, Nichols, Holloman and Mason. Conference unanimously felt that we should abandon any idea of trying to evacuate personnel records unless the city has been bombed, the building made unusable, but certain of the personnel files were unharmed and conditions are then such that these files could then be evacuated.

SUBJECT: AVAILABILITY OF COPIES OF SUMMARY REPORTS IN SECURITY INDEX CASES AT BUREAU RELOCATION SITE.

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary 3, 1 E For S.O.S.

The Executives Conference on 9-13-54 considered a proposal of the War Plans Coordinator of the Training and Inspection Division that one copy of every summary report on each Security Index subject be withdrawn from the Seat of Government ~~of~~ field files and that when further reports on similar cases are prepared, an extra copy be made, that all such copies be sent to the Bureau relocation site at Quantico where an open top folder will be prepared for each Security Index subject, the reports to be placed therein; folders to be alphabetically arranged; the files to be retained in the attic at Quantico. Conference was advised that if an estimated 30,000 summary reports were placed in such folders, it would take approximately 40 five-drawer, letter-size cabinets at this time and that it is estimated that it would expand at the rate of 14 five-drawer letter-size cabinets per year; the cabinets presently cost $53.50 each. Initial cost $2140. Conference was advised that SAC Sloan, after consulting with design engineer, H. L. Jones, USMC, Quantico, stated that the attic at Quantico is capable of holding the estimated 40 cabinets and has ample space to allow for five years' expansion at 14 cabinets per year. The Conference was further advised that the Records Section has indicated that it would cost approximately $ .0638 per serial to pull those summary reports now on file at Seat of Government. Conference was further informed that it would probably take the services of one file clerk at Quantico to make the necessary additions and deletions to the summary reports at Quantico.

The Conference was further advised that the Office of Defense Mobilization, which organization coordinates the emergency planning for the White House, has instructed that emergency relocation should be planned for the duration of the war rather than a temporary 90-day period and that all agencies should keep active the program of selecting indispensable operating records for duplication in a repository outside of the Washington target area.

TWO

The Domestic Intelligence Division stated that copies of summary reports at Quantico would answer only a part of the problem because Security Index cases, while a large percentage of their pending cases, by no means constitute the whole problem and that to attempt to set up summary reports at Quantico would be a highly expensive procedure and would become a white elephant because of the expense and time needed to keep the files up to date. The Domestic Intelligence Division proposed:

(1) That in lieu of summary reports in Security Index cases a complete set of Security Index cards, including photographs and descriptions where available, be sent to Quantico; all current changes in the index to be sent to Quantico as they are received. It was pointed out that this would give control for the operation of the emergency detention program but would not give the information necessary on which to base a subsequent hearing for the subject before a hearing board. However, field copies of investigative reports where available could be utilized for this purpose. The New York Office has not been required to submit summary reports in a large percentage of its cases, therefore, the summary report program would not be covering many of the New York cases on the Security Index.

(2) The second step in the Domestic Intelligence proposal was to set up in Quantico a duplicate set of assignment cards on all cases in the Internal Security Section to include the Communist Party, Communist Party Fronts, Treason, Sabotage and Splinter Group cases. These assignment cards at Quantico to be brought up to date once a month. Thus there would be at Quantico a control as to pending cases and would enable the Division to follow the field to see that action is taken.

Domestic Intelligence Division pointed out there are a large number of pending security matter -- C cases, the investigation looking toward placing the subject on the Security Index. The Bureau does not have a record of all such cases at the Seat of Government. Domestic Intelligence Division proposes that in an emergency the field would be instructed to work on such pending cases promptly and to present the case to the United States Attorney for arrest where warranted, notifying the Bureau at that time. Domestic Intelligence Division points out that under these proposals no files would be taken to Quantico at this time but, that should conditions permit, they would transmit all pertinent security files to Quantico subsequent to the evacuation. It is estimated that there are approximately 40,000 orange banded files indicated for priority evacuation, weighing in excess of 19 tons. General Services Administration has advised all their automotive equipment will be moved to perimeter areas as soon as they receive an alert, to protect it for further use. Therefore, a realistic appraisal indicates a strong likelihood of being unable to move any amount of files and records at a time when evacuation is ordered. Training and Inspection Division took the position that sending of assignment cards on Security Index cases and Security Index cards to Quantico does not comply <sup>completely</sup> with the regulations of the Office of Defense Mobilization to duplicate indispensable operating records and place them outside the target area. That without at least copies of the summary reports at Quantico we would be unable to prepare briefs on subjects for presentation to hearing boards where the files of the individual field offices have also been destroyed. In this connection, only the Butte Office is considered a non-target area.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE RECOMMENDATION:

There was a divided view as to whether copies of summary reports in Security Index cases should be sent to Quantico for retention: The minority, Mr. Harbo (along with Messrs. Nichols and Mason who were not present) felt that we should send copies of summary reports in Security Index cases to Quantico in order to provide in the greatest possible degree for the smooth functioning of the Bureau during an emergency period and in order to comply with Office of Defense Mobilization requirements that essential records be made available outside of Washington.

OK
H
The majority, Messrs. Boardman, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Rosen, McGuire, Mohr, Belmont and Holloman, were opposed and felt that the sending of copies of summary reports in Security Index cases to Quantico would be in essence the creating of a "white elephant" and that the Bureau should not undertake such a project. The majority had in mind that the alternate proposal of the Domestic Intelligence Division that duplicate assignment cards relating to Internal Security Section work be retained at Quantico has been favorably recommended by the Executives Conference in a separate memorandum. These documents along with records in the field should provide adequate controls during the first part of any war emergency period which requires evacuation from Washington in the majority's opinion.

For the Conference

In my telephone conversation with SAC Sloan at Quantico this morning relative to the possibility of running into difficulty with the Marine Corps in the process of our making some essential installations at Quantico, Mr. Sloan stated that the site for the microwave tower on a 100 ft. bank just behind the FBI Academy had been tentatively cleared by the air station at Quantico. Mr. Sloan advised he has discussed the various communications problems with the Communications Officer and G-3 on the Marine Corps post but feels it would be highly desirable to have the tentative locations for any antenna installations clearly spotted on the reservation so that he might get an official O.K. from the Commandant in writing.

Rememo 9-10-54 from Mr. McArdle to Mr. Harbo recommending that the Laboratory advise Mr. Sloan specifically of any tentative locations for antenna installations for microwave, CW and FM radio installations at Quantico.

Approved immediate plans call for the placement at Quantico of the microwave station, a 60-watt remotely controlled FM station and a 450-watt field office type CW station. The microwave tower is to be placed on the highest part of the ridge behind the Academy building near the old Marine Corps pistol range. The FM antenna is to be placed on the water tank on the hill just behind the Post Exchange Building on the base. The CW station antenna will be placed on the roof of the FBI Academy Building. These locations have been informally discussed with Mr. Sloan at Quantico previously and no changes are contemplated.

Executives Conference memorandum of September 14, 1954, in Item 11 specified that a copy of the Department of Defense's Master Key Facilities List was to be removed to Quantico.

The Master Geographical Department of Defense's Key Facilities List is labeled by the Department of Defense "Security Information Top Secret." Copy Number 7 of this document has been placed in the designated file cabinet in Room 1649 and is ready for transportation to Quantico.

It should be noted that periodically the Department of Defense publishes changes to the Key Facilities List which consist of reprints of those pages affected by changes. It, of course, is necessary that these changes be inserted in the Key Facilities List and the cancelled pages destroyed. It should be further noted that from time to time the Department of Defense will reissue the Key Facilities List and will reprint the entire document. The present Key Facilities List is designated as KFL (H) the letter H designated as the eighth edition of the Key Facilities List. In the event of a complete reprint of the Key Facilities List the letter designation, of course, is changed and the cancelled Key Facilities List must be destroyed.

The Key Facilities List is delivered by the Department of Defense to Supervisor R. D. Simpson of the Internal Security Section in Room 1524 and appropriate receipts are given to the Department of Defense for this top secret document. In accordance with regulations of the Department of Defense the Bureau is required to submit inventories on the copies of the Key Facilities List in possession of the Bureau as of June 30 and December 31 of each year. An appropriate certificate is executed by Supervisor Simpson to the effect that he has personally checked and has seen the copy of this list in possession of the Bureau. At the time of the issuance of the new edition of the Key Facilities List, Supervisor Simpson is required to furnish a certificate to the Department of Defense certifying that he has personally destroyed the cancelled edition of the Key Facilities List. 66-17381-

Bureau

Auxiliary Space For S. O. G.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - VITAL RECORDS TO QUANTICO PLACES TO BE SEARCHED UNDER THE MASTER SEARCH WARRANT

Executives Conference memorandum dated September 14, 1954, indicated under Item Number 10 that the Executives Conference had unanimously approved the maintenance at Quantico, Virginia, of a list of places to be searched under the Master Search Warrant. The memorandum indicated that this list could be maintained as part of the Security Index and consist of individual 5 by 8 cards for each place to be searched.

Pursuant to the Executives Conference memorandum 275 five by eight cards have been prepared which identify each individual place to be searched under the Master Search Warrant as well as the contraband identified by code symbol letters which it is expected would be seized at the places searched. These individual cards have been filed behind individual index card guides bearing the field office in which the place to be searched is located. Also included in this file, behind the index guide card captioned Master Search Warrant, are 5 by 8 cards bearing the key to the contraband code symbols leads set forth on each of the individual cards.

Pursuant to the recommendation contained in the above-mentioned Executives Conference memorandum, these cards will be maintained as part of the Security Index.

By memorandum dated September 22, 1954, captioned "War Plan - Vital Records to Quantico, Security Index," you were advised of the procedures in operation to establish and maintain a duplicate set of Security Index Cards at Quantico. In that memorandum it was indicated that the duplicate cards, upon preparation by the Statistical Section will be transported to Room 1509, Justice Building, pending ultimate transportation to Quantico, Virginia.

The cards setting forth the identity and the location of places to be searched under the Master Search Warrant are being made a part of the duplicate Security Index file and will be maintained in Room 1509 pending their transportation to Quantico.

Maintenance at Quantico of List of Places to be Searched Under Master Search Warrant

The identity and location of places to be searched under the Master Search Warrant is the subject of constant change. Upon receipt of data from the field reflecting information which requires an addition, deletion or amendment to the list of places to be searched under the Master Search Warrant, appropriate amended cards for inclusion in the file to be maintained at Quantico will be prepared by the Internal Security Section and forwarded to Quantico. The clerical employee designated to handle the filing of the Security Index Cards at Quantico should likewise be thoroughly familiar with the manner in which the list of places to be searched should be maintained.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division to advise that a file consisting of 5 by 8 index cards setting forth the identity and location of places to be searched under the Master Search Warrant has been constituted by the Internal Security Section and will be maintained in Room 1509, Justice Building, pending its transportation to Quantico as a part of the Security Index.

The Executives Conference memorandum of September 14, 1954, which has been approved, in recommendation number 12, specified that the semiannual summary on the activities of the Communist Party, USA, is to be moved and maintained at the relocation site at Quantico.

This will advise that a copy of the summary captioned "Communist Party, USA - Summary - Activities, January 1 - June 30, 1954," has been assembled in cover 8½ by 11 and appropriately labeled. It has been placed in the designated file cabinet maintained in Room 1649 for removal to Quantico. Future summaries will be sent to Quantico as they are prepared on a semiannual basis.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be forwarded to the Training and Inspection Division to advise that the summary entitled "Communist Party, USA - Summary - Activities, January 1 - June 30, 1954," is ready for removal to Quantico as indicated above.

No number SAC letters relating to policy and instructions concerning the operation of the Emergency Detention Program.

Executives Conference memorandum dated September 14, 1954, authorized the maintenance at Quantico, Virginia of a file containing the policy and instructions, as set forth in no number SAC letter relating to the operation of the Emergency Detention Program (Item Number 16).

A file containing these data is currently maintained by the Internal Security Section at the Seat of Government. A duplicate of this file maintained by the Internal Security Section has been prepared and has been placed in a file cabinet in Room 1649 and will ultimately be transported to Quantico, Virginia. The duplicate file, which will be maintained at Quantico, Virginia, has been labeled "Emergency Detention Program (SAC letters and letters to all offices) duplicate maintained in Internal Security Section. This is not a Bureau file."

The duplicate file maintained at Quantico, Virginia, will be maintained in a current condition by the addition of new SAC letters and other letters containing general instructions relating to the Emergency Detention Program. These letters will be forwarded to Quantico, Virginia, by the Internal Security Section.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division to advise that the above mentioned file designated as Item Number 16 in Executive Conference memorandum dated September 14, 1954, has been prepared and will be maintained in Room 1649, Justice Building pending its transportation to Quantico, Virginia.

SUBJECT: WAR-PLANS-VITAL RECORDS TO QUANTICO

AUX, 11 AVY SPACE For S.O. J.

Executives Conference memorandum of September 14, in item 4, (a), specified that a concise summary of the Emergency Detention Program be prepared for removal and maintenance at the relocation site at Quantico.

Such a summary of the Program, including the steps to be taken at the SOG and in the Field, together with a resume of Departmental instructions, has been prepared and has been appropriately labeled in a bound folder and placed in a cabinet in Room 1649 to await removal to Quantico.

A copy of this summary is being retained in Room 1503 in order that it may be reviewed on a regular basis to insure that the copy maintained at Quantico is entirely accurate at all times. As changes occur in the Program, the Internal Security Section will prepare appropriate amended pages and forward them to Quantico for insertion in the copy retained in the relocation site.

It is desired to point out that the summary of the Emergency Detention Program necessarily incorporates data contained in the Attorney General's Portfolio which is top secret. For this reason it is imperative that this document be afforded the same security given to the Portfolio itself upon the removal of the latter to Quantico.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division to advise that the Summary of the Emergency Detention Program has been prepared and a copy has been placed in the designated file cabinet in Room 1649 for removal to Quantico.

DETAILS:

The Director has approved the recommendations set out in Executive Conference memorandum of September 14, 1954, that certain specified vital records be maintained for safe keeping at Quantico. Recommendation number 9 in the above memorandum called for the maintenance of a duplicate set of Security Index cards at Quantico. There were 25,800 Security Index subjects as of September 17, 1954, which can be filed in two 6-drawer cabinets designed for 5 x 8 cards.

This memorandum concerns the steps taken and the considerations involved in the establishment and maintenance of the duplicate set of Security Index cards.

Mechanical Reproduction of Cards

The Statistical Section has advised that a complete duplicate set of cards can be reproduced in approximately four days. We have been informed that the Statistical Section commenced running the complete duplicate set of Security Index cards early this morning and that they are expediting this matter to the extent possible. The Statistical Section expects to have ~~complete~~ the complete set of cards for all Security Index subjects by next Wednesday, September 29, 1954. The duplicate cards will thereupon be transported to Room 1509 in the Justice Building as explained more fully hereinafter.

Filing of the Duplicate Cards

The duplicate set of cards, upon receipt from the Statistical Section, will be filed in two 6-drawer filing cabinets in room 1509. The Administrative Division has ordered these cabinets and delivery is assured no later than Friday, September 24, 1954. The cards will be checked and filed in alphabetical sequence by personnel assigned to the Security Index desk. Further, since a four-day backlog in FDs 122 and 128 will have been produced while the Statistical Section reproduced the complete duplicate set, the amended cards will be appropriately filed as the backlog is reduced.

Thus, the duplicate set of Security Index cards will have been constituted, checked and filed in the two cabinets by Friday, October 1, 1954, ready to be transported to Quantico on that date.

Other Operations Prior to Removal of Duplicate Set to Quantico

Prior to removal of the duplicate set to Quantico the Security Index Unit will check the cards and to facilitate future filing, will insert appropriate guide cards, including appropriate alphabetical and Special Section breakdowns.

A review of our records reveals that changes in Security Index cards are received at about 500 per week in normal months, approximately 2,000 per month. Filing of the cards is not a mechanical process since extreme care must be taken to insure absolute accuracy in the Security Index content. For instance, some of the cards represent new additions to the Security Index while others are amended cards requiring the substitution for those on file. In still other instances involving removal of subjects from the Security Index, cards must be pulled and destroyed. Considering the purpose for which these cards are maintained, it is imperative that the handling of these cards be meticulous and accurate.

It would appear most desirable that the clerical employee designated to handle the filing of these cards upon their removal to Quantico be thoroughly indoctrinated with the procedures involved. We are recommending that such employee spend one day in the Security Index Unit of the Internal Security Section to become familiar with the above operations. This would also provide an opportunity for the employee to be briefed as to the maintenance and subsequent amendments required in connection with other items being removed to Quantico, including, e. g., the Emergency Detention Program Surveys from all the field offices, the list of places to be searched under the Master Search warrant, and Security Informant index cards.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division with the request that the employee designated to handle the filing of the duplicate set of Security Index cards at Quantico be assigned to spend one day at the Bureau prior to their removal, to become familiar with the operations in the Security Index Unit of the Internal Security section in line with the observations set forth previously herein.

The Bureau has recently determined that Quantico should be the repository of all vital Bureau records. Therefore, the SAC at Richmond should expedite the transfer of those vital records he now has to the SAC at Quantico. Full security of the records must be insured in making this transfer.

Bureau records reflect that there are deposited at Richmond the following records:

- (1) A copy of the Security Index list.
- (2) A copy of Bureau payroll.
- (3) Bureau personnel retirement record.
- (4) Photographs of FBI personnel fingerprint cards.
- (5) Photographic copies of handwriting specimens of individuals on key figure list.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Boardman dated 9-2-54 pointing out that any evacuation planning to be effective must be on a practical basis. We must be assured that the plans will work. Mr. Belmont further points out that current planning calls for the evacuation of a considerable number of Bureau personnel on an immediate basis and that the families of such individuals will be taken care of by other designated Bureau personnel remaining in Washington. Mr. Belmont points out that it is quite possible that a supervisor scheduled for evacuation with a wife and several children may consider it his first duty to take care of his family and place them in a position where they will not be subjected to danger and will be able to secure food and the necessities of life without assistance and after that will report to the relocation site.

Mr. Belmont points out that the net result of this will be that the Bureau will not have sufficient personnel to launch and carry out the Bureau's responsibilities and that the problem should be approached realistically by taking one of the following two steps:

(1) Advance plans must be made to assure evacuated personnel that their families will be taken care of immediately or

(2) The evacuated personnel should be able to take their families with them to the vicinity of the relocation center. Mr. Belmont feels this plan is preferable.

Evacuation planning at this time is based on the premise that it will be necessary for the evacuees to depart for the relocation site within 15 minutes to 20 minutes after receipt of orders to evacuate and that a vast majority of the personnel involved will be using personally owned automobiles.

RECORDED COPY FILED IN 66-2554-11

- The Executives Conference on December 17, 1951 and December 29, 1951 considered the problem of caring for the families of Bureau personnel at or near the relocation site. The Director at commenting on the Conference action of December 19, 1951 stated "I am against any arrangement for moving families to our emergency quarters."

The Conference on December 29, 1951, was asked to consider the possibility of procurement of temporary housing in the vicinity of the Bureau's alternate emergency headquarters for the families of Bureau employees designated to work at such headquarters. The Conference unanimously recommended that families of Bureau employees assigned to Bureau relocation site not be moved into the temporary housing at the temporary headquarters but that Special Agent Supervisors remaining behind be designated to keep contact with and take care of the needs of the families of Bureau employees who have been evacuated to the temporary headquarters. The Director okayed this recommendation which is now in operation.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that each employee now scheduled for evacuation be given the opportunity of finding temporary headquarters for his family in the vicinity of the Bureau's relocation site at Quantico unless, of course, the individual scheduled for evacuation has made previous plans for the welfare of his family at some other location which he deems more favorable.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: EDM:mew 9/30/54

The Executives Conference thoroughly considered this matter 9/29/54. Present were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Hennrich, Belmont, Rosen, Holloman, Nichols and Mason.

The Conference unanimously recommends:

1. That families of evacuees not be taken to the evacuation site.

(See Next Page)

2. That efforts not be made by the Bureau to quarter relatives of evacuees near the evacuation site.

3. That Seat of Government Division Heads recontact those employees scheduled for evacuation to make certain that employees have made personal plans which are satisfactory to them, bearing in mind that representatives of the armed forces necessarily have to go off to war and leave their families in various cities at home where they could possibly be bombed just as families of FBI evacuees might be bombed while the FBI employees are at the evacuation site. There was strong sentiment that the employees scheduled for evacuation have already made appropriate plans for an emergency but it was felt that an additional reminder would help.

If you approve there is attached an appropriate instruction to Seat of Government Division Heads.

Present at the Executives Conference 8/12/54 were Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Hennrich, Kemper, Winterrowd, Nichols and Mason. At the moment we are scheduled for evacuation to Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, W. Virginia, in the event the President orders that we evacuate Washington; we are considering the feasibility of transferring evacuation headquarters to the FBI Academy at Quantico, Virginia, but this decision must be held up until the Telephone Company has completed its engineering survey as to whether communication lines can be established to all points of the country without having to clear through the telephone exchange in Washington.

A key problem in connection with any evacuation is the availability of necessary records. At present there are 27,000 individual files (40,000 volumes) appropriately marked with an orange band scheduled for evacuation from Washington if such an evacuation becomes necessary. These files, in excess of 19 tons, are in daily use at the Seat of Government, and to move them out of the building tremendous problems will have to be solved in accumulating the files, carrying them to a truck, obtaining trucks and then arranging for the trucks to travel to the relocation site under what could well be hazardous conditions. Records Section has estimated it will take two hours during a normal workday to assemble the files on a loading platform; 12 hours at night or over a week end. The Air Force does not contemplate that it will be able to give as much as two hours advance notice of a bombing attack until sometime in 1957. Consequently, any plan to evacuate a mass of files from Washington during the interval between notice of an impending attack and an actual bombing is probably doomed to failure. If we wait until after the bombing before seeking to move files, there may be no files to move, or they may be so radioactive as to be useless. The General Services Administration has indicated that as soon as they have notice of an impending attack, they plan to move their trucks out of town immediately while empty in order to keep the trucks from being destroyed.

Mobilization which supervises for the White House war plans of key agencies) dated 3/26/54 instructs: (1) all emergency relocation be planned for the duration of the war rather than for a temporary 90-day period as was previously the rule; (2) Government owned facilities be used to the maximum extent possible; (3) all persons performing essential war functions be scheduled for relocation; (4) have adequate transportation available for moving all scheduled personnel to the relocation site; (5) keep active the program of selecting indispensable operating records for duplication in a repository outside of the target area.

With regard to #5 relating to having operating records available, the War Plans Coordinator of the Training & Inspection Division proposed to the Domestic Intelligence Division that:

One copy of every summary report on each Security Index subject be withdrawn from the Seat of Government or field file and that in the future when such reports are being prepared, an extra copy be made; all such copies be sent to the FBI Academy at Quantico where an open-top folder will be prepared for each Security Index subject and such reports can be placed within the folder; folders to be in alphabetical order; the files to be retained in the attic at Quantico which is quite safe and has a concrete floor; it is estimated about three hours clerical work per day would be necessary and the Quantico staff will endeavor to absorb this without additional personnel at this time; copies of these summary reports would then be available for use if Quantico becomes our emergency headquarters or for transportation to Shepherdstown if that remains our emergency headquarters; transportation from Quantico to Shepherdstown should pose little or no problem.

The Training & Inspection Division made this proposal because:

1. Any plan to evacuate Security Index cards would make available at Quantico only the barest of information, such as name and alias, citizenship, residence and business addresses, file number, list of organizations of which the subject has been a member or affiliate and an indication as to whether the subject had been trained in sabotage, etc. Training & Inspection Division feels this is very little information on which to base either a fugitive hunt or to endeavor to conduct hearings in the event Seat of Government files and those of a pertinent field office should both be destroyed. For example, destruction of files in Newark Office could be effected by one bomb and Newark-New York is the #1 target in the United States, according to the Military.

2. We would have to have information which could be used to hold Security Index subjects after apprehension and it is not sound to assume that a bombing of New York-Newark would result in martial law all over the entire United States, and consequently, Security Index subjects at Atlantic City, Trenton, and other places in New Jersey would be afforded the contemplated hearings and we would have to have evidence to hold these people.

3. Since we are already under orders from the Office of Defense Mobilization to duplicate essential operating records and it would be virtually impossible to duplicate all of our security files, the most economical and practical procedure appears to be to set aside copies of summary reports at Quantico for the most essential files, namely, the Security Index and perhaps certain espionage subjects.

The Domestic Intelligence Division, as a counter-suggestion, stated:

It would be desirable to have all security files at the relocation site, and it is our understanding that security files will be moved to the relocation site, if this is possible, subsequent to relocation. The basic problem is what files this Division will require to properly operate under emergency conditions at a relocation site. The answer is not the setting up of copies of summary reports in Quantico. This would answer only a part of our problem, because the summary reports on Security Index subjects by no means constitute our whole problem. The New York Office has not been required to submit such summary reports in a large percentage of its cases; therefore, we would not be covering many of the New York cases on the Security Index. We would not have summary reports on the thousands of cases now under investigation for consideration as to inclusion in the Security Index. Under the proposal, we would not be sending down reports in all of our espionage and related cases, front organizations, labor infiltration cases, treason, sedition, splinter groups, and other pending cases in the Internal Security Section. It can be argued that all of these cases constitute indispensable records and, therefore, should be transmitted to Quantico in advance. The transmittal of Security Index summary reports to Quantico would provide us with information to produce at hearings of those persons, to whom the reports apply, apprehended under the Emergency Detention Program and when the field office files have been destroyed. Normally, the field copy of the report would be utilized. The summary reports would give us some information of value in a fugitive investigation, but not the same degree of information that the complete file would give us, as the summary reports are written from the standpoint of available information and evidence rather than to locate a fugitive. If the City of Newark, for example, is struck by an atom bomb, and the City of Washington, D. C., is also struck, resulting in demolition of our files at both locations, it is logical to assume that there will be little need for summary reports on Security Index subjects located in Newark and immediate area, estimated at 600 out of the 800 subjects in the Newark territory. Under the extreme emergency conditions which would exist following an atomic bombing, up until the war was over, it is doubtful that the destruction of summary reports on a small group of persons apprehended would warrant saddling the Bureau now with a program of maintaining a large number of reports at Quantico on a continuing basis, involving an increasing amount of upkeep and expense. The Division does not agree that the setting up and maintenance of these files at Quantico would be inexpensive but, rather, feels that the procedure would be expensive both as to money and manpower on a continuing basis. To be effective, the reports maintained at Quantico should go beyond the initial summary reports on Security Index subjects, and additional reports to keep the files up to date would run well beyond 30,000 a year.

In summary, sending summary reports on Security Index subjects would give us only partial insurance, covering only those subjects on whom summary reports have been written; the reports would be needed for hearings only in the relatively small number of cases where field reports were destroyed by enemy action and the subjects were still alive and apprehended; the cost of setting up and maintaining even the partial files suggested will be very material and the insurance afforded does not warrant the move suggested.

The Domestic Intelligence Division as a counter suggestion contemplated:

1. Setting up in Quantico a complete set of Security Index cards, including photograph and description, where available; keep these up to date at all times; use them for control of the emergency detention program. Domestic Intelligence Division points out this will not provide information necessary for a hearing but that field copies of investigative reports can be used for hearing purposes, if available.

2. There are thousands of pending Security Matter - C cases, looking toward investigation and inclusion in the Security Index; no record exists at the Bureau on all such cases as new ones are received frequently by field but not immediately reported to Bureau. Domestic Intelligence Division feels that in an emergency, field would be instructed to work all pending Security Matter cases promptly and present to U. S. Attorney and simultaneously notify Bureau; this would throw responsibility on the field but would not give Bureau individual control of such cases; Domestic Intelligence Division feels this is a logical step under emergency conditions.

3. Set up a duplicate set of Domestic Intelligence Division assignment cards at Quantico on all other cases in the Internal Security Section, such as Communist Party, front groups, treason, sabotage, splinter groups, etc.; bring these cards up to date monthly; this would give a control as to cases which are pending and would enable Seat of Government to follow the field.

4. Follow same procedure as to pending cases in Espionage Section by sending duplicate assignment cards to Quantico monthly.

Domestic Intelligence Division proposes no files go to Quantico; should conditions permit immediately subsequent to evacuation, transmit all pertinent security files to Quantico; if conditions do not permit subsequent evacuation the Bureau will still have some controls from which to operate.

It is the position of the Training & Inspection Division That the sending of assignment cards on security type cases and security index cards to Quantico do not comply with the regulations of the Office of Defense Mobilization to duplicate indispensable operating records and put them in a repository outside the target area; that our failure to have at least essential working records available at Quantico would never be excused by the President and the American people in the event records of some field office and the Seat of Government are simultaneously destroyed, which is a distinct possibility; cost of maintaining the duplicate records at Quantico would be negligible, presumably less than $3,000 a year.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE RECOMMENDATION:

1. As to whether summary reports on Security Index and key espionage cases should be sent to Quantico, there was divided opinion. The majority, Messrs. Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Hennrich, Winterrowd, Kemper (and Mr. Boardman who was not present) believe that the Domestic Intelligence Division has taken the most practical approach by suggesting that copies of Security Index cards and the assignment cards relating to cases supervised in the Domestic Intelligence Division be sent to Quantico in lieu of copies of summary reports. The majority felt that the Bureau should not create a "white elephant" and over a period of years the Security Index files at Quantico would grow, there would be deletions and additions and that the Bureau could not afford the expense.

23-51 The minority, Messrs. Nichols and Mason, felt that the expense would be negligible and should not exceed $3,000 a year; that failure to send summary reports in Security cases to Quantico would be noncompliance with Office of Defense Mobilization instructions of 3/26/54 to the effect that indispensable operating records should be duplicated in a repository outside the target area; that while copies of these reports will not solve all our problems, they will go a long way in eliminating future headaches and will show the FBI tried to comply in the most practical way with common sense precautions and Office of Defense Mobilization regulations.

Based upon the Director's views, appropriate action will be taken.

There is attached a sample Security Index card on Sarah Molly Shuldiner. The only addition which would be made to this card prior to its retention at Quantico would be to add a description and a photograph.

Also attached is a summary report of 34 pages relating to this individual and it was felt that the Director could see how much more vast and helpful is the information contained in the summary report by comparison with the Security Index card.

BUREAU WAR PLANS - INSTALLATION OF FIFTY PAIR CABLE, MICROWAVE
SITE, SHEPHERDSTOWN, WEST VIRGINIA

Auxiliary space For S.O.G.

