Case Control No. 199904083
GS & FSI segments

I refer to your letter of October 22, 1999, requesting the release of certain Department of State material under the Freedom of Information Act (Title 5 USC Section 552).

We initiated a search in the following record systems: the Bureau of Diplomatic Security, the Foreign Service Institute, the Office of General Services Management, the Bureau of Public Affairs, and the Bureau of Human Resources. The search in the Bureau of Public Affairs resulted in no documents responsive to your request. The search in the Bureau of Human Resources resulted in the retrieval of one document, which was sent to you with our letter of April 20, 2001. The search in the Office of General Services Management and the Foreign Service Institute resulted in the retrieval of 12 documents. After reviewing the 12 documents, we determined that they may all be released.

A search of the records of the Bureau of Diplomatic Security is still in progress and we will notify you when it is concluded.

If you have any questions with respect to the processing of your request, you may write to the Office of IRM Programs and Services, SA-2, Department of State, Washington, D.C.

20522-6001. Please be sure to refer to the case control number shown above in all correspondence about this case.

Sincerely,

A. Eugene Benis

for Margaret P. Grafeld
Director
Office of IRM Programs and Services

I. Customer Service/Quality

1. The Attitude Virus: Curing Negativity in the Workplace
Once an attitude virus begins to spread, it can become an epidemic in no time flat. Productivity suffers and so do individual workers. There's no doubt that today's workforce is especially susceptible. Check for these warning signs: resisting change, lack of commitment, spreading gossip, misdirected anger, and condescending perfectionism.

(Leader's Guide Included)

Participants will learn to: Get to the cause, Administer the cure, and Create a healthier workplace for everyone.

Running Time: 21 minutes

2. But I Don't Have Customers (Also available in Spanish)
This video helps to change the perception that outside customers are the only ones who matter. Internal customers are often ignored or taken for granted - an attitude that compromises the productive flow of work through your company. This video will teach your employees to respect internal customers as if they were paying clients.

(Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to: Show respect for internal customers by determining their needs; keep internal deadlines; and make commitments that stick; listen, ask questions, and improve relations with co-workers

Running Time: 21 minutes

3. Hot Under the Collar (Spanish Only)
Dealing with Angry Customers! To avoid escalating any confrontation train your staff to handle angry customers tactfully and effectively by (1) dealing with a customer's feelings, (2) getting the facts to discover his or her need, and (3) solving the problem. Don't let employees with poor customer relations skills turn away potential repeat customers and ruin your organization's reputation. This video will show your employees how to deal with customers who are Hot Under the Collar. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Calm the customer and show understanding

Deal with the Customer's feelings

Give and receive feedback

Suggest alternatives

Agree on a solution

Follow through with the action

Increase the probability of repeat business

SPAS Videos

Running Time: 17 minutes

4. Just Incredible: A Customer Service Story

This video shows the right way and the wrong way to deliver customer service. This refreshingly different video uses humor and irony to demonstrate how customer service really does make a difference.

Five different settings are used to reinforce the message: a post office, bank, doctor's office, retail outlet, and a utility company. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to: Know the product or service you are representing

Treat customers with tact, honesty, and courtesy

Handle difficult customers

Running time: 23 minutes

There is a companion book to this video entitled "Customer Service Excellence". Please see the "BOOKS" section of this catalog.

5. Quality Service in the Public Sector

This video shows public sector employees how to create satisfied customers at every encounter. This engaging video uses dream sequences that take place in various government settings to make the points of the film. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Shift the focus to what can be done for the customer, not what can't

Use facts to help customers let off steam

Ask questions and give undivided attention

Running time: 24 minutes

6. Quality: You Don't Have to Be Sick to Get Better

This video attempts to help organizations improve the ways they operate at every level and empower employees to analyze and streamline their work processes. Through lectures and dramatizations it offers Dr. Richard Chang's approach to quality, by bringing the quality issue to an individual level and spelling out practical steps for ongoing improvement. (Leader's Guide Included)

Participants will learn to:

Define needs and expectations of the customers

Analyze, measure and improve works processes

Achieve quality at the individual level

Running time: 20 minutes

7. Telephone Courtesy Pays Off

Are untrained employees driving away your customers? Irritated telephone customers hang up and take their business elsewhere in scenarios which illustrate the points in this video. Help your employees use the telephone cordially, efficiently and properly. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

UNCLASSIFIED

SPAS Videos

Show callers that your company cares
Deal with telephone complaints courteously
Correctly deny certain requests
Expedite telephone transfers and avoid delays
Running time: 19 minutes