It is recalled the Bureau had a contract with the Virginia Telephone and Telegraph Company to install a fifty pair cable connecting the microwave station at Shepherdstown with the central office of the Central Telephone Company, subsidiary of Virginia Telephone and Telegraph Company, and that the materials were purchased but the installation not made during the latter part of the summer as summer school was then in session.

When Quantico was being considered as a relocation site, [redacted] of Virginia Telephone and Telegraph Company at Front Royal, Virginia, was telephonically advised by Mr. McGuire to hold the work in abeyance until a decision was ultimately made as to whether the microwave station would be continued at Shepherdstown. This was for the purpose of mitigating damages under the contract.

On September 14, 1954, [redacted] was again telephonically advised not to make the installation but to check with his company to see if they would be able to use the materials which had been purchased under the Bureau's contract and to advise what termination charges might result to the Bureau in the event the entire contract was cancelled.

Today, September 27, 1954, [redacted] recontacted Mr. McGuire advising that Virginia Telephone and Telegraph Company had definitely concluded that they could use all of the materials which had been purchased in furtherance of the Bureau's contract and that further there would be no termination charge made to the Bureau on this particular contract. [redacted] stated he would confirm these findings by letter and he has been advised that the Bureau wishes the contract terminated since we were no longer going to use the microwave installation at Shepherdstown.

While discussing this matter with [ ] he also expressed the view that if the Bureau ultimately decides in the next several months to terminate its installation at Shepherd College, there would probably be no termination charges up there for our switchboard equipment presently installed as the limitation under that contract called for a termination charge only if the installation was to be removed within a three year period. We have had our installation up there more than three years.

b6
b7c

[ ] expressed the view that if any other agency was interested in the situation at Shepherd College to take over as a relocation site, the Central Telephone Company of West Virginia and the Virginia Telephone and Telegraph Company would, of course, be saved a great deal of unnecessary labor.

This is mentioned here just in case the Justice Department might make inquiry regarding a possible relocation center as the Bureau may want to consider, if it has not already done so, suggesting the Justice Department take a look at Shepherd College as its own relocation site.

Executive Conference memorandum September 14, 1954, under Item Number 15, approved the maintenance at Quantico, Virginia, of a copy of the Emergency Detention Program Survey of each field office. (U)

Pursuant to the Executive Conference memorandum, fifty-two file folders have been prepared each containing the pertinent Emergency Detention Program Survey of one of the Bureau field offices. Each survey is maintained in a separate folder bearing the Bureau file number of the Emergency Detention Program and the sub file number assigned to the individual office. The folder likewise identifies the office to which the individual survey applies. In addition to this data the folder bears the caption, "Emergency Detention Program Survey."

Maintenance of Surveys at Quantico, Virginia (U)

Upon receipt of data from the field containing information which requires an addition, deletion or amendment to the Emergency Detention Program Survey of a particular office it will be forwarded (U) to Quantico by the Internal Security Section so that the copy of the survey maintained at Quantico may be brought up to date. The employee designated to handle the file of the Security Index cards at Quantico and the list of places to be searched under the Master Search Warrant should be thoroughly familiar with the manner in which the survey shall be maintained. (U)

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division to advise of compliance with the recommendation contained in Executive Conference memorandum September 14, 1954, under Item Number 15. These fifty-two file folders will be maintained in Room 1649, Justice Building, pending their transportation to Quantico. (U)

As you know, on 9-14-54, it was indicated that Quantico had been approved as a relocation center to replace Shepherdstown. Pursuant to this decision, an immediate survey of the storage requirements for housing the radio equipment presently stored at the Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration Center at Martinsburg, West Virginia, was made.

On 9-15-54, SA Baker of this section proceeded to Quantico for the purpose of determining if adequate storage facilities were available. It was determined that the classroom and the shop-office building near the old ranges, both of which have solid concrete slab floors, could be utilized for this purpose. The combined floor space of the two buildings closely approximates that presently being utilized at the VA center and the old shop and storage room have doors large enough to admit the large transmitter cases which are included in the material in storage. In the event these buildings are utilized for this purpose, it might be desirable to put bars on the windows for security reasons.

Reference is made to memorandum, Mr. Conrad to Mr. Parsons, September 20, 1954, pointing out that the shop-office building and the classroom building on the old ranges at Quantico, both of which have solid concrete floors could be utilized to store the radio equipment now at the Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration Center at Martinsburg, West Virginia. This equipment is designed to augment the radio installations now at Clinton and Waldorf.

Reference memorandum advises that if this radio equipment now at Martinsburg is to be stored in the shop-office building and classroom on the old ranges at Quantico, it would be advisable to put bars on the windows. Mr. Sloan has advised that it will be possible to have the Marine Corps place appropriate bars on the windows for a total cost of $148.10, ($51.78 - material, $96.32 - labor.)

Mr. Sloan further advised that he is reluctant to give up the present classroom for storage in as much as the building is in use as a classroom on a periodic basis. He advised, however, that since the equipment in question is heavy and the two buildings in question are the only ones immediately available with concrete floors, he could make the classroom building available and prepare at no additional outlay of money, a building of similar size on the old ranges now being used for miscellaneous storage, for classroom use.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that Mr. Sloan be authorized to place the necessary bars on the windows of the shop-office building and the classroom building on old ranges at a cost of approximately $148.10.

The attached memorandum suggests that one copy of each summary report in a current Security Index case be pulled from Bureau files and transmitted to Quantico for use in the event of an emergency.

The basic problem involved in this matter is what files this Division will require to properly operate under emergency conditions at a relocation site, such site currently being designated as Quantico. [I do not think that the answer to this problem is the setting up of copies of summary reports in Quantico. This would answer only a part of our problem because Security Index cases, while a large percentage of our pending cases, by no means constitute our whole problem.] In addition, the New York Office has not been required to submit such summary reports in a large percentage of its cases; therefore, we would not be covering many of the New York cases on the Security Index. Aside and apart from these objections, I feel that an attempt to set up summary reports in Quantico would be a highly expensive procedure and would become a white elephant because of the expense and time needed to keep the files up to date in Quantico.

As a counter suggestion, we contemplate the following:

(1) We will set up in Quantico a complete set of Security Index cards, including photograph and description where available. This will be kept up to date by sending all current changes to Quantico, as they are received. This will give us a control for the operation of the Emergency Detention Program. It will not give us the information necessary for a hearing. However, the field copies of the investigative reports can be utilized for this purpose.

(2) We have a considerable number of pending Security Matter - C cases looking toward investigating the subjects, and where warranted, placing them on the Security Index. The Bureau is cognizant of many such cases; however, we do not have a record of all such cases because the field is currently receiving new cases which are not reported to the Bureau immediately. Therefore, we propose that in an emergency the field would be instructed to work all pending Security Matter - C cases promptly and to present the case to the U.S. Attorney for arrest of the subject, where warranted, notifying the Bureau at that time. This would throw the responsibility on the field and would not give us individual control of such cases. It is a logical step under extreme emergency conditions.

(3) We will set up in Quantico a duplicate set of assignment cards on all other cases in the Internal Security Section, such as the Communist Party, Communist Party fronts, treason cases, sabotage cases, splinter groups, etc. We maintain assignment cards at the Seat of Government and can, therefore, once a month bring up to date in Quantico the assignment cards stored there. This would give us a control as to pending cases and would enable us to follow the field to see that action is taken.

(4) The same procedure as to pending cases in the Espionage Section will be followed, that is, a duplicate set of assignment cards will be sent to Quantico and kept up to date on a monthly basis.

Under the above proposal, we would take no files to Quantico at this time. Should conditions permit, immediately subsequent to evacuation, we should transmit all pertinent security files to Quantico. However, if conditions do not permit, we will at least have a control from which to work. The additional records necessary for operating our security programs in an emergency have been made the subject of a separate memorandum.

RECOMMENDATION:

If you agree with the above, we will put it into effect.

EXECUTIVES' CONFERENCE
CONSIDERATION:

On August 10, the Executives' Conference consisting of Messrs. Boardman, McGuire for Nichols, Rosen, Harbo, Tamm, Parsons, Mohr, Sizoo, Kemper and Belmont considered the above proposal and unanimously recommended its approval.

Office of Defense Mobilization has approved Quantico as the Bureau relocation site, thus making it possible for the Bureau to remove essential working records from the Washington target area and still have them under Bureau custody and control.

There are approximately 25,500 individuals on the security index. Current Bureau instructions require summary reports of each individual on the security index. Supplemental investigative reports are submitted on key figures, individuals employed in key facilities and top functionaries every six months and annual supplemental investigative reports are submitted on the "run of the mill" security index subject.

There have been prepared to date approximately 20,000 summary reports in security index cases. By removing one copy of each of these summary reports from Bureau files and by instructing the field to designate one copy of each summary report prepared in the future and each supplemental investigative report prepared thereafter for Quantico, it will be possible to have essential working records on security index subjects available if the Bureau finds it necessary to evacuate Washington. The Records Section has previously indicated that it will cost approximately $.0638 per serial to pull those summary reports now on file at Seat of Government.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that one copy of each summary report in a current security index case be pulled from Bureau files and transmitted to Quantico.

2. There is attached a proposed SAC Letter instructing the field to designate 6 copies of summary reports and supplemental investigative reports in security index cases for the Bureau. (One for Quantico).

No provision has been made for an inter-office communication system for Quantico other than the manually operated switchboard with its 60 extensions.

It is believed it might be desirable to provide an inter-office communications system between the offices to be occupied by Bureau and Departmental officials at Quantico.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

It is recommended that:

1. The Laboratory Division conduct a survey to determine the most desirable method of providing such a system.

2. That the Laboratory Division be authorized to obtain estimates of costs of the system they recommend and submit the results thereof for Executives Conference consideration.

WAR PLANS - VITAL RECORDS TO QUANTICO

Auxiliary space for 9-O.G.

You will recall that the Director has O.K.'d Executives Conference action of 9/13/54 recommending certain vital records be sent to Quantico and that by memorandum to all Assistant Directors 9/24/54 instructions were issued that all such vital records should be ready for delivery to Quantico no later than 9/30/54.

Assistant Director Tamm has advised that he will be unable to complete the microfilming of the fingerprint cards of each individual on the Security Index on whom a security flash notice has been placed prior to November 1, 1954. Mr. Tamm pointed out that the great volume of microfilming involved as well as the slowness of the process and the volume of current work have caused him to set the above completion date.

Mr. Tamm advised that he is fully aware of the Director's wishes in this matter and of the importance of getting all vital records to Quantico at an early date and that he will make every effort to complete the project prior to Nov. 1.

ACTION:

The Training & Inspection Division will continue to follow the Identification Division in this matter in an effort to arrive at a completion date prior to Nov. 1, 1954.

FROM : RTH T. Harbo

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - SECURITY OF VITAL RECORDS AT QUANTICOAuxiliary space For S.O.G.

This memorandum is being submitted in response to your question "Just what facilities do we have at Quantico for maintaining vital records? Safe or steel cabinets?"

The attached floor plan of the basement at Quantico reflects that within the gun vault there is a separate room which is windowless and with only one door <sup>AND IT</sup> can be locked. This room has concrete floor, ceiling and walls, is approximately 11 feet square. It is our plan to place coding materials and vital records in steel file cabinets with locks and place the cabinets in this room containing the most vital records.

Any records which cannot be placed in the room within the gun vault will be placed in steel cabinets with locks thereon in the attic. The attic is windowless and has a concrete floor with only two entrances, one of which will be sealed off. The other entrance has metal covered wooden doors on which there has been placed a steel hasp and padlock. It is our plan to place a steel gate behind these metal covered wooden doors and place a padlock on the steel gate as well. Mr. Sloan has advised that this steel gate can be installed for approximately $50.00. It is our belief that when the steel gate is placed on the attic that it will be a virtual vault and will afford adequate security to any records placed therein.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the plan outlined above for storage of vital records at Quantico in the room within the gun vault, with the overflow of such records in the attic, be authorized.

2. That SAC Sloan be authorized to procure and install the steel gate at the attic entrance, estimated cost $50.00.

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS - VITAL RECORDS TO QUANTICOAuxiliary space for S.O.G.

The Executives Conference of 9-13-54, consisting of Messrs. Boardman, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Rosen, McGuire, Mohr, Holloman and Harbo, considered the recommendations which had previously been made by each division at the Seat of Government relative to sending vital records to Quantico, which records would be needed for the immediate prosecution of the war. Their recommendation on the following items was unanimously favorable:

1. The transfer from the Richmond Office to Quantico of the following records, which heretofore have been at Richmond for safekeeping:

- a) Copy of Bureau payroll.
- b) The Bureau's personnel retirement record.
- c) Photographs of FBI personnel fingerprint cards.
- d) Photographic copies of handwriting specimens of individuals on key figure list.
- e) Photostat of suggested draft of agreement between the FBI and the Office of Censorship dated 12-15-50.
- f) Records relating to Special Agents Insurance Fund and Charles S. Ross Fund.
- g) The Atomic Energy security risk list.

2. The No. 3 copy of the Attorney General's portfolio, which is still in custody of the SAC, Little Rock, awaiting return to the Bureau in the custody of an experienced Agent per Bureau instructions in letter to SAC, Little Rock, 7-20-54. The Bureau will transmit to Quantico No. 3 copy of Attorney General's portfolio on receipt of same from Little Rock office.

~~X~~ A copy of the war plans of each division at SOG to include the "check list" of various things which must be done by the Domestic Intelligence Division in the event of hostilities.

4. A concise summary of:

~~X~~ Detention of Communists program (Detcom).

~~X~~ Program calling for detention of enemy diplomats (Prodip).

~~X~~ Duplicate assignment cards on cases and matters supervised in the Espionage and Internal Security Sections, Domestic Intelligence Division. There are to be revised and brought up to date on a monthly basis. It is estimated they can be stored in a 6-drawer cabinet with drawers 3"x 5"x 10".

~~X~~ A copy of the monthly listing of Soviet Bloc officials and their dependents in the United States. This list is submitted monthly by the New York and Washington Field offices and includes those persons regarding whom it is believed action would be taken to place them in protective custody for repatriation and exchange in the event of war. The volume is less than 100 pages.

~~X~~ A copy of the list of dangerous aliens attached to international organizations. This list, submitted monthly by the New York and Washington Field offices, could be referred to the Attorney General and Secretary of State for diplomatic or other action, since these aliens have legal immunities and are not amenable to custody as enemy officials. Consists of approximately 3 pages.

~~X~~ A copy of the summary of Soviet and satellite espionage activities in the U. S. This will be a narrative of Soviet and satellite espionage, together with detailed write-ups of individual subjects and will afford a basis for supervision of espionage matters in the absence of Bureau files. Estimated volume 1400 pages.

~~X~~ Security index cards. It was pointed out to the Conference that at the present time security index list now at Richmond which is to be moved to Quantico does not contain all the data which is on security index cards. By maintaining a duplicate set of security index cards at Quantico, the Bureau will have sufficient data necessary to supervise the arrests of the subjects even if files of any given field office and the Bureau are destroyed simultaneously. Although the ideal situation would be to have a copy of pertinent reports at Quantico for all security index subjects, the cost of maintaining such records would far exceed the cost of keeping the proposed duplicate set of security index cards. This set of security (over) index cards can be reproduced mechanically at minimum cost. It is estimated that the 25,771 security index cards as of 9-10-54 can be filed in two 6-drawer cabinets designed for 5 x 8 cards.

~~10.~~ The listing of places to be searched under the master search warrant. At the present time each field office maintains a list of places to be searched. The master list is maintained in the custody of the Attorney General with a copy in room 1503 of the Justice Building. Consists of 275 places. Each place could be listed on individual 5 x 8 cards and maintained as part of security index.

~~11.~~ Key facilities list, a bound document of letter-size paper approximately 3 inches thick. Sufficient copies are available to send one out of Washington target area without requiring duplication.

~~12.~~ Semiannual summary of the activities of the Communist Party, consisting of a file size folder 3/4 inch in thickness. This document will provide a running history of the Communist Party activities immediately available at the relocation site. It is expected to accumulate at the rate of approximately 4 inches per year.

~~13.~~ A micro-film of the fingerprint card of each individual on the security index on whom a security flash notice has been placed.

~~14.~~ Security informant index cards showing security informants by name and by symbol number. This consists of approximately 1200 individuals and will take approximately 50 inches of 3 x 5 card file space.

~~15.~~ Emergency detention program surveys of each field office setting forth the administrative plans each office has formulated to place the program into operation. At present two copies of each survey are maintained at the Bureau. One copy of each will be transmitted to Quantico and as changes are submitted in the form of amended pages, appropriate changes will be submitted to Quantico for insertion in the existing plans. Two letter-size file drawers will be required to store these surveys.

~~16.~~ No number SAC Letters relating to policy and instructions in connection with the operation of the emergency detention program since 1950. They will make a file approximately one inch thick and will be kept current as new letters are issued. Mr. Belmont pointed out that these SAC Letters, copies of the security index cards, and the Attorney General's portfolio will make the Domestic Intelligence Division completely operational as far as the Detcom program is concerned.

~~17.~~ A list of Bureau Agents on foreign assignment, consisting of 7 pages, setting forth the names of the individuals involved, their home addresses and telephone numbers, as well as the office to which they are assigned.

~~18.~~ An index reflecting the identity and brief information on all informants used by liaison Agents abroad.

The Conference was advised that the foregoing items will be kept current by replacements and amended pages. Instructions will be issued relative to the disposal of the old item as revisions are made. It is anticipated that approximately three man days per month will be required to make the necessary revisions and replacements and that the items can be contained in three 5-drawer letter-size filing cabinets, in two 6-drawer cabinets designed for 5 x 8 cards and in two 6-drawer cabinets designed for 8 x 5 cards.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE RECOMMENDATION

Present at the Conference 9-13-54 were Messrs. Boardman, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Rosen, McGuire, Mohr, Holloman and Harbo.

Conference unanimously favored storing all of the listed items at Quantico for safekeeping and emergency use during any war period which might require an evacuation from Washington.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - EVACUATIONAuxiliary

The Bureau is currently pinpointing its thinking as to evacuation of personnel who are to proceed to the Bureau's evacuation center in the event of an emergency.

The planning which is being effected must be on a practical basis; that is, if we are going to plan, we must assure ourselves the plans will work. Our current planning is that a considerable number of Bureau personnel will evacuate immediately to the relocation center in an emergency and that the families of such personnel will be taken care of by other designated Bureau personnel remaining in Washington, D. C. I do not consider this practical, bearing in mind that a Supervisor with a wife and several children will consider it his first duty to take care of his family and place them in a position where they will not be subjected to danger and will be able to secure food and the necessities of life without his assistance. It is useless to set up a system contemplating that five Supervisors and clerical personnel will ride in an automobile to the relocation center immediately, when it is very probable that Bureau personnel with families will first respond to their responsibilities to their families and then proceed to the relocation center. The net result will be that we will not have the personnel to launch and carry out the Bureau's responsibilities, which, of course, is the goal we have in mind.

It seems to me this problem should be approached realistically and that either advance plans must be made to assure evacuated personnel their families will be taken care of immediately or the evacuated personnel should be enabled to take their families with them to the vicinity of the relocation center. The later is far preferable, in my opinion, if it can be worked out.

I raise this question in the firm belief the present plan is not practical and will not achieve the results which we must have if we are going to carry out our tremendous responsibilities under emergency conditions.

FROM : R. T. Harbo *RTM*SUBJECT: Bureau WAR PLANS - EVACUATIONAuxiliary Space For S.O.G.

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation planning. The following items have not been completed:

1. Relocation Site:

On 9-9-54 the Director approved Quantico as the Bureau relocation site. A communication was directed to Mr. Arthur S. Flemming, director, Office of Defense Mobilization, 9-13-54 advising of the Bureau's change in relocation sites and requesting ODM approval of Quantico. All divisions at Seat of Government have been instructed to re-examine their war plans in light of Quantico being the new relocation site and to submit appropriate changes to Training and Inspection Division no later than 9-22-54.

2. Communications Facilities:Shepherdstown:

No change. Shepherdstown communications facilities will not be dismantled until adequate replacement facilities have been installed at Quantico except for the microwave, which must be transferred from its present site on the Potts estate at Shepherdstown to Quantico.

Quantico:

There is now stationed at Quantico a 450 watt (CW code) radio station maintained on a truck ready to operate. This truck is on loan from the White House communications center.

The conference in recommending Quantico as the relocation site was advised as follows:

Telephone - The plan calls for two telephone lines from Quantico to Fredericksburg and engineered from Fredericksburg to Richmond. One direct line from Quantico to the Bureau and a direct line from Quantico to Richmond engineered from Richmond to Baltimore circumventing Washington where at Baltimore it will connect to the present east coast line.

Teletype - The teletype communications plan for Quantico calls for two direct teletype circuits from Quantico to Richmond depending upon the telephone company to get us out of Richmond to the destination of our call, also included is one direct teletype line from Quantico to the Bureau.

Microwave - No microwave installation can be made at Quantico until the station at Shepherdstown is dismantled and reassembled at the Quantico site.

Telephone-teletype facilities at Quantico are under the supervision of the Records and Communications Division. All radio installations at Quantico are under the supervision of the Laboratory.

3. Office Space - Relocation Site:

A tentative assignment of working space at Quantico will be submitted 9-20-54, McArdle, Training and Inspection Division handling.

4. Chain of Command:

All members in the chain of command as recommended by Executive Conference and approved by the Director 8/12/54 have been notified of their responsibilities in connection therewith. Those SAC's previously designated as members of the field chain of command have been instructed to return all communications and documents previously made available to them relative to their being in the chain of command.

5. Supplies and equipment:

All supplies previously determined as necessary at relocation site now in storage at Quantico. Administrative Division will provide office equipment for relocation site upon determination as to necessary items by each division. These items will be placed in storage at Quantico.

Expenditure
9-19

6. Essential Working Records:

Present plans do not call for duplication of any Bureau files at evacuation headquarters. Executives Conference 9/13/54 recommended transferring from Richmond to Quantico those records now maintained at Richmond and to transfer to Quantico duplicate copies of 16 items recommended by Domestic Intelligence Division including duplicate copy of security index, assignment cards of cases presently pending in Espionage and Internal Security Sections, Domestic Intelligence Division, as well as an estimated 1400 page summary of espionage activities in the United States.

when this will be done?

7. Disposal of Files After Alert Warning:

General Services Administration 8-4-54 advised their automotive equipment, upon receipt of an alert, will be dispersed to perimeter areas to preserve it for further use. Therefore, only those files and records which are out of the target area prior to the alert and such files and records as individual evacuees may be able to carry will be available at a relocation site. National Security Agency has advised there is no known satisfactory way of destroying large volume of records. Liaison has determined Office of Defense Mobilization not contemplating issuing instructions as to when records should be destroyed or which records should be destroyed, pointing out that each agency is in a far better position to determine what records should be destroyed to keep them from an invading enemy than is the Office of Defense Mobilization. Laboratory continuing to follow developments in methods of destruction. To date no method more desirable than burning has been found.

8. Highways and Free Movement of Personnel:

Val Peterson, administrator, Federal Civil Defense Administration, today advised he is requesting all state Civil Defense organizations to grant full freedom of movement to Bureau personnel on all highways and all areas through use of Bureau credentials and identification cards. A communication has been directed to the Chief of the Transportation Department of the Army concerning need for free movement of FBI personnel in the event any part of the country is placed under martial law. Bureau was advised on 8-2-54 that staff coordination within the Army was necessary to implement a policy. No further response has been received to date. Liaison following.

9. Advice to Bureau Officials on Receipt of Alert:

Alerts received during nonworking hours will come from Command Post at the Pentagon over direct line to Bureau switchboard, thence to Mr. Belmont's office. Employee on duty will immediately contact Mr. Belmont or person acting for him and Mr. Boardman. Messrs. Boardman and Belmont will evaluate the information thereafter Mr. Boardman will advise the Director. Mr. Belmont will advise Mr. Tolson, Mr. Nichols and the Attorney General. Thereafter Messrs. Hennrich, Keay and Cleveland, Domestic Intelligence Division and night duty supervisor, Investigative Division having been notified by night duty supervisor in Mr. Belmont's office, will notify other Bureau officials and the first individuals in the Department Chain of Command.

10. Emergency Generators:

To provide electrical power to code room, to operate teletype machines, switchboard, CW(Code) radio and limited lighting for offices of the Director, Mr. Tolson, Mr. Nichols, Mr. Boardman and the Domestic Intelligence Division. General Services Administration requested to install by department on 8-5-54. Installation will begin between September 20 and 25 and it is estimated it will be completed by GSA electricians in 120 days. Newman of Administrative Division following.

11. First Aid Training:

Classes in First Aid Training will be resumed 9-20-54 per Executives Conference Consideration 7/17/54

12. A concise but complete document setting forth Bureau war plans including emergency detention program and program calling for the detention of diplomats of enemy nations will be prepared for use by Bureau chain of command when all details of bureau war planning have been ironed out.

Reference is made to my memorandum 9-15-54, entitled as above on which you noted that the matter of supplies and equipment to Quantico should be expedited.

Basic supplies such as paper, paper clips, abstracts, pencils, etc. have been at Quantico since 8-12-54. Estimates as submitted by each division for equipment such as chairs, tables, desks, typewriters, etc. necessary at Quantico have been received and compiled by Training and Inspection Division. The compilation has been made available to the Administration Division where it will be reviewed to determine what equipment now at Quantico and in storage in the GAO Building in Washington can be used at Quantico, thus a determination can be made as to what items of equipment will have to be procured and stored at Quantico for use in an emergency. This matter is being followed closely by the Training and Inspection Division, and will be expedited insofar as possible.

You also noted on referenced memorandum with reference to essential working records to Quantico "When will this be done?" There will be ready for transmittal to Quantico on Monday, September 27, a goodly quantity of these records according to Mr. Belmont, of the Domestic Intelligence Division, who has also advised that all items from the Domestic Intelligence Division will be ready for Quantico on October 1, 1954.

Mr. Tamm has advised that the microfilming of the fingerprint cards of those individuals on the Security Index on whom a Security Flash Notice has been placed will be completed 11-1-54.

ACTION:

The Training and Inspection Division will closely follow and expedite the matter of getting equipment to Quantico and insuring that essential working records are there available at the earliest possible date.

Pursuant to the suggestion of Special Agent J. E. McArdle, Supervisor of Emergency Planning, the lecture files of the Training Section have been reviewed. Duplicate copies of pertinent material necessary for retention in the event of an emergency has been segregated in one file cabinet #301. By way of preparedness, this cabinet should be moved to Quantico which I understand to be the relocation center for Training and Inspection Division.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the one cabinet containing duplicate copies of essential pertinent training material be moved to Quantico for use in an emergency period.

TO : Mr. Tolson ✓

DATE: 10-7-54

FROM : R. T. Harbo RH

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - EVACUATIONAuxiliary Space For [illegible]

In accordance with the Director's instructions to handle all evacuation planning immediately, set forth below is the status of unfinished items:

1. Communications

(a) Telephones and Teletypes. Mr. McGuire, Records and Communications Division, has advised he has been informed by the telephone company that it will take approximately four weeks to complete the necessary installation. A memorandum has been submitted today setting forth recommendations as to where the telephones should be installed in the Academy to be used by Mr. McGuire in completing the installation.

(b) Radio. SAC Sloan at Quantico has made a formal request of the Commandant, U. S. Marine Corps, for clearance for installation of the necessary antennas. Mr. Sloan anticipates an affirmative answer within 48 hours.

Mr. Conrad of the Laboratory has advised that it will take 7 to 10 days to install the 450 watt C.W. (code) radio after formal clearance for the erection of the antennas has been received; that it will take 5 days to install the F.M. (automobile) station and approximately 6 weeks to dismantle the microwave station at Shepherdstown and reinstall it at Quantico. Mr. Conrad advised that the Motorola Corporation, which is anticipated will make the move of the microwave station, is now preparing cost estimates on the matter.

2. Vital Records to Quantico

The SAC at Richmond has been instructed to forward all vital records in his possession to the SAC at Quantico for safekeeping. Mr. Sloan advised that these records have not as yet arrived. The SAC at Little Rock, who still has custody of the No. 3 copy of the Attorney General's portfolio, has again been instructed to be alert to the possibility of forwarding the portfolio to the Bureau with the next experienced Agent coming to Washington from the Little Rock office. The duplicate copies of the security index cards will be sent to Quantico 10-7-54 along with the summary of Soviet and satellite espionage activities in the United States. There will also be forwarded to Quantico 10-7-54 one copy of each of the war plans of the various divisions at the SOG. Mr. Tamm advises that the micro-filming of fingerprint cards of security index subjects on whom a security flash notice has been prepared will be completed about November 1, 1954. All other vital records as set forth in Executives Conference memorandum of 9-14-54 are at Quantico.

3. Office Space - Relocation Site

A revised memorandum showing tentative office assignments at Quantico is being submitted 10-7-54.

4. Equipment

A memorandum setting forth the recommended equipment for emergency use at Quantico is being submitted 10-7-54.

5. Emergency Generators

The most recent information from the Administrative Division reflects that General Services Administration, who had previously planned to install the generators with their own personnel, will now have this done by private contractor. No information available on estimated completion date.

6. First Aid Training

Classes in first aid training were resumed 9-24-54. It is anticipated that 7 classes of 21 hours each, with an estimated 30 in attendance, will be necessary.

7. Highways and Free Movement of Personnel

Federal Civil Defense Administration has requested all state Civil Defense organizations to grant full freedom of movement to Bureau personnel on all highways and in all areas where an employee identifies himself or herself by Bureau credentials or identification card. Civil Defense motor vehicle passes have been distributed to Seat of Government officials and are being distributed to each SAC. On 8-2-54 the Bureau was advised by the Chief of Transportation, Department of the Army, that staff coordination within the Army was necessary to implement a policy permitting free movement of Bureau personnel even though martial law is placed into operation. No additional information has been received to date. Liaison following.

8. Coding Materials

On 9-27-54 approval was granted to forward certain cryptographic materials to Quantico for safekeeping. Communications Section has estimated that these materials will be ready for transmittal to Quantico in approximately two weeks.

9. Payroll

Payrolls and other necessary disbursements during an emergency or an evacuation, according to the Treasury Department, will be handled on a regional basis and the "highest surviving officer" in any field division can designate the payroll or certifying officer. The certifying officer will have to be bonded. However, it will be possible to take care of this procedure "on the spot". The Treasury Department advises that these matters are now in the formative stages and specific instructions have not been issued to the regional offices. Liaison and Administrative Divisions following.

10. Boat

The Director has authorized Mr. Nichols to make appropriate contact with the Navy in an effort to procure, on a loan basis, a 40 or 45 foot aircraft rescue boat. Mr. Nichols handling.

11. First Aid Supplies at Quantico

Quantico has what appears to be sufficient first aid supplies to handle approximately 150 individuals during periods of emergency. Bureau Health Service (Administrative Division) is going over Quantico first aid supply inventory and will augment the supply where necessary.

- - - - -

When the above items have been completed, the Training and Inspection Division will complete preparation of a document to be used as a ready reference by the chain of command now at the Seat of Government and those members of the chain of command now in the field.

1. Executives' Conference memorandum dated 9-14-54 under item 9 approved the maintenance of duplicate Security Index cards.

Pursuant to the Executives' Conference memorandum the duplicate set of all Security Index cards has been prepared by the Statistical Section. The cards are presently maintained in two six-drawer steel cabinets maintained in Room 1509 and have been made ready for shipment to Quantico by the insertion of filing guides necessary to expedite filing at Quantico in keeping the Security Index up to date.

Maintenance of Security Index Cards At Quantico, Virginia

As soon as the duplicate set of cards are received at Quantico, Virginia, the Security Index Desk will begin sending information and additional Security Index cards to the SAC at Quantico in order that the cards can be kept up to date. Material which will be sent will consist of new cards being added, amended cards reflecting changes which will replace cards in the duplicate set and cancellations from the Security Index which will require the removal and destruction of such cards already in the duplicate set. Each operation necessary at Quantico, Virginia, will be handled by placing appropriate stamped instructions on the cards forwarded to the SAC there. Mr. Luther Blake who has been assigned by SAC Sloan at Quantico to handle the filing matters in connection with the Security Index has visited the Security Index Desk and has been instructed in procedures for handling the matter. A Security Index card for each change made in the Security Index will be forwarded to Quantico and it is the responsibility of the SAC at Quantico to see that all adjustments in the Security Index are taken care of on a daily basis in order that the duplicate Security Index can be maintained in a current status.

Likewise all cards reflecting an adjustment in the Security Index will be forwarded to the SAC at Quantico by registered mail on a daily basis from the Security Index Desk. Although the number of adjustments to the Security Index varies from week to week, it is estimated that the number of adjustments during an average week will run between 400 and 500.

2. Executives' Conference memorandum dated 9-14-54 under item 10 approved the maintenance at Quantico, Virginia, of the list of places to be searched under the Master Search Warrant.

Pursuant to the Executives' Conference memorandum an individual yellow colored 5x8 card has been prepared to describe each place listed for search under the Master Search Warrant. These have been prepared on yellow cards in order that they will not be confused with the 5x8 white Security Index cards. Each card contains the same information in regard to the premises to be searched as is in the possession of the Attorney General for attachment to the Master Search Warrant in the event of an emergency. The Master Search Warrant cards are maintained in one of the cabinets with the Security Index and are appropriately labeled.

Maintenance of Master Search Warrant Cards at Quantico, Virginia

Upon the receipt of data from the field containing information which requires an addition, deletion or amendment to the Master Search Warrant list of premises, appropriate memoranda are submitted to the Department in order that the list of premises to be searched under the Master Search Warrant is kept current. Each time an adjustment by an addition, deletion or amendment is necessary to keep the cards which will be maintained at Quantico in a current status a new 5x8 yellow card will be forwarded to the SAC at Quantico with appropriate instructions regarding the adjustment necessary. The instructions to the SAC at Quantico will be submitted in the form of a memorandum to Assistant Director A. H. Belmont recommending that it be routed to the SAC at Quantico. Upon receipt of the memorandum at Quantico the appropriate action will be taken, a notation indicating the action has been completed will be made on the memorandum and it will be returned to the Internal Security Section where it will be sent to the appropriate Bureau file recording the completion of the transaction.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division to advise of compliance with the recommendations contained in Executives' Conference memorandum dated September 14, 1954, under items 9 and 10. The file cabinets containing the duplicate Security Index cards will be maintained in Room 1509, Justice Building, pending their transportation to Quantico and will be maintained in a current status until such time as they are removed.

ADDENDUM: 10/7/54

The two file cabinets described above containing duplicate Security Index cards and places for search under the Master Search Warrant were removed from Room 1509 at 9:30 a.m., today, for transportation to Quantico. Special Agent I. M. Miller of the Washington Field Office accompanied the files on the trip to Quantico.

With reference to the Director's memorandum of October 1, 1954, as captioned above instructing that employees scheduled for evacuation understand all the ramifications involved in evacuation plans, I wish to advise that all of the employees scheduled for evacuation in the Division, along with alternates, have been advised of their designation and have been reminded that their plans be made now in order that they could be available in the event it was necessary to evacuate to a relocation site.

This item is checked with the employees involved periodically as our war plans are brought up-to-date, particularly as we are making adjustments in evacuation schedules and all employees understand exactly what may be required of them.

In the event it becomes impossible for the Statistical Section to continue to operate in its permanent location, it is contemplated we would not attempt to continue any of our operations during the emergency period except for payroll and security index. Since our function in the security index program is strictly the mechanical processing of the data, no attempt would be made to continue that function unless we were able to evacuate the necessary machinery. Our plans for continued operation of payroll are based on three emergency conditions. Only under the first condition would we continue to operate the security index. There would be considerable merit to the evacuation of this section to the Richmond Field Office since various machines such as typewriters and adding machines as well as paper supplies would already be available. In addition, the Treasury Department has a Regional Disbursing Office located in Richmond which would facilitate the preparation of payrolls.

CONDITION I

Sufficient warning would be given and sufficient facilities would be available to evacuate key personnel and key IBM equipment.

A. Employees to be evacuated under such circumstances are as follows: A. E. Leonard, Maurice F. Row, William M. Robinson, M. Ivon Soden, Erna M. Napersky, and Leland A. Lynn.

B. Equipment to be evacuated under such circumstances would be as follows: One 407 tabulator, one 082 sorter, one 024 punch, one 552 interpreter, one 519 reproducer, one 101 electronic statistical machine, one 604 electronic calculator, and one 089 collator. Approximately 200,000 tabulating cards and 20 file cabinets.

CONDITION II

Insufficient warning and/or insufficient facilities to evacuate mechanical equipment but key employees available and evacuation headquarters intact.

A. Employees to be evacuated under such circumstances are as follows: A. E. Leonard, Maurice F. Row, William M. Robinson, M. Ivon Soden, Erna M. Napersky, and Leland A. Lynn.

B. No machine equipment or supplies would be evacuated.

C. Immediate arrangements will be made to forward to the evacuation point a copy of each payroll, a copy of the current GAO regulation and a current salary table concerning the manual preparation of payroll, microfilm of employees retirement and earnings records. (once a year)

Under this condition we would revert immediately to a manual payroll procedure, all the necessary records and information being available at the evacuation point. It would be necessary, of course, to add additional employees either from the present staff or recruitment as soon as emergency conditions permit.

CONDITION III

Destruction of permanent and evacuation headquarters and other conditions that would make it impossible to prepare a centralized payroll.

Memorandum of Mr. Roach to Mr. Belmont sets out in detail Treasury Department's war plans for decentralized disbursement for payrolls and other items. Briefly, it provides that the highest surviving officer in any field division would be the person to designate the certifying officer who would certify as to the vouchers for payrolls and other disbursements. The Treasury Department has already made arrangements with its regional offices to honor such vouchers. In addition, Treasury Department will have mobile disbursing units available in the event a regional office is unable to function. A copy of the GAO current regulation for the manual preparation of payroll together with brief instructions will be forwarded to each field division and also a current salary table. It is contemplated that each field office will type a payroll listing showing name and net pay only using as their source current information in their files concerning the identity and salary of employees to be paid with reference to the salary tables for the amount of net pay to be received.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS - VITAL RECORDS NEEDED FOR RESUMPTION OF BUREAU OPERATIONS AFTER AN EMERGENCY

Auxiliary Space For E.O.G.

On September 13, 1954, the Conference consisting of Messrs. Boardman, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Rosen, McGuire, Mohr, Holloman, Belmont and Harbo, considered the following items which had been suggested by divisions at the Seat of Government for duplication and sending to Quantico for retention, these records not being classed as needed during a war emergency period but which were considered necessary for resumption of normal Bureau operations after a war period.

1. The Records and Communications Division suggested one copy of each Records Section manual be stored at Quantico for safekeeping. These manuals contain a great deal of technical detail concerning working operations in the Records Section which would be extremely valuable should it be necessary to start anew in the establishment of a central set of records at the Seat of Government.

Messrs. Mohr, Trotter, Parsons and Boardman were opposed. Messrs. Sizoo, Rosen, McGuire, Belmont, Holloman and Harbo favor this proposal.

I agree

2. The Records Section proposes that a duplicate set of index cards pertaining to present employees in the Records Section be retained at Quantico. This index would show the name, home address and telephone number and type of training of each Records Section employee. Records Section believes this would be extremely valuable in reconstructing the Bureau records after a war emergency.

Mr. McGuire recommended favorably as to this proposal. Messrs. Mohr, Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, Rosen, Holloman and Harbo were opposed.

3. The Laboratory suggested that a duplicate copy of the Typewriter Standards File be retained at Quantico. This material has already been duplicated and requires approximately one file drawer of space. It is the only means of establishing the make of a typewriter used to prepare an anonymous communication and this type of reference collection would obviously be highly valuable to the Bureau.

Messrs. Mohr and Rosen were opposed. Messrs. Trotter, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, Boardman, McGuire, Holloman and Harbo, ~~Tolson~~ favored this proposal.

SYNOPSIS:

The Executives Conference memorandum dated 9-17-54, approved storage of Records Section Manuals at Quantico. Manuals now packed ready for shipment and Mechanical Section advised.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That instant memorandum be referred to the Mechanical Section for their attention in connection with the shipment of this material to Quantico.

(2) That instant memorandum be referred to the Training and Inspection Division for their information in connection with the handling of War Plans.

Re: War Plans - Vital Records Needed For Resumption
Of Bureau Operations After An Emergency

10-12-54

DETAILS:

The Executives Conference memorandum dated 9-17-54, approved the suggestion by the Records and Communications Division that one copy of all Records Section Manuals be stored at Quantico for safekeeping. Instant memorandum is to advise that one set of all Manuals and Guides has been packed ready for shipment by the Mechanical Section. It is estimated that this material should occupy approximately one file drawer.

In view of the fact that it may be necessary at some future date to delete or insert pages in these manuals, one copy of instant memorandum is being designated for Special Agent in Charge H. L. Sloan at Quantico. The following is a list of the Manuals and Guides.

WAR PLANS - EVACUATION

Auxiliary SPACE For S.O.G.

Reference is made to Mr. Harbo's memorandum of August 17, 1954, in which it is requested that the Air Defense Command Post, U. S. Air Force, be contacted to ascertain whether we will be notified of an impending attack anywhere in the United States or Territories or just in the Washington area, and whether the Air Defense Command Post in advising of a yellow alert anticipates being able to estimate the amount of advance warning which can be given as well as whether progress reports will be received following the initial yellow alert.

This matter was discussed in detail by Philcox of Liaison with Colonels Russell and Mason of the Air Defense Command Post in Room BD927, the Pentagon, on August 25 and August 30, 1954. It was ascertained that a yellow alert will be flashed to the Bureau by the Air Force Command Post via our direct line in the event of an impending attack anywhere in the United States. The warning relayed to the Bureau by the Command Post will merely indicate a yellow alert and will not give details as to where enemy bombers were sighted or where the attack is imminent. It would be impossible for the Command Post to furnish to all agencies receiving the yellow alert details as to where and when the attack might occur. However, these details will be furnished by the Command Post to the White House, and the White House will be in a position to advise the appropriate Government agencies. The Air Force Command Post will furnish progress reports to the White House, and these details will likewise be furnished by the White House to key Government agencies.

In order to ascertain the current White House reporting as reflected above, Lt. Colonel George McNally, Chief of the Army Signal Detachment at the White House, was contacted by Liaison. Colonel McNally indicated that the White House would immediately furnish progress reports concerning a possible attack to the sensitive Government agencies, which includes the FBI. He indicated that as far as the White House goes, there would be no holdup on passing this vital information along to the Bureau.

66-17381-452

As to the estimated advance warning of an impending attack, this depends entirely upon the direction from which the attack comes. It is probable that, if the Soviets should attack the United States, they would attack from all directions and would bomb all key cities in the U. S. simultaneously. If this were true, it is possible that Russian bombers could be spotted from Thule Air Force Base at Greenland.

Memo to Belmont and then we would receive approximately six hours notice. If the enemy bombers were first spotted in an area such as the Northeast Air Command in Newfoundland, we would probably receive only approximately one hour advance notice before they could reach key cities such as Boston.

As to whether it is most likely that an attack would be made by the Soviets during daylight or during the night, the Air Force officers pointed out that it is most likely if they intended to bomb our heavily populated cities, they would undoubtedly choose a time such as 8 a.m. to attack a city such as New York City when the commuting population was en route to business offices and concentrated in one area. They also pointed out, however, that it is most logical that if the Soviets intend to attack the United States, they will first attack our key Strategic Air Command bases in localities such as Casablanca and Okinawa in order to reduce the mass retaliatory attack which is planned by the United States. In this case it would then be easier for the Soviets to follow up by attacking our heavily populated cities at the time when the population is concentrated in these cities.

In this connection the Bureau as a member of the Intelligence Advisory Committee (IAC) is a regular recipient of reports emanating from the IAC's Watch Committee. The Watch Committee has the responsibility of providing the earliest possible warning of hostile intentions by the USSR. As part of the Watch Committee's facilities a National Indications Center is being permanently located in the Pentagon which will be staffed around the clock in order to continuously scan intelligence for indications of hostile intention by the Soviets. In this connection the National Indications Center will have tie in lines to the warning network existing between the various commands throughout the world and the Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Colonel Russell suggested that the Bureau consider the advisability of establishing direct liaison with high-ranking officers in the Air Defense Command, Colorado Springs, Colorado, and the Strategic Air Command at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Nebraska. He pointed out that if there should be an enemy attack, the yellow alert would, of course, be flashed by the Air Force Command Post here but that the vital follow-up information as to the progress and success of the enemy attack would be most readily available at the Headquarters of these two major Air Force Commands. In view of the fact that the Bureau will receive progress reports from both the White House and the National Indications Center of the Watch Committee, it is not believed feasible nor necessary at this time to set up liaison between the Denver and Omaha Field Divisions of the FBI with Headquarters of the Air Defense Command and the Strategic Air Command.

ACTION:

It is requested this memorandum be furnished to the Training and Inspection Division.

SUBJECT: COMMUNICATION FACILITIES FOR EVACUATION SITE
QUANTICO, VIRGINIA

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space for S.B.C.

The Executives Conference memorandum dated 9/9/54 regarding proposed communication facilities for the evacuation site of the Bureau at Quantico, Virginia was approved on that date; however, Mr. Belmont and the Director, while approving, felt that the telephone and teletype facilities called for under the plan were inadequate for any emergency and suggested that the Bureau endeavor to obtain increased service at more favorable rates. The Training and Inspection Division advised that no commitment involving expenditure of funds was to be made at Quantico until ODM approved Quantico as an evacuation site. On 9/23/54, my office was advised that ODM had sent through liaison a letter to the Bureau approving Quantico as a site. Accordingly, on the morning of 9/24/54, Mr. McGuire took up with E. G. Bliss, assistant vice-president of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, the proposed plan for telephone and teletype service at Quantico informing Colonel Bliss that he was free officially to price out to the exact figure both non-recurring charges for the installation as well as recurring charges each month; that officially he was on notice that we would move to Quantico and that he should make immediate preparations for the installation of a switchboard and various direct lines as had already been discussed with him.

Colonel Bliss, when advised that it was felt the facilities would be inadequate for an emergency, stated that there could be no assurance of lines being available on short notice in that particular area and the only solution would be to take several additional lines from Quantico into Fredericksburg for telephone and teletype at this time. Rates, of course, are fixed by tariff and therefore it is impossible to expect any reduced costs. We have today received the attached official letter from Colonel Bliss in which he points out that there would be $251.00 non-recurring charges for the installation of telephone lines and teletype equipment at Quantico and that the recurring monthly charges would be $1606.50. It is noted that this pricing is based on ten voice circuits for long distance telephone calls and two teletype trunks for handling teletype traffic which is an increase of seven long distance telephone lines over and above the facilities which Mr. Belmont and the Director felt were inadequate. It is our recommendation that Colonel Bliss be advised of the Bureau's acceptance of the pricing for the equipment as enumerated in the attached letter. Colonel Bliss has informed my office informally that installation should be completed in three or four weeks time. The letter to Colonel Bliss is attached for the Director's signature.

Dear Mr. McGuire: Bureau War Plans Auxiliary space For S.O.B.

In response to the memorandum request which you left with me on September 24th and confirming information I gave you over the telephone on October 1st, the following statement gives the cost of the service which you desired:

	Non-Recurring Charge	Recurring Charge Per Month
1. 5 LD loops from Quantico to Fredericksburg	$ 30.00	$427.50	85.50 each
2. 5 P.B.X. trunks from Quantico to Fredericksburg	30.00	427.50	"
3. 1 P.B.X. trunk from Quantico to Triangle Central Office	4.00	8.25	Di
4. 2-Position non-multiple manual switchboard	-	60.00
5. 60 P.B.X. stations	120.00	90.00	150 each
6. 2 Foreign exchange TWX circuits from Quantico to Richmond with 19-type machine on each circuit	30.00	324.00	162 each
7. Avoidance routage circuit per your specifications:
Standby basis	-	58.00

9. Leased teletype line from Quantico to F.B.I. Headquarters, Washington	30.00	110.95

In connection with the above statement, it should be understood that the service requested under Items 3, 4 and 5 will be furnished by the Central Mutual Telephone Company in whose area Quantico is located. The charges quoted above have been furnished to us by that company.

In Item 6 you state that you assume the TWX circuits desired could not be furnished to Fredericksburg instead of Richmond. That assumption is correct. The Fredericksburg Central Office is not equipped to handle TWX service.

I believe this provides all the information you desire. If, however, there is anything which has not been covered or any further explanation you need, please let me know.

Dear General Yount:

Reference is made to your letter of October 8, 1954, regarding the movement of FBI personnel during periods of emergency.

I wish to take this means to thank you for the directive from the Adjutant General relative to priority for travel of security personnel during national emergencies, which appears sufficiently broad to assure our being able to perform our necessary security functions during such periods.

I note, however, that there is under consideration by your office the question of a detachable sign of distinctive design which would be used to designate a priority vehicle operating within an area during an emergency. I will very much appreciate being advised when this question has been resolved as well as receiving any information which would indicate the manner in which these detachable signs could be obtained.

Mr. McGuire of the Records and Communications Division has requested that the War Plans Co-ordinator recommend where phones should be installed at Quantico. Mr. McGuire has advised that the hand-operated switchboards at Quantico will have a capacity of 60 extensions

The following is the tentative installation of telephone extensions at Quantico

FIRST FLOOR

Director - SAC's Office	2 lines
Mr. Tolson - Classroom #1	2 "
Mr. Nichols - Classroom #1	2 "
Director's and Mr. Tolson's Staff - Classroom #1	2 "
Attorney General - Counselors Room	2 "
Classrooms #2, 3, 4 (2 phones each)	6 "
Recreation Room	2 "

SECOND FLOOR

2 phones in each of 14 bedrooms	28 lines
1 phone in baggage room at north end of building	1 "

BASEMENT

Gymnasium (Records Section)	2 lines
Gun cleaning room (Steno Pool)	1 "
Basement locker room (teletype machines)	2 "

THIRD FLOOR

The third floor is being reserved for sleeping accommodations in the initial stages of occupancy by the evacuees. There are 14 rooms. It is recommended that there be one line to run into eight of the rooms on this floor. By following the above recommendations, all 60 extension positions on the switchboards will be used.

My memorandum of October 14, 1954, noted that we have been maintaining at the Department's request a copy of the Department's Portfolio containing plans for the Emergency Detention Program in the Little Rock Office in the personal custody of the SAC.

The above memorandum of October 14, 1954, further pointed out that the Portfolio had remained at Little Rock even though the Bureau's Records Repository has now been changed from Richmond to Quantico since the Portfolio must travel by Agent courier and no Little Rock Agent has been scheduled for In Service in recent months.

The above memorandum of October 14, 1954, stated that Special Agent Thompson B. Webb had been scheduled to attend a Criminal Informant School and In Service Training beginning October 25, 1954, and that his personnel file had been reviewed by both the Investigative and Administrative Divisions and it had been found that Webb was qualified to receive the specialized training and that there were no data which would bar Webb from attendance at the specialized informant school.

It was accordingly recommended and approved that Special Agent Webb transport the Portfolio to Washington and appropriate instructions were given the SAC at Little Rock by our letter of October 14, 1954.

Attached is Little Rock letter of October 18, 1954, which advises that Special Agent Webb will be unable to attend the specialized school since his appearance will be required in court beginning October 25, 1954. Special Agent [redacted] has been named as an alternate by the SAC at Little Rock for the specialized training and In Service beginning October 25, 1954, and Bureau approval is requested for Special Agent [redacted]

I am attaching hereto a copy of a memorandum to all members of the staff at Quantico who may receive telephonic Air Defense Warnings from the United States Marine Corps Air Station, Quantico, Virginia, with instructions for relaying the Warnings to the Bureau.

For your information, I have issued the necessary instructions to Major McGuire, Post Communications Officer, to move the telephone now on the old range, to the Academy, change the number which will be unlisted in the directory and which will be used for incoming calls only. (Monthly rental will be only $1.65 for this type of service). This will insure prompt receipt of any notification by the Air Station of a yellow or red alert.

ACTION: For information only. You will be advised when the unlisted phone is installed at the Academy and the number thereof.

RE: AIR DEFENSE WARNINGS

I am attaching hereto USMC Air Station General Order Number 46 which you will study in order to be thoroughly familiar with this operation. You will note in particular paragraphs 7, 8, and 9, the warnings to be given to the FBI Academy. Arrangements are being made to have an additional telephone installed in the Academy, with an unlisted number, for incoming calls only in order that there will be no delay in our notification.

Upon receipt of any message pertaining to AIR DEFENSE WARNINGS, the recipient of the call will acknowledge with his initials and will immediately take the following steps:

- (1) Notify SAC Sloan or ASAC Bell if in the building.
- (2) Call the Bureau operator (direct line to be installed in the near future to FBI switchboard). If line not installed, call the Bureau long distance prepaid.
- (3) When the Bureau operator answers, ask for extension # 9. (Emergency phone in Mr. Belmont's Office). If busy call extension 2121 (same office).
- (4) Repeat message as received from USMC Air Station, giving your name and the fact the message was received at the Academy from the USMC Air Station.

- (6) If after office hours and, so late that none of the Division Officials will be in their offices, you will have the switchboard operator connect you with one of them at their homes.
- (7) After notifying the Bureau and Division Officials, if during office hours, and on a yellow or red alert, classes in session at the Academy will be moved to the Basement Corridor, classes in classrooms #1 and #2 by south stairway and classes in classrooms #3 and #4 by the north stairway. By the public address system the maintenance employees on the 2nd and 3rd floor will be instructed to close all doors on these floors and proceed to the basement.
- (8) If the alert is received after office hours, the Agent on Duty, after notifying the Bureau and Division Officials, will by the public address system instruct all personnel on the 3rd floor to turn off all bedroom lights, close bedroom doors and to proceed to the Basement Corridor by the North stairway and those on the second floor to do the same and proceed to the Basement Corridor by the South stairway.
- (9) The front door of the Academy will be locked and the SAC and experienced personnel will arm themselves with loaded revolvers.
- (10) During office hours, all Cleaves Food Service Corp. employees will be instructed to move to the Basement of the Kitchen area and the back door to the kitchen will be locked and all fires in the kitchen extinguished.
- (11) The Agent on Duty, after the above steps have been taken, will call the Air Station Executive Officer (Lt. Col. J. W. Mackin on 2180) and ascertain if they have any additional information relative to enemy aircraft movement and will relay any information to the Bureau in accordance with Step #3 and #4 above.
- (12) If the alert occurs during daylight hours, the employee on duty will notify the FBI Ranges (14-2103) of the alert and on a yellow or red, the instructor will immediately move the classes on the range to the tunnel between the 100 and 200 yard butts after the buildings have been secured.

SAC Sloan called from Quantico 10/18/54 and advised he was today in receipt of a letter dated 10/13/54 from General Thomas of the U. S. Marine Corps in which he authorized the installation of a radio tower by the Bureau on the Quantico reservation. General Thomas pointed out in his letter that we must, of course, insure that the radio tower is lighted for the benefit of aircraft. The Bureau had anticipated this instruction. He also asked that we coordinate our activities with reference to the installation of the FM radio antenna with the Maintenance Section of the Marine Corps Schools so that the Marine Corps would be fully apprised of our plans and also to insure that there is a minimum of interference of Marine Corps Maintenance Equipment.

The above information was telephonically furnished to Mr. Conrad of the Laboratory and he indicated that they had fully intended to coordinate their activities with the Marine Corps.

Mr. Sloan will forward a copy of General Thomas' letter to the Bureau.

Attached is a floor plan of Quantico showing a tentative assignment of office space on the first and second floors and sleeping accommodations on the third floor. Files and Records Section employees have been allocated the Gymnasium. The gun cleaning room in the basement (936 sq. ft.) has been set aside for a stenographic pool of approximately 20 people. Messrs. Boardman, Rosen, Belmont, Mohr and Parsons have offered no objection to the above allocation of space for themselves and their immediate staffs.

You will note that the Attorney General has been assigned the Counselor's Room (486 Sq. Ft.) as both office for himself and secretary and bedroom for Attorney General. The bed to be separated from balance of room by folding screens which are now available at Quantico; other members of Attorney General's staff have been assigned two bedrooms on second floor for office space.

To provide a private office for Mr. Tolson and Mr. Nichols on first floor it would be necessary to use prefabricated partitions which can be stored in the attic and erected within an hour. It is estimated that prefabricated partitions can be purchased for $12.00 per running foot. The partitions shown in classroom number 1 will cost an estimated $540.00. Although the attached floor plan shows partitions in classroom number 1, the war plans co-ordinator is recommending against their purchase at this time.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the allocation of space as outlined on the attached floor plan be adopted.

Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director
Office of Defense Mobilization
Executive Office of the President
Washington, D. C.

Dear Dr. Flemming:

Reference is made to your letter of September 22, 1954, authorizing the use of the FBI Academy at Quantico on the United States Marine Corps Reservation as the emergency relocation site for the FBI. Your office has been previously advised the Bureau has heretofore maintained Shepherd College at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, as its emergency relocation site. There had been installed at the college emergency communications equipment on a stand-by basis; near the college and ready for operation the Bureau's microwave station was installed.

You may be assured that the dismantling of the microwave station at Shepherdstown and its reassembly at Quantico will be expedited. Likewise, other communications facilities will be installed at Quantico as rapidly as possible. The telephone and teletype equipment now at the college will be removed, but I do not at this time intend to abandon the college as a possible emergency relocation site for the FBI, and we will hold it in reserve.

Certain essential operating records of the FBI have been duplicated and placed at Quantico where they will be available for emergency use. These records will be kept current. All records at Quantico are in the custody of Mr. Henry L. Sloan, who maintains his office in the FBI Academy on the U. S. Marine Corps Reservation at Quantico.

The chain of command of the FBI will be as follows should I be unable to carry on during a period of emergency:

Associate Director Clyde Tolson
Assistant to the Director Louis B. Nichols
Assistant to the Director Leland V. Boardman
Assistant Director Alan H. Belmont
Assistant Director Rolf T. Harbo
Assistant Director John P. Mohr
Assistant Director Quintin Tamm
Assistant Director D. J. Parsons

Should it be impossible, for some unknown reason, for any of the foregoing to succeed me in command of the Bureau, the following individuals will assume command:

Mr. J. J. Kelly, 290 Broadway, New York City
Mr. Fred H. McIntire, 913 Federal Building, Detroit
Mr. D. K. Brown, 408 U. S. Post Office Building, Baltimore

Our war planning has included a plan for notification to all Bureau employees who are scheduled for evacuation should instructions to evacuate Washington be issued. Likewise, provision has been made to transport all personnel scheduled for evacuation. All Bureau employees are in possession of credentials or identification cards which will be recognized by Civil Defense and police authorities in the various communities wherein they are assigned.

Rest assured that every effort is being made to ready our new emergency relocation site to insure that we will be ready for emergency operations at the earliest possible date.

It is a pleasure to cooperate with you in this most important phase of emergency planning; and if I can be of further assistance in this matter, please feel free to call upon me.

The Bureau is in possession of two copies of the Department's Portfolio for the above-captioned program. As you know, one copy is maintained in Washington, D. C., and, at the request of the Department, the other copy has been maintained in the Little Rock Office of this Bureau for safekeeping and for use in the event the copies presently maintained by the Department and the Bureau are destroyed through unforeseen circumstances.

For your information, the copy of the Portfolio maintained in Little Rock is being transferred to Washington, D. C., and, thereupon, will be conveyed for retention in the personal custody of the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI Academy at Quantico, Virginia. This change is being effected for security reasons.

EMERGENCY DETENTION PROGRAM
FBI File 100-356062

BUREAU WAR PLANS Auxiliary space For S. O. G.
RECORDS REPOSITORY
FBI File 66-17381

At the Department's request we have been maintaining for security reasons a copy of the Department's Portfolio, containing the administrative plans for the Emergency Detention Program, in the [Little Rock] Office in the personal custody of the Special Agent in Charge.

Bureau letter of July 20, 1954, to [Richmond] and [Little Rock] designated the [Richmond] Office as the Repository and instructed that the vital records maintained by [Little Rock] be forwarded to [Richmond] expecting the Attorney General's Portfolio. It was specified that the latter should be forwarded to the Bureau by an Agent as courier coming to Washington, D. C., for In Service. The SAC at [Little Rock] was instructed to advise the Bureau with whom the Portfolio was to be sent and to obtain Bureau permission to utilize the Agent for such purpose. Since that time, no Agent from [Little Rock] has been scheduled for In Service and in the interim, by Bureau letter of September 24, 1954, Quantico was redesignated as the new Records Repository.