8. The Secret: Customer Service Uncovered

This video guides the viewer honestly and proactively through the challenges of providing services. It helps employees gain a new perspective on the fundamentals of great service. It also explores language barriers and obstacles that can test the patience of your employees. Scenes from three different settings: a bank, a technical support unit, and a retail environment help to make the video's points. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Be honest, tactful and empathetic

Prevent customers from walking away with a problem

Make even the most difficult customers feel welcome and come back

Running time: 17 minutes

II. Communications and Supervision

1. Constructive Communications: How to Give It and How to Take It
Constructive criticism, or feedback, can be a productive, positive means of changing behavior and strengthening trust among employees. This video helps viewers learn the right way to give and take criticism. Included with this video is another video containing seven vignettes, which illustrate points from the main video.

(Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Focus on facts, not opinions and personalities

Relieve stress, resolve conflict and build mutual trust

Communicate, Clarify, Commit - the three C's for successful communications

Running Time: 19 minutes

2. Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Supervision/Management

Whether you are training new supervisors or refreshing the skills of your current staff, this video can help employees become more effective, productive, and results oriented. By developing supervisory skills, employees can help themselves meet organizational and personal goals, as well as learning how to create a climate of motivation for those reporting to them.

(Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Plan and prioritize their work and coordinate their calendar

Delegate by defining desired results, and explaining why the task is important

UNCLASSIFIED

SPAS Videos

Communicate, discipline, and motivate employees

Running time: 30 minutes

3. The Human Touch Performance Appraisal

Every employee wants to be told how he or she is doing - honestly and often. This film outlines step-by-step techniques to evaluate, motivate, and elevate employee performance. Additional points in the video suggest how to revise job descriptions to meet the organization's and the employee's needs and how to evaluate one's own performance as a manager.

(Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Prepare for a positive and constructive performance appraisal

Be specific and candid

Build on employees' strengths to improve performance

Evaluate their own performance as a manager

Running time: 24 minutes

This video has a companion self-study book, "The Human Touch Performance Appraisal." It is recommended that you use the book as well as the video in your training; See the "BOOK" section of this catalog.

III. Miscellaneous

1A. 1001 Ways to Energize Organizations

1B. 1001 Ways to Energize Individuals

1C. 1001 Ways to Energize Teams

In "Energize Organizations," Bob Nelson, the developer of this three-part series, shows employees how they can work and exist within the constraints of culture, structure, and policy

"Energize Individuals" shows how you can transform "burdensome work" into full-time excitement through empowerment. "Energize Teams" will help you jump-start your team by clearing the way of bureaucracy; making room for autonomy; and bringing in trust, creativity, and fun to teamwork. These three videos demonstrate Bob Nelson's proven energy-boosting strategies on injecting new vitality and creativity into your corporate culture, taking your teams to the next level of performance, and turbo-charging your employees to maximum productivity. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Promote empowerment, independence, and autonomy,

Get feedback and solicit process-improving suggestions

Enable teams to operate completely on their own

Simplify policies and procedures

Create an entrepreneurial atmosphere

Remove bureaucratic obstacles to getting things done

Running time: 25 minutes each

Please see the companion book to these videos, 1001 Ways to Energize Employees, in the "BOOK" section of this catalog. It is recommended that you use both the book and videos in your training.

SPAS Videos

2. Giving Leadership Away

Teach your managers how to share leadership and foster everyone's potential. The greatest challenge for team leaders is to let go of their work. But the leader's job is to provide the tools, motivation and direction the team members need to do the work together. Unfortunately, many "would be" leaders get no formal training in running a team. Giving Leadership Away will help both new and experienced leaders take on that challenge.

Participants will learn to:

Establish common goals as a group

Allow people to do their jobs by supporting self-reliance and decision making

Agree on levels of responsibility

Hold individuals accountable

Keep a team motivated and focused on goals

Running Time: 19 minutes

3. Meeting Robbers

Nothing so fully, and sometimes so frustratingly, occupies time and energy in organizations than meetings. "Meeting Robbers" thoroughly details in a humorous manner how to handle various team members who may actually derail meetings through destructive behaviors that sap a meeting's momentum and purpose. This video helps arm people who run meetings with such skills as meeting preparation, identifying desired outcomes, selecting the right meeting participants, and setting a productive tone for the meeting. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Examine their behaviors to determine if they contribute or take away from the productivity of a meeting

Identify meeting "robbers" and determine how they hurt the productivity of a group

Understand the roles and responsibilities of both participants and meeting leaders

Create or follow an agenda that focuses energies on the task at hand

Running time: 20 minutes

4. Stress: You're in Control

Overcome stress before it overcomes you! One step in reducing stress and improving your organization's productivity is to honestly recognize stress as a problem. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Recognize stress warning signs

Take a stress inventory

Recognize stressful situations

Exercise and diet to combat stress

Use seven stress-reduction techniques

UNCLASSIFIED

SPAS Videos

Running Time: 23 minutes

5. Tactics and Innovation

How to make it easier for people to accept new ideas.