Attached is [Little Rock] letter of October 4, 1954, noting that Special Agent Thompson B. Webb has been recommended for attendance at a Special Informant School (Criminal) and In Service beginning October 25, 1954. The SAC at [Little Rock] requested that Special Agent Webb be approved for personally conveying the Attorney General's Portfolio to Washington. He states that, if approved, Agent Webb will be given explicit instructions as to the delivery of the Portfolio upon his arrival in Washington. Bureau letter of July 20, 1954, above, specified that the Portfolio be turned over to Assistant Director A. H. Belmont upon the arrival of the transporting Agent in Washington.

A review of Special Agent Webb's personnel file by the Investigative Division indicates that he is qualified to receive the above training. The Administrative Division has also reviewed Webb's file and has advised that it contains no data which would bar Webb from attendance at the above school.

(1) If you approve, the attached letter will be sent to the SAC in Little Rock advising that Special Agent Webb should bring the Attorney General's Portfolio when he comes to attend the Special Informant School and In Service, beginning October 25, 1954. We are giving specific instructions as to the manner of delivery of the Portfolio and are emphasizing that Special Agent Webb should afford it utmost security.

(2) We have previously advised the Department of the movement of the Portfolio and, in line with such practice, there is also attached for approval a memorandum to Assistant Attorney General Tompkins in this connection.

Re memo Mr. Nichols to Mr. Tolson, 10/12/54, pointing out some of the problems being encountered in providing telephone and teletype communications facilities for Quantico, and memo Mr. Harbo to Mr. Tolson dated 10/12/54, setting forth recommendations as to the location of telephone instrument installations in the FBI Academy at Quantico.

Mr. Nichols in his memo points out that it will cost roughly $300.00 more ($5.00 each for 60 phones) to place the telephone instruments on jacks than to wire the phones directly to the installation. It is believed, however, that the jack type installation is far more desirable in that the telephone instrument itself can be stored, and will therefore not be in evidence in each of the rooms wherein they will be installed causing visitors to the Academy and individuals on tours to wonder why there would, for instance, be 6 telephones in Classroom #1 as has been recommended, or why there should be 2 telephones in each bedroom on the second floor or 2 telephones in each of the other rooms on the first floor. The cost involved being nonrecurring, it is therefore recommended that the jack type installation be used.

With reference to the obtaining of additional circuits on the Marine Base, the matter is being handled by the Training Section of the Training & Inspection Division with Mr. Sloan at Quantico and as soon as the questions have been resolved, a memorandum will be submitted.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That the 60 phones in the FBI Academy at Quantico be installed with jacks. ↓

SUBJECT: Bureau WAR PLANS - EVACUATIONAuxiliary space for S.O.G.

This is another in a series of monthly memoranda indicating the status of items being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans. Set forth below is the status of unfinished items:

1. Communications

a. Telephones and Teletypes - Mr. McGuire of the Records and Communications Division has advised that the most recent information from the telephone company officials indicates that the target date for the completion of the installation of this equipment is December 1 with a good likelihood that portions of it will be completed and operable within the next four weeks.

b. Radio - SAC Sloan at Quantico has not received a response from the Commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps granting clearance for the installation of the necessary antennas. Mr. Sloan anticipates a favorable response momentarily.

Mr. Conrad of the Laboratory has advised that it will take 7 to 10 days to install the 450 watt CW (code) radio after formal clearance for the erection of the antennas has been received; that it will take 5 days to install the FM (automobile) station and approximately 6 weeks to dismantle the microwave station at Shepherdstown, West Virginia, and re-install it at Quantico. Mr. Conrad advises that the Motorola Corporation is preparing cost estimates for the move of the microwave station.

2. Vital Records to Quantico were delivered to the SAC, Quantico 10/13/54. SAC Little Rock has advised the number 3 copy of the Attorney General's portfolio will accompany an Agent to Seat of Government on 10/25/54. Thereafter, the portfolio will be sent to Quantico. With reference to those vital records which the Conference recommended for transmittal to Quantico on 9/14/54, only the summaries of the Satellite Espionage activities in the United States remain to be sent. Mr. Branigan advises that these summaries have been prepared and are awaiting approval. It is anticipated that they will be sent to Quantico during the week of 10/18/54. The microfilming of fingerprint cards of Security Index Subjects on whom a security flash notice has been prepared will be completed about 11/1/54.

3. Office Space - Relocation Center

A revised memorandum recommending tentative office assignments at Quantico was submitted 10/12/54.

4. Equipment

A memorandum setting forth items of equipment recommended for storage at Quantico was submitted 10/12/54.

5. Emergency Generator

Information received from Mr. Little, Building Supervisor, 10/12/54, reflects General Services Administration has estimated it will cost $9,000 to install the generators and that they desire to have this done by private contractor. Previous cost estimate for installation by building electrician was $5,075. Memorandum submitted for Executives Conference consideration 10/13/54.

6. First-Aid Training

Classes in First-Aid Training were resumed 9/24/54. It is anticipated that 6 more classes of 21 hours each with an estimated 30 in attendance will be necessary.

7. Free Movement of Personnel During Emergency

Federal Civil Defense Administration has requested all Civil Defense organizations to grant full freedom of movement to Bureau personnel on presentation of credentials or identification cards. Federal Civil Defense motor vehicle passes have been issued to all division heads at Seat of Government, and Administrative Division is forwarding these passes to field installations. On 10/8/54, Major General Paul F. Yount, Chief of Transportation, Department of the Army, advised that a directive had been issued by the Adjutant General authorizing travel of personnel of security agencies during emergency periods when martial law might be in effect. Directive reflects that there is under consideration a distinctive detachable sign to be used in vehicles operating within an area during an emergency. General Yount, by letter of 10/15/54, has been requested to advise the Bureau when the question of the sign has been resolved. This will be followed by Liaison.

8. Coding Materials

Approval to forward certain cryptographic materials to Quantico for safekeeping granted 9/27/54. Communications Section has estimated these materials will be ready for transmittal to Quantico in approximately 10 days.

9. Payroll

Treasury Department advises payrolls and other necessary disbursements will be handled on a regional basis if Washington is evacuated and "the highest surviving officer" in any field division can designate a certifying officer to certify as to the vouchers submitted. Treasury regional disbursing offices have been instructed to accept the certifying officer's bond on the spot and to immediately issue checks as requested. Specific instructions from Treasury Department in this matter are expected shortly. Liaison and Administrative Division following.

10. Emergency Transportation

The Director has authorized Mr. Nichols to make appropriate contact with Assistant Secretary of Defense Anderson to obtain, on a loan basis, a 40 or 45 foot air craft rescue boat. By memo, 10/13/54, it was recommended that Mr. Nichols also take up the matter of having a helicopter available when he contacts Mr. Anderson some time after 10/26/54, the date Mr. Anderson is expected to return from Europe.

11. Disposal of Files After Alert Warning.

National Security Agency has advised there is no known satisfactory way of destroying a large volume of records such as that of the Bureau. Office of Defense Mobilization has advised each agency must determine when and what records are to be destroyed. Present Bureau plans are to the effect that no records will be destroyed unless there is immediate danger of their falling into the hands of an invading enemy. General Services Administration has advised that upon receipt of an alert they will dispatch all their automotive equipment to perimeter areas in an effort to insure the equipment will be available for reconstruction and clean-up work. Therefore, we cannot rely on their trucks to evacuate essential records on short notice. FBI Laboratory continuing to follow developments in methods of destruction, no method more desirable than burning has been found to date.

. . . .

When the above items have been completed, the Training and Inspection Division will complete the preparation of a document to be used as a ready reference by the chain of command now at the Seat of Government and for those members of the chain of command now assigned to the field service.

SUBJECT: Bureau WAR PLANS - VITAL RECORDS TO QUANTICOAuxiliary space For G.O.C.

Executives Conference of 9/13/54 approving sending copies of certain vital records to Quantico, Va., to be maintained there. Those records applicable to Espionage Section have been so handled. Purpose of this memorandum is to briefly point out how these records will be maintained up to date, when and who will handle.

1. Atomic Energy Risk List

This is a typewritten list prepared on basis of security risk cards maintained at Bureau. Intelligence Analyst Harry J. Jaquiss will handle by preparing corrected pages reflecting deletions and additions for transmittal to Quantico every 30 days beginning November 1. Jaquiss under direct supervision of Supervisor David E. Todd.

2. Duplicate Set of Assignment Cards
Espionage Section

A duplicate set of assignment cards for matters handled in Espionage Section as of 9/24/54 has been sent to Quantico.

This will be kept up to date as of the first of each month. We will send a duplicate set of blue cards to Quantico for cases opened during the month to be inserted. We will send a set of cards to Quantico representing those cases closed during the month which will enable Quantico to withdraw and destroy the blue assignment cards on closed cases. Revisions such as title changes and re-assignments will be pointed out to Quantico in the memorandum of transmittal. This will be handled by the Mail Clerk under the supervision of the Number One Man.

3. International Organizations, Dangerous Aliens of Nations Outside the Soviet Bloc

This is a list submitted as of the beginning of each month by the field. Revision will be accomplished by the 10th of each month by sending Quantico a complete new list and destruction of the old list. Handled by Supervisor Lish Whitson.

5. Prodip (Program for Detention of Enemy Diplomats)

Duplicate summary dated 8/20/54 of this program for use of Bureau chain of command sent Quantico. Revised pages reflecting major policy changes will be submitted to Quantico as they occur.
Handled by Supervisor Lish Whitson.

6. Soviet Bloc Personnel in Washington and New York

This list is submitted monthly by the field. Revision will be accomplished by the 10th of each month by sending Quantico a complete new list and destruction of the old list. Handled by Supervisor Lish Whitson.

7. Summaries of Soviet and Satellite Espionage Activities in the United States

The following summaries are involved:

1. Summary of Soviet Espionage Activities in the United States.
2. Summary of Polish Espionage Activities in the United States.
3. The Hungarian Intelligence Services and Operations

FROM : Mo E. D. MasonSUBJECT: WAR PLANS - FREE MOVEMENT OF PERSONNELAuxiliary Space For S. O. G.

Per Executives Conference action 8-9-54 recommending the use of Federal Civil Defense Vehicle markers (SF 139), the Bureau purchased 10,000 such cards for use on Bureau vehicles and personally owned automobiles of Bureau personnel during periods of emergency. These cards are to be retained by the divisional official and passed out to the Bureau personnel at the time an emergency appears eminent.

Federal Civil Defense has advised that if the driver of a vehicle bearing the Civil Defense motor vehicle marker has in his possession either Bureau credentials or identification card or a Federal Civil Defense personnel identification card (SF 138), which the Conference unanimously recommended against the Bureau purchasing, the automobile in question would be given free movement over all highways in an emergency period.

Forty-four Civil Defense motor vehicle markers (SF 139) have been obtained from the Administrative Division for the Training and Inspection Division and are attached hereto. Eighteen of these vehicle markers were obtained for the personnel at Quantico. The balance, or 26, were obtained for use by personnel at the Seat of Government. Additional cards will be sent to Quantico by the Administrative Division for Bureau vehicles assigned to that section.

In arriving at the figure of 18 for Quantico and 26 for Seat of Government, they were allocated as follows:

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS - EMERGENCY RELOCATION SITE

Auxiliary Space For O. O. G.

There is attached a letter to Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, setting forth the location of certain vital Bureau records, setting forth the Bureau chain of command and advising that while we are readying Quantico for emergency occupation as fast as possible, we do not anticipate giving up Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, as a possible emergency relocation site at this time.

For your information the Bureau has been keeping the White House, through the Director, Office of Defense Mobilization, advised of our emergency planning since October 8, 1951, when a detailed communication was directed to the Honorable David H. Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President, setting forth our emergency planning. The communication to Mr. Stowe on 10-8-51 was supplemented by a letter to Mr. A. Russell Ash, Chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning 7-21-52. Additional supplements to keep the Office of Defense Mobilization up to date on Bureau planning were directed to Mr. Ash on 9-10-52, 7-27-53 and 2-12-54.

By communication from the Honorable David H. Stowe, Administrative Assistant to the President, the Bureau was advised that any modification in our plans should be reported to the President through the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning.

The Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning has been discontinued and a Continuity of Government Division within the Office of Defense Mobilization has replaced it.

For your information it is our intention not to release Shepherd College at this time because it is believed essential that we hold it at least until such time as Quantico is completely operative in that all communications facilities are installed. And Washington Field Office has to date no firm commitments for

SUBJECT: BUREAU WAR PLANS Auxiliary space For S.O.G.
CONELRAD (CONTROL OF ELECTROMAGNETIC RADIATION)

Reference is made to SAC Letter number 54-30, dated 6-15-54, section (D), captioned as above, in which the field offices were instructed to make individual arrangements with the local Air Defense Divisions of the Air Defense Command (USAF) and with local FCDA officials at these installations for the tie-in to their Air Defense warning systems.

I received a telephone call this morning from   of the long distance division of the AT&T, telephone number National 4-9900, extension 898, in connection with our field offices' making such arrangements.   informed me that orders for the Bureau to be cut in on or tied in with the warning facilities of the Air Force or FCDA would have to be issued by these agencies from their headquarters cities, New York City and Washington, D. C., respectively, to the AT&T representatives in these cities. b6 said that our Dallas Office had made a request of a telephone company in Dallas for tying-in with the Air Force warning system there and that the Dallas Telephone Company had passed the telephone request on to the AT&T here in Washington. He further advised that since the orders to tie-in with the test systems would have to be issued by Air Force Headquarters in New York and FCDA Headquarters in Washington respectively, these agencies would be billed for any of our tie-ins with their warning systems and that any arrangements made with the Air Force and FCDA for reimbursing them in any instance would be between the Bureau and the other agency.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the procedure for making arrangements for tie-in with the local Air Force and FCDA warning systems in the various field divisions be ironed out with officials of these agencies at their respective headquarters and that appropriate instructions in this regard be issued to the field.

With reference to attached memorandum Mr. Nichols to Mr. Tolson, 10/12/54, wherein it was requested the Training Division advise as to the exact number of instruments to be placed in the various rooms, this was covered by my memorandum to you dated 10/12/54 wherein it was recommended 60 extensions would be used in the various rooms at Quantico. By separate memorandum dated 10/13/54 a recommendation is being submitted that these 60 instruments be obtained now and that jacks be used rather than permanent installations.

On 10/13/54 SAC Sloan advised that 4 lines leading to the Academy are now in and can be immediately used. Major McGuire, Communications Officer of the Marine Corps, so advised Sloan today. He will confirm this by letter first of next week.

The remaining 11 lines, according to Major McGuire, will be made available to the Bureau and ready for use by 12/1/54. A letter confirming this as well as the cost involved will be submitted to Sloan first of next week.

Mr. Nichols' memorandum also requested Sloan obtain information concerning the needs of the Marine Corps as far as extra circuits are concerned. Sloan advised that the Marine Corps informed him that the Bureau would not have to be concerned with this problem in that they were definitely committing 15 circuits to the Bureau regardless of what their needs were. The Marine Corps will not know what their needs are in this regard for approximately a week.

Sloan advised that [redacted] of the Central Mutual Telephone Company, Manassas, Virginia, would come to the Academy on Thursday or Friday of this week for the purpose of surveying the Academy Building with reference to the problems attendant to placing jacks in the various rooms. Sloan will promptly advise the Bureau of the results of this survey.

There is attached an SAC Letter outlining what is now known of the Treasury Department's plan to meet salaries and make essential disbursements during a period of emergency. This plan indicates that the "highest surviving officer" in any field division will designate an individual as the certifying officer who in turn will certify as to the payroll and other disbursement vouchers.

Treasury Department has not completed its instructions to all government agencies but has suggested that stand-by instructions be issued to the field should it become necessary to place this procedure into operation before specific instructions have been issued.

Treasury advises that the regional disbursing offices have been instructed to accept a bond as is required by the certifying officer and immediately upon acceptance of the bond to disburse such funds as are called for.

The Director by letter to Colonel Bliss, Assistant Vice President of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, Washington, D. C., last week advised Colonel Bliss he was looking to him to coordinate immediate installation of communications equipment at Quantico. Accordingly, Colonel Bliss today had a meeting of officials of the four communications companies involved in providing facilities at Quantico. Mr. McGuire attended this conference. [redacted] of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia, Richmond office, [redacted] Manager of the Fredericksburg office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia, [redacted] of American Telegraph and Telephone, Long Lines Division, and Mr. [redacted] of the Central Mutual Telephone Company, Manassas, Virginia, were in attendance.

The purpose of the meeting was to coordinate efforts to effect the completion of the installation at the earliest possible date and Colonel Bliss, it was agreed at the meeting, would be responsible for complete coordination. The confidential nature of the project was explained by Mr. McGuire. The various telephone companies involved will treat the installation as confidential. From a telephone company classification standpoint, it is being treated as Secret. Arrangements were made for billing for equipment. No designation of the FBI by name will appear anywhere in the various company records, it merely being stated this is a government defense project in order that we may get the benefit of tax exemptions. All billing will be direct to Mr. McGuire at Post Office Box 6177, Apex Station, Washington, D. C. This is similar to arrangements we have had in effect handling our telephone installations at Shepherdstown, as well as at Clinton and Waldorf, Maryland.

Arrangements were made for [ ] and [ ] to visit the National Academy building at Quantico today and to meet SAC Sloan. This has been done and these three gentlemen saw our facilities in order to check installation problems which will be encountered in installing the switchboard and necessary telephone instruments within the building itself. In this connection, the exact figure is needed in order to order equipment as to whether the sixty telephone instruments to be placed about within the National Academy building are to be permanently wired or to be placed on jacks for installation at some later date. The latter procedure is desirable in that the instruments can be stored until such time as is needed. If we place the instruments on jacks, it will cost $5.00 a piece more than originally estimated. This, however, will be a non-recurring charge. This is desirable as it will be impossible to have instruments placed in the various rooms now used as classrooms, recreation rooms and bedrooms where they will be continually in the way, possibly knocked over and damaged.

b6
b7C

The Training and Inspection Division is being requested to advise as soon as possible the exact number of instruments that are to be in the various rooms which are to be (1) wired up now completely or (2) to be on jacks so that the instruments can be stored.

~~The Long Lines Division of American Telephone and~~ Telegraph Company and the telephone company of Washington and Virginia, all have necessary equipment available, including teletype machines, at the present time. Installation, however, will be dependent on the ability of the Central Mutual Telephone Company of Manassas to obtain the two-position switchboard required. Mr. Vedder stated he had checked on the availability of a switchboard and had been advised he would have it within 45 days, but he felt sure this was an outside time limit and that he could physically have possession of the switchboard at an earlier date. This information makes it possible to give December 1st as a target date for the complete installation of all equipment at Quantico, to which the four various communication companies are pointing their efforts. It is possible the installation will be completed at an earlier date.

In checking the engineering of the various circuits which are to be installed, the Central Mutual Telephone Company has sufficient trunk lines into the town of Quantico and their lines terminate in the vicinity of the railroad station where they are joined to the U. S. Marine Corp line. None of the private companies has any authority to place lines on Marine Corps property and it is necessary for the Bureau to obtain spare circuits from the Marine Corps. SAC Sloan was telephonically contacted direct this morning to ascertain the exact number of spare circuits the Marine Corps could furnish to the Bureau now. Sloan checked this and called back advising the Marine Corps had four spare circuits to our building at this time. The total circuits required by the Bureau for the installation being ordered is 15 circuits. The Marine Corps has advised they have sufficient spare circuits up to a point within six to eight hundred feet of our building to make up the 11 additional circuits we would require which cannot now be provided by the Marine Corps. This would require the Marine Corps running 11 circuits through a cable from a point some six to eight hundred feet from our building into the Academy building itself.

SAC Sloan has advised the Marine Corps states they have sufficient equipment and personnel to do this job, but it would require some transfer of funds from the Bureau to the Marine Corps for this work. ~~A rough estimate given by the Marine Corps was in the vicinity of $1,500.~~ SAC Sloan was requested to pursue this matter further with the Marine Corps since there was some indication that if the Marine Corps does this, they will have no spare circuits for themselves. SAC Sloan stated this was correct; that the Marine Corps was at the present time, as a result of the Bureau's inquiry, making a survey and it was expected they would come up with an answer some time tomorrow with regard to not only their own requirements for spare circuits, but as to the preparation of the additional eleven circuits from their nearest point into the Academy building.

It is recommended the Training and Inspection Division, through SAC Sloan, pursue this matter further with the Marine Corps in order that it can be definitely understood by the Marine Corps the Bureau will require 15 circuits from the town of Quantico all the way into our Academy building and that SAC Sloan be advised by the Marine Corps as to the exact number of spare circuits which are immediately available for our use now at the National Academy building. It is understood there are four circuits now but a definite commitment should be obtained from the Marine Corps as to whether the Bureau may use all of these four circuits now.

Additionally, SAC Sloan should obtain a definite commitment from the Marine Corps as to what arrangements can be perfected at the earliest possible date for 11 additional circuits to be placed by the Marine Corps from a point six to eight hundred feet from our building into the building itself. Any delay on the part of the Marine Corps in providing these additional 11 circuits will effect the target date of December 1st set for the completion of this installation. In the event the Marine Corps can release the four spare circuits to the Bureau right now, we propose to have the communications company use one circuit for our proposed line to Triangle as this will permit immediate dialing of any number in Northern Virginia and in the Washington area. We propose to use the second circuit now for one TWX (teletype purposes). We also propose to use the third and fourth circuits for long distance voice-telephone calls and these would be connected to the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company at Fredericksburg. Thereafter, as additional circuits are provided by the Marine Corps into our building, these circuits can be wired up as in our original plan.

The Laboratory Division and the Communications Section of the Records and Communications Division have recommended that certain cryptographic materials be retained at Quantico for emergency use.

Mr. Downing of the Cryptographic Section of the Laboratory has advised that a windowless room inside the gun vault at Quantico would afford adequate security for the various materials recommended hereafter if the door of the room in question, even though made of wood, were kept locked when the room in which the cryptographic materials are placed was not occupied. There is a room approximately 11 feet square in the gun vault at Quantico which could be made available for these materials.

The following materials have been recommended as a minimum requirement by the Cryptographic Section of the Laboratory Division and the Communications Section of the Records and Communications Division:

This will record conversation by McArdle with SAC H. E. Sloan at Quantico relative to the installation of additional telephone lines into the FBI Academy by the United States Marine Corps. Mr. Sloan advised that Major McGuire, Communications Officer on the post, advised that the Marine Corps will install a 27 pair cable into the building and anticipate having it done by 12-1-54, at an estimated cost of four hundred to five hundred dollars on exchange of funds basis.

RECOMMENDATION:

This memorandum be routed to Mr. Nichols for the attention of Mr. McGuire so that he might better plan the installation of the telephone and teletype systems at Quantico.

SUBJECT: WAR PLANS; Amplifying Space for B.O.C.
 CRYPTOGRAPHIC MATERIAL FOR RELOCATION CENTER

SYNOPSIS:

Since consideration is now being given to the selection of a new relocation center, the Records and Communications Division may wish to have additional cryptographic material available at such a new relocation center. Suggested list presented for concurrence. Will require approximately 35 cubic feet of safe or vault-type storage space.

RECOMMENDATION:

For consideration in equipping any proposed new relocation center.

DETAILS:

You will recall that consideration previously has been given to the question of storing a supply of cryptographic communications material, such as code pads, code books, etc., at the Bureau's relocation center, but that because of the unattended nature of our present site at Shepherdstown and the consequent lack of security, it has not been possible to store such equipment there.

In view of the fact that consideration now is being given to the selection of a new relocation center, it is desired to point out that the Records and Communications Division may wish to have available certain additional cryptographic material for emergency use, if suitable storage space complying with Bureau and National Security Agency requirements is available at the new relocation center.

Subject to concurrence by the Records and Communications Division, the following material is suggested for such storage as a minimum requirement:

- 1 - Mr. McArdle
- 1 - Mr. McGuire

Attached is a memorandum from Mr. Downing dated August 23, 1954, setting forth proposed cryptographic material which should be stored at the Bureau's relocation center. This material has been reviewed by the Records & Communications Division and we agree with the amendments they have set forth by addendum.

A substantial part of the cryptographic material is now available having been constructed and maintained on hand by the Laboratory. The remaining material would require approximately 24 man days to complete and be available for storage at the relocation center. It should be noted that approximately 35 cubic feet of safe- or vault-type storage space would be needed. It would appear more practical to have this stored in a room having a vault door with tumbler combination rather than to buy safes for this quantity of material.

RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended that vault-type storage space be made available at the relocation center and the Laboratory be advised in order that work may proceed to have this essential communications material stored at the relocation center.

It has been recommended and approved that 60 copies of Code C and 20 copies of Code B be stored at Quantico as soon as suitable storage facilities are prepared there. These items are in addition to others which are being prepared for such purpose. The Chief Clerk's Office is requested to arrange to have the Exhibit Section appropriately label 60 copies of the Code C and 20 copies of the Code B now in the possession of the Chief Clerk's Office "Top Secret" in accordance with the provisions of Executive Order 10501 for the labeling of bound documents having a national defense classification. It is also requested that as the books are labeled the C Code books be furnished to the Coding Unit 10 copies at a time for appropriate corrections which have to be made in them before they are to be stored. As these corrections are made, the books will then be returned to the Chief Clerk's Office for storage until a space at Quantico is prepared for storage of these items since we do not have sufficient storage room in the Coding Unit for all these books.

The Executives Conference on 8-9-54 recommended that the Bureau purchase 10,000 standard Civil Defense automobile markers (SF-139) for use on Bureau cars and issuance to Bureau personnel for use on their personally owned automobiles to insure their free movement during periods of emergency; these passes to be issued in adequate supply in each field office and SOG division for retention by the various division heads to be issued by them when an emergency appeared imminent. The Director OK'd the above recommendation. The Administrative Division has advised that the passes in question (SF-139) have been ordered. There here follows a tabulation showing the number of passes (SF-139) which have been requested for each official's office and SOG division, as well as the number indicated by each SAC as being necessary for the Bureau owned cars and essential personnel of his office:

Reference is made to my memorandum dated October 14, 1954, advising that the copy of the Department's Portfolio containing the administrative plans for the Emergency Detention Program, now in the personal custody of the SAC in our Little Rock, Arkansas, Office, is being transmitted to the Bureau by courier and will ultimately be retained in the personal custody of the SAC at Quantico, Virginia.

As indicated in my memorandum, the Department's Portfolio will be personally conveyed to the Bureau from Little Rock by Special Agent Thompson B. Webb, who has been scheduled to attend the special informant school (criminal) and In-Service beginning October 25, 1954. Special Agent Webb, pursuant to instructions contained in Bulet to Little Rock dated October 14, 1954, will personally deliver the Portfolio to Assistant Director A. H. Belmont or the supervisor on duty in Mr. Belmont's office, Room 1742, Justice Building, immediately upon his arrival in Washington, D. C.

ACTION:

That the Agents assigned to night and weekend duty over the weekend October 23 - 24, 1954, be alerted concerning the delivery of the Department's Portfolio by Special Agent Webb. They should be instructed that the Portfolio be afforded maximum security.

There is now assigned to Quantico one copy each of the Manual of Rules and Regulations and of each volume of the Manual of Instructions. To insure that there will be available during period of emergency when Quantico is activated as the relocation site sufficient copies of the Manual of Rules and Regulations and the Manual of Instructions, as well as other manuals issued by the Bureau in the normal everyday use by Bureau employees, as well as having such manuals now available in Quantico for assistance in the carrying on of the Bureau's training program, it is recommended that there be forwarded to Quantico the following manuals:

- 1 copy each of Manual of Rules and Regulations; <sup>#5806</sup> each volume of the Manual of Instructions; the Inspectors' Manual; <sup>#16</sup> each <sup>#836</sup> Seat of Government Supervisors' Manual; Seat of Government <sup>366</sup> Stenographers' Manual; Field Stenographers' Manual; Leave Manual; <sup>#266</sup> Manual of Technical Equipment; Appendix to the Manual of Technical <sup>573</sup> Equipment; Radio Operators' Manual. <sup>#198</sup>

By assigning each of these manuals to Quantico, rather than to war plans for retention at Quantico, they will be immediately available for current use and there will be no question of the possibility of their being kept current by appropriate insertions of amended pages.

RECOMMENDATION:

That you approve sending the foregoing manuals to Quantico, ordering them assigned to Quantico rather than their being placed there for retention in connection with war plans.

- (2) A copy of Bureau payroll.
- (3) Bureau personnel retirement record.
- (4) Photographs of FBI personnel fingerprint cards.
- (5) Photographic copies of handwriting specimens of individuals on key figure list.
- (6) Photostat of the suggested draft of an agreement between the FBI and the Office of Censorship dated 12-13-50.
- (7) Records relating to Special Agents insurance fund and the Charles S. Ross fund.
- (8) The Atomic Energy Security Risk list.

Bureau records further reflect that the No. 3 copy of the Attorney General's Portfolio is still in the custody of the SAC at Little Rock. The SAC at Little Rock should be Reference is made to Executives Conference memorandum to Mr. Tolson, dated 9/14/54, captioned "War Plans - Vital Records to Quantico," which made various recommendations relative to sending to Quantico certain vital Bureau records for safekeeping in the event of hostilities. Among the records recommended for transmittal were copies of briefs, recently prepared by the Espionage Section on Soviet and Satellite espionage activities in the United States, which were designated as Item No. 8 in the Executives Conference memorandum.

On October 7, 1954, copy No. 22 of the brief entitled "Soviet Espionage Activities in the United States," consisting of 296 pages, was delivered by hand to SA I. Maurice Miller to Quantico via Bureau truck.

The following Satellite briefs are ready for transmittal to Quantico:

1. "Summary of Polish Espionage Activities in the United States," (1 volume - 31 pages - Copy No. 19)

2. "Summary of Yugoslav Intelligence Activities in the United States," (1 volume - 40 pages - Copy No. 19)

reference is made to Executives Conference memorandum of 9/14/54, captioned "War Plans - Vital Records to Quantico," approving transmittal of copies of certain vital records to Quantico, Virginia, for safekeeping. Among the records recommended for transmittal were copies of briefs, recently prepared by the Espionage Section on Soviet and Satellite espionage activities in the United States.

On October 7, 1954, copy 22 of the brief entitled "Summary of Soviet Espionage Activities in the United States," consisting of 3 volumes of 390 pages, was delivered by hand to SA J. Maurice Miller for transmittal to Quantico via bureau truck.

On October 25, 1954, the following Satellite briefs were delivered by hand to SA Joseph Thornton of In-Service class no. 1 for transmittal to the SAC, Quantico:

1. "Summary of Polish Espionage Activities in the United States" (1 volume - 31 pages - Copy No. 19)
2. "Summary of Yugoslav Intelligence Activities in the United States," (1 volume - 40 pages - Copy No. 19)
3. "Hungarian Intelligence Services and Operations in the United States," (1 volume - 93 pages - Copy No. 19)
4. "Summary of Czechoslovakian Espionage Activities in the United States" (1 volume - 30 pages - Copy No. 19)
5. "Summary of Rumanian Intelligence Activities in the United States" (1 volume - 30 pages - Copy No. 19)

My memorandum of October 14, 1954, noted that Special Agent Thompson B. Webb was being designated to bring the copy of the Attorney General's Portfolio maintained in Little Rock to Washington, D. C., upon his reporting for Criminal Informant School beginning October 25, 1954. As you know Special Agent Webb delivered the Portfolio to Supervisor A. R. Jones, on duty in your office Sunday, October 24, 1954, at 9:45 p.m. The Portfolio was brought to Room 1503 in the Internal Security Section on the morning of October 25, 1954.

Since the Portfolio must be carried by hand, arrangements were made with the Training and Inspection Division for the Portfolio to be transported to the SAC, Quantico by Special Agent J. E. Thornton of the Omaha Office attending In-Service. The Portfolio was accordingly turned over to Special Agent Thornton at 6:00 p.m. by Supervisor P. L. Cox for transmittal to SAC Sloan at Quantico with instructions that the Portfolio be maintained in a sealed condition with the other vital records now maintained at Quantico under the personal custody of the SAC. A copy of this memorandum is being designated for the SAC, Quantico to confirm the foregoing instructions.

Pursuant to Executives' Conference memorandum of September 14, 1954, a duplicate set of Security Index cards has been established at the FBI Academy at Quantico and is maintained in a current status. Also approved was the proposal which called for affixing descriptive data and photographs on the reverse sides of these cards to facilitate apprehensions. A survey has been conducted to determine the most economical and practicable means of placing such descriptive information on the backs of the cards at Quantico.

The Executives' Conference on October 28, 1954, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Boardman, McGuire for Nichols, Belmont, Harbo, Mohr, Parsons, Rosen, Tamm, Holloman and Sizoo, again considered the question of placing the descriptive data on the reverse sides of the Security Index cards at Quantico. It was ascertained that the most feasible method would be to photograph the reverse sides of the Security Index cards in the field on which are found complete descriptive information. By this method, the field would send the exposed film to the Bureau for development and the descriptive information pertaining to each subject would, thereafter, be taken to Quantico and stapled to the reverse sides of the cards. Based on approximately 26,000 Security Index cards (the Security Index total as of October 15, 1954), the total cost was estimated at $289.50 for film, $1,308.63 for printing and developing, and approximately 65 clerical days to perform the stapling at Quantico.

Executives' Conference Recommendation.

After careful consideration of the time and expense required to complete this project as well as the additional effort to keep the cards up to date, the Conference recommended unanimously that the placing of descriptive information on the reverse sides of the cards at Quantico was not warranted since (1) any emergency whereby a field office should be destroyed would in all probability also destroy many of the subjects against whom the Security Index cards apply, and (2) as now constituted the Security Index cards at Quantico would provide a good working basis for the apprehension of the remaining Security Index subjects in an area affected by an emergency attack.

You will recall that on October 8 last you inquired as to whether the electrical wiring at the FBI Academy in Quantico was sufficiently heavy to stand the load which would be placed on it by the emergency evacuation to that site.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended SAC Sloan at Quantico be instructed to make appropriate inquiry to ascertain if the wiring at the academy is sufficiently heavy to carry the load of electrical current which will be placed on it by the 183 occupants at the academy during an emergency.

ADDENDUM BY GEARTY 10/29/54

SAC Sloan has advised that the wiring at the Academy is entirely adequate to handle any load of electrical current which would be placed on it in the event of an emergency. He pointed out that actually there will be less people at Quantico in the event of an emergency than there is at the present time. He has a spare transformer in the basement should that be needed. A test run a year or so ago in connection with a movie at Quantico developed the fact that the wiring at Quantico was such that the large klieg lights for movie production could be safely used should it be necessary. As a consequence he is entirely satisfied that there is nothing to be concerned about. This survey was made by A. S. Chrisman of the U. S. Marine Corps Post Electrical Shop.

Bureau

There is here attached a letter from Mr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director, Office of Defense Mobilization, dated September 22, 1954, authorizing the Bureau's use of Quantico as its emergency relocation site.

There is attached a letter to the Attorney General informing him that Quantico has been approved by the Office of Defense Mobilization and that we will ready it for emergency use as rapidly as possible. Further that we do not plan to give up Shepherd College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia, until such time as essential communications equipment has been installed at Quantico.

There is also attached a memorandum to Assistant Directors advising that Office of Defense Mobilization has approved Quantico as the Bureau relocation site and instructing that Records and Communications Division proceed immediately to install telephone and teletype communications facilities at Quantico, that the Laboratory expedite the installation of the 450 watt CW (code) radio and FM radio stations, as well as the moving of the microwave station from Shepherdstown to Quantico and that all divisions immediately complete each aspect of war plans. If an evacuation is necessary in the immediate future we should plan to use Shepherdstown but as soon as communications and office equipment are ready we will secure approval to changing the relocation site to Quantico.

A further communication is being directed to the SAC at Richmond instructing that he transfer the essential records now in his custody to the SAC at Quantico immediately. The Domestic Intelligence Division is expediting the preparation of the essential wartime records for transmittal to Quantico for safekeeping; this program should be completed not later than September 30, 1954.

Set forth below is the status of unfinished items which are being considered in connection with the Bureau's evacuation plans.

1. Communications

a. Telephones and Teletypes - SAC Sloan at Quantico has made arrangements with Communications officer of the United States Marine Corps for the installation of the necessary spare pairs to insure sufficient cables to meet Bureau Communications requirements by December 1, 1954, at an estimated cost of $400 to $500. Mr. McGuire of the Records and Communications Division has advised that the telephone company plans to have completed the installation of the equipment in the academy by 12-1-54; and there is a good likelihood that portions of the telephone and teletype facilities will be hooked up and operable by November 19, 1954.

b. Radio - The United States Marine Corps granted clearance for the installation of the necessary antennas 10-18-54.

Mr. Conrad of the Laboratory advised that he anticipates having the 450 watt cw (code) radio installed in Quantico by 10-29-54; and the FM (automobile) radio station installed by 11-5-54. Mr. Conrad further advised that he is attempting to arrange a meeting of the White House Co-ordinating Committee on the microwave system relative to co-ordinating the installation of the Bureau microwave system at Quantico and the manner in which it will be co-ordinated with the microwave stations of other sensitive agencies. In the meantime, Motorola Corporation is preparing estimates for the cost of moving the microwave station from Shepherdstown, West Virginia, to Quantico. It is estimated that it will take six weeks to dismantle and rebuild the microwave station.

2. Vital Records to Quantico

Executives Conference memorandum to Mr. Tolson dated 9-14-54, captioned War Plans - Vital Records to Quantico, enumerated the items which were to be sent for emergency use. All items with the following exceptions have been forwarded to Quantico:

a. Summaries of Satellite Espionage activities in the United States. These summaries are prepared and have been approved and will be forwarded to Quantico 11-25-54.

b. It has been ascertained from the Identification Division that the microfilming of fingerprint cards of Security Index subjects, on whom a security flash notice has been prepared, will be completed on or about 11-8-54.

3. Equipment

A memorandum setting forth items of equipment recommended for storage at Quantico was submitted 10-18-54. The Administrative Division is now making efforts to obtain as much of the necessary equipment as possible from the military at no cost to the Bureau. This matter is being expedited by the Administrative Division.

4. Emergency Generator

Mr. Conrad of the Laboratory has arranged a conference with a private contractor relative to the installation of the generators for 10-25-54. This action is pursuant to recent Executives Conference action when it was ascertained that General Service Administration estimated the cost at $9,000 to install the generators as compared to $5,075 previously received from the Chief Building Electrician.

5. First Aid Training

Classes in First Aid Training were resumed 9-24-54. It is anticipated that at least five more classes of twenty-one hours each with an estimated thirty in attendance will be necessary to insure that a minimum of 15 per cent of the Bureau personnel in each building at Seat of Government has current first aid certificates. It is anticipated that it will be necessary to start first aid refresher courses shortly after November 15, 1954, to insure that no current first aid certificates are allowed to lapse.

6. Free Movement of Personnel During Emergency

Federal Civil Defense Administration and the military have issued instructions authorizing the free movement of personnel during periods of emergency. Military has advised that they have under consideration a distinctive detachable sign to be used on vehicles operating within a military area during an emergency. General Yount, by letter 10-15-54, was requested to advise the Bureau when the question of the above sign had been resolved. This will be followed by Liaison.

7. Coding Materials

Communications Section, Records and Communications Division advises that a majority of the cryptographic materials authorized for safekeeping at Quantico on 9-27-54, will be ready for transmittal to Quantico not later than 10-29-54. This is being closely followed by the Training and Inspection Division.

8. Payroll

Treasury Department has advised payrolls and necessary disbursements will be handled on a regional basis if Washington is evacuated and central disbursing is not possible. However, they have not issued specific instructions on this matter to date. Liaison and Administration Division following.

9. Emergency Transportation

Assistant Secretary of Defense, Anderson is expected back from Europe this week. Mr. Nichols will make appropriate contact with Mr. Anderson as soon as possible in an effort to obtain, on a loan basis, a 40 to 45 foot air craft rescue boat and will take up the matter of the military making a helicopter available for Bureau use in emergency conditions.

10. Disposal of Files

National Security Agency has found no known satisfactory way of destroying a large volume of records such as that in possession of the Bureau. Each agency will determine what records to destroy and when they should be destroyed according to the Office of Defense Mobilization. FBI Laboratory is continuing to follow developments in methods of destruction, no method more desirable than burning has been found to date.

A report of "yellow alert" (bandit aircraft approaching U.S. targets) will be received at the Bureau from the United States Air Force (USAF) Command Post, Pentagon, on the special manual telephone located in your office. No detailed information will be furnished by the USAF Command Post. However, arrangements have been made to receive brief information concerning the number and location of planes from the White House through the same telephone in your office. This arrangement has been made inasmuch as your office is manned twenty-four hours a day. Complete instructions have been issued for extra duty supervisors in your office so that after the regular working hours you will be notified immediately of the report of "yellow alert."

As you are aware, the Command Post runs test calls each day and so indicate at the time the call is made. In the event of a true "yellow alert," the Command Post will use the following language, "This is (grade - name) headquarters USAF Command Post. Authentication (code word), if required.* Air Defense Warning (yellow, red or white alert) exists, I repeat Air Defense Warning (yellow, red or white alert) exists."

In the event that an alert report is received from a Bureau field office or any other source, the authenticity of the report can be checked by dialing the Bureau operator and asking for a direct line to the USAF Command Post (the Bureau has two direct lines to the Command Post). Any one of the below-listed individuals should be contacted during normal working hours:

RE: NOTIFICATION OF AIR RAID ALERTS

There has been installed in the office of Mr. Belmont a special telephone, extension number 9, and the switchboard has a direct line to the Air Defense Command Post at the Pentagon. Any notification of a contemplated air raid will be reported immediately by the Command Post directly to the office of Mr. Belmont; as you know, this office is staffed twenty-four hours a day seven days a week. The line is tested daily by the Command Post. Practice alerts will not be reported.

Arrangements have been effected by the Special Agent in Charge at Quantico to be notified by the Marine Air Station over a special telephone line of any air raid alert. A direct telephone line will shortly be installed from the FBI Academy at Quantico to the Bureau and it should then be possible for the Special Agent in Charge at Quantico to immediately notify of an air raid alert. He will call the office of Mr. Belmont and thereafter notify the Training and Inspection Division.

The field is already under instructions to notify the Bureau of any impending air raid. Arrangements have now been made to check back with the Defense Command Post at the Pentagon to verify any report of an air raid which might be received from the Special Agent in Charge at Quantico or from any Field Division. This verification is to be handled immediately, and on a top level basis, in the Domestic Intelligence Division and if verification of an air raid is obtained the appropriate announcement to the Bureau's chain of command will be made so that precautionary measures can be taken.

I want to emphasize that as soon as notification has been given to Bureau Officials of an impending air raid Officials are to remain at their assigned duty stations until such time as further information is received such as an order to go to air raid shelters, evacuate, or return to "all clear" status. It may be contemplated that the Bureau will receive alerts which will be precautionary in nature and upon subsequent check will not result in the identification of hostile aircraft. However, the Bureau cannot take a chance that an alert may later turn out to be a test or the result of mistaken identification of aircraft.

In addition to notification from the Command Post at the Pentagon, arrangements are in effect through Mr. Belmont's office to receive brief supplemental information from the White House as to any potential air raid. The Command Post at the Pentagon can make available only information as to an alert. The details as to how soon hostile aircraft may arrive, the scope of the contemplated air raid, and other data will be received from the White House and through immediate Liaison inquiry by Mr. Belmont's office.

All activities relating to the above matters are to be handled with extreme dispatch.

Very truly yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

John Edgar Hoover
Director

NOTE: Purpose of this memorandum, which involves no Manual or policy changes, is to notify Bureau Officials of the details concerning air raid alerts. There has been one official air raid alert within the past 3 years. Additionally, on October 13, 1954, the Marine Air Station at Quantico notified the FBI Academy at Quantico of an air raid alert received from the Eastern Area Defense Command. However, this particular alert later turned out to be a practice measure unfortunately not initially so identified because one of the employees of the Eastern Area Defense Command forgot to preface the air raid instructions with the word "Test." It was, however, a good check of FBI procedures and the planning enunciated above provides an opportunity for double and triple checks on information received.

Reference Executive Conference memorandum of September 14, 1954, which unanimously approved eighteen recommendations concerning the duplication and transmittal of vital records to Quantico. McArdle
Spencer

In accordance with the instructions set forth in referenced memorandum, I wish to advise that all records have been duplicated and forwarded to Quantico with the exception of Item 8, a copy of the summary of Soviet and satellite espionage activities in the United States. The summary on the Soviet activities has been prepared and is presently being reviewed by Bureau officials for approval. Upon this approval, a copy will be forwarded to Quantico. The items as listed in referenced memorandum are as follows:

1. Transfer of certain materials which had previously been duplicated and maintained in the Richmond Field Division. The Training and Inspection Division prepared instructions to Richmond to forward this material to Quantico.

2. The No. 3 copy of the Attorney General's Portfolio has been stored at the Little Rock Office. The Training and Inspection Division has requested that this copy be transported to Quantico by an experienced Agent.

3. The Division War Plans, including the "Check List" of various things which must be done by the Domestic Intelligence Division in the event of hostilities.

4. A concise summary of:

CBT
Detention of Communists Program (Detcom)

Program calling for detention of enemy diplomats (Prodip)

5. Duplicate assignment cards on cases and matters supervised in the Espionage and Internal Security Sections.

8. (Previously mentioned above) A copy of the summary of Soviet and satellite espionage activities in the United States. Presently being sent through Bureau officials for approval. As soon as it is approved, a copy will be forwarded to Quantico.

9. Duplicate copies of the Security Index cards.

10. The list of places to be searched under the Master Search Warrant.

11. Key facilities list.

12. Semiannual summary of the activities of the Communist Party.

13. Microfilm of the fingerprint cards of each individual on the Security Index on whom a security flash notice has been placed (furnished by the Identification Division).

14. Security Informant index cards showing Security Informants by name and by symbol number.

15. Emergency detention program surveys of each field office setting forth the administrative plans each office has formulated to place the program into operation.

16. No number SAC letters relating to policy and instructions in connection with the operation of the Emergency Detention Program since 1950.

17. A list of Bureau personnel on foreign assignment with their home addresses and telephone numbers.

18. An index reflecting the identity and brief information on all informants used by Liaison Agents abroad.

Memo to Mr. Belmont      RE: WAR PLANS - VITAL RECORDS TO QUANTICO from Mr. Keay

The Assistant Chief Clerk at Quantico has been instructed regarding the maintenance of the material which is stored at Quantico. All corrections, additions, etc., will be furnished by memorandum from the Section Chief to you with the recommendation that the material and memorandum be furnished to the SAC at Quantico. The memorandum should further recommend that the SAC, or at his direction the Assistant Chief Clerk, should note the receipt and action taken on the face of the memorandum. Records Unit advises that the original memorandum will be physically transmitted with the attachments to the SAC at Quantico thereby permitting the SAC to make the proper notation on the memorandum itself. One exception to this rule will be in the case of the Security Index card changes which take place daily. In this case, an extra card will be run off in the Statistical Section and will be checked for accuracy in the Security Index Unit and forwarded to the SAC at Quantico in a manila envelope by routing slip. Three stamps have been secured designating action to be taken. The appropriate stamp will be placed on the face of the card.

Instructions have been furnished to all Section Chiefs as to their responsibilities to insure that all changes in connection with the various items are furnished promptly to Quantico.

RECOMMENDATION:

None. For your information.

Reference Mr. Downing's memorandum to Mr. Parsons of August 23 last, memorandum from Mr. Parson's to Mr. Harbo September 10 last and memorandum from Mr. Harbo to Mr. Tolson September 27 last all on captioned subject, regarding the cryptographic material recommended for storage at the relocation site at Quantico.

A separate memorandum to you has been submitted under today's date regarding the purchase of code books which have been recommended and approved for storage at the relocation center in those instances where the books are not already in stock in sufficient quantity for this purpose. The Communications Section will prepare 60 copies each of the Standard Emergency Telephone Code (Domestic) and the Modified Emergency Telephone Code (Foreign). We have in stock only one copy of the Code de Condensation (International Criminal Police) which is quite small and which we will have Photostated to make up two copies for storage at Quantico. We are also preparing two copies of each hand system given to Special Agents on foreign assignment ("Y" system). We are also designating the counterparts of one enciphering and one deciphering pad in each field office for storage at Quantico. The field offices will be advised later as soon as these pads are stored at Quantico that these pads are to be used only for communications with the Bureau evacuation site.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that these actions on the part of the Communications Section be made known to the Training and Inspection Division and the Laboratory Division.

I saw Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson today. I outlined to him that in connection with our emergency plans, should war come, that we were confronted with a very practical problem and the only solution seemed to rest upon a degree of assistance from the Armed Services. I told Mr. Anderson that as he knew, the President, himself, had been concerned about getting out of Washington in an emergency when he found it difficult to get out of Washington on Sunday afternoon and that since the military had not gotten to the point where they could guarantee sufficient notice and warning to permit orderly evacuation, it appeared to us that the quickest and most practical manner to get our key people to Quantico would be, (one) through the detailing of a 40 foot rescue boat and that it was understood that the Navy has an abundance of these boats in mothballs; that such a boat could be maintained at the Navy Yard where there would always be personnel with orders to man it with a couple of competent seamen and make it available to transport key Bureau personnel to Quantico. I told him that the second alternative was to augment the boat with a helicopter which would land on the Justice Department Building.

Anderson stated that this was a very real problem and it was not a matter of something that ought to be done, it was a matter of something that had to be done. I pointed out to him that I wanted to raise this problem with him on an informal basis prior to going to the services because he had been around long enough to know what the result would be if we initiated something like this down the line.

Anderson made a rather caustic and vitriolic comment on the services by stating that he, of course, could order these services and within a week an emergency would occur and somebody down the line would grab the boat or the helicopter and he stated that he thought it was very proper for us to come to him; that he certainly felt that something must be done.

RE: WAR PLANS

I pointed out that we had no compunction at requesting this service since if we did not perform our duties and do them quickly, if there was an outbreak of sabotage, the Armed Forces might very well be paralyzed. He stated that he felt that the Bureau's position and role in any such an emergency which we were contemplating was sufficiently close to be considered as a part of the defense responsibility.

He stated that the problem was how to best work this. He then inquired who would be responsible for removing the President. I didn't know for certain if it would be the National Security Council or the Armed Services. He then inquired who would be responsible for removing the Attorney General. I told him that the Attorney General, for his strictly confidential information, was going with us to Quantico. He stated that he would like to suggest that the Attorney General send a short note to the National Security Council pointing out the problem and referring to informal conversations with the Defense Establishment pointing out the Defense Establishment would be agreeable to providing for the Bureau. He then stated that he would pick this up at the Defense Establishment and would then be operating under instructions from the National Security Council. He then observed that he thought such a service should not be extended to agencies not vital to the defense such as Commerce and etc.

He then pointed out that he has observed a need for cautiousness as a result of the stand taken by the Treasury Department; namely, that the Coast Guard was making services available to the Defense Establishment and the Defense Establishment should therefore pay the bill. He wanted to avoid any difficulties or any questions later being asked. I pointed out, of course, that the cost would be negligible; that the boat could be used over at the Navy Yard for training purposes and that the helicopter could likewise be utilized. He stated that he, of course, thoroughly concurred in this although the services would probably try to find a way to raise questions and that what he had in mind was to have an iron clad order whereby when the gong was sounded, the boat would be warmed up and the helicopter would be automatically taking off to land on the Justice Department Building without the necessity of implementing anything. I told him that, of course, was the way to handle it.

I then raised the question as to whether the letter to the National Security Council was the best way to handle this since this would probably call for the creation of a task force to make a survey and would probably open wide the door for further requests of the Defense Establishment and whether it would not be much simpler for him to simply issue the order. He stated that of course he could issue the order but that he thought it would be much better if he issued the order and had back of him an Executive Directive.

He then suggested that the Attorney General mention it to the President that we had had an informal discussion on this and that the Defense Establishment concurred that this is a service that should be made available and the Defense Establishment would be glad to make this service available if the President concurred. I told Anderson that we would give this some thought and we appreciated his attitude. He then stated that he in turn would talk to Secretary Wilson and to Admiral Radford and would see to it that there was unanimity in the Defense Establishment stand before the matter was ever sent to the services.

I did not see that there was much more that I could accomplish at that point; however, the more I have mulled this over, the more I think that there is some merit to the suggestion made by Anderson. I have little doubt that if we insisted that Anderson and Wilson would put this plan into effect. I also have no doubt that if something happened to them and an emergency came up, the services might find some way to avoid providing this service. Furthermore, I have no doubt that there would be no reluctance on the part of the Attorney General or the President, in view of Anderson's position, to agree to this procedure. This in effect on a long range basis would put the Bureau in a pretty good position in the event of an emergency.

While I am attaching a memorandum to the Attorney General, I think it would be much more effective if the Director could talk to the Attorney General about this. If the Director does not wish to personally take this up with the Attorney General, I would like to suggest that consideration be given to let me deliver the memorandum to him on the basis of giving him Anderson's views.

There is attached for the Attorney General's convenience a brief suggested memorandum as he might very well give thought to having the President sign one the next time he goes up.

It seems silly to bother the President about this.
I suggest a letter to
Sec. Wilson from Mr

(B) WAR PLANS - PAYMENT OF SALARIES AND DISBURSEMENTS FOR SERVICES AND SUPPLIES IN THE EVENT OF THE EVACUATION OF WASHINGTON, D. C. --- Treasury Department has advised they are formulating plans and instructions to handle the meeting of payrolls and other essential disbursements on a regional basis should Washington, D. C., be evacuated and centralized disbursing cannot be continued. Treasury Department advises these instructions will reflect that the "highest surviving officer" in any field division will designate the certifying officer to certify to the payroll and other disbursement vouchers. Regional disbursing offices of Treasury Department are aware of these arrangements.

In designating the certifying officer, the "highest surviving officer" will fill out a designating form in duplicate and the certifying officer will execute three signature cards. A bond will be necessary for the certifying officer. Treasury Department has instructed regional disbursing officers to accept such bonds on the spot and to disburse necessary funds immediately. Treasury Department has also prepared mobile disbursing units for use in the event a regional disbursing office is destroyed. They have recommended against anyone being designated certifying officer at this time since the individual so named may be among those lost in the event of attack or other emergency.

Treasury Department is revising its instructions to government agencies in accordance with above views. You will be advised of any changes in these plans as they are received from Treasury, at which time appropriate designating forms and signature cards will be made available, together with instructions on the preparation of payrolls and other vouchers.

These plans should be called to the attention of all individuals in your chain of command and when next revised, your war plans should clearly reflect that this has been done.

Yesterday afternoon I took SAC L.L. Laughlin of the Washington Field Office and SA Halsey Smith to Shepherdstown and introduced them to [redacted] President, Shepherd College.

I did not indicate to [redacted] that there had been any major change in the Bureau's emergency plans because we have never given him details with respect to our plans. I advised [redacted] that we had so far been proceeding with a plan whereby the college facilities would serve both for emergency communications as well as operational requirements and that it had now become necessary for us to have our communications facilities in a place occupied by Bureau personnel competent to keep the facilities in current operating condition and we, of course, realized that this could not be accomplished through the excellent cooperation he had extended, that our plans so far as operational requirements for Shepherd College continue and that those aspects would be under the direction of Mr. Laughlin.

b6

[redacted] as usual, was most cooperative and understanding and told us that he still wanted to do everything possible to assist the Bureau in its needs and that he would not hesitate to contact Mr. Laughlin if any matters arose about which he should be informed.

I told him that I did want him to understand the situation so it would not raise a question in his mind if some of the communications facilities which had been installed were removed.

For record purposes only, Colonel Bliss of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company advised me that in planning the telephone circuit contemplated between the Bureau's headquarters at Washington and the relocation site at Quantico, a question had occurred in his mind as to whether this line should be brought into Washington via the Chestnut exchange in north Arlington or through east Falls Church. Bliss advised that the Chestnut exchange in his estimation was too close to the Pentagon and in various hypothetical test problems, the area of the Chestnut exchange was considered destroyed under Atomic bombing problem and, accordingly, he thought it might be well to bring the line in through east Falls Church where repeaters could be placed on the line in the event Washington was ever destroyed and we could pick up the Arlington end of the line easier from Falls Church.

In discussing this matter further, it develops that the line will come up from Quantico on U. S. 1 overhead going underground on the south side of the city of Alexandria just below Hunting Towers. It would then go through the Alexandria exchange and be brought out on Leesburg Pike underground to Seminary Hill where it would then come up out in the open to Falls Church.

I told Colonel Bliss that I felt it was unnecessary to have the line go to Falls Church or to the Chestnut exchange; that the repeaters could be put in at Alexandria itself. Bliss was inclined to agree unless we had some specific reason why we would want to have this line open on the nearby Washington end in the event Washington was destroyed so we could use it in the Falls Church area. I told him that we did not have any pressing specific reason or plans which would make it desirable to have the repeaters in Falls Church or in the Chestnut exchange; that if Washington were completely destroyed after the hubbub subsided it would be more likely that the nearby Washington end of the line could be best picked up right out of Alexandria since the lines in the city are underground and, accordingly, there was no point in extending the mileage out to Falls Church from downtown Alexandria. Bliss agreed and stated the line would come straight up U. S. 1 into Alexandria and from Alexandria to Washington repeaters would be put on the line in the telephone exchange main building in Alexandria.

Director, FBI

~~WAR PLANS TEST -~~

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1954

By letter August 26, 1954, Director Arthur S. Flemming of the Office of Defense Mobilization advised you of an "emergency relocation plan" and "interim assembly plan" test to be held on November 20, 1954. On September 9, September 21 and again in early November the FBI made contact with the Department to ascertain the extent to which the Department intended to participate in the November 20 test. Each contact resulted in advice that the Department's plans had not yet been crystallized.

At 5:55 P.M., November 10, 1954, Mr. W. Barrett McDonnell presented to an FBI representative two problems to be executed by the FBI from its evacuation point at Quantico on November 20. Although the FBI did not receive notice of these problems until after the close of business November 10, Mr. McDonnell wanted the results of FBI analysis and plans as to how the problems would be handled made available to the Department early the next workday, Friday, November 12. You will recall November 11 was a legal holiday.

I want to vigorously protest what appears to be unreasonable delay on the part of the Department in making available instructions as to the November 20 test. I am also very much concerned with the unreasonable deadline placed on the FBI to furnish to the Department by early Friday, November 12, its proposed problems relating to the November 20 test. Obviously any analysis would have to be prepared during the holiday period. The FBI stands ready to promptly execute any phase of its war plans and to discharge any of its duties; however, I do not believe that employees should be called upon to spend a holiday analyzing a problem which should have been made available a great deal earlier.

Unless advised to the contrary, the FBI will not participate in the November 20 test as outlined by the Department for the following reasons:

1. Our evacuation site at Quantico is not a week in connection with the training of Agents; any test evacuation, even on a limited scale, would necessarily interfere with our training program.

2. The two problems proposed for the FBI are phases of operations which receive our daily attention and have been frequently scrutinized; the Department is thoroughly cognizant of our plans with regard to the two problems; our plans are based upon actual experience in World War II with timely modifications.

I want to call to your attention the fact that we were informed at 5:55 P.M., November 10, by Mr. McDonnell of the identity of seven people who plan to participate in the test evacuation at Quantico on November 20, but five of these individuals are not on the list of Departmental employees previously scheduled for evacuation with the FBI.

The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization Service is scheduled to execute a problem from Quantico on November 20 and I want to bring to your attention that we have had no previous notification that the Commissioner was to be evacuated with the FBI. We will be unable to provide any communications facilities whatsoever for that agency inasmuch as our communications plans contemplated only sufficient facilities to provide for emergency traffic of the FBI.

In view of the extent of our training at Quantico and the fact that facilities there will be in use on November 20, it is presumed that the Department will wish to re-evaluate its plans for the November 20 test.

At 12:10 p.m. today Mr. W. Barrett McDonnell of the Department of Justice telephoned Inspector B. C. Brown with reference to the proposed simulation of handling of war plans problems at Quantico on 11/20/54. He inquired whether it would be possible to get the official Bureau's views on the Department's proposal for inclusion in a memorandum which he intended to furnish the Attorney General prior to the staff luncheon today. Inspector Brown told him it would not be possible due to the inadequacy of time allowed us. It was agreed by Mr. McDonnell that he would simply state in the memorandum which he is preparing for the Attorney General that due to the fact that the Department's plans were not furnished to the FBI until late Wednesday evening, 11/10/54, it is not possible to incorporate the Bureau's views concerning the proposed plans at this time.

This is to advise that the United States Marine Corps communication officer has installed a new cable to the Academy which contains the 15 pair requested by us for land line communications. ✓ mfg

Major McGuire advises that this cable will be connected and ready for use by the Central Mutual Telephone Company by November 15, 1954.

For your further information, the Central Mutual Telephone Company employees have been working for the past two weeks at the Academy on the installation of lines to the various rooms in the building designated by us for the telephone jacks. The switchboard has not arrived but foreman,   b6 b7C advises that the conduit pipes and junction points should be installed by November 19, and that it is then a matter of connecting the end of the tie lines to the switch board when it does arrive. He indicated that the telephone company would meet the deadline of December 1.