In this video about discovering new ideas and bringing them into practice, Joel Barker reveals a powerful strategy that anyone can use to increase the acceptance of change. He shares stories and examples of why people say "no" to new ideas while introducing a practical 10-step strategy for removing many of the barriers between your ideas and people's natural resistance to change.

(Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Understand people's natural resistance to change

Present new ideas from the "user's" point of view and know when they are willing to accept new ideas Implement a 10-step strategy for getting new ideas and change accepted.

Running Time: 22 minutes

6. Time Management

It has been said that time is "the great equalizer." Every person, regardless of position or power, gets 24 hours in a day. We all have the same amount of time, yet no one ever seems to have enough. How we use our time can determine our success or failure in the workplace. This video identifies the six major "time wasters" and introduces you to some techniques for eliminating them. The video is accompanied by a short "workbook" for use by participants.

Participants will learn to:

Identify major time wasters

Develop techniques to eliminate time wasters

Running Time: 20 minutes

7. Together We Can

This video helps employees have a clearer understanding of the personal actions that need to be taken each day in order to maintain and improve teamwork. In addition, employees will realize the solid benefits to team work emphasized in the film: less stress; a job that is easier to manage; and increased job satisfaction. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Understand and demonstrate the seven personal actions employees can take to improve teamwork

Recognize the benefits that improved teamwork can result in

Take steps to improve teamwork in their organization

Running time: 22 minutes

8. The Unified Team

A team must provide its members with three basic needs: the need to achieve, the need to belong and the need to contribute. This video

UNCLASSIFIED

SPAS Videos

follows the stories of three team leaders and employs real-world role plays to demonstrate a practical approach that managers and team leaders can take to ensure team members fulfill each of these needs.

Participants will learn to:

Establish S.M.A.R.T. goals and gain personal commitment

Celebrate success and practice "continuous appreciation"

Teach team members to resolve their own conflict, and mediate team disputes when necessary

Uncover the opportunities that team members value

Running Time: 26 minutes

9. Values and Ethics: Situations for Discussion

This video lays out, in a straightforward manner, a foundation for communicating the ethical behavior you expect from the employees in your organization. (Leader's Guide included)

Participants will learn to:

Recognize unethical behavior

Communicate corporate ethics to all employees

Respond to situations involving honesty, confidentiality, and stealing

TRAINING VIDEO SUMMARIES

RELEASED IN FULL

NANCY ADLER'S PRESENTATION

After 1984

1hr. 46 min

Purpose: To examine cross cultural aspects of the work force.

Suitability: Remaining attentive is difficult because the body of the presentation (1 hour) is in the dark. The tape is only useful to individuals in a position to act upon the points.

Summary: The tape uses a four phase model to illustrate the evolution of an organization from a domestic to a global perspective. It emphasizes the idea of a changing world where the United States is no longer economically dominant and where cultural flexibility is the focus of corporate goals. It includes examples of success and failure in recognizing the value of cultural knowledge.

ADOLESCENTS ABROAD

No date

58 minutes

Purpose: To discuss mobility's effects on foreign service adolescents

Suitability: The tape helps foreign service parents identify and understand adolescent problems associated with the mobile lifestyle.

Summary: Dr. Elmore Rigamer discusses adolescent concerns regarding the demands of the foreign service environment. The discussion is interspersed with comments from FSOs and families on teen behavior. The video defines adolescence, discusses limit setting, gives advice on identifying and coping with the depressed teen, and deals with family relationships. It is accompanied by a bibliography and a list of related topics.

ALCOHOL ABUSE

No date (2 parts)

1 hr. 55 min.

Purpose: To increase awareness of the consequences of alcohol abuse.

Suitability: Anyone wishing to comprehend alcohol and its consequences and to learn to identify the disease will be exposed to several avenues of recourse.

Summary: Part one details the characteristics of alcohol and its effects on the body. It covers the reasons people drink, reviews the causes of alcoholism, and identifies the symptoms. Part two describes how to intervene in another individual's addiction and where to go for treatment.

AMERICA: A DIFFERENT WORLD

No date

38 minutes

Purpose: To examine issues Foreign Service children are faced with at home and abroad. This tape is professionally edited with a true flair for the USA.