Special Agent in Charge H. L. Sloan, Quantico, has advised that the Marine Corps recently begun to use electrical power purchased commercially rather than such power as they generate locally as was done heretofore. Mr. Sloan advised that most of the power used by the Marine Corps comes from the Possum Point Plant which is located just a few miles from Quantico. He further advised that all emergency electrical generating equipment now in the possession of the Marine Corps has been allocated for emergency communications and hospital facilities on the Base.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the Laboratory survey the emergency relocation site at Quantico to determine what emergency electrical generating equipment should be provided for the Bureau's relocation site to insure that essential operations can continue should a power failure develop.

1. COMMUNICATIONSA. TELEPHONES AND TELETYPES

It is anticipated that all telephones and teletypes will be installed at the relocation site by 12-1-54.

B. RADIO

Mr. Conrad of the Laboratory has advised that he anticipates completing the installation of the 450 watt CW (Code) radio and the FM (Automobile) radio stations by 11-18-54.

The target date for the installation of the microwave radio at the relocation site is still 1-15-55.

2. VITAL RECORDS TO QUANTICO

All vital records, as set forth in Executives Conference memoranda 9-14-54, are now at Quantico.

A file cabinet full of code books will go to Quantico 11-12-54. It is anticipated that other cryptographic materials will be forwarded to Quantico by 12-1-54. Communications and Cryptographic Sections following closely.

3. EMERGENCY GENERATOR

Laboratory advises a private contractor has completed a survey on the installation of the emergency generators in the Justice building and has stated installation could be completed for not to exceed $6,000.

5. FREE MOVEMENT OF PERSONNEL DURING EMERGENCY

General Yount, Chief of Transportation, U. S. Army, by letter 11-2-54, advised that the Bureau would be informed when the Department of the Army had taken action regarding priority markings (distinctive detachable signs) to be used on vehicles during periods of martial law.

6. EMERGENCY TRANSPORTATION

Mr. Nichols has contacted Mr. Anderson of the Department of Defense relative to the Military making available a rescue boat and a helicopter to be used in the evacuation of Washington. Mr. Anderson advised that he considers the supplying of these items of transportation the responsibility of the Department of Defense. Steps have been taken to have the boat and helicopter made available.

7. PAYROLL

Treasury Department has to date not issued specific instructions to Governmental agencies relative to the handling of payrolls and emergency disbursements during periods of emergency. They contemplate, however, that this will be handled on a regional basis. Liaison and Administrative Division following.

8. DISPOSAL OF FILES

The Laboratory is continuing to follow developments in methods of destruction of large volumes of files. No method more suitable than burning has been found to date.

9. EQUIPMENT

Items of equipment recommended for storage at Quantico submitted 10-18-54. The Administrative Division attempting to locate necessary items which can be obtained at no cost to Bureau and will expedite the placing at Quantico of all necessary items.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Harbo RH

DATE: 11/10/54

FROM : E. D. Mason *EDM*SUBJECT: WAR PLANS TEST -
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1954SYNOPSIS

At 5:55 P.M., Wednesday, November 10, Mr. W. Barrett McDonnell, Special Assistant - Policy Planning, Internal Security Division, Department of Justice, approached War Plans Supervisor J. E. McArdle and delivered a 3-page document concerning proposed problems to be put into effect by the Department, the FBI and Immigration and Naturalization Service on November 20 during war plans test.

All problems are to be executed, according to McDonnell, from the evacuation location of the agency. McDonnell told McArdle that the Department needed a statement as to the extent to which the FBI plans to handle the problems; should be received by the Department early Friday morning, November 12; (November 11 is a legal holiday). He further advised McArdle that 7 Departmental representatives will proceed to the FBI evacuation site at Quantico on Saturday, November 20, to work out phases of the problem.

The FBI's problems are:

1. To simulate obtaining from the Secretary of State authority to effectuate the program for placing into protective custody diplomatic and official representatives of nations as the Secretary of State shall specify ... and simulate issuing to appropriate FBI personnel instructions necessary for implementing above program.

2. Simulate obtaining authority from the Attorney General or his representative to put into effect the program for the arrest and detention of all persons dangerous to the national defense and public safety, to simulate seizing property and to simulate issuing necessary instructions to FBI personnel.

After discussing this matter with you, I promptly advised Mr. Nichols of the request and stated that in our opinion the problems outlined were silly and that the Department was unreasonable in providing such a short deadline. At Mr. Nichols's recommendation, I got in contact with Mr. McDonnell and I told him that he could be assured that the FBI would not have a memorandum of its plans available to the Department early Friday morning as he wishes and that in my opinion the Department acted in a most unreasonable fashion by waiting until such a late date to send over its request for FBI action and then set such a short deadline. Mr. McDonnell stated that he realizes the deadline was short but that the Attorney General was planning to leave town Friday morning and that it would have to be presented to the Attorney General that the FBI could not comply with the Department's wishes. I told McDonnell by all means to advise the Attorney General that the FBI could not comply and that the reason we could not comply was because of the unreasonable attitude on the part of the Department in holding until the last minute its instructions for the FBI and then requesting instantaneous action on involved matters with an unreasonably short deadline. I told McDonnell in presenting this matter to the Attorney General to make certain that he pointed out that the FBI was not advised of the problem until 5:55 P.M. on Wednesday, November 10, and that Thursday was a legal holiday and the Department wanted a reply Friday morning first thing. I pointed out to McDonnell that the Director could not be reached at the moment; that the plans involved were highly complex and involved the security of the United States; that the Director would have to pass upon each and every phase before anything could go to the Department.

I pointed out to McDonnell that the Department has been on notice 2 months of the contemplated war plans test November 20 but apparently had done nothing until the last minute and then requested the FBI to make its views available as to several complex matters. I pointed out to Mr. McDonnell that apparently Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization Service (General Swing) is scheduled to go to Quantico on November 20 to participate in the test and to then simulate a problem involving the arrest of all enemy aliens.

I told McDonnell that somebody had better re-evaluate this thinking in the Department of Justice because General Swing was going to be a silent partner in that the FBI had no communications whatsoever to make available to him; communications have been planned to take care of only essential FBI traffic. I told McDonnell that the last we heard General Swing was to evacuate to Buffalo and that the FBI had no facilities whatsoever from which to run an organization such as Immigration and Naturalization Service and that it was ridiculous to even think that he could operate from Quantico when we had barely enough facilities for ourselves.

I told McDonnell that it was most unreasonable on the part of the Department of Justice to even plan for problems at Quantico on Saturday because we run classes 7 days a week at Quantico and it is irresponsible to consider suspending classes for Agents from all over the country for the purpose of having groups of people roam around in empty classrooms playing useless games.

McDonnell was told that as the Department knows our communications facilities are not yet complete at Quantico and will not be operative for some time except for the one telephone used in the daily work.

McDonnell made available the names of 7 Departmental people who will participate in a test evacuation to Quantico on November 20. As you know, we have made plans to accommodate 10 Departmental people at Quantico if and when we ever have to evacuate under a real emergency. Of the 7 people proposed for evacuation on November 20, 5 are not scheduled for evacuation under actual circumstances according to the latest information furnished to us by the Department and the sixth person is listed for ultimate evacuation only as an alternate. In other words, only Mr. Foley of the Department who will participate in the November 20 test has been carried as an actual evacuee. The net result appears to be that either the Department is not keeping the FBI posted as who will ultimately be evacuated or the Department is planning to acquaint the "second team" with our plans.

Inquiry was made as to whether McDonnell felt that the 7 Departmental people would likely be admitted to the Marine Base and he stated that this thought had not even occurred to the Department and I took occasion to point out to him that there were apparently a number of things that the Department had not considered and this showed the danger of the Department cooking up last minute plans without even considering the important aspects.

In concluding our conversation, I again assured Mr. McDonnell that the FBI would not have a program for the November 20 test available to the Department by Friday, November 12, and that under no circumstances would we contemplate calling

[REDACTED] b7E
[REDACTED] to advise them about our problems; that even though the Deputy Attorney General planned to be at [redacted] we had no intention of discussing telephonically or even mentioning over the phone the terms of "detention of Communists" or "placing enemy diplomats under protective custody." Mr. McDonnell agreed with this view and stated that he did not expect that much would be gained by the FBI endeavoring to execute the problems laid out for us as specified on page 1 of this memorandum. b7E

CONCLUSIONS:

1. Department was notified by Office of Defense Mobilization August 26 of proposed war plans test November 20; did not notify FBI of its test plans until 5:55 P.M., 11/10/54 -- unreasonable delay.
2. Department placed an unreasonable deadline on FBI in requesting analysis by FBI of the proposed plans to reach Department early Friday, November 12, when such plans were not delivered to FBI until after close of business preceding workday.
3. Nothing would be gained by FBI simulating execution of the programs relating to detention of Communists and arrest of enemy diplomats; there is always the possibility of a security breach and these programs are so important they should remain closely guarded secrets.
4. We will have classes in session at Quantico on November 20 and evacuation by Departmental people along with any test problems will interrupt training.
5. We should lodge a vigorous protest with the Attorney General for the manner in which the Department handled this entire episode.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. The attached memorandum be dispatched to the Attorney General with carbon copies to Deputy Attorney General Rogers and Assistant Attorney General Tompkins of the Security Division, whom we have been led to believe is supervising this program.

2. The FBI not participate in the war games planned by the Department for us on November 20. If approved, the memorandum mentioned above covers this point.

This will record that Mr. W. Barrett McDonnell, Special Assistant - Policy and Planning of the Internal Security Division, Department of Justice, appeared in Room 5250, Justice Building, at 5:55 p.m. on 11/10/54, and presented a carbon copy of a document consisting of three pages, which Mr. McDonnell said contained the two problems which the Department desired the Bureau to handle from our relocation site on 11/20/54. It was noted that page 1 of this document pertained to the Bureau's "PRODIP" program, page 2 consisted of a problem wherein the Bureau would simulate certain phases of the Bureau's "DETCOM" program, and page 3 was an exercise for the Immigration and Naturalization Service and pertained to the alien enemy program.

Mr. McDonnell explained that he was aware this was a very late date for presentation of these problems, particularly when he needed an answer as early on Friday, 11/12/54, as possible since the Attorney General was leaving town Friday evening and he had expressed an interest in what the Departmental plans are for the 11/20/54 test exercise. Mr. McDonnell advised that he was desirous of getting the Bureau's views as to our carrying out these problems in the time limit above mentioned. He was advised that I could make no promise as to when we could get our response to him inasmuch as it would have to be cleared through the interested division at the Seat of Government and then, of course, the Director would have to personally clear anything of this kind.

I asked Mr. McDonnell if there would be any Departmental representatives present. He advised that there would be certain Departmental individuals present, that the number would be less than 10 and would be those who were interested in the detention programs. He advised that he was not sure who would be present but expected that Messrs. Tompkins, Foley, Doherty (phonetic), and Gen. Swing would probably be among those from the Department who would go to Quantico for the test exercise.

Mr. McDonnell left Room 5250 at approximately 6:03 p.m., 11/10/54. There was no discussion as to what Departmental representatives who would be present might be doing during the test exercise while at Quantico.

BUREAU WAR PLANS - EMERGENCY

HELICOPTERS FOR S.O.

In connection with our planning in the event of the necessity for emergency evacuation of Washington, we have given considerable thought to the moving of Bureau key personnel to our emergency headquarters under varying conditions. As you know the possibility does exist that in the event of a bombing, there might be very little notice and very little time. There is no question but that under certain circumstances, traffic conditions would be paralyzed in Washington.

In view of the imperative necessity for the Bureau to place its war plans into operation without delay, it will be necessary for Bureau key personnel to proceed to our evacuation headquarters with a minimum of delay. After considering various possibilities, we have concluded that the most expeditious and certain means of getting from the Justice Department to our evacuation headquarters under the most adverse traffic conditions, would be to proceed to the waterfront and then utilize a boat for the purpose of proceeding to our evacuation headquarters. It is further felt that alternate means of transportation should be provided and the most expeditious means would be by helicopter. It has been determined that a helicopter could land on the Justice Department roof and the Armed Services, of course, have helicopters stationed in the Washington area. It has further been determined that the Navy has several high speed rescue boats in mothballs which could be reactivated at very little cost and maintained at the Washington Navy Yard.

Accordingly, we have explored the possibilities of effecting such arrangements with Deputy Secretary of Defense Anderson. This was handled on a very informal and confidential basis. Mr. Anderson took the position that not only should a program such as this be worked out but that it was absolutely necessary in view of the FBI's responsibilities and their close relationship to the responsibilities of the Armed Services in times of extreme emergency. Mr. Anderson agreed that it was preferable to work out the arrangements for this on a high level prior to taking it up with the Services. However, Mr. Anderson would go a step further than we even suggested; namely, of having a suitable boat on duty at the Navy Yard at all times operating under instructions to be at a given point when the signal came in and that likewise, a helicopter would be set aside under operating instructions to proceed immediately to the roof of the Justice Department Building when the signal is given.

Mr. Anderson felt that this arrangement should be such that it could be depended upon and not subject to interference by the Services. Mr. Anderson stated that the best way to handle this matter would be for you to mention it to the President and advise the President that informal discussions had been had with Mr. Anderson; that the Defense Establishment would be glad to supply the service if it met with the President's approval. Mr. Anderson stated that he could direct the Services to provide these facilities and at the same time advise them that such orders were irrevocable by the Services as they were the President's instructions. Mr. Anderson further stated that he would discuss the matter with Secretary Wilson and Admiral Radford to insure unanimity and agreement in the Defense Establishment.

If you concur with Deputy Secretary of Defense Anderson's views on implementing this matter, you may want to take it up with the President prior to your South American trip. For your convenience, there is attached a suggested memorandum for the President's signature directed to the Defense Establishment.

SUGGESTED MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT'S SIGNATURE TO THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

The Attorney General has advised me of the informal discussions by officials of the FBI with Deputy Secretary of Defense Anderson regarding evacuation plans in the event of an extreme emergency.

In view of the responsibilities of the FBI and its close relationship with the responsibilities of the Armed Services, I direct that plans be immediately put into effect to make a helicopter available to transport key FBI personnel to its evacuation site and that a Navy rescue boat, which I understand is now available, be assigned to the Washington Navy Yard to transport key FBI personnel to its emergency evacuation headquarters.

In your memorandum of November 12, 1954, you requested that as soon as possible I designate a representative of the FBI to meet with representatives of the Immigration and Naturalization Service and the Internal Security Division of the Department to consider making available to the Immigration and Naturalization Service our reserve relocation site at [redacted] along with the transmitting equipment installed near there.

Mr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, in approving our proposed move from [redacted] as an emergency relocation site, stated in a letter dated September 22, 1954, "We believe it might be wise to retain [redacted] until such time as it is apparent that your relocation plans would not, under any circumstances, require its use".

In light of this comment, I decided to [redacted] as a reserve relocation site for the Seat of Government operations of the FBI.

Inasmuch as our Washington Field Office, after considerable effort, had not found a relocation site, on October 13, 1954, I instructed the Special Agent in Charge to consider [redacted] the emergency relocation site for the Washington Field Office, subject to use by the Seat of Government should such become necessary in an emergency.

Although our primary evacuation site will be at [redacted] we will still need [redacted] for the use of our Washington Field Office and possibly for Seat of Government operations. Therefore, I do not feel that we should be forced to release the [redacted] location.

Mr. Glavin pointed out at that time the absolute necessity for temporary emergency headquarters for the Bureau and that it was absolutely necessary that his discussion with the Board be maintained on a confidential basis. Mr. Glavin reported that the members of the Board were in entire agreement with the Bureau's position that no record be made of his appearance before the Board and no record was made in the minutes of the [redacted] meeting concerning his discussion. He further recorded that the Board unanimously approved the Bureau's request for the use [redacted] as an emergency evacuation headquarters and at that time voted to have [redacted]

[redacted] designated as the contact with the Bureau in any future discussions concerning [redacted]

In accordance with suggestion contained in Bulet of 10/13/54, Assistant Director D. J. PARSONS and I called on [redacted] on 11/4/54 at his office [redacted]

Mr. PARSONS explained to [redacted] that in the future I would be in contact with him relative to operational matters in connection with this program. [redacted] was most cordial and indicated a willingness to continue to cooperate fully with the FBI.

The school campus and facilities were examined and found to be satisfactory. A catalog describing the available facilities and maps depicting the various routes [redacted] have been obtained and filed for possible future use. It would be appreciated if the Bureau would furnish WFO any available floor plans or other items of interest in order to obviate duplication of effort along this line.

It does not appear that WFO will have need for the telephone switchboard and special lines now terminating in the basement [redacted] Similarly, we will have no need for the teletype machines presently installed in that building.

Reference is made to my memo to Mr. Tamm dated 3-17-54 which summarized the circuit capacities of our microwave facilities [redacted] [redacted] Referenced memorandum pointed out that negotiations were under way to have a cable installed between the microwave station [redacted] and that the problem of providing switchboard facilities within [redacted] was being studied. As you know, due to the decision to move the relocation center [redacted] the arrangements for the cable installation have been cancelled. However, a switchboard for the microwave circuits will still be required [redacted] to provide complete flexibility.

SYNOPSIS

100K
Partial ~~test~~ of evacuation plans of Federal agencies held June 14; another such test to be held November 20. Bureau participated in June 14 test only to extent of having a liaison man present

[redacted] Federal Civil Defense and Office of Defense Mobilization managed the Government-wide test June 14. During November 20 test liaison agents will evacuate with the agencies with which they do business if so requested by the agencies. b7E

(Data)
On November 10, Department outlined its aim to have 7 Departmental representatives go to FBI relocation site [redacted] on November 20 and there work out 2 problems. One problem relates to the arrest of diplomats of enemy countries and the other problem relates to the arrest of dangerous Communists. Bureau protested; [redacted] pointed out we have classes [redacted] nothing to be gained by the problems as outlined; all this contained in Director's memorandum to Attorney General November 12 requesting that the Department re-evaluate its plans for the FBI.

2 ENCL
Assistant Attorney General Tompkins advised Mason, November 18, that the Department has re-evaluated its plans upon receipt of the Director's November 12 memorandum: no one from the Department will go to the FBI relocation site [redacted] on November 20; but since the Department must report to ODM that there has been full participation in test exercise (the nature of the test is left to each agency head to decide) the Department plans to have Assistant Attorney General Rankin telephone the SAC [redacted] on Saturday, November 20, and state "authority granted for test of problem 2." This cryptic message will be Rankin's way of simulating the granting of authority by the Department for the FBI to put into effect the problem relating to the detention of Communists. Tompkins stated no subsequent FBI action will be necessary. The receipt of this telephone call by the SAC [redacted] will constitute full FBI participation in the test exercise.

Tompkins states that 7 Departmental representatives will go to Rooms 51 and 52, [redacted] the relocation site of the Department of Justice. There they will have a round-table discussion for 2 or 3 hours as to problems attendant to the program relating to the detention of Communists; Tompkins issues an invitation to an FBI representative to be present in the event the Director feels this desirable; Mr. Belmont and I oppose having an FBI representative present at [redacted] because there is nothing to be gained by our participation; the only responsibility that the Department has in putting the detention of Communists program into effect is to grant us authority and from then on the job is up to us.

Tompkins casually mentioned that in view of the publicity in the "Washington Post and Times Herald" today to the effect that 2,000 key Government employees will evacuate on Saturday, it may be presumed that after Saturday the relocation site of just about every Government agency will be jeopardized except the site of the FBI. There will be no FBI evacuation.

Internal Security Division of Dept. W. Barrett McDonnell has a suspicion that some other Federal agencies may telephone the FBI on Saturday in connection with any phase of evacuation problems that those agencies may be working out; Department has no knowledge as to what plans or problems other agencies may have; McDonnell refers to the possibility of such calls as being purely guess work on his part. Memorandum attached alerts division heads at Seat of Government, Washington Field and [redacted] as to the possibility of such calls and instructs that FBI representatives receive any information which may be volunteered but take care to give no information of any type to any caller.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. No FBI representative go to Departmental evacuation site [redacted] on November 20. Mason will handle.

Ben Willis of Dept was notified by Mason 9:40 AM
11/19/54 M

2. No other FBI action be planned in connection with the November 20 test exercise except that each division at the Seat of Government be alerted and Messrs. McArdle, Mason and I will be on hand in this division to answer any inquiries which may arise.

DETAILS

On June 14, 1954, a partial test was held of certain phases of evacuation plans of key Federal agencies; Bureau did not participate in that test except to have a Liaison Agent present [redacted] The June 14 test was primarily under the control of Federal Civil Defense Administration and involved evacuation of a few officials of each agency to the wartime relocation site and the establishing of communications [redacted] The Office of Defense Mobilization which, on behalf of the White House, supervises war plans of key Federal agencies has planned a test for Saturday, November 20. This test was ordered by Flemming of Office of Defense Mobilization in a letter to the Attorney General dated August 26, 1954; that letter set out no instructions for FBI and did not even mention the FBI by name.

You will recall that at 5:55 P.M., November 10, Mr. W. Barrett McDonnell of the Internal Security Division of the Department of Justice made available a 3-page document outlining 2 plans to be put into effect by the FBI from its [redacted] relocation site on November 20:

- Plan I. To simulate obtaining authority from Secretary of State to put into effect the plan for arresting diplomatic representatives of enemy nations ... and to simulate carrying out instructions under this program.
- Plan II. To simulate obtaining authority from the Attorney General or his representative to put into effect the program for the arrest and detention of dangerous Communists (Security Index people) and to simulate issuing the necessary instructions to FBI personnel.

This matter was covered fully in Mason's memorandum to me dated 11/10/54, copy attached, which concluded that the Department was responsible for unreasonable delay in not notifying the FBI of any action to be taken in the November 20 test until November 10 although the Department was aware on August 26 of the test planned for November 20. It further concluded that nothing would be gained by FBI simulating execution of the 2 programs named; we will have classes at [redacted] on November 20; we should lodge a vigorous protest with Attorney General for the way in which the Department handled this entire episode.

This memorandum was approved and on November 12 a memorandum went to the Attorney General pointing out that we felt nothing would be gained by carrying out the 2 proposed programs laid out for the FBI for execution on November 20 and the Attorney General was requested to re-evaluate his instructions. If this memorandum was approved there would then be nothing for the FBI to do in connection with the November 20 test. Mr. Ben Willis of the Department advised telephonically November 18 that the Department has re-evaluated the problems laid out for the FBI and that no action is expected of the FBI; no Departmental people will appear [redacted] on November 20. Assistant Attorney General Tompkins confirmed this to Mason 11/18/54.

WHAT IS THE NOVEMBER 20 TEST:

An opportunity to test continuity of Government from the relocation site of each agency by having a few key members of each agency's staff proceed to the relocation site and there take whatever action is felt desirable by the agency itself to test any phase of its war plans.

WHAT IS THE GENERAL OPERATION:

Key representatives of each agency proceed to evacuation site while the top man of the agency proceeds [redacted] [redacted] Office of Defense Mobilization will manage entire test.

IS THE FBI PARTICIPATING IN THE NOVEMBER 20 TEST:

The Department laid out two problems for the FBI as mentioned above, such problems to be simulated on November 20; Bureau asked the Department to re-evaluate; the Department has re-evaluated and now no overt action is required by FBI. Seven members of the Department will go to their site [redacted] Assistant Attorney General Rankin will represent the Attorney General in this test by going to [redacted] and will, during the day, 11/20 phone SAC [redacted] and say: "Authority granted for test of Problem #2." This is the Department's way of simulating the granting of authority to put into effect the plan to arrest Communists listed on the Security Index. No FBI action would subsequently be necessary; the receipt of this call by SAC [redacted] thus makes it possible for the Department to report to the Office of Defense Mobilization subsequent to the test that the FBI and the rest of the Department participated in the problem.

[redacted] of the Internal Security Division of the Department advised Inspector B. C. Brown 11/16/54 that the FBI should be prepared to possibly receive mysterious telephone calls from other agencies as they are working out various phases of problems laid out for them for execution on November 20. For example, [ ] thought that it might be that a representative of the State Department will call the FBI in connection with some phase of the program for the arrest and protection of diplomatic officials of enemy countries. We have had no specific instructions from the Office of Defense Mobilization, the Department has given us no specific instructions other than those of November 10, which were re-evaluated, and therefore the FBI has no assignment to perform on November 20.

OUR RELOCATION SITE:

If we had to evacuate tonight it would be [ ] because communications facilities are intact there: within the next few weeks we will be able to evacuate [ ] when communications facilities are installed. The SAC at [ ] will be alert to any "mysterious calls" which may be received from any other agency. [ ] will also be alert to receipt of a telephone call from Assistant Attorney General Rankin on November 20 regarding "Problem No. 2" as mentioned earlier.

HAVE WE FOLLOWED UP THE STATUS OF THIS PROGRAM WITH THE DEPARTMENT:

Yes. On November 18, Mason conferred with Assistant Attorney General William Tompkins who advised:

1. No Departmental people will go to [ ] for the November 20 test; seven Departmental people will arrive at the Department's relocation site [ ]. Since the hotel will be in use by the public at the time, Departmental people will occupy Rooms 51 and 52.

2. Tompkins agrees that there is no need for the FBI to carry out problems relating to protection of foreign diplomats or the detention of Communists; Department has re-evaluated these programs subsequent to receipt of the Director's memorandum of November 12.

3. The only purpose of having Assistant Attorney General Rankin telephone the SAC [ ] and grant authority to put Problem No. 2 into effect is so that the Department can report to the Office of Defense Mobilization that all branches of the Department (including the FBI) participated in the November 20 test exercise.

4. When the seven Departmental officials arrive [ ] they will have a round-table discussion as to aspects of the program relating to the detention of Communists; Tompkins advised Mason November 18 that if the Director felt that a representative of the FBI should be present that representative would be very welcome indeed and Mason further advised that Tompkins' invitation would be brought to the Director's attention; Mr. Belmont feels that there is nothing for any representative of the FBI to gain in listening to the Department's discussion and that the only responsibility the Department has at the commencement of the program relating to detention of Communists is to grant authority to put the program into effect; Mr. Belmont sees no advantage which could conceivably come to the FBI by having an FBI representative present at the Departmental evacuation site on November 20.

5. Tompkins expressed the view that because of newspaper publicity on November 18 relating to the November 20 test the relocation sites of just about all Federal agencies other than the FBI would be compromised during the course of the November 20 test. b7E Tompkins expressed the view that we were wise in not having a group of people go to our site [ ] during the November 20 test.

CONCLUSIONS:

The only action required by the FBI in the November 20 test exercise is for SAC [ ] receive a telephone call from Assistant Attorney General Rankin who will be at [ ] (in lieu of Deputy Attorney General Rogers, who has an appointment with the President) and there will be no further action required by SAC [ ] after receiving the phone call; this phone call will make it possible for the Department to report to the Office of Defense Mobilization that there was full participation by the Department in various aspects of the test problem. No advantage is seen in having an FBI representative present at the Department's relocation site in [ ] on November 20.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. The attached memorandum go forth to Seat of Government division heads, Washington Field [redacted] alerting them as to the possibility of test calls from other agencies or curious members of the public during the test exercise on November 20.

2. No representative of the FBI accompany the seven Departmental officials [redacted] on November 20. If this is approved, Mason will so advise Mr. Ben Willis of the Department.

SYNOPSIS:

By memorandum dated November 12, 1954, the Attorney General requested the Bureau designate a representative to meet with representatives of Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) and Internal Security Division of the Department for the purpose of ascertaining whether the FBI could turn over to INS the FBI reserve relocation site [redacted]. If we had to evacuate today we would go [redacted] because communications facilities are installed there; communications facilities are only partially complete [redacted] and will not be fully completed until early January, 1955. FBI cannot turn over [redacted] to Department for use of INS because Washington Field Office is scheduled to evacuate [redacted] and Bureau is holding [redacted] as a reserve relocation site for use in event [redacted] becomes untenable. Office of Defense Mobilization (OTM) by letter September 22, 1954, instructed FBI not release [redacted] until it is apparent that our relocation plans "would not under any circumstances require its [redacted] use". Therefore, FBI must hold [redacted] [redacted] relations with Department as to relocation site set out in detail. Proposed memorandum to Attorney General attached, advising [redacted] cannot be released because of OTM instruction and because site needed by Washington Field Office.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the attached memorandum go forward to the Attorney General, with carbon copies to Deputy

DETAILS:

By memorandum dated November 12, 1954, the Attorney General requested the Bureau designate a representative to meet with representatives of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) and the Internal Security Division of the Department to explore the possibility of turning over to INS our reserve relocation site [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] INS has been unable to find suitable relocation site; remainder of the Department of Justice (excluding the Attorney General and nine top officials, who will evacuate with FBI) is now scheduled to evacuate [REDACTED]

WHY WE CANNOT TURN [REDACTED] OVER TO INS

(1) Mr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), by letter September 22, 1954, approved FBI changing its relocation site [REDACTED] [REDACTED] instructed FBI retain college facilities [REDACTED] until such time as it is apparent our relocation plans would not under any circumstances require the use of [REDACTED]

(2) The Washington Field Office has been instructed to use [REDACTED] as its relocation site. If [REDACTED] becomes untenable [REDACTED] will also be used as an alternate evacuation site for Seat of Government operations.

RELATIONS WITH THE DEPARTMENT AS TO RELOCATION PLANS

(1) On October 17, 1952, a memorandum was sent to the Attorney General advising that [REDACTED] [REDACTED] had approved the use [REDACTED] by the FBI;

[redacted] had been empowered by Board to work with FBI; and arrangements made with owners of nearby location for setting up of microwave and radio station adjacent [redacted] in conformance with White House instructions.

(2) On October 8, 1953, the Attorney General requested the Director to brief ranking staff of the Department on FBI War Plans. This was done on October 13, 1953. Deputy Attorney General Rogers appointed a committee to coordinate War Plans for remainder of Department.

(3) On October 28, 1953, the Director made available to the Attorney General and Deputy Attorney General instructions by FBI to field and Seat of Government concerning preparation of War Plans.

(4) On December 17, 1953, the Attorney General requested the Bureau accommodate at FBI relocation site the Attorney General and nine top members of his staff; Director agreed in memorandum to Attorney General dated December 17, 1953.

(5) On January 11, 1954, in response to Mr. Donegan's request to former Assistant to the Director D. M. Ladd, the Department was notified that the Bureau would make available one Stenographer for use of the Attorney General at the relocation site.