Suitability: Foreign Service kids will benefit from the testimonials given in this video.

Summary: The video discusses topics such as AIDS, readjustment and the effects of peer pressure on teens.

AMERICA BOUND

1996 (2 tapes)

1 hour 43 minutes

Purpose: To familiarize newcomers to the U.S. with what is currently popular in American culture and to teach people how to negotiate the typical daily rituals of American life such as using ATM machines, banking, etc..

Suitability: This video might be helpful to someone who has not lived in the U.S. previously. The first half hour of the tape might also be suitable for teens or adults who have recently returned to the U.S. after a lengthy period of time overseas.

Summary: The information is based on the American contemporary culture and includes a discussion by psychologists and other experts about culture shock and reverse culture shock. Following this, a panel of teens discusses some ways for teens to hook into what's hot and what's not (there are accompanying audio tapes with the latest music on them). Next, the moderator demonstrates how to negotiate daily situations such as using a public telephone, buying gasoline, using a taxicab, an ATM, etc.

ARRIVAL TO ASIA (IN-COUNTRY ORIENTATION), ON 1988

6 minutes

Purpose: To explain the purpose of the Canadian International Development Agency's (CIDA) in-country orientation programs.

Suitability: The tape is produced for Canadians and families working for CIDA, but it may also be helpful to M/FLO, OBC, AND FSI staff wishing to learn about CIDA's cross cultural training and orientation programs.

Summary: The tape briefly explains the purpose of CIDA's in-country orientation program.

ART OF CROSSING CULTURES, THE 1990

50 minutes

Purpose: To provide examples of unfamiliar situations and some of the hardships that people are faced with when living overseas.

Suitability: The tape is appropriate for an audience of any age who is challenged by living in an unfamiliar culture.

Summary: Through a series of theatrical short skits, difficult social situations are acted out. Afterwards, the characters discuss their experiences and give insight on how to cope with each situation.

ART OF DINING, THE 1988

Two tapes: The Business Lunch
 The Formal Dinner

27 minutes

36 minutes

Purpose: To emphasize etiquette's role in furthering a person's interests.

Suitability: The tape is practical for embassy personnel active in formal entertaining or for people conducting business lunches.

Summary: The tape describes formal dining arrangements in detail (invitations, seating, place settings, use of cutlery, etc.) It reveals the keys to a successful business lunch and specifies problems to avoid. Finally, it provides instructions for conquering the dilemma of negotiating tricky foods (lobster, escargot, watermelon, etc.).

HISTORICAL TAPES

Purpose: These tapes are for historical references on Arlington Hall.

Suitability: For anyone interested in the evolution of Arlington Hall to the National Foreign Affairs Training Center.

Summaries:

Tape 1: ARLINGTON HALL

16 minutes

In 1925, Dr. E. Martin bought Arlington Hall for $3500. It was to be a junior college for girls. The school doors opened to its first class of 35 students in 1927. Arlington Hall built many additions: the tea house, gymnasium, indoor pool, stables, tennis courts, rifle ring, practice golf course, and an outdoor riding ring. Arlington Hall had a reputation for excellent horsemanship. When the stock market crashed in 1929 Dr. Martin went bankrupt and resigned as president of Arlington Hall. The school was then overseen by the board of directors. Due to political strife and the poor economy through the '20s and '30s the school went defunct. Arlington Hall was forced to sell to the War Department in 1942. This is when the Army Signal Intelligence Service took over its residence. At the Hall's peak it housed 57,000 civilians and 22,000 military employees. Arlington Hall's claim to fame took place during World War II when army analysts broke the Japanese war code that helped prepare the US for D-Day which ended the war two years in advance.

WORKING PARTNERSHIP ACROSS CULTURES, A

No date

35 minutes

Purpose: This video stresses how important it is for foreign service personnel to learn the cultural differences of the host country in order to be effective in their job and with the foreign service nationals.

Suitability: All foreign service personnel.

Summary: Anecdotal experiences and interviews with FSOs and FSNs illustrate the problems that may arise in the workplace because of cross cultural differences. Five topics are covered and culture cues are given for all of these: good beginnings, establishing rapport, time, communication, and stress. The video emphasizes the importance for the new officer to establish a relationship with the foreign service nationals before attempting to set up any new policies. He/she needs to ask questions of FSNs in the beginning to demonstrate his/her interest in their knowledge of the embassy and the job they do. If the FSO is perceived as cold or arrogant from the beginning, this creates walls and does not encourage a healthy work environment. It also discusses when a compromise is necessary and when things need to be done the "American" way.