(6) On July 26, 1954, a memorandum to the Attorney General advised [redacted] as a relocation site posed certain practical problems and we were contemplating requesting ODM authority to use [redacted] as our relocation site; Attorney General would be notified of our findings.

(7) On September 13, 1954, a memorandum to the Attorney General advised we had completed inquiries as to the possibility of setting up communications [redacted] and that ODM was being advised of the Bureau's decision [redacted] as our relocation site if ODM would approve.

(8) On September 22, 1954, ODM approved [redacted] as our emergency relocation site but suggested we retain [redacted] until such time as it is apparent that our "relocation plans would not under any circumstances require its [redacted] use".

(9) On September 24, 1954, the Attorney General was advised by memorandum that [ ] would be our new emergency relocation site and that we were retaining [ ] as an alternate relocation site although the communications facilities [ ]

(10) On November 12, 1954, the Attorney General requested the FBI to designate a representative to meet with representatives of the INS and Internal Security Division of the Department to explore the possibility of turning [ ] over to INS.

POSITION OF OFFICE OF DEFENSE MOBILIZATION (ODM)

ODM supervises War Plans of key Federal Agencies; FBI is a key Agency.

RELOCATION PLANS OF WASHINGTON FIELD OFFICE (WFO)

After months of unsuccessful efforts to find a suitable relocation site, On October 13, 1954, the Bureau instructed the Washington Field Office to plan to [ ] Special Agent in Charge L. L. Laughlin was introduced to [ ] this ends WFO's problems with regard to a relocation site.

STATUS OF COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT [ ]

(1) Telephone and teletype equipment is still installed pending completion of installation of such facilities [ ] anticipated by December 1, 1954; thereafter, to be removed [ ]

(2) 450 watt code radio station, for use in contacting [ ] and other field offices, is still intact at [ ] meanwhile, another station is being built at [ ] currently located in a building which also houses the microwave station, will be removed to [ ] for storage and ultimate use by WFO.

(3) The microwave station is intact [ ] Laboratory estimates the Motorola people can dismantle the station [ ] and rebuild it [ ] (original installation cost approximately [ ] and to build a new one [ ] would cost roughly [ ] and take about nine months to obtain materials).

The Department of Justice Administrative Division feels that specific authorization should be obtained from the General Services Administration if we are going to negotiate directly with the Motorola people rather than solicit bids. The Bureau's position is that initial authority to purchase and install microwave equipment continues and the transfer from [redacted] is merely a move of the installation originally authorized; decision from General Accounting Office is being secured; will take ten days to dismantle microwave station and four more weeks to rebuild it.

WHERE DO WE EVACUATE?

If we had to evacuate today we would evacuate to [redacted] because communications facilities are intact. By early December, 1954, we would be able to evacuate to [redacted] with the exception of the microwave equipment; should an evacuation then be necessary we would simply have to do without the microwave equipment. Confidential records and office supplies are already [redacted]

CONCLUSIONS:

(1) The Office of Defense Mobilization has instructed that we retain [redacted] until we are sure that we will not under any circumstances require its use; Washington Field Office will definitely require [redacted] if evacuation from Washington becomes necessary; and Bureau may have to use [redacted]

(2) We had extreme difficulties in negotiating a lease with [redacted]. After much negotiating and personal salesmanship, a Laboratory man was able to get the heirs to agree to a lease for the use of certain land by the FBI for a microwave antenna. No provision exists in lease for turning it over to another Agency; lease can be terminated [redacted] if they wish on 30 days notice.

(3) It appears that the Administrative Division of the Department of Justice (Mr. Andretta's organization) has resisted our efforts to deal directly with the Motorola Corporation concerning the moving of the microwave station from [redacted] and that his interest in this matter could have been what initiated a desire to turn over [redacted] to INS.

(4) Motorola equipment was used originally by the Bureau to be compatible with equipment used by other Agencies involved in the microwave network. We have dealt with Motorola relative to the transfer of this equipment [redacted] because they are most familiar with their own equipment; they are already cognizant of this ~~Top Secret~~ network; and it was deemed inadvisable to bring other companies into the picture.

Since the cost of moving the microwave station exceeded $500, which under regulations requires the solicitation of bids, it was deemed advisable, in view of the confidential nature of the project, to seek authority to negotiate with Motorola to handle this relocation. Under the Property Management Act the Administrator of the General Services Administration is empowered to authorize heads of agencies to negotiate where circumstances merit.

The "Washington Post and Times Herald," November 18, 1954, carries on the front page a news item to the effect that approximately 2,000 key government employees will proceed to the relocation sites of their respective agencies on Saturday, November 20, as a means of testing evacuation plans.

It may be that on Saturday, November 20, the FBI will receive calls by phone or in person from representatives of other agencies who may be endeavoring to execute simulated problems relating to the wartime activities of those agencies. A representative of the Department of Justice conjectured that perhaps the State Department might contact the FBI in connection with plans for the protection of diplomatic representatives of enemy nations. In the event any representative of the FBI is contacted by members of the public or a representative of any other Federal agency you are to arrange for the appropriate FBI employee to receive all information which may be volunteered and to give out no information whatsoever. No information is to be released as to whether the FBI is participating in the test or whether it is working on any simulated problems or has in part evacuated. Our policy will be to answer queries with the statement that we have no information which can be made available. It is not beyond the realm of possibility that newspaper reporters or persons not entitled to receive information might endeavor to find out what data they can pick up from Federal organizations through phone calls. Mr. Nichols' office will handle press.

Very truly yours,

You will recall that on September 13, 1954, I submitted a memorandum reflecting that the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) was planning to conduct a test of the Emergency Relocation Plans and the Interim Assembly Plans on November 20, 1954. The test is to be conducted from the relocation site of each participating agency.

Present Bureau War Plans reflect that Bureau Liaison Agents will accompany representatives of other sensitive Federal Agencies to their relocation site should evacuation be ordered. The Liaison Section has made assignments as to which Agents will accompany the agency in question.

It is believed that our Liaison Agents may be able, through observation and casual conversation, to pick up certain highlights of the war planning of other sensitive Government Agencies. It is further believed that these highlights and essential aspects of the planning of other Government Agencies may prove helpful in further Bureau war planning.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that if invited by other sensitive Government Agencies Bureau Liaison Agents accompany the Agency in question in the test exercise of November 20, 1954, and that the Liaison Agents prepare detailed accounts of their observations and other information which they are able to gather relative to the war planning of the agency they accompanied.

[redacted] Special Assistant - Policy and Planning, Internal Security Division, Department of Justice, telephoned Inspector B. C. Brown at 3:10 p.m. today, stating that he merely wanted to alert the Bureau to the possibility of its receiving some mysterious calls in connection with the war games this coming Saturday. Pressed for more details, [redacted] stated that he knew of no agencies which might telephone the Bureau, but he thought it possible that some calls might come from the State Department in connection with diplomatic detention. He stated that it was also possible that any such calls to the Bureau might not come over land line telephone, but might be transmitted by radio. He had no further particulars as to how the Bureau would be reached concerning radio. He stated that he thought it would be a good idea if personnel on duty in the Bureau Saturday were alerted to the possibility of receiving such calls which might be couched in language not otherwise recognizable.

RECOMMENDATION

That this information be made available to responsible personnel on duty in each Division this coming Saturday.

As you know, on Saturday, November 20, 1954, there is scheduled a practice operation in connection with manning the emergency sites by some of the Government agencies. The Bureau is not participating in this operation. In view of the fact that it might be possible for the Bureau to receive some telephone calls in connection with this practice run, through liaison it was determined by checking with the U.S. Air Force Command Post at the Pentagon, Office of Defense Mobilization and the White House Signal Corps, that the Bureau would not be involved in any way.

The plans for the practice alert calls for the participating agencies to have a simulated [redacted] some time Friday night or Saturday morning. The time of the simulated alert would depend on how far out of Washington the emergency site is located. No actual phone calls will take place in connection with this alert. The participating agencies are instructed to be at their emergency headquarters at 10 A.M., Saturday, November 20, and the practice will last for six hours ending at 4 P.M. the same day. During the test, there will be messages sent between the emergency sites and the Office of Defense Mobilization Center at [redacted]

b7E

According to available information, there will be no "war games" such as the FBI receiving a telephone call saying that sabotage has been committed. Also as far as is known now, the Bureau will not be involved in the practice system on November 20.

Reference is made to Mr. Mason's memo dated 11/10/54 concerning the Department's presentation of this problem on 11/10.

On Page 3 of Mr. Mason's memo it is stated that 7 Departmental people will participate in a test evacuation to [redacted] on 11/20. The 7 persons whose names were furnished to Mr. Mason by the Department were as follows:

Lt. Gen. Joseph May Swing, Commissioner, Immigration & Naturalization

William F. Tompkins, Assistant Attorney General in Charge of Internal Security Division

J. Walter Yeagley, First Assistant, Internal Security Division

[redacted] First Assistant in Office of Legal Counsel

[redacted] Assistant, Internal Security Division

[redacted] Assistant to the Assistant Attorney General in Charge of Internal Security Division

[redacted] Internal Security Division (No particular title)

Of the foregoing individuals, only [redacted] has previously been identified to us as one of the 10 Departmental employees to be evacuated [redacted] in the event of an actual emergency; [redacted] has been identified to us as an alternate to one of the ten.

No clear indication was furnished to Mr. Mason by [redacted] of the Department on 11/10 as to what activities would be engaged in by the Department representatives [redacted] on 11/20. It is known that the Department proposed three problems, which were to be handled on a simulated basis on 11/20; the extent ~~to which~~ the action would be taken in a real emergency was not indicated - rather it was indicated that this would be left to each agency or bureau. The three problems to be handled by the Department consisted of one for Immigration & Naturalization and two for the FBI.

The Immigration & Naturalization problem pertains to the detention of dangerous aliens. The scope of any simulated activity proposed to be handled by General Swing [redacted] on 11/20 is unknown.

The two problems for the FBI were (1) to simulate obtaining from the Secretary of State authority to effectuate the program for placing into protective custody diplomatic and official representatives of nations as the Secretary of State shall specify.....and simulate issuing to appropriate FBI personnel instructions necessary for implementing above program; (2) simulate obtaining authority from the Attorney General or his representative to put into effect the program for the arrest and detention of all persons dangerous to the national defense and public safety, to simulate seizing property and to simulate issuing necessary instructions to FBI personnel.

We are opposed to actually making any test telephone calls which would be comparable to telephone calls or other forms of communication similar to those which would be needed in event of an actual emergency.

Assuming the Departmental representatives were to go [redacted] on 11/20, it would appear that simulated activity on the part of the Bureau and the Departmental representatives with reference to the Detcom Program would consist of our making a simulated request to the ranking Departmental representative present for authorization to place the program into effect, and for that individual to simulate communicating with the Deputy Attorney General, who, it is understood, expects to be at [redacted] where top officials of the several agencies in the executive branch of government will assemble. It would obviously be undesirable for any such request to be made telephonically because of security aspects. The Departmental representative could attempt to telephonically contact the Deputy Attorney General at [redacted] simply to see how long it would take to get in touch with him but this would seem to be of little practical value. Thereafter the Departmental representative [redacted] could advise the Bureau representative that he had contacted the Attorney General, or his representative, and that we were authorized to proceed with the Detcom Program. The FBI representatives could simulate issuance of instructions to the field. It does not appear that there is any simulation which would be desirable from a security aspect which would be of any material value to the Bureau or to the Department.

b7E

As previously indicated, the Departmental representatives have not indicated the extent to which it is proposed that any simulated handling of the problems be done. Therefore, it is not clear just what the proposed seven Departmental representatives would do  if they went there on 11/20. b7E

For record purposes, [REDACTED] the Central Mutual Telephone Company was completing its installation of wiring [REDACTED] and had inquired as to what numbers were to be assigned to each of the 60 emergency telephones to be put into the building.

He was told there was no objection to numbering the phones from 1 to 60; however, the private line from the Bureau [REDACTED] should be installed in the SAC's Office and not be connected with the switchboard in the basement. [REDACTED] would start off in the basement of the building and number the location of each emergency phone beginning with the number 1 and would continue up through the building until all phones have been numbered in numerical sequence. He was told that was perfectly satisfactory.

Mr. Ben Willis of the Department telephoned Mason 11/29. Willis has primary responsibility for supervising Departmental war plans. He volunteered that he received today a memorandum dated November 26 from the Office of Defense Mobilization calling for an analysis of the results of the November 20 test exercise, such analysis to be received today by the Office of Defense Mobilization. You will recall the November 20 test related to testing certain evacuation plans and the suitability of the evacuation sites of various Federal agencies in the Washington, D. C., area. A group of Departmental people evacuated to the [redacted] which is the Department's evacuation site. [redacted] was on duty at the FBI evacuation site [redacted] however, no other evacuees went to the FBI site; Messrs. McArdle and Mason were with me on duty in the Training and Inspection Division during the test period; C. W. Bates evacuated [redacted]

[redacted] (both men are assigned to Liaison Section) in accordance with previous Bureau instructions that Liaison men will evacuate with the agencies with which they do business.

Willis stated that he is preparing the Department's reply to the Office of Defense Mobilization and no FBI action is required. He wanted the FBI to know, however, of the various questions from ODM and the replies being given by the Department.

QUESTIONNAIRE . . . AND DEPARTMENTAL REPLIES:

1. Number of persons participating in the test evacuation.
 Answer: 24 (not broken down as to the individual parts of the Department represented). (The figure of 24 includes [redacted] at [redacted] and 23 Departmental representatives who went to the [redacted])

3. Problems solved during the November 20 test.
Answer: Simulation of apprehension of persons who might possibly commit espionage or sabotage; simulation of receiving authority "from a person higher than a Cabinet Officer" for putting this program into effect.

4. Extent of records relating to the test exercise and participation by employees. Answer: A list of persons involved in the test evacuation was kept; no other records relating to the test retained.

5. Length of time evacuees were at relocation site.

Answer:

- a. [redacted] - 10:00 A.M. to 3:30 P.M.

- c. It took 10 minutes for Assistant Attorney General Rankin to reach the FBI's site [redacted] when calling from [redacted] and the reason was that he called the wrong number the first time and thereafter when he called [redacted] direct he was quickly connected.)

7. Is space at relocation site adequate: Answer: Yes.

8. Is space allocated to component parts of agencies?

Answer: FBI space is; Departmental space [redacted] ... no.

9. Are essential records available at the relocation site?

Answer: Departmental ... no; FBI ... yes.

10. Are any transportation problems contemplated or were any experienced in getting to the evacuation site? Answer: The normal clogging of roads can be anticipated, if many people endeavor to flee Washington at the same time.

11. What security provisions should be in effect at the relocation site? Answer:

- a. At the Departmental site there should be guards and evacuees should be equipped with Federal Civil Defense identification cards.
- b. FBI security planning is complete.

12. List any other comments or criticisms. Answer:

- a. Mention in the press of time of evacuation tended to compromise the security of the location of the evacuation site of various agencies.
- b. [redacted] should not have been identified in the newspapers.
- c. Newspapers' comment that planning for evacuation is in the paper stages probably resulted in imparting helpful information to the Soviets.

put The writer has had several conferences with Colonel Cleaves. President, Cleaves Food Service Corporation, our caterer at [REDACTED] and his assistant [REDACTED] regarding increasing the food inventory at [REDACTED] during an emergency when regular procurement and delivery of food is interrupted.

Colonel Cleaves advised that to stock an inventory necessary to feed 300 people daily for a period of 30 days would necessitate the storage of approximately 14,000 pounds of food, and there is no space available [REDACTED] to take care of this quantity. Colonel Cleaves advised, however, he is increasing the food supply at [REDACTED] so as to provide meals for 300 people for ten days. He also has made contact with wholesale dealers and meat distributors in the [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] areas for additional supplies in the event of a disaster in Washington. He suggested that the writer make appropriate contacts with [REDACTED] officials [REDACTED] for emergency rations after the ten days' supply of food has been exhausted and until the regular flow of provisions could be restored.

The writer contacted Lieutenant Colonel N. C. Gregory in the office of the Assistant Chief of Staff G-4, who advised that [REDACTED] is equipped and has in stock emergency rations and supplies for a 30 day period and that the [REDACTED] will be permitted to draw on those supplies in the event of an emergency. He also stated that this would apply to gasoline and any other equipment or supplies needed by the [REDACTED] in the event of an emergency when our normal supplies are not available.

1-cc Bureau 11/29/54
Colonel Gregory advises that there are no emergency generators available [REDACTED] for use at [REDACTED] in the event of a power failure: that all of the generators have been requisitioned to [REDACTED] and other installations. The recommendation for a survey has already been made the subject of another memorandum.

Bureau inventory reflects there are now [redacted] two speedgraph cameras, two "electro-copyst" photostat machines and two fingerprint cameras. In addition, the Identification Division has sent to [redacted] an emergency fingerprint kit which includes a fingerprint camera.

The Training and Inspection Division has been unable to obtain from other interested divisions an estimate of the expected amount of photostating or photographing work which will be required at the relocation site. Therefore, no additional photostatic or photographic equipment is being recommended at this time for the relocation site.

The Mechanical Section has an A.B. Dick mimeograph machine serial #001171-450 which can be stored now at the relocation site for emergency use. This will insure that we have some means of preparing SAC Letters, Bureau Bulletins and instructions to all field offices and all Bureau personnel as needed at the relocation site.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) It is recommended that no additional photostatic or photographic equipment be sent [redacted] at this time. That this matter be reconsidered in light of new developments and information in six months.

(2) It is recommended that the A. B. Dick mimeograph machine, serial #001171-450, together with sufficient ink, mimeograph paper and stencils for a 60-day reserve be forwarded [redacted] at this time.

Under date of September 27, 1954, we forwarded a general informative memorandum concerning plans of this section with reference to evacuation. We pointed out three possible conditions under which evacuation might take place and the procedure we would follow under each:

1. Ample warning in advance so that machine equipment could be moved to the alternate headquarters.
2. Involved a plan whereby we would leave the city with no sufficient time to move the tabulating equipment and other supplies, and
3. A general procedure with reference to an over-all disaster whereby a central payroll operation would not be possible.

We pointed out in that memorandum also the desirability of considering [ ] as the alternate headquarters for the Statistical Section Payroll Unit inasmuch as certain supplies and equipment would already be at that location and particularly, the Treasury Department maintains a Disbursing Office in that city.

Referenced memorandum was noted and sent to file. Mr. McArdle in the Training Division has talked to me about it and suggested the possibility of sending through another memorandum setting forth specifically the recommendations as we see them in connection with this matter and that is what we are doing here. Mr. McArdle talked to me about the possibility of utilizing IBM equipment available at [ ] and that will be covered in the following recommendations:

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That [ ] office be designated as the alternative Bureau headquarters for the Statistical Section for use in getting out the Payroll.

2. It is recommended we conduct no survey [ ] to determine the type of IBM equipment available. First, if recommendation #1 is approved, equipment [ ] would be of no value. Secondly, the IBM equipment that we have here is specially designed to handle our work and it is unlikely that the exact type of equipment would be available. In the third place, I feel it is highly unlikely that if this country is under attack, any branch of the military service will be inclined to turn any equipment over to the FBI. I don't think we should make any effort to depend upon that.

b7E

3. We currently send copies of our payroll quarterly [ ] and we recommend that a copy of each payroll be sent to [ ] as the case might be decided and when the roll is thus received, the previous one may be destroyed.

4. For a disaster plan involving a ~~decentralized payroll system~~, it is recommended that we prepare in this section for distribution to each office a package disaster payroll plan which would contain copies of the necessary Treasury Department schedules and brief instructions so that people in the field offices might be paid under a decentralized plan.

Reference is made to Bureau memorandum of September 13, 1954, relative to the above-entitled matter, instructing that the War Plans be reviewed and revised to incorporate any necessary changes occasioned by the Bureau's choice [redacted] as a relocation center.

In accordance therewith, the Laboratory War Plans have been revised and there is attached for the attention of the Training and Inspection Division a revised page (Paragraph C - COMMUNICATIONS) incorporating the necessary changes.

It is noted that Bureau memorandum of 9/13/54 lists ten employees for initial emergency evacuation plans. It is pointed out that, as reflected in my memorandum of 8/18/54, the list of only ten Laboratory employees for evacuation was predicated upon the hypothetical basis suggested by the Training and Inspection Division that all radio, telephone and teletype communications facilities were installed ready-to-go at the chosen relocation center. It is further noted that the Bureau has not as yet approved the installation of these facilities on a ready-to-go basis [redacted] therefore, the Laboratory's evacuation personnel properly should reflect a total of 54 rather than of ten.

Confirming information orally furnished to Mr. J. E. McArdle, it is considered that during the initial 24 to 48 hours evacuation period, desk space should be provided for a total of eight employees (including one typist desk complete with typewriter); it is contemplated that the remainder of the Laboratory personnel will be fully occupied in installing communications facilities during this initial period.

ACTION: For appropriate action by the Training and Inspection Division.

ADDENDUM: The installation of communications facilities referred to above will comprise erecting antenna poles and stringing antennas therefrom; uncrating, assembling and positioning some $75,000 worth of stored radio equipment; and placing such additional telephone and teletype wires as may be required.

Duplicate sets of assignment cards for matters handled in Espionage and Internal Security Sections are now maintained [REDACTED] Duplicate set for Internal Security Section averages about 1,042 cards with approximately 130 changes per month. Duplicate set for Espionage Section comprises approximately 4,000 cards averaging about 1,600 changes per month. To outline all of these changes in writing [REDACTED] on monthly basis is voluminous job, particularly for Espionage Section, and to make all changes [REDACTED] is substantial clerical job. To insure absolute accuracy it would be necessary to periodically send clerical employees [REDACTED] with assignment cards to match against those maintained there.

Feasibility of reducing assignment cards to microfilm on monthly basis considered. Film costs, including developing, not prohibitive (about $3.00 per month). Records and Communications Division already rents necessary filmer which would require about 4½ hours for filming. This would require services of Records Section operator for that period and possibly services of our own employee for same period to assist in maintaining our own assignment cards in order after filming. To preserve security of film it will either be necessary for Bureau employee to go to Recordak firm and stay with it 3-4 hours during developing or to have FBI Laboratory process film. Laboratory will develop test strip to determine whether this film can be handled here. In any event, microfilming believed more economical and more accurate. Training and Inspection Division has recommended purchase of microfilm viewer for use [REDACTED] in connection with other vital records there.

Colonel Bliss' office has advised it was hoped to complete these three latter items at the end of this week. Colonel Bliss has been advised that immediately upon completion of these three additional items, we desired the contracts with the Central Telephone Company of [redacted] [redacted] and with the American Telegraph and Telephone Company to be immediately cancelled.

It is expected that all of the communication facilities to be supplied by the Telephone Company will be completely installed by the end of this week.

While at the White House today with the Attorney General, the Attorney General and I had an opportunity to discuss with the President the suggestion which was made several weeks ago to have the President sign an order that would place in a standby capacity a [redacted] for use in an emergency evacuation of the key officials of this Bureau for transportation [redacted]. The President stated he was in full agreement with the basic idea but felt that he should call upon Mr. Arthur W. Flemming, head of the Office of Defense Mobilization, and ask him what plans had been made for the evacuation of other key officials as it was a pattern that should certainly be developed very promptly for the use of all key officials who would have to leave Washington in time of a national emergency. He stated he thought the memorandum which we had submitted to the Attorney General certainly focused attention upon a very important point of planning for any war emergency. He indicated he would take this matter up with Mr. Flemming immediately.

I gather that we may in due time receive some request from the Office of Defense Mobilization for additional views upon this matter and we will, of course, follow the same suggestions we have already made to the Attorney General.

STATION UNIT AND ANTENNA

The station unit consists of a General Electric 50-watt transmitter-receiver combination, type ET6B/ER6B, with AC power supply and General Electric remote control panel, type KC7A. This station equipment is installed in a Motorola 60-watt station unit all-weather cabinet. It is modified to provide remote control two frequency transmit and receive operation with one pair of telephone control lines and three frequency transmit-two frequency receive operation with two pair of telephone control lines. A complete set of spare tubes is maintained in the station cabinet.

The station unit is located at the base of the water tower behind the . It is mounted on the southeast support leg of the water tank at about four feet above the ground. Mounting is accomplished by means of two properly spaced strap iron brackets, which semicircle the tank leg and bolt to the station cabinet cross arm type supports. The brackets were painted with aluminum paint.

AC power is furnished by  through a direct line terminating on the station unit remote control panel. A single pair telephone line, terminating on the station unit terminal strip, functions as a remote control line. This also is provided through  facilities.

A 3 CA antenna is mounted, by means of heavy duty non-corrosive "U" bolts, to the revolving ladder on the water tank. The antenna feed line, RG8U, is clamped to the tank leg between the antenna and station unit. It is coupled to the antenna through a PL-259 screw-on coupling near the base of the rotating ladder, provision thus being made for uncoupling the antenna whenever tank maintenance should require rotation of the revolving ladder (estimated by  as once every three years). The antenna-feed line VSWR was measured at 1.6 to 1 with a Jones Micromatch VSWR Meter.

66-175-1-5

REMOTE CONTROL CONSOLE UNIT

b7E

A General Electric Remote Dispatching Unit, type EC-10-B, modified for three frequency transmit, two frequency receive operation, is used as a remote control unit.

The single pair control line, a [ ] telephone line circuit, terminates on the outside wall of the boiler room in [ ] and is the bottom pair on an eleven pair terminal strip. Additional telephone wiring installation in [ ] provided two telephone pairs which terminate in polarized telephone type four conductor sockets in both the Radio Room and the Chief Clerk's Office. These two pairs, direct lines between those locations, are routed through the boiler room and one pair is connected to the incoming [ ] control line. The second pair is tagged as a spare or for future three frequency transmit operation.

The Remote Dispatching Unit is provided with sufficient line cord and an appropriate polarized four prong plug so that it may readily be plugged in for operation in either the Chief Clerk's Office or the Radio Room. Moving the unit from one location to the other merely requires unplugging the telephone and AC power plugs at one location, physically moving the unit (weighing about twenty pounds) and placing the plugs in the respective sockets at the new location.

Simple operational instructions are tagged on the dispatching unit. These indicate [ ] FM call letters [ ] identity of the channels, etc. Radio frequency 40.18 mc is used in the channel selector 1 and 2 positions and 40.22 mc in the channel 3 position. Channels 1 or 2 may be used to contact the Washington Field Office FM station, KGB-770, and Channel 3 is available for [ ] local operations.

GENERAL

Transmit and receive line levels were properly set and the station was tested with the Washington Field Office station on channels 1 and 2, and with a [ ] car, located at the new ranges, on channel 3.

There is no provision for turning the station unit AC power on and off from the remote position and the station unit is on continuous standby operation.

The console unit may be connected or disconnected at will and is presently located in the Chief Clerk's Office on the lower section of a table which supports a Magnecord playback unit.

On November 30, 1954, the Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Harbo, Rosen, Tamm, Mohr, Holloman, Sizoo, Hennrich, and Conrad considered the problem of the purchase of a small switchboard for use with the Bureau's microwave radio station at the relocation center.

You will recall that the Bureau established a microwave radio station under the over-all program sponsored by the White House for certain critical security agencies. It was pointed out that although the need for a switchboard has existed from the beginning of our microwave activities as a part of the security agencies microwave network, it has not been possible to order a switchboard prior to this time because the various security agencies represented on the network had not arrived at a standardized decision as to the switchboard requirements. This decision now has been made under the coordination of Colonel McNally of the White House Signal Corps Detachment, the decision being to use Stromberg-Carlson switchboard equipment modified somewhat to meet microwave technical requirements.

Our microwave station cannot become completely operative without such a switchboard. A board suitable for the purpose can be purchased direct from the manufacturer for approximately $2,140. Estimated delivery ranges from six to nine months and approximately $400 additional would have to be expended in modifying the switchboard after receipt. As an alternative source, it has been ascertained that _____ microwave system, has on hand a substantially new switchboard of the type required which has already been modified and which can be made available immediately to the Bureau for the cost of the board alone, namely approximately $2,140.

Referring to our conversation today, we enclose bulletin 1260C showing BUDA diesel generator sets in sizes up to 250 Kw.

We have also a wide range of units for operation on natural gas, bottled gas, or gasoline.

Voltages of generator output are available to match your existing power system.

Units can be furnished for either manual electric starting, or for full automatic start-stop operation, which will take over when the normal voltage falls to 85% of normal and will throw the load back to the power company when normal voltage is resumed.

When you have determined what capacity is needed, we will appreciate an opportunity of submitting a quotation on a unit suitable to handle these requirements. 6

We also distribute ONAN Diesel and gasoline/natural gas generating equipment, which is now available in some models up to 100 Kw.

We appreciate your interest and await your further instructions.

(1) Communications

(a) Radio

On December 14, 1954, the Department granted authority to negotiate a contract with the Motorola Company to dismantle the microwave station [redacted] and rebuild it [redacted]. Target date for completion is February 15, 1955.

To date negotiations have not been completed for a suitable site [redacted] (Code) Radio Stations to augment or replace [redacted]

(2) Vital Records to Quantico

All vital records have been sent [redacted] with the exception of a few relating to cryptanalysis matters. All cryptanalysis matters will be forwarded [redacted] no later than January 28, 1955.

(3) Emergency Generator

The Department and General Services Administration (GSA) approved soliciting bids of private contractors to install a generator in the Justice Building. However, GSA has not yet prepared specifications for use of private contractors in submitting bids.

(4) First Aid Training

A minimum of fifteen per cent of all employees in each building have qualified in First Aid Training. Classes are in progress for those individuals whose certificates have expired.

Assurance has been received that there will be no difficulty in Bureau personnel moving during periods of emergency in any of the forty-eight States.

To date no information has been received from General Yount, Chief of Transportation, United States Army, that priority markings (distinctive detachable signs) to be used on vehicles during periods of martial law have been prepared.

(6) Emergency Transportation

On December 14, 1954, the President advised the Attorney General and the Director that he was in full agreement with the Bureau proposal to have [ ] made available for Bureau use in an emergency evacuation, but stated that he would call upon Mr. Flemming, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), to determine what plans had been made for the evacuation of other key officials in the Government. The President indicated he would take immediate action.

(7) Emergency Payroll

No specific instructions to Governmental Agencies regarding the handling of emergency payrolls have been issued by the Treasury Department, Administrative Division, and Records and Communications Division, following.

(8) Disposal of Files

No method more suitable than burning has been found. Laboratory is continuing to follow developments in methods of destruction of large volumes of files.

(9) Equipment and Supplies

Administrative Division advised all items of equipment previously recommended for [ ] have been placed there or are on order. It is anticipated that all items will be at [ ] no later than February 1, 1955. All items of supplies are now at [ ]

RECOMMENDATION:

Washington, D. C.

Dear Dr. Flemming:

By letter dated October 18, 1954, I advised that every effort would be made to expedite the installation of telephone and teletype equipment at our new relocation site [redacted]. I am pleased to be able to inform you that our telephone and teletype installations have been completely installed and that there has also been installed a 450 watt [redacted] (code) radio station.

The microwave station [redacted] will be dismantled and reassembled [redacted] in the near future.

[redacted]
will be retained as the relocation site for our Washington Field Office and be held in reserve for emergency use for the Seat of Government operations of this Bureau.

Should an evacuation of Washington be ordered at this time, the FBI will evacuate [redacted] where our essential operating records and necessary supplies and equipment have been placed.

I will communicate with you again as soon as the FBI microwave station is ready for operation [redacted]

WAR PLANS - RELOCATION SITE

You will recall that by memorandum September 24, 1954, I advised that as soon as essential communications facilities have been installed and adequate office equipment was available [redacted]

As of December 14, 1954, our telephone, teletype, 450 watt [redacted] (code) radio station and FM (automotive) radio facilities were completely installed. It is anticipated that work on dismantling and transferring of the microwave station from its present location [redacted]

[redacted] will begin in the very near future and that it will be rebuilt and ready to operate [redacted] by February 15, 1955.

With very few exceptions, all necessary equipment and supplies are now [redacted]. Therefore, should an evacuation of Washington be ordered, this Bureau will evacuate to [redacted]

I have previously made available to you maps showing alternate routes from Washington [redacted]

As you have been previously advised, [redacted] site will be retained for use in connection with the relocation of our Washington Field Office and for standby purposes in accommodating any overflow of headquarter's personnel.

Dear Mr. Kelly:

Reference is made to my letter of August 27, 1954, advising that you had been placed in the Bureau's chain of command in connection with War Plans, Auxiliary Space For S.O.G.

Our telephone, teletype, 450 watt ☐ (code) radio station and FM (automotive) radio facilities are now completely installed ☐. Therefore, should an evacuation of Washington be ordered, the Bureau will evacuate ☐ even though the microwave station (designed to communicate with other sensitive Government Agencies at their relocation site) remains ☐. It is anticipated that work on dismantling and transferring this station ☐ will begin in the very near future. The estimated completion date is February 15, 1955.

The Bureau is retaining ☐ as a reserve relocation site should it become necessary to use it in addition ☐ at some future date. The Washington Field Office will use ☐ as its relocation site.

All confidential records believed necessary for the prosecution of essential wartime functions, and certain records believed necessary to resume normal operations of the Bureau after a war, have been deposited ☐ for safekeeping.

The foregoing is for your confidential information and is not to be discussed with anyone in your office.

The direct telephone line to the Bureau, terminating in the SAC's Office [redacted] was placed in operation 12/14/54. This line by-passes the emergency switch board in the basement of the Academy. There are wires running from the switch board to the terminal box in the boiler room of [redacted] the ends of which are loose at terminal box N-12. These wires are tagged, "to direct D.C. line to [redacted] switch board." The lines connected to the SAC's Office are on Terminal #5, Box N-12.

In case of an emergency necessitating activation of the relocation center, this connection will be immediately changed by disconnecting the lines running to the SAC's Office and replacing them with the lines running to the switch board. Thereafter, all calls made on the direct line will terminate at the switch board.

All firearms instructors [redacted] are being instructed in the method of changing the above wires.

Reference is made to your memorandum dated 10-5-54, and to my memorandum to you dated 10-18-54, concerning the captioned matter.

In accordance with the instructions contained in my memorandum, corrected pages have been prepared, every thirty days, beginning November 1, 1954, which reflect the deletions, additions and revisions, for transmittal [redacted] in connection with the Bureau War Plans.

In preparing the list for November 1, it was determined that all 24 pages of the list required corrections of one kind or another; the December 1, list required changes in 17 of the 24 pages. The January 1, 1955, list will require changes in at least 20 of the 24. This procedure, of making revised pages, is resulting in the expenditure of approximately 5 hours work each month in comparing the cards against the previous list, noting the corrections, preparing the pages for the typist, and proofreading after typing, and approximately 10 hours each month in typing time; an estimated total expenditure for time of $26.65.

In view of the above data, the following recommendation is submitted for your approval:

RECOMMENDATION:

RECORDED - 55

66-17381-581

It is recommended that [redacted] be photographed on micro-film and the developed film be sent [redacted] where it can be maintained for whatever purpose is necessary in connection with the Bureau War Plans.—

At the present time the assignment cards maintained in the Espionage and Internal Security Sections are being photographed each month and this film is sent [redacted] in connection with the Bureau War Plans. [redacted] could be photographed at the same time on the same roll of film. It is estimated that it would require about 8 or 10 additional feet of film, costing about 30 cents, including processing, and about 30 minutes of time, costing about 71 cents, to photograph both sides [redacted] resulting in a total saving to the Bureau of approximately $25.64 a month, or $307.68 a year.

Wednesday, December 15 last, captioned station was tested by making contact from it with our [ ] station in the Emergency Communications Center in the Justice Building, with the SOG Radio Receiving Site and with 20 field office stations. Our signals were heard by all stations with the exception of [ ] station and we received poor signal reports from the [ ] stations. We could hear the transmissions of all the stations well [ ] with the exception of those [ ]

These tests were conducted under the supervision of Radio Communications Officer [ ] of the Seat of Government Radio Receiving Site and four of our operators scheduled for evacuation [ ] in an emergency were trained to use the equipment at that time. This equipment will be regularly tested on the first and third Mondays of every month at which time the [ ] station will be utilized to make contact with our two above-mentioned stations at the SOG and with at least one field office station. We will continue to try to contact the various field offices normally worked from the SOG until we have made an attempt to contact each and every one of them and we will continue to train radio personnel scheduled for evacuation in the operation of this equipment until all such personnel have been trained.

With regard to the FM radio installation [ ] it is recommended that this equipment be tested by a regularly assigned [ ] personnel since it would not normally be operated by our [ ] radio personnel under evacuation conditions.

WAR PLANS -/REPLACEMENT OF EMERGENCY SUPPLIES AT RELOCATION SITE

You will recall that on 8-12-54 a fresh stock of emergency supplies was sent to the relocation site. Mr. Newman of the Administrative Division recommends that certain of these emergency supplies be periodically exchanged for fresh stock and the items now at the relocation site be returned to the Bureau for use as needed.

The items to be replaced annually (on or about 8-1-55 and each year thereafter) are as follows:

- 1.. All carbon paper including:
  - a. Abstract slips
  - b. Teletype paper (three-ply)
  - c. Teletype paper - pink (two-ply)
- 2.. All items having a gummed surface
  - a. Envelopes with glue on flaps (all sizes)
  - b. Gummed labels
  - c. Gummed paper tape
- 3.. Scotch cellophane tape
- 4.. Typewriter ribbons
- 5.. Dictaphone memo belts
- 6.. Photographic chemicals (fixer and developer)

Mr. Newman recommended that the following items be replaced each two years (8-1-56 and each two years thereafter)

- 1.. Rubber bands - all sizes
- 2.. Ink of all kinds
- 3.. Mimeograph stencils

4.. Typewriters (Replace rollers, clean and oil)

Other items which must be replaced in accordance with the expiration date set forth on the individual items are:

- 1.. Dry cell batteries - including flashlight batteries)
- 2.. Photographic film
- 3.. Sensitized paper (photographic and photostat)

From time to time there may be additional items added to this inventory of emergency supplies which will require replacement to insure the stock is fresh and adequate at all times. It will be necessary, of course, to add these items to any tickler which is maintained to effect the replacement.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the SAC [ ] maintain tickler relative to those items listed for replacement each year and each two years, the first replacement to be on or about 8-1-55 for the yearly items and on or about 8-1-56 for the two-year items. Fresh stock should be obtained before releasing the "shelf-worn" items to Administrative Division.

b7E

2. The SAC [ ] shall maintain a 60-day tickler to insure that all items to be replaced according to their expiration date stamped on the item are replaced in accordance therewith. These items, like all others, should be replaced by fresh stock before the outdated items are released to the Administrative Division.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That one copy of the attached volume be furnished each of the designated individuals for their information and retention. Receipt to be acknowledged by initialing the attached list.

2. Persons receiving a copy of this volume furnish to the Training and Inspection Division by January 31, 1955, any suggested changes in order that these views may be correlated and considered in connection with future revisions.

3. Appropriate copies be sent to SACs Kelly, McIntire, and D. K. Brown by Registered Mail inasmuch as the views of these SACs could be very helpful in future revisions.

EMERGENCY RELOCATION PLAN - CONTINUATION OF ESSENTIAL WARTIME FUNCTIONS OF THE DEPARTMENT

Bureau War Plan: Auxiliary space For S.O.C.

DEPARTMENTAL REQUEST:

The Attorney General by memo to Heads of Divisions, Bureaus and Offices 12-27-54 instructed "that you submit to Assistant Attorney General William F. Tompkins by January 30 a detailed plan for accomplishment of the essential wartime functions which you recently submitted to the office of Legal Counsel." This instruction states that the plan should cover every important action which would be required after notification of existence of a Civil Defense emergency and sets forth that it will not be necessary for the FBI to submit lists of official personnel, records requirements and communications requirements.

Mr. Bennett Willis, Jr., Relocation Officer, Internal Security Division of the Department, on 1-7-55 advised that he had hoped for fairly detailed plans of Bureau operations in that he felt it was the Department's obligation to correlate the emergency functions of all bureaus and agencies within the Department and that many of the agencies within the Department did not have war plans, that the memo of 12-27-54 was designed to force them into making such plans and that he was desirous of making sure that the plans of each bureau or agency dovetailed and did not overlap.

INFORMATION PREVIOUSLY GIVEN THE DEPARTMENT:

1. On 9-7-54 Assistant Attorney General J. Lee Rankin was given the list of essential functions of the FBI which had been previously reported to the Ad Hoc Committee on Alert Planning and the Office of Defense Mobilization. This list set forth that the essential functions of the FBI are the investigative matters pertaining to the Internal Security of the country; coordinating of Internal Security matters; investigation of violations of Federal Statutes over which the FBI has primary jurisdiction. Under the President's Federal Employees Security Program this Bureau has the responsibility of conducting all investigations of employees of the Executive Branch of the Government against whom allegations of disloyalty have been made, that under Executive Order 14222 the FBI has the responsibility of searching names and conducting full field investigations of certain U. S. citizens employed by the Secretariat of the United Nations and other public international organizations of the United States and as well as the responsibility of conducting investigations of individuals being considered for sensitive positions in the Executive Branch of the Government, the Atomic Energy Commission, as well as those referred to the FBI by the Civil Service Commission in accordance with Public Law 298 - 82nd Congress.

Among the other essential functions, the Department was advised the FBI maintains an international fingerprint file which is also utilized as the depository of fingerprint records of government employees, members of the armed services and civilian fingerprints. (Copy memo to Mr. Rankin 9-7-54 attached)

2. On 10-13-53 the Director and Mr. Tolson attended a conference in the Attorney General's office, at which were present various high officials of the branches of the Department of Justice, at which the war plans for the Department of Justice were discussed.

3. Mr. Clegg attended a meeting in Assistant Attorney General Olney's office on 10-15-53 in connection with war plans for the Department and the relocation of the Department of Justice in the event of necessity. Mr. Clegg in reporting his attendance at this meeting stated that it was the consensus of those in attendance that the "primary purpose for the Department of Justice to continue to function in the event Washington was destroyed and evacuation was necessary was to serve as legal advisor to the FBI."

4. On 10-16-54 Mr. E. D. Mason of the Training and Inspection Division met with Walt Yeagley of the Department who had requested the meeting to consult with the Bureau in an effort to get Departmental war planning straightened out. Mr. Mason in reporting this conference stated that the principal purpose appeared to be the Department was <sup>not</sup> sure of what its planning should be, how or when it will do it and what may be expected of the Department other than providing legal advice to the FBI and assisting in connection with the detention program.

5. On 10-28-53 a copy of a communication to FBI field offices concerning war plans dated 10-26-53 (SAC Letter 53-71) was directed to the Attorney General and Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers.

6. On 12-17-53 the Attorney General was advised that by redistribution of space at the Bureau relocation site, [redacted] we would be able to accommodate the Deputy Attorney General and eight others. himself, b7E

7. More recently the Department has been advised that the Bureau will occupy [redacted] as the Bureau relocation site but that we were retaining [redacted] as the relocation site of the Washington Field Office and as a reserve relocation site for the Bureau.

CONCLUSIONS:

FBI war plans are prepared on divisional basis (both field and SOG) and contain much information discussed within the Bureau only on a strict need-to-know basis; even our SACs have not been advised of the Bureau relocation site or chain of command. The plans cover our emergency operations for the protection of the entire Internal security of the United States. Permitting this information to fall into unauthorized hands would make the plans ineffectual and would jeopardize the security of the country.

The war plans of the FBI have not been reduced to one volume; Divisional plans are assembled in one place only in the confidential file room in the Records Section and the Training and Inspection Division. Should a copy of these plans get outside the Bureau, we would have no control as to the security afforded them or into whose hands they might fall. I strongly feel that these plans should not be sent outside the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached memo from the Director to Assistant Attorney General William F. Tompkins go forth, stating only in general terms the nature of our war plans.

SYNOPSIS

Mr. Leonard of the Statistical Section in a memorandum to Mr. Nichols dated 11-9-54, recommended that [redacted] be designated as the alternate Bureau headquarters for the Statistical Section, because there is a regional [redacted] in that city. This recommendation was further based on the possibility of the Bureau getting ample warning to evacuate essential IBM equipment now in use by the Statistical Section. The equipment now in use is designed specially, and there is little likelihood that similar equipment could be located in or near [redacted]. It is estimated that it will take a 10-man crew with heavy moving equipment four hours to move the equipment from its present location in the Identification Building to trucks for transmittal out of Washington. There is no indication that adequate advance warning will be available.

Mr. Leonard recommended further that we send a copy of each payroll [redacted] rather than sending payrolls there quarterly as we now do and that there be prepared and distributed to each field office a packaged disaster payroll plan which would contain copies of necessary Treasury Department schedules and instructions to insure that field offices could submit emergency vouchers for [redacted] offices. This plan appears feasible.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That the Statistical Section, in cooperation with the Administrative Division, prepare a packaged emergency disbursement instruction to insure that the field offices will be able to submit payroll vouchers and vouchers for the other necessary [redacted] for appropriate disbursement during periods of emergency.

(3) If, by chance, sufficient time is available to permit the evacuation of the IBM equipment now in use by the Statistical Section, it be moved to (a) the new ranges [redacted] or as an alternate to (b) [redacted] where adequate space and electricity are available to set up and operate the equipment. (see IP 2 of details)

DETAILS

By memo from Mr. Leonard to Mr. Nichols 11-9-54, Mr. Leonard recommended: (1) That the [redacted] be designated as alternate headquarters for the Statistical Section for use in making out the payroll; (2) that we do not conduct a survey [redacted] to determine the type IBM equipment available, since the equipment now in use by the Statistical Section is specifically designed to handle Bureau work and unless the exact equipment is available it would be of no material assistance and further the Bureau should not depend on IBM equipment which the Marine Corps will undoubtedly need during periods of emergency; (3) that the Bureau send a copy of each payroll to the relocation site rather than send payrolls quarterly as we now do; (4) that there be distributed to each field office a packaged disaster payroll plan.

We are now having difficulty with the General Services Administration (GSA) relative to space for [redacted] and it does not appear likely we will be able to find adequate quarters for the Statistical Section in Richmond during periods of emergency. There is adequate space and electrical

The possibility of placing at the relocation site duplicate panels or boards to be used on IBM equipment at a site other than Washington was discussed with Mr. Leonard, who pointed out that unless there was available the identical IBM equipment, there would be no object in placing at the relocation a duplicate set of panels or boards such as are now being used by the Statistical Section. It was estimated that it would cost $5,316.67 to reproduce a duplicate set of boards or panels now in use and that the cost of maintenance brought about by changes in procedures and equipment was unestimatable at this time.

Mr. Leonard advised that if there is ample opportunity to remove the IBM equipment out of Washington, he would need a minimum of one 407 tabulator; one 082 sorter; one 024 punch; one 552 interpreter; one 519 reproducer; one 101 electronic statistical machine; one 604 electronic calculator; one 521 punch; one 089 collator. It is estimated that this equipment will weigh approximately 30,000 pounds, will require a minimum of 110 square feet of trucking space, and will take a 10-man moving gang with appropriate equipment four hours to move it from its present location to trucks. It has been further estimated this equipment will require approximately 3,000 square feet of floor space when again set up. Each of the machines requires a separate electrical circuit and certain of the machines require 220 volt electrical current.

If the above equipment cannot be moved from Washington when the evacuation is ordered, it will be necessary to make emergency disbursements at a field level through regional Treasury disbursing offices. However, Mr. Leonard recommends that a minimum of six people thoroughly familiar with the necessary equipment and procedures be immediately taken to the Bureau evacuation site from which they will attempt to assemble in one place sufficient IBM equipment to permit the Bureau to return to a central payroll procedure at the earliest possible date.

It should be borne in mind when the packaged emergency disbursement procedures are sent to the field offices that there will undoubtedly be other emergency disbursements necessary in addition to payroll disbursements. Appropriate provision should be made for such emergency disbursements in the packaged plan.

Reference is made to the attached memorandum from Mr. Harbo to Mr. Tolson on the above subject containing a recommendation to the effect that the Statistical Section in cooperation with the Administrative Division prepare a packaged emergency disbursement instruction in connection with the Bureau's war plans.

In view of the fact that previous information was to the effect that Treasury Department was drawing up instructions governing emergency disbursements in connection with war plans, it was my feeling that the Bureau could not proceed any further along this line than it had already done unless and until the proposed instructions of the Treasury Department on this subject were available. Accordingly, repeated efforts were made to reach certain contacts in the Disbursing Office of the Treasury Department beginning on December 21, 1954, to ascertain the status of these instructions. It appears that the responsibility for drawing up these instructions in the Treasury Department had been shifted around from one individual to another, and it was not until this afternoon that it was finally ascertained that the instructions in question will not be available for another 45 days.

RECOMMENDATION:

(1) With respect to recommendation number 1, it is recommended that the Bureau defer any further action in this matter until the instructions of the Treasury Department are available, which will be about March 20, 1955. A tickler will be set up to contact the appropriate officials in the Treasury Department at that time to secure a copy of the instructions.

(2) There is no objection to recommendation number 2.

(3) It is recommended that action on recommendation number 3 be deferred until we can examine the instructions of the Treasury Department since they may have some bearing on this question. It is felt that the objective of reinstituting a centralized payroll procedure is desirable and should be done if at all possible, however, the Treasury Department instructions may take this objective into consideration and it is felt that we should examine them before making a decision.

A survey of these portable typewriters by SA Paul Yates (NAC #6, formerly employed by Burroughs Business Machine Corporation for six years and who has had some experience in repairs) and SA [redacted] (NAC # [redacted] who had five years experience teaching typing in a business school) shows that 23 of the 59 examined need repair and they advise that in almost every instance they are in need of a thorough cleaning.

The clerks and stenographer advise that the standard typewriters in their offices are in good condition, however two standard typewriters located in the rear of Classroom #1, for use of the trainees, are in need of minor repair and adjustment.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that 15 portables at a time, be returned to the Bureau for examination by the typewriter repairmen and that they be repaired and cleaned or replaced with new ones if such replacement is needed.

Dear [Redacted]

Reference is made to the existing agreement between you, [Redacted] and [Redacted] representing [Redacted] and this Bureau granting permission to this Bureau for the installation and operation of a radio tower and equipment on your property [Redacted]. The agreement provides that it may be terminated by either party giving a ninety-day written notice prior to the effective date of such termination.

As you have been previously advised by a representative of this Bureau, the radio tower and equipment is to be removed from your property. Barring unforeseen developments, all of the radio installation should be removed by May 1, 1955, and at this time we wish to give formal written notice of the termination of the agreement effective May 1, 1955.

The co-operative assistance which you, [Redacted] and [Redacted] have given in making this property available to us is indeed appreciated.

The Problem: To provide sleeping facilities for 200 individuals on the third floor of [redacted] so that the basement and first two floors may be used exclusively for work space during any evacuation.

The Solution: Use our present mattresses and springs; buy double deck head and foot pieces for the beds which sell, along with the necessary side rails: $22.84 per double deck unit (Total Cost: $2,284 for 100 units with sleeping capacity 200)

Observations and Alternatives:

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson 9/7/54 pointed out that we would have to use double deck beds whether we evacuated [redacted] subsequently [redacted] was designated as evacuation headquarters for the Seat of Government. We had hoped to be able to obtain double deck beds from [redacted] but [redacted] beds would cost $26.04 per double deck unit, or $3.20 more per unit than Simmons Bed Company. We now use Simmons beds which are 40 inches wide as compared to 30-inch width of Marine beds. We would have to buy all new mattresses and springs to use [redacted] beds.

On a loan basis [redacted] borrowed four [redacted] double deck beds and placed them in Room 312. Thus the usual 8 men were accommodated in each room along with lockers formerly kept in the corridor and it becomes possible to provide study space not heretofore available. Results of experiment: favorable reaction from Agents; less crowding.

Memorandum to Mr. Tolson

Our instructions from Office of Defense Mobilization are: plan for long-term evacuation. 100 double-decker beds seems a proper number; they can be used now [redacted] It would be dangerous to not buy double-decker beds because with single beds we could sleep only 112 people.

It was felt [redacted] that it would be desirable for the Bureau to purchase 100 Simmons head, foot and side pieces for double-decker beds at a cost of $284.00; use present springs and mattresses; after acquisition of the new bedding, make a recommendation as to the release of the present head, foot and side pieces of beds.

EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION: EDM:DMG 1/10/55

The majority of the Conference, Messrs. Tolson, Mohr, Tamm, Parsons, Sizoo, Belmont, McGuire and Holloman, felt that it was neither necessary nor desirable to have double-decker beds [redacted] [redacted] no need to move the lockers into the rooms from the corridors; always the possibility that some Agent will fall off the top deck of the bed.

The minority, Mason only, felt that the double-decker beds should be obtained because an experiment [redacted] has shown this to be practical and desirable; can be used currently; will be available in the event hostilities make an evacuation necessary; we are required to plan for long-term evacuation; under evacuation plans already approved the basement, first and second floors [redacted] will be used for office space and only the third floor would be available for sleeping; only 112 people can be berthed on the third floor using the present beds, whereas 200 people are scheduled for evacuation. No additional space on the third floor or in the third floor corridor is available for sleeping.

On 12-14-54 the Attorney General and the Director conferred with the President relative to the military making available [redacted] for emergency evacuation. The President advised he would call upon Mr. Fleming, Director, Office of Defense Mobilization to determine what plans had been made for evacuation of other key officials in the Government. To date no information available. Mr. Nichols following.

(7) EMERGENCY PAYROLL PROCEDURES

Treasury Department formulating instructions to be followed by government agencies relative to handling of payrolls during emergency period. Administrative Division and Records and Communications Division following.

(8) EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES

All items of equipment approved per memorandum 10-18-54 [redacted] or have been placed on order with the exception of the desk lamps. The Administrative Division advises surplus desk lamps being sent in by Chicago office. February 1, 1955, is target date for completion of this phase of planning. note

(9) DISPOSAL OF FILES

No method more suitable than burning has been found. Laboratory continuing to follow developments in this field.

RECOMMENDATION:

None...informative.

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary Space For

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated 12/3/54 5.0.6
pertaining to the above matter, advising that the total connected power load [redacted] is presently 291.34 kilowatts. As a result of conferences between representatives [redacted]

[redacted] relative to those items of electrical power that could be eliminated under emergency conditions, there has been prepared an attached proposed list of items to be handled by any emergency power supply. This tabulation does not include any lights in attics, corridors, cloakrooms, closets, vaults, washrooms, third-floor bedrooms or basement supply rooms.

The total necessary power needed other than light load is estimated at 10.392 kilowatts and the light load is estimated at 18.4
kilowatts for a total minimum suggested electrical load of 28.8 kilowatts.
The nearest standard size gasoline electrical generator to handle this load is a 35 kilowatt, 120-volt, 3-phase, 3-wire, 60-cycle housed gasoline electrical generator. Such a generator with its associated fuel tank and starting battery would cost approximately $3800 and would occupy a space approximately 34 inches wide by 90 inches long by 50 inches high. It is estimated that it would cost approximately two to three thousand dollars additional to have this generator installed and connected by an outside contractor; however, [redacted] advised me today that he has secured informal advice from [redacted] [redacted] that the [redacted] will mount, install and connect such a generator for the Bureau at cost on a reimburseable basis. It is expected that the cost will be substantially less if the installation is made by [redacted]

ACTION: The Training and Inspection Division should review the attached revised tabulation for a final determination as to whether these items will be satisfactory for emergency conditions [redacted]

RECORDED-35

66-17321-605

2. Upon Bureau approval [redacted] recommendation for purchase and installation of such generator, [redacted] will prepare the necessary specifications preparatory to such purchase.

Bureau War Plans Auxiliary Space
In conference with the Attorney General yesterday, he informed me that the President was contemplating shortly sending to Congress or appearing before Congress to deliver a message outlining the situation in and around Formosa. The Attorney General stated that it would be indicated by the President that certain of the outlying islands were of no military value but that beyond a certain point, if the Red Communists proceeded to attack that, then the United States, by reason of its international obligations, would be compelled to repulse these attacks being directed against Chiang Kai-Shek and his followers. The Attorney General stated that the President was seeking a cease-fire order to be brought about by the United Nations but that failing, the President would then discuss the matter with Congress and seek authority to use whatever measures might be necessary to put a stop to further advance beyond Formosa.

The Attorney General stated that he had advised Assistant Attorney General J. Lee Rankin of the same information as he was giving me in order that Mr. Rankin might draw the necessary message for the President and that he was advising me of the above contemplated action so that necessary steps could be taken by the Bureau in the event the emergency of all-out or even partial war should take place.

The Attorney General asked me whether there were any matters which I thought should be given immediate attention in the Department pertaining to the possibility of an emergency developing. I told the Attorney General that I could not recall any at the moment and that so far as the Bureau was concerned, I knew we had intensified our coverage of Chinese Communists in this country and had made a recent check of our war plans but that I would again intensify our activities in this field so as to be prepared for any emergency which might arise. I also advised the Attorney General that I would inform him of any matters which needed immediate action in the Department.

Upon my return to the office, in the absence of Mr. Belmont, I discussed this matter generally with Mr. Keay and asked that there be prepared for me at once a memorandum from Mr. Belmont's Division setting forth any pending matters with the Department that affected directly or indirectly a smooth-running operation in case of a national emergency and I asked Mr. Keay to convey to Mr. Harbo the request to prepare a memorandum concerning any pending matters in our relocation site which have not yet been consummated in order that we can give prompt and appropriate attention to completing that project.

Very truly yours,

Mr. H. V. Higley
Administrator
Veterans Administration
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Higley:

Your files will reflect a Memorandum of Agreement number VI001 SR-239 entered into on February 6, 1953, by the Veterans Administration and this Bureau. This agreement pertains to storage space made available to this Bureau in Building #312 at the Newton D. Baker Veterans Administration Hospital, Martinsburg, West Virginia.

This storage space has now served its purpose. All of the items that had been stored at this location have been removed and we will have no further need for the space.

The use of this space has been of real assistance and I wish to express my appreciation to the Veterans Administration for making it available to us.

Sincerely yours,
J. Edgar Hoover

SYNOPSIS:

In accordance with Mr. Quinn Tamm's arrangements with [REDACTED] Lands Division, U. S. Army, Bureau Engineers on 11/3/54 reviewed maps of Army Military Reservations, [REDACTED] for purpose of locating possible sites for Bureau radio stations on military property. Results of examination of maps and subsequent physical inspection of certain areas negative. No additional leads anticipated from this source. [REDACTED] cooperative. Has volunteered to handle any Bureau land purchase should Bureau decide on such action through established Army purchasing channels provided Bureau obtained money for transaction. Separate lead was developed in Surplus Land Management of Interior Department; however, a search of Interior Department records and subsequent physical inspection of land areas likewise negative. These results confirm the negative results of our earlier contacts with Government land agencies and our previous physical surveys of the Washington area. It is concluded that there is no Government-owned land available in the Washington area suitable for radio station installation; all such sites are already in use for other Government agency functions such as radio stations, airports, firing ranges, et cetera. without clearing

ACTION: None.

Results of survey set forth for record in connection with Bureau consideration of possible relocation sites for present [REDACTED] radio stations.

DETAILS:

On the afternoon of 11/2/54 Mr. Quinn Tamm made arrangements with [REDACTED] Lands Division, U. S. Army, located at Gravelly Point, Virginia, Building T-7, Room 2203, for a meeting on November 3, 1954, with Bureau SA's G. L. Davy and R. L. Millen to examine the possibilities of military reservation land suitable to our use existing in the area. On 11/3/54 Bureau Engineers met with [redacted] for the purpose stated above. A map was produced which included all Army Military Reservations within [redacted]. Topographic maps of the areas containing these sites were examined. All of the reservations represented by these maps were considered and eliminated one by one because of failure to measure up to the radio site requirements, such as rough terrain, forested, uncleared land, proximity to urban areas, proximity to military high-powered radio stations, current uses such as firing ranges, impact areas, and the like. For example, although we previously had thoroughly surveyed the area around Washington, it was considered desirable to physically check certain of the map areas:

[redacted] a tract was observed, which, from a topographical map standpoint alone appeared to be a possibility; however, physical investigation at the site, bounded by [redacted] revealed the area to be [redacted]

2.

[redacted] This area is located about half way between [redacted] It was initially picked from the map as a possible companion site to the [redacted] area since it lies approximately [redacted] away. Investigation at this site revealed a cleared, cultivated area of approximately the proper size for one [redacted] However, this area is [redacted] Due to the location [redacted] it would not be suitable. In addition, as pointed out above, the possible companion site was also found to be not available.

Surplus property records similarly were examined with negative results. Physical examination of two questionable areas in detail revealed:

1. Surplus property at [redacted] was in eleven small tracts, noncontiguous. These tracts were being disposed of to straighten [redacted] boundary lines. None of the separate sites were large enough or suitable to Bureau use.
